Ladies' Closing Tournament

Windy, cold weather did not stop fourteen lady golfers on Sunday, from taking part in the closing Tournament.

Shirley Fisher, won the Bray Trophy with Mary Jean Craig as runner-up. Silver spoons went to Mrs. Ruth (Jack) Fetterly and Rita Bray.

Hidden Hole won by Valerie Coons: Most Honest Golfer to Mrs. I. Shaw, and a special prize to Grandma Norton

In August of this year the Village Council received a deed of the Carman-Forward property, from Ontario Hydro, for the purpose of preserving the historic house as a museum. Immediately, the Council began consultations with various officials, as to how to restore the house and create a museum. It was decided to make application under the Confederation Centennial Act, for a grant to do this work as a Centennial Project. As the amount of Government grant available to the Village for a Centennial project will only be in the neighbourhood of $2,000.00, no major project can be undertaken, but this amount would enable the Council to do a considerable amount of restoration work on the house and property, thus creating an added tourist attraction in the municipality.

Early in September approval of the project was requested from the Ontario Municipal Board, and at Monday evening's Council meeting word was received that the Board is giving consideration to the request. After this approval is received, the application for the Centennial project must then be approved by the Federal and Provincial Grants Committee, before any work can commence. It is expected that Mr. Peter Stokes, Restoration Architect, will be here in the near future to discuss with Council the details of the restoration work. It has been suggested that local residents who are interested in the preservation of this historic old house, could form an Historical Group or Club to advise and assist in this work.

the co-leadership of Mrs. Roy Graham, was convened over by Misses Janet Thompson, Lorraine Pope, Roxie Thompson and Anriol Dunbar, and the evening's entertainment committee was convened over by Messrs. Michael Langford and Eric Banford.

The Sa-Teen's President, Blaine Duncan, presided over a short business session, at which time plans for attending a study and fellowship weekend at Gracefield Camp, Oct. 16-18, were finalized, under the co-leadership of the Rev. John J. Hibbs. Plans were also discussed concerning the Christmas Baskets Project to shut-in members of the community, and the Fall planting of the flower-bed project at the Iroquois Information Booth, following which a scavenger-hunt, games, and refreshments were enjoyed, to the conclusion of the evenings activities.

The Country Dinner

Much as mankind has come to rely on pre-cooked, canned, pre-cut, packaged, wrapped, frozen, barbecued, and what-have-you in the way of food, yet the old-time country dinner not only has not faded away, but is increasing in popularity each year.

Most of us can recall in our youth, attending one of those abundant and delicious church suppers where you could eat all you could hold—including all the pie the stomach could consume. The church supper was, and still is, a meeting place where many people renewed acquaintances. Townsfolk were as much a part of the scene as countryfolk; many people returning to the church of their childhood just this one time in the year. It was harvest-time, a bounteous time, and a joyful time. Friendliness flowed in every corner of the dining room.

Food producers have come a long way in the last ten years with their "aids" to housewives; by saving us all a lot of "time". But in many communities across the country there are groups of ladies who throw all these aids out the window (at least this one time in the year) and put on a meal that would be a credit to any woman in grandma's day.

The church supper is a Canadian tradition—let's help to keep it alive.

Besides which, it's the only place we know where a dollar still buys you a dollar's worth of dinner!

Honest People Also Under Suspicion

(The Printed Word)

Comments in United States newspapers indicate that the problem of thievery among employees in industry is getting from many employers more than the usual amount of attention.

Most people are honest, but here is a situation where the innocent as well as the guilty come under suspicion. There likely are ninety-nine guiltless to one guilty culprit. To the harassed employer, the loss is just as great if ten people steal only once as it is if one person steals ten times.

Losses to business are having an adverse effect on gross profit per dollar of sales. And employers have resorted to the installation of closed-circuit television to find out what is happening to the goods. Shrinkage of inventory through stealing is a cost of doing business. So in the end the consumer pays in higher prices.

One paint company adopted an electronic means of over-seeing its shipping and receiving department, which had been losing about a hundred dollars a week. When the staff was warned that the boss was watching not a single gallon of paint was missing. No one likes to spy, but until everyone has been converted to the commandment that "thou shalt not steal", it will be necessary to have police and watchmen.

In some cities before there was oil and natural gas all household fuel was delivered in bags. The truck drivers and helpers, some of them, had the habit of dropping a bag or two of coal off at their own homes or at a friend's home. The coal dealer could be as honest as the day is long and still the customer would be cheated.

The church authorities in one community instructed the caretaker to count the bags as they were taken off the truck, but this made him so unpopular with the coalmen that the practice was stopped. It is not known to this day whether or not the church was getting all the heat it paid for.

In one city a young woman who had been an employee in a millinery department for a number of years was caught putting on her person the difference between a $6 hat and the $5 she put in the cash register. The minimum penalty for this sort of thing was dismissal. And there was ample evidence to justify prosecution. But the employer, absentee and soft-hearted, began to worry for fear that the young woman was in some real distress which caused her to forget her duty.

Managers of self-serve stores also have their problems, particularly if the goods are easily concealed in handbag or pocket. One of the first of the self-serve stores, other than in the food field, was in a district where, probably unjustly, there was a reputation for petty crime. But the owner concluded that the customers could be trusted—if watched.

In at least one Canadian retail store there has been installed a mirror which secretly gives a view of a long, long counter on which are offered for sale various small handtools and other metallic goods that can be slipped into a man's pocket or overcoat. It is said that at least six thieves are detected on a busy Saturday and the loss through shop-lifting, or "shrinkage" as it is politely known, has been diminished.

Many firms are taking security measures and simply wanting to prevent theft, usually inform their employees about these security measures. The man or woman who is likely to be caught finds it easier to resist temptation.

It should be remembered always that most people are honest. The deliberately dishonest are very few indeed. But there is a tendency among all people to justify improper action because so many others are doing what they should not do.

MRS. JEAN WADDS, M.P.—

Parliament Report

If last week was "a week of chuckles" as Douglas Fisher dubbed it in the Ottawa Journal last Saturday, then this week was one of hard work and serious, often bitter, Opposition examination of the Government. With the flag debate no longer even conspicuous by its absence from the floor of the House and with the flag Committee busily progressing into its third week of daily meetings, the House was able to wade through discussions on the second reading of the Government's controversial farm machinery bill and on Estimates for the Department of Justice, Citizenship and Immigration, and Mines and Technical Surveys.

The farm machinery bill "An Act to provide for the extension of credit to farm machinery syndicates" sets up a $25 million fund to finance government loans to syndicates to the tune of up to $15,000 per member (of the syndicate) or a total of $100,000 altogether to aid them in buying farm machinery. Altogether the controversial Minister of Agriculture, Harry Hays, claimed his Department spent nearly nine months preparing the legislation, it was apparent that there were many shortcomings and ambiguities and some doubt of the overall worth of the bill in general. These were quickly pointed out by a barrage of Opposition critics.

In the most exciting and most action-packed period of the day on Parliament Hill—that of the normally one hour Question Period at the start of each day's sitting—several very important issues were raised this week.

Stanley Knowles, the pious, frequently tedious conscience of Parliament, raised, on Thursday, the question of putting the Question Period back to the shorter period of time that was tried earlier this summer. He asked the Speaker to clamp down more in making the Members adhere to rules.

The House made it clear by their unenthusiastic, rather bored response to the first suggestion that as far as they were concerned the one hour Question Period was here to stay. Mr. Knowles suggestions were silently ignored except for Mr. Speaker's comment that an effective clamping down on the Members must originate from more self-discipline on the part of the Members themselves.

There is a good point here. Such self-discipline is definitely needed both with regard to the length and pertinence of the questions asked, and with regard to the length and partial statements that the Ministers have been reading lately as answers.

It should also be pointed out that the Question Period is one of the oldest and most vital Parliamentary privilege. It goes back over 200 years in the British House of Commons, and is the traditional time when any Member can rise and question the Prime Minister or any Minister on matters related to the running of the Government Departments. It is also the only period when a back bench member can publicly try to rectify some specific shortcoming or problem related to this riding. It is a sacred Parliamentary privilege and with proper use, responsibility on both sides, could be the most crucial and effective hour of the day.

Address Graduating Nurses

George A. Bender, the man who conceived the idea for Parke-Davis' "History of Medicine in Pictures" series of oil paintings addressed the graduating class of 37 nurses from Brockville General Hospital (Sept. 14) at commencement exercises in Brockville Collegiate Institute Auditorium, at 7:30.

His speech was entitled, "The Story Behind Great Moments in Medicine".

Bender, who is Director of Institutional Advertising at Parke, Davis and Company, Detroit, Mich., also showed color slides which graphically trace the story behind the series of 45 paintings and articles which describe the evolution of medicine from antiquity to the present day.

One of the little known facts that Bender pointed out during his speech was that Hippoc-

CANADA, ACT YOUR AGE!

There is one country in the world that I feel sorry for. It has all the outward attributes of a spoiled-rotten teenager.

It is good-looking, if a little gangly. It is strong and well-made, if a little inclined to flabbiness. It has always had a big allowance because its mother and father came into a lot of property.

But all the signs of the mixed up adolescent are there: the sudden flaring resentment over nothing; the great desire to be loved and made a fuss over; the surliness when things don't go right; the sullen apathy towards anything worthwhile; the absorption in material things; the flashes of decency; and the impulses towards vandalism.

It must be dreadful to see a child you love, one who has brought sun and laughter as an infant, pride and joy through the growing years, turn into one of these creatures.

It is equally sad to see a country one loves turn into a schizophrenic, whining with self-pity one moment, swaggering with threats the next, bragging with one breath, complaining with another. I'm talking about Canada.

There is something sick in our country today, and I feel for it the same baffled sorrow that I feel for the teenager who has a good mind, with nothing more on it than bashing around in a big car and smashing things up, who has a fine body, with nothing more to do than let it go to pot.

I don't know quite what has brought me to this state of gloom, but the flag debate certainly, who is called the "Father of Medicine," probably did not write the famed Hippocratic Oath.

"So far I have been able to determine," Bender states, "No one feels Hippocrates wrote the universal oath now attributed to him. But, rather it was drafted by one of his disciples, based on Hippocrates' beliefs."

Bender, who also wrote the historical articles which explain each painting, said that the "History of Medicine in Pictures" is not merely an artist's conception, but that each picture was authenticated down to the smallest detail. Two years of work and research preceded the first painting: approximately 300 persons were interviewed; more than 500 special references were checked; and two six weeks' trips through Europe were made for on-the-spot investigation.

The BIBLE Today

Among the Christian literature recently published in Shona by World Life Publications, Rhodesia, is a 4,000-copies edition of the booklet "What the Bible Does for the Christian." This is to be followed by "What the Holy Spirit Does in The Christian" and "What a Christian Does for the Lord."

Also just published is the first of a three-volume set of children's books called "Going Through the Bible with Grandmother." In many African homes it is the grandmother who is the source of family history, custom and folk lore.

As the title suggests the series is intended to introduce African children in a systematic way to the great themes of the Bible.

The Scriptures were first published in Shona for the people of Rhodesia in 1898 by The British and Foreign Bible Society.

tainly helped. An insignificant issue, ineptly introduced by an inadequate prime minister and immediately attacked by an incredible leader of Her Majesty's loyal opposition.

People complain, periodically that Canada gets little or no attention in the world press. Thank goodness! If newspaper readers in other nations could pursue some of the juvenilia that has passed as debate in our House of Commons on the flag issue, they would shake their heads in bewilderment, and write us off as a nation about one jump ahead of the Congo.

Personally, I don't care whether our national flag is three mangy maple leaves, or three beavers eating the left thigh of Sir John A. Macdonald, or three roosters crowing "O Canada" from a dunghill. But I do care that my country shows none of the signs of strength, maturity and wisdom that might be expected from an adult democracy.

Another thing that has produced my present mood is the threat to the life of the Queen, if she has enough gumption to visit Canada, on invitation. Which she has. Would that the shrivelled punks who threaten her had as much.

Canadians are not made for bowing and scraping before royalty. But who, except a few fanatics of desperate paucity of soul would want to harm this rather plain, rather sweet, quite dignified and extremely courageous woman who does her earnest best in an extremely difficult role?

The answer is, only those who have adopted the philosophy of the communist and the fascist that the end justifies the means. The Queen has nothing to do with imperialism or colonialism or any of the other "isms" that Quebec is belatedly excited about, after sitting complacent under a dictator, and a corrupt one, for years.

I hereby announce that if anybody takes a potshot at the Queen, when she visits Quebec, I will personally call up a crowd of creaky old fighter pilots and march on that province. I doubt if we'd have a banner, because if you told an old fighter pilot to follow a flag into action he'd tell you promptly what you could do with your flag. And it would be painful.

Perhaps I'm wrong. Perhaps the mixed-up teenager will, as so many have done, grow up, stop tearing things down, and turn into a rank old reactionary like me. I hope so.

UP IN SMOKE

As we once again observe Fire Prevention Week, we are reminded that last year Canada racked up yet another set of sorry statistics! Why?

Why did FIRE cause property loss total of almost $150,000,000?

Why did FIRE snuff out the lives of over 500 Canadians?

Why were there well over 80,000 FIRES in Canada?

Why were most of these FIRES in homes?

Why? Why? Why? There is a simple answer to this question, and a simple solution to the problem of FIRE in Canada, and it is the common, three-letter word YOU!

Forester marks the trees to be cut. The diameter, merchantable height and cull factor are recorded and, when compiled, this will provide the owner with an estimation of the volumes of products which will result from the cutting operation. He can then approach a number of timber buyers asking them to inspect the proposed cut and decide on a price per cord or thousand board feet.

A planned operation such as this will help the farmer to buy the new forage harvester needed to harvest the increasing acreages of corn evident throughout the District, while still providing for future timber crops.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS

WATERFOWL: Opening day of duck season brought the usual variety of hunting conditions and success. Generally speaking duck hunting was better than expected and some fairly good kills of birds were reported. In all 296 hunters checked by officers had taken 462 ducks, most of which were teal and woodcock. Hunter success averaged about 3.2 hours per bird taken and 1.5 birds per hunter and, undoubtedly, the success was much higher just at daybreak.

Many persons in the Gananoque area were disappointed to find their regular hunting areas posted on opening day. Conservation Officer John Miller and several Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officers discovered that many areas along the St. Lawrence River had been heavily baited. These areas were immediately posted and closed to hunting. The closed areas undoubtedly provided sanctuaries for the ducks attracted to the bait and the kill in that part of the St. Lawrence River was much lighter than usual as a result.

A few Canada geese were taken along Lake St. Lawrence but the kill was not as high as might be expected. The geese very quickly retreated to the Nairn Island Sanctuary where they are relatively undisturbed.

HUNGARIAN PARTRIDGE

Early reports indicate that Hungarian Partridge hunting is quite variable across the eastern part of the district. Several parties have had good success and report the birds "better than last year" but these reports are offset by others indicating poor success. All in all Hungarian Partridge hunting appears to be "spotty" and prospective hunters would be well advised to obtain information and direction from local people. It is always a good practice to request permission to hunt on private property and many farmers can save the hunters time and effort by directing them to areas that are most productive.

Greatly Mourned In This Community

The death occurred Friday, September 25th, at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Brockville, of Mrs. John Savor of River Road East, Cardinal. Mrs. Savor suffered a fracture of her hip at her home and had been a patient in the hospital for the past eight weeks. She was in her 83rd year.

Her maiden name was Sarah Winnifred Merkley. Born at Dixon Corners on February 1st 1882, she was a daughter of the late Jay Merkley and his wife Ellen Connor.

Deceased had spent her entire life in the Iroquois district, moving to the Savor homestead on the riverfront after her marriage in 1912 to John Savor, a member of a family of original Iroquois settlers. Of a retiring nature, Mrs. Savor's main interest had been in her family and home. In religion she was a member of the Anglican Church, and in politics a staunch Conservative. She was also of a friendly nature and had made a host of friends.

Predeceased by her husband in 1942, she is survived by one son, Ralph W. Savor of Brockville; six daughters, Mrs. Stanley L. Cromwell, (Dorothy), Brockville; Mrs. Earnest R. Hanna (Frances), Spencerville; Mrs. Russell Hanna (Katherine), Cardinal; Mrs. Cecil Cook (Margaret), Cardinal; Miss Helen Savor at home; Mrs. Paul Claxton, (Norma), Iroquois. She was predeceased by one son, John, some years ago. A sister Mrs. George VanCamp (Annie), of Newmarket, also survives, as well as seven grandchildren.

The remains rested at the Emmon's Funeral Home, Dundas Street, Cardinal, until 2:00 p.m., on Monday, when funeral services were held there with Rev. P. M. Tett of St. Paul's Anglican Church officiating.

The wealth of floral tributes, donations to the Heart and Cancer Fund, and the donation of a beautiful Bible in her memory again gave testimony of the high respect in which Mrs. Savor was held.

Pallbearers were: Joseph Crites, Eric Bolton, Maurice Shaver, John Skelly, Cedric Marcell and Reginald Connors.

Interment took place in the family plot, St. Paul's Anglican Church Cemetery, Cardinal.

Knox Church Ladies Aid

Knox Church Ladies Aid

The October meeting of the Ladies' Aid of Knox Church was held at the home of Mrs. S. W. Perry on Monday afternoon, October 5th, at 2 o'clock. The President, Mrs. S.W. Perry presided and conducted the opening devotions. A hymn was sung, prayer offered by Mrs. Perry and Ps. 23 repeated in union.

The minutes of the September meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. J.W. Moke and the roll call was called. Mrs. McLeod of Cornwall, the guest of Mrs. Mary Pollock was a very welcome visitor to the meeting.

Mrs. Fenton submitted a very gratifying treasurer's report. During the past month, 50 new combination hymn and psalm books have been purchased by the Society and paid for, still leaving a very substantial balance in the treasury.

The main business on the agenda was the forthcoming bazaar, food sale and tea to be held October 31 at 5 p.m. All arrangements were thoroughly checked and completed.

At the conclusion of the meeting the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. J. J. Hibbs. Mrs. Perry served tea and a social half hour was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. J. R. Miller thanked Mrs. Perry on behalf of the Society for her gracious hospitality.

A short meeting of W.M.S. members convened at the close of the Ladies' Aid meeting, to discuss arrangements for the thankoffering which will be held on Wednesday evening, October 14th at 8 o'clock.

A YEAR OF MANY ACHIEVEMENTS

The cliché attributed to the famous P.T. Barnum "you can fool some of the people some of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time," brings to mind the association our local speed boat merchant, Frederick Brouse, has with speed-boat racing.

Frederick has beaten some of them some of the time, all of them all of the time, but its downright impossible to lick all of them all of the time.

Summing up his activities this current season in this highly competitive sport he raced in both Canada and the United States all the way from the Province of Quebec to the state of Louisiana, and in a total of eleven 280 hydroplane inboard events came up with no less than eight firsts for a batting average of 727. In any league this is highly commendable, bespeaking class in driving and boat. Frederick and his Miss Valleyfield, a tight combination!

Herewith is his log of activities from May 18 until and including September 13, 1964: Peterborough, Ontario. Chicago, Illinois. Lachine, Quebec. Crystal Lake, N.Y.. Ottawa, Illinois. Valleyfield Quebec. Waddington, N.Y.. Morgan City, Louisiana. North Tonawanda, N.Y.. Belleville Ontario. and Point Aux, Tremblis, Que. First, Eastern Divisionals of North America, open to all 280 class hydroplane east of the Mississippi River. This is the second consecutive year Frederick has won the Eastern Duseonald.

Several new books have arrived at the library. One of local interest is Eleanor Wickware Morgan's 'Up the Front', a story of Morrisburg. This is a most interesting, well written book and the many excellent illustrations add to its value. Of particular interest to a resident of Iroquois are the chapters on the river and the canal, the story of the Battle of Crysler's Farm, the railroad (esp. 'The Moccasin') and Upper Canada Village. This book is recommended to anyone interested in local history. Mrs. Morgan is to be congratulated on writing a most interesting book.

'An Introduction to Brazil' by Charles Wagley presents a very informative and detailed account of life in modern day Brazil. Climate, topography, industrialization, economic development and the ethnic origins of the people are discussed. The author is well qualified to write on Brazil, having lived there for ten years out of the last twenty.

Many excellent illustrations complete the story.

'The Young Divorcees' by Lissa Charrell, is a penetrating novel of divorce, American style, and the shattered lives it leaves in its wake. Intimate, frankly outspoken, it is a compulsively readable blend of imaginative fiction and uncompromising fact.

United Presbytery Met In Ventnor United Church

The Dundas-Grenville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met recently in Ventnor United Church. Twenty-one Ministers and sixteen Lay Delegates answered the roll call. Morning Worship was conducted by Rev. D. W. Chappell of Elma. Five new Ministerial members were introduced to the Council. These were the Revs. D.W. Chappell, of Winchester Springs Pastoral Charge; W.E. Black of South Mountain Pastoral Charge; James Stewart of Matilda Pastoral Charge; M.M. Ulonka of North Augusta Pastoral Charge, and G.W. Howse of Merrickville Pastoral Charge. Mrs. Arthur Woodland of Spencerville, Presbyterial President of United Church Women, represented that body and reported to the Court. Mr. John Garley of Merrickville reported for Presbytery United Church Men's Council.

Among the reports given was the account of the meeting of General Council held recently in St. John's, Newfoundland. Mr. W.L. Matthe spoke of the fine welcome extended to the Commissioners by the Government and people of Newfoundland. Rev. D.J. Carnegie spoke of the work of the Evangelism and Social Service Committee of the Church as it was presented to the Council. Plans for increased evangelistic action within the Church to coincide with the fortieth anniversary of Church Union in 1965 was reported. He spoke also of the need throughout many parts of the world, hunger, despair, the rising tide of nationalism and the many challenges which confront the Church of our time. Rev. J.L. Dean reported on the work of the long range planning Committee, especially as it related to the work of Presbytery.

Rev. R.G. Percival reported for the Christian Education

Committee. Plans were outlined for Area Institutes for Sunday School Teachers to assist in the teaching of the New Curriculum materials. Rev. Angus MacDonald told of the success achieved through the holding of such an Institute in the Winchester area. More institutes of this nature were proposed for three other areas within the Presbytery.

Rev. D.J. Carnegie reported for Evangelism and Social Service. Four delegates attended the annual Conference on Evangelism at Whitby in August. These were Revs. D.J. Carnegie, M.M. Ulonka, Wellwood Adam and W.J. March. They each gave excellent reports of this fine Conference which has been meeting for seventeen years and grows larger each year. The tenor of the reports was that the Church must move more actively into the life of the world of our time. Many people feel that a wall exists between the folk inside the Church and those outside the Church. The Convener urged members to attend the Evangelistic Services to be held in Kingston during October under the leadership of Evangelistic Leighton Ford.

Rev. Angus MacDonald reported on a Hi-C Camp held at Rideau Hill on Labour Day week-end. This was in the nature of a pilot project, which showed promise of increased success in the future. The Christian Education Committee was asked to include such a Camp within the total Camp program for 1965.

Mrs. Arthur Woodland reported that more than 250 women attended the Annual Presbyterial meeting held at Winchester. Twenty-six delegates from the Presbytery attended the School for United Church Women held in St. Annes in August. Fall Rallies will be held on October 28th, afternoon at Dundela, Mrs. S. A. VanDuzer from the Board will be Guest Speaker.

Mr. John Garley reported for Presbytery United Church Men's Council. A largely attended School for Elders and Stewards was held last February in Cardinal. The Men's Conference at Rideau Hill in June had increased attendance this year. The Annual meeting will be held at Johnstown on October 27th, with Tom Earle from the Press Gallery in Ottawa as Guest Speaker.

Rev. R.A. Crooks reported for the Committee on Colleges, Students and Recruiting. Mr. Kenneth VanAllen of Kemptonville was certified to College as a student for the Ministry. Advance announcement was made of a Dinner Meeting to

Keynote Address by President of Firm

The need for the creative efforts of all Canadians to meet the challenge of a changing world and to direct these changes in a manner which allows our full capacities to develop was emphasized by M.E. Fee, president of The Canada Starch Company Limited, at Bigwin Inn, Ontario, on September 14th.

Mr. Fee's statement was made in the keynote address on the theme Management of Innovation at the September conference of the Proprietary Association of Canada, an association of manufacturers of proprietary and patent medicines. He told the association that every man has the potential for innovation and creativity, no matter how little formal education he has or how humble his background. He defined innovation as the vital spark of man-made change, improvement and progress. He stated that our future and the future of mankind depends on innovation—on re-arranging the known to create something new. For this reason, he said,

"we must not put people in straight jackets, but rather use the resources of every man, for his sake and the sake of society."

Mr. Fee observed that most Canadians live far below their creative limits and possess creative power they never use.

"The search for innovation is a significant one today, and it is urgent that we all find the way to ensure that ideas are given a chance to develop," he said.

Mr. Fee noted that the changes taking place in the world today present problems which past generations did not face and added that the management of change is perhaps the most critical and pervasive task facing our world today. He commented on the basic cultural resistance to change and suggested that unduly rigid business structures tend to lock people into existing patterns.

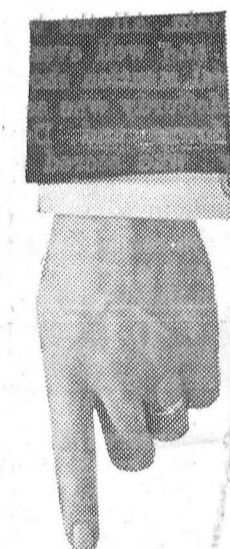

"While some measure of conformity is essential," he said, "the balance between individuality and conformity has swung too far away from individuality. Creative thinking has suffered or is disappearing altogether and we are all poorer for its loss."

Among the organizational factors which Mr. Fee listed as inhibiting innovation were, over-centralization of power and control, lack of planning, the building of little empires, the spreading of fear and anxieties, limited loyalties and poor communications.

Barriers to innovation and creativity are found within our society, our business organizations and the individual. "If we are to liberate our creative forces," he said, "we must eliminate these barriers and substitute a climate that encourages innovation and the development of ideas as they pass through the organization."

PREVENT FIRES

Over and over again we see headlines that read something like this: "Children Die As Parents Unable to Enter Burning Home." WHY, in Heaven's name, were the parents away from the home in the first place? And, if they simply had to go next door to play cards, WHY wasn't a competent Baby Sitter hired, and told what to do in case of fire?

Frayed electrical appliance cords are dangerous", repeat the Fire Prevention experts, so what have YOU done about the frayed cord on YOUR electric kettle, steam iron or toaster? If YOU are waiting "just a little bit longer, until it really needs replacing", it could be the most expensive wait YOU will ever experience!

Hospital Plan Addition

Physiotherapy received in the office of a practising registered physiotherapist will be available without charge to residents of Ontario on and after September 14th, according to an announcement today by the Ontario Hospital Services Commission. The treatment, however, must be medically necessary, prescribed by a duly qualified physician, and received in the office of a physiotherapist who participates in the program. All registered physiotherapists in private practice in Ontario were eligible to apply before September 1 for approval to participate.

HOME CALLS

In addition to physiotherapy in approved private facilities, prescribed medically necessary treatment in the patient's place of residence will be provided if, in the opinion of the attending physician, the patient cannot attend the physiotherapist's office. In such cases, the physiotherapist may charge the patient, or patient's up to $100 per visit regardless of the number of patients treated.

"This coverage for private physiotherapy," stated Dr. J. B. Neilson, Chairman of the Commission, "is designed to make the most efficient use possible of physiotherapy facilities in the province. It will be financed in part, 'he went on, by Federal health grants,

TIPS ON GETTING YOUR HEIFERS INTO PRODUCTION EARLY

Purina's calf feeding program is designed to bring your heifers to first-calf condition earlier. This means savings for you in shorter feeding time to productivity, and up to 8 months extra milk production per cow later.

In stable, feed all the good hay they will clean up. Do not feed silage until a year old. Silage is too bulky, it takes too much room in the calf's small stomach and doesn't give the "grow power" your calves need. From 4 months of age until 3 months before freshening feed 3 pounds of Purina D & F Chow per head, per day.

Supplement your pasture. Tests show that heifers turned to pasture at 6, 8 or 10 months of age and allowed no other source of feed made very slow growth. They gained only 53% of normal standard of growth. Three pounds of Purina D & F Chow per head, per day will help get your heifers to breeding weight four to eight months earlier, and will build sturdy heifers with the capacity for making milk to the full extent of their bred-in abilities. Breed according to weight. Breed Jerseys at 500 lbs.; Guernseys at 550; Ayrshires at 650; Holsteins and Short-horns at 750. The way to keep track of your heifers' weights is with a Purina weight tape. If you don't have one, why not give me a call. I'd be happy to drop one out. And I'd like to tell you more about Purina's common-sense calf feeding program.

IN MEMORIAMs

CLAXTON — In fond and loving memory of my dear brother, Sgt. Thomas Claxton, who perished in Lake Labarge on October 6, 1963.

You never said goodbye to us, Perhaps it's just as well; We never could say goodbye To one we loved so well.

Never forgotten and always remembered by — Sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sloan and family.

ENNIS — In loving memory of my dear husband, Ralph Ennis, who passed away October 11th, 1964. Like falling leaves the years slip by, But loving memories never die.

Helen

ARMSTRONG — In loving memory of a dear sister, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, who passed away October 16, 1961.

Resting where no shadows fall In perfect peace, she awaits us all
God will link the broken chain As one by one we will meet again.

Ever remembered by Sister, Mrs. Oral Casselman.

SEELEY — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Jesse Miles Seeley, who passed away on October 7th, 1958.

He is gone, but not forgotten, And as dawns another year In our lonely hours of thinking Thoughts of him are always near.

Days of sadness still come o'er us, Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow

That lies within the heart concealed.
Ever remembered by Wife and Family.

ENNIS — In loving memory of our dear uncle, Ralph Ennis, who passed away two years ago, October 11th. Too dearly loved to be forgotten.

Here & There

by Kay Kay

One of our ardent fans — and naturally, good friends, passed this 'recipe' along to us and we think it's really well worth taking the time to read.

'Take 1 large grassy field, Half dozen children, 2 or 3 dogs,

A pinch of brook, and some pebbles. Mix the children and dogs well together and put them in the field, stirring constantly. Pour the brook over the pebbles, sprinkle the field with flowers, spread over a deep blue sky and bake in the hot sun.

When brown, remove and set away to cool in a bathtub'. (We'd use the pretty young lady's name but fear reprisal from the home front who apparently doesn't know we have female admirers!)

There was a touch of the flug in us this week and somehow it left us with little humor to spill over into this column.

That bug actually cost us — about $20 to be exact — not to mention three days in bed. If you can see any humor in that!

Last Tuesday the Iroquois Warriors opened their 1964 campaign on a sad note! After a hard fought battle the final score was 32-18 in favour of South Mountain. All the boys played hard and well even in defeat. Special mention should go to Tom McCurdy who scored 2 touchdowns and Dave Montgomery who scored the other. Also Friday October the 7th Iroquois will be host to Finch. The boys really want to win this one and a good game is expected. In Saturday morning football, Dave Montgomery's team won the first two games by scores of 32-2 and 37-6.

The dance sponsored Friday night October 2nd by the students Council had only one drawback; there weren't enough people present. The gym was decorated nicely and showed that our new president is ready to give her all to the social life at I.H.S. Mr. R. Lalonde chaperoned the dance in his own inimitable manner.

An invitation is extended to all friends, parents of students or anyone interested in education to attend the Annual Commencement this Friday October 9th to be held in the school auditorium at 8:00 p.m. This presents an excellent opportunity for one and all to actually see what the students have done last year academically. The guest speaker, Rev. J. Leslie Dean will present a timely address.
