Sanitary Conditions at Public School Rapped By Parents, Service Club and Inspector

$125 VOTED BY LIONS CLUB TO PROVIDE CONVENIENCES FOR CHILDREN; PARENT ASKS FOR ACTION; INSPECTOR URGES BOARD PROVIDE FACILITIES.

At a regular meeting of the Morrisburg-Waddington Lions Club, Mr. George D. Howith addressed the meeting on his recent trip to New York and Washington, following which he moved that the Club vote $135 to install boys and girls inside toilets in the Morrisburg Public School for the Kindergarten Class. In his address supporting the issue, he scathingly denounced the chairman of the School Board and the Councillors, who during the last ten years deprived the public school children from having decent sanitary conveniences.

He said that he inspected the outside outhouses and found them to be the worst type he had ever seen anywhere. It was indeed hard to understand how the Department of Education in Toronto and the Board of Health of Ontario would allow such appalling conditions to exist in a municipality that has sewage disposal along the street and a water works system within the schools. He explained that the Chamber of Commerce took up the fight ten years ago and during the last four years co-operated with Morrisburg-Waddington Lions Club, but all negotiations seemed to be set aside by either the Chairman of the School Board or the Town Council.

The action of this service club will, it is hoped, pave the way to the building of two units for each class in the senior grades. Following Mr. Howith's address the motion was carried. The only dissenting votes were Lion President Finnie and Lion Fred H. Broder. Lion Secretary Frank Casselman spoke at length in favour of the motion, stating that the finances of the club permitted the expropriation and that the cause was a most worthy one.

While the Lions who are members of the School Board were in favour, they wished to make one more presentation to their board to take immediate action. They reported after the meeting that the Board of Education will go ahead with the complete installation of the sanitary facilities sought and they will have two weeks in which to prove that this time the work will be done. If however, nothing is done in the allotted time, then the Lions will execute their program.

Editor, The Morrisburg Leader,

Dear Sir:

Lack of sanitary provisions at our public school is a question which ranks foremost in the minds of our local people, and is the most talked-of subject in town. The truth eventually comes out, and the web of wire pulling, intrigue, and small politics, which have been indulged in with the object of preventing our school children from getting a square deal has been uncovered, to the indignation of our people. They are not in a mood for further delay, and are not interested in alibis or alternatives of an impossible nature which have been in the past suggested, and are ready for a mass protest.

A PARENT.

The regular monthly meeting of the Morrisburg of Education took place at the Collegiate Institute on Mond ay evening, March 11th. Members present were Chairman John H. Meikle, Fred Meikle, M. A. Campbell, Morley Becksted, Dr. G. Gorrell, Dr. Blancher and A. E. Nash.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; the auditor's report was read and adopted.

The report of Inspector W. J. Stewart was read and progress at the school was reported as satisfactory, and the work of the teachers pronounced efficient. He strongly condemned the lack of sanitary equipment at the school, and emphatically urged the board to provide up-to-date sanitary toilets. A motion was sponsored by trustees Morley Beckstead and Dr. Blancher that the School Board go on record as favouring the installation of proper sanitary toilets at the earliest possible time, and that the Public School Committee be authorized to secure a contract price from a plumber providing for the work. The motion was passed. A.E. Nash, being a County representative had no vote on public school matters and all other trustees supported the motion except Chairman John H. Meikle, who voted against the motion, but explained he did not wish to go on record accordingly.

Principals Epplett and Foulds reported as usual on school matters.

The meeting was adjourned with the possibility of a special meeting being called in the near future to deal with the sanitary toilets contract.

Melvin O. Trickey

Melvin Orval Trickey, highly esteemed resident of Williamsburg, aged 64 years, passed away suddenly at his home on Monday evening, March 11th, and his death has caused sincere regret to be felt by a host of friends and relatives in this district and elsewhere.

Mr. Trickey had not been in the best of health for some time but attended his duties as Cheese Inspector in Grenville-Dundas counties.

On Thursday night previous to his death, he suffered a heart attack at Athens, where he was attending the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Duelon. On Saturday, he had returned to his home in Williamsburg, where he seemed to be in his usual health up to the time he was stricken. At 2 o'clock a.m. Monday, Mrs. Trickey was awakened from her sleep by his unusual heavy breathing. She immediately called the family and his physician, Dr. M.W. Locke. A few minutes after the doctor arrived, Mr. Trickey had passed away.

Mr. Trickey was born at Athens, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Smith Trickey. In 1895 he married the former Miss Jennie Henderson, of Athens. Thirty one years ago they took up residence in Williamsburg, where they have lived continuously.

A cheese maker by trade, Mr. Trickey, for several years, assisted the late Mr. C.W. Norval in the Williamsburg Cheese Factory. Some years later he purchased the factory from Mr. Norval and assisted by his son, W.E. Trickey, they operated the factory until 18 years ago, when he was made Inspector of Cheese Factories for Dundas and Grenville Counties, where he labored continuously until his death.

He was a member of Williamsburg United church. Fraternally he was a member of the Williamsburg A.F. and A.M. Lodge, the I.O.O.F, and L.O.L.

He is survived by his wife and two sons and three daughters, W.E. Trickey, Williamsburg, Hubert Trickey, Prescott; the Misses Violet and Cora Trickey at home, and Mrs. Lynden Harkley of Williamsburg; three grandchildren, Miss Eileen Trickey of Athens, Arden and Joan Trickey o fWilliamsburg; three brothers, Cyrus of Watertown, N.Y.; A.W. Trickey of Winnipeg; Fred of Detroit, Mich. and two sisters, Sarah (Mrs. Kirkland) of Winnipeg; Martha (Mrs. Wills), Saskatchewan.

The regard in which Mr. Trickey and the members of his family are held was indicated by the large gathering who attended the funeral on Wednesday afternoon from his residence to Williamsburg United church where the service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. C.A. Adey.

The church choir led in the singing of the hymns and "The Old Rugged Cross" was beautifully rendered by Miss Evalene Barkley, on the request of the family.

The pall bearers were: Messrs. Ross Beckstead, Geo. W. Strader, Chas. Dewland, Donald Barkley, Ward Casselman and R.F. Norval. Six small boys were flower bearers: Vern Cronmiller, James Seekings, Ramon Casselman, Johnny Whitteker, Freddie Strader and Ronald Whitteker.

Interment was in Williamsburg Cemetery. Many beautiful floral tributes were received.

Barkley-Myers

A quiet but pretty wedding took place in the Anglican church at Winchester at 6.30 p.m. Saturday, Mar. 9th, when Miss Pauline E. Barkley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Barkley and Mr. Harold Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers of Morrisburg, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. Mr. J.A.L. Ellacott. The bride wore a British blue chiffon velvet dress with blending accessories.

The young couple were attended by Miss Margaret Perrault of Chesterville and Mr. Jack Hummell of Morrisburg.

After the ceremony, dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Farmer Ends Life

According to a Canton, N.Y. despatch, James E. Seeley, of the Rensselaer Falls-Woodbridge Corners section, committed suicide by sealing himself in his car and turning on the motor. He was found by his wife, Mrs. Mary Seeley, when she went to the barn. An inquest was held by Dr. Loyal Dunlop, of Madrid. St. Lawrence County Coroner, who gave the suicide verdict. Seeley was awaiting trial at the May term of the county court on a charge of burglary, third degree. He was arrested on December 24th last and charged with burglarizing the Doty store at Rensselaer Falls. He was at liberty on $500 bail. He was born at Iroquois and is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Mary King, of Prescott; also surviving are his father, one daughter, three brothers and one sister.

Cheese Patrons Meet at Winchester

At a well attended meeting of the Dundas County Cheese Patrons' Association held in the Town Hall, Winchester on March 6th, a resolution was passed urging farmers to use separate cans for carrying whey from the factory, instead of cans used to deliver milk; also to have all milk cans steamed as soon as they are emptied. Other problems were discussed and proved helpful to the farmers present. The Association are employing a milk tester for the coming season.

NEWS PARADE

As the seventh month of the war between Germany and the Allies got under way, the long-awaited spring offensive was still in the offing . . . but events were speeding up, and the lines of conflict tautening . . . German troops were reported massing along the Swiss border, men poured into the West-wall . . . the Belgian-German, the Dutch-German frontiers were ordered closed . . . increased patrol activity stepped up Allied vigilance on the Western Front . . . mass flights of German planes took place over all parts of France . . . and when Sumner Welles, U. S. Undersecretary of State, calling on Hitler and von Ribbentrop in Berlin, he was told (we heard semi-officially) that the German army was already poised for a decisive blow "that will put in the shade all previous ideas of military penetration and power."

WHENCE THE BLOW

Whether the blow would come in the form of crushing military action (in the West, in Scandinavia or the Near East); of bombing raids on civilian centres; or an unrestricted air and submarine campaign against Allied shipping, we were still in ignorance at week's end.

The fate of Finland continued to be in doubt . . . it was reliably reported that Russia had submitted definite terms for ending the undeclared war . . . Chicago News correspondent, E. Mowrer, cabled that heavy German pressure on Finland had blocked Allied plans to send an expedition via Norway . . Germany, he reported, threatened to assist Russia in conquering Finland, should the Finns make formal application to Britain and France for the dispatch of troops.

WHITHER ITALY?

A showdown on German coal exports to Italy came during the week with what future results, it remained a matter for conjecture . . . the most serious, of course, would be the antagonizing of Mussolini to the extent that he might enter the war on the side of Germany . . . . Virginio Gayda, frequently the Duce's mouthpiece, said in an interview that Italy would enter the war if it spread to the Balkans.

During the same week, France began rationing oil, alcohol, and certain foodstuffs . . . Japanese diplomacy made gestures showing willingness to come to an understanding with Britain and France . . . rumors of an early shake-up in the British Cabinet gained credence . . . . Norway protested to Germany the sinking of 50 merchant vessels since the war began . . . Pope Pius made a new plea for peace . . . the British steamer Domala was bombed by a German Heinkel flying over the Channel . . . a shipment of oil from Russia to Germany passed through Bulgaria . . . the Finns withdrew to new defensive positions . . . Russia prepared to sign a non-aggression pact with Rumania . . . the "Queen Elizabeth made a suprise crossing of the Atlantic.

In Ontario, movie-going residents woke up to the fact that they would have to travel down to Quebec province, or out to Manitoba to see the "March of Time" film on Canada's war effort.

Exhibition Will Emphasize Music

C. N. E. This Year Will Award The Sum of $1,500 In Cash In Vocal, Violin and Piano Competitions

Cultural and educational phases of the Canadian National Exhibition will be given further emphasis this year especially in the music competitions. The Exhibition management has decided to award the sum of $1,500 in cash in vocal, violin and piano classes.

$500 EACH

In each of the aforementioned classes the sum of $500 will be awarded to the most outstanding contestant. The tuition for these scholarships may be secured from any accredited teacher approved by the Canadian National Exhibition. Competitors for the scholarships shall be selected in the course of the ordinary competitions and the tests for the respective $500 awards will be conducted at the conclusion of the regular classes. Special outside adjudicators will be engaged for the scholarships. Of the total of each of the $500 awards the Canadian National Exhibition may allocate an amount not exceeding $150 for living and other expenses while securing the tuition provided for the winners.

Gold medallists of former years in voice, violin and piano at the Exhibition will be eligible to compete for the scholarships but they must compete in the regular classes in the general competitions to receive consideration as scholarship candidates.

Eastern Snowbirds Entrain For Western Ski-ing

Montreal pinned its Ski hopes on this representative group of Eastern Snowbirds, shown above in Windsor Station just before entraining for Banff, Alberta, where they successfully competed in the Dominion Ski Championships. They were joined en route by a group of Toronto participants.

Miss Dorothy Michaels was crowned queen of the Senior Ladies' division while "Punch" Bott finished second in "combined" results, and third in men's open downhill.

WHAT PEOPLE WANT

Possibly some day our politicians will discover that what the people are longing for in public men who will keep closely in touch with public feeling and public interests — not merely public as centres about party questions, but public feeling towards matters that have no reference to party politics whatever. — Guelph Mercury.

DOGS AND SHEEP

There are several obvious reasons why sheep-raising has not so great an appeal for the Canadian farmer as the raising of swine. One reason was stressed recently by the department of agriculture. It is the menace of the prowling dog.

Many sheep breeders in Canada are of the opinion that it is practically impossible to raise sheep profitably on account of the large number of dogs which are allowed to run at large.

As a result of the menace from dogs there has been a reduction of 75 per cent. in the number of sheep raised in one district in which the sheep are regarded as the best paying class of livestock.

Drury Asks Right To 'Shoo' Hunters

A private property owner should be given complete jurisdiction over his property so far as wild life and fish are concerned. So E. C. Drury, former Ontario premier, told the Ontario Anglers' Association convention in Toronto recently.

Under the present system, he said, a property owner could "shoo any ordinary person off or sue him for trespassing. But," he added, "if the 'trespasser' carried a gun or fishing rod he could say 'go chase yourself' if told there were no placards up—and you couldn't do a thing about it."

CRACK RIFLEMEN

Only a small number of expert rifle shooters in Canada have ever accomplished the feat of scoring the required number of points to attain the coveted Dominion Marksmen Expert Shield Award, but Ontario can boast having 23 crack riflemen who have captured this prized award in the last year.

It requires outstanding marksmanship to post a score better than 5860 points out of a possible 6000 in this competition in which each marksman must shoot 20 targets from each of the standing, sitting and prone positions. To gain the expert shield the shooter must shoot twenty possibles, that is a perfect score, in the prone position, and twenty 98's or better in the kneeling or sitting position, and twenty 95's or better in the standing offhand stance. This is no easy job under the best of circumstances, yet all 23 Ontario marksmen shot above 5900 in the competition and the highest scorer only dropped 53 points to end with 5947 out of a possible 6000.

The honour of the highest individual score went to the well-known Ontario rifleman, Ellwood Epps of the Clinton Rifle Club of Clinton while the largest number of expert awards was won by shooters from Toronto.

The Only Woman

The only woman among the 23 expert winners was Miss M. J. S. Aldham of the Ormond Marksmen Club of Ormond. She not only placed fourth in scoring among the men but is the only woman in the province of Ontario to have captured this coveted prize which means so much to the outstanding shooter.

Windsor and Port Hope had the next largest representation among the group of experts, each of them claiming three winners.

An acceptance also has been received from the Czechoslovakian Minister in Washington.

Participation of Turkey, Lithuania, Siam, and the French Mandate, Lebanon, is doubtful, he said. Argentinia, Albania, Chile, Denmark, the Netherlands, Russia, and Jugoslavia have withdrawn.

Tractor Trains, Planes Serve Gold Fields

New Gold-Mining Area North of Transcontinental Railway Gets Freight by Modern Methods

This winter is proving to be a bumper season for the freighting business in Canada's new gold-mining area north of the trans-continental railway line, says the Christian Science Monitor.

Aerial transport operators report one of their best years, and now tractor trains are running across the frozen lakes, freighting thousands of tons of mining machinery to properties which have proven to be worthy of development.

Hudson, Sioux Lookout, and Kenora on the railway line in northern Ontario are the starting points of the air and tractor freight trains.

MACHINERY FLOWN IN

Here the heavy machinery and hundreds of tons of other supplies needed at mining camps are unloaded from the freight cars onto heavy sleds, and powerful tractors hitch the sleds together into strings of three or more, then tie on in front, and start their run of several hundred miles over frozen lake and snowcovered bushla

Airplanes are also flying in considerable freight, mail and express, as well as passengers, to the camps which remain in operation all winter. Northern Canada is seeing a busy winter, with the transport companies busiest of all.

UNITY

Not an Accident but an Achievement

The REALITY of Canada's unity in this day of great national effort is a source of dismay to our enemy — and a factor of strength to ourselves and to our Allies . . . What Canadians should realize most fully is that their national unity does not exist through accident . . . It is the direct consequence of resourceful, determined and painstaking administration during recent years by an experienced and nationally-minded federal government . . . During the past five years the peacetime policies of the Mackenzie King Government — with respect to both domestic and external affairs — have been designed and executed with one main purpose in view — the strengthening of Canada's bonds of nationhood . . . Because those policies were sound; because they increased the measure of contentment throughout Canada; because they avoided clashes between provinces and races and creeds; because they were equally considerate of agriculture, industry and labour . . . . because those policies have been truly national in scope, Canada is today putting forth a great, united, national war effort.

These are the sort of things which have contributed to unifying our nation:—

A Program of Trade Treaties — lowering Canada's tariff barriers and opening new market opportunities for citizens of every province . . . achieved by the Liberal administration in spite of the opposition of Conservatives, and the indifference of C. C. F. and Social Credit.

Development of the Trans-Canada Airways — bringing the people of East and West into over-night contact . . . created by the Mackenzie King Government from the ashes of the first airway attempt — sabotaged by the Conservatives.

Support for the Canadian National Railways System — Liberals have been steadfast in standing behind this great national enterprise of the Canadian people . . . while Conservatives have worked assiduously for destruction of the system.

A National Agricultural Policy — a new conception of federal encouragement for the farm families of every province.

Publicly Owned Central Bank—the Bank of Canada, focal point of our national financial problems, was changed to public ownership by the Mackenzie King Government . . . reversing the Conservative policy of a central bank owned by private stockholders.

Co-operative Action on Unemployment Problem — the Mackenzie King Government has co-operated willingly and continuously with the provincial governments in efforts to overcome the unemployment problem . . . the Conservative policy of denying all federal responsibility in this matter was rejected by the Liberals.

Parliament's Right to Decide on War — Mackenzie King promised the people of all Canada that the country would not be committed to war without the sanction of parliament . . . He held to that pledge honorably and steadfastly, in spite of the personal abuse which was heaped upon him and his government by hot-heads who did not represent the collective views of Canadian people.

No Prior Commitments — the King Government — wisely interpreting the wishes of the Canadian people — refused to commit this country, in advance, to a policy of fighting wars at unpredictable times, at unknown places and for undetermined causes.

The Quebec Election — when certain political opportunists in the province of Quebec attempted to disrupt Canadian unity and seriously halt our national war effort the men of the Mackenzie King Government were the ones who went in and fought to preserve national solidarity . . .

The Conservative national leader remained silent during this crisis — when his voice should have rung out on behalf of national unity . . . Because the courageous action of Mackenzie King and his Quebec ministers helped the electors to keep the only true issue clearly in mind, Quebec was able to reaffirm her proud position . . . . squarely and loyally and warmly behind Canada's national war effort.

On March 26th show your faith in Canadian Unity; Vote for the candidate supporting Mackenzie King and make sure there can be no break in Canada's Steadfast stand.

★ TEA BAGS

OUT of the NIGHT

BY MARION WHITE Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER XXXI

It was the following Sunday. Cilly was preparing tea in her apartment. She expected Sergeant Dolan. And Jim, of course. But Jim lived here now. They had been married the previous afternoon, with Sergeant Dolan, ironically enough, serving as best man.

Just at this minute, Jim was out checking their bags to the airport. Some time tomorrow they would be in Utah, to welcome Jim's father home.

She peeked into the oven, to see if the biscuits had browned sufficiently. "There is nothing I like more," Dolan had told her, "than hot biscuits for Sunday tea . . . it is not often, you know, that a tough old bachelor like myself finds anybody willing to bake them."

Well, Cilly was willing. If she lived a thousand years, she could never do enough for Sergeant Dolan. When she thought of that terrifying whirl of events the previous Thursday evening . . . the last awful second when she opened her eyes and expected to see Jim lying at her feet dead . . .

Instead it had been Hutchins whom the bullet had found — the self-opinionated, superior Harry Hutchins. She saw the stream of red dripping from his hand, the gun on the floor where he had dropped it. And behind her, outside the shattered glass of Ames and Wakefield's front door, stood Dolan, his service revolver smoking.

It was no less than a miracle. Not only once, but twice that evening, Dolan had appeared at the very second when he was most needed . .

And now Harry Hutchins was safely behind bars.

JUST THE FINAL PROOF

He didn't stand a chance. The cards were stacked against him. The evidence Amy had left behind her was complete: There was the perfect sequence of his activities, from the moment he stepped from the Utah plane following the theft of the bonds . . . the record of the hotel he had gone to immediately, the affidavit of the landlady in whose house he had lived next . . . the various transactions in disposing of the bonds, one at a time.

Everything was there, except the final proof that he and the man Worth were one and the same. And once he was taken into custody, that was easily established. A dozen people from the bank identified the photographs which the police rushed to Bluefields.

For the thousandth time, Cilly asked herself why the truth had not dawned on her before. What other reason would a girl like Amy Kerr have for pursuing a friendship with the man, if it weren't because in that way she could keep a close check on him? She had acted her part so thoroughly.

In fact, her entire investigation was a marvel of intelligence work. Sergeant Dolan himself remarked that. No special investigator, no group of investigators, could have done more. The discovery, for example, that Hutchins was about to leave Chicago, when Amy arranged to be on the same train with him and strike up an acquaintance. "Well," as Dolan said, "it took a lot of nerve and brains. To think such a girl was done in . . ."

That was the tragedy of it. Amy had done it all, single-handed, and given her life for it. If only she had confided in someone, in Cilly, at least.

Unfortunately however, she could not know when it was that Hutchins finally became suspicious of her and probably not until a few months previous, when, under the name and appearance of the elderly Mrs. Elliot, he had taken the vacant furnished apartment above to watch her.

WEDDING SUPPER

Cilly took the biscuits, browned to a golden crispness, out of the oven. If Jim and the sergeant would only be on time . . . yes, here they were now, together. She saw them through the kitchen window. A moment later, their combined bulk filled the tiny kitchen.

"Everything is ready," she announced. "Another five minutes, sergeant, and your biscuits would have been stone cold . . . Come, sit down right away."

It was a very special feast — a combined wedding supper, thanksgiving and bon voyage send-off. Sergeant Dolan contributed the flowers, a glorious corsage of orchids. And after dinner the three talked long, finally returning to the very strange case.

"Say how did you actually discover that Hutchins was the man?" Dolan asked Cilly.

"I don't really know. Of course, somewhere in the back of my mind was always the wonder why Amy ever kept up a friendship with him. I guess I must have been thinking that when all of a sudden, like a series of flash-backs in the movies, a dozen other ideas popped into my head. Suppose it had been Hutchins hiding out in 2-A. Then everything else fitted together into a perfect picture. I had a curious feeling about him ever since he was here on Thursday evening . . . the wonder is that the truth didn't then dawn on me. He was here with me in the living room, and the outer door bell rang. He mentioned something about a taxi for him, and he walked right over to the buzzer. I was surprised that he knew where to find it so quickly. It was that familiarity with this apartment that should have told me the story instantly. You'd have understood it, sergeant."

Dolan shrugged. "Maybe I would and maybe I wouldn't. We can't account for the ideas that pop into our head, nor for those that pass us by."

"You remember the evening that I found the Bluefields newspapers," Cilly went on. 'They were thrown down the incinerator just a few minutes after Hutchins was here with me. He went upstairs immediately and cleared out any evidence I suppose. He came here twice just to find out from me how the case was going, to gloat, perhaps, that he was getting away with it so nicely. It was that telephone message he worked so neatly, and the trip that night to Connecticut to mail the note from a Mrs. Elliot to Mr. Johnston, so you wouldn't investigate her apartment . . . Did you check on the phone call, sergeant?"

"Yes, it was just as you thought. Hutchins rushed down from the roof and phoned Gloria Harmon from the apartment upstairs. Then, after he got away from here, he hurried back to his hotel and recorded the call himself on the switchboard operator's pad. Neither of the night operators remembered doing it."

RECORDED THE CALL HIMSELF

"I was sure of that!" Cilly exclaimed. "Remember that hotel, Jim? We had dinner there one evening. It's such a small place, and I guess there's only one man on duty at night to run the elevator and handle the switchboard and sit at the desk. It was simple for Mr. Hutchins to write the number down himself. Probably just about that time — one o'clock or so — there's a change of operators anyway. Of course, you'd have discovered it anyway, sergeant, as soon as the telephone bills came through."

Dolan shook his head. "I doubt it. If we definitely suspected him, we could check, of course, but otherwise—" He shrugged. "The hotel operator would never say anything about it. That would be reminding the telephone company that they'd forgotten to charge for one call, and few people are that honest. There'd be no special record of it on the telephone bill to Mrs. Elliot because it was a local call from here. No, I don't think we'd ever have caught him on the telephone slip-up. He's slick. He figures things out carefully. I worked all Friday trying to get somebody at the Ralston to identify him; he was there, I know it, to plant the bonds and that blue belt, but not a soul saw him. Oh, he'd have gotten away with the whole thing, if it weren't for that evidence in the safety deposit box. What bothers me is the reason he didn't try it sooner. Don't you suppose, Jim, that he heard Amy tell you about it up on the roof?"

Jim shook his head. "He couldn't have heard everything we said. We were over near the edge, you see, and he must have been behind one of the furnace stacks. We'd have seen him otherwise . . . " His voice trembled, and he lowered his eyes, as if to hide a guilt.

TRY TO FORGET

He would always feel this guilt, whenever his meeting with Amy on the roof was mentioned. He felt personally responsible, as if he alone had lured her to her death.

Dolan laid a sympathetic arm across his shoulder.

"Try to forget how it happened, Jim," Dolan urged, very kindly.

He folded his napkin laboriously, cleared his throat. Then, in the brusque, severe voice that had so often frightened Cilly, he added: "Well, I enjoyed the supper . . . the best biscuits I ever ate, Priscilla. What a girl you are! Smart, good-looking, and a good cook besides! Say, if ever the old man doesn't treat you right, just remember me, will you?"

He grinned, and they all got up from the table.

A few minutes later, Cilly and Jim, arm in arm, watched him from the window as he disappeared down the street.

Tabby's Titles

Recently Tit-Bits published a phonetic translation of sounds in different languages, and the cat's miaou was one sound which each of these languages interpreted in the same way. It is strange that the word "cat" is so similar in various languages. In Scandinavia the animal is called "katt," in France "chat," in Germany "katze," in Holland "cat," in Italy "gattto," in Spain "gato," in Russia "kats," and in Poland "kat." And the Romans had a word for it—"catus."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

No matter what nationality of host or guests or just plan family, St. Patrick's Day has always been a day anticipated by all interested in appetizing and appealing menus. A jolly aura seems to surround the 17th of March. As we observe such attractive accessories, everyone with that sense of hospitality will wish to join with Erin's own sons and daughters in celebrating. This year we have the unique combination of Palm Sunday and St. Patrick's Day and there will likely be a desire for a family dinner party. So then "Top of the Morning"!

—o—

ST. PATRICK'S DAY DINNER

Cream of Spinach Soup
Fried Chicken Southern style
Dublin Potato Nests - Green Peas
Mint Fruit Salad
Shamrock Rolls
Olives Celery
Lemon Chiffon Pie
Green Tea
Green and White Mints

Dublin Potato Nests

Boil potatoes in the usual way for mashing. When cooked and mashed mix to the proper consistency with cream or rich milk, adding salt and pepper, 1 teaspoon of fruit sugar and 2 teaspoons chopped chives. Form into nests either with pastry tube or spoon, fill with buttered green peas.

Mint Fruit Salad

Toss together 1 cup diced grapefruit, 1 cup diced pineapple, 1 cup chopped celery, mix well with boiled salad dressing which has been thinned and tinted with syrup from green cherries. Lastly add ¼ cup after-dinner mints. Serve on chopped watercress (lettuce will do) and garnish with green cherries.

Fried Chicken (Southern Style)

1 medium sized chicken
Salt and pepper
Flour
¼ cup cooking oil
1 cup rich milk.

Cut the chicken into four or six pieces. Dip each piece quickly in cold water, then sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Have oil ready very hot in frying pan. Saute the chicken until each piece is brown on both sides. Drain the pieces well and arrange on a platter (be sure platter is warm). Set in a warm place while making the gravy. Pour all out of pan, leaving two tablespoons of the fat and mix evenly with 2 tablespoons flour; then add the milk. Season with salt and pepper; pour over the chicken. Add a little chopped parsley to the gravy before pouring.

Lemon Chiffon Pie

1 package lime Jell-O
1½ cups boiling water
4 eggs
¾ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup lemon juice
1 baked pastry shell.

Dissolve Jell-O in boiling water and add salt. Beat egg yolks well; add the sugar slowly; add the gelatine mixture. Beat the whites of eggs stiff and fold into gelatine mixture. Turn into baked pie shell and chill. Whip ¼ pint of cream; place around the edges, leaving the centre uncovered. Make shamrocks for the centre decoration by using pistachio jelly powder made in the usual way, but after adding the boiling water, place in a shallow pan until firmly set. With a cutter (shamrock shape) cut the shamrocks. The rest of this jelly need not be wasted. Beat up or put it through the ricer, mix with whipped cream and serve as dessert for the next meal.

For your shamrock rolls, make rolls in the ordinary way, then cut three pieces; place them in a muffin pan, shaping. Leave to rise and cook in the ordinary way.

Honeyed Sweet Potato Slices

6 medium-size sweet potatoes.
½ cup honey
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup Kellogg's Corn Flake crumbs
2 tablespoons butter

Scrub potatoes thoroughly and cook in boiling water until tender. Peel and cut into slices ½-inch thick. Dip in warmed honey and roll in salted Corn Flake crumbs. Place in greased baking pan and dot with pieces of butter. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 25 minutes.

Yield: 6 servings.

More Bookcases In Living-rooms

More bookcases are being fitted into the American living room. Manufacturers don't make things year after year unless they are selling, and the number of open-shelf types exhibited at wholesale markets proves a heavy demand.

The new cases are low, with open shelves, used in combination with other cabinet units — with chests of drawers the same size as the bookcases; with cabinets whose doors open on linen trays; with a combination desk and chest. All these fit together to make the living room more convenient and livable.

SANITARY CONDITIONS AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

A great deal has been said, and not much has been done about the provision of sanitary accomodations for the young children attending the Morrisburg Public Schools. The present arrangement is a disgrace to the Community. Furthermore it might easily be the cause of a damage suit by the children's parents which would run into far more money than the installation of a few sanitary units would now.

The main objection which has been advanced for not having toilets installed before this seems to be that, in the event of building a new school, which possibility was considered last year, the money would be practically wasted. Let us suppose that it would, that nothing whatever could be salvaged from the equipment, if it were installed now. Are we going to compare a few dollars or a few hundred dollars to the value of a young child's health, or possibly to his life? Are a few dollars going to be held onto by the Board, to deprive the children of the same conveniences which they themselves have?

The time has come for a real and solid expression of local public opinion on this subject. It is high time that the parents and citizens of this town demand that their children get the same priveleges and conveniences which are accorded to the children of any civilized part of the world. You can make the Board of Education and the Town Council remedy conditions at the Public School right now. Not to-morrow, not next month or next year, but NOW! It is your money which they would spend. Surely it could not be spent to greater advantage.

HOW DOES HE GET AWAY WITH IT?

Up Toronto and Hamilton way, and in Ottawa as well, many a man has been jailed since the start of the war for contravening the "Defence of Canada Regulations", which prohibit the publishing or speaking of anything which might deter soldiers from enlisting. The Communist paper "Clarion" was shut down, and all other papers in the Dominion are subject to the Board of Censors at Ottawa.

But there is one man in Canada, who, it seems, has an utter disregard for the Defence of Canada Regulations. And apparently the Dominion authorities are satisfied to let him get away with it. The reference, of course, is to Premier Hepburn of Ontario. Mr. Hepburn, in his petty personal bickerings with the Prime Minister of Canada, has, ever since the start of the war, shouted from the housetops, utterances, which if they were made by any other citizen of the Country, would mean a prison term. Of course he knows that the Provincial Police, which is controlled by his government, would not do anything about his senseless ravings. But what is wrong with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. They are the pride of the Canadian people. Why are they not instructed to put a stop to this lawbreaking by Premier Hepburn. Because he is Premier of Ontario is no reason why he is exempted from the Defence of Canada Regulations any more than is anyone else.

His latest ravings about the "violent disturbance" at the St. Thomas Air Training School have been "ratified" by Commissioner William Stringer of the Ontario Provincial Police. Mr. Hepburn might just as well have saved the money which this particular investigation cost the Province. Everyone knew in advance just what the Commissioner's findings would be; knew in fact what they had to be.

When will the Ottawa authorities step in and stop his foolish and ill-advised talk, which serves only to encourage the enemy, and to discourage recruiting in our own Country.

Morrisburg, Ont., March 13, 1940
Editor, The Morrisburg Leader,
Dear Sir:

Why did the King Government scuttle Parliament Why are we paying for something we do not receive? That is, poor radio programs and no service for your radio interference. Take the American programmes off the air, and what have we got? Then the Department of Transport, run under the King government at Ottawa sees fit in their way to charge you and I with a radio license fee of $2.50 per year to operate a radio in your home and another $2.50 to operate a radio in your car or office. And what service do we receive for your $2.50? Several times I have taken up with the Department of Transport, Radio Branch, Ottawa, the matter of local interference, asking them to send their car here in order to locate the trouble. In answer to my request, each time the answer was the same. So the Dept. must keep a limited supply of answers on hand to send out to persons who ask for service. And they tell us in these letters they will look into the matter as sonn as possible, or at such time as their radio car is in our locality; That may be once a year. At the same time, the interference is allowed to go on. This is absolutely rotten management on the part of Mr. Howe, which costs you and I $2.50 for each radio. Vote for Dr. Manion the man who will do away with this fee for radio and let the man who advertises pay as he goes. This is the cure.

Ask the King government what it has done for the farmer? Ask Mr. King where the cheese bonus which belongs to our farmers went to. Ask him and see if he can or will give you an honest answer. Ask the King government what it has done for the youth of Canada, the young unemployed walking the streets, the highways and the byways of our country today. Ask him why there are 50,000 unemployed or idle today, and see what he has to say. Then ask the King government why most of the war contracts went to the United States from Canada, with so many people out of work, and we all have to help pay the cost. This is why there is so much crime in Canada today. It is caused by unemployment which is due to neglect of the King government. They do not help unemployment by sending our contracts across the border to his friends the United States. These goods all could be manufactured in our own Canada.

While the Rt. Hon. Dr. Manion was fighting for his country in the years 1914-18, where was Mr. King? Dr. Manion has to his honour the Military Cross. He is the gentleman that fought for his country. Then, on the 26th of March elect him to run this great Canada of ours, and save Canada.

God Save Our King!

Yours truly,
A. M. JARVIS.

March of Time Picture

"CANADA AT WAR"

THE Board of Censors, acting under the authority of The Theatres and Cinematographs Act, Chapter 319 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario 1937, has prohibited the exhibition of the film "Canada at War." In the opinion of the Board the picture is capable of being used—and is, in fact, presently being used in Canada—not for purposes of entertainment or education but for political propaganda. In proof of this, a copy of an advertisement published in Vancouver, B.C., papers under the sponsorship of the Vancouver Liberal Association is shown hereunder.

Every Canadian should see this picture and realize that the accomplishment is the work of one man

IAN MACKENZIE

(Facsimile)

In the Montreal Star of March 1, 1940, there also appeared an advertisement reading in part as follows: "Special March of Time 'Canada at War', sponsored by the Dominion Government now showing daily 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Sunday 12 noon to 2 p.m."

Moreover, the film "Canada at War", No. 8 in March of Time features, was released for exhibition in advance of No. 7—which is a picture with an American appeal. The release date of "Canada at War" was said to have been advanced three weeks apparently to permit of the display of the film during the Dominion election campaign.

The action of the Board of Censors in prohibiting the exhibition in Ontario of the March of Time picture "Canada at War" follows the precedent adopted in the Ontario provincial election of 1937, during which time the Liberal Government of Ontario refused to permit the exhibition of films and pictures which gave vivid accounts and displays of C.I.O. activities and scenes of violence in American industrial centres. The showing of the pictures would have been to the undoubted advantage of the Liberal Government which was opposing C.I.O. activities in Ontario. Yet the Ontario Liberal Government banned the exhibition of the films and pictures.

The Board of Censors of the Province of Ontario would be false to its duty if it interfered in the wartime elections campaign by placing its stamp of approval on a film such as "Canada at War," which in this time of grave national peril is being used and exploited for purposes of political propaganda.

M. F. HEPBURN,
Treasurer of Ontario.

Mr. Wm. E. Larmour

(Contributed)

One of the esteemed citizens of Rowena community in Matilda Township, known by many, passed away at the Brockville General Hospital on February 29th, after a short illness of two weeks at home and three weeks in the hospital.

Mr. Larmour was born on the old homestead, Rowena, September 5th, 1872, a son of Matthew Larmour and his wife, Jane Dixon. His entire life was spent in the pursuit of farming, which he enjoyed, causing him to be prosperous and successful. He was twice married, his first wife being Edna Redmond, whom he married 47 years ago. 12 years later, Mrs. Larmour passed away.

Two years later, Mr. Larmour married Valeria Loucks of Williamsburg, who is left to mourn the loss of a devoted husband. Also surviving are one son, Clifford, two sisters, Mrs. Elzie Loucks, of Matilda and Mrs. James Zeron of Morrisburg, and two brothers, George and John. One brother, James, passed away last fall.

Mr. Larmour was much attached to his home and farm at Rowena, which he guided till his death. Nine years ago he purchased a home in Morrisburg, which he occupied part time, especially on week ends.

Early in life Mr. Larmour was converted to God, and ever since, he has been a devoted Christian servant of his Master. He studied much and was thoroughly versed in the Scripture. He was always a regular attendant at prayer meetings, Sunday school and church services at Rowena for a number of years, after which he attended the Morrisburg United Church.

The funeral service was conducted from his late residence, the old farm home on Sunday, March 3rd, at 1.30 o'clock to Rowena United Church, service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Payton of Morrisburg, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lister, Pastor of the Church. The Text used was found in Isaiah, 38 ch., verse I, "Set thins house in order, for thou shalt die, and shall not live."

During the service, Mrs. Orval Seeley and Rev. Wm. Lister sang a duet "The Old Rugged Cross". The choir sang "When the Roll is Called up Yonder, I'll be There." The hymns used were: "Forever With The Lord", and "Jesus, Lover of my Soul". All were favourites of the deceased.

The church was filled with sympathizing friends and neighbours, also a large number from Morrisburg

The pall bearers were Bruce Hart, George Mullin, Anson Carter, William Casselman, Orval Seeley, and Howard Locke.

The remains were placed in the vault at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Morrisburg, to await burial in the spring at Dundela.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this way to express our appreciation and thanks to our friends and neighbours, all who furnished cars at the funeral, Rev. Mr. Payton, Rev. Mr. Lister, the Rowena Choir. and all who assisted us in any way during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father

SUGGESTION TO PARENTS

While there is no regulation to prevent new pupils from starting school for the first time at the beginning of any school term, yet we should prefer all beginners to enter Grade 1 in September 1st. This would save time for the teacher, and new pupils would make better progress if they all began their school career at the first of the fall term, that is at the beginning of the school year.

I should be glad if parents gave this matter careful consideration.

—G.A. FOULDS, Principal.

Mr. & Mrs. Hydro User...
see how the cost of Electrical Living has gone DOWN these 25 Years

	1914	1919	1924	1929	1934	1939
Average family's monthly consumption of Hydro power in Kilowatt-Hours:	21.0	35.2	80.2	122.5	143.3	165.0
Average cost (in pennies) per Kilowatt-Hour:	5.08 cents	2.82 cents	1.89 cents	1.67 cents	1.51 cents	1.28 cents

Today . . . thus, the average Ontario family today uses 7½ times as much electricity as the average family of 1914. But due to the steady reduction in Hydro cost, the average domestic Hydro bill has increased over this period NOT 7½ times—but only from $1.06 to $2.12.

7½ Times More Electricity for Only Twice the Cost!

MR. AND MRS. AVERAGE HYDRO USER: Through the past quarter-century, your cost for Hydro service has become lower and lower.* While the cost of almost everything else has gone up, the cost of Hydro power has come DOWN. Today, Hydro service is your BIGGEST BARGAIN!

The chart above tells you the story. Just a glance will show you that as the use of Hydro power has increased, the cost has steadily decreased. Compare what your money buys today with what it bought 25 years ago—and you'll quickly see that today's family enjoys more than 7½ times as much electrical service for only twice the 1914 cost.

So, today, due to the efforts of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario—and your own Municipal Hydro System—it costs you less money to live better. Remember, Hydro is your public utility service . . . a service that costs only pennies a day to use and enjoy to the full!

THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER COMMISSION OF ONTARIO

- HAVE - YOU HEARD?

An Irish truck driver was charged with reckless driving and with having stopped his truck so suddenly that a car behind him smashed into him. The judge asked him why he had not held out his hand.

Pat indignantly answered: "If the poor fool couldn't see me truck, how in Hivin's name could he see me hand?"

"Did they put stitches in?" asked the friend after the operation.

"No, I just pulled myself together," was the reply.

Counsel (cross-examining a farmer): "Now don't quibble! Do you understand a simple problem or not?"

Witness: "I do."

"Then tell the court this: If 15 men ploughed a field in five hours, how long will 30 men take to plow the same field?"

"They couldn't do it."

"Why not?"

"Because the 15 men have already ploughed it!"

"I have heard," said the professor, "that Babylon fell, and Nineveh was destroyed, and"

Someone in the class: "Tyre was punctured."

A teacher was instructing her class in the use of antonyms. "Now children," she said, "what is the opposite of sorrow?"

"Joy," shrieked the class in unison.

"And what is the opposite of woe?"

"Giddap!"

She: "It is disgraceful! Yesterday you kissed me against my will and today you try to repeat the offence."

He: "Well, a criminal always returns to the scene of his own crime."

What Science Is Doing

JAUNDICE CURE

Experiments at the Mayo Clinic have proved that patients suffering from "obstructive jaundice" could be cured by an operation after they had been given injections of Vitamin K.

Vitamin K. built up in the blood a substance called prothrombin, the lack of which resulted in bleeding to death of persons operated on for the disease.

TO RELIEVE INDIGESTION

Dr. Otto Dennith, of Vancouver, reports he has found a way to relieve indigestion and gastric ailments that rest, diet and medication will not cure. Since 1933 he has successfully used the technique of severing the sphincter of oddi, which rings the inside of a duct leading from the pancreas, liver and gall bladder to the small intestines.

MODERN PIONEER

Among the sage elders of science a young man not yet 30 takes rank today as one of 19 upon whom the title "modern pioneer" has been bestowed in recognition of his inventive genius.

He is Edwin H. Land, of Boston, who invented "Polaroid," a crystal substance made of iodine and quinine which "polarizes" rays of light, in effect lining them up by blocking out vibrations at right angles to the beam, thus eliminating glare.

Owing to lack of refrigerator space, the government has forbidden Australians to include butter in hampers shipped to Great Britain. No restriction were placed on other rationed goods (hams, bacon and sugar).

$1,700,000 Wall Main Unit of Grand River Control Project, Is Expected To Be Complete Then

At the annual meeting of the Grand River Conservation Commission, held in Brantford, Ont., Dr. G. Acres, Niagara Falls, chief engineer to the commission, gave assurance the vital construction of the $1,700,000 Shand dam, main unit of the river-controlling project, would be completed before the autumn frosts of 1940.

COULD DO MORE

Dr. Acres also said the supplementary Luther Marsh dam could be completed by the end of this year should the commission so direct. All necessary and scheduled work in connection with the Shand dam in 1939 had been completed, he said.

HEALTH TOPICS

EAT DOMESTIC FRUIT

A perfect diet, rich in all the protective foods, is obtainable in Canada at all seasons without resort to imported fruits or vegetables. This is the finding of leading Canadian nutritionists and is being cited by those concerned with the increasing consumption of American fresh fruits.

Canned Canadian vegetables have been proven to have higher vitamin and mineral content than fresh vegetables imported long distances from the southern states.

GOOD COLD REMEDY

Hot drinks, warm clothing and hot applications have been found to be most effective in overcoming the ravages of the cold germ. That is no doubt why the mustard foot bath is so favored. Two or three tablespoons of dry mustard, mixed with a little cold water, and then added to the bathwater has been found to be efficacious in helping anyone to overcome a cold. If, after remaining in the bath until the skin begins to tingle pleasantly, one takes a good rub-down and then retirs to bed, there is usually a good deal of relief in the morning.

WARNS AGAINST T. B.

"Tuberculosis is the most important single disease facing us in the problem of national health," Prof. E. G. D. Murray, of the department of bacteriology and immunity, McGill University, said in a recent radio talk.

Tuberculosis as a disease had not inspired a state of terror in the human race, as would the mere mention of plague, smallpox, poliomyletis and typhoid fever "yet in the literature of the subject it has deserved the opprobrious epithet of 'the White Plague' " he said.

Out of 11 kinds of milk listed by the United States department of agriculture, reindeer milk is richest—it has 22 per cent butterfat.

Russian Contribution To Finnish Defence

The contribution was not made voluntarily, needless to say, but it is very acceptable just the same. The white-clad Finn is examining a multiple machine gun used for anti-aircraft work, particularly against diving bombers or hedge-hopping planes. It was part of the equipment captured by the Finns and later used against the former owners.

How Can I?

Q. How can I keep the kitchen sink clean and purified?

A. Pour a strong solution of washing soda in boiling water down the sink at night.

W. M. S.

The W.M.S. of the United church held their Easter thank-offering meeting at the home of Mrs. B.L. Carr, with the president presiding over the business part and Mrs. Stata in charge of the programme.

Theme for the year: "The Missionary purpose of God." Theme for March: "Into all the World."

The call to worship was followed by an opening hymn and Mrs. Boyd offered prayer, all joining in the Lord's Prayer.

Minutes were adopted as read by the secretary. Miss J.E. Taylor and Mrs. Craig were appointed superintendent and assistant of the Baby Band.

Mrs. Stata took charge calling on Mrs. Payton to give Bible reading. She read from parts of Acts and Romans, stressing the special responsibility which rests today on the Christians of North America to make Christ known to our needy world.

The daily prayer cards were used and Mrs. Reddick offered a prayer for peace.

A duet was beautifully rendered by Miss Suffell and Mrs. Mullin and was much appreciated by all. The Easter thank offering was received and Mrs. Hilliard prayed the dedicatory prayer.

The chapter, "Medical Missions in India" was dramatized by four ladies Mrs. Merrill representing a Dr., Mrs. G. Smith, a woman from India, Miss Taylor, a nurse and Mrs. Hummel an evangelist missionary. They gave an appalling account of the needs of India in maternity cases, in leper, in tuberculosis, and in the care of infants in a land of such enormous population.

Mrs. Hummell made an appeal for all to be in earnest, that our influence may spread to overcome communism and fascism, which are the dangers of today.

The pageant closed with these ladies singing "Blest be the tie that binds." The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

A very social time was spent over a cup of tea and delectable refreshments served by the hostess.

With the Girl Guides

Preparations were made on Tuesday nite for the forthcoming Parents Night. Drill and practice for the 1st Enrollment got under way. As it means to be a double event, much practice and preparation is needed. It will be a thrilling moment in the lives of those being enrolled.

Here is a further Knowledge of the Guide Law for use in Second Class. It will be published in three parts. The law is the standard—do all you can to carry it out:

1. A Guide's honour is to be trusted. As a Guide, no temptation, however great or however secret, will persuade you to do a dishonest or a shady action, however small. You won't go back on your promise, once made. "A Guide's word is as good as her bond."

2. A Guide is loyal.— As a good citizen, you are one of a team "playing the game" honestly for the good of the whole. You can be relied upon by the King as head of the Empire, by the Guide Movement, by your friends and fellow workers, by your employers or employees, to do your best for them, even though they may not always quite come up to what you would like of them. Moreover, you are loyal also to yourself; you won't lower your self-respect by playing the game meanly.

3. A Guide's duty is to be useful and to help others. As a Guide, your highest aim is service. You may be relied upon at all times to be ready to sacrifice time, or, if need be, life itself for others.

"Sacrifice is the Salt of Service".
