Save Systematically

Haphazard, occasional saving seldom accomplishes much. It's the steady, persistent, regular depositing of so many dollars a week, or month, or season, in the Union Bank of Canada, which makes one financially independent. The money accumulates all the more rapidly, too, because of the Interest which is added every six months.

Tragic Death On Roadside.

Summers, Methodist street, occupying a house on Mr. Summers' farm.

He started Frday morning to drive to Williamsburg on business, but never reached there as his dead body was found along the roadside near Strader's Hill. It appears that the unfortunate man was subject to epileptic fits and it is supposed that while in one of these he fell from the rig striking the ground on his head death following.

The remains were brought to Mr. Purchins where the funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, by Rev. Geo. Yule, interment taking place at Maple Ridge cemetery. Deceased was about 35 years of age.—Press.

Dry feed has no place in the duck diet. Four parts wheat bran, one part cornmeal and enough low grade flour added to bind the mass without making it pasty, about 5 per cent sharp grit moistened with just enough water to be crumbly, is a good ration. After the first few days a little soaked beef scrap may be added, though not necessary if the feed is moistened with milk.

Scaly legs in fowls are caused by a mite which finds its way under the scale and causes the legs to become diseased, rough and painful. These mites cannot survive grease or oil. POWERS STAND ALOOF

France, Britain and Russia Will Not Intervene.

Premier Poincare Thinks an Armistice Would Give Turks an Unfair Advantage and Presses His Policy of Disinterestedness — Germany, Austria and Italy Reject Scheme—Turkey Says She Is Not Beaten.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The French attitude to the Turkish appeal for mediation is shared by England and Russia. Turkey's proposals were as follows:

First—That the powers offer and, if need be, enforce an armistice on the belligerents.

Second—That the powers profit by the armistice to invite the belligerents to make known their peace terms, and if necessary harmonize the conflicting terms of the belligerents.

In refusing to act, Premier Poincare declared that France was unable to accept the suggestion about an armistice without furnishing to the Balkan allies guarantees relative to the conditions of peace. An armistice, he said, would check the advance of the allies at the height of their victories, and give the Turks time to reorganize and strengthen their armies.

Premier Poincare's proposals to the powers are:

First—Recognition by the powers of political and administrative changes in the territory occupied by the troops of the allies.

Second—Retention of the Sultan's sovereignty at Constantinople and the region round the capital.

Third—The summoning of a European conference in which the Balkan nations shall participate.

Rejected by Three Powers.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—The Turkish ambassador presented to the Foreign Office yesterday afternoon a communication from his Government asking the powers' good offices to bring about an armistice. Germany immediately put itself into communication with the other five powers with a view to carrying out the request.

The reply of Germany, Austria and Italy to Premier Poincare's proposal has just been despatched. It rejects the proposed declaration of "disinterestedness."

Envoys Go to Russia.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 5.—The newspapers announce the arrival at Odessa of two representatives of the Turkish Foreign Office on a secret mission. They will interview the Rusisan Foreign Minister, M. Sazonoff, and subsequently go to Berlin and Vienna.

Advices from Odessa say that the Russian Black Sea fleet is cruising off the mouth of the Bosphorus, ostensibly with the object of protecting Russian subjects in Constantinople.

Will Keep Up Fight.

London, Nov. 5.—The prospect that a considerable portion of the defeated Turkish army will be able to re-form behind the lines of Tchatalja, the last of the fortifications before Constantinople, is not altogether excluded, but whether the Turks will be able to maintain there any serious resistance to the Bulgarians is a question which permits of doubt.

In the struggle with the allies the Turks lost more than half their artillery. In fact the Servians alone claim to have captured no less than 300 guns. This will certain militate against any prolonged stand at Tchatalja.

In a circular note to the Turkish ambassadors abroad the Turkish Government maintains that, although embarrassing, the position of affairs is not desperate, and declares that when the allies had completed their mobilization Turkey had barely begun hers. The note insists that Turkey is still able to maintain prolonged warfare.

Although fighting is still proceeding on the Tchorlu-Serai line and correspondents are sending reports of Bulgarian and Turkish successes in that neighborhood, according to which side they draw inspiration from, the official announcement from Constantinople that the Turks are withdrawing to the Tchatalja line of forts is not to be doubted, and it is evidence that this fighting is merely an extensive rear-guard action to cover the movement of the Turks towards Constantinople.

The fall of Adriancple is expected daily. The occupation of Buk, on the railway between Soloniki and Kuleli Burgas, is the last link of the chain wholly cutting off the Turkish armies which have been fighting the great battles in the east from the scattered forces in the heart of the country and to the west.

Comparative order is still maintained in Constantinople and Saloniki, but apparently the nervousness felt in Europe over possible outbreaks and disorders is equally shared by the authorities in Turkey. In Constantinople already the Government is seizing great supplies for the army, and the likelihood of famine prices for food will add to the Government's difficulties. The anxiety has been partly relieved by the arrival of European war ships. Others are on the way and are expected to pass through the Dardenelles to-day.

It is considered not unlikely that the fear of serious outbreaks in Constantinople may urge the powers to use diplomatic pressure to bring about peace at the earliest moment.

The Greeks pursued and killed many of them.

Home Massage.

Probably there are more queries as to the use of massage at home and what it can do than any other process in connection with the care of the face, so that a few words on the subject may not be out of place.

In the first place, it is difficult to set a limit as to the powers of face massage when employed by skilled and properly trained people. One hears of really remarkable achievements in muscle building and facial restoration by its means, and sees the results, too, while as an ordinary means of toning up the skin and improving the surface circulation its benefits are manifested daily.

Home massage does not always meet with success. Caution is most necessary. It is only too easy to do considerable harm to the skin by the casual rubbing it about, which is as a rule the process untrained hands perform, for wrinkles are deliberately induced by this treatment, and other blemishes, too. Therefore the best advice is as a rule to leave massage alone altogether, save in specific cases, for which proper instructions can be obtained.

But there are a few ends which can safely be attained by faithful persistence at home, and for these a few suggestions may be useful. To begin with, much can be done to maintain the contour of the face, and this is perhaps one of the most important things, for it is the almost imperceptible change in this which marks the passage of years most distinctly.

Every one who has any care uses face cream or skin food for cleansing and nourishing her skin, and this can be so applied that the desirable end is encompassed. When once extreme youth is passed, slight sagging of the face commences, and to guard against this is easy enough in the majority of cases.

Beauty Tips.

Flesh color is the best powder tint for most complexions. A plain rice powder can be bought for 25 cents a box. It is generally pure and sticks to the skin better than ordinary talcum powder.

Miniature silk roses, perfumed with any desired sachet powder, come all ready to sew in the top of the corset, within the top of a sleeve or anywhere where a bit of perfume may be concealed to lend its sweetness to the costume. These little sachet roses come in white and in pink, and a set of them make a charming gift for a dainty girl.

Peroxide of hydrogen, combined with salt, is a powerful bleach, but should be used only in extreme cases. Wet the brush with peroxide and sprinkle on a little dry salt. Do not use this bleach oftener that necessity demands. Powdered charcoal is not so powerful, but is much safer.

The Small Waist.

Unusual and constant pressure on the stomach is certain to bring on dangerous attacks of indigestion by crowding the gases up into the lungs.

All of these ills are so many enemies to a clear skin, bright eyes and vivacious manner. The chronic sufferer from indigestion is often dull in mind and body. Sick headaches rob the cheeks of their natural color and hysteria draws deep lines into the pliable muscles of the face.

Fortunately the day is past when my lady beautiful boasts of a waist no larger than the hands can span. Abrupt curves of the hips have given place to the straight lined figure, which, contrary to former belief, give a much more slender effect than the wasp waist. Moreover they are more youthful.

Preventing Sunburn.

The best way to protect the face from tan and sunburn is through applying cold cream, over which is put a generous coating of powder. If one is careful to wipe off the excess cream and to rub the powder into the skin smoothly it will not show. Always do this before going out into the sun and wind and especially if going to a trip on the water. Remember that it is much easier to prevent tan and sunburn than it is to get rid of them after they are once acquired.

Liquid Powder.

While the effect of the constant use of liquid powder is often extremely upleasant it may be used at intervals without fear of injury to the skin. One of the best pearl white liquids is made by combining 1½ ounces of bismuth subcarbonate with enough water to make six ounces in all. Rain water should be used if possible. The bottle must always be shaken well before applying the powder. Be careful not to apply it too generously or it will give the effect of facial enamel.

LATEST PARIS CRY.

The Cutaway Is Having Modish Right of Way.

SUIT OF TAN BROADCLOTH.

A decided novelty in tailored wear is this coat with cutaway fronts and a watteau plait at the back. Under the plait the coat fits the figure trimly, and the waist line is clearly defined.

The costume is by a famous French dressmaker, and the combination of tan broadcloth coat and pannier skirt of brown velvet is thought very chic in Paris.

A hat of light tan colored moire silk faced with black velvet and trimmed with a "shower" feather ornament matches the costume, which is completed with long tan gloves.

BATHROOM LUXURY.

Portable Shower Spray That Is Practical and Convenient.

Almost every person can afford the luxury of a shower bath, since it is possible to buy a portable one at such modest prices. A shower bath of the most practical kind is marked at a few pennies less than $5, and after demonstrating its merits no one would go without such a comfort who had the price to pay for it. The fittings were substantial, arranged with fixtures for attaching to the wall, an extremely strong rubber pipe and curtains of heavy sail duck such as tents are made of.

These would be a perfect protection to walls or paper.

At such a low price one expects only the most flimsy outfit, and to pay $5 for something that would soon get out of order or prove impracticable is just like throwing money away. Then for those who feel even $5 is beyond their purse there is a bath spray that is not at all a bad substitute for the shower bath. The prices for rubber and rose nozzle begin at 50 cents for the small size. For rinsing the hair these sprays are excellent, as the force sends water right into the scalp, cleansing in from soap most thoroughly. By the way, there is a little shampoo bag lately introduced which costs only 10 cents and can be dried and used over and over again. The outer covering is cheesecloth, with a spongy substance inside charged with soap and perfumed powders, said to be very cool, cleansing and refreshing.

Violet Toilet Sets.

One of the most attractive toilet novelties seen in some time is the new violet toned toilet sets. They are made of a special brand of celluloid in Germany, tinted a rich violet, and some of them are decorated with gold. Although of celluloid, they are by no means to be classed among the cheap articles, as they are rich in appearance and decidedly costly, some of the pieces costing more than the average silver articles. In the gold decked ware a set of thirteen pieces is sold at $49. Thirteen does not cover the number of articles obtainable, however, as there are all sorts of brushes and manicure implements, powder boxes, jewel cases, etc., which make a complete set of the plain violet number about thirty and cost between $70 and $80. A ring mirror, for instance, is $9.50. The simplest little piece of the manicure set is 50 cents. The articles are very pretty and novel and sure of a pronounced vogue.

Wilson Next President.

New York, Nev. 6.—Overturning big Republican majorities in States never before captured by the Democrats in a Presidental election, the Wilson-Marshall Presidental ticket was swept into office yesterday on the wave of a victory that carried with it State offices, Congessional seats, and the control of a number of Legislatures that will have the opportunity to oust Republicans from the United States Senate and add to the strength in that body.

Woodrow Wilson for President by a plurality of 200,000 in New York by William Sulzer for Governor by about the same plurality was the story of latest election returns received up to 2.30 this afternoon.

Many districts are still missing and the finai returns are coming in slowly.

The total Presidental vote recieved so far is Wilson, 638,821; Taft, 438,975. and Roosevelt, 378,-434.

Latest figures show that the State Senate will be composed of 33 democrats and 18 Republcans, while the new Assembly will be made up of 107 Democrats, 39 Republicans and four Progressives.

The returns show 35 Democrats and 12 Republican Congressmen elected in the State.

The total Gubernatorial vote was: Sulzer, 607,411; Hedges, 403,444: Stratus, 365,628.

Second only in interest to the overwhelming victory of Governor Wilson and his running mate, Governor Marshall of Indiana, was the strength shown qy Col. Roosevelt in Illinois Pennsylvania and other States.

Cganges in the doubtful States, according to later returns, gave Mr. Wilson four more electoral votes from New Hampshire.

The Late James C. Munro

Matilda township lost a good citizen on Oct. 24th, in the death of James C. Munro, second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Munro, 5th con. of Matilda. For several years past he had suffered from anaemina, which left him unable to attend to his work, especially the last two years, when his case grew serious, and his weakness increased, and his demise was unexpected. He suffered no pain, only lost vitality, the result of the blood turning to water, the leading symptom of anaemina. During his last illness he bore up with courage and even cheerfulness that was surprising for one who had been ill so long, and passed away with a firm trust in the atoning merits of a risen Redeemer. He was born on the homestead 52 years ago, where he lived and died honored and respected by the entire community. He leaves a wife whose maiden name was Emma, daughter of the late Wm. Collison, and one son and three daughters grown up, to mourn a good husband and father. In politics he was a Liberal. and in religion a member of the Anglican faith. The funeral service on Tuesday afternoon was conducted by Rev. Mr. Jones of South Mountain. Interment was made in Brinston vault. The family were all present at the funeral excepting his brother Cyrus, of Calgary who was not able to attend, and Frank, of Elgin, who was not apprised of his death owing to a telegram, which had been sent not reaching him. The widow and children, and aged parents and brothers and sisters are deeply sympathized with in their bereavement. —Iroqnois News.

Advertising Methods Adopted by an Enterprising House.

That Chestervllle is fast becoming metropolitan in the methods of advertising used by our merchants to call the buying public's attention to the many splendid values which they are offering also that the wide-awake firm of G. W. Bogart is keeping up with and just a little ahead of the times in an advertising respect is again pratically demonstrated by what is perhaps the most elaborate system of advertising ever attempted by any business house in this section. namely: the giving away of the beautiful Mozart Parlor Grand Piano which is now upon exhibition at their store.

This piano retails at $350.00 each, guaranteed for ten years. The principal points of superiority of the celebrated Mozart piano over any other of this class of instruments lie in the three strings in unison with overstrung bass, the splendidly pitched scale and true sounding board which give the Mozart that rich, deep, even tone so much admired.

In a recent interyiew with Mr. Bogart regarding this decided innovation in advertising, Mr. Bogart stated: "We have been enjoying the patronage and confidence of the buyers of this community for some time now and by always trying to keep our stocks complete the saying that 'you can get it at Bogart's' has become a household expression. In giving away this piano we are actuated by a double purpose, to show our appreciation of the patronoge of our friends during the past, also to encourage new trade and to bring the many splendid values we are now showing in all lines to the attention of every buyer in this territory. The plan we are using in giving away this piano is equitable and fair to all, simply this, every person buying one dollar's worth of anything in our store will receive a coupon good for 100 votes. The person returning to us the largest number of votes will be given the piano absolutely free of all cost. No favors will be shown. Our reputation tor 'square dealing' assures our customers of the fact."

The three hundred and fifty dollar Mozart Parlor Grand Piano is surely a present worth having and we predict a very "merry race" for coupon votes during the next few months.

G. W. Bogart is surely to be congratulated upon his broadminded methods and "Trade Getter" advertising system.

That the Clerk's salary be fixed at $1,200 dating from 1st November, 1912, and that a by-law covering same be passed at current session, it being understood in this connection that this sum is the salary limit, and that no further increases will be applied for by the present incumbent during his tenure of office.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Frank Elliot, a former Reeve of Winchester, was invited within the railing, which he accepted after expressing his thanks.

By-law No. 1660, appointing James R. Simpson, of the Village of Finch, as Counties' Treasurer, at the salary of $1,000 per annum, was passed, signed and sealed.

The Council then adjourned until 7 a. m. on Friday.

At Friday morning's session the following by-law were passed:—

By-law No. 1661, authorizing the Warden and Treasurer to borrow a sum not exceeding $15,000 for current expenditures, if necessary.

By-law No. 1662, to amend By-law No. 1501, and fix Clerk's salary.

By-law No. 1664, for payment of orders and accounts.

On motion of Messrs McMillan and Brown, the Warden vacated the chair and the same was taken by Dr. Morrow.

Moved by Messrs McMillan and Rombough, that the earnest thanks of this Council are due to, and are hereby tendered to Mr. Malcolm S. Beckstead, our Warden, for the eminently fair, impartial and able manner in which he has acquitted himself of his duties as presiding officer during current year.

The motion was carried unanimously amidst applause.

The chairman then presented the vote of thanks to the Warden, who expressed his acknowledgements. He said he hoped to renew acquaintances formed and to retain friendships established, and would always remember the year 1912 to the end of his days.

After singing the National Anthem with spirit and good effect, the Council rose.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE.

Timber Crop Is of Slow Growth, but It Pays to Cultivate It.

In order to get a crop of potatoes we plant and cultivate; if we want the best orchard we spray and prune, but we let nature plant and care for the wood lot, and then we wonder why that woodlot does not pay.

The timber crop can be improved by care for the same reasons that other crops can be improved.

Although it takes longer to raise this crop than any other, it can be raised on land otherwise unprofitable or idle.

Such a crop will in the end yield a comfortable bank account, and the value of the wood lot to the farm is greater than the sale value of the crop in the convenience and the saving of money by having various wood products at hand, in protecting the build ings and fields from wind and in the beauty of the farm. The time is coming when thrifty young timber not yet large enough to cut will have a good sale value.

The care of this crop causes little expense, and the wood lot offers one means of solving the problem of how to keep good farm help profitably employed all the year.

The three principal aims in caring for the wood lot should be to keep the ground thoroughly covered with trees, to have only the best possible trees and to make them grow rapidly.

In order to make timber grow fast care should be taken in choosing the kinds of trees to raise, the soil should be kept moist and mellow by protecting the leaf mulch, and the best trees should be given a fair amount of light by making improvement cuttings.

Methods of starting new trees either to fill openings now in the woods or to replace timber to be harvested are as follows: By sprouts, by seed falling from neighboring trees, by sowing seed broadcast and by planting trees or seed. —Cornell (N. Y.) Reading Course Lesson For Farm.

Cement In Tree Cavities.

If your orchard trees have decayed portions in them clean out the rotted wood, then bore diagonally into the wood in different directions from the bottom of the hole in order that the filling may hold. Fill the cavity with the following cement compound: Portland cement, one pound; sand, two pounds; cinders, two pounds. Pack the cement in well and seal all around the filling with a tar mixture. Leave no projections beyond the plane of the bark and immediately the wood ring and the bark will begin to form over the patch, and the tree will ultimately be as good as new. The entire heart of the tree may be cleared out and filled in this way and the tree will continue to flourish.—Farm Progress.

Whose advice do you follow? Not that of the poorest farmer in the neighborhood surely. Do you seek the advice of the best and most successful? Do you watch such farmers? There is a reason why one man gets along better than another. Look out for the reason. Find it and practice it if you can.—Kansas Farmer.

Still After McMicken.

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—The appeal court yesterday granted leave to W. H. Trueman, appearing on behalf of Hugh McKenzie and R. H. McDonald, to lay information against Alex. McMicken, provincial police magistrate, for alleged misdemeanors in connection with the trial of two election impersonators arrested in Macdonald Oct. 12 at the instigation of the Opposition. McMicken heard the cases in private before the hour set for hearing and the court expressed no opinion on the merits of the question.

May Exhume Body.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—That it may be necessary to exhume the body of Private John Bannatyne of the 48th Highlanders, which was laid to rest with so great pomp and ceremony, was the startling statement made at the continuation of the wreck inquest by Chief Coroner Arthur Jukes Johnson at the morgue last night. This arises from the serious illness of J. J. Butler, foreman of the jury empaneled to hear the evidence, who lies at his home in a dangerous condition. It may be necessary to empanel a new jury and view the body again.

Thought He Had Slain Brother.

St. Catharines, Nov. 5.—As the result of a delusion on the part of Wm. Young that he had murdered his brother, a squad of police went to his home on Nelson street and kicked in the door. The "victim" was found at work on a night shift at a paper mill. Young has been remanded to the jail to sober up and to undergo a sanity test.

FOOL THE KICKING COW.

Simple Device That Prevents Her From Putting Her Foot Into Milk Pail.

The illustration herewith is a simple device to keep a cow from kicking. It consists of two pieces of rope about four and one-half feet long and a piece of an old fork handle across the cow's back. Insert an eyebolt in the floor to the left of the cow about halfway up toward the feed box, then fasten your piece of rope in this ring and to the fork handle just about the height of the cow's back. Fix the other side in like manner, excepting that the eyebolt be put farther back so as to allow room for milking operations. This apparatus is left fastened on the left hand side and thrown back across the partition when not in use.

Just before milking the cow is fastened in the stanchion, and this is thrown across and fastened in the ring on the right hand side. This is especially good for the cow that is in the habit of putting her foot in the milk pail. She cannot raise her foot without bowing her back somewhat, which this prevents. And if she persists in doing this trick tighten up the rope on the right hand side. The object in fastening it to the floor is that it gives her a certain amount of freedom, and if she moves backward and forward it tightens. After a time the cow gets accustomed to this, and if it is simply laid across her back she will not move a foot. I have used this in a number of bad cases and found it works to perfection, says a correspondent of the American Agriculturist.

Electric Pumps For Deep Wells.

The electric motor for irrigation pumping is being used with signal success in the fruit district round Roswell, N. One tract of 12,000 acres in the district is watered entirely by electric pumps.—Country Gentleman.

Sorghum on the Dairy Farm.

Sorghum has proved a very profitable crop in many of the most improved farms. It is especially good for dairy cows and hogs. One man who sells from 300 to 400 market hogs every year says that he carried his brood sows through the past winter on sorghum hay with the best of results.—Kimball's Dairy Farmer.

Montreal Grain and Produce.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—There was some demand from European sources for Manitoba spring wheat, and on the decline in prices in Winnipeg sales of several loads were made. On spot, No. 1 northern was offered at 97c, ex-store. A weaker feeling developed in the market for oats, and prices for spot supplies declined 1c to 1½c per bushel, and No. 2 Canadian western was offered for immediate shipment from Fort William at 44c, and extra No. 1 feed at 43c afloat here. The foreign demand for flour was dull, but a fair business continues to be done for domestic account. Demand for millfeed is good. Butter is fairly active, with a strong undertone. The demand from over the cable, and western buyers, for colored cheese was better, and some sales were made. Exports for the week were 60,172 boxes, as compared with 45,865 last year. Eggs active and firm. Dressed hogs declined 50c.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—At the Montreal Stock Yards west end market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Nov. 2 were 2000 cattle, 3000 sheep and lambs, 2800 hogs and 600 calves. The supplies on the market this morning for sale amounted to 1350 cattle, 2350 sheep and lambs, 1200 hogs and 400 calves.

There was no actual change in the condition of the market for butchers' cattle, but the feeling was better, owing to the lighter receipts and the fact that the percentage of common stock was much smaller than it has been of late. Demand was good, and a fairly active trade was done. A few full loads of choice steers changed hands at $6.25, and picked lots at $6.50 to $6.75, while full loads of good cattle sold at $5.75 per 100 pounds. There was a good demand from packers for canning stock, and, as the offerings were smaller, a stronger feeling developed in the market for such, and prices advanced 15c to 25c per 100 pounds, with sales of bulls at $2.90 to $3.15, and cows at $2.25 to $2.75 per 100 pounds.

Owing to the continued good demand for lambs from packers and butchers for future requirements, and the falling off in supplies, a stronger feeling prevailed in the market, and prices advanced 25c per 100 pounds, with sales of Ontario stock at $6.25 to $6.50, and Quebec at $5.75 to $6 per 100 pounds. The tone of the market for sheep was firm, but, as the supplies coming forward were ample to fill the wants of the trade, prices are unchanged. Calves were in good demand. Mill-fed stock sold at 5c to 7c, and grass-fed at 2½c to 3c per pound.

Hogs were weak, prices showing a decline of 5c to 75c per 100 pounds, as compared with last week. At the above reduction the demand from packers was good and sales of selected lots were made at $8.50 to $8.75 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars, and in a few instances as high as $9 was paid.

MURDER POSSIBLE.

John Grindall Struck Before Falling Into Toronto Bay.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Evidence of foul play submitted last night at the inquest into the death of John Grindall, 27 Herrick street, the man whose body was found in the bay last Saturday, led Coroner Adam Lynd to adjourn the inquest for a week.

Dr. Wigham, who performed the post mortem examination gave asphyxiation from drowning as the cause of death, but at the same time he stated that he had found a bump as large as a silver dollar on the back of the man's head toward the right, and a skin scrape across the forehead. On being questioned, he said that the scalp wound on the back of the head could easily have been caused by a blow from a club. In his opinion, the man was alive when he entered the water.

Constable Gordon Morris, who took the body from the bay after the boys who found it had informed the police, said that he noticed one peculiar thing when he reached the body. The man's coat was pulled over his head and shoulders with the lining and seams showing. In answer to a question, he said the man would be almost powerless if his coat were pulled over his head in the manner in which he found it.

Sidney Grindall, a brother of the dead man, said that it was a mystery to him how his brother came to be found in the east end of the city, as he lived in the west end and worked on Davenport road. On Tuesday morning the dead man left for work with a lunch in his pocket, and was never seen alive afterwards by any of the family.

Frank Webb Implicated.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 5.—Letters which the Government charged showed that Frank C. Webb of New York, wrote to J. J. McNamara about sending Ortie E. McManigal to New York and Boston to blow up work there, were read at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial yesterday.

A letter from Webb was quoted as showing that M. J. Young of Boston was anxious to have "jobs" done in Boston in the spring of 1909, and in reply McNamara wrote, "I don't know whether my friend will be able to get down your way. Find out if the deal could be pulled off. I'll attend to the rest of it, so no one will know anything about it as to time." The Government asserted these letters were referred to Frank M. Ryan, president of the Ironworkers' Union, and that Herbert S. Hockin was sent to Chicago to prepare McManigal for the eastern trips. McManigal reported that an opera house under construction in Boston, and a viaduct in Hoboken, N.J., were blown up in March, 1909.

New Evidence In Ellis Case.

Lindsay, Ont., Nov. 5.—New evidence may be disclosed in the case of Arthur A. Ellis, now under the death sentence in the county jail here, through Col. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, in whose constituency the convicted man lived, and the shooting of Lewis Porter, for whose murder he is under sentence of death, took place. It is understood that a report has come to the Minister that Ellis had sought to marry Edith Porter, the daughter of his dead wife, before their marriage, and the girl, whom the defence tried to show at the trial, had written to Ellis to tell him of the threats of the Porters against him. This intention is said to have brought from Lew Porter direct and definite threats against the life of Ellis. At the time of the trial Ellis told a reporter of hearing that such had been made, but as he had been unable to locate the man who had given him this information ,this was not put in evidence at the trial. It is understood that this report may form the basis of an application for a new trial by Ellis' counsel.
