Safety measures inadequate

Officials report on public works

CATHERINE THOMPSON

MORRISBURG—The fact that the Village of Morrisburg's sewage and water facilities are in drastic need of an overhaul became evident last week as Ministry of Labor representatives placed a stop work order at the sewage pump room at the sewage treatment plant.

On November 20, the village was ordered to ensure good exhaust ventilation in the chlorine room of the sewage treatment plant.

Workers who may be exposed to chlorine gas are to be trained in the proper handling procedures, in protective equipment and in emergency measures.

Both the chlorine room and the sludge pump room of the sewage treatment plant were forbidden access by workers until workers were supplied with protective masks, and a gas measuring gauge.

A joint health and safety committee is to be established to ensure proper handling of any "designated" material i.e. hazardous substance in the workplace.

Guard rails are to be installed, Ontario Hydro is to inspect the panel box and electrical materials, the Fire extinguishers are to be inspected, and other repairs and precautions are to be made.

Despite the many faults to be corrected, assistant public works superintendent Keith Robinson had no lost time accidents in the town facilities this year to report of.

An electrical inspection by Ontario Hydro's Cornwall office revealed extensive repairs to be made to the emergency pump house, the sewage treatment plant, the water treatment plant, the municipal building, and the

No Word On Funding

Ministry offiicials also suspected that when the 30-year old plant was built, asbestos was used as fireproofing on the hot water boiler and hot water radiator in the sewage treatment area. The equipment is to be examined for the same.

Hazardous materials at the sewage treatment plant are to be labelled and listed, as well as safe procedures for their use, storage, handling and disposal.

The clarifier pump room and the sludge pump area require emergency lighting, and a guard rail must be placed around the clarifier.

Water treatment plant needs repairs

On November 20, Ministry of Labor representatives Jean Samson and Guy Nadeau ordered that the chlorine room at the water treatment plant be entered only after proper safety equipment was installed, and after proper ventilation.

After a gas mask and a gas measuring gauge were acquired by the village, the stop work orders on both the sewage reatment plant, and the water treatment plant were lifted.

Additional orders include a provision that the chlorine room be entered only when another worker is stationed outside the confined space, and a person trained in artifical respiration is conveniently handy.

Ministry inspections at the Town garage on the 21st revealed no mechanical ventilation, the presence of a hazardous material (traffic paint containing lead chromate), and lack of a workplace hazardous materials information system.

The Village must fill out a report on the lead materials, label every container of another hazardous substance "methanol" and post an inventory of hazardous materials in the workplace.

Town garage needs new service

The report states the town garage requires "a complete new service and rewiring immediately."

All electrical defects are to be corrected and a report verifying this signed within 30 days.

In addition, the Ministry of Environment inspectors from the Kingston office examined town facilities and when interviewed last week were still completing their report.

Bob Watson, utilities officer for the Southeast Region, reported on the reliability of system components at the sewage treatment plant, and actually had some good things to say.

"Overall, it's better than expected, considering the plant

"Both the sewage and water treatment plant are the cleanest plants I've seen in a long time," he said.

He added, there was nevertheless a need for replacement in the electronic and instrumentation control systems.

Watson wasn't so complimentary regarding safety systems. "Safety equipment and standards have changed over the years, and the village must change accordingly," he said.

The plant underwent an inspection in the spring for effluent quality by regional inspector for the Abatement Branch, Zane Bell.

Bell is also examining at least 50 other aging sewage treatment plants in the province, and is still completing his reports.

"Zane had to call the Ministry of Labor on each plant," said Watson.

"However, this effort will be well worthwhile," he added.

Spurring the ministry's inspection efforts, are memories of an incident where a sewage plant worker in Napanee was killed because he entered a closed space without the proper equipment.

In a court case, the Board of Management who operated the plant was fined $30,000 and the municipal supervisor of operation $5,000 by the Ministry of Labor.

Repairs worthwhile

Both Morrisburg reeve Bill Dillabough and councillor Gord McGregor were convinced the repairs would be well worthwhile.

"Everything has to be done, as council had already decided," said Dillabough.

"I think in the long run, council made a good decision."

At its November meeting, council agreed to complete any repairs indicated by the Department of Labor, Ontario Hydro, and the Ministry of Environment's Regional Safety Office to ensure safe working conditions.

Council has asked the Ministry of Environment to take over operation of the village water and sewer facilities.

"It'll all turn out for the better. These are all repairs which should have been kept up over the years," said McGregor.

Dillabough added the village has applied for funding for repairs to its sewage treatment plant, which in his opinion will account for 80 per cent of the total repairs.

No word on funding, and no estimates are available at this time for the total bill.

Bins in place for South Dundas Christmas Exchange

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

In the ongoing effort to increase the amount of donations for the South Dundas Christmas Exchange, food boxes and money jars have been placed strategically around the area.

In Morrisburg, donations can be left at Mr. Grocers, Freshmart, Bi Way and the Bank of Nova Scotia. In Williamsburg, Whittekers is the drop off spot while the Bank of Montreal, S&F and the Red & White are locations found in Iroquois.

Shelley Wert, a social services advisor for the committee, stated that "there is an increase of the working poor in the area."

"The need is great," she added.

At this time, there are 70 families in the area requiring food baskets and 98 children on the list to receive toys.

The entire committee is working together to make this year's food drive a success. All of the food bought for the drive will be purchased evenly from the stores in the community.

This year's committee executive consists of Allan Tysick, chairperson; Val Howald, treasurer; Robin Lane, publicist and co-ordinator; Myra Fawcett, secretary and Diane Wilson, co-ordinator.

Please contact the following representatives who have attended the meetings and are informed if questions arise: Rev. Don Smith, Morrisburg United Church; Marie Barcley, Morrisburg Lutheran Church; Rev. Harry Brown, Morrisburg and Iroquois Anglican Churches; Mrs. H. Pepers, Morrisburg and Iroquois Catholic Parishes; Marj Reynolds, Morrisburg Presbyterian; Mrs. Beckstead and Mr. and Mrs. G. Wright, Williamsburg United Church; Shelley Wert, and Mark Hart, social services advisors; Diane Wilson, Brinston United Church; Lorraine Norton, Iroquois United Church; Mr. H. Gilmour, Iroquois Lions Club and Mr. Earl Woods, Morrisburg Lions Club.

The following is a poem written by Shelley Wert, a social services advisor, regarding the South Dundas Christmas Exchange.

Making Christmas Merry

As residents here in South Dundas we know our paycheques rarely last
And despite our efforts to budget right
by the end of the month our accounts cause fright
However as the season of joy draws near the message of Christmas is very clear
It is better to give than it is to receive and in this maxim we must all believe
Although we all feel the financial strain
We can help provide Christmas for another a friend, a neighbor, or even a brother
Let us all be generous and willing to share prove ourselves a community that cares
We need your food and funding to add to our little pile
And with generosity we'll make a child smile

by Shelley Wert

It is better to give than it is to receive!

Setting up bins in the area stores was what Robin Lane, publicist and co-ordinator and Earl Woods, Lion's representative, had on the agenda for Friday afternoon. The bins were set up in Morrisburg at Freshmart, Bi Way, Mr. Grocer and the Bank of Nova Scotia. Shown here, the pair put their bin in the local Mr. Grocer store.

Morrisburg-Waddington Ferry Inc. opens office in Plaza

MORRISBURG—As the year draws to an end, the ferry boat project is solidly on track, says resident Duncan Edmonds, co-partner in The Morrisburg-Waddington Ferry Incorporated.

"We've been encouraged and we're proceeding vigorously with our plans," says Edmonds. "We're solidly based for 1991."

"Beginning with discussions in the summer, we've had many expressions of approval and enthusiasm from both the municipal authorities and many citizens on both sides of the St. Lawrence River," he adds.

Waddington Town supervisor Reg Green recently had a petition circulated among merchants, and on Waddington streets, requesting support of the revival of the Morrisburg Waddington car-passenger ferry service.

Signed by over 1,000, the petition is to be circulated to the Ogdensburg Bridge and Port Authority, St. Lawrence County Legislature, Assembly man John O'Neill, and Senator John McHugh.

According to Edmonds, the priority in the coming year is to work as effectively and quickly as possible to establish docking facilities on the Canadian and American side.

The Parks Management Board is currently investigating the possibility of applying for a provincial Destinations East grant to cover the cost of a "mini" feasibility study into the costs of the proposed Morrisburg-Waddington ferry line.

However, the proposal hasn't yet been presented to council for a resolution.

If successful in obtaining funds, the "mini' feasibility study will be coordinated with a study started in the early 1980's to include a marina with boat slips to the existing waterfront park.

"On the American side, we'll be working with the Ogdensburg Bridge and Port Authority to acquire dockage facility. There'll be meetings and discussions to discuss this prospect on both sides," he added.

An office has been opened with Mr. Allan Bell of Allan Bell and Associates, who has been appointed as company secretary-treasurer.

The company has a letterhead and bank account. Mail may be directed to the Morrisburg-Waddington Ferry Incorporated, P.O. Box 681, c/o Allan Bell.

Woman assaulted in her own home

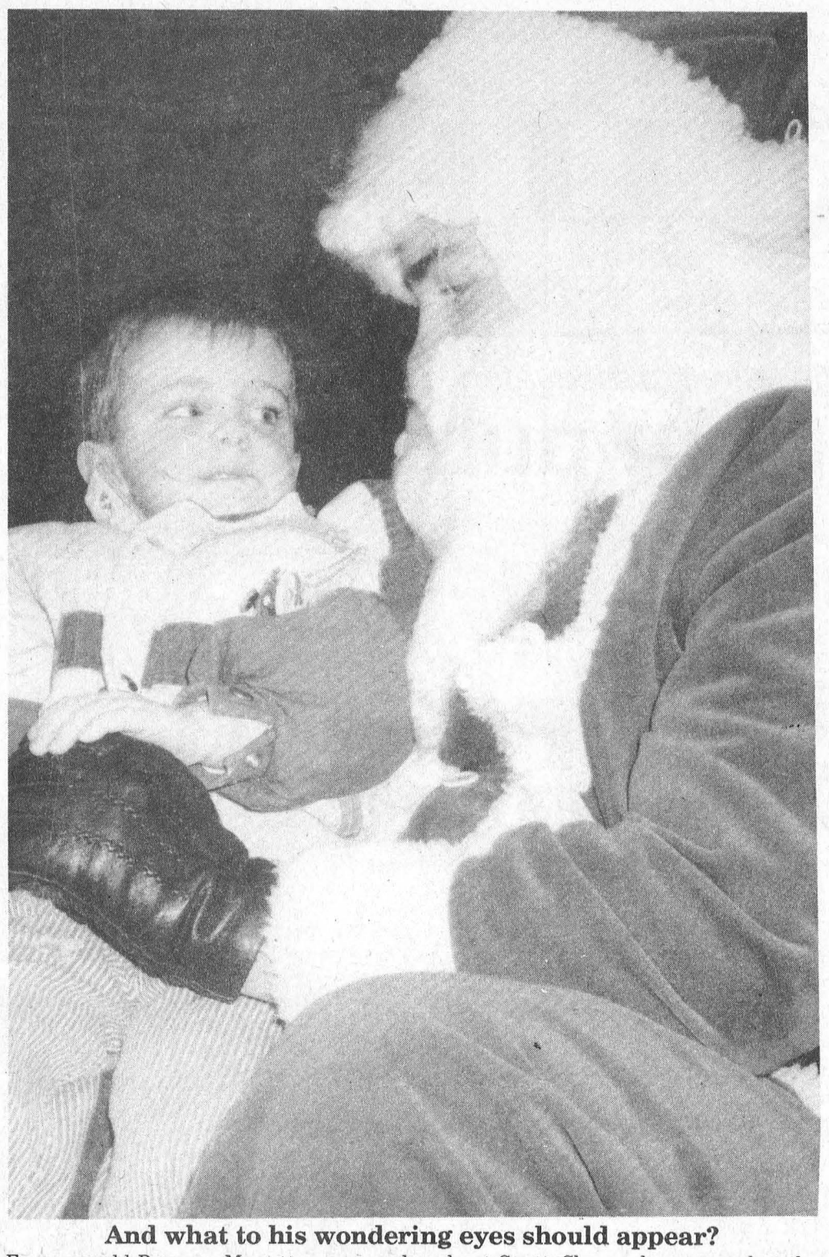
WILLIAMSBURG TOWNSHIP—On Friday, November 30 at approximately 9 p.m., a break-in occurred at Lot 17, Concession 7, Williamsburg Township.

The house located in Elma, was entered by a male person, who was confronted by a female resident of the home upon entry.

The woman was assaulted and then the male left. Nothing was taken from the home.

The woman was later taken to the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital where she was admitted. Her two-year-old son was in the home at the time of the incident.

The investigation is continuing by officer Paul Robertson of the Morrisburg Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, and for this reason, further details were not released.



And what to his wondering eyes should appear?

SLPC meetings to encourage openness

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Open meetings held by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission will allow better communications of their efforts said Chairman of the Commission, Q.C. George Speal Friday.

"It'll be one step in trying to make the commission more responsive to regions in Eastern Ontario," he added.

A decision to allow press to attend meetings was unanimously supported by all members of the commission at a recent November meeting.

"We hope by opening it up, the great strides we took in the development of the commission will be better known to people by better publications of our efforts, our accomplishments, and our frustrations," he explained.

While in the past, the meetings have been open to attendance by delegations, they have not been open to the press.

However the commission has customarily held yearly press conferences, to announce the budget and new programs.

"The press has access to the commission over a 12-month period, not just two times a year," Speal added.

The board usually meets monthly, although occasionally more than once a month, in locations as varied as Morrisburg, Kingston, Cornwall, Gananoque, Brockville, the 1000 Islands Parkway and Adolphustown.

"We move along the corridor from Kingston to Cornwall meeting in different regions to contact the elected people and tourist industry people in the area," said Speal.

Meetings are usually held the third Wednesday of the month, but the location of January's meeting has not yet been finalized.

"We're been trying to get the new Minister of Tourism, Peter North, to meet the commission, and we can be more flexible than him," Speal explained.

He hoped that at an open meeting early in 1991, the board would be able to announce the successful bidders to operate the five parks it closed earlier this year.

Charlottenburgh, Grenville, Brown's Bay Park, and Farran and Morrison/Nairne Parks were closed in February in a cost-cutting measure.

A committee to discuss 14 proposals from interested parties has narrowed the selection to a short list of applicants for interviews.

Osnabruck Township ran Farran Park successfully this summer from July to Labor Day, with a profit of over $4,000, and is the only applicant for long-term operation of both Farran and Nairne Parks.

After the commission makes its choices, names must be approved by the Ministry of Tourism.

"We hope to make our announcement early in the New Year so the people who want to develop the lands can have the time to get their people and money in place," said Speal.

"There's exciting things happening in the commission," said Speal commenting on the new opportunities for openness.

He added while the commission has had no trouble communicating negative happenings via the media, "we've had difficulty communicating some of the positive things in terms of historic sites and programs."

The commission is a board appointed by the government in power, consisting of 12 members, a chairman and a vice-chairman.

It was developed in 1951, in response to conditions caused by the proposed construction of the St. Lawrence Power and Seaway projects, resulting in extensive flooding of shore lands between the towns of Iroquois and Cornwall.

The Commission was established to create parks and an historic Village in an effort to safeguard and enhance the beauty and historic associations of the area.

An agency of the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation, the commission's jurisdiction is from the Quebec-Ontario border to west of Kingston.

The commission's mandate is to preserve South Eastern Ontario's past and prime recreational lands.

Its parks include Upper Canada Village, Fort Henry, Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary, Upper Canada Golf Course, Crysler Park Marina, the Long Sault Parkway and the Thousand Islands Parkway.

It has a staff of 93 civil servants, and 600 unclassified or seasonal employees, and a payroll of $10,690,000 during the fiscal year ending March, 1990.

Seaway News

By Kelly Lackey

Seaway is starting its annual food drive this week. Students are asked to bring in non-perishable goods to their homeforms everyday this week. One point will be given for each item brought in, and the homeform with the most points at the end of the week will be awarded a prize.

The clothing drive is also starting this week. Students are to bring in old clothing which will be given to people in need of it around the area.

"The Hobbit" is soon going to be shown to the public. Students are busy finishing props and memorizing lines.

This week at Seaway is going to be pretty interesting. The student's council has set up different events for each noon hour. There is an air-head competition, which involves students getting up and singing their favorite song in front of the school. The student singing will be able to wear head-phones to keep the tune. Also, the slave auction will be held this Thursday. Students will bid on who they want as their slave. Some slaves that are to be auctioned are Michelle Ault and Kori Lackey, Tricia Gillard and Kelly Lackey, Steve Morrow, and many more.

The midget volleyball team lost the finals to Rothwell-Osnabruck. R.O. was to play at E.O.S.S.A. Results are not yet in.

Last week was the final week to buy Florida oranges and grapefruit from the students at Seaway. For you people who didn't get a chance to order fruit, you missed out on the fantastic quality .

The senior and junior girls volleyball teams are beginning to practice for their upcoming tournaments this month. Mr. Macenzie is the coach for the senior team, and Miss. Crozier is the coach of the juniors.

Christmas is soon approaching so remember students some of the teachers need new cars. I'm sure that Mr. Francis is due for a new one, maybe even one for his daughter instead of the ancient old Datsun.

No word from Ministry

DCAMR awaits special funds

MORRISBURG—Director of Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded, Michael Hughes, still hasn't had any word from the Ministry of Community and Social Services regarding a request for extra assistance to handle violent clients at group homes.

Recently an employee with the Association, Judy Stewart who works at the Broder Crescent home here had her nose broken in two places by a client during a violent outburst, and needed to undergo surgery.

There have been at least two incidents during the last year involving altercations between clients and staff members.

The cause of the problem is the present inability of workers to handle clients "dually-diagnosed" for developmental disabilities and mental illness.

Workers are trained to work with mentally handicapped people, but not with psychiatric problems.

"The staff member is now back working with the same client within the group home, but the situation still needs to be corrected," said Hughes.

Neither Stewart nor union representative Steve Backs could be reached for comment on the incident.

Hughes says that over the last several years, three dually-diagnosed clients have been placed with the Association.

One was with them for eight years and after the Association asked for a transfer, the client was moved this summer to Rideau Regional Center in Smiths Falls.

Two years ago, another dually-diagnosed client was sent to the Brockville Psychiatric Hospital.

However, the current ministry policy is zero admissions to institutions.

A special dispensation allows a client to be placed in an institution temporarily, with the expectation of returning to a group home.

The client sent to Rideau Regional was sent on a temporary basis, but the client has not returned for lack of a permanent viable solution.

"The association has had to deal with this situation for several years, and we haven't found any internal solutions," said Hughes.

"For each individual there are behaviour management strategies but the ones in place are ineffective now, and a new strategy must be designed," he explained.

During discussions this fall, the Association notified the Ministry of Community and Social Services of their difficulties.

The Association stated unless extra funding were provided, the Association could no longer serve these clients.

"Unless we get new procedures and funding, we can't do it." Hughes said.

"The ministry must provide funds for one on one service for a time to help clients overcome their various problems," he said.

After Stewart had her nose broken, Hughes sent information surrounding the incident to the Ministry of Community and Social Services.

On November 16 the Association sent a request to fund an additional staff member, and has received no answer yet.

In July, the Ministry of Health announced a $4 million program to be spent over four years to develop services for dually diagnosed clients.

The Ministry is to provide $2 million, $500,000 annually and set up a steering committee to come up with suggestions to alleviate the problem.

In Ontario, about 6,800 people over the age of 16 have this diagnosis.

"The ministry has put some money aside, but when it comes is a different matter," stated Hughes.

He added a lack of ministry funding to finance all the applications for service enhancement across the province is underlying the problem.

Contacted last week, Mark Charron, program supervisor of the Ministry of Community and Social Services stated he was aware of the event through the "serious incident" report which details exceptional instances.

"We don't determine staffing for individual agencies. But if agencies indicate they're stretched and something more appropriate should be done, we do what we can to financially assist them," he said.

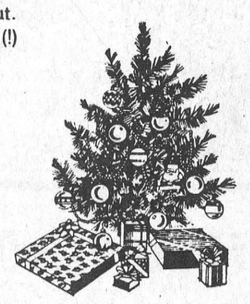
CHRISTMAS SAFETY TIPS

Brought To You By

BRISTER INSURANCE BROKERS LTD.

FIRE:

Christmas tree fires cause a number of tragedies each year. The following precautions are suggested:



- Cute the tree at an angle, well above the original cut.
- Select a tree that is green(!) and moist, that does not have falling needles.
- Use a secure base to avoid tipping.
- Ensure that the base of the tree is placed in a basin filled with water. Check this daily, and add more water as required. This practice will help to keep the tree "fresh".
- Use only CSA approved lighting. Avoid direct contact between the lamps and the tree.
- Keep all candles and flames from the tree. The use candles is a tradition at this holiday time: use them with care!
- Keep the tree away from all sources of heat (base heaters, fireplaces, etc.)
- Artificial trees should be made from fire resistant materials.
- Trees should be removed as soon as the holiday season is over. Remember — the risk of fire increases as the trees dry out!

Libraries' role in literacy

Canadians, from one end of the country to the other, have in recent years decided to come to grips with one of the nation's most serious shortcomings — the prevalence of illiteracy, not only among those who have not passed through the school system, but even among many who have completed secondary school, and sought admission to sources of higher learning.

Right here in our own area, it came as something of a shock to realize that this part of the province of Ontario has one of the highest rates of illiteracy in the land. Many reasons have been advanced, many excuses made for this sorry state, but the ugly fact remains that far too many Canadians cannot read at all, that millions of others can read one word at a time, but only as a combination of letters without much idea of their real meaning. Even such a simple exercise as reading the overnight news in the morning paper baffles many, and members of any sizeable group will give varied interpretations to exactly the same printed words.

The very first requisite, of course, is the ability to put letters of the alphabet together to express thoughts, and in this year of 1990, dedicated to the eradication of illiteracy, huge strides have already been made, with such organizations as the Tri-County Literary Council, Alternative Schools, and vastly improved public library services throughout the area. All of these are ably serving their stated purposes, but the libraries, we would suggest, have a very special place to supplement the reading skills of those who so desperately need the improved opportunities that complete literacy can make available.

For far from being outdated by the influx of electronic communications and home computers, and other marvels of the electronic age, the printed word continues to gain steadily in its importance and influence. Newspapers and magazines are enjoying circulation booms far in excess of pre-television times, despite the fact that subscription prices have been forced steadily upward by inflation of wages, postage and material costs (and most recently, even by the hated G.S.T.)

One might logically expect that patronage of public libraries would have been in sharp decline during the past few decades, but the hard fact of the matter is that just the opposite is the case; libraries are increasing in number, improving immensely in their quality and the services offered, and the number of young readers too, is steadily increasing. And that's just great.

It was of course, the invention of the printing press which released mankind from the long darkness of the Middle Ages. The printed pages told of the vast interesting world beyond the confines of the country villages, and the poverty-stricken, vermin-infested cities of those times.

The Mechanics' Institutes, among the earliest organizations in this country to provide accessible reading material, opened the doors of learning to people who could not afford to purchase their own books. Many years ago, there was a Mechanics' Institute in Morrisburg, and it was apparently well patronized.

Today's public libraries not only make the wide selection of books on their shelves available to everyone, they have gone even further, in establishing story hours, films and other attractions for children, often with the help of volunteers; many libraries too, have films available for public viewing. There are soft-cover books for loan to readers, and larger typeface books for the vision-impaired. In short, the libraries have now become active participants in the complete education of the population. Their role in providing information and better knowledge has been second to none in the long effort to eradicate illiteracy.

Radio and television, in their turn, have certainly added valuable lines of communication in our modern society, but the percentage of total time which these media devote to cultural and informative programming is not too impressive. Our public libraries are admirably filling their special role of making available those great works and the stored knowledge which have formed the basis of our language, our culture and our society.

The very first UNICEF card

More than forty years ago, a seven-year-old Czechoslovakian girl sent UNICEF an illustration thanking the organization for the assistance it had rendered to her war-torn village after World War II — and that illustration became the first UNICEF card! Today, the UNICEF greeting card campaign is one of its most successful marketing programs, and has, since its beginnings in Canada, raised more than $61 million. This revenue goes to fund projects on education, health, care and nutrition, clean water and sanitation for the world's most needy children in more than 120 developing countries.

Since that first card, the organization has added to its inventory, so that you can now procure not only cards for almost any occasion, but also magical games for children and attractive gifts for adults. The dollars you spend with UNICEF can bring not only good wishes and congratulations to your friends and family, but also desperately needed assistance to those whose poverty is greatest.

In this area, UNICEF cards (and some gifts) can be procured at Whitteker's Meat Market in Williamsburg.

It's that time of year again to be picking your Christmas tree, and you should shop right now for the best selection. The balsam fir retains its needles for the longest time, and creates less mess. The spruce is the first to drop its needles, even when watered. The Scotch pine, the most common tree seen on the Christmas tree lots holds its needles much longer than the spruce, and is usually less expensive than the balsam. When you get your tree home, store it in a cool, shaded area outdoors, until you are ready to decorate. Make a new angled cut at the base, and keep the tree in water checking the level daily. And never, never leave a tree unattended if it bears electric lights. Switch them off whenever you leave the room.

This Week In
Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles
by Laurie Day

1980

It was reported in this issue of The Leader that late in the evening on December 2, a Newington youth, Donald Marini was shot in the leg by a resident of the village. Alexander Trajkovich was charged by Ontario Provincial Police with wounding the 17-year-old. The reason behind the shooting was Trajkovich was constantly harassed by teenagers since moving to the village from Montreal in 1974. He had his house broken into several times, and things were stolen, windows were broken and some kids were even shooting at his house. Trajkovich had heard someone shouting outside his home when he was repairing a broken window, and evidently shot the youth in the leg. Marini was taken to the Cornwall General Hospital where he was treated overnight and released the next day.

Terry Laurin was named the Firefighter of the Year at the annual banquet of the Morrisburg Fire Department on Monday, December 1. The winning firefighter was determined through a point system, calculated by attendance at meetings, fires and rescue calls.

A settlement of $148,000 was accepted by Osnabruck council from Ontario Hydro. The money was offered as a result of a request made by council to Hydro in December, 1979 in which the utility was asked to study the capacity of the sewage system. The study was in accordance with an agreement signed in August 1969 to resolve problems, if any arose, as a result of the construction of the St. Lawrence Power Development Project.

Three Girl Guides from Morrisburg were presented with their gold cords by Commissioner Patricia Reynolds. Marianne Coligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Coligan; Colleen Scully, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scully; and Judy Sheldrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sheldrick also received gold gold rings which were presented to them by Valerie Howard for the Parents Committee.

In Ontario from November 1969 to April 1970, 185 collisions were reported involving snow machines on the highways. It was reported in this issue of The Leader that two people had died in the Ottawa Valley as a result of breaking through the thin ice and drowning.

The chairman and members of the Cornwall Suburban Roads Commission announced the completion of the contract for the construction of Power Dam Drive from Highway 401 to Cornwall Centre. The .72 mile project was carried out by the Cornwall Gravel Company Limited, at a cost of approximately $76,000. The work included drainage grading, granular base and hot mix paving, as well as the erection of right-of-way fences and the installation of a large structural plate culvert over the south branch of the Raisin River. Since this was a project of the Suburban Road, the City of Cornwall and the United Counties each contributed 25 per cent towards the cost, and the Department of Highways Ontario, contributed the remaining 50 per cent.

Fred H. Broder, a 16-year veteran with municipal experience, and for the previous 13 years, was the Reeve of Morrisburg, retired on December 31. T. Rockley Parker resumed the position following the retirement of Broder. During his term in office, he had with him, good and not so good councillors, but always his steady hand had been at the helm. During his several terms in office he had the satisfaction of having seen considerable industrial development of the village. In 1948 he was selected to serve as warden of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengary, the highest office within the municipal field. Broder had previous careers as a banker, soldier, manufacturer, municipal politician, and he was planning to spend his retirement enjoying his leisure time.

The annual banquet of the Morrisburg Fish and Game Protective Association was held in St. Mary's Hall, Morrisburg on Monday, December 4. The first place winner with a 207 pound deer was Ray McIntosh of Williamsburg. A. Banford of Morrisburg won the game category with a three-pound, nine-ounce black duck. The fish winners were: Leonard Keck, Morrisburg, 9.25 pound perch; George Osler, Farran's Point, 8.4 pound pickerel; R. H. Armstrong, Morrisburg, 2.7 pound smallmouth bass; Jack Hill, Williamsburg, 4.4 pound largemouth bass; and Mike O'Malley of Morrisburg, 1.15 pound mudpout.

The Comrade Jessie Tomkins, District Zone Representative, presided over the December 1 meeting of the Morrisburg Ladies' Auxiliary, held at the Legion Hall. Installation of the 1951 officers was conducted at the meeting by Tomkins, with the assistance of Mrs. Allen Coburn, past Zone Representative. Among some of the newly elected committee members were; Mabel Vipond as President, Margaret Meyer as first vice-president, Rita Lough as second vice-president, Barbara Hart as secretary, Margherite Baker as treasurer, and Eva Seymour as standard bearer.

Miss Bonnie Louise Carson from Morrisburg was awarded the general proficiency prize by the Department of Health at the graduation of the Ontario Hospital School of Nursing which was held in Kingston on December 7. Among those from this district who graduated are Greta Lulu Hamilton, from Iroquois, Frances Dorothy Seabrooke from Richmond, Alda Maude McLean from Spencerville and Margaret Eleanor Rutherford from Smiths Falls.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Wiggins on December 12. Christmas carols were sung and a solo by Mrs. Epplett helped to give the meeting a real Christmas Spirit. Prayers for our missionaries were offered by Mrs. Blancher, Mrs. Playton, Mrs. Hillard and Mrs. Merrill. The ladies also carried out the theme of the meeting which was entitled "The World pays homeage to Christ."

Ontario Provincial Police officer, Constable R. A. McQuaig of the Prescott detachment, was called to investigate a disturbance at the Johnstown grain elevators, and he was allegedly attacked by two or three of the sailors aboard the cargo steamer Sioux. McQuaig suffered minor injuries in the scuffle. Fred Myers, Thomas Lee, and Jason Moodie were taken to the police station where they awaited trial on obstruction of a Police officer while in the line of duty.

A former Cornwall native, Frank MacLennan of Miami, Arizona, won the most highly prized honor of the mining world—the William Lawrence Saunders' gold medal. A banquet was to be held in February 1931 to present MacLennan with his award. He was employed at the Miami Copper Company in Arizona.

As a result of a collision with a freighter near Morrisburg, in which her hull was damaged, the steel barge Red Bird, carrying a cargo of corn, is lying on the bottom of the Rapide Du Plat Canal. In tow of a tug, the barge experienced difficulty in rounding a point near Morrisburg, it collided with the freighter and later sank in the canal west of the village.

The Lieutenant-Colonel Liberman Memorial Prize, consisting of the interest for 19 on $10,000 and awarded for the best work of the year in progressive discovery tending toward the advancement of radio, was awarded to Roy Weagant, consulting engineer of the Radio Corporation of America, for his discovery on the elimination of static interference. The prize was awarded for the first time to Leon F Fuller, chief engineer of the Federal Telegraph Company in 1919. A resident of Morrisburg, Weagant was educated at Stanstead College and McGill University. He studied physics under Sir Ernest Rutherford.

At A.H. Hunter in Morrisburg, one could by rice by the pound at 10 cents, tapioca by the pound at 14 cents, and Green Tea per pound from 45 to 60 cents. Coffee per pound was going at 60 cents, and for a large tin of tomatoes, the rate was 19 cents. All laundry soaps were priced at 10 cents a bar, and early June peas were marked at 20 cents.

Around the Town — Sam Laurin

The BIA co-ordinator, Wilf McCauley tells me that he is being kept very busy with people guessing just where the key to Santa's Toy Box really is. Wilf claims the key is hidden on public property, but he wouldn't tell me where. He did drop a hint about 1935 or 1936. Then he said, this week's clue should be a dead giveaway.

The South Dundas Christmas Exchange is now in full swing. Anyone wishing to drop off cheques, may do so at the Bank of Montreal, Morrisburg. Food items may be dropped off at Freshmart, Mr. Grocer or the Bank of Nova Scotia, Morrisburg. The public is asked to complete donations by December 19.

The Environmentally Friendly Christmas Workshop was cancelled Monday, but it has been re-scheduled for tonight, December 5, at 7 p.m. in the Resource Centre at Morrisburg.

Public skating! It's a nice thing for the kids to do on a Saturday night - right? This year, sons Josh and Matt have been over there skating about four times, and poor Josh has two broken arms to show for it. He just got his cast off his left arm a couple of weeks ago, and Saturday night, we were at the Winchester Hospital getting a cast put on his right arm. I think it's time to trade in his skates for skis.

Alistair Lee tells me that the play "The Hobbitt" which will be staged by the Senior Drama Class and School Band from Seaway is really worth attending. The play will be presented at Upper Canada Playhouse, on December 13, 14 and 15. There will be two matinee and two evening performances. Tickets are available at the door, or by calling 652-4878.

Santa Claus is coming to town next Saturday, December 15. The jolly old fella will be in the Morrisburg Village Plaza from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. with his candy canes for all the kids.

There is a children's Christmas party this Sunday at the Morrisburg Civic Centre from 2 to 4 p.m. The party is sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

All kids are again reminded of the Christmas Coloring Contest, sponsored by The Morrisburg Leader. You can find all the information on page 12 of this week's paper.

McDonell may be new SD&G Warden in 1991

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—If tradition holds true again this year, the current chairman of the Committee on Finances for County Council, Ron MacDonell will become County Warden for 1991.

County council has 37 reeves and deputy reeves representing the municipalities in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry.

Technically, any one of these municipal representatives could become warden.

"There could be a competition but as a rule there is not. The competition is three years before for chairman of the committee's social services," said clerk-treasurer for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, Ray Lapointe.

The position as chairman on this committee is customarily followed by a term as chairman of the Roads committee, then as chairman of the Committee on Finances.

Each chairmanship lasts a year.

MacDonell has been a member of county council since 1982 when he was first elected reeve of Lochiel Township.

He was acclaimed reeve for a second term, and is currently in his eighth year of the third term.

Previous to serving as reeve, MacDonell was municipal councillor since 1973.

In 1983, he was elected director of the Rural Ontario Municipal Association with the help of county council and Iroquois reeve Frank Rooney, also a director.

MacDonell was elected chairman of ROMA (Rural Municipalities of Ontario) in 1988 until February 1989. He is currently past chairman.

He also serves on the ROMA Insurance Board which serves over 300 municipalities in Ontario.

From 1983, he was representative for Lochiel Township on the Raisin River Conservation Authority until elected Chairman of ROMA in 1988.

Until April 1990, MacDonell and his wife Monique ran a dairy business on a 200-year old, 100-acre farm, located on McCormick Road a mile and a half east of the Town of Alexandria.

In April, the MacDonells sold the business, investing in beef and are now running a beef/cow/calf operation.

The MacDonells live on the farm with their youngest son, Darcy, a Grade Nine student. Their two grown children, son Wallace and daughter Sonia are employed outside the region.

Whoever is chosen as the new warden will replace the 1990 warden, Claude Cousineau of Winchester Township.

The new warden will start a one-year term after his inauguration December 17, at United Counties Council chamber in Cornwall.

The annual ritual of the tree trimming in the Iroquois took place last Wednesday. Scott Ficks is pictured stringing lights. He and Lyle Levere of the Iroquois Hydro figured it would take all day to complete. L. Day photo

Police speculate that the register hadn't been in the field more than one day and that it was recently used. At this point, where the cash register came from is unknown. If anyone has any information regarding the cash register, they are asked to contact the Morrisburg Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

R.I.D.E. programs will be set up intermittently in the Morrisburg area throughout the month of December. The project is a District initiative and police are reminding individuals that "no warnings are being given" regarding impaired persons driving.

1990 Festive R.I.D.E.

The number of fatal accidents involving alcohol investigated by the OPP has dropped from 51% in 1984 to 40% in 1989. While these figures are encouraging, the need for education and enforcement remains. More than 150 people have died in alcohol-related accidents this year.

Police credit the persistent efforts of community groups such as People to Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere (P.R.I.D.E.) and Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (O.S.A.I.D.) with helping to lessen the number of impaired drivers on Ontario roadways.

Education and enforcement go hand i hand in the endeavor to stop people who have consumed alcohol from getting behind the wheel.

The Ontario Provincial Police urges you to support the R.I.D.E. Program and the groups which attempt to combat drinking and driving. There is a need to strengthen the campaign during the month of December, a period when more people attempt to drive after drinking.

Get involved! Share your ideas. Help your neighbor and local police find ways to prevent drinking and driving.

By working together we can make this a safe and happy holiday season.

Just a Word

KIM TOSHACK

Snow. Well here it is December already, and we haven't yet had one single snowfall that colored the ground white for very long, including Monday's storm.

Now I'm not exactly a snow-lover; I hate driving in it, I detest shovelling the stuff and I can't stand bundling up to go outside; but if it's going to be cold out anyway, at least a little snow would perk up the scenery and put everyone in the mood for Christmas.

Even when snow has come our way in the last few years, it is nothing like it used to be.

I remember when I was about seven years old, my sisters, brother and I were awed by the amount of snow that fell. Why the snow banks used to be taller than us.

One time we actually built a tunnel under the snow across our front lawn. We could crawl right through from our neighbours driveway over to ours. It was great (although probably a little more than dangerous).

Doing such a thing these days in this area would be utterly impossible. How could you dig a tunnel through a mere foot of snow?

Another time, my siblings and I built a fort under a pine tree. The snow was so high it came up to the branches all around but left a hollow area underneath.

Now many people have proper, technical explanations on why the weather has changed so much, but I personally think it has a lot to do with global warming.

Whatever the reason, kids these days are missing out on a heck of a lot. It is getting increasingly harder to cross country ski, snowmobile, and even toboggan.

Snow is something which Canada is known for. People in Florida think that Canadians drive ski-doo's all of the time, live in igloos and eat raw fish.

Funny isn't it? If they only knew that slowly but surely winter in ceasing to exist for us. Just as it is something they only read about, making snow angels in the snow may be, in a few short years, a fairy tale to us as well.

Williamsburg Township Senior Citizens meet

Fifty-eight members and two visitors attended the November meeting on Tuesday, November 20.

Following the dinner, President Ruth Casselman opened the meeting with everyone singing O' Canada.

Mrs. Hilda Garlough was program convener, and introduced her guest speakers, Mr. Max Sabey and his wife Phyllis.

Mr. Sabey is a Regional Director of the Dundas Federation of Agriculture. He lives in Mountain Township and is a retired farmer and schoolteacher.

Mr. Sabey gave a very interesting talk on farming and some of his experiences and said that younger people should ask for, and take advice from older people who have already had a lifetime to learn things that they are now learning.

He also said that people should plan for their retirement. He was thanked by Ed. Thompson.

The business part of the meeting followed with the treasurer reporting a larger amount was raised at this year's bazaar than last year. A motion was passed to pay outstanding bills.

Plans were made for the Christmas dinner, after which the meeting was adjourned and cards were played.

Special Needs

Dear Friends:

I am writing to ask for your input and support in my attempt to acquire a C.H.S. Office in the region to aid Hearing Impaired Persons.

I am attempting to acquire an office in this region as I feel there is a great need in particular, to supply all persons requiring hearing aids with repair services opposed to having to send them away to be repaired. There is also a need for sign-language classes for anyone wishing to learn, possibly interpreting services in both English and French, and perhaps counselling services.

I really feel there is a need for these services in the region but without your input I cannot accomplish what I have set out to do.

If you are interested, please contact me:

Lions beat second place team

Westport aids Jr. B Lions in building confidence

LAURIE DAY
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—Friday night's game against Westport could prove to be the confidence-builder that the young Jr. B Lions' club needed, when they doubled up on the second place Rideau division team, 8-4.

The Lions were a little slow at the start, as Westport's Gabe Gaudet and Todd Gerow slipped two markers past Morrisburg's Daryl Keviaho.

John Morrow hit one for the home team, to end the first period, 2-1 in favor of the Rideaus.

The second period was highlighted with three penalties in a row for Morrisburg's Ernie Beckstead. His loss of composure on more than one occasion resulted in a game misconduct.

The Lions pulled together in the second, giving Westport something to think about as they came up with some good hits and defensive plays.

"We moved Jason Smith to defense," said assistant coach Ralph Luimes. "It proved to be very beneficial. He played a strong game defensively."

Smith usually played left wing, but as a defenseman he spearheaded a lot of plays, and the team capitalized on the opportunities to score.

Rob Domanko got things under way in the second for the Lions, as he scored to tie the game at two.

Gaudet counted his second of the night to put the Rideaus ahead, but it was short lived as Morrisburg's Smith fired one to count just 17 seconds later to tie the game once more.

It was Andrew McEwan who put the home team in front to stay with just under two minutes to play in the second period.

Westport's firing duo of Todd Mallette and Jeff Snow were held with tight reins in the third and final period, as they were throughout the game, as Morrisburg's defense proved too much for either one to gain a single point; however, it was Chris Thompson who scored the final goal for the visitors.

Morrisburg doubled the third-period scoring as they claimed the winner plus three more for added assurance.

Domanko found his third goal of the game, and Mike McAllister scored two goals, back-to-back.

Jamie Smith fired the final goal of the game off a pass from Domanko.

Forget out for four weeks

Michel Forget was innocently checked on Sunday night when the Lions traveled to Kemptville for a contest, and he suffered a separated shoulder. He will be out of commission for the next two to four weeks.

"I suspect he'll be out for the duration," said Lions' coach, Doug Casselman. "It looked pretty bad."

Kemptville had a tough time beating Morrisburg on Sunday, and they only did so by three. The final score was 5-2.

"They played very well, for a young team with not a lot of experience," said Casselman. "They out-played Kemptville, but the just couldn't get the puck in the net."

Kemptville was up 2-1 at the end of the first period.

Kevin Holmes and Kevin Tallman scored for Kemptville, while it was Jeremy Morrow for Morrisburg.

Holmes fired three more goals past Morrisburg's Jeff Hopkins.

"Hopkins did very well in the net," Casselman stated. "I've got to give these guys credit. There is no lack of effort on their parts. I think we're finally starting to get it together."

In the third period, Morrisburg's Jamie Smith was hit with a game misconduct which resulted in his suspension from this Friday night's game against Gananoque.

"With Forget and Smith gone, we're in need of a few bodies for Friday," said Casselman, "but we have enough for three full lines."

4-1 victory

Parkers Paints top Flyers

MORRISBURG—Parker's Paints finally emerged from the basement as they took two points in the win against the Flyers in town league hockey on Thursday night with a 4-1 victory.

The F-Team doubled up on the Blue team 8-4, and are now tied for first place with Charlie's Sport Shop.

In the last game of the night, it was Charlie's Bill Mullin with the hot stick as he fired four goals by the House of Carpets' net minder to pace his team in the 9-5 win.

Shapiro takes hat trick

Tom Shapiro led Parkers to their first victory of the season as he opened up on Flyers goalie, Pat Brugmans, just four minutes into the first period.

Shapiro hit for number two and three in the first period as well, and it was Dale Baldwin who finished up the scoring in the second.

Jim Whelan assisted on all four goals, and Baldwin picked up two as well.

It looked as though Parkers would not only pick up their first win, but perhaps a shut-out, but all hopes of that happening were destroyed, as Donald Black out manoeuvred Parkers' goalie Jeff Whittaker with only 39 seconds left to play.

Parkers spent 11 minutes in the box to the Flyers six minutes.

McNairn claims seven

Allen McNairn picked up three goals and four assists to maintain the lead in the scoring stats, and to keep the F-Team on top of league standings with the 8-4 win over the Blue team.

McNairn took charge with the first goal of the evening, with help from Andy Brown.

Tom Hodgson fired back for the Blue team. Bobby Jack Hart and Robert Jordan were credited with the assist.

Hart then counted one unassisted for the go-ahead goal, but it was short-lived, as Gary McInnis found the space past Blue's goalie, Marc Goupil, to tie the teams at two.

At the end of the first, McNairn counted the final goal of the period with only 54 seconds remaining to take the lead, 3-2.

It was Dale Gilmour who opened up the second-period scoring for the F-Team, off a Robin Adair/ McNairn play.

McInnis fired the second goal of the period off a pass from Gilmour.

Hart and Lloyd Well were credited with the final two goals for the Blues, and it was Hodgson and Jordan who claimed two assists apiece.

Adair fired two goals back-to-back for the F-Team, and McNairn counted the final marker in the 8-4 decision.

Mullin leads Charlie's

In the 9-5 win for Charlie's Sports Shop over the House of Carpets, it was Don Nesbitt who started things off for Charlie's.

Charlie's pumped in three goals before the House of Carpets could find their target.

Bob Deleavey and Barry McShane took the number two and three goals for Charlie's.

Fred Harper finally found the space behind Charlie's goalie, David Black, with some help from Barry VanAllen. His goal came at 9:33.

Bill Mullin returned the favor for Charlie's and Mike Laurin shot back for the House of Carpets, but Mullin hit once more in the first period with only seven seconds remaining, to end the period 6-2.

Jamie McIntosh was the first to count for the House of Carpets in the second period. Laurin and Tim Tuttle were credited with the assists on the play.

Don Fairweather scored for Charlie's in the second, on a play with Nesbitt and Deleavey.

Fred Osler picked up two goals as he finished up the scoring for the House of Carpets .

For added assurance, Mullin fired his third and fourth goals, while Ian Hooles claimed one in the 9-5 win for Charlie's Sports Shop.

MNR, anglers work on managing muskellunge

BROCKVILLE—The Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and local anglers are working together in new programs designed to manage St. Lawrence River muskellunge.

This fall members of the Outaouais Chapter of Muskies Canada and O.M.N.R. staff are angling in the waters of Lake St. Lawrence and the Middle Corridor in an effort to land mature muskellunge, fit them with small transmitters and track them to their spawning sites the next spring.

"This is part of a larger program to identify muskellunge spawning and nursery areas so we can protect these critical habitats from future alteration or destruction," said Paul MacMahon, St. Lawrence River Fisheries Management Unit Biologist.

"Next summer O.M.N.R. staff will return and survey these and other areas in hopes of identifying productive muskellunge nursery habitats," he continued. "This approach has been very successful in the Thousand Islands."

Last fall members of the Kingston Loyalists Sport Fishing Association tagged two muskellunge in the upper Thousand Islands and tracked them to two Wolfe Island bays the following spring.

O.M.N.R. staff surveyed both bays this summer and found a high concentration of young muskellunge in the Holiday Bay/Oak Point area of Wolfe Island. This summer's survey also found productive nursery areas in Halstead's Bay near Gananoque, in the Johnstown area near Prescott and at Morrison Island in Lake St. Lawrence.

Anglers are also helping the O.M.N.R. collect information this fall on the muskellunge fishery in the Forty Acres Shoal and Wolfe Island areas near Gananoque. The Ministry has been conducting a fall angler survey in these waters and several local guides and anglers have agreed to help by keeping a record of their fishing activity and catches.

"The traditional angler survey will give us information on muskellunge fishing effort and success rates but little information on the muskie caught or the anglers themselves," says Paul MacMahon.

"With the help of the guides and anglers we can get a better understanding of the size and age of muskellunge being caught and harvested, which in turn will help us better manage the fishery," he continued.

"For example, in 1991 the minimum size limit for muskellunge in the St. Lawrence River (Division 11) will increase to 44 inches. This new regulation will better protect muskellunge spawning stocks and should improve natural reproduction. With the information we get from this and future cooperative angler surveys we will be able to determine the success of this and other management strategies."

Steve Kerr, the Regional Fisheries Biologist for eastern Ontario summed up the program. "The St. Lawrence River was once world famous for consistently producing trophy muskellunge. With the help of local anglers, we are taking important steps to rehabilitate this valuable fishery."

Snowmobile course offered

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—On December 22, young snow enthusiasts in the area can join together and learn all there is to know about driving a snowmobile safely.

Taught by Wayne Gurnhill, the Snowmobile Drivers Training Course is again being offered in Morrisburg.

The course centres around safety, but also covers laws, good fellowship, survival techniques, ice conditions, chill factors, parts of the snowmobile and proper attire.

Open to anyone 12-16, or older without a drivers licence, the training course is being held Saturday, December 22 at 8 p.m. at Gurnhill's home on Lakeshore Drive.

Gurnhill says the course has been offered in this area for approximately five years, "but registration has been low due to poor snowmobile conditions."

"No one thinks about getting their snowmobile licence when there is no snow," he said.

Gurnhill became qualified to teach the course five years ago when he took an instructors course in Kemptville.

The day will last approximately six hours and a light lunch is provided.

Throughout the day, booklets and study material will be used and a test baring approximately 25 questions will be taken by those registered. A minimum percentage is required to receive the licence. There is no "hands on" training.

The licence received at the end of the day is through the Department of Transport and permits drivers to join snowmobile clubs, use parks, and be covered under liability insurance.

"The snowmobile licence gives you the same rights as a drivers' licence," Gurnhill said. "Drivers have to follow basically the same rules, and there is a fine for driving a snowmobile without one."

Any person who has a legal drivers' licence can drive a snowmobile. However, if the drivers' licence is suspended, it becomes illegal to drive a snowmobile as well.

Approximately 15 youths can be accepted into this years' program. Participants are required to fill out a registration form and pay a fee of $15.50. Although registration can be completed the day of the course, waiting is not preferred.

"The earlier the better," said Gurnhill.

For further information about the course or its location, contact Gurnhill during the evenings at 543-3668.

Autograph session Sunday for "Eliza's Best Wednesday"

MORRISBURG—An educational yet entertaining story lies between the handsome cover pages of "Eliza's Best Wednesday", written and illustrated by three local women.

The authors and illustrator of the book will be at the Village Store on Sunday, December 9 from 1 to 4 p.m. for an autograph signing session.

"Eliza's Best Wednesday" is published by Kids Can Press of Toronto and describes a special day in the life of a ten-year old girl.

Set in the year 1860, the book captures the excitement and celebration of a major 19th century community event, the annual agricultural exhibition.

Profusely illustrated and painstakingly researched, the book gives an accurate portrayal of Canada West in 1860.

The writers and illustrator have a strong connection with history and Upper Canada Village.

Louise Burchell of Spencerville is a teacher and has worked at Upper Canada Village for seven years as a museum educator.

She felt that there was a lack of good historical fiction for children between the ages of 8 and 12.

Catherine Lalonde of Ingleside worked at the Village for eleven years and now teaches Grade 7 and 8 history.

Carol Sargent has a Fine Arts and an Education degree from the University of Guelph. The Chesterville native also works at Upper Canada Village and is a practising artist exhibiting locally.

The Village Store is located at the entrance to Upper Canada Village and is open daily from 9.30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Visitors are invited to stroll through the wintery streets and enjoy the Village during the holiday season.

Tae Kwon Do attracts joiners for many reasons

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Golf, baseball and hockey are everyday sports to people of this area, but now there is something a little different...Tae Kwon Do.

Held in the old Morrisburg High School on the third floor, men, women and children can learn the art of the sport.

Dennis Haney, the instructor, first learned Tae Kwon Do in Ottawa for the simple fact that the sport interested him.

"I always wanted to learn it," he said.

After mastering the technique and achieving the top level, Haney went into competitions in Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa.

Now Haney teaches others the sport, which is a good way to stay fit, learn self-discipline, obtain confidence and meet new people.

"It's a good individual sport," Haney said. "You don't have to rely on anyone else, you just have to work at it to get to the level you desire."

The courses are offered year-round in Morrisburg and students pay on a month-to-month basis.

Classes are available for beginners working for their white belt, to the more advanced black belts.

Individual courses are offered for children from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday's and Thursday's; women from 7p.m. to 8 p.m. on the same nights; and adults from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

To begin with, individuals should wear track suits or loose clothing to the classes. Special shoes are unnecessary as Tae Kwon Do is done barefoot.

After being in the program for awhile, participants can purchase proper outfits if they choose to stick with the sport.

Up to 20 students make up a class, and if the individual desires, competitions are held in the area two or three times a year.

"We don't force people to go to the competitions, it's entirely their choice," said Haney. "We just want people to enjoy themselves."

Anyone wishing further information on the course or its prices, should contact Dennis Haney at 543-2700 during the evenings.

Interested persons may also go to the school on the evening of their choice at the time of their preferred class and register there, or just take a look at what's happening.

Tae Kwon Do--it's different, it's fun, it may be what you're looking for.

Celebrates 90th Birthday

Casselmans from far and near, as well as many other friends and relatives gathered at St. Peter's Church Hall, Williamsburg, on Sunday, December 2, 1990, to honor and extend good wishes to one of the clan's best-known members, Clifford Casselman, who was celebrating his 90th birthday.

In addition to the several hundred who made personal calls to extend felicitations, Cliff also received greetings from the Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, from Ontario Premier Bob Rae, and other federal and provincial representatives.

The Leader joins with his many other friends in extending best wishes for many more happy birthdays to our good neighbour in Williamsburg.

Winter road reports--police response "we don't know"

OPP Constable
Neil Fennell

Winter and all that it brings is just around the corner. For police forces that means a rash of early winter accidents and a flood of phone calls from people wanting to know road conditions a few miles up ahead or hundreds of miles away.

Well travellers, simply put "we don't know". There are no crystal balls in our detachments. Police officers must rely on the same time worn advice about what's up ahead as anyone else. We call the Ministry of Transportation Winter Road Reports Hotline.

Motorists, please understand police phone lines are for police emergencies only and not for road condition updates. Calls of that nature can and do prevent others who need police assistance from reaching us without delay.

With the introduction of the OPP Centralized Dispatch Service it is critically important that our limited phone lines not be monopolized by travellers inquiring about highways in the Toronto area, or anywhere else for that matter.

Commencing in early November, the MTO Winter Road Reports will be available for callers and those numbers will be advertised in local newspapers.

For motorists through eastern Ontario the following phone numbers will soon be in effect. The tape messages are available 24 hours a day.

1-800-267-0284 provides a regional update first and followed by a province-wide advisory. This number is available to anyone within the 613 area code.

For road condition advisories of a more regional nature, the following numbers will be available to call in November.

Ottawa (English)	613-745-7040
Ottawa (French)	613-745-4166
Pembroke	613-735-4186
Cornwall	613-933-4012
Brockville	613-345-3560
Kingston	613-544-2523
Belleville	613-962-3451
Peterborough	705-277-3333

Using the phone numbers provided by the Ministry of Transportation will go a long way to ensuring that accurate up to date information is available to you. Otherwise, a call to the police will hinder our effort to serve those people in immediate need of our held. Oh yes, our response to your question about the roads around Toronto will be "we don't know".

Hospital Board okays bed closing in December, March

WINCHESTER—At a November 27 meeting, the Board of Governors of Winchester Hospital ratified an agreement between the Hospital administration and the Medical staff respecting the closure of beds on the Ground Floor.

The Board approved the recommendation to close the Ground floor patient accommodation section in December, 1990 due to lower utilization and again in March, 1991 for renovations.

Renovations are expected to last a minimum of six to eight weeks.

The agreement reached represents a modification of an original decision in late October to close accommodations from December 1 through to April 1.

While the approval was not unanimous, Egan said that a majority of the Board of Governors voted in favor.

The agreement included a condition that if the hospital couldn't accommodate emergency admissions elsewhere within the building during the month of December, the ground floor would be reopened.

However when renovations expected are started in March, the hospital will not be reopening the ground floor for emergency admissions.

Six adult patients two children and staff have been relocated within the hospital, and the ground floor accommodation area is now vacant.

Egan said some asbestos has been found on the ground floor in the area slated for renovations.

The asbestos which is to be removed is located in pipe elbows and mechanical piping and vents.

"It's in the new areas, and there's no saturation with asbestos," he said.

Egan added he didn't believe the presence of asbestos would alter the costs or increase substantially the time of renovations.

New Deputy Chair

TORONTO—Noble Villeneuve, Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville MPP, has been appointed by the Ontario Legislature to the position of Second Deputy Chair of the Committee of the Whole House.

The unanimously endorsed motion means that Villeneuve will share in the job of chairing sessions of the Legislature with the Speaker, Deputy Speaker and First Deputy Chair.

In the new Parliament, the Speaker and First Deputy represent the New Democratic Party, the Deputy Speaker, if from the Official Opposition, and Mr. Villeneuve represents the Conservatives.

The appointment does not affect Mr. Villeneuves existing critic duties with his party: "When I am not in the Chair, I'll still be on my feet demanding action and voicing the concerns of farmers across Ontario and of the people who elected me. I'm certainly grateful for the confidence that my colleagues from all parties have expressed in me, and I hope that I will be able to adjust quickly to the extra workload at Queen's Park."

Arrangements have already been made to have Villeneuve measured for the traditional dress worn when in the chair.

What every tenant and landlord should know about Ontario's rent control plans.

The Ontario government plans to replace the current rent review system with rent control.

There will be full public consultation on this new system of rent control with tenants, landlords, municipalities and interested groups and individuals throughout Ontario.

Meanwhile, the Ministry of Housing has introduced legislation which will limit rent increases while the government develops a new system of rent control.

This is a temporary measure. It will limit most rent increases to the guideline of 4.6% for 1990 and 5.4% for 1991. It will apply from October 1, 1990.

The changes are not yet law in Ontario and further information will be publicized as it becomes available.

If you have any questions regarding the Ministry's new rent control plans, please call toll-free 1-800-461-6767 or contact your local Rent Review Office listed below.

GST?

THIS WEEK YOU ASKED THE GST CONSUMER INFORMATION OFFICE.

Q: I'm thinking of buying a new car in 1991. How will the proposed GST affect prices?

A: The outgoing Federal Sales Tax (FST) is now part of the price of new cars. So, while they will be fully taxed at 7% in 1991, the expected effect of replacing the FST with the GST on the average $22,000 mid-size car is a reduction of around $850.

Q: My son has figured out it will cost $500 in lumber to build a dock at our cottage if he bought it now. How much will that lumber cost with the proposed GST?

A: You can expect to pay about $512 for that same amount of lumber for personal use based solely on the changeover from the FST to the GST.

Q: I know the proposed GST won't apply to city bus fares but I take the commuter train to work. Will I have to pay GST?

A: No. Daily commuter trains are considered a municipal transit service, so fares are exempt from GST.

We're here to answer your questions about how the GST will affect prices. Call us toll-free Monday to Friday 9am-9pm. Ask for your free copy of the "Consumer's Guide to the GST and Prices."

The answer is to call your GST Consumer Information Office.
