Death Follows Mishap

Mrs. Samuel Baker aged 68 years who resided near Cass Bridge, fell over the fence on Wednesday of last week when returning from a neighbour's, which caused hemorrage of the brain, and she did not regain consciousness, passing away the same night. Her funeral service was conducted at her late home on Friday at 1.30 p. m. by Rev. J. A. Waddell.

Special Census Taken

This week a special census has been taken of the population of Chesterville which is reported to have revealed a total of more than a thousand citizens. a considerably larger number than shown by the assessor's books. The idea behind the special count is to try and have a delivery service inaugurated by the express company, to which we are said to be entitled when the population passes the ten hundred mark. Since the moving of the frieght sheds by the C. P R. to a most inconvenient site outside of the municipality, many people would rather pay the higher express rates on small shipments than to make the day's journey to the freight sheds to get to their goods.

Central Ottawa Valley League Re-organized

Last night at Finch a five club hockey league was formed for the coming season made up of Berwick, Finch, Avonmore, Chesterville and Winchester, when the following officers were elected.

Ontario Hockey Association rules will be played under exclusively in affiliation with the Ottawa district.

A double schedule will be played as has been the custom, with the winners of the first section playing off with the winners of the second for championship honors. The schedule committee will meet at Finch on Tuesday next for the purpose of working out a schedule. Chesterville was represented at Finch last night by Eric Casselman and H. Hamilton.

Humphrey Erratt Passes Away

After a few months suffering from cancer of the stomach, patiently endured, there passed quietly away last Friday at 7.45 p.m., one of God's choice men in the person of Mr. Humphrey Erratt of Melvin Settlement. Born in 1850 on a farm very near where he died, he had lived most of his life in that settlement where he had served his community as school trustee, secretary-treas. of the school-board, Councillor and then Reeve of Winchester township, also Assessor and Poor Warden of the same at different times.

Mr. Erratt has always been actively identified with the Methodist church in Winchester, of which he was one of the original trustees, and always an honored member of the Quarterly Official Board He was noted for his integrity of character. His wife, with three sons and three daughters, survive to cherish the holy memory of a noble Christian husband and father. An impressive funeral service was conducted on Monday at 1.30 p. m. in the church he loved to attend, by his pastor Rev. John Waddell, after which his body was laid to rest in the family plot at Maple Ridge cemetery.

Girl in Her Teens Passes Away

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fawcett was deeply bereaved on Sunday last when their youngest daughter Thelma, passed away in Smiths Falls following an operation. For some time she had not been in the best of health and was in the hospital for treatment when it became necessary to undergo an operation. The funeral was held at Trinity Methodist church Tuesday afternoon and was largely attended, the service being conducted by Rev. H. S. Cooke of Morewood.

Morewood Institute

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Howard Myers, Tuesday Nov. 13th, with a good attendance of members and one visitor. After reading of the minutes and business discussion was over, Mrs. J. A. Glasgow, Junior, of Cannamore, gave a good report of the Convention held at the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, in October. One of the outstanding features of the report was a message from Mr. G. A. Putman, Superintendant of Women's Institutes, Toronto, to the different branches, "If it were not possible to take up new work to still carry on." A piano selection was given by Miss Minnie Coulthart in her usual good style. The meeting closed with singing the National Anthem.

Honor For Old Dundas The Home of the McIntosh

The Canadian McIntosh Red apple has been awarded the prize as the champion dessert apple in the British Empire by the judges at the Imperial Fruit Show in Manchester. Cox Orange Pippins from British Columbia won the Daily Mail's award of 50 guineas

These prizes only point the way to another one of the thousands of opportunities that are constantly offering themselves to Canadians. Nowhere on earth is the climate better fitted for the raising of apples than in Ontario. Capturing a permanent export market for them is simply a matter of care in raising, selecting and packing the apples. And the business will pay well.

Sturdy Veteran Nearing Century

Mr. Jaspar S. Siguin of Crysler celebrates 96th birthday in best of health.

Still possessed of all his faculties and able to do a good day's work, although he is just four years short of the century mark. Mr. Jasper Sawyer Siguin father of Mrs. Victor Sigouin of Crysler, Ont., former residents of Chesterville is living proof that after all years are an imperfect measure of age.

When Mr. Siguin celebrated his 96th birthday last Thursday he counted his age by years at 96, but mentally and physically he is a comparatively young man. Mr. Siguin enjoys excellent health, and has never suffered any chronic disease of any kind. He eats and sleeps well; reads without the aid of glasses, hears perfectly, and is as supple as any man at forty Certainly there are few men even twenty, or thirty years younger, who can boast such a remarkable record. Mr. Siguin spends the summer months with his son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Sigouin on their farm at Crysler. There he is always first up in the morning, lights the fire, strains the milk, hitches the horse and draws the milk to the factory just as any young man. He is also able to do the various chores about the farm. His winters are spent with his other daughters in Massena, N. Y. He is the father of 12 children nine of whom are living. Mr. Siguin was a farmer up till the age of seventy years, after which he retired later becoming foreman on American roads, a position he held for 12 years. His wife died 12 years ago. That Mr. Siguin comes of long lived stock is evidenced by the fact, that his father lived to 102 years.

Doesn't Believe In Dreams

Orillia Packet—About a week ago a resident of Front str. had a dream. It was so realistic that he got up about 2 o'clock and dressed. It had been his custom to use his neighbor's telephone and he heard his neighbor's son open the door and call to him that he was wanted on the telephone. When he got dressed he went over to the neighbor's house, and finding the door unlocked, walked in and answered his errand. Imagine his surprise when he found that the boy he supposed had called him was not at home, and that he had had a dream.

German Frau Sells a Calf And Can Buy a Nice Fish

The widow of a farmer living near Clausthal has lost the proceeds from a sale of a calf which she marketed for 1,000,000 marks six months ago. Canadian Airplane to Manufacture a Flivver

A new industry in the nature of the manufacture of airplane "Flivvers" is being introduced into Canada.

It is claimed by the directors of the Canadian Airplane Company that they are prepared to give the travelling public a fool-proof machine, with 100 per cent. flying efficiency and 100 per cent. safety. The latest models are of a new design which have proved a great success as far as the safety factor is concerned.

The airplane "flivver" is claimed to be the first machine built on the American continent or in Europe which makes a landing in a vertical path. It is absolutely immune from nose-diving and tail spinning.

Mr. Jeremiah Lane, Williamsburg

Death came suddenly to Mr. Jeremiah Lane, an old resident of Williamsburg, on Tuesday, November 13th, 1923. He had been in his usual health and while attending church Sunday morning took a very weak turn from which he rallied until Tuesday morning, while out doors he suddenly expired.

The late Mr. Lane was in his eighty-sfxth year and lived on a farm just north of Boucks Hill until a few years ago he and Mrs. Lane moved to Williamsburg. He was an elder of the Presbyterian church, Williamsburg, and by his faithful attendance from Sabbath to Sabbath, showed his Christian fortitude and devotion toward the sacred teachings of his Heavenly Master. Deceasad was of a kind and amiable disposition, sympathetic and unassuming and respected by all who knew him. Six years ago Mr. and Mrs. Lane celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

He is survived by his wife and one son William on the farm north of Boucks Hill, two daughters Mrs. G. F. Brown of Utica, U. S. A., and Mrs. Morley Wells of Morrisburg; also one brother, George of Williamsburg.

The funeral service was conducted by the Pastor Rev. E. Smith, on Thursday afternoon, from his late residence to the Presbyterian church. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved.

Report of the Morewood Women's Institute Library

Three years ago we opened our library with the help of the Institute travelling library, with about sixty new books which we bought. It cost us $55.00 per year for rent and librarian, which we could not afford, so we rented a corner in a store and put in cupboards for our books, we pay $25.00 for the rent there. To save a librarian's salary our Institute members take care of the library for one month at a time and report at each Institute meeting the fees and fines collected for that month.

We now have nearly 300 books in our library and are buying more new ones this month. Our subscribers appreciate new books very much during the long winter evenings. Our Institute members pay 75c per year for 2 books and 50c for one. Books can be changed every Saturday night from 7.30 until 9 o'clock. They may keep their books two weeks and if not returned then they must pay a fine of 2c for each book for every day until it is returned. We have 80 subscribers. We maintain our library by fees and fines, also by plays, picnics, socials and concerts, whenever we can. We have bought books to the sum $313.00 and have paid about $120.00 for rent and librarian since we opened. Mrs. A. Glasgow, Secretary-Treasurer.

Ready For Emergencies

He came out of the house with an artifical leg, an artifical arm and a crutch hung over his shoulder. "For the love of Mike, what's the idea of all the junk?" exclaimed his next door neighbor. "Oh!" he exclaimed, "I am going down town and will have to cross a number of busy streets and thought I had better take a few spare parts with me."

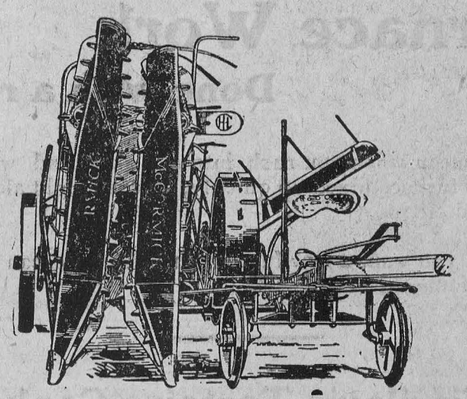
McCormick and Deering CORN BINDERS



Cutting corn by hand is very hard work, as all men know who have tried it. In fact it is out of the question to fill a silo with hand cut corn. Yet corn stalks either green for the silo or stacked dry for fodder are the best food for cattle and horses.

The use of the McCormick or Deering Corn Binder will solve this problem You can cut and bind seven acres a day and do it much easier than by the hand method.

Modern Dick Turpins

Since the motor vehicle has become an important factor in transportation, since roads have been improved and traffic has returned to them, we have once more the highwayman. Before the railway age, his kind infested the roads in England and in other lands and levied illicit toll upon the travelling public, Armed with pistols and mounted upon fine horses, they held up stage coaches and private conveyances, robbed mails and relieved passengers of their valuables. For a time Dick Turpin and his thievish fellowship thrived, seemed able to outwit the law at will and, indeed, were represented in some of the ballads of their day in rather a heroic light But gradually they found their profession growing more and more hazardous. Bullets and ' Bow Street Runners" laid them by the heels and severe sentences to death or transportation to penal colonies for life terminated their criminal careers. The law, backed by public opinion, set itself to check their operations and, at last, made it apparent that the life of a highwayman, though it might, perhaps, be a gay one, was doomed to be a short one. With the completion of railways, traffic which offered temptations for predatory individuals forsook the roads. Then a class of robbers, who stopped trains and held up mail clerks, express messengers and passengers at the point of revolvers occupied the attention of officers of the law. Against such desperadoes, the law, on the whole has been successful.

The development of the automobile and the consequent improvement of highways has brought traffic back to the roads. On the roads fly motor cars whose occupants are on pleasure tours and may have money and other valuables in their possession. Other vehicles transport merchandise. Some cars, too, are used in illicit traffic. They may contain liquor or their passengers may be carrying the proceeds of their illegal business. So a new race of armed highwaymen, using automobiles and employing various ruses to stop and rob travellers, has appeared on the roads. Some, according to recent newspaper reports, are operating in Ontario. They are equipped with modern means for swift flight from the scenes of their crimes, but having regard to modern methods of communication, they probably enjoy no greater advantages than the highwaymen of an earlier day. They offer to the forces of law and order a challenge which must be accepted promptly. They cannot be allowed to become a constant menace to peaceable, unarmed travellers. They must, therefore, be vigorously pursued and, when captured, must be severely punished. Men who take to the highway for the purpose of committing robbery with violence must be made to feel that they are on the road leading inevitably to the penitentiary and that their return journey will be long postponed, just as their predecessors were taught that for them Hounslow Heath was but a step removed from Newgate and Tyburn tree.

They Do Us Proud

Buffalo Times.—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police celebrate. It's just 50 years since the founding of this celebrated law-and-order outfit. Movies and fiction have made them famous, deservedly so.

It's said of the. "Mounties:" "They never come back without their man." A case is even on record where one of them walked into Regina headquarters with his prisoner after a 30-years' chase.

Cost a lot of money, yes. But it was worth it, if only for its psychological effect. News of such exploits spreads all through the Far North.

When the Royal Mounted were organized in 1873, Indians were carrying on a feud with the soldiers who wore blue uniforms. To impress the Indians that they were not soldiers, the Mounted decided to wear red coats—and still do.

The red coats made excellent targets. Indians naturally decided that the wearers must be fearless—just as our Indians respected the frontiersmen who let their hair grow long to indicate they weren't afraid of being scalped.

The life of a Royal Mounted member is not all gun-play. He explores for his government, makes maps, sounds rivers and lakes, investigates mineral formations. He watches for forest fires in his district and helps fight them. He tells settlers how to farm scientifically. Arriving during an epidemic, he turns out to be an able doctor.

All around, the Royal Mounted are more active in the fields of peace than in playing Sherlock Holmes in the country of muskeg and caribou.

Fear

"I don't enjoy my motor car," said Charles Adolphus Squires, "although it glitters like a star and has four handsome tires. For always, always as I ride, I'm fearing some mishap; into a ditch the bus may slide and spoil by priceless map. The gas I carry may explode, as I pursue my way, and strew my fragrants down the road and up the verdant brae. I often lie awake o'nights and think up grisly scenes, where I collide with other weights, and smash our limousines. I see myself on a stretcher borne from scenes of wreck and woe, while creditors stand around and mourn and figure what I owe." And fear is spoiling countless lives, the fear of dole ahead; like Charles Adolphus when he drives, we fake up things to dread. My nieces gambol by my door, they play with old dog Shep; they have no pimple, boil or sore, they're gay and full of pep. And I regard them with a sigh, with tears their sport I view; to-morrow all these girls may die, of mumps or Spanish flu. I have a dwelling, green and grey, the smoothest shack in town; "But storms will ruin it," I say "or fire will burn it down." I wonder why we look for woe in every coming breeze; I wonder why we don't outgrow such dippy fears as these.—Walt. Mason

A Masterpiece

A young entrance pupil writing on the June examination in composition at a certain Ontario centre contributed the following choice bit oi literature.

"An editor is a man who edits a paper. Some editors use a pen to write with, but some use a scissors. Lots of editors get news from scribes. Some editors are Fairisees. Nearly all editors lie. An editor that can't lie ain't no good for an editor. An editor should like gossip. Women would make good editors only editors must keep secrets. An editor never has any money. Once an editor got 10 cents and it made him crazy. An editor never wants any pay for his paper and people never think of paying an editor. When an editor gets a free ticket he has to give a dollar's worth of free advertising in advance. More people know how to edit a paper than the editors do. If the editor asks for his pay for his paper the fellow gets mad, so it is cheaper to borrow someone else's. Some editors are not afraid of men: I once knew a woman that frightened an editor and made him crawl under a table." (This boy is said to have pasaed with honors.)

China's Wheelbarrows

China is said to be awakening. If that be so, it must be just a preliminary yawn and stretch. A recently returned traveller says: Almost all the freight in Tsinanfu, a walled city of 300,000 inhabitants at the land end of the Shantung railway, in China, is moved in wheelbarrows. Some of the loads are thus conveyed distances of 15 to 20 miles a day. Wheelbarrows also handle passenger traffic. "My lady" frequently returns from her shopping tours, with her bundles on one side and herself on the other. Half a dozen people may ride in front of a puffing and perspiring coolie. The wheel is in the centre of the barrow, which aids in balancing the load. If it is unusually heavy, another man or boy helps to pull by means of a rope or strap thrown across his shoulders. In a very few instances a mule is the assistant, but it requires a man to lead the mule.

Idea of Canadians Undergoes Surprise

Addressing a gathering in Toronto, Sunday night, Miss Amy Woods, of Washington, D. C., national secretary of the Women's International League of Peace, said she was agreeably surprised to find that the Canadian people were not the ignorant, brutal race that she and millions of others in the United States had been taught to believe. The Brock memorial at Queenston Heights appaled her, as she had never before heard that the Americans had waged war in Canada.

EAGER TO COME TO CANADA

This photograph was taken at the European head office of the Canadian Pacific Railway in London, England, and shows a number of men who were induced by the special harvesters rate to make further enquiries with regard to the scheme and conditions to be expected here after the harvest. Nearly five thousand men, the finest to come within the Canadian immigrant class in years, were recruited by the Canadian Pacific, and lack of steamship accommodation necessitated the closing of the doors against almost as many more.

Here and There

The season for moose hunting opened in New Brunswick October 1st, and the chief game warden expects one of the best seasons in the history of the province. Game is reported plentiful in all sections.

The drydock at St. John, New Brunswick, is now an accomplished work. It was opened October 29th. The largest drydock in North America, it is capable of accommodating the largest ships of the British Navy.

Speaking in London, England, on October 19th, Sir Lomer Gouin, Canadian Minister of Justice, stated that Canada's exports per capita were three times more than those of the United States and her imports per capita four times more. The British Empire was Canada's second best customer.

There are more telephones in Canada per 100 population than in any other country except the United States. This is shown in a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in which the proportion of telephone users per 100 population is set at 10.53.

A dispatch from London states that a number of cattle from the Prince of Wales' ranch was included in a large consignment of Canadian cattle which reached Cardiff recently. There appeared to be a keen demand for the consignment and 150 head were despatched to Norfolk farmers by special train.

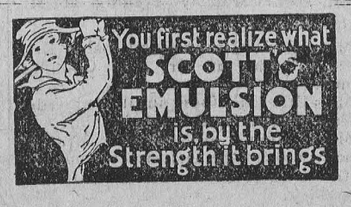
Members of the Bread and Cake Bakers' Association of Canada, at the closing session of their Toronto convention, pledged subscriptions totalling $10,000 towards the launching of a permanent institute of baking, in connection with the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. It is expected that the school will be opened early in 1924.

Canadian Pacific Railway figures show remarkable increases in the shipment of grain for the ten week days preceding and including October 18th, this year, as compared with 1922. During the ten days there were loaded for shipment over the whole system a total of 16,195 cars, at the rate of 2,350,000 bushels a day, in comparison with 12,000 cars at 1,753,000 bushels a day last year.

It is expected that by the end of the present month track-laying on the branch of the Canadian Pacific running from Kipawa to the Government dam on the De Quinze River, a distance of 69 miles, with a spur from Gaboury to Ville Marie, a distance of 8 miles, will be completed and that by the end of November the whole line will be ready for operation.

A system of education by mail for those who live in remote rural districts out of reach of rural schools is being prepared by Hon. Perron Baker, Minister of Education for Alberta, to go into effect this month. The working plan has already been drawn up to run through the winter to the end of the school year. It is expected that from 20 to 40 lessons will be given in the case of each applicant for the service.

Of 526 girls brought to Saskatchewan from the British Isles from 1920 to June 15, 1923, only six have returned overseas, and of the sum of $45,411.55 advanced to the girls the sum of $42,980.98 had been repaid up to June 15th, 400 having repaid their loan in full and the balance of 126 paying all but the sum of $2,430.57. The girls came to Canada to positions as household workers.



Origin Of "Two Bits."

Many have wondered why 25c should be referred to as "two bits," and may be interested to learn how it originated. A bit is the American equivalent to the old Spanish real, which was used in California back in '49. When it disappeared finally, it had become part of the language. When American silver replaced the real it was reckoned in terms of bits which were worth 12½ cents. Two of them made two bits, which equalled the American quarter. It was also used in company with Chinook the western made language of early days. Difficulty arose when anything smaller than a quarter was produced in payment. The bit was the universal standard. Hence a dime was known as a short bit and 15 cents a long bit. Copper was taboo. If a customer bought a bits worth of tobacco and gave the storekeeper a quarter he'd get a dime change. If he had a dime it would be accepted, but if he didn't he was penalized 2½ cents.

Friends Who Believe In You

Stick to the people who inspire you with self-confidence. That does not mean the flatterers, of course, with flattery while it may be responsible for vanity and conceit, does not give birth to anything strong and wholesome. But there are people who, while they do not flatter you, believe in you and make you believe in yourself. There is something in your attitude which is a challenge to you to develope powers hitherto neglected, to attempt feats that up to this time have seemed beyond you to be worthy of a confidence whose inspiration you feel, even if it is not put into words. If you have friends who have this effect upon you, stick to them.

Morewood High School

The High School girls gave a debate at the literary society last Friday, Pearle Swerdfeger and Edna Whittaker upheld the affirmative side of, "Resolved that the city boy or girl has a better time than the country boy or girl," and Susie Elliott, assisted by Helen Steen, argued warmly for the negative side. According to the decision of the judges, the negative made the greatest number of points. The programme was varied by a spelling match and musical selections from the High School Orchestra.

The new officers to take their place at the next meeting are, President, Dwight Feely; Vice-President, Muriel Jobb; Secretary-Treasurer, Susie Elliott; Executive Committee, Mack Hutchinson, Robert Hillis and Hume McConnell.

Mrs. W. H. Becker, Executive Secretary of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations, is to address a public meeting in the Presbyterian Hall on Wednesday November 28, at 8 p. m. The object of her visit is to promote a closer co-operation between the home and school. It is hoped that the Hall will be well filled by persons interested in the welfare of the school.

The seventh regular meeting of the Junior Red Cross was held in Room "A" November 16th. In the absence of our President, Kathleen Bogart acted as chairman.

The program was of a miscellaneous nature, consisting of Readings and Recitations from the "Red Cross Junior." Gladys Alford gave a reading about an "Auxiliary in Saskatchewan." Francis Fulton gave a reading on a "Manitoba Auxiliary." Rose Allison read a story written by a fourteen year-old girl on "Daisy's Red Cross Holiday." Mr. Boyd read a letter from New Brunswick, first in French then in English, which was very interesting. Bruce Harper said a short recitation on "November." Ralph Durant read an article on "Armistice Day." Arthur Haley read some interesting incidents in the life of "Our Prince." Eldridge Perault gave a reading on "The Microbe on the Pen," which showed the dangers from biting and sucking pens and pencils. Harry Henderson read a poem entitled "A Good Thanksgiving" which showed the thanks one might receive by giving small gifts.

The visiting Committee's report was given on two absent members.

Mr. Boyd suggested that the Room Committee keep the washing equipment clean, also see that the room is of proper temperature and that the blackboards and chalk-troughs are cleaned when necessary. It was also suggested that a Special Committee be appointed to arrange for Christmas gifts to be sent out from the Auxiliary.

The Treasurer then gave the Mite box report which was fifteen cents for the week.

Ralph Durant and Jimmie Crammer each paid a fine of ten cents for losing their buttons. They will each receive another button. The meeting closed at twelve o'clock.

Need a Permit Card for Car in Montreal

All drivers of motor cars from Ontario or other provinces motoring on Montreal streets must carry their permit cards, according to word received by a local issuer of licenses. Their cars are liable for inspection, and, if the driver is unable to show his permit, he is subject to a fine. Recently a driver from Ontario who could not produce his card was fined $10 in the Montreal police court. The order is expected to make it more difficult for anyone to get away with a stolen car.

Morewood W. M. S.
Thanksgiving Service

The woman's Missionary Society of the Morewood Methodist Church is to be congratulated on the splendid success of its Thanksgiving Services. The service in the church was largely attended and the congregation was delighted with the splendid program provided. Among the guests from outside were Mrs. Earle and Mrs. Keyes of Winchester, both of whom assisted in the program. Mrs. Keyes gave a splendid and touching reading entitled "The dying Missionary" which brought us again to think of the deep devotion and true heroism of the Missionary of the Cross. Mrs. Earle gave a splendid paper on the subject, "What would my Society be if every member were just like me" in which she described the ideal member by several well defined and striking points that could not fail of helpfuiness. Among other contributors to the program were, Mrs. Smith, president, who read the scriptures; Mrs. Abner Dillabough, who gave a very fine report of the Branch meeting held in Aultsville recently. Miss Ellice Smith read an article entitled "When the Deacon Talked in Church." The special music for the service was provided by the church choir and the Mission Band, both rendering splendid selections in a way appreciated by all. The Minister, Rev. Mr. Cooke, had charge of the service.

The following evening the members of the Society with their husbands and some other friends, meat the parsonage for a social event ing. The evening was spent in singing, games, contests and other forms of entertainment. The gathering which was well attended, enjoyed a very pleasant evening and Mr. W. J. Smith embodied an expression of the appreciation of the gathering to Mr. and Mrs. Cooke and the members of the Society in a formal resolution which was heartily supported by the gathering. A splendid offering was realized at both the services.

The Late Mrs. Bat. Walsh, Berwick

It has pleased God in His infinite power to call from the midst of her dear family and friends, Mrs. Bat. Walsh, who passed away to her heavenly reward on Saturday Nov. 10th, at the age of seventy-two.

Mrs. Walsh, who was formerly Miss Margaret Moriarity of Limerick, was married to Mr. Bat. Walsh at Crysler in Jan. 1874, taking up residence in Berwick, where she formed many endearing friendships. The deceased had always enjoyed the best of health until a few months previous to her death, during which time she bore her sufferings meekly and uncomplainingly. All worldly means were procured to relieve her sufferings, she was given the most loving care from her husband and family with the additional comfort of having her eldest daughter Mrs. Mary Rushman of Dickinson Landing with her. But fond hopes and the most ardent wishes were of no avail.

The deceased possessed a kind, loving disposition. Her humility, patience and charity were most remarkable especially among her friends in the immediate community,

During her illness spiritual comfort and fortitude were imparted to her by Rev. Father Leahy as well as being visited by Rev. Father McRae of Dickinson Landing, Rev. Father Huot of Cornwall, Rev. Father Secord and the Rev. Sisters Idea and Mary Magdellen of Ottawa.

She leaves to mourn her loss her bereaved husband, two daughters, Mrs. Mary Rushman, Dickinson Landing; Mrs. Eddie Barrett, Chesterville; three sons, Alfred of Illmo, Mo., Frank of Mimico, Ont., Dan at home and one brother Tim Moriarity of Limeriek.

The funeral which was one of the largest, took place from her home and proceeded to St. Mary's church, Crysler, where a Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Leahy, and thence to the cemetery for interment.

The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Dan McMahon, Felix Beehler, Pat Moran, Archie Hunt, Willie Barrett and John Manley.

Among the many who attended the funeral were; Rev. Father Corbett McRae, Dickinson Landing; Alfred Walsh, Illmo, Mo.; Frank Walsh, Mimico, Ont.; Mrs. J. H. Hughes, Mrs. John McMahon of Ottawa, and Mr. Tom McMahon of Rochester, N. Y.

Spiritual offerings were received from: Rev. Father McRae, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Cain, Mr and Mrs. Jno. McCadden, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Why The Chain Store Did Not Go In

(Saturday Evening Post.)

After conducting an investigation running over several weeks, a powerful chain store organization in the United States decided against opening a store in one of the best business towns in that country. The investigator who made the decision was interviewed by a writer for the Saturday Evening Post in the following manner:

"It's a good busines town," he said "a mighty good one. But I'm going to pass it up. Come along with me and I'll show you why."

We went out of the hotel and down the main street until we came opposite a fair-sized store, to which he called my attention. It was not the largest store in its line, the main characteristic that claimed my attention being two good sized show windows, very nicely trimmed, with a man on a stepladder polishing the glass. Inside I could see a number of women sitting on settees near the door, evidently country people who were waiting for their men folk to join them for the ride home. Three or four clerks were waiting on other people and a well-dressed man was circulating agreeably around, overlooking everything with in an air of proprietorship.

"That fellow walking around in there is the reason I am not going to locate a branch in this town," my chain-store friend told me. "Since I have been here he has changed his window display three times. I saw his fresh advertisements in the home newspaper every day. I wired my people for a special trade report on him and got a reply stating that he buys in small lots but always discounts his bills."

We left the place and walked back toward the hotel. What the chain-store man had told me was all in favor of the merchants, but I could not see why the situation should stop a millionaire corporation from opening a branch store in the town. The chain-store man enlightened me.

"We always shy off from competition like that," he said. "My reports and my personal observations convince me that this fellow is a first class business man, and he is giving the public what it wants at reasonable prices. Discounting his bills and always being able to get money from his bank to pick up bargain lots, it is likely he buys his merchandise pretty near as cheap as my concern does. That part of it wouldn't worry me so much; but did you notice the people waiting around as though they were at home? Besides being a good business man, he has managed to throw his personality into his business, and there is just where he would beat us. I'm taking the train out to-night."

CRIPPLED BY RHEUMATISM

Began to Improve After Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

The Medicine Made From Fruit

You can get rid of Rheumatism. You can be free of pain—of swollen hands and feet—of aching arms, legs and back.

"Fruit-a-tives" will drive the cause of Rheumatism out of the system and give you permanent relief.

"For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. Finally I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". Before using half a box, I noticed improvement. I continued taking "Fruit-a-tives" improving all the time. I can now walk about two miles and do chores around the place".

The Verbal Knock-Out

While Jimmy Wilde, the famous lightweight boxer, crossed from England to the States a short while back, his first trip by rail was from New York to Chicago, a distance of approximately one thousand miles.

On boarding his train, Jimmy's first inquiry was for a sleeping berth. On American trains these are arranged in two tiers, one above the other, and the conductor asked him whether he required an upper or a lower berth, incidentally remarking that the lower cost one dollar more than the upper.

"Why?" asked Jimmy.

"Well," explained the conductor. "It's like this. The lower berth is higher than the upper. That is to say, the higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower, on account of it being higher, for when you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed, and get down to get up."

"I see," said Jimmy, and retired, feeling nearly as badly dazed as he would have done from the effects of a knockout blow on the point of the jaw.

Fined For Selling Bad Eggs

Convicted on a charge of unlawfully buying for resale eggs which were unfit for human food. Max Singer of Winnipeg was found guilty and fined twenty-five dollars and costs or one month in jail, the magistrate stating that a second offence would be dealt with more severely.

The prosecution was made by the Dominion Live Stock Branch, Department of Agriculture under the provisions of the Live Stock and Live Stock Products Act, 1923. The defendent in the case is a peddlar, who has made a practice of buying low grade eggs, and peddling them around Winnipeg. In one case taken from his rig a Dominion Egg Inspector found three dozen bad eggs. The regulations under the Act respecting "The Grading and Marking of Eggs" provide that "no person shall buy for sale or resale, or expose, offer for sale, or sell eggs which are unfit for human food."

These regulations became effective last July, and they are now being rigidly enforced. In cases where infractions are found due to lack of knowledge of the provisions of the regulations every chance will be given to make good, but in cases such as the one reported above where peddlers and others persist in disregarding the law, after repeated warnings, action will be taken by the Department. The above is the first prosecution under the Act of 1923. The Act provides for a penalty of five hundred dollars or three months in jail or both.

Right Into The Jaws Of Death

Two young Drummond men were returning from Carleton Place on Saturday evening, in a universal method of conveyance, when a deer suddenly loped across their path when they were on the road to Ferguson Falls. Like many a dear, the bright lights of the car caught and held the gaze of the deer. The men with their minds in unison stopped the car, and stunned the deer with a stone. Being expert hunters, it did not take these men long to send the deer to the happy hunting grounds. As a result of their trip, these young men are the richer by a tasty bit of venison.

Distant Relations

Two chance acquaintances from Ireland were comparing notes about the old land in New York.

"An' so yer name is Riley?" said one. "Are you anny relation to Tim Riley?"

"Very dishtantly," said the other. "I was me mother's first child, and Tim was the twelfth."

CHILDREN COME TO CANADA ON MAGIC CARPET

DICK ANDERSON STUDIES COMPASS

DESPITE the fact that the Canadian Pacific is the greatest transportation system in the world, it finds it wise and profitable to give individual attention to any little children who may be consigned to its care.

The war broke up families and left orphans in all European countries. Many of these are now being transported to friends and relatives in the United States and Canada. In most cases there is little money, the actual passage being all that can be raised, so there is no question of a companion for the child.

Here is where the great Canadian Pacific becomes nurse, companion, chaperon or guardian for the youthful travellers, transporting them from their homes to the port of embarkation, looking after their comfort and welfare on board ship and, finally, delivering them safe and sound to their destinations in Canada or America. These children, as a rule, are cheerful kiddies who soon work their way into the hearts of their fellow travellers who are generally eager to smooth the paths before the childish feet.

Above are shown some of the little folks who have recently crossed the Atlantic alone. Keeth Herz, an 11-year-old boy, travelled from his home in Uscilug on the Russian-Austrian border, to Milwaukee. The company's agent at Warsaw accompanied him to Antwerp, whence he sailed on the S.S. Metagama. A very interesting passenger came over on an August run of the S.S. "Melita," a little 6½-year-old Armenian refugee, who is to become the adopted son of western Canadian farmers, a marvellous change from poverty to plenty. Dick Anderson, the boy being shown the working of the compass by Captain Landy of the S.S. "Melita," was the youngest member of a party of boys sent from England to the Dr. Barnado's Home in North Toronto, Ontario, where waifs from London are given education, a comfortable living and become worthy Canadian citizens.

A Scotch lassie, Rita Tiffey of Dundee, Scotland, boasts of many trophies won by her nimble 9-year-old heels. She owns 4 silver cups and 21 medals won at dancing, and gave much pleasure to all passengers on a recent voyage of the S.S. "Montclare," by executing 16 different dances on her way out to Canada.

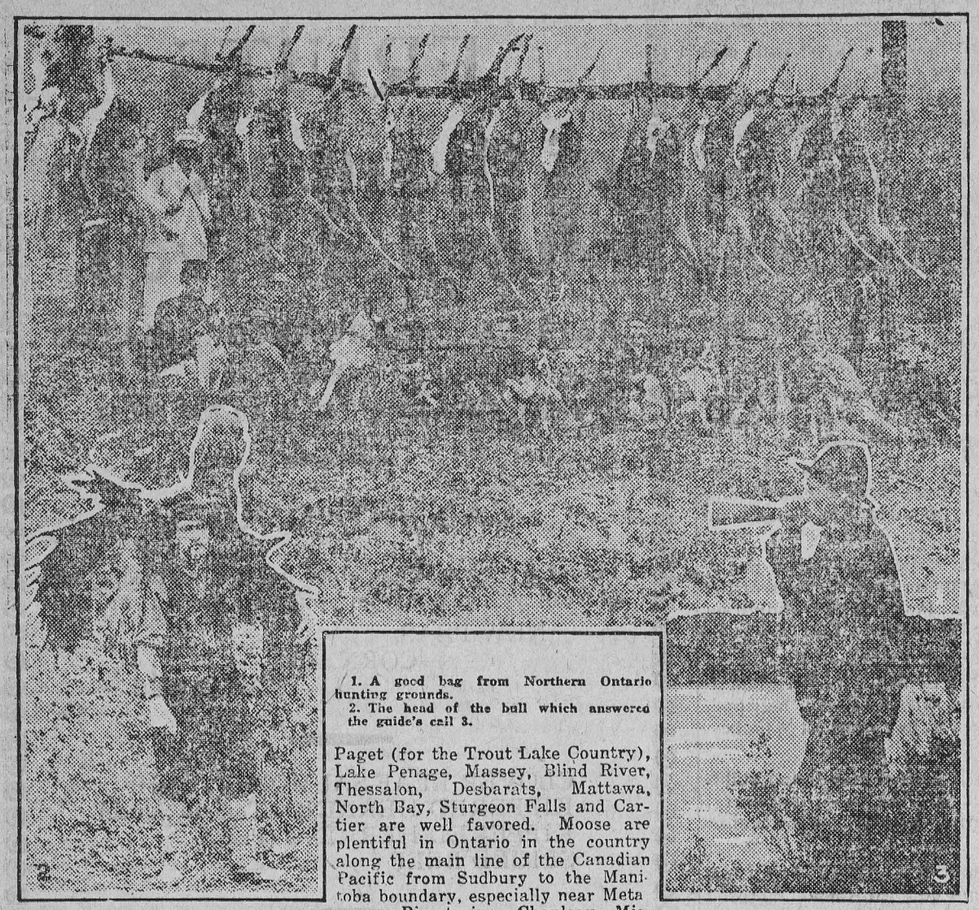
Exceptional Kills in Quebec and Ontario



1. A good bag from Northern Ontario hunting grounds.
2. The head of the bull which answered the guide's call 3.

WITH the coming of the frost and the "Moon of the Falling Leaf" comes also the hunting season for caribou, moose and deer. For the past ten months, thousands of sportsmen have been longing for the return of the season. And today the season in Quebec, Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Alberta and British Columbia is in full swing. Once more the naked woods are echoing with the crack of the hunter's rifle and the red blood of Canada and the United States is pitting itself against the monarchs of our native wilds.

In Quebec, good chances for deer are reported from Lake Megantic, the Laurentians, the Gatineau Valley, along the Waltham branch line of the Canadian Pacific, Timiskaming-Kipawa district and other points, while, in Ontario, Parry Sound, Byng Inlet, Pakesley, French River, Paget (for the Trout Lake Country), Lake Penage, Massey, Blind River, Thessalon, Desbarats, Mattawa, North Bay, Sturgeon Falls and Cartier are well favored. Moose are plentiful in Ontario in the country along the main line of the Canadian Pacific from Sudbury to the Manitoba boundary, especially near Metagama, Biscotasing, Chapleau, Missanabie, Franz, Jack Fish, Schreiber, Rossport, Nipigon, Savanne, Ignace, Dinorwic, Wabigoon, and Kenora, and, in Quebec, in the St. Maurice, Lake Edward, Lake Megantic, Maniwaki, Timiskaming and Kipawa districts.

Caribou, in Quebec, may now be found only in the remote northern sections, and, in Ontario, on the islands of Lake Superior and round Rossport, Schreiber and Nipigon, on the mainland.

From all these districts come stories of wonderful luck which will thrill the pulses of every hunter. Take the good fortune of Dr. C. H. McCreary, of Montreal, and Mr. A. J. O'Keefe, of New Rochelle, New York, regular patrons of the Ste. Jovite district of the Laurentians, Quebec. Penetrating some days ago from Grey Rocks Inn, at Ste. Jovite, to Big Devil's Lake, sometimes referred to as Lac le Croix, they met several cow moose and an immense bull. But the climax came when another splendid bull obligingly took up a position within 50 yards of their tent. The first shot from the doctor's trusty rifle brought him down and Mr. O'Keefe finished him off.

Again, from F. W. Arnott's Tea-Kip Camp, 30 miles up Lake Timiskaming from Timiskaming Station, at the mouth of Kipawa River, word comes of how Mr. J. A. Cavanagh, of New York got his moose within an hour and a half of leaving camp, and was back within two hours and a half. Next morning, while the animal was being skinned, another big moose calmly watched the operation for five minutes from a point close by.

After that, you can still keep your hand off your rifle?

Rabbit Rearing

In France, Belgium and European countries, rabbit breeding is an important industry, the meat being used for food and the pelts in the manufacture of furs. England imports over twenty-five million pounds of rabbit meat annually, while in one year a Canadian firm of furriers imported no fewer than six hundred thousand rabbit skins. These statements are taken from a bulletin entitled "Rabbits", issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The industry has of late years developed rapidly in the United States, and in Canada interest is growing, we are told. The climate of this country, by reason of its dryness, is adapted for rabbit rearing, which as a side line might, with proper care and management, be made an appreciable source of revenue. Not only is rabbit meat highly palatable, but the skins are extensively used for making imitation furs, such as Sealine, Manchurian fox, French ermine, and many others. By various processes of tanning, dyeing and clipping, the skins are reported to undergo remarkable transformation. In France the Angora rabbit is cultivated for its wool. The bulletin, which is well illustrated, furnishes information regarding housing, breeding, feeding, marketing and choice of breeds, and treatment of diseases. Copies may be obtained free from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Rod and Gun for December

Dealing with hunting the wild mountain goat in the Rockies, Raymond Thomson in his story "Introducing Mr. Wm. Goat" gives a fine account of this sport and tells it in a manner which will interest all sportsmen, in the December issue of Rod and Gun in Canada. An account of wild duck hunting at Penoimatong by Lewis Denison, "Our Bull Moose for 1922" a good moose hunting story, and "The Silver Salmon Fresh from the Sea" by Canada's foremost writer of Nova Scotian fishing and hunting, Bonnycastle Dale, are only a few of the good articles and stories contained in this issue. "Ranching the Silver Fox" by C. K. Walton, gives interesting side-lights into the management of a fox farm while F. V. Williams is represented by a good story of the north in winter. There are three first-class articles in the Guns and Ammunition department edited by C. S. Landis, while R. P. Lincoln, J. W. Winson, W. C. Motley, M. U. Bates and F. H. Walker have departments filled with material of interest to all who are interested in Canadian outdoor life. Seven good hunting and fishing stories, in addition to fifteen articles dealing with every phase of sportsmanship makes the December issue of Rod and Gun in Canada a particularly interesting one.

A Farmer Who Gave His Health for His Son

John is a big framed, heavy-handed farmer, with a gentle voice and grey eyes that beam out hopefully at you from behind steel-rimmed spectacles. John wanted his boy to be a doctor, so he worked hard, early and late, cultivating his rocky acrer to save the money. He got run down, had two or three attacks of the 'Flu—until he got so weak he couldn't work and after some fainting spells and enforced medical attention he learned the dire news—tuberculosis. If Mrs John had been living probably he would have had better care and better food.

He was received at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives and now with skilled medical and nursing attendance, and the wonderful air of Muskoka to bring health to the tired lungs, John is actually getting better, and he is an enthusiastic booster for the Hospital.

He believes he is well enough now, after ten months, to go back to the farm, but on the doctor's "advice" he is staying on to make sure there will be no relapse. There is a lot of lost time to be made up on that farm, but maybe he can still send his boy to college.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 223 College Street, Toronto.

Furs Fouud at Cornwall. Motor Car is Again Stolen

Provincial police Thursday night recovered in a garage at Cornwall fur coats and other goods to the value of about $5-000, which are believed to have been stolen in Toronto or Hamilton, and also a motor car bearing an Ohio license, which had been stolen.

The furs were placed in safe keeping and the timer removed from the car, but when the officers returned to the building next morning they found that it had been entered and the car again stolen, as well as another. The Ohio car was recovered on the western outskirts of the town.

Pays Dollar For Each Partridge

The old proverb that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush" was rather rudely disproved in Hull Police Court Tuesday, when a fine of $135 plus costs was imposed by Judge Reaid Millar on John Hudson, an employee of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, who pleaded guilty to a charge of having 135 partridge illegally in his possession. The specific charge was of having had 135 partridge in his possession and keeping them in reserve to sell to different members of the club.

Plant Tree For Each Man Who Lost His Life in War

Parks Commissioner Chambers of Toronto, has been instructed by the parks committee to bring in a report on a proposal to establish a war memorial park, in which every Toronto soldier who lost his life at the front would be commemorated by a single tree. The dead soldier's name would be attached to the tree which represented him.

Good Evidence.

Casey and Kerrigan went to a fortune-teller. When the latter was out of the room they found a flask of whiskey, which they drank. The fortune-teller returned, discovered the empty flask and asked Casey:

"Did you drink it?"

Casey said "No."

"Did you driuk it?" she asked Kerrigan

"Come on," says Casey, 'she's no fortune-teller."

Secret Room Found on the Leviathan

Behind a panel in the main hall of the Leviathan, one of the liner's stewards discovered on her last trip, a fully equipped barber shop in which were scattered a number of picture postcards of Kaiser Wilhelm, the Crown Prince and other former royal personages of Germany. One of the Leviathan's officers expressed surprise that the American naval men had never discovered the secret room when they thoroughly searched the liner before using her as a war transport. The Leviathan arrived her yesterday.

BONDS

Are Mortgages on Fixed Assets

When a township issues debentures (or bonds) it gives a mortgage on the whole township for security to the buyers of the bonds for the loan of their money for a definite number of years at a satisfactory rate of interest.

If the amount required is large it is divided into small mortgages, (that is, bonds or debentures) of $500 or $1,000 each, with the same security behind each, so that investors with small sums may take advantage it.

Bonds or debentures are rated the safest kind of an investment.
