Committees Named Organize Canvass For Repairs to Rink

Representatives of Chesterville Branch 434 of the Canadian Legion, The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club were named to a committee last evening to organize a canvass in Chesterville and district for funds to finance repairs to the Chesterville rink. A building committee from the Legion is negotiating with Cam Thompson, Chesterville contractor, who has assured the Legion he can secure materials and that he can commence work within a few days.

H. Brown and H. J. Hamilton of the Chamber of Commence; Geo. H. Barkley and Leon Marcellus of the Rotary Club, and Carl Merkley of the Legion, were named to the committee to organize a canvass for funds. It is expected the quota will be set at $7500 which will finance immediate repairs this fall to permit skating and hockey this winter, and allow for improvements and extensions next spring when materials become more available.

It is planned to brace the remaining section of the rink with iron tie rods across the bents, then rebuild the demolished west end. If corrugated iron is not available for covering the new section, that part will be sheeted and covered with ready roofing.

Williamsburg Twp. Requests Open Season for Deer

The Municipal Council met on September 7th in Locke's Clinic at 8 p.m. with all members present. A resolution was passed asking the Department of Game and Fisheries to declare an open season for deer this fall for one week in this municipality.

By-Law No. 112 was passed for licensing Public Halls, where by it will be necessary for all owners of Public Halls to secure their license from the Treasurer before renting to the public.

Accounts were paid amounting to $1478.15. The council adjourned to meet again in Locke's Clinic on October 5th at 1 p.m.

ANOTHER PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

Culminating a series of property deals of the past several months, Carl McMillan, Chesterville implement dealer, this week purchased the residence on King street of Dan Moriarty, retired blacksmith, which adjoins Mr. McMillan's place of business.

MID-SUMMER WEATHER EXPERIENCED THIS WEEK

With the temperature predicted to rise to 86 around these parts today, another day of mid-summer weather will be experienced. Following a severe frost on Thursday night which nipped garden and field crops quite severely, the weather warmed up quickly and has been in the 80's since Monday.

The hot, dry spell is a big boon to farmers in bringing in the late grain and in corn cutting and silo filling. It is in direct contrast to the conditions experienced last fall when corn binders operated in seas of muds and farmers almost required rafts to haul their corn to the silos.

LONG-AWAITED REPAIRS MADE TO NATION BRIDGE

Repairs, listed as "temporary" were effected to the bridge over the Nation River in Chesterville at the week-end by maintenance men of the Ontario Department of Highways. The plank railings, which had been in bad repair for months past, were tightened up, and some repairs were made to the footpath which village authorities have fixed several times. The vehicle flooring was also patched with tar and stone.

It is understood that the Department plans placing steel "splash plates" along the footpath to protect the pedestrians, cables on the riverside of the driveway, and resurface the driveway.

Alf Jarvis First Winner Tom Flynn Memorial Shield

Tuesday evening on the local bowling green Alf Jarvis' rink was returned the first winner of the "Flynn Memorial Shield" by the close margin of one point with a score of 37 points, leading his nearest competitor Haldane Durant with a score of 37 to the latter's 36.

The Flynn Memorial Shield is a trophy put up by the club for competition within the club in trebles play, as a memorial to one of the oldest members of the club, the late Thomas Flynn, who enjoyed the game of bowls on the local greens for many years.

There were five rinks of three each in the competition this year making four games for each rink to play. The count was one for each point and two for a winning game. The winning rink will have its names engraved on a silver shield which will be attached to a large memorial shield, and the competition will be carried on from year to year in memory of the late Tom Flynn.

The other "also rans" with rinks in the competition were, Dr. Hutt 34, Geo. Lacey 32, and Eric Casselman 31.

MISS MARTHA COUTTS JOINS HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

Miss Martha Coutts of Hamilton commenced her duties on the teaching staff of Chesterville High School, Monday morning, becoming the seventh teacher at the school. An all-time high of over 70 pupils in Grade IX presented a serious problem when the class had to be divided and the normal staff of six teachers could not cope with the influx of students. Attendance is now reported at almost 150.

REMEMBRANCE DAY STATUTORY HOLIDAY

Remembrance Day, November 11th, which falls on Monday this year, has been declared a statutory holiday to mark the anniversary of victory in both world wars.

HYDRO POWER SHUT OFF TWICE LAST WEEK

A bit of confusion seemed prevalent in who shut off local Hydro power on Thursday. Notice to Chesterville consumers stated the electricity would be turned off from 1.00 until 2.00 p.m., but instead the power was off from 2.30 until 5.30. Then at 1.30 Friday the power went off without warning. Calls to the central sub-station revealed this was the shutdown of which warning had been given. The problem is: What happened on Thursday, and who was responsible?

THIS TIME IT'S ELONGATED CUKES

ANDY CLARKE is always starting something in his Sunday morning broadcasts. This time it's big cucumbers, but Frank Merkley, Francis street can't stand for twelve-inch cukes. Monday morning he brought to this office a thirteen-incher, as nice looking potential pickles as one need wish. By the way is a cucumber a fruit or a vegetable? If it is a fruit why are seeds always to be found in the vegetable section of the seed boxes?

Large Congregations Attend St. Andrew's Anniversary

The anniversary services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Sunday morning and evening, were held to be the best services known to the church. Large congregations, including members of Dunbar and Morewood, the other congregations in the charge, were present at both services. The church was filled at night. Trinity United Church had generously withdrawn its evening service and the minister, Rev. W. E. Wright, and members from his church were in attendance. Mr. Wright read the New Testament lesson and offered prayer.

The choir, assisted for the occasion by Fred Beckstead and Miss Marjorie Merkley, was under the capable direction of Mrs. H. Greer, organist. At the morning service, the anthem was "The Awakening Chorus, by Gabriel, and in the evening, "Arise, O Isreal" by Ackley. Miss Melba Perkins, soloist, gave a fine rendering of "The Christ of the Cross", by Huston.

Services were conducted by Rev. Edwin E. Preston of Knox Presbyterian church, Vankleek Hill. Mr. Preston is a native of London, England, and came to Vankleek Hill from Almonte in 1927. His interesting and inspiring messages were very well received. At the morning service his text was from Jeremiah vi:16, "Thus, saith the Lord, stand ye in the way and see and ask for the old past, where is the good way, and walk therein and ye shall find rest for your soul." He spoke on the bypass into which men go and their need for returning to the one living way, as the old past, being neglected, becomes infested with weeds. So, in life, when men depart from the true way there are weeds which grow up. The roads to the churches are not worn too smooth with the treading of the feet of diligent worshippers. And the speaker gave the call to return to diligence in attendance at worship in the house of God.

"Prove all things, hold that which is good,' I Thess. v:21, was the speaker's text for his evening sermon. Beware of substitutes, he said. there is no substitute for the Bible or the Gospel or Christ.

Order is Placed For 18 New Lights By Hydro Commission

An order was placed by the Chesterville Hydro-Electric Commission for 18 new style street lamps, Friday, for installation in the business section of the village where the heaviest traffic calls for good visibility during the hours of darkness. Original plans called for 15 new lamps, but on looking over the streets and present installations with a represetative from Canadian General Electric three more lights were added to give better lighting on the approaches to the bridge and on Queen street between Main and King.

The new style lamp is a heavy, completely-enclosed fixture with a 300-watt bulb, mounted at least 25 feet above the roadway. A special reflector inside the globe, combined with the texture of the glass, radiates the light to the opposite curb, sends the greater portion of the light up and down the street, and permits illumination of the sidewalk without allowing glaring light to shine into the windows of residences on the same side of the street. Mounted on a four-foot arm, the base of the lamp is heavy, cast aluminum, and the reflector is spun onto the glass so that no dirt or insects can gain entrance to collect in the bottom of the large globe.

Installation will include one at the Fire Hall, one in front of H. L. Hough's home, replacing the present light at the corner of Main and Mill; a new light at the southern entrance to the bridge—mounted on a 10-foot arm to assure illumination of the bridge approach; two on Water street at the present locations in front of Fulton Bros.' store and John Fleming's; the Post Office Square will be illuminated by lights at the Bank of Nova Scotia corner and one just west of the bridge; five lamps up Main street, include three along the abutment on eight-foot arms to assure radiation of light from the parking space to the curb; one light at the Dominion Hotel intersection of Main and Queen and two down Queen street will eliminate a dark area dangerous to motor traffic; King street's new lights utilize the present four poles from the Bank of Nova Scotia corner, but a new lamp will be placed on the opposite side of the street in front of the Chesterville and District Co-Operative's new building and opposite Carl McMillan's new Massey-Harris building; another lamp on the present pole at the corner of King and Queen will complete the initial installation. Some trees will have to be trimmed to permit proper illumination of streets.

Cost of the installation includes 18 lamps, $484.38; 14 four-foot brackets, $93.52; three 8-foot brackets, $26.85; one 10-foot bracket $10.00, a total of $614.75, with the wire necessary for installation extra. Cost of fixtures and installation will be borne by the Hydro Commission.

Delivery of the new lamps, which are the same type as being installed in large numbers by Montreal and Toronto, is expected in three weeks.

Mrs. Patricia Barkley, wife of Pte. S. S. arkley, and daughter Sylvia are expected among the War Brides to arrive in Canada, Monday, Sept. 23.

Snowball Battle Reported With Thermometer Hovering at 80

With mid-summer temperature of 80 degrees returning Tuesday to this section of Ontario, and shirtsleeves replacing jackets once again, the incongrous sight of snowballing made its appearance in the King street business section just after the noon hour. With the temperature hovering around the 80-mark, one would think this was impossible. But leave it to the printer's devil to take advantage of a situation. A heap of "snow" from the cold storage plant of Marcellus' Meat Market had been piled on the cement pavement, and it became an excellent ammunition dump for a lusty game of snowballing between the above-mentioned P-D and some pals.

MEMORIES OF BEAUTIFUL ENGLAND

The feature, "From a Window in Fleet Street" which appears several times a week on the editorial page of The Ottawa Journal harks the memories of many Canadian ex-servicemen back to the beautiful countryside of southern England oftimes as stories relate interesting bits from the "Garden of England" which was the home of thousands of Canadian army men during the long wait for D-Day.

Friday evening's contribution from The Journal's London Bureau, told of a dispute over the location of a housing site at Guildford. Canadian veterans remember the majestic view, from the Southern Electric Railway as it wound into Guildford, of the uncompleted cathedral rearing itself on a lofty hill outside the city.

CHILD FATALITIES FROM FIREARMS

Aready this fall several children in Ontario have lost their lives in accidents with firearms. On Friday a jury investigating the fatal shooting of a 14-year-old girl near Pembroke recommended that owners of rifles should not leave them where children can take them for playthings and also advised that guns should never be loaded when not in use. Evidence in this case told of three boys playing with rifles which were standing in a corner of the home.

Tragedy strikes a number of homes every year through careless handling of firearms, and it is too bad so many have to wait until after a fatal accident to take heed of the commonsense warning to keep firearms away from their children. The oft-repeated joke "I didn't know it was loaded" expresses bitter tragedy when it is used as an alibi at an inquest.

The warning illustrates once again the very great responsibility that rests upon the shoulders of parents who are responsible for the safety and character-moulding of their offspring.

Conservation In the Nation River Watershed

Second instalment of an address on "The Soutr Nation and Its Environs" given at the Conference on Conservation in Eastern Ontario at Queen's University, iKngsto, by

Ferdinand Larose, Agricultural Representative, Plantagenet, Ontario

Was There Anything Done About Conservation So Far?

Speaking of that part of the Nation River Valley that I know best, that is, Prescott and Russell Counties. I would mention the following projects:

(a) Drainage Schemes:

(1) The O'Brien Ditch ($60,000.) drained part of the Alfred Peat Bog. This was undertaken by the O'Brien family. The object of this project was to put more land under cultivation. Instead of that, it simply encouraged farmers to burn more land, the unburned part of it being mostly used for the collecting of moss, and the manufacturing of peat fuel.

(2) The Cobb Lake Drainage Scheme ($60,000.) reduced a large area covered by water to a tiny little creek.

(3) The Bearbrook Drainage Scheme ($135,000.90). The lowering of the bed of this stream has helped to drain land which was not used for agricultural purposes before.

(4) The Dredging of the Castor River ($80,000). Some work was undertaken along the Little Castor River in Russell, Winchester and Mountain Townships.

(5) The lowering of the River Bed of the Nation at Plantagenet ($150,000). To date, two strips of 80 feet wide and approximately 8 feet deep through solid rock have been taken away in the rapids in the Village of Plantagenet. The Public Works Department, at Ottawa, is actually preparing plans to dredge another strip of the same width, and possibly cut the rock underneath the CPR bridge. Farmers located in the flats above plantagenet have complained for years that the water was held too long in the bottle-neck of Plantagenet. Some thirty-five years ago, the Hager Dam was blown up at Plantagenet, to enable the water to run through at a quicker rate during the time of the flood in the spring. ($20,000 were given by the Federal Government to Albert Hagar, M.P., for his dam. He in turn took steps to blow it up). The river is actually being dredged for exactly the same purpose.

The cost of all these schemes was approximately $500,000.00.

It is true that these projects have added to the area of land under production, and have enabled the farmers to sow at an earlier date the flooded parts of their farms, but they have considerably lowered the water level in the streams and in the surrounding soils, with ill effects on springs and wells and on the growing of crops, especially in years of low precipitation.

(b) Reforestation Projects:

(1) Rockland Plantation: In 1914, the late Senator W. C. Edwards, owner of large saw-mills in Rockland, planted, under the auspices of the Federal Commission of Conservation, 16,000 Red Pines and 20,000 White Pines on pasture fields, near the town of Rockland.

The White Pines were seriously affected by insects, but the Red Pines are showing very nicely, and, as a matter of fact, this plot is considered to be one of the best, if not the best in the Province of Ontario.

(2) Plantagenet Demonstration Woodlot: A small demonstration woodlot was established and planted in 1922 and 1923 near Plantagenet. It comprised an area of eleven acres, with 12,500 conifers, half Scotch and half Jack. The Scotch did not do well but the Jack Pines are coming on very nicely.

(3) Waste Land Utilization: In 1926, a general campaign was put on in Prescott and Russell Counties inviting people to make a better use of their marginal and submarginal land:

1. For the growing of small fruits and vegetable crops for domestic canning purposes. Small domestic canning establishments, 135 in number, were started.

2. By reforesting privately or otherwise larger areas which could not profitably grow field crops.

(4) Committee on Reforestation: In 1927, to follow up this work, a committee on Conservation and Reforestation was appointed by the Counties' Council with Mr. Marshall Rathwell, Reeve of Cumberland, as Chairman, and myself as Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Rathwell has been Chairman of the local committee for all these years, and he has been elected again this year for the 18th consecutive time. May I be permitted to compliment him and to pay a public and a much deserved tribute to his contribution to Conservation and Reforestation, not only as Chairman of the local committee, but as Vice-President of Zone No. 5, and as 2nd Vice-President of the O.C.R.A. which position he still occupies.

(5) County Forest: In 1928, the Prescott and Russell County forest was organized with 1,200 acres. It has now reached the 8,000-acre mark, and it is our hope and ambition to keep it growing.

(6) Forestry Field Day: In order to popularize reforestation methods, a Forestry Field Day was held in Prescott and Russell, in the Fall of 1938. This was largely attended by local people and by delegates from surrounding Counties.

(7) Sea Sand Reed Experiment: In June, 1929, an experiment was undertaken to control blowing sand, in the vicinity of Curran, by sowing a plant named 'The Sea Sand Reed' ("Ammophila Breviligulata"). Although slow in developing, this plant has proven effective in holding down blow sand. It is, however, of very little value to stock, either as pasture or as hay, because its texture is very coarse and woody.

(8) Protection of Catchment Basin of Springs: Reforestation of the catchment basin of springs feeding the Plantagenet Waterworks was inaugurated in 1939. Up to date, the Plantagenet Police Village has acquired 225 acres. Already 25,000 trees have been planted. Plans are being made to plant another 15,000 in 1945. Similar work has been undertaken to protect the Waterwork System of the Village of Clarence Creek both in Clarence Township. Other projects are under way to shelter privately-owned waterworks systems for individuals as well as for groups of farmers.

(9) Other County Forests: In 1938, a second County Forest was opened up in Lanark County, and in 1940, a third County Forest, "The Limerick", was organized in Grenville County. The Lanark forest is not in the South Nation River area, but is within Zone No. 5. Demonstration woodlots were planted, to the extent of 200 acres, in Glengarry, Stormont and Dundas, for educational purposes.

The South Nation River in Flood at Riceville

Flood waters sometimes reach a depth of 10 feet in this district, and the marks left by ice in the Spring break-up on telephone poles and buildings provide clear evidence of the destructive power caused by the quick run-off without woodlands to control and conserve the water.

A wastebasket in the kitchen caught fire, and the housewife hastened to beat out the flames with a broom, which promptly caught and blazed. As she held the broom under the faucet in the kitchen sink, she groaned: "This is the last straw."

Dairymen Must Increase Efficiency of Herds States Rotary Speaker

If Canadian farmers are to compete with Denmark, New Zealand and Australia for the British dairy market, a great deal must be done to increase the efficiency of herds by culling poor producing cows, using better herd sires, and employing better feeding methods, advised Arthur White of the Dairy Research Department, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, speaking before the Rotary Club of Chesterville, Monday evening. Canada's dairy herds on the whole rate 50 per cent as efficient as Denmark's, and compare 70 percent with New Zealand's production per cow.

Importance of the dairy industry to Canada is not properly understood, said Mr. White, and he quoted statistics to show that two years ago 17 percent of the population depended directly or indirectly for their living on this industry. Four hundred million dollars of dairy products were sold on the market from four million cows; 4500 manufacturing plants produced 200 million dollars of dairy products.

Dairying is the chief farm industry in Ontario, and it is fast becoming a major source of farm revenue in western Canada. In 1944, the value of dairy products outstripped that of wheat in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The speaker, said he was very favourably impressed by the substantial farm homes and the fine dairy herds of Dundas County, which is situated in one of the highest milk producing areas of Eastern Ontario or perhaps the whole of Ontario.

A value of dairy products, greater than can be ascertained in money is in the health of our population, said Mr. White, for there is no better food than in a quart of milk, and even if the price jumps to 15 cents it is still the best value for the money.

Research Work

Mr. White told of the work of dairy research in Canada in combatting surface taint of butter, discolouring of cheese, discolouration of butter after it leaves cold storage, and told of new methods of producing butter that will replace the conventional churn to produce continuous butter, and new methods of pasteurization.

But regardless of knowledge gained of organisms causing trouble in cheese and butter and how they may be controlled, sanitation remains the most urgent factor in creameries.

The speaker was introduced by Herbert Brown, and Don Hutton expressed the thanks of the club.

Guests at the meeting included Ronald A. Lynch of Nestle's; Ward English of Chesterville High School; J. Bremnar of Venturecroft farm, and Arthur Lawson. Dr. Hutt, as chairman of the International Committee, was named head of the "On to Malone" committee arranging inter-city meetings for October 7 and 24. Dr. W. H. Lloyd received permission to proceed with another eye case. George H. Barkley, chairman of the Community Service Committee, will head that group in assisting the Legion in its efforts to repair the rink for skating this winter.

MISS ISABEL MacMILLAN HOSTESS TO ST. LUKE'S WMS

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church at Finch, was held at the home of Miss Isabel MacMillan on Wednesday afternoon, with a good attendance of members and visitors. The president, Mrs. Robertson Millar, presided, and the meeting opened with hymn 494. Mrs. Donald H. McIntosh had charge of the scripture lesson on the subject, "God is Love", which was an address prepared by the late, Mrs. James Pollock and given while she was an active member of the W.M.S. at Crysler and Finch. Mrs. Gladstone McLean led in prayer. The president stated it was time for the Peace Thanksgiving Fund committee to hand in the books as the time had expired for contributions. The hymn 570 was sung. The secretary, Mrs. W. G. Brownlee read the minutes of the August meeting and were adopted. The Roll Call was responded to by a verse from the Bible, "Christ Cleanses The Lepers".

Various committees gave their reports and plans were made for the autumn thank-offering meeting, for which Mrs. Millar was to secure a speaker.

Mrs. A. K. McMillan of Cornwall, was present and gave a brief talk on the work in St. John's Society. Rev. Millar was present and gave a splendid talk on the Birtle Indian Mission school in Manitoba which he visited while on holidays.

Mrs. Millar gave a summary of the Glad Tidings, hymn 399 was sung, and Miss Nell Gillies closed the meeting with prayer. A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. H. W. Keen Competition is Shown At Matilda School Fair

Matilda Township Rural School Fair, sponsored by the Matilda Township School Area Board in co-operation with the Public School teachers of the township and the public school inspector, W. J. Stewart, was held on Wednesday last at Matilda Memorial Park, Brinston.

Pupils from all over the township arrived early to place their exhibits in the hall. Entries were made in grain, corn, vegetables, fruit, flowers, livestock, poultry and school work. The show was considered one of the best in this district for some time with heavy exhibiting in practically all classes.

Races were held in the forenoon for both pupils and teachers. In the afternoon, a school parade, followed by Strathcona exercises in which all pupils participated was one of the highlights of the day. Mouth organ selections, recitations and solos by various pupils gave variety to the days' programme.

Judging was done by W. J. Stewart, I.P.S.; Hume Grisdale, W. Fowler and Mrs. Douglas Hanson, who judged the sewing. Mrs. W. J. Stewart and Mrs. Dora Johnstone gave their assistance as secretaries for the day.

Copies of books entitled "A Book About A Thousand Things" by Geo. Stimpson, were donated by the T. Eaton Co., Ltd., to the boy and the girl winning the highest number of points. These books were won by Knox Thompson of S. S. No. 11, Eileen Anderson of S. S. No. 18, and June Mullin of S. S. No. 7, the girls being tied for highest place.

Matilda District Co-Operative Co., Ltd., donated a bag of laying mash to the pupil exhibiting the best White Leghorn Pullet, which was won by Lila Robinson of S. S. No. 23; also a bag of laying mash was donated to the pupil showing the best Barred Rock pullet. This was won by Knox Thompson of S. S. No. 11.

Much credit is given to W. J. Stewart, I.P.S.; to the committee in charge, and to all other teachers of the township for the success of this fair.

The committee includes Clifford Pitt, President; Stanley Waddell, secretary; Mrs. Dora Johnstone, Mrs. Lucy Barkley and Lyall Thorpe, directors.

FARMER—WALSH

St. Francis de Sales church in Smiths Falls, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday, September 9th, at 9 a.m., when Ann Ethel Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Walsh of Newcastle, NB., became the bride of Thomas H. Farmer, son of Mrs. Farmer and the late Mr. Jas. Farmer. Rev. Dean J. T. Hanley performed the ceremony.

Autumn flowers of various colours adorned the church. Mrs. Leonard Doyle played the Wedding music and sang "Ave Maria" at the offertory.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. D. J. Farmer and was attended by Mrs. J. D. Masterson as bridesmaid. Mr. J. D. Masterson acted as best man.

The bride wore a white satin model on long princess lines, the long sleeves fell in points over the hands. Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a heart-shape coronet, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white and pink gladiolis.

The bridesmaid wore a gown of similar period design of blue sheer over taffeta, with elbow length sleeves, and matching mittens. The headdress was a contour calot of sheer with a pleated net coronet, which held her shoulder-length veil in place. She carried pink roses and ferns.

Following a reception at the Russell Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Farmer left on a motor trip to Newcastle, N.B. The bride travelled in a pink wool suit with black accessories, and a corsage of pink gladioli.

Out-of-town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. F. Fretwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. McFarlane, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Farmer and son, Mr. and Mrs. G. Prophet, all of Prescott; Mrs E. Burrell of Detroit; and Mr. C. L. Paquette of Smiths Falls.

New Stamp Issue in Demand At Local Post Office

On Monday morning, the "war effort" issue of postage stamps was replaced by the new "reconstruction" series and went on sale at Post Offices. Played up for some weeks past were the eight-cent and 50-cent stamps which were the cause of some verbal campaign in the House of Commons because the former depicted a plowing scene with a plow turning the furrow to the left, and the larger denomination showed a lumber scene with the lumberjacks standing too close to a falling giant of the forest. Nine denominations are represented in the new issue.

The one to five cent stamps of the present issue, bearing the portrait of The King will remain as at present.

Included in the new issue are the eight-cent stamp, bearing an Eastern Canada farm scene, located in Ontario. Great Bear Lake, scene of the first pitchblende discovery, is shown on the 10-cent stamp, and a Hydro-Electric Power Station on the St. Maurice River in Quebec, appears on the 14-cent stamp.

Twenty-cents worth of postage depicts a combine harvesting grain in the Prairie Provinces. The oft-discussed 50-cent stamp bears a picture of lumbering operations in British Columbia, while Prince Edward Island shares the issue with a scene of the new train ferry and a fishing boat on the one-dollar stamp.

Air mail stamps depict a Canada Goose in flight over a section of lake land near Sudbury for the ordinary air mail of seven cents; while the special delivery air mail, 17 cents, shows a mail plane in flight over Quebec City.

The special delivery stamp, ordinary mail, 10 cents, is quite similar to the last issue, but bears the olive branches of victory and peace in place of the flags and maple leaves.

W. N. Fulton, Chesterville Postmaster, had a number of calls, Monday, for "First Day Covers" which are prized by stamp collectors. These are envelopes with the above title printed in gold in the lower left-hand corner on which the new stamps are affixed and cancelled by the issuing office.

Williamsburg

Mr. D. Hugh Thompson of town and Mr Wiggins of Morrisburg motored to Lindsay on Thursday and spent a couple of days there attending the Lindsay Central exhibition.

Mrs. Belle Algire of Morrisburg spent the week-end in town with her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Heafy and children.

Quite a number of their neighbours and friends gathered at the farm home of Mr. Bernice Barkley and his mother, Mrs. Norman Barkley, to honour them prior to their departure from the community to their new home in Williamsburg village. A note of sadness prevailed for they had been life-long residents of the community. During the evening an appropriate address was read by Cecil Casselman, and the presentation of a table lamp and smoking stand was made to the guests of honor on behalf of the assembled friends. Rev. George Innes speaking for Mr. Barkley and his mother expressed sincere thanks to all for the gifts and kind wishes expressed in the address. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening brought to a close.

Elma Couple Honoured

Before leaving Elma, to take up residence in their new home in Williamsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Beckstead and family were honoured by their Elma neighbours and friends at a gathering in the IOOF hall, Williamsburg, last Friday evening, August 30th. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening with music furnished by the Serenader's Orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Beckstead and family were presented with a farewell address read by Miss Gertrude Barkley and at the same time the presentation of a substantial purse of money was made to the honoured family. Mr. Beckstead, on behalf of himself, Mrs. Beckstead and family, very fittingly replied, thanking all for the gift and their thoughtfulness. Refreshments were served after which dancing was resumed.

Garlough-Cunningham

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Williamsburg United Church, when Miss Edna Rose Cunningham, youngest daughter of Mr. James Cunningham or Williamsburg and the late Mrs. Cunningham, became the bride of Graham Garlough, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garlough of Williamsburg. Rev. Gerald Fee, minister of the church officiated at the ceremony.

The church was decorated with standards of pink and white gladioli and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Maefred Merkley.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was attended by her sister, Miss Gladys Cunningham, as bridesmaid. Mr. Harry Garlough of Williamsburg, was best man for his brother. For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of sheer white chiffon, fashioned with a lace yoke, full long sleeves and full gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a Queen Elizabeth headdress and she carried an arm bouquet of Bettertime roses.

The bridesmaid wore a mid-night blue taffeta floor-length gown, her arm bouquet being of Briarcliffe roses.

The groom's mother wore a grey crepe dress with matching grey hat, and corsage of red roses.

Following a reception for members of the immediate families, the couple left by motor on their wedding trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a sky blue wool suit with black accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Garlough will reside in Williamsburg. Out of town guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Johnston and family of Madrid, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Barkley and Ronnie of Ottawa and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Smith of Chesterville.

Open Season Next Week For Wild Ducks and Geese

Next Wednesday, September 25th, the shotguns will come down from a great many walls with the opening of the hunting season in the United Counties for duck and wild geese (other than Brant). The season extends from September 25th to December 9th. The daily limits are 12 for ducks and five for geese; and for the season 150 ducks and 25 geese are allowed.

Automatic shot guns must be plugged to three shells, and rifles may not be used for shooting birds.

The season for ruffed and other grouse does not open until October 5th, and lasts only nine days. Regulations for pheasants will be announced later, states the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. Five ruffed or other grouse may be taken in one day, and 20 are allowed for the season.

BREAKFAST IMPORTANT

No matter how busy a mother may be, she will find that it pays, in more ways than one, to serve a substantial breakfast at home. Health officers of the Department of National Health and Welfare, in stressing the value of a well-balanced, fresh, morning meal, suggest that this will save the mother a lot of trouble later, since "a well fed child is a happy child" and will not require as much attention later in the day.

Attended Ottawa Convention Accident Prevention Assn.

O. L. King, superintendent of Nestle's Milk Products (Can.) Ltd., Chesterville plant, and sectional chairman of the St. Lawrence Division of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, attended the 11th annual meeting of the latter association held in the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, last Thursday evening.

Principal speaker, A. L. Bennett, past president of the I.A.P.A., declared that the prevention of accidents, which cost the worker one-third of his average earnings, not only diminished injury and loss of life but was also economical for the employer. For every dollar spent for this purpose there was a saving of $5 in compensation costs, he said.

Overall picture of industrial accidents for the year August, 1945, to July, 1946, showed a drop of almost 1,000 serious accidents.

Believes He's Last Remaining Person Pick Apples From Original McIntosh Tree

ONE hundred and fifty years ago—at about this time of the season, the first McIntosh apple is reported to have been found in the woods of what is now Dundela in Williamsburg Township. Since the day when John McIntosh discovered the wild apple trees, while clearing the bush for farm land, the fruit has been developed to its world-wide reputation and is grown in orchards all over the country and Northern New York State.

Marking the anniversary of this Ontario apple, The Watertown, N.Y., Daily Times has published a story in which George Quartz, formerly of the Winchester area and now of Orleans Four Corners, N.Y., states he believes he is about the only person left who has picked apples from the original McIntosh tree.

"I guess I am about the last person left—at least in this section—who has picked apples from the original McIntosh tree in the Dundela area of Ontario," said Mr. Quartz.

"I remember that the old apple tree had but two limbs left, and but a few apples, but I can see it today although it was about 60 years ago that I visited the tree as a boy. Limbs had been cut off the tree, and the stubs painted over, and everything was done to prolong the life of the tree. But it was not long afterwards that the house burned and the tree went with it. Every McIntosh apple in the world must go back to that parent tree, for the wise Canadians had made full use of the art of grafting scions from the parent tree to start orchards of the splendid apple."

Trek of the McIntoshes

Ontario history relates that about 1795 a John McIntosh of the Mohawk Valley, now New York State, heard of the splendid opportunities to be found in the region of Ontario, just north of the St. Lawrence River. His people had settled in the Mohawk as pioneers, and he decided it was time for him to start further afield.

John McIntosh crossed overland from the Mohawk, made his way over the St. Lawrence river, and bought land on the north shore of the St. Lawrence in the township of Matilda. In 1796 he traded this farm and took up land further back from the river, buying half a lot in Matilda township where he built a log shanty and moved his family in.

He found few settlers in the interior of Dundas, and he had to make a clearing for his buildings and crops. While clearing the land he came upon a few wild apple trees, one of which was destined to become world famous.

Development of the Apple

Actually it was his son, Allan McIntosh, a veteran of the MacKenzie Rebellion, who developed the apple. He was interested in fruit, especially apples, and decided that this tree discovered in the wilderness had great opportunities. As he looked at the large, rosy, luscious apples he proposed to develop it by grafting scions on as many trees as possible.

As George Quartz remembers it, the trees was actually transplanted from the woodlot and placed at the east end of the log house of the McIntosh family. When he saw the tree, as a young boy, Allan McIntosh was then an old man who had a large orchard and others were being started by neighbours.

About six years ago, when visiting the farms of the Kemptville Agricultural School, Mr. Quart was shown the storage bins full of McIntosh apples that had just been gathered. These apples appeared somewhat larger, he said, than those grown south of the border. He was told by the professor in charge of fruit, he said, that the section was ideal for growing the apple, as Kemptville was only a few miles from the birthplace of the McIntosh.

As the 150th anniversary of the McIntosh approached this year, there were some people in Ontario who proposed to the Dominion Government the issue of a postage stamp to commemorate the discovery of this apple made famous by the McIntosh family.

Harvest Time to Plan For Better Crops in 1947

The end of harvest is a profitable time to consider the past year's operations and prepare a tentative plan for the year to come. Why was the clover thicker, the oats plumper or the cows more content in some fields than in others? Was it just an accident the result of weather conditions or was the soil of some fields more abundantly supplied than others with organic matter lime and mineral plant foods?

These questions can best be answered by having the soil tested. This is generally done free of charge by agricultural colleges or some fertilizer companies. However care must be exercised to make sure that the samples are truly representative of the areas. In order that the job be done accurately, it is wise to first write to the soil testing laboratory for sampling instructions.

Early fall, or a few weeks after the crop has been harvested, is the best time to sample fields, according to G. R. Snyder of Canadian Industries Limited. Chemical nad biological activities are still taking place at very nearly the same rate as when the crop was growing. The soil is neither too wet nor too dry for accurate mixing. This need for early action is especially necessary when one is considering the application of lime, or the fall fertilizing of pasture fields. Lime can be applied more conveniently in September and early October, when the weather is dry and the ground firm enough to permit trucking the lime direct to the field.

While pastures can be fertilized in the spring, most experts now favour the fall treatment. Between late September and mid-October is the period most favoured in Eastern Canada. Extra benefits are less winter killing and earlier, stronger spring growth. Since cows require quality as well as quantity for highest production, the treatment should be at a rate heavy enough to furnish ample minerals for both increased yield and a higher mineral content of the herbage.

Ration Book No. 6 Will Be Mailed to Latecomers

The Ration Administration of the Prices Board has announced that Ration Book No. 6 will be mailed directly to those consumers who neglected to pick up their new book during the normal distribution period, September 9 to 16.

The new books will be mailed as quickly as possible after application is received at any Local Ration Board or branch of the Ration Administration, the Board stated but warned latecomers that their application must be by mail as new books will not be issued to persons applying personally. For those people in outlying areas who are in doubt as to the location of Ration Administration branches their local grocer should be able to supply this information, the Board said.

Instructions on how to get Book 6 are listed below:

1.—Fill in the green application card in the back of Book 5.

2.—Detach the card and mail to the nearest Local Ration Board or branch of the Ration Administration.

Latecomers are reminded that the sooner their application is received the quicker their new book will be mailed to them.

Shepherd Attend!

Jock had wandered off to another church and his troubled dominie was striving to bring him back into the fold.

"Why weren't you at the kirk on Sunday?" he diplomatically inquired of the wandering brother.

"I was at Mr. MacGregor's kirk," Jock airily replied.

"Now, Jock," patiently reasoned the clergyman. "I don't like your running around to strange kirks like that. Not that I object to your hearing Mr. MacGregor, but I'm sure you widna like your sheep straying into strange pastures."

"Reverend," was the calm rejoinder, "I widna care a straw—if it was better grass."

THE MIXING BOWL

Hello Homemakers! When the sun sets low over the graden and there is that azure-blue haze—it's September. Summer is making her exit . . . time to garner late fruits. It is also time to prepare for frosty nights. The following hints about fall duties are apt to go unheeded—but the neighbours told me so.

Small quantities of root crops such as beets, carrots, turnips and salsify should be stored in a root cellar or dark basement in moist sand, either in piles or in boxes. If you put in alternate layers of vegetables and sand the roots will not shrivel. When they are gathered, the tops should be cut off.

Cabbages may be wrapped in newspaper and stored in a dry box. Green tomatoes should be wrapped in two thicknesses of paper and put in shallow boxes.

Proper ventilation of the storage room is essential. A window should be constructed for easy adjustment during very cold weather.

RECIPES

Onions au gratin: Green onions, stems and all, are washed, split and trimmed of bulb skin. Boil them in very little water; serve on toast with a thick white sauce. Sprinkle with grated cheese.

Veal with Green Peppers: Dip veal cutlets in milk then in flour to which salt and pepper has been added. Brown in a little fat in hot frying pan. Remove to casserole; add 2 cups diced tomatoes, ½ cup broken spaghetti, cover with trimmed scalded green pepper sections. Bake in electric oven of 350 degs. for 40 mins.

Sauted Summer Squash: Pare summer squash and cut into slices about an inch thick. Dust pieces with salt, pepper and a pinch of mustard, dip in beaten egg, then in fine crumbs, and brown in a greased frying pan. Turn and cover; let cook 12 mins.

Chicken Burger Sauce: Heat together ½ cup fresh catsup, 1 tbsp. vinegar, 1 tbsp. small chives or minced onion, dash of chili powder, few grains cayenne, 2 tsps. Worcestershire sauce, salt to taste. Serve with diced chicken between split buns.

PLUM WHIP

1 tbsp. plain gelatine, ¾ cup plum juice, 1 cup cooked plum pulp, 2 tbsps. brown sugar, 2 egg whites, (beaten stiffly), 2 tbsps. cold water, ¼ cup sugar, ⅛ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. cinnamon, 2 tbsps. lemon juice.

Soak the gelatine in the cold water for five minutes. Add it to the hot plum juice, sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Add the plums which have been mashed and mixed with the brown sugar, cinnamon and lemon juice. Chill until partly thickened, then fold in the beaten egg whites. Pour into a mould, chill until firm, then unmould and serve with cream. Five to six servings.

BLUEBERRY UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

1½ cups blueberries, 1|3 cup brown sugar, ¼ tsp. cloves, 1 tbsps. butter, ¼ cup water, ⅓ cup shortening, ¼ cup milk, ½ tsp. vanilla, ½ cup sugar, 1 beaten egg, ¾ cup enriched flour, ¼ tsp. salt, 1½ tsps. baking powder.

Combine blueberries, 1|3 cup of brown sugar, cloves, butter and water. Simmer 5 mins. Pour into greased 8-inch square cake pan. Thoroughly cream shortening, vanilla, and ½ cup granulated sugar. Add egg and beat well. Sift flour, salt, and baking powder; add alternately with milk. This is a heavy batter. Spoon over berries; spread evenly. Bake in moderate electric oven (350) 40 mins.

PEACH PARFAIT

Pudding: Beat 2 egg yolks, 1 whole egg and ¼ cup sugar until lemon-coloured. Gradually stir in 2 cups scalded milk. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture coats spoon. Cool quickly. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla; chill.

Peach Layer: Combine 1 pint of crushed peaches and ½ cup sugar. Chill in electric refrigerator.

Meringue: Gradually add 3 tbsps. sugar to 2 beaten egg whites; beat until meringue forms peaks. Alternate pudding and berries. Top each parfait with a meringue swirl and large cherry. Serves 6.
