CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

A season of good resolutions is upon us. Year after year the Castle boasts a list of programs based on mature intelligence and firm resolve. We feel that then is the time to demonstrate our ability to take a stand and stick to it.

This year will be no exception and the results are almost guaranteed to be the same as usual. About three days will go by with hardly any break in our newfound strength of will. Then Nature will take its course and we will end up in the same old rut of dissent and joyful argument.

We relinquished our civic duties this past year-end. We swore to keep our temper and not let the odds and ends of government disservice bother us. It lasted one day and then only by superhuman effort. Somewhere along the line a couple of final directives got fouled up with a need for sleep; our rantings are confined to the Castle walls, which is probably just as well.

We renewed our intention to not use the fragrant weed. Our reference is to tobacco, not pot. It will soon be 15 years since we were told to abstain from the delightful habit. One would think by now we had kicked the desire. But even yet the combination of hot coffee and thoughts of a fresh cigarette will start the juices running over the lower plate.

We renewed our intention to explore the delights of being lazy when the time allowed. This year promises a bit more of that commodity now that local government can get along very well without our small efforts. At least there will be some 30 weeks we will not be attending meetings over and above the usual things.

We do intend to be a mite more specific in our reporting of certain phases of village business. According to our shield and buckler, the vice president, we have been something less than candid of late in our reporting. It seems she feels we were hesitant about baring the sins of the reeve as well as other small aberrations that have been known to occur in civic affairs. While we never did set up as a perfect example of Moral Rearmament, neither did we plan to illustrate our immoral alignment to certain of the more delightful vices. The new year will find us shining in new armour and girded with righteousness. At least until the end of the week.

All these things make for delightful dreaming. As grandmother used to say: "It never hurt to be notional, so long as the daylight lasted. Just be home by dark." We will try to be home by dark for a while at least.

The wheel have gone round and round for this ancient Crumb. We now are heading into the third decade of life with a weekly newspaper. The majority of our readers have been reading this family effort a lot longer than that. But our wish for the season is bright and fresh as always from the Castle denizens.
Happy New Year.

Mr, Mrs D. A. Dillabough mark 50th anniversary

Mr and Mrs Delbert A. Dillabough very quietly observed their 50th Wedding Anniversary on December 26, 1967 at their home near Dunbar. Due to the fact that since mid-October Mrs Dillabough has been confined to her home because of illness, they spent the day with only their immediate family.

Mr and Mrs Dillabough were married on December 26, 1917, at the Presbyterian Manse in Morrisburg by the Rev. Hugh Cameron. Mrs Dillabough was born near Dunbar and is a daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Allan Durant. Mr Dillabough is a son of the late Mr and Mrs Ira N. Dillabough, was born on the farm where he now resides. He served with the Infantry in the first World War and upon his return from overseas, he and his wife took up residence on the farm where they still reside, some five miles south of Chesterville.

Mr and Mrs Dillabough have been very active both in church and community affairs. They are both members of the Dunbar Presbyterian Church, with Mr Dilliabough being an elder of that church. For some 30 years he served on the Church Board of Management and was Stipend Treasurer for 25 years. He is also a member of the Masonic Lodge in Chesterville. Mrs Dillabough is a life member of the Woman's Society, a charter member for over fifty years in the Dunbar Ladies' Aid Society and a member of the choir of her church for over sixty years.

They have two daughters, Berneyce, Mrs Donald Carlyle of Morewood and Doonie, Mrs Martin Ballantyne of Ottawa. There are two grandchildren, Brent and Craig Ballantyne.

Mr and Mrs Dillabough received many gifts, flowers, telegrams and messages of congratulations.

Fifty-five Ford of Canada tractor dealers, winners in the company's nation-wide Golden 50 Sales Sweep contest, were in Hawaii as guests of Ford's tractor and equipment division from December 8 to 18. Dealers qualified for the holiday by reaching sales taryets in the contest, held in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the first Ford tractor. Among those on the trip, which included two days in Honolulu and eight days at the Royal Lahaina Hotel on the island of Maui, were Mr and Mrs P. Monast. Vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr Monast is proprietor of Paul Monast and Son, Chesterville, and Monast Lanes. On the right are M. and Mme. A. Cousens. M. Cousens is Regional Manager, Quebec-Atlantic Region.

Lunenburg goes ODHA Intermediate

Lunenburg Flyers, last year's champions of the North Stormont League, decided to accept the challenge and took the big step to enter ODHA Intermediate Hockey.

The Flyers having played all away games until now move into their home arena at Long Sault, which has just completed the installation of an artificial ice plant.

The Flyers will do battle this Sunday afternoon against the Beavers.

The league is made up of four teams comprising: Howard Smith Beavers of Cornwall, the Flyers from Lunenburg, Morrisburg-Williamsburg Combines and Prescott Barons.

The league schedule calls for 24 games for each team with 12 at home and 12 away with Lunenburg having their home games, one a week at Long Sault, on Sunday afternoon and Tuesday nights.

A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

Chesterville and district highlights - 1967

The year 1967 got off to a good Centennial start in Chesterville. The first ecumenical church service of the season was held in the first week in Community Hall with a good crowd on hand. Finch committee featured a Christmas concert written by Mrs Douglas Dunn held in Finch Community Hall.

Chesterville council made a brave start with some new faces on the board. Gordon Lannin and Rev. Lorne Trimble added their talents to those of reeve Carl Merkley, councillors Allan Clement and Keith Graham.

The month of February found merchants of the village making up a new set of store hours for the village businesses. It was finally decided that stores would set their own hours and council cancelled out the old closing by-laws.

Nancy Gillard was chosen Queen for Centennial year at the Rebekah ice carnival and she added sparkle and fun to the position for the rest of the year. In February too the new area public school opened on the Ridge and that spelled the end of the little red schoolhouse across the township.

Death and trouble plagued the district in 1967. Early in February Pat Barrett was accidentally killed on the road just north of the Frood school. He was only 40.

Roy McGregor took over the manager's position at the local Co-op. He came from Ottawa and in the course of the year has built a fine new house on South Street. The "Record" noted with sorrow the passing of Governor-General Georges P. Vanier, on March 5th. Chamber of Commerce made a gallant but vain effort to get some passenger coaches back on the CPR lines for Expo season.

The town and district were shocked and saddened to hear of the sudden death of reeve Carl Merkley at his home here. He died on March 18. He was 48 and had served his town well as reeve for eight years. Councillor Keith Graham was appointed reeve and James Fyke returned as councillor.

Winchester township Centennial committee took off on plans for a big do over the weekend of the 24th of June. Committees and plans were well underway by April. Every week or so the centennial costumes started to blossom in news pictures. Before the end of the year, some handsome garments were on display.

Disaster again came in a roaring car-trucn crash south of the village. Three died in the flames that followed. Reg. McMillan and Steven Fyke of Chesterville perished as did truck driver Ian McIntosh of Berwick. The accident happened April 21.

May opened and so did the hole in the park that became the village swimming pool. It was partially completed before winter frosts and filled with water. The editor of the "Record" reported the first of several trips to Canada's pride the big fair called Expo. Down Avonmore way a number of freight cars left the tracks of the CPR right of way. Winchester residents braved a wet day to make merry during their Centennial Day.

June found village council struggling with how to pay for a sewage system. Later on the province offered a means to arrive at that conclusion and the system is expected to be installed in 1968. By June Centennial programs were in full swing. Dinners, Centennial Days and other excitements were coming to a head. Not so nice were village taxes. They rose to a high for all time with separate school commercial rates over 100 for the first time. By the end of the month Winchester Township had held its big Centennial celebrations and ended it with a roaring fireworks display. Chesterville swimming pool was in operation and made a handsome addition to the village park.

July found the whole country in a whirl of celebrations. The Queen slipped along through the countryside and the "Record" camera caught her as she went by at Winchester Station. Avonmore filled the headlines at the end of July with its gala Centennial weekend.

N.D.D.H.S. News

By Carol Kilby

Grade 13 Canadian History students studied the week before Christmas at the central point of Canadian history — the House of Common in the centre block of Canada's Parliament buildings. As guests of the M.P. for this riding, Mr C. Ward and his 15 History students were given a "capital" tour by Mrs Jean Wadds. We were especially enthused over a glimpse into the Confederation ballroom, which is indeed a detour from the regular tour, as well as a great honour.

"What did we remember most?" Different students had varying opinions:

"The 'Caucus' with Mrs Wadds was the highlight. I learned more in that half hour than all day."

"I enjoyed shaking hands and personally meeting Mr R. Stanfield and Miss Judy LaMarsh."

"I got a charge from reading the daily paper resume of our trip." And so on . . .

Indeed, there were many highlights for such a short day and one need not repeat how much the class enjoyed and appreciated the efforts of our hostess, as it would seem quite clear in the comments. It was indeed a day that made history for this class.

North Stormont Junior League opens schedule

Well, here it is cold weather and in these parts that means ice and as the announcer might say, it's hockey night in Finch arena this Friday night. The Junior League begins its regular schedule.

The boys this year have signed C.A.H.A. players cards and the teams and league are all playing what is known as affiliated hockey under the control of the local branch which is the Ottawa and District Hockey Assoriation.

Two new teams have entered this year, Chesterville and Newington, along with Avonmore, Berwick, Finch and Osnabruck Centre. There will be a six team league.

Going against each other on Friday night at 7.30 we have last year's top teams, O. C. and Finch and at 9.15 it's Berwick vs Avonmore.

Come out and cheer for favorites.

Christmas program featured at Chesterville W.I. meeting

Colourful lights twinkling from a gaily decorated Christmas tree set the scene for the December meeting of Chesterville W.I., with Mrs Geo. Johnston and Mrs Asel Merkley as conveners.

The meeting opened with the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect. Mrs Alf Jarvis, assisted by Mrs Duncan McElheran, presided for the business period. The secretary read the correspondence and business arising from the minutes was dealt with.

The treasurer, Mrs Wm. Forward, reported on the bank balance and Mrs Geo. Johnston, card secretary, reported she had sent out five get-well and four sympathy cards for the month of November.

The members were reminded of the papier mache class. Mrs Eric Casselman reported that nearly 50 shut-ins were remembered with small remembrances. The president thanked Mrs Casselman and the other ladies who had helped in this regard.

A very enjoyable program was presented by several young girls. A recitation, "Our Mother," was given by Marilyn Droppo; pantomime, "Just Crumbs," by Martha McMillan. Miss Nancy McMillan accompanied Shauna Ferguson as she sang two numbers, "O Holy Nibht" and "Carol of the Drum;" recitation, "Santa's Romance," by Lyn Merkley.

A contest was won by Mrs Harold Loughridge. At the close of the program there was an exchange of gifts followed by a social hour.

Falls account for 45 per cent of home accidents.

O.P.P. Report

Dundas County was reasonably quiet over the Christmas season. With the heavy traffic of people travelling home for the holiday season, only six property damage and two personal injury accidents and were treated at Winchester Hospital and released. O.P.P. officers, during the week of December 24 to December 30, patrolled 10,254 miles of highway and secondary roads. Forty-four traffic charges were laid with 37 warnings being issued. Drinking drivers were at a minimum but two investigations concerning liquor produced two charges under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario.

Two minor thefts in Morrisburg area are presently being investigated. Officers also answered 20 other calls including two disturbances caused by drinking.

A total of nine hour was spent in the courts with 44 convictions being registered.

A tip for the winter driver: The easiest way to avoid skidding is to drive more slowly. Remember, the posted speed limits are for ideal driving conditions. But if you do skid, don't panic! Don't brake! Don't accelerate! Turn your steering wheel gently in the same direction as you are skidding. Watch for icy patches in underpasses, on bridges, rails, in hollow and shady areas.

Chesterville UCW holds Christmas party

The annual Christmas Party and pot-luck supper of the Chesterville U.C.W. was held on Thursday evening at 7 p.m. in the dining hall with an attendance of nearly 60 members and guests.

The gaily lighted Christmas tree and tastefully decorated tables brought forth the spirit of Christmas.

After a bounteous supper, Mrs Myles Merkley, assisted by Mrs Dalton Docksteader, presided for the business meeting. The president read a "Christmas Message" from Mrs K. Hanna, president of the Seaway Presbyterial of U.C.W.. The treasurer's report showed a gratifying balance after all bills had been paid.

Mrs Merkley thanked everyone for their loyal support during her two-year term of office and asked all for the same co-operation for the incoming president, Mrs M. E. Johnston.

The secretaries of the various committees gave their annual reports. The nominating committee report was accepted as given.

The ladies voted to have their annual Springtime bazaar.

Mrs Fred Cass, assisted by Mrs Doug Hitsman, conducted the worship service on the theme "Gifts". Many of the well-known carols were sung throughout the service. A poem "A Gift of the Heart" written by Norman Vincent Peale was read by Mrs Hitsman. Mrs Duncan McElheran gave a reading "Christmas Letter". Mrs Cass told the story of the origin of many of the much loved carols - "Silent Night", "Away in a Manger", "O' Come All Ye Faithful."

The orchestral group composed of Mesdames Evelyn Craig, Margaret Casselman, Elsie Graham, Lila Weegar, Helen Cross, Marian Casselman and Una Merkley accompanied the choral group of Mesdames Lillian Allison, Kay Doering, Olive Cass, Doris Hitsman, Evelyn Gillard and Mrs Ferguson in two selections, "Go Tell it on the Mountain" and "The Country Carol."

In closing the choral group asisted by some of the ladies from the orchestral group sang very pleasingly two Australian carols.

Benediction was given by Mrs Cross after which there was an exchange of gifts.

OPINIONS . . .
OURS AND OTHERS

It was a good year

Chesterville and district has had a good year. 1967 opened on a note of high anticipation and Centennial enthusiasm. The excitement reigned all season right up to the end of the year. The whole district discovered new delight in cooperative enterprises. The word was nearly always "yes" when anyone was asked to help in the multitude of community projects.

Chesterville worked to a grand climax with the official opening of the Centennial swimming pool. It is recognized as one of the finest and best located civic pools in this end of the province. A tremendous amount of work and planning went into the project and so many persons became involved, it was truly a community effort.

The Centennial committee worked hard and long on a great many plans to mark Canada's first hundred years. Then came the Old Home Weekend homecoming and the town and district throbbed with fun and welcoming. Not since 1938 had so many former community members been together at one time.

Sadness was a part of the year. Reeve Carl Merkley passed away early in the year and his loss was keenly felt. Then at the end of the year councillor Gordon Lannin suffered a fatal seizure and was dead without warning. Both these young businessmen held a place of affection and esteem in the town. Their untimely passing is a continuing sorrow.

The village of Chesterville continued to forge ahead. More roads were reconstructed in the continuing civic program of maintenance. Town sewage is now almost a reality although final approval is still to be received from the Water Resources Commission. Natural gas became available to householders from mains laid by Lakeland Gas in many parts of town and electricity users still get tremendous volue for their dollar.

New homes continued to rise within the limits of the town. Available water and the prospect of town sewage will make the picture even brighter next year. The figures will rise to pass the magic $2,000,000-mark in 1968. The big Nestlé (Canada) Limited factory complex continues to grow. More products pour from its busy production lines than ever and the labour force the plant hires is a vital part of our economy.

The farms of the community have had a good year. Even though there have been marches on Ottawa and a continuous keening of complaint from some quarters, the average farmer is wintering a good herd with plenty of feed. More high silos spot the countryside than ever and a superficial look will show most machinery in good repair or reasonably new. There have been unsettled thoughts about some of the government controls over milk and milk products. In the main, though, reasonable men are reaching reasonable decisions not necassarily due to tractor demonstrations or Parliament Hill sit-ins.

Chesterville voters decided to allow enthusiasm in nominating a new council Sunday sports following a lack-lustre vote and the voters showed as great a lack of enthuiasm in nominating a new council for 1968. Reeve Keith Graham and his remaining councillors Clement, Fyke and Trimble bowed out. It was not until the third time around enough names were brought forward to fill the slate.

The new year holds promise and problems. Every year begins the same and usually ends with the work done and a general increase in our worth. We hope the fine spirit of cooperation and helpfulness that was so evident in 1967 will carry over into 1968. If it does, nothing will keep us from another wonderful year.

Happy New Year!

Code changes need careful study

Just before it recessed for the Christmas - New Year's season, Parliament was presented with a bill containing proposals for amending the Criminal Code of Canada. These suggestions are scheduled for debate when the House of Commons resumes its sittings. Some of the changes are certain to be controversial. Whether they will be implemented, states the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder, is conjectural.

Already a pastor of an Ottawa Roman Catholic church has blasted Justice Minister Trudeau for the proposal to make abortion legal under certain conditions. In all likelihood, Members of Parliament will be critical of this and other proposed changes, some of them considered to be drastic. Moral aspects of the amendments should be foremost in the minds of the debaters.

Certain to come in for heated discussions are the proposals for provincial lotteries and homosexuality. So far as lotteries are concerned, they have been conducted illegally in various forms for a great many years. Whether they will be permitted to be operated by provinces, or whether the provinces want them as revenue - producers will be determined. During the current year nearby New York State legalized lotteries, but the results, from a financial standpoint, have proved disappointing. The cost of establishing and administering them may cause some provinces to reject lotteries as not worthwhile.

Canada's Criminal Code no doubt requires updating since it was first written many years ago and has evolved with passage of time. Some of the proposed amendments involve moral principles, even though they are similar to those prevalent in other nations. Purpose of the Crminal Code is public protection from the viewpoint of person and property. Whether it will be strengthened is for our Parliamentary representatives to decide. Further, no matter what the outcome of the forthcoming debate on the new Criminal Code measure, there will be people who will continue to break the laws of the land.

Parliament must move cautiously and slowly if necessary, in considering these amendments. Careful scrutiny is a "must" before any changes are made.

Tough Act to Follow

Philosophy – 1968

Society is my shepherd; I shall not work,
It alloweth me to lie down on a feather bed,
It leadeth me beside the still factories,
It destroyeth my ambition;
It leadeth me in the paths of a goldbrick for politics' sake
Yea, though I walk through the valley of inflation and deficit spending
I will fear no evil, for the welfare agencies and unemployment commissions are with me;
Their generosity and their staff, they comfort me;
They prepareth the requisitions that filleth my table
By mortgaging the earnings of my grandchildren.
My head is so filled with mirth
That my cup runneth over without effort;
Surely, the taxpayers shall care for me all the days of my life
And I shall dwell in the house as a parasite forever.

USES OLD NYLONS TO TIE BANDAGES

The answer to part of Paul Gutpa's problem of what to do with 10,000 old nylons has been found.

Mr Gutpa, a Prince George, B.C., high school teacher, advertised for old nylons to be used for bandages for lepers after reading they were needed urgently.

The problem was that Mr Gutpa collected 10,000 nylons and could not remember where to send them.

Recently the story appeared in the London Free Press and the answer was found.

Dr Jean James, a dermatologist who lived in Uganda for eight years, read the story and called the newspaper with the name and address of the person requesting the nylons.

The Kuluve Hospital in Arua, Uganda, uses the nylons to keep dressings in place. The general practitioner in charge of the leprosy section of the hospital is Dr E. H. Williams, a friend of Dr James and her husband.

should be able to stay dry. Wouldn't a man feel more like a man if, after he got headed in the right direction, he were able to keep going by himself? — Mystified.

Dear Mys.: If your husband feels the need to attend A.A. meetings, please don't pull the rug from under him by suggesting he is unmanly because he can't "keep going by himself."

The arrested alcoholic who attends meetings not only gets support, he gives it, and this is a vital part of the program. The dry A.A. should be willing to extend a helping hand to his fraternity brothers who are struggling to make the grade—as he once was.

Try to remember what life was like when Fred was on the sauce and you'll find it a lot easier to condone his weekly meetings.

Dear Ann Landers: We are expecting our second child next month and my huband and I can't agree on a name.

We named our first born after my husband's father, and now I want to name this next baby after my father. My husband says absolutely not because he hates the name. He claims he has nothing against my father, he just hates the name. Furthermore, Ann, he says if I insist he will call the child "Stinky" and I will live to regret it.

I need your help.—Out in Front ut Not Winning.

Dear Out: Since your husband's father was honoured the first time around, I think it's fair for you to want your father to be honured this time.

Instead of using the full first name which your husband hates, however, why not use just the initial and call the child by his second name. And P.S. — if your husband doesn't agree to this compromise, you can call him "Stinky."

Miss Flora Hamblin

Miss Flora Hamblin, principal of the Avonmore High School for many years, died at MacDonell Memorial Hospital, Cornwall, last Thursday night in her 80th year. The announcement of her death was received with many expression of regret by a host of former students and friends throughout the district.

Miss Hamblin had been in hospital two and one-half years.

Born in Finch Township on Octber 4, 1888, she was a daughter of the late James J. Hamblin anr his wife Jane MacLean. She attended Ashburn Public School (S.S. No. 4, Finch Township). She graduated from Cornwall Collegiate and was one of the first women in Stormont County to receive a Bachelor of Arts degree from Queen's University, Kingston, and a high school assistant's certificate. The degree was conferred at a convocation held in the spring of 1911. She took her College of Education course in 1912, the last year it was given at Queen's.

In September, 1912, Miss Hamblin was engaged by the Avonmore Continuation School Board and served until 1913 when the school became a high school and was located in a new building completed that year.

During the First World War she was employed by the Department of Militia and Defence in Ottawa. In 1923 she was invited to rejoin the Avonmore High School staff, which by then had been increased from two to three teachers.

By the year's end Miss Hamblin was instrumental in inaugurating an Upper School which required an extra teacher. In the fall of 1925 she was named principal which post she filled with distinction until 1941 when she returned to the teaching staff. Her specialties in teaching were English, History and Latin.

She officially retired in June, 1951, and was honoured by more than 300 former students at a testimonial in Avonmore. However, the teacher shortage in the 1950's resulted in her returning to the familiar classrooms of the Avonmore High School for another three years, bringing her years of teaching in Avonmore to 33, nearly one-half of that time in the position of principal.

Hundreds of students from the district benefitted from her instruction and kindly counsel throughuot the years. Her greatest interest in these past few years was that of following the destinies of former students, many of whom visited her and wrote to her. Her philanthropic nature made it possible for many of her students to pursue the paths of higher learning.

Beyond the school, Miss Hamblin was always deeply interested in the community and dedicated to her church. She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church its Women's Missionary Society. For many years she taught in the Sunday School and the Bible Class.

Left to mourn her passing are one sister, Mrs (Dr.) Harold Lees (Grace), Windsor; two nieces, Mrs W. A. Elliott, Brockville, and Miss Barbara Jane Lees, Windsor; three grandnieces and several cousins.

The body rested at the Brownlee Funeral Home, Finch, from where the funeral was held on Tuesday, December 19, for service in St. Andrew's Presbyterain Church, Avonmore, at 2.30 o'closk. Rev Kenneth H. McDonald, interim moderator and one of Miss Hamblin's former students, conducted the service.

Interment was in the family plot in Finch Cemetery.

Garden tools and equipment hould be thoroughly cleaned for storage. Apply a light coat of oil to prevent rusting. Garden hoses should be drained, coiled and hung up to prevent breakage through winter freezing and thawing.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers. The other night I was visiting friends who have youngsters ranging from two to eight years of age. The kids got into a fight and were making a terrible racket. The father rushed into their room and yelled, "If you kids don't stop fighting I'll put you in the basement with the rats and snakes and frogs and you'll stay there all night!"

Why can't people realize what such threats do to a child? Those kids will grow up terrified of the dark and they may never outgrow their fear of any moving thing that reminds them of the "horrors" of the basement.

My first inclination was to tell the father off, but I decided not to become involved in his family affairs. Please tell that man and other ignorant parents to find another means of punishment.—Watertown, S.D.

Dear W.T.: I hope the parents who recognize themselves in your letter will heed your remarks. And now may I add a word of my own? Parents who threaten children by telling them that the policeman will take them away if they misbehave are equally guilty. The image of the policeman as a bogeyman is a poor one, indeed. So do what Watertown says, folks — find another means of punishment.

Dear Ann Landers: My husban, Fred, has been sober for two years and he owes it all to Alcoholics Aonymous. He hasn't missed an A.A. meeting in almost three years. Fred says an alcoholic is never cured — that the disease can only be arrested. Therefore, according to him, he will have to go to A.A. meetings for the rest of his life.

Does this make sense? It seems to me that once a man has learned to live without liquor he

Avonmore W.I. holds Dec. meeting at home of Mrs Stanley Norman

Sixteen members attended the December meeting of the Avonmore Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs Stanley Norman. Instead of answering the roll call in the usual manner, there was an exchange of Christmas gifts among the members.

Mrs Alex Armour, the president gave an interesting paper on "The History of the Poinsettia".

Mrs Maurice Martel, the secretary read correspondence, including letters of appreciation from those who had received Christmas boxes.

Mrs John Craig, chairman of the Ottawa Area Convention, in a communication to the local Branch, called on all branches to send a delegate annually to the area convention.

Miss Marguerite Craig, local home euonomist, notified the members of a forthcoming workshop for leaders of girls' homemaking clubs, to be held in the Newington United Church Hall on Jan. 25th and 26th. The workshop will be preparatory for leaders on the project "The Cereal Shelf."

There has been a request from the Canadian Save the Childrtn's Fund for sewing and knitting.

Mrs Stanley Norman reported boxes had been sent to "shut-ins" and a box of treats to a local family at the Christmas Season.

The members expressed their appreciation to the ladies of the community who assisted at the time of the recent centennial dinner.

Mrs E. L. Filion, as social convenor conducted a contest, winner of which was Mrs Norman. Mr Norman entertained the ladies by showing movies he took at Expo.

Mrs Stanley Wert thanked Mrs Norman for the use of her home. The Jan. 18th meeting will be under the convenorship of Mrs Jas. Tinkess. Hostesses will be Mrs Stanley Wert, Mrs ames Watson, Mrs Maurice Martell and Mrs Grant Tinkess.

IN MEMORIAM

BURD — In loving memory of a dear Dad and Grandpa, Charles Burd, who passed away December 28, 1966.

Today recalls a memory
Of a loved one gone to rest,
And those who think of him today
Are those who loved him best.
The flowers we laid upon his grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who lies beneath
Will never fade away.

Reggie, Vaughn, Steven and Lora Lee.

SEES ROBIN

Mrs Lorne Thompson reports seeing a large robin on the porch of their house here on Sunday, December 28.

DIED

WRIGHT — Reverend Doctor William E. Wright, at his residence, 388 Dominion Crescent, Peterborough, on Thursday, December 28, 1967; beloved husband of Edith Maude Small; dear father of Helen M. Wright of Peterborough and Lloyd J. Wright of Ottawa; also survived by two grandsons. The late Reverend Doctor Wright rested at the Comstock Funeral Home, Peterborough. Service was at Northminster United Church, Saturday, December 30, 11 a.m.; thence to Locke-Britnell Funeral Home, Prescott, from Saturday evening, for service on Sunday, December 31, at 2 p.m. Interment followed at Sandy Hill Cemetery, Prescott. Dr Wright was a minister for several years at Trinity United Church, Chesterville.

Robert Allan Lang

Relatives and a host of friends throughout the district were were shocked by the announcement of the sudden death of Robert Allan Lang, B.A., an Avonmore native and a master at Algonquin College, Ottawa, who passed away late Christmas night at his home at 33 Southview Crescent, Ottawa. Mr Lang, who was 42 years of age, had spent the day quietly with members of his family, apparently in the best of health, and passed away just after retiring for the night.

Mr Lang was born in Avonmore 42 years ago last August 13th, the son of the late B. C. Lang and his wife, Pearl Lattin. He attended the Avonmore Public School and graduated from the Avonmore High School. In 1943 he graduated from the Toronto Normal School and taught elementary school for two years at Apple Hill and one year at Loring, Ont.

For the next 14 years he was associated with the family business in Avonmore. In his father's store he met a large cross-section of the people of the community who regarded him as a young man with great potential.

Following his marriage on Sept. 10, 1960, to Miss Gwendolyn MacIntosh of Finch, he began his studies at Carleton University, Ottawa and graduated in 1964 with his Bachelor of Arts degree.

For one year he taught on the staff of Rideau High School. In 1965 he was appointed as master on the staff of Algonquin College, Ottawa, in the subject areas of merchandising and retailing in which he received much practical experience working in the family's Avonmore store.

Mr Lang was dedicated to his chosen profession and was held in the highest esteem by principal, staff members and his students in whom he took great personal interest.

Although his free time was limited, yet as much as possible he spent at his cottage, near Lavant, Ont., which was built on land first settled by his forebearers more than a century ago. He derived much pleasure from the time he spent there.

In addition to the professional organizations to which he belonged, Mr Lang was a member of the Avonmore Lodge, No. 452, A.F. and A.M. and a member of St. Timothy's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa.

Besides his wife, he leaves to mourn his untimely passing one brother, Stirling Lang, Avonmore and two sisters, Mrs David Dixon (Jean) and Mrs Robert Amm (Bertha), both of Toronto.

The body rested at the Hulse and Playfair Funeral Home, Ottawa, before tranfer to the Brownlee Funeral Home, Finch, where hundreds of friends called to pay their respects and to express their condolences. On Wednesday night the Masonic brethren held a memorial service.

The funeral service was held at the funeral home on Thursday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. Kenneth H. McDonald, Martintown, interim moderator of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore, for many years a close personal friend of the deceased.

Present at the funeral were relatives and friends from Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Perth, Lanark, Lavant, Middleville, Maxville Prescott, Apple Hill, Cornwall, Moose Creek and the surrounding communities.

Pall bearers were Victor Paul, representing the family; Nick Morling, a fellow faculty member at Algonquin College, John MacRae, Jack H. Bush, John E. Miller and Glenn B. McMillan, close friends from Avonmore.

A wealth of beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket as silent tributes to the memory of the deceased. Members of the sorrowing family received messages of sympathy from those unable to express it personally.

The body was placed in the vault at Paul's Hill Cemetery, Avonmore, to await spring burial in the family plot.

Under the sponsorship of Avonmore Lodge No. 3217, L.O.L., a successful euchre and crokinole party was held in the lodge rooms in the Fourth Concession of Roxboorugh.

Winners in euchre were as follows: Ladies — High, Mrs Hector MacRae; second, Mrs Isaac Stephenson; consolation, Mrs Emma Campbell. Men — High, Mac O'Brien, second, Clarence MacRae; consolation, Mervin Alguire.

Crokinole winners were Gary McDonald, high, and Miss Dale Alguire, low.

Newington U.C.W. meet at Foster home in Dec.

The December meeting of the Newington United Church Women was held at the home of Mrs Hessie Foster. Fourteen members were present. The meeting was opened by the singing of a carol.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs Albert Evans, the theme being "Christmas is not just for Children." Mrs Gordon Ross gave the story connected with some of the carols, which was very interesting and everyone joined in the singing of a few of them.

The roll call was answered by the handing in of the Christmas stockings.

During the business period, over by Mrs William Pettit, letters were read from Presbyterial Officers: Mrs Kenneth Barton, treasurer; Mrs Ross, secretary for Community Friendship and Mrs A. A. Morrison, vice president for region 2 in which she mentioned the Presbyterial annual meeting in January and the Inaugural meeting Mar. 8. A thank-you note was read from Mrs Laura Otto who celebrated her 93rd birthday recently.

The group decided to cater to the 4-H leaders and to remember the patients at the Rupert Nursing Home. They also voted to send a donation to the Victor Home.

Mrs Gordon Ross gave the report of the tea and bazaar. The annual reports were given and a successful year noted.

The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs Edwin Waldroff. The officers for 1968-69 are: president, Mrs Elizabeth Beaudette; past president, Mrs William Pettit; vice president Mrs Ken Russell; recording secretary, Mrs Ellis Fickes; corresponding secretary, Mrs Lucy Rombough; treasurer, Mrs Albert Evans; citizenship and social action, Mrs William Pettit; co-operation in christian and missionary education, Mrs Gerald Duvall.

Flowers, Mrs Edwin Waldroff; literature and communications, Mrs Charles Smith; press and publicity, Mrs Elizabeth Beaudette; programme, Mrs Gordon Ross; social functions, Mrs Melvin Waldroff; stewardship and vocation, Mrs William Baugh; supply and welfare, Mrs Edwin Waldroff.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction and a cocial hour was enjoyed by all. Mrs Edwin Waldroff thanked the hostess and her assistants.

VULTURES BACK IN TOWN

Miami's vultures are back in town, once more forsaking the wilderness of the Everglades for gracious living in Miami.

Again they're soaring over bustling, neon-lit downtown Miami as though it was a game preserve.

The city-slicker vultures, with wing spans up to six feet — decided 10 or 12 years ago that the Dade County courthouse, despite crowded conditions and the noise that goes with urban apartments, would make a giod homestead.

Drive carefully at dusk.

Gladioli corms must be cleaned soon after they have thoroughlf dried. Remove the old corm and roots, leave the husks on the corms. Store them in wooden trafs. Do not pile more than two or three deep. Proper ventilation is most important if the corms are to be brought through the winter successfully. Place the trays in a storage area with temperatures of 40 to 50 degrees F.

REMOVE SNOW

Heavy snowfall on ornamental shrubs such as Japanese yews, junipers and cedars can result in severe damage if not removed. Flat-topped hedges may also suffer under weighty loads of snow. Home owners are warned to brush or knock off excess snow before it has a chance to freeze on the limbs. If broken limbs occur, they should be pruned back to beyond the damaged area.

The Government of Ontario introduces...
H.I.R.B.
Health Insurance Registration Board
If you have either Ontario Medical Services Insurance Plan (OMSIP) or Ontario Hospital Insurance (OHI) you will soon be hearing of the Health Insurance Registration Board (HIRB).
The Health Insurance Registration Board has been set up by the Province to act as an agency for both OMSIP and Ontario Hospital Insurance.
HIRB will be the central registration office which will handle enrollment, billings and premium collections, and answer inquiries about Ontario's medical or hospital insurance plans.
OMSIP and Ontario Hospital Insurance will continue to provide their present coverage. The only difference is that, from now on, when you see HIRB, you'll know it means the Health Insurance Registration Board is serving you on behalf of Ontario's health insurance plans.
If you have any questions about provincial health insurance enrollment or premiums just write to:

Mission of church emphasized at meeting of United Presbytery

The Seaway Valley Presbytery of The United Church of Canada held in St. Paul's United Church, Cornwall, recently was well attended by clergy, lay delegates and visitors. Rev Harold Giffin of Ingleside and Rev Leslie Dean of Iroquois, chairman and secretary of Presbytery, conducted the business of the day.

The main emphasis of the day was the mission of the church at home and abroad. The devotional "Under the Cloak," a 20th century myth, brought out the stark reality of life as it is, with a sign of man and a sign of God given to everyone who lived in this land under the cloak.

A filmstrip "Someone Must Care" depicted the work of the United Church in Canada, and a British film "The Long March," vividly ortrayed a variety of needs throughout the world and the effort of all churches to meet this need.

An austerity meal of bread, cheese and coffee allowed members of Presbytery to offer $50 to feed the hungry people of the world.

Other items of business discussed and reported included arrangements for a Presbytery banquet for college students during the holidays, a communications skillshop, and an audio-visual workshop; reports on camping, Presbytery Men's Council, long-range planning on the future of the church and further discussion on the plan for bishops in the United Church.

Members of Presbytery voted to have at least two similar austerity meals at their future meetings during the coming year.

CANADA TO TRY NEW CONVERSION GEAR

Caanda is to spend $35,000,000 on sophisticated electrical conversion gear because it is satisfied that similar equipment is working satisfactorily in New Zealand.

The New Zealand installations are at a hydroelectric station at Benmore, in the South Island, where raw alternating current is converted into direct current for long-distance transmission. It then goes by way of underwater cable across Cook Strait, between the two islands of New Zealand, an dis reconverted into alternating current for distribution at a further installation at Haywards Hill, in the North Island.

Faced with the problem of transmitting power from new stations on Manitoba's Nelson River to cities almost 600 miles away, Canada sent a smal lteam led by J. Foster to study the conversion year in use in New Zealand.

Foster, now revisiting New Zealand with a Canadian nuclear power team, said in Wellington: "There are some advantages in using DC over long distances, but we had to be sure that the expense of the conversion equipment was worthwhile.

"What we saw in New Zealand was encouraging. As a result we have since adopted a DC transmission system and decided to buy British - made conversion equipment similar to the Swedish - made gear New Zealand is using."

The equipment will be constructed partly in Canada and partly in Britain.

The Nelson River power will be transmitted entirely by overhead line.

He added other odds and ends and came up with a gyrocopter, a motorless craft that doesn't exactly fly but does get him off the ground.

Mr Shaw, a painter at Currie Barracks, spent two years and $480 for materials producing the gyrocopter.

To get the craft into the air his wife tows him behind the family car. The copter isn't capable of sustained flight but is able to soar with the help of its rotors.

Until he becomes fully confident, Mr Shaw is flying at the end of a 160-foot tether.

SAMUEL DE CHAMPLAIN repelled frequent attacks by the hostile Iroquois Indians in 1609-10 after forming an alliance with the friendly Hurons and Algonquins. In the picture, Champlain wears the outfit of a 17th century musketeer, but without the traditional steel armoured breast plate and thigh guards. He favoured buckskin for travelling lightly by canoe in the wilderness. Two powder flasks and a bag of bullets hang from his belt. The gun was a heavy, muzzle- loading arquebus, fired by a long fuse. The arquebus was clumsy, slow to operate, and its recoil could easily dislocate a shoulder or collar bone. Eventually the Iroquois realized the superier efficiency of their own simple weapons. They plagued the French settlers with swift, silent surprise attacks until about 1670, when flint-locks were developed and muskets became lighter and more efficient. Champlain made up in leadership what he lacked in hardware. Builder of the first permanent settlement on Canadian soil and founder of Quebec, he was an explorer, adventurer, cartographer, colonizer and writer. He was commandant of New France for 15 years. After being captured and released by the British, he was governor for the final two years of an energetic and brilliant life which he had devoted to strengthening the colony. — Jefferys Drawing No. 19.

OIL CHECKS ON CARS MADc EASY

If you've ever growled while trying to take a reading of your car's oil dip stick in darkness, Harvey Nesbitt's gadget may be for you.

Mr Nesbitt, 50, of Calgary, has invented an attachment for the dip stick that lights up as soon as the stick is removed from the engine block opening.

Called a Dip Stick Lite, it gets its power from the auto's electrical system. It can easily be slipped over the dip stick.

Mr Nesbitt has begun producing the patented device with his wife and 17-year-old son, turning out 200 a week. Retail price is $2.98.

WINTER PIES

DID YOU EVER USE SQUASH for a pie filling? The recipes for squash pie and for pumpkin pie came from the Home Economists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, and if you wish try both and compare your results. I usually just substitute mashed squash for the pumpkin in my favourite recipe.

Squash Pie

Unbaked 9-inch pie shell
1 cup white sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. ground ginger
¼ tsp. ground nutmeg
¼ tsp. allspice
⅛ tsp. ground cloves
1½ cups cooked, mashed squash
1 2/3 cups evaporated milk, undiluted
2 eggs, well beaten

Refrigerate pie shell several hours. Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Combine sugar, salt, spices and squash. Combine, in another dish, the milk and eggs; beat well. Combine the two mixtures together and beat until smooth. Pour into pie shell and place on bottom rack of oven at 400 degrees F. for 15 minutes; then set oven indicator at 325 degrees F. and bake 35 minutes or until firm in the centre, approximately 35 minutes. Cool on a cake rack.

Old-Fashioned Pumpkin Pie

1½ cups cooked or canned pumpkin
¾ cup brown sugar
½ tsp. salt
¾ tsp. cinnamon
¾ tp. ground ginger
¼ tsp. nutmeg
3 eggs
1¼ cups milk
¾ cup evaporated milk
2 9-inch unbaked pastry shells

Mix the pumpkin, sugar and spices. eBat the eggs slightlfy, add milk and cream. Combine the two mixtures and pour into the unbaked pastry shells; bake at 400 degrees F. for 15 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 325 degrees F.; continue baking until the filling is set, about 35 minutes.

Pineapple Cheese Pie

1 2/3 cups graham cracker crumbs
¾ cup sugar
5 tbsps. melted butter
1 12-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 tsp. vanilla
Salt
2 eggs
1 (1-lb. 14 oz.) can crushed pineapple
1 cup dairy sour cream

Combine crumbs, ¼ cup sugar and butter, mixing well; reserve ½ cup for garnish. Press remainder into bottom and sides of 9-inch layer cake pan with removable bottom.Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, about 5 minutes. Meanwhile, soften cheese and blend in remaining ½ cup sugar, vanilla and salt, beating till smooth. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Drain pineapple thoroughly. Stir pineapple into cheese mixture. Turn into baked crust. Bake 25 minutes longer. Cool thoroughly. Spread with sour cream. Decorate top with reserved crumb mixture and additional crushed pineapple.

Chocolate Cocoanut Pie

Filling:
30 marshmallows
1 cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup cream, whipped
2 1-oz. squares unsweetened chocolate
¼ cup chopped walnuts

Cocoanut Crust:
2 tbps. soft butter
1¼ cups shredded cocoanut
¼ tsp. almond flavouring

Grease pie tin with butter; pat cocoanut mixed with softened butter evenly over bottom and sides of pie tin. Bake about 10 minutes in 350-degree oven until crisp and golden brown.

POWERFUL LASER

An Israeli physicist has claimed to have discovered a new method of producing an unlimited number of powerful laser light rays.

Dr Shaul Yatsiv, 40, said his process still is not complete and he hopes to experiment further to determine its full potential.

Yatsiv, senior lecturer in experimental physics at Hebrew University, and assistant, Mordechai Rokani, 27, have spent three years working on their discovery.

Their process involves directing laser beams, more powerful than any used before, on three heated atoms in a gaseous state to create even stronger laser rays. Until now molecules have been used instead of atoms.

Yatsiv said his process provided new laser frequencies.

Fires, burns and fire-associated accidents accounted for 23 per cent of last year's home fatality victims.

Nothing is so empty as a day without a plan

Mrs R. Presley hostess to Newington W.I.

The Christmas meeting of Cedar Brae W.I., Newington, was held at the home of Mrs R. Presley. The president, Mrs C. Smith, called the meeting to order with the Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer.

Roll call was answered with "How we display our Christmas cards." It was decided to tour the Bell Telephone plant the 3rd Wednesday in January.

Mrs Ernest Presley read "Yes, There is a Real Santa."

"The Queen" brought the meeting to a close. followed by an exchange of gifts.

HIGHLIGHTS—

The month of August was filled with plans for Chesterville's Homecoming. All circuits were "Go" by the 25th and the town bulged at the seams. The days flew along and it was time for Chesterville Fair. As is so often the case, the weather turned wet and the last day was very wet. Stormont Fair however had lovely weather and a good crowd.

Dutch Sash and Door suffered a major fire at the Morewood plant on Sept. 10. Over $250,000 damage was caused. By the end of the month election plans were underway across the province. By Oct. 17 Fred Cass was safely back as MLA for Grenville-Dundas under the Conservative banner.

Al Beardsall completed a long and illustrious career with Ontario Hydro and the Winchester Rural Operating Area. George Davidson picked up the management from Al.

Following a nomination meeting, James Brannen was elected reeve of Chesterville by acclamation. No councillors qualified until two more meetings produced the required number. The new year will see A. Lauzon, H. Allison, F. Coons and E. Kelly as the local members.

Again sadness filled the community. Councillor Gordon Lannin was suddenly stricken Dec. 1. He died at home with little warning The town was ready for Santa by Dec. 16. The jolly gentleman was met by a huge crowd of youngsters and the parade featured some 25 entries.

Our last issue of the year again notes trouble. This time Geo. Riddell was seriously injured by a tumbling tractor. He still lies critically ill in a Montreal hospital.

Mrs Clem Rushford hostess for meeting of Berwick W.I.

The December meetiig of Berwick W.I. was held at the home of the president, Mrs Clem Rushford, with a full attendance and 10 visitors. The gaily-lighted Christmas tree and decorations brought forth the spirit of Christmas.

The president, Mrs Rushford, opened the meeting with Ode and Mary Stewart Collect. Minutes were read and correspondence dealt with. Roll call was answered with a stamped Christmas card for shut-ins.

Mrs Rushford and Mrs Anderson presented life membership certificates to Mrs Alex Rutley and Mrs Mills Foster. They expressed their appreciation for the honour.

The president turned the meeting over to the auditors who had prepared a nice Christmas program, Mrs Mac Foster and Mrs Glendon Casselman.

Mrs Foster gave a Christmas reading; she then introduced little Miss Paula Hunt who favoured with Highland dancing. A very humorous game of charades was played.

Mrs Chris Vanturnhout told in a most interesting manner how Christmas was celebrated in Holland. Mrs Casselman presented gifts to Miss Hunt and Mrs Vanturnhout. The drawing for the door prize was won by Mrs C. Vanturnhout.

Christmas gifts were exchanged.

The committee thanked Mr and Mrs Rushford for the use of their home, and for their efforts in making it a real Christmas meeting.

A delicious buffet luncheon was enjoyed at the close of the meeting. Mrs Chris Vanturnhout will be hostess for the January meeting.

Walter J. Bush

Relatives, neighbours and friends throughout the district were saddened to learn of the death of Walter J. Bush, retired businessman of the village of Avonmore, who passed away very suddenly last Wednesday night, Dec. 13th, in his 87th year. The announcement of his death came as a great shock to all.

Born at Bush Glen in Osnabruck Township on April 13, 1881, Mr Bush was a son of the late Hamilton Bush and his wife, Mary Warner. He was educated locally.

As a young man he went to Western Canada and worked for a time in the area of Nelson, B.C. before returning to Saskatchewan where for a number of years he homesteaded near Maple Creek.

In 1917 following his return to his native surroundings, he married Collena MacDougall of Finch. On Sept. 18th last Mr and Mrs Bush observed their 50th wedding anniversary.

Following their marriage Mr and Mrs Bush farmed at Bush Glen until 1927 when they moved to Avonmore. It was in that year that Mr Bush became the proprietor of the Avonmore Meat Market. Mr Bush continued in business until his retirement six years ago.

Mr Bush was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and for a number of years he had been a member of the church's Board of Trustees.

Mr Bush was the last surviving member of a family of ten.

Left to mourn his passing are his widow; one daughter, Mrs John R. MacGregor (Sheila) and two sons Neil M. Bush and Jack H. Bush, all of Avonmore; and eight grandchildren.

The body rested at the Brownlee Funeral Home, Finch, where many friends called to pay their respects. The funeral service was held at the funeral home on Saturday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. Kenneth H. McDonald, Martintown, interim moderator of the Avonmore church.

The hymn "The Sands of Time Are Sinking". Miss Lee McIntyre was the accompanist.

Pall bearers were Hubert Delaney, R. W. Dilliabough, Stirling Lang, George D. McElheran, John E. Miller and Ford Warner.

Relatives and friends attended from such distant points as Kingston, Ottawa, Cornwall and from many of the surrounding communities.

Interment took place in the family plot in Pleasant Valley Cemetery.
