Carmen T. McIntosh Dies Unexpectedly

The community was shocked and saddened on Saturday morning to hear of the sudden and untimely passing of Carmen T. McIntosh, at his home, south-west of Chesterville.

In apparent good health, Mr. McIntosh had taken the milk to the factory on Saturday morning as was his custom, and on his return to his farm had proceeded with the haying. It was then that the deceased suffered the seizure that caused his death.

Born in Winchester Springs 61 years ago, Mr. McIntosh married Jennie Henderson, who survives him, and moved to Chesterville, where he farmed since that time.

Funeral service was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Monday afternoon, by Rev. W. H. Heustin, with interment in Maple Ridge cemetery.

Surviving, besides his wife, are three brothers, Arza and Mahlon of Toronto, and Preston of Winchester Springs; two sons, Bertram and Ronald at home and two daughters, Miss Audrey McIntosh of Newmarket and Mrs. Ralph Casselman of Williamsburg.

The pall bearers were the late Mr. McIntosh's neighbours, Edwin Shay, Stanley Shay, Asel and J. H. Merkley, William Forward and Lloyd Smith.

IN MEMORIAM

BARCLAY—In loving memory of my brother Hubert, who passed away August 6th, 1946.

No one knows how much we miss you
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered since we lost you.
Life has never been the same
In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly, tender, fond and true
There is not a day Dear Hubert
That we do not think of you.

—Ever remembered by Sister Madge and Ted.

IN MEMORIAM

BARKLEY—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Hubert L. Barkley, who died August 6, 1946.

We miss him when we need a friend
On him we always could depend.
He cheered our way, he soothed our pain
God, grant someday we'll meet again.
And give us the strength to fight it and the courage to hear the blow
For what it meant to lose our Daddy
No one will ever know.

—We who loved you, sadly miss you, Wife and Family.

Boyd Family Reunion Held At Brockville

Organized in 1935, the eleventh annual re-union of the Boyd family of Hainsville, Ontario, was held Sunday, August 3rd, at the St. Lawrence Park, Brockville, with the largest attendance on record present for the occasion. Re-union of the group was suspended during 1943 and 1944, but has been resumed since the war. Coincident with the age of its oldest member, Mrs. Marjory J. Boyd, of Hainsville, who observed her 82nd birthday last May, there were exactly 82 relatives and guests present on Sunday. At the conclusion of the sumptuous meal held in the spacious dining pavilion at the Park, President J. Harvey Johnston, of Morrisburg, welcomed all present and paid special tribute to its oldest member, Mrs. Boyd. He also recalled the names of all those members who had passed away within the past few years and requested the gathering to stand for a minute's silent remembrance.

A photographer was on hand to take a picture of the whole group and a special photograph of the "original" members of the Boyd family, who included, Mrs. Marjory Boyd, Hainsville, Mr. Perley S. Boyd, Chesterville, Miss Jennie Boyd, South Mountain, Mrs. D. C. Chaumont and Mr. R. C. Fader, both of Watertown, N.Y.

Remainder of the afternoon was spent in a pleasant series of visits of those from widely separated points, while the younger set enjoyed to the full the inviting bathing facilities, slides and swings, provided at the Park. With the election of Mr. John Renshaw, of Watertown, as Presdent for the 1948 re-union, it was tentatively decided that next year the gathering would be held at some convenient point immediately south of the border. Members and guests were present from Watertown, N.Y., Iroquois, Cardinal, Kingston, Chesterville, South Mountain, Dundela, Heckston, Morrisburg, Hainsville and Ottawa.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my friends and neighbours who so kindly remembered me with flowers, cards, letters, fruit and candy and also personal visits while I was a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital. With special thanks to the Rev. Heustin and the Morewood Women's Institute —Mrs. Henry Elliott

SHOULD BE VARIETY CANNED PRODUCTS

There will be a good variety of canned fruits and vegetables on grosers' shelves this winter. Despite a short crop of some kinds of fruits companies will nevertheless be able to keep the consumer happy, says F. J. Perry, Chief Canning Inspector, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

While emphazing that much depends on a continuance of good growing weather and favourable conditions at harvest, Mr. Perry finds many cheerful items in examining the likelihood of this year's canning operations.

The strawberry crop is over and it was a good one—the largest in several years. While canned strawberries were unobtainable for two or three years during the war, owing to shortage of metal for cans, this year's pack will probably be equal to that of the sizeable pack of 1941. Mr. Perry foresees more strawberry jam than usual, but no more frozen strawberries than were packed last year.

There will be a less than average pack of canned cherries. A fair-sized pack in British Columbia is more than balanced by the small quantity available for canning in Ontario.

The good crop of both raspberries and loganberries assures an average pack of these fruits.

Deliveries of apricots to canners in British Columbia have been only about 30 per cent of normal, but canning firms will probably can enough imported apricots to bring the pack up to average.

It is expected there will be a larger than average pack of canned peaches, despite a decline in the Ontario crop. Production of peaches in British Columbia is presently estimated at about 20 per cent above that of 1946.

There are prospects for a good crop of plums, especially of prune plums. B.C. production is forecast as 20 per cent above that of last year. The pack, however, will certainly be no higher than the record pack of 1946, as there is a heavy carryover of canned plums from last year.

A reduced crop of pears will result in a reduced pack. Of this fruit, however, there is a small carryover from 1946.

The quantity of apples to be canned and dehydrated depends largely on the requirements of the United Kingdom.

As for canned vegetables, the quantity of asparagus canned this year is small. Canners bought little, as a result of the high prices for fresh asparagus. There will be an average pack of spinach.

The pack of peas this year will be smaller than that of last year when canners put up a record quantity. There are, however, enough of last year's canned peas carried over to give consumers all they are likely to need and this year's pack promises to be of the highest quality in years.

There will be an average quantity of (green and wax) beans canned this summer. The pack of canned corn will probably be as large as in 1946.

When asked about prospects for tomatoes, Mr. Perry said: "Many growers and canners were pessimistic earlier in the season, but the long spell of hot weather in the principal tomato producing areas has brought tomatoes along remarkably. But even if it continues, and if harvesting is good and if there is enough labour, canners will probably have a smaller output of tomato products than in 1946. Tomato products include: tomato juice, tomato puree and so on. But there are prospects for more canned tomatoes."

TIME FOR DECISION

ARTICLE NO. 11

So far the articles in this series have dealt with the political situation by way of contrast between the Ottawa Liberal administration and the policies advocated by the Progressive Conservative Party led by John Bracken, for one or the other of the parties will form the next government. The position of agriculture is now being examined so that farmers, who will determine the issue, may be well informed before an election is called.

Agreements and Controls

Two previous articles have dealt with the British Food Agreements made without consulting parliament and the two arbitary controls set up over farm producers; the Wheat Board Act and the Farm Products Marketing Act. Under these, farmers lose all freedom over their surplus production. It has been shown that farmers are losing scores of millions by being forced to accept prices far under present world markets.

Parties Concerned

These British Agreements were later laid before parliament for ratification. The debates that ensued have revealed the attitude taken by the parties most interested. They will be discussed as we go along. These views will include those of the parties in the House, the British Ministry of Food, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and probably the views of outside countries. A very fair picture will thus be achieved.

Fair Contrast

But first it would be well to present the main factors in the agreements as they affect Canadian farmers generally in regard to the prices arranged for them, not by them, and the controls that now govern them. It should be considered fair to contrast the farm position in Canada at this time with the position of farmers in the U.S.A.

Prices and Costs

In Article 10 Canadian farm prices in almost all lines were shown to be about 45 per cent less than those obtained by U.S.A. farmers. At the same time, as disclosed in Senate debates, the U.S.A. farmer can buy a whole range of supplies for farm and home tractors, farm implements, electrical equipment, cars and so forth, at a price about 30 per cent less than these cost the Canadian farmer. And the U.S.A. farmer retains his freedom in a free market.

Basic Exchange

Bringing the matter down to a concrete basis so that the position may be better understood by the hard working farmer of the back concessions we quote from Hansard debates, P. 1742: "A tractor bought in Canada costs 1,225 bu. of good hard wheat; in the U.S.A. only 710 bu. The same tractor costs 11 finished, 1,000-lb. steers in Canada, only 6 in the U.S.A. For the same machine it takes 46 select, 210 lb. Canadian hogs and only 26 in the U.S.A.

Parity Question

Later on the matter of parity in farm prices will be taken up for it entered into the House debates on these British agreements. Farmers across the border have won a parity position as the above figues indicate. That desired goal is still to be achieved in Canada. On the domestic level it will be seen, therefore, that the Canadian farmer as to both prices and costs is in an unfavorable position compared with his neighbor across the line.

Main Factors

Now in regard to the situation generally and the British agreements particularly, the question is, have the the constantly changing policies of our present government led to the agricultural stability and production necessary to maintain the future position of this country in world markets? The answer is found in Hansard, Feb. 3, the address of John Bracken which will be quoted later.

Deals Confirmed

Getting away from the domestic picture to again open up the question of the British agreements for further detailed discussion it will be of interest to quote the main commitments in these by-lateral arrangements. The Minister of Agriculture and the Minister of Trade and Commerce for Canada arranged with Mr. Strachey, the British Minister of Food, to supply the following quantities of Canadian foodstuffs for the periods mentioned.

Main Contracts

Under the Wheat Board a total of 600 million bushels of wheat for a tentative 4-year delivery. Under the Marketing Act, the following: 120 million lbs. of beef annually down to 1949; 10 million lbs. of mutton and lamb to 1947; 83 million dozen eggs for the next two years; 600,000 cases of processed milk products to 1948 and 125 million lbs. of cheese down to May, 1948. Discussion on these will continue as we go along.

A PRAYER
Florence Ripley Mastin

Save us, O God . . .
We are the little people of the world.
We have seen death bloom in the lonely sky
Like a towering yucca with ghostly flowers uncurled
Into a million deaths. . . . On us they lie.

Save us, O God . . .
We are the faithful farmers of the soil,
Of the summer field whose harvest has been death.
We are the sunless men in mines, who toil
Promethean as against the polar wraith.

Save us, O God . . .
We are the workers in the furious hive
Of cities honeycombed with fear and hate.
Send us Thy peace while still we are alive,
Thy need of peace before it is too late,
That we may sow it now. . . . O guide our hand
Upon the length and breadth of every land.
Save us, O God . . .

Your Move, Gentlemen

Journeying by night on horseback, Benjamin Franklin reined his horse before a small wayside inn and went inside to warm himself. But to his disappointment and dismay, he found a crowd of inconsiderate loungers shutting him off from the fire.

"Half a peck of oysters in the shell for my horse," he called out in a loud voice.

When the astonished inn-keeper went out to obey this startling order, the entire assemblage—save Franklin—rushed out to see a horse eat oysters.

Soon the people returned and told Franklin that his horse had refused to consume the bivalves.

"Then," said Franklin, now settled before the cheerful fire, "bring them in and watch me eat them."

Mr. and Mrs. T.O.Keyes Celebrate Golden Wedding

Members of the official board of the United Church, and many friends and relatives of Winchester, honored Mr. and Mrs. T. Oliver Keyes, on Monday, when they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyes were presented with a silver tray the gift of the congregation, suitably engraved, after an address by Rev. George A. McIntosh. The presentation was made by Mrs. J. W. Nesbitt. The couple also received many other gifts from their friends and relatives among which was a table lamp from their neighbors on Caleb street presented by Miss Jean Wyatt.

In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Keyes received many guests on the lawn of their home. Dr. S. A. Merkley, brother of Mrs. Keyes, was in charge of the musical program and vocal numbers. In the evening a public reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyes were married on August 4, 1897, at Fair view farm, near Chesterville, by the late Rev. W. T. Smith, pastor of the Chesterville Methodist Church, and lived in the township of Mountain and Winchester, before moving to Winchester. Dr. Merkley and Mrs. A. B. Allison, sister of Mr. Keyes, who were the attendants at the wedding, were also present at the anniversary.

Mr. Keyes is a former reeve of Winchester, having served in that capacity for eight years, during which time he was also member of many important committees of the counties council of Cornwall.

He was born at Inkerman where he went to school and later learned the shoe making trade, and worked at this business for 15 years. He later established a general merchandising business in Winchester, which is now being conducted by his son, J. Harold Keyes.

For seven years he was treasurer of Mountain township. Mr. Keyes is a former president of the Winchester Rink Company, an elder on the official board of the Winchester United Church, and a member of Henderson Lodge AF and AM 383. His hobby is gardening and he grows many beautiful flowers of rare variety.

Mrs. Keyes has long been a member of the United Church. For half a century she has taught a boys' Sunday school class. She is a life member of the WMS and for many years has taken an active part in the other organizations of her church and community. She was the former Miss Emily Merkley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Merkley of Chesterville.

Members of her family who were present or sent telegrams of congratulation, were Dr. S. A. Merkley, Dr. H. Merkley and Harry Merkley, of Winnipeg, Man.; her sisters, Mrs. A. A. Murphy, Saskatoon; Mrs. Eleanor Grant, Milford, and Mrs. Cecil Fulton, of Cape Town, South Africa.

Mr. Keyes has five sisters, Mrs. J. W. Ault and Mrs. A. B. Allison, Winchester; Mrs. Thomas Haggerty, Williamsburg; Mrs. A. P. Allison, Smiths Falls, and Mrs. Ralph Moad, of Toronto.

An out-of-towner stopped a newsboy saying, "See here, son, I want to find the First National Bank. I'll give you a half a dollar if you will direct me to it."

With a grin the lad replied "Alright, come along," and led the man to a building half a block away. The man paid the promised fee, remarking, however, "That was half a dollar easily earned."

"Sure!" responded the lad, "but you mustn't forget that bank directors are paid high in this town."

Dundas Junior Farmers Hold Judging Competition

The Annual Dundas County Livestock Judging Competition was held on Thursday, July 31st. Forty calf club members and junior farmers took part and the competition was keen as boys and girls alike matched their livestock judging skill.

Several of the outstanding livestock men in the County played host to the contestants and exhibited classes of dairy cattle, horses and swine for judging. The competition took the form of county tour, and the first visit made was at the home of Howard Kittle of Chesterville. After the group had registered an excellent class of Ayrshire cows was judged. The class was in charge of D. W. MacMillan, Assistant Agricultural Representative, who spoke briefly on the judging of dairy cattle.

The home of Parker Locke of Williamsburg was then visited and the contestants had an opportunity of placing four typical percheron brood mares. Mr. H. W. Graham, Agricultural Representative for Dundas County outlined the percheron breed characteristics ,the points to be considered in judging draft horses, and demonstrated how a horse should be shown to its best advantage.

Following a basket lunch at Mr. Locke's home in Williamsburg the County Calf Club members answered a questionnaire on their club work for the year and gave their reasons on the classes judged.

In the afternoon the judging party proceeded to the home of Wm. McMenomy & Son of Inkerman where a top class of Holstein milking heifers, in charge of Mr. Basil Dawley of Winchester, was judged. At South Mountain Mr. Milton Harper opened his home to the young folk of Dundas and provided a superior class of Yorkshire Brood Sows for judging. Mr. T. R. Graham of Morrisburg ably conducted the swine class and outlined to the contestants the points to be observed in swine raising for bacon production, and the factors a judge must consider in selecting true type bacon hogs. Following refreshments served by Miss Harper, the contestants were shown through Mr. Harper's apiary while the clerks totalled score.

Much credit for the successful outcome of the day was due to Miss Marjorie Weegar, Secretary for the Department of Agriculture at Morrisburg, and Mr. Dalton Willard of Morrisburg, who kept the records in order and presented the winning scores promptly. Further helpful assistance was rendered by the respective club leaders, namely: Mr. Gerald Kittle of Chesterville, and Mr. Allison Fawcett of Mountain. The co-operation of the men who assisted in showing the animals at the various farms was also commendable and greatly appreciated.

The winners in the Junior and Senior classes of the competition in order of merit were as follows:

Seniors: Keith Fawcett, Winchester: Hubert Merklev, Chesterville.

Juniors: Donald Rose, Winchester; Gordon McVev, Winchester; Gordon Fawcett, Winchester; Raymond Dawlev, Winchester: Burton Beckstead, Chesterville;; Stewart Edgerton, Chesterville: Ralph McPherson, Chesterville: Douglas Hunter, Morewood; Keith Baldwin, Mountain: Norma Monteith. Mountain: Mac Beckstead, Chesterville; Douglas Mulholland, Mountain: Malcolm Graham, Mountain; Earl Johnston, Mountain: Gerald Fawcett, Winchester: Junior Blow, Mountain; Marion Mulholland, Mountain: Stanlev Robinson, Winchester: Robert Milne, Mountain; Arthur Milne, Mountain: Franklin Milne. Mountain: Carl Gilroy, Mountain: Raymond Smaile. Brinston.

Those contestants whose names do not appear have all to be commended on their excellent work.

WHITE EMPRESSES BACK

When the passenger liner Empress of Canada sailed under Jacques Cartier Bridge spanning the St. Lawrence at Montreal on July 23, regular passenger service between Canada and the United Kingdom, which had been a thing of the past since 1940, was resumed by the Canadian Pacific. The "White Empress", which as the Duchess of Richmond saw valiant service as a troopship during the war, has been completely refitted and reconditioned to bring her up to the Empress class, and will sail every third Wednesday from Liverpool and every third Saturday from Montreal, with stops at Quebec each way. In Winter the Canadian terminal port will be Saint John, N.B., and the ship will call at Halifax eastbound and westbound. The day following the Empress of Canada's arrival, Captain Shergold, master of the ship (seen above on his bridge as he brought the ship up the river), was chairman at a luncheon held on board and attended by leaders of state, church and commerce (top picture). W. M. Neal, the chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and chairman of Canadian Pacific Steamships, is seen at the microphone as he stressed the company's firm intention to rebuild its ocean fleet and to continue to be a vital link between Canada, the British Commonwealth and other nations of the world. Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction, who proposed the toast to the ship, paid tribute to the war record of the line and its personnel, 85 of whom were decorated for gallantry at sea.

THE WEED OF THE WEEK
Poison Ivy

Poison Ivy, sometimes called Poison Oak, Poison Vine and Three-leaved Ivy, is a native perennial. It grows in all types of soil ,and especially in places that cannot be cultivated. The plant is a low shrub, sometimes clinging to the ground and at other times from six to 18 inches in height. It spreads from underground roots and from seeds. Flowers, usually found under the leaves, are green and white; seeds a greenish-white or cream colour ,and stay on the plant even over the winter. The plant can be recognized by its three leaves on one stem, smooth, often glossy green, with edges toothed on one side ,pointed and egg-shaped. It can be distinguished from the Virginia Creeper, which always has five leaves.

Poison Ivy has a very harmful toxic action on the skin. Most people who come in contact with it suffer, making it a menace to children, summer visitors and campers. Most people do not recognize the plant ,but all may suffer severely from contact. Everyone should be able to identify this plant and shun contact with it. There are several cures from contact, and a simple precaution is to wash the parts contacted with a good strong, warm soap solution. When anyone becomes affected, it is always best to consult a physician.

Poison Ivy can be eradicated by cultivation, but usually it is found in locations impossible to cultivate. Small plots can be grubbed out, but rubber gloves and boots should be used washing them after use. Spraying has been effective, but owing to the extensive underground root system, repeated applications may be necessary. Such weed killers as Stephen and Atlacide ,and also Amate, have given good results. The new 2. 4-D weed killers are also useful. The usual precautions as to time and weather conditions apply when using any type weed killer to destroy Poison Ivy.

Poison Ivy is a noxious weed under the Ontario Weed Control Act. The active co-operation of all citizens is necessary to eradicate this menace to the health and pleasure of the people of Ontario. All weed inspectors must insist and see that Poison Ivy is eradicated from their territories.

To Defray Expenses

Why, Mary, you are breaking more and more crockery than your wages amount to! What can we do about it?"

"I don't know, ma'am. Maybe you'd better raise my wages."

YOUNG HERONS COME NORTH

Each year toward the close of summer, young herons of various kinds, hatched in the south, become possessed with the instinct to wander northwards ,and southern Ontario's marshes become host to varying numbers of them.

The handsome American Egret in its snowy white livery, and the much smaller Little Blue Herons and Snowy Egret ,are among the southerners which may be looked for here at that season. The big American Egret is a more or less regular visitor, and the Little Blue Heron (in its dirty-white immature plumage) almost as dependable, but the delicate Snowy Egret is a rare find anywhere as far north as the latitude of southern Ontario.

The big marshes along our southern border are their favourite late-summer haunts. The tall American Egret (standing almost as high as a Great Blue Heron) possess black legs and a yellow bill; the young Little Blue has greenish-yellow legs and feet, and the Snowy Egret has black legs and bill but characteristically yellow feet.

These tourists remain in our marshes until the urge to migrate southward overtakes them in September or October. This annual wandering of young herons far to the north of place of birth, although an established phenomenon, may be governed by the availability of food, safety from enemies or may be simply the result of wanderlust, but the interesting feature of it is that the directive migratory impulse that carries them into the deep south for the winter eventually overtakes them as it does all other migratory birds which nest in northern latitudes.

FACING LIFE

Posture—"facing up" to life,—is important, say the doctors. Holding the body erect, with chest thrown forward, not only makes possible better breathing, with more oxygen for purification of the blood, but also provides constant mild exercise for the muscles of the trunk.

The authorities suggest that by putting a little snap and vim into the ordinary activities of daily life, one provides a wholesome stimulation to certain bodily muscles, too.

Time Markings

A ruffled school teacher demanded of a bright-eyed ten-year-old how long he had studied his poorly recited lesson.

"Well," drawled the little boy, "I studied from 'Blondie' until ten o'clock news."

Riverside

Mrs. John Bogart accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Orval Bogart and son Orval Junior who were visiting at the homes of his uncles J. W. Bogart and R. C. Bogart, the past week, to their home in New York, where she expects to remain for a month or two as their guest.

Messrs. Dan and Alex McQueen of the United States, are visiting Mrs. Catherine Foster and their sister this week and Mrs. Wm. Starke, Berwick.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Pollock and Flo spent Sunday at a cottage with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pollock and Ann along the St. Lawrence River.

Enough

"Why did you get a divorce?"

"My wife called me an 'idiot.'"

"That's not sufficient cause for a divorce."

"Well, you see, it was like this. I came home and found my wife in the arms of the chauffeur, and I said, 'What's the meaning of this?' and she said, 'Can't you see, you idiot?'"

GARDEN CHATS: By Mrs. Harry Allison

Hello Neighbour-

Well, here I am back again after a very brief recess. It was nice to know that some of you missed our little weekly visits. What have you been doing since we last met? If you're a country neighbour, I think I can answer that one myself. You've been helping to pull the hay out of the water. It's been a big job too. However, we shouldn't complain too much. The crop has been enormous.

And speaking of good crops ,how is your garden? and your flowers? Personally, I can boast of an abundant yeild of every named and unnamed weed—some I have named myself. There is one variety in our back garden (I'm not interested in it's name) but it is one of the worst ones yet. It's a cactus-like affair with a reddish stem. It crawls as close to the ground as possible and refuses to be completely pulled out. Hoe it off, and it begins to grow again immediately. Left on it's own for a week it could produce an ideal carpet for the garden. But it is only one variety; there are hundreds of others. When it's raining (as it usually is) I can't work out, and when it's dry, the soil is like cement. So much for my weeds.

Did you know we had a weeding party at the Reforestation plot on Thursday night? Several volunteers took part—we had fun too. Mr. Tom Moran came equipped with grass shears, and assumed the task of cutting the grass around each bed. Among the weeders and hoers were —Mr. P. G. and Mrs. Hewitt and Beryl, Mrs. Tom Moran, Jean Merkley Yates, Mrs. George Merkley, her sister, Mrs. Cowley and myself. Little Johnnie Yates, Charles and Susan Graham looked on. It took time, but we finally succeeded in eliminating the weeks and leaving most of the flowers.

One bed seemed rather devoid of plants ,so someone said, "I wonder what happened to that bed?" Our grass-cutter, Mr. Moran answered, "That must be the spare bed". With that we adjourned.

We would like to know what became of all the good plans to cut the grass and paint the posts. Our flower beds look a bit out of place in the long grass. Is it too late to do something about it yet?

By the way, Neighbours, there is a meeting coming up soon to plan for the Flower Show. We shall try to have it when your zinnias, glads, asters, etc. are at their best. You will enter your best blooms, won't you? That's the way to make it a success. Watch this column for further details.

See you next week. Until then, Happy Weeding.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! A cool atmosphere in a home is a relief on hot, muggy days. Better yet a tall, cold drink is certain to make one feel fine.

Untidiness, stale cooking odors, wilted flowers all seem to add to the intensity of the heat. Picture instead a tidy ,airy living room with cool colors ,bowls of fresh garden flowers and clean, crisp curtains. Now if some one drops in you are ready to serve a summer drink in attractive glasses with lots of ice. Don't spend too much time on the preparation of refreshing beverages, but make one to enjoy and it is good policy to always have one on hand chilled and ready to serve . Here we list some tempters.

TEA TINKLE

½ cup water
¼ cup granulated sugar
12 sprigs mint, chopped
½ cup grapefruit juice
1½ cups freshly made tea
¼ tsp. salt

Combine water and sugar; simmer 8 minutes. Pour over the chopped mint leaves. Cool, stir into fruit juice, salt and tea. Pour over ice in 4 tall glasses and stir. Serves 4. For extra flavour, add 1 tsp. currant jelly to each glass of Tea Tinkle.

PINK PARTY PUNCH

1 tin grapefruit juice
½ tin apple juice
3 tbsps. maraschino juice
1 cup gingerale

Combine all ingredients; mix thoroughly and add ½ tray ice cubes. Chill until frosty. Serve with a cherry for each glass.

PRUNE PICK UP

1 cup prune juice
2 tbps. lemon juice
1 tbsp. honey syrup
Few grains cinnamon

Chill thoroughly in electric refrigerator. Serve over crushed ice in fruit juice glasses. Top with lemon slices.

FROST MINT CHOCOLATE

2 squares chocolate
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup water
½ tsp. peppermint extract
1 quart milk
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 pint ice cream

Melt chocolate, add boiling water and boil until thick. Add sugar and milk and cook 5 minutes. Chill, add flavouring, salt and half the ice cream. Then beat with a rotary beater until well blended. Serve in tall glasses with a tablespoon of ice cream.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. H. C. asks: Can raspberry vinegar be used for boiled salad dressing or just beverages?

Answer: It should have some mother-of-vinegar added and then aged for four months to make it good vinegar and then it may be used in French salad dressing. Raspberry vinegar may also be used in quantities of ¼ cup juice with one cup water for beverage.

Mrs. .T. .C.. asks: Can gelatin mould be allowed to set again if they become watery in a warm place.

Answer: Yes, gelatin mixtures lose very little nutritive value.

Mrs. M. J. asks: Would you wax a highly polished table to prevent plastic tablecloth from sticking to it.

Answer: Yes, although a cotton silence cloth is the ideal covering with the plastic over it.

Mr. T .F. asks: If milk purchased from an accredited herd is it necessary to pasteurize it and if so, at what temperature.

Answer: Yes, pasteurization of milk is cheap health insurance on the farm. A thermometer reading of 138 degrees should be used for 3 minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Clement and children are at home for three weeks holidays with Mrs. James Clement.

Mr. and Mrs. John Devaney and daughter Linda of Smiths Falls, are spending a few days with the former's mother, Mrs. John Devaney, in town.

Mrs. Joseph J. Stone and daughters, who were here for the ordination of Mrs. Stone's brother, Rev. Father Kearney, have arrived safely at their home in Pomona, Calif. They were accompanied by their cousin, Miss May O'Grady, of Cornwall.

IN MEMORIAM

DURANT—In ever loving memory of a dear husband and father Aden Moses Durant, who departed this life August 7th, 1946.

One year has gone, no one can tell
The loss of one we loved so well
Short and sudden was the call
Of one dearly loved by all.
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought his death so near.
And only those who loved can tell
The pain of not saying the last farewell!

—Ever remembered by Wife and Family.

PORCUPINES AND ART

Even the keenest of nature lovers have a certain restraint when discussing the charms of porcupines. Dogs sorely wounded in encounters with the prickly fellows, or summer cottages damaged by them do not make happy memories; and to associate porcupines with art seems a trifle far-fetched. Yet the elaborately beaded articles which have become the most familiar phase of Indian art, are but the modern counterpart of an earlier art when dyed porcupine quills and not the glass beads of the white man were used by the Plains Indians for decorative purposes. These quills, and more rarely those of brids, were colored with vegetable dyes, cut into bead lengths and used to bedizen belts, head-dresses, moccasins, and many other articles. As shown in an extensive display at the Royal Ontario Museum, this decorative quill work was often of great beauty in both design and color. In the same collection are examples of glass bead decorations in great variety, and which occasionally reach the point where utility has been sacrificed for beauty—as when moccasins, soles and all, have been completely covered with glittering beads.
