Jet Pilot

Flying Officer Garry E. Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gillespie, of Ottawa, received his wings at RCAF Station, Portage le Praire, recently. FO Gillespie, in addition, received an honor scroll from Air Vice Marshal C. H. Greenway for general proficiency and best combined flying and academic marks during the course. Twenty-one Canadians and three Danes were graduates of the course.

The Gillespie family formerly lived in Winchester and are well known in this area. Garry attended Public and High Schools in Winchester before attending school in Morrisburg and Ottawa and graduating from the Royal Military College in Kingston. He will be stationed at the RCAF station in Bagotville, Quebec where he will fly CF 101 Voodoos as part of the North American Air Defence Command.

Hogs Low Grade

Dundas County produced a 29.6 percentage of Grade A hogs in 1963. This percentage places Dundas near the bottom of the list of counties for quality in hog production. Lanark had a 45.5% A hogs and Carleton had 39.6% A carcasses. The provincial average was 37.6%.

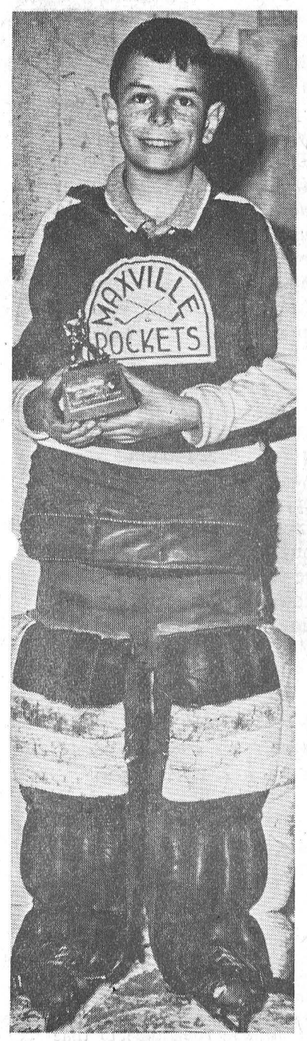
Reasons for poor grading are not entirely known, but with nearly 10,000 hogs marketed each year the loss in premiums paid for Grade A carcasses and lower price received costs County farmers many thousands of dollars. Poor breeding and poor type is believed to be the main cause of the low grades. Good type hogs may be downgraded by improper feeding and rations, but it is impossible to produce high quality carcasses with poor type hogs. Cross breedings also offer poor results in many instances.

Many Dundas farmers sell all their pigs as weanlings or feeder hogs and have little interest in the finished hog carcass. However, buyers of feeder hogs now are paying more attention to quality and are usually willing to pay more for pigs of good type and breeding.

SHOW CONCERN

Dundas County Hog Producers' Association is very concerned with the low quality production and has proposed to purchase boars of quality Advanced Registry Breeding which will be placed in the county for public service.

Secondly, they have offered substantial assistance to boys and girls to help them purchase quality purebred gilts for 4-H Swine Club purposes. The Association is convinced that better breeding in the hogs of the County would greatly improve quality and the profit in hog raising in Dundas County.



Most Valuable

Michael Quart, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Quart of Maxville, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Quart of Winchester, who was judged "most valuable player" at Winchester's Pee Wee hockey tournament on Saturday. Drive For New Members

COC Banquet Mar. 10

First banquet meeting of the new year for Winchester Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening, March 10th. Announcement of the banquet as well as of plans for the annual membership drive were made Monday night at the COC directors' meeting held at MacDonald Motors.

Members of the executive in reviewing the membership of 66 expressed hope that this number would be increased by possibly another 10 this year. Membership tickets, stickers and tickets to the banquet will be available at the same time, and will probably be circulated next week. As this is the first "big" meeting of the year President Garry Collins and his executive are confident that there will be an excellent turn-out, surpassing the number last year.

Treasurer Harry L. Flora gave a brief but interesting report indicating a substantial balance and a past year of much activity. Membership fees, by the way, will remain at $3.00, while the tickets to the first banquet will be $2.00.

Street signs, lighting of the ball park, and industry all came in for close scrutination, and following the pattern of last year council will again be forwarded a letter of proposals from the Chamber which will also offer its assistance to endeavours of Council. The Chamber is hopeful that both the lighted ball park and a start on street signs will become a reality this year. Reeve G. H. Reynolds will be asked to make a report to the Chamber banquet meeting on March 10th.

Harry Flora announced that the local Chamber had again joined the parent Canadian and Ontario Chambers of Commerce. He also said that Winchester would be a member of the Seaway Valley Travel Council this year.

One further point discussed dealt with the Centennial grant and it is the Chamber's wish that the matter be debated openly at the March meeting when members of Council will be in attendance.

Most members will serve on committees this year including: Professional, Industry, Special Events, Special Projects, Membership and Promotion. Committee names will be announced following the annual membership drive at the forthcoming banquet meeting.

CAS Vice-President

Allan McRoberts, well known dairy farmer of Winchester, was elected vice president of Chesterville Agricultural Society at its recent annual meeting. Full details of the meeting were given in a previous issue of The Press. This year's fair will be held September 1 and 2.

Lions Carnival At Metcalfe

Metcalfe and District Lions Club will sponsor its annual Winter Carnival in the East Osgoode Community Centre on Thursday, March 5th. All district Carnival Queens are invited to attend and compete in the Lower Ottawa Valley Queen of Queens Contest.

Added features for this big evening of entertainment will be speed skating and barrel jumping contests by experts. Of course there will be costume classes and races for young and old.

Readership Increases At Winchester Library

Almost five thousand books were borrowed from the Winchester Public Library last year by a membership of more than 170 persons. The total of books read during 1963 was an increase of 560 more than in 1962. These facts were brought to light at the annual meeting of the Winchester Public Library last Friday evening.

The election of officers was supervised by Rev. W. L. Thomas. Elected were: honorary president, Mrs. J. W. Ault; president, Arnold E. Dukelow; vice president, F. Erle Helmer; secretary, Emma Gardner; treasurer, Clara Anderson.

Directors of the library are Revee G. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Arthur Christie, Mrs. F. Erle Helmer, Mrs. Lorne Isaac, Misses E. Smith, Florence Milne, Madge Coons, Wanda Alexander and Carl Fetterly. Librarian is Mrs. Hugh Wilson, and the purchasing committee consists of Mrs. Hugh Wilson, Clara Anderson and Emma Gardner. The reading committee is composed of Mrs. F. Erle Helmer, Misses Emma Gardner, Clara Anderson, Madge Coons and Mrs. Hugh Wilson.

The secretary was instructed by the executive to write to the English Speaking Union with an offer to send all duplicate books to the Union for suitable distribution. A committee was appointed to select such books.

Council Studies Possibilities Of New Well

Winchester Town Council held its second regular February meeting in Council Chambers on Monday evening with all members of Council present. Most pressing business on the agenda was further discussion on the start of operations for the securing of a new well and pumping station to augment the town water system now in existence.

Representative from the J. L. Richards consulting engineers firm, who have engineered all the water and sewerage projects in the town, was present and was instructed to make a complete appraisal of the situation as it now stands and refer it back to Council as quickly as possible. It is the Council's wish that an independent second source of water supply be set up to assure the village water in any emergency.

Positioning of the new well and pumping equipment hinges on the availability of a sufficient water supply. The Station well is classed as excellent and produces a more than sufficient supply of water, and it is suggested that another well could be drilled in this area where the water is of a high quality and in ample quantity. However, the concensus of opinion is that the well should be located in the west end if an adequate and suitable water supply can be tapped. While application for test drilling funds is being made to the Water Resources Commission, a survey of possible locations for the pumping station will be studied by Council to prepare for immediate action upon receipt of the official sanction to begin test drilling. Application will be made for $8,000 for test drilling and an additional $10,000 to complete the project.

Also on the subject of equipping the pumping station it was decided to try to obtain a Canadian pump for the new station. The need for the Canadian-made pump was made evident last summer when the east pumping station was out of use for a considerable length of time due to the unavailability of parts to repair it. Delays in receiving replacement parts from the U. S. seem unavoidable and Council feels a Canadian pump would solve the problem.

A resolution that Winchester join two worthwhile organizations — the Eastern Ontario Development Association and the Seaway Valley Travel Council, was passed. Clerk C. R. Robinson was instructed to make the necessary arrangements. It was suggested that the Council and other local organizations take more advantage of the facilities available from these organizations to further the interests of the village in regard to development and tourism.

The financial report from the Community Centre was tabled and showed a December 31 balance of more than eight hundred dollars. It was noted that among general improvements made to the arena in 1963 were the purchase and erection of ten new ice lights.

SEWER SYSTEM

Present at the Council meeting was a representative from the Ault Milk Products Limited. The Ault firm is interested in hooking on to the limited sewerage facilities available in the village. The Ault plant presently runs its waste out an exit ditch but feels it would benefit all concerned if arrangements could be made to run their waste through the town system to the village sewerage lagoon east of Winchester.

To set up such an operation would entail the construction of some type of system at the Ault plant that would reduce the amount of contamination in the waste flow to a figure similar to that of ordinary residential waste. This might be done by several methods and complete investigation into the best method available will be made and Council may hear a report at their next meeting.

It is understood a trunk line from the Ault plant to the pumping station at Dufferin and Ottawa Streets would be constructed to run from behind the Community Centre down Dufferin Street to the pump house, with the possibility that sewerage faci-

Meet The Press

More than 3,000 people are involved in the publication of The Winchester Press each week when a few pertinent facts are considered. For instance, the paper would be non-existent if there were no subscribers and advertisers. Forgetting about potential readership which reaches into several thousands each week, The Press has a circulation of close to 2800 and another two hundred or so advertisers.

Add to this another 20 regular district correspondents, the usual suppliers of news like press secretaries, public relations officers and friends, and the list grows by another 100 plus.

Then there is the part-time staff and finally but most important the people who publish, edit and "print" the newspaper each week. The figure has now grown to at least 3300.

When this newspaper wins an award or two, then, it is only natural that quite a few people are interested, not only in the actual achievement but in the people who are primarily responsible. As previously reported, The Winchester Press this year won five Ontario awards for photography, best front page, typographical excellence and advertising excellence, in addition to being judged the province's best weekly in its class.

In a special picture this week members of the regular Winchester Press staff are shown displaying the awards which they helped bring home to the Winchester district. Standing from left are: Brian "Bud" Raistrick, Michael Dukelow, Mrs. Maxine Baldwin, Ray Larsen and Ran Wylie. In front on each side of the prized Joseph T. Clarke trophy are, from left, Ron and Reg. Workman, Publishers.

The combined association of the present staff with The Press represents about 90 years. Ran Wylie, alone, has been with this newspaper for more than 30 years, and the Workman family has been associated with the publishing business in this town for 50 years.—Photo by Daykin.

Second of a two-part series of Guidance meetings aimed at more job opportunities takes place in the auditorium of North Dundas District High School tonight, Thursday.

The meetings, organized and directed by Dundas County Public School Inspector M. N. Hutchison and High School Principal Roy H. Wilson, are designed expressly to "stimulate interest in education by providing information on employment opportunities" particularly in this area.

Twelve special speakers representing the professions and business have been selected for the meetings. The six scheduled to appear at to-night's meeting include: Ed. Pearson, Agriculture; W. R. Workman, newspapers; Mrs. E. Slingerland, teaching; R. R. Pearson, Bell Telephone; G. L. Casselman, insurance, and J. D. Moonie, Nestle Canada Limited.

The meetings are being held to bring together the business and school people in the area in order that a closer working relationship and co-operative effort may be made.

In addition to teachers and students the general public is invited to attend.

Two Car Crash Ends Florida Trip

A two-car accident one-half mile south of the Four Corners early Friday evening sent one person to hospital and shook up three others. Thelma Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnston of Winchester was taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital with painful ankle and wrist injuries.

Miss Johnston, with her passenger, Donna Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jennings, were travelling south on Highway 31 and were turning off the highway when they were struck broadside by an auto driven by Adriaan Heuff of Morewood. The Heuff car apparently pulled out to pass a car following the Johnston car when the girls' car began to make its turn. The resulting impact pushed both cars into the ditch resting up against the fence on the east side of the highway. Both cars were damaged extensively.

Beatlemania

The Beetles, whoops, The Beatles have made it! They are in America now and they have hit the proverbial pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

The Beatles have made it so big with the teenagers, pre-teens and the non-square adult population that there is a complete wave of bugs being hatched to infest the money making field of popular music. The Cockroaches, The Bed Bugs, and the House Flies are all buzzing around, just hovering, waiting for a chance to swoop in and cash in. But they are too late — the Beatles have crawled in ahead of them.

Everywhere they go they are greeted by a massive howling, screaming, clawing and jumping crowd of females. Mass hysteria seems to grip the population of all the American and British cities the Beatles visit. Armoured cars are necessary to transport the singers from their plane to their hotels. But the disturbing factor seems to be that under that mass of droopy hair four boys, who are making millions, can actually carry a tune and sometimes when the high pitched roar dies down as several hundred emotional Beatle fans faint, one may be able to hear a little harmony that isn't half bad.

To say the Beatles are four Elvis Presleys could be slanderous. They do not have the underlying sensualism that made many adult males want to help the sideburned millionaire to the nearest exit with foot assistance. They have what appears to be an unexpected quality of cleanness. They go through no sensational body motions to suggest in any way anything immoral.

The secret of the Beatles' appeal is still unknown; but what we do know is that it seems every red-blooded young teenage girl, and some girls a little older, love them. They can sing, and when you hear them under the roar of the mob or the twanging of their guitars, they carry the melody in a clear, unaccented voice that would not seem too foreign anywhere in the English-speaking world. Essentially, in spite of the yay-yay-yays, they are balladers, not rock 'n rollers. They are talented artists, we think, we can't quite hear them. Quiet, girls!

NHL beware, the Russian bear!

Now that the Russians have won the Olympic gold medal in hockey they have become almost unbeatable, in their own opinion at least. It has been an amazing climb for the Soviet squad when just a few years ago they were among the so-so's of World and Olympic hockey. Now they are the undisputed champions.

Their confidence in their hockey playing ability is at a point right now when they want to meet a team from the National Hockey League. One Russian even suggested an All-Star team from the NHL. It is debatable whether they believe they can beat any National League team, but to everyone in Canada there is no question, "we'd murder the bums!" Expecting to win or not it appears the Russians have accepted the fact that Canada's best hockey players are professionals.

The proposition as it shapes up now is something less than appetizing for the NHL. With the feeling that it is just picking cherries and a laudable but impossible effort to settle the cold war, it would be a mistake to travel to Russia to play as one comrade puts it "where our Soviet people can see how good Canadian professionals really are." It is a neat little trap set and baited. Will the NHL fall? Not likely!

What most Canadians are unaware of are the many problems that miraculously arise once a team arrives there. Only someone who has been there can speak with authority on the subject.

"The only conditions under which the NHL should play in Russia," said Father Bauer during the Olympics, "would be these: NHL referees, money in advance, their own plane, and their own rules. If these things were not not guaranteed, I wouldn't even consider an exhibition trip. You've no idea how many accidental things can happen."

"Like," chimes in team manager Bob Hindmarsh, "a delay in the arrival of your plane until four o'clock in the morning of the day you are to play your first game. Or, by accident, the heating system in the airport terminal, where you are hanging around for a couple of hours, has broken down. Or the bus is delayed indefinitely. They keep coming up with new angles every trip."

If you do not demand your own terms it will somehow be reversed and the game will be a distinct benefit to the Russians.

Why the interest in the NHL all of a sudden? The Russians now claim that the big league is not so rough after all. They have come to accept the body contact as part of the game.

"Now," says Arkady Chernyschev of the Russian team," we are educated. We have learned something from you Canadians. We want to learn more."

What they want to learn is the ability to play hockey by ear as the Canadians do. They have perfected a simple definite type of pattern hockey, but they lack the improvisation needed.

On this basis there is little doubt that a National League team could make the Russians look useless. The big leaguers' forechecking and uncanny ability to move the puck would completely destroy the careful planned type of Russian hockey.

"But whatever they do," adds Father Bauer, "I hope they do it on their own terms. Otherwise it could never succeed. When it comes to getting themselves an edge the Russians are incomparable. There must be a special department for arranging all those snafus. It's done too well with too much of a perfect sense of timing."

NHL beware, the Russian bear!

CANADA'S MEDAL

Toronto Report

BY HON. F. M. CASS

Last week was budget week in Ontario. For many weeks, even months, speculation had been rife that Ontario taxes were going up! up! especially in the present areas of hospital insurance premiums, sales tax and in a new area of provincial tax on tobacco. And so when Hon. James N. Allan, the wily and smiling Ontario Treasurer, rose in his place in the House on February 12th last everyone anticipated a tough taxing budget. The additinonal impost of gasoline and diesel fuel tax and the raise in hospital insurance premiums, with no change in retail sales tax or tax on tobacco, really left government and Opposition benches alike rather speechless. It would seem that a booming economy aided by the sound Robarts Provincial administration has enabled the government to hold the line in this fashion.

Following the budget speech estimates of various departments customarily are debated and on Thursday and Friday the estimates of some small departments were passed and those of the Department of Labour debated at length. The Hon. H. Les Rowntree, Q.C., Minister of Labour, presented a statement and set of estimates which showed plainly that this arm of government in Ontario was really keeping up to modern thought and trends in both the industry and labour fields.

Although it had been anticipated that the debate on the Throne would have been concluded, fate decreed otherwise. Midway through his wind-up address on behalf of the official Liberal Opposition, Elmer Sopha, Q.C., Member for Sudbury, came down with a severe case of laryngitis, which effectively not only silenced Mr. Sopha, but postponed conclusion of the debate. As a result, both Throne Speech and budget debates will now be in simultaneous production in the House.

Committees of the House sat daily during the week to process legislation. Of these the most interesting was the Private Bills Committee which approved a special Act of the Town of Smiths Falls authorizing (in spite of the general prohibition in The Municipal Act) a fixed assessment for the new Hershey Chocolate plant in that town. The same Committee also turned "thumbs down" on the application of the City of Toronto to allow Maple Leaf Gardens to build additional seating capacity over adjoining city streets Undoubtedly, many Members remembered the recent press release from the Gardens indicating that in a very few years the long established hockey broadcasts from the Gardens on Saturday nights might only be available over closed circuit paid TV hook-ups.

During the week a great many folk from all over Ontario—and Grenville-Dundas too, were in Toronto attending the annual conventions of the Ontario Weekly Newspapers Association, the Canadian Bar Association, the Independent Retail Hardware Dealers Association and the Association of Rural Municipalities. It was indeed a very busy week.

Meditations . . .

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Revelation 4:11 — "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou has created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

Canada is promised a new flag. To produce a new flag is a precarious business. It involves satisfying the patriotic feelings of a nation made of various nationalities, many already deeply loyal to the present flag. Canada's new flag will have to be an adequate symbol to express the thoughts and feelings of Canada as a nation. Who has completely understood or analyzed them?

Yes, what is the central thought and feeling of Canada as a nation? Is it truly reflected in our national anthem? Then our flag would become a symbol that confesses and endorses with our anthem, that our nation, its rulers, and its sovereign Queen, are all dependent upon God, Who is the absolute Sovereign determining the destinies of men and nations. As such our new flag could stand as a witness to the truth of God's Word.

This is a matter of greater importance than many are ready to admit. A nation that denies God as its Sovereign Protector is an apostate nation. Of this Scripture says, "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people."—Proverbs 14:34. To take God out of politics is a confession that man rules by his own right. To ignore God, even when making a flag, is to spell national disaster. To leave God out of any part of life is to reject Him as Sovereign of our lives. This determines whether we can still be called a Christian nation, or whether we must be classed as an apostate nation.

Canada has a glorious heritage. It was founded by those who believed that the country and its sovereign are in God's Almighty hand, dependent on His gracious providence. They taught the nation to sing "God Save Our Gracious Queen." It was a confession and a prayer. But do we, sons and daughters of our believing forefathers, confess and believe this as they did? Can we truly sing this prayer of reliance on Almighty God? Judging from what one hears and reads, Canada has dethroned God. He is not given a place in politics, is scarcely recognized in our social life, if at all, and most of our churches reject Him. Are we then still rightly called a "Christian nation?"

What is the central thought and feeling of Canada as a nation? Our new flag will reflect it. Will we dare to place the cross of Christ in it? Will God be recognized in the new symbol so that none can mistake the place we as a nation give Him in our national life? This will determine whether we have taken God out of our national life or whether He still has that central all-important place that men of true faith will accord Him. We as a nation must let anthem and flag continue to witnes of our reliance on God as our Sovereign Ruler. If we reject Him, our nation will soon be destroyed. Yes, we will destroy ourselves, for they who reject God reject life, and incur His righteous wrath and punishment.

Quick Canadian Facts...

Newfoundland's 704-mile, cross-island railway was completed in 1898; the Newfoundland tracks are a foot narrower than the standard Canadian gauge.

At the time of Confederation the Irish in Canada were second in number only to Canadians of French origin. Today Canadians of Irish origin rank fourth in number after Canadians of French, English and Scottish descent.

Canada's first subscription library was established at Quebec City in 1779 when a group of officers and merchants set up a 2,000-book library.

In 1962 the total of personal income in Canada was $30,794 million; in the same year total government revenues, exclusive of inter-governmental transfers, was $12,168 million, or the equivalent of 40 per cent. of personal income.

The personal income tax contribution to the old age security pension fund (recently raised to four per cent. on taxable income, to a maximum individual contribution of $120 a year), pays only about 40 per cent. of that pension's cost.

The cost of government in Canada, the total of all state spending, averaged $3,000 per family in 1957 and $1,880 in 1952.

Queen Victoria's birthday has been celebrated as a Canadian holiday since 1845.

The Seventh Column

It's been quite a few moons since the writer contributed his bit to Minor Hockey in the town and longer than that when he used to be able to put on the blades and pads and make a couple of rounds without panting for dear life. Our earliest hockey days were not organized like they are to-day and a lot of our stick-swinging took place on the snow-packed roads of some side street or the cattle yards where there was once acres and acres of ice. Later we graduated at a ripe young age to the Junior ranks and after four or five years with the Winchester crew and the once-famed Inkerman Rockets we turned to the coaching end of things.

Perhaps our greatest joy in hockey came at the turn of the '50's when we, with the help of the now Rev. Malcolm Steinburg and a "few" interested business men, took a fast, young Bantam team through to the Ontario finals. We were edged 1-0 but this was a hockey team sporting names like Bill Sherwood, John Durant, Doug. Stewart, Bud Raistrick, Denny Wyatt and others, many of whom later became fine Junior players.

Last Saturday afternoon we journeyed back to the local ice palace to get a picture or two and a story on the annual Pee-Wee hockey tournament. We had planned to stay a few minutes. As it turned out we stuck around for most of the day watching these young warriors (top age is 12) go after the crests and the silverware put up by the Chamber of Commerce, 100 Club and Legion. And we must admit — this goes down as one of our greatest days in hockey. We had little to do except from the newspaper angle, the purchase of a drink or 20 for the boys after three hard fought games, and a donation of a buck or two for the cause.

And it is a cause! Unfortunately many of us, particularly the parents of these young enthusiasts, do not give this bit of important recreation enough priority in our lives. Saturday there were more than 100 youngsters out chasing the puck, some of them in quite a learned style. We found, for the most part, that they were not only learning the fundamentals of hockey but also the fundamentals of "growing up" to fine young people. We found, too, a "few" dedicated men from Winchester looking after the lion's share of work. And if you don't think organizing and looking after a hockey tournament of this magnitude and age is work, ask Jim VanBridger, Adam Meek, Ken Morrow, Norbie Hutt, Duncan Levere and several others.

Although there is a fair bit of financial subsidization from the 100 Club and Legion, there is actually little interest from "most" of the parents. And, herein, lies the problem — a mighty important one! Just how busy can we get? The rink is only a stone's throw from any home in town. Saturday there were 15 or 16 "Winchester" Pee-Wees giving it their all-time best — but we saw only a handful of parents, maybe five out of a potential 25 or 30. Even a five minute glimpse during one of the games would be a help. It's a safe bet that the majority of parents don't even know whether their young lad, if he plays hockey, is a Peanut, a Pee-Wee, a Bantam or a Midget, all operating in town this year.

These kids are packed with spirit, they are learning a little of competition, quite a lot about hockey, and more about living with their fellow-men (in this case boys). But for the parents who did turn up there was an extra twinkle of pride in the eyes of their sons in knowing that Dad and/or Mom were standing along the side cheering them on. Actually most of us could make it back to the rink if we even gave it half a try. And by going back we might just offer a little more assistance. And this applies to "some" of the younger men in town who are rather conspicuous by their absence but who should remember that once upon a time not so long ago they were being looked after during their Minor Hockey days.

Maybe we're doing a little crusading this week. But, it seems to us, more and more people are taking less and less interest in the things which make up the true substance of life. Minor Hockey, the work of the 100 Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Town, the Church — every worthwhile group suffers — if we continue to "stay away because we're too busy." An attitude like this can eventually ruin a town. It has reached the incredible stage where one fellow said the other day, "I'm too busy to even watch TV!" Next thing we know this fellow and others will be "too busy" to start the car, to eat, to work.

Let's face it. There are some truly busy individuals in this or any other town. But, with a little organization, a desire to put first things first, and a little more zest for living, wouldn't it be a good idea for all of us to obliterate this useless, overworked, phony and most dangerous of all excuses "too busy."

THERE'S A MORAL IN IT

Sugar and Spice

By Bill Smiley

Once in a while, it is the good fortune of an English teacher to come across a fresh, original piece of writing by a student.

Bill Smiley

When he does, it's a drink of cold, pure water after days of wandering in the desert of mangled syntax, crucified spelling, howling triteness and tortured thinking through which it had been ordained that he should plod. It happened to me this week.

* * * *

At first, I thought my judgment might be prejudiced because I was quite fond of the youngster in question. I read it again. It still sounded good.

* * * *

To make sure, I had it mimeographed and tried it on my Grade 13 students, as a piece for critical analysis. Their snorts and giggles confirmed my first impression. Then we discussed it in depth. They could find little wrong with it. It had unity, coherence and emphasis. The tone was consistent. Well, here it is, just as it was written, on an examination, under stress. See what you think.

"My mother was extremely large and could make only loud, whirring sounds in her throat. The thing that puzzles me is how I turned out so thin when she is such a fatso.

* * * *

"Anyway, when I popped out feeling like a wet piece of cabbage, a long, dark man with a black mole beneath his left eye clutched me and cried, 'Oh, darling George.' He and the rest of the boys kissed me all over, even on the Queen's head. I was later to discover that I had the honor of being the first bill in an evil batch of counterfeit money. I was the one who would set the plot in motion.

"First of all I was given to an unsuspecting old lady for a packet of cigarettes. The decrepit old woman hesitantly handed them the change, all in nickels. Then they turned and scampered out, leaving me to face the consequences. It turned out that the old lady was a trifle goofy.

History Made as NDDHS Holds First Indoor Track Meet

It was another first for North Dundas District High School. An indoor track meet! More than one hundred and thirty competitors took part in the day of exciting speed and action. Featured during the day-long event were the 50, 75, 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes. The girls ran a four lap relay and the boys doubled that number of laps for their relay. Also programmed were the high jump for boys and the broad jump for girls. The wind-up of the meet was an obstacle course to test the skills of all the athletes.

All dashes over one hundred yards were run in the gymnasium with a suitable number of laps around the huge auditorium denoting the proper distances. Most exciting of the foot races, the shorter dashes, were run down the long north-south hall of the school. Running up and down the halls seemed to be an old trick for many of the contestants, and judging by the times recorded it seems a possibility that many get a maximum of practice in this field. Ten seconds to nine and my class is one hundred yards down that hall; Go!

The jumping contests were held in the gym with the airborne athletes landing softly on tumbling mats piled high for comfort. The obstacle course presented a challenge to everyone entered in the event. Crawling under benches, leaping horses, clamouring over the horizontal bar, hurdling, shooting baskets, skipping, walking the narrow plank, and other devious traps designed to test skills and agiliities, they all had to be done. It was an amazing demonstrtation of daring, patience, ingenuity and bruises.

The meet was thrown open to all students of the school with the exception of the Fall Track champions, Doug. Bouck, Judy Coughler, Doug. Curtis, Kathy Summers, Jean Paul St. Pierre and Magda Rasemberg. These champs acted as coaches, judges and timers. The meet, under the direction of the athletic directors, E. Forgues and Mrs. Bobka, was termed a complete and satisfying success and will become an annual event on the school athletic calendar.

In interform competition Grade 12C topped the field with 35 points, 11C was runner-up with 31, and S9 came into show with 18 points.

Indivdual winners as posted by the official judges revealed George Butcher as top senior boy with Edward Dignard, Matis Krisjanis and Andy Cousineau all tied in second, and Milton Lacelle in third position. Senior girls finished one, two, three in this order: Barbara Paul, Lois Stoodley and June Kendrick. In the Intermediate division Bill Gloss, Denis St. Pierre finished win and place, with Doug. Casselman and Robert St. Pierre tied for third. Betty Brown came in ahead with Mildred James and Brenda Merkley tied in second place, and Saralyn Merkley and Pat Henderson together in third to tie for the Intermediate girls. The junior boys' class was won by Pierre Marion wih Doug. Beckstead and John Boyd as the other finishers. Junior girls' division went to Myrna Holmes, with Nancy Smirle second and three girls in third, Marilyn Ennis, Laney Smail and Madeline Snider.

Sun Life Sales Up Five Percent In '63

Sales by Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada in 1963 were five per cent. more than in 1962. At $1,183,000,000 sales reach an all-time record high for a Canadian Life Company. Sun Life scored new records in every phase of its operation and announced that dividend scales to policyholders will be increased in 1964 for the fifteenth consecutive year.

Sales of individual life insurance were up 8.3% at $849.7 million, and group insurance sales were $333.9 million. Total Sun Life insurance in force at the year's end was $11,512,000,000. Annuities added an equivalent of an additional $2,706,000,000.

During the year the company paid $217,000,000 to policyholders, beneficiaries and annuitants, an increase of eight per cent. Assets increased $115,000,000 to $2,698,000,000, The year's total income was $436,000,000.

At the company's annual meeting in Montreal, President Alistair M. Campbell, speaking on the social and economic role of life insurance companies, said: "By providing both the incentive and the means for family protection through personal initiative, have helped provide the vast sums necessary for investment in the many fields of human endeavour."

On government pensions he said social legislation can provide a solid basis for a man to build security upon. The life insurance companies have common objectives with the government in this area. "The industry has supported the present type of flat old age pension plan, at the same time it recognizes that there are deficiencies which could be met by relatively simple adjustments." The president seriously questioned the Canada Pension Plan and the level to which state compulsory pension be increased thereby "because—and solely because—of their effect on national welfare and finances."

In regard to savings he said the life insurance companies perform an essential function by combining and channelling people's savings to serve actual investment needs. "Life insurance companies promote thrift and savings by continuously seeking out ways of educating people to the need of providing for the future."

lities would be made available to residents along Dufferin Street. It is understood tentatively that present lagoon facilities could handle the extra waste without endangering effective operations. But, a complete appraisal of the requirements for such an addition are to be made and a cost figure worked out. Facts and figures will then be submitted to Council and the Ault representative for further action.

Council voted in favour of paying for several articles of hydro equipment purchased but not yet installed. Reeve Reynolds was delegated to consult the proper authorities concerning the reappraisal of a grant for road construction.

Council will be represented at both the Rural Hydro Convention and the Ontario Good Roads Convention. Other business included the approval of a motion to suitably refinish the tables used when court convenes in the Town Hall. Town Foreman Reg. Freeland was instructed to make the necessary repairs.

IN MEMORIAMS

ACRES—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. George G. Acres, who passed away February 22nd, 1960.

Times takes away the edge of grief
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Husband and Family. 41p

WYLIE—In sad and loving memory of a dear husband and father, Alexander K. Wylie, who passed away on February 25th, 1962.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day;
But never will the one we loved,
From memory pass away.
—Wife and Family. 41p

BECKSTEAD—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Mrs. Nathan Beckstead, who passed away February 19th, 1961.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last
The world's weary troubles and trials are past;
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore
Till God called her home, to suffer no more.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter, Epha and grandchildren. Marguerite, Dwaine and Cecil.

IMRIE—In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Wilma June Imrie, who died February 23rd, 1958.

This month is here with deep regret
It brings back a day we shall never forget
She fell asleep without saying good-bye
But memories of her will never die.
—Sadly missed by Mother, Dad, Carol, Rae and Doris. 41p

FEED NEWS

MARKET TRENDS

WESTERN GRAIN
With limited supply of Western Oats and Barley available for this area, prices are likely to remain about present levels until opening of navigation. That is usually toward the end of April.

Wheat is still higher than other grians and probably will remain that way while export demand continues.

CORN

MILLFEEDS
Bran and Shorts are off a bit in price, which is good news at this time of year. Middlings easier too.

SOYBEAN MEAL

GLUTEN FEED

OILCAKE MEAL
Limited productions of linseed oil keeps the meal market firm. With increased demand this time of year we may not see much better price until late spring.

BEET PULP
New supplies of Beet Pulp must come out of storage, which adds to cost. Anyone with room might do well to put in a little supply from present stock at today's price.

CONCENTRATES
Concentrates are off in price too, although we cannot look for much change unless there is a drop in Soybean.

SEED CLEANING
Again, we would urge those who have small lots of timothy or clover seed not yet cleaned, to bring them in now before the rush of grain cleaning.

We are cleaning and treating grain now too — give it a run and get a germination test. Local grain should be tested for germination this year.

DAIRYMEN

Many fluid milk shippers and other dairy farmers will now have calves from fall freshening cows. Many will be raising their heifer calves as herd replacements.

The feeding and management of these calves today will be an important factor in determining how profitable as units they will be in the milking herd of tomorrow.

We, therefore, recommend two feeds designed to give your calves an economical start to vigorous, thrifty growth. These feeds are part of a program designed to grow cows that will have the capacity to give all the milk that has been bred into them.

HOW'S YOUR DRIVING IQ?

Most automobile skids are the result of (1) under-inflated tires? (2) too much snow or ice on the road? (3) over-inflated tires? (4) driving too fast on slippery road surfaces?

According to the Ontario Safety League (4) is correct. But remember, you're more likely to skid if the treads on your tires are worn. If your car does start to skid, you should turn the front wheels in the direction the rear end is swinging.

ERNIE RICHARDSON'S CURLING CAPSULES

Sizing up your opponents and their method of play early in the game can be a major point in your success as a curler and especially as a skip. Since skipuing is my job on the team, we will look at the situation from the skip's view.

One of the first things a skip should look for is a weakness in the opposing team, whether it be weakness on out-turn shots or in-turn. Then it is your job to get your players to play to that weakness whenever possible.

You generally find that many curlers, especially leads and seconds, have trouble throwing the out-turn with accuracy. That is your cue to exploit that weakness in getting your players to place thier rocks where out-turn shots are necessary.

When you see that the opposing lead is getting wide with his out-turn shots have your own lead draw his rocks in with the out-turn. That would be my strategy, only in the case when the ice has falls, or kickbacks, and the stone falls against the turn. It also is effective when the ice is true and runs straight.

This type of strategy does not apply when the ice is swingy, as nine times out of 10 a player can get wide of the broom and still make the shot on swingy ice.

RUDDER

You may also find a weakness in a curler who uses his broom as a rudder in a sliding delivery and leans heavily on it. He is likely to hook his shot or throw inside the skip's broom on the in-turn.

I'm not condemning this style of delivery for there are many top knotch curlers who use their brooms as a rudder, but they do not put much weight on it.

I have a tendency to throw my out-turn wide, but when faced with a crucial shot I usually throw a bit lighter weight and usually make the shot. If you are going to be a little wide it is better to be light and give the rock a chance to curl.

Stu Beagle of Alberta, one of the game's great skips and an outstanding shotmaker, has a tendency to throw wide of the broom but he seldom misses because he throws the right weight required for the particular shot. Stu seems to have a feel for the shot.

RIGHT WEIGHT

I have seen a lot of curlers who are excellent broom hitters, but they concentrate so hard on hitting the broom they forget to throw the proper weight required and as a result miss the shot.

It boils down to the fact that it is generally better to be a little wide than narrow on your shots, and the weight should be on the light side rather than the heavy, always allowing for some extra curl. Better still, however, is to throw the weight asked by the skip and hit the broom a reasonable percentage of times.

Alexandria Wins Pee Wee Tournament

Alexandria Pee Wees, a big, fast skating team, won the Winchester Invitational Pee Wee Hockey Tournament last Saturday. The winners received the Winchester Legion Trophy presented by Legion President Harry Mussell, and also received winners' crests donated by the Winchester Chamber of Commerce and presented by Chamber President Garry Collins.

Second place finishers Morrisburg were given runner-up crests donated by the Winchester 100 Club and presented by Club President Walter Johnson. The Robin Hood Oats Trophy for the tournament's most valuable player was won by Michael Quart, goaltender for the Maxville team.

Tournament chairman Jim VanBridger with assistants Keith Carkner and Adam Meek, got the series underway at nine o'clock last Saturday morning with Winchester and Chesterville playing to a one-all tie. Winchester was awarded the game on the basis of first goal scored.

The local boys met Alexandria in their second game and went down to defeat 5 to 1 after a hard fought game. Alexandria during their undefeated day outscored teams from Morrisburg, Winchester and Maxville. In a consolation round game the local Pee Wees lost a squeaker to Cardinal 2-1. In the championship game Alexandria knocked off Maxville 4-2.

Winchester Coach Ken Morrow credited his team as being the best improved team in the competition. The young team is playing good solid hockey and will be a top contender in next year's contest.

Referees Norbert Hutt, Don Morrow, Gary Price and Duncan Levere had little trouble in keeping the games in hand as the youngsters played fast, clean hockey. One final note is a vote of thanks from the organizers to all who contributed to the success of the tournament.

Junior Combines Tied For First

Winchester - Chesterville Junior Combines were in first place all by themselves over the past week-end by virture of a 6 to 4 win over the staggering Prescott Juniors. However, the Combines dropped their Monday night game to Morrisburg by a close 5-4 score and the two points for Morrisburg draws them into a first place tie with the Combines.

Only four penalties were called during the Monday evening battle with a fair audience in attendance. Winchester marksmen were Dennis Plante, Brian Helmer, Eldon Holmes and Bob Williams.

League standings as of Wednesday morning show Morrisburg and Combines tied atop the league with 17 points apiece. Cardinal is in third with 13, one point ahead of the South Mountain crew. Prescott trails in the cellar with five points.

Broomball League Starts Play-offs

All four teams are in the playoffs with team No. 1 meeting No. 3 Tuesday night and teams No. two and four meeting tonight, Thursday.

In Tuesday's playoff a big upset was the result as team one with a one to nothing victory defeated the league champions team three. The biggest game of the year for the league championship will be next Tuesday evening at ten o'clock in the Communtiy Centre.

A ROUND-UP OF NEWS FROM THE DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOLS • OTHS • MDHS • NDDHS

The past week has been a busy one for both students and parents at N.D.D.H.S. On February 10 and 12, parents were invited to talk with the teachers in the afternoon and evening. Teachers were pleased to be able to meet many of the parents and it was an excellent opportunity to promote parent-teacher co-operation in the interest of the students.

Sports, including hockey and basketball, have been sailing along under high winds. A hard-fought hockey game on home ice at Winchester last Thursday ended in success for Finch. However, our team is top-notch and if the players continue to display such determined enthusiasm we can foresee many victories for our boys.

In the boys Basketball House League Finals, class 12C emerged as the champions after a closely contested game with 12A.

Hearts and cupids decorated the gym to set a romantic mood for the Valentine Dance on Friday evening. Master of Ceremonies was CJOH television personality John Poser. Many lucky students were the recipients of the records and albums awarded as prizes.

On Wednesday of this week NDDHS students were addressed by Civil Servants speaking on careers in the Civil Service. The series of talks in forthcoming months on careers will help to guide many students into their life's vocation.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings parents again have the opportunity to visit our school. Both the parents and students are invited to listen to discussions on trades and professions, in the auditorium.
