Council Makes Application For $15,000. LIP Grant

Municipal council announced Monday night that it has applied for a $15,000 LIP grant from the federal government for work to be carried out next year.

The grant, late in going in, will nevertheless receive careful consideration and Mel Vice, on the LIP advisory committee for this area, said that he will do everything possible to help process the grant.

The grant, according to council, will be used for maintenance work, including painting, lawn care, etc. at the Community Park complex. The town will provide between $5,000 and $6,000 in capital expenditure associated with the LIP work.

In other business at Monday night's first November meeting Council voted in favour of making a $150.00 grant to the Chamber of Commerce for the annual Christmas program. At the same time it was also decided to again install Christmas lighting on poles in the centre section. However, in an effort to conserve energy and cut costs the program will not be expanded this year. Council is seeking prices on a new snow plow for sidewalks and efforts will be made to sell the old Ford Fire truck which had served the village for many years.

A $50.00 donation has been made to Meals On Wheels operated by the Hospital Auxiliary and a decision was reached to update the insurance on the town garage.

Council congratulated provincial police for the manner in which they worked in Winchester on Halloween. A post valve on Victoria street east is "unsightly" in Council's opinion and representatives of Northern and Central Gas Company were asked to have the valve located elsewhere.

Overlooked in previous years were several streets which had not been designated under by-law. The streets include Fred, part of Main, York and Louise and Council is immediately looking after the matter with an appropriate by-law.

Hydro poles, between Caleb and Main streets will not be moved, Council announced, because they would be too close to existing buildings. Council said it was generally satisfied with the progress of connecting link construction in the town but thought that the work could have been hastened with more crews working. As it stands now the first coat of pavement is expected to be down next week. However, the thought still persists in the minds of some members of council, "what would have happened if the weather had not been favourable for so long."

Because there is a hazard for fire fighting equipment leaving the fire station Council will ask Winchester Legion to restrict parking across from the station on Centre street.

Keeping in mind that this is the time of year for nominations and elections Council briefly discussed the possibility of an "All Candidates" meeting to be held later this month (see editorial page 9). No date has been set as yet but a further announcement will be made following the close of nominations. There will also be an announcement, if such a meeting open to the public, is to take place, in the next issue of The Press.

Lest We Forget

Next Monday is Remembrance Day, but Winchester will mark the occasion, as has been the custom for many years, on Sunday. Under the capable direction of Royal Canadian Legion members a colourful parade will form up at the Legion Hall and march through the village to the cenotaph on the hospital grounds.

The Cameron Highlanders pipe band from Ottawa will lead the parade and part of North Dundas District High School will also participate. An impressive ceremony will be conducted at the cenotaph and it hoped all residents wil be present to salute the memory of those who gave their lives in battle.

The parade will leave the Legion Hall at 11:30 and arrive at the cenotaph at noon.

On Whirlwind Tour

Premier William Davis last Monday accompanied East Carleton candidate Pierre Benoit on a whirlwind tour of the rural area and the cavalcade arrived at Vernon shortly before 1:00 in the afternoon.

Although they arrived slightly behind schedule those assembled at the Public Library (formerly Vernon Public School) greeted the honoured guests with enthusiasm.

Despite the fact they were expected to join another group of supporters for dinner at Metcalfe, the two men found time to discuss pertinent issues, and the Premier assured his friends Ottawa's Mayor Benoit, if elected, would prove a valuable asset at Queen's Park and an able representative for the riding.

Following an interesting discussion at Metcalfe the two men headed back to Ottawa where Mr. Davis was scheduled to appear on an open-line radio show. The Premier and the candidate are shown in accompanying photo with a few of their Vernon friends.

Hey, Watch That Nose!

There are still a few good things about Halloween. And most of them are spelled "KIDS". So the kids, from Winchester Public School Kindergarten, Grades 1 and 2, no doubt led by this radar type nose, made their way across campus to the District Memorial Hospital last Thursday morning.

Accompanied by their teachers, who set up the good will visit with hospital authorities, they came to bring cheer to the patients who could see them.

And with noses like this one, and clowns, and witches and tigers and laughter and giggling and the genuine spirit of the day it goes without saying that a lot of hospital patients temporarily forgot their woes and appreciated the Halloween "treat".

Day Care Centre For Winchester?

If plans by Municipal Council materialize Winchester may have a day care centre in the not so distant future.

Realizing the need for such a centre Council will meet with representatives of the provincial department in charge tonight, Thursday, at the Public School Auditorium, 8 o'clock. (See Advertisement Page 6). As it stands now, and a fair amount of preliminary work has already been accomplished, Council is interested in the province purchasing the old post office building at the corner of St. Lawrence and Church.

The building has been vacant since the post office was moved to its new location and Council feels that the building would make an excellent site for such a centre.

This, and other details concerning Day Care centres, will be discussed at to-night's meeting. Interest by the public in this venture will have some bearing on the future success of the Centre.

Council urges all interested persons to attend to-night's meeting and to take part in the discussions.

Choice Shopping

Auxiliary Rummage Sale Nets Over $642.

Don't let those innocent looks fool you. And the age doesn't really matter when it comes to looking for bargains at Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's Annual Rummage Sale. These pretty young ladies are delighted with what they see, and so were several hundred other bargain hunters who jammed into Henderson Hall last Thursday for the new "one day" Hospital Rummage Sale.

Just Another Bargain Hunter

The bargains were as usual overwhelming. And the place was packed with sales ladies from the Auxiliary, an array of bargains from men's suits to pocket books to pots and pans, but mostly by the huge turnout of interested people looking for a bargain and knowing the deposit would be put to good use.

When the tally had been taken at the end of a very busy day the Auxiliary had netted after all expenses a little more than $642.00. What a day. And as Rummage sale conveners Gertrude Willard and Willis Davidson said over a much needed cup of coffee, "We're more than delighted with the response again this year."

All items of any usefulness that were left over were sent to Morrisburg "Dugout" where they will be used wisely in helping people who may need help.

Sorry, didn't get the names of these two young lovelies who were too busy hunting for bargains.

Fatal Traffic Accidents Decline

Figures released by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications indicate that during the first six months of 1974 the number of motor vehicle collisions involving fatalities and the number of traffic deaths in Ontario were down 10 per cent as compared to the first half of 1973.

During the same period collisions involving injuries increased 1.6 per cent, from 29,777 to 30,258 and the overall number of injuries rose less than one per cent to 44,348 while the number of motorcycle drivers injured increased by 23.2 per cent and the number of motorcycle passengers injured increased by 9.5 per cent.

Transportation and Communications Minister John Rhodes said that over the past 10 years vehicle registrations increased by nearly 60 per cent while the number of licensed drivers increased by over 42 per cent.

He added: "In 1973, 3.8 million Ontario motorists travelled an estimated 37.7 billion miles, an increase of 8.3 per cent over 1972, while the death-rate per 100 million vehicle miles travelled dropped fractionally from 5.5 to 5.2"

Statistics relating to motor vehicle collisions are contained in the 1973 statistics show slight increases in almost every category over 1972. There were 193,021 reported motor vehicle collisions -- an increase of 1.9 per cent, as compared to the 19.3 per cent shown in the previous year.

Motor vehicle related property damage increased 11.3 per cent from $153.7 million in 1972 to $171.1 million in 1973, while collisions involving only property damage increased from 124,333 to 126,061.

The increased popularity of bicycles and motorcycles has continued the trend towards proportionate increases in the fatalities involving bicyclists up 11.3 per cent, and motorcycle drivers up 27.3 per cent.

Mr. Rhodes concluded, "Nearly 40 per cent of those fatally injured during 1973 were in the 15 to 24 year age bracket. We must, and will, increase our traffic safety programs to insure that the younger motorist is made increasingly aware of the responsibilities of driving safely and obeying the rules of the road."

Halloween Not Unruly

Throughout the entire district stories concerning activities on Halloween night were much the same -- comparatively quiet.

There were reports of vandalism at various points but, with the exception of a few deliberately-set fires, no serious damage resulted from the annual 'trick-or-treat' night.

Here in Winchester the wanton smashing of windows in the old Post Office building on St. Lawrence Street was among the most serious misdemeanors. A panel truck, belonging to The Winchester Press, was also tampered with, but here, as in most other area localities, residents were high in their praise of the efficiency displayed by police.

Fire Chief Peter Griffin of Metcalfe told the press both Metcalfe and Osgoode men and equipment were standing by throughout the night and the end result was a great reduction in fire damage.

Chief Griffin said firemen patrolled the Vernon, Osgoode, Greely, Edwards, Kenmore, Metcalfe area throughout the night with equipment being used on only four occasions.

A vacant, but very good, house near Edwards was completely destroyed; a garage near Metcalfe was levelled; a car was burned on Albert Street in Metcalfe and a street fire was set at Vernon.

"All fires", said Chief Griffin, "were most definitely set deliberately."

Christmas Seals Are In Mail

Friday November 1, marked the official kick off of the 1974 Christmas Seal Campaign. Within the next few days all householders will be receiving their packages of the "BELL" decorated Christmas Seals. Not only will the bell be tolling out Christmas cheer but, when used freely on all holiday greetings, will ring out relief for the thousands of Canadians now suffering from one of the many respiratory diseases.

Respiratory diseases, if that's a new one for you, it means lung diseases like asthma, chronic bronchitis, and emphysema. And that's what Christmas Seals are all about. Christmas Seal dollars fight Tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Members of the Eastern Counties Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association joined optimistically with Stormont MPP, Mr. Ed Lumley and discussed the prospects of this year's campaign. The Seals will provide the means for the year's upcoming programmes in research, rehabilitation, and education.

Knowing that in 1973 85,799 people in Canada suffered from respiratory diseases, and 8,566 of tuberculosis alone, the Association does not look too far to stress the importance of the Christmas Seals. They consider it a matter of life and breath.

Join The Genealogists

The Ottawa branch of the Ontario Genealogical Society, which usually meets in the auditorium of the Public Archives, will this Saturday be conducting their meeting at Vernon in the public school building.

The rate at which interest has grown is indicated by the fact that only five years ago the branch had a total of 18 members and today that number has grown to 350.

The meeting on Saturday will be called to order at 2:00 p.m. and everyone is invited to join with the group in a guided tour of the school which is now better known as New Horizons Historical Group museum serving the entire Township of Osgoode.

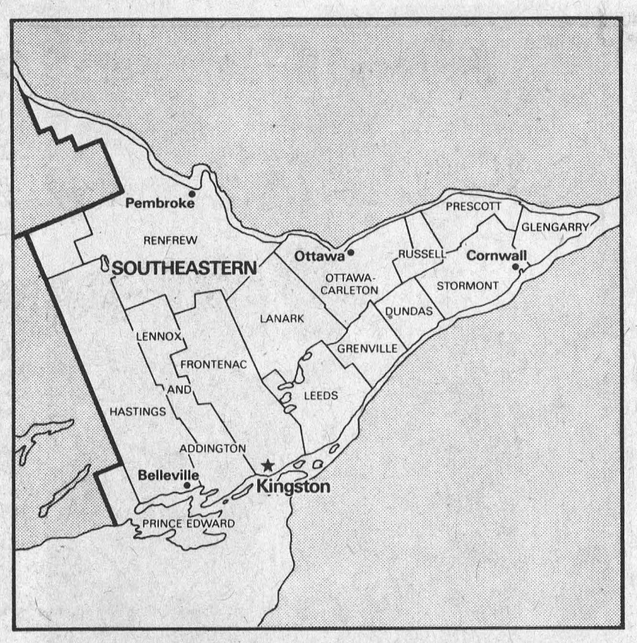
Environment Ontario goes local.



6 new regional offices to serve individual communities better.

In a province the size of ours, it can take two days just to drive from one end to another.

It's that big, it's that spread out. And looking after the environment for such a vast area is one of the most complex tasks that the Ontario Government has.

For years, we've been working from Toronto, working at long distances from many of you.

That's all changed now. The Ministry of the Environment has come to you.

Environmental matters are now being looked after in six Regional Offices throughout the province. There are also 23 district offices to help keep a closer eye on environmental services—air, land and water.

Each region has a Director, someone whose only job is to care for the environmental needs of that specific "piece" of Ontario. The Regional Office for Southeastern Ontario, which extends east from the western boundaries of Hastings and Renfrew Counties is in Kingston. The Director in charge is Mr. C.E. McIntyre. District offices are already established in Belleville, Cornwall, Ottawa and Pembroke.

Erv McIntyre

Erv McIntyre is a professional engineer who has had many years experience working in environmental management. He's familiarizing himself with the environmental needs of the Southeastern Region—as part of Ontario's new policy to place environmental control closer to the source.

Drums Silenced Forever

A Tribute To The Late Garland Hall

Because, through the magic of television, the biggest and best bands in the world are piped daily into our living rooms, there may be a tendency to forget men whose names were snyonymous with dancing right here in our own Eastern Ontario.

One of the truly greats died last week. Russell's Garland Hall, a man loved, admired and respected by all who knew him, was laid gently to rest in North Russell cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

"Gar", as he was best known to thousands, was a musician. A musician whose rythmic skill with his drums complimented great dance bands for nearly sixty years.

He was a teenager, endowed with a great love for music, when he began his career with the then popular Ben Hokea band, and those who remember claim he also played on several occasions with Guy Lombardo in the formative years of the "Royal Canadians". Only last spring when Mr. Lombardo was at Metcalfe the two old friends were seen together on several occasions, and no doubt those early days were the topic of discussion.

As a youngster he was playing the marching songs of soldiers off to World War 1; he was on the bandstands throughout Eastern Ontario when the men returned from battle; he beat out the wild rythm of the 'roaring twenties'; the more subdued lyrics of depression years; the war songs of another world conflict; and since that time the music of years of rebuilding, unrest and inflation.

But Gar Hall was more than a musician. He was a printer by trade and an integral part of the community he loved so well. His interests were manifold: church, service clubs, sports, and above all a burning desire to help his fellow man.

Young dancers of to-day; their parents; their grandparents; yes, and even their great grandparents will miss the smiling face of the big man behind the drums. We have lost a very dear friend, and maybe poet Lon Woodrum had just such a friend when he penned lines that read something like this:

Of times I fall to thinking
When from dreams I'm not immune
There's a big drum up in heaven
And an angel beats the tune
There's the sound of mighty waters
As the music is outpoured
And the music rolls forever
In the temple of the Lord.

North Russell Cemetery Last Resting Place

J. Garland 'Gar' Hall was laid to rest at North Russell Cemetery last Saturday afternoon, carried to his last resting place by men who had been associated with him in the music field for many years.

'Gar' was best known throughout the entire Ottawa Valley as the tall, smiling drummer who began his music career with the late Ben Hokea during the years of World War 1 and continued to delight dancers for well over half a century. In the years to follow his drum beat the rhythm for such bands as: Don Johnston's Orchestra; Eldred Duquette's Band and Russ Hay's Orchestra. The late Mr. Hall was born at Russell, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Hall and received his education at Russell Public and High schools.

At Ottawa, in 1936, he married the former Carrie Olsen who survives. He is also survived by one son, James and two grandsons, Dana and Daryl. Although his 'first love' was always music he became associated with Russell's weekly newspaper in his youth and later assumed control of the publication following the retirement of the late George Duncan.

During the depression years the weekly ceased publication but Mr. Hall maintained his job printing firm and served the district till the time of his death.

Always keenly interested in the affairs of his community he played a valuable role both in church work and community endeavours. At the time of his death he was a Charter Member of Russell Lions Club and also an active member of the Masonic order and the I.O.O.F. Until recent years he was a member of Russell Curling Cl ub and active in all community sports programs.

The late Mr. Hall, who died at Ottawa Civic Hospital following a very brief illness, was 74.

The funeral service at Warner Funeral Home, Russell, was conducted by Rev. L. Woolfrey at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, November 2nd.

Pall bearers were Ian Crerar, Lloyd Hay, Keith Russell, Floyd Cochrane, Alex Little and Gordon Beaton.

Honorary bearers were Ken Millar and Russell M. Hay.

IN MEMORIAMS

WALLACE—In memory of a dear son, brother and uncle, Herman Wallace, who was accidentally killed on November 3, 1970.

MAGLADRY—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Gordon Magladry, who passed away November 13th, 1973.
God knew that he was suffering,
And the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed his weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace Be Thine".
Away in the beautiful hills of God
By the valley of rest so fair;
Some time, some day, we know not when
We will meet our loved one there.
—Sadly missed by wife Ida and family. 28p

We cannot think of them as dead
Who walk with us no more.

They have but gone before.

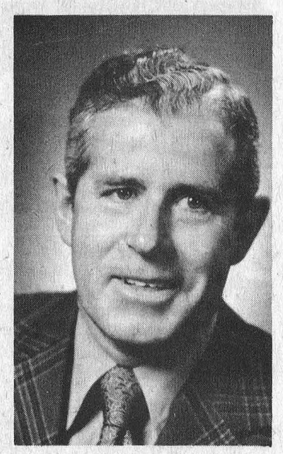
Health Care

A Personal Responsibility



Honourable Donald R. Irvine, M.P.P. - Grenville-Dundas
Minister of Housing
Address: - Room 1324, Whitney Block, Queen's Park, Toronto, Ontario.
Telephone: - (416) 965-0529

The efficient and effective delivery of health care services to all people in this province has always been, and will always be of major concern to the Ontario Government. Every member of the community - rich or poor must have the right to prompt and proper treatment for any sickness or injury. But as in any government-run programme, we must direct our attention to achieving a high standard of health care delivery through means the province can afford.

Health costs have been spiralling in the past five or six years. As these costs continue to rise each year, they consume a larger and larger portion of the provincial budget - a budget which must be used to cover all the province's essential services.

Twelve months ago, our health costs in the province averaged out at approximately $275.00 for every man, woman and child. Today this total is close to $325.00, and with the settlements which have been concluded, there will be another major increase in 1975. The effect of such a spiral coupled with inflation could result in our provincial health care budget increasing from $2 billion to $11 billion in ten years.

Naturally, a major part of the cost increase is due to higher salaries and wages. There are, however, other causes such as the increased use of hospitals and declining productivity. Perhaps one of the most significant causes of cost spirals lies with the individual citizen.

In the past, we have placed great emphasis on the need to create a health care system serving the public interest. This entails meeting the desires and needs of the people. But we have failed to direct our attentions to the other side of this theory - the responsibilities of the public for health care. Too few people are making an effort to improve their own health. Too many people have developed a dependence on the health professions, and rely little on personal responsbility for developing and maintaining basic health standards.

The increased costs for health care delivery have not resulted in overall improvement in the health of our citizens. Certainly, the Government's health insurance programme has essentially reduced the individual's concern for the cost of health care. It has, however, had the detrimental effect of reducing the individual's responsibility for his own health. It has further promoted a dependence on the quick cure of low-cost, readily-available health care. A change in attitudes and behaviour patterns would do far more to improve the health of Canadians than any reliance on medical advances. Changes in attitudes and behaviour would also be instrumental in reducing the cost of our health care bill.

We must direct our efforts now to changing life-styles which prove to be injurious to our physical and mental well-being. Among these life-styles are the excessive use of alcohol and drugs, the consumption of foods which are high in fat and cholesterol content, the lack of physical exercise and the increase of heavy smoking. The lack of personal responsibility for health care coupled with an acceptance of detrimental social behaviour results in major health problems.

We must place more emphasis on the merits of preventative health care. For example, if we are able to eliminate the damage caused by alcohol, we could cut down our annual health bill in Ontario by several hundred million dollars. Heavy drinking is a major factor in highway accidents in the province, and these accidents are the biggest cause of injury and death in Ontario. In a study which was recently released, it was found that 56 percent of all drivers killed in automobile accidents had been drinking. More than 60 percent of all drivers killed between the ages of 15 and 19 had been drinking, and this percentage did not drop until the drivers were in their late 50's. This is not a medical problem, but rather a problem of personal behaviour.

The problem of ever-increasing costs of health care delivery is disturbing.

Many people believe that OHIP premiums meet all the costs of their health care. But these premiums only pay a fraction of the province's total health bill. One answer to the problem could be found in returning more responsibility for the health care system to the community. A District Health Council has been introduced in Ottawa-Carleton and a second council has been established in Thunder Bay. These District Health Councils could be implemented to co-ordinate the integrate health services at the local level. The councils would also be responsible for assessing how well the health programme meets the total health needs of each region. They might further be instrumental in drawing attention to the need for changes in detrimental life-styles and habits.

Certainly the government must make every effort to ensure that each citizen is provided with efficient, readily-available health care. But we, as members of the community, must now direct our attentions to resolving the broader health problems which effects us as a group. We must look on health care as a personal responsibility.

Environment Program

Ontario's Garbage Back In Business

A comprehensive waste management program to reclaim and recycle valuable resources from Ontario's annual eight million tons of garbage was announced last week in the Legislature by Environment Minister William G. Newman.

The Ontario Ministry of the Environment is launching a 15-year program to establish a system of transfer stations, transportation and reclamation centres which will substitute waste reclamation for garbage disposal, Mr. Newman said. The first six reclamation plants will serve Kingston, Sudbury, London and the Metropolitan Toronto-Peel-Halton area.

The program also incorporates measures to investigate the production of waste.

Mr. Newman said the Ministry's first six plants will be built as soon as possible at an estimated cost of $17 million. Their locations were chosen because of current need and because the municipalities involved are already engaged in development of waste management systems.

"This program is a giant step along a path that will lead to almost total resource recovery over the next 15 years," Mr. Newman said. "Ontario is the first jurisdiction in the world to commit totally to a system of reclamation which will ultimately serve 90 per cent of our population."

He predicted that the completed network of transfer stations, transport systems and reclamation plants would reduce Ontario's landfill needs by 80 per cent.

The program operates on several levels, he said:

Financial assistance will help municipalities improve existing waste systems and consolidate systems into a network of transfer stations and transport systems to feed waste reclamation plants.

The plants will be developed across the province with capacities ranging from 200 to 1,000 tons a day. Fifty per cent of their capital will be recovered over 40 years in addition to a user charge. Initially, they will involve primary processes -- shredding of waste, magnetic separation of metals and air classification to separate remaining wastes into two groups. Paper and light plastics form one group and glass, non-ferrous metals, organic waste and other plastics the other.

More advanced reclamation processes will be incorporated as research facilities, such as the reclamation research centre the Ministry is building in North York, develop new techniques and processes.

"We are maintaining a system of reclamation research, working with industry and municipalities to pioneer new processes and markets to mind solid waste as a valuable resource," Mr. Newman said.

In addition, Environment Ontario will continue to support selected demonstration projects on material or energy reclamation such as the Watts from Waste project.

Ontario is also establishing an authority to advise on the reduction of solid waste production, he said.

Successful Masquerade Party At Metcalfe

The masquerade dance, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Catherine's Church, Metcalfe, attracted a large crowd to the Community Centre last Saturday night.

With over fifty in costume the judges experienced some difficulty naming winners. The judges themselves caused some confusion. Those present has almost reached the conclusion the six were not going to put in an appearance when, without warning, they removed grotesque masks to reveal: Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Kelly of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McKinley, Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. John Delorme, Ottawa.

Prize winners were as follows: Best lady's in costume, Mrs. Tom Cavan; Best man's costume, Joe Rowan; Best couple, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dempsey, Ottawa; Most Original, Jim McIlhinney, Ottawa; Most Dramatic, Vice Vaillancourt.

White Slaps Fingers

Cut Spending Or Find Own Money

There'll be no additional provincial handouts for municipalities this coming year, Ontario Treasurer John White has warned.

Speaking to county wardens and regional chairman at the annual conference of the Association of Counties and Regions of Ontario, Mr. White said the Ontario government cannot match all the financial needs of the municipalities in 1974-75.

The province, he said, is passing $2.4 billion along to the municipalities in 1974-75---an increase of $250 million over the previous fiscal year --- and cannot improve on that.

Repeated increases in provincial grants over the past five years have made it possible for the municipalities to maintain a high level of services while becoming less dependent on property taxation for their revenues.

The Treasurer said municipalities expecting additional provincial help should instead adopt one or several of four measures: they can increase property taxes, borrow more money, cut their spending, or appeal to Ottawa for help.

Emphasizing cuts in expenditures as a good solution, Mr. White said: "This is the measure that must be stressed in this inflationary period ... I urge you in the strongest terms to cut all but the most essential expenditures."

Mr. White distributed a financial analysis showing provincial and municipal taxation and spending for 1968 and 1973.

"(The document) shows that while the province has been tightening up on spending and forcing school boards to tighten up, some municipalities have been greatly increasing their spending," he said.

Relating the provincial record, he said: "We have raised taxes all we can. We have borrowed money to the limit of prudence. We are doing our best to hold the line on spending. We cannot and will not raise taxes further.

"And so I say to all municipalities: 'Now it's your turn.'

"Not for a moment do I dispute your need for more money than we provide. Not for a second would I argue that you couldn't spend the extra money to good advantage.

"But the money is not available. We don't have it and we see no practical, reasonable way to get it for you."

Mr. White said the federal government is in a better position than the province is to help the municipalities, since Ottawa enjoyed revenue increases of 17 per cent last year and more than 20 per cent this year.

"The Minister of Finance may tell you he won't provide any extra money, but don't let him tell you he can't."

Food Facts & Fallacies

Q. MY FREEZER WAS ACCIDENTALLY DISCONNECTED. IS IT SAFE TO REFREEZE THE FOOD?

A. It is impossible to judge the safety of thawed foods unless you know approximately how long each food has been thawed. If the food still contains some ice crystals, it may be safely refrozen immediately.

Q. IF MEATS AND CHEESES GET MOULDY IN THE REFRIGERATOR, ARE THEY STILL SAFE TO EAT AFTER THE MOULD HAS BEEN REMOVED?

A. Summer sausage, salami, cooked ham, bacon and other prepared meats, as well as cured cheeses, are all safe to eat after the mould has been cut off completely. Throw away fresh meat or frankfurters that have become mouldy.

Q. IS IT SAFE TO EAT "RARE" MEATS?

A. Snce most organisms live on the surface of meats, the interior of a chunk of beef or lamb is almost sterile, rendering rare-cooked meats of these types safe to eat. Pork, however, should be well-cooked, and its a good idea to cook poultry well since occasionally salmonella organisms are in the intestinal tract.

Q. CAN A PERSON DRINK TOO MUCH MILK?

A. Yes. Milk is a good food but does not contain all nutrients. If milk is taken to replace other essential foods, the diet will not be a balanced one.

Coaches Attend Clinic

Twenty-two Winchester and area coaches assembled at Winchester Community Centre hall last Saturday to participate in the National Coaches Certification Program. The clinics are part of an O.D.H.A. - sponsored project designed to better train those who assume the responsible task of training minor hockey players.

The plan has been set up as a 3-level program and those at Winchester were seeking 'Level 1' certificates.

Topics covered include: role of the coach; hockey injuries and equipment; game strategy; theory of team play; practice and teaching methods; conditioning; skating and puck control; passing-shooting-checking and much other valuable information.

Left to right: Tom Clapp, local organizer; Bill Lineger, chairman, Planning and Development Committee, and O.D.H.A. Director; and Robert Burns, a physical education teacher, Ottawa.

Mr. Lineger points out that his busy schedule includes more Level 1 clinics in the area during the month of November. He'll be at Alexandria on November 22nd; Gloucester Township, November 30 and also at Cornwall on the same day.

Hydro Studies Aluminum Wiring

Exaggerated!

Reports that aluminum wiring used in thousands of Canadian homes could be a fire hazard are exaggerated, according to a special Ontario Hydro team set up to study the matter.

J.A. Dicker, Hydro's manager of electrical inspection, said that although the team will continue its investigations, "things aren't nearly as bad as alleged earlier".

The combination of poor workmanship and the use of improper wiring devices on aluminum wire increase the possibility of electrical failure, he added. The team's investigation revealed several failures involving aluminum wire but damage was generally confined to the outlet box and no actual fires resulted.

"The number of reported failures are very small in terms of the number of installations," Dicker said.

The special team was set up after news reports several months ago suggested that aluminum wiring -- which has replaced its more costly counterpart, copper, in most new home circuits -- was turning residences into "time bombs" waiting to go up in smoke.

"That just isn't the case", said Dicker. "But we recommend strongly that home owners keep a close eye on the behavior of their electrical systems, whether they have aluminum wiring or any other kind." He said the Hydro team's interim report indicates a general upgrading of all wiring systems in today's homes may be desirable.

"Heavy appliances such as air conditioners are coming into common use today and they can be a strain on the electrical system," Dicker added. "A general improvement in standards might be a good idea."

The team recommended that anyone concerned with electrical installations watch for these warning signs:

- hot or discoloured plates on switches or receptacles;
- unusual odours in the vicinity of an electrical outlet;
- persistent but intermittent flickering of lights for no apparent reason.

The Hydro team urged homeowners who notice any of these symptoms to consult a qualified electrician or electrical contractor immediately.

Space Heaters Require Expert Maintenance

John T. Clement, Ontario Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations, today called for the careful usage of oil-fired space heaters.

"There is no doubt that oil-fired space heaters can deliver warm, safe heat," he said, "but if care and caution are not exercised, these units, like all other heating equipment that is not looked after, can create real tragedy".

"With the approach of cold weather, many of these units are coming into operation, and owners should ensure that heaters, flues and associated piping are clean and in proper repair", the Minister said.

Mr. Clement's comments came as he announced the publication of the new booklet "Oil-Fired Space Heaters and Your Safety", produced by the Energy Safety Branch of the Ministry's Technical Standards Division.

"We urge owners and users of these units to have them serviced on an annual basis by a licensed burner serviceman", Mr. Clement said. "However, we realize that his kind of service is not always available, so the booklet outlines the steps by which the owner or user of a simple oil-fired space heater can provide minimal service to a unit. I would stress that it is by far preferable to have a qualified serviceman perform this work", the Minister said.

Mr. Clement also urged caution in the use of fuels. "Never, ever use any fuel that might contain gasoline", Mr. Clement said. "A volatile fuel like gasoline can turn a space heater into a bomb".

"A little extra thought is the key to safety", said the Minister. "Just a bit of effort and common sense with an oil-fired space heater can produce a safe, warm winter and eliminate a lot of grief".

Marriage Counselling: Lengthy And Painful Process

Have the pressures of modern life created such a feeling of inadequacy among individuals that marriage cannot bear the strain?

"So many of the people who come to us for help have such a poor self-image", remarked Margaret Conliffe, director of the Family Service Bureau. "There are so many things they think they must be or must have that they lose sight of the most important things in life.

"They come to believe that they have to maintain a frantic social life or pile up an unending supply of material possessions or attain some ridiculous set of sexual standards."

Miss Conliffe works as a marriage counsellor but don't let the "Miss" fool you. All of the counsellors at the Family Service Bureau are thoroughly trained professionals.

"The social worker isn't here to give advice, a person can get that anywhere," explained Miss Conliffe," We try to help the couple understand each other and the factors which are causing trouble.

"Marriage counselling is a long and painful process for the couple because it is the counsellors responsibility to help them assess themselves rather than using each other as a scape-goat. It is difficult for all of us to admit a failure in any area of our lives, especially in a marriage."

One of the deepest problems that Miss Conliffe has found among couples experiencing marital crisis is they have never learned to communicate with each other.

"In some instances the first time that a couple has communicated has been in the presence of the counsellor. Even if it comes in the form of a shouting match, it can relieve tension and enable each partner to appreciate the emotional needs of the other," Miss Conliffe noted.

"Even a marriage can be a superficial relationship if the emotional needs of each partner aren't recognized", Miss Conliffe believes, "and without mutual respect, trust, and understanding, it isn't much of a marriage."

FAMILY THERAPY

The counsellors usually see the couple together, then individually for a number of sessions and then together again. Family therapy is also done with the consent of the parents and helps the children to understand their father, who is often on the periphery of the family, a bit better.

"We have no illusions about creating ideal marriages but in most cases we are able to help the couple understand each other and cut down on the tension in the home.

"Although the ultimate goal is living together, there are situations where one partner decides to separate," Miss Conliffe said. "The counsellor doesn't advise but tries to help the person analyse the situation before any decision is made.

"It is better to save two people and damage a marriage than to damage the members of a family for the sake of keeping the marriage intact. Women who say they refuse to break up a marriage for the children's sake are only using the children as a scapegoat for their own weaknesses.

"Since the reform of the divorce laws there are many more one-parent families who need our support. Family counselling doesn't end with a separation," Miss Conliffe noted.

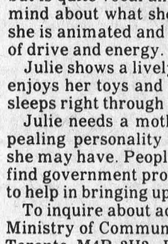
The Family Service Bureau can help where friends or relatives may only cause greater damage to a marraige. "We are the neutral party with no vested interest in either partner," Miss Conliffe remarked. "A relative may have emotional ties to one of the spouses or a friend may make comparisons with popular standards."

"We're not here to help people feel good but to help them face reality."

Family Counselling is now available to all residents of the three United Counties, at no cost. If you would like more information, contact either of the following: Family Service Bureau, Cornwall, Phone 932-4610.

United Counties Social Services, Cornwall, Phone - 933-7909.

Consultations will be available in Alexandria - Tuesdays 3 p.m. - 8 p.m. and Morrisburg - Mondays 3 p.m. - 8 p.m. on request.



TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

One glance tells you Julie is a happy baby. At 19 months, healthy and invariably sunny-tempered, Julie has no idea she is a little girl with a problem.

Julie was born with Downs Syndrome (commonly known as mongolism). Because of this condition, she has developed more slowly than average and will probably require special schooling as she gets older. However, she is considered well within the educable range.

Not walking yet, Julie is a speedy crawler. She isn't talking but is quite vocal and expressive, leaving no doubt in anybody's mind about what she wants. Though behind in these two areas, she is animated and responsive and appears to have a good deal of drive and energy.

Julie shows a lively interest in things going on around her. She enjoys her toys and handles them well. She is a good eater and sleeps right through the night with a couple of daytime naps.

Julie needs a mother and father who will appreciate her appealing personality and who can accept whatever limitations she may have. People considering adopting a child like Julie will find government programs and parents' groups all over Ontario to help in bringing up below-average boys and girls.

To inquire about adopting Julie, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your Children's Aid Society.

Re: Parent - Teacher Interviews

Wednesday, November 13

7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

DEAR PARENT:

All North Dundas students will receive their November Progress Reports on Friday, November 8th.

The purpose of these reports is to provide both the student and the parent with an indication of how well the student is doing in his various courses.

In order to give parents the opportunity of discussing the progress of their son or daughter with individual teachers, Parent-Teacher Interviews have been scheduled for Wednesday, November 13 from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

I sincerely hope that all parents will be able to attend as these interviews not only provide both parent and teacher with many insights which will enable them to help the student who is having difficulty but they also provide a great deal of positive reinforcement for the student who is doing well.

Yours truly,

D.W. McGAHAN, Principal.

Hawks Looking For First Point

(By Al VanBridger)

Three regular games have been played and the Winchester Hawks are still looking for their first point in this young season.

After their last two games coach Dave Armstrong must think that he and Brian Kilrea, coach of the Ottawa 67's, have a great deal in common when it comes to a staggering goals against problem.

In their last two encounters, both with the Cornwall Mavericks, the Hawks allowed a disgusting 21 goals against. This is one facet of their game which will have to be quickly resolved if they are to gain their first point or any points at all.

On October 30th in Cornwall the Hawks were shellacked by the Mavericks to a tune of 14 to 2 Mike Stanton and "The Bear", Steve Johnston were each victimized for 7 goals while each made 22 saves for a total of 42 stops. In reply the Hawks sent 32 shots at 2 Cornwall goaltenders. 32 shots shows that the Hawks were once again doing everything but putting it in the net. The two that they did score were notched by Keith McRoberts from Glen Taylor and Tom Kirkwood and Lloyd Fawcett who blasted home the other goal after taking a pass from Mike Armstrong.

On the Cornwall side of the score sheet Pat Bingley scored 4 goals and had an assist, Mike Kelly had a hat trick, Brian Rinneau and Deb Denney each had two with singles going to Brian Tardiff, Al Simser and Dale Calbran.

John Bingley of Cornwall was ejected from the game and will probably receive a suspension for buttending a Hawks' player.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 1st
CORNWALL 7 - HAWKS 2

450 fans turned out to watch the rematch between the Mavericks and the Winchester Hawks here on home ice and it was an entirely different game although the score doesn't indicate it. When Cornwall left the rink here on Friday night they knew that they had been in a hockey game.

For the most part the Hawks out hustled, out shot and out hit the Mavericks but they just could not beat a hot Cornwall goaltender by the name of Rene Desrosiers. Desrosiers made 42 saves, many of them seemingly impossible. He was definitely the deciding factor in the Cornwall win as he smothered the Hawks' offense.

Friday's game was marred by 34 penalties, 19 for Cornwall and 15 to the Hawks. Cornwall's Al Simser and Alain Legere were both tossed out of the game for spearing while Paul Morgan got the gate when he threatened a Cornwall player with a buttend. These three players will probably receive game suspensions under the new "get tough" violence rulings in the league.

Karl McRoberts, who played an outstanding 2-way game, capped off a beautiful passing play from his brother Keith McRoberts and Glen Taylor for the Hawks first goal. The other goal went to Len McLean as he put home a rebound from a booming Lloyd Fawcett shot. There should have been many more Hawks' goals to report but Rene Desrosiers in the Cornwall net made that impossible.

Cornwall scorers were Doug Kelly with 2, Mike Kelly, Tardiff Denneny, Bingley and Chretien all with singles.

The Hawks' Three Stars were No. 1 Larry Jackson who had a solid 2-way checking game.

No. 2 Lloyd Fawcett who came up with a big game on defense along with an assist and is looking better every time out.

No. 3 Glen Taylor, a newcomer with the Hawks, who had a solid game on defense and to date has set up 3 Hawks' goals.

The Hawks played a good game Friday night and they certainly deserved more than the 7 to 2 score indicates. The team is really trying and asks you for your continued support when they play their next home game on Friday, November 15, 1974 at 8:30 p.m. against The Metcalfe Jets.

Chris Grey won $85.00 in the Hawks' 50-50 draw.

Jets Win One, Lose One

Metcalfe 'Jets' put two points on the board when they edged Alexandria 'Glens' at Alexandria last Friday night, but the Glens came back to avenge that loss when they scored an 8 to 7 Sunday victory on Metcalfe ice.

It was a big weekend for the Jets' speedy winger Marty Kelly who picked up six points to give him a head-start in the league's scoring race. Marty netted three at Alexandria on Friday night and picked up one assist. At Metcalfe, on Sunday he fired home two more.

Sunday's game was the first 'home' game of the season for the Jets and a large crowd was on hand early to see the many new players in action.

NO REFEREES

Those who had been critical of the O.D.H.A.'s move to 'centralize' Ottawa District leagues had good reason to smile knowingly as game time neared and no referees on hand.

A telephone call revealed that confusion reigned somewhere along the line and those entrusted with the task of assigning referees were not aware the game was being played.

Rather drastic action resulted in the arrival of 'two' officials in time for the second period -- and a third arrived ten minutes before the game ended.

Fortunately St. Lawrence Division vice president Don McIntosh was present and he willingly laced on his skates and very efficiently took over the often difficult assignment as referee-in-chief. Two players, one from Metcalfe and one from Alexandria acted as linesmen.

Alex English, past president of the now defunct St. Lawrence League, faced off the puck to officially open the new season.

Alexandria moved in to 3 to 2 lead in the first twenty minutes; each team added three in the second frame allowing the Glens to hold their slim lead. Alexandria came on strong in the final period to move ahead by three goals but the Jets fired home two more to close the gap and were swarming around the Glens' net in the dying minutes in a desperate effort to knot the score. Marksmen for Metcalfe were: Marty Kelly and Larry Shields with two each; Mike Stanley, Jeff Smith and Gord Dowser each added singles.

For Alexandria Claude Roy and Yvon Desautels each scored twice with singles by J.T. Hay, Roch Lajois, Robert Boisoneau and Rod Shepherd.

This Sunday the Jets will host Prescott Saints in a 2:15 game.

Season Opener

Metcalfe 'Jets' hosted Alexandria 'Glens' last Sunday afternoon in their opening 'home' game of the 1974-75 Junior 'B' schedule.

Alex English, Past President of the now defunct St. Lawrence Junior 'B' Hockey League, was on hand to officiate at the opening face-off, but unfortunately no official referees showed up for the 2:15 game.

Ottawa District Junior 'B' Hockey League (St. Lawrence Division) vice-president Don McIntosh saved the day when he laced on his skates to handle the game until such time as officials arrived. (Two arrived in time for the second period but the third didn't skate out onto the ice till ten minutes had elapsed in the final period).

An exceptionally large opening day crowd was treated to a rugged but clean game with only ten minor penalities (five to each team). Mr. English is shown in accompanying photo facing off the puck to officially open the new season.

Mr. McIntosh was ably assisted by two players, one from each team, as linesmen.

Nominations And Elections

Even the most disinterested person will find it difficult to ignore the fact that this is the time of year for elections. Across the border our great friend and neighbour experienced earlier this week what many people refer to as "post Watergate paralysis" in a country where even the dog catcher is elected. Closer to home there is a hot provincial by-election being held in Carleton East. And the outcome of that one may have a great deal to do with the political future of this province. And just to top off the cake with a nice bit of political icing to-day, Thursday, marks the first of five days in which Ontario municipalities have the opportunity to nominate candidates for a variety of offices ranging from mayors of large corporations to councillors in the smallest townships. Polling day for the candidates who accept the nominations will be held on Monday, December 2.

Because it is this newspaper's contention that not enough emphasis is placed by the electorate on what is often referred to as the "third tier" of government at the municipal level this editorial will deal with that area in general and with the municipality of Winchester village in particular. However, the thoughts concerning a municipal election in Winchester are probably the same thoughts that should be shared by all other municipalities in the readership district of this newspaper, indeed in all of the province.

We have stated before in previous elections that "no election was more important to the future of this town than the....." And, at that time, it was true. Just as it is true to-day that this year's municipal election will be the most important ever to be held in this village. Why? Because at the end of each two years, elections are now held every second year, times and conditions have changed .... almost drastically in some instances. Elections, then, become a time for all of us to review the situation as it applies to our municipality and to determine what route we should take over the next two years and whom we should like to guide us during that time.

Because in all municipalities, and especially in the smaller, less urbanized ones, the municipal government is, without argument, the key organization. Its actions and decisions will be felt by every individual. The Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, Jaycees, Business Men's Group and other organizations are, of course, all vital to the lifeblood of the community. But it is the municipal government, in our case five people, holding the reins. Almost everything from setting a tax rate to attracting a new industry or home, from paving a street to expropriating a piece of property, must go through municipal council. These men and women, and wouldn't it be an excellent idea to have a woman on municipal council, are really the elected board of directors of a vital corporation in which all of us hold shares. And even by to-day's inflated standards the operation of this town is no longer small business. It involves hundreds of thousands of dollars each year spent in a variety of ways. It involves as assessed value of several millions in property and business and several more millions in real value. So the people we elect to direct our affairs are being asked to carry out the duties of an increasingly important and often thankless position.

Without question these elected representatives should be the very best we can find. Of course, this is not always the case. Quite often the best qualified men and women are simply the ones who are the best qualified in many other areas. They are successful people in their own right, and more often than not the busiest. And because small town elections have been known to be popularity contests rather than quality contests better candidates are occasionally defeated while other less qualified individuals, who have nothing to offer except a friendly smile and a lack of knowledge, get in.

In 1974 and the years ahead those petty days should be behind us. The candidates we elect must first of all possess some degree of success in business or in another phase of life, and certainly should be open to examination. They must, by all means, be men and women of the highest integrity. They should be tuned in to the affluent demands of to-day's society. They should be able to talk eyeball to eyeball with the voters. They should be people of firm decision ready to lead this municipality in an imaginative and sound direction. They should be high on administration and short on day to day bigotry. They should be well educated, not solely academic, who can confer, even argue, around the council table, but after the decisions have been made leave that same table in an atmosphere of friendship and respect. They should possess at least some natural public relations ability to represent us well at home and away, and their make-up should be such that they are sophisticated enough to be aware that although there is a time to raise our voice there is also a time to shut up, that a continual roar makes it impossible for others to hear us.

Perhaps, some will say, we are being too demanding. We think not. We are not so gullible to believe that every candidate running for municipal office will possess all of the qualifications previously mentioned. They are mentioned as guidelines, and if we can attract even a handful of people possessing at least "some" of these qualifications we are on the right track.

And when nominations close next week would it not be a good idea to have an all candidates meeting before a packed hall of ratepayers who want to ask questions and size up the people who will be seeking our support? It's our money. It's our town. It's our decision. And it's our future that is at stake.

We think that's more than enough to become enthused. We think that's more than enough to make certain we elect the best possible talent. We think that's more than enough to make us interested in the "third tier" of government ..... our government!

Bill Smiley Writes

a time to remember

There is nothing drearier, for anybody who is not one, than an "Old Sweat"; unless it is a collection of Old Sweats, exchanging cheerful lies and trying to drink Canada dry, about this time every year.

Although I'm not much for the old soldier bit, I find myself, each year, doing a lot of remembering when Remembrance Day rolls around.

Just the other day, I came across a photo that brought back a lot of memories. There we were, the two of us. Tony Frombola, grinning as though he owned the world, and looking over his shoulder, with a crop of dark hair, a huge, sweeping, handle-bar moustache, and a devilish glint in his eye, yours truly.

I think it was taken in Brussels, shortly after we "escaped" from prison camp. We didn't actually escape. We just got sick and tired of hanging around, and left.

The blasted war had been over for about seven days, and there we were, stuck behind barbed wire. The only difference between that and the situation a month before was that the guards up in the sentry boxes were Russians, instead of Germans.

At our camp, our incarceration didn't end with the Yanks or the British rolling into the camp in jeeps, and throwing cigarettes and chocolate bars to the joyful prisoners, who wept and kissed their liberators.

We were "liberated" by the Russians. They didn't have any cigarettes to throw around, they didn't know what a chocolate bar was, and they didn't particularly want to be kissed. They threw a guard around the camp and told us to stay put. Our senior officers told us the same. They didn't want us wandering around the countryside being shot by some drunken Rooshian.

Bored silly, Tony and I decided we'd had enough of that dump. So, about four o'clock one morning, we nipped the wires with a pair of borrowed wire-clippers, crawled several hundred feet through grass (very wet), and headed for home.

It sounds incredibly daring and fool-hardy, and it did make the heart thump a bit, but it wasn't either of those. It was just stupid.

However, we made it to the Canadian lines in three days, hitching and hiking, and a very enjoyable time we had of it. In fact, we caught a plane to Brussels, another to England, and were there about four days before the other chickens got out of the coop.

Frombola was an irrepressible character. He was a Yank, from Oakland, California, who had joined the RCAF. Most of his compatriots switched to the U.S. air force when the latter got into the war, but Tony didn't bother. He didn't bother about much of anything, except enjoying life.

He had a big, homely mug, but was a terror with the ladies. He was strong and tough and cynical and witty.

This may be hard to believe, but this incident, which I personally witnessed, showed what he was made of.

It was August, 1944. One evening, after flying, we decided to walk down to the beach in Normandy. There was nothing of interest do do back at the wing, and the padres had cleaned up the tiny whiskey supply in the mess.

At the beach, a Liberty ship was unloading jeeps. There was a line of them, parked on the sand, guarded by two British soldiers. Tony walked up to one of them and said: "How much do you want for a jeep, buddy?" I nearly fell over.

"Five quid," responded the Limey. Tony peeled off five notes. He was always flush, as he was a gambler and a dealer. He drove the jeep away to a place of privacy, rounded up some paint, and painted RCAF roundels and the legend "Canada" on it.

He was the only lowly Flying Officer to have his own jeep during the Normandy campaign, and he made good use of it, such as visiting field hospitals. Not to visit the sick and wounded, but to date nurses.

We came home on the same ship. He picked up five hundred dollars in the twenty-four hour crap game, lost most of it, built it back up to $2,000. Haven't seen him since we landed, but wherever he is today, I'll bet he's rich.

Not all the memories are so pleasant, of course. Three of us shared a tent in Normandy. We were all shot down within 10 days, and I'm the only one alive.

My parents received three telegrams from the Department of National Defense. Each of them began, "We regret to inform you ...." One son was blown up by a land mine, and lost an eye. The second was missing in action. The third was shot down over the Channel. By some strange working of fate, we're all alive.

But thousands of lads aren't. Remember them.

"how did you win the war, daddy?"

Penned By Dr. Gordon C. Smyth

It is significant that, on Remembrance Day, Queen Elizabeth will set an example of tribute, not before some tomb with a well known name in Westminster Abbey, but in Trafalgar Square, and place a wreath before a monument erected to the memory of "The Unknown Soldier".

Young people may smile as they ask their father or grandfather how he won the war. But he did, with others like him! Every ship relied on the integrity of each of its company. It was on the alertness of each sentry that every battalion depended. It was on the individual pilot's skill that every air operation hung. It was the anonymous ones who won the war.

They went forth from farms and villages, towns and cities, offices and factories, high schools and universities. They went forth in ones and twos, tens and thousands. Their names made little print, beyond statistics. A few were decorated with the Military Cross. Fewer still received the Victoria Cross.

In World War 2 they went forth to stem the tide of anti-Semitism taking the lives of six million Jews. They went forth that clergymen could speak as they wanted to speak, professors lecture as they wanted to lecture, editors write as they wanted to write, workers unionize as they wanted to unionize. They went forth in order that the powerful myth of Nordic superiority might be ended.

If there has been failure, it was not on the part of those who offered their lives to finally turn back a tide of totalitarianism that would have submerged most of the world. Dishonor on us should not detract from paying honor to them on Remembrance Day.

"I attack at dawn", stated the first recipient of the Victoria Cross in World War 2. Warburton Lee, outside Narvik, reported to the British Admiralty that night was coming on, a snow storm raging, and a superior enemy inside the fiord.

The Admiralty signalled back, "We leave the decision with you". "I attack at dawn", was the terse reply. Thus Warburton Lee and his anonymous company steamed in to victory and to death.

Since all such men and women did what conscience told them to do, since each one was dear to somebody back home, since all of them were dear to the heart of God, let us remember them. Let us especially remember them by a new depth of responsibility toward the world that they left behind in the hope that all God's children would yet learn to dwell in liberty, justice, and brotherhood.

The Seventh Column

Next Monday is Remembrance Day, and because our country has been free of wars for so many years, many of us tend to forget. Forget the real meaning of the poppy; the cenotaph; ageing men standing rigidly at attention; and a lone bugler sounding the mournful notes of The Last Post. Lines, penned a long time ago by Laurence Binyon, help bring the picture back into focus:

They went with songs to the battle, they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted,
They fell with their faces to the foe.
They shall not grow old, as we who are left grow old,
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

Municipal election time is just around that proverbial corner. That particular time when all those who have been complaining throughout the life of the present administration will have an opportunity to change it all. Strangely enough statistics seem to prove that those who are the most severe critics are those who fail to vote on election day. This year maybe we should all remember that bad politicians are elected by good people who don't vote.

Thoroughly enjoyed the Commencement Exercises at Osgoode Township High School last Friday night and had to be favourably impressed by the number of graduates who have chosen to further their education at various colleges. Strangely enough we were reminded of the proud father who boasted to his friends that his college son was doing very well in languages. "Why", he said, "only last week I had to send him $30 for Latin, $30 for French, and $200 for Scotch."

This is the time of year when weather prognosticators literally come out of the woodwork to bore everyone they meet with time-proven prophesies of what to expect during the long winter months. Some watch the squirrels for 'definite' signs; other rely on such 'messages' from Mother Nature as: colour of woolly worms; thickness of shucks on corn; the number of cobwebs in the grass; the number of frogs counted in the month of August; timing of the mating cycle of the deer; thickness of fur on wild animals; the moon; the stars and heavy moss on trees. Seems about time we got into the act: - - Well, this will be a winter of very deep snow! How do we know for sure? We counted the snowblowers colourfully displayed by the many equipment dealers, fed the figure into computer, and 'Presto' --- deep snow.

Maybe it was weather conditions, or maybe we need a new one. But whatever the cause our crystal ball 'goofed' last week - - - and it cost us money. Gazing into the sphere last Friday morning we could see very clearly, and 'our' Rough Riders were trampling the Alouettes into the dust on one side while Argos were tearing out Tiger hair on the other. Almost ashamed to be continually taking the poor fellow's hard-earned money we laid down our bets - - and that, dear Winchester and area readers, is why you received your milk on Monday morning from such a happy milkman.

Slowly, but with deadly certainty, 'little people' are having control of their every-day lives wrested from their capable hands. This, at least, is the conclusion we have reached and we base that conclusion on the modern trend toward what is known as 'centralization'. First it was in the field of education and every taxpayer knows the end result of that venture. Then came 'Regionalization', and here again it is being proven, without much doubt, that abandoning the old system allows for minimum efficiency at maximum cost. The most recent move took place on the sports scene where manageable leagues, administered expertly by well-qualified personnel, were offered two choices by O.D.H.A. moguls - - - either scuttle your successful operation and become part of a new experiment - or operate as a 'bush league' deprived of all benefits designed to promote the game. We witnessed a sample of this 'big-time' administration last Sunday when officials failed to show up for the Jets opening 'home' game of the season. This kind of promotion we don't need.

Many are of the opinion that men who work in offices are much too soft to attempt any form of manual labour. Proof to the contrary was supplied last week by an Ontario Hydro 'pencil pusher' who boasted of his weekend activities. Explaining that each Saturday he spends the day shoveling huge piles of top soil he happened to note with an air of pride that throughout the entire day he was handling three shovel-fulls for each one spread by his helper. Later he rather sheepishly admitted his helper was over 65; had one arm in a sling and a shovel with a broken handle.

A Centennary Of Enthusiasm - Hulbert United Church

(By Freda Mellon)

At a time when there is a widespread belief that churches, especially those in rural areas, are facing difficult times, it was most heartening to see the enthusiasm with which the 100th anniversary of Hulbert United Church was celebrated on the last weekend in October.

The first church built on the site was a small white frame Methodist church, dedicated on January 18, 1874; the handful of worshippers who erected it and their minister, the late Rev. W.T. Dyre of the old Matilda Circuit based in Iroquois, were able to declare it debt-free that very day - a commendable achievement even though the total cost was only $900.

In the spring of 1907, during the ministry of Rev. Fred Tripp, this church was moved a few rods to the east, across the county road, where it served as a residence for more than forty years. A fine brick church, erected on the site, was dedicated on January 10, 1908, and, like its predecessor, was out of debt at the close of the dedication services; this time the cost was well over $7,000.

Thirty years later, almost to the day, fire destroyed this church; despite several years of depression throughout the 1930's, and the beginning of the depopulation of this rural area, the church was rebuilt; eight months after the fire, on September 10, 1938, it, too, was dedicated and declared to be out of debt. The minister throughout this period was Rev. E.C. Lacey, now retired in Toronto.

At the present time, Rev. L.D. Joyce is the minister of the Matilda charge to which the Hulbert Church belongs. Since November, 1973, members of the Pleasant Valley congregation have joined with the Hulbert congregation, as their fine church was lost by fire in July, 1972.

Celebration of the Centennial of the Hulbert church began on Saturday evening, October 26th, with a Fellowship and Reunion Service. The church was filled as William E. Marshall of Morrisburg, the Master of Ceremonies, conducted a fine programme of music, addresses and reminiscences. Mr. Marshall is a former resident, and the son of W.N. Marshall, one of the trustees of the first church (Wesleyan Methodist).

Musical numbers were given by Rhonda Francis, Carole Crowder and Mrs. Sam Keyes of the Hulbert congregation, Mrs. Mary Perry of Brinston, and Mrs. Sam Cowan and son, Evan, of Prescott. Mahlon Zeron, Reeve of Matilda Township spoke briefly, as did Rev. Atkinson of Inkerman, and Mrs. Nelda Hanes of Morrisburg. The history of Hulbert Church was given by Mrs. Howard Mellan, and that of the Pleasant Valley Church by Mrs. Dwight Gilmer.

Letters and telegram from former ministers were read by Mrs. Nelson Scharf. Present from the greatest distance were Carman Ellis, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ellis of Calgary, Alberta. In 1912, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd Ellis, and their family of six boys and three girls left Hulbert to homestead in the Calgary area; the Hulbert congregation was most thrilled to have these members of that family present for the Centennial observances; Carman Ellis spoke to the audience in a most humorous vein, recalling early days both in Hulbert and the West. The oldest guests present were: Mrs. Ethel Barkley of South Mountain, Mrs. Lucy Millar of Cornwall, Mrs. George Francis of Hyndman, and Mrs. Victor Ellis of Calgary - all in their eighties, while the youngest guest was Mary Louise, the three-month old daughter of Laverne and Marilyn (Fawcett) Bruce of Ottawa.

At the Sunday morning service of worship, Rev. Gervis Black of Parkdale United Church, Ottawa, brought a most appropriate message to a very large congregation. Special music was supplied by the Junior Choir, directed by Mrs. Dale Keyes, organist, and by the Brinston Male Quartette, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Perry, guitarist, and Mrs. George Cooper, pianist. It was noted that 66 years earlier, the Brinston quartette had "rendered several numbers" when the second Hulbert church was dedicated. (This report was found in a January, 1908 copy of the MOUNTAIN HERALD.)

Long before the 8 o'clock service of music was to begin on Sunday evening the church was again crowded and people continued to arrive. All available space in the church auditorium was filled, while an overflow audience listened to the service over a loudspeaker in the basement. Musical numbers were given by the South Gower Quintette, the McWatters Family of Kemptville, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of Iroquois. An old-fashioned Hymn Sing was conducted by Rev. Brian Gee of Iroquois United Church; he also brought greetings from his church and from Presbytery. Two former ministers were present and spoke briefly - Rev. James Stewart of Plainfield, Ontario, and Rev. L.M. Somerville of Bowmanville; greetings were also brought by Rev. Atkinson of Inkerman and by Rev. Earl Moore of South Mountain.

Following each of the evening services, a Coffee Hour was enjoyed in the Sunday School room, where a display of historical items interested many of the visitors. Only two items from the first church could be located - a top section from one of its windows with what appears to be the original glass, and the pulpit Bible, given to the "Trustees of Wesleyan Methodist Church by Mrs. George Lannin, Sr. A.D. 1874".

The annual Anniversary Dinner was served on Tuesday evening to more than 500 people; many were pleased to find that the historical display was still set up, and took the time to look it over again.

Throughout the Centennial, the church was beautifully decorated with flowers, most of them gifts in memory of those who had, at one time, been a vital part of the church and the community. Many gifts of money were received as well to honour the memory of former members of the church. A special floral arrangement on the communion table was placed by the United Church Women in memory of the first trustees and ministers of the Hulbert and Pleasant Valley churches.

The 100th Anniversary celebrations provided a fitting end to the first century of service of Hulbert United Church; as well, they will be a fine inspiration to the congregation as the church now begins its second century.

Minor Hockey Donation

Members of Winchester W.I., at their October meeting, agreed to make a $300.00 donation to Winchester and District Minor Hockey Association. Last Saturday morning when, immediately before the opening of the new minor hockey season, W.I. President Mrs. Elizabeth Lemon presented the cheque to Minor Hockey Association Chairman Tom Clapp. Winchester W.I. members, displaying a keen interest in the welfare of the Community Centre, recently donated 6 dozen serving bowls and 20 cream and sugar sets for use in the kitchen of the new complex.

Institute meetings are held regularly on the second Monday of each month and all interested ladies are invited to participate.

Mr. Clapp is shown in accompanying photo accepting the generous donation from Mrs. Lemon.

North Dundas Begins Chocolate Bar Drive

Whoever said "NO NEWS IS GOOD NEWS" has got it all wrong. They're all wet behind the ears because no news at North Dundas means that nothing is going on and that's BAD!

We can always count on the basketball teams to give the news reporters a lift. Both teams have completed the league schedule and never lost a game. In the last two weeks they've played Seaway, Osnabruk and St. Lawrence and each time the foreign bus load of players left the school shaking their fists at us. Next week there will be a big write up on the basketball teams to really let us know whats happening behind the scenes. Also, next week the play-offs start and that's when the excitement really flies.

The last day of October was no normal day at North Dundas. There were ghosts and spirits wafting around the halls and in the classrooms. There were other unusual characters, but there weren't any Unicef boxes or candy bags so they must have just come to see what was going on.

NOVEMBER 8TH is THE DAY. THE DAY that the students at North Dundas start their annual chocolate bar drive to raise money for all the clubs and activities around the school. The bars are SCRUMPDILYISHOS so don't resist them. The chocolate melts in your mouth revealing the delicious almonds for you to crunch.

The chocolate bars will even keep until Christmas and they will make a delightful stuffer for the stocking hung by your fireplace. Please help the North Dundas world go 'round' and buy a chocolate bar.

Before the long weekend gets underway, there will be a Remembrance Day programme on Friday afternoon to help remind the students just what it is all about. It is easy to forget the solemness of Remembrance Day and use it for a care-free holiday but hopefully most people will remember at least for a moment why we have Remembrance Day.

KEEP SMILING AND READING THE NORTH DUNDAS NEWS COLUMN.

Spectators Fill Hall

Parents and friends joined teachers and other educational officials last Friday night to honour the school's graduating students. All available seats in the spacious double gymnasium were filled and all were welcomed by Principal W.W. Johnston.

S.S. Katz, Superintendent of Operations, Carleton Board of Education, was guest speaker for the occasion and in his brief message congratulated the successful students stressing the value of education in what he termed 'a rapidly changing world'.

Mr. Katz was introduced by R. Greenfield and thanked by Head Girl Judy Kingsbury.

During the evening the school band, under the direction of Mrs. E. McIllwaine, offered several pleasing selections.

George Drew, Osgoode Township's representative on the Carleton Board brought greetings from fellow board members.

Following are the extremely satisfactory results of the 1973-74 school term at O.T.H.S.

During September top quality steers, A1 and 2, averaged $51.91 per cwt. at Toronto compared to $51.31 last year. Prices in more recent weeks have been running above last year's October average of $47.87 per cwt. at Toronto.

In relating producer prices to retail prices it is important that proper comparisons be made. Steaks and roasts at retail relate primarily to the A1, 2 live grade, where prices have remained relatively steady since mid-summer in the high 40 to low 50 range.

Associated with price one of the current areas of disappointment from a producer viewpoint is the level of cow prices. This particular segement is hardest hit by the burdensome world supply situation and distressed prices. Whereas top quality fed beef is more directly associated with North America, the level of cow prices is tied much more closely to the international situation and the boneless, manufacturing beef trade. Competition in the domestic cow beef market is the Oceanic beef coming into Canada, currently priced in the 60 cent per lb. areas, compared to about $1.00 per lb. a year ago. Perhaps adding some optimism in this area is the fact the Canadian import quota for Oceanic beef is below your earlier levels.

With replacement cattle prices depressed in relation to a year ago, due to the squeeze on feeding returns brought about by higher input costs, particularly feed grains, it is only natural producers are and will likely wish to increase marketings of older, poorer producing cows. Hopefully producers will attempt to upgrade herds through superior replacements at this time.

To a larger extent than in previous years, off grades are a greater problem. For example, calf marketings are up, with the lower butcher and boner veal presenting a merchandizing problem in some areas. Any year, the poorer quality calves are discounted as replacement animals, but this year with increased numbers of desirable replacements around more of these animals are going the slaughter route creating a disposal problem.

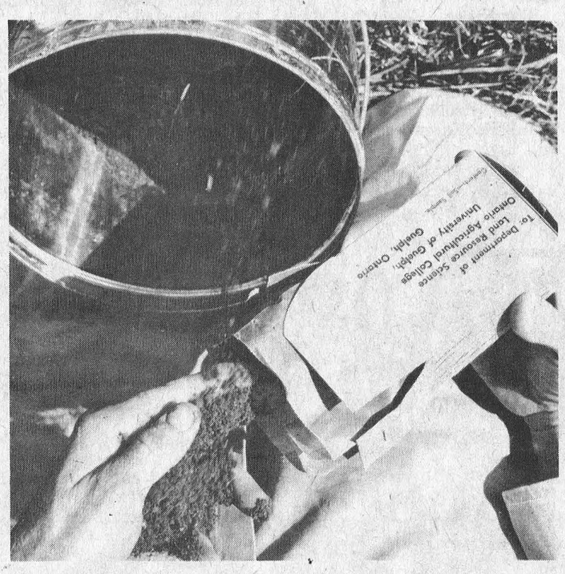
At the present time many things remain unknown in the beef business. For instance, will the many recently announced government programs in the cow-calf area achieve the results desired. Also, a cloud still surrounds the action that may be taken by the U.S. in response to the Canadian import quotas. Many still view with a measure of optimism the longer-term future of the cattle and beef business. The industry is changing and it certainly is a time for all segments of the team to pull together.

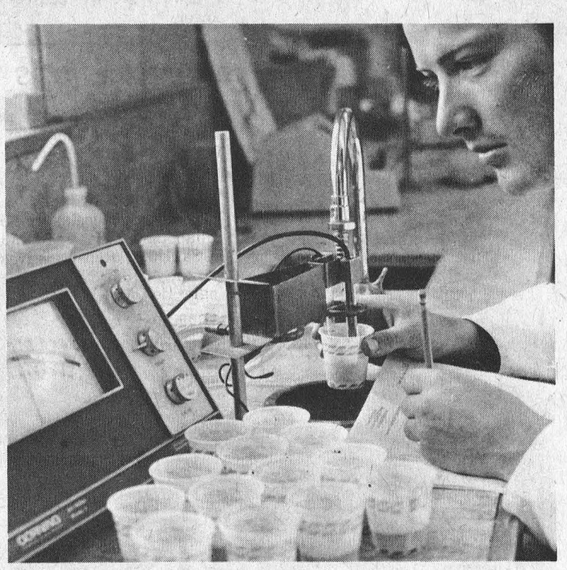
Winter Road Reporting Phone Service

The Ministry of Transportation and Communications has announced that its Winter Road Reporting Service for the public will go into operation on Monday, November 4.

The Road Information Centre at Toronto and the Ministry's 18 district offices throughout the province will have up-to-date information on the condition of all provincial highways and secondary highways on a 24-hour, seven-days-a-week basis, during the winter months.

Information on winter road conditions in this area may be obtained around the clock by telephoning the following MTC offices in Ontario: Kingston, 544-2220 and Ottawa 745-7049.





Soil Test And Be Sure

UPPER LEFT: Soil testing can be done at any time, but many farmers prefer fall sampling for spring-sown crops. Use of a sampling tube is best on moist soils that are relatively free of stones.

UPPER RIGHT: A spade can be used for sampling in hard or rocky soil. Whether you use a core sampler or a spade, a representative sample is needed. At least 20 cores per 10-acre field is recommended.

LOWER LEFT: Mix the soil from one field thoroughly and fill the sample boxes available from county and district offices of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

The information sheet provided must be filled out completely for recommendations to be accurate.

LOWER RIGHT: Within two weeks of receiving the sample at the Soil Testing Laboratory, test reports and recommendations are sent to the local Ministry extension specialist, who will help each farmer determine the best fertilizer for his particular operation.

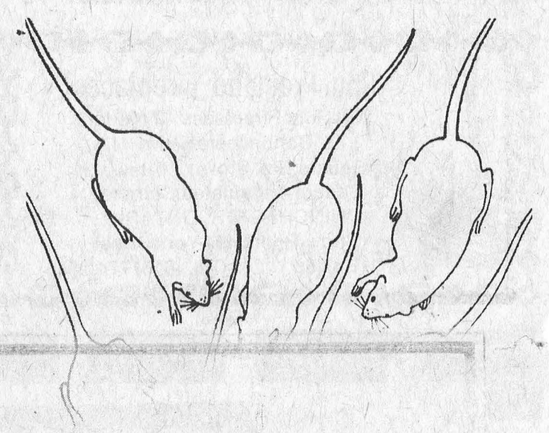
Rats Expensive Hazard To Farmers

Rats can be an expensive hazard to the farmer. "Apart from serious feed losses, wiring can be damaged in barns where there are large numbers of rats, resulting in electrical failures or fire," says J.E. Brubaker, agricultural engineer with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

To keep rats out of your farm buildings this fall, make sure they can find neither food nor hiding places. Store grain and feed in rat-proof bins and clean up any spills around them. Remove boards, grain bags or stones that may have accumulated outside or inside your barn. Pile manure away from farm buildings and keep the weeds and grass around them cut. Keep doors tightly closed whenever possible.

"Because rats use covered routes to food sources and seldom live or run in open areas, you will need to search closely for most rat holes," explains Mr. Brubaker. When you find the holes, block them up with metal or hardwood boards. Close off all openings to runways and nesting places within walls.

If you are building a new barn, help to make it rat-proof by setting the foundations on footings that spread outward from the building, or by placing a foot-wide band of half-inch wire mesh six inches below the surface of the soil spreading out from the entire foundation. If either of these methods is used, any rodent attempting to tunnel under the new building will hit an impenetrable obstacle and be discouraged from continuing.



Winchester Homemakers Study Nations' Recipes

Winchester No '3' homemaking club members are studying "A World of Food in Canada". The club has been named "Country Cousine" and the name is appropriate since many kinds of food are prepared including chicken pot pie, apple dumplings, and pizza.

There are nine members and their leaders are Mrs. Eunice Johnston and Mrs. C. Holmes.

The group has been studying foods from such countries as Scotland, Ireland, Italy and Greece.

Meetings consist of brief business discussions and following this leaders prepare delicacies, assisted by members. "The best part of meetings", suggests one member, "is when we sample our efforts."

Members are now concentrating on preparations for Achievement Day on November 30th.

"Chefs" Convene

The fifth meeting of the Hallville Nationwide Chefs was held on October 21. The topic of discussion was Italy and Eastern Europe.

A demonstration was conducted by the leader, Gisela Kerr and four members, Katie Milne, Ingrid Rhyndress, Janet Jansen and Mary Jansen. The demonstrstration was pizza and a salad of cucumbers and yogurt.

Bank Loans Not The Answer...

OFA President Gordon Hill

Farmers will have to depend on themselves. They can't rely on governments for help.

This is the reaction of Gordon Hill, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, to the guaranteed bank loans offered by the Ministry of Agriculture and Food to cow-calf operators.

Farmers badly need more than bank loans to overwinter calves at a time of dramatically higher feed costs and depressed farm-gate prices for beef, Hill points out.

"The provincial government's action is a pretty clear indication that this government isn't prepared to interfere in the market place to protect farmers, no matter how desperate the situation is, even when the distress situation has been brought about by the decisions of foreign governments," Hill concludes.

(OFA last week asked the Ontario government to encourage cow culling by a grant of $100 for each cow slaughtered plus a grant of $25 for each calf weaned in 1974.

OFA recommended that each cow marketed be replaced with a heifer calf to produce beef for market in 1976-77. The policy was designed to slow a build up of cattle without reducing potential for production when the market opens up again in two to three years.

Instead, the Ministry has offered to guarantee bank loans of $75 per calf, up to 100 calves, at prime plus one per cent. The loans are for up to three years, repayable at any time.)

Hill recalls the government of the USSR started the upward spiral in feed prices when it bought up huge quantities of U.S. grain two years ago.

"The U.S. government price freeze caused U.S. farmers to hold cattle off the market, thus increasing the weight of the animals and the total amount of beef that went to market when the freeze was lifted.

"Governments in oil exporting countries dramatically increased the price of petroleum. Beef importing countries were forced to cut beef imports to pay the necessary oil bills, adding to world supplies of beef and contributing to distress prices for Ontario producers."

The provincial government has provided good farm marketing legislation, Hill points out.

"Farmers must use that legislation effectively for economic survival in an era of high cost farming.

"There is no way that 100,000 individual farmers, each producing a small share of total product, can bargain successfully with processors or supermarket chains that want to buy in quantity from the fewest possible number of people.

"Marketing boards are the farmers' answer to a concentration of power among a few processors and a handful of supermarket chains.

"When farmers organize to market total product through a farmer board they secure at least a minimum of countervailing power."

Golden Harvest

Corn crops in the Winchester district, although spring seeding in many cases was late, have been reported by agricultural officials as 'good'.

Weather conditions have been favourable for harvesting and as indicated in accompanying photo both silos and cribs are brimming with the golden harvest.

This particular picture was taken at the farm of John Spruit, three miles North and West of the Village, but the story is very similar across the County with most corn growers reporting excellent crops.

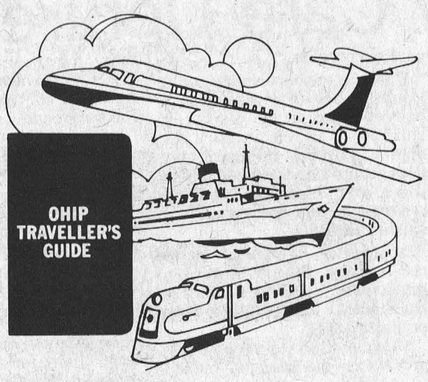
What happens if you get sick or have an accident while you're travelling?

This is what Ontario is doing to protect you away from home.



Your Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) is designed to help you anywhere in the world.

In case of injury or sudden illness outside Ontario, OHIP will pay the cost of standard hospital accommodation.

For non-emergency services, it will pay up to 75% of the cost for the type of hospital service normally covered under your Ontario Plan.

Medical fees will be reimbursed to you at 90% of approved services as set out in the Ontario Medical Association Schedule of Fees.

But bear in mind that medical costs in some countries are often higher than in Ontario. So avoid being faced with a bill considerably higher than the amount OHIP can repay you, by doing four things:

1. Know what benefits OHIP provides before you leave home.
2. If you consider that your OHIP coverage may be insufficient, you can obtain supplementary coverage from private insurers for out of province charges.
3. Always carry your OHIP card with you.
4. In a financial emergency, ask the hospital to phone or write OHIP to confirm your coverage.

Remember, you will usually have to make payment on the spot for treatment outside Ontario. But OHIP will reimburse you for insured services if you submit itemized receipts within 6 months of the date of service.

Describe why you were outside of Ontario—vacation, business, etc.—and provide complete personal information plus details of the medical or hospital service performed. Include name and address of physician, hospital, fee for each service and dates. And always state your OHIP number.

A free booklet called "The Traveller's Guide to the Ontario Health Insurance Plan" explains everything you need to know.

Copies are available at government offices and travel agencies. Or write to:

For Pete's Sake

Film Presentation At Winchester Public

FOR PETE'S SAKE! a film credited as "unique in its capacity to reach out to meet the problems of people," will be shown on Sunday, November 10th at The Public School Auditorium, Winchester.

The full-length comedy-drama, filmed in brilliant Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 7:45 p.m., and is open to the public at no admission charge.

Filmed entirely on location in Denver and the Colorado Rockies, FOR PETE'S SAKE! is the story of Pete Harper, a family man and service station owner, who is knocked flat by unexpected problems, but finds the strength to stand up again, to face life anew.

FOR PETE'S SAKE! has been seen nationwide by over three million persons in theatre premieres, and has been cited by one film critic as "the perfect mixture -- it's drama at its boldest, comedy at its lightest, and action at its liveliest. FOR PETE'S SAKE! is a family film, not only because it is good family entertainment, but because through its storyline, families can see and feel exactly what is needed to develop deeper understanding and build stronger ties."

FOR PETE'S SAKE! stars Robert Sampson, who also starred in World Wide's THE RESTLESS ONES. Pippa Scott, as Pete's wife, Marge, is well-known for her Broadway appearances and numerous television roles. John Milford and Sam Groom are both familiar to television audiences.

Other featured players include Johnny Jensen as Pete's son, Irene Tedrow as Grandma Harper, and Nicolas Surovy as Skip, the leader of a motorcycle gang.

A cordial invitation is extended to all families of the community by Rev. James L. Mair, (Winchester Baptist Church), who has made arrangements for this special showing of FOR PETE'S SAKE!

Patient Therapy

Trick Or Treatment

Those confined to hospitals usually find there are many lonely hours, and this loneliness is often magnified when something very special is happening on the outside.

Halloween is one of those occasions when patients long to be home to greet the little visitors who appear in grotesque costumes soliciting treats.

Winchester Public School students realized many of their friends would not be at home when they called and decided to do something about it.

Directed by teachers the little ones planned a mass visit to the hospital and for a brief time hospital corridors were alive with excitement.

The hospital staff greeted the strange looking visitors with enthusiasm, and patients were delighted when the youngsters, in very orderly manner, filed into the rooms.

All patients agreed the brief (but scary) invasion by ghosts and goblins was an exciting experience, and one that left behind a ray of sunshine and good cheer.

Why Wear A Poppy?

In answer to many requests the Press is pleased to this week reprint the following poem which was written by Public Relations Officer, Don Crawford, Perth Branch, R. C. L.

The poem was last printed in "The Seventh Column" on November 4th, 1965.

"Please wear a poppy," the lady said
And held one forth, but I shook my head.
Then I stopped and watched as she offered them there,
And her face was old and lined with care;
But beneath the scars the years had made
There remained a smile that refused to fade.

A boy came whistling down the street,
Bouncing along on carefree feet.
His smile was full of joy and fun,
"Lady," said he, "may I have one?"
When she pinned it on he turned to say,
"Why do we wear a poppy today?"

The lady smiled in her wistful way
And answered, "This is Remembrance Day,
And the poppy there is the symbol for
The gallant men who died in war.
And because they did, you and I are free—
That's why we wear a poppy, you see.

"I had a boy about your size,
With golden hair and big blue eyes.
He loved to play and jump and shout,
Free as a bird he would race about.
As the years went by, he learned and grew
And became a man — as you will, too.

"He was fine and strong, with a boyish smile,
But he'd seemed with us such a little while
When war broke out and he went away.
I still remember his face that day
When he smiled at me and said, 'Goodbye,
I'll be back soon, Mom, so please don't cry.'

"But the war went on and he had to stay,
And all I could do was wait and pray.
His letters told of the awful fight,
[I can see it still in my dreams at night],
With the tanks and guns and cruel barbed wire,
And the mine and bullets, the bombs and fire.

"Till at last, at last, the war was won—
And that's why we wear a poppy, son."
The small boy turned as if to go,
Then said, "Thanks, lady, I'm glad to know.
That sure did sound like an awful fight,
But your son — did he come back all right?"

A tear rolled down each faded cheek;
She shook her head but she didn't speak.
I sunk away in a sort of shame,
And if you were me you'd have done the same;
For our thanks, in giving, is oft delayed,
Though our freedom was bought — and thousands paid!

And so when we see a poppy worn,
Let us reflect on the burden borne
By those who gave their very all
When asked to answer their country's call
That we at home in peace might live.
Then wear a poppy! Remember — and Give!

Village Obstacle Course Causes Damage

Winchester detachment of Ontario Provincial Police reported several highway accidents over the past weekend but no serious injuries.

Shortly before Midnight Friday Constable Vern Wilson investigated a mishap on the new by-pass near the sale barn when a half-ton truck, driven by Orville Larmour, Winchester, was in collision with a car driven by Francis Ouellette, Russell. Damage to the Larmour vehicle was estimated at $1,500 and to the Ouellette car at $1,000.

Less than three hours later, at 2:10 a.m. Saturday morning police were called to the scene of an accident on County Road 7 one and a half miles north of Chesterville. This accident involved vehicles driven by Larry Kelly and Shawn Chambers, both of Chesterville. Damage to the Chambers automobile was estimated at $1,800 and to the Kelly car at $700. Because there were minor injuries Constable Wilson summoned an ambulance.

ACCIDENT '3'

The ambulance rushing to the scene, and driven by Mary Sibealt, left the road near Chesterville and, although no one was seriously injured, damage to the vehicle was estimated at $5,000. Accompanying the driver in the ambulance were Eugene Kanneally and Gordon Coughlar.

VILLAGE OBSTACLE COURSE

Motorists have been complaining bitterly about the obstructions on St. Lawrence and Main Streets in Winchester. Several have reported damage to vehicles caused, they claim, by improperly marked impediments. Two drivers who are really concerned are Dr. MacMillan of Crysler and Archie Sayant of Vernon.

Both motorists had their vehicles severely damaged on Winchester streets. Mr. MacMillan when his car struck a water main and Mr. Sayant when his automobile hit a man-hole cover.

Final Tribute Paid Memory Irvine Dalgleish

The death occurred on Friday, October 31st, 1974 of Irvine Dalgleish in Winchester Memorial Hospital at the age of 84. He had farmed most of his life in the Vernon area until he retired due to ill health, and moved to Winchester eleven years ago.

He is survived by his wife, the former Hazel Munro of Lancaster. The last surviving member of his family, he was predeceased by three brothers, Arnott, Wesley, and Gilbert, and one sister, Mrs. Frank Hanes.

The late Mr. Dalgleish was a life long member of Vernon Presbyterian Church where he served as an elder for many years.

Funeral service was conducted by Rev. Malcolm Caldwell at Vice and Craig Funeral Home on November 2nd. Burial was in Springhill Cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were Stewart Fisher, Willis McRostie, Ian Crerar, and Alex J. Campbell, all fellow elders of Vernon Presbyterian Church. Active pallbearers were Ray McNab, Arthur Moorhouse, Wallace Comrie, Ken McCallum, Harold Cowan, and Bill Morrison.

Global Gourmets Meet

Winchester "Global Gourmets" held their last two meetings at the home of Mrs. Lemon.

Among the delicacies prepared (and enjoyed) were: Welsh rabbit and apple dumpling; hot potato salad; Dutch chocolate; pizza and green salad and Chinese food prepared with port, vegetables and rice.

Members have been studying the types of food common in most European countries and of the many who have settled in various parts of Canada.

CONSEIL D'EDUCATION DES COMTES DE
STORMONT, DUNDAS & GLENGARRY
COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Philosophy Of Education

At its meeting held on Tuesday, October 22, 1974 The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education adopted the following statement of Philosophy of Education:

K. Fraser Campbell Chairman — T.R. Leger Director of Education

PREAMBLE

The Philosophy Committee recognizes that the Provincial responsibility for education is implemented, in part, through a system of County Boards of Education governed by Acts and Regulations. To these Acts and Regulations are added geographical, financial, and human constraints of a more local nature.

A statement of philosophy of education may state what is ideal in the minds of the members of a particular educational community, but must also reflect that which is possible in relation to the optimum use of all available resources. This, in turn, relates to a statement of acceptable responsibilities for schools which bears in mind the important and necessary contributions of the home, church, other community institutions, and society at large.

This is the initial philosophy of education of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education. It is subject to review and change. Contributions towards improvement will be most welcome.

WE BELIEVE: EVERY PERSON INVOLVED IN THE EDUCATIONAL PROCESS - PARTICULARLY THE CHILD WHO IS CONSIDERED THE RAISON D'ETRE - HAS RIGHTS, PRIVILEGES, NEEDS, AND A BACKGROUND WHICH IS UNIQUE.

THE AIM OF THE EDUCATIONAL PROCESS WILL BE THAT EACH STUDENT SHALL DEVELOP HIS POTENTIAL TO THE FULLEST, AND MAKE HIS UNIQUE CONTRIBUTION TO SOCIETY.

(N.B. It should be noted that the words "school" and "student" are used in their broadcast terms, and that PHILOSOPHICAL CONCEPTS are typed in regular type while EXTENSIONS AND EXPLANATIONS are typed in script type.)

THE STUDENT

The student shall be considered as an increasingly responsible person with an active and accountable part to play in his own education.

SCHOOLING may be considered as the acquisition of knowledge and skills through formal training. EDUCATION adds the dimension of proper use of knowledge and skills towards the development of the individual, his contribution to the well-being of his fellow man and the development of society. Education should be a continuous striving towards intellectual, moral, physical, spiritual, and social betterment.

The goal of the schools is the education of the student, and the main emphasis, organizationally and financially, should be placed upon student development.

The student is the prime consideration.

Student development includes:

a] the promotion, to the fullest extent possible, of the intellectual, physical, spiritual, emotional and social development of each person;

b] student understanding and appreciation of his cultural heritage and the Canadian heritage;

c] student knowledge of, and respect for, his environment;

The aim of student development is a well-adjusted, socially responsive Canadian citizen, in a democratic society, who is willing to accept personal or social responsibility for continuing development, improvement, and advancement of this nation, both for the benefit of Canadians and mankind in general.

Provisions both in facilities and staff shall be made for special students with special or unique needs.

Individual differences in students or areas decree that there will always be students who require special measures in order to meet their needs.

For many students with special needs, integration within the general school setting is appropriate and to be recommended. For some other students, circumstances may warrant semi-segregation, or even complete segregation.

The provision of special facilities and special staff shall aim at the maximum development of student potential, through enrichment or remediation, and the stimulation of individual talents.

There are implications which relate to class size regulations, and to the specialist-type qualifications and capabilities desirable in the staff of such classes.

EDUCATIONAL COMMUNITY

There should be a degree of involvement which will use and develop the resources of all members of the educational community to ensure total commitment to the provision of quality education.

An educational community includes students, educators, administrators, trustees, parents, community organizations, and society at large.

Members of an educational community should be able to co-operate by contributing to decision-making.

Co-operation can best be affected in an organizational climate which has mutual support, which uses the team approach and consensus, and which permits and encourages a humane approach to the solution of educational problems.

There should be a firm commitment, on the part of the educational community, to the optimum development of the potential of every student, related to the best possible use of all available resources.

OPERATIONAL CONSIDERATIONS

There shall be provision for equality of opportunity in gaining an education.

Equality of educational opportunity relates particularly to the environment and cultures of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties, and generally to Ontario, to Canada, and to the Global Society. It does not necessarily mean that the same programmes and facilities should be available in every school, it means rather that programmes and facilities shall be adjusted to meet the needs and abilities of students.

There shall be a firm commitment to the provision of the best possible educational programmes, personnel and facilities.

Every endeavour shall be made to employ teachers who are educated persons, professionally competent, exemplary in character, empathetic, supportive, mature, interesting and interested.

Appropriate balance shall be a consideration in the staffing of schools.

There shall be flexibility in the organization; in the programmes; and in the provision for student needs so that these relate to community ideals and changing social conditions.

The programme devised to provide learning experiences must be relevant.

Relevancy relates to:

a] the needs, abilities, and interests of the students;
b] the total life environment of the student [in and out of school];
c] the concerns and aspirations of the parents;
d] the needs and constraints of society.

Programmes shall be provided which will develop student abilities in basic learning skills.

Programmes shall be provided which will develop student interests and abilities enabling them to contribute to society.

Learning environments and activities shall be provided which will assist in fostering in the student a healthy self-respect and concern for others; reverence for life; an inquiring mind; a desire for personal development; and a reasonable pride in achievement.

Programmes shall be provided which will allow the student to develop a personally meaningul and socially acceptable philosophy of life.

Advances in science and technology have solved many of the problems related to man's material and physical existence. Such advances, however, have done little to help solve, and may have Increased, man's personal and inter-personal problems.

Most of the problems which face students are personal or inter-personal. Close identification with such problems provides the student with a built-in motivation towards their solution.

All students shall have the opportunity to learn from a broad range of studies dealing with the philosophy of man, such as: - a] Man as an individual;

b] Man and his fellow man;
c] Man and his environment;
d] Man and his Creator.

There needs to be a balance between personalization of the programmes to develop each person as an individual and the provision of social experiences to develop social skills and meet social needs.

There shall be alternatives to in-school learning.

The school is only one agent in the general learning experience of the child. Thus every effort should be made to take advantage of opportunities to involve students in out-of-school learning experiences. Also, every encouragement should be given to the use of non-school persons who have educational experiences to offer which will augment or enrich the in-school programme.

A Solid Start

Work is proceeding on schedule on Russell's new arena. The new complex is being erected on the same site as the old one and will not only prove of tremendous recreational value during winter months, but also a valuable asset at fall fair time.

The new building will be built in stages at an estimated cost of $540,000. Financing will be assisted by a Winter Works grant amounting to $120,000. Because of poor soil conditions it was necessary to sink sixty-five 30-foot piles.

Russell Township Reeve Bernard Pelot is shown with silver sledge preparing to drive a miniature silver pile being held in position by MLA Albert Belanger.
