Routine Marks Council Meeting For February Inspector Hunter Advises On Police Duties

The February meeting of Chesterville Council found all the members present, with Reeve McMillan in the chair. The first item of business concerned the policing of the village. Inspector Hunter of Cornwall was present to explain, for council's benefit, the duties of the Provincial Constable stationed in he village and to acquaint council with the necessary equipment to be supplied by the town to abide by the Police Act The council must provide a suitable office for Constable Tait and it was pointed out that this could be done at small cost to the village by converting part of the old town hall into suitable quarters. It was pointed out by the Inspector that a private office was needed by a police officer for the safekeeping of his files and records and for the transaction of business, much of it, of a necessity, of a private nature. Council will equip the office as the Attorney-General directs.

Inspector Hunter was of the opinion that a car was not necessary in the municipality for the use of the police officer. It was pointed out that the duties of the constable kept him within the limits of the town and if police help was needed out of the village, it was up to the interested parties to get in touch with the Provincial Constable in Morrisburg who was on county duty.

Fire Chief Morris and two of his crew men waited on council to discuss fire protection in the village. Mr. Morris was of the opinion that a different system of signalling might be more practical to the village, but time did not permit full discussion of the question. It was decided to have a special meeting called to take up in more detail the problems of the fire department.

One matter of the fire department that did come up for heated discussion was the stupid and dangerous prank of some irresponsible person who phoned in a false fire alarm to the Nestlé's plant on Tuesday night of last week. An investigation is under way to find the culprit, and stern measures will be taken to see that such an incident will not occur again. It was stressed at the council meeting that the person phoning in the fire alarm must give his or her name to the person taking the call at 330. If there is time it is also wise to give the Chief a call at 205 so that the equipment will arrive at the scene of the blaze with the least delay.

A letter was read from the W.I. asking for consideration of council to allowing the Teen Town people to have the Community Hall on each Wednesday night. After some discussion it was decided to allow the group that consideration.

In the line of upkeep of the Community Auditorium, the fact was noted that the chairs were in poor condition and not improving with use. Pros and cons had a play trying to decide if it was feasible to charge a small rental for the use of the chairs to people who wish to use them outside of the hall. The final decision was to charge a small rental of 10c a chair for a night's use. In that way it was hoped that some of the repairs would be met by the users.

In the Hydro meeting that followed council, the most important item that was noted was the low surplus of the year of $360. That was to be expected as the local commission has had several heavy commitments in the past year.

Insurance Salesman Caught Up With, Fined $222

Our attention has been called to an item appearing in the periodical, "Canadian Insurance" for January, 1949. Under a heading "American Farmers of Arizona" Salesman Caught, the article goes on to say that one, O. A. Noel Magnusson of Petrolia, Ont., has been apprehended and sentenced for selling insurance for an American company without a license and for selling insurance for an American company that was not registered under the Ontario Insurance Act. He was sentenced to a fine on eight charges of $222. or eight months in jail.

Mr. Magnusson appears to have had a few alias's one of which was Jackson. Under that name he sold quite a number of policies in this neighbourhood. We made comment in these pages some time ago that the policies sold by the bogus Jackson seemed to be under suspicion.

Secretary Entertains Grantley Women's Assn

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Wilburn Robinson opened her home to the ladies of the W.A. with Mrs. Frank Darling in charge of the programme.

The President, Mrs. Jas. McMillan, opened the meeting with the hymn "Happy the home when God is there" and repeating the Creed in unison.

Mrs. Glen McMillan gave the Scripture reading and prayer while Mrs. Darling gave a splendid paper on the meeting's topic "The home and religion," assisted by Mrs. S. B Casselman who read from the January 15th Outlook, "The wife who kept her place". Mrs. Beach read the poem "Mother, the spire of our church."

Fourteen members answered roll call with a favorite flavoring. There were also eight visitors.

Mrs. Beach was made Honorary President of the W.A.

Mrs. James McMillan thanked the members for their sympathy following the death of her mother, Mrs. Shaver. A thank-you card was read from Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham for a sunshine box and the guests sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Frank Darling.

Mrs. M A. Robinson read "The Beautiful Life" and Mrs. Gordon "Wreath Around My Heart." A contest on words with the prefix "mis" was won by Mrs. Beach.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

The March meeting will be at Mrs. Ernest Beckstead.

"Citizenship and the World" Title of Rotary Talk

The assistant principal of the Chesterville Public School, Mr. Hosea Droppo addressed the Rotary club at its weekly meeting Monday night in the Library of the Community Hall. Mr. Droppo was introduced by P. J. Gilroy and thanked by A. A. Acheson. President F. M. Cass was in the chair.

Mr. Droppo in his opening remarks pointed out how the teaching of the youth affected the future of that person. With apt quotations from the works of the literary masters, the speaker illustrated his points as he developed his theme of "Citizenship and the World".

In conclusion, the listeners were shown that it was imperative that examples be made of good living amongst ourselves if our way of life was to remain. The principles of democratic government and free teachings would have to be with us if the empire in which we live was to remain a force for good in the world.

THE LATE JAMES O'NEILL

Mr. O'Neill passed away at a London, Ontario, hospital, while visiting his brother Harry and family near London. Three days after his arrival there he was taken ill and passed away Saturday, February 5th.

The remains were taken to the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Masterson at Greenfield, and the funeral mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Church in Chesterville, on Tuesday, February 8.

He was the son of the late Mr. Leon O'Neill and Mrs. O'Neill. To the mother, sisters and brothers goes out heartfelt sympathy of their many friends.

Milk Producers Annual In Ottawa Officers Chosen

The annual meeting of the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers Association was held in Ottawa on Wednesday of this week. This was the first time that the annual meeting has been held in Eastern Ontario and the executive is unanimous in the opinion that it was one of the best ever. Briming with enthusiasm and interest, the members felt that much has been accomplished in the work of the Association. In the evening the annual banquet was addressed by the Right Honourable James G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture.

A local man, C. Allison Graham was re-elected to the provincial board as first vice-president The president is Frank Way, second vice-president, J. Jenkins, directors are C. Dance, G. Lowrey, W. Honey, Chas. McInnes.

During the meeting of the afternoon, the speakers included Dr. Hope, an economist of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and Mr. Goodwillie, chairman of the Dairy Products Board. The president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada also addressed the meeting.

Mr. Gardiner spoke on the future of the dairy industry in Canada. In the course of his remarks he stressed the wonderful comeback that Britain is making and that she is still Canada's best market for agricultural goods. Regardless of adverse criticisms that are leveled at her economic policies on occasion, it is still good business to maintain the excellent friendships that exist between Canada and the Mother Country.

Several carloads of members attended from Chesterville.

"Moxostoma Rubresque Hubbs" Plentiful Sucker, Redfin, That Is, To A Fisherman

We have spent an interesting time looking through the pages of the Interim Report of the South Nation Valley and in the section entitled "Fish" many amazing names have popped out. The survey that was made in 1947 and 1948 revealed a wealth of fish in the old stream that surprises. For example, did you know that up to 19,000 lbs. of ameiurus nebulosus have been caught in one year? Now here in Chesterville, Ray Cass caught one of them that weighed one pound and some ounces. That's right, a mud pout goes under that tongue twister when he meets up with a biologist Then there is a good supply of stizostedion vitreum. They are good to eat, good to catch and if we caught one we would label it pickerel. The river has a multitude of different fish.. They range from the logy sturgeon that is caught near Plantagenet to the muskie of the Casselman area, up to the common cat-fish all along the river. We recognize a lot of the names. We are doubtful about many, but would some one describe to us a "tadpole madtom?"

FALSE FIRE ALARMS

The second false fire alarm in the past two weeks was blown Tuesday night after a call had been made to the local Nestlé's plant at about 8.30. In our news report of the February meeting of the village council on another page of the Record the feelings of the councillors and fire chief are expressed.

The person or persons with the perverted sense of humour, who is responsible for these alarms, must be apprehended and punished as soon as is humanly possible Our village has a very efficient volunteer fire brigade under the leadership of Mr. Syd Morris and their enthusiasm and willingness is a thing to be admired in a volunteer force. But for them to be needlessly called out in bitter weather to answer false alarms is putting a large strain on the spirit that prompted them to offering their services as firemen. The equipment suffers every time the truck is called out and the hose that is unrolled to the door of the so-called fire must be manhandled back to the truck, taken to the fire hall and dried in readiness for the next call. The firemen are paid a nominal amount by the village council each time they answer a call and the cost pyramids each time a false alarm is answered. The sum of it all is that the false alarms must stop. The way to do it is not for this paper to say; that must be worked out by council and the fire brigade. It has been suggested that some member of the fire brigade be made responsible for the fire calls and he will call for the factory whistle but that is only one of many solutions offered.

The special meeting agreed upon by the city fathers and the fire brigade should be called immediately. In the meantime the bill for fire calls is mounting and the public is beginning to question the validity of the signals.

WHEREVER YOU LOOK IT'S YOU

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

The fixed conviction that government is an entity distinct from ourselves and that everything it provides for us is pure gain is blood-brother of another belief equally distorted. This is the conviction that industry pays the wages and therefore the more we get the more we spectators benefit.

These assumptions result in a limitless series of conflicting demands. We want lower taxes but, with this, all manner of increased social benefits. We want higher wages and lower commodity prices. We want more goods, but expect to work fewer hours in their production. We want a larger industry to provide more jobs and the surpluses for export on which our prosperity rests. but we want to withdraw the incentive of profit on which the life of industry depends. We want less bureaucracy, but we want government to control prices and employment and business practices. We want freedom and opportunity but with it a cradle to the grave security provided by someone else.

It isn't wholly our fault. Individuals and parties and governments have urged us to accept the promise of economic miracles. Many of us have accepted happily without asking how and when the promises will be made good This ready acceptance of a delusion springs from this other delusion that governments or industry can find money for these benefits from sources entirely unrelated to us as individuals.

Let's look at it this way. The bank where you have a deposit, or the insurance company that protects your life or property invests your deposits and remiums, say in an enterprise that turns steel into motor cars, so giving the steel a larger value. Out of this added value, earned by your deposits and premiums, comes the money to pay your interest, to pay your insurance benefits if you die, or house burns, or you get into a motor accident, and to pay the bank or insurance company for looking after your affairs. It isn't a miracle. It's just your money put to work. Now, if you demand of industry more than it can provide — more wages, less work-hours, lower prices — it is possible to wipe out the advantage — the profit — of turning steel into motor cars. Then the system stops working. When that happens you have no banks and no insurance companies or any industries to provide jobs and wages. Business is you, and industry is you, and government is you. There is no other source of income but you. So, what you demand, you must pay for When we get that straight it will be easier for us to decide just what benefits and privileges we really are ready to buy.

PROFIT-SHARING

Before we get ourselves unduly excited over how little our dollar will do for us these days, mightn't it be worth reflecting on how little we will do for our dollar? Before we worry too much about profits we might think of putting our backs into our effort a little bit more. If, say, we made our dollar worth ten cents more, as we could easily do, we would gain as much as if we divided among us every dollar distributed in dividends and more than half as much again.

We Can All Understand This

'Tis the night before payday
And all through my jeans,
I've hunted in vain for the
Ways and the means.
Not a quarter is stirring,
Not even a bit.
The greenbacks have left me,
The pennies have quit.
Forward, turn forward,
O time in thy flight,
And make it tommorow
Just for tonight.

All parts which fail to meet Chrysler engineering specifications are replaced with NEW factory-engineered parts.

All engines have NEW crankshafts—there is no regrinding. Very different from the usual "re-built" engine.

Special Chrysler production-type gauges check tolerances of new and used parts as closely as one ten-thousandth of an inch.

All engines, when remanufactured, are dynamometer-tested to the same standards as those applied to NEW Chrysler-built engines.

Fire Destroys Barn and Stock In Winchester Village

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn of Orval Coughler in Winchester. Sunday night, most of his stock, and all his feed and grain.

Discovering the fire at 10.30, Mr. Coughler rushed into the flaming frame building and was able to untie and remove sir cows before he was driven out with burned hands and face.

Three horses, four cows. four heifers, and five pigs perished in the blaze.

Neighbors hurried to Mr. Coughler's aid, forming a bucket brigade from the well. Chemical equipment from the Winchester Fire Department under Chief Gilbert Raistrick, was brought out, and the firefighters were able to save an adjacent henhouse, containing 100 fowl, but the 40-foot square barn was burned to the ground.

Damage was estimated at $3,000. It is believed Mr. Coughler will not be able to continue to operate his farm.

Mr. Coughler discovered the fire about 10.30. He had not been to the barn since he finished milking at 6.30, and could not account for the source of the blaze.

Church News

MOREWOOD UNITED CHURCH

The services at Morewood United Church were conducted on Sunday by the Minister The text of the morning sermon was "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder," Matt. 19,6. In the course of the sermon it was pointed out that Mixed Marriage has many pitfalls. A Roman Catholic interprets marriage as a sacrament of his church and is taught that a Catholic can be validly married only before a Roman Priest. A marriage before a Protestant minister in which one party is a Roman Catholic is invalid. it is only an attempted marriage and is not recognized by the church of Rome. In the Province of Quebec marriages have been annulled for no other reason than that they were not performed by a Catholic Priest, despite the ruling of the Privy Council that a mixed marriage by a Protestant minister is valid. Pope Pius XI in his encyclical letter "Casti Connubii" says: "Everywhere and with greatest strictness the church forbids the marriage between baptized persons. one of whom is a Catholic and the other a member of a schismatical or heritical sect." Such marriages however are permitted provided that the non-Catholic party takes a course of instruction from a Catholic priest, promises not to hinder the Catholic party in the practice of religion. signs a document that all children of the marriage will be brought up and educated in the Catholic religion, and that the marriage shall take place only according to the rite of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Protestant view of marriage is different. Though a sacred thing, marriage to the Protestant is not a sacrament. There is no evidence in the New Testament that Christ ever instituted the teaching that Marriage is a Christian sacrament. Rather it is an honourable estate, ordained of God unto the fulfilling and perfecting of love of man and woman. In the matter of validity Protestants are content to abide by the Law of the Land.

The solo was rendered by James Shaw and entitled "Thou Art Nigh". Miss Ellice Smith was at the organ.

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning to Make Plastics

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, as in the pictures shown here, every effort of Ontario's newly-skilled plastics workers will mean better plastic products — will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

THE BREWING INDUSTRY (ONTARIO)

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy — that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.

Bell Telephone Presents Interesting Facts In Annual Statement

In another year of record expansion, The Bell Telephone Company of Canada added 149,000 telephones to its system in Ontario and Quebec, an increase of 11 per cent over the 1947 figure, according to the company's annual report for 1948.

The increase was reflected in rural areas by the higher percentage rural households now with telephone service—60 per cent, compared to 55 per cent at the end of 1947, and 39 per cent in 1945.

Throughout the company's territory there were 1,456,000 telephones in service at December 31, 1948, which is nearly double the 1947 total. Nevertheless, demand was still heavy, and at the year's end, 85,000 applications for service remained unfilled. At the close of 1947, there were on hand 94,000 applications for service and 78,000 of these were cleared during 1948.

The report notes that in spite of record demand and growth, and the resulting strain on expanding facilities, progress was made towards improved standards of service.

Expansion and improvement of facilities were accelerated, with new construction expenditures totaling $75,000,000—40 per cent more than in 1947. Total plant investment reached $397,000,000 at the end of the year.

Telephone traffic was handled in record volume with local calls increasing by 247,000,000, or nine per cent over 1947, and long distance messages by 7,500,000 or 13 per cent.

Total payroll increased from $45,000,000 to $52,000,000, an increase of 16 per cent above 1947. The number of employees totalled 25,721 at the year's end, more than double the figure at the end of 1943.

A new high level was reached in total revenue which amounted to $97,498,652, which is $11,052,552 or 13 per cent more than the previous year, but operating expenses increased to $73,261,208, a rise of 16 per cent over 1947. Taxes totalled $9,239,000, equivalent to $1.81 for each share of capital stock, or $6.69 for each telephone in service. Net income was $10,576,574, or $2.08 per share of $25 par value, as compared to $9,701,652, or $2.20 per $25 par value share in 1947.

The number of shareholders increased in 1948 by 4,450 of whom 2,374 have been added since the subdivision of the stock from shares of $100 par value to shares of $25 par value in October, and now shareholders total 38,889, largest on record. Canadians comprise 96.1 per cent of this number, and own 80.7 per cent of the shares.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! When such occasions as Valentine's Day fall on a weekday you have to consider how much time there'll be to prepare a lunch for a party after school or office hours. We suggest a buffet supper as the easiest, simplest and most informal way to entertain upon such occasions, especially when the house is small. Besides, everybody likes helping themselves from a buffet table and then wandering around until they find a place at a bridge table with a partner of their own choosing.

The food too is simple—just one hot dish, preferably something in a casserole that's easy to serve, or you may have a platter of cold cuts and then have scalloped or creamed potatoes as the hot dish. Include a bowl of crisp salad, a tray of hot rolls or biscuits, tarts and coffee for a menu that can be prepared well in advance and one which takes little time to clean up afterwards.

To keep the heart-shape theme you may make red raspberry ice cream or cake decorated with red arrows or heart-shaped cookies to serve as dessert

For the casserole dish, it may be creamed chicken, Spanish rice with tomatoes, Eggs Thermidor or Supper Meat Pie. Choose the dish you know you can prepare best.

Cold cuts can be made up during the weekend. Jellied tongue or chopped veal with tomatoes, or baked salmon loaf.

Make the salad greens of finely shredded cabbage, grated carrot, chopped nuts and drained crushed pineapple tossed together in a bowl and place a dish of dressing and bottle of French dressing on the table.

Arrange the food on one long table with stacked plates, rows of silver and napkins in convenient order so that guests can serve themselves without confusion. Then if you have card tables or sections of your nest of tables set around the room all they have to do is meander over and sit down. Coffee can be served from the kitchen or the cups and saucers arranged at one end of the buffet table. It is a matter of convenience and service.

SPANISH RICE WITH TOMATOES

¾ cup rice
4 tablespoons chopped onion
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
Grated (sharp) cheese
3 tablespoons margarine
4 tablespoons green pepper or chopped celery

EGGS THERMIDOR

Hard cooked eggs, sliced bread
Thermidor sauce

Bring a small amount of water and 1 tablespoon salt to a boil. Add eggs (1 per person) and cover. Cook on covered electric element on "off" position 12 minutes. Cool quickly. Slice bread about 1 inch thick, as many slices as eggs. Using a doughnut cutter, press into rings. Arrange these on a broad, shallow pan. Into each ring, nest a peeled egg, large end down. Pour thermidor sauce over all. Heat in electric oven at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

Thermidor Sauce

2 small onions (chopped), 2 green peppers (or 1 cup celery, chopped), ½ cup margarine or butter, 1 cup chili sauce, 1 cup catsup and 1 pint cream Saute onion and celery in fat, add remaining ingredients. Cook 5 minutes.

SUPPER MEAT PIE

4 tablespoons chopped onion
1 pound ground beef
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon bacon dripping
1 can tomato soup
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Cook onion in butter until soft. Add beef and cook until brown. Blend in soup, add salt and pepper, mix well. Line a 9-inch pie plate with pastry, moistening edges with cold water. Fill with meat mixture, cover with top crust, press crust together in fluted design. Bake in moderate hot electric oven of 375 degrees for 1 hour—along with scalloped potatoes. Serves about 8.

VALENTINE CAKE

1 cup sifted cake flour
3 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup hot strong coffee
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons shortening

Combine sifted flour with baking powder and salt and sift three times. Combine beaten eggs, sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add shortening to hot coffee. When melted, stir mixture into beaten eggs and sugar. Fold in flour gradually. Bake in shallow greased pan for 45 minutes in preheated electric oven of 350 degrees. Invert on cake cooler and when cool remove from pan and decorate with frosting and heart-shaped candies.
