Future of high speed uncertain

SOUTH DUNDAS – The only tenant renting space on South Dundas' fibre/wireless network, APT Prophet Technologies, is moving out, and that move could have dire consequences for the future of the system.

APT Prophet Technologies issued a statement Monday saying, "It's with deep regret that APT Prophet Technologies Inc. will cease its ISP (Internet Service Provider) operations in South Dundas effective August 31, 2005."

Township officials received this notice July 27, and acting CAO and clerk Brenda Brunt said that they were surprised by the move.

"Prophet Technologies Inc. has been operating as an independent ISP, delivering bandwidth to clients in South Dundas by renting space on the township's fibre and wireless system, since November 2000," explains the statement from Prophet Technologies.

Prophet is the only ISP that makes use of the South Dundas network so they provide internet service to all of the South Dundas Network customers, including the municipality itself.

There are about 30 customers on the network, most of whom use the system for business purposes.

According to their statement, Prophet says, "Since November 2003, we have explored the potential for continued operations. However, we are now facing substantially increased costs and are not able to assure reliable service. The continued delay of the BRAND rural expansion (since November 2003) further limits our effort to expand our client base."

"This leaves us with little prospect for future business success," reads the statement.

They say they are looking into options for the existing customer base including the potential of selling their ISP operations.

While Prophet is examining options so too is the township.

Brunt says the township is working with W3 Connex in hopes that they will become an internet service provider making use of the township system.

"If W3 doesn't come through (as an ISP) South Dundas network customers may have to find service elsewhere," says Brunt.

W3 Connex is the company that was selected to complete the BRAND expansion of the network and purchase the existing system.

Brunt says that the purchase of the existing infrastructure will be finalized within the next week.

According to Brunt, W3 is working on the expansion, and expects that they will be building towers or collocating equipment for the expansion within the next month.

A Very Be-Witching Fellow

While in town, the Dundas Cousins reunion participants attended a grave dowsing demonstration at Spruce Haven Cemetery in Brinston Saturday afternoon. Pictured above Brinston resident Gordon Cooper demonstrates the practice. Grave witching or dowsing, has been practiced throughout the years to help detect where bodies are buried, both in cemeteries and in long ago forgotten family plots. As shown in the photo above, Gordon holds the straightened coat-hangers loosely in both hands. As he approaches the grave site the hangers slowly pull together and then cross.

Friday afternoon representatives from South Dundas' two Lions Clubs met with Volley for Cancer organizers to hand over a couple of cheques. The Morrisburg and District and Iroquois-Matilda Lions Clubs annually support the fundraising event, and this year each handed over a cheque for $1,000. The money will go towards the event fundraising total. "The committee feels that this money will be well utilized by the Ottawa Regional Cancer Centre," said committee member Karen Thompson. "We really appreciate the support of the Lions," said committee member Marilyn Spencer. "The Iroquois-Matilda Lions are always happy to support worthwhile causes like this," said past-president Paul Robertson. "This is a good cause and we support it every year," said Morrisburg and District Lions Club member Keith Robinson. Pictured above, left to right, are Robertson, Spencer, Thompson and Robinson. The 11th annual Volley for Cancer event takes place August 20, at Earl Baker Park in Morrisburg.

First Impressions are a call to action

MORRISBURG – First impressions go a long way in forming opinions, and in a unique program, those first impressions are shared between communities.

The First Impressions Community Exchange between Morrisburg and Vankleek Hill was wrapped up last Thursday evening when a group of volunteers, from that community, told this community what they experienced and observed when they came to Morrisburg.

The Ministry of Municipal Affairs pilot project is designed, "to help everyone see what assets their community has," said Serge Mercier of the Ministry. "Action plans can start with first impressions. It's a small tool."

He suggested that these findings be used to get all of the different community organizations and community members together as a team, to communicate and to take action. "Start with the small things."

The group of six volunteers from Vankleek Hill were in Morrisburg, Thursday, July 7, to record their first impressions.

In the end the group concluded that Morrisburg is a very clean and tidy town with a great waterfront. They enjoyed the quiet atmosphere, heritage houses and churches, and found the residents and service people to be friendly and proud. They were positive about the location between major cities and along main transportation routes.

According to the group's observations they believe that the biggest opportunities for Morrisburg will come through the promotion of historical homes and churches, waterfront attractions and more tourist-oriented shopping.

First Impressions call to action

Perception

Prior to their visit, the volunteers were asked to record the perception of the community they were about to visit, and all knew one basic fact, that it is near Upper Canada Village.

Information

The group was asked to locate information about the town. Although the information packages they requested were excellent, and were delivered promptly, they did have difficulty gathering information about the town on the internet.

They ended up on the South Dundas Municipal website, and suggested that Morrisburg should have a website of its own.

Five minute impression

After only five minutes in the community the group noted that the community is clean and neat, and appeared prosperous.

They enjoyed the scenery, including the historic homes and churches. The group also noted that there were few signs indicating how to get to the beach and waterfront, and although the mall was well-marked and inviting, "it was difficult to enter the mall."

Residential

Commenting on the housing and residential areas of the town the group said, "There seemed to be a sense of pride in the town. We liked that."

Health Care

In looking at health care services, the group was impressed with the medical clinic and the number of doctors available and noted the convenient location of the Hartford Retirement Centre.

Emergency Services

They liked that the police, and fire department share a prominent building, which they say makes the community seem safe. The visitors were impressed that an ambulance is also stationed in Morrisburg.

Shopping

The group noted that the plaza has a convenient location, and were very impressed with the kind and helpful nature of the people in the stores, but found a lack of specialty shops, which would attract more tourists.

Industrial

The visitors liked the location of the industrial park as it is visible from the main road, which makes the town seem prosperous, and also liked that it was nicely separated from the residential sector.

Tourism

The group suggested that Morrisburg should establish a slogan and brand name that involves the town itself, and work to bring people into town by capitalizing on the location of Upper Canada Village.

They saw heritage and the waterfront as the two most prevalent drawing cards, and suggested that better promotion of local events would benefit tourism. Within the town they noted an overall lack of advertising.

Recreation

The group made note of the large number of recreation opportunities available in the town, and enjoyed the parks but suggested that more benches would be convenient.

They suggested that the park land would serve as a great location for summer day camps and provide more activities for children.

They thought that the golf course and driving range were excellent, but that they only found them by driving by, and suggested more signs would attract more visitors.

They noted the location of the arena, and said it should serve as a focal point for recreation, but that it is in need of landscaping and repairs to make it more attractive.

Infrastructure

The group found the sidewalks and streets to be in good condition and well lit. They liked the clearly visible street signs.

Second youth novel 'A Walk in the Park'

Launched in late May, the novel is aimed at children ages 10 and up. It is the second in the Inglewood series, and is available locally at Crossroads Gift and Book Station in the Morrisburg Village Plaza.

"I really enjoy writing for this age - it's all elbows and emotions," said Casselman. "Here's when a good book can be so meaningful."

Casselman's first children's novel, A Hole in the Hedge was not only short-listed for the Canadian Library Association Children's Book of the Year Award, it was the winner of the student choice Golden Eagle Book Award.

A Walk in the Park is a sequel to A Hole in the Hedge, but this novel has a new heroine.

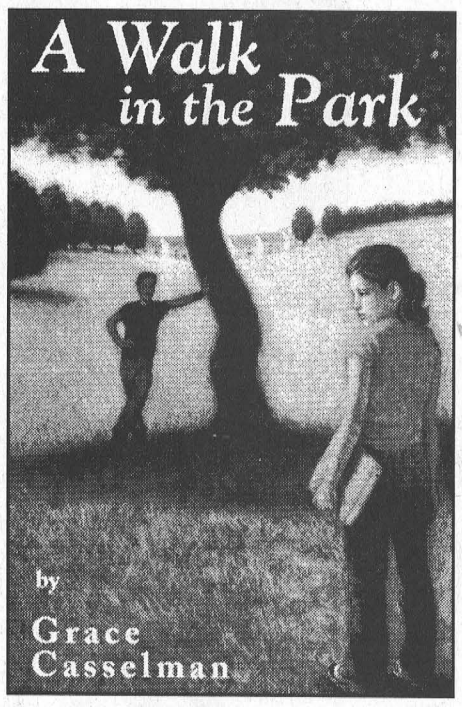
Fourteen-year-old Terra faces the trials and tribulations of being the new girl at school. She is not finding it easy to make new friends nor leave old ones behind.

While some of the girls seem friendly, Terra is not sure if that is the crowd she really wants to hang out with. She also wonders if the cute guy, Glenn, wants to be friends with her - or more.



Terra has always known that she was adopted but is panicked at the thought of meeting her birth mother for the first time. She is concerned about finding out why her birth mother didn't want to keep her baby and why she wants to meet Terra now.

The book is realistic and Casselman has captured the thoughts and feelings of young adolescents any reader of any age can relate to or remember.

Most notably, the book tells a good story about good kids trying to grow into the people they want to be.

Casselman, the author, worked as a technology and business journalist for a number of years. In addition to her children's novels, she is the author of Knocked Off My Knees: Coping When Chronic Illness Hits Hard.

She is the daughter of Rev. Lorna Casselman and the late Rev. Robert Casselman, of Morrisburg.

Casselman is working on her third novel for young people in the Inglewood series.

Eat your way to a cooler you

As Ontario continues to languish in record setting extreme heat it is important to reinforce the need to stay hydrated. Beyond water and juices, look to foods such as watermelon that have a high water content.

Traditionally, Ontario's average high for August can range anywhere from 22 Celsius in Timmins to 27 Celsius in Windsor. Even in these more reasonable temperatures, many people, especially children, need to closely monitor their fluid intake when participating in outdoor sports and activities. A child weighing 60 lb (27 kg) requires approximately 50 oz (1.4 L) of water daily, depending on the intensity of their activity.

"Providing the body with adequate hydration during any physical activity begins by drinking plenty of liquids, like water," said Registered Dietitian, Pierrette Buklis. "Beyond liquids, watermelon is a great food option and one most kids already love."

Being 92 per cent water, early explorers used watermelons as canteens on their journeys. An inch-thick slice can yield up to a cup of fruit consisting of nearly 8 oz (250 ml) of water. Packing a few cups of cubed watermelon in a travel container makes for a convenient and nutritious source of hydration on the go.

Also, watermelons (per 150 g serving) are a source of Vitamin C, pantothenic acid and magnesium, and contain more of the antioxidant lycopene than tomatoes (a 300 g [2 cup] serving of watermelon contains 18.16 mg and one medium-sized tomato contains 4 mg). Ongoing research around the world is revealing exciting links between the enjoyment of foods high in lycopene and the reduced risk of some chronic diseases.

To avoid unnecessary loss of water, Buklis recommends limiting alcohol and caffeinated beverages, as these elements work as diuretics that tend to dehydrate the body.

There will be about 30 boats with members of the Quebec Bassmasters converging at the Morrisburg Dock early Saturday morning, and then again to weigh-in their catches at 2 p.m. The group welcomes walk-on competitors. The fee to participate is $250, and participants must have a boat with a live-well and a lifejacket. Anyone interested in participating in the tournament should register by 5:30 a.m. Saturday. The boats start leaving at 6:30 a.m. President of the Bassmasters, Jack Vogel, welcomes everyone to drop by the event and says there will be an emcee on hand all day handing out prizes to lucky spectators.

The Dundas Cousins are here, and their reunion celebrations are ongoing with a whole slew of activities that show off Dundas County. Last Saturday a grave dowsing demonstration was held at Spruce Haven Cemetery in Brinston, and it was quite an interesting event. If anyone interested in seeing it, missed it, the group will be holding another one this Thursday after lunch, around 1 or 1:30 p.m., at the Iroquois Point Cemetery. There are about 125 Dundas Cousins here for their genealogy reunion.

The August 9 issue reported the team of Rick Groves and crew from Ingleside were the new Tubie Champs. The Danny Cassell entry finished second and the defending Boulerice team was third.

Brown Foundry Inc., which had closed its Morrisburg operation in 1991, and moved to the United States was hoping to have the local factory back in operation by the end of the year. Now owned by Rick Brown, the Foundry had diversified its operation and had a new product line which could only be built with the machinery at the Morrisburg plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Duncan and Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Domanko announced the marriage of their children Tanya Lynn to Michael Wayne on August 19.

A meeting was planned for further discussion of Dr. Larry Schnurr's idea to re-establish Morrisburg as the Lilac Village.

Danny "Dutchie" Cassell was quoted in the August 7 issue, "The old man with the pot belly is back on top." Cassell was referring to his win of the 15th annual Tubie Race which made it his sixth Tubie victory. His teammates this year included Bryan Dawley, Leo Lafortune, Doug Hodgson and Robert Wetzl. Twenty-six crafts and 201 tubiests competed in the event.

Iroquois residents were irate over council's decision to rezone 1.44 acres of playground area to permit residential development in an area south of Davis Drive.

Veteran horse man, Paul Barkley was surprised when his horse "Power of Love" gave birth to a romping filly. Although when worked the new momma would only go so fast, Barkley admitted he had not suspected her impending motherhood.

For the third time, Kevin Duvall stepped into the winner's circle for the Morrisburg Golf Club's men championship with an opening round 77 and an incredibly strong 67 in the final 18 holes of play. In the women's action, Bonnie McNairn broke a 13-year Barb Sheridan hold on the ladies championship silverware. McNairn posted 18 hole rounds of 86-81.

The August 8 issue reported that Ron McLean and Fred Veley had successfully defended their Tubie Crown in the fifth running of the event. The twosome were given a strong fight by Steve Casselman and Bill Dillabough.

Mr. and Mrs. Rae K. Casselman of Williamsburg announced the engagement of their daughter, Wanda Ann to Dalton Thomas Dawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Dawley of Morrisburg. The wedding was to take place on Saturday, October 18.

Pitchers Big Doug Casselman, Gerry Belanger and Murray Hyndman were to face a tough test when the Williamsburg-Brinston Pioneers met "The Queen and her Maids", a four-player California team.

The August 6 issue reported the death of Mrs. Eleanor Morgan. Mrs. Morgan wrote "Up the Front – A Story of Morrisburg". The former Augusta Eleanor Wickware was born at Morrisburg in 1879, in the old red brick house on Lakeshore Drive. She received the Governor General's Medal for highest standing in Ottawa Normal School and taught school in western Ontario and later in Saskatchewan and Alberta. She returned to Morrisburg in 1950.

Doug Thompson, Brent Eamon, Bonnie MacDonald and Ricky Droppo passed their senior swim levels.

Lacrosse playoffs were now underway and the Morrisburg Mets were preparing to tangle with the St. Regis Mohawks. The Mets finished in fourth place in the league standings and had two players place in the list of the top 15 scorers in the regular season. They were Bob Barclay with 38 points and Mike Mabo with 30. The Mets led the league in penalties with a total of 645 minutes. The next highest penalty minutes were achieved by Alexandria with 486.

The August 12 issue reported Morrisburg's newest industry, the Kingston-Dunbrik Company began operations this week in their new plant on Allison Avenue. Their products were standard eight inch concrete bricks and Roman bricks in various colours. The new factory employed six workers now, and this number was expected to double by the end of the year. When the factory was in full output it was expected to manufacture 15,000 bricks daily. Fred Hill was vice-president of Kingston-Dunbrik, and the plant supervisor was Thomas G. Jones.

The two inch high headline in the August 10 issue of The Leader reads: JAPANESE WILL SURRENDER. At noon on August 10, it was expected that the war that engulfed the world six years earlier was at last about to end. At 7:30 a.m. on August 10, the Japanese government made an offer of peace which surprised and startled the world. The Japanese said they would surrender almost unconditionally, their sole reservation being the safety of Emperor Hirohito. In London, in Paris, in Berlin, in every city in the world where the Allied Soldiers were stationed, there were scenes of almost hysterical joy, as the fighting men slowly realized that their dreams of going home were close to realization.

There was to be an increase in liquor rationing in Ontario and with it was hope there would also be an increase of alcoholic content of most liquors. Since early in the war, liquors had been 30 percent under proof, five percent weaker than in peacetime. The present monthly ration in Ontario was 26 ounces of spirits and 12 quarts or 24 pints of beer.

The village of Morrisburg was considering having the garbage collected and was asking for tenders.

Two wives, two lives, cabbie John Smith Caught in the Net

MORRISBURG – Last year, at this time, the Upper Canada Playhouse assembled a great cast to stage Ray Cooney's Run for Your Wife, and they have managed to do the same for the sequel, Caught in the Net, by bringing back the same actors in the same roles.

Only a few sequels have been staged at the Upper Canada Playhouse, but when audiences responded so enthusiastically to Run for Your Wife, artistic director Donnie Bowes booked the sequel right away. From his experience, he says, "It is really hard to get the same actors to return for a sequel, but we have done it here."

Guest director Walter Learning has also returned to direct Caught in the Net.

Learning tributes the return of the actors to the Playhouse and its people. Having worked in theatres across the country, he says, "The environment here is one of the best I have ever worked in. Everyone makes you happy and comfortable and it shows. It is unique having the same characters come back."

"I can't imagine doing the show with any of the principal characters replaced," says Learning. "It couldn't be the same and it wouldn't be quite as good."

The returning actors all agreed that they couldn't wait to come back for this year's show.

"I was glad to hear that everyone was coming back," says returning actor Jill Harland.

"The dynamics between the characters don't change in this play. We've already done it, and it carries over," explains Learning.

The comfort level that the actors have with each other, has also made it easy for two new characters to join the cast.

Although the British farce, Caught in the Net is a sequel to Run for Your Wife, the show does stand on its own.

Caught in the Net fast-forwards 18 years and John Smith is still hiding the fact that he has two lives and two wives, which he has been keeping smoothly under wraps the whole time.

Jamie Williams returns to the role of John Smith, who is an ordinary cab driver, but there are two additions to the extraordinary part of his life. He has two children, one with each of his wives, and he, with the help of his faithful sidekick Stanley, must keep them from meeting.

The problem is that the teenagers have already met over the internet, and discovered their fathers have much in common so they are determined to meet.

Richard Bauer returns to play the part of Stanley, who lives upstairs from John and his wife Mary. Stanley is described by the rest of the cast as "a crazy fellow," but Bauer prefers to describe him as "happy-go-lucky and easily led astray."

"John and Stanley are good friends," says Bauer, adding that when John enlists his help, "He knows immediately that he will be part of some hair-brained scheme."

If crazy-Stanley, issn't enough, add his very sexually active, 82-year-old father, with a weak bladder, to the mix. "He's deaf and he falls a lot, but he loves his boy Stanley," says Learning, who in addition to directing the show will fill this role.

"Mary is logical and straightforward. She spends a lot of time in the kitchen, trying to be a good housewife and mother."

In 18 years Barbara has change from the wife with only one thing on her mind, to the multitasking, new-aged vegetarian stress-councillor who likes to be out and about.

Barbara and John have a 16-year-old son Gavin, who is played by Art James. He describes his character as "a lot like his dad," and says, "He never progressed past the why stage."

John and Mary have a 15-year-old daughter, Vicki, who is played by Loretta Walsh. She describes Vicki as, "a headstrong child who is used to getting what she wants."

The teenagers are "determined to meet each other despite any obstacle."

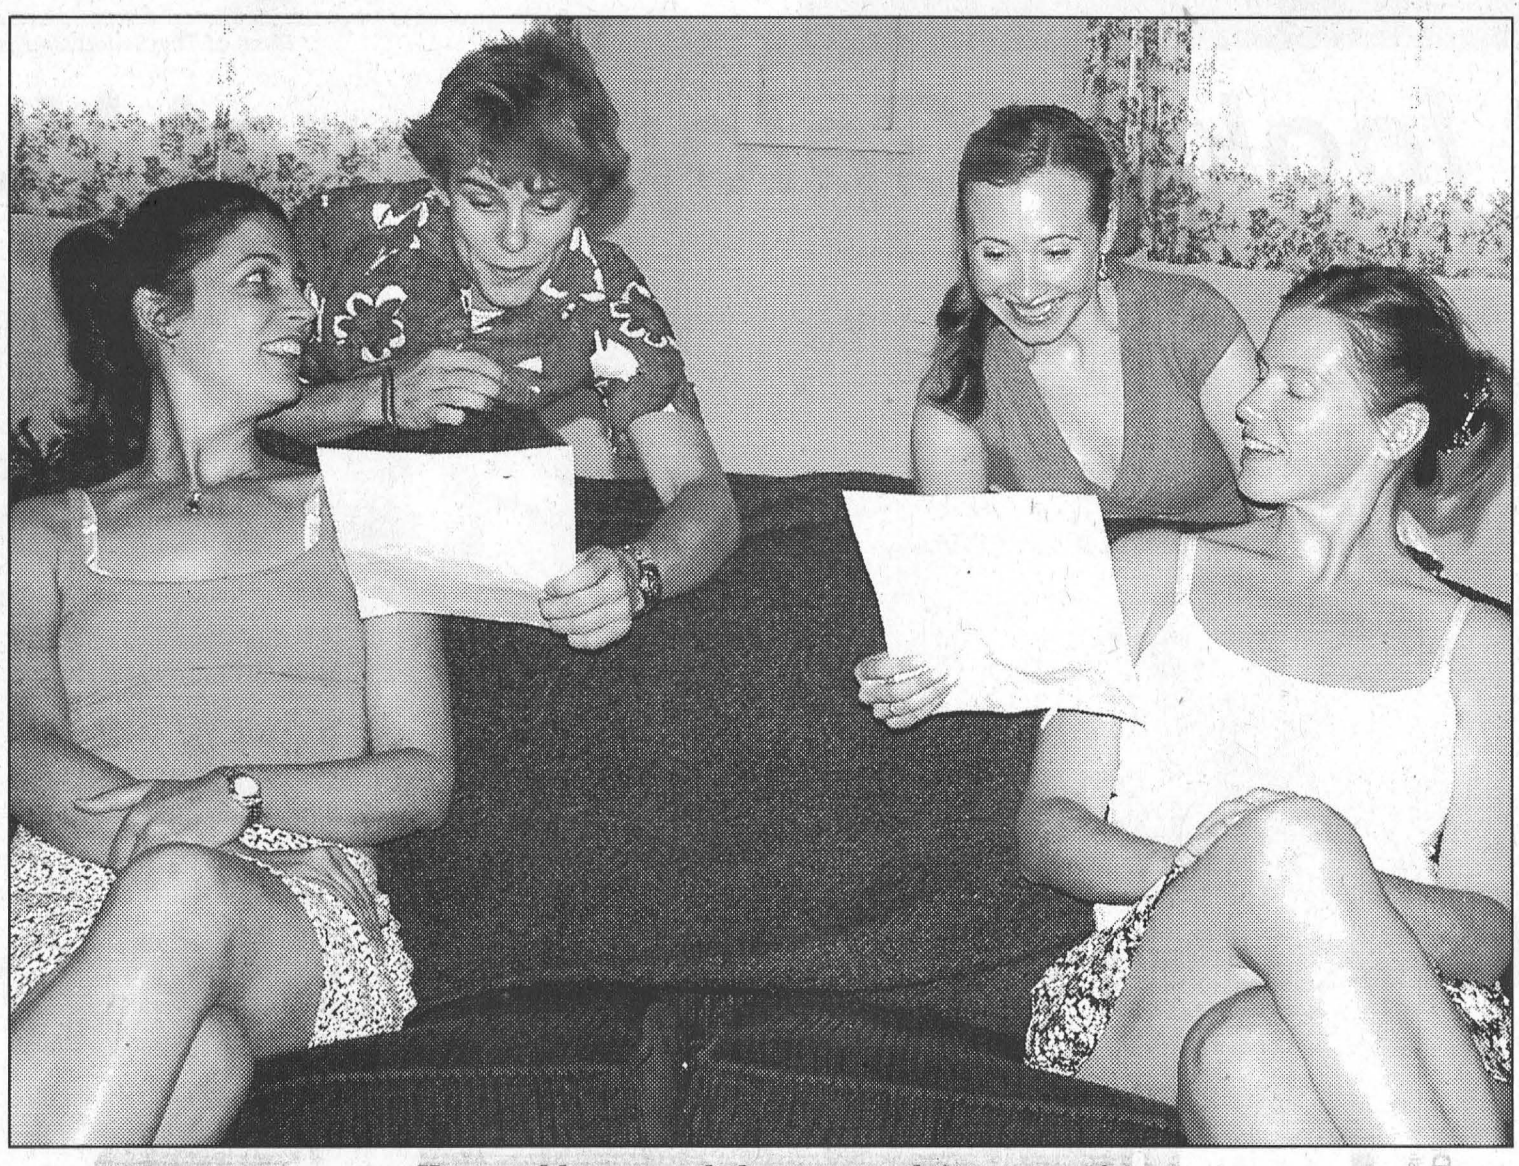
James and Walsh both say they are having a great time in preparing for Caught in the Net.

Both are Upper Canada Playhouse first-timers.

Walsh is originally from Australia, and moved to Canada four years ago. Most of her work has been in Toronto, but she has also worked at Port Stanley.

James, from Nova Scotia, worked with Bowes in New Brunswick and just recently moved to Toronto. This role is his second professional job in Ontario and he says, "it's pretty fun so far."

Caught in the Net hits the Playhouse stage August 11, and runs through September 4. Tickets are still available, but Bowes says they are selling quickly. Tickets are available at the Playhouse box office 543-3713.



How could two people have so much in common?

Two teenagers on the road to discovery discuss with their mothers, the uncanny amount of similarity between their respective fathers. Both named John Leonard Smith. Both work as taxi drivers. After a chat on the internet the teenagers will have to meet. The latest play at the Upper Canada Playhouse is Caught in the Net, the sequel to last year's hit Run for Your Wife. This play features the corps cast returning, with the arrival of newcomers Art James and Loretta Walsh. The ordinary cabbie, John Smith has managed to hold on to two wives, Barbara and Mary, he has one child with each, Gavin and Vicki. John and neighbour Stanley do all they can to keep the two from meeting, so that John can keep his two lives a secret. Pictured above Gavin, played by Art James tells his mother Barbara, played by Anita La Selva, of his internet chat, while Vicki, played by Loretta Walsh, tells her mother Mary, played by Jill Harland, the same.

Mysterious demonstration for cousins

BRINSTON–Spruce Haven Cemetery in Brinston was the site of a mysterious demonstration on Saturday afternoon.

Grave witching or dowsing, has been practiced throughout the years to help detect where bodies are buried, both in cemeteries and in long ago forgotten family plots.

Brinston resident Gordon Cooper demonstrated his witching skills using two ordinary metal coat hangers. As he approaches the area of the grave, Gordon holds the straightened hangers loosely in both hands, he bends down closely to the ground, and the hangers slowly pull together and then cross, indicating a body is present.

The grave used for this particular demonstration was that of Bruce Wylie.

Gordon said he first used his witching talents while trying to find a grave in an unmapped area of the cemetery. "The gentleman burying the cement vault was unfamiliar with this cemetery, I grabbed two hangers and located the bodies already buried there, and we knew where this one belonged," he explained.

Patsy Ault who is also familiar with witching techniques demonstrated another phenomenon. Holding the hanger vertically over another grave the hanger began to move in a circular pattern indicating that the person buried was a female. If it had moved back and forth the body would have been a male.

When checked the name on the grave stone showed the body to be a female.

Patsy also explained that when witching the grave of a baby or small child, the hangers will only stay crossed for a short period of time, while an older person will cause the hangers to stay crossed for a longer period of time.

Should the bodies be buried in the same grave, which is a common practice when a child dies, the older body will overpower the child's.

Joining in this demonstration were members of the Dundas Cousins Reunion Group. Organizer Dottie Clark began the group while searching for relatives on the internet and the numbers have grown from afew the first reunion year to over 125 this year.

The reunion is head quartered at the McIntosh Inn and includes trips to Upper Canada Village, The Lost Villages Tour, Upper Canada Playhouse and local cemeteries. Each member is a direct descendant of the original Loyalist settlers .

Members are in Morrisburg until Friday, from across Canada and the United States. Many met face to face for the first time this week.

Warning to small businesses

SMITH FALLS – The OPP in Eastern Ontario want to warn small business owners of thefts that are occurring in many small, local stores across the region.

Suspects, appearing as a family, include men, women and children enter small grocery and convenience stores. Some of the adults distract the clerk by purchasing and playing scratch or pull type lottery tickets and play them at the counter inside the business.

Other members in the group wander throughout the business and sometimes even into adjacent attached residences as well. They then proceed to steal various items of merchandise and cash from inside and eventually leave undetected.

The OPP have received many reports of these types of thefts and are presently investigating. There have been no arrests or charges to date.

If you have information on these thefts, please call you local OPP detachment or Crime Stoppers.

Stampville domestic

SOUTH DUNDAS – On August 3, at approximately 6 p.m., SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic situation at a residence on Stampville Road, South Dundas.

An altercation had taken place between a 53-year-old male and his 52-year-old common-law spouse, resulting in the female being assaulted.

Officers needed the use of physical force to arrest the male as he resisted.

He faces charges of Assault and Resist Arrest with a scheduled court appearance set for September 12 in Morrisburg.

Host teams win tournaments

Morrisburg's best game brings home the Major Boys Championship title

MORRISBURG – The Morrisburg Major Boys baseball team played their best game of the season to turn the season's second place team into champions.

Eight teams of 11 and 12 year old boys participated in the league's Major Boys year-end, playoff tournament held over the weekend in Morrisburg.

Making their way to the semifinals against Winchester, Morrisburg won the game 9-2, to move on to the finals against Prescott.

In regular season play Morrisburg finished second to Prescott, and had only managed to beat them once, while Prescott won against Morrisburg four times in regular season play.

In a thrilling championship game, Morrisburg won 4-3.

"We won in the last at bat of the last inning," said coach Dale Adams.

Morrisburg led early in the game 1-0, but Prescott came back to tie it up 1-1 and then went ahead 3-1.

Morrisburg rallied and tied the game 3-3, and then went on to the win in their final at bat. Simon Thomas drove in the winning run.

"It was a nice victory," said Adams. "It was our best game all year, and it came at the right time."

Iroquois wins Major Girls Softball Championship

Iroquois Claims Major Girls Softball Championship

IROQUOIS – The Iroquois Major Girls softball team capped off an undefeated regular season with an undefeated playoff tournament, at home, over the weekend to win the league championship.

"The team played extremely well," says coach Karen Thompson, of the group of 11 and 12 year olds.

Six teams participated in the year-end tournament hosted at Haldane Park in Iroquois.

"They are a great group of girls. They are very easy to coach because they are always eager to learn," says Thompson. "They have a great attitude."

In regular season play Iroquois finished first, and Winchester second, so it was fitting that the two played off for the championship.

Two years ago, with this same team, Iroquois also beat Winchester for the championship.

In regular season play Morrisburg 1 finished third, Mountain finished fourth, Morrisburg 2 finished fifth and Chesterville sixth.

Mountain and Morrisburg 2 played their way into the final game, which was won by Morrisburg 2.

Chiefs and Prescott split wins

IROQUOIS – The Iroquois Boys Senior Baseball team played their last regular season game and their first game of a double knock-out playoff series against Prescott.

The Chiefs won their last season game 14-6 and lost the playoff game 11-10.

The boys started off slowly, allowing Prescott to take an early 4-1 lead.

Jesse Lapier, the team's most consistent batter, started off the third with a monster hit to drive in three runs. The Chiefs managed to add another three to take the lead.

Prescott responded with two of their own to regain the lead, before the Chiefs put this one away scoring seven runs in the final two innings to take a 14-6 win.

Scoring for Iroquois were Bret Avery (3), Victor Bilmer (2), Jesse Lapier (3), Jordan Hawn, Steve Baird and Jed Murphy with singles.

The first game of the double knock out playoff series was also against Prescott.

True to form, the Chiefs allowed the visitors to take an early seven run lead in the first inning. The boys did not give up and eventually tied the game in the top of the fifth inning and took a one run lead in the top of the sixth.

Prescott rallied to score in the final inning to take a 11-10 lead, and the win.

This was the most exciting game of the year and a credit to the players.

Scoring for Iroquois were Bret Avery (3), Victor Bilmer (3), Jesse Lapier (2), Jordan Hawn and Scott Summers tallied singles.

Elliott an unstoppable force for Blue Thunder

MORRISBURG – Justin Elliott was unstoppable against Black Attack and Orange Crush secured a win and move out of last place this week in South Dundas Men's Roller Hockey.

Riverside Heights W.I.

RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS – On a hot August 2, Riverside Heights W.I. held their monthly meeting. Roll call was answered by eight members and one guest. The casino trip was a success. Everyone who went had a good time.

Cathy had information on Upper Canada Village. They have big attractions and great deals. Hiltrud suggested that members bring school supplies and toiletries to our next meeting.

They will then be donated to the Youmelles for their building mission.

She also thanked people who donated wool. Although it is still a long way off, we are asked to think about gifts for "Shut Inns" at Christmas time.

The "Pennies for Friendship" bag was passed around. Fifteen cents for each craft made last month was suggested.

Hiltrud then introduced our guest Linda Schenck. Linda does tole painting and stenciling. Stenciling is a very old art and can be done on almost anything.

It brightens up rooms and adds color to walls, flower pots, boxes etc. She showed different kinds of paint, brushes and stencils.

We were all given a wooden box to paint our favourite stencil on.

For most of us it was a first time to do this. Convenor and helper had a nice lunch to end the meeting.

This Week at MGC

MORRISBURG – The week kicked off at the Morrisburg Golf Club with ladies night last Wednesday. The night's scramble drive game was sponsored by Michael Barclay - Chartered Accountant.

C flight was won by Deanna Cassell with a 44 and Helen Youmelle was top shooter in D with a 56. In the net category were: Brenda Stitt, Anita Cooper, Elsie Guindon and Barb McWinnie. Cornwall Speedway

Planck fastest

This week, he served notice that he's back at the front of the pack in the 358 Modified division at the fast quarter mile scoring his sixth feature win of 2005 on Sunday night. The win pads Planck's lead atop the point standings as he tries for a second straight track championship.

Chris Jones started up front in the 30 lap feature and twice pulled out to substantial leads, however a spin by Perry Francis on lap 23 provided Planck with exactly what the doctor ordered.

It bunched up the field and a lap and a half later Planck had taken the lead and was on his way to victory lane again. Jones stayed close until the flag dropped but never could get close enough to challenge.

"My crew made a number of changes on the car just before the feature and we finally got it right," said a happy Planck afterwards.

Ladouceur powered past Allen Peters in the late going and then pulled away for his third victory of the season. Peters settled for second followed by Louis Jackson, PJ Peters and early leader Travis Back.

Ghislain Valade got married on Saturday night and celebrated in style on Sunday night with his second straight win in the Semi Pro division.

Valade's honeymoon came at the expense of Kevin McRae who finished second. Nathan Delormier, Michel Desjardins and Gaetan Amesse rounded out the fast five.

Shawn Quesnel took the top spot on a early race restart and then held off a determined challenge from Danny Larose in the closing race to take rookie honours.

Jean Paul Lebarge was credited with third spot with Marc Usereau and Joey St. Louis fourth and fifth respectively.

The Demolition Derby to close out the evening was won by Derrick Cryderman of Ingleside.

Cornwall Motor Speedway returns to action next Sunday night with the annual Race for the Children Fundraiser with all four divisions in action. The green flag drops at 7 p.m.

People of SD&G like what they have

SOUTH DUNDAS – "The people of SD&G aren't yearning for something different. They want what they have - preserved and enhanced."

That is the message that came through - loud and clear - during the public consultation phase of the strategic planning exercise. It is the local quality of life that people most hold dear, as it is reflected in the local history, heritage, culture and recreational features; in the friendly rural and small town life style, open spaces, and clean environment; in the affordable housing and lack of traffic congestion; and in the excellent transportation links and ready availability of urban amenities in Cornwall and in relatively close Ottawa and Montreal.

The strategic plan calls for more joint ventures involving the county and the local townships (and also the City of Cornwall and local boards in some instances) as the most effective way to utilize the limited resources of this area of Ontario to support the local quality of life. Even the United Counties and the City of Cornwall combined have less than 1% of the population of Ontario.

Just as the Eastern Ontario Warden's Caucus calls for joint action by the 13 counties of Eastern Ontario, so too do the municipalities within SD&G need to work together more closely, thereby Uniting the United Counties as called for in the title of the final report of the strategic plan process.

Another strategic priority is the preparation of a plan for economic development. SD&G needs economic growth to finance the services that enhance local quality of life, but unplanned or inappropriate growth can harm that quality of life and the local environment and can also trigger increased expenditures on infrastructure. By adopting an economic development plan, the United Counties can provide direction, emphasis, and an overall framework for economic growth and for the local bodies involved in various aspects of economic development for the area.

To support future growth, and even to maintain the existing quality of life, significant expenditures will have to be made on infrastructure - not just on roads, water supply, and sewage treatment facilities, and new technology such as Internet access, but also arenas, community halls, and other facilities that help to define and enrich local communities.

The strategic priority to deal with this situation calls for the preparation of a comprehensive inventory (both county and township) of the public infrastructure of SD&G, the identification of the total future expenditures to maintain (and, where necessary, expand) this infrastructure, and the development of financial policies and plans that will meet these expenditure needs as they occur.

By pooling their resources and coordinating their planning for economic growth and for infrastructure management and financing, the municipalities within SD&G can ensure that their future actions are directed toward preserving and enhancing the local quality of life as desired by their residents and rate payers.

Canadian Tire Jump/Start now accepting applications for fall/winter programs

MORRISBURG – For the spring/summer program, The Canadian Tire JumpStart Dundas Chapter has provided funding to assist 32 families/children in the North/South Dundas area and is now accepting fall-winter applications.

Canadian Tire JumpStart is a charitable program created by the Canadian Tire Foundation for Families to help kids in need participate in organized sports and recreation.

National in scope, but local in its focus, Canadian Tire JumpStart helps kids in need get active by providing funds to help offset the cost of registration fees, equipment and transportation.

Canadian Tire JumpStart Chapters are located in communities right across the country and are made up of community leaders from organizations like Boys and Girls Clubs of Canada, Parks and Recreations and YMCA Canada. Working together with Canadian Tire Associate Dealers, the Chapter identifies children who would benefit from Canadian Tire JumpStart and ensures the effective delivery of the program.

In 2005, Canadian Tire expects to help give up to 20,000 kids the chance to play, and aims to raise $4 million.

The local chapter is now accepting applications for financially challenged families with children who wish to participate in organized sports and recreation programs. Area residents may contact one of the local Directors of the Canadian Tire JumpStart Dundas Chapter listed below or drop in to the Morrisburg Canadian Tire to pick up an application at the customer service desk.
