Dundas County Disaster Meeting

At 8:00 p.m., Thursday last, some 700 people gathered in the auditorium of the Nationview Public School to voice their opinions and come to a decision on a plan of action.

Mr. Jerry Cary, Federation of Agriculture, acting as meeting chairman, opened the meeting by introducing the head table guests. Those present to speak for the farmers were Mr. Basil Dawley, Mr. Neil Williams, and Mr. Mahlon Zeron. Also present were Dr. Warren, Canada Department of Agriculture, Mr. Norman Watson, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Mr. Bob Hawley, Crop Insurance, Mr. Glen Campbell, Mr. Gordon Blair, MP Grenville-Carleton and last but not least, Mr. Don Irvine, MLA Grenville-Dundas. Not present was Mr. Lamoureux.

Mr. Mahlon Zeron, of Matilda Township, gave those present a general picture of the conditions throughout Dundas County. He emphasized the necessity of feed, as well as financial backing for all affected by the misfortunate weather this area has experienced in past months. Mr. Zeron remarked that cattle at this time would have to come pretty cheap if he was even to consider feeding them over the winter due to the forthcoming higher cost for feed.

Mr. Neil Williams, of Winchester Township, gave us an estimate on silage and grain corn losses so far this year. Mr. Williams noted that throughout Dundas County, there was approximately 35,000 acres of silage corn and 20,000 acres of grain corn. Of this, he said, 25% or 5,000 acres is still harvestable corn.

Mr. Williams stated that the original yield was in the neighbourhood of 1.4 million bushels of grain corn, but the potential yield from the fields at this time was only 350,000 bushels, taking an average of 70 bushels per acre. This means a monetary loss in the amount of $1\frac{1}{4}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$ million dollars in grain corn alone. Mr. Williams stated that there are approximately 3,000 acres of silage corn left of all that was originally planted. At 10 tons/acre, this means a loss of over $2 million in grain and silage corn alone. This does not include other crops such as oats, barley or timothy hay.

Mr. Basil Dawley of Williamsburg Township, was next to describe the situation. Of all the grain and hay planted this year, Mr. Dawley said he felt that the farmers in this area would probably salvage only about 5% of what had been harvested in 1970.

Mr. Dawley also noted that the amount of rainfall had almost doubled since last year on a month to month basis. Here are the measurements that he obtained from the Recording Office for the period from May 22 to July 23 for 1971 and 1972:

	Inches of Rain
	1971	1972
Morrisburg	9.1	12.5
Chesterville	6.3	15.8
S. Mountain	6.7	13.4

Mr. Dawley concluded by emphasizing the point that if something active isn't decided on tonight, the farmers are going to lose their cattle, their hogs and most probably their farms if they don't get feed right away. He pointed out that if the farmers go out of business in this area as well as in other counties experiencing similar difficulties, there will be a great deal of unemployment in the area which the taxpayers will have to cover.

Mr. Blair, on behalf of the federal government and Mr. Irvine on behalf of the provincial government spoke, stating that both governments will work together to bring about all necessary measures to ease the burden of the stricken farmers.

Mr. Cary then opened the meeting to floor for constructive comments after he had read over the proposals made at the two meetings held last Monday. Mr. Cary also mentioned that

Lalonde-Casselman Wed at Cornwall

St. Paul's United Church, Cornwall, was the scene of a double ring wedding when Rev. Clifford solemnized the marriage ceremony of Marlene Laura Lalonde and Gerald Lyle Casselman at 2:00 p.m. on July 15, 1972.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anne Lalonde and the late Mr. Lawrence Lalonde of Cornwall. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Casselman of Iroquois.

Tall lighted tapers flanked by baskets of yellow, mauve and peach mums adorned the alter.

Frances Vanderbruggen of Pickering assisted the groom as best man. Ushers for the occasion were David and Douglas Casselman, twin brothers of the groom. The wedding party were attired in white coats and black trousers and the guest pews were marked with white bows.

The organist, Mrs. Barkway, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Mahlon Casselman, cousin of the groom, who sang The Wedding Prayer and during the signing of the register, The Lord's Prayer.

Given in marriage by her brother Clifford from Toronto, the bride was attired in a full length gown peau de soie over crepe styled with fitted bodice, high collar, long sheer sleeves and wide cuffs. The dress was trimmed with lace and appliqued flowers on the skirt which extended into a chapel length train. A floral beaded headdress held her tiered escalloped silk illusion veil which fell in an extended train. She carried white mums and pink carnations.

The bride was attended by Cathy Montgomery of Cornwall as maid of honour, Mrs. Marie Demers of Toronto, cousin of the bride and Brenda Lalonde of Cornwall, sister of the bride were bridesmaids, and Marlene Maryano of Cornwall, cousin of the bride was flower girl.

The maid of honour was attired in a sheer silk coral and peach multi floral gown with fitted bodice and carried peach and white mums.

The bridesmaids and flower girl were attired in blue and mauve multi-floral gowns styled the same as maid of honour. All wore picture hats trimmed with matching material and carried mauve and white mums.

The mother of the bride wore blue coat-dress ensemble of polyester double knit with white accessories and a corsage of blue tipped carnations. The groom's mother wore a pink coat-dress ensemble of lace and crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Present was the grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Stanley, of Cornwall and grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shaver of Williamsburg.

The wedding dinner was served in the Masonic Temple. The pink and white wedding cake, which was made by the groom's mother, adorned the table.

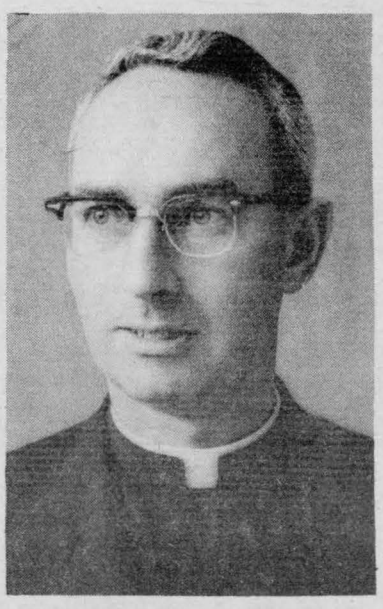

This was followed by an evening reception with the Country Cousins from Iroquois providing the music.

The bride's going away ensemble was a two piece beige and brown dress and jacket. Her going away corsage was yellow and orange tipped carnations.

After a short honeymoon to the Adirondacks, Mr. and Mrs. Casselman will be residing on his farm at R.R. 1, Iroquois.

Goes to Smiths Falls

Father D.W. MacDonald, pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Morrisburg, and St. Cecilia's, Iroquois since October 1960, will be leaving here shortly to become pastor of St. Francis de Salles Parish, Smiths Falls. New pastor at Morrisburg and Iroquois will be Father Frank M. O'Connor, presently parish priest at Merrickville. The changes will become effective September 1st.

Since coming to Morrisburg, Father MacDonald has been involved in many changes in the parish. Shortly after his arrival he undertook the remodelling and modernization of the rectory. His next project was the organization and construction of St. Mary's School on Augusta Street, the first such school in the village. On the seventh anniversary of his arrival, the first sod was turned for the new St. Mary's Church and rectory on Meikle Street.

On Sunday, June 4th of this year, Father MacDonald was honoured by his parishioners and friends on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

Best Wishes

The announcement that Father D. W. MacDonald, Morrisburg, and Parish Priest here, is leaving the area comes as sad news to the community at large.

Father MacDonald is well liked and respected by all sectors of the community and while we realize that his services may be required in other areas, there is a sense of loss by his departure.

During his tenure here he has served his people well and by his manner and keen interest in the community as a whole, has become well and widely known. The cooperative and friendly attitude he displayed with all faiths brought to all a closer and abiding respect for the ecumenical feelings being generated by all faiths in our district.

Father MacDonald has strengthened his own people by his dedication to his parish and in his leaving he can feel proud of the contribution he has made to the lives of the people with whom he came in contact.

We wish you every success and happiness in the years before you, Father, and may God continue to bless your endeavours.

Action Now

Both federal and provincial governments and their agencies involved with agriculture have before them a tremendous task relative to helping solve the problems in our area.

And a real problem exists in Dundas County, hard hit by adverse weather conditions where some areas have almost complete crop losses.

In a county that has seldom had such major losses and an area quite dependent on agriculture for a large portion of its economy, this year's losses are a major concern for all sectors of the economy.

Every avenue of assistance is being looked at but there are no easy solutions.

The first major concern is that enough feed can be found and brought in at a price that farmers can afford so that they don't have to deplete their herds. If farmers are forced to sell off many of their cattle, the recovery period will be that much longer.

At present, unless financial help is forthcoming, there are many farmers who face financial ruination. The situation is indeed that desperate for some.

Full extent of the loss to the economy may be difficult to ascertain. Some small percentage have crop loss insurance but most say that the cost is too great to bear.

Some farming areas of the county are harder hit than others, some crops worse than others. Hay is at a premium and the price is also already hitting new highs. Hay that was selling for 30 to 40c per bale has now risen in some areas nearby to close to $1.00 a bale. Far too high for a farmer needing thousands of bales to carry his stock through the coming winter.

The problem is not going to be easily solved but a satisfactory solution must be found.

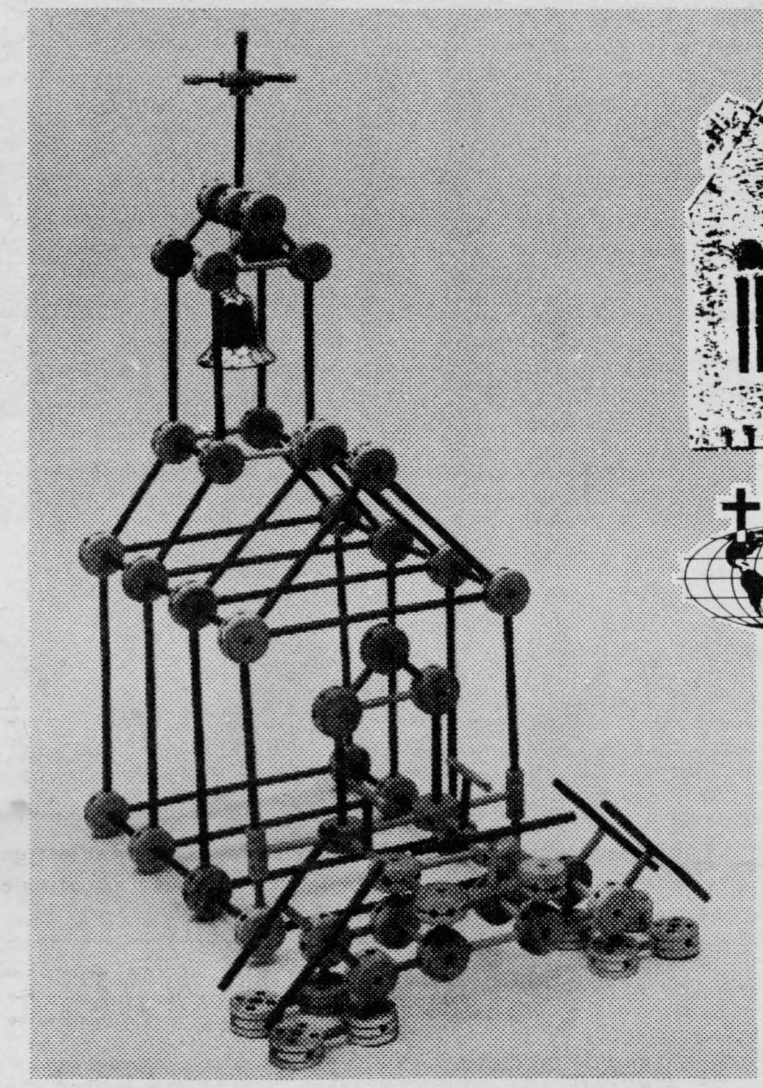

TINKER TOY CHURCH

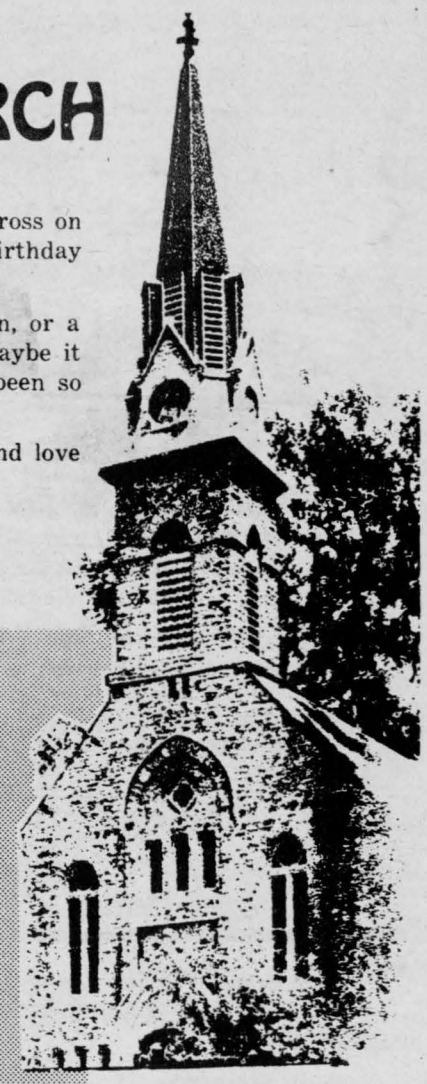

And it has a silver bell on the steeple and a cross on top. No one suggested to Bobby that he use his birthday toy this way. He did it himself.

He could have made a ferris wheel, or a barn, or a wagon. But, as it happens, he made a church. Maybe it is because, since he was a tot, the Church has been so important in his life.

To Bobby the Church represents a warmth and love that made him want to "build one of his own."

Does your child feel that way?

THIS IS THE LIFE AT GRANDAD'S

By Bill Smiley

Somehow I can't get too excited these days about Senator McGovern or Bobby Hull playing against the Russians, or any of the other hysterical events in the press. Trouble is, we're staying for a week at Grandad's, which is not conducive to getting excited about anything.

There's a radio and television set and a party-line telephone, but nobody pays much attention to any of them. On the other hand, there is no roar of traffic, no paper-boy ringing the door-bell at 7.00 a.m., demanding his week's pay, no honking of horns or squealing of tires, no raucous sputtering of lawnmowers.

Nor is there any reek of exhaust fumes, factory smoke, melting asphalt, rancid fish-and-chips, or polluted water.

The reason is simple enough. Grandad lives in a handsome stone house about sixty yards from a quiet country road, which you can barely see from the house, hidden as it is behind trees and hedge and shrubs. About four cars and maybe a couple of small trucks and one tractor go by each day.

No blatting motorcycles, snarling buses and grinding big trucks. The nearest lawnmower, and nearest neighbours, are two hundred yards down the road, out of sight and sound. No daily paper, so no cheeky paper-boy ringing and ringing.

The only sounds are the breeze in the trees, the somehow comforting mutter of a farmer mowing his hay, birdsongs, the buzz of an odd fly, and my wife talking incessantly to her father.

The only smells are roses, fresh-mown hay and what's cooking for dinner. Along with the cleanest air this side of heaven. The road is gravel, so there's no stink of asphalt. The nearest fish-and-chips are four miles away. The nearest factory is twenty miles away. And the nearest water is a huge bay, deep, clean, cold and unpolluted.

I'm sitting typing this at Grandad's desk, with a window right in front of me. Looking out, I see nearest a magnificent bed of roses, red and white. Beyond that a huge maple tree. Beside it an old apple tree with a swing dangling for the grandchildren. And beyond these the solid green of other trees.

Looking out the other window, to my right, there's a mass of flowers, then a white fence, then a huge hay-field, often with kids riding horses, then a line of trees and beyond and below that, a vast expanse of blue, blue water, with white cliffs on the other side of the bay.

Three hundred yards down the road, there is a cold, fast-flowing stream, with a real waterfall. I've taken some nice speckled and rainbow trout out of there. In the spring the rainbow come up it to spawn.

Half a mile away, where the stream flows into the bay, the rainbow trout fishing would bring tears to the eyes of a city boy who has never caught anything but a perch. Hundreds of rainbow are taken there in the spring and fall, and the fishing is improving, because the local anglers have done a lot to preserve the spawning females.

Across the road from the house, there is a pasture and beyond it a wild apple orchard where the partridge like to feed.

A couple of years ago, I was looking that way. Out of the orchard, across the pasture and right up to the fence came a buck and a doe. They were perhaps seventy yards from me. We stared at each other in mutual admiration (at least thought should be given to making up a committee or Task Force that night.

Some of the proposals outlined were as follows:
- subsidy based on animal units with stiff penalties for abusers
- forage, feed grain and hay transport
- government monatorium - mortgages extended for one year
- interest free loans - 50% forgivable if paid within three years
- government enquiry about funds available
- review of crop insurance
- control on distress selling of cattle
- take position on Winnipeg Grain Board to bring in grain.

The meeting was then opened to the floor. One person mentioned that because the area was termed a disaster area that the Dundas Milk Committee should take the necessary action to aleviate the strain on the dairy farmers. Mr. Irvine quickly pointed out that neither the provincial nor the federal governments had as yet classified Dundas County as a disaster area, and that until further government investigation has taken place, this would not be done.

Mr. Orville Guy, from the floor, remarked that the Milk Marketing Board had spoken to the Canadian Dairy Commission and that starting Tuesday, two members of the Marketing Board and a number of Federation of Agriculture representatives will be touring the area to make up a report which will be sent to the C.D.C. Mr. Guy also mentioned that the milk quota penalty clause will be waived for this year. Mr. Irvine then mentioned that the governments will provide money for loans.

A lengthy discussion on crop insurance followed with Mr. Bob Hawley, crop insurance representative, expressing the need for more flexibility in date of crop planting, after a number of farmers voiced the opinion that they had been taken because they had not been able for the most part, to plant before the final date required for coverage because of the unseasonal weather. Mr. Hawley stated that at this time, the crop insurance company was not prepared to make any allowances.

Mr. Dawley then suggested that everyone there should stop wasting everyone's time about things that have been done in the past and to get around to setting up a committee to find out where they can get feed, what kind of feed is available and what it is going to cost the farmers.

Mr. Watson then suggested that perhaps the committee could set up a program co-ordinating a hay supply throughout the province via the communications media available.

Mr. Blair expressed the willingness of the governments to provide specialists from both Federal and Ontario Depts. of Agriculture to study the situation on an economic basis and come up with some proposals.

Tom Clapp, agricultural representative for Dundas County was then called upon by the chairman to review the list of names proposed for the Task Force Committee. Mr. Glen Campbell commented that other counties should participate as well to lend support to the cause.

Mr. Cary then took a show of hands vote as to whether or not Mr. Clapp and his associates should make up a committee with the names Mr. Clapp had earlier emntioned, for Matilda Township, Lyle Casselman and Norman Tinkler; Mountain Township, Howard Guy and Morton Stobo; Williamsburg Township, Bruce Garlough and Ralph McIntosh and for Winchester Township, Leonard Masterson and Aurie Cayer as well as representatives from the Federation of Agriculture, Federal and Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Milk Marketing Board and members of parliament.

It was noted that in Russell, a committee is being set up by the Federation of Agriculture to meet next Tuesday night in a closed meeting.

Mr. Blair and Mr. Irvine were asked if they could have some people available to sit on this Task Force. Mr. Blair suggested that he and Mr. Irvine meet with the D.C. Agriculture Rep., Mr. Clapp, committee members and the Dept. of Agriculture rep. that night after the meeting and start to plan a course of action.

After thanking the Tri-County Board of Education, the caretaker and principal of Nationview P. S. for allowing them the use of the school and the Kemptville College and Mr. B. Barrett for the microphones and P.A. system, Mr. Cary called the meeting adjourned.

MR. DON IRVINE, MPP, states that immediate gov't. investigation concerning the economic situation of the area will be forthcoming.

PLEASANT VALLEY

Mon. evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wallace were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Somerville and Mr. and Mrs. Chambers of Manotick.

A congregational meeting was held at the home of Hilliard Gilmer on Tues. evening to make plans for holding church service in the L.O.L. Hall for a period of time.

Eastern Ontario Forage Exchange

As everyone knows there is a lack of forage (hay and silage) in the County. The wet conditions have brought hay making to a stand still. Therefore, as an emergency measure program for the present time, a Forage Exchange is being promoted. This is not the answer to our problems, but it may help until other more efficient programs are developed. Therefore, if you are in need of hay (and possible corn silage) you are asked to contact your local agricultural office (Winchester - 774-2313) of your need. Also, anyone having hay to sell is asked to contact the Agricultural Office.

Each week these lists will be combined and mailed out to all those on the lists plus the agricultural offices and newspapers. We have already received calls from people who have ahy available at 32 to 34 dollars per ton. Also several of the corn growers in the area are going to have corn silage available. Again all those who have or are going to have corn silage available and all those who will want corn silage, are asked to contact the Agricultural Office.

Again, let me say that this program will not solve our problem. But it may help you from having to sell a lot of your cattle. Cattle prices are falling now and to buy them back in a year's time will be quite expensive.

Matilda Women's Institute Trip

Members of Matilda Womens Institute, together with guests from Iroquois, Morrisburg, Riverside and Williamsburg, enjoyed the bus-trip to the Finger Lakes District on July 25 and 26th. This annual event was arranged by the committee of the Matilda W.I. under the convenorship of Mrs. Freda Mellan.

Some of the places visited included the Salt Museum, the original salt well, and saline deposits which led to the founding of Syracuse. Here, the president, Evelyn Coleman proved leadership on the handles of the huge wheel-barrow and salt shovels. Near here in 1658 at Fort Ste. Marie de Gannentaha, explorer Radisson played the violin to hold off the fierce Iroquois Indians; in contrast, Iroquois president Vi Hare and rabbit-followers made no attempt to escape by canoe on Lake Onondaga.

On the way to Palmyra, our Voyageur bus driver encountered his worst experience with a hail storm. No doubt everyone would gladly have sought shelter in Noah's Ark on the main street of Newark. However, our fears subsided as we viewed the Sarah Coventry jewellry display and accepted souvenir pins from the Company.

Highlight of the trip was the 1972 Hill Cumorah Pageant where 135,000 people gather annually to view the second largest world-wide presentation of its kind. Over 625 caste-members took part in the 35th presentation of this spectacular drama. In awe and delight, we settled in for the night at Exit 44 and some think the brick walls may still be vibrating with late celebrations: ask Kay McGinn for further details.

On July 26, after a beautiful morning drive through the mountain foot-hills, we arrived at Naples, visited the Jacqueline creations and saw nature's own jewellry hand crafted in copper and life-like colours.

Next we visited the Widmer Wineries, nestled in a 700 acre vineyard, where twenty-three varieties of native grapes are processed. The 115 year old, irreplacable oak barrels are still in operation; yet, not a volunteer from our group would help clean one barrel because of a twenty-minute intoxication warning.

Our afternoon program included a viewing at the Rochester planetarium, a visit to the Museum of Science and Art, a shopping tour and dinner.

In fine form for our bus sing-song, we returned happily via Ivy Lee Bridge to our area homes.

All reported a good time and are looking forward to the 1973 Matilda Institute trip, if Doreen Empey can balance the budget.

District Cubs Hold Campout

"TLUM QUANAH" was the name given to the first Cub Camporee for St. Lawrence District Wolf Cubs, held June 16th to 18th at Morrison Island. TLUM QUANAH (Nootkah Indian meaning "gathering of the tribes) identified the Indian theme for the camp. 192 braves (cubs) representing 8 tribes (packs) were present from the District. The packs chose an Indian tribe and came dressed in costume. Bob Bryden, District Cub Master, was camp chief (Grand Sacham), and was ably assisted by Harold Sheridan of 5th Prescott as "HIC" the medicine man. The boys competed in Indian games during the weekend.

On Saturday evening, the Cubs held a Campfire, putting on skits, etc. Cubs from 9th area (Ottawa District) who were camped in the adjoining campsite, participated at the Campfire. Boy Scouts from the Massena "Order of the Arrow Lodge" performed several authentic Indian dances dressed in appropriate costumes.

Rev. Earle Eaton and Father J.L. Lamarche of Chesterville conducted religious services on Sunday. The Sholem Singers of St. Francis Parish, Brockville, provided music at both services. A group of young musicians from Iroquois assisted Father Lamarche at the Roman Catholic service.

The 5th Prescott Wolf Cub Pack won the Tlum Quanah Trophy in competition, and also won the trophy for the best camp spirit, donated by the 7th Prescott Boy Scout Troop.

The Leaders and helpers are to be commended and congratulated on their efforts and participation in this first event, which was certainly a successful one.

Agricultural Disaster

The damage done to agriculture by unprecedented rainfall in this area is almost incalculable. The excessive moisture-in some areas more than 3 times normal - will cut yields from grain and corn crops catastrophically and has made haying almost impossible. Loss suffered by farmers growing cash crops is large and dairy farmers will be hard put to carry on because of the loss of hay, grain and corn.

This is not just a problem for farmers. Clearly it affects the business of many smaller communities serving the farm population. Urban consumers of dairy products could be affected by shortages and consequent increased prices.

Dundas County Meeting

The farmers of Dundas County last week, after a series of preliminary meetings, held a large public gathering which packed the auditorium of the Nationview School at South Mountain. The proposals made by the meeting were constructive and are now being considered jointly by the Ontario and Federal Governments. A Special Task Force was appointed by the meeting, representing all the Townships of Dundas County, and the Federal and Provincial Governments including Mr. Don Irvine, M.P.P. and myself. This Task Force met immediately after the public meeting and will meet again next Thursday at Winchester, when it will be added to by representatives of other counties in Eastern Ontario, all of which are affected by this disaster.

Practical Proposals

The proposals made were practical, centering on how to keep farmers in business in the face of this emergency. First and foremost was the surveying of all available forage and feed supplies which is underway by the experts of the Canada Department of Agriculture and the Canadian Livestock Feed Board. Second was the way of providing emergency financial assistance to farmers to carry them through this year in the face of reduced income and added expense for the purchase of forage and feed. I have been personally assured by the Canadian Dairy Commission that no producer unable to meet his subsidy quota this year because of this disaster will suffer a penalty and both the Commission and the Ontario Milk Marketing Board are now considering proposals to make this policy operative.

The disaster is not limited to Ontario. Farmers in Quebec face the same problem. Indeed every year natural disasters strike farmers somewhere in Canada. Generally, they have to be dealt with locally by provincial governments, but when they attain a large scale and cannot be met by existing programs such as crop insurance, special action is required involving both provincial and federal governments.

Suggestions Welcomed

Every farmer will naturally want to know as soon as possible what to expect. Everything will be done to hasten decisions. In the meantime, I hope there will be no panic action and that it will be realized that there is no shortage of feed grains in Canada or North America and the services of both Federal and Provincial governments are available to give advice. One positive development from the meeting was the decision to mobilize the forage and feed supplies in the community through the medium of the Ag. Reps. who will compile lists of hay and feed being offered for sale by farmers and names of farmers offering to buy. Everyone concerned is welcome to make suggestions for dealing with the emergancy and any that I receive will be transmitted to both the Task Force and the Federal Government.

(5) An evaluation of the petition procedure for initiating a drainage project.

(6) A review of the construction improvement and maintenance procedures under "The Drainage Act" in achieving the objectives.

(7) A review of the appeal procedures under "The Drainage Act".

(8) A review of the financial procedures and assistance under "The Drainage Act" and other drainage programs.

(9) A study of the costs of land drainage and what influences such costs and how they may be reduced, i.e. engineering costs, etc.

(10) An evaluation of construction practices in general and erosion and weed control of drainage ditches in detail.

(11) A review of the administrative practices and methods in carrying out responsibility under "The Drainage Act".

After due study and consideration to recommend such changes in the laws, procedures and processes as in the opinion of the Committee may be necessary and desirable.

The Committee has the intention of visiting all areas in the Province and to hold public hearings on the questions associated with the above terms of reference.

This therefore, is to invite all interested parties, individual or otherwise, to indicate to the Committee, by (AUGUST 15, 1972) their intention to submit written briefs or their desire to attend the hearings and make oral representations.

The response to this invitation will determine the times and places of hearings. A written notice setting out the time and place of the public hearings will be given as soon as possible to all persons who have filed notice of intention to make written or oral submissions.

REPORT FROM QUEEN'S PARK

DONALD IRVINE, M.P.P.

In previous columns, I have mentioned briefly the subject of cultural and economic sovereignty. Apart from the twin problems of unemployment and inflation, this subject has undergone the broadest examination and is responsible for more public comment in the media than perhaps any other. The argument ranges from the extremes on the one hand of those who would "buy back Canada" at any cost and as quickly as possible to those on the other hand, who would encourage continued foreign investment without regard to any concept of Canadian identity. Both these views tend to oversimplify what is an exceedingly complex problem. The first group overlooks the simple fact that there is a limited pool of investment capital available in this country and the second group ignores a rather obvious desire of Canadians generally to cherish a sense of being different from our neighbours and friends. The first group would use this vital investment capital to the detriment of new and growing Canadian industry which also requires this capital in order to grow, prosper and thereby create new jobs. They would also, it would seem, severely restrict the establishment of subsidiaries of foreign companies in Canada thus further dramatically curtailing creation of essential employment opportunities. Extremes in any position are usually dangerous and damaging in time and the second group is, in many ways, as bad as the first. It is, in my view, essential to ensure domestic control of vital aspects of our economy such as banks, investment dealers and other financial institutions and of those areas of communication which reflect and fortify our cultural heritage. There are obviously no easy solutions.

As you can see, my own position lies somewhere between the two extremes mentioned above. The argument over economic nationalism cannot be separated from consideration of the problem of existing unemployment and the creation of new jobs to accommodate a growing labour force. At the present time, 5.5% of Ontario's work force is jobless. Translated into people, this means that 191,000 men and women are unable to find work. Complicating this problem is the fact that each year an average 150,000 people enter the labour force for which new jobs must be created.

I am very much in favour of positive steps to encourage the development of Canadian industry and indeed would give priority to such measures. I could not in good conscience, however, support policies which would prohibit or discourage the expansion of foreign industry into Canada where such expansion will result in increased job opportunities and where no Canadian firm is prepared to go. I for one would not wish to explain to those in areas of relatively high unemployment that a company that might have provided the necessary jobs will not be permitted to open up in the area because it is U. S. owned. In the battle to combat the inflationary pressures in our economic system, the people who paid the price were 600,000 Canadians who are presently out of work. I suspect that those who would pay the price for a greater degree of Canadian identity and control of industry will be the same people. Such a price is unacceptable to me and while I would support the basic concept of economic sovereignty, the approach to it must be more rational and reasonable. I believe that the Provincial Government has taken a very responsible approach to the dilemma and while I cannot say that I agree with every measure, for the most part they are positive and rational.

This week, I have tried to deal generally with the problem. In next week's column, I will outline some of the more important specific measures which the government has taken in response to it.

on my side) for about five minutes until they turned, flipped their white tails and gazelled back into the woods without panic. A memorable experience.

A friend of mine, who runs cattle on the adjacent property, was out counting his beasts one day when he saw a black bear amble across the property south of this, stroll up the fence line and disappear.

Quite a layout. No wonder I can't get excited about world affairs in a locale like this. You'd have to be nuts to go crazy here, while it's very simple to do so in most "civilized" areas.

Grandad leads a simple but fulfilling life. He cultivates his garden, as Voltaire suggested we do. He doesn't even have a garden, but he cultivates his own small plot of life. He has a deep faith, loves nature, hurts no man, and has an utter integrity which is rare to find these days.

Up at seven, he reads his Bible, makes his breakfast, pokes about doing chores: weeding, digging, mending something. He's ready for lunch and dinner. Enjoys food, though he doesn't eat a lot and weighs about 98.

He drives a fairly gruelling rural mail route (I went with him vesterday, and that's a column in itself). He is the township treasurer, and enjoys working on his books. He has a nap. He gives the house a lick and a polish.

He lives alone but is less lonely than the great majority. He likes to talk religion, politics, pollution, what have you? He doesn't give a hoot about money or acquiring "things". He has one arm and will be 80 this month. Tomorrow, he must take a driving test. He's been driving since 1914 and never had an accident. He's studying for it right now. He'll pass.

Why can't we all live like this, and be like that?

Since coming to Morrisburg, Father MacDonald has made many friends, of all denominations, who, while regretting his departure from Morrisburg, will join in wishing him the best as he pursues God's work to which he is so dedicated, in his new field.

HE WANTS A PET

Here is a 10-year-old who fits admirably into the way of life chosen by so many young people nowadays. Peter likes the simple things — planting seeds, growing flowers, tending a garden, gathering eggs, building things.

Peter's skills are along these lines, rather than academic ones. He is attending opportunity class. Though Peter will not be a scholar, the psychologist who tested him says there is some potential for improvement if he receives personal attention and stimulation.

He is a good-natured, polite boy who lacks self-confidence. He accepts responsibilities willingly and is conscientious about doing chores, such as feeding the chickens at his foster home. He likes to be involved with some adult in a project.

Being fond of animals, Peter would love to have a pet of his own to care for. He is looking forward to attending a camp this summer. Just now, his great interest is flying kites.

This healthy, stocky lad has fair skin, light brown hair and dark eyes. He wears glasses for astigmatism.

Peter very much needs a family who will not expect academic prowess, but will want to explore and help him develop his interests to the limit of his potential. There should be no other children close to him in age, so the parents will have a lot of time to devote to Peter.

To inquire about adopting Peter, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information write your Children's Aid Society.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to draw your attention to what Mr. John R. Jackson has to say about National Farmers Union's Roy Atkinson telling lies.

First of all, the Union is made up of Bona Fide Farmers. Now who is John R. Jackson and where does his money come from? Could it be this man is obligated to corporations that force or buy such statements to be made? Now will the real Mr. John R. Jackson please stand up and first say that he is president of the National Dairy Council and that Kraft refused to meet with the N.F.U. or have any representative do so. The N.F.U. know who all these people are and yet they claim to be associated with farm organizations, although they are just Government agencies. I wonder if Mr. Jackson would care to call all Bona Fide farmers to a meeting and not just the few that he claims follows Mr. Roy Atkinson, but all of us who know that the Dairy Council is also an annex of government controlled by corporations and Kraft is most certainly one of the strongest corporations.

John LaBatts has also got a good foot hold in this area - both feed and milk. We have to accept their say so. Please, would Mr. Jackson tell us why such big companies are so interested in the farm business.

Farmers milk cows and corporations milk farmers. Could it be that it is as our Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Olson, is correct; that if farmers do not want to unionize, they must suffer some more?

I tried to get more of the papers that earned Mr. Olson's speech but was told that they were sold out, which lead me to believe that even the news media is also doing some sucking.

Now I am prepared to say that I have several farmers who will sit beside Mr. John R. Jackson on a platform in front of a crowd and prove that he hasn't a clue to back up what he is saying.

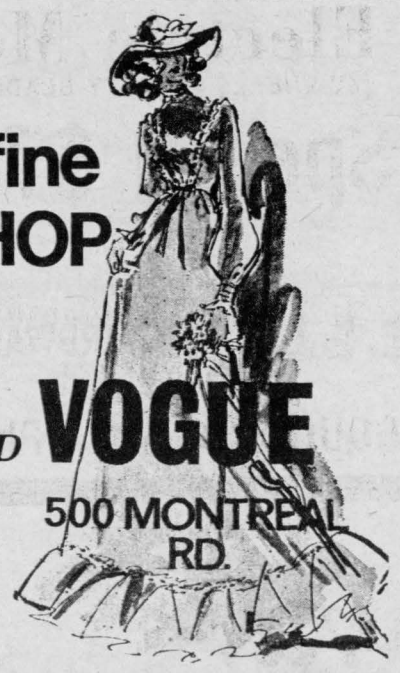

I saw these degrading statements in the Ottawa Journal on July 4/72.

Midget Fastball Tournament

On Sat., July 29th, the Recreation Dept. of the Village of Iroquois hosted a fastball tournament for midget teams and under. 11 teams entered the tournament. At least 2 of the teams were bantam. All of the teams played some very good ball.

The winner of the "A" round was Kemptville who took home $50.00. The runner-up team was Brinston who received $35 for their efforts.

The "B" series was won by our own Iroquois Braves. They received $25.00.

The other teams entered were from Osgoode, Gloucester, Inkerman, Mountain, Williamsburg, Winchester, Metcalfe and Moose Creek.

The prize money was presented to the winning teams by Mrs. Helen Smith, member of Council for the Recreation Department.

The Committee for this tournament would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people, especially the youngsters, for the help they gave to make this tournament a success.

Dollars and Good Sense

With all the talk about technological developments and changing life styles, it was interesting to see the results of an 18-month study which finds that life in 1980 will be about the same as today.

Scholars from Michigan State University, the University of Chicago, the University of Wyoming, Indiana University and Harvard and a marketing executive from Whirlpool Corp., conducted the study on consumer environments and life styles of the 1980's.

The report says that despite the attention being given to changes, the most striking indication is that life styles and values of various social classes will demonstrate great stability.

Increases in affluence will not result in the purchase of different kinds of products, entirely new life styles or different product associations and meanings, say the researchers. Consumers will purchase what they have always wanted but could not afford, they report.

In other words, things will stay about the same; we'll just be able to accumulate more of the things we already want.

The report also indicates that time may become more important than money in the near future. It seems that our increasing affluence will result in less rather than more free time.

Consumers' discretionary time will not be appreciably increased by a shorter work week (where shorter work hours have occurred so has moonlighting), the report says, and more goods and services will be competing for the limited time available.

White - Morrison Wedding

A wedding of local interest was solemnized at St. John's Episcopal Church, Caroline Street, Ogdensberg, N.Y. on Saturday, July 8th, 1972 at 1 p.m. when Miss Margaret Anne Morrison, daughter of Mrs. Audrey M. Morrison (the former Miss Audrey M. Brown, and a longtime resident of Iroquois and area) now residing at 424 Rensselaer Ave., Ogdensberg, N.Y. and Lieut. Jeffrey Lewis White, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. White, Wellesley, Mass., exchanged wedding vows. Rev. Daniel Herzog officiated.

Miss Linda Peterson, White Plains, N.Y. was maid of honour. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Taylor, Morristown, N.Y. and Misses Laurie and Karen White, Wellesley, Mass., sisters of the bridegroom.

Glen Herdman, Angelica, was best man, and the ushers were Martin Amati, Corning, N.Y., Joseph Tonatore and Myron Melius, both of Buffalo, N.Y.

A reception followed the ceremony at Gran-View Route 37, South Ogdensberg, N.Y., with the bride's mother receiving the guests. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother.

Later, the young couple left on a trip to Cape Cod, Mass. After spending a brief time with the bride's mother and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. White left from Syracuse, N. Y. by plane to Hawaii, where they will be residing.

Mrs. White, a 1967 graduate of Morristown Central School, graduated from Potsdam State University College in 1971 and taught English at Beaver River Central School, Beaver Falls, N.Y. for a year.

Lieutenant White, a 1967 graduate of Greenwich High School, Greenwich Conn., and graduate of Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam, N.Y. in 1971, is serving in the Army Signal Corps, Hawaii.

A new way to really get your mail moving: Your local Postal Code.

By now, you've probably received your new Postal Code. And you may have seen or heard ads telling people in big cities how accurate and complicated their codes are.

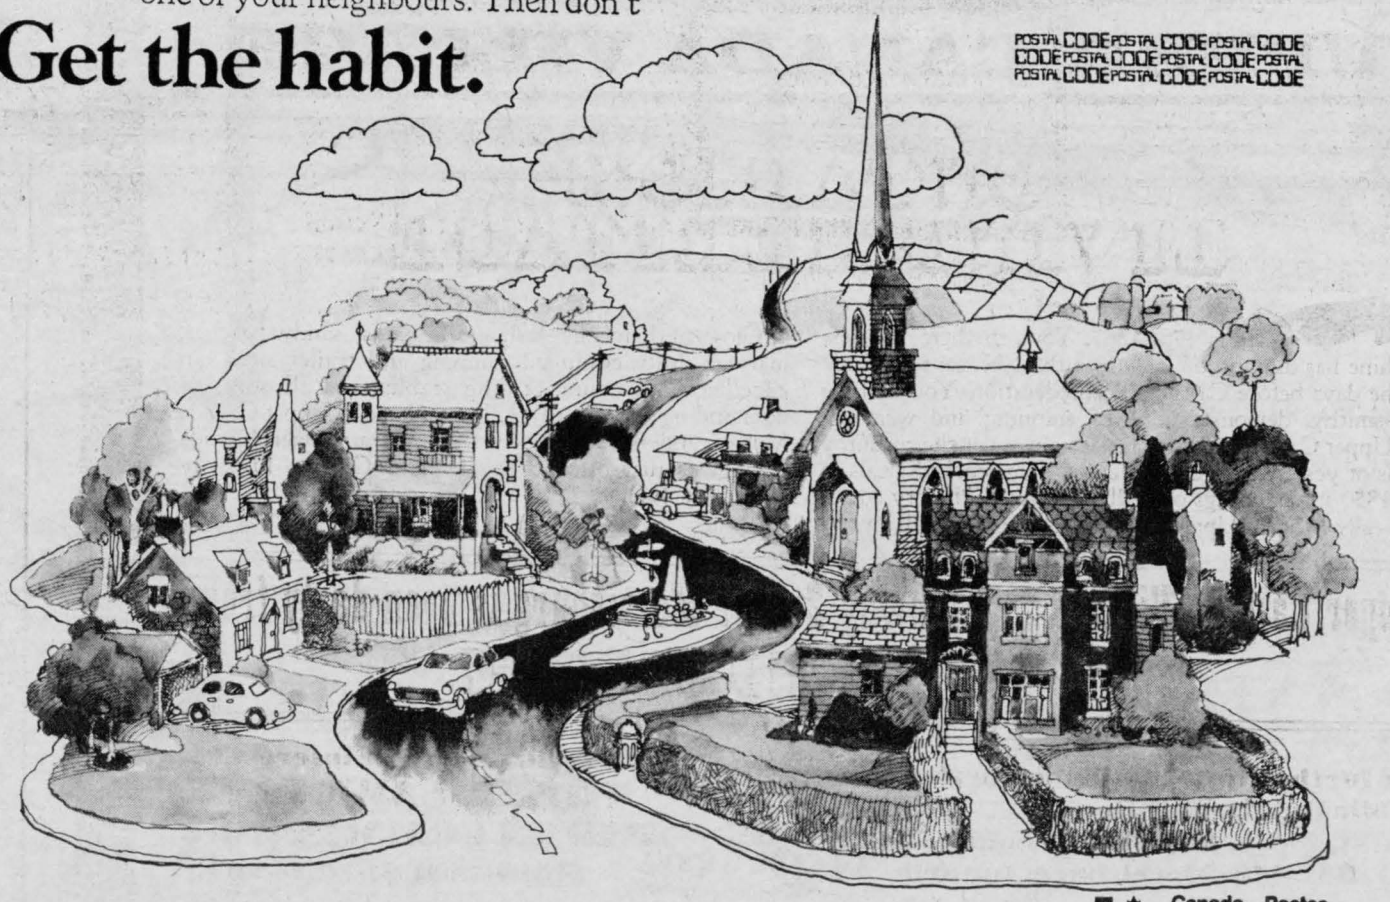

Well, your local code is not as complicated. Obviously, since fewer people live in your area, we don't need as many codes. In fact, all we need is one code to represent all the people in your town and on your rural route.

So, if you forget your code, just ask one of your neighbours. Then don't forget, send it to your friends.

If they live in big cities, tell them how complicated their life is.

And if you haven't received your Code by July 31st, please call your local Post Office. We will mail it to you immediately. It is possible however, that you are not in the Eastern Ontario Postal District, in which case your area may not have been coded yet. For information in Ottawa call 996-6441.

In Memoriam

SEELEY - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Ivan Seeley who passed away July 26, 1971.
God knew that he was suffering
That the hills were hard to climb
So he closed his weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine"
Away in the beautiful hill of God,
By the valley of rest so fair,
Someday, we know not when
We will meet our loved one there.
Wife Vivian, family
Aubrey, June, Joyce and grandchildren. 1p

SEELEY - In fond memory of our brother-in-law, Ivan, who passed away July 26, 1971.
Memories are more precious than flowers.
They never fade away.
Leila and Clarence Carter
1p

MERKLEY - In memory of a dear lovely husband and father and sons and brothers who passed away. A lovely husband and father, Ralph, passed away July 12, 1966 and a lovely son and brother, Albert, passed away June 26, 1966, and a lovely son and brother Ivan, passed away July 19, 1959.
Our heart still aches with sadness,
Secret tears still flow.
What it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
When days are sad and lonely
When everything goes wrong
We seem to hear you whisper
"Cheer up and carry on".
Each time we look at your photo
You seem to smile and say
Don't cry, we three are only sleeping
We will meet again some day.
God knows what he wants
And he picked us three
He took us to the golden home
Of bed of flowers.
Sadly missed by wife and mother Dora, daughter-sister Edith and son-in-law Duane Gore, grandchildren, sons, brothers, sisters and daughters.
