Superfluity Shop Doing Good Business

The Superfluity Shop on Main St., which was opened some time ago by the local Red Cross Society, has been doing a very brisk trade on week ends and the net proceeds to date are over $300.00.

The Superfluity Shop will be necessarily closed when the cold weather comes, but anticipates making a good many more dollars for the Red Cross before that time. They have inquiries for second hand men's and boys' clothing, particularly overcoats, and if anyone has any of these articles, for which they no longer have any use, the Superfluity Shop will be very grateful to get them. Books are also a good seller, and in this connection there is a request for one or two copies of 'Croil's History of Dundas. If anyone has a copy and would like to donate it, the Red Cross will be able to make a small amount.

Those in charge of the Superfluity Shop would like to thank those who have already made donations, as those who have made purchases, for in so doing, they have made an important contribution to a very worthy cause.

Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

NEED NEW STOCK, CLOTHING, BOOKS.

A happy re-union took place at Kingston on Sunday last, when Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Deeks, former residents of Morrisburg, who now reside near Iroquois, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

It was on September 7th, 1892, that Mr. J. D. Deeks, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Deeks of Williamsburg, and Miss Effie O. Casselman a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Casselman, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Strader's Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Deeks have three sons, Frank, of Kingston; Lee, of Morrisburg, and Merle, of Pembroke, all of whom with their families were present at the informal celebration on Sunday. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. John F. Casselman and family of Strader's Hill.. Mr. Casselman is a brother of Mrs.. Deeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Deeks have eight grandchildren.

LOCAL, PROVINCIAL and R.C.M.P. POLICE SMASH SMUGGLING RING

R. C. M. P. Constables Sinnema and Evans, Morrisburg Chief of Police Clare Biccum and Provincial Traffic Office Les. Throop arrested 5 men near Morrisburg early on Friday morning as they smuggled in a large load of contraband from the United States, at a point about five miles east of here, just opposite the upper end of Crysler Island. Seized along with the smugglers was a large 1941 Packard sedan, bearing New York state plates, and allegedly owned by one of the smugglers, a G. M. C. truck, and nine pin ball machines, valued at between $1500 and $2,000.

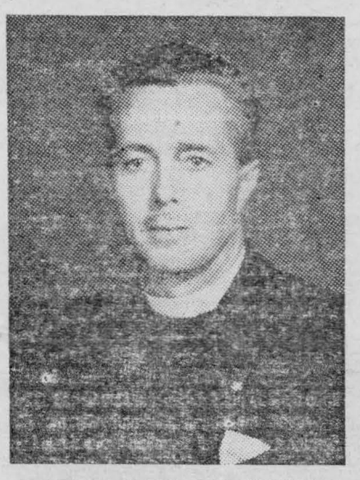

The five men caught at the scene were taken to Cornwall jail, and the car, truck and machines were placed in storage in Cornwall. The men arrested were: Clarence (Blacky) LeVack, Morrisburg; Roland Rutley, Waddington, N. Y.; Geo. Armstrong, also a resident of the U. S.; Wm. Barsky, Brantford and Jack Skolnik, Montreal. Found at the scene was a flat bottomed boat, which police seized and stored in a Morrisburg garage.

Skolnik told police that he was hired to truck the smuggled machines to Montreal, where he evidently was to turn them over to other members of the ring, charged with their disposal. He also implicated others in his statement.

After the five men had been taken to Cornwall, the police returned to Morrisburg, where they raided the Woodside Lunch, operated by LeVack, but found no incriminating evidence there. They also searched the buildings on a district farm, where they had been told by one of the men arrested that the confiscated machines were to be stored until the time of their shipment to Montreal. No evidence was uncovered at the farm. All the prisoners were charged with smuggling or being in possession of smuggled goods, Skolnik has been allowed his freedom on cash bail of $500; bail for the other four men arrested was set at $5,000 each.

Without taking any credit from the Mounties, it may be said that officers Biccum and Throop had been working on this case for some time, furnished the Mounted Police with considerable information and called the Mounties to Morrisburg on the right when, according to their information, the load was slated to come in. Neither Constable Biccum nor Throop, was in a position to handle the case alone, as charges would have to be laid under the Excise Act, the enforcement of which does not come within their jurisdiction.

Farewell Sermon

Letter To The Editor

Sir:—

There has just been brought to my attention, an article appearing in the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder, anent the so-called 'fireworks' at Tuesday's meeting of the Municipal Council.

In the Freeholder's report of the meeting, Councillor Geach is credited with a statement, that the members who had opposed the carnival 'were now finding that they had run counter to public opinion and were endeavouring to square themselves with the electorate'.

It is only to this statement which I wish to alude. Not being present at the meeting, I do not know whether not Mr. Geach was misquoted, but I do know this: that Councillor Tom Connor or any other member at the municipal board who opposed and who will continue to oppose these shows, do not need to worry about 'squaring' themselves with me—and I think there several hundred more who feel the same way. We feel that these shows are quite unnecessary and undesireable, especially in wartime.

I thank you, Mr. Editor, for allowing me to express this thought in your columns.

FREE WAR SAVINGS STAMPS EACH WEEK

BOOSTING THE WAR EFFORT

FREE WAR SAVINGS STAMPS; NEWS FROM OFFICIAL BULLETINS

This paper and the advertisers in this space will each week for a 26 week period, boost the war effort in two special ways — first by keeping up an interest in War Savings Stamps by giving 4 stamps free each week (2 each to the persons whose names will appear in different advertisements). Simply locate your name, clip out the advertisement and present it at the Leader Office and you will receive 2 War Savings Stamps free. The second boost will be in the form of information published on this page each week taken from the official bulletins reaching this office from various government sources. These items will be about rationing, price control, unemployment insurance, etc., all of which affects our daily living, and of interest to everyone. We suggest that you clip this information out each week and file it in a scrap book for later reference.

DO NOT DETACH CARDS IN THE RATION BOOKS

The cards placed at the back of the ration books and addressed to the Local Ration Office, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, are not to be detached until notification to that effect is given. Each of them bears the warning, "Do not use this card until advised to do so". The cards are not likely to be used until shortly before the issue of ration book no. 2, some months hence.

EARLY REMINDER FOR XMAS SHOPPERS

Under the regulations of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, retailers are not allowed to make refunds on articles which are sold as gifts. They many, however, exchange them. This information will be of interest to many people in view of the approach of the Christmas season.

SOLDIERS ASKED TO RETURN RATION BOOKS

Individuals who have joined the armed forces since the issue of the temporary ration cards last July and who now receive permanent ration books are asked to surrender them without delay to their commanding officers for forwarding to the appropriate ration officer, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

EXTRA SUGAR ONLY FOR HOME PRESERVING

Householders who buy extra sugar by means of voucher and use it for other purposes than home preserving or canning are liable to severe penalties. Representatives of the War time Prices and Trade Board have the right to call on householders in order to see that the sugar has been put to its proper use, and they are also entitled to examine the canned fruit.

Watch this page each week for new rulings by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Here's One Plant's Daily Output of Anti-Aircraft Guns

A pretty sight for American eyes is this symetrical line-up of Bofors anti-aircraft guns—covered and ready for shipment—a typical day's production at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. in Akron. Now in all-out assembly line production, the plant turns out 30 or more of these weapons daily.

Have You Heard

"Sure, and what a night it is!" said the Irishman at a party. "It's simply pouring."

"You can't go home in that downpour," remarked the host. "You had better stay the night with us."

The Irishman disappeared and returned some time later soaking wet.

"Where have you been?" asked the host.

"Home for my pyjamis," replied the Irishman.

The Germans have ordered all copies of Shakespeare's works to be pulped. Before the war they acclaimed him as a true Aryan dramatist, but now, as a humorist puts it, they've discovered he isn't really Hitlerature.

The very irate golfer stalked up to the woman who was surrounded by her offspring.

"You must take your children away from here, madame," he said; "this is no place for them."

"Don't you worry," replied the woman pleasantly, "they can't hear nothing new. Their father was a sergeant major."

Bobby: "A little bird told me what kind of a lawyer your father is."

Johnny: "What did the bird say?"

"Cheap, cheap."

"Well, a duck told me what kind of a doctor your father is!"

"How are things with you?" he asked.

"Oh, I can't complain, sir," answered the soldier.

"I'll say you can't," agreed the Fuehrer.

What Science Is Doing

GEOPHAGIA

Many a homesick or sardonic Northern Negro, writing to Southern friends, says, "Ship me a bag of good dirt to eat," Time observes.

Sometimes he means it. Even in the Yazoo-Mississippi delta, Negroes and whites send requests to their upcountry friends for a bit of red clay, declaring that black delta soil is "right bad eating." In certain parts of Mississippi, poor whites will walk miles for a spoonful of dirt from a favorite bank of clay, because it "tastes sour, like a lemon." In other sections of the South, some top their meals with a savory tablespoon of dirt, believing that it is "good for them," despite its constipating effects.

What makes people eat dirt? Two scientists at Mississippi State College, Doctors Dorothy Dickins and Robert N. Ford, think they know why: lack of iron in the diet. Science News Letter reported some results of their investigation among 207 Negro school children in Oktibbeha County, Mississippi. At least a quarter of the children admitted eating dirt. Most of the dirt-eaters had less of the iron-rich food, such as molasses, mustard greens, liver, in their diet than did the non-dirt-eaters. And as far as the scientists could find out, the craving for dirt (known as geophagia) has nothing to do with hookworm, as many doctors firmly believe, for hookworm is very rare in geophagous Oktibbeha County.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

By Roberta Lee

1. Is it correct for an employer to introduce his secretary to a caller by saying, "Mr. Jones, this is my secretary, Miss Brown," or shouldn't he give the woman's name first, "Miss Brown, this is Mr. Jones?"

2. What should be done with the knife after using it for cutting food?

3. Should a guest ever join in a family argument?

4. Is it absolutely required that a person give the reason for declining an invitation?

5. Is it proper for a man to smoke a pipe at a formal affair?

6. What is the meaning of "elite," and how is it pronounced?

ANSWERS

1. In the business world, the most important person is mentioned first, regardless of sex. 2. Place the knife at the upper right hand edge of the plate, and on the plate, never with the handle resting on the table. 3. Never. The guest must not take sides, and if he can do so quietly and without notice, he should leave the room or walk away. 4. It is not obligatory that one do so, but unless it is a very intimate reason, one should explain why, and with regret. Otherwise, the hostess might resent a curt "Sorry, I cannot accept." 5. This is sometimes done, but it cannot be called good form. 6. "Elite" is a noun, meaning the choice or select part; especially a group or body considered or treated as socially superior. Pronounce a-let, a as in ate, e as in me, accent last syllable.

HOW CAN I?

By Anne Ashley

Q How can I save sugar when making white cake frosting?

A. When making plain white frosting for a cake, add about two tablespoons of cornstarch and use less sugar. This saves sugar, and the frosting will remain thicker and softer. It is especially good for fruit cakes.

Q. How can I repair a small leak in a water pipe?

A. If the water pipe leaks just the least bit, wind around the leak with some adhesive tape and brush over this with shellac. A small leak can be very successfully mended in this manner.

Q. How can I tell the difference between boiled eggs and unboiled ones when they have become mixed?

A. Spin the eggs on a table. The boiled ones will whirl around fast, but those that are raw will make only one or two turns.

Q. How can I remove small pieces of soap that have worked themselves down into the sink drain?

A. Pour down some boiling water to melt and wash the pieces of soap away. Soap will not clean waste pipes; use washing soda for that purpose, as soap will clog the pipes.

Q. What can I do to furniture that has become so dried that it refuses to take a polish?

A. Apply with a soft cloth a solution made of three parts linseed oil to one part turpentine. After this, wipe with a cloth which has been dampened with alcohol, and let stand for a few minutes.

British Bomber Flies To Canada

Four-Engined Lancasters To Be Built In Canada

First of Britain's mighty four-engined bombers to come to this continent, a giant Avro Lancaster landed at Dorval airport, Montreal, last week after a trans-Atlantic flight.

Fresh from the production lines of a British factory, the Lancaster was flown from England for demonstration in Canada where the latest edition of this multi-motored bomber will soon be built in quantity for the Royal Air Force.

Captain of the aircraft was Clyde Pangborn, well-known American long-distance flier. He and his crew were welcomed by Air Chief Marshal Sir Frederick Bowhill, officer commanding the Royal Air Force ferry command in Montreal.

Guns Loaded

The Lancaster delivered to Canada carried full armament — the most formidable yet fitted in any bomber and capable of dealing with at least two enemy fighters attacking simultaneously.

Canadian version of the Lancaster will embody improvements represented in the latest model.

Capt. Pangborn praised the Lancaster he piloted to Canada, saying: "It handles beautifully—like a much lighter aircraft. It is very manoeuvrable, and it takes off and lands very easily."

He said the Atlantic trip was uneventful.

The aircraft, carrying special freight, left Britain with a maximum load of more than 60,000 pounds and no attempt was made to achieve an unusually fast crossing.

Top Speed 300 Miles

According to recently published statements, the Lancaster carries a bomb load of eight tons. The bomb compartment, 33 feet long, can take the biggest bombs yet devised. It has a top speed of around 300 miles an hour while its range is 3,000 miles.

The Lancaster is a mid-wing, all-metal monoplane, powered by four Rolls-Royce Merlin engines, producing 1,250 horsepower at 12,250 feet with low gear supercharger and 1,175 horsepower at 21,000 feet with a high gear supercharger in operation. It has a wing span of 102 feet, is more than 69 feet long and 20 feet high.

Armament is formidable. It has 10 machine guns in four turrets in the nose, mid-upper and mid-under and in the tail. The four tail guns are fed by long ammunition tracks extending along the side of the rear fuselage.

All vital parts of the plane are covered by half a ton of armor plate either as integral parts of the structure or as additional protection.

Bison Roam Forest Areas In Poland

Bison are usually associated with the Canadian prairies, but there are forest areas in Poland where not only the bison roam, but where wolves and wildcats live in tehir wild state says The Windsor Star. When the Nazis ordered more trees from Polish forests, Marshal Goering stepped in to preserve the hunting areas from the woodsman's axe. He still likes to take time off from the war to go shooting.

Not only are the Nazis denuding Poland, but the Germans are trying to destroy the Polish race. Families have been broken up, with some members being sent to work in one part of Germany, while others are put at forced labor in other parts of the Reich.

The Germans have never forgiven the Poles for taking over some of the most valuable mineral areas of Germany after the last war. The plan to destroy Poland and the Polish people is an effort to prevent that happening again.

Ex-Lake Boat On War Assignment

Detroit saw an airplane carrier for the first time last week, when the U. S. S. Wolverine, once the longest liner on the lakes, steamed proudly up the river to her assignment in the war.

When she was the Seeandbee, of the Cleveland & Buffalo Transit Company, the 500-foot ship carried as many as 2,300 passengers in a cruise to Mackinac Island, Duluth and Chicago.

Now her staterooms and promenade decks were gone, replaced by a huge flight deck that extended at least 100 feet beyond the water line astern, and almost as far forward of the bow. Her four funnels and the bridge had been moved to starboard, leaving the flight deck clear.

As she passed Detroit, answering salutes from craft on both sides of the river, three training planes were in line on the deck and many more were in the hold.

The Wolverine probably is the only side-wheel aircraft carrier in the world. It will be used to train thousands of Navy airmen in carrier tactics.

ISSUE 37—'42

EVERYBODY LOVES THE SHIP'S MASCOT

Every fighting ship of Canada's ever-expanding Navy, seems to have a mascot of some kind. Many have dogs whose pedigree has long been forgotten like the pooch above. Subjected to all sorts of kindhearted rough and tumble treatment from the crew, they very often will never leave the ship when in port.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON 37

Joseph Sold Into Slavery

Genesis 37, 39-41

Printed Text, Genesis 37: 23-36

GOLDEN TEXT.—Love envieth not. I Corinthians 13:4.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING

Time.—According to the commonly received chronology, Joseph became a slave in Potiphar's house in 1735 B.C., and suffered imprisonment 1725 B.C.

Place.—Joseph's home was in Hebron, in southern Palestine. He was sold into slavery at Dothan, thirteen miles north of Shechem, which itself was sixty miles from Hebron. The capital of Egypt at this time, where most of Joseph's years were spent, was Zoan, in the eastern part of the Nile delta.

Joseph Cast Into The Pit

23. "And it came to pass, when Joseph was come unto his brethren, that they stripped Joseph of his coat, the coat of many colors that was on him; 24. and they took him, and cast him into the pit: and the pit was empty, there was no water in it." The tank into which Joseph's brethren cast him was apparently one of those huge reservoirs excavated by shepherds in the East, that they may have a supply of water for their flocks in the end of the dry season, when the running waters fail them. Being so narrow at the mouth that they can be covered by a single stone, they gradually widen and form a large subterranean room; and the facility they thus afford for the confinement of prisoners was from the first too obvious not to be commonly taken advantage of. In such a place was Joseph left to die.

The Plot Against Joseph

25. "And they sat down to eat bread: and they lifted up their eyes and looked, and, behold, a caravan of Ishmaelites was coming from Gilead, with their camels bearing spicery and balm and myrrh, going to carry it down to Egypt. 26. And Judah said unto his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother and conceal his blood? 27. Come, and let us sell him to the Ishmaelites, and let not our hand be upon him; for he is our brother, our flesh. And his brethren hearkened unto him." As these calloused, heartless men were sitting not far away from the pit, devouring the food brought by the faithful hands of Joseph from the father's home, they saw a band of Ishmaelites coming down upon them, and immediately they agreed to profit by their treatment of Joseph, and sell him as a slave to these Egypt-bound men.

Jacob Mourns For Joseph

28. "And there passed by Midianites, merchantmen; and they drew and lifted up Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of silver. And they brought Joseph into Egypt. 29. And Reuben returned unto the pit; and, behold, Joseph was not in the pit; and he rent his clothes. 30. And he returned unto his brethren, and said, The child is not; and I, whither shall I go? 31. And they took Joseph's coat, and killed a he-goat, and dipped the coat in the blood; 32. and they sent the coat of many colors, and they brought it to their father, and said, This have we found: know now whether it is thy son's coat or not. 33. And he knew it, and said, It is my son's coat; an evil beast hath devoured him; Joseph is without doubt torn in pieces. 34. And Jacob rent his garments, and put sackcloth upon his loins, and mourned for his son many days. 35. And all his sons and all his daughters rose up to comfort him; but he refused to be comforted; and he said, For I will go down to Sheol to my son mourning. And his father wept for him."

Before these brethren left for home, they dipped Joseph's coat, which they took from him, into the blood of a newly slain kid, and in showing it to the father told him that this was what they had found, with the hope that the father would be persuaded, as he was, that Joseph had been slain by a wild beast. Wherever we find unkindness we are almost certain to find untruth. 'Kindness and truth' are wedded in Genesis (24:49; 47:29); they naturally draw to each other everywhere; there is a pre-established harmony between them. The same is true of their opposites. Jacob's sons, having sold their young brother, made it next to impossible for themselves to speak the truth. They had to concoct a story to account for his disappearance, and it was as audacious and cruel a falsehood as was ever uttered by human lips.

Joseph Sold Into Egypt

36. "And the Midianites sold him into Egypt unto Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh's, the captain of the guard." Potiphar was literally 'captain of the slaughterers' that is, 'the chief officer of the executioners.' The migration of Israel into Egypt had become necessary for three reasons: (1) That they might not excite the hostility of the Canaanites before they were strong enough to resist it. (2) That they might not adulterate their race and lose their distinctiveness by intermarriage with the Canaanites. (3) That they might by contact with a highly civilized people receive an education in arts and a discipline by law and government such as there was little prospect of their receiving in Canaan.

The Lord With Joseph

Joseph was the unconscious pioneer of this great movement. The young slave filled his position to the very utmost of his powers and abilities and we are not surprised to learn that 'the Lord was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man.' How could he be prosperous as a slave? The explanation is that prosperity is not due to circumstances but to character, and character in turn depends upon faithfulness to God.

His life soon became evident, for in some way or other his master observed that Joseph's powers must come from a Divine source. It is one of the finest results of true piety when those around us who may not be of our way of thinking, are enabled to see the reality of our life in our daily work and conduct.

U. S. To Call Men With Dependents

Brig.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey of the United States army said recently that draft boards would begin calling men with dependents before Christmas.

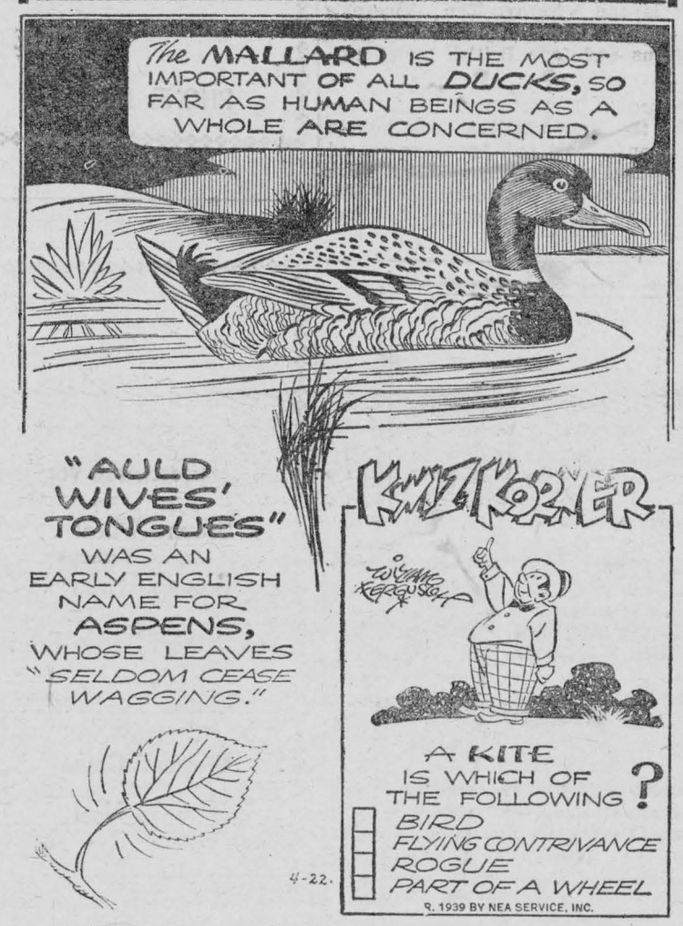

The National Selective Service Director reiterated the order in which men with dependents would be called.

Single men with "secondary" dependents, such as aged or crippled relatives, would be called first, he said.

Next would come married men whose wives work, then men with dependent wives, and finally men with wives and children.

RADIO REPORTER

DIALING WITH DAVE:

CLAIRE WALLACE

If you hear a radio commentator telling all Canada why your next-door neighbor hasn't been home on wash days recently, or some equally intimate and local news behind the news, you'll be listening to "They Tell-Me", with Canada's famous Claire Wallace. And if she does tell you about someone in your town, (maybe yourself) you can be sure that it is because there is a twist to the story that will interest every woman in Canada. Claire Wallace has risen to top rank in Canadian radio through more than seven years of continuous broadcasting. Now she broadcasts coast to coast in Canada for the first time. You can hear her on the CBC (CBL CKOC-CBO) daily at 1.45 p.m., Monday through Friday, right after the Happy Gang. Assisting is her indispensable announcer, the jovial Todd Russell, sometimes with news, sometimes with fun.

Those within range of the voice of CKOC in Hamilton, have been hearing a great deal about September on CKOC, and as the month progresses, the programs continue to appear. Already, the Happy Gang, Penny's Diary, Share the Wealth, Charlie McCarthy, Claire Wallace, and many others have joined the parade. Fred Allen is on his way, first Sunday in October — Blended Rhythm — Memoirs of Dr. Lambert are soon to appear. CKOC is particularly proud of a couple of it's daily broadcast periods — the first one is from 11.30 a.m. to 12.00 noon: at 11.30, the War-time Prices and Trade Board's "Soldier's Wife" show is broadcast, and is followed at 11.45 by "Telequiz", the phenomenal phone and letter locally produced quiz show that's the talk of the town. From one to two, the station offers a truly great hour, every Monday through Friday, featuring at one o'clock radio's greatest serial, NBC'S "Betty and Bob"; at 1.15 the "Happy Gang", and at 1.45 Claire Wallace in "They Tell Me!"

Prior to his first broadcast of the new season — last Sunday night at 8.00 o'clock, Edgar Bergen with his diamond studded dummies Charlie and Mortimer, took a flying trip to Alaska and entertained the boys of Canada and U.S. Originally scheduled for just a couple of shows, the boys had to hold over their dates for a much longer run. Bergen's wardrobe wasn't equal to the occasion, especially on one particularly cold night. A friendly Eskimo gave Edgar a smart 'parka' and all the trimmings. Publicity reports state "It saved Bergen's night!"

A few news notes of interest to Peninsula listeners: Dr. E. T. Salmon, whose widely listened to analyses on the world at war have become almost a 7.15 p.m. institution from CKOC, is now being heard at 7.00 p.m. — a quarter hour earlier. The schedule is the same — Monday through Friday.

The Lone Ranger, whose exploits of bravery — whose action-packed episodes have been 5.30 p.m. radio fare from CKOC for some time, take the evening 7.30 time, Monday through Friday.

Hit Parade favorites continue to parade over the air-lanes Sunday at 1.30 from CKOC. New favorites include two Irving Berlin hits —Left My Heart at the Stage Door Canteen, and Be Careful My Heart!

Flash Bulletin!

Just got the news! Columbia's great West Coast network feature, "Calling all Cars" one of the most dynamic 'Crime does not pay' dramas to come to radio, comes to CKOC this Sunday at 6.15 p.m. Make a point to be listening — it's thirty minutes packed with everything to keep you on the edge of your seats!

Bonds

To the bond of liberty that unites them, the fighting forces which attacked Dieppe have added the bond of danger shared, the bond of courage equally expressed, the bond of helpfulness mutually displayed, the bond of partnership in an historic occasion, the bond of great service to a great cause. It now remains for the home front to add to these bonds of war by buying more war bonds.

More than 70,000 men are enrolled in Searchlight Defence Units in Britain.

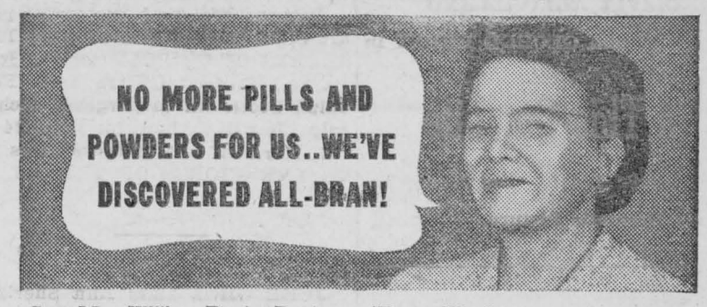

Riding A Bicycle Fifty Years Ago

A reader of this newspaper suggests that instructions on How to Ride a Bicycle would be useful to many persons at this time. Well, here is a bit of advice unearthed from a wheelman's magazine of 1891:

"The pedal should be pressed downward not with the heel or the instep, but with the toes and the ball of the foot, thus giving the ankle free play and producing the full development of the calf muscles of which the good rider is justly proud. In mounting the bicycle the gentleman has the left pedal up and slightly in advance of centre. Placing the left foot upon it, and clasping the handle-bars, he throws his weight upon the left foot, swings the right leg easily over the rear wheel and settles into the saddle.

"In dismounting he checks the motion by letting the pedal on the upstroke lift his weight; at the same time his right leg describes a graceful arc above the rear wheel and comes to rest on the ground at the left.

"A lady must, of course, mount in different fashion. Stepping through the drop frame and making sure that her skirts are nicely draped about her ankles on either side, she lifts herself into the saddle by pushing down on the left pedal, in the same effort starting the bicycle in motion."

Says Mrs. William Brady, Pardee, Ontario: "We have no more use for harsh cathartics! When we found out about ALL-BRAN we knew we'd never go back to pills or powders any more. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is certainly the 'Better Way'!"

Why don't you buy KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN? Try ALL-BRAN'S "Better Way" to correct the cause of constipation due to lack of the right kind of "bulk" in your diet. But remember, ALL-BRAN doesn't work like cathartics. It takes time. Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's; in two convenient size packages, or ask for the individual serving package at restaurants. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

JOGGING AROUND : : :

BY THE EDITOR

JUST IN PASSING

Your editor had the pleasure and the good fortune to stumble on a first class scoop early last Friday morning, when police rounded up several members of an international smuggling ring near Morrisburg. We even got in on the excitement, and we can tell you that the story of the affair appearing elsewhere in this issue is strictly 'on-the-spot' stuff, a real eye-witness account, and the first essentially correct one which has been published.

In passing, we might remark that many citizens may not realize that we have in this district, some really fine police protection. Our local constables are all excellent law enforcement officers, concerned mainly with righting wrongs, and not with petty prejudices, of which we have seen more than our share in past years.

PLEASE

When the wife of editor "Dinty" Moore of the Grenfell (Sask.) Sun recently presented him with a son and heir, Dinty is credited with having created a 'diaper fund'. Well we won't do that, but we would like to say a few words about paying your honest debts.

It takes considerable money to raise a family, as most people know, and the same rule applies even in the newspaper business. The gist is this: there is considerable money that rightfully belongs to us, that is still roaming around the country. There is a subscriber in Aultsville, whose subscription account is $29.50 and another in the same village, who has $17.50 of our kale. Three picked at random from the Morrisburg list, owe $36.00, $17.50 and $22.00 respectively.

At this point in our ruminations, we looked over the Williamsburg mailing list, and could not find a single subscription more than a few months in arrears.

Turning to Iroquois, we found one man there who owes $8.00. One in Ottawa owes $7..00 and another $14..00; one in Montreal owes the small sum of $21.50 and a commissioned officer in the Royal Canadian Navy has a back subscription account of $13.50. That is only 10 subscribers all told who are in debt to yours truly for the tidy sum of $187.50. This may be only peanut money to some folks, possibly to those who owe it, but it is mighty important dough to us.

Will you folks whose subscriptions are in arrears, please make an effort to pay up? We are trying to give you the best newspaper that we know how; but our knowledge certainly doesn't include a method of running a paper on promises and indifference.

While we are on the subject,—as years roll by, all newspapers have one difficulty in common, the building up of a large complimentary list, that is, a list of non-paying subscribers. Happily for The Leader, this list was for years, kept down to a minimum. But now it must be pared even more. We don't mind giving away a paper to a person who cannot afford to buy one, but we are not operating any charitable institution either. Beginning next week this complimentary list will be cut drastically. If anyone on that list really wishes to continue getting this weekly, we will be pleased to receive your subscription next week.

SOME FACTS ABOUT INDIA AT WAR

(Reprinted from "Bulletins From Britain.)

India's total area is 1,567,000 square miles with a population of 388,800,000. One out of every five persons in the world is an Indian.

92,972,000 Indians— nearly one in every four of the total population are not British subjects, but live in the Indian States which cover nearly two fifths of the area of India and are not British territory.

295,827,000 Indians live in the 11 provinces of British India and are British subjects.

There are only 36 cities with a population of more than 100,000.

Sixty eight per cent of the population are Hindus, 22 per cent Moslems though in four of the eleven provinces of British India the Moslems are in the majority. The remaining ten per cent, including such important communities as the Sikhs, belong to a wide variety of races and creeds

There are about twenty-four different languages — as many as the main languages of Europe — each spoken by a million or more persons in India. The only language common to educated Indians is English.

India has been offered full self-government after the war. No reservation was made by the British Government as to India remaining a member of the British Commonwealth.

In March, 1942, the British Government undertook to accept and implement any constitution framed immediately after the cessation of hostilities by an elected body of Indians, subject only to:

1. The right of any province unwilling to accept the new constitution to retain its present status; and
2. The protection of racial and religious minorities.

The chief executive of British India is the Viceroy. The Viceroy's Executive Council contains eleven Indians and four British members.

It is now ILLEGAL to HOARD scrap steel or UNUSABLE machinery

The Steel Controller has ordered that, after September 15, 1942, no person may retain in his possession scrap iron or steel weighing a total of 500 pounds or more unless he has a permit.

(For the purposes of the new regulations, scrap metal includes machinery, structural steel, or any other article or commodity containing iron or steel, which is not serving an immediate vital purpose.)

The order also provides:

That anyone, coming into possession after September 15 of scrap iron or steel weighing 500 pounds or more, must dispose of it within 20 days.

That any person having a valid reason for not disposing of scrap metal as scrap metal or who believes that it can serve some essential purpose, must send in a report by September 15 to the Used Goods Administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Lumsden Building, Toronto. His report must reveal the exact description, quantity, and location of his scrap metal.

The provisions of the order do not apply to scrap dealers who are already subject to previous orders; nor do they affect metal fabricators and processors who are in legal possession of metal to be used in manufacturing.

A copy of the order, S.C. 16, may be obtained from the Steel Controller, Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa.

Infractions of the new regulations are subject to a fine of up to $5,000, or imprisonment of up to five years, or both fine and imprisonment.

RADIATOR WORK

Better let us have a look at your radiator before you fill up with scarce and expensive anti-freeze for the winter. A faulty radiator can cause you all kinds of trouble. Besides losing your valuable anti-freeze, your car may suffer a number of other troubles, all rooting from the same trouble Let us clean, flush and repair your radiator now. Remember, an ounce of prevention is often worth more than a pound of cure.

HEATERS

If you are thinking of a new heater this winter, we can supply you with one of the best, at a reasonable price. Or you may already have a heater. If so we will be glad to install it for you We use only the best materials and our work is first-class.

BATTERIES

If your battery is run down or weak, it is better for you to find it out now, than on some morning next winter when the temperature is about 20 below zero, and your temper is about 100 above. We will be glad to test your present battery and tell you exactly its condition. .....

GOVERNMENT INSURANCE IN CASE OF
WAR DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

OWNERS OF PROPERTY ARE URGED TO INSURE AGAINST LOSS BY ENEMY ACTION

The Government of Canada, by Act of Parliament, has set up a Plan of War Risk Insurance against damage to property caused by enemy action—by countermeasures taken against the enemy—by explosions of war munitions handled by third parties.

In terms of general information, it may be stated that the Plan provides a certain limited FREE COMPENSATION for damage to owner-occupied homes and to chattels, but the main feature of the Plan is that owners of most types of property can protect their property by PURCHASE of GOVERNMENT WAR RISK INSURANCE at very moderate rates.

This type of War Risk Insurance is not being sold today by private insurance companies, because of the risk involved. Consequently, the Government has established a national scheme to make it possible for each citizen in Canada to purchase the sense of security that comes from knowing that if his property does suffer war damage (and the war has come much closer to Canada in the last twelve months) he can call on the resources of Canada to help him make good his property loss.

HOW TO OBTAIN GOVERNMENT WAR RISK INSURANCE

The Fire Insurance Agents and Companies of Canada have volunteered to the Government the services of their extensive facilities and personnel, on a non-profit basis, thus avoiding the setting up of the large organization that otherwise would be needed to handle details of this nation-wide Government War Risk Insurance scheme.

YOUR FIRE INSURANCE AGENT OR COMPANY WILL GLADLY SUPPLY COMPLETE DETAILS OF THIS GOVERNMENT INSURANCE PLAN.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT IS PUBLISHED so that the public may have notice of the Government War Risk Insurance Scheme. The information given above is not intended to be a complete resumé of the Scheme. Full information regarding conditions, exclusions, etc., is available elsewhere.

TO HOME OWNERS HOUSEHOLDERS and OTHERS

Limited free compensation is provided under the Act for War Damage by enemy action to owner-occupied homes up to $3,000. Damage to Householder's Chattels, up to $800—for those of his wife, up to $400—for each child under 16, up to $100—for others, not householders, up to $200.

No policies are needed in this classification but insurance additional to the above amounts may be purchased.

Ask any Fire Insurance Agent or Company for complete details.

THE NEW INCOME TAX

PART I - As it Affects

SALARY AND WAGE EARNERS

1. Question: WHO MUST PAY?

Answer: All persons in receipt of incomes over $660 single—or $1200 married.

2. Question: WHAT FORMS DO YOU HAVE TO FILL OUT?

Answer: Unless you are single, without dependents, and not making payments for allowable personal savings (Item 5D), you should file Form TD-1 with your employer. Otherwise he must deduct the amounts provided by the Table of Tax Deductions for a single person without dependents or personal savings.

If ¾ or more of your income comes from salary or wages, you must file your 1942 Income Return by 30th September 1943. If your income is not over $5,000, including not over $100 from investments, you will use Form T1-Special; otherwise you will use Form T.1.

3. Question: WHEN AND HOW IS YOUR TAX COLLECTED?

Answer: Your employer is required by law to make deductions from your salary or wages on account of your 1942 tax during the period September 1942 to August 1943. Each deduction must be the amount provided by the official Table of Tax Deductions for your current rate of pay, and family status and personal savings as declared on Form TD-1 (Item 2 above).

The Table is designed to collect about 90% of the tax on your salary or wages, leaving a balance of not more than 10%, in most cases, (plus tax on your other income, if any) to be paid with your Income Return to be filed in September 1943.

If your salary or wages are less than ¾ of your income, you must pay tax on your other income by compulsory instalments. (See Part II below).

4. Question: WHAT CONSTITUTES TAXABLE INCOME?

Answer: Your income is made up of your full salary or wages before any deductions whatsoever, plus living allowances, gratuities or bonuses (including cost of living bonus) and the value of any board, living quarters or supplies, etc., given you by your employer. It also includes such receipts as interest and dividends, rents (after taxes, repairs, etc.), royalties and annuities. From your total income you deduct payments (up to $300) into certain types of employees' superannuation or pension funds, charitable donations up to 10% of your income, and medical expenses over 5% of your income (maximum—$400 single, $600 married, plus $100 for each dependent up to four), to find the amount of your taxable income.

5. Question: HOW MUCH DO YOU PAY?

Answer: (A) Normal Tax—(whichever rate is applicable is applied to the full amount of your taxable income from the first to the last dollar).

(1) Single—with taxable income between $660 and $1800—7%
with taxable income between $1800 and $3000—8%
with taxable income over $3000—9%

(2) Married (or equivalent status)—
with taxable income over $1200—7%

(3) Dependents—tax credit for each—$28

(B) Graduated Tax—

(1) On first $660 of taxable income—No Tax.

30% on next	$ 500	55% on next	$ 5,000
33% on next	500	60% on next	7,000
37% on next	1000	65% on next	10,000
41% on next	1500	70% on next	20,000
45% on next	1500	75% on next	20,000
50% on next	3000	80% on next	30,000

85% on excess over $100,000

(2) Married (or equivalent status)—tax credit—$150

(3) Dependents—tax credit for each—up to $80

(C) Surtax—4% on investment income over $1500 without exemptions.

NOTES

(1) In no case are you required to pay a net tax (i.e., after credit for dependents) which would reduce your taxable income below $660 single or $1200 married.

(2) If a wife has uncarned income over $660, then both she and her husband are taxable as single persons, but any amount a wife earns does not affect her husband's right to be taxed as a married person. A married woman is taxed as a single person under all circumstances except only when her husband's income is less than $660.

A booklet entitled
"YOUR 1942 INCOME TAX"
will be available shortly at offices of Inspectors of Income Tax.

(D) Tax Credit for Personal Savings—
You may deduct from the savings portion of your tax (Item 6) 1942 payments on account of—

(1) an approved employees' (or trade union) superannuation, retirement or pension fund;

(2) premiums on life insurance policies issued prior to 23rd June 1942 (if issued after that date ask your insurance company or Inspector of Income Tax);

(3) annuity or savings policies not postponable without substantial loss or forfeiture; and

(4) principal payments on a mortgage or agreement of sale, existing prior to 23rd June, 1942, on one residential property; provided (a) they do not exceed the savings portion and (b) receipts are produced for the payments when filing your Income Return.

(E) National Defence Tax—
This tax does not apply after 31st August, 1942. The deductions made during January to August 1942 apply as a payment on account of your 1942 tax.

6. Question: HOW MUCH OF YOUR TAX IS SAVINGS?

Answer:

(1) Single—the lesser of
(a) ½ the total of your Normal Tax, Graduated Tax and Surtax, or
(b) 8% of your taxable income (maximum $800) plus 1% for each dependent (maximum $100 for each).

(2) Married (or equivalent status)—the lesser of
(a) ½ the total of your Normal Tax, Graduated Tax and Surtax; or
(b) 10% of your taxable income (maximum $1000) plus 1% for each dependent (maximum $100 for each).

You will get back the savings portion of your tax which you actually pay, plus 2% interest, after the war.

7. EXAMPLES OF AMOUNTS PAYABLE ON 1942 EARNED INCOME
(after allowing for National Defence Tax actually deducted Jan.-Aug. 1942)

PART II - As it Affects

PERSONS OTHER THAN SALARY and WAGE EARNERS

(Such as business or professional men, investors, and persons on commission)

1. PAYMENTS—You must pay your 1942 income tax by quarterly instalments beginning on the fifteenth day of October 1942. Remittance Form T.7-B Individuals, to be sent in with your payments, may be secured from Inspectors of Income Tax some time in September.

2. RETURNS—You file your 1942 Income Return on Form T.1, on or before the thirtieth day of April 1943.

NOTE:—Items 1, 4, 5 and 6 of Part I also apply.

IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYER paying any person on a daily, weekly, monthly or any other basis, it is your responsibility to deduct Income Tax instalments from the salaries or wages you pay, commencing with the first pay period beginning in September, and send the amounts deducted to your Inspector of Income Tax within one week from the pay-day. There are severe penalties for failure to deduct or remit. If you are in doubt as to your obligations to deduct, communicate with your Inspector of Income Tax at once.

SERIAL STORY

SPORTING BLOOD

BY HARRY HARRISON KROLL

THE STORY: When Hunter Dent, Strickland Ballard's farm manager, finds Ballard's dissipated son, Junior, lying unconscious beside a satchel of money, he thinks he has a weapon against his rich but unscrupulous employer... Hunter has bet the elder Ballard that the latter will return the prize horse and new strain of corn which Ballard has stolen from him.

Shortly before Hunter finds Junior a bank messenger has been shot and robbed of $17,000, the amount in the satchel. Hunter puts the money in a safe, carries Junior, whom he thinks is drunk, to his own room. Next day he discovers that Junior has been wounded and is near death.

FATE OF THE MESSENGER

Chapter IV.

Hunter Dent could hear the butler telephoning in an agitated voice. Hunter listened again to Junior Ballard's heart. There was just a faint throb of life there yet. A great remorse came upon Hunter. When he brought the boy here last night, thinking he was only drunk, he should have made sure. Everything now was complicated. The bank messenger near death; this young dissipated boy dying; Hunter had the missing $17,000 in his safe. His mind was addled. He could hear Warwick's voice.

"Yes, sir, Mr. Ballard, come immediately. Mr. Dent is here, sir. Miss Bella is out front speaking now with Mr. Tisdale, I believe. Yes, sir, I have already called Dr. Ferguson. He should be on his way out. He said he would not stop to have breakfast. Yes, sir, there was a party here last night but it broke up early. Very well, sir."

Warwick came in. "Mr. Ballard is starting immediately."

"We'd better leave him just as he is. I wonder if we should call the police—but that would never do. We'll have to wait for his father and the doctor."

The car out front went away up the winding pretty road. Hunter caught the glint and color of it.

Red entered breathlessly. She stopped, met Hunter's eyes straight and hard. "Hunter! Is Junior in there?"

"Yes, but you'd better not—"

There was a long moment between them. "Is—is something wrong?"

"Not serious, I hope. Warwick has called Dr. Ferguson and your dad—"

"Look here, Hunter Dent. Tell me the truth. I can take it. What has happened to my brother?" She started past Hunter. He stopped her. She looked into his face. "Will you let me go ahead, Hunter?"

"All right," he said, dropping his hand from her arm. "But pull yourself together. He's bad hurt. I guess he's finished. He's lost his last bet, I have a hunch."

Hunter opened the door. Red went quickly in. Hunter watched her closely. She stepped across the room, stopped with a small gasp. If he expected her to throw herself across the body of her brother and become melodramatic he was slated for disappointment. She stood there breathing fast and looking upon the motionless youth. Hunter moved up to Red's side, a half pace behind, just in case she could not take it. Then she turned. Her brown eyes were swimming. She went into his arms and put her face against him.

It seemed hardly more than a few moments before Strickland Ballard appeared. It was so early in the morning yet that the man had not had time to shave. Dr. Ferguson was but a moment behind. Hunter remained by the bed while the doctor made his examination. Ballard's face was a study in worry, fear, and anger.

"How is he, Doctor?"

Dr. Ferguson put his instruments in his bag. "He's not gone yet. We've got to get him to the hospital for X-Rays and then maybe we will know." He glanced at Warwick. "Did you call the ambulance?"

Hunter said, "We could use the big new farm truck. It is as comfortable as the ambulance and we'd save time."

"A good idea. Let's do that."

As Hunter went out to get the truck Strickland Ballard followed him into the yard. He took his baffled wrath out on Hunter. "What's been going on around here? How did this happen? I thought I left things here in your charge, sir."

Hunter was in a mood to hit Ballard where he lived—in his ego. "I am in charge of the animals, sir—and the crops. Including the famous Ballard Prolific strain. There was nothing said when I was employed here about being father to your children. I supposed you assumed that responsibility yourself." He strode off. In no time at all he came back in the powerful new truck.

They gently carried the unconscious boy out and bedded him in the truck. Hunter drove. Until he was almost in town he did not remember he had not had breakfast, not even a cup of coffee. Being an out-door man he required food. He came to the hospital. There the attendants took Junior Ballard in. Hunter sighed. He hardly knew why. He felt sorry for the family; maybe he should have waited with them for some final news. He asked at the information desk as he started out, "This young fellow from the First National Bank, who was attacked last night and robbed—how is he?"

"Who is asking, please?" the nurse who had just come on duty asked.

"I am Hunter Dent, of the Ballard Farms."

"Are you a relative of the young man?"

"N-no. Just a casual interest."

"He is dead."

Hunter was dazed. "Dead!" he repeated dully. "Did—was he unconscious—"

"He died without making any statement."

"I—I see." He went out, got into the truck, and drove away.

As he passed through Middleton, he seemed to see the sleepy southern town through fresh eyes. There were the big Ballard Laboratories. They dominated the business section. There were neon and gold-leaf signs. "Southern Roses Cosmetics." "Tennessee Belle Products." Quick Shot Tonic for chills and fever." Perhaps there were a half dozen smaller concerns following in the steps of the great Ballard. It was known in business circles as the "Medicine Town." Ballard had done that. They said he could not do it They bet he could not. He bet he could. Now it was, local lore would have you believe, the wealthiest small town per capita in the South, perhaps a close rival to the oil fortunes in Texas. All this was a compliment to Strickland Ballard. In his way he was a man of vision. He saw something in some tree barks and field herbs. Middleton today was a toy sky-scraper city, with fine churches, beautiful homes, wealth—and the inevitable minor league evils that follow upon sudden fortunes.

"Sporting blood," Hunter said, half bitterly, and drove from town taking the old river road which would let him into the big estate from the rear.

To his amazement he found Junior's big car just within the stone and iron gate which guarded the back boundary. The big motor was jambed against a tree. One casing had blown out. The door was open. Hunter made an examination of the spot, looked and found bloodstains in the wrecked car. His discovery did not simplify the general mystery. All Hunter could deduce was that Junior had come home by the back way, had been either so intoxicated or nearly dead he had had a wreck, by sheer strength he had got to the office, no doubt looking for Hunter; and then he had passed out.

"What a bunch of fools these Ballards are!" Hunter thought. He drove on to the house. In the kitchen he got breakfast.

Afterward he went to the office. He sat down and tried to think. The messenger was dead. No tales there. Junior Ballard probably would die. Hardly any tales there. Hunter Dent had the $17,000 in the safe, and the combination safely in his skull. He seemed to have, he supposed, all he needed to make old Strick Ballard come to him on his knees and say his amens. After that—what? "I wonder," he muttered. He went over to the safe, knelt, twirled the dial, opened the ponderous door.

The leather bag containing $17,000 was gone!

King's Daughter Keeps War Diary

An Editorial In The Watertown, New York, Times

That the Princess Elizabeth of England has been keeping a diary since 1939 is something of more than passing interest. Years hence this day-by-day record of the little girl, living during the most bitter war that ever was mankind's misfortune to experience, will have very real significance to the British people. It will engrave on the memory of Britain's future Queen the atrocity of war. It will make known to the younger generation, should it ever be published, what it cost Britain to fight this war. It should make them more thoughtful in directing the course of the future peace.

One might ask how a girl of 16 could have enough experiences to set down in her diary to make it of value in the coming years? Her father, King George, has seen to that. The two little Princesses have been hostesses at tea to a number of men and women who have contributed heroically to the Second World War. Just recently they have heard from the lips of Commander Robert Ryder of the raid at St. Nazaire when he led a flotilla of unprotected boats into the very teeth of Nazi defences. They have also listened to the experiences of Douglas Bader, the legless pilot, now a prisoner in Germany, and from Paddy Finucane, who has since died in action.

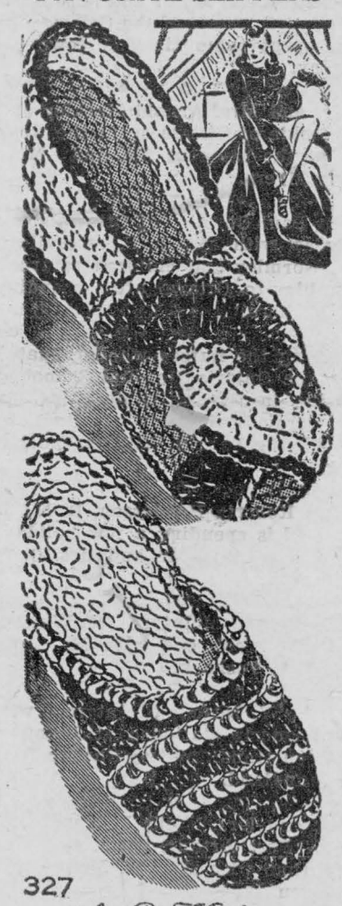

From their own parents they must have gathered some knowledge of what they have seen on their visits to bombed areas. The Princesses, too, are well aware of the disruption of their own personal lives, of the months of abiding in the country, when their whereabouts was unknown to the public, and birthdays were celebrated with only the simplest of entertainment and family gatherings

Princess Elizabeth has commenced the keeping of a diary at an early age and the habit is, no doubt, shaped for a life-time. If she continues, and the chances are all in its favor, she may emulate her great-great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, who was also a diarist. But for genuine human interest in their journals the odds will be on the side of the Princess.

A recent appeal for scrap rubber brought in thousands of pounds of old tires, tubes, crepe soles, toys, etc. Every ounce of scrap rubber which can be collected is required in order that Canada's armed forces may not lack supplies.

THE FRUIT SEASON IS HERE

These are the days when our local fruits are ripening and when we should take advantage of their deliciousness by canning some for the winter months which are to come. The subject of canning is such a broad one that it is impossible to treat each method properly in such a small space. Briefly the following are the best methods:

Preparation: All fruit should be picked carefully and then prepared according to type. Large fruits should be cut in pieces and if dry and pulpy, such as apples and pears, should be covered with water before simmering until tender. Small juicy fruits require no water.

Open Kettle Canning: If fruit is moderately acid and very juicy use no water but cover with sugar and let stand over night. In the morning cook until tender with as little stirring as possible. Fruits less juicy should be covered with a sugar syrup and cooked until tender.

Hot Pack: Fruit is prepared as above but cooked for a shorter length of time. Pour into hot sterilized jars to within about ½ inch of the top. Adjust rubber rings (dipped in boiling water), cover with sterilized top seal and leave jar ring partly screwed (if spring top is used do not adjust second spring). Place jars in rack in the kettle; cover well with water at same temperature as jars and bring to a boil. Boil for required time and be sure that the jars do not touch each other. If this process is done in the oven have a carefully controlled temperature of 275 degrees. Remove from water bath, tighten and seal. Invert jars while cooling to test leaks. If using steam pressure cooker follow directions given by manufacturer.

Cold Pack Canning: Pack fruit into jars (sterilized) to within one inch of the top. Place fruit and sugar in alternate layers in proportion to the desired syrup. (Thin syrup ½ cup sugar to 1 of fruit and heavy syrup 1 cup sugar to 1 of fruit). Cover with cold water until overflowing. Adjust rubbers and tops as for hot pack. Place on rack and cook slowly as in the hot pack method.

Jams and Conserves: Measure fruit and cover with enough water to simmer until tender. Add warmed sugar providing ¾ cup to one cup of fruit. Continue to simmer until thick, stirring frequently. Skim. Turn into sterilized jars and cover at once with a thin layer of hot paraffin. When cool apply another layer of paraffin to assure perfect sealing.

Jellies: Select fruits that are not dead ripe. Clean and cook until very tender. Pour into a scalded jelly bag and allow to drip into a scalded container. Do not squeeze the bag. Heat juice to boiling point and simmer ten to twenty minutes. Add warmed sugar allowing ¾ cup of sugar to one of juice. Stir over heat until sugar dissolves. Boil gently (skimming as necessary) until a few drops of the solution "sets" when tested in cold water.

Jellies With Pectin: Fruits such as blueberries and raspberries require the addition of pectin to make them jell. The best advice for these fruits is to adhere strictly to directions given with Pectin or any similar commercial preparations.

Two-Man Plant Leads War Drive

60-Year-Old Man and 79-Year-Old Helper Work 105 Hours A Week

The two-man production staff of a plant at Bay City, Mich.—a 60-year-old employer and his 79-year-old employee—received a large American Flag poster, official recognition as a labor-management production drive committee, and a letter from Donald M. Nelson commending their efforts.

Jake Sparling wrote President Roosevelt that he and Percy Fogelsonger, his entire "staff," had been working an average of 15 hours a day, seven days a week, and had made 18,000 steel flanges for war machinery.

Mr. Sparling said "the old gent and myself" would like a pennant.

Mr. Roosevelt sent the letter to Mr. Nelson, Chairman of the War production Board, who not only sent a large American Flag poster surmounting the inscription "Give It Your Best," but ordered Mr. Sparling's name to lead all the rest of the plants formally entered in the war-production drive "in recognition of the example the entire working force of your plant is setting for the rest of the nation."

Mr. Nelson suggested the working schedule of Mr. Sparling and Mr. Fogelsonger was "a little too strenuous for some even younger workmen to maintain, even though you two gentlemen seem to thrive on it."

The Sparling-Fogelsonger "labor - management committee" makes flanges used on wooden pipes that are installed in large defense plants.

Mr. Sparling ran the tiny shop by himself before the war, making pulleys and doing odd jobs repairing machinery. His "expansion" for war production consisted of hiring Mr. Fogelsonger, who had been in the habit of spending much time in the shop.

Labor - management relations have been "ideal," according to Mr. Sparling. When they need money, he explained, he goes to the pipe company which uses their flanges to "take out what we need for grub and living expenses and buy bonds with what's left."

A Bit Of Humor In Dieppe Battle

There was a bit of grim humor aboard a British destroyer as hundreds of four-inch shells were being fired into German strong points along the coast at Dieppe, a British naval observer revealed recently.

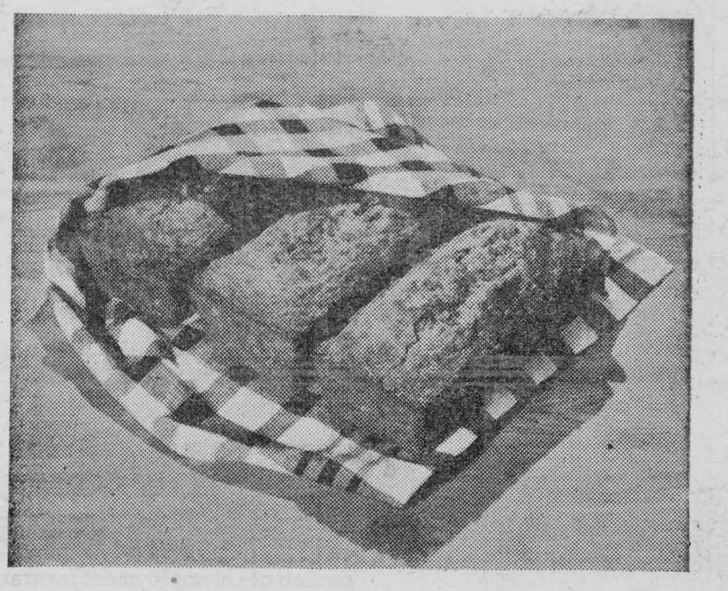

He stood on the bridge of one destroyer and said he listened to a first lieutenant of only 23 giving spotting directions to his officer of quarters, an even younger sub-lieutenant.

Once, the observer said, he heard the first lieutenant remark:

"Albert, your shots are falling short on the cliff face. It may be an idea to bring the enemy down with the cliff but I think it is rather a long-term policy."

HOME BAKED BRAN NUT BREAD

For the older generation one of the pleasantest memories of childhood is baking day when a warm fragrance of crisp golden loaves filled the kitchen.

Today home baking is staging a revival, but fortunately "quick" breads are usurping the place of the old fashioned leavened bread. Popular is All-Bran Nut Bread. This glorious tasting loaf is both rich in vitamins and magnificent in flavor. Actually, it's good enough to take the place of those rich desserts that have been banished from the war-time dinner table. Directions for making this bread follow:

All-Bran Nut Bread

1	egg	¾	cup All-Bran
¾	cup sugar	2¼	cups flour
1	cup milk	1	teaspoon salt
2	tablespoons melted shortening	3	teaspoons baking powder
		¾	cup chopped nut meats

Beat eggs and sugar until light. Add milk, shortening and All-Bran. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; combine with nut meats; add to first mixture, stirring only until flour disappears. Bake in greased loaf pan with waxed paper in the bottom, in moderate oven (350°F.) about 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Yield: 1 loaf (4½ x 9½ inch pan).

MacIntosh Clan Holds Annual Picnic Meeting

Montreal; Mrs. Gilbert Anderson, of Edwards, Ont.; Mrs. L. H. McAuley of Johnstown; Rev. L. M. Somerville, of Spencerville; Clarence MacIntosh and family, of Ottawa, and many others from distant points.

After lunch a programme was provided, Dr. P. A. MacIntosh, of Spencerville, acting as chairman. A two minutes' silence was observed for departed members of the clan, namely: Dr. M. W. Locke, of Williamsburg; Raymond Whitley, of Roebuck; Edgar McIntosh Strader, of Brinston; Mrs. Louis MacIntosh, of Williamsburg; Mr. Gilbert Anderson, of Edwards, Ont., and Mr. Clifford Montgomery, of Spencerville; after which the Pipe Band led by Col. Gordon, played the MacIntosh Lament. Dr. MacIntosh gave a history of the family from the Celtic invasion of Britain to the time of pioneer John MacIntosh, the ancesor of all the MacIntoshes who live in Eastern Ontario.

John MacIntosh (1777-1845) is buried along with other members of the family in what was called then St. Paul's cemetery, east of Iroquois village on Highway 2. His wife Hannah Doran was buried on the David MacIntosh farm, one mile north of Dundela. The chairman also described the coat of arms of the MacIntosh Clan, the meaning of the war cry and the different tartans. John MacKintosh's father, Alexander, was a veteran of the Jacobite rebellion of 1745 and the Seven Years War. His remains along with his wife Janet marked by two marble slabs lie in the old MacIntosh cemetery near Vischer's Ferry, N.Y.

The McAuley Sisters, Helen and Noreen, and Catharine Hutton rendered several pieces, tap dances and songs, costumed to correspond to the selection. Mrs. Wm. Robertson accompanied on the piano. Col. Gordon with his pipe band kept the air vibrating in real old Scotch style. Eighty-five year old Mr. H. S. Wright,, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., delighted the audience with his songs. A letter from Miss F. M. Bliss, of Syracuse, N.Y., a great granddaughter of pioneer John MacKintosh, was read by Mrs. Jos. Davidson, of Winchester Springs, Ont. in which Miss Bliss recalled that John MacIntosh in the year about 1812 threw open his house for church services conducted by the venerable horse back missionary Sawyer and that for a winter before the old log school house was built at Dundela school was taught in the MacIntosh homestead.

Mrs. Mabel Johansen, of Brinston read a history of the old rocking chair brought over from Scotland in 1761 by Janet MacIntosh and still in existence at the old MacIntosh homestead in N. Y. tate. This essay written by Mrs. C. Bennett, of Schenectady, in a style as if the chair were reciting its experiences, gave valuable history of the family.

The big hit of the programme was an address by the Rev. Dr. W. C. McIntyre, of Ogdensburg, an ardent historian of the Highland Scotch. Dr. McIntyre is always interesting and gave the audience a picture of the character of the Highland Scotch. The dignity and ability of the race is manfiested by the fact that the greater number of the responsible positions in the English speaking world is held by those who have the prefix Mac to their name, a race servile to none but commanding to all. The spirit rings in the national music, the bag pipe and in the language, the Gaelic. He gave a short history of his own clan the seat of which was in the county of Lorn on the banks of Loch Awe and the name MacIntyre in the Gaelic meant son of the carpenter. He emphasized the fact that the last tribe of Israel were the Celts, the forefathers of the Highland Scotch, a people imbued with a devotional mentality, a characteristic trait of the Highlander.

At the end of the programme Dr. MacIntyre baptized the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hunter, of Toronto, giving him the name of James Edgar Alexander Hunter. The late Chief of the MacKintoshes sent water from Loch Moy in Scotland to be used at these baptisms.

After singing the National Anthem, all repaired to the open where Mr. Ira W. Beckstead, of Iroquois, photographed the group.

The election of officers for 1942-1943 to conduct the affairs of the clan resulted in:

President—Peter Locke, Brinston, Hugh McIntosh, Williamsburg.

Secretary—Clarence MacIntosh, Ottawa.

Treasurer—Bruce MacIntosh, Iroquois.

Committee—Wm. Forsythe, Waddington, N.Y.; Kenneth MacIntosh, Iroquois; Mrs. (Dr.) Locke, Williamsburg; Mrs. Jos. Davidson, Winchester Springs; Mrs. W. J. Cass, Winchester; Dr. Frank MacIntosh, St. Anne de Bellevue; Dr. A. F. MacIntosh, Andover, N.B.; Ralph MacIntosh, Toronto; Clifford MacIntosh, Williamsburg; George W. MacIntosh Cornwall; Graham MacIntosh, Cornwall; S. Allan MacIntosh, Iroquois; Jesse MacIntosh, Iroquois.
