Fred H. Broder, Mr. Morrisburg Passes in Hospital in 95th Yr.

"Mr. Morrisburg", Fred H. Broder, in his rose garden

On Wednesday, November 27th, Frederick Henry Broder of Morrisburg, known widely as the elder statesman of the area, passed away at the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall at the age of 94.

Mr. Broder was born in Morrisburg on February 24, 1880, the son of William Broder of Franklin Centre, P.Q., and of Mary Maud Doran of Matilda Township Dundas County. His grandfather was also a William Broder, born in Ballymote, Ireland in 1790, and Mr. Broder retained close connections with his Irish relatives.

He graduated from the University of Toronto in 1902, and was a prominent member of the U of T championship hockey and football teams while at university. He was one of the few surviving members of his year. In the First World War, he served overseas with the 21st Battalion and was severely wounded at Lans. He was awarded the medal of the Royal Canadian Humane Association in both 1904 and 1905 for saving two lives.

Following the war he was a partner in the Morash Foundry at Morrisburg until 1948. During this time he served as reeve of the village for 13 years and was warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry in 1948. Active as a Conservative in politics, he was honourary president of the Grenville Dundas Progressive Conservative Association for many years and was the nephew of the Honourable Andrew Broder, who was M.P. for Dundas for a lengthy period, including service in the Borden Government.

He was active in the Morrisburg United Church, having been Superintendent of the Sunday School for many years and was also a member of the Masonic Lodge, Royal Arch Masons, Cornwall Preceptory and Karnak Shrine of Montreal. He was also extremely active in the Library Board, Canadian Club, C.N.I.B., Horticultural Society, Bible Society and Cancer Society. He was an original member of the Advisory Board for the building of the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Cornwall. In early years he was prominent in all sports, and in later years was a bridge enthusiast and a world traveller. He was active in all community matters until a few months before his death.

Mr. Broder had never married. He is survived by two nephews, George D. McTaggart of Westmount, and Fred G. McTaggart of Etobicoke, and three neices, Mrs. T. B. Allen and Mrs. F. F. Tisdall of Toronto and Mrs. David McNutt of Roxboro P.Q. Amongst numerous cousins are Fred S. Broder, Robert Buchan and Langton Carr of Morrisburg, and Harry Broder, Fred G. Broder and Andrew Broder of Ottawa.

The remains are at Lakeshore Drive United Church, Morrisburg where funeral service will be conducted Saturday at 2:00 p.m.

Interment will be at Fairview cemetery, Morrisburg.

Pall bearers are Allan Farlinger, John Carr, G. William Gorrell, Fred M. Cass, Arthur Edgerton and Gordon Thom. Honorary pall bearers are the Hon. Donald Irvine, Fred S. Broder, Langton Carr and Borden Clarke.

STANDING OVATION FOR MINISTER TO THE DEAF

"Count your days and make them count. You will be a better person if you do," said Rev. Robert Rumball at a recent meeting of the Morrisburg and District Canadian Club. Following his outstanding address he was given a standing ovation by members and guests.

Rev. Rumball, a former Canadian football star, has been minister to the Church of the Deaf in Toronto since 1956. At that time he was the only full-time minister to the deaf in Canada. He said that the deaf have been treated as a minority group for years and were discriminated against by services and government alike.

"Today in the province of Ontario the deaf are better off than any place in the world," he stated. His church members own and operate their own camp and all board members are deaf.

Stating that he receives requests from the United Nations to assist with programs in other countries he related incidents from his wide experience. Commenting on the fact that only since this year, 1974, deaf people can become teachers in the schools for the deaf, he said that since 1904 people were working to this end. "There was no choice as the government was being forced."

"For years the Ontario Hospitals were dumping grounds for all problems. If the institutionalized don't get help they can be there for the rest of their lives," Rev. Rumble emphasized. "Only because someone has made their days count will the institutionalized be helped."

He said that the members from the Church of the Deaf are providing the responsible leadership and are not too proud to ask for help in the work of the deaf.

Rev. Rumble said that he is proud to be a Canadian, live in Ontario and to be associated with people who make their days count. Relating several of his experiences he commented that all symbols can be destroyed but all relationships go on and are not destroyed.

In his experience he said that he has met many people who give of themselves just for the challenge of the job and not the price tag put on it. In closing he said that we must have priorities and give a consistent standard. "Teach us to number our days so we can make it a good kind of world in which to live. May you have many days in your life and life in your days."

Vice-president Bill MacDonald thanked the speaker and presented him with a cheque for the building program of the new Ontario Community Centre for the Deaf which will provide many services and facilities for the deaf who otherwise have none of these benefits.

Reeve Earl Baker of Morrisburg paid tribute to the retiring reeve of Matilda Township, Mahlon Zeron, who has served for 27 years in municipal government. Replying to Reeve Baker's remarks, Reeve Zeron said that there should be more interest shown in municipal elections and in municipal politics. He urged everyone to get out and vote on Monday, December 2 in their respective areas. Dr. Graham Houze presided for the meeting.

PSYCHOLOGIST SPEAKER AT HOME AND SCHOOL

Dr. Dorothy Thornton, psychologist, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Morrisburg and District Home and School Association held at the Morrisburg Public School.

Speaking on "Adolescence" Dr. Thornton said there were four major conflicts at that age and described these phases. She said that teachers can influence peer acceptance or non - acceptance even at the high school level.

Parents were also given pointers on how to help children cope with this age. They should give the child a standard or "measuring stick". They must have rules as their development is continuous. A question and answer period followed. Mrs. Joan Findlay, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Grace Klugman presided for the business period. She announced that literature displayed on the display board is available to all. A study group on the philosophy of education for kindergarten will be formed. It was announced that there is now available in Morrisburg and family counselling service every second Monday, starting November 18.—This free service is available through appointment.

A request was heard for parents to help chaperone the danes at Seaway District High School, Iroquois. If parent chaperones do not volunteer the students will be unable to have dances. Any interested parents are asked to contact Mrs. R.F. Welton.

The president urged those present to study the proposal for a course in Ethics to be given at the Secondary School level by the Religious Education Committee of the S.D. and G. Counties Board of Education. Questionaires are to be returned as soon as possible.

Mr. John Comtois, director of education, and Mr. Dale Beckstead, school trustee, were introduced. Coffee was served by Mrs. Claire Delage and her committee.

Many Sr. Citizens Used Park Facilities

The Province of Ontario's policy to make available the free use of it's recreational resources for Canadian Senior Citizens, by offering a variety of recreational opportunities, has won wide approval.

Introduced in 1973, this program the only one of its kind in Canada, has made it economically possible for thousands of Senior Citizens to enjoy the many recreational options of Ontario including those of The St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

During 1974 Senior Citizens enjoyed 6,326 camper days in Commission campgrounds, as well as 8,000 visits to Parks day use facilities. Nearly 15,000 Senior Citizens visited Upper Canada Village and over 2,000 at Old Fort Henry.

The Commissions 2,500 campsites conveniently located in 14 major campgrounds along the St. Lawrence River, each with large fully serviced adjacent day use areas, complement Upper Canada Village and Old Fort Henry, in offering to Senior Citizens scope and variety for their recreational preferences and hopefully contributing to the quiet enjoyment of their leisure time.

The Parks Commission is pleased to play its part in the Province's program in making its rich recreational resources available without cost to Canadian Senior Citizens now and in the years ahead.

RCSS BOARD EYES INDUSTRIAL ARTS

SD and G Roman Catholic separate school board has set up a fact finding committee to look into the possibility of offering home economics and industrial arts to Grade 7 and 8 students in its Iroquois school.

The decision followed a request from Trustee Sarsfield O'Connor that students be allowed to take the subject in the Iroquois high School as public school students do.

Mr. O'Connor said parents in the area are upset at the failure of the board to allow the students to take the courses beginning this September.

He said if a favorable decision is not forthcoming the board might have to face a delegation of indignant parents.

"I hope it can be resolved without it coming to that."

Mr. O'Connor pointed out he has been trying to get permission for students to take the courses for about six months and though all hurdles were cleared to have them begin in September.

He said both county board director Rosaire Leger and superintendent Jean Comtois assured him there would be no problem. Seaway District High School is under County board jurisdiction.

However, separate board administrator Charlemagne Lamarche said the board must check possible repercussions such as loss of attendance grants before approving the project.

OPP SEEKING ASSISTANCE

These valuable cattle had been obtained by means of false pretences and rustling from livestock sales barns and farms throughout Ontario. A number have been returned to their owners, including one animal worth almost $10,000.

Eight Herefords, eight Charolais and seven cross-bred Charolais remain unidentified. Anyone who has lost cattle, fitting this description, under questionable circumstances should contact their nearest Ontario Provincial Police detachment or call Lindsay OPP detachment at (705) 324-6741.

Funeral Friday for Clifford Roy Sypes

Many friends in Morrisburg and throughout the district learned with sincere regret of the passing of Clifford Roy Sypes, well known area resident, which occurred at Winchester Memorial Hospital, on Tuesday, November 26th, following a short illness.

Born at Dundela, July 31, 1894, he was a son of the late Henry and Hestline Sypes. He attended area schools and later became a cheesemaker. On February 25th, 1919 at Finch, he was united in marriage to the former Eunice Kinnear, who survives.

For many years, the Sypes family resided west of Morrisburg along the St. Lawrence, and Mr. Sypes was employed first as a lockman and later as lockmaster at Lock 24. Since his retirement some years ago, he spent much of his time in his garden, and took pride in its produce.

He was a faithful member of Lakeshore Drive United Church.

Besides his wife, he is survived by four sons: Ersel, of Thorold, Denzil of St. Catharines, Gordon of Pembroke and Donald of Morrisburg; and four daughters: Lillian (Mrs. Donald Ross) of Ottawa, Iva (Mrs Stanley St. Pierre) of Iroquois, Erma (Mrs. Arthur Casselman), and Irene (Mrs. Lyle Black), both of Morrisburg. He was predeceased by one son Douglas.

Funeral service will be held at the Fairbairn Funeral Home, Morrisburg on Friday, November 29 at 2 p.m., with his pastor, Rev. Charles Massey officiating.

Interment will be at Fairview cemetery.

Today's Health - Organ Donors Can Give the Gift of Life or Sight

In 1967, Dr. Christiaan Barnard revolutionized medicine by performing the first successful heart transplant. Since then, several further such transplants have been performed, but the procedure has continued ot encounter severe rejection problems and is rarely done today.

Transplants of other organs — notably the eye and kidney — have been performed for a longer period of time with considerable success. They are still saving the sight and lives of many people, although they attract much less fanfare and publicity than the heart operations.

For example, more than 300 corneal transplants took place in Ontario, in 1973; a similar number will have been done in 1974.

Mrs. Anne Wolf, executive secretary of the Eye Bank of Canada's Ontario Division, says that the recipients of these "new" eyes are people with blurred vision caused by scarred corneas, or victims of industrial, home or auto accidents.

The donors, she says, come from among more than 100,000 Ontarians who have signed special cards granting permission for their eyes or other organs to be used after death. They realize, says Mrs. Wolf, that it's about the most dramatic gift they could ever offer.

Since 1956, when it was started, the Eye Bank's Ontario Division has received 7,749 donated eyes. Transplants, ideally, have to be done within 48 hours of the donor's death. Nearly 4,000 have been performed in Ontario with a high success rate.

The problem, says Mrs. Wolf, is to get enough donors. If you'd like to help, write to your nearest branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

The shortage of donor organs also slows up the successful work being done with kidney transplants, of which more than 100 are performed each year in Ontario.

Dr. George deVeber, director of Toronto Western Hospital's kidney transplant program, describes the shortage as "critical." Only about one-third of kidney failure patients — who are kept alive on dialysis machines — can get trans plants. Even though the success rate for the operation is high, the donor organs just aren't available. This, says deVeber, is because most people just don't think about bequeathing their natural resources.

The solution, he says, is a universal donor card such as the one recently proposed for Ontario drivers' licences. The card would allow licence holders to be donors under the Human Tissue Gift Act if they sign a part of the licence to be designed for that purpose.

As transplants of other organs such as the heart, lungs and liver become as successful as those for the eyes and kidneys there will be an increased demand for donors, says Dr. deVeber. You can perform a vital service in bequeathing your kidneys by contacting the Kidney Foundation of Canada, Ontario Branch, 1430 Yonge St., Toronto.

Donating organs after death may be something you'd prefer not to think about. But if you can save someone else's life or dramatically improve it, just by signing a card, it's well worth it. It may be the most far reaching decision you ever made.

Alcoholic Husband

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

Can I add a word of advice to A.L. who wrot you about her prob lem concerning an alcoholic husband?

Dear A.L.:

I know exactly how you feel. I went through the same accusations and disappointments for 11 years. My husband is now active in Alcoholics Anonymous and we are happy again. But it took him a long time to "hit bottom," recognize his need to stop drinking, and change his life. For your own peace of mind, join Al-Anon where you will get help from people who have lived with the same problem.

You cannot help your husband unless he wants help. But you can change your way of living and pray for the day that your husband turns away from alocohl. It's hard. But well worth it.

A Friend.

Dear Friend:

Thank you for sharing y o u r experience and offering encouragement to others. Let's hope A. L. follows the advice we both offered and contacts AA about their Al-Anon program.

Menopause and Emotional Distress

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

As a mature woman, I'm not looking forward to the menopause because my mother's problems at that period in her life still haunt me. She was always inclined to depression for the slightest reason, but during the change she became so emotionally upset that her marriage to dad almost ended in divorce. Now that I'm approach ing menopause, I wonder if such symptoms run in the family. Unlike mom, I'm inclined to take problems in stride. H.C.

Dear H.C.:

Medical authorities who h a v e studied menopausal women report that the way they accept the change of life may be directly related to their total personalities. But even well-adjusted women may experience difficulties because the middle years sometimes bring new problems into their lives

If you are, as you say, inclined to take problems in stride, then you may sail through your menopause without difficulty. If you do develop any symptoms that may be related to estrogen deficiency, discuss them with your phy sician, who may prescribe hormone treatments to help relieve them.

The Dying Has Ended

by: Henry Gates,
Canadian Red Cross Society

After seven dry years in the Niger, the rains have returned. The Niger flows strongly once more. But while the dying is over, the hardship is still a reality.

When the rains ceased, the people turned to their graineries. — This was their way as they knew well how to make their crops last for the dry season. For a second and yet a third year the rains did not come. Their reserves now gone, the children began to die— before long the cattle, sheep, goats and even the mighty camel died.

Entire male populations of tribes succumbed too when they stayed to tend the starving animals and sent their families to camps. With them died a way of life. Niger, a country with two populations — the sedentary people filling the 9,000 small towns and villages that line the green underbelly of the country and the wandering nomads shifting daily from campsite to campsite. For the sedentary, the drought meant hardship and sometimes death — for the nomads the effect was far more damaging. Herds of cattle and goats, camels and horses, symbols of wealth accumulated ov er generations, were lost. It will take generations to regain the worldly goods that have been lost It will take generations to regain the worldly goods that have been lost. Life expectancy is 40-45 and more than 47 percent of the population is under 15 so time will run out.

This was the problem facing the League of Red Cross Societies when asked by the Government of Niger to assist by providing medical-nutritional teams. The national Societies responded from Canada, Britain, Denmark, Belgium, France, Norway, Iceland and the United States.

For the team members sent to the Niger, names like Dakoro, Ayorou, Tera, Tchin-Tabaraden N'Guigmi and Hamdallaye became more than dots on a map— they became their home away from home for the next six months

In the Red Cross towns, base operations were begun to aid in the nutritional rehabilitation of children with 5-10 percent of the children in the Niger being involved. The second goal is malnutrition prevention involving 40 percent of the population. Food supplements are provided for 60 percent of the people and preventative medical and hygene measures are provided for all.

Yet with all of the Red Cross involvement the surface is only being scratched. The population being serviced by Red Cross is approximately 100,000 yet there are 4,000,000 persons living in Niger. Other agencies and the government are providing other assistance programs. The Red Cross program concentrates on feeding children under the age of 10, pregnant women and nursing mothers. The remaining people with whom Red Cross is working are on the supplementary feeding program.

Foreign Red Cross teams have been in Niger for almost two months and fortunately during that time the August rains have permitted considerable acres of millet and sorghum to ripen in the 90 degrees F sunshine.

Crops are being harvested and the graineries beginning to fill again but the dry season will be back in a few weeks so it is a race against time — will the harvest be sufficient to sustain the population over the next dry period. While the Red Cross participation has been one of "crises" basis, there is a long-ranged program being developed to create a better understanding of the need of nutrition and hygene — this will be carried on by the Nigerians themselves once the Red Cross volunteers and staff return to their homes.

In the meantime, the emergency feeding program goes on. Each day the landrovers leave the operations basis and begin their long and difficult trips through the bush to the camps — sometimes over difficult and even wash out roads until they finally come to the welcome sight of the Red Cross emblem marking the feeding station in a cluster of straw huts or tents.

Team work in a camp begins with measuring the arriving children for height,weight, arm circu nference and age, and separating those requiring different feeding programs. Clinical cases of malnutrition are directed to the nearest medical centre. Supplementary meals for severe cases of malnutrition, involving medical centre. Supplementary meals for severe cases of malnutrition, involving some 5-10 percent of the child population, consists of a porridge made from boiled water, Red Palm oil with its calories and Vitamin A, corn, soya and milk, This is fed four or five times a day until the recipients are strong enough to join the complimentary feeding program. This program of porridge, Red Palm oil, fish powder and millet when added to their regular meals provides a balanced diet.

Young local men and women have been appointed by the Government to carry on the program after foreign Red Cross teams leave Niger; they are known as "auxilliaries" and are now being trained and supervised by the foreign Red Cross teams. These people, who speak the local dialects, will be in a position to reinforce the need to boil drinking and cook ing water, make the "bouille"— (porridge), feed the smaller children several times a day and so underline the need for a balanced diet. The current nutritional and hygenic practices have been traditional for perhaps 2,000 years— it will take a long time to rehabilitate such thinking.

At the present time the Sahelian drought, at least for Niger, appears to be over. The land, which was barren, wind-swept sand but three months ago is green and gold with ripening millet and sorg hum—but the rehabilitation work goes on. In the night the laughter of the children playing and the music of the molo fills the air. — The dying has ended in Niger and life slowly returns to its normal cycle .

CHECKING DEER COUNT HELPS THE WHOLE HERD

This is one of the busiest seasons for wildlife biologists who gather data concerning age, weight and antler measurements by examining deer brought into checking stations by successful hunters.

Organized deer camps, as well as many individual sportsmen, receive report forms to fill out and return to the nearest ministry of natural resources office. This information provides data which assists in the continuous evaluation of the province's deer herds, deer range and the effects of hunting.

For instance age determination, accomplished by examining the amount of tooth wear, tells the biologists a lot about a herd. They know that a normal deer population contains a certain percentage of fawns, a smaller percentage of yearlings, a still smaller percentage of 2½ year olds and so on through the oldest age class. Naturally fewer deer are found in the older age classes because successive hunting seasons and natural mortality limit their chance of survival. If in any given year the ministry's data collection shows a drastic change in the herd's age structure, something is wrong. The biologists can set about determining what it is and initiate the appropriate management tech nique to solve it. This is accomplished by increased or decreased seasons, range improvement and so forth. A close watch on the number of fawns and yearlings also gives them an idea of how severe the past winter was and how our deer herd survived it.

For this reason, an even greater voluntary response by hunters in having their deer checked would provide a more adequate representation of the condition of the herd, necessary for proper managemnt. Failure to obtain data voluntarily has caused many States to legally adopt a mandatory kill registration system, a requirement not yet resorted to in Ontario.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Old Home Week Committee is pleased to announce that we are the recipient of a L.I.P. grant in the amount of $8,310.00. This was confirmed last week by William Dillabough, who is the local representative on the program and who was instrumental in the application for the loan. The loan is to be applied to labor during the winter months, in the construction of bleachers, portable fence etc., to improve the facilities available for the Morrisburg Old Home Week program. The program for '75 is already filling up, with major events nearly completed. With the bleachers erected in the park, most of the activities will be in that area, with plenty of room for enlarged events.

HYDRO CONCERNED ABOUT MARINE LIFE NEAR PLANTS

Continuing concern for fish life near generating stations has resulted in Ontario Hydro authorizing a study to determine possible alternative designs for cooling water intakes at its plants.

It has retained the Toronto consulting engineering firm of James F. MacLaren Ltd. to undertake a $16,500 study to examine existing intake facilities and provide information about potential problems concerning fish entrainment.

Work is expected to begin in December and should be completed early next spring.

The report is part of Hydro's continuing biological program. It will complement work now being carried out by Dr. R.W. McCauley or Sir Wilfred Laurier University.

Dr. McCauley was commissioned in August to study warm water discharge and distinguish between natural die-offs of alewives and smelt and those caused by man's activities.

Studies will be carried out at various Hydro generating stations along the Great Lakes.

Hydro's stations require large volumes of cooling water to condense power producing steam after it has gone through turbine generators. This warmed condensing water is then returned to lakes.

The effects of the discharge have been the subject of much research by Hydro. Findings from these studies are expected to add valuable information to this store of knowledge.

KEMPTVILLE AG. COLLEGE TEAM CAPTURES PRIZES

For the second straight year the Kemptville College team has walked away with the college livestock evaluation competition at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Competing against four other colleges and universities, the Kemptville team scored 1,857 pts. out of a possible score of 2100. Each contestant evaluated three classes of dairy cattle, two of beef and swine, and one of sheep.

The top Kemptville team member, David Fletcher of Foresters Falls, won the C.D. Graham Memorial Trophy for the highest individual score. Fletcher tallied 638 points out of 700.

Commenting on the victory, Fletcher said: "I learned a lot more than ever before." He credited his success to the will to win.

"You ask more questions", he said, "stupid questions maybe. But you wanted to find out."

The ability to reason soundly was an important part of the contest. Competitors had to use both eyesight appraisal and production records. In many cases, judges awarded more points for reasons than for placement of the animals.

Runner-up on the College team, Lorne McGee of Hastings, says that in competition of the Royal calibre, "You have to be self-confident in your ability."

"Trust your judgments or you're in trouble. That's the only realistic and practical way you can judge."

Their Future Depends On Your Response

The future of more than 1600 physically handicapped youngsters in Eastern Ontario could well be affected by the annual regional meeting of thirty-two Easter Seal service clubs on Saturday, November 16, at the Ottawa Crippled Children's Treatment Centre on Smyth Road.

Board and staff members of the Ontario Society for Crippled children met with representatives of both the Easter Seal and the Crippled Children's committees of the member service clubs of the Society to review plans for next year's Easter Seal campaign and to acquaint members with the Society's future plans for improved services and facilities for handicapped youngsters in their region.

In attendance were volunteers from the following clubs: Belleville, Brockville, Chesterville, Eganville, Gananoque, Hawkesbury, Kingston, Napanee, Ottawa, Perth, Picton, Prescott, Renfrew, Smiths Falls, Stirling and Trenton Rotary; Alexandria, Almonte, Arnprior, Bancroft, Finch, Iroquois, Madawaska, Metcalfe, Morrisburg Russell and Sharbot Lake Lions; Cornwall, Madoc and Pembroke Kiwanis and Carleton Place '100'.

Special emphasis was placed in the need for greater community involvement in establishing or expanding local recreation programs for the handicapped. Among the new or proposed programs discussed was short-term rsidential care of children to give parents needed relief. The effect of recent changes in the Day Nurseries Act was considered and an outline of future plans for new treatment centres in those regions where facilities are at present inadequate or non-existant.

Local members of the Society's board of directors and the Society's district nurse Miss Colton, Miss Tait and Mrs. Tanner from the Ottawa office, Mrs. Wiskin from Kingston, Miss Edwards from Cornwall and Mr. Grant Young from Belleville also attended the all-day gathering. Through out the day, service club volunter workers had an opportunity of discussing their work with handicapped children in their own areas with the visiting Society Staff and volunteer workers from other service clubs.

The Ontario Society for Crippled Children is an association of 234 Easter Seal service clubs —Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Kinsmen and others — committed to the service of physically handicapped children and young people.

The Society has offices in 21 locations across Ontario.

CARE HELPS THEM BUILD THEIR FUTURE

Before children can go to school, the school must be built!

The first step in the construction of a village school is the loan of a Cinva-Ram block-making machine by CARE. With the addition of some cement to the local soil, villagers can produce sturdy blocks for building structures such as community or nutrition centers, fresh water facilities or even a family home.

Thus, CARE helps build self-reliance and hope for the future.

Help CARE celebrate its 25th anniversary.

Using electricity wisely isn't just a matter of avoiding waste.

Being watchful to avoid the frittering away of kilowatthours is everyone's concern, in the interest of economy and conservation of valuable energy resources.

But for some people, living in older homes with outdated wiring, restricted use of appliances is not always a matter of choice. They do not have sufficient circuits to serve normal needs without resorting to 'octopus' outlets and extension cords. The result: overloading and blowing of fuses.

These conditions also tend to diminish the performance of appliances and shortens their life.

Inadequate wiring is not only inconvenient, it can be a safety hazard. If you have any doubts about the capacity of your home's wiring have it checked by a qualified Electrical Contractor. Then, use electricity wisely... and safely.

Producer is Doug Byers, a longtime nostalgia buff who rediscovered the famous singing Sisters from the vaudeville era for both CBC Radio and TV. RESCUE BREATHING (MOUTH-TO-MOUTH)

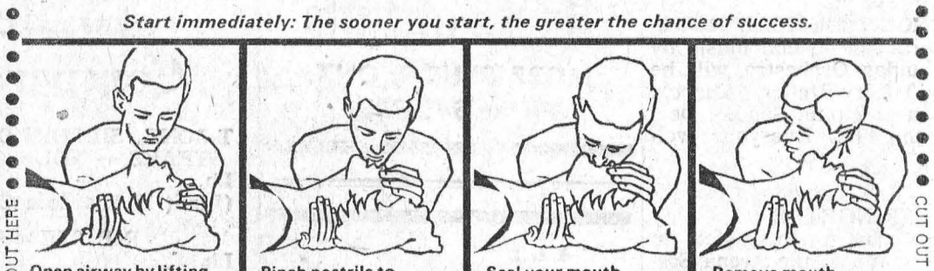
THE CANADIAN RED CROSS SOCIETY

Start immediately: The sooner you start, the greater the chance of success.



Open airway by lifting neck with one hand and tilting the head back with the other hand.

Pinch nostrils to prevent air leakage. Maintain open airway by keeping the neck elevated.

CUT OUT HERE

REPEAT LAST THREE STEPS TWELVE TO FIFTEEN TIMES PER MINUTE.
IF AIR PASSAGES ARE NOT OPEN: Check neck and head positions, CLEAR mouth and throat of foreign substances.

For infants and children, cover entire mouth and nose with your mouth. Use small puffs of air about 20 times per minute.

USE RESCUE BREATHING when persons have stopped breathing as a result of: DROWNING, CHOKING, ELECTRIC SHOCK, HEART ATTACK, SUFFOCATION and GAS POISONING.

Don't give up. Send someone for a doctor. Continue until medical help arrives or breathing is restored.

DENTAL TOPICS

Supplied by The Canadian Dental Association

Dentistry is an Open Profession

The dental profession may be for you if you seek independence, are manually adept and are interested in the biological sciences.

If you are interested in providing vital services to your fellow man, being useful socially and gaining a comfortable income, dentistry could be your route. And women are invited in what has long been thought of as a man's profession.

While women in dentistry in North America are not too common, the profession is not meant for men only. Actually, dentistry is particularly well suited to a woman seeking a professional career. It can be successfully combined as a career with marriage and raising a family.

A dentist must be an employer, supervisor, somewhat of an efficiency expert and psychologist. In addition to practising the vocational aspects of dentistry, he uses his scientific and medical knowledge by compiling case records, diagnosing treatment, and being aware of signs of organic disorder.

Challenges are everyday parts of a dentist's life. They also make life interesting.

Becoming a dentist could do things for you. Certainly, you could do things for society.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

You can tell from the expression that Dick is an imp. At nine he is lively and mischievous — and most engaging.

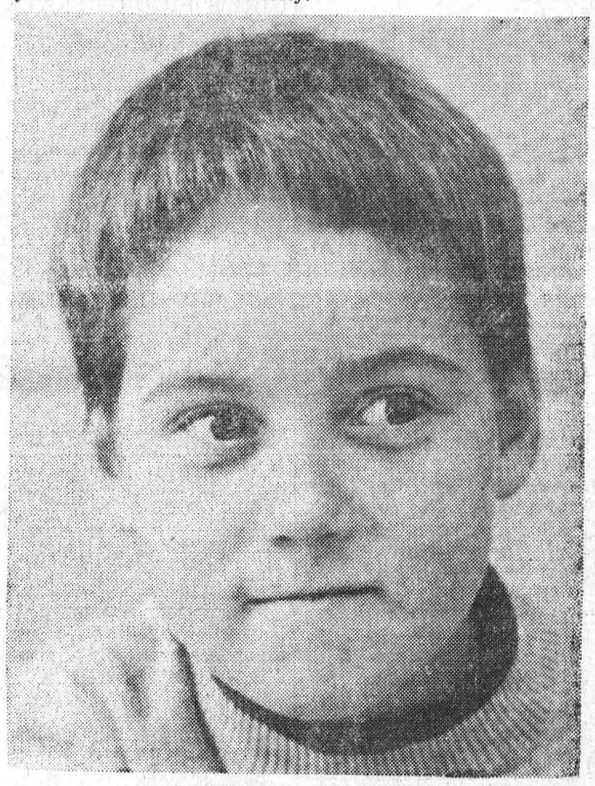
Anglo-Saxon in background, Dick is a husky youngster with brown hair and hazel eyes. His health is excellent. He is somewhat shy on meeting strangers but soon becomes his uninhibited self. With people he knows, he is lovable and affectionate.

Because he is hyperactive and excitable, school has been hard for Dick, as it is for any child who finds it difficult to stay put. He is in Grade Four.

Dick loves the outdoors. His foster family camps regularly and Dick has become an enthusiast. He likes any kind of energetic game, especially hockey but is fond of music and has started to play the guitar.

Dick needs young, energetic parents who will enjoy his liveliness and give him love, stimulation and control.

To inquire about adopting Dick, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your local Children's Aid Society.



LOVES THE OUTDOORS

Ontario today has more houses and more new housing programs than ever before. We are, unquestionably, among the best housed people in the world.

But the cost of housing, for both owners and renters, has increased sharply in recent years.

With this in mind the Ontario Government has developed many programs to ease cost pressures and help make more housing available. Four such programs are:

1. Ontario Home Renewal Program (OHRP) offers grants and loans for home improvement through local municipalities to low and moderate income homeowners. It is particularly directed to the rehabilitation of sub-standard dwellings, with emphasis on faulty structural and sanitary conditions, and the up-grading of plumbing, heating and electrical systems.

2. Community-Sponsored Housing Program supports the development of reasonably priced housing through non-profit housing corporations operated by groups or municipalities. Grants to these groups—which may include labour unions, churches, welfare agencies, educational and charitable institutions, and service clubs—cover up to 10% of the value of a housing project. In return, the group makes available up to 25% of the project units for Ontario Housing Corporation's rent supplement program.

3. OHC'S Assisted Rental Housing for Families and Senior Citizens provides accommodation for the elderly and for families, on the basis of rents-geared-to-income. Its purpose is to subsidize rental payments for people 60 years of age and older and for low-income families.

4. Home Ownership Made Easy (H.O.M.E.) Plan brings home ownership within the reach of many moderate-income earners. Houses are built on serviced lots which are then leased by Ontario Housing Corporation to new homeowners who have the option of buying the land after five years. This combination makes lower-than-normal down payments possible.
