Observance At Cenotaph

Residents of Winchester and the area will observe Remembrance Day this Sunday (November 7th) when an impressive service will be conducted at the cenotaph.

Veterans, Scouts, Cubs and Brownies, along with the members of Ottawa's Cameron Highlanders and N.D.D.H.S. band will assemble at the Legion Hall at 11:30 and parade through the Village to the cenotaph. The service itself will commence at 12 noon and it is anticipated most church services will be completed in time to allow all to join in remembering those who made the supreme sacrifice.

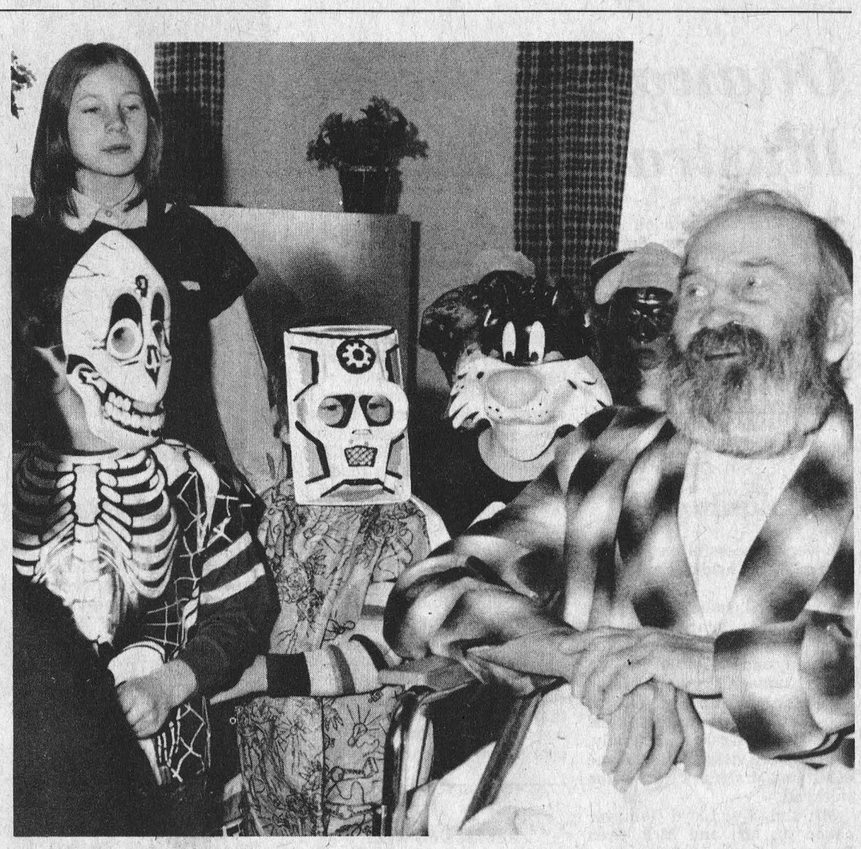
Train De-Railed

Both Canadian Pacific Rail lines and Highway 43 at Monkland were blocked by a 21 car derailment Monday afternoon.

A telephone conversation with Canadian Pacific public relations late Tuesday afternoon revealed that crews were working at the scene but both east and west lines and the Highway were still blocked.

A C.P. representative said the de-railment occurred around 2:45 p.m. Monday afternoon when a 50 car extra freight apparently struck a broken rail. The train was west-bound at the time, as 21 cars left the track.

Montreal and Toronto auxiliary crews, at last report Tuesday, were still working to clear the wreckage. No estimate of damage was available.



Pre-Halloween Cheer

Ghosts, goblins, witches, cowboys and pirates made a special visit to Winchester District Memorial Hospital last Friday afternoon.

Children from four classes at Winchester Public School donned their Halloween costumes and paid a visit to patients in the Hospital's chronic and children's wards. The young spooks asked for neither tricks nor treats but rather just brought a little joy into the lives of those who wouldn't be at home for Halloween.

Harvey Gallinger (right) enjoyed chatting with some of the tiny visitors.

Councillor Voices Concern Re: Morewood Subdivisions

The Village of Morewood has the necessary school facilities and Village drainage is sufficient to accommodate a large increase in population, Reeve Cecil MacNabb said Monday night at the regular meeting of Winchester Township Council.

"There is plenty of room in the schools," Mr. MacNabb said. "They've even had to convert one room to a library at the south School since the senior grades have begun attending Maple Ridge."

The question arose when Councillor James Sullivan expressed doubts about Morewood's ability to cope with the large influx of residents anticipated if the proposed subdivisions seeking to locate in the Village, should receive approval from the Ministry of Housing.

The Morewood Manor subdivision received particular attention from Council. The developing company, Carolark Enterprises, was given approval in principle from Council some months ago and plans for the 61 lot subdivision, located on the property formerly owned by Bill Dillabough, were sent to the Ministry for further processing.

A request from the Ministry for more information prompted Councillor Sullivan to question the plan as approved. Mr. Sullivan accepted Reeve MacNabb's assurance that school facilities were adequate, but insisted a closer look be taken at drainage in the Village to prevent problems which might arise in the future.

"We have to take a long-term view," Mr. Sullivan said. "Drainage which may seem adequate now could create problems in fifteen or twenty years."

The Councillor cited drainage problems presently being encountered at Chesterville subdivisions.

"Some of the problems there," he said, "are due to lack of foresight on the part of Village Council."

"Let's not make the same mistake here."

Reeve MacNabb insisted the Moffat drain which serves the Village would not be overtaxed, even with the addition of several new homes.

"Every extra stipulation raises the cost of the lots," he pointed out.

"Besides, the development is still a long way from final approval."

Discussion resulted in a motion to request the addition of a street to the Morewood Manor plan.

Drainage problems continued to occupy Council. Mrs. V. Anderson objected to several pyramids of earth left on her land when a portion of the Devanney Drain was excavated. According to regulations, levelling or disposal of this earth was not required.

Mrs. Anderson claimed she was told the Cruickshank contracting company had hit an excessive amount of hardpan and that monies budgeted by Council for the job had been exhausted.

"I don't want to be left with land that is completely ruined and have to pay for the levelling too," Mrs. Anderson told Council.

Reeve MacNabb suggested Mrs. Anderson obtain an alteration agreement from A.J. Graham Consultants which would enable her to have the earth levelled, providing she accepted responsibility for the cost.

Drainage of the Harry Mussell property along the east side of County Road 38 was again brought to Council's attention when a letter from Mr. Mussell informed the Township that, despite assurances some attempt would be made to rectify improper culvert capacity, no action had yet been taken. Mr. Mussell said he was preparing to carry the matter to court if necessary.

Council was sympathetic to Mr. Mussell's complaint and proposed to install a smaller, 30" pipe alongside the original pipe which is considered too small. The cost of the installation would be borne by the Township.

A letter from the Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded explained the need for training facilities for the County's retarded and requested financial assistance from the Township. Council decided to seek more information on the project before arriving at any definite commitment.

Other correspondence included a letter from the Winchester Chamber of Commerce asking Council's support in preventing the closure of the S.D.& G. Board of Education office in Morrisburg. According to the C. of C., plans are being made to close the present facility for economic reasons. Business would be conducted from the Cornwall office. A motion was passed to support the Chamber's request.

Clerk Glenn MacGregor reported 87.5 per cent of the Township's taxes had been collected.

A letter from M.P.P. Osie Villeneuve, dealing with the proposed tax reform in Ontario, was submitted to Council by Dianne Harkin. Members were invited to attend the next meeting of the Dundas Federation of Agriculture to express their opinions on the proposal.

The next regular meeting will be held December 13th.

Burns Feels Re-Zoning Much Too Restrictive

Last Monday evening Winchester Village Council and Robert Clarke, representative of the Ottawa planning firm of Haigis-MacNabb-DeLeuw Ltd. heard objections to the Restricted Area By-law.

At this week's regular session Council set up another By-law meeting. This meeting will take place on November 22nd. At that time Council will meet with Robert Clarke and review the objections and make amendments to the proposed legislation.

Members of Council present at Monday's meeting expressed the feeling that commercial zoning was much too tight.

Councillor Wayne Burns felt the Re-zoning as it was laid out is much too restrictive. "There is hardly a business in the Village today which could survive under the new law," he said.

"If we make it too hard for new business to enter or present ones to develop, enterprise will not survive and future development will go to the township," Mr. Burns continued. Burns felt that new business should not be restricted by a by-law and that the commercial core of Winchester would probably continue to look after itself. Council agreed that to the present time there had been only one commercial development which had been an infringement on a residential sector of the Village.

Deputy-Reeve Frank Brown agreed with Councillor Burns saying that a committee of adjustment could handle any future centre core development situations. "The committee could review every application for new business and make changes if necessary," he explained. Brown went on to say that if residents feel zoning is too harsh the Village is willing to loosen controls; "but we definitely need control to some extent," he said.

Council agreed unanimously not to rescind third reading of the Restricted Area By-law as suggested in a presentation from Chamber of Commerce. They felt that Chamber had made some valid points in their brief but their requests would receive the same consideration as those of private citizens.

In a bid to finish Village rezoning in their final term, Council moved to set up a closed meeting with the planner on Monday, November 22nd. A special look will be given at each objection as Council tries to implement a zoning By-law which will suit Winchester.

This is something which Council now feels planners did not take into consideration.

Baker Lashes Grits For Decentralization

Opposition House Leader and Member of Parliament for Grenville-Carleton, Walter Baker, lashed out this week at the government on its inadequate planning of decentralization of government services. "I have learned from reliable sources," Mr. Baker said, "that the total decentralization plan of the government of Canada will involve some 20,000 public servants over an extended period of time."

Mr. Baker continued: "The very magnitude of such a plan with its importance to the area ... demands that such plans be formulated on a considered basis and that a master plan be revealed to the House of Commons and to the people of Canada."

Stirred by the government's decision to move the Department of Veterans Affairs to Charlottetown over the next four years Mr. Baker said, "the Progressive Conservative Party supports the principle of decentralization but we believe that it should not be undertaken on a secret ad hoc basis. The reason for a particular action on decentralization, the Departments involved, the basis upon which consultation with public service unions and representatives takes place and the notice period to employees ought not to be the subject of speculation and certainly the principle ought not to be used in a desperate attempt to assist the Government and its friends when they are in trouble in by-elections.

"I regret that despite requests by me and other Members across Canada for full public disclosure, the present administration has not seen fit to come clean with the Country, with Parliament and with the Public Service.

"The Public Service itself, and I believe, its staff associations, support the principle of decentralization but there are profound questions that ought to be reviewed and not the least of those is what happens to a public servant who for legitimate family, personal or other reasons cannot move?

"What effect can such a long-range, large-scale program have on the whole planning process in the National Capital Area? The question that I have is, has there been consultation with local municipal authorities? I suspect that following the normal practice, this Government has not consulted with anyone; a full and public disclosure of a long-range master plan would go a long way to ease legitimate concerns in that area. How does the Government of Canada intend to deal with the growing phenomena with both husband and wife being members of the work force when one of the marriage partners finds an order of transfer on his or her desk?

"And, of course, there is the problem of administration. Without a master plan even the Government cannot be sure that ad hoc decisions will not result in the creation of yet another level of bureaucracy which can remove the public another step from their Government.

"No one can deny the benefit decentralization can bring to the receiving area but for the public servant, the application of the principle of decentralization brings deep and important, personal questions. On both counts, and indeed on others, the situation demands long-range planning, full disclosure and meaningful consultation, all of which are tragically absent from this Government's plans."

Link Will Challenge Township Reeve

Winchester Township deputy reeve Delbert Link says it's time he moved up.

When questioned about his intentions regarding this December's election at Township Council meeting last Monday, Mr. Link said if he did run, it would be for the position of reeve.

"I feel if I can't go on to reeve, then I'll go out quite gracefully," he said.

Although Mr. Link was not definite about his intentions, a decision to stand against incumbent Cecil MacNabb would provide the first challenge for the top elected post since 1970 when deputy reeve Willis Robinson contested the office.

Mr. MacNabb has held the office of reeve since 1961. He said he had considered making this his last term in office, but the veteran legislator announced recently he will again stand for the municipality's top post.

Reeve MacNabb said the five-member council has worked well together.

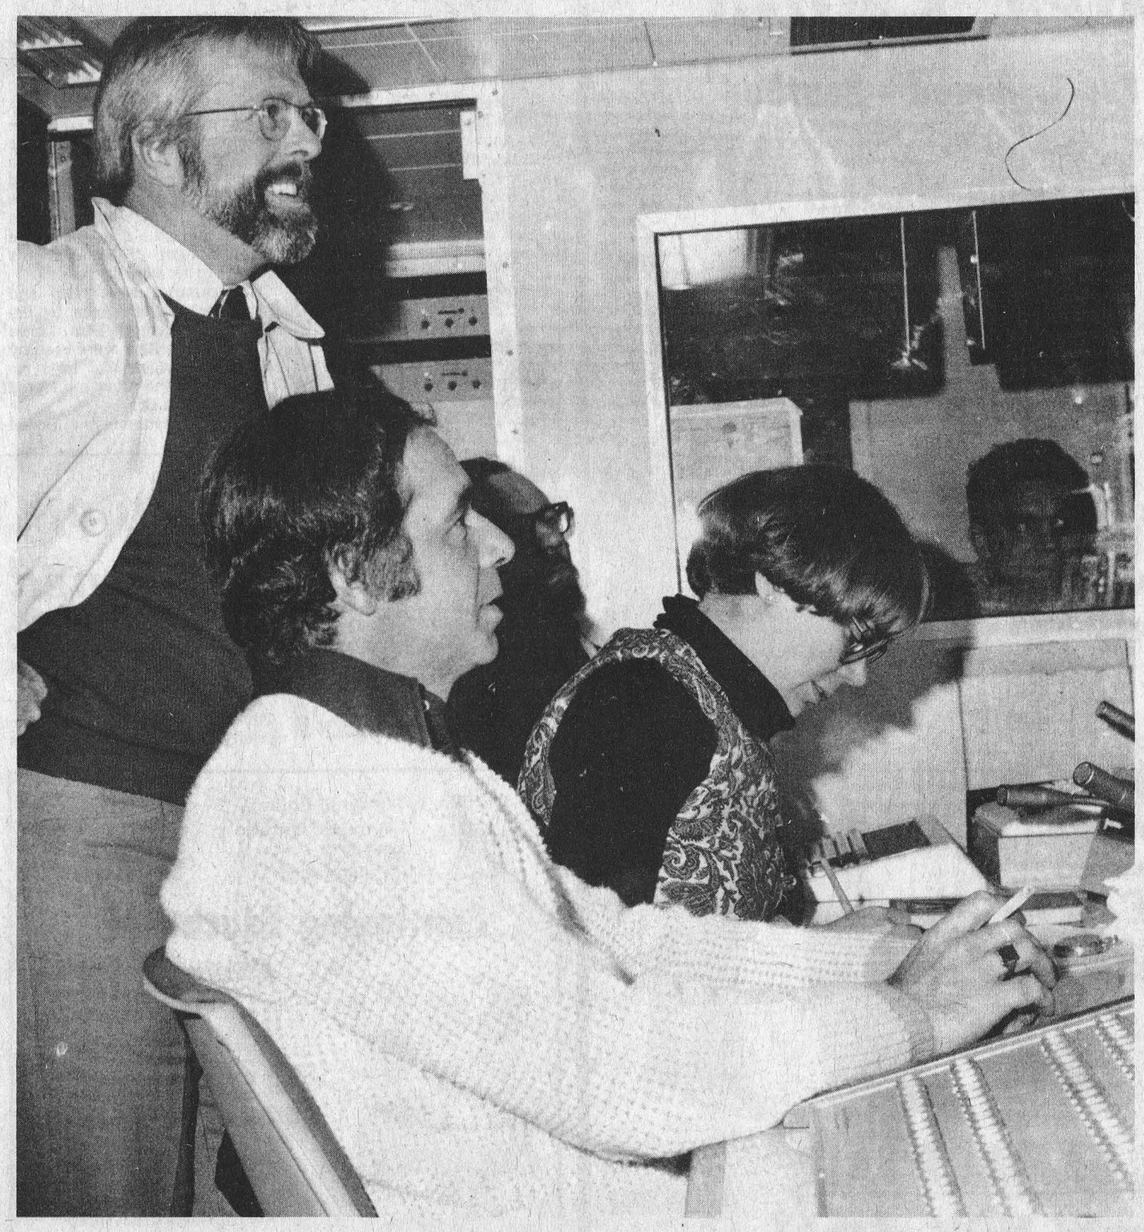
"I'm quite willing to accept any decision by Mr. Link to contest the election," he said. "We've worked well together as a team, but I can understand his wish to try for reeve."

Mr. MacNabb said he had several reasons for wanting to remain in office. Chief among these was his appointment earlier this year as chairman of the South Nation River Conservation Authority. Several projects, including the Chesterville dam, have been initiated since he became chairman and the reeve would like to see them completed before retiring. His appointment as head of the conservation authority has another two years to run.

A resident of Morewood since 1956, Mr. MacNabb said he would like to oversee the development of the area. Two large subdivisions are slated for the village, one already under construction and another to begin in the spring.

Councillors James Sullivan, Roland Cayer and Gerald Holmes have all expressed their intention to run again. Mr. Holmes will try for the office of deputy reeve.

Mr. Sullivan said he had no desire to run for any position other than councillor.



Reporting On Lanwin Farms

Country Report host Brian Smith reflects complete satisfaction as he views tiny television screens (monitors, he calls them), and watches exciting pictures of pasturing beef cattle move aimlessly across the silver tubes.

The panel controlling the monitors can be seen in foreground, while three technicians (one behind glass) execute their respective duties.

The scene is an interior view of CBC's mobile unit located at Lanwin Farms where a segment of 'Country Report' was being filmed last week. The carefully edited sequence will be aired this week on the CBC's Friday evening show at 6:00.

Exchange Marriage Vows

The marriage vows exchanged between Doris Arlene Wyatt and Bruce Haldaine Cumming were solemnized by Rev. F. Stone on Saturday, October 16th, 1976, in Vernon Baptist Church at three o'clock in the afternoon in the presence of relatives and friends in attendance from Ottawa, South Mountain, Winchester and Iroquois. Mrs. Doreen Acres was organist for the occasion and accompanied guest soloists Marlene Morris and her daughter Marjorie Ann Morris.

The groom was assisted by Martin Sheldrick as best man and John Cinnamon and Wilmer Porteous were ushers. All wore navy tuxedos with matching velvet trim.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional floor length bridal gown featuring white lace intertwined with delicate pink ribbon on the long sleeves, the high neckline and at the fitted waistline. Her silk illusion veil extended to chapel length, styled in tiered effect, held by a spray of organza blossoms. She carried trailing white mums and pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Helen Wyatt, as maid of honour, Linda Cinnamon and Donna Bowen, bridesmaids and flowergirl, Diane Wyatt. The maid of honour and bridesmaids were attired in matching floor length turquoise gowns with brief jackets in pink and blue floral and carried hand bouquets of white mums and pink roses to match the bride's bouquet. The little flowergirl wore a floor length white gown similar to that of the bride's with intertwined pink ribbon in lace trim and carried a miniature bouquet of pink rosebuds and white button mums.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cumming, R.R. 1, Winchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wyatt, Vernon, assisted the bridal party in welcoming guests to the dinner reception held in the church hall. An evening reception followed in Metcalfe Community Centre.

Eastern Ontario Synodical Executive Meets At Montreal

"Be Strong and Resolute" was the theme for an executive meeting of Quebec and Eastern Ontario Synodical (W.D. of Presbyterian Church) held in Ephraim Scott Memorial Church, Montreal, in October. Mrs. Carman Brown, President, chaired the meeting.

The opening workshop, in keeping with the theme, was based on Paul's exhortation to the Philippians - "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me".

A panel discussion highlighting Problems, Possibilities and Purpose of the W.M.S. spurred those attending to find solutions for problems and to create greater interest in the adult and youth work.

A presentation on Children's Work was given, using The Children's Study "What's Important?". Relating this study to adults, the members were asked to decide if Christian service was being given the priority it merited.

Presbyterial presidents gave reports of the activities in their areas.

"Thankful Thanksgiving" was the theme of the closing worship. Members were urged to cultivate a thankful state of mind, that they might have a daily habit of thankfulness.

ACW To Display Banner At Carleton Deanery Day

St. George's A.C.W. held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. Arnold Wyatt on Tuesday evening, with 8 members and one visitor in attendance.

With the president, Mrs. Bruce Acres in the chair, the meeting opened with the A.C.W. prayer followed by the Lord's Prayer and a reading entitled "Plenty for Everyone". A minute's silence was held in memory of the late Mrs. Willard Acres who was a long time member of the guild and church in Vernon before moving to Winchester. It was agreed to send a donation to the building fund of St. Matthais Church in her memory.

The minutes were read and treasurer's report given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lorne Wyatt. Two letters were read by Mrs. Bath which had been received from the group's adopted little girl from Brazil.

Three of the members attended the Deanery Day last week in Iroquois and reported on the day. The annual Carleton Deanery Day was announced for November 17th in Navan; the theme being "One in the Spirit". Each group is to take and display a banner as to their idea of being a Christian. Different ideas were discussed and one was decided on with the president, Mrs. Acres, Mrs. Murdock and Mrs. Robinson volunteering to do the work.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Wyatt. The meeting was adjourned and closed with prayer, after which refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Institute Member Crowned Princess

Fifteen members of Metcalfe W.I. answered roll call at the October meeting with president Mrs. Earl Quinn presiding.

Carleton Dairy Princess Betty Quinn was convenor and spoke briefly of her duties. Since Miss Quinn is the first W.I. member to have been named a Dairy Princess fellow members expressed pride in her accomplishment.

The president read an excerpt from a 1911 Farmers Advocate and later accepted a request that she represent the unit at the area convention. It was noted cookies were again sent to Ottawa Winter Fair, and also that 14 members had enjoyed an educational trip to Washington.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Ben Galloway and following adjournment a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Quinn and Mrs. John Boland.

Recent Wedding

A pretty wedding took place in St. Peter's Anglican Church, South Mountain, on September 11th, 1976, when Karen Lynn VanBridger and Donald Keith McNicol were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony solemnized by Rev. Henry Bowkett. Mr. and Mrs. Edward VanBridger, South Mountain, are the bride's parents; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith McNicol, R.R. 3, Lanark, Ontario.

Mrs. Hilliard Boyd was organist for the occasion. Guests who attended from Kingston, Brockville, Campbellford, Toronto, Ottawa, St. Eugene, Almonte, Morrisburg, Winchester, Lanark, South Mountain and area were seated by David Publow, of Brockville, brother-in-law of the groom, and Terence Graham, of Deep River, friend of the bride and groom. Oral Pretty, Toronto, assisted the groom as best man while the bride was attended by her sister, Mary Ellen, as maid of honour.

Following the ceremony a buffet dinner was served in the I.O.O.F. Hall, South Mountain, under the direction of South Mountain W.I.

Mr. and Mrs. McNicol spent their honeymoon in Niagara Falls and Northern U.S.A. states and now reside at 99 Thomas Street, Apt. 312, Kingston, Ontario, where the groom is taking his Masters in Science in Biology at Queen's University. 28c

Dear Parent:

All North Dundas students will receive their November Progress Reports on Monday, November 8.

The purpose of these reports is to provide both the student and the parent with an indication of how well the student is doing in his various courses.

Association Requires Financial Assistance

The Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded has issued a plea for support stressing the great need at the present time. Within the County of Dundas, according to association treasurer, Susan Shaver, there are many retarded persons with no outlook on life beyond the next meal.

"This can all be changed", says the treasurer, "by training in life skills and work styles."

In Dundas County there is presently no training available and members of the association are preparing to remedy this situation. But the venture will require financial backing and the general public is urged to contribute to this very worthy cause.

Those wishing to offer assistance are requested to contact: Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded, c-o Susan Shaver, Box 696, Winchester, Ontario. K0C 2K0.

$168,721 X-Ray Equipment For Winchester Hospital

$168,721 worth of new x-ray equipment will be installed in a new x-ray room as part of the renovation and re-location program at Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

A quotation for that amount was received and approved for inclusion in the plans for the proposed renovation program. Picker X-Ray Corporation Ltd. submitted the price quote.

Major portion of the program concerns expansion of the heavily used x-ray facilities from two to three rooms with complimentary equipment and offices.

In order to help finance this equipment and renovation cost the hospital Board has applied to several charitable foundations for assistance. However, two such organizations, PSI Foundation and the Atkinson Charitable Foundation, indicated that it would be unlikely that Winchester District Memorial Hospital would be eligible for any grants.

At the same time another group, J.P. Bickell Foundation, indicated that the hospital's request for such assistance would be reviewed at the foundation committee's next meeting and the local board would be informed of the decision in due time.

To date, no further word has been received by the Winchester Board from the Anti-Inflation Board about proposed contact with International Union of Operating Engineers. New salary ranges which are retro-active to June 1st, 1976, cannot be paid until approval from the Anti-Inflation Board is received.

Hospital Board members were informed recently that Swine Flu vaccination program has been postponed pending further information and instructions from the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

The financial statement for the period January 1, 1976 to September 30, 1976 shows the hospital to be within $3,000.00 of the budgetary limitations placed on the hospital for the year 1976.

A detailed request for the recovery of all or part of the 1975 year-end settlement cut back has also been forwarded to the Ministry of Health for their consideration.

Dr. G.N. Houze, Chief of Staff, submitted his report in which he reported on the various meetings held by the Medical Advisory Committee, the General Medical Staff and the various committees. Dr. Houze also reported that Mr. E.P. Thompson, Administrator of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Social Service Department together with the Senior Staff of the Family Counselling Centre of Cornwall and the United Counties had attended the meeting to provide the members of the medical staff with much needed information about the service available to patients from their respective departments. Dr. Houze also mentioned that considerable discussion took place with reference to tentative proposals received from the Board's Public Relations Committee for changes in visiting hours. Although no definite counter proposals were formulated, Dr. Houze mentioned that it would appear that the Medical Staff would not be in favour of extending visiting hours to ten o'clock in the morning, while the proposal to make present regulations concerning visiting by children more flexible also did not seem to appeal to most members. There was agreement for widening the visiting policies to allow adults generally to visit in the Obstetrical department.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

Mrs. Louise Sloan, newly elected First Vice-president reported for the Auxiliary on behalf of the new President of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Irene Wallace, who was unavoidably absent.

In her report, Mrs. Sloan reported that the net income from the very successful Antique and Craft Show held in June was $4,425.00 and that a cheque for this amount had been presented to the Treasurer of the Auxiliary. A small amount (approx. $46.00) was left in the Antique and Craft Committee Account for use in the planning of the 1977 Antique and Craft Market.

Mrs. Sloan also reported that a fashion show is being planned for November 8, 1976 at the Maple Ridge Public School. She also disclosed that Mr. J.C. Mulvihill, Area Director of the Canadian Red Cross Blood Donor Service (Eastern Ontario) gave a very informative talk to the Auxiliary at its October 14, 1976 meeting.

Mrs. Sloan also said that the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was very well presented by a group of 12 ladies at the October 6, 1976 quarterly meeting of District No. 9 meeting of the Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario, which was held at the new Cornwall Civic Complex. Both Administrator and Director of Nursing of the hospital were present at the meeting.

Mrs. Sloan also briefly commented on some of the topics discussed in round table groups at that meeting, such as setting up and staffing a family room and the provision of large clocks and calenders in long term care areas.

It was also reported that $6.00 had been received by the Auxiliary covering commission earned on the sale of paintings, exhibited throughout the hospital by the Ottawa and Area Art Association.

H.P. Stel, Administrator reported that staff turnover was again very slight during September, while the statistical report shows still further increases in the work performed by almost all departments, especially the Laboratory and the X-Ray Department.

Mr. Stel gratefully acknowledged the receipt of a cheque from the Hospital Auxiliary in the amount of $4,021.50, to cover the cost of the recently purchased Laparoscope.

The Administrator also commented on the fact he had attended a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ontario Hospital Association on October 7, 1976.

Special In-Service Education programs for the Nursing Staff, with several staff doctors participating in the lecture program will be started in November, reported Mr. Stel.

The Joint Conference Committee, which is a liaison committee of the Board and the Medical Staff, held its regular quarterly meeting on September 30, 1976. Minutes of this meeting were read to the Board and they included a report of progress made with implementation of various recommendations issued by Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation as a result of the August 1976 survey.

Other business covered at Tuesday's Board session included a financial statement for the Staff Recreational Association shows this group to be in a financial sound position with $724.67 in the bank at September 3, 1976.

The Board was also informed of the sudden and unexpected passing away of Mrs. Letta Acres (at noon on the day of the Board meeting) who worked in the Business Office of the hospital for twenty years from August 1949 until her retirement in October 1969. The Administrator mentioned that he would, on behalf of the Board, arrange for a $25.00 donation to the Ontario Heart Fund in memory of the late Mrs. Acres.

The Administrator also mentioned that Mr. G.E. Elliott, the immediate Past-President of the Board of Governors was presently a patient in the hospital, but that he was happy to report that Mr. Elliott's condition had improved considerably since his admission. It was decided that a dried flower arrangement be sent to Mr. Elliott by the Board with its wishes for a speedy recovery and return to the Board meetings, in addition to the card which the Administrator had already sent earlier on behalf of the Board.

Tenders for milk, bread and snowplowing were accepted as follows: Bread - Gerry Lanthier and Fils; Milk - Cameron's Dairy, Snowplowing - Mr. Denzil Hutt.

New equipment approved for purchase totaled $400 and included Biopsy forceps with needle for Olympus Gastroscope and accessories for I.H. Cadet Tractro.

A letter was received from the legal firm of Enfield, Hemmerick, Nenry, Lyonde and Wood, informing the hospital that its share of the Estate of Nellie Jane Robinson would amount to $3,555.79. The President of the Board and the Secretary were authorized to execute the necessary release forms for this purpose.

A letter was also received from Dr. Marc Lalonde, Director of the Community Health Services of the Federal Department of Health and Welfare, in which he thanked the hospital for its hospitality during the visit of Belgian Health Service representatives on Saturday, August 28, 1976. The Administrator explained that these representatives were attending a meeting of the International Health Services in Ottawa at the time and the visit to our hospital was arranged through Dr. Lalonde on very short notice.

Open Next Week?

Gerry Blais of Harvey Signs, Ottawa, applies the white background to the recently completed signs on the new Becker's Milk Store windows. He had completed lettering the previous day.

Roger Paquette, contractor, who has handled the building and renovation of 10 milk stores for the same company, estimated that the new Winchester store could be open as early as next week.

Agriculture Canada To Mail Metric Calendars

Canada, with its plans to be fully metric by 1981, is joining more than 90 per cent of the world's population in using the metric system. Conversion to metric measures brings us in line with the international system of measurement and may help expand markets for Canadian exports.

For Canadian farmers, the next two years will be important. Much of the agricultural industry has already started converting to metric measurement.

To help Canadian farmers make the changeover as smoothly as possible, Agriculture Canada has developed a metric calendar. It will be mailed out to all Canadian farmers by mid-November, but because of federal budget restraints, it will not be a available to the non-farming public.

As well as the attributes of a regular calendar, Agriculture Canada's metric version contains complete conversion charts to explain the metric system and how it will apply to agriculture. Examples of conversions from Imperial to metric measures will prove useful on the farm.

The information provided by the calendar will be a practical reference guide to metric changes as they occur in the agricultural industry during 1977 and 1978. Already, the grain, pesticide, chemical, dairy, feed, and many other related agricultural areas have carefully considered metric conversion. Some, like the feed and grain industries, have set a target date (February 1, 1977) for the conversion to take place.

Metric in the grain trade will mean grain is to be measured by weight rather than in bushels. So, after February 1, 1977, grain delivered to an elevator will be weighed and paid for in tonnes. For example, if 174 bushels of wheat are delivered to the elevator, the delivery docket will show 4.73 tonnes.

It will take time to get used to the new terms, but with practice, farmers will find metric measures easy to work with.

Ellsworth Summers

A former well known resident of the Winchester district, Ellsworth Summers passed away at Cornwall on Sunday morning. Funeral service was held on Tuesday at Cornwall.

The late Mr. Summers is survived by his wife, the former Annie Holmes; two daughters, Shirley (Mrs. Dawson Jr. Levere), Mountain and Pamela of Cornwall; and one son, Steven of Cornwall. A son, Dennis, predeceased him a few years ago.

Winchester Brownies Express Appreciation

Winchester Brownies were pleased to receive a generous donation from the local Lions Club to be used to purchase much needed equipment.

The Brownies also expressed pleasure at being asked to participate in Remembrance Day ceremonies and annouce that a Christmas Bazaar is being planned for the last week in November.

The girls will welcome donations of crafts or handiwork and those desiring to contribute are requested to contact either: Tina Savage (774-2242); Anzely Warner (774-2029); Sandra Merkley (774-3248); or Jane Tanguay (989-6096).

Peaceful Halloween

Provincial Police at Winchester and Morrisburg both reported only minor incidents on Halloween.

"There were a few trouble spots", noted Constable Watson Community Service Officer for Dundas County, "but it was refreshing to note that the wholesale destruction appears to be tapering off."

The Constable went on to say that, in his opinion, the irresponsible element is a small minority.

"Most of the kids", he said, "are well behaved".

Teachers To Support Area Groups

What's happening in education today? Should our schools get back to more of the basic subjects? How do we set educational standards?

The Ontario Teachers' Federation is offering from $50 to $500 in funding to groups of citizens who will plan workshops or conferences on educational topics just like these..

"The purpose is to give people an opportunity to discuss what's on their minds concerning education," explains R.G. "Des" Dixon, an executive assistant with OTF, the official organization of Ontario's 102,000 teachers from Kindergarten to Grade 13. "The topics can be whatever they want to talk about."

He said the Federation has sponsored and organized workshops and conferences for its members and others interested in education across the province for many years. "As part of a continuing program to promote understanding of educational matters, we also want to facilitate discussion and information sharing on the concerns of parents and the public."

If requested, Mr. Dixon said OTF will suggest topics or resource persons.

Applications must include a brief description of the proposal, its aims and objectives, date and location, names, addresses and phone numbers of chairman and committee, amount of funding sought from OTF and other sources and other details. Groups applying for grants must ensure one teacher employed by the local school board and endorsed by his or her principal sits on the committee, and must advertise and bill the event as "The Ontario Teachers' Federation Workshop (or Conference) in cooperation with" the local group, or the reverse if the local group is contributing more funding.

For further information, write Educational Studies Committee, Ontario Teachers' Federation, 1260 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario M5R 2B5.

Vandals Ruin Store

Although Halloween was quiet in most communities throughout the area, Kenmore was hit hard when vandals left the general store in a shambles after smashing every window.

The business complex, located on the main street and owned by Yves Gravelle, appeared the main target, and early Sunday morning Mr. Gravelle estimated damage would run into the thousands. Every glass in the store front, including the second storey, was broken and new siding severely punctured by the hail of stones.

Theft was apparently not the motive since Mr. Gravelle noted that only cigarettes and a few other articles were missing.

The rocks, however, not only broke windows but also shattered glass showcases and left floors strewn with merchandise including watches and jewellery.

"I guess", said the bewildered merchant, "this will mean the end of my business. I just can't survive this type of abuse."

Music Therapy Reaches Out

The Winchester Organ Club recently became enlightened on the topic of Music Therapy. This was made possible only by a special guest appearance of an extremely talented, Beth-Lee Gordon.

Reaching handicapped children and helping them grow through music is the professional career Beth-Lee Gordon has chosen. And she has recently begun her work as a Music Therapist, joining other pioneers in her field, in Montreal at a school for mentally retarded children.

Beth - Lee Gordon

A few years ago in her final undergraduate year in psychology at Carleton University, Miss Gordon discovered a book on Music Therapy. It brought to mind the many hours she had spent enjoying music and how it had enriched her life. Thinking of the many children she had met who were deprived of such musical enrichment by virtue of their handicaps, she immediately understood the direction in which her professional life must proceed.

The power of music as a healer has been realized throughout most of man's history. But the use of music in therapy has only been thoroughly examined during the past fifty years. Music therapy helps children integrate themselves into their own social milieu. It helps encourage self-expression, builds self-confidence and, most basically, helps the individual to establish a positive concept of who he is.

One of the greatest problems of the mentally retarded is communication. Music, because it is a form of nonverbal communication, is a natural medium for establishing a personal contact.

Several associations for Music Therapy are presently in the making in Canada, and several dozen trained Music Therapists are practising in various institutions throughout the country. However, Canada has not yet recognized Music Therapy as a profession.

Miss Gordon graduated last July from the Nordoff and Robbins Advanced Training Course in Music Therapy given in London, England. This intensive training equipped her to begin work with severely handicapped children both in individual therapy and with groups. She believes very strongly in the potential of Music Therapy, and looks forward to the time when it will be available to help all those whose lives can be made richer and more meaningful through its use.

With the aid of a tape recording of a private session with a particular retarded child, Beth-Lee demonstrated the remarkable abilities this 11 year old Adam was capable of. Adam had been classified by psychologists as a psychotic, and spent his only energy rocking back and forth, biting himself and screaming. He had not yet been able to speak and rejected any personal contact with others. Beth-Lee's recording showed a progression in his behaviour patterns to a break-through point where, for 10 minutes, he could be heard humming and singing to the piano music improvised by the therapist.

As Beth-Lee concluded, if it was possible to bring even 10 solid minutes of musical enjoyment and contentment to a child who had been rejected by his parents and had such a severe handicap, then her job was worthwhile. Photo - J. Elford

From Good To Better With Help

"A good place to live" is the way a lot of towns proudly promote their respective locations. And rightly so! There are a lot of good towns where more and more people are finding the lifestyle they want to follow as opposed to the more congested, more urbanized centres.

Now, in an effort to go one better, Winchester Chamber of Commerce has devised a courtesy campaign designed, in the Chamber's words, to make Winchester "a better place to live." With the knowledge and the facts to back them up that Winchester is already a good place to live and growing more steadily than most other district municipalities in the area, the Chamber of Commerce is anxious to improve on a good thing ... to make it "better." Only time will tell if the Chamber's views and actual programs are sustained by present and future citizens. But, if enthusiasm and planning and co-operative business people are an indication there seems little doubt Winchester could become "better" than "good."

Designed in particular to make the growing list of newcomers welcome and happy in their new home and surroundings the Chamber's courtesy campaign, which has already started, will include a personal greeting from a Chamber representative with a cheery smile and a warm handshake to all new families moving into the town, giving them the assurance that, "we're anxious to make and keep new friends."

That's not all. Thanks to the genuine interest of many business firms those making Winchester their new home will also receive a colourful and informative brochure describing the thriving community, plus a number of valuable "welcome to Winchester" coupons redeemable at local places of business. And a host of other valuable information will also be available from the Chamber to help make Winchester "a better place to live."

Come to think of it, it's not a bad time for all of us to assess the quality of life in Winchester. Consider the following: convenient location at the junction of two highways offering motor coach service, railway freight facilities and close to a major international airport; a step away from the nation's beautiful capital and the St. Lawrence Seaway, parks and recreational system; a scenic residential community complimented by excellent industry; hub of some of the best farms and farmland in the province; a high calibre and fully equipped medium size hospital; more than adequate educational facilities; churches; spacious recreational outlets including community centre, swimming pool, curling club, etc.; attractively priced homes, shopping facilities, hydro, water and sewer systems and other amenities necessary to the good life in a small, prosperous town.

Most of what the town offers has been made possible because the people made it happen, often through constructive co-operation among such community minded groups as the 100 Club, the Lions Club, the Legion, Senior Citizens, Chamber of Commerce and others, not to mention the important role of an alert municipal council.

What the Chamber of Commerce is trying to do at the moment is to simply make all of us aware that Winchester is already a good place to live, but with more work and co-operation it can be a "better" place to live.

Miracles

By Dr. Gordon C. Smyth

God is as ready now, as ever, to use his law-abiding powers to work out, in ways frequently surprising to us, his will for our lives. Belief in miracle is not, first of all, a historical matter: it is a challenge today.

When Kathryn Kuhlman underwent surgery from which recovery was of comparatively short duration, she did not expect the surgeon to be an exorcist.

I was deeply moved when I saw the healing ministry of this remarkable woman, in First Presbyterian Church, Pittsburg. I was quite impressed when she said that medical science performs miracles too.

The Holy Spirit is neither limited by our points of view nor dependent on changing categories of thought. Truth is from God. Power is from God. Love and compassion are from God.

Jesus said, "He who believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I go to the Father" (John 14:12). The prediction became an inspiration.

Wherever a story in the Gospels describes an experience in terms of miracle so that we recognize the same sort of experience is open to us, this story is helpful. The narrative in Mark 5 is an illustration.

In the behavior of "the madman of Gerasa" we have authentic symptoms of a deranged personality. I refer to his morbid preoccupation with tombs in which he felt at home, his abnormal strength enabling him to snap chains with which terror-stricken natives of the district tried to hold him, his "streaking", and his fluctuating reactions.

Jesus paid the outcast the dignity of treating him like a person. The man responded when he found that here was One who wanted to hear what he had to say.

When he exclaimed, "My name is Legion; for we are many", the Master had the opportunity to gently press for more information. The man felt free, as never before, to reveal his pent-up feelings in other than an explosive fashion.

Thus Jesus was able to bring out of the man's subconscious the recollection of some cruelty inflicted by Roman soldiers long before. Then, he was able to convey to the outcast that, in reality, he was a child of God, and that he should live creatively with forgiving love.

Apparently, too, the cure was accompanied by a violent convulsion that scared a herd of swine which had ventured near. Curious onlookers drew their own conclusion. They were especially astonished at the sight of the "madman" sitting at the feet of Jesus, "clothed and in his right mind."

Those in modern institutions obviously cannot be blamed for life's less than peaceful scene. We supposedly sane and sensible people are largely responsible for friction, controversy, and violence.

We are full of clashing impulses. St. Paul has a message for us. "I do not do the good I want, but the evil I do not want is what I do. Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death? Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord!"

Letter To The Editor

Seoul, Korea
October 4th

Dear Editor:

Please forgive me for taking up your valuable time. I am a schoolteacher from Seoul, Korea. Thousands of other Korean youths as well as the students of mine, are very eager to find pen pals in your country.

I am writing to you in the hope that you can help them get in touch with the young people of your country. They would like to exchange information about student life, and to discuss international problems.

I think this kind of direct communications between pen pals of similar ages will help both to learn about each other's country. I will also help the Korean pen pal to practice their English in a very real and interesting way. I also think they might have fun in swapping items in their hobby collections.

I am one of the English teachers in school that has around 2,000 boy and girl students, with ages from 11-20. All the students here take English at school, as a required subject. So anyone who wishes to be their pen pal can correspond with them in English.

I am sure they will be a faithful friend and correspondent to any Canadian who wishes to be their pen friend, regardless of their age and sex. It would be very nice if their new Canadian pen pal included a picture with the letter.

I hope you can perhaps publish my name in your esteemed paper to help on this project. If not, then may I ask you to pass this to some schools in your area?

I thank you very much for your kind cooperation.

Sincerely yours,
Kim, Chang-doo

Bill Smiley Gives Thanks For October

AN ENGLISH poet (Browning?), asked a rhetorical question years ago: "What is so rare as a day in June?" The obvious answer is "Nothing."

Maybe so. A day in June in England on which it is not raining is a rare thing indeed, and something quite fine. The world is green and soft and effulgent with the sights and scents of flowers.

But the sentiment hasn't much meaning to a Canadian. A day in June usually means a heat wave and mosquitoes. Soggy armpits and an irritating whine in the bedroom.

Making much more sense to a Canadian would be: "What is so rare as a day in October?" I don't know about you, but for me, there is nothing on God's good earth to equal a golden October day, when the air is as clear as the thoughts of a saint, the land lies fallow, and the wild, free honk of the goose sends the chills up the spine.

In the West, the poplars shimmer with their burden of gold coins. In the East, the Master Painter has got drunk and is slashing unbelievable colors across the landscape.

Mother Nature has delivered the fruit of her womb, and is still feminine, lying back and suckling her chidren, spent but resting. She has not yet done her transvestite bit and changed into the clothes of Old Man Winter, quite another kettle of fish.

On the golf course, the turf is still green and springy, and it's almost a pleasure to lose a ball in a heap of fallen leaves.

On the bay, the water is a blue so intense that it shouts back in mockery to the deep, calm blue of the sky.

Around the pot-holes and sloughs, there is the tense thumping of the heart as the ducks head in to land, or take off with a suddenness, in morning, that makes the adrenalin pump.

On the rivers, wrapped like Eskimoes, the anglers tease for that last, lurking rainbow trout that will go ten pounds.

There is thump of leather on leather as the football heads for a climax. And there is the heaviness of track meets, where the young push every sinew to jump farther, run faster.

There is the ritual raking of the leaves, and the jumping in the leaf-piles by the little folk. And, if your town hasn't passed a stupid by-law against the burning of leaves, there is the sheer joy of that.

Let me hesitate a moment there. The burning of the leaves is just as symbolic as the planting of the first seeds and bulbs in the spring. It should be a time for neighbors to be out, chatting quietly and raking the flaming bits back onto the pile. A time for children to stay up late and poke the bonfire with sticks. It should be a time for incantations. We are cremating our beloved, with tenderness and regret, but without sadness. We know they will live again.

Maybe that's what October is all about. It is a time of dying, when life flares up in all its splendour, briefly but brightly, before going quietly and with dignity, to the grave.

Sometimes all these things come together on a Canadian Thanksgiving Day. What is so rare as a day in June, indeed!

Give me an October Thanksgiving, with the yellow sun filtering through the wild ecstasy of the maples, and the water and sky so blue it hurts, and I'll give you a glimpse of glory.

Come in from golf, or fishing, or hunting, or just walking, into the incredible smell of roasting turkey, and you've had a glimpse of paradise.

Draw me up to a blazing fire of oak logs, and the bite of a good rye, and the women making gravy in the kitchen, and the grandchildren climbing all over me, and a discussion of those other turkeys, the Toronto Argonauts, and I wouldn't trade places with the Shah of Iran, the Queen of England, or the Pope.

It's then I have my personal Thanksgiving. It's a long time to be married to a strange woman, but we're still together. My grandbabies are as bright as butterflies. My daughter has her head sorted out, and is tough and self-reliant. And quite beautiful, despite the new toughness.

There is food in the house. There is oil in the tank, even though we may be feeding the furniture into the fire in ten years. My arthritis is only ten per cent worse than last year.

I have some good friends. I like my work. My teeth are getting ropy but hearing and sight are excellent. My morals seem to be in the same old shape, not good, but so-so, no worse.

I don't have any great aspirations, which fact considerably annoys those who think I should.

I'm sorry. This sounds completely hedonistic. And it is. I've paid my dues in suffering and frustration. I'd like to sit back and watch my belly grow (which it won't), and tell my grandsons tall tales, and chuckle at the absurdity of the human race.

Maybe next week I'll be on the barricades with Women's Lib or Labour or the AIB or food parcels to white Rhodesians. But this week, I'm just on my Thankful kick.

7th column

By Joe Rowan

Readers allergic to red and white cows and delicious white milk might be well advised to read no further. Till last week we had been thoroughly brainwashed into believing the only genuine, health-giving beverage was produced by those high-priced, completely satisfied 'Black and White' herds. Frankly, after attending the annual Ottawa Valley Ayrshire Club awards night last week, and listening to such milk tycoons as the MacGregors, Campbells, Mounts and Cottons, our faith in the haughty Holstein began to crumble. Matter of fact, we're completely convinced Ayrshires must consume less and produce more - otherwise why would they look so attractive to so many Scotsmen.

Even convincing speeches, glittering production records, and a delicious free meal, however, did not convince Carleton County's Dairy Princess of the superiority of 'Red and White'. Miss Quinn, after obligingly saying a few kind words she knew the audience would like to hear, concluded her timely remarks by adding [with just a trace of a twinkle in her eye] "and friends, if I ever found myself unable to enjoy working with those adorable Holsteins, I might consider the 'off-colour' variety."

Still on the same subject. Readers might be interested to learn that, contrary to popular belief, farmers are not necessarily big, silent men who toil from sunrise to sunset and then sleep peacefully to await another day. Would you believe, for example, that one of the area's foremost agriculturalists is not only a gifted after-dinner speaker but also a master of the story-telling art? Well by heck that's a fact - Malcolm MacGregor had them literally rolling in the aisles with his tactful humour, and in sharp contrast many were misty-eyed as he told of how his ancestors were 'booted' from the 'bonnie banks' and 'heather hills' with prices on their noble heads. "And some", he added with an apparent touch of shame, "in an effort to avoid recognition changed their names to Campbell." The speaker didn't say so but we wouldn't be at all surprised if maybe some of them may have even changed their names to Stewart.

Those Ayrshire people do have a charming manner of combining justifiable pride, humour, and good fellowship while at the same time bestowing well-earned honours. As a fitting climax to an exciting evening, the club's 'man of the year' was recognized and honoured. And it seemed appropriate those honours be bestowed on a man who has dedicated his life to family, church, community and 'Ayrshires', in that order -- a past president of Metcalfe Agricultural Society -- Alex Campbell. It seemed unfortunate, however, the presentation was made so late at night -- nearly ten -- long after Alex's bedtime. Congratulations "kid", a deserving honour.

And since the emphasis seems to be on Russell this week we should add that after enjoying the hospitality of those dedicated cattle people we found time to observe this season's version of the 'Raiders'. There is little doubt coach Sullivan and his 'Deputy Dip' have all the right answers and fans can look forward to an exciting season. The Honey brothers are in top form; Gaye Ford has trimmed down to a svelte 230 pounds of bone and muscle; and Bob Woods has learned to turn both ways. Yep, looks like a good season!

And here's something to think about: An atheist confronted a scientist and expounded his views that God did not create the world. "The probability of life originating from accident", replied the scientist, "is comparable to the probability of the dictionary resulting from an explosion in a printing shop."

Harry and Olive Anderson of Vernon were in Winchester Monday and friends were quick to note the absence of the happy passenger who always accompanied the well known couple. 'Laddie' was not one of those dogs weighed down with a long list of pedigrees but just a friendly, gentle little animal happy in the knowledge he was considered a very important member of the family. 'Laddie' died last week despite efforts of an animal specialist to prescribe healing medication. "We sure miss the little fellow", says the retired school teacher, "after all he's been our constant companion for 15 years, 7 months, and three days." Know exactly how you feel, friends, our 'Mickey' died a few months ago having passed his 16th birthday. Guess, however, that's a ripe old age for 'man's best friend'?

And we owe this week's thought to our Pentecostal friends -- "Life is like a game of tennis. The player who serves well seldom loses."

Question Reform Of Property Tax

"We are concerned that if the Government pays farmers' property taxes, then public groups, if not the Government itself, will conclude that they have the right to roam around on farmers' land," said Gordon Hill, President of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, recently when he submitted the OFA brief to the Blair Commission. This Commission is studying the Ontario Government's property taxation reform proposal.

Mr. Hill explained: "In fact, a brief to the Commission from the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs, who profess to speak for any or all snowmobilers in the Province of Ontario, stated that if the Government proposal is approved, this should open any farmlands and managed forests when not under use for a cash crop to trail users, including snowmobilers."

"We also objected to farmers having to study this proposal in their busiest six months, especially when the figures weren't available to show what the farmers' tax position would be under the proposal."

However, Commissioner Blair said that the Commission was now in the position to provide to the Federation detailed figures which would make tax comparisons possible at an early date.

"We welcome this opportunity and will get a group of people together to study this information." Mr. Hill concluded.

Future Bright For Dairymen

Ayrshire Association Honours A. Campbell

The future of dairying may not be as grim as is often being painted by the media.

Veteran cattleman Malcolm MacGregor of Morewood, addressing the Ottawa Valley Ayrshire Club's annual banquet and dance, told the large crowd at Russell Legion Hall last Friday night that farmers must begin producing more of their own feed rather than relying on feed merchants.

"We encountered some frightening circumstances early this year", he said, "but that hurdle has been cleared and my faith in the industry has been completely restored."

"But", he added, "keeping in mind that continued production increases are the result of a technological approach by a decreasing number of producers we must find the most economical method of feeding."

Describing the success of his own family enterprise, Mr. MacGregor suggested the answer may well be found in utilization of farms for growing more and more feed for the herds.

The guest speaker was introduced by past president Harry Heymans and thanked by Ian MacGregor.

Each year, the association honours one of its most distinguished members and the spotlight this time was on Alex Campbell of Metcalfe, a past president of Metcalfe Agricultural Society, whose contribution to dairying and particularly Ayrshire cattle was outlined by Ken Campbell.

Two lovely dairy princesses, Miss Betty Quinn (Carleton) and Miss Bernardine Nooyen, delivered inspiring addresses stressing the nutritional value of milk and joys of rural life.

Mrs. Ken Campbell officiated for presentation of awards with the following breeders accepting awards.

A Little Ham In Lanwin Beef

CBC Features Winchester Herefords

Lanwin Farms, one mile south of Winchester on Highway 43, will be featured on CBC television this Friday evening at 6:00.

Brian Smith, host of the popular 'Country Report' program, spent the better part of a day exploring the modern agricultural complex and chatting at intervals with Mr. Lannin in an effort to learn first hand the major problems encountered by district farmers.

CBC's modern equipment arrived on the scene early in the morning and during the day skilled cameramen guided their costly equipment through buildings, down country lanes and out into lush pastures to capture exciting photos of prize-winning beef cattle.

Mr. Smith noted, late in the afternoon, that the Herefords appeared to enjoy having visitors.

"This morning," he said, "they continuously moved away from us, but this afternoon are making a special effort to appear on camera."

"There's 'ham' in that beef," he smiled.

An army of competent technicians manned the giant vehicle with its complicated computerized labyrinth of buttons, switches and monitors, and those monitors told the story of the cameramen's dedicated efforts to record the story in detail despite chilling temperatures.

The producer explained that the huge vehicle will be the major piece of equipment used at the Grey Cup game, and demonstrated how the man at the control panel, watching the various monitors, determines how the game will appear in living rooms across the country.

Van Co-ordinates Program

This giant vehicle might best be described as 'Action Central' since it houses the valuable equipment, and operators who coordinate the entire program.

Brian Smith, left, listens in apparent disbelief as Mr. Lannin compares production costs with consumer prices and explains how weather conditions often play havoc with harvesting.

KCAT Offers Farm Management Course

It's not exactly the 3 R's. But for farmers who enrol in the upcoming Management of the Farm Business courses at Dalkeith in Glengarry County and at Kemptville it will be a return to the basics.

The Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, through Canada Manpower, is providing courses for full time farmers in livestock management and crop production. Says the Co-ordinator of Continuing Education at the College, John Gardiner, "The purpose is to assist farmers concerned about improving the economic position of their farming operations."

Five weeks in duration, the course will involve six hours of class time a day. Emphasis will be placed on calculation of input costs, land management, record keeping as well as herd health and productivity.

Only candidates with a firm commitment to agriculture and a minimum of three years farming experience will be chosen. Canada Manpower will pay a training allowance.

Application forms must be completed by November 19. The course will begin January 10. Application forms are available at the Ag. Rep's office.

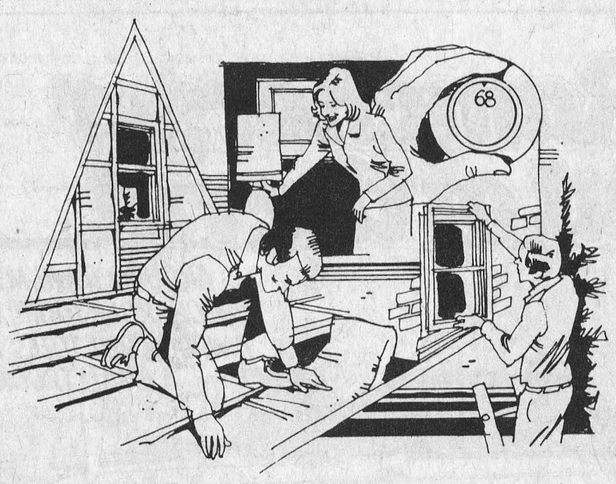
This is Energy Conservation Week.



Here is what you can do to help Ontario conserve energy.

Energy. It will cost us $7.5 billion province-wide this year.

To help cut that cost, your Ontario Government established the Energy Management Program. The goal is to save $1 billion a year on energy bills throughout Ontario by 1980.

Ninety-five energy management research and demonstration projects are underway to help you use less energy at home and at work.

You too can conserve energy and save money by:

- Insulating and caulking your home
- Lowering daytime temperatures to 68°F (20°C) and nighttime temperatures to 63°F (17°C)
- Closing drapes on all windows on winter nights
- Replacing air filters on warm air heating systems once a month
- Using 40 watt instead of 60 or 100 watt bulbs where practical
- Keeping the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use
- Installing storm windows and doors
- Turning off lights and TV when not being used
- Warming up your car's engine gradually
- Avoiding idling the engine while waiting

The Toymaker Fills Shelves For Christmas

The little shop is warmed by the cheery glow of an old Quebec heater and the sunshine pouring through the two large windows. The smell of freshly cut wood fills the air, sawdust is thick on the floor.

Head bent in concentration, the toy maker fashions a small wooden train engine. He works quickly, the basic shape pre-cut, edges rounded smooth and free of slivers for tiny hands. Windows are grooved in and the finishing touch, four brightly painted wheels cut from hardwood - for lots of mileage, he explains - are added.

The engine is placed on a shelf with several other cars and boats, simply designed, and sturdily made. A coat of linseed oil is the final step in the preparation of Francois Levesque's handcrafted toys.

Francois is enthusiastic in explaining his concept of toymaking.

"My wife Jackie and I want to produce toys designed to appeal to small children, well made so they'll last, and priced low enough so everyone can afford them." He said he hopes to sell directly to customers, avoiding the inevitable mark-up of distribution through stores.

His workshop is compact, his tools arranged to make the most of available space. A radial saw, lathe, drill and sander are the largest pieces. One more addition, a planer, is necessary to complete his equipment.

"But that will have to wait until we've made a little money," he said. The cost of a planer is $1,500.

A stack of lumber is piled against one wall. Francois, his accent betraying his French origin, tells of the problems encountered in obtaining the best quality material.

"We had to drive 350 miles for this," he said. "It's kiln dried pine and completely knot-free."

He laughs at the consternation of a lumber yard salesman when a 16-foot length of pine was rejected because it contained one small knot.

"We nearly drove him crazy" he said.

Francois and his wife live in a converted school house just north of Chesterville. Their home is unique - almost every piece of furniture is handcrafted from an original design. The interior is comfortable, the soft glow of pine complimenting the basic practicality of a style reminiscent of early Canadiana. A bedroom suite, bedposts roughly carved to contrast with the smooth professional finish of a four-drawer chest, the coffee table, lamps, wall plaques and wooden planters, a round dining table complete with benches, buffet and hutch, are evidence of Francois' feeling for wood.

In the bedroom, the couple's newborn son sleeps soundly in a rocking cradle made of pine. A high chair, dresser, and tricycle, all handmade, complete the furnishings.

"We wanted our child to be exposed to wood right from the beginning," Francois explained. "In this way, he will learn to appreciate its beauty. Perhaps he will grow to become a craftsman. We hope so."

An almost incongruous note are the few pieces of contemporary wood sculpture modestly displayed in some of the rooms. Surprisingly, Francois admits his chief interest lies in acquiring the skill and technique to become a sculptor.

"It will take years of experimenting to develop a style, something I am satisfied with," he said. "The toys and furniture I make now are a prelude to what I hope to achieve. Also, they help me make a living while I learn."

Francois removes a sheepskin holder from a bracket on the wall. Unrolled, it contains a set of carving tools imported from Germany, England and the United States - expensive, but worth it, he explained.

His experience and training did not come easily to Francois. He completed a three year course of study at the School of Furniture in Victoriaville, Quebec, in less than a year. Driving himself, he worked 18 hours a day at the famous centre, equipped with over two million dollars in tools.

Sick, exhausted and at the end of his financial resources, he was one of twenty in the province chosen to visit L'Ecole Boulle in Paris.

"The cost for three weeks was only fifty dollars," he said, "but I had to refuse. I was too tired and too broke."

He accepted a teaching position at Casselman High School and, during that year, managed to regain his health and improve his finances.

Determined to acquire training in wood sculpture, he returned to Quebec, this time to the small village of St. Jean Paul Jolie. Here again, he encountered difficulties. Hundreds of craftsmen from Europe and North America apply each year for admittance to the St. Jean School of Sculpture. Francois' application was rejected.

"It was a bad time for Jackie and me - a time of disappointment and discouragement," he said.

"We rented a small house in the village and I managed to meet one of the directors of the school. I told him I wouldn't leave until they accepted me - I would sit on his doorstep from morning 'til night if necessary."

Francois' persistence was rewarded. The director promised to find a place for him at the school.

Despite the long hours of study and, again, financial problems, he recalled with pleasure that summer spent in St. Jean.

"It's a small village, populated almost entirely by artists and craftsmen. Day after day I worked with the wood - and learned."

Francois returned to Chesterville and began practising the skills he had so painfully acquired. The production of toys, originally aimed at the Christmas market, has resulted in several unexpected contracts. Elementary schools in the Chesterville-Winchester area have placed orders for the educational models, which can be taken apart and re-assembled, and which sell for between $2.50 and $5.00.

Furniture, individually designed to meet customers' requirements, is built from quality materials. Wooden pegs and dowels are used rather than nails, and each piece is constructed to last a lifetime.

Occasionally Francois is tempted to forego his principles and accept simple carpentry work to augment his income.

"But I've resisted the temptation," he said. "If I start doing this type of work, I might never get back to my toys, furniture and - most important - my sculpture."

Wooden toy box is almost full

Hawks Win Home Opener, Fan Support Enthusiastic

Winchester Hawks are flying high after their first weekend of Southern-Division Junior "B" action.

Friday night in their home-opener, Hawks doubled Cardinal Broncos 6-3 and Sunday in Athens' new Center "76" they hammered the Aeros 9-4. It is the fastest start the Juniors have ever enjoyed. Winning their seasonal opener against the Broncos has never happened and certainly got the year off on an encouraging note.

In both encounters Winchester used an effective blend of youth, hustle and hard work to come up with convincing victories. Friday night rookie Tim Beach, a Kemptville product, led the offence with two goals and two assists while first year goaler, Dan McMartin stymied the Bronco attack with some excellent goaltending.

Sunday night it was young Marvin Declare between the pipes for the 9-4 win. Marvin made some spectacular stops while the club veterans handled most of the scoring. Larry Moore, Greg Martin and Jeff O'Neill, all last-year Juniors, each chipped in two goals while Len McLean, Mike Armstrong and Al McLean had singles.

A solid fore-checking effort helped keep Cardinal's offence off balance throughout Friday's contest.

Randy Patrick's boarding penalty at 15:50 set the stage for the opening goal of 1976-77 season here in Winchester. Just 21 seconds after Patrick took his seat in the "sin-bin" Hawks' Tim Beach hammered home a Keith McRobert's pass to give Winchester a 1-0 lead. That was to be the first of three Hawk power-play goals. Cardinal tied it at one on Dave Berry's first goal before the first frame ended Bill "Moon" Mullins picked up the assist.

The middle period belonged to Winchester as they out-scored their opposition 4-0 to take a commanding 5-1 lead. Greg Casselman started the onslaught when he picked up Jeff O'Neill's rebound and fired it past Dan Pilon from close range.

The biggest outburst started with another power-play paying off for Hawks. Len McLean made it 3-1, one minute after Rick Patrick had been sent off for boarding. Len's play was set up by Beach and Larry Moore. 35 seconds later Hawks rushed into Cardinal territory and made it 4-1 on Keith McRoberts' goal. 18 seconds after McRoberts had blinked the red light, Greg Martin swooped in on Pilon and made it 5-1. When the fog had lifted Hawks had clicked on three consecutive plays within 53 seconds to take command of a closely played game. Beach and Al McLean earned assists on the McRoberts goal.

Broncos kept fighting to keep within range, slamming markers by Dave Berry and Doug Byers at 12:14 and 10:44 of the third period. That made it close at 5-3 but another power-play goal by Tim Beach with just 1.41 remaining salted away Winchester's first opening game win over Cardinal. Al McLean and Mike Armstrong engineered goal number six. Final, Hawks 6 - Broncos 3.

Hawks Dump Aeros

After taking a 3-2 first period lead Sunday, Winchester shooters again enjoyed a super second period effort firing four unanswered goals, stretching their lead to 7-2.

Hawks got two markers each from Greg Martin, Jeff O'Neill and Larry Moore. Both Martin and O'Neill collected a pair of helpers as 13 of the 16 Hawks dressed figured in the scoring summary.

Chris Bresee put Aeros out in front with a goal at 6:29 of the opening stanza. Two minutes later Jeff O'Neill tied it on a play set up by Greg Martin and Greg Casselman. O'Neill continued his fine hustling play from Friday's contest providing spirited leadership as the new team captain.

Hawks took a 2-1 lead when the younger half of the McLean brothers, Al, capitalized on a power-play started by linemates Jeff Crerar and Tim Beach. Close play continued with Bruce Ready tying it at two for Athens. But Hawks started to pull away scoring 11 seconds later to take the lead for good. Larry Moore scored number three from Len McLean and Doug Duncan.

Period number two was a repeat of Friday's game as Winchester shooters vandalized Athens' beating Andy Coville on four occasions. 37 seconds into the middle stanza Mike Armstrong blasted home an unassisted power-play goal to put his club up by two. Winchester's attack pressed for three more before the period ended. Larry Moore, Len McLean and Jeff O'Neill all hit for goals with Karl McRoberts, Dave Richards, Larry Moore, Greg Martin and Keith McRoberts all picking up assists.

21 seconds into the final frame Rod Greenham scored for the Aeros to make it 7-3, but two goals by Greg Martin, one on a power-play, put Hawks well out in front before Churchill notched Athens' fourth and final marker. Jeff O'Neill helped Martin on both of his goals and Keith McRoberts drew his second assist of the night on Martin's power-play effort at 14:18. Final, Hawks 9 - Athens 4.

This coming Friday night, the young Hawks will be put to the test when they go against the highly-rated Gananoque G-Men. Game time at Winchester and District Community Centre is 8:30 p.m. In their other weekend game Winchester travels to Brockville on Saturday night to meet the Tikis for the first time ever.

Winchester Hawks opened their home season with a 6-3 win over Cardinal Broncos on Friday night.

An official face-off took place before the contest got underway. Ted Wichers, representing Winchester and area hockey fans dropped the puck to start the season.

CORRECTION IN MIDGET ICE TIME

Must have been the Halloween Gremlins that fouled things up in last week's column, but the Midget ice time for Sundays should have read from 7 to 8 instead of from 8 to 9 as previously reported. Sorry, but those things do happen. My apologies to the Broomballers; you do have the ice from 8 till 11 every Sunday.

56 PASS LEVEL II REFEREE TESTS

A Level II clinic to upgrade the quality of officiating in the area saw an enrolment of 58 at the arena last Saturday. The day session started with classes till noon on rules and their implementation, an hour on the ice for skating and the actual calling of play infractions, then back to the class room for more teaching and finally a written test. The day ended with 56 referees being upgraded in their skills. This is a good program which makes for a much better game on the ice. All too often a good game can be ruined by poor officials who let a game get out of hand. Hats off to the people who run the clinics and also hats off to the officials who attend them for self-improvement; the game will benefit from your efforts.

Future Referee Clinics for those still wanting to take the course will be held as follows: Level I, November 6 at Finch; November 7 at Morrisburg. Level II, November 13 at Alexandria; November 21 at Morrisburg.

THANKS TO O.P.P. OVERDUE FROM RECREATION

As throughout the area, things were quiet this year at the arena. Because of the construction at the arena we were a bit concerned because there were many things which could have been vandalized, but not a building block was moved. This is a credit to the local youngsters and the O.P.P. who do an excellent job all year. Not only do the boys keep an eye on things while on duty, but they are also a big part of our help around the arena with the actual implementation of minor sport. The local officers have always taken a very active part as coaches of our ball and hockey teams, as members of our service clubs and as all around good guys when they get involved with kids and willing helpers. Thanks again fellows your efforts are appreciated both on and off duty.

CAN YOU BELIEVE IT? HAWKS WIN FIRST TWO

Don't get me wrong, I'm not saying that the HAWKS will come home with the hardware when things wind up at the end of the year, but it's great for the young team to come out of the opening weekend with a 2 and 0 record. It's been a long time since the HAWKS won an opener, let alone their first two and it should be a great morale-builder for the young guys. As I mentioned in last week's column, the Hawks have a lot of young locals this year as well as a lot of drive and enthusiasm and no one is expecting them to be the class of the league but with heart they will win their share. Friday night will show us just where they stand when the powerful Gananoque G-Men come to town. Fans left the rink last Friday feeling that they had been well entertained with a good solid effort by the HAWKS and if you haven't seen them, you will be delighted with their attitude and desire. The team needs lots of support for the Gananoque game so make a special effort to turn out and cheer them on. They will appreciate it and you will be well entertained with the type of hockey you have been waiting for. Good luck guys. My two-bits pick you to be in the top five.

North Dundas Girls Finish Basketball Season Undefeated

North Dundas Senior Girls Basketball Team completed their 1976 regular schedule without losing a single game.

In their two final encounters, last week, they broadsided Osnabruck 84-11 and dumped Seaway 40-30.

Although results weren't known at press time, the girls were to have played second place Char-Lan in a sudden death semi-final game. It was played Tuesday on their home court. If they came up with a victory North Dundas will play a two game total point final play-off for the championship.

Julie Holmes lead her team to victory in both of last week's contests. Julie hooped 39 points against Osnabruck and netted another 20 against Seaway. Kathy Workman and Linda Holmes were the other high scorers. First string guards Lori Boyce and Rose Marie Hauch turned in an excellent defensive performance in both games.

They finished fourth in the five team loop and missed the play-offs.

Tuesday they defeated their counter-parts from Osnabruck 20-12 with Elaine Boudette leading the way. A defeat at the hand of Seaway closed out the season.

North Dundas Junior Girls squad finished their season last week by splitting a pair of games.

Thompson Kicks In Triple To Upset St. Lawrence

St. Lawrence High's goalie stands with head down (foreground, right) while North Dundas forwards congratulate Brian Thompson (white sweater - centre) after he had scored his third and the winning goal. North Dundas Juniors won 4-3.

Press Photo—Van Bridger

North Dundas Juniors came a step closer to reaching a play-off position when they came from behind with a dramatic 4-3 win over St. Lawrence Saints last week.

The Seniors didn't fair as well dropping a 3-1 decision to the previously winless Saints.

In the first game of the afternoon Dundas Juniors won their third game against four losses and a tie. Brent Thompson was the hero of the day, scoring three of his team's four goals, including the winner.

Saints had taken a 3-0 first-half lead and were in control of play. Starting the second half Dundas took the play to St. Lawrence and came up with their first goal.

Brent Thompson picked up Rudy Grizzel's corner-kick rebound and fired it high into the top right hand corner to put Dundas back in the game.

Very quickly the play moved back into St. Lawrence's goal area. Thompson closed the gap to 3-2 when he kicked home a loose ball after the Saints goal-tender had made the original stop.

David Carruthers tied at three when he booted home a shot from close in on the left side.

Carruthers and Thompson continued to buzz St. Lawrence's goal and came up with Dundas' fourth consecutive goal. Carruthers made the play taking the original shot. Thompson pounced on the rebound sending it home for the winning score.

Senior Action

North Dundas Seniors continually pressed their counterparts from St. Lawrence but could come up with just one goal by Anjum Uppal. Uppal showed excellent ball control, handling the ball alone. He dribbled his way through Saints' defensive corps finally depositing the ball in the lower right hand corner.

His goal had tied the game at one but the Saints came back with two in the second half to take the contest 3-1.

Anjum Uppal, centre of photo, controlled the ball all the way to the goal mouth to score North Dundas' only goal in a senior contest against St. Lawrence High. Anjum scored a second after the photo was taken. Seniors lost their fourth game of the season by a 3-1 margin.

NDDHS Aids Homeless

By Nancy Carscadden and Jane Allison

This past school week consisted of only four days, because of the teachers' Professional Development Day on Monday, October 25, but there is still news to report from N.D.D.H.S. First of all the girls basketball teams played on Tuesday against Osnabruck and Wednesday against Seaway. The scores were as follows: Tuesday - Seniors won 84-11, Juniors won 20-12. On Wednesday - Seniors won 40-30. Juniors were defeated. Thanks for representing our school with such a fine effort.

Our senior band members seemed very happy about their slave work last weekend. It was quite successful and they wish to thank everyone for their co-operation.

The Society Helpers of North Dundas were called to action when a local family was burned out and left homeless. A collection was taken during lunch periods on Tuesday and we hope this money will be of some help to them.

If anyone drove by North Dundas on Thursday and saw a track filled with eager athletes, here is what was happening. Our athletic association held its annual Run-a-thon to enable them to raise their finances. Although it was freezing cold and even started to snow, about 40 runners were very ambitious and showed great spirit. We ended this week with the presence of many spooks and goblins in the halls. Teachers and students alike were filled with the spirit of Hallowe'en.

Brian Young Top Salesman

Girls and boys who attend Maple Ridge Public School made a valuable contribution to their recreational program when they engaged in a sales campaign that netted approximately $3,000.

Brian Young set the pace when he turned in $306.00, while others who proved their selling skills included Doug Hart, $290.00 and Michael Strachan, $260.00.

"More than our recreational program will benefit", reported one of the teachers, "and although $1,000 will be used for outdoor rink facilities, the balance will be used for such valuable educational projects as library and musical instruments."

The teacher further explained that Maple Ridge had decided against raising money for a trip and instead agreed the money could be put to much better use right at the school.

Bike-A-Thon Raises $300.

The bike-a-thon held recently by Seaway's Student Council raised $300.00. First prize, a bicycle, was won by Steven Moffat for bringing in the most money.

On Friday, October 15, a group of senior students participated in a Science Day at Ottawa University. The trip was open to all students taking a level five science or math course. The students viewed a variety of math and science displays including chemistry, geology, physics, biology and computer science.

Seaway students recently attended a concert held in the Opera of the National Arts Centre in Ottawa. Popular Quebec singer Robert Charlebois performed before a full house. The music of Charlebois is Quebecois in style and is different from the music to which an English-speaking Canadian would be exposed. Comments on the performance ranged from good to disappointing. However, a better understanding of French culture was definitely gained by the students.

The yearbooks sold very well this year. There are less than 100 left. Residents of the area as well as former students are welcome to obtain a yearbook. Anyone wishing to purchase a yearbook may do so by coming to the school and asking.

A yearbook has been sent to Mr. and Mrs. Madden who have left Seaway to teach in Germany. Many people signed it so they have fond memories of the life and students at Seaway.

A number of students from senior French and History classes recently spent two days in Quebec City. Leaving on Thursday, October 21, the group arrived in Quebec City and took a walking tour of Lower Town, in the old part of the city. During their stay, the students visited French restaurants, discos, churches and shops. While touring the Ile of Orleans, the students ate at a restaurant which formerly had been a farmhouse. Students of level five French were required to do a project, which consisted of speaking to a French person in French. Breakfast at the Chateau Frontenac preceded the trip home. We thank Mr. McAllister and Mr. Turpin, our superivisors.

Can you express yourself the way you like? Is your life going the right way? Are you willing to talk with others and share ideas of your own? Then join the Christian Fellowship Club. It has a place for you. Here at Seaway everyone is welcome; your ideas will always be considered. We do things everyone will enjoy. If you are interested in joining, speak to Miss Crozier or Miss Casentree.

Progress reports will be issued to students Wednesday, November 10, and parent-teacher interviews will be held at Seaway Tuesday, November 16, from 7:00 until 9:00 p.m.

Here are our up-to-date soccer scores: September 22, Jrs. Seaway 2, N. Dundas 1; Srs. N.Dundas 3, Seaway 1. October 4, Jrs. Seaway 3, G. Vanier 1; Srs. Vanier 1, Seaway 0. October 6, Jrs. Citadelle 2, Seaway 0; Srs. Seaway 2, Citadelle 0. October 13, Jrs. Glengarry 4, Seaway 0; Srs. Glengarry 7, Seaway 0. October 20, Jrs. Seaway 2, Cornwall C.V.I. 0, (no Sr. game). October 27, Jrs. Seaway 5, Osnabruck 0; Srs. Osnabruck 3, Seaway 1. Tagwi and St. Lawrence play at Seaway November 1 and 3.

Bill Protects Borrowers

WALTER BAKER, M.P.
GRENVILLE-CARLETON
OPPOSITION HOUSE LEADER
REPORTS TO
GRENVILLE-CARLETON

On October 27th, 1976 the Borrowers and Depositors Protection Bill was tabled in the House of Commons.

This comprehensive consumer credit legislation has the following objectives: 1) to protect Canadian borrowers against loan sharking and all forms of excessive interest charges; 2) to provide the public with more and better information on all credit and deposit dealings; 3) to eliminate unnecessary complexities and confusion in the credit field; 4) to define strict and uniform rules to protect all borrowers and depositors and to rationalize federal credit legislation.

Problems have arisen because Provincial laws in the consumer credit field are not uniform, and confusion has been the result. The intention of the Bill is to improve radically the regulation of lending practices at a time when many of the consumer's most difficult and distressing problems are closely related to credit indebtedness. In addition to its wide ranging credit provisions, the new Bill requires savings institutions to disclose fully such information as the effective annual rate of interest offered and the true amount of service charges, and to credit interest to depositors' accounts at least monthly so that savers can earn the best possible return on their savings dollar.

In its far-ranging consumer credit provisions, the Bill has two major thrusts: to assist and protect the borrower in all legitimate credit transactions, and to fight loan sharking and all other forms of unscrupulous lending practices. The Bill regulates not only credit institutions. Its provisions apply equally to all merchants providing goods or services on credit, ranging from the big national and international credit organizations, to local car dealers and clothing or furniture stores.

The new Bill prohibits the charging of "unwarranted interest rates" and - for the first time - it transfers from the borrower to the lender the burden of proof in civil proceedings as to whether an interest rate is warranted. Basically the "unwarranted rate" concept means that the rate of interest a consumer will be charged can only reflect the normal cost of lending money and the risk the borrower presents to him and nothing more. Another far-reaching reform is that, for the first time in Canada, all borrowers will have the unlimited right to pay off any non-mortgage loan at any time, without penalty charges. This unlimited right of prepayment will enable the borrower to retire a higher-rate loan and switch without penalty to the lowest-cost source available. The Bill also contains important new provisions applying to mortgages. Essentially the protection provided under NHA mortgages will be extended to conventional mortgage lending. Measures will also exist to protect consumers entering variable interest rate mortgages.

Under the new Bill, lenders will be required to disclose fully all costs and terms of a loan at each stage of a credit transaction. Their advertising will have to spell out the rates and all the other conditions under which credit is given. Their collection methods will be regulated and subjected to criminal prosecution for harassment, threats and coercive practices.

A key innovation of the new Bill is aimed specifically at loan sharking - this is the creation of a criminal rate of credit charge, which for the first time will make it possible to establish before the courts a clear and decisive proof of criminal activity.

Loan sharking is now a big business in Canada, which has reached a startling level of at least $3 billion annually - and is still growing. Police investigations show that real rates of interest charged by loan sharks can range from 400 to 1500 per cent.

The Bill was drafted as a direct result of consultations with consumer representatives, senior officials of important credit institutions and with officers of the commercial crimes branches of several police forces. The Bill was the subject of two conferences of federal and provincial consumer and corporate affairs ministers, as well as at numerous meetings among officials of the two levels of government.

Provincial representations were taken into account in drafting the Bill to minimize conflict between the jurisdictions. Although some provinces have adopted legislation on the disclosure of interest rates, the legislation is neither comprehensive nor uniform. Nearly two-thirds of consumer credit is granted by institutions falling exclusively under federal jurisdiction, such as the chartered banks.

The federal government says it will co-operate with the provinces in administration of the inspection and implementation aspects of the new Bill. Civil prosecutions under the "unwarranted rate" provision will be heard by provincial courts.

The Bill must be given second reading and thereafter it will be studied in the appropriate House Committee.

Metcalfe Firefighters Help Finance Van

Osgoode Township Fire Department Area "1" station at Metcalfe houses one of the most modern emergency vans in use today, and the firemen themselves financed half the cost.

The van was purchased from Petric's at Vernon and customized by Chief Peter Griffin and four of his men. It was placed into service in time for Metcalfe Fair and has already been in use on three occasions.

Equipment carried includes: full protective clothing and equipment for the rescuers; a full set of tools for extrication of victims including a rescue saw, special hydraulic and pneumatic cutters and rams, hand saws, wrenches, bolt and wire cutters. First aid supplies include a 2-level, tilt-back, wheeled stretcher spineboards, fracture and burn kits and oxygen resuscitator. Rope, fire extinguishers, foam making unit, a generator and floodlights round out supplies carried.

Councillor Albert Bouwers was quick to point out that, thanks to the dedicated efforts of the firefighters, the valuable vehicle has cost taxpayers less than 25 cents each.

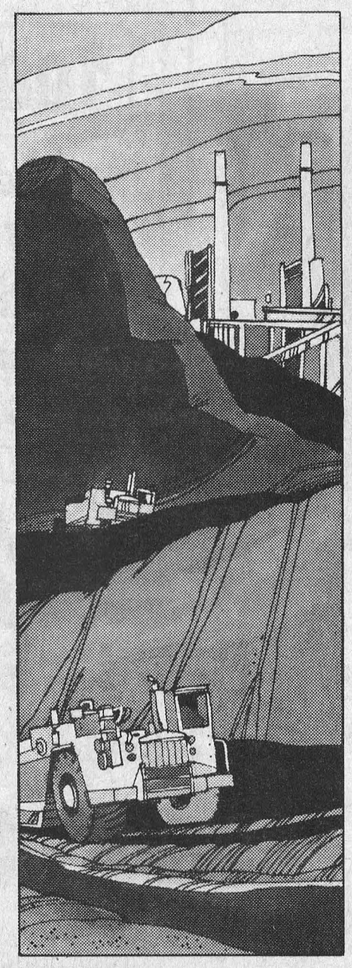
Save electricity, save natural resources.



About a third of Ontario's electricity is generated by burning fossil fuels... coal, oil, natural gas. The price of all these natural resources is increasing rapidly. The price of coal, for example, has tripled over the last five years. Higher fuel costs inevitably show up in the price you pay for electricity.

Save electricity, and you'll save money. You'll also be helping to conserve dwindling natural resources for other important uses... transportation, agriculture, chemicals.

Press Photos Judged Best

Winchester Press editorial photos are winning recognition in the photo contest being sponsored by the Ministry of Natural Resources in conjunction with the Ontario Weekly Newspapers Association.

Entries submitted by community newspapers all across the province and depicting the environment, are judged on a monthly basis, and to date four Press photos have been judged among the best.

The 'dog-toothed violet' won recognition in April, and in the most recent edition of the OWNA 'Bulletin' three Press photos, and one from the Port Colborne News, make up the entire centre-fold.

May, August and September were the winners and readers will remember the "discarded wagon wheel", "corn in the morning sun", and the "weather worn house."

All photos were taken by Allen Van Bridger and the Press will continue to submit entries till the contest ends.
