Cameron will be representing Tories in next federal election

MICHAEL THOMPSON
Leader staff

CORNWALL — Eric Cameron, a 30-year-old parliamentary assistant to Stormont-Dundas MP Norm Warner, will be going to the federal polls this fall, after receiving the nomination from local Tories Wednesday night.

Cameron, who also manages an Ottawa restaurant, dedicated his victory to his late father, Cornwall businessman Jim Cameron who passed away last October.

"And I also promise to do my best for the people in the riding and continue to keep our area Tory blue in the upcoming election," he said following his nomination.

About 600 card-carrying Conservatives attended the nomination meeting at the Cornwall Civic Complex, but only 417 registered to vote. (Many family members were too young).

Cameron managed to collect 213 ballots, while Cornwall alderman Denis Carr finished second with 114 and former Conservative MP Grant Campbell placed third with 90 votes.

Following the announcement of the results, both Carr and Campbell proved there was no hard feelings between the candidates.

In fact, Carr immediately asked the membership to accept the nomination process.

"I make a motion that we let the nomination stand and officially nominate Eric Cameron," he said.

Carr's motion was quickly seconded and passed.

Campbell echoed Carr's support and told the crowd that Cameron would provide strong and effective leadership.

"I had lunch last week with Eric and we discussed politics. Ladies and gentlemen let me tell you that this is the type of man you want to represent you, this is the type of man who's going to win the next federal election for Stormont-Dundas."

The delegates began to cheer and applaud as Cameron approached the stand with his wife Mary.

"I thank you all for your support and I promise you that I will do whatever it takes to make sure that we keep the Tory tradition started by Mr. Warner," he said.

And once again the crowd erupted into a sea of blue carrying Cameron placards.

Speech highlights

In his speech, Cameron told the membership that if elected to parliament he would ensure the continuation of prosperity Canadians are now experiencing thanks to the Conservatives.

"After years of declining, our economy is once again strong. Fully 1.3 million jobs have been created since 1984 — that's 900 jobs a day. Canada is experiencing one of the strongest expansions in the industrialized world."

"The changes happening in our area were positive and continue to be so," he added.

Addressing a key issue

Similar to most Conservatives, Cameron is a strong supporter of a free trade deal with the U.S.

"This agreement unleashes Canadian competitive spirit. It is a flexible, evolving agreement with built-in protection for Canada and the United States should we wish to renegotiate.

"I've been speaking with business people all across the riding — from Cornwall to Iroquois — about free trade. I know of companies chomping at the bit to gain quicker access to the huge, lucrative U.S. market."

Another challenge

In order to win the next federal election, the 30-year-old Cameron will have to secure votes of the older constituents.

"Canada has a graying population. Did you know that a quarter of our popular is now over 50 years old and that portion keeps growing?"

"This country is now largely composed of those who went the extra mile to ensure our prosperity and security for their families. It's now up to my generation to go the extra mile for them."

Taking responsibility for tomorrow

Cameron also told the crowd he's prepared to accept the challenges of the future.

"You see it is my generation which will make the tough decisions for tomorrow. My generation will have to ensure we have the means to live up to our financial commitments."

"My generation will have to clean up the environmental mess that we've accummulated through neglect and the politics of special interests."

"You have told me, time and time again, that we need a new generation of political leadership — local, strong and responsive," he concluded.

I want to be your next representative in the next federal election. I want to be your next member of parliament."

And the winner is . . .

Eric Cameron and his wife Mary stand to meet the applause of about 600 card-carrying Conservatives following his nomination as the PC candidate for Stormont-Dundas in the upcoming federal election. Cameron received 213 ballots, while Cornwall alderman Denis Carr collected 114 and third place was taken by Grant Campbell with 90.

Official Plan

No major changes needed

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG — Williamsburg Township council will let the next elected officials decide if a major overhaul of the official plan is necessary.

At a public meeting here last Tuesday, the official plan was discussed as part of a process that must take place every five years to see if changes are needed.

The official plan gives major guidelines which the township is to follow, when changes in planning are to be done. The zoning by-law concerns specific locations on zoning and other criteria such as set-backs.

If a major review is needed, a consultant must be hired, which may be costly.

Concerns of ratepayers

One ratepayer was concerned that part of the property adjacent to her had been mistakenly zoned for a quarry when the whole property should have been zoned for a quarry.

Reeve Johnny Whitteker said that the property owner would have to ask for a zoning change, which would not be difficult since originally there had been a mistake.

A zoning change could be easy and inexpensive or costly and difficult requiring an Ontario Municipal Board hearing if there were many objections.

Another ratepayer observed that the zoning by-laws should be consolidated and published in book form because it is difficult for a home buyer to know whether the bylaw still applied to his property, or whether amendments had changed the rules.

A book showing the zoning by-law is available but does not show the amendments. Clerk Mike Waddell stated that a property owner would have to check at the township office to see if there were amendments.

In council's opinion, there are no major problems with the present official plan. It would be impossible to continually consolidate the minor amendments to the zoning by-law, according to Waddell.

Waddell observed that although at the time the zoning bylaw was passed in 1980, some spot rezoning was done. However, since then there has been only one major amendment from 1984 to 1986, when the sewer went through.

At that time, the name of the zoning remained "Residential Hamlet," but requirements were changed.

Reeve Johnny Whitteker said it would be a good education for the next council to look over the whole area for changes.

"It would be premature to consolidate the zoning bylaw, and then change the official plan," explained Whitteker.

"If council is considering redoing the official plan and the zoning by-law, especially if a consultant is required, they should be done together," said Waddell.

Council votes unanimously for language referendum

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

OSNABRUCK CENTRE—A crowd of about 150 vocal ratepayers saw their wishes granted here Monday night, when Osnabruck township unanimously passed a resolution to place a French language question on the 1988 municipal election ballot.

"Are you as a ratepayer of the municipality of Osnabruck in favour of spending monies out of the municipal mill rate to introduce and support the carrying out of a French language service program in Osnabruck Township?" will be answered by Osnabruck township voters Nov. 14.

"This resolution will be circulated to the municipal solicitor for legal comment."

Also unanimously passed was a resolution that "English is the language of use for the township of Osnabruck Council, committees, boards, institutions, administration and services."

The resolution was to supercede a previously passed motion September 14, 1987, which stated that the Township of Osnabruck maintain all its communications, services at the municipal level in English, one of our official languages.

In the 1987 resolution, services in both official languages would occur upon request in future only at the discretion of the municipal council of Osnabruck; if the population warranted or when the Province of Ontario provided funding for services in both official languages.

Bob Noble, president of the Cornwall chapter of the Alliance for the Preservation of English in Canada (APEC), criticized the 1987 resolution because council present or future was not defined, numbers weren't specified, and if the provincial government contributed money, the door might be left open toward providing services.

Councillor Carson Elliott stated that at the time the resolution was passed, he did not know that the Ontario government would offer the report of the Task Force on Municipal Services in French, but now he was in favour of including a referendum as part of the municipal election.

He stated that according to the Task Force report, Stormont County and Osnabruck Township were included in 175 designated areas, and if French were provided, stop signs, by-laws, council resolutions and administrative matters would have to be translated.

One gentleman told council that in Ontario we are faced with segregation or apartheid based on "religious, ethnic, and race" for political purposes.

Another ratepayer observed that unless council made a big noise, and passed a by-law or made a resolution in writing, a referendum would do nothing more than say the township didn't agree with bilingualism.

Township seeks legal advice

The township had sent a letter to their solicitor Mr. Barry Wilson asking his opinion if it were within a municipality's jurisdiction to place a question on a ballot designating itself unilingually English.

Wilson answered that this type of question could be challenged from a jurisdictional point of view

The municipality would have to pass a by-law, and it has no

Council to commence suing Derek Wilson

MIKE THOMPSON

MORRISBURG — Time has run out for Derek Wilson, the Toronto engineer who designed the village's faulty sewer system.

At Monday night's meeting, it was obvious the entire council was fed up with Wilson's lack of response to their questions and instructed village solicitor Peter Remillard to commence litigation against the engineer.

Remillard had suggested to council that they would have to hire the additional services of a Toronto legal firm familiar in municipal litigation.

The solicitor, who wasn't at the meeting but sent a letter also informed council that this type of legal proceedings may take up to three years or more.

However, Reeve Bill Dillabough is convinced it won't take that long.

"I'm prepared to go to court over this issue," he said. "But I don't think it'll take that long."

Last month, Wilson replied to a request by council to repair the village's newly-constructed sewer project, with a refusal.

"He told us that he'd only fix it if we were prepared to pay him his remaining $35,000, (which council has held off)," said an angry Al Belanger.

"And there's no way we're ready to pay him that money," said Dillabough. "If he would have built the system according to plan, the village of Morrisburg would have an operational sewer line."

In addition to his request of the $35,000, Wilson told council he would have to be paid on a per dium basis for all engineering work.

Local youths charged

MORRISBURG — Two area youths have been charged in connection with two break-ins which occurred at Charlie's Sports Shop two weeks ago and another at a village residence in July.

Police are not releasing the names of the two because they're under the age of 18 and their identity is protected under the Young Offenders Act.

Const. Morgan Hill of the Morrisburg OPP detachment said an adult man has also been charged following an investigation into the burglary at Charlie's.

Const. Hill said the two youths were charged after two separate investigations by Const. Frank Wert into the break-in at Charlie's on the evening of August 31 and at Lynn Dillabough's residence at 38 Meikle Street which occurred on the night of July 30.

The adult is scheduled to appear in provincial court sometime early next month.

Const. Hill said $220 taken from the Dillabough home has been recovered, while $2,780 worth of merchandise and cash has been returned from the original $3,065 taken from Charlie's.

"I understand there has been arrangements for the restitution of the remaining money taken from Ms. Dillabough," said Const. Hill.

However a similar arrangement for the Charlie's Sport Shop burglary could not be resolved with the involvement of the male adult.

The two youths are charged with two counts of Break Enter and Theft while the adult is charged with one.

Blinchs are ready for challenges in Morrisburg

MIKE THOMPSON
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — On Monday afternoon Gary Blinch was busy under the hood of a friend's car trying to boost a dead battery.

"I think it'll be O.K. now," he said as the car's engine revved and the driver pulled away with a smiling Thank You'.

Throughout his 33 years, Blinch has worn many hats, including a short career as a truck driver.

However the former Mississauga resident is not in Morrisburg to repair engines, rather he's here to repair souls.

Last weekend, Blinch was appointed the first pastor of the newly-formed Morrisburg Missionary Alliance Church.

Presently he and his wife Anne are staying in the village with friends Sushil Aneja and his wife Beverly, (who owns the car with the dead battery).

The couple is busy looking for a new home for their two children, Amber, 5 and Brenden, 20 months.

Seven years with the church

The Blinchs have been involved with the church for seven years which led to Gary's appointment of assistant pastor at the Sheridan Park Missionary Alliance Church in Toronto.

"We wanted to get out of the city," says Anne.

"As parents we wanted to raise our children as bright healthy adults," she adds.

Prior to their involvement with the church, Gary spent seven years in Hamilton helping developmentally and emotionally handicapped people.

"That was a significant experience," he recalls.

Faced with the responsibility of establishing a following for a fairly unknown denomination, the Blinchs already have some specific ideas.

"Help people heal themselves"

"Looking inwardly as a church, one of the first things we'd like to accomplish is to help people heal themselves. There are a lot of hurting people out there, whether they're separated families, divorced couples or troubled individuals, we simply want to help people discover God's inner healing."

Blinch said an individual can receive this gift by "walking with God".

"God wants us to become whole people. We would like to help them become all that God intended them to be," he adds.

Church to be active in community

Blinch also realizes that successful churches should be quite active in the community they reside in.

"Looking outward, we as a church, would like to serve local families and the members of the community to make sure that they realize they're an asset wherever they are."

The Missionary Alliance Church is a missionary denomination committed to worldwide evangelism and discipleship.

In fact, the church has more followers in the Phillipines then it does in North America. (Canada has almost 50,000 members).

"Through the use of the gospel, we help less fortunate countries realize that God is the only way. At the same time paying close attention to social needs...we know that there are people starving to death in the world.

Church doctrine

As for the church's doctrine, the Missionary Alliance prefers its followers repent their sins directly to God.

"If someone wants to confess to me I will definitely provide them with compassion and understanding, but in reality pastors in our church are used more as a counsellor providing guidance to our members."

Communion is celebrated once every month. Blinch says his church sees communion as symbols representing the body and blood of Christ and not the actual transformation.

Another belief the church holds firmly to is the centrality of Christ expressed as Jesus: their Savious, Sanctifier and Healer.

"As far as miracles are concerned we try to stay away from the dramatic, but we believe that God heals us physically and emotionally."

The Blinchs are offended by television evangelists who appear to make the crippled walk, the blind see or the deaf hear, however they believe the Lord does bless people with miracles.

"You can take us for example, we weren't suppose to have any children. Prior to the birth of our two children I had four miscarriages but God answered our prayers and provided us with two lovely healthy children," says Anne.

The Blinchs say they couldn't have had a family without the help from God, which Gary feels people today don't ask for.

"Too many Christians today try to live a life according to the word of God without asking the Holy Spirit for assistance. One has to yield one's life to the Holy Spirit in order to help them live a truly Christian life."

McAllister to vie for Iroquois Reeve

MIKE THOMPSON
Leader staff

IROQUOIS — John McAllister must believe in the old adage of the early bird getting the worm.

Although the municipal election is still about two months away, the Seaway District High School teacher has announced his intentions to seek the position of reeve for Iroquois Village.

McAllister said after a six-year abscence on the local scene, many of his friends and associates have encouraged him to re-enter municipal politics.

"I was a councillor for six years but I've been under increasing pressure from my acquaintances to assume some leadership," he said.

He said his decision to run did not reflect any dissatisfaction with the current council or reeve.

"It's just that I've already been a councillor and now I'd like the opportunity to become reeve."

"I also want to give the voting public a choice if Frank (Rooney) decides on running again," he added.

McAllister said he knows the position of reeve requires a great amount of hard work and he's prepared to take on the responsibility.

"I know what that job entails, I know how much is required and am ready to do my best for the residents of Iroquois."

Osnabruck calls for language referendum jurisdiction to pass a by-law addressing language.

The election could be declared invalid, and the elected representatives held responsible for costs.

However, Wilson stated, if the question asked whether the municipality was willing to spend enough money to provide or enlarge bilingual services, as indicated in Charlottenburgh's referendum resolution, this type of question would fall within a municipality's mandate.

Wilson wrote he would give the matter consideration, if he knew the specific question to be placed on the ballot.

Referendum not binding

On at least one occasion, councillors reminded the crowd that a referendum or resolution made by council would only be valid for the present term of office.

Bob Noble said he was merely trying to get a referendum for the constituents so they could voice their opinion to the Province of Ontario just as Kingston and the Township of Charlottenburgh had done.

"We ask that there be a referendum on the ballot so that the next council can pass a by-law concerning how the people feel," he said.

Councillor Don McElheran stated, "If you want a referendum at cost to the municipality, we'll run it."

Noble favoured the resolution read by Councillor Elliott stated previously which referred to monies spent in the township.

This resolution was passed unanimously, along with the resolution that English be the language of use for Osnabruck Council.

Councillor Elliott placed the blame for the language issue squarely on the provincial government's shoulders.

"If the government stayed out of the language issue, we'd be better off," he said. "It's just the beginning, the provincial government puts it in our lap."

Matilda council favours NAER language referendum

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

BRINSTON — The first municipality in Ontario to decide itself unilingually English took no action last Thursday on a resolution of the National Association of English Rights.

The resolution, which Gerry Webb a Matilda Township resident asked council to place on a referendum in the next municipal election reads as follows: "English shall be the Official Language of the Province of Ontario, its government, institutions and services."

As stated in the letter sent to council, NAER is concerned that the opportunity to advance in Ontario government jobs will be reduced for the majority of Ontario's English-speaking residents, as the implementation of Bill 8 (French Language Services Act) is undertaken.

Council also received a letter from the Alliance for the Preservation of English in Canada (APEC) requesting municipalities to add a language referendum on the ballot in the upcoming election, and a resolution from the Township of Chalottenburgh asked for a referendum.

The resolution of Chalottenburgh reads, "Do you favour the Township of Charlottenburgh devoting more time and money to improving French Language Services in the municipality?"

Reeve Lorne Mellan said his position hasn't changed on the subject. Last May, the township of Matilda declared itself totally non-bilingual, attracting national media attention.

"It should be dealt with provincially," said Mellan. "If all the municipalities held referendums across the province, they could be contradictory, but if all municipalities used the same one it would be more meaningful to people in government."

"If we do have a referendum, we should have more time to consider the exact wording," Mellan added.

Council preferred the resolution of NAER, on the grounds that if English was the only language in the municipality, they could still offer French services.

"If there is a need for it, we'll provide it," said Deputy-reeve Charles Barkley. "But if the Township of Charlottenburgh resolution was adopted, and the people voted against offering services, they could not be provided."

"And Bill 8 says you must," added councillor Mike Ault.

BIA plans to make Christmas merrier

MORRISBURG — The BIA will be making Christmas a little brighter for the village of Morrisburg as council decided to match $2,500 for the purchase of holiday decorations.

BIA project co-ordinator, Wilf McAuley asked council Monday night to help pay for the cost of colored lights, decorations and possibly a hugh Christmas tree placed in the centre of the mall.

McAuley said plans were to include the civic centre, along the mall and up to Campbell Street.

He also asked if council could provide a couple of the village's workers for two days to install the decorations.

Deputy Reeve Bill Sheaing, who sits on the BIA's Board of Management as a representative of council, said many other surrounding communities already adorn their downtown cores.

"In places like Winchester, wonderful Christmas displays helps warm people up for the festive season," he said.

Local businessman Gord McGregor asked council if there was any way they could alleviate the unsightly garbage deposited near his restaurant.

"Presently, there are two small garbage receptacles near the telephone booth," he said. "They're cute but are absolutely no good for anything, as far as I'm concerned."

There is a large garbage bin placed at the back of the mall for local merchants, however McGregor said he shouldn't have to walk "half-a-mile" to get rid of his garbage.

The owner of Gregor's Place said he thought there could be a fairly reasonable answer to the problem.

"I can't see why we couldn't build a little bin, about four by eight feet, that's not an eye-sore."

Deputy Reeve Bill Shearing told McGregor that both council and the BIA proposed building some sort of larger refuse container a few years ago.

"We thought it would reduce any vandal problems, alleviate any possible fire hazards and any health and hygiene risks."

However Wilf McAuley added that the plan was forgotten "because no matter where we wanted to put one (on the mall) the nearby merchant would come out and say 'Hey you're not putting a garbage bin near my business."

Council asked McGregor and McAuley to try and resolve the problem themselves and said they would support their recommendation as long as they received the support from the surrounding merchants.

Council took its first mechanical step in beginning renovations to the downtown core as part of the village's improvement plan.

Monday night they selected the architectural and engineering company of Dominik Thompson and Malette from Cornwall.

Associates, also of Cornwall, which includes designing a decorative canopy as well as concrete paving associated with it.

"They (Dominik Thompson) provided the best presentation of the two," said deputy reeve Bill Shearing.

Mack Associates offered to do the job at a cost of $41,000 while Dominik Thompson was able to provide the same services but for only $30,000.

Village clerk-treasurer Cheryl Tynski said the appointed firm will be getting together with the project's planner Ed Starr to discuss time frames.

Know where they stand

Almost everyone we believe, would agree that it is most important in any election campaign, whether the jurisdiction be municipal, provincial or federal, that the electors are offered an opportunity to determine exactly where the various candidates stand, and what their policy would be, on any question of concern to the electorate.

Local and area voters will almost certainly be involved in two elections this fall - one in the federal field, and one in their own municipality. It is vitally important to every voter to first of all, be truly informed of the issues at stake, and also to be equally informed as to how proposed candidates would deal with those issues. No voter in any jurisdiction should be expected to vote for a "pig in a poke" - for some vague promise or even more vague declaration that everything is, or will be just peachy.

In the Morrisburg municipal field, some of the most pressing problems are the continuing concerns with the sewer system, the truly disgraceful and dangerous condition of very many of the community's sidewalks, among others.

Voters in the federal field will be giving their opinion of the free trade deal arranged with the United States. Other matters of concern are day care for children of working parents, tax reform, which was supposed to ease the tax burden on most Canadians. (It really didn't). In that connection, an interesting study was conducted by Carleton University's Allan Maslove, a professor in the School of Public Administration. His study claimed that, without the tax reform, the total increase in personal taxes from 1984 to 1988 would have been $6.5 billion. With the reform, that increase was reduced to $3.4 billion, but the average family is still $310 behind in disposable income, compared to 1984.

Protect your hunting dog

All sportsmen should have their hunting dogs vaccinated against rabies before the fall hunting season begins, authorities warn. Domestic pets too, which have not already been vaccinated, should receive this protection.

This time of year, it is noted, marks the onset of the fall/winter peak of rabies, which has characteristically appeared in Ontario for many years.

The incidence of rabies cases in Eastern Ontario varies from year to year, and despite the substantial number of cases reported in recent seasons, most people have not been unduly concerned. And despite the fact that mass vaccinations have been held in this area, there is no way to predict when the situation may again worsen.

Furthermore, even a single case of rabies is one case too many. One of the factors which can spread the disease, of course, is the presence of even one unvaccinated hunting dog roaming the wilds. There is the constant danger that such dogs may be infected by a rabid wild animal, and may in turn, infect domestic animals and even humans. Although any animal can transmit rabies, the most frequent offenders are foxes, skunks and bats.

Any time that any person or animal has been in contact with an animal suspected of being rabid, the incident should be reported immediately to Health of Animals Branch, Agriculture Canada, which has offices throughout the country.

Your private property rights

Most property owners are subscribers to the theory that a man's home is his castle. But that may not be always literally true. And that is why Private Property Week is observed in Ontario, to educate and inform property owners of their rights.

Property rights is the term given to those freedoms or rights which Canadians have come to associate with property ownership, and which most of them consider inalienable. But just what do such rights include? A sort list would be:

- the right to buy, hold and occupy real property.
- the right to maintain privacy in your home by barring others from it.
- the right to sell, rent, lease, or give away your property.
- the right to leave your property to your chosen heirs in a will.
- the right to use your property in any manner you desire.
- the right to enjoy the goods which come from your land, such as agricultural produce.
- the right to destroy your property should you so desire.

But these rights are not, of course, absolute.

People do not live alone. They are a part of society, and as such, must relinquish some of their absolute rights in order to make society a better place for us all.

For this reason, when activities take place on your property which affect the health, safety, welfare, religion or morality of society as a whole, your rights are sometimes restricted. Where the common good is concerned, we have empowered governments to regulate individual rights.

The concept of private property rights, and the need to protect them is not something new. Back in the year 1215, a group of property owners of that day met with their government to demand protection for their rights. The result of that meeting was the Magna Carta, the great charter which the barons forced King John to sign, and which became the basis of personal rights and liberty throughout the English-speaking world.

The judicial system which was subsequently built on the Magna Carta became known as English Common Law, and was widely adopted in Canadian courts over the years. In 1962, the Canadian Government, under then Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, produced a Bill of Rights which guaranteed property rights. And this Bill was later incorporated into our Constitution, with the single notable exception of the property rights section. The clause protecting such rights was unfortunately deleted in the constitutional debate for political reasons.

Many other nations do recognize the importance of property rights, and they are upheld in the constitutions of 20 nations, including the United States. The United Nations Declaration of Human Rights (1948) also upholds private property rights.

While many national organizations are involved in a continuing campaign to protect owners, the chief person who should be involved is you! Make yourself aware of the property rights you enjoy as an owner, and find out how government legislation, at any level, might adversely affect those rights. In a matter of such vital importance to you, ignorance is not bliss. It is sheer folly!

Private property ownership is one of the keystones on which all other private freedoms rest. It is also a fundamental aspect of our Canadian lifestyle. Let's keep it that way.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles
by Bonnie McNairn

Pictured on the front page of the September 20th, 1978 issue of The Leader were the artist's conceptions of a new plaza to be located just east of the Morrisburg Shopping Centre. The 12 unit building was to be approximately 12,000 square feet and construction was slated to be completed in the spring. Anyone interested in an outlet was asked to contact developer Fred Pinkus.

Ewart Simms, Warden of the Three United Counties, was honored by more than 200 people at the annual Warden's banquet. Mr. Simms had served as Reeve of Mountain Township since 1973.

Bill Tupper undisputed Apple Pie Eating Champion, informed The Leader he had been practising and was ready for all challengers at the Morrisburg and District Lions Club Third annual Applefest.

The Williamsburg Pioneers lost to the Brockville Stars in the final series of the Dundas Senior Fastball League playoffs.

A crowd of hundreds poured through the gates for the third annual Fall Fair at Upper Canada Village. The fair was much like those held in Upper Canada during the 1890s.

Gillian Barkley, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Barkley of Williamsburg, was riding high having accummulated 160 ribbons in about 20 horse shows throughout the summer. A grade 8 student at Maple Ridge Public School she began riding when she was three years old.

At Black's TV in Williamsburg the Panasonic Quintrix 26 inch color TV, in contemporary stype console with walnut grain finish, was selling for $749.

Headlines in the September 20th, 1968 issue of The Leader read Impressive Service Marks Opening of New Church. Climaxing some 120 years of Roman Catholic history in Morrisburg on September 15th, His Grace, Most Rev. J.L. Wilhelm D.D., Archbishop of Kingston officiated at the solemn blessing of the beautiful new St. Mary's Church on Meikle Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark of Morrisburg were celebrating their 64th wedding anniversary. They were married in Winchester but resided in Morrisburg for all their married life. Prior to his retirement Mr. Clark was a plumber and electrician.

At the Dominion, creamery butter was 63 cents a pound and McIntosh apples were 59 cents a five-pound bag.

Registrations for minor hockey were set for September 21st and 28th and this year's fees were $3.50 for juvenile age players, $3.00 for midgets and bantams and $2.50 for peewees and atoms.

The September 19th, 1958 issue of The Leader reported the highlights of the St. Lawrence Power project which began in the summer of 1954. In 1954 the major emphasis was on survey work, foundation investigation and building of temporary cofferdams to block the north channel of the St. Lawrence. The stilling of the waters occurred in the late spring of 1955 and this was followed by the dewatering of a 2.5 mile stretch of the river. Also in 1955 a start was made on the rehabilitation program, the relocation of No. 2 Highway, the rerouting of some 40 miles of the main line of the C.N.R., the building of the new St. Lawrence transformer station and channel improvement work. Early in 1956 construction of the power house began. The year 1957 was the biggest construction period and by year end more than 80 per cent of the development was completed. In 1958 concrete placing was finished by late spring and on April 1st the large steel cofferdam was breached and the tailrace was flooded. Through it all some 6,500 persons along the North shore of the St. Lawrence between Cornwall and Iroquois were displaced. More than 550 dwellings were transported by giant moving machines to new basements, while new schools, churches, shopping centres and public buildings were erected.

Rex Weegar was elected president of the Morrisburg High School Students Council and Brian Foss took the vice-president's position. Secretary was Marion Marcellus and Percy Salmon became treasurer.

The September 17th, 1948 issue of The Leader reported the Morrisburg Collegiate Institute, as the last holder of the Gerald Meikle Memorial Cup, was to revive competition in a track and field meet in October. The coveted trophy was given as a memorial to Gerald Meikle, a prominent Morrisburg athlete, who lost his life in World War I. It was awarded annually to the secondary school in the United Counties which excelled in certain track and field events. The annual competition had been suspended during the past few years due to the wartime conditions.

The Duncan twins, Edwin and Erwin of Vernon, known to thousands of hockey fans in the Ottawa Valley were off to London, England where they were to play hockey in the Harringay arena. It was with the Inkerman Rockets that they became the most prolific scoring pair in junior hockey.

At Weegar's, Royal Crown black pepper was four ounces for 29 cents and a large-size box of Kellogg's all bran cereal was 28 cents.

The September 23rd, 1938 issue of The Leader reported Morrisburg was losing OPP officer constable Eugene Rose who had been transferred to Brantford. He was to be replaced by Constable Leslie Throop of Ottawa who had previously patrolled 31 highway from Ottawa to Winchester. Constable Rose and his wife had been in Morrisburg for eight years.

A wind and rain storm, which had swept through the district, did considerable damage to standing crops and orchards. In Morrisburg several trees had been uprooted breaking telephone and hydro wires and leaving the village without power for several hours. Farmers reported severe loss in their orchards, a large quantity of apples being destroyed when they were blown to the ground by the strong wind. At Winchester the storm reached cyclonic proportions.

In one of the most strenuous campaigns held at M.C.I. for years, the Spartan party, under the leadership of Paul Laurin defeated the Athenians led by Wallace Meyer.

A new law which forbid the sale of milk, cream or buttermilk, unless the product was pasteurized, was to come into effect on Oct. 1st.

1928

The September 21st, 1928 issue of The Leader reported Mr. and Mrs. Jos. E. Stubbs of Morrisburg were celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary.

J.B. Saver was appointed postmaster at Brinston.

ONE LEG AND A DREAM

(Ballad of Terry Fox)

(Verse One)
He came over the horizon with one leg and a dream
He fought a mighty killer so tough and so mean
A killer of children, men and women too
Terry fought cancer for me and for you.

(Verse Two)
When you believe in a dream
You give it all you got
When you see those dying faces
You know there's a battle to be fought
Against a killer of children, men and women too
Terry fought cancer for me and for you.

(Chorus)
Heroes don't last long, but their memories live on
We all saw him running on the T.V. screen
A courageous soldier armed with
One leg and a dream.

(Verse Three)
There was more up in the Northlands
Than just the northern lights
There was a mighty man who put up a mighty fight
Against a killer of children, men and women too
Terry fought cancer for me and for you.

Letters to the Editor

The Morrisburg Leader,
Morrisburg, Ontario.
Dear Editor:

There has been a considerable amount of discussion on the assessment of property taxes and several papers have tried to show that the new system of using market value has its pitfalls. Regardless of how assessments are applied to property we must identify the types of services that must be paid from this source. Broadly speaking we can divide the services into two categories, one for property and the other for people.

Service for property should include roads, lighting, sewage and those activities that deal with real estate. Service for people should include education, recreation, hospitals and welfare. Services for property should be charged against property while services for people should be charged against people. They are not compatible.

For several years the Government has been applying a general policy where people pay for services rendered. In fact, practically anything we want has a firm price and we either take it or leave it. Why shouldn't this policy be introduced, at least in part, to the assessment and collection of property taxes?

Must we assess property on the assumption that some people are better off than others, by the appearance of their property and therefore must pay more than others who do not keep up their property? This discriminates against those who improve their property.

Installing a few sheets of panelling on those pre-studded partitions in your basement, painting the basement floor or installing an extra toilet will increase your assessment. There is also the variation in rates from one street to the other, which gives the impression that some people are better off than the others. But are they? You will note of course that the assessment applies to the building and not against the numbers of people that reside in such a dwelling.— This tax syatem is forcing average people into smaller and smaller homes.

The revised system of paying taxes in accordance with the market value of the property puts another unmanageable variable into the hands of the assessing department, generating more staff and more computers. The bottom line should be that all should pay for basic services in an equitable manner. The assessment should be based on the area of the property and the cubic content of the dwelling on the property, without regard to age.

There should be less emphasis on location and improvements and also a levelling off of assessments for those living in towns and villages against those who choose to live in the country, including separating out of the farm dwelling from the rest of the farm.

Assessment of property is one thing, but control of the parameters to which a particular Government is responsible, is equally important. For instance, sports and recreation should come from user fees and peoples services should come from income taxes or possibly a poll tax.

We should demand that our local Governments shift to a more equitable tax base.

I challenge some clear thinking policy makers to revamp the whole system of property tax and bring it into the twentieth century. A few changes to our present assessment system would prevent trying to chase inflated real-estate prices. Let us all pay our rightful share for two basic services, one for property and the for the inhabitants. Why wait until the ratepayers demand an end to their discrimination.

Scrapbook filled with more than photos

MIKE THOMPSON
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG — Elvera Barkley is a collector of things. Whether it's those tiny decorative teaspoons, photograps of the fathers of Confederation or pen and pencil sets with the little advertising messages on their side — she simply collects them all.

However, amongst all her possessions there is one item she is particularly proud of.

By no means is it something new or expensive but like most of her other belongings there is a special place in her heart for it.

Since 1967, Barkley has compiled newspaper clippings and various other memorabilia associated with the local Morrisburg OPP detachment and placed them in a scrapbook.

"For the life of me, I couldn't tell you why I started it," says the 85-year-old widow.

Events to remember

During the 21 years the detachment has been located on Highway 31, a number of events have been noteworthy.

"One of my favorite photos is the first one in the book. It's a picture of Mr. Cass, who was our member of provincial legislature at the time, handing over the key to Superintendent Ramsbottom."

The cutline reads, "The Ontario Provincial Police are pleased and proud of their new home situated north of Highway No. 2."

"The new and modern office provides plenty of space to accommodate constables of the detachment."

For many years the local detachment had been housed in rented premises in the Morrisburg Hydro building.

"As far as I know, I still don't think the OPP own any of the offices they work out of," she says.

A favorite constable

Barkley has managed to become very close to some of the constables who have served the Morrisburg area. However, she's particularly fond of one officer, who's career lasted only four years.

"I've made a point to cut out any clippings on Gunner (one of the first canine's used by the OPP). Look, here's a picture of him with his handler, Const. Bob Drouin, right after they solved their first crime."

According to the story which ran in The Leader, Gunner had almost single-handedly captured two teenagers in Lancaster who were responsible for a number of break-and-enter thefts.

"He was a beautiful German Sheperd," recalls Barkley as she stares at the faded black-and-white photo.

"At that time the station only had one air-conditioned car, I think it was a station wagon, and that's the car they used to drive Gunner around," she says with a smile.

Another first for the detachment was the hiring of 24-year-old Jennifer Montour.

"She was the first North American Indian women to become an OPP officer and she was stationed right here in Morrisburg."

Dressing up

Barkley also kept files on some of the less significant events in the OPP history.

"Here's a story in 1976 or is it 77, anyway it tells about the force's new uniforms and how they've been designed for greater flexibility and comfort."

The new uniforms were to replace the out-dated tunic and the Sam Browne belt was now being worn under the jacket rather than over.

"They certainly look sharper today then they did back when they first started here," she says.

Leaves impression

Through the many years, Barkley was never more impressed with any police officer then she was with Sgt. Harry Boyd.

"He was simply a good man. He was able to be authorative and considerate at the same time. Everybody in the village liked him — he was a fair man."

Boyd's police career lasted many years and he retired in 1977.

"He's still around, you can easily find him around the village keeping an eye on things."

From the beginning, Barkley and her husband, Linden, made a promise that once they had filled all the pages in the scrapbook they would hand it over to the detachment.

"On the inside cover of the book, Linden and I wrote: This book is to be presented to the Morrisburg detachment of the OPP, in appreciation to all they mean to us — then we signed it."

"I am looking forward to that day and it's coming soon. The scrapbook and I have only a few pages left."

Elvira Barkley displays her scrapbook which is filled with photos, newspaper clippings, and other memories historically documenting the past events of the local Morrisburg OPP detachment. —Staff photo M. Thompson

Mothers allowance

BRINSTON — After some debate, Matilda Council filed a resolution here last Thursday asking the Federal Government for a $12,000 allowance permitting mothers to stay at home.

The proposal sent by the Pilgrims of Saint Michel, of Rougemont P.Q. stated that more than 2 million petition cards endorsing the resolution were signed and sent to the House of Commons, and that several municipalities had supported their position.

According to the letter sent by the Pilgrims of Saint Michel, mothers should stay at home to raise their children. Many mothers who work to supplement a father's income would prefer to stay at home if they had the financial means, and unemployed people could take the jobs now occupied by working mothers.

Reeve Lorne Mellan stated that he was sympathetic to mothers who work out of necessity, and that income obtained after paying expenses was minor. He observed that single parents have a difficult time being breadwinners and raising families. "This resolution would pay all mothers," he added.

Police report

IROQUOIS — Drivers travelling along the eastbound lane of Highway 401 have probably noticed a clump of charged garbage in the south ditch just outside the Carman Road exit.

Police say it's the remains of a weekend mishap that involved a flat-bed truck carrying boat windows and covers which caught fire as it travelled on the road.

The driver, Robert Gonneville of St. Tite, Quebec was eastbound on the highway Saturday at about 1 a.m. when he realized his cargo was on fire.

He immediately pulled his truck onto the right shoulder where the load burned for several minutes until the Iroquois Fire Department was able to reach the blaze.

Gonneville was not hurt in the accident.

IROQUOIS — A transport half-loaded with bags of asbestos slammed into a corner ditch Sunday evening at the Carman Road, Highway 2 intersection.

Police say the truck, driven by Richard McEwen of R.R.1 Morrisburg was southbound on Carman Road and was attempting to make a right turn onto the highway.

The driver lost control as the vehicle dropped onto the soft shoulder and tipped into the ditch on the driver's side.

Charges have been laid in connection to the single-vehicle accident.

CNIB starts annual campaign

The citizens of Morrisburg and surrounding area are being reminded that the Annual Campaign for Funds is being conducted this week by volunteers who are kindly giving their time to call on every homeowner and resident asking for a contribution for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to help carry on its work for those who are afflicted and are becoming afflicted with blindness.

All volunteers will have Official Receipts for every contribution and contributions should not be made unless a receipt is given at the time of the giving.

For many of us the mere thought of being suddenly blinded is a terrifying one. Please help our local branch as they endeavour to assist the C.N.I.B. in carrying for those so afflicted. Any contribution however small is of great help to us.

MORRISBURG BRANCH 48

ROYAL CANADIAN LEGION

BULLETIN

The Royal Canadian Legion Provincial Championship Golf Tournament was held Saturday, September 10, 1988 at Upper Canada Golf Course hosted by Morrisburg Legion Branch 48. Forty-two teams from across Ontario participated. The golf tournament went off without a hitch. Chatham Br. 28 won and the winning senior team was Toronto Br. 210. A steak barbecue went on all afternoon from 2 o'clock until every golfer had eaten. In closing the trophies and prizes were presented. Rick Longchamp was the entertainment for the rest of the evening. Many thanks go out to all who volunteered and helped out at the tournament and at the Branch.

As Sports Officer of Morrisburg Legion Branch 48, I sincerely thank each and every one who helped out in organizing the Provincial Golf Tournament. A lot of time and effort went into making this a total success. People like the staff at the Upper Canada Golf Course; thank you Jim Riopelle, you did a terrific job; printing donated by the Morrisburg Leader; sponsors who gave prizes: Air Canada; Labatts; Charlie's Sports Shop; Jack Baker Distilleries; Corby-Wisers Distilleries and Bright's Wines; Morrisburg own golf teams; the scorekeepers; volunteers at the Branch. I could not begin to mention everyone who volunteered.

With great appreciation,
Judy Laurin
Sports Officer

Enrollment increased at local schools

MIKE THOMPSON
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — Despite a rather controversial last year for area schools — the reluctant closing of Riverside Heights and the birth of the Stampville school and its French immersion program — attendance at most local institutions has increased.

Morrisburg Public School is the biggest winner with an additional 45 students.

"I think the main reason our numbers are so high is because in previous years many of the kids would have attended Riverside Heights." said principal Dick Turner.

Turner said he could attribute an increase of 24 students directly to the closure of the other school, while the remaining 21 resulted from new residents in the area.

A pleasant surprise at R-O

Rothwell-osnabruck is also enjoying an increase this year with an extra 26 students.

The school's vice-principal Doug Anderson said he was pleasantly surprised with the total attendance. "The majority of the extra 26 students are in the lower grade levels, from Grade 4 down," he said.

Anderson said the increase was significant but not enough to warrant any additional staff.

Prospects bright at Timothy Christian

Prospects are also bright for Timothy Christian School according to principal Jim Kooistra.

Enrollment has gone up from 124 at the end of June to 134 this September and the school is adding a temporary classroom to accommodate the increased number.

"To minimize costs, some parents and contractors offered to help build the classroom with free labor and we held a fund-raising drive in August," he said.

Other changes at the school will be the staffing of three new teachers. Melinda Mennega is teaching Grade 1, Maaike Timmermans is teaching Grades 3 and 4 and Dick Vandeneykel has Grades 5 and 6.

Going in the right direction

Perhaps not as spectacular an increase is the addition of two students at St. Cecilia School, but principal Mike Van de Kamp rationalizes it by saying, "at least we're going in the right direction."

Last year 77 students attended the Grade 5 to 8 school, this year there are 79.

Only one school was able to match the number of students with the school's projection.

Projection right on

"After every year, we make a projection of the total number of students we can expect at our school," said Earl Jeacle, principal at Iroquois Public School.

He said they take into consideration the number of students returning and the number of new registrations expected in the upcoming year.

"We calculated about 158 students and sure enough that's exactly how many registered this year."

Despite the re-organization of the school's distribution, specifically the Grade 7 and 8's now attending Stampville Jeacle managed to estimate the exact number of students for the year.

Stampville not as lucky

However, Stampville principal Gerry Morrell wasn't as fortunate as his counterpart Jeacle.

With a first year projection of 88 students, the school somehow lost 12 kids and presently has a total population of 76 Grade 7 and 8's.

"We figured about 22 kids a class with four classes," explained Morrell.

He attributed the lower numbers to families who have left the area during the summer.

The school also has 12 developmentally handicapped students which was the estimated number.

Not sharing in the wealth

Another school that did share in the increased numbers is St. Mary's School.

Last year the school registered 98 students however this year only 90 showed up for the first day of lessons.

"We lost one who moved to Belleville and another who went back to the U.S. and the remaining ones went to Our Lady of Grace in Ingleside for the French immersion program," explained principal Sheila O'Connor.

Seaway enrolment is down

Seaway District High was another school that was unable to meet its expected total.

Projected to have about 550 students, it only managed to enroll 533 as of last week.

Perhaps an even more distributing figure is that last year the school registered 581 students which translates into a decrease of almost 50 kids.

"We normally have taken in about 140 over the last couple of years, but this year our feeder schools were about 100 students short," said principal Phil Lloyd.

Lloyd said he considered the decrease as a small interruption for the school and would probably not be repeated in the next few years.

Council asked to comment on report

BRINSTON — Lorne Strader, past chairman of the South Nation River Conservation Authority, made a presentation to council last Thursday, asking their opinion on changes called for under the Kerrio Report.

Ontario's conservation authorities are being asked to reduce their representatives from 937 to 337, and to reduce the total number of authorities by amalgamation from 33 to 18.

However, neither the SNRCA nor the Raisin River Authority wish to amalgamate, according to Strader.

The Raisin River Authority, a small authority, could take on a portion on the St. Lawrence River west to Brockville, and also a portion on the Ottawa River, to make it a more viable unit, and the South Nation River Authority is already viable.

But the Villages of Iroquois, Cardinal and Prescott have declined to be part of the Raisin River Authority. However, the Ministry of Natural Resources may bring all into the provincial authorities whether they want to be or not, he added.

"One way to cut down on staff time and meetings would be to do away with Advisory Boards", said Strader. However, this action still would not cut down on municipal representatives.

Possibly two municipalities could be joined to reduce membership. For example Mountain and Matilda or Williamsburg and Matilda Townships might be joined to reduce membership.

A two day meeting on these issues is to be held by the Association of Authorities in Toronto in mid-November, and council was asked to give suggestions to their representative Norm Tinkler before this meeting.

Council briefs

The Township signed an agreement to accept the ownership of Dundela United Church from Seaway Valley Presbytery.

Council will post two signs to designate areas at Dixon's Hall for disabled parking, in accordance with amendments to the Human Rights Code.

Marg Finlayson, representing Citizens of Matilda against the Quarry, presented council with 286 letters signed protesting the addition of a third quarry to Matilda Township. Some letters have post scripts, and comments attached, and all will be used at the public meeting on rezoning September 21.

JESUS SAID:

And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us . . . (Luke 11:4)

Do you really want God to forgive you all your sins?
Do you need to forgive anyone?

BADMINTON
Badminton...a smashing idea for recreation! Think of your dream vacation as you clear the bird to end court and tone up your muscles at the same time...Think of your best friend when he lied about how busy he was when you needed him as you smash into diagonal court...Think of the kids who said, "I didn't do it?!" as you let your partner take the return... What more can I say? Badminton is for every 'body'! The rules for badminton are not complex and the only necessary piece of equipment besides your running shoes, is a raquet. It's an exciting game, being only as competitive as the individual desires. Badminton offers good social contact, over all conditioning, low cost and you move at your own pace! A seasonal membership is $10.00 and lasts as long as your enthusiasm. We set up at 7:20 p.m. every Thursday and Sunday evening. The following dates have been secured...Thursday, Sept. 22; Sunday, Sept. 25; Sunday, Oct. 2; Thurs., Oct. 6; Sunday, Oct. 9; Thursday, Oct. 13; Sunday, Oct. 16; Thursday, Oct. 20; Sunday, Oct. 23; Sunday, October 30. Blooperball season ends

Hummel's remains on winning track

MORRISBURG — Joe Hummel's Morrisburg mixed blooperball league team worked its way through the championship tournament here Sunday in the same way it got through the regular season....winning.

Hummel's, the regular season championship team, opened the playoffs Sunday with a 17-7 win over Freshmart and then downed the Manglers 12-3 to emerge the only team of the day undefeated.

For the final they met with Freshmart and a 27-7 win here allowed them their clean sweep of the league silverware.

Preliminary play

The tournament opened with a game between Levesque Tire and the Awesome Squad, the former squeaking out an 8-7 victory in extra innings.

Heading into the seventh the Awesomes looked to be in control with a 7-2 lead, but Levesque turned in on to come back for five runs and force the extra play.

They put it away in the ninth with a run from Dale Hoppe.

Manglers overpower Freshmart

Game two saw the Manglers overpower Freshmart 17-7. The Manglers started strong scoring six runs in the first and adding three in the second including a homerun from Kent Holder. Another six runs in the fourth gave them a 16-7 lead.

Levesque Tire was the first team of the day to fall victim to Hummel's coming up on the wrong end of a 15-4 score. This left them with a one win — one loss record.

Mike Prunner kicked it off for Hummel's with a homerun and in the second they stretched it to 6-1 an effort that included a two run homer from Jimmy Cooper. Joe Hummel also homered in the third.

Big seventh

Game four saw Freshmart down the Awesomes 13-10, thanks to a big seventh inning which saw them score six runs to come from behind a 10-7 deficit.

The Freshmart win gave the Awesomes a two-loss record ending their hope of getting into the semi-final.

The final game of the preliminary round action was between Hummel's and the Manglers, the former taking the win 12-3.

Homeruns for Hummels in this effort came from Dwayne Hummel and Chris Mabo.

By virtue of their two wins Hummels automatically moved to the final while Freshmart and the Manglers tangled in the semi-final.

The Manglers started strong building a 3-0 first inning lead on runs from Steve Coligan, Brad Sloan and Kent Holder but then Freshmart took over.

A pair of runs from Danny Foss and Louise Bass in the second and another five in the third pointed them toward the victory.

Too little too late

The Manglers, behind 8-3 heading into the sixth, managed another four including a homer from Shawn Holder but it was too little too late. Freshmart hung on for the 8-7 win and the right to advance to the final.

Freshmart was first on the scoreboard in the final against Hummels claiming a 2-0 lead in the second on runs by Danny Foss and Louise Bass.

Hummels turned it on

They produced another five in the third but Hummels answered with seven to deadlock it.

Hummels then turned it on for another seven runs in the fourth, six in the fifth and five in the sixth for the 27-7 win and the playoff championship.

Homeruns for Hummels in this game came from Joe Hummel who had a pair and Dwayne Hummel.

Third's the hot spot

The Leader Sports

Morrisburg team unable to defend Legion golf title

MORRISBURG — The team representing the Morrisburg Legion was unable to defend its 1987 provincial championship at the Upper Canada Golf Course here Saturday, stepping aside to allow a Chatham entry to take over the enviable position.

The Chatham contingent posted a team aggregate of 318 strokes for a comfortable win over Wheatley wihch totalled 333.

Third place went to Angus which also had 333 strokes but lost out on retrogression. Coming in fourth was Trenton at 334, Windsor was fifth at 337, Petawawa sixth at 340 and Dundas seventh at 340 on retrogression.

The Morrisburg contingent placed eighth with 341.

A second Morrisburg entry, called in at the last moment to fill a spot when a team failed to show, had a good day coming in about 17th out of 25 teams.

At the senior level the winning entry was from Toronto Branch 210 with a 327 aggregate. Second place went to Trenton with 341 followed by Chatham at 347 and Kingsville at 354.

A total of 17 senior teams competed.

Chatham strong

The Upper Canada Course did not play easy Saturday, although the weather was good with just a slightly high wind.

The Chatham team however put together a strong effort which saw Bob Harwood lead with a 76, P. Brown and A. Moore come in with 81s and J. Summers posting an 80.

The senior winners from Toronto Branch 210 had a 73 from Wibe Goodison, a 78 from Joe Buda and a pair of 88s from Earl Jones and Norman Jennings.

Morrisburg not on their games

It wasn't a great day for the defending champions, none of whom were able to break 80. But they weren't alone, as only nine of the 168 golfers carded scores in the 70s.

The low gross of the day came from Goodison of Toronto 210 with a 73. Goodison was even par after nine holes and went one over on the back nine.

For the Morrisburg team, Fred Devaul led the way with an 83 and Kevin Duvall shot an 84. Fred Harper posted an 86 and Doug Barkley rounded it out with an 88.

The second Morrisburg entry was led by Jack Newsom who had an 86 followed by Ralph Duvall at 87, Walt Mutchler at 91 and Danny Rice at 98.

A warm Morrisburg welcome

According to Judy Laurin, sports co-ordinator for the Morrisburg Legion, the event ran smoothly with no problems.

"They were all impressed with the weekend and many commented that Upper Canada was the best course they've ever played the tournament on," said Laurin. "In fact one gentleman thought it would be a good idea to have it at Upper Canada permanently."

Laurin said they were also very pleased with the hotel-motel and restaurant services offered, some of the motels even offered transportation services after the Saturday night party.

"They were treated extremely well at the golf course, both for the tournament and the practice round," she added.

"In fact it all ran so well it was kind of spooky," she said.

The tournament began at 7:30 a.m. and the final group came off the course between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. The barbecues were started at the Morrisburg Legion at about 2 p.m. and it was continuous serving until about 7:30 p.m.

Jr. B Lions look strong with thirteen veterans

MORRISBURG—Although Morrisburg Junior B Lions coach, Kevin Casselman hasn't had quite as many players in camp as he had expected he likes what he sees.

The Lions had two sessions at the Cornwall Complex this past weekend with 25-30 players showing up.

"But we had some good ones out and we have 13 players returning," says Casselman.

"We also have quite a few local kids which is nice."

Casselman says he is hoping both of last year's goaltenders, Andy Cummins and Kent Pilon, will be back. Pilon was dressed on the weekend but Cummins was in Kingston settling in at College.

In addition to Cummins and Pilon, Casselman is counting on Kevin Eamon who is still midget age this year.

The picture is especially bright on defence with five of last year's players returning and Corey Warner back after a one year absence.

Returning to the blueline are Lapier, Alphie Tabrum and Greg Whitteker.

"All are experienced defencemen and we look strong," says Casselman.

The same situation exists up the centre with all three of last year's centremen returning including Johnny Morrow, Randy Jodoin and Andy Lee. And on right wing Rod Lemieux and Randy Mullin are back.

"What we lost were our left wingers," says Casselman. "But we have several in camp who appear ready to step into the holes."

Casselman says he is taking a good look at Jason Smith and Greg Wells who are coming out of minor hockey and Robbie Whitteker who was with the Winchester Hawks for a while last year.

The Lions are preparing for an early season opening when they head for Winchester for their first game on Saturday, October 8th. They open at home on Sunday, October 9th.

We are hoping to be on home ice by October 2," said Casselman.

Some changes to the division schedule results in the St. Lawrence teams not having to play Metcafe and Navan this year.

"Vanier is back in the league so Metcalfe and Navan will stay within their own division," said Casselman. "This means a lot less travelling for us."

The St. Lawrence division includes Alexandria, Winchester, Kemptville, CharLan and Morrisburg and they will play an interlocking (home and home) series with teams from the Rideau division.

"Right now we are very comfortable," said Casselman. "We've got a good nucleus to work with and we hope to be able to do something we haven't done for the last couple of years,"

The Lions' camp continues this weekend at the Cornwall Civic Complex from 10 p.m. to midnight Friday, October 16 and 7-10 p.m. Saturday, October 17.

Greenwing day a success

MORRISBURG — Greenwing Day, an event held in balmy weather last Saturday at Upper Canada Wildfowl Sanctuary, was an unqualified success for participants.

A total of 82 children under 18 signed up for the program, which also made them members of the Greenwing chapter of Ducks Unlimited. They came from the local area, as well as Ottawa, Kanata, Cornwall, Brockville, Osgoode and Orleans.

The event, the first of its kind to be held in Dundas County, included demonstrations of duck banding by representatives of the Ministry of Natural Resources, duck and goose calling, and retriever demonstrations. The children also took part in nature trail hikes conducted by St. Lawrence Parks Commission staff.

Morrisburg area resident Dalton Hart won a Browning 20 gauge PPS shotgun from a draw used to sponsor the event. Chesterville resident Timothy Martel won the duck crossing sign, and Will Saunders also of Chesterville, won the Stop sign in the children's draw.

Greenwing is a chapter of Ducks Unlimited for children up to 18 years, whose purpose is to educate young people to the environment, especially the fragile wetlands and their importance to the ecology.

Water and gun safety, good sportsmanship and the role of the hunter in conservation are part of the program's thrust.

In Dundas County, Ducks Unlimited has a membership of 150, and an active committee of 18. In two years, the local chapter has raised $35,000 in funds, including $15,000, at the 1988 spring banquet.

Banding underway

Every late summer and fall, from August 15 to the third week of October, Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR) personnel take part in a ritual known as duck banding.

Duck banding allows the ministry to follow trends in population, migration and overwintering, and to detect where ducks are being over hunted. MNR representative Steve Aubry says that more ducks are being banded so far this year, but black ducks have experienced a decline and bag limits have been adjusted accordingly from six to four.

The ducks are part of the Atlantic Flyway migration on their way to sunnier climes in the United States such as Luisiana. The heaviest part of the migration is still to come at the end of September through October, when at times there may be 300 to 400 ducks in the banding trap.

Ducks are attracted to the banding trap by corn set on the bottom of the trap and around the walls, which acts like a magnet for the ducks. The birds swim into the trap through funnels built into the walls.

They are not held in the trap for more than 24 hours. Each day, they are released from the trap and banded. If already found with a band, they are released: but if the band number shows the duck is from an outside area, the number is noted for Ministry records, and the duck released.

Ice to be ready for October 1st opening

MORRISBURG — The word is out, the ice is going on.

Morrisburg arena manager, Don Smithson says he expects to start the ice plant on September 24th and it'll be full steam ahead until the ice is ready for minor hockey on Saturday, October 1st.

Smithson says he also hopes to be able to have public skating on the 1st and all other groups should fall into their proper time slots as the week progresses.

Over the summer the arena was cleaned and painted and Smithson says he is ready for another season.

All that remains to be done between now and the 24th when the plant goes on is some minor maintenance and the cleaning of the floor.

"We still have the glass to clean and the boards to check," says Smithson, "and we'll be putting the new mesh on the nets."

The final activity at the arena was Saturday night's roller skating and dance, leaving the next week for Smithson to get things around.

Nothing had to be done to the new ice plant over the summer but the Zamboni did undergo extensive repairs.

"I hope it'll make it through another year but it's questionable," said Smithson of the aging machine.

Stingers undefeated in flag football play

MORRISBURG — The Red Stingers had their four game winning streak brought to an end here Sunday morning when a last minute effort by the Blue Fossils resulted in a touchdown and a 20-20 tie.

In other flag football league action, the Green Machine also put it together in the final minute of their game against the White Peppers to salvage a 13-13 tie.

The Red Stingers who remained undefeated in five games were well on their way to another win Sunday, when quarterback Phillip Dillabough threw to Mike Thompson in the dying seconds for the TD and the 20-20 tie.

The tying Greens' TD came on a Doug Wilson pass to Kevin Keyes, also in the final minute of play.

Last week the Reds slipped by the Greens 13-6 and the Blues defeated the Whites 26-19.

Curling chatter, season approaching

MORRISBURG — There's a chill in the air and not so far around the corner, winter will be with us.

That means it's time to pull out the curling equipment which, when you think about it, isn't really that much. Curling is a relatively inexpensive sport that can be played and enjoyed by any age.

The executive of the Morrisburg Curling Club is eagerly anticipating a new season and looking forward to a lot of new faces.

The roof problem has been solved, some painting done and a total clean up completed so things are looking good.

Registrations have been scheduled for September 29th and 30 from 7-9 p.m. at the clubroom and everyone is encouraged to drop in...and by all means bring a friend.

Season ends Among the Cedars

WILLIAMSBURG — B flight golfers, Gary Paquin and Gerry Belanger led the field here last Thursday night at the weekly men's outing with low gross scores of 37.

Using backholes Paquin claimed first low gross while Belanger settled for runner-up. Low nets in B went to Dale Whitteker with a 27.5 and Merle Reaney with a 31.

A flight was won by Brad Mayhew with a 38 on backholes over Bill Mullin. Net winners were Wayne Rodgers with a 33 and Lloyd Guy at 33.5.

In C flight Bobby Jack Hart claimed first place with a 42 and Eric McDermitt was next with a 45. Jack Hill had the low net at 30 and Bud Craig was right on his heels with a 31.

D flight was won by Robert Merkley with a 50 and Ron Rutley was next with a 51. The low net went to Harry Thompson with a 33 and Earl Johnston had a 34.5.

The longest drive was won by Derek Whitteker and Wayne Rodgers was closest to the pin on eight.

Ladies night last Wednesday was led by Cindy Summers in A flight with a 48. Shirley Belanger won B with a 54 and Diane Van Moorsel claimed C low gross with a 56.

In D flight it was Judy Barkley with a 58 and D. Dewan won X class with a 66.

Net winners were Brenda Waddell in A with a 32, Laurie Hutt in B with a 35.5, Thelma Cryderman in C with a 35 and Tereasa Masterson in D with a 31.

Bernice Whitteker had the longest drive and Shirley Carruthers was the closest to the pin on eight. Laurie Van Hoof had the hidden score at 56 and Gabriel Hutton the least putts with 14. Pat Wagner won for the high score on the fourth hole.

At the mixed two-ball on Sunday Bud Craig and Shirley Carruthers led the way with a 43. The hidden score of 65 was matched by Roy Hope and Janie Strader and the hidden hole low went to Malcolm and Stella McGregor.

The hidden hole low score was claimed by Jeanie Marcellus and Brian Helmer and Jack and Marlene Faulkner had the high score on 8. The hidden score of 56 was matched by Vivien Agar and Steve Willmets and Harold and Joyce Armstrong matched the hidden score of 53.

Coming Up

The season will be wrapped up at Cedar Glen this week with the final men's and ladies' nights taking place.

Saturday is the closing day tournament with teeoffs beginning at 8 a.m. and running until approximately 2 p.m. A banquet will follow in the evening and anyone not golfing but planning to attend the banquet is asked to sign up.

In conjunction with the Winchester Curling Club, Cedar Glen is involved in a Swing and Sweep tournament on October 15.

The tournament features nine holes of golf and an eight end game of curling. A $15 entry fee includes a lunch and barbecue.

The deadline for entry is October 1st and all registrations are being handled by the curling club.

The 19th hole

MORRISBURG — We're down to the wire for the official golf season but we're keeping our fingers crossed that the weather will be good through the end of September and we can keep going.

The last scheduled event at the Morrisburg Golf Club is set for Sunday, September 18 but members should take note that there are some changes to both the booklet notice and meeting notice which you should have received in the mail by now.

Unfortunately, when doing up the meeting notices we forgot the closing golf tournament was on the same day and as a result scheduled the meeting to start at 2 p.m.

Closing day changes

The new schedule goes as follows. The draw for golf will be made at 12:30 sharp and teeoffs will begin as quickly as possible to allow us to get back in for the meeting which is now set for 4 p.m. The potluck supper will follow at about 5:30.

As for the closing day tournament, club captain Jack Newsom is planning a best ball, consisting of four player teams. He is hoping to go with two men and two women per team providing the numbers work out. At any rate it will be mixed as much as possible so ladies make a point to be out and hold up your end of the club.

There will be team gross and net prizes awarded.

Important meeting

The meeting, as you are all aware, is very important as it will include both the election of officers and setting of membership fees for next year.

We usually get a small number out for our meetings and as a result a very small percentage of the membership makes the decisions that the other 240 members have to abide by.

As for the election only two people have put their names up for positions. Bonnie McNairn has thrown her name in for 1st vice-president and Judy Laurin for secretary.

Nominating chairman, Nora Markell says she still has not been able to fill in the other holes, leaving president, second vice-president, treasurer, greens chairman and club captain, still very much open.

Ladies closing

For the ladies closing night The Game was played in teams of four with 58 attending. Each player used one club throughout play which included a driver, three iron, five iron and putter. They played in the same order resulting in some chips made with the driver and some of the teeoffs with their putter.

The evening was sponsored by Rohm and Haas and play was followed by a pot luck supper.

Finishing in first place with a score of 62 was the team of Nora Markell, Teri Martel, Joanne Notman and Suzanne Strader. Second place went to Bonnie McNairn, Ricki Cottrill, Barb Barkley and Judy Laurin.

The most honest team was Lynda Krug, Betty Lou Casselman, Wendy McGregor and Gail Spencer.

Men's best ball

Men's night last week was also a four-man team event when 82 players showed up for a best ball.

Taking the low gross win was the team of Jeff Cassell, Jim Whelan, Scott Corden and Don Mabo with a 28.

Tied for second with 29s were the teams of Mike Laurin, Kevin Adams, Lee Beaupre, and Tim Smith and Walt Mutchler, Fred Harper, Dave Cassell and Fred Devaul.

The Laurin team highlighted the night with eagles on the fifth and seventh holes.

The low net team consisted of Orval Delage, Ted Jarvis, Bob Barclay and Wally Baker who used a gross score of 30 for the win.

Coming up— Saturday, September 17, Simmons Tournament. Approximately 40-50 golfers. Tee-off at 1:00 p.m. Course closes at 12:45 until all are off.

Sunday, September 18 — Best ball closing day tournament at 12:30 followed by fall meeting at 4 p.m.

Sunday, September 25 — Mr. Grocer tournament.

Common loon adopted

Ontario's largest provincial conservation organization today congratulated the government on adopting the Common Loon as the official bird of Ontario.

"We are delighted with the selection," said Doug Ogston, Past President of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters. "We know the Ontario public shares our view that the sight and sound of the Common Loon symbolizes Ontario wilderness."

Upon hearing the announcement, Rick Morgan, Executive Vice President of the Federation said, "When we selected this magnificent nongame bird as our official logo in 1987 to symbolize our conservation efforts, our members particularly recognized that the loon is sensitive to environmental change."

Morgan added, "The loon might well be described as a barometer of environmental health. For example, there's evidence that breeding success may be lowered on lakes affected by acid precipitation. Along the most ancient of all our bird species, loons are a real success story and we'd like to see them remain that way."

The Common Loon is traditionally widely distributed in Ontario, nesting throughout the Canadian Shield and northward. These water birds are usually on land only to nest; the sexes look alike. Normally, two eggs are laid and hatch in about a month's time. During their first few weeks, the flightless chicks can often be seen riding on the backs of the parent birds. The eerie call of the loon is certainly one of the most widely recognized bird calls in Ontario.

In 1988, the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters celebrate its 60th year of conservation work in Ontario.

Executive director named

OTTAWA — The Ottawa District Hockey Association has appointed Heidi Sprung as its Executive Director.

Miss Sprung has been a practicing lawyer and has extensive administration and fundraising experience with volunteer organizations. She has held such executive positions as secretary-treasurer of the Ottawa District Women's Hockey Association, President of the Ottawa East Vakyries Women's Hockey Association, secretary-treasurer, Vice-Chairman and most recently, Chairperson of the Board of Trustees of Le Groupe de la Place Royale.

Among Miss Sprung's responsibilities will be the administration through eastern Ontario of the rules and regulations of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and the CAHA insurance plan. She will also handle office and financial administration as well as the administration of a resource centre and the provision of fundraising assistance to the Board of Directors.

Brian Orser to skate at Cornwall Complex in fall skating showcase

CORNWALL — A spectacular figure skating showcase is touring 28 cities in Ontario and Quebec this fall and will stop at the Cornwall Civic Complex on October 2.

The two-hour performance will feature renowned Olympic and World Class talents including Brian Orser, 1980 Olympic and World Men's silver medalist and Tracy Wilson and Rob McCall, Olympic and World Bronze Dance medalists.

Special guest skaters include Paul Martini and Barbara Underhill, 1985-87 World Professional Pair Champions and 1984 World Pair Champions.

The show will also highlight members of Canada's National Team and a novel feature of the tour is the inclusion of selected figure skaters to the cast, representing local skating clubs in each tour location.

Tickets went on sale at the main office of the Civic Complex on September 12. There is reserved seating only and tickets should be purchased early by calling 938-9400.

Women's Institute offers free slide program on county

Colourful! Beautiful! Exciting! Delightful! These are some of the adjectives used to describe the set of slides that the Dundas District Women's Institute has put together to mark the one hundredth birthday of OMAF. Scenes of farms, apple orchards, animals, farm machinery, etc. from the four townships of the county have been arranged in a Kodak carousel with a cassette tape comentary. The show has already been presented in several locations in the county and may be borrowed by any responsible group. A slide projector which will take a Kodak carousel will be necessary and a cassette recorder can be used for the comentary or it can be read from the script which will be provided.

For booking, call one of the committee: Mrs. Garnet Empey, 652-4258; Mrs. Clair Algire, 535-2022; Mrs. Russell Marcellus, 448-2605; Mrs. Norman Gibson, 258-2066.

Seeking information

Local police forces are asking for any information into two commercial break-ins which occurred last week.

The first burglary took place at the S & F Market in Iroquois in which 150 cartons of various types of cigarettes were stolen sometime last Sunday night.

Estimated value of the stolen merchandise is in excess $3,000.

The other occurred sometime between Sept. 2 and Sept. 5 at Dave's Plumbing and Heating.

Police say a large quantity of plumbing supplies were taken, including toilets, vanities, stainless steel pumps, pressure tanks and 30 pieces of half-inch copper pipe.

Total amount of supplies taken is valued at over $5,000.

"Crime Stoppers will pay $1,000 for information, that if received this week leads to the arrest of the persons responsible for these Break Enter and Theft crimes," says Const. Morgan Hill of the Morrisburg OPP detachment.

"If you have any information, you can call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-267-8477."

Women's Institute

MORRISBURG — September 8th brought the Morrisburg Women's Institute together after a summer holiday.

President Beatrice Shaver, opened the meeting in usual form then called upon Reik Pepers, Convenor, to introduce speaker, C.F. McInnis, a well-known Morrisburg lawyer for 30 years.

He gave a very informative talk on the need for giving Power of Attorney to someone trustworthy, before we need it. He explained the different kinds of Power of Attorney and that power can be revoked at any time if necessary. It is helpful when the person with this legal power is also the executor of your will.

Mr. McInnis also discussed the "Living Will" whereby one can reject the use of artificial means of prolonging life in a terminal illness.

A discussion period followed during which specific questions were answered.

He was then thanked by Reik Pepers and presented with a small gift.

The business part of the meeting followed and the roll call was answered by 18 members. Four visitors were present.

Lunch was served by Reik Pepers and her committee, Ethel McInnis and Lena Glover.

Ploughing match

MORRISBURG—Lyle Baker and Garnet Barkley grew up within miles of each other north of Williamsburg and will be in rivalry, once again, on September 17 and 18 at Upper Canada Village. Their expertise in horsemanship will be put to the test during the ploughing match at the Village's Agricultural Fair.

Mr. Baker who won the ploughing match for the last two consecutive years, says that a superior team might have given him the edge over other competitors in the past. However, his experience in showing horses and ploughing with them for 45 years must not be underestimated.

Other contenders for the title of ploughing champion are Harold McBryde, Don Dobbie and Thomas Dunn from Spencerville, Kevin Robertson from Lunenburg, Charles Cameron from Long Sault, Lawrence Kelly from Brockville and Harvey Lippiatt from Prescott.

The Agricultural Fair will also feature a large exhibit tent with all entries as close as possible to the 1860's descriptions. In addition, livestock, poultry and 1860's implements will be on display in the fairgrounds.

Professional and not-so-professional entertainers will provide music, songs and magic, and modern visitors can treat themselves to a choice of 10 cent snacks at the Refreshment Booth.

Upper Canada Village is located 11 kilometers (7 miles) east of Morrisburg off Highway No. 2 (exits 750 or 758 off Highway No. 401).
