Mission '73 and Dr. Allen tonight at Seaway

Dr. A. Stewart Allen of Cardinal will launch Mission '73 at Seaway District High School on Wednesday evening, March 21 st at 8 p. m.

"Mission '73" is the third annual Lenten Series that has been sponsored by the Iroquois Ministerial and this year it is geared to the emphasis of Faith in Practice, as seen through the eyes of Medicine, Law, Education and Economics. The speakers for these four evenings will come respectively from Cardinal, Morrisburg, Kemptville and Ottawa. In the absence of the Reeve, Lloyd Davis, Councillor Frank Rooney will officially open Mission '73 tonight at 8 p. m.

To get a better idea of who Dr. Allen of Cardinal is, the writer went over to his office where he was promptly received by a man who seemed to have the benefit of experience, and as it unfolded, a remarkable and unique contribution to medicine both in Canada and overseas.

A graduate of McGill University, Dr. Allen was sponsored by the United Church of Canada as a Medical Missionary in western China in 1929, and eventually Dr. Allen was in charge of a 220 bed hospital in Chungting. Under the local auspices of the Church of Christ in China, who worked at an Interdenominational level, a closely knit program of Christian Religion, Medicine and Education was offered to the Chinese people.

Right after World War 2 and during the Communist occupation, Dr. Allen was imprisoned for more than a year. As Chairman of the International Relief Committee, he had been assigned the job of making an investigation on behalf of the Canadian Red Cross of medical conditions in the border area. One of his repeated questions was: what happens to Christian Missions after the Communist take-over? The reply was clear: The Communist party will welcome any medical and social service assistance as long as it serves the people", but all religion teachers must go home at once. But even within the field of medicine, Dr. Allen found himself accused and imprisoned.

In 1952, Dr. Allen returned to Montreal to become the Assistant Medical Director at the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital and later he served at the Grace Dart Hospital, with special concern of tubercular patients. In 1959 his present practise at Cardinal was opened, and Dr. Allen's name is well known in many homes of this community.

What is Dr. Allen's feeling toward the Church and Medicine? Come tonight to Seaway High School to hear the authentic viewpoint of a seasoned fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons who will make a presentation. Incidentally, the famous neuro-surgeon Wilder Penfield is well known to our guest of this evening, both as a friend and lecturer.

The format for Mission '73 whose theme is "The Church beyond the Walls" is a forty-five minute presentation followed by a cup of coffee. The clergy will generate discussions and help to sum up in plenary session by 10 p. m. We hope for the support of the people of Iroquois and community for those four Wednesday nights of Mission '73.

We are asking busy and competent speakers to come to us and we do this on your behalf. Please support this important and Ecumenical venture, Mission '73.

Novice 'A' bring home trophy

Our Novices were winners of back to back encounters in Morrisburg on Sat. to bring home the trophy. The first game saw Iroquois pitted against Chesterville. The final score was 5-2 in favour of Iroquois with goals coming from T. Waddell, M. Nesbitt, K. McEwen, T. Patterson and F. Lee.

The team slated to play against Morrisburg was unable to come, so Morrisburg made its way to the final against Iroquois.

The final was a close one and for the first period, Brian Froats in goal for Iroquois was a standout, coming up with some fine saves. Kevin McEwen opened the scoring in the second period when a slow moving puck slipped through the goalie's legs. Half way into the third period, Mark Nesbitt took a pass from K. McEwen and scored on a screen shot. Final score Iroquois 2, Morrisburg 0.

The "A" team played a third game on Sat. in Cardinal against Perth's travelling team. Tim Patterson opened the scoring when Tom Waddell fed him a pass from behind Perth's net. Later with a fine display of stick handling, Patterson again scored to give Iroquois a 2-0 lead. Perth battled back and midway through the third period had tied the score. Patterson completed the hat trick late

Dangers for Canada

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) reports that in recent months the rate of inflation in Europe has doubled to an annual figure of 10 per cent. This is the fastest inflation rate Europe has seen since the height of the Korean war more than two decades ago.

The rate of inflation in each European member country of OECD was faster then that in Canada. And yet there are dangers for Canada, as we have important economic and trade ties with Europe. Indeed, at a recent conference of economics, Professor John Kenneth Galbraith said that he at least believes wage and price controls are inevitable for Canada.

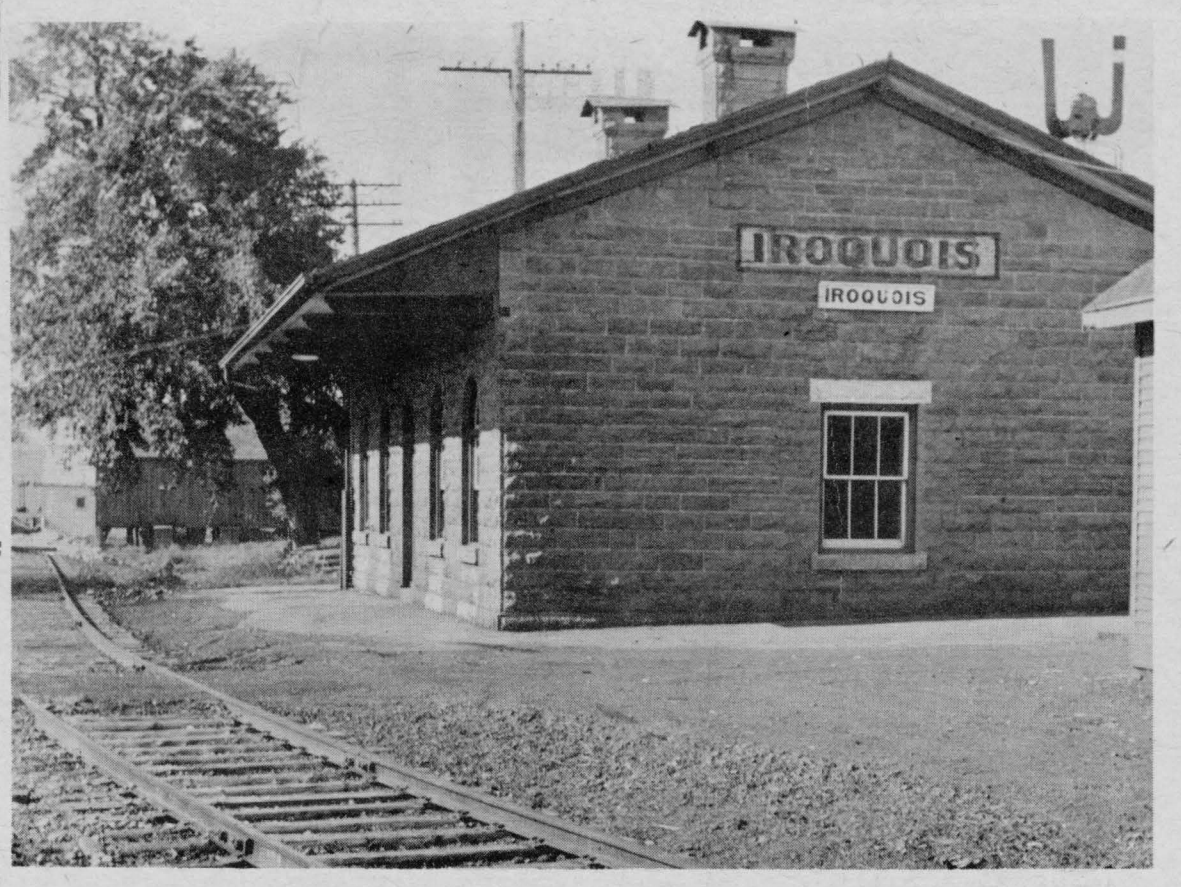

Why such drastic measures? Here is one answer: Many governments, employers and unions gradually are coming to the conclusion that inflation benefits nobody. Those who seek higher salaries know their wages generally cannot keep pace with rising prices. Governments that give their civil servants automatic annual increases, tied to the cost-of-living index, also contribute to inflation -- but also seem to be caught in the vicious circle of wages chasing prices. Manufacturers, in trying to give their shareholders higher dividends, contribute to the dilemma by constantly raising the prices of their products.

Although they know that accusing fingers are being pointed at them, particulary by housewives and frustrated wage-earners, political, business and union leaders so far have been unable to find acceptabel solutions to the wages-prices spiral, and therefore to inflation in general.

One answer being tried is the so-called "freeze". In many Communist countries, for instance, both prices and wages are carefully controlled by the state, and have been for years. President Richard Nixon calls "voluntary cooperation". Prime Minister Edward Heath is planning permanent controls for Britain in the hope of halting rampant inflation there.

Canada should look at all these measures carefully. The Canadian Government and people should guard against inflation because it creates economically unsound conditions. What is more, when inflation hits, pensioners and others on fixed incomes suffer sero others on fixed incomes suffer serious losses. Money loses much of its value, and the conspicuous consumption that's already a curse of Western society grows worse.

The restraints that have been tried in the United States, Mr. Heath's current pay freeze, and various measures in force in some European countries have never been popular in free enterprise societies, and yet these may be a means of keeping inflation in check in Canada.

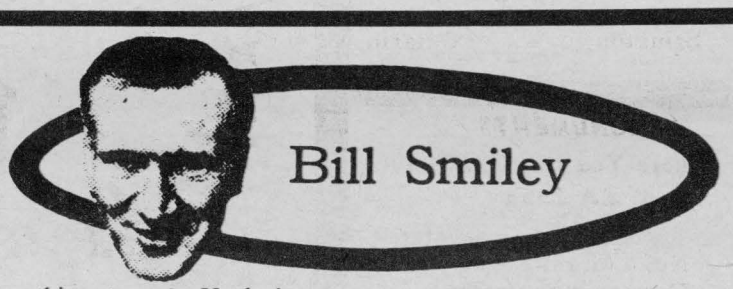

C.N.R. Station Old Iroquois

This photo was taken shortly before the demolition of the building and the tracks in the foreground are actually of a siding installed during the rush period of Seaway construction and moving of the town. Ironically, the modern station which replaced it in new Iroquois now stands deserted, merely serving as a depot for express.

STUPID SQUIRRELS!
IT WAS ONLY 4 a.m.

by Bill Smiley

This week, some random and rambling thoughts on a variety of topics.

A friend and colleague died yesterday, and I'll miss him. He was a free soul, beholden to none, with a mind and a tongue that paid obeisance to no man and no theory. He was ill for a long time, but fought like a demon, and never gave an inch to encroaching death.

Since I joined this teaching staff twelve years ago, six men teachers, all in their forties and early fifties, have died. Five of them were World War II veterans. That's a pretty high attrition rate.

There are only six W.W. II veterans left on the staff, including one lady and one vet of the German army, and we're sort of eyeing each other for signs of sudden deterioration. Guess we should make a pool, winner (last alive) take all.

Don't worry, I haven't a morbid bone in my body. I've already had about thirty years more than a lot of my old mates, so life doesn't owe me a thing.

Spring is more a time of birth than of death. And did we have evidence this week.

Saturday morning, I often grab the chance to sleep in for an extra hour. Last Friday night the temperature went soaring up to about fifty. About four a.m., the word got around among the black squirrels in my attic that spring had arrived, and they went stark, staring, raving mad.

All winter, they'd been pretty quiet, with only the occasional Saturday night party complete with drunken fights, screaming females, bawling kids and acorns rattling around like bowling balls on concrete.

But this week, they pulled all the stops. I started out of a deep sleep, shouting something about the Yanks invading Canada. My wife was cowering, head under the covers.

The males were bellowing like bull moose. The females were chattering like — well, females. The babies were shouting, in unison, "Hey, Ma. Can we go out? We don't need a coat. We've never seen spring before. What's it like?"

And all of them running and jumping and skittering and slithering and scuttling right overhead until it sounded like midnight at the Lumberjacks Ball.

This went on until daylight and so did my wife's demands that I do something about it. What would you do? I wasn't going to go up into the attic and take them on single-handed. I was afraid to. They sounded like Genghis Khan and his boys warming up for the raping and razing of a city.

There was nothing to do but batten down the hatches and hope that some overzealous little black rodent did not chew through the ceiling and drop on my wife's head. That would have, as they say, torn it.

At dawn the wild ululations subsided a little and I peeked out the window. There they were, goofing about in the back yard, stupidly digging in the snow for acorns, looking particularly ratty with their coats half shed.

The oldtimers soon realized with disgust that it was not spring at all, and returned, up the big cedar, flying leap to the vines, scrabble up to the hole and back to the attic for a long snooze.

But the little ones were baffled, bewildered and belligerent. They ran around in circles. They sank to their ears in wet snow. They chittered indignantly. They couldn't find anything to eat.

Had I not heard them talking so often, I'd not have been able to understand. But I had. And I did. I distinctly heard one baby buck squirrel snarling, "What the hell goes on here? We've been sold a bill of goods. THIS is SPRING? Where are the luscious bulbs, the green stuff, the tender shoots? We've been had, brothers. Let's demonstrate."

And demonstrate they did, loudly and shrilly, for the next twelve hours, back in the attic, berating their elders.

Can't blame them. It must have been a traumatic experience, out of the warm womb of the attic into the bleak reality of a March day. Some of them (I hope) will be scarred for life, psychologically.

But I can't kick. They've been fairly quiet since, aside from a lot of mumbling and muttering among the young ones, convinced, like all kids, that their parents betrayed them about life.

Dang it, I've run out of space. I wanted to mention the two baseball pitchers who have swapped not only wives but families, present some startling spring poetry, and discuss the abysmal stupidity of the Department of Education, but there's no room.

Why do I let squirrels loom so large in my life?

Hat Trick for Stompin' Tom

Stompin' Tom Connors, the skinny kid from Skinners Pond, P. E. I., has made it 3 in a row. The 1972 edition of the June award for the top Canadian male vocalist was presented to Connors at the annual awards presentation at the Inn on the Park on March 12th. It was the third successive win in this category for Stompin' Tom who was a unanimous choice of the voters. The Juno's are determined by the record executives, entertainment writers and disc jockeys across Canada and are awarded in several categories.

Though 1973 is barely 10 weeks old, it has already been the best year in Stompin' Tom's whirlwind career. On New Year's Eve, he was named Goodwill Ambassador for the Province of Prince Edward Island for its Centennial this year. The Premier of P. E. I., the Hon. Alex Campbell, presented Connors with a special citation and credited him with boosting the province's Tourist industry. His first big hit "Bud the Spud" did more to promote P. E. I. potatoes than any advertising or public relations campaign had done to date, according to the Premier.

On January 20th, Stompin' Tom packed Toronto's famous landmark Massey Hall for a rousing concert. Then, shortly after receiving word of his third Juno, he received word that he would be playing at this year's CNE.

Here comes the public

The New Age of Leisure may shake our society to its roots. That's the kind of thing "experts" say and the man in the street tends to laugh off. They're not laughing in agreement forests in Eastern Ontario. They're working hard to keep up with an amazing new public demand for recreation time and space.

Amazing? For years these "reforestation areas" have practically been ignored. Good for erosion control, making wasteland useful and timber production, but NOT recreation, surely. That's changed.

Take Limerick Forest, southwest of Kemptville: 10 years ago it was 3,000 acres of plantations and mixed forest tended by two permanent Ministry of Natural Resources staff and three casual workers. Except for an occasional fall hunter, the woods were deathly quiet. It produced trees, period. During winter, it was like a tomb.

Over the years it grew to 12,000 acres in two blocks and the staff expanded to meet the workload.

Then, a few years ago, a few visitors, some snowmobilers, some picnickers, began to trickle in. It soon became a flood. Today, although timber management still has top priority, forest manager, Ron Lessard is spending a large part of his time keeping up with the rush.

No wonder. Here's an activities' checklist:

Snowmobiling - one weekend more than 800 machines were on the 70 miles of trails and prepared access roads. Some drive from 80 miles away to use the forest.

Snowshoeing, cross-country skiing and hiking - Limerick, in a rural setting, is not given to faddish sports, but these activities are growing.

Birdwatchers - still small in number, but rare a decade ago.

Sled Dog Racing - something no one could have even dreamed would take place a few years ago. Several local sled dog owners use the trails and in January, despite sub-zero temperatures, two thousand spectators turned out to watch the Arctic Sled Dog Club of Ontario races featuring amateurs and at least two of the top teams in North America. Visitors came from Eastern Ontario, Western Quebec and Northeastern United States.

Outdoor Education - busloads of students come to study on the forest's three nature trails. This winter one project is getting special attention. Winter works crews thinning red pine plantations are using horses to skid logs so forest damage will be minimal. It's a ready-made historical logging and forest management lesson for students.

Picnicking - three sites with all the facilities are being used.

Horseback Riding - one picnic site has a hitching and trailer parking area for the growing number of riders using Limerick in warm weather.

Exotica - these not-so-easily-classified activities cover the training of Ontario Provincial Police German Shepherd tracking dogs used in manhunts, lost person cases and drug detection. Ironically, the same dogs were used last summer in another of the District's forests - Larose - when bank robbers took to those woods after a hold-up. Limerick workers this fall also discovered evidence safe crackers had enjoyed the forest's sheltering stillness when they stumbled across a vault-type safe ripped open in the underbrush.

This sudden burst of activities isn't confined to Limerick. The other Eastern Ontario county forests such as Larose, Lanark, and the National Capital Commission Greenbelt Forest around Ottawa are all experiencing the same phenomenon.

The whole character of the forests and the jobs of those in charge is changing. The first task of the foresters and technicians is still timber management with provision for wildlife habitat, and will remain so, but in the process of meeting the new leisure demands they are also becoming experienced recreationalists.

Final countdown to Miss Eastern Ont. Beauty Pageant

The final countdown to the 19th annual Miss Eastern Ontario Beauty Pageant to be held Friday and Sat. March 23rd, and 24th. at Perth, is underway, and the total entry list appears to be 31, with the possibility of one more additional contestant.

This week a single entry came in from Ottawa to join the 30 from the rest of Eastern Ontario. The entry deadline was March 19th, so no further changes are expected in the total.

Plans are complete for the Pageant with just minor details remaining. Les Lye of Ottawa will be handling the M.C. duties both nights. The judging panel is complete, as is the guest list.

Ticket sales have been booming and the Sat. night seating is likely to be completely sold out in advance of the Pageant for the first time. Only a limited number of Sat. night seats remained as of March 19th. Those wishing tickets should contact Mrs. E. Woolams, Perth Chamber of Commerce, Town Hall, Perth.

Announced this week was a Civic Reception by the Town of Perth on Friday, March 23rd from 4:30 to 6 p.m. for the Pageant contestants, chaperones, judges, guests, and Pageant executive. It is NOT open to the general public. The reception and buffet lunch will be held in the beautiful newly-remodelled Town Hall upper floor section with the Mayor and councillors welcoming the contestants to Perth.

The Rideau Lakes & 1000 Islands Travel Council will sponsor an enlarged Arts and Crafts whow at the Perth Legion on March 24th from 10:30 to 5 p.m. as an added attraction to the Pageant which is at the Perth & District Collegiate at 8 p.m. evenings.

The awards and gift lists finalized this week for the Pageant show an impressive array for the contestants with all entrants receiving a list of 7 gifts, the 5 semi-finalists a further 8 awards, the 4 finalists a still further 7 items, making 22 gifts to this group, and an exclusive additional 20 awards to Miss Eastern Ontario herself. Her gifts will include: entry to the 1973 Miss Dominion of Canada Pageant and expenses paid 6 days there; a mink stole; a $195 Lane cedar chest; $150 in cash bursaries; a beautiful $150 chest of silver & cabinet; a camera, a hair dryer, steam iron, occasional table by Gibbards, shoes, quite a number of silverware items, perfume, silver gallery tray, records, pottery, lamps, lingerie, dress length, electric blanket, electric curling iron, soap and lotion, a $200 Charm course from International Top Models of Ottawa, the large and beautiful Miss Eastern Ontario cake specially made, the Courier Rose Bowl and one dozen red roses, and Air Canada flight Ottawa to Toronto for the Miss Dominion of Canada Pageant at Niagara Falls June 26th to July 1st.

The Pageant format includes the judging of the 31 entries on Friday night in street dress, swimsuit, and evening gown; then Saturday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and 2 to 4 p.m. are devoted to interviews of the contestants by the judging panel; and Saturday night 10 finalists are announced and these ten compete in swimsuit and evening gown and answer an impromptu question.

The new Miss Eastern Ontario 1973 will be crowned by the retiring Queen, Judy Levac of Smiths Falls. Bonny Brady of Perth, who was crowned the 1972 Miss Eastern Ontario last March but who went on to capture the 1972 Miss Dominion of Canada title, will be guest of honour at the Pageant.

No time for coughing

Morning is a time for coughing. For too many people.

Too many people, including millions of smokers, think a morning cough is not only routine but normal. It isn't.

A cough has a reason for being. Coughing is one way the body tries to get rid of excess phlegm and mucus. Normally, mucus moves from the breathing passages up toward the mouth, swept along by tiny broomlike structures called cilia. The moving carpet of mucus collects dirt and germs along the way. But when the cilia stop moving, the mucus accumulates. Especially at night.

Coughing in the morning shakes loose this sticky collection of mucus, dirt, and germs. But in the meantime, the dirt irritates the air passages and the germs have a chance to reproduce and invade the body tissues.

Smoking just one cigarette slows down the action of the cilia and interferes with the upward trip of the moving mucus. Heavy smoking completely paralyzes the cilia and leaves the bronchial tubes, which connect the lungs and the windpipe, open to all kinds of infection. Once the bronchial tubes are irritated for long periods, excess mucus is secreted constantly. Then coughing becomes compulsive.

Chronic bronchitis is a lung disease which now afflicts 4 million Americans. Its symptoms are a cough that hangs on for at least three months, comes and goes with colds, and recurs for at least two years in a row. Attention must be paid to that kind of a cough, and medical treatment--plus quitting smoking --can clear up the symptoms. If it is untreated, the disease can mean serious trouble. Chronic bronchitis can be a forerunner of pulmonary emphysema, which involves permanent destruction of the air sacs of the lungs.

Check out a cough you can't shake off for good. And to find out more about lung disease, contact your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. It's a matter of life and breath.

Cubs Hold Mini-Klondike

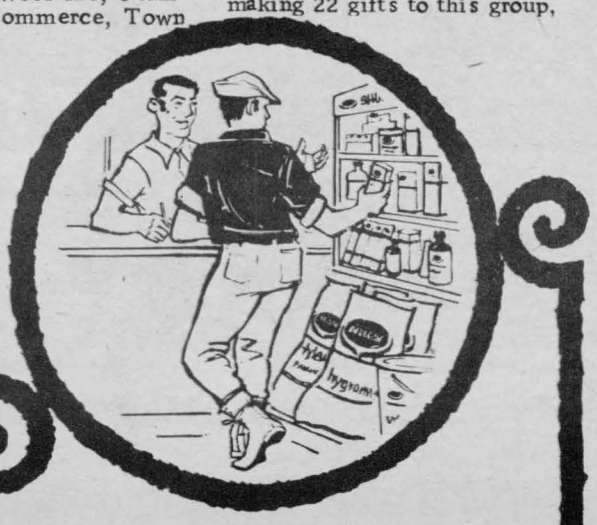

Members of Wolf Cub Packs from a score of communities gathered at Cardinal on Mar. 11 for their annual "Mini-Klondike" Derby. 234 boys and 87 leaders from 18 packs competed in the day's events. The first prize trophy awarded in the St. Lawrence District went to 1st Prescott Pack; first prize for visiting pack to 13th Lisbon, N.Y.. 5th Prescott placed second in the district, followed by 8th Brockville (visitor), 1st Morrisburg, 1st Maitland. The race trophy was won by 2nd Kemptville Pack, candy prize by 1st Maitland. Other communities represented included Chesterville, Spencerville, Iroquois, Cardinal, Johnstown, Winchester, Mallorytown and Massena, N.Y.

Cancer Forum held at Dundas District High School

Three cancer specialists from Ottawa, Dr. James Nicol, Dr. J.E. Devitt and Dr. J.M. Beresford, were a panel to answer questions and discuss the dreaded disease at the Cancer Forum at North Dundas District High School last week. "There are still so many unknowns" one of the doctors stated, "that many questions have to be answered, "No, probably, or Yes, not always". The doctors stressed the importance of not smoking and of early detection of cancer.

A good crowd attended the Forum which was organized by the Dundas Unit of the Cancer Society under the direction of the President, Mr. G. Dobbe and chaired by Mrs. H. Allison in his absence. Three films were shown.

Mr. J. Hilliard, Field Secretary, assisted as did local volunteers, Mrs. K. Beedie, Mrs. E. Merkley, Mrs. M. Brownlee, Mrs. L. Marcellus, Mrs. A. Barber and Mrs. J. Jakel. Coffee and cookies were served at the close of the program.

Iroquois U.C.W. hold March meeting

The March meeting of Iroquois U.C.W. was held on Tuesday last in the church parlour. A circular seating arrangement and candlelight set the mood for a Bible study meeting. Mrs. Max Bush and Mrs. Victor Pyette led the group in a study of Mark, chapter 2, verses 1 to 12, where Jesus heals the paralyzed man. Printed questions led to the answers from the scriptures as written in "Good News For Modern Man". Joan Gee summarized what had been learned together from the passage. This part of the service ended with the singing of "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee".

President Irene Haldane took the chair for the business with Marion Pyette, secretary, assisting. Letters were received from Brockville Psychiatric Hospital and the Victor Home, Toronto, acknowledging contributions made by this group. An encouraging bank balance was reported by the treasurer.

A presentation was made to Caroline McGee as a token of appreciation for the keen interest and active participation she had always shown toward U.C.W. during her stay in Iroquois. Speaking for all the members, Ruth Fetterly expressed regret at losing her from the community and wished her well in her new home at Simcoe.

Benediction closed the meeting after which the ladies enjoyed a social half-hour over tasty refreshments served by Marion Pyette, Kay Anderson and Jean Bush.

The April meeting on the second Tuesday of the month will take the form of an Easter thankoffering with guest speaker, Mrs. Welwood Adam, delivering the address. The ladies of all sister churches in the village and of White Church as well as any other interested persons are most cordially invited to attend. U.C.W.'s own members please note.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

The alert, eager expression is typical of Gary. This 11-year-old is inquisitive and energetic, always keen to try new experiences.

Scottish in descent, Gary is slightly built with dark hair, brown eyes and medium complexion. His health is good.

Gary was born with club feet which were corrected by surgery. He wears orthopedic shoes but has no problems walking or running. His glasses are because of a long-past eye infection and his colour perception is not quite accurate. This is a minor problem and does not affect everyday activities.

Gary is not a great scholar but is doing moderately well in Grade five. His main interests are outside of school. Full of energy, Gary likes to be on the go. He is fond of sports, either to play or on television.

Gary is fascinated by cars and thinks he would like to try drag racing. Since he is interested in farm animals he would like to live in the country.

The ideal family for Gary would be parents in the 35 to 40 range and a few brothers and sisters, including a boy just a little older. He especially needs a father to share his life.

Gary will be a fine son for parents who are able to be patient and understanding while he learns that with them, he has finally found a home.

To inquire about adopting Gary, please write to Today's Child, Box 888 Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

OPP REPORT

Every year hundreds of accidents occur on our expressways. Some of the causes of these accidents have been found to be attributed to improper passing, improper lane changing, speeding and driver attentiveness. The following driver procedures for driving on the expressways could prove beneficial to you:

When entering the expressway adjust your speed and position to permit steady accelerations so that you can safely merge into a gap between cars. Your speed when entering the expressway off the ramp should be close to that of the posted speed limit on the expressway.

When changing lanes and passing the driver of the passing vehicle should first check ahead and behind using both inside and outside mirrors. He should signal his intention to pull out into the left lane, and then check again to make sure he will not interfere with any other traffic. After passing, he should check to make sure he is well past the passed vehicle and then signal right before pulling back into the driving lane.

Maintain a sage driving distance between you and the vehicle in front of you. It is suggested that you leave one car length for every 10 miles of speed between you and the vehicle in front of you.

While driving on the expressway, you should always "drive ahead" being alert for any vehicles which may pull out on the highway from a merging lane. If this occurs, look behind, signal left and pull out in the passing lane to avoid conflict. After passing, check your mirror, signal right, and pull back into the driving lane.

The expressway characteristics reduce obvious necessity for constant alertness producing monotony and boredom. The driver must remain alert to recognize the signs of drowsiness or sleepiness you should allow yourself a ten minute break for every two hours of driving.

Complex expressway interchanges make specific lane use imperative. The overhead guides are designed for proper lane use and will assist you in making your lane change early.

When leaving the expressway, know where you will exit well in advance. Signal, and move into the correct lane as soon as possible. Move into the deceleration lane as soon as possible and then slow down only after entering the deceleration lane. Observe posted limits on the exit ramp and be ready for sharp curves.

Royal Canadian Legion News Bulletin

by Leo DeBellefeuille

Larry Mills, a former executive member of the Branch, has been a patient in the Winchester District Hospital. Hope you are feeling better soon, Larry.

In the last two editions of the National Legion Magazine, we have been successful in receiving coverage nationally for Branch 370. In the March publication, a release may be found on page 36.

If any member has any newsworthy material, they would like published in the News Bulletin, please contact the writer.

The Ladies Auxiliary to Branch 370 will be celebrating their 23rd Anniversary on Thursday, April 12th. Area Auxiliaries have been invited to join the local Auxiliary for this special event in their review of the history and memories of past years. All local mumbers of the Auxiliary are encouraged to attend.

Since the first of March, you can shop for Legion supplies from the new 1973 Supply Catalogue. See Fred Goodmurphy about the catalogue. The Ontario Command Convention will be held at Sault Ste. Marie on May 20th to 23rd. If interested, see the Branch President.

John Kelly, service officer in Mount Dennis Branch, Toronto, is a 70 year-old veteran of both world wars. He says people who call Legion Halls glorified pubs where old sweats play darts and drink beer, should consider the contributions made to charity by branches like his own in their respective communities. For example, in 1972 Branch 370 spent over $16,000 in operations of the Branch, most of which was spent locally. In addition, the Branch supported local projects by donations to sports event, public relations, etc by over $1,600. The general community benefits when the public supports the Legion in their Region!

The Iroquois Winter Carnival Queen, Miss Renee Barnhardt, was presented with a $50 cheque by the Branch to assist her as she represents the village in the Miss Eastern Ontario Beauty Pageant. (See Photo) The Pageant will feature Eastern Ontario's most beautiful girls, which will include our own Carnival Queen for 1973, Renee Barnhardt, who should be a top candidate to capture the title. The Royal Canadian Legion wishes Miss Barnhardt the best of luck in the competition and hopefully a good turnout of local residents will journey to Perth and offer Renee their support.

The rugular monthly business meeting was held in the hall on March 15th. President Ed Hitchinson chaired the meeting. Treasurer Fred T. Lloyd presented a very healthy financial report for the month of February. The various events held during the latter part of January and during Feb. were well supported by the residents of Iroquois and district, which resulted in a successful period of operations for the Branch. The executive is most grateful to the public for their support. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Vice-President Ken Easter. The correspondence report was presented by the chairman, communications were received from the Comman's office dealing with membership, sports and the Provincial Convention. An invitation was received from the Richmond Hill Branch for members to attend the grand opening of their new Hall.

A letter from the Village of Iroquois was read dealing with the proposed Medical Clinic. Branch 96 invited the local Branch to attend their Dart Tournament. Several thank you cards were received from members and their families. The Iroquois Cubs and Scouts Committee sent a letter thanking Branch 370 for a donation to the Annual Father and Son Banquet.

Comrade Joe Roberts gave a report on the Entertainment committee. He stated the weekly Bingo have been very successful and would continue to operate during the summer months. Joe requires volunteer workers to assist him each Monday evening at the Bingo. If you are available on Mondays, give him a call.

The regular dances have also been well attended and these social evenings will also continue during the summer. Coming events at the Branch are:

March 24 - Regular Dance
26th - Bingo
27th - Euchre
April ? - Bingo
3rd - Euchre
7th - Regular Dance
9th - Bingo
10th - Euchre
12th - Ladies Auxiliary General Anniversary Meeting
16th - Bingo
17th - Euchre
18th - Apple Grower's Convention
19th - Regular Branch Business Meeting
21st - Regular Dance
23rd - Bingo
24th - Euchre
30th - Bingo.

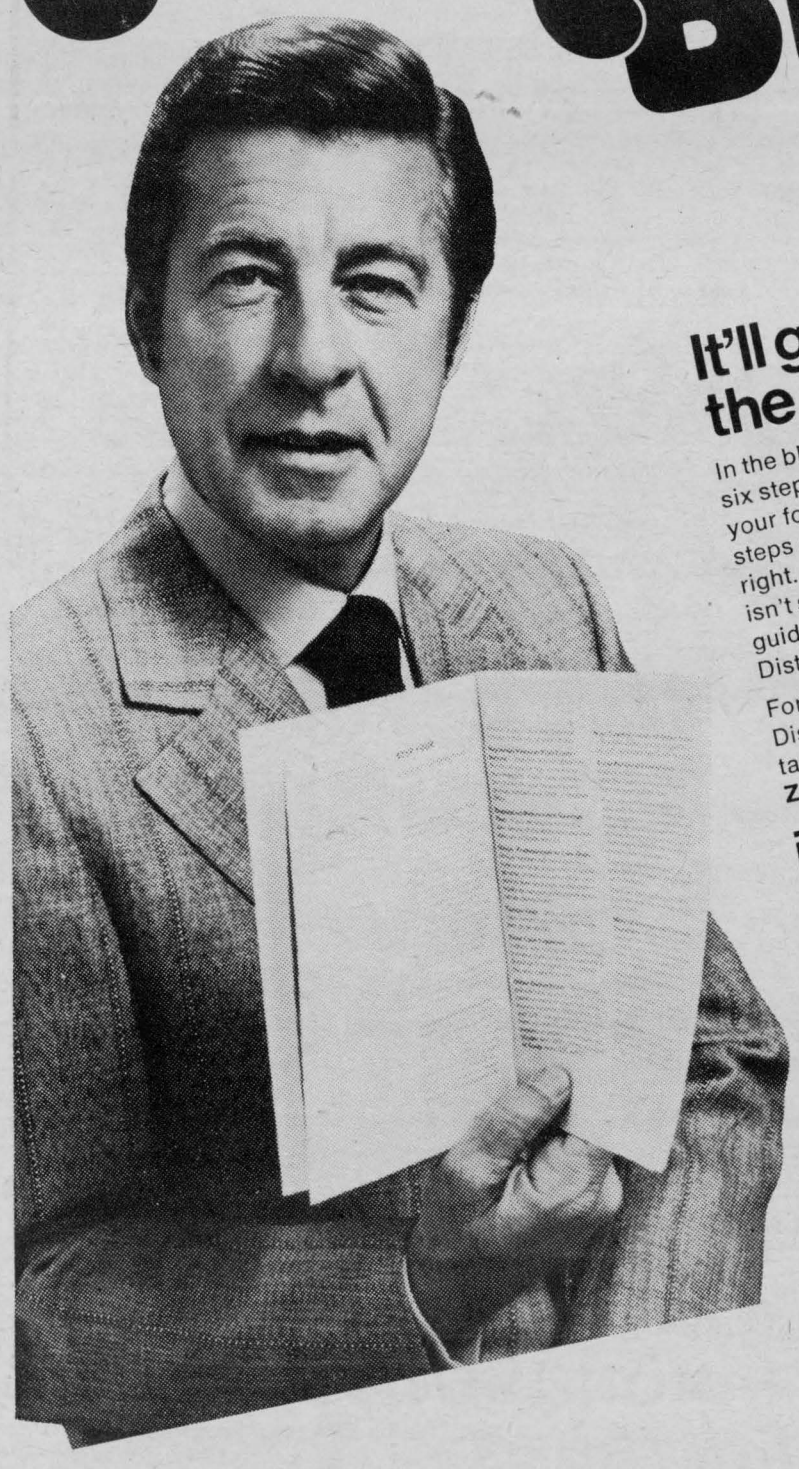

Your continued patronage is kindly solicited for the above events.

Comrade Fred Goodmurphy reported that the present membership is 106 members for 1973, and he urges all members to pay their 1973 membership fees by March 31st, 1973, in order to participate in Branch activities. In Zone business, the Zone Rally will be held at South Carleton on Sat. Sept. 8th. Branch 370 will host the Zone at a Social Evening on April 28th. More information on this event will be made known at a future date. If any member requires information on Branch Service, contact the Service Officer, Comrade Gerry Cornell at 652-4424. There is some excellent reading in the March edition of the Legion Magazine. In particular, see pages 36 and 33.

Feeling young is the hardest of all habits to part with.

Remember always "They Served Till Death. Why Not We?' Join the Legion in your Region!

in the third period. However, Perth spoiled the win when they scored with only 46 seconds remaining and the game ended in a 3-3 tie.

Our Novice "B" team lost 3-0 to Morrisburg on Sat. morning and again by an 8-3 count to Prescott Sat. afternoon. Mark Nesbitt scored all three Iroquois markers in the Prescott game.

Our Tykes defeated Morrisburg 4-1 on Sat. Tony Picotte scored twice with singles going to Michael Labelle and Darrin Hall. In an afternoon encounter, Cardinal handed our tykes a 5-1 loss. Darren Hall was our lone marksman.

The Pee Wee's played an exhibition game in Athens on Friday and were 5-4 winners Tony Hall in goal was superb.

Our Midgets lost 3-2 to Morrisburg last Tuesday and were eliminated from further league playoffs. The third goal was scored into an empty net as Iroquois' efforts to win backfired.

Our Atoms are still winning and have worked their way into the League finals against Kemptville. Last week they eliminated Athens with 2-0 and 5-1 victories. The first game went scoreless for two periods until Bruce Graham from Bob Renwick broke the ice. The second goal came from G. McMartin with the assist going to K. Holder.

The scoring summary for Iroquois in the 5-1 win is as follows:
K. Lapier from Graham; K. Brown from Brennan; G. McMartin from Casselman, Brennan; S. Brennan from Brown; R. Casselman from Brennan.

In O.D.H.A. semi-finals, Iroquois defeated Embrun by a 3-1 count on Sunday in Embrun. Kent Smith was outstanding in goal for Iroquois, particularly in the second period when the play went from end to end. Iroquois took a 2-0 lead in the first period. Ken Lapier from K. Brown gave us our first goal while the second came from S. Brennan with K. Lapier assisting.

In the third period, G. McMartin and S. Brennan combined to score a power play goal with McMartin scoring.

Embrun's lone goal came on a beautiful passing play late in the third period.

The ODHA Championship will be decided next Sunday night, March 25 at 8:15 p.m. in Morrisburg. Cornwall Township are the other finalists, gaining their berth with a victory over Richmond on Sat.

Please keep this date and time in mind, and also parents, dont forget Iroquois Legion's first Atom Tournament in Cardinal on Friday, Mar. 23. The "B" final will be at 7 p.m. and the "A" final at 8 p.m.

Letter to the Editor

It is a significant fact that he Village Council has accepted the invitation of the Iroquois Ministerial to have a representative present at each of the four Wed. evenings of Mission '73 to be held the next four Wed. nights at Seaway District High School. It is our opinion that all three school staffs, the business community and other working people of the community would do well to add their support to that of our four congregations for this important series.

This community has the distinction of having a sustained Ecumenical service through the dedication of a hard working Ministerial Association. Their choice of topics, Faith in Practice as seen in Medicine, Law, Education and Economics makes the layman take note, since he, we suspect, is the Church, more than ever today.

We agree that Lent is a time for tuning in. And we suggest that you try "Mission '73"

Seaway High School sponsor hockey tournament

On Sat. Mar. 31st, Seaway District High is sponsoring the second annual hockey tournament in the Morrisburg arena. It has, however, been decided to restructure the event in several ways.

This year no "Jr. B" or "Jr. A" players may participate in the tournament, which will include "Seaway" students only. There is also a nasty rumour spreading throughout the sacred halls of Seaway that there is a slim possibility of an "all staff" member entry.

Teams such as the Brinston "Bears", Hulbert "Hackers" and the "Billi-Burg Boys" have also shown great interest in the activity.

For a day of unlimited enjoyment, remember Sat. Mar. 31st beginning at 9 a.m. Seaway D.H.S. will release its secret of success in the field of "sport". The boys from behind the scene make their debut on the "blades".

Mrs. Ethel Locke dies in Cornwall

Mrs. Ethel E. Locke, the former Ethel Elizabeth Strader, died at Cornwall General Hospital on March 9th, 1973. She was in her 84th year.

Born at Brinston in Matilda Township, she was a daughter of the late Mr. & Mrs. Henry Strader. In 1910 she married Ancil Locke who predeceased her in 1962.

The late Mrs. Locke is survived by one son Cecil of Dixon's Corners and one daughter, Mrs. Harold Boyd (Pauline) of Morrisburg; one sister, Mrs. Wilfred Cooper (Velma) Brinston; one sister (Gertie) predeceased her in 1960. She also leaves 4 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren.

She was a devout member of Brinston United Church.

The funeral service was held at Fairbairn's Funeral Home, Brinston, with Rev. James Stewart conducting the service on March 11 at 2:30 p.m.

Pall bearers were: Stanley Waddell, Brooks Hanes, Walter Johnston, Pringle Murphy, Delmar Adams and George Watson.

Interment was at Spruce Haven Cemetery, Brinston.

by age - 10 and under - 15 to 17 seconds; 11 to 12 - 14 to 15 seconds; 13 and over, 12 to 14 seconds.

Always remember to move your wieght from leg to leg for power. Skate with long gliding strides. Stretch from hip to toe. Good skaters push a bit sideways, not straight back. Keep your body low and forward and push with the whole skate and keep your skates close to the ice. Don't swing your shoulders, for if you swing them, your hips swing too and you lose power. Don't be stiff. Your arms should swing freely. For the balance of this season and next year, have a good look at these tips and keep in good shape during the summer.

It is nice to see that Louis Rooney is recovering from a serious facial injury he received in a recent hockey game as a member of the Morrisburg Lions Juniors.

Remember, if you play sports, be a good one and keep your eye on the game.

News & Views

by Leo DeBellefeuille

One organization in Iroquois that does not receive enough recognition is that of the Boy Scouts and Cubs. This group, led by some outstanding citizens, deserve a pat on the back for the work that they perform for the boys of our community.

Way too frequently, many people take the attitude that these various organizations, dealing with our young people can operate with a few volunteers. Let's not kid ourselves or anyone else for that matter, because it is far from the truth. To make any group, working with or for young people, requires many volunteers. I have seen a tremendous growth in this village in the last five or six years in more and more adults coming forward to assist in the promotion of youth programs.

Coming to mind ar the following: swimming, Minor hockey, minor softball, Cubs and Scouts and once again, Brownies and Guides. At leat over 100 local citizens are volunteering their time towards making these groups function smoothly.

However, there is still many other programs that could become implemented to deal with the development of our youth. The reason that these other activities do not prevail is simple. That is lack of adult volunteers to serve as leaders. Too frequently, people accept the idea "Let Tom, Dick or Harry do it". This is a very selfish outlook. Imagine what young people would be doing with their leisure time if it were not for the organizations mentioned above.

Down through the years, several senior citizens have contributed many long hours towards these projects and without their appreciated efforts perhaps many minor organizations of today would not have survived. To these people of the past, they deserve a special honour for the work they have done. Some of them have retired from the scene which they should do, because they have done more than their share.

When these people fade from the picture, they have to be replaced by someone else, and there are many people who year in and year out enjoy their children participating in recreation but fail to come forward and offer their services to assist the various organizations.

Most people say "I am too busy or involved at present to donate time to serve as a volunteer." Well, look around at the present group of men and women WHO ARE volunteering their time, and you will discover that the majority of them are having less time or are more involved than those who are giving excuses. Something this week to think about!

For a moment, lets get back to the opening of the column. With the National Boy Scout and Girl Guide Week for 1973 being a thing of the past, allow us at this time to offer a tribute to the people who are presently doing a super job of providing leadership for the Cubs and Scouts of Iroquois. To the following citizens, you are to be highly complimented and deserve a medal of recognition for your sound and solid leadership in this movement.

Audrey Tucker, Jean Eddy, Shirley Moffat, George Eddy, George Fowler, Clare Tucker, Dennis Payne, and all members of the Mother's Group and members of the Cub and Scout Committee (too numerous to mention.)

The hockey season 1972-73 in the Ottawa District is drawing to a close for most Minor and Junior teams. Many of these clubs have provided several hours of entertainment for its followers. Several individual and team laurels have been achieved for the many communities in this territory, which we all like to acknowledge with pride.

However, hockey like every field of endeavor, has some bad apples in the bottom of the barrel.

During the past season, some individuals and teams in the ODHA have disgraced this fine sport by their poor acts of true sportsmanship.

The only good thing that could be said about these sour and distasteful acts is that for the sake of the game, it is being given a "Black Eye" by a select few poor sports. Lets hope that teams and/or individuals who have conducted themselves in such a manner will vanish from the scene in 1973-74.

With hockey season coming to an end, a message to all minor hockey players. A good player needs speed, strength and balance. You must have strong legs to go three periods. There are exercises to help you and you can do them off the ice, even in the summer.

When you come to a hill, sprint up the hill, with short, strong steps. When you can, go jogging. Go for a good long run, and take good long strides. You need both short sprints and long runs to get and keep strong hockey legs. If you use all your body you will skate better than if you use only your legs. Get your whole body working for you. It helps. Here is a test. Get your coach or parent to time you. Stand on the blue line, facing up the ice to the far goal line. Then skate as fast as you can to the far goal line. Stop at the goal line, turn and skate back down the ice, across the blue line where you started. You should be timed from the word go until you skate back over the blue line at your starting place. Proposed new Cornwall plant to provide 20 jobs

Construction is to begin this summer on a $500,000 plant in Cornwall, the result of a joint venture arrangement between Iroquois Chemicals and Tebbe Polyplast GmbH, of Osnabruck, Germany.

The new company, known as Tebbe Polymer Ltd., will manufacture polyester resins for the rigid foam market in Canada and the eastern United States. It is expected first-year sales will total $1 million and provide employment for about 20 people.

The joint venture was arranged through the efforts of the Industrial Development Branch of the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism, both in Germany and in Toronto.

Just prior to the Ontario Manufacturing Opportunities Show in October 1972, Tebbe Polyplast expressed interest in a venture with an Ontario company and subsequently exhibited at the MO Show.

During the show, the firm had 52 visitors, with eight Ontario companies expressing interest. This culminated in Iroquois Chemicals proceeding to Germany for further discussions with the final agreement being signed Feb. 1, 1973.

Iroquois Chemicals was incorporated in 1959 and up to two years ago specialized in finishes for the wood furniture manufacturing industry.

Roger Baikie, chairman of Iroquois Chemicals, said the firm decided in 1970 to expand into polyester resins for the rigid foam market. Just at this time, furniture manufacturers were swinging into urethane foam for ornate furniture facades.

The end product has the same density and feel of wood and can be finished as if it were wood. Mr. Baikie said the move resulted in sales increasing by 70 per cent last year.

Also within the last two years, the company has been working with a National Research Council sponsored project for fire retarding additives to the resins.

This activity in the foam and resin business attracted the firm to Tebbe Polyplast, which produces about $3 million a year in sales of linear saturated polyesters and basic polyurethane resins for adhesives and textile coatings.

Iroquois Chemicals two years ago employed 36. The firm applied for and received an Ontario Development Corporation forgiveable loan in order to expand into the urethane foam business and today employs 60, mainly in the technology and chemical fields.

Tebbe Polymer Ltd. is controlled 55 per cent by the Ontario company and 45 per cent by the German firm.

There's a better way to wash the dishes.

An electric dishwasher will clean up the dishes better than you can—by washing and rinsing them in fresh clean water, far hotter than your hands could stand. Today's dishwashers are better than ever. Dishes don't have to be rinsed, even pots and pans come out sparkling clean. Isn't it time you threw in the towel and got an electric dishwasher?

She also attended the 1973 Ice Capades in Ottawa on March 14.

In Memoriam

YATES -
In loving memory of a dear son and brother Ronald Dean William who passed away 4 years today March 19th, 1969 at the age of 19 months and 8 days.
In our heart there is a picture,
More precious than silver and gold.
It is the face of our little angel,
Whose memory will never grow old.
God came down from Heaven.
He walked amidst the flowers,
He stopped to pick the sweetest one.
The one He picked was ours.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Two little hands at rest,
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best.

Sadly missed and always remembered, by mother and sisters, Doreen and Laurie Lee, Rosemarie, Jean Lavallie and Bill Keck. 1p

YATES - In loving memory of Ronald Dean who died March 19, 1969.
May the winds of love blow softly,
On a quiet peaceful spot,
Where the one we love is sleeping
And will never be forgot.
Ever remembered by Eileen and Eugene McCann and family.
