It's that time again and although the 'white-on-blue' can be used till the end of February why not avoid the last minute rush. Harry has been serving the town for more years than he cares to remember and he's sure to meet you with a smile when you drop in at his office on the corner of Louise and Church streets.

MANY VOTERS STAY HOME

District Councils Change Little, All Reeves Return

ONE NEW MEMBER ON WINCHESTER TWP. COUNCIL

James Sullivan, a newcomer, led the polls in the contest for three Winchester Township Council seats in Monday's election. Although the turnout of voters was small Mr. Sullivan was given 511 votes.

Incumbent Reeve Cecil MacNabb coasted to an easy victory in the two-way fight for top position. Mr. MacNabb polled 615 votes while his opponent, former Deputy Reeve Willis Robinson received only 214.

Both Garfield Baker and Dwain Wheeler were returned for another term as Councillors. Mr. Wheeler received 497 votes and Mr. Baker 397. Rolland Cayer finished out of the running with 379.

WMSBG TWP HAS NEW DEPUTY

Edward Hanson, making his first bid for the Deputy Reeve's chair defeated encumbent Hugh McMillan in Monday's elections. Only the Deputy Reeveship was at stake since Reeve John Whitteker had already been re-elected by acclamation.

The three council seats had also been filled by acclamation when only three candidates qualified following nomination. Councillors are E.H. Kyle, Hubert Casselman and Graham Hess. Mr. Hess is the only newcomer.

Percentage of eligible voters exercising their franchise was comparitively small with Mr. Hanson being elected with 452 compared to 275 for Mr. McMillan.

MOUNTAIN TWP HAS NEW DEPUTY & TWO NEW COUNCILLORS

All seats were contested in Mountain Township and although here also many voters stayed away from the polls council will include a new Deputy Reeve and two new councillors.

Reeve Harry Williams was re-elected and former councillor John Loughlin won a close decision over another former councillor Ray Guy for seat of Deputy Reeve. Hugh Blaine was returned and he will be joined by two newcomers George Corry and Ron Timmins.

RUSSELL VILLAGE ELECTS NEW TRUSTEES

Five candidates contested the three seats of government in Russell Village and three new men will direct activites for the coming year.

Two former trustees, Meridith Rombough and Donald Campbell were not in the race and the other councillor Edgar Loucks was defeated at the polls.

REEVE FERGUSON PRATT RETURNED IN NORTH GOWER

North Gower ratepayers returned their Reeve for another term of office in Monday's election when Ferguson Pratt polled 756 votes as opposed to 471 for newcomer Alfred Taylor.

Because of Regional Government ruling North Gower no longer elects a Deputy Reeve but instead elects four councillors.

45 Young People Study Drug Problem At Live-In

The "Live In To Find Out" held at Winchester United Church from four o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, November 29th, through Sunday, November 30th, at eleven o'clock in the morning was evaluated as a resounding success by the leaders and adults responsible for the event.

Forty-five young people, between the ages of twelve and seventeen, participated in the well planned program. Interested groups presenting live music, recorded music and live art as well as drama and a book display held the interests of the young people until the pot luck supper provided under the direction of Janice Wylie and Joyce Lloyd.

Lively singing led by Debbie Gray made an enjoyable break several times during the evening. Popular musical guests were Lilah Graham and John Anderson, with guitar, of Westboro United Church. The young couple are capable members of Ottawa Youth Orchestra.

An original music contribution featuring basoon and piano gave an interpretation of a lovely teenager on "A DRUG TRIP" presented by David Ennis accompanied by Colleen Ennis.

The study of the Drug problem proved of vital interest to all present. Film strips on marijuana and LSD were shown as factual background. The follow-up film "INSIGHT OR INSANITY" was hard hitting against the use of LSD.

A panel composed of Dr. Lawrence Gray, Dr. Wayne Domanko, Mrs. John Gray and Harry Craig, NDDHS, were open to questions from the young people who were capably represented by Gary Collins, David Ennis, Roy Fawcett, Debbie Gray, John Duncan, John Anderson and Donna Swerdfeger. Mrs. Lawrence Gray presided as Moderator for this lively and informative session.

On Sunday morning a film strip "THE REAL TRIP" preceded a time of evaluation by self-expression and interesting art forms presented by collage, brillant posters and poetry.

The young people attended the morning church service as a body with members taking part in the service including The Armstrong Sisters, The Gray Sisters and the Intermediate Choir. The morning sermon by Rev. A. MacDonald was a fitting finale to the weekend.

O.M.B. Requires More Facts Regarding C.C.

It was standing room only at Winchester Township Hall last Wednesday morning when officials from Ontario Municipal Board heard views regarding the proposed new Community Centre at Winchester.

The hearing was made necessary since some ratepayers in both Winchester Township and Mountain Township had expressed opposition to assisting the project.

W.H.J. Thompson and D.S. Colbourne were the representatives from the O.M.B. and F.M. Cass also addressed the meeting dealing with legal aspects.

Although primary purpose of the hearing was to consider what part the townships should play in financing of the proposed centre it soon became evident the O.M.B. was more concerned with making a decision as to whether the village could afford, at this time, both the proposed sewer extension and the recreation facilities.

Reeve Don Christie, Councillor Basil Dawley and Clerk Raymond Annable were present to report on progress to date but O.M.B. officials appeared not too impressed and felt a much more detailed analysis was necessary. They pointed out that, although sizeable government grants were expected, prospects were not as secure as they might be.

It was also explained by O.M.B. officials that if the combined costs of both the sewer extension and Community Centre appeared too heavy it might become necessary to call a vote of ratepayers. This, they said, was not expected but a possibility.

Final decision of the O.M.B. representatives was that another meeting be called sometime in the future, at which time village officials should given a complete report regarding not only financing but also the merits of such an expenditure. And this should follow further dialogue with OW RC concerning costs per ratepayer.

It was also very evident another meeting would have to be held in a larger hall.

It is expected this delay will not hamper continued efforts by Community Centre Board and Village Council to promote fund-raising projects to assure a favourable report when the next meeting is held.

Licence Plates On Sale Now

Ontario's 1970 licence plates for passenger cars, dual purpose vehicles and motorcycles went on sale Monday, December 1, at 281 issuing offices across the province.

Registration fees for the plates are the same as for 1969 plates. For passenger cars and dual purpose vehicles having eight cylinders, the registration fee is $35.00; six cylinders $27.50; four cylinders, if manufactured after 1933, $20.00; four cylinders if manufactured in or before 1933, $8.00; motorcycles, $10.00.

The plates will be blue on white, the reverse of this year's colours. Deadline date for having the new plates will be Saturday, February 28, when 1969 plates will expire. There will be no extension.

The total number of motor vehicles to be registered in the three-month period before the deadline is estimated at more than 2,200,000. Department of Transport officials noted that motorists can gain in convenience and peace of mind by getting their plates in the first few weeks, avoiding the last minute line-ups.

In cases where the ownership of a used motor vehicle is being transferred at the time of registration, a certificate of mechanical fitness is required to get new plates. No certificate is needed for normal purchases of plates, renewing existing ownership with no transer involved. Used motor vehicles licenced previously in another province also require a certificate of mechanical fitness on being registered in Ontario and new plates issued for the first time.

1969 plates for trucks, buses and trailers will expire March 31, 1970. Operators are advised to consult their local licence issuing agent for details concerning registration dates for commercial vehicles.

THE NEWS in Brief

Arthur Edgerton Elected PC President

Arthur Edgerton, well known Morrisburg businessman, was elected president of the Grenville-Dundas Progressive Conservative Association at the annual meeting held last week in Spencerville. He succeeds David Baker of Cardinal who presided at the meeting.

Much of the meeting, attended by about 100 members of the party, was taken in the passing of a new constitution. Under the new consititution delegates will be appointed on a population basis with Winchester having six. The meeting also appointed two delegates to attend the annual meeting of the provincial association to be held in Toronto this week.

Hon. Fred M. Cass, speaker in the Legislative Assembly and Mrs. Jean Wadds, former MP, spoke briefly. Mr. Cass said that through the years the riding had been honoured in having two prime ministers, two cabinet ministers and a speaker, "an honour few other ridings in the province have achieved."

Mrs. Wadds told of her recent part in the Niagara Falls PC conference and said that she was ready to "work for Bob Stanfield" whenever and wherever possible. Mr. Cass predicted a provincial election no later than 1971. "But in the meantime we have much work to do", he continued.

The constitution, passed unanimously by the meeting, was presented by Mrs. Betty Locke.

Other officers elected were: Carl Durant, 1st vice-president; Earl Connell, 2nd vice-president and Howard Ferguson, secretary-treasurer.

Ski-Dooing A Nuisance To Students

Arrival of snow brings with it the sport of ski-doing and Winchester teachers urgently request that enthusiasts refrain from using the school grounds during school hours.

The machines are very noisy and teachers find difficulty making themselves heard above the din. Then, too, students experience difficulty when concentration powers are divided between solving problems and thoughts of speeding over sun-drenched snow.

Better Service Offered At Driver Centre

J.W. Toop, Centre Supervisor of Winchester Driver Examination Centre, has announced a change in office hours which will provide even better service to the public.

Effective January 5th, 1970 the centre at Winchester will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Thursday's hours will remain changed - 12 noon to 5:15 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Orvil Guy Elected To O.M.M.B.

At a recently held meeting in the Board Room, Department of Agriculture and Food, Brockville, Ontario, Orvil Guy, R.R.4, Winchester, was elected to the Ontario Milk Marketing Board.

Mr. Guy, elected for a four year term, will represent all milk producers in Region 2, comprising the Counties of Dundas, Grenville, Leeds and Frontenac.

This election called by the Ontario Milk Commission of Ontario gave Producers in these regions their first opportunity of voting and electing a representative to the O.M.M.B.

Car Insurance Rates May Rise

Car insurance rates will likely be higher next year. Robert Catherwood reports in The Financial Post that this is the view of insurance officials following release of the industry's annual Green Book, a record of premiums and claim payments for all insurers across Canada. (Saskatchewan is excluded from the Green Book because it has its own government-operated plan).

It is too early to give an accurate estimate of how much rates will go up and new rates will probably not be effective until February or March.

Town Buys Calculator

Agenda at Monday night's Council Meeting was comparitively small but members took time to watch two company representatives demonstrate billing and calculating equipment. National Cash Register and Alevettie-Underwood both had machines on display and demonstrated their extensive use. Council finally agreed to purchase the Alevettie-Underwood Calculator which will handle all billing as well.

The engineering firm of Graham and Burman was also represented and reported difficulties on the Henderson Drain contract

Dawley Optimistic About CC

Following Monday night's Winchester Council meeting Property Committee Chairman, Basil Dawley, expressed optimism that the proposed new community centre will become a reality.

Mr. Dawley said a request had been made to council some time ago by the Community Centre Board suggesting a meeting be arranged with the O.M.B. to discuss the possibility of erecting a covered arena at a cost of $135,000. (Phase one of project).

Town solicitor F.M. Cass informed the Town Clerk that the minister had been contacted and agreed such a meeting might be arranged but not until after the date of the O.M.B. hearing.

According to an engineer's estimate, said the Property Chairman, $135,000 would build a covered natural ice centre that could readily be converted to artificial ice at a later date.

Councillor Dawley pointed out that $51,000 has already been collected (under a village by-law to erect an artificial ice community centre on the Winchester Community Park); that Department of Agriculture grants in the amount of $20,000 is available; and if the $65,000 debenture agreed on by the town council was approved by the O.M.B. then such a rink could be constructed.

Mr. Dawley feels it should be made clear the Ontario Municipal Board did not reject the plan last week, but merely adjourned it till such time as more accurate plans and figures could be presented regarding proposed sewage.

Education Costly In Winchester

Town Clerk Raymond Annable read a letter from Ontario Department of Education at Monday night's meeting requesting final payment of town's education costs. Mr. Annable reported the town had sufficient money to meet 1969's demands without borrowing but drew attention to the fact that education in Winchester for the year 1969 had cost $119,092

Snow removal and over-night parking came up for discussion at the same meeting and plowing contract was awarded to Mrs. Ruby Angus. Further negotiations will be carried out with Don Ferguson regarding removal of snow. The clerk was advised to place notice in Winchester Press that the over-night parking ban is now in force.

Clerk Annable also read a letter from Stoney Creek Council. Stoney Creek is in western Ontario and they are requesting the Attorney-General to vigorously enforce laws respecting illegal gatherings and civil disobedience

Copies of their resolutions are being sent out to all municipalities in the province for endorsement and the cumulative result will be forwarded to the Attorney-General. Winchester council studied the resolution and felt justified in endorsing it.

$15 MILLION PSI RESERVE

Research Aid

P.S.I., which prior to September 30 was Canada's largest doctor-sponsored medical prepayment plan, will use its $15 million reserve fund to provide money for medical research and related projects in the health field.

The decision was made on November 26th by the House of Delegates, representing the more than 7,000 physicians across the province who participated in the plan, which ceased its prepaid medical care business with the introduction of the government-sponsored Ontario Health Services Insurance Plan.

The participating physicians rejected a proposal that all or part of the corporation's assets be used to pay doctors the 'unpaid balances' accrued over the past five years. 'Unpaid balances' represent the amount deducted from physicians' accounts to pay for administration and build up reserve funds. Ontario doctors have contributed $50 million towards the cost of administration and reserves during the 22 years of P.S.I., and all but $20 million contributed since 1964 had been written off previously.

The House of Delegates accepted a recommendation of the Board of Governors that the corporation retain its charter and pursue the objects outside the field of medical services insurance. These include the strengthening of medical and other health services, the improvement of nutrition, sanitation and other aspects of environmental hygiene, and of public health education, and other charitable or benevolent objects in the public interest.

Campaign Chairman Says Christmas Seals Response Lagging

Returns from this year's Christmas Seal Campaign indicate the contributions are lagging behind last year, according to G.N. Lessard, Campaign chairman of the St. Lawrence Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

"With the hundred and one other things to be done around Christmas, people sometimes understandably forget to answer their Christmas Seal Letter," said Mr. Lessard. "But without those contributions we can't go ahead with planned programmes for next year. Our fight against TB and respiratory disease musn't lapse at this vital stage".

The goal of the St. Lawrence TB & RD Association's Christmas Seal Campaign this year is $20,000.00 compared with $18,000.00 last year. Thus far returns are $6,560.00 compared with $7,835.00 over the same number of days last year. At the beginning of the campaign 18,000 appeal letters were mailed to our fellow citizens in the counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. To date we have received replies from only 4,000 of our neighbours.

"With the closing of the St. Lawrence Sanitorium", said Mr. Lessard, "your St. Lawrence TB & RD Association is your only watchdog in the continuing war against TB and other Respiratory Diseases, and each citizen is respectfully urged to reply to their Christmas Seal Appeal Letter today.

Use Christmas Seals. It's a matter of life and breath.

Milking Cows and Mastitis - Every month the dairyman receives a pink slip, on which a sample of the milk he produces has been scored.

Two tests are reported. The Resazurin Test (the resazurin indicator is added to a measured sample of milk and the length of time required for the milk to change colour is recorded) measures the activity of bacteria in the milk sample. The bacteria which the test indicates are those which contaminate the milk, from the air, the milking machines or utensils, after it leaves the cow.

The Gel Test (gel indicator is added to a measured sample of milk and the amount of gelling is measured) indicates the number of leucocytes or white blood cells in the milk. Increased leucocytes may be caused by cows in long lactation, but more likely results from management problems and mastitis.

One way of summing up the two tests would be to say that the Resazurin Test tests the dairyman and the Gel Test tests the cow.

Non-infectious mastitis (bacteria not involved) is usually produced by improper milking or improperly working milking machines.

Infectious mastitis is produced from bacteria living in the cow's surroundings and in the cow's udder. These bacteria are ready to take over when a weakness or extra stress on the cow develops. Therefore, management, sanitation and treatment, in that order, are of extreme importance in reducing mastitis.

Every milk machine system requires servicing, with the vacuum controller being the most common offender in problem cases. Man is more important than the machine, and "A good operator with a poorly operating machine, will do a better job than a poor operator with a properly operating machine."

With a properly operating machine, milking should be fast and the machine removed from the cow promptly.

Check Your Routine

1. Stimulation of the udder should be vigorous and occur within one minute of milking.
2. Use individual paper towels (newspaper is a good substitute) and properly diluted sanitizer to wash udder.
3. Dip teat cups between cows using sanitizer (30 seconds) or hot water 170 degrees.
4. Use teat dip after milking.
5. Delay treatment until you are sure milking practices and sanitation are not causing problems.
6. Cows that do not respond to treatment should be removed from the herd.

Through the Veterinary Services Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture & Food, a Mastitis Control Program is available to Ontario farmers.

IN MEMORIAMS

LEVERE—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Alexander Levere who passed away December 6th 1963.

To some you are almost forgotten,
To others just a part of the past,
But to the ones who loved and lost you
Loving memories will always last.

—Wife, Family and Grandchildren. 31p

CRAIN—In memory of Mr. and Mrs. James Crain who were killed suddenly December 4th, 1966.

We little knew when we woke that morn
The sorrow the day would bring;
The call was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with those we loved so dear.
Please, God, forgive a silent tear,
A fervent wish that they were here.
There are others, yes, we know
They were ours and we loved them so.

—Aleitha, Otho and Bessie. 31c

EDGERTON—In loving memory of a dear friend, Maude Edgerton who died December 9th, 1963.

Sadly missed and always remembered.

Official Opening New Ice Plant

Jay Roberts, tight end of Ottawa's Grey Cup team, will be in Metcalfe next Thursday night to participate in the official opening of the new artificial ice plant at East Osgoode Memorial Community Centre.

To commemorate this major step in recreational facilities for the community M. and W. Rangers of Ottawa will play an all-star Metcalfe team and Mr. Roberts will drop the puck to declare the plant officially open and also start the game.

Local fans will be particularly interested in the Ottawa team as John Kelly Metcalfe's star performer last year will be in action with the Rangers. There is another reason also. Coach of M. and W. Rangers is Lorne Woods and Metcalfe still claims him as a home town boy. Lorne, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Woods, was born at Metcalfe and is now well known, not only as a hockey coach but also as a C.F.L. official.

Metcalfe's 'All-Stars' will also have familiar faces. Players of this year's Junior 'B' team will be joined by Larry and Brian Robinson, Al Duncan, Gay Ford, Tom Hay and Doug Russell.

Seating capacity in the community centre is limited and management suggests many late-comers may be turned away. Come early and be sure.

Boys Participate In Early Morning Hockey Class At Metcalfe Arena

Learning the basics of hockey is readily shown in the accompanying photo left. The Lions minor hockey school at Metcalfe should prove much more beneficial this winter since complete training programs are being directed by competent instructors. Boys are learning the fundamentals first and at the same time developing muscles that will be put under the greatest strain. Besides physical development they are learning the art of skating, proper technique of shooting, stickhandling and ice discipline. In photo one group thoroughly enjoys the early morning activities. Boys of all ages are undergoing the training which starts at 8:00 every Saturday morning and carries on till 4:00 in the afternoon. From this group may come a future N.H.L. star.

Four Junior Players Out

St. Lawrence Junior 'B' Hockey League President, Keith Carkner of Winchester told the Press Monday morning four players would be suspended indefinitely following the fracas at Metcalfe on Sunday night.

Fights broke out in the last five minutes of the game between Morrisburg and Metcalfe and when peace was restored referees had handed out four match penalties.

Mr. Carkner said he will no longer tolerate continued abuse of officials and stated emphatically the four players involved would be suspended indefinitely. "What's more", he said, "any other players guilty of directing abusive language at officials or in any way molesting them will receive similar treatment".

The four players suspended were Dean Holmes and Geoff Cochrane of Metcalfe and Dan Cassell and Garth Baker of Morrisburg.

Winchester Hawks Move Up In Standing

Winchester's North Dundas Hawks moved out of the cellar in St. Lawrence Junior 'B' league play when they came through a strenuous four game series with two wins.

The local boys had a busy schedule calling for games on three consecutive days and in addition they were able to play one of the earlier post-poned games.

Following their victory over Cardinal on home ice Thursday night they met the league-leading Morrisburg boys the following night and dropped a close 4 to 2 decision.

Saturday night, the fired-up team travelled to Cardinal where they lost again by a score of 5 to 3.

Sunday afternoon meant another trip and a game that coincided with the Grey Cup spectacular. Coach Joel and his boys carried a television with them and had it installed in the dressing room at Alexandria. Apparently some of the enthusiasm and drive exhibited by Ottawa Rough Riders rubbed off on the 'Hawks' and they skated to a convincing 4 to 2 victory.

In the tough series many Winchester players increased their scoring averages. Here's how the goals were scored for the Hawks.

In Thursday's night game six were scored as follows: one each for Reg Hyndman, Doug Vasey, Dale Hutt, Joe Marriner, Bob McClintock, and Dave Canbridger

Reg. Hyndman and Steve Kenney each picked up one on Friday night.

Reg. Hyndman added another on Saturday night while Ray St. Pierre scored twice and Dale Hutt once.

At Alexandria on Sunday Bob McClintock picked up two while Steve Kenney and Dave VanBridger got one each.

Metcalfe Upsets Morrisburg

League-leading Morrisburg Lions 'roared' into Metcalfe on Sunday night and lost to the cellar-dwelling Metcalfe 'Jets'. In a game that ended in a donnybrook, with likely suspension of several players pending, the Metcalfe boys earned a 1-goal victory.

A goal by Morrisburg McNairn at the 18-minute mark of the third period had tied the score at 5-all, but Lloyd Davidson picked up a pass from Don Honey one minute later to clinch the victory for Metcalfe. Morrisburg pulled their goalie for the last thirty seconds but the local boys held on.

Morrisburg took an early lead in the first period on goals by Hess and Morrow while Metcalfe picked up one off the stick of Peter Miller. Don Honey tied it all up early in the second period and Lloyd Davidson put the home team ahead at the 19-minute mark.

Tempers flared in the final frame when 15 penalties, including four game misconducts, were handed out by the referees. At one stage two fights were in progress at the same time and officials had difficulty restoring some semblance of order.

Morrisburg took the lead again early in the period on goals by Whelan and McNairn but Honey picked up his second to tie it up and Rupert MacDonald put the team in the lead again at 15:05.

The victory moved Metcalfe to within one point of Winchester.

Metcalfe played at Alexandria on Tuesday but no results were available at Press time, and they will be at home to Prescott Sunday afternoon.

"Gray Pot" To C. Curtis Rink

Clark Curtis skipped his rink to victory in Winchester Curling Club's newest competition, a pre-Grey Cup Special, called the 'Gray Pot Bonspiel'.

The idea was born in the alert minds of Doug and Kathy Keys and their committee and proved a great success with 12 rinks competing in the all-day event.

To say the least it was a unique finish. When statisticians had completed their 'computing' two rinks were tied. One skipped by Clark Curtis and the other by Bill Lloyd. With an epidemic of Grey Cup fever already spreading rapidly in the club it seemed appropriate at that time that a winner should be declared by having each skip attempt a draw to the button - with a football.

Curling was not at its highest level and there were instances where a skip making a fine shot was immediately penalized by being demoted to lead.

Similar to Montreal's activities judges deliberated long before selecting the bonspiel 'Queen'. Five contestants were in the running and although the modern hairdos would have been the envy of any hairdresser, the faces somehow lacked the smooth loveliness of Miss Grey Cup. 'First runner-up' was Jack Hume, 'Goldie' and the crown with appropriate gifts was awarded to Woody 'Brigette' Holmes. The three who didn't reach the final count-down were too bashful to give their names.

Presentation of the trophy (and unlike most victory cups this one had only one handle) was made by Doug Keys who also had awards for curlers who had distinguished themselves both on and off the ice.

The Curtis rink included Clark and Sybil Curtis and Harvey and Phyllis MacIntosh.

Committee in charge of the event included Doug and Kathy Keys; Jim and Eleanor Toop; Jack and Nettie Hume.

"CALCULATOR"

had been experienced because main water lines had not been placed deep enough and consequently ditch level had to be changed. Council was assured all complaints had been carefully considered and all would be brought up to contract demands as soon as possible.

The blocked sewer line that necessitated excavation on Main Street last spring came up once again for discussion and council agreed, although not by a unanimous vote, to make payment for work done. At the time it was felt the town was not responsible and should not have to bear the cost, but since the amount was not that great and other parties concerned were making no effort to pay a share, the town will underwrite this expense.

Another item before Council once again was the 'Peddlar's By-Law' and acting on advice from the town solicitor, council will strive to enforce it rigidly.

Town engineer Reg Freeland reported difficulties still being experienced with wells 2 and 3, but said he is working with the O.W.R.C. and expects all will be remedied soon.

Competition Is The Spice

The old cliche "competition is the spice of business" still applies to-day. Matter of fact it is the spice of life. Without it the challenge is gone and the inspiration to get things done often laments into apathy.

Some would have it the other way. The leftists are prime examples. In setting up the socialist state their idea is to achieve a Utopia. History tells us, of course, that this system has never worked, and hopefully it will never work.

Competition, or the lack of it, in the schools is another question. To-day's trend is raising more than a few eyebrows and many people seem to be alarmed with the direction being shown where competition in the classroom is concerned.

Commenting editorially The Prescott Journal says, "keeping youngsters free from possible hang ups and pet peeves by eliminating classroom competition, exams, etc., is just another way of telling a child that life after school will be quiet and leisurely and a place where they will be able to work at their own speed with no fear of competition from friend, foe or neighbour. If there was ever a society that had to be geared for competition and discipline it is ours. A person poured into our society not honed to establish an individual pecking authority and not drilled in spartan discipline is going to have a rough, rough time."

Schools to-day have almost eliminated failure. Yet life is full of failures and success is often built on it. And, of course, competition is closely linked to failure. If failure is to be eliminated, what happens to competition?

The Journal continues, "what makes us query this move to relieve students of the pressure of competition are the many programs in schools which are designed to father competition such as football, basketball, track and soccer. Even skipping rope and shooting marbles involves competition and discipline. Youngsters still thrive on these competitions . . . will they not continue to thrive on the disciplines and competitions in the classroom that produced the persons who are now trying to do away with them?"

Write At Your Own Peril

Probably the only thing a lawyer dislikes more than a non lawyer who talks about the law is one who writes about it, comments The Financial Post.

Two unsuspecting authors have done just that in a book entitled "Verdict! Eleven Revealing Canadian Trials." Predictably, they have been sat on in a review of their book in the Canadian Bar Review.

Some absolutely shocking gaffes are committed by authors John Kettle and Dean Walker, according to reviewer Cameron Harvey of the faculty of law, University of Manitoba.

For example, it may be hard to believe, but the authors actually refer to a superior court judge as "Mr. Justice Harvey," rather than "Harvey J."

Here's another example. The term "the judge said" is used instead of "the learned judge said." Mr. Harvey is quite properly horrified by that one.

And that isn't all. In references to the Criminal Code the authors (hold onto your hat) have written "the Code said," instead of "the Code states."

It's a good thing that reviewer Harvey stated the facts to those unlearned fellows Kettle Mr. and Walker Mr.

by Bill Smiley

They Earn Their Keep

This column is dedicated to my namesake, Bill Smiley, a high school principal in Saskatchewan. He doesn't even read my column, bad cess to him, but his wife does.

Recently, she forced him to listen as she read a column in which I hurled a dart into the raw hides of school administrators. It made him write, but it was a friendly letter and it's nice to hear from you, Cousin Bill.

He must be a cousin. The Smileys, five brothers of them, came out from Ireland during on of the periodic potato famines and with the skill and foresight that has always characterized the name, chose some of the most meagre land in Canada on which to strike it rich.

The crops were mainly stones, with an occasional bonanza of boulders. Most of them had enough dim Irish wit to get out and move West, but my grandfather, with nine kids and no wife, stuck it out and the old family farm is still there in Pontiac, Quebec, pushing up its annual crop of milkweed, burdock and fieldstone.

Cousin Bill must be a descendant of one of the Smileys who went West and starved during The Depression, instead of staying home and almost starving.

We've lost contact completely. But I did meet a chap, Bev Smiley, directly ahead of me in a line-up on a troopship coming home, who turned out to be a son of my father's first cousin, Joe, who went West. Isn't this fascinating?

However, this is not a family history, though I know you're intrigued. It is a heart-felt expression of sympathy for high school principals, like Cousin Bill.

A high school principal is usually a normal human being (though not always) who is caught, not between two grindstones, but four. Grinding from above are the schoolboard and the parents. From below, he is whetted to a fine edge by teachers and students.

Either he emerges keen as an axe, or ground to a pulp. The odd one is smart enough to quit and go back to the classroom before either happens. But most, driven by the insatiable greed of their wives, keep at it until they are punchy.

This is one of their hairiest times of the year. After three months of unbelievable chaos, they have finally got the big, brutal, awkward, maniacal machine, that is a modern high school, running with only the odd fit or start. (Be careful there, linotype operator)

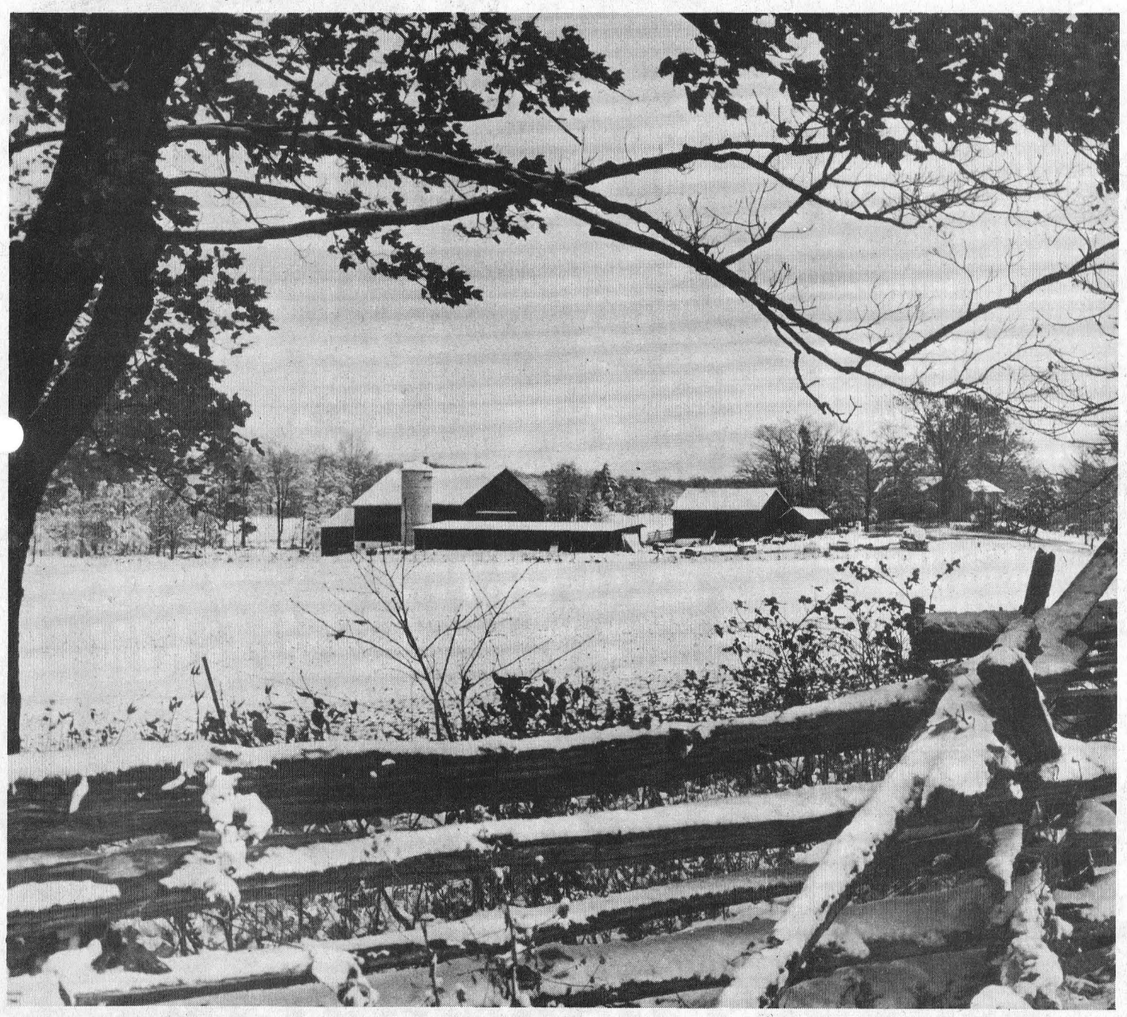
The Board has cut off all expenditures until the new budget is struck in January. The students are becoming unruly. The teachers are completely browned off with Board, principal, students and each other. In short, everything is normal

Then the poor old principal gets three or four resignations from his staff. They are from people who are ill, fed up, or merely going out of their minds.

Where do you pick up, in December, an art teacher who can double in typing? Or a German teacher who is a whiz at German but weighs 200 and must coach the basketball team? Or a history teacher who can pick up a welding class without doing a Nero?

Somehow, they find bodies to put in front of the kids and the show goes on. And the principal takes another giant step, not for mankind, but toward his first coronary.

Bless you, chaps, and have a happy Christmas. It's a job I wouldn't touch with a 20-foot Hungarian, let alone a ten-foot Pole.



Snow And Thoughts Of Christmas

Winter, and the fields are deserted. No branches stir on the trees and cattle stamp and snort restlessly in their stalls. Here and there footprints are visible in the new fallen snow and there is the awareness that Christmas is coming once again to the country.

Christmas, a very special time when cheeks again flush red with excitement and wide, bright eyes in little faces gaze up at the tree that is glittering with fairy lights, festooned with holly and tinsel.

Use Christmas Seals.

The Seventh Column

The Editor is slightly under the weather this week and lest someone might suspect he is suffering from Grey Cupitis, we hasten to clear the air in this regard. If you remember he called the Ottawa Rough Riders back in July to win it all and so confident was he in his prognostication ability that he did not make the trip to Montreal but rather sat comfortably in his easy chair in front of the coloured screen and watched his good friend Russ Jackson write another glowing page in football history.

It was a tremendous week-end for football fans. Not only was the city of Montreal on its best behaviour with no indication of bombing episodes or nasty demonstrations, but the entire Grey Cup drama was a masterpiece of production. Miss Grey Cup walking across the field on the arm of the Prime Minister seemed an appropriate way to begin the great Canadian classic, and history will record that Mr. Trudeau's kick-off tied an all-time record.

Those who lost money by disregarding sound advice in this column are invited to contact the Editor early next July for reliable information concerning 1970's winner.

Fellows you saw smiling all over the place Monday morning were Snowmobile owners. Snow that fell during the week-end was not the first of the season but it was the first real chance to open throttles on those noisy sports vehicles. Speaking of snowmobiles school authorities have made a special request. Teachers and students alike love the colourful cruisers but not during school hours. Drivers are urged not to travel on school grounds when students are at work. This is a very reasonable request and we feel sure it will not fall on deaf ears.

Junior "B" hockey has moved into the limelight since Winchester's young athletes have finally hit a winning stride. The boys have the ability and are indeed fortunate to have young men who give so much of their time to manage, coach and train young hockey players.

It is unfortunate, to say the least, that when tempers flare, as they are bound to in any body contact sport, authority of referees is not always recognized. From this corner it appears coaches should instill in their players a feeling of respect for the striped sweater worn by the referee. Notice we said the "sweater." We may not "dearly love" the policeman but we most certainly respect the uniform he wears. This same reasoning should also apply in the sports arenas. The referee may make mistakes but young players should learn to let the paying spectators make those mistakes known —and they will. Ask any official! One game played Sunday resulted in four player suspensions and this type of thing can not only hurt teams involved but also the entire league. Let's teach our boys to blend humility with victory and good sportsmanship with defeat.

The Chesterville Record is now under new management. Mr. and Mrs. Graham (best known in newspaper circles as Keith and Helen) have made many friends during their 22 years as publishers of our "friendly rival." We can only say "thanks" for many years of friendly relations and offer the sincere wish that all their future endeavours will be as successful as their years in the field of printer's ink. Local readers, as well as many from distant places around the world who once called Chesterville their home, will miss the "Crumbs" column. They're bound to wonder about the fate of the "Castle," the "Vice President" and the "Small Crumb." To the new owners we wish success beyond their fondest expectations.

REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

"For the commandment is a lamp and the law is light, and reproofs of instruction are the way of life." - Proverbs 6:23

Fortunately there are few electrical power failures. A storm or hurricane often brings this added discomfort with it. For some it means near tragedy. We are indeed electricity bound. We experience this painfully when there is a power failure. Then we are forced to bring out candles, lamps, gas stoves, etc., if we are fortunate enough to have them on hand. We then realize how dependent on electric power, most of all electric light.

It is true, of course, that we can do without electric power, and that we can live without electric light. What is equally true is that no life can exist without light. We know this. Experience teaches it. Any creature left in continual darkness will eventually die.

It is this commonly known fact that king Solomon used to teach us a spiritual lesson. As we need light for our natural life, so we need light for our spiritual life. Through the fall of man in paradise mankind was plunged into the darkness of sin and death. Of this Scripture says, "Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." (Romans 5: 12) Having no life in himself man is doomed to wander and grope in the darkness of sin until he finally perishes in the eternal darkness of hell.

The Gospel proclaims the living Saviour. It says of Him, "In him was life; and the life was the light of men." (John 1:4) Through faith in Christ Jesus, the only Saviour for sinners, men can again come to the light and have life. In Him, through faith, man is again justified and able in His strength to walk in the way of life. To walk in that glorious life man must again keep the commandments of God. Our Lord teaches us this as follows, "If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments," (John 14:15) and, "He that hath my commandments, and keepth them, he it is that loveth me." (John 14:21) He also teaches us that, "He that loveth me not keepth not my sayings." (John 14:24)

From these words we learn the meaning of Solomon's teachings. King David said the same thing. He sang thus, "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul:...The commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes." (Ps. 19:7,8) In these texis Scriptures shows us that God's law is the rule of life. We no longer know how to serve Him, since sin blinds our eyes. By this law God provides that light we need. His law is a lamp for our feet and a light for our path. (Ps. 119:105) That is what God's children delight in God's law. It is for them the perfect guide for their life on earth. Those who refuse to serve God hate His law and reject it. They love the darkness of sin rather that the light of God's holiness and law. Which do we choose, light or darkness?

Dundas 4H Program Climaxed With Annual Awards Night

The Dundas County 4-H Agricultural Club program for 1969 came to a climax on Wednesday evening, November 26, when the 4-H Club members and 4-H leaders held their Annual 4-H Awards Night, in the auditorium of North Dundas District High School. Mr. M. Stobo, Winchester, President of the Dundas 4-H Agricultural Club Leaders' Association, very capably acted as Chairman for the evening.

Gary Buck, Associate Agricultural Representative for Dundas County reviewed the highlights of the 4-H year. The 4-H program this year included four regular monthly meetings, a "4-H Happening" held in June at the Chesterville Fair Grounds, a bus trip to Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, O.A.C. 4-H Science Seminar (Peter Leyenaar, R.R.1, Williamsburg, as Dundas County's Delegate), 4-H Exchange with Wellington County (Delegates were Barbara Fawcett, Inkerman and Ronnie Thompson, Chesterville) and the Provincial 4-H Conference, held at the University of Guelph (Frank Casselman, Chesterville represented Dundas County). 4-H members from Dundas County also participated in the Regional 4-H Conference at Carleton University, C.C.Ex 4-H Camp held in conjunction with the Central Canada Exhibition, Chesterville Junior Fair, 4-H Achievement Day at South Mountain Fair.

In the hotly contested Showmanship Class, Dundas County's Showman, Myrna Fawcett, was selected as Reserve Champion for Eastern Ontario, with Gayle Simmons of Finch (Stormont County) being declared Champion Showman.

Four 4-H members (Barbara Fawcett, Theodore Ceelen, Frank Casselman and Peter Leyenaar) gave brief reports regarding the Special 4-H Events that they took part in the past summer. All members gave very interesting reports and expressed appreciation on being selected.

A visit to the seat of government is always a thrill to adults and children alike and memories of shining oak and marble halls are cherished for years to come. For Tom Workman and Allan Sharkey memories of such surroundings, accompanied by the presence of parliamentarians, will never be forgotten. The two area Grade Eight students are Page Boys at Queen's Park, Toronto, and the accompanying photos give some idea of an ordinary day in this very important part of their lives.

Life, however, is not always dull, as evidenced by photo at top right as Tom displays some of that typical Winchester charm amid rather pleasant surroundings.

A time for play and a time to study are all an integral part of that day in the life of a Page Boy. Centre, right, boys enjoy Canada's favourite autumn sport on the spacious grounds at Queen's Park. At right, it would appear the glamour fades from the picture and it's back to the "old grind" with problems to solve, history to study and projects to complete.

DATELINE TORONTO . . .

Fred M. Cass

What are now accepted as the closing weeks of a Session of the Legislature which has now lasted for more than a year, have produced some interesting legislation in addition to hastening acceptance of departmental estifor the year now two-thirds over.

The long awaited Bill to bring relief to tenants from the very subservient position which over the centuries they have occupied at British law was finally introduced. One of its most important provisions, at least for apartment tenants, is the abolition of the landlord's right to require a security deposit apart from one month's rent. Undoubtedly many landlords have abused the previous deposit rights. Also introduced was the Bill to bring salaries of Members of the Legislature to parity with those paid Members of the House of Commons and of the National Assembly of Quebec. At the same time, the Minister of Education announced a long overdue increase in superannuation payments to retired school teachers. The new amount of $2100.00 will be a tremendous aid to many of our older retired professional citizens who in their time served their communities so well.

Last week also the annual meeting of the Grenville-Dundas Provincial Constituency Association was held at Spencerville. The meeting was an important one in that a Constitution for the Riding was adopted, such having been made necessary by the absorption of the two counties into two separate federal constituencies. Mrs. Parker Locke, as Chairman of the Committee which drafted the new Constitution, presented it to the meeting and pointed out that it should effectually meet the changing conditions in Grenville-Dundas. The new President of the Association elected at this meeting is Mr. J. Arthur Edgerton of Morrisburg whose activities and reputation in his own community as an interested and public spirited citizen combined with his long experience in matters political eminently fit him to direct the Conservative fortunes in our area - successfully!

The Legislature enters the last few weeks of its present Session with only the estimates of the Department of Health yet unconsidered, a few Bills to be processed and the budget debate to be completed; in other words, the Legislative Slate (Order Paper) for this Session is almost clear and prorogation should occur by the middle of December.

Just Expropriation Laws

The most awesome power of Government is the power to expropriate property. Initially, this power was used sparingly to acquire property for important public purposes. Increasingly, it has been abused by Federal, Provincial and Municipal Governments. Not only are people embittered by the fact that their property has been taken without their consent but even more because of the harsh arbitrary procedures which have been employed against them. It is public scandal that nothing has been done until now to change the Federal Expropriation Act passed in 1886. It is an Act which the former President of the Exchequer Court, the Honourable J.T. Thorson, once described as the most arbitrary legislation in the nation if not the western world.

Ancient Law Being Replaced

This ancient law is now going to be thoroughly re-written by a Bill which is now before the Justice Committee of the House of Commons. This Bill was first introduced last May and since then it has been studied by the legal profession and many others with the result that the new Bill already incorporates changes suggested from outside Parliament.

Inequity of Old Law

The new Bill is probably best described by comparing it with the old law. Under the old law a persons' property could be expropriated without his knowledge. If he did not accept the compensation offered by the government, he would only expose himself to expensive litigation. It was a law which flavoured the wealthy who could defend themselves and oppressed the weak who could not.

Safeguards Proposed

Under the new law, public notice must be given of the Government's intention to expropriate, and no expropriation can be undertaken if it is opposed until there has been a public hearing to study its necessity. If the expropriation is proceeded with, a Government is required within a fixed period of time to make an unconditional offer of the purchase price and to pay the money. If the land owner objects, he can do so without prejudice, and moreover, the Government will be obliged to pay his cost for appraisal and legal fees required to establish his claim for a higher price. In addition, the law changes the principal upon which compensation will be paid to ensure that the price is fair and equitable in all circumstances.

Important Legislation

This is important legislation in establishing justice in the dealings between the Government and its citizens. It is also important because it is perhaps the first Federal Statute which expressly tries to establish equality of access and treatment under the law to all people - rich or poor - affected by it.

Young as he is, George is a really active boy. He loves to be played with and enjoys being bounced, or bouncing himself in his jumper. He rolls from side to side and is trying hard to roll over. He reaches out for things and greets attention with smiles and gurgles.

George is on a good routine — eats solids well from a spoon and sleeps soundly all night. He is a short, stocky fellow with brown eyes fringed by long lashes, dark wavy hair and olive skin.

This bonny boy needs parents who will not be concerned that little is known of his father. To inquire about adopting George please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182.

N.D.D.H.S. STAFF NEWS

Mrs. M. Fetterly of Guidance Department and Mrs. Lillian Allison, Home Economics, and Mrs. M. Mattson, school nurse attended the showing of the film 'Warrendale' in General Vanier High School on Friday evening. The film deals with a treatment centre for disturbed teenagers. The method of helping these people was originated by Mr. Gunn.

Boys and girls are given complete freedom and work off their frustrations under the guidance of professional counsellors. Mr. Gunn was present for the showing of the film and answered questions regarding the project.

Tickets for the film were made available to teachers, Municipal representatives and other interested persons through the co-operation of two church groups in Cornwall and the Children's Aid Society.

Teachers Criticize Pension Plan

A decision by the Provincial Government to increase the size of pensions paid to retired teachers and their widows will still leave a large percentage with pensions of less than $3,000 a year.

Ward McAdam, president of the 33,000 member Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, made the disclosure after a November 25 announcement that the minimum pension for 2,290 retired teachers will become $2,100 a year after the end of January.

The minimum now paid is $1,200. Or, if the pension is being paid to the dependent of a deceased teacher, the minimum is $600 a year (this will be raised to $1,050 a year).

"What bothers me as a professional teacher who must pay six percent of his salary towards a provincially-administered superannuation fund is that the money supplies a cheap source of capital for the Province," said Mr. McAdam.

Under provincial legislation, the $471 million in the superannuation fund is invested by the Province. "Yet," said Mr. McAdam; "the Province pays less than five percent for the use of over half the fund and no more than five percent for the remainder.

"I seem to recall the Province announcing with pride recently that they had just found available money at eight and three-quarters percent in Germany," said Mr. McAdam. "At the same time they are paying no more than five percent for the use of our retirement money."

The change in minimum pensions after January will mean absolutely nothing to 70 percent of all long-service and disability pensioners, said Mr. McAdam. And 48 percent of all this group will still have pensions of less than $3,000.

"Our federation still believes that the government cannot have it both ways," said Mr. McAdam. "If it remains willing to use our retirement money as a cheap source of funds, then it should also be prepared to use that money to raise the pensions of our members to a more livable standard."

His sentiments were echoed last Friday by the Ontario Teachers' Federation, which said it had asked for a two and one-half percent increase in pension for each year a person had been on pension.

Mountain 4-H 'Fleecies' Hold Last Meeting

The eighth and last meeting of Mountain 'Fleecies' was held last week at Hallville United Church.

Completion of projects were discussed and plans formulated for Achievement Day.

What's For Breakfast

"I want to lose weight, so I've been going without breakfast." "I don't have time to eat in the morning." "I can't be bothered with breakfast. What's so wrong with that?"

What's wrong is this, says the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food: Studies show that young men or women lower their mental and physical efficiency during morning hours by going without breakfast.

School children and teenagers particularly, show undesirable effects; they simply cannot work as well.

Those who do not have breakfast are more careless, inattentive and listless, especially during the later morning hours.

Nutritionists at Macdonald University of Guelph, point out that getting up just fifteen minutes earlier to eat breakfast can give you those valuable nutrients necessary for vitality and energy during the day.

A prepared cereal or soft-cooked egg, juice, toast and a beverage is a quick but nutritious start. If you can spare more time, anything from bacon to eggs to a sandwich or a cheeseburger is suitable. Simply try to include these foods in your breakfast menu; a juice or fruit, a protein such as eggs, cheese or meat, bread and a beverage, preferably milk.

This sound advice is offered by the Department not only to help accomplish a better day's work, but also in the interests of better health.

If you will be 65 in 1970 get in touch with your Canada Pension Plan Office three months before your birthday. The people there will help you fill out the application form that starts your pension cheques coming. They'll explain how your pension is worked out . . . and when you become eligible. 2 Disability Pensions payable for the first time

Disability Pensions for contributors to the Canada Pension Plan will become available in 1970 for those who have contributed for 5 years. Benefits will also be available for a disabled contributor's dependent children.

The Canada Pension Plan also may provide rehabilitation measures where practical. Eligibility for a pension will be based on an assessment of an applicant's medical condition. HIWAY-BYWAY

The Tire that Makes Fun of Winter Driving

It was in the cards. We had to get this year-new miracle-construction in to your favourite winter tires — Hiway-Byways. It's just too good to miss. If you were one of the wise ones, you drove on Glass-Belted Polyester tires this summer. If you're one of the lucky ones, you will have them on your new 1970 car. And since it makes good sense — and safety — to match glass with glass, you'll be smart to install Hiway-Byway Glass-Belts on your rear wheels for the coming winter.

Hiway-Byways are built to take it — snowdrifts, hard-packed surfaces, water covered ice, high-crowned side roads. Stops are quicker, get-aways faster, control surer. Tough Polyester reinforced with fabulous fibreglass belting gives you mile for mile greater value than anything going on winter roads. Discover the peace of mind that Hiway-Byways can bring you. You'll never gripe about snow storms again. If you do, we'll buy back the unused miles. It's that simple.
