OR WHAT?

Coincidence of universal nature, earth-made flying objects, interplanetary space vehicles, or WHAT?

OR WHAT? — have been two locally sighted incidences of blinding light paths across the sky in this sector of North America on the evenings of April 22 and April 25. The Dominion Observatory, the National Research Council and millions of Canadians and Americans who witnessed the space spectacular attribute the blinding light paths to meteorites. Question remains in the minds of many as does the imprint of what they saw.

Described as the most spectacular fireball to pass over central North America in the past 15 years, many, many local people were among those spotting the fiery path of light moving at an inestimable rate of speed in a west to north-easterly direction.

A fiery ball of blinding light, variously described, passed through perfectly clear skies at about 8.15 p.m. D.S.T. on Monday, leaving behind a trail of quickly dissipating white smoke or vapour.

BIGGER LIGHT LESS PUBLICIZED

A much less publicized fireball, in Canada at least, passed along a supposed similar path in a directly opposite east to west direction. This flaming space ball was spotted by Press Editor Reg. Workman and his family from a point near their summer cottage about 12 miles east of Morrisburg.

At first believed by the family of observers to be a crashing airplane, but, the vehicle's fantastic speed and brightness instantly changed this thought to that of U. F. O. Description of the flaming speed ball was, tadpole shape with trailing tail-like section with a colour effect of green tinged with yellow. The suspected U.F.O. was observed for only a matter of 3 or 4 seconds as it appeared in the east and disappeared in the western sky at an identical time of 7:15 Eastern Standard Time Friday evening.

Reports originating at the same hour in the immediate Winchester vicinity Friday night coincided in hour and general apearance. Mr. and Mrs. Don Harper saw a bright sphere shooting across the sky at a high rate of speed seemingly split and then disappear. Children reporting to their parents that they had seen a "flying saucer" have, since the compiling of all reports, been given more of a listening from previously dubious parents and friends.

Sightings of the object on Friday evening were predominantly noted in the United States as television stations in Plattsburg and Watertown were reportedly flooded with calls of spottings of the bright blinding light that was described as only surpassed by that of the sun. Editor Workman, in almost a similar location on Monday evening viewed the second version of the heavenly fireworks with a now-practised eye and classed the Monday light of lesser brilliance.

School Administrator Ian Reid and Mrs. Reid of Mountain viewed the space spectacle as something that would happen once in a lifetime and described the Monday meteor as a brilliant orb that came out of the west and shot across the sky with a close-up following trail of a light similar to that produced by an acetylene torch. North Dundas District High School teacher Michael LeMay observed a blinding circle of light approaching that he considered first a plummeting airplane. The speeding object seemingly broke into pieces only fields away with fiery fragments falling to earth. Dozens of local residents witnessed the so-called explosion that shattered the space meteorite that apparently was estimated at a height of 50-60 miles by scientists.

Possible explosion of the meteorite in the vicinity brought several interested teacher-witnesses of the spectacle to the scene of their observance again on Tuesday. They scoured the area and produced what they thought could possibly be fragments of the exploding space missile. Their findings were brought to the Press Office Tuesday afternoon and from there investigation continued.

EXPERT INFORMATION

Contact was made with the Dominion Observatory and the Uplands Control Tower before Dr. B. A. McIntosh of the National Research Council was sought out for expert information. Dr. McIntosh, after hearing a verbal description of the matter, scavanged, expressed his doubt at its meteoric qualities but suggested transfer of it to the government's geophysical department for investigation. He explained that indications were that any particles of the exploded meteorite should be located in the Montreal-Lake Champlain vicinity.

Queried on the sighting of the moving flaming object supposedly near to the ground, he said that indeed it could appear so through illusion on the horizon. This, of course, would be relative to the as yet unknown size of the meteor and its enormous speed as it rocketed to earth.

Dr. McIntosh attributes recent abundance of sightings possibly to the recent reports of U.F.O.'s and flying saucers making people more aware of falling stars, etc. Meteorites are common occurrences but of late there have been three of exceptional size approach earth obviously in the area of central and northern parts of the continent. All coming within a week on April 18, 22 and 25.

At present there is no estimation of size or speed of any of the three reported sightings, but altitude is estimated at at least 50 miles. NRC and Dominion Observatory officials encourage all sightings and information to be forwarded to them to help ascertain all possible details of the meteor flights.

IN CONTRAST

However, in the minds of many or most, disconcerting facts remain to add question to logical explanation. One, why a smoke or vapour trail after the flight of one meteorite (Monday) and the absence of a trail following the Friday speed venture. Is it mere coincidence that three falling objects have headed towards earth in the same general location on the North American continent What about the time factor that is almost exactly the same in each case? And finally, the exact course followed by two, only in directly opposite directions.

Logical explanation of the occurrences has been offered. Doubt remains. Thoughts turn to continuous reports of U.F.O.'s and naturally with to-day's modern space science and intercontinental missile defence many possibilities can be entertained. The idea is conceivable to many, of outer space travellers coming closer to earth as earth rockets explore other areas of the universe.

No one knows if there are such things as flying saucers, at least if they do they aren't saying anything, and the same applies to a man-made flying missile that may or may not exist on one side of the Iron or Bamboo curtain or the other.

Certainly Batman and Superman addicts are in agreement that their heroes were not out on nights in question. If it is some sort of life that has conquered inter-space travel, won't it be wonderful when the first American rocket lands on the moon, the ship's captain emerges from from his hatch only to be faced by a neon sign flashing "No Vacancy"!

Society Anticipates Best Ever 110th Metcalfe Fair

(By Joe Rowan)

Outstanding service was recognized at the annual Turkey Banquet of the Metcalfe Agricultural Society when Ken. Dow, past president and one of the best known sheep breeders in the Ottawa Valley, was presented with a "Certificate of Merit" by the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies. The presentation was made by Association Vice President Eldon Craig of Metcalfe.

The 400 plus "hungry" supporters of the "Metcalfe Fair" who gathered at the festive board might well be interpreted as an indication that the 110th Exhibition in September will surpass all existing records.

President Stan Hicks welcomed the guests, and spoke in glowing terms of the board whose willing co-operation insured continued success.

Top exhibitors were also recognized when Mrs. Charles Wallace and Mrs. Mansel Reid received special awards for their outstanding performance.

The guest speaker for the evening, Rev. Peter Reed of Erskine Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, selecting as his subject "Some Aspects of Humor," put many of our TV comedians to shame with his tales of comedy in many lands.

KEN DOW

As in other years, the Agricultural Committee of the South Ottawa Kiwanis Club presented an exceptional program featuring the Doorstep Singers. The outstanding musical was under the direction of Howard Leroy, choirmaster and organist of Southminster United Church. The Kiwanis members also presented lovely potted plants to many lucky ladies.

Delegations from Carp, Richmond and Russell brought greetings from their respective Agricultural Societies.

Head table guests included Carleton County Warden Aubrey Moodie and Mrs. Moodie; Gloucester Reeve Earl Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong; Gloucester Deputy Reeve Tom Keenan and Mrs. Keenan; Osgoode Reeve Dr. A. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor; Osgoode Deputy Reeve Tom Stanley and Mrs. Stanley; Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser of South Ottawa Kiwanis; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Blair of Central Canada Exhibition Association; Rev. and Mrs. I. McGregor of Metcalfe Anglican Church; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Whyte and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Craig representing the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies; Mrs. Frank Dowser, Chairman of Ladies' Division of Metcalfe Fair; 1st Vice President Scott Argue; 2nd Vice President Gordon Boland and Mrs. Boland; Past President Ken Dow and Mrs. Dow; William Gladish of the Ottawa Citizen.

Mission Venture Bound

A venture into relative unknown, a special mission, called to Malaysia, any of the phrases may describe well what Dr. and Mrs. John Hall are embarking upon this week. After two years of chiropractic practice in Winchester, Dr. Hall and his wife of two years, Penny, have answered a call that has long predominated in their minds. That of helping others. They will be teaching in a school for missionaries' children and helping in that way in Christian work.

Before the end of May the Halls will be in Malaysia in their new home for at least five years. It could become their permanent home for after a five year tenure with the school they have a mutual option with their missions' employer to sign on once more for another five year term. Dr. Hall has hurriedly over the past months taken a course and studied diligently the new math which he will teach. Mrs. Hall will teach languages. Grades 1 to 12 will be their domain. Dr. Hall hopes to maintain close contact with his practice, and with the couple will go diagnostic equipment related to the chiropractic profession.

Dalat School, Eastern Hotel, Tana Rata, Cameron Highlands, Malaysia, is their destination and there they will make their home. The school within the hotel serves for missionary children from all over the Pacific east. Originally the school was in Viet Nam and carries the name DALAT, which is Vietnamese. It is expected with the conclusion of the present conflict in that country the school will return to its home and its own facilities.

The Halls had long anticipated work in the mission field and Dr. Hall had seriously considered the ministry as of late. The need for mission workers and teachers, however, was presented to the couple and they replied by volunteering for Malaysian duty. Malaysia, of course, is a global hot spot at present and possibly itself not far removed from open serious conflict.

Winchester will bid Dr. and Mrs. Hall a fond farewell this week as they leave their apartment over Duncan's store, but they will spend several weeks in Canada before leaving for Malaysia from Vancouver in mid-May. Five days will be spent in Vancouver at a Christian Missions Conference and from there comes a five day hop via San Francisco, Honolulu, Hong Kong and other points to the Dalat School. Short stays in each port of set-down will only enrich a mindful of memories for the Halls.

Packing has been a major undertaking for the mission bound couple and here in a picture they stand with their eighth and hopefully the last drum to be filled. Where does the rest go? asks Mrs. Hall.

Interest Free Loans For Seed, Fertilizer

Interest free loans up to a maximum of $1,000 for the purchase of seed and fertilizer will be made available to Ontario farmers who suffered 25 per cent. or more crop loss in 1965.

The loans which will be of material assistance to those farmers who are in difficult financial position will be made through chartered banks on an interest free basis. Applicable to all crops, the loans will be completely underwritten by the government which will pay the interest on the monies advanced.

In view of the fact that many farmers already purchased, or have made arrangements to purchase their seed and fertilizer, the loan will be made retroactive to January 1 of this year and will be interest free until March 31, 1967.

To receive a government guaranteed loan from the bank the farmer seeking assistance will be obliged to present a sworn affidavit declaring that the money obtained will be used for the purchase of seed or fertilizer because of crop losses due to adverse weather.

Application forms requesting a loan will be available on and after May 2 from the offices of the Agricultural Representative, Doug. Keys, Winchester, or the chartered banks. They will be applicable for the purchase of all types of seed, tobacco and tomato plants and fertilizer. The policy applies to all crops planted before July 31, 1966.

The Ontario government has made representation to the federal government to participate in the program on a dollar for dollar basis.

Top Prices Paid At Ayrshire Sale

Strong prices prevailed at the fifth annual Grenville-Dundas Ayrshire Sale held at Holmes Livestock Exchange, Winchester, on Friday, April 22nd. The fifteen mature animals averaged $327.00, and ten heifer calves averaged $141.50.

Neil Lee, Winchester, paid $525.00 for Rosayre Briars Sunday "Excellent" consigned by Samuel S. Rose & Sons, Mountain. Second high price of the sale at $360.00 was a very promising dry 2-year-old heifer calving in June, consigned by John Hughes, Vernon, and purchased by Donald MacIntyre & Son, Finch.

Sydney Mode, Vankleek Hill, purchased the high selling junior heifer calf, Rosayre Fantasia, at $200.00. James Cotton, Navan, purchased Bridgeholm Golden Ellen at $180.00. This was the high priced senior calf consigned by Wm. McRoberts and Sons, Winchester.

Mahlon Zeron, who very capably covered his duties as auctioneer of the sale, stated it was "the most successful Ayrshire sale he ever conducted."

10 to 19 Years

Boys' Club Organized

Plans for a boys' club in this community in essence became a reality this week. Limited to an age requirement of 10 to 19 years and attending school, the club will be headed by an executive composed of president Allan VanBridger, vice president Dean Cross and secretary Allan Freeland. A beginning membership numbers approximately 20.

A constitution has been developed with the boys' council and it states conditions and details of all club phases: fees, membership, conduct, government and aims. Parents of the boys have approved the formation of the club and in turn assisted and encouraged its formation.

An advisory council has been selected and consented to be available to the membership and/or executive for advice. Members of the advisory council are a cross section of local citizenry, Rev. George Cawfield, Dr. H. G. Barton, Constable Les Whitteker, businessman Howard Summers, school board member G. H. LaRose, Legion member Harley Merkley and Councillor G. E. Elliott.

Winchester Legion Branch No. 108 has offered accommodation to the boys' club for their various activities. Hours, of course, are subject to availability of the hall. It is assumed at this stage that some evening and after school hours will be acceptable and used. A committee has been appointed by the Legion to work with the boys' group to establish availabilities. Members are G. H. LaRose, chairman, Harley Merkley and Ken Summers.

Unanimous agreement was forthcoming from the boys' club, Legion and advisory council that adult supervision of the activities of the club was necessary. Club council, in view of this agreement has developed a list of men in the village who have agreed to act in this capacity on a rotation basis. More recruits for this phase of the project are, however, needed, and with expanding club membership the demand naturally will increase.

At this point in their development the boys of the club are exceptionally well pleased with the co-operation and assistance offered them and hope to place their club in a worthwhile and active position in community life. In such a way they feel they may justify continued and added support from interested citizens and organizations.

Rummage Riot Reaps Rewards For Curlers

Water softener, inner spring mattress, milk can, dresser, suit, dress, hat, book, refrigerator, stove, hat pin, just about anything you could want or expect was at the annual Winchester Curling Club rummage sale last week.

Charles Cross and Mrs. Clark Curtis chaired committees from the men's and women's curling clubs that worked to make the sale the best in curlers' history. Sales almost turned the $900 mark and profits after deductions will tally at over $800.

When the doors opened on Thursday morning at 9 there were fifty people ready to hit the bargain tables and snatch up the best of what was offered. Sales were brisk and cashiers were kept busy. Saturday was clean-up day and prices that were already rock bottom crawled under the rock and the shelves were thinned and emptied.

Mark Diamond Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Robinson on Monday, April 25th, celebrated their 60th (Diamond) Wedding Anniversary. The Winchester couple observed their happy day at home where they greeted family and friends who came to call.

The late Rev. David Winter married the couple at the bride's home in 1906. Mrs. Robinson, the former Lillie Ethel Annable, is the daughter of the late Charles Annable and his wife, the former Annie Erratt. The groom is the son of the late Reuben Robinson and his wife, Ellen Barrigar. Both families were pioneer residents of the Melvin and Annable settlements.

Celebrating the 60th anniversary with their parents were three sons, Dalton and Willis of Winchester and Delbert of Niagara Falls, and two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Gibson, Winchester, and Mrs. Wallace Cinnamon of Cloverdale. Extending best wishes too were 26 grandchildren and 40 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Robinson has two brothers, Howard Annable of Ottawa and Roy Annable of Winchester. Mr. Robinson has a sister, Mrs. Thomas Edgerton of Winchester.

Flowers in the Robinson home were from the Winchester United Church and Caleb Street neighbours. Gifts displayed were presented on behalf of the grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Messages of congratulations were received from Lieut. Governor Earl Rowe on behalf of Her Majesty The Queen, Prime Minister L. B. Pearson, Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker, Mrs. Jean Wadds, M.P., and Fred Cass, M.P.P. and Mrs. Cass. The Ontario government forwarded the couple a commemorative scroll.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Robinson on their 60th wedding anniversary.

The heading is correct and it was photographed from a 1910 issue of The Winchester Press.

Old newspaper issues may show up back of a mirror of an old dresser. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Merkley of Winchester are fixing up a spare room in their home and needed a dresser to complete the furnishings. What better place to get a bargain than at the Curling Club Rummage Sale.

A dresser was purchased at the sale. Condition of the furniture was subject to improvement and Mr. Merkley, painter and handyman, began a renovation job on the article. Sanding, scraping and refinishing of the dresser has now taken place and it is no longer rummage sale material. During the course of refinishing the dresser, the mirror was removed and found to be lacking a solid backing. Discovery of old newspapers dated 1909-1911 were therein to be found. Issues from Montreal, Toronto and Winchester were found and read with interest by the Merkleys. The Winchester Press was dated August 11, 1910 and was addressed to J. A. McDougall.

Six different papers were found to be locked safely behind the glass. The Merkleys, in locking up the mirror for its renewed life, enclosed issues of present day papers and possibly at a sale of the future another owner will discover the current day papers.

Clean-up Time

It seems the Easter holidays for the school kids finally brought the beautiful spring weather that everyone has been anticipating since January 2nd. Delays in the arrival of the fine type weather that descended upon the region in recent weeks cannot be explained in this quarter, but we can appreciate its arrival.

With the kids out of school and sun out of the clouds, it seemed an excellent combination to get the yard cleaned up after the winter's departure. The modern parent knows it isn't the easiest thing in the world to get junior out in the yard with a rake or a shovel let alone make them move these pieces of equipment. In most cases a well placed threat of no car Friday night or no more holiday late movies ends the holdout. In many cases it is just good old Dad or Mum who get out and do the job.

The important thing is that it does get done. What a world of difference raking the yard can make in the appearance of a home. Within hours the grass seems to spring to life in radiant green and when the leaves are pulled away from the flower beds there are clusters of springing shoots bursting through the ground searching for sunlight. Trimming up the bushes and trees around the town or farm home makes a difference too as green is coming back to nature.

Cleaning up is so much a part of every spring. But it could be carried so much farther, say, in a Centennial project next year. Maybe the poles in our business sections could receive a new whitewash; the sidewalks and streets a second sweeping every month; flower beds maybe illuminated at night, be started in the park and on perhaps the Public School grounds near to the hospital landscaping to add to and compliment it. A house that needs painting could be an owner's own personal project to mark the Centennial, and what better could there be. Our grass boulevards could be improved and barren spots returned to grassy areas. A few new signs might add brilliance and attractiveness to the business section and help business too. Clean up, paint up, fix up is a suggestion every spring, but if some are missing the suggestion this year why not plan a personal home Centennial project for next?

Careful, Courteous

For the past several years highway accidents have been Canada's number three killer — right up there behind circulatory heart disease and cancer. What is the cause of this carnage on the modern highway?

Some contend that modern high speed freeways contribute to the accident toll and recommend that only well qualified drivers with excellent driving records be allowed on freeways. Others point out that during peak traffic periods, such as summer vacation time, more people are involved in accidents on secondary highways than on the freeways. Still others insist that it's not speed but alcohol which is the villain on the road, and recommend the use of breath and blood tests to disqualify the drunken driver. But if the ideal could be reached when all cars travel at the posted speed and all the drunks call a cab, there would still be accidents for other reasons.

As desperate people plant bombs in jetliners, so the family car at times becomes a lethal and homicidal weapon. Recent reports from investigators reveal slashed brake lines and other forms of tampering with motor vehicles to promote a deadly accident. People are shocked to discover that this sort of thing is being done, even by a few persons. Yet the unthinking and the discourteous driver is little removed from this, as is indicated by the charge which may be brought against him of "criminal negligence."

Recently a young woman who took an examination for her first driver's license was passed by her examiner who commended her on a "good road test," though she was aware she had made some mistakes. Why did she pass?

"You're careful and courteous," said the examiner. "That's what is required of a good driver. The rest is simply practice."

Pick Your Execution

In its wisdom, the Canadian Parliament has decided that the death penalty should not be abolished, that capital punishment should be preserved.

I agree. Completely. In my youthful, idealistic days, I had a crazy idea that the cold, deliberate taking of a human life by a civilized society was wrong.

But I'm becoming blunted in a world where young men who never did a nasty thing are killed daily, and women and children are bombed and burned daily, all in the name of peace.

In the face of this, who can worry about a handful of hoodlums about to be hanged? If there's the odd one who wasn't guilty, tough! There are a lot of other non-guilty people dying these days, and always have been. Without a trial and jury.

What I can't understand is the Canadian Parliament's lack of follow-through. It's pretty disappointing, to one who has upheld this nation against its petty attackers for years.

But we get this again and again. Take the Gerda Munsinger case. A few red faces, a few TV tears, and it's all over.

In the capital punishment case, our Canadian politicians had a chance to set the world on fire. Did they do it? Not they. They cast their votes and went home for the holidays.

Not an iota of imagination in the whole hang-dog group. This was their chance to give Canada a penal system unequalled in the world.

I don't, for one instant, think all those chaps who voted "Nay" are in favor of hanging. It's a pretty crude business. After all, some times the rope is too loose, or the head is too loose, and the girl reporters puke. I think something could be done about this. Paper bags, perhaps.

Not a single M.P. suggested another way of dealing with murderers. There are dozens. But I believe the most sporting way, for the culprits, and the least lacerating way, for a touchy society, would be to throw all the varieties of execution into a hat and let the prospective departude take his pick. It would add a certain "Jenny-Say-Kwoy" to the whole thing, which, in these troubled days, might keep Quebec within the fold.

Throw them all in a hat. There's something for everybody. For the softies: slashing of wrists and gentle expiration in the bathtub, or an overdose of sleeping pills. For the hards: electrocution; gas; diving into an empty (concrete-bottom) swimming pool; bullet through the head.

For the exotic: the guillotine; the excutioner's axe; impalement on a sharp stake; being torn to pieces by four wild horses; being lowered into a pit of vipers.

Of course, you have to take what you get. Just because you're a flamboyant type doesn't mean that you're going to pick the ballot saying you'll be burned at the stake. You might get the one saying death by strangling. Tough.

But at least there'd be some imagination in the whole thing. And this could be spread through the whole penal system. Shoplifters could be deported to the U.S. Kids who stole apples would be branded on the forehead with T for Thief.

Income-tax-cheaters and people who were tricky with their expense accounts would be sent to the tundra with four dollars, a fishing line, and all three of their wives. This would fill up our great northern spaces smartly.

There are great possibilities. Pass along your suggestions, and I'll pass them along to Parliament.

The Seventh Column

Come to think of it, ten years ago isn't so long. Just the same a lot of things have happened in that decade of action. Think for a moment and see for yourself what a difference 10 years makes. Nowhere, probably, is the era of change so dominant as in the world of entertainment. Consider these: Ten years ago movie actor Warren Beatty was a janitor at the National Theatre in Washington, D. C. Ten years ago all four Beatles were gruff little brats in Liverpool schools. Ten years ago Elvis Presley was a truck driver in Memphis only weeks away from becoming a millionaire. Ten years ago Barbra Streisand who last year signed a five million dollar TV contract was baby sitting at 35 cents an hour. Ten years ago Carol Burnett was a hat check girl. Ten years ago Paul Anka was still in Ottawa. Ten years ago we had lunch with Bob Goulet in Toronto when he was still an unknown with the CBC. We could go on and on and on. But consider the NBC Peacock which many of you will be seeing in living colour when you splurge for that new colour TV set . . . ten years ago he was only an egg.

There's a by-law in this town that forbids the running at large of dogs at any time in the year. Apparently quite a number of dog owners have failed to realize this or they are simply taking advantage of the good nature of town fathers and the police department. Quite frankly, we would like to see the dogs have their freedom. Unfortunately they are not blessed with a sense of values like most humans and when they do run it can be across a freshly planted lawn, a new garden or a pretty flower patch. And more often than not they can upset the garbage, spray a nicely trimmed juniper, dig up something they shouldn't be digging up, and once in a while take a nip at one of the neighbourhood youngsters. All of which leads to a by-law which makes it necessary for owners to keep their dogs tied up or on a leash. Whether or not you agree with the by-law is beside the point. It is the law and if you allow your dog to run you are liable to be charged under the due process of law. And if one owner lets his canine run loose why can't the others? A little understanding and a little more co-operation from some owners would be greatly appreciated. Otherwise the town has no alternative but to enforce the by-law to the letter.

Meditations . . .

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Matthew 28:20: "And lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

In the opening words of Scripture we are given man's early history. There we read of his glorious beginning as the crown of God's creation, but there we read also of his wicked rebellion against God, by which the whole world was plunged into the ruin of sin. God, Who cannot lie, had forewarned Adam and Eve, declaring, "But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die." Adam and Eve ate of that forbidden tree and died. Of that act the apostle Paul wrote "Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."—Romans 5: 12. In other words, the whole world is involved in Adam's sin and all are dead in him, as the apostle declares it, "by one man's offence death reigned" and "by one man's disobedience many were made sinners."—Romans 5:17-19.

All of mankind's woes and miseries have their origin in that fall of Adam. Men have become wicked and depraved and except they are again by faith restored to God's fellowship and become His children, they remain in the bondage of sin and death and are children of the devil. For in the fall man has become a child of the devil, having made an alliance of friendship with him. But in Christ Jesus that enmity is broken, as the Lord declares it, "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and shalt bruise his heel."—Gen. 3:15. God sent his Son to break man's alliance with the devil and to deliver him from the power of the devil. It is through the coming of Christ to suffer and die for unworthy sinners that enmity is made, and enmity wrought of God. It is the great work of redemption that God is working out that separates man from man and brings division, for all who believe and serve God are hated by those who refuse to believe and continue as servants of sin, in bondage to the devil. For that reason the true Church of God has always been persecuted.

Our Lord promised believers a life of persecution. He said concerning all his disciples, "And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved"—Matt. 10:22, and "In the world ye shall have cheer; I have overcome the tribulation; but be of good world."—John 16:33. So the apostle Paul affirms also when he says, "Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution."—2 Tim. 3:12. Persecution and true godliness can never be separated. Our Lord teaches that this is the believer's portion and blessing, for He says, "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake: for their's is the kingdom of heaven!"—Matth. 5:10. Since believers may despair or be tempted to compromise when under trial, our Lord has given them encouragement in the promise "I am with you always." He will see us safely through.

THE MEMBERS REPORT

From Toronto by Fred M. Cass

The post-Easter sitting of the Legislature has gotten right down to work with a night session the very first day, thus serving notice that the government intends to finish up the business of the people of Ontario as expeditiously as possible.

Estimates of the Department of Public Works were debated and passed. This Department is the housekeeper for the government and responsible for the provision of premises, equipment, communication and supplies except printing and stationery. In its estimates are found, therefore, not only the details of most government purchasing but also of the government building program for every Department in every part of the province. While most of the monies for building and leasing premises for Ontario Government services are earmarked for the Queen's Park centennial expansion of government offices, there did seem to be included something for almost every part of Ontario, except Grenville-Dundas. Perhaps we may get on the program another year with, say a community college.

There was again a considerable debate on election expenses sparked by an NDP private Member's Bill to provide for full disclosure of election spending and sources of income for parties and candidates alike. All speakers seemed to be of the opinion that such expenses should somehow be limited and should be shared by the general public by way of subsidy from provincial funds. It would appear that the NDP with its financial support from organized labour which in many unions collect a political contribution compulsorarily from its members, is now in a very strong financial position. Since a great many union members are not supporters of this Party it would appear to be a very unfair and undemocratic method of financing a political campaign. The Premier announced, however, that he would ask Legislature to appoint a Select Committee to study and report on the whole problem of elections.

The Government Bill on reorganization of the Municipality of Metropolitan Toronto was introduced and will provide many hours of debate as Toronto members of all parties have their own views on the proper set-up of our provincial capital and will be sure to express them in this debate.

Likewise the Minister of Health introduced his estimates during the week and these too will provide many days of acrimonious debate.

The next few days will be busy and interesting ones in the Legislature.

The Prairies Pay Off John A. Macdonald's Reluctant Investment

(Tenth Of A Series)

By WALT McDAYTER

Fearing that the new Canadian government was going to force his fellow Metis off their land, Louis Riel led two rebellions in the west. He was hanged at Regina on Nov. 6, 1885.

When Canada bought Rupert's Land from Hudson's Bay Company in 1869 for £300,000, Prime Minister John A. Macdonald was far from convinced that he was making a wise investment.

In fact, a few years earlier, he had disclosed in a letter, "I would be quite willing, personally, to leave that whole country a wilderness for the next half century, but I fear if Englishmen do not go there, Yankees will."

And so, Canada's first prime minister purchased the western prairies with a dog-in-the-manger attitude. He didn't particularly want the west, at that time at least, but committed Canada to its purchase rather than let the Americans have it. One of the objectives stressed in Confederation was to protect the prairies from American annexation.

The reasons for Macdonald's lack of enthusiasm were many. As a fledgling nation, Canada had little finances for western expansion. Also, Macdonald feared Canada would meet rebellion in the west from three groups — the plains Indians, the half-breed Metis (who in 1869 and 1885 did rebel under Louis Riel's leadership), and the newly-arrived Americans. But even more significant was the fact that at the time of the purchase the economic potential of the prairies looked poor indeed.

Apart from a few fur-trading forts pock-marking the plains, there was little settlement. The descendants of Lord Selkirk's Red River settlement, and a small number of French-Canadians and half-breed Metis around St. Boniface, were doing some farming, but they depended more on buffalo meat for their food than on agriculture.

With the province of Manitoba created in 1870, however, the outlook became more promising. Thousands of settlers from Britain, Canada and the U.S., lured by the Free Land Homestead Act of 1872, began to flood into the newly-acquired Canadian prairies.

Some found prairie life too hard. They gave in, packed their few possessions, and with heads bent, returned to an easier life in the east.

Others stayed. At the turn of the century, prairie population reached 400,000. By 1931, it swelled to almost 2½ million, in the process creating two great new provinces, Saskatchewan and Alberta, in 1905.

Yes, the west was growing. And with it, Canada's prosperity grew, too. Thanks to the rich prairie soil, wheat soon was playing a vital role in Canada's economy.

By 1921, it had become our most valuable export, representing more than 25 per cent. of our entire export trade.

It had not taken the prairies long to repay in full the investment reluctantly made by John A. Macdonald in 1869.

VERNON U.C.W.

Vernon United Church Women held their April meeting in the S.S. Rooms with 12 members present. Mrs. McBride, president, opened with the theme, The Lord Is Risen."

Mrs. Keeler was convener for the evening and chose a very fitting Easter message, beginning with "Eastertide and King of Our Eternal Day." Scripture was read by Mrs. C. Sproule. Mrs. Keeler continued with a story, "A Lily and a Boy Named Ivan." For a topic, Mr. Eldon Fennell showed films of Damascus, which was very interesting — showing this country in such a memorable and well kept way. Mrs. McBride and Mrs. Keeler expressed thanks to Mr. Fennell for his film.

During the business session several invitations were read from other groups in the district. Mrs. Olden of the Ottawa Presbytery sent a letter inviting the presidents and vice presidents to Presbytery in Ottawa on April 27 in Rideau Park United Church.

The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer.

W.I. Reviews Busy Year At Annual Meeting

A year of energetic accomplishment and almost continuous activity was reviewed at the annual meeting of the Winchester Women's Institute. Meeting in the Legion Hall, members enjoyed a sumptuous pot luck supper before President Mrs. Bower Potter welcomed the meeting.

All offices are filled for two year terms and no election was necessary. Roll call was completed with the payment of dues. Reports of standing committees were informative and showed a busy profitable year past.

Public Relations Convener Mrs. Hugh Coons reflected on activities of the past year. Members participated in three canvasses for the Cancer Society, March of Dimes and Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Donations were made to the Cancer Society and the Tuberculosis Association. A knitting project was completed for the Save The Children Fund and gifts distributed to Winchester citizens in the Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge at Christmas and to district blind persons. Treats were supplied to children in local hospital at Halloween.

The W. I. has particular pride in the sponsorship of three 4-H Homemaking Clubs. Most other district W. I.'s sponsor similar clubs but Winchester holds the distinction of sponsoring three. During the summer a boat trip through the Thousand Islands was enjoyed as the annual trip.

Another W. I. activity is the annual Victoria Day Breakfast this year to be on Friday, May 20th in the Legion Hall. Catering plans also are to be made for the C.N.I.B. Banquet on May 27th.

Mrs. Irene Armstrong Tweedsmuir History Curator, had books on display and members were pleased with advancement on this project. Miss Emma Gardner was in attendance at the meeting and her appointment to the Tweedsmuir Committee was announced.

PRESENTING THE NEW...
Polyethylene Coated Milk Carton

These new milk cartons are the perfect answer to to-day's modern milk packaging. There's no glass to break. No bottle to return. They are coated inside and out with strong, clear polyethylene. They never leak! They're highly scuff resistant. And the inside-outside polyethylene coating provides a much stronger seal than old-fashioned wax coating.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE
Pontiac Laurentian Four-Door Sedan

A lot of our advertising appears in people's driveways.

Pontiac's beauty sells a lot of Pontiacs. Consider the arrogance of its split grille. The long, lean sculpted body. That nimble-looking, distinctively-Pontiac stance. But we have a clever device for selling even more Pontiacs. We call it our Pontiac dealer. He's the man with all the answers. He can show you, for instance, exactly why it is that we're putting more of our Success Cars in people's driveways than ever before. He's a man you should make it a special point to meet. He can tell you about Pontiac's lavish interiors with their host of standard equipment luxury and safety features. He'll even demonstrate Pontiac's new brand of performance if you're feeling adventurous. But more important than anything else, he can give you an excellent deal on the Pontiac of your choice. And let you do some advertising for us.

Morrisburg District Urged To Support Cancer Society

During this week volunteers of the Morrisburg and District unit of the Canadian Cancer Society are canvassing for $2,000. This is part of the record national objective of $4,500,000.

Why is more money needed this year than ever before to fight cancer? Because, having tasted success in proof that their research and educational efforts are contributing to an ever rising total of "five year survival" cases, the Society is more determined than ever to deal this disease a death blow Meanwhile, the money being spent on welfare services for cancer's unfortunate victims is also growing.

The scientific community too is showing an increasing interest in finding the cause and the cure for this formidable enemy. Scientists, like members of the lay public, are impressed by the fact that despite the efforts of more than half a century, cancer has resisted the efforts of the best minds in the world to learn its mysteries—even while other diseases like diphtheria. polio, diabetes, smallpox and goitre have succumbed to some measure of control or prevention.

If more doctors than ever are willing and anxious to devote their energies to a solution for this problem, money must be available to support them while they do it and pay for the very best laboratory facilities and equipment.

The people of Morrisburg are urged by the Cancer Society to support this humanitarian cause. Few do not know some one who has or had cancer. There are even fewer who would not wish to help bring about the defeat of one of mankind's most stubborn enemies. Everyone can play a part by supporting the campaign of the Canadian Cancer Society.

The Morrisburg campaign is being carried on all this week. If you haven't already, give encouragement to the volunteers who will come to your door for your subscription. They are dedicated to the cause of the cancer patient and the cure of this dread disease.
