Chesterville Fish and Game Association Holds Annual Meeting On Tuesday Night

The annual meeting of the Chesterville Fish and Game Association was held in the Auditorium of the Community Hall last Tuesday evening. A small but enthusiastic group of members heard the reports of the year's work and took part in the discussions that followed. On a motion that was accepted unanimously the same executive was re-appointed for the year 1949-50.

It was decided to open some new classifications for fish in the prize lists, and these were to be for speckled, red and brown trout, and yellow perch. It was stressed again that members bringing in applications for the contests should be most careful and make a full report on their application in the matter of length, girth and weight of the fish. The same rules as last year govern this year's contests. There will be a prize again for the largest mud pout caught by a youngster under 16 in the Nation River. It is hoped that more applications will be received in all the classes this year.

Inspector Royal Baker and Game overseer Wm. McConnell were present. When the question of river pollution came up it was pointed out by Mr. Baker that the Nestlé's plant had had its last warning. Mr. Werner of the Department of Lands and Forests and chief of the Fisheries Division had made it quite clear last September to the plant manager. Mr. Bovet, that if the pollution carrying sewer water was not controlled by the time of low water this year, necessary legal steps would be taken to control the situation. It was pointed out that the usual stream of milk-laden water is marking the river below the sewer now with the level of the river dropping. The Association hopes to be able to report real benefit from their efforts in this respect shortly.

TWO IN A MILLION

A million and a half people were walking the streets of New York last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Raeburn of Carleton Place, were there, returning home from Bermuda, after a pleasant holiday. Wyda Maloley now of Ottawa, was in New York for the Easter Parade. Chesterville people always meet their friends, no matter where they are, so the Raeburns and Wyda met on Broadway and passed the time of day.

Clean-Up Day For Town April 27th

Probably the majority of citizens already realize that Wednesday, April 27th, has been declared an 'old-fashioned clean-up day' for the village of Chesterville. The Village Council has already issued a Proclamation to that effect and the Horticultural Society now appeals to the citizens to co-operate in every way possible to make the project worthwhile. Committees to oversee the work have been appointed and are already planning their work. P. J. Gilroy will be in charge of the South side of the river, while Geo. Barkley will direct the work on the North side. The school children will be on hand for the afternoon to lighten the labour for the adults.

If each land-owner would make a point of seeing that his property is cleaned up before Wednesday, it would speed-up and facilitate the job of cleaning the streets.

This is your town. It is your duty and it should be in your interest to support any effort being made to improve the town. Don't fail us.

IT CAN STRIKE YOU BUT YOU CAN STRICK BACK

To most of us the word cancer is fearsome. Those who know much about the disease are no longer afraid. They are not afraid because they know that many types of cancer can be controlled or cured if detected and treated immediately by radium, X-ray or surgery.

Doctors don't know what causes cancer, or who may develop it, but thousands of scientists all over the world are working to find the cause and the cure. They need help and they need money if they are to forward the fight against the enemy.

Funds are required for research, extension of diagnostic and treatment facilities, educational work, and service to cancer patients, and to raise these funds the Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society is conducting a campaign during the month of April. The objective of the campaign is to raise $500,000 to carry on this humanitarian work among the people of our Province.

Part of the money collected will be used to further cancer research work . . . part of it will be spent to provide help for those who now have cancer . . . part will go towards carrying on the broad educational campaign on cancer, to alert more of us against the killer in our midst.

Cancer is to a great extent a community problem because, while it is not a contagious, infectious disease, it is no respecter of age, race or sex. It strikes young and old, rich and poor alike. It is up to everyone to protect their home, their friends and their neighbours by giving generously to conquer cancer. The trend during the month of April is towards generous giving. Contributions may be sent to the nearest cancer unit or mailed direct to Ontario Headquarters, Post Office Box 459, Toronto.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY INSTALS 1,500,000th SET

Somewhere in Ontario and Quebec on April 14th, the 1,500,000th Bell telephone was added to the growing system within the two provinces.

Reviewing the growth of the Bell facilities in the postwar period, half a million telephones have gone into service since the beginning of 1945, which is equal to the increase for the 21-year period from 1923 to 1944. The million and a quarter mark was reached in August, 1947, and installation has proceeded at a record pace ever since. Each month 12,000 new telephones are being installed to meet the continuing high demand. In the first three months of this year the system has added 37,000 telephones. The backlog of applications for service remains high with 82,800 waiting in Ontario and Quebec.

Letters to The Editor

PLANS FOR RECREATION

The Editor, Chesterville Record:

There will be a meeting in the Community Hall on Monday night, April 25th, at 8 p.m. when all interested persons and citizens are invited to be present. It is hoped that Clergymen, school teachers, members of the Chamber of Commerce, Agricultural Organizations, Farm Forum, W.I., Rotary, Red Cross, Legion, Union, Council, Church group and Teen Town will be present when Mr. W. G. Garbutt of Merrickville, will address the meeting on "Recreational Plans for the Community." Due to the tempo of modern life and the increased leisure incumbent upon shortened hours of labour, organized recreation is becoming imperative. Many older people say "We were entertained at home". Homes were bigger then, there was no housing shortage and life more simple, it was not necessary to pawn the family silver to find the money to cover the cost of entertaining. George Bernard Shaw, upon seeing a young man the worse for liquor, said that he was so sorry, because the young chap had not been taught to spend his leisure.

We definitely are our brother's keeper and it behoves us to take seriously this matter of providing for the members of our community organized recreation and hobbies. Adults, Teen Agers and even tiny tots could be included in such a plan. People working together are happy people, let's all pull together, unite all the little groups and have as our motto "All for Chesterville". Chesterville, First, Last and Always. Come out on Monday night. Ask Mr. Garbutt your questions. You will be welcome.

An Interested Party.

MOTORIST'S PRAYER

GRANT me a steady hand and watchful eye,
That no man shall be hurt when I pass by.

Thou gavest life, and pray no act of mine
May take away or mar that gift of Thine.

Shelter those, dear Lord, who bear me company
From the evils of fire and all calamity;

Teach me to use my car for other's need,
Nor miss through love of speed
The beauty of Thy world; that thus I may
With joy and courtesy go my way."

We've done a lot of growing—

especially in the last four years

WE'VE PASSED another milestone in telephone history—in Ontario and Quebec we now have 1½ million telephones. Of these, 500,000 were added in the last four years. That's more telephones than we installed in our first 40 years!

And as we have grown, service has grown better. Your calls go through quickly, clearly. You can always count on your telephone. Yet up to now, despite rising costs on all sides, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago. Few things give you so much real value at such low cost as your telephone.

We've broken all records—but there are still orders we haven't been able to fill. We will keep right on working and building to make your telephone service a bigger bargain than ever—to continue to provide more and better service at the lowest possible cost.

SOAP ECONOMY

Did you know that soap which has been stored for a while will last longer than fresh soap. Buy your toilet and laundry bars well in advance and remove the wrapping so that air can get to it.

Keep a large jar in your bathroom cupboard for all scraps of toilet soap. That flat sliver of soap that escapes the hand and usually gets tossed out will make an excellent bath soap. When enough odds and ends have accumulated, melt them in the top of a double boiler with just a little water. Heat until the soap dissolves, perfume with a few drops of oil of lavender, and pour into small muffin tins to harden. Let the cakes dry for a couple of weeks, and you will have three or four small cakes of very usable bath soap

To save soap chips, some housekeepers take them from the cardboard box and place in widemouthed jars. With a spoon or coffee scoop, you can soon gauge exactly what you need. Other homemakers find that holes punched in the lid of a widemouthed jar top allow just enough soap granules through.

According to one expert housekeeper, laundry soap made into jelly and reinforced with cleansing agents not only reduces the amount of soap needed but gives a cleaner wash on the line. Best jelly making method is to slice a bar of laundry soap into three cups of hot water. Heat till the soap is dissolved, then add two tablespoons borax, one tablespoon vinegar and ½ tablespoon kerosene. For the average tubful of clothes, use one cup of soap jelly. Soap chips jellied in the same way also go farther and make clothes snowy white.

Hog Breeders Meeting Held at Winchester Thursday Last

Increased preventative measures by the Ontario Department of Agriculture in diseases of swine were advocated by E. Rintoul, vice-president of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association in an address in Winchester Thursday night.

He was speaking to members of the Dundas County Breeders' Club at the annual meeting held in the Town Hall.

Mr. Rintoul said there had not been enough research conducted into diseases of swine. Herbert W. Graham of Morrisburg, county agricultural representative, felt the Ontario Agricultural College would listen sympathetically to any representations from hog producers along these lines.

Mr. Rintoul said hog raising in Ontario was a $100,000,000 business, and while Dundas shared in this amount only to the extent of $1,000,000, the grade and quality of Dundas hogs was high.

Charles McInnis, president of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association told the meeting "we are now in a position to enforce all of the regulations with regard to marketing of our hogs". A recent Federal act had extended the powers of the association so that it could follow and control marketing even to foreign markets.

Mr. McGinnis, who has been president of the Dundas County Club since its organization five years ago, asked leave to retire as the pressure of business on the provincial body was taking more and more of his time.

William Graham of South Mountain, leading hog producer of the county, and co-operator under supervision of the association, said that the cost of production during 1948 had been $33 per 200-pound pig which gave a profit of about $10 per animal. This profit was necessary to maintain the business in a healthy condition.

Officers elected for 1949 are: president, Herbert Gibson, Winchester; vice-president, John Barrett, Winchester; secretary-treasurer, Merrill Allen, Mountain; diectors, Winchester township: Willard Baker, Winchester; Williamsburg township: George Hill Williamsburg; Graham Wells, Williamsburg; Matilda township: John Wells, Williamsburg; Orval Seeley, Iroquois; Mountain township: William Graham and J. M. Harper both of South Mountain; auditors: H. W. Graham Morrisburg; F. Erle Helmer, Winchester.

THESE MODERN APES

When two orang-outangs, flying from Singapore to the U.S.A., arrived at London Airport in a British Overseas Airways Corporation cargo aircraft, one of them was feeling a little "off-colour". As there was a wait of several hours before they went on to America, the B.O.A.C. staff felt that they should give all possible service to this "passenger", so they sent him to a pet store where he would have every care and attention. When the B.O.A.C. cargo officials called for him, they found the orang-outang, completely recovered, reclining in an armchair with a blanket around his shoulders, enjoying a television programme.

MOREWOOD UNITED CHURCH

The services at Morewood United Church were conducted last Sunday by the minister, Rev. W. J. Copsey, B.A. The theme of the morning sermon was "The First Sunday Morning" based on St. Luke 24;1 "Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing spices which they had prepared and certain others with them". Christians observe the first day of the week as a day of rest and worship because on the first day Jesus rose from the dead. This first day of the week became particularly precious to Christians since one day out of seven they were reminded of the Resurrection of Christ. The first Sunday morning witnessed the great earthquake, the descent of the angel of the Lord, the rolling away of the great stone from the entrance to the tomb wherein the body of the Christ had been laid The Appearance of the risen Christ to Mary and the other women and his message to his disciples. It teaches that Christ who was dead is alive forever more; that his Church is to carry on and that those who trust him have assurance of everlasting life. Glen Donald, the infant son of Donald Carruthers and his wife, Mary Poppelwell, and Ronald Harold, the infant son of Harold VanDusen and his wife, Edith Swerdfeger, were presented for baptism. One hundred communicants were served with the elements from the minister and elders, Hector Carruthers, Ford Steinburg, Wm. Irven and Archie Carruthers.

At the well attended evening service the children of the Sunday School put on a very pleasing Easter service with many appropriate recitations and other numbers. Mrs. Gordon Countryman and Miss Betty Putnam presented prizes to pupils who had attended forty or more Sundays during 1948. Under the direction of Miss Ellice Smith the choir rendered two beautiful anthems appropriate for Easter Sunday.

Her Ungrateful Children

Among the wonders of Mexico are hot and cold springs situated close together. There one may watch native women boiling clothes in a hot spring, rubbing them in a spring of cold, clear water.

Watching this interesting spectacle one day, a tourist remarked to his guide. "I suppose those women think old Mother Nature is pretty generous, eh?"

The guide smiled crookedly.

"No, senor," he replied. "they are like all woman—they grumble because she supplies no soap!"

Try as hard as he could, the British comedian's jokes were falling flat. At last he lost patience.

"Blimey!" he exclaimed bitterly. "You people don't seem to know how to applaud. Why don't you clap? Are you all handcuffed."

"Handcuffed!" came a bored voice from the pit. "Why, you haven't even arrested our attention yet!"

"Joan says she thinks she could learn to love me," said Potter.

"Well, you don't look very happy about it," put in Clark.

"It's going to be quite expensive," said Potter unhappily. "I took her to the theatre last night and a little supper afterwards. The first lesson cost me about $15."

A Good Yardstick

A young man was doing his own shopping. He said to the pretty girl behind the counter: "I want a pillowcase, please."

"Yes," said the girl. "What size?"

"Why - er - I'm not sure," said the young man, "but I take a six and seven-eighths hat!"

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

"Let me drop down dead if it isn't true!" is a phrase many people have heard. But when Ruth Pierce said so in Devizes Market in Wiltshire in 1753 she did drop down dead, as Arnold Hare recalled in a BBC broadcast from the West of England.

Ruth Pierce and three other women arranged to buy a sack of corn in the market from Farmer Alexander. It was to cost seventeen shillings, of which each would pay four and threepence. A terrible commotion was heard in the market place for when Farmer Alexander came to check the money which one of the women had collected from the other three, it was threepence short. All four women said they had paid in full and Mistress Pierce was exceptionally vehement and swore that she wished she might drop down dead if she had not paid her fair share. And drop she did, dead beyond all question, with no mark on her body to account for her demise. An inscribed stone was set upon a wall near the scene of the incident and when a new market cross was presented to the town the whole story and the moral was inscribed on one of its faces and can be read there today. "It's interesting to note," said Arnold Hare, "that this inscription, after telling of Ruth Pierce's death, adds the phrase 'having the money concealed in her hand; which certainly adds point to the story, but of which I can trace no mention in the inquisition or any of the contemporary reports; and I suspect it to be an example of the later embroidery of the tale as it was handed down by local tradition." Whatever the truth of the story may be it is certainly an awful warning to liars.

PARATHION RESIDUES ARE SHORT LIVED

Recent tests showed that 90 per cent of parathion disappeared seven days after it was applied to plant leaves at the rate of one half pound of 25 per cent wettable powder in 100 gallons of water. This indicates that with proper application and timing, the new insecticide can be used effectively with little danger.

KEEP DAIRY BARN SPOTLESSLY CLEAN AND VENTILATED

Problems in production of quality cream are being stressed by the Dairy Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. Inspectors point out that the beginning of spring generally marks the start of the transition period from stable feeding to pasture and with it many problems come.

At the present time the average producer is still on full winter feeding. If he has followed the general practice of keeping cows and utensils clean, keeping stables vetilated, feeding highly flavored foods such as ensilage and roots after milking and finally, immediately cooling the freshly separated cream in cold water, he is well prepared to meet spring conditions.

However, as we go into the month of April, there are more days when the temperature rises well above freezing. This increases temperature in the stable. Stable odors are intensified when the temperature goes up. These odors are readily absorbed by milk.

Stables must be thoroughly ventilated during warmer weather and the milk should be removed as soon as possible after milking. Highly flavored and off-flavored are causes of much poor quality cream at this season, it is pointed out.

If the flavor has reached the milk through feeding it is difficult to remove from milk and cream. If, however, it has been absorbed from the air, some of it can be eliminated by thorough stirring of freshley separated cream while it is being cooled.

With the production of milk increasing at this season it is more than ever important to produce only high quality cream. Poor quality is not wanted by the creameries as it is almost impossible to sell any butter below first grade quality.

It has been reported recently that some creameries are even considering buying second grade cream on consignment only. This will mean that the producer would not be paid for his poor quality cream until the butter was sold.

A man rushed up to the bookmaker and placed a $5 bill on a 20-to-1 shot. The horse won, and the bookie gave the bettor $105 in $5 bills. The man examined every bill very carefully, which made the bookmaker angry.

"What's the matter, mister? Afraid of counterfeits?"

"No, not at all. I just wanted to make sure the one I gave you wasn't here."

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Spring fever? Eating the right foods helps to overcome that "dull" feeling. One quart of milk for children, one pint for adults—that's the day's quota for good health. But you don't need to drink all the milk. It's just as good for you if you eat it with cereals, in soups, creamed main dishes and vegetables, and in desserts. Whether it comes in bottles, cans, or powdered in packages or creamed as cheese, milk is our most important food.

Note: For prevention of certain fevers, all milk consumed at the farm home and rural school should be pasteurized.

DINNER CHOWDER

2 cups diced, raw potatoes
¾ cup sliced onion
¾ cup diced celery
1½ cups boiling water
3 tsps. salt
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1½ tsps. bottled thick sauce
3 cups milk
1½ cups grated processed Cheddar cheese
1 tbsp. minced parsley
2½ cups canned or cooked tomatoes
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. mustard

Combine first 4 ingredients and 1 teaspoon salt in a deep kettle or Dutch oven. Cover; simmer 15 min., or until tender. Meanwhile, melt butter in double boiler. Stir in flour, then remaining salt, pepper, mustard, meat sauce and milk. Cook, while stirring, until smooth and thickened. Add cheese, and stir until melted. Add to potato mixture with parsley and tomatoes; heat. Serves 5.

CREAMED CABBAGE AND FRANKFURTERS

4 cups shredded cabbage
2¼ cups milk
4 frankfurters
¼ cup melted fat
3 tbsps. flour
2 tsps. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
¾ tsp. celery seeds
¾ cup soft bread crumbs

Cook cabbage in milk, covered, until tender—about 5 min. Cut frankfurters in quarters lengthwise; then split pieces in half. Saute in fat in skillet until lightly browned. Remove frankfurters. Add next 4 ingredients to fat in skillet, and stir until smooth. Gradually stir in milk drained from cabbage. Cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Arrange layers of cabbage, frankfurters, and sauce in 10"x6"x2" baking dish; top with crumbs. Bake in moderately hot electric oven, 400 degs. for 15 mins., or until nicely browned. Serves 4 to 6.

WALNUT PRUNE PUDDING

½ cup rice
¾ cup chopped, pitted raw prunes
3 cups milk
1/3 cup plus 6 tbsps. sugar
¾ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. nutmeg
1/3 cup broken walnuts
2 tsps. grated lemon rind
2 eggs, separated

Wash rice in cold water; drain. Combine with prunes and milk in double boiler; cook, covered, until tender—about 1 hour. Add 1/3 cup sugar, salt, nutmeg, nuts and rind. Beat yolks; stir in rice mixture. Pour into 1½ quart casserole. Cool. Beat whites until nearly stiff. Gradually beat in rest of sugar. Heap on pudding. Bake in moderate electric oven, 325 degs. for 20 mins. Serves 6.

TAKE A TIP

1. You may complete the dinner chowder menu with a green salad and a peach upside down cake for dessert.
2. With Creamed Cabbage and Frankfurters as a hearty supper dish, serve chilled tomato juice first. The sweet part of the meal may be a pastry—apple, raisin or date pie.
3. The unusual walnut rice pudding will be the right choice to serve following a light entree such as cheese souffle with scalloped potatoes and buttered peas.
4. Custards may be cooked in the electric oven after the heat has been turned off and the casserole meal has been taken out for the table.
5. Junkets are nutritious milk desserts to have on hand for the children.
6. Milk served on cereal is less expensive and more nutritious than cream.
