At any rate, travel to the British Isles, both for its own sake and as a jumping-off-place for travel elsewhere, is getting to be a popular Canadian practice. If this sort of thing keeps up, it will become difficult to find a Canadian who hasn't seen Piccadilly Circus and Charing Cross. It is generally accepted that travel is beneficial and broadens the mind. It is clear that Canadians are strongly addicted to it.

At Roswell Park a new generation of young scientists think they have discovered the answer to unhooking hooked smokers. They figure to wean them away with denicotinized "cigarettes" made of things like petunia, corn, spinach, hollyhock, okra, cabbage, mint, tomato, eggplant, etc.—the very sources any underprivileged juvenile might rely on for a starter.

They can't really believe anyone who graduated from that kid stuff could possibly be coaxed back to it. It would be too much like giving up champagne for ginger ale.

TOMATOES CUT DOWN BY WEATHER

A late growing season and unsatisfactory weather conditions are hitting hard at tomato production in Ontario and Quebec—Canada's chief producing areas.

The Fruit and Vegetable Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, reports that a late spring delayed the season by two weeks in Ontario. Poor weather conditions for ripening are also contributing to the prospect of a 40 per cent drop in output this season.

In Quebec, tomato crops already delayed by a late spring, suffered extensive damage from frost in early September. Damage is reported so severe as to amount to practically a crop failure.

The unusual weather also has hit tomato production in the United States, even California reporting prospects of a light crop.

He said it works like "Alcoholics Anonymous." When a beatnik feels a sudden urge to take a bath, he rings up a fellow-member who comes and sits with him until the danger passes.

ENAMELLING OVER VARNISH

A chore many newlyweds face is refinishing discarded furniture given them by parents, relatives or friends to help outfit their homes.

Since these random pieces seldom match in colour, a good way to tie them together is to enamel over the old surface.

Paint firms caution that a small area of any varnished surface should be tested first to be sure stain will not bleed through. Mahogany is especially prone to bleeding.

To test varnished pieces, simply apply enamel undercoat to a small area and wait 24 to 28 hours. If no discolouration shows it is safe to proceed with undercoating.

If bleeding does occur, stain sealer should be used. When dry, it should be sanded lightly and the dust wiped off before the undercoat is applied.

All other directions on the label for preparing varnished, new wood and painted surfaces—whether in good or poor condition—should be followed before application of the enamel undercoat and the final coat or coats.

DUCKS FLY THROUGH

Two confused Alberta pin-tail ducks broke through the Iron Curtain in the mid-1950's and were shot by Russian hunters.

The ducks were banded by a combined crew of Alberta government officials and ducks unlimited members in 1954 and 1955 near Tilley, 130 miles southeast of Calgary.

Fred Sharpe, leader of the banding team, said he has received word from Russian authorities that the two ducks were shot along the Siberian coast near the Aleutian islands.

Rob Webb of the Alberta Wildlife Branch said the ducks probably reached their Pacific flyway after being banded, took a wrong turn and followed the Alaskan coast to find themselves wintering in Siberia instead of sunny California.

He said it was unusual for pintails to stray so far from Alberta.

Ducks are banded by wild life officials to record migration routes, calculate flight speed and estimate mortality rate.

TENFOLD ATTACK MENTAL RETARDATION CENTENNIAL CRUSADE

A tenfold attack on mental retardation as a centennial crusade that would enlist voluntary agencies, university research centres and governments was proposed here last night at the Annual Conference of the Canadian Association for Retarded Children.

Ten major pilot projects, one for each province, on various aspects of the affliction that now handicaps more than 600,000 Canadians, with each provincial division of the association assuming responsibility for one, but supported by finances and professional advice by the national organization, was proposed by Harry E. Foster of Toronto in a keynote address at the annual dinner.

Speaking as the chairman of the association's Board of Honorary Governors, Mr Foster advanced the plan as a program that would bear fruit that could be "a more fitting monument in 1967 than any centennial gift to Canada wrought in stone or steel, and a means of benefit not only to Canada but to all mankind."

"No greater challenge ever faced the Gentlemen Adventurers into Hudson's Bay three centuries ago than face us who are seeking to better the plight of those who suffer in silence from the most tragic affliction known to science," he told the dinner guests from all over Canada. "I propose an ambitious and monumental plan, and its success will depend on nationwide teamwork, on planned and co-ordinated effort, on local, provincial and national leadership. But I suggest that it can and should be done, and its rewards will be immeasurable."

Pointing out that medical science's knowledge of retardation, as well as sociologist's and educationalist's discoveries of the ability of retarded people to become useful citizens, were comparatively recent advances, Mr Foster's suggestion was that research on these fronts must be stressed vigorously now.

During the past year, he explained, he had visited Great Britain, the United States and various parts of Canada, and there he had met and talked with government health officials, volunteers in national societies engaged in retardation work, and professional workers in university research projects. On every hand he had heard the same theme voiced: More must be learned of what appeared to be successful.

Typical of the needs, he said, were knowledge of methods of diagnosing retardation, of evaluating the educability of retarded children, of counselling their parents on how to prepare them for schooling by pre-school training at home, of how best teachers should be trained to teach them in school. In many fields, he said, much has been done. But was it best? was it right?

He then challenged the provincial divisions of the association to undertake the task of solving the questions that must be answered, and described it as a "centennial crusade" because by 1967, if every province co-operated, pilot projects could be producing the answers.

The national association, he said, was ready and anxious to cooperate. If the provinces would join, he said, funds would be found to assist. He proposed an international library of information which would be established immediately by the association, the appointment of a national coordinator who would help the provincial launch their projects, and a contribution toward the salaries of the provincial project drectors to aid the provinces to get started.

"This plan will remain a dream if we are afraid to tackle it," said Mr Foster. "Once started, however, it will blossom and produce rich benefits for those who in the past have faced lives of hopelessness.

LIKES CHOPPING

David John Lee, Great Bentley, Eng., just likes to chop down trees and hedges. Free of charge, he would cut down unwanted hedgerows for farmers. All this was fine.

But Lee's mania ran away with him, police said. He went to the farm of Theodore Simmons and chopped down 18 apple trees.

"I have to do something to keep my mind occupied," Lee told a magistrate.

The magistrate ordered him held for three weeks while prison psychiatrists sought to cut down his craving.

WOOLLY HAZARD

WELL-PRESERVED BODY IS FOUND

The well-preserved body of a man thought to be more than 1,000 years old has been found by scientists in a cave near Cody, in northwestern Wyoming.

Dr. Harold McCracken, director of the Buffalo Bill Historical Centre, said the mummfied body was wrapped in a tanned skin of a mountain sheep. Tangled black hair was still attached to the head of the body.

McCracken estimated the man lived about 678, more than eight centuries before Columbus landed in America. The estimate was based on radiocarbon dating tests.

THEN IT STARTED

Arthur Cuculzella, 48, a cargo worker at Port Newark, N.J., couldn't get his car started.

He worked with the ignition but still the motor wouldn't respond.

Disgusted, Cucuzzella got out and slammed the door.

The motor roared to life and the car sped past its startled owner, 200 feet down the dock, over a foot-high wooden barrier and into Newark Bay.

1964 CHEVROLET

The general move to more luxury in regular Chevrolet is typified by the new Super Sport series. Super Sport luxury options so popular last year, including bucket seats and console, are now incorporated in a full-fledged series which brings the number of series offered to four: Super Sport, Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne. Regular Chevrolet is offered in 15 models. All models have completely restyled front end, fenders, trunk lid and bumpers. Options and custom features are offered in the widest range in Chevrolet history, permitting a 1964 Chevrolet to be virtually custom built to personal taste. The Chevrolet engine line-up offers seven engines ranging from 140 to 425 horsepower. Refinements include a new quick-acting automatic choke for standard V8s and new, stronger cast-aluminum clutch housing for all engines.

"Imagine me owning a wine cellar ... a month ago I couldn't tell the difference between a port and a starboard!"

This wine cellar, which costs much less than you think, is the perfect way to start 'learning' about wine. Here are the most popular wines in Canada. Here are wines for any occasion, any company, any meal. You'll never have an easier, more delightful educational experience!

A Manor St. Davids Claret—the most popular red table wine in Canada—ideal with steaks, hamburgers, red meat of any kind.

B President Champagne—Canada's prize Champagne—a celebrated wine for any celebrated occasion.

C Manor St. Davids Sauterne—Chilled, there's nothing more at home with white meat of any kind—fish, fowl, pork—or with salads.

D 74 Sherry—Smooth and mellow, it's the ideal appetizer wine. Serve pre-dinner with hors d'oeuvres, and the soup course.

E Mazel Tov—A rich and hearty "kosher" wine, yet light and sweet. Even if you don't "like" wine, you'll find this delicious.

F Manor St. Davids Vin Rosé Pétillant—In a handsome "champagne" type bottle this is a cracking good "crackling" wine that brightens up every party at a party.

G 74 Port—A delightful dessert wine. With snacks, with cheese and crackers—perfect!

H DuBarry Still Rosé—A wine delicately pink in colour, delicately suave in taste that "fits in" anywhere and everywhere.

J DuBarry Sparkling Vin Rosé—The "fun" wine—rosy and sparkling in the glass, light and tingling on the tongue. Where fun predominates, pour pink DuBarry.

Wondering how much bread to buy for stuffing a turkey? Food experts at Masdonald Institute, Guelph, tell us that a one-pound loaf of white bread, two or three days old, makes about four cups or one quart of light, fluffy crumbs with the crusts removed.

A loose "tent" of foil over the top of a roasting bird will keep it from burning. Food experts at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, recommend foil rather than a tight-fitting lid on the pan.

Cheese, becausie it is made from milk, in an excellent source of calcium. A two-inch cube of Cheddar will provide the day's requirements of calcium, say Nutritionists at Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

EVERYBODY EATS - TRY THESE

By Helen Graham

CHICKEN IS ALWAYS A FAVOURITE

WHETHER YOU ROAST IT or fry it or boil it you are always sIre of a good meal when you serve chicken. Maryland fried chicken is one of my favourites and if you are lucky enough to own an electric fry pan, you can make it with the greatest of ease.

Maryland Chicken

There are several methods of preparing Maryland Chicken. It may either be done in the oven or frying pan. In either case you should use young frying chickens, or if older birds used, you may steam or boil them slightly first. If the chicken is partially cooked to begin with, the frying or baking time will be considerably reduced. If you are not going to have too much time it is best to precook the chicken, although the flavour will not be quite as good.

- 2 chickens
- Flour
- Salt and pepper
- Bread crumbs
- 1 cup milk
- ½ cup butter
- 2 eggs

Cut chicken in pieces for serving. Sprinkle each piece with salt and pepper, dip in flour, beaten egg and then in bread crumbs. Place in a well-greased pan. Bake in a hot oven from 45 to 60 minutes, basting frequently with ¼ cup hot water. Do not neglect the basting as it helps prevent the chicken from drying out and also improves the flavour.

When the chicken is done, make a gravy from the fat left in the pan, stirring in two tbsps. of flour, one cup of milk and a cup of stock made from simmering the necks, wing tips and giblets in cold water.

Chicken a la King

- ¼ cup green pepper
- 2 tbsp. diced celery
- 2 tbsps. butter
- 1 tbsp. flour
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1 can sliced mushrooms
- ¾ cup diced chicken
- ¼ cup chopped pimento
- Salt and pepper

Cook green pepper and celery in butter until tender. Blend in flour; gradually add to the soup; add mushrooms and liquid. Cook till thick, stirring constantly.

Add chicken, pimento and seasonings. Serve on toast or crisp waffles.

- 1 cup cooked chicken, minced
- ¼ cup butter
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ tsp. salt
- 3 well-beaten egg yolks
- 1 tbsp. chopped pimento
- 3 stiffly-beaten egg whites

Melt butter; blend in flour. Stir milk in gradually. Add seasonings and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in yolks, pimento and chicken. Cool to luke warm. Fold in egg whites. Pour into greased casserole. Place casserole in pan of hot water and bake in oven at 325 degrees for 60 minutes. Serve at once.

Chicken and Rice

- 1 frying chicken
- 1 onion
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 cup rice
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 green pepper
- 2 tbsps. salt
- ¾ cup tomatoes
- 1½ quarts water
- 1 can green peas

Cut chicken into frying pieces; fry with onions till browned. Add tomatoes and water. Boil 5 minutes. Add bay leaf, salt, rice and green pepper. Stir thoroughly.

Cook slowly about one hour on top of stove or in moderate oven 1½ hours. Cook uncovered last hour. Garnish with pimentos and peas. Serves 6 to 8.

Don't make the mistake of waiting until cooked meat is cold before refrigerating. Refrigerate such foods as soon after the meal as possible, say food experts at Macdonald Institute, Guelph. This refrigeration is necessary, as bacteria, which causes food poisoning, multiply quickly at room temperature.
