Stepping Up Enforcement Of Village Building By-Law

Iroquois Council has had published a statement regarding the issuance of building permits in the Village of Iroquois and pointing out that a permit must be obtained before certain construction can be carried out.

The present building by-law has been in force in Iroquois for close to 14 years and primarily deals with buildings and additions. Due to certain local apparent neglect or ignorance of the law, Council gave notice of the by-law and that it would be enforced.

The by-law does not cover replacement circumstances, but it does cover new buildings, certain alternations, moving of buildings, etc., and all residents are requested to contact the clerk-s office for a copy of the by-law before proceeding with any work.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. G. William Webster of Foster, Que. have spent the weekend with their Mother Mrs. Batchelor and Cousins in neighbouring districts.

Miss Lillian M. Stewart of Toronto and Miss Mona Gamble of Dundas, Ontario spent Monday morning with Mrs. Batchelor a friend of Miss Stewarts' Glengarry High School days.

Discuss Church Union Seaway Presbytery

The Seaway Presbytery of the United Church discussed church union at Morewood as one of the highlights of the September meeting at the United Church.

Rev. W. Brian Gee of Iroquois reported on progress to date in this matter, he emphasized to the clergy men and lay representatives of Eastern Ontario United Churches present that "Nobody is going to have anything rammed down their throats..."

Instead he saw the proposed union as a gradual process in a church which will undergo a reformation over a period of years "With an open-ended future."

"We (United Church people) are not going to become Anglicans nor are Anglicans going to become United Church," he said. Nevertheless he urged members to keep in mind the principles from the draft plan of union: "Christ is for all, therefore we must work with all who seek man's good."

The meeting opened with a supper in the church hall and continued with communion served by the minister of the church here, Rev. Leonard Ferguson, assisted by the chairman of Presbytery Rev. Robbert Pentinga.

The group was informed that before long a recommendation by the General Council of the church, that representation on the Presbytery, the governing body of the church in its own area, should be organized nn the basis of the size of membership of the various member churches, a sort of representation by population plan, will be considered.

Rev. Gee reported on work with young people, and said the church will soon send out an information letter to young people's groups, outlining programs available material and projects and carry information on what the various groups are doing.

Superintendent of home missions, Rev. R. Stewart Clarke, of Montreal noted that charges wishing to have mission grants in 1972 should apply immediately by getting in touch of Rev Angus MacDonald of Winchester.

The Presbytery voted to provide four bursaries of $100 to people who will be spending full time in the work of the church. These are Mrs. Mary Kinloch of Cornwall, Donald Nash, student supply at North Augusta; Fred Worth at the Bishop-Oxford charge and Clifford Allan at Shanly.

Rev. Donald Piple, field secretary for stewardship in the eastern division of the church, reported that stewardship givings gave declined this years. He noted that a contribution to public welfare through government averaged about $3 dollars in costs and overhead for each dollar serving its purpose. The similar figure for private philanthropic institutions is 27 cents overhead for each dollar. The United Church does this work at a cost of eight cents for each dollar used for charitable purposes.

Guests included Mrs. B. K. Wasson of Montreal president of the Montreal-Ottawa Conference and the first woman president it has had as well as the first lay president of conference; Rev. W. Bardwell, field secretary conference chairman for congregational and life work.

The Presbytery noted with regret the death of Mrs. Effie Adey, widow of the former minister at Brinston, and sent a letter of sympathy to her children. Rev. Donald Munro, formerly minister at Maxville, now living at Kingston, asked for a transfer of membership to his home area.

Knox Young People Enjoy Toronto outing

Fourteen members of the Knox P.Y.P.S. and their leaders shared together a cultural outing in Toronto over the October 1-3rd weekend, with beautiful weather conditions adding to an excellent fellowship time.'

Leaving from the church parking lot at 2 p.m. on Friday, the weekend began with attendance at the Ontario Science Centre that evening, returning to the host-church following the tour of this specitacular Centennial Year project of the Ontario government.

The congregation of Westview Presbyterina Church, the Rev. Stewart McEntyre, Minister, was host for the Knox young people throughout the weekend, providing sleeping accomodation and morning breakfasts and evening lucheons.

Saturday experiences included a tour of Ontario Place on the Toronto waterfront. with the young people raving about the Cinemasphere performance "North of Superior", the various exhibits, the Forum and the excellent eating facilities of the newly-opened showplace; some downtown shopping, attendance at the McLaughlin Planetarium of the Royal Ontario Museum, w where the young people were introduced to the spectacular of the planetary systems of outer-space through the visual production of the theatre's huge dome, 75 feet indiameter, and which serves as a giant screen, showing on this occasion "Omens of Doom"; evening dinner in the Yorkville area; and a fellowship time back at the host church.

Sunday found the young people sharing with the Westview Church School in an interchange of song, experiences, and talk, following by attendance at public worship and the receiving of Holy Communion.

The Rev. and Mrs. McEntyre hosted the young people and their leaders at a noon luncheon in the manse, prior to their departure for Iroquois, Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. Arrinving 'home' at 9:30 p.m. words of thanks were expressed to the leaders for a very educational and enjoyable weekend outing, the P.Y.P.S. to meet on Saturday morning to decor the sanctuary for Thanksgiving Sunday services.

Three cars provided transportation for the outing with leadership being given by Miss Anne Yee, Mrs. Lorraine Norton, Mr. and Mrs. William Barnhardt, and the Rev. John Hibbs.

Picking

Orchardists are hurrying to get their apple crops off in this area of Ontario and for the most part report a good crop of all varieties.

Apples are for sale at all orchard sites and the weekend sales are reported to be brisk.

Cider is also in great demand and available at several local orchards.

The "Giving" In Thanksgiving

We've come to that special season of the year when we think again of how fortunate we are to be living in a land of relative plenty. It is hoped that it moves us to be grateful for what we have, for that was the original purpose of Thanksgiving. It is reasonable to believe that the vast majority of people in our area are genuinely capable of feeling thankful for what we have. Perhaps this feeling is even stronger in these autumn days, when produce from fields, orchards and gardens is gathered in before the onset of Winter's grip. The "thanks" part of Thanksgiving is a fairly common emotion in many many people.

What about the "giving" in Thanksgiving? Because of the widespread publicity given to the urgent and tremendous needs in our world, and because we hear about these same concerns within our churches through its missionary programs people are familiar with the appeal to give towards such pressing causes.

Yet we live in a time when there is a high priority put upon getting our money's worth wherever we lay our dollar down. People are "dollar wise". Some feel they are so "dollar wise" that in their "wisdom" they have bypassed any thought of giving to such worthy causes, feeling that they need every dollar for themselves. We won't argue that position, even if we don't agree with it.

However, for those who do want to help out in this hurting world, they will still want to get their money's worth. Sometimes people don't want to help by giving through the various missionary programs of their churches. "the government has a foreign aid program, and we pay taxes, so let that be our contribution. Or why not give through a charity organization like Oxfam?"

Fair enough. But do people know the facts about whether or not they are getting their dollar's worth through these channels?

The Better Business Bureau reports, on the basis of research done by the National Association of Life Underwriters, some surprising statistics. Now we know the facts.

If we are concerned about giving, then for every dollar of our gift reaching those in need it costs the federal government three dollars to get it where we want it. Through voluntary charity organizations, such as The Canadian Save The Children Fund, Oxfam of Canada, Foster Parents Plan, etc., the situation is decidedly better, because it costs from twenty to thirty-eight cents to get our dollar where we want it. However, through the missionary agencies of our churches, the cost is an amazing eight (not eighty) cents!

When we consider the "giving" in Thanksgiving we want our money's worth. So it seems obvious who has the least overhead and the best channels to carry out our wishes.

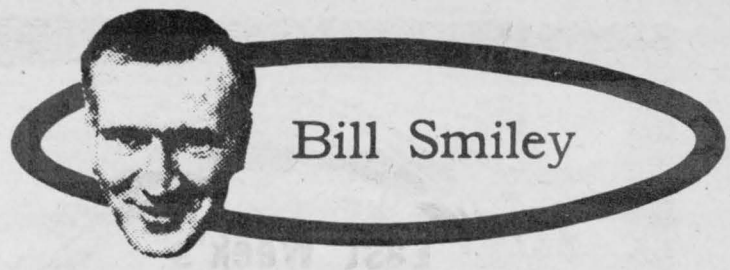
HERE'S RELIEF FOR TEDIOUS NEWS

By Bill Smiley



It is quite an ordeal reading the headlines these days. President Nixon's surcharge has thrown the financial world into a panic of sorts. Telephone rates are up and rail fares are going up. Everybody and his brother is either on strike or threatening to strike. More than one out of every ten members of the work force 24 and under is jobless.

The government has proved totally incapable of both halting inflation and increasing employment. Welfare costs are soaring. Plants are shutting down. In a boom or bust economic cycle, we certainly don't seem to be headed for a boom.

A friend of mine who came to Canada from Germany told me frankly, "In the 18 years I have been in Canada, for the first time I am scared."

John Bassett, financier, wheeler-dealer, and imperious owner of the Toronto Telegram, gave that city a rude shock when he announced brusquely that the 95-year-old paper would cease publication because it was losing large sums of money. And there went 1200 jobs.

That leaves Toronto, with a population creeping up on the two-million mark, with only two papers. Ottawa, an infant comparatively, has two dailies. Is there something rotten in Denmark?

Now don't feel sorry for Mr. Bassett. You won't find him on the welfare rolls for a bit yet, even though the Tely was losing over half a million a year. He owns Toronto Argonauts and has extensive holdings in an audio-visual empire, plus only he and God know what else.

But I feel a little guilty when I think of the Telegram going on the rocks. Until just over a year ago, the Telegram Syndicate distributed my column. Then I switched to another syndicate. Is it possible that merely one rat leaving can sink a ship? I lie awake and worry about this at nights. For about 28 seconds.

I find that the only way to escape from this pall of gloom and doom is to concentrate on something just as silly as the bickering, whining, recalcitrant, salty, exuberant human race.

One of the silliest things in the world is the English language. But it's also fascinating. Especially the slang, which changes almost from day to day. I'm not much interested in the thousands of new woods added to the language every year by science, but I have a morbid interest in the abortions that creep into daily usage.

Younger readers may stop here. Their elders, those who have a stomach for it, may continue. For example, you take a verb such as "to put", generally meaning to place. Then you toss in a preposition and you have a whole new vocabulary.

"You're putting me on." That really means, "You're pulling my leg." Try to explain that to somebody learning English. Why would anybody, except perhaps a chiropracter, want to pull anyone's leg?

"You're putting me down" means you are squelching the speaker. "You put me off" means that the person addressed is displeasing to you. "Will you put me up?" means you want a free place to sleep.

"You're always cutting me up" means that you are criticising the speaker, and is a favourite among teenagers. "Cut me off" refers to anything from a conversation to an allowance. "I really cut him down" means that you reduced somebody, either verbally or physically, to your own pigmy proportions, and is usually a prevarication. Or even a lie.

MAKE-BELIEVE

Scriptures selected by the American Bible Society

This is make-believe . . . tying a bundle to a stick and pretending to set forth on a great journey. His lively little imagination glows. Maybe, right around that bend in the road, he'll run smack into a big brown bear . . .

That's a "scary" idea. So he takes off his hat, puts down his bundle, and plays at home. Yes . . . it's fun to make-believe.

Home, just now, is his place. In it, he feels a wonderful sense of security, basking in his parents' love, knowing by instinct that they are there to help and guide him.

At night when he kneels to say his prayers, his mother tells him the story of Christ. She is preparing him for the day when he will become a more active part of the Church. She knows that, during his life, when he makes real journeys, the Church will be his home, and that it will help protect and guide him when she cannot.

Election Campaign has been stepped up

The election campaign has been stepped up in the past few days and all candidates are on thehustings trying to ensure adequate support for their party; and all stating their confidence in a win on October 21st.

In Grenville-Dundas, as elsewhere in the country, the three major parties have tackled the contest in an atmosphere of friendliness towards each other and so far no major issues have developed in any of the campaign speeches.

The Conservatives have pinned their hopes on a new - comer to the provincial election field, Donald R. Irvine, of Prescott. The Liberals chose Andy MacKnezie to carry their banner towards what they hope will be a victory on October 21st, and NDP candidate Frank Stocker, while almost unknown in this riding, has expressed high bopes that the public will support him as an alternative to the two older parties.

Therein the action takes shape and all three candidates are relying on a door-to-door campaign to get them elected. Throughout Grenville-Dundas the three men and their campaign helpers have been writing letters, stuffing envelopes, making phone calls, knocking on doors, attending small and large gatherings and in general taking all the time they have to spare trying to drum up support.

There isn't much time left before the election but there is enough time to ask all three candidates where they stand on issues of the day, and attending their meetings is a good way for the public to find answers to their questions.

There have been rumors this week that another candidate may be in the running an NDP independent with the NDP standing for something other than New Democratic Party.....

Giving a youngster an allowance is really not good. How's he going to feel when he gets married and doesn't have one?

How many times have you heard those words as you watched a building burn down---

FIRE IS SO FINAL!

FIRE CAN BREAK YOUR HEART!

YES---FIRE IS SO FINAL!

THAT'S NO EMPTY SLOGAN.

In one year 620 persons died in fires, burned or suffocated by smoke. The victims included 316 men, 125 women and 179 children. More than 2,500 others were injured or scarred for life.

Smokers carelessness, mis–use of electricity, faulty stoves and furnaces, children playing with matches, kitchen deep–fat flareups were among the leading causes of fire.

Possessions, a home can be replaced. Insurance can help you to take care of your loss.

In one year, nearly 45,000 homes were damaged or destroyed by fire.

Fire is deadly.

"It happended in a flash...And to my dying day I will never forget their screams in the smoke."

Think of a loved one. Could you part forever with that someone.

MURRAY STOREY, CHIEF

Action speaks louder than words.

Nobody's saying that words aren't important.

Dialogue is, after all, pretty central to our notion of democracy. People talk to other people, and listen to other people talk about the changes that could or should happen to our society.

But there's something else that's pretty central to our notion of democracy, and that's leadership. One person must act when all has been said. One person must speak for us. One person must listen, and very carefully, when there are difficult decisions to be made.

Bill Davis is not new to the challenge of leadership. During his seven months as Premier, he has acted to stimulate our economy, to create opportunities for Canadians and for Canadian enterprise. He has acted on a wide front to clean up our environment—air, land and water. He has acted to expand and up-grade a variety of government services, from day care centres to free medicare for those 65 and over. In all, more than 130 pieces of legislation have been introduced, debated, and made law in those seven short months.

In the course of the present election campaign, Bill Davis continues to listen and speak out, but his promises are few. Our economy can ill afford the tax increases to which others have freely committed themselves.

We may be sure that when action is called for, he will be both wise and decisive.

In what he has already done is the true promise of what is to come from the leadership of Bill Davis.

Inserted by the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association.

Davis is doing things...for people.

He listens, he understands, he acts.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

The last day of September ushered in the Girls' Basketball season. The games were played at Thousand Islands School in Brockville. Supported by excellent team work out top-soorer was Debbie Scott and our Senior girls defeated their opponents by a score of 39-36.

However, our Junior Gilrs provided a different story. After a hotty contested battle they succumbed to the power of T.I.S.S Juniors. The coach entertains hope that as soon as the Juniors get used to their newly-purchased running shoes, they will once more parallal the powerful and victorious team of last year. Vicki-Beckstead.

ARCHERY

The Archery Club of Seaway had their first target practice, Sept. 28. They will continue on their planned schedule but if the weather is foul, that practice will be cancelled. Targets are set up in the west parking-lot. There are many arrows being broken on the wall, and so I would advise people to be careful when walking after school.

The tournament at T.I.S.S. will be held on Saturday, Oct. 30th. It is an all day affair and the Physical Education teachers will be asking girls in class, if they want to join. It promises to be an exciting day.

SOCCER

On Wednesday, September 28, Seaway's Soccer Team defeated B.C.I. by a score of 3-1. The game was played in Brockville.

Two of Seaway's goals were scored by Kevin Baldwin, aand the third by Alan Hare. The Soccer Team remains undefeated in this season but the coaches, Mr. Turpin and Mr. Shane struggle on.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL PROJECT

We would like to take this opportunity to announce officically Seaway District High School campaign to raise money, sufficient to build an athletic track.

It is the aim of the students to earn as much money as possible, and then to approach the School Board for the rest of the funds needed. We believe this a very worthwhile project which needs not only the strong support of the students but also that of the whole area-population. We are aiming for $8,000.

During the first month of school, the students have raised approximately one thousand dollars from a penny-drive, dance, donations and from a booth operated at the Morrisburg Trade and Home Show. If you have not made a donation, it is acceptable from any person, business or charitable organization. Make your cheques payable to the Student's Council, Seaway District High School.

For this month we have scheduled for Saturday, October 9, three car washes: Prunner's Esso in Iroquois, Barkley's Esso and Baker's Texaco, both in Morrisburg.

We will also be selling bags of Hallowe'en candy at one dollar each.

This week we say "thank you" to any persons who donated already, or helped us at the Trade and Home Show booth. Special thanks to Iroquois Lions Club for providing the booth and to the Morrisburg Lions Club for allowing us to use their money-raising "Dunk our Good Guy!"

-Be careful when travelling in a boat. If you should fall into the water, the low water temperature as well as the extra clothing being worn, could lesson your chance of survival.
-Never point a firearm at a person, even if you know it is unloaded. Every year people are killed or seriously injured by the so-called unloaded gun.
-Obtain permission from the owner of private property before hunting on his property.

priorities and objectives

Hopeful of becoming a member of the next Progressive Conservative government in Ontario Don Irvine is aware that if he and his party are elected he will play a part in the formation of government policy for all of the province.

However, he is particularly mindful that his FIRST PRIORITY is his own riding of Grenville-Dundas. And he intends to do everything possible to represent ALL of the people ALL of the time. For this demanding job he is particularly well suited, having been both an employee and an employer. His farming background will help him in shaping up more appropriate Agriculture policies. His municipal experience, including the Prescott mayoralty, and his active role in several leading community organizations will provide him with a more acute understanding of the needs in our constituency.

Out of many things he would like to see accomplished he lists here six priority items which will draw his early attention as a member for Grenville-Dundas.

1. More and better roads to ease traffic problems.
2. Greater development of our excellent industrial sites throughout the riding.
3. More equitable tax structure for everyone.
4. Full development of our tourist potential.
5. Increased assistance to the farmer through vigorous and appropriate Agriculture policies.
6. Improved economic policies to provide more job opportunities and to stimulate business.

Don Irvine is a family man interested in the well being of the people of Grenville-Dundas. Your support at the polls on Thursday, October 21, assures you of good, full time representation by a man who understands . . . and cares.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Right Honourable William Lyon MacKenzie King, when he was Prime Minister, was regarded as an adriot politican. He is reported to have said that frequently with governments it was not what was done which was important, but how and when it was done. Modern governments get into most of their difficulties by failing to heed this important observation.

UPROAR OVER SECURITY

A recent example has been the uproar about the appointment of an advisory and research group in the Department of the Solicitor-General. Only vague information emerged about this new group, giving rise to much supicion. Some people wondered if the R.C.M.P. would be disturbed in its important role; others wondered if a new civilian security agency was being established to threaten the liberties of all of us. Successive questions and answers in the House of Commons and elsewhere seemed only to obscure the issue. Finally-and rather late in the day-the Solicitor-General made a full statement in the House of Commons explaining the work of the new section, which Mr. Brewin, the NDP spokesman, said answered the questions, and which Mr. Wooliams, the Conservative justice critic lamented had not been made long before.

Governments suffer greatly by mishandling explanations of important matters. The public is properly entitled to be informed as to what is being done. Members of Parliament are always acutely embarrassed when they, along with the public, do not know what is happening. Any new development which is not properly explained and becomes obscured in political controversy may suffer as a consequence. Whether this new advisory and research group on security will have this fate remains to be seen, but the chances are rather good that now it will be able to function properly. Certainly, it will remain under close scrutiny by Members of Parliament and the public-one benefit from its controversial start.

1968 RECOMMENDATIONS

A special committee on the subject of security headed by Mr. Max MacKenzie, and including such well-known Canadians as Mr. M.J. Coldwell, the respected former leader of the CCF party, made an important report in 1968. In retrospect, this report has significance as being the first public document to call attention to the dangers posed to Canadian security by revolutionary movements like the FLQ. It recommended the establishement of a civilian security agency separate from the R.C.M.P. which has traditionally performed this important role in Canada. At the time, the Government decided-widely in my opinion-not to create a new agency and it is not doing so now.

NEW GROUP ADVISORY ONLY

However, the events in the last year indicate that threats to our security from small revolutionary groups of different kinds could possibly continue. They constitute a world-wide and not just a Canadain phenomenon. The purpose of the new research and advisory group essentially is to keep abreast of the new theories and techniques of violence and revolution. It will not be a police group, but one composed of experts drawn from the law, sociology and other fields of knowledge. Had this been properly explained at the beginning, the acceptance of this new group would have been eased.

CONFUSION OF PUBLIC

As a Member of Parliament, I object strongly when important issues are confused unnecessarily for the public. There are enough difficulties in keeping things straight without added problems being caused by improper and imperfect explanations. I can think of many examples of this confusion arising from combinations of careless or inadequate statements by Government combined frequently with hurried press reports and compounded somtimes by opposition comments. The recent study on youth problems was assumed by many to be a Government endorsement of the legalization of marijuana. Similarly, the White Paper on Taxation was taken by large numbers to the final word on the subject-when, in fact, it was greatly changed by the actual legislation now before Parliament. Perhaps what we need is some convenient guide describing the differences, between Commission Reports, Task Force recommendations, White Papers, speeches of Ministers and Politicians, as opposed to the announcement of definite and specific policies by the Government under existing law or in new Bills presented to Parliament. It is really only the latter which effect major changes in our policy, but all of the other documents form an essential part of the public discussion leading to the change.

GREATER CLARITY NEEDED

To sum up, a lesson can be learned from the confusion, which developed following the announcement of the new security group. The public is entitled to, and must be given, clear-cut explanations, emanating from Governement sources-and it must be stated in explicit terms whether the idea has the full endorsation of the Government-or whether the concept is merely being advanced as a proposal by the study group in the Government itself.

Can't Use Studded Tires This Winter

The use of studded tires in Ontario will be prohibited this Winter, motorists were reminded in an announcement issued by the Department of Transportation and Communications.

The ban on further use of studs was announced a year ago after intensive testing showed their effectiveness as a winter driving aid was minimal and they caused serious and general driving hazards by grinding ruts into pavement and obliterated lane guide lines.

The use of studded tires was first permitted in 1967 with the understanding that studies would have to be carried out to assesss the safety value in the light of highway damage.

Investigations carried out after the Winter of 1969-70, when approximately a third of Ontario cars were equipped with studs, disclosed ruts measuring as much as half an inch after two years of their use.

It also was observed that pavement markers disappeared onheavily-travelled sections of highway within a matter of weeks after the beginning of the winter season.

Authorities warned that continued rut wear could cause drivers to lose vehicle control in lane-changing and the loss of pavement markers created a serious hazard in night driving.

Tests carried out during the winter months of 1970 by the Canada Safety Council and Ontario Provincial Police found that studs were most effective in reducing stopping distance on glare ice only when the temperature was near the freezing point.

The Canada Safety Council carried out further tests last Winter on Lake Timiskaming in Northern Ontario to assess a number of winter driving aids. Analysis confirmed the earlier findings on studded tires.

Canada Savings Bonds
An Investment In Canada

Records are made to be broken. Almost every day we read of a new first. Some achievements are epic-making: the four-minute mile; the breaking of the sound barrier; man's landing on the moon. Others are less spectacular and less publicized, but nevertheless, in their own way, they are impressive accomplishments, representing new goals sought, realized and surpassed.

The steady growth in the sales of Canada Savings Bonds may not seem an event in the same class as the conquest of Everest. However, it is a story of new heights attained each year since the inception of Canada Savings Bonds in 1946. Onward and upward symbolizes the 26-year history of Canada's most popular investment.

During this time Canadians have bought nearly $32 billion worth of Canada Savings Bonds and of this total $7.6 billion is currently outstanding. Last year alone, over 1.6 million Canadians bought $2 billion worth of these Bonds. Through payroll savings plan purchases alone, last year, there were over 630,000 applications for $243.8 million worth of Canada Savings Bonds.

What is the secret of the success of this record-breaking performer? Why have Canada Savings Bonds remained a favorite of millions of Canadians over theyears?

The main reason is that they have the essential qualities that all top class performers must possess: dependability, endurance, adaptability, popular appeal.

They are an attractive investment, helping individual Canadians to save toward the personal goals, which they and their families are seeking and they also help to finance Canada's growth and future development.

With such backing and such goals, no wonder the sales of Canada Savings Bonds have been reaching new heights each year. They help Canadians build a brighter future for themselves, their families and their country, and there is a prospect with unlimited lift-off power!

Canada Savings Bonds are cashable anytime at full face value plus earned interest and this year's Series pays an average of 7.19% interst to maturity. Theyre the Go-ahead way to Save for the future. The new series is available at par across the country from Oct. 4 to Nov. 15.

Mr. Canada Buys First Foot of Track

He was presented with a certificate bearing his name and the special foot number "ONE" by Anne MacDonald and Delbert Jones, the head of Student Government at the High School.

The students are using the certificates in an attempt to raise $8,000 which they think the track will cost them. For every donation of five dollars the donor is given a certificate bearing his name and the number of the foot which he purchased.

During the Trade and Home Show the students raised over five hundred dollars by this method. Among the persons whobought track were Candidates for the election Don Irvine and Andy MacKenzie, Reeve Carlton McInnis, "General" Grant, Lowell Green, and Dr. Graham Houze. William Gorrell astounded the students by purchasing ten feet of track. His explanations was that he was very interested in track activities in his youth and realized its value to the student boyd.

"Mr. Canada" was amused by the students' plan and compared it to a scheme being used by a Lions' Club in Western Canada. To raise funds for its projects the Club is selling "Square feet of Mars." The donor receives a small statue of a Martianbearing the 'deed' to his property.

Suburbanite to friend: "I;m thinking of becoming abigamist. There's too much grass in my yard for one wife to cut."

Asked how he met expenses, the man explained that his wife hadintroduced him to them.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.

But not too far for thought to reach.

Sweet to remember who once was here,

May we suggest that in your war against Mastitis an effective weapon is to cut off the enemy's supplies. Mastitis is your enemy and the supply for infections is behind the firing lines stored in unclean conditions.

OFF THE CUFF

By Charles Edwards

It's difficult these days to find someone who didn't visit the Trade and Home show held in Morrisburg recently. And it's even more difficult to find someone who wasn't impressed with it. With the attendance running into the thousands each evening it was one of the biggest events of the year in this area. Considering that it was a first effort, the turnout must have been even more encouraging for the organizers. The event was well promoted, and for the most part well presented and it's a safe bet that the show will become a annual event.

This area of the Seaway Valley is becoming increasingly active with several amjor events throughout the year in all the towns. Iroquois had what has become an annual Fly-In and Summer Carnival. Prescott hosts an open house and stages a mock raid at Fort Wellington. Cardinal has the Labour Day parade and festivities, and now Morrisburg has introduced the Trade and Home show to round out the season. These events along with the winter carnivals and other activities can tribute to making this part of the Seaway Valley the place to be.

Not so long ago, activities and displays such as these were reserved only for those who either lived in the city or were willing to make the trip there. It's a pleasant change to be able to get in on this kind of thing in our own area. Events such as those mentioned above always seem more fun when held at home. There is a certain unique freindleness that isn't evident at similar affairs in larger centres.

The Trade and Home Show falls into that category. One of the most popular areas at the show was the dunking tank sponsored by the Morrisburg Lions Club. Perhaps the fellow on the dunking stool was one of the few who wished that so many of his friends hadn't come to take part in the show.

If you notice any ducks flying higher than usual and keeping a close eye on any patches of brush, it's only because duck-hunting opend recently. We were awakened from a sound sleep about five o'clock a couple of mornings ago by the sound of gunfire. It gave us quite a thrill. We couldn't decide whether were were religing last night's television programs or having a bad dream, or whether the house was under siege by bill collectors. It was a cool morning---not the kindd of a day you leap from bed to face. A fellow would have to be a dedicated hunter to drag himself out of a warm bed to sit on a marsh in the first traces of light to take pot shots at a duck that is probably too full of mercury to eat anyway. But to each his own.

My Thanks To Residents of Grenville-Dundas

The dissolution of Ontario's 28th Parliament and the calling of a general election has brought to an end my more than sixteen years service as Member of the Legislature for Grenville-Dundas. I have appreciated the continuing confidence in, and loyalty to, me shown by so many of you; I have striven to serve well all the residents of our Counties as well as the people of Ontario and I have had my fair share both of good times and of bad in public life. I thank each of you for this opportunity for public service given me by you. Olive and I will never forget your many kindnesses and your loyalty to us over the years and we wish you all the very best of everything.

I am sure you will find Donald R. Irvine will prove to be a most excellent representative at Queen's Park for our Counties should you elect him — as I trust will be the case.

Dedicates new facilities Pentecostal Tabernacle

During the coming weekend, another milestone of growth will be recognized in Cardinal, as the congregation of the Pentecostal Tabernacle dedicate their new Christian Education Building and Church renovations to the Work of the Church.

The Pentecostal Congregation dates its' beginning in Cardinalover thirty-five years ago, when it began services in the Orange Hall, later moving to a hall owned by Mr. H. Redden. The Rev. Robert Parkinson was their first resident pastor.

With a growing congregation and a need for a permanent House of Worship, the present Tabernacle on Dundas Street was purchased and renovated approximately twenty-six years ago under the leadership of Rev. C. R. Aide.

It was three and one-half years ago that the congregation recognized the need for a program of renovation and expansion. At that time the interior received much work. During this time, a long-time outstanding mortgage was burned; an in-town parcel of land was acquired for future need, and the former United Church at Mainsville was purchased and services were held at approximately one year.

In October of last year, the extensive renovaton program was continued with work begun on the Tabernacle exterior. In April of this year, the congregation decided to demolish the old Education Building and build a new one, making it possible, as well, to enlarge the main sanctuary.

There are special dedication services planned at the Tabernacle all day this Sunday and the public is invited to attend. The Christian Education Hour is presently in its' "Be My Guest" campaign at 9:45. A Harvest Thanksgiving service will be conducted at 11 o'clock. At 3 o'clock there will be a dedication service for the New Building and Church renovations. The guest speaker will be Rev. Kenneth Comber, area presbyter for the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, guest soloist is Rev. Laurence Croswell of the Brockville Standard Church, and the congratulatory messages will be given by Rev. Leo Byren of the Sacred Heart Church and Mr. Arthur C. Casselman, Reeve of Cardinal At 7 o'clock will be a service of Evangelism with guest speaker, Rev. Alan Barnes of the United Methodist Church, Morristown, N.Y. The Youth Choir and Mrs. Harvey Pyke of Brockville will be singing. Mrs. Alan Barnes is invited to lead the congregation in the singing of Hymns. Rev. Lorne Timble, with Mrs. Timble pastor of the Pentecostal Tabernacle and extend a warm welcome to friends and visitors.

Important message to Ontario residents aged 65 and over

On January 1, 1972, hospital and medical insurance premium payments will be abolished for all residents of Ontario 65 years of age and over. This is in keeping with recently announced Ontario Government policy.

This policy will apply to the age of the certificate holder and will include coverage for eligible dependents. Premium-free coverage becomes effective on the first of the month during which a resident becomes 65.

HOW IT WILL WORK

Under the new plan combined coverage will be continued under the resident's present Ontario Hospital Insurance number. The OHSIP billing system will be discontinued. All residents 65 or over who remit Ontario Hospital Insurance premiums on a pay-direct basis will be requested to complete a premium exemption application.

As the insurance records do not identify those who will be eligible for premium-free coverage, the application, when received, should be completed by those 65 and over and returned as soon as possible in the envelope which will be provided.

If you qualify and have already paid premiums to cover benefits after January 1, 1972, a refund will be made for the over-payment.

Unfortunately, until exemption applications are processed we cannot avoid routine mailing of normal premium notices. However, residents 65 or over should not be concerned. If the notice applies entirely to coverage in 1972, please hold it until the application for free coverage is received.

IF YOU PAY YOUR PREMIUMS THROUGH A GROUP

Persons enrolled in groups will be reported to us by the group and transferred to our "Premium Exemption" file.

Groups will be fully informed about this in the near future.

Replies To Letters

The Editor:
Iroquois Post.

May I take the opportunity of replying to Mr. Wallace through this newspaper.

The names of the Bishops and the Diocese they represent in the Province of Ontario, are as follows:
Most Rev. Philip F. Pocock (Chairman) Toronto.
Most Rev. E. Emmet Carter, (Vice Chairman) London.
Most Rev. Joseph Wilhelm-Kingston.
Most Rev. Aurele Plourde-Ottawa.
Most Rev. Joseph Ryan-Hamilton.
Most Rev. William Smith-Pembroke.
Most Rev. Isidore Boreky-Toronto.
Most Rev. Francis V. Allen Toronto.
Most Rev. Thomas J. McCarty St. Catherines.
Most Rev. Francis A. Marocco-Peterborough.
Most Rev. Alexander Carter-Sault St.
Sault Ste. Marie
Most Rev. Joseph Windle-Pembroke.
Most Rev. Jacques Landriault-Timmins and Hearst.
Most Rev. Norman Gallagher-Thunder Bay.
Most Rev. Michael Rusnak-Toronto.
Most Rev. Jules LeGuerrier-Monsonee
Most Rev. Adolphe Proulx-Alexandria.
Most Rev. Paul Redding-Hamilton.
Most Rev. Roger Despatie-Sault St. Marie
Most Rev. Thomas B. Fulton-Toronto.

You may be surprised to learn that the Bishops are expressing the wishes of their people and have clearly stated they do Not intend to take political action in this issue. It is an academic pedagogical issue.

The remainder of this letter represents my feelings as a parent and taxpayer, and I quote Dalton J. McGinty Ph. D. Professor of English Literature University of Ottawa- "Catholic parents perhaps sometimes with limited capacity for thinking about the principles involved and perhaps unable to stare and defend their convictions in sophisticated philosophical terms. Perhaps they have been sometimes confused by issues which have been docile in their assertion of rights." We are citizens with a dual membership in the City of Man and in the City of God. I am concerned and look forward hopefully to the day when Catholic public schools on all levels will have the right not only to exist, but to multiply freely, according to the wishes of their partons, without the handicap of inadequate public support, to work most effectively to contribute to the betterment of society as a whole, by adding something of value to the informed encounters on which a pluralist society is dependent for its vitality.

Catholic public schools requires that financial support which will permit it to work along with the public high school as a co-operative partner, not as a poor relation fulfilling its basic function as a school. But in addition it would concern itself for continuity of spiritual values in an age of change.

The growth of the Catholic public schools have never in the past and will not in the future adversely affect the well being of this Province and this Country.

Let those who would criticize the influence for good to be wielded by school systems thoelogically oriented do the homework to develop a sense of history, a sense of tradition.

Let them deny that a grasp of this view is a valuable hedge against those who would engineer opinion and manipulate consent in the political order of a free society. And then let them dare assert that our System is harmful to the State.

You refer to our good neighbours to the south who have one state supported system but you neglected to mention that one individual namely Madlyn Murray, in a population well in excess of two hundred million, was responsible for taking prayer out of the public system.

In a realistic democracy we have freedom of choice, you may be surprised to know that I am a supporter of the Progressive Conservative party-but I have a choice. Would you want only one party running for office in this or any election? No Mr. Wallace, we don't want a dictatorship, any more than you do. Democracy means freedom to choose your own political party, your school and all the other choices we hope to enjoy.

When my husband fought for our country overseas in World War II, he was under the impression that he was fighting for the above mentioned freedoms.

In closing, I ask of what avail would be material influence if purchases at the price of men's spiritual freedom with human growth stifled, and full and free development of men retarded, with the mass of men wandering aimlessly in an affluent world of material plenty, but in a wasteland of the spirit, without clearly defined goals?

Respectfully,
Rosemary F. Valcour.
(Mrs. John H.)

IN MEMORIAM

Seeley-In fond and loving memory of a dear husband and father Jesse M. Seeley who passed away on Oct. 7, 1958.
Today recalled the memory
Of a loved one gone to rest
And those who think of him today
Are those who loved him best
The flowers we lay upon his grave,
May wither and decay
But the love for him who lies beneath
Will never fade away.
Sadly missed by Wibe, Georgia and family. 1p

The Yanks got in there first with "wise". You take a noun, add "wise" to it, and you have a hermaphrodyte. Can you see the tortured visage of a foreigner, who has learned to speak impecable English, having to cope with something like, "Sales-wise, he's on the ball, but experience-wise, he's just not with it."?

And I wonder how the Department of Transport words its advertisements when it is seeking the services of keepers of lighthouses. Who responds if the ad simply says, "WANTED LIGHTHOUSEKEEPERS"?

Is the Department swamped with applications from lazy women who want to do only light housekeeping, no scrubbing? Or does it get buckets of mail from little, skinny guys who don't mind a bit of housekeeping on the side?

Fair boggles the mind. Next time you're troubled by the headlines, find something silly, and save your sanity.
