Light may be at the end of the tunnel for Alexandria water capacity woes

by Lesley Cadham
News editor

Alexandria textile manufacturer Consoltex has agreed to cut daily water consumption by 90,000 gallons before May 1988, giving the town vitally needed water capacity.

In a recent meeting, Consoltex consented to reduce daily consumption from 400,000 gallons to 370,000 gallons, immediately, and further agreed to cut daily consumption to about 310,000 gallons by May.

The company used abut half of the 800,000 gallons of water consumed in Alexandria daily.

According to Plant Manager Yves Cheney, Consoltex has purchased equipment which will recycle water used to cool plant machinery. He would not say how much it is costing Consoltex to conserve water.

"I felt we had to something. We're part of the community, said Mr. Cheney, adding that 90,000 gallons is a good start.

He also said the company had already been taking steps toward using less of the town's water, and that they were already aware of the water shortage. The company will continue to search for ways to decrease consumption, he said.

In previous years, Consoltex endeavored to locate water on its own land by digging for wells but were unsuccessful at finding sufficient water to maintain the industry.

The plant was approached by Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette, members of council and Ministry of the Environment (MOE) officals after the ministry expressed serious concerns about the sufficiency of sewage and water facilities in town.

MOE had been requested by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs to comment on Denis Ethier's plan of subdivision for land in northeastern Alexandria. Since the town had not followed recommendations by MOE to expand the sewage system two years earlier, ministry officials felt it was time to take a good look at the town's services.

At an October meeting called by MOE, Cornwall District Officer Gerry McKenna said there was enough water to accommodate homes already connected to services. But he recommended against connecting about 200 or 300 additional undeveloped lots to which the town has committed to provide sewer and water services.

At the same meeting, it was decided that the town would approach Consoltex to appeal to the company to recycle water used to cool machinery.

And recently, Carnation indicated it would be willing to look at cutting water consumption again. It had already reduced consumption from 1.8 million gallons a month to 1.2 million gallons a month when it stop-

Kenyon landowner to benefit from town's services

Alexandria town council has agreed to provide sewer and water services to lots in Kenyon Township despite recent recemmendations by the province to hold off on new service connections.

The town will provide services to Lots 3 and 4 which have frontage on West Boundary Road. Landowner Laurent Poirier, who is also Manager of Alexandria's Public Utilities Commission, informed council the lots would be used for single-family residences.

Councillor Roger Lemieux, mover of the resolution to consent to Mr. Poirier's request, Sunday said, Alexandria's policy allows lots to be used for single-family units which immediately adjoin boundary roads, to connect to the town's services.

Apparently pipes for both services run past Mr. Poirier's lots.

He added, he thinks the town has sufficient water to supply many more homes than are currently connected. And, he stressed, the ministry recommended against, but did not forbid, new connections.

At the meeting, Reeve John Cormier asked whether, in the ministry's eyes, there would be a

Police, searchers fail to find any sign of Glen Walter woman

by Peter Conway
Senior Reporter

An intensified search around the village of St. Anicet, Quebec, Sunday, failed to turn up clues, in the mystery of the disapperance of Glen Walter's Kathy Febrile, missing since Oct. 25.

Although searchers in airplanes sighted suspicious-looking objects late in the afternoon, Quebec Police Force Agent, Bob Condie, told The Glengarry News Tuesday, the findings weren't linked to the investigation.

"Nothing concrete came about from the objects that were sighted. We're investigating some new leads, but I can't release any information at this time," said Agent Condie.

Sunday's search, the third consecutive Sunday police and volunteers combed the St. Anicent area for clues that would assist in the investigation to the whereabouts of 20-year-old woman.

More than 240 volunteers, mostly from the Cornwall area, 12 airplanes, eight officers from the Cornwall Police Department and five Quebec Police Force officers took part in the search.

Volunteers were divided into groups which searched an area north of Hwy. 132 to the shoreline of Lake St. Francis. The search also took in a 26-km area from Port Lewis, east of St. Anicet, to Cazaville, east of the village.

Police remain baffled and are treating the case as a possible homicide, even though there's no evidence of foul play.

"We're using the search to come up with some new leads which will help in our investigation," said agent Condie, who was assisted Sunday by Cornwall Police Chief Claude Shaver.

A similar search one week earlier by about 70 volunteers from Cornwall and area, netted two pairs of women's underwear and a pair of bikini briefs. The items were found along a side road and in the woods.

Agent Condie said laboratory tests revealed the clothing wasn't linked to the investigation.

Meanwhile, people in Cornwall and Glengarry have come to the aid of the Febrile family to ease the finincial burden during the investigation.

Jean Dupelle, a friend of Anne Febrile, is organizing a door-to-door campaign throughout Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, collecting donations which will be used towards the cost of a private detective, hired by the family.

A dance to raise funds will also be held Dec. 18 at Cornwall's McDonald's Inn.

Meanwhile, former Glen Walter Fire Chief, Howard McEvoy, has opened an account at the Pitt Street branch of the Royal Bank in Cornwall. Donations totalling $1,600 have been received.

"We opened the account and people have been very generous so far. We're hoping someone finds Kathy and the money raised will be used as a reward," says Mr. McEvoy.

Anne Febrile says she'll be talking to the Quebec Police Force this week to determine if another search will be conducted in the near future.

"It's really weird because we're searching for anything that will help us and we're coming up with nothing," says Miss Febrile.

Kathy was last seen after leaving the Lakeview Inn in St. Anicet on the evening of Oct. 25. She'd left the bar without boyfriend Bob Sangster of Lancaster or other friends, after finding out it was a "strip joint".

When Mr. Sangster and his friends left the bar a few moments later, Kathy and Mr. Sangster's car were gone.

Police still haven't found the 1987 two-door Toyota Tercel, dark blue in color and bearing licence plate number 523-CSY.

Now, that's a mobile home!

The old bank and post office building began its excruciatingly slow journey from Williamstown to South Lancaster last Thursday. The truck began rolling about noon and it wasn't until 1 p.m. that the house had covered the short distance up John Street to the Raisin River bridge.

Community opens hearts to help Smits re-build

"They come in the morning after chores and don't leave until the afternoon" —Jane Smits

Neighbors, friends and volunteers in the Lancaster area and beyond have rallied to help the Smits family get back on their feet after a devastating fire on Oct. 27 destroyed their barn, a stable and six calves.

Since that night, reconstructive work on the barn has been progressing steadily as the community has pitched in to provide the labor.

"Since the day we burned, the neighbors have been helping out," Mrs. Smits said. "They come in the morning after chores and don't leave until the afternoon. It's fantastic."

Mrs. Smits estimates up to 100 individuals have shown up at various times every day except Sunday since the fire to help out in the barn reconstruction.

In addition, neighbors have been using their own tractors and gas to plow the fields for the Smits. And the 77 cattle remaining have been relocated to six neighboring farms where they're continuing to produce milk, keeping the family in much-needed income.

"So at least we're getting the milk cheque," Mrs. Smits said.

The unique aspect of this community rally is that area residents from various walks of life are helping out.

"Farmers, non-farmers, all denominations — they're all helping," Mrs. Smits said.

The barn raising is going so well, in fact, that exactly three weeks to the day of the fire — yesterday (Nov. 17) — work crews expected to put up the rafters.

"The flag is going on the roof," Mrs. Smits said, referring to a Danish tradition in which the flag is put on the highest point of the barn once the roof is built.

A benefit dance for the Smits will be held at 9 p.m. Nov. 27 at the Bonnie Glen. Entertainment will feature the Edelweiss band and donations will be accepted at the door in lieu of an admission charge.

In addition, donations are being accepted in Lancaster at the Bank of Montreal, Munro Feed and Farm Supply and V and H Equipment. In Alexandria, donations can be made at the Co-op, in Bainsville at Sangster and Sons and at Wilfrid Major Feeds in North Lancaster.

Anyone who wishes to help the Smits rebuild can call John Peters at 347-2295. Call Herman Groetelaars at 347-2395 if you have extra straw or hay.

Farmer outraged over Lochiel drainage dispute

by Peter Conway
Senior Reporter

A 12-year battle to have a municipal drain properly constructed on his land has led a Lochiel Township farmer to seek support from the media.

Rondo MacSweyn, a spokesman for the MacSweyn Bros. Farm, says his land is being ruined by heavy equipment operators who are digging for the installation of the R. F. MacLennan Drain.

"They're excavating and bulldozing the sub soil and restructuring our land in a very degrading fashion," said Mr. MacSweyn, visibly upset as he watched bulldozers working on the land. "They're digging this drain deeper and larger than what the engineer's profile calls for. As a result with their work, they're ruining our farm land."

The construction of the R. F. MacLennan Drain has resulted in a long, heated legal battle for the MacSweyns over the years and also involving Lochiel Township and the original firm of McNeely Engineering.

McNeely Engineering has since pulled out and Greer-Galloway of Peterborough is now the engineering firm involved in construction of the drain.

When reached at his Peterborough office Tuesday, Dave Wills, an engineer with the firm,

Villeneuve doing double duty in Tory shadow cabinet

Noble Villeneuve, MPP for SD&G and East Grenville has been named to two posts in Tory Leader Andy Brandt's interim shadow cabinet.

Mr. Villeneuve, one of only 16 Tories who survived the Liberal sweep in the Sept. 10 provincial election, was named agriculture and food as well as francophone affairs critic for the party Nov. 2.

Since there were so few Tories left to fill critical roles, MPPs, Mr. Villeneuve said, have had to assume more than one position. He regards both, however, as important functions within the shadow cabinet.

"Many agricultural concerns have not been fully dealt with in recent years," he said. "Many of our problems are international, which means our producers can't earn a fair return until the subsidy problems are worked out. Queen's Park and Ottawa have to help keep our producers in business."

Bilateral and multi-lateral trade, right-to-farm, farm machinery legislation, foodland guidelines, soil conservation and farm incomes are included among Mr. Villeneuve's concerns.

One of the first issues Mr. Villeneuve addressed in his new role is the need for new uses for surplus corn grown in Ontario.

He said that the Ontario government must take a more active role in promoting ethanol-methanol gasoline and CMA (Calcium-Magnesium Acetate) in order to reduce stocks of grain corn.

CMA is a substitute for road salt which the U.S. Federal Highway Administration began researching in 1982. The government has claimed the cost of CMA would be $1,045 per tonne compared to $35 for road salt, but Mr. Villeneuve pointed out that the quoted cost for CMA is that of a laboratory-produced test sample, and costs for mass production of CMA would be different.

"U.S. studies have shown that CMA could be produced at some seven to eight times the price of road salt," he said, "and these cost estimates were made using corn prices from 1982 which were higher than they are now."

He believes that as long as surpluses and low prices last, alternative non-food uses for crops must be explored to maintain a demand for farm commodities.

Commenting on Mr. Villeneuve's appointment in a press release, Tory Leader Brandt said he believed "Mr. Villeneuve will bring a considerable degree of experience and common sense to his new responsibilities."

He went on to say that "from his first day in the legislature, he demonstrated a willingness and a desire to work on behalf of his constituents and all the people of Ontario.

Our Angus H. has a reputation, generally speaking, in his writing for accuracy and recollections. However, while typing his last News issue story relative in retrospect to a few of the prominent St. Andrew's concert entertainers dating back 70 years; in his haste to meet the Tuesday noon deadline, the gremlins created a one line error of omission that resulted in his humiliation.

Briefly, Angus had this note in his story draft: ''Another all time Glengarry pianist and promoter of not only St. Andrew's concerts but also in many other respects was Mrs. ''Mary Frances (MacDonald) MacPhee,'' Glen Robertson Road.

Angus regrets the typing oversight because the role of entertaining was a major part of her life from school age continuously until the early stages of a terminal illness a few years ago.

Lochiel farmer outraged had no comment concerning complaints from Mr. MacSweyn that the orignal profile of the drain was not being complied with during construction.

Mr. MacSweyn says that had the proper work been done in the first place, it would have prevented problems in the future.

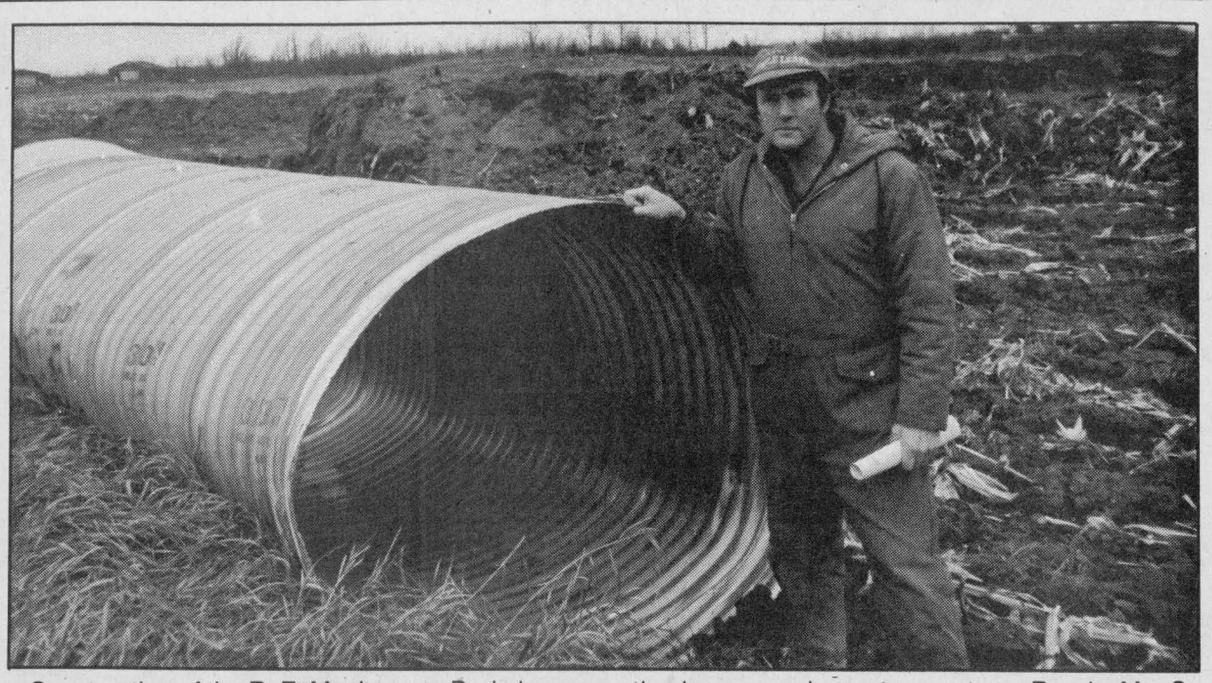
''A big mistake was made in 1975 because the pipe wasn't big enough to have all the water flowing underground on the land. The Drainage Act states the pipe has to be large enough to convey all surface water from the lands towards it.''

He added that this created a problem of water flowing over top of the land, causing damage to the land in the form of erosion.

Peter Cronyn, a lawyer from the Ottawa firm of Nelligan-Power, says the 12-year matter is more complicated than most people may think.

''From a legal perspective, it's an extremely complicated situation. This is the tail end of a very long saga. The problems with the drain go back to the beginning and it doesn't look as if it's going to end yet,'' Mr. Cronyn said Tuesday afternoon in a telephone interview from his office in Ottawa.

''The MacSweyns feel they've been wronged and the Drainage Act is to assist in providing drain solutions. It appears in the end that this hasn't been achieved as far as they're (MacSweyns) are concerned,'' he added.



Construction of the R. F. MacLennan Drain began last week on the MacSweyn Brothers farm in Lochiel Township. The owners of the farm feel their land is being ruined during construction by the heavy equipment operators. Rondo MacSweyn says the original engineer's plans haven't been followed, which has created a mess on their land.

the MacSweyns aren't the first farmers in the province who've felt they've been treated unfairly in the construction of drainage systems on their land.

''There have been a number of farmers in this province who have become frustrated with results under the Drainage Act. It's very difficult to explain why we're getting these results with the system,'' said Mr. Cronyn.

Mr. MacSweyn says they haven't received much cooperation from Lochiel Township officials in the past.

Murray Davidson, legal counsel for the township, couldn't be reached for comment Tuesday from his Toronto office.

Construction on the drain began last Monday (Nov. 9) and Mr. MacSweyn strongly believes the drain isn't being properly constructed.

''We've endured this mess and nightmare since 1975. If this drain would have been built correctly back then, our land would be more productive today and we'd be reaping the benefits of this drain. As a result we haven't been able to work the land the way we've wanted to,'' Mr. MacSweyn says.

Shop wrongly identified

A photograph printed on page 11 of last week's Glengarry News wrongly identified a new business which opened in Alexandria on Friday, Nov. 6.

The new store was identified as Menard's Menswear. In fact, the name of the store is Boutique Chez François Men's Wear and Shoes, located at 52 Kenyon Street West.

The News apologizes for any confusion or inconvenience the errors may have caused.

Did not write letter

In the story entitled ''Residents steamed over delay to rebuild first concession,'' printed in last week's News, it was written that Cyril Marshall had received a letter from the roads superintendent who told him to go back to Montreal and take his problems with him. The letter was written 17 years ago by a superintendent who is no longer in that position. The Glengarry News regrets any inconvenience caused to current Roads Superintendent Howard Rose, who took on the job in 1979 and did not write the letter.

ped processing milk waste earlier this year.

With a firm commitment from Consoltex and a possible from Carnation, MOE Environmental Officer Don Munro says the ministry may be in a position, by the end of November, to re-evaluate Alexandria's sewer and water situation. He also said MOE may be able to give Alexandria the green light to go ahead with proposed Non-Profit Housing Corporation project.

However, according to other sources, such as officials at the MOE office in Kingston, Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Mayor Touchette, the fate of the Non-Profit Housing units do not yet lie in anyone's hands but Alexandria's.

Apparently, the only plan for subdivision currently under the scrutiny of the Municipal Affairs is Mr. Ethier's proposal to construct townhouses and an apartment building and to develop 83 lots for sale for the construction of single-family homes.

Mr. Munro also said MOE may be able to approve Dr. Frans Manouvrier's plan for a small shopping mall just west of Canadian Tire, since the mall ''would not be a big water user.'' problem to provide such a connection.

Mayor J. P. Touchette replied, ''No, the only problem is in extending services on a municipal road.''

When told of council's decision by The Glengarry News, Ministry of the Environment official Don Munro asked if the move is ''a wise decision for the town? They have to realize their system is at capacity. Considering the problems they're having providing services in their own municipality, they shouldn't be providing services to another municipality.''

Truck stop hazards prompt county to purchase barriers

The roads committee of the United Counties of SD&G has agreed to spend at least $27,500 aimed at improving traffic conditions at a Bainsville area truck stop which local residents say are extremely dangerous.

The county committee last Thursday authorized the purchase of several concrete 'Jersey barriers' to better define entrances and exits at Real's Truck Stop, located on old Hwy. 2 (now county road 17) near the 401 cut-off.

The truck stop is a major rest terminal for trucks using the 401 and chaotic conditions in that area have prompted the Gunn Creek Residents Association to write to the county seeking action in the matter.

The problem stems from transport trucks using the facility and the paved parking lot, which meets the highway without a buffer of a ditch or curbs separating it from through traffic.

After the expansion and rebuilding of the service station on the north side of the old highway, and the erection of a new motel and restaurant on the south side, all within the past year, ''the whole property including the road allowance and the Old Highway has become one enormous parking lot,'' association chairman T. Wilfred Blakely said in a letter addressed to the counties.

There are no designated entrances or exits to either parking lots and often they are so congested that trucks are forced to park within a few feet of the old highway, Mr. Blakely wrote. The vehicles tend to park at right angles to the highway and pull straight out. Lack of space forces the drivers to enter the far lane, effectively broadsiding both lanes of the road.

''With winter fast approaching, bringing with it its own hazardous driving conditions, the problems will not only be compounded, but we are talking about safety and lives being at stake,'' the letter from Mr. Blakely said.

This past spring, Lancaster OPP detachment identified problems at the truck stop and met with the traffic engineer for the United Counties. Plans ranged from establishing slower speed limits to constructing curbs at an estimated cost of $75,000.

But county engineer D. J. MacDonald confirmed Monday that, following a meeting of the roads committee Thursday, his department has been authorized to purchase enough concrete barriers to define entrances and exits at the west end, the middle and on the north and south sides of the highway.

The situation was first reviewed by members of the county committee during its annual fall roads tour on Oct. 8.

Mr. MacDonald said, about a foot will be cut off the tops of the barriers, similar to those used in construction zones on highways, to allow better visibility of trucks and to prevent a ''tunnel effect'' which could worsen visibility.

Purchase of the barriers is expected to cost about $27,500, but Mr. MacDonald didn't know what the final price tag would be since the cost of equipment rentals and labor required is still unknown.

There were ditches separating the highway from the parking lot, but gradual erosion caused by trucks parked adjacent to the ditch prompted the county to install culverts and fill it.

He said the owner then paved over the sections involved.

Mr. Blakely Monday said, the county's response ''was about all we could ask for'' but hoped the work could be completed soon, before snow plowing and mounding creates new problems.

Real Derome, owner of the truck stop, was unavailable for comment Monday.

Inadequate water supply costs township firm

by Sue Harrington

Inadequate water supply for firefighting has led a Cornwall company to forfeit plans to move an acrylic bathware industry to Charlottenburgh Township.

In a letter to Charlottenburgh Planner Paul Stanton, Almico President B. R. Rousseau stated the deicision against settling in Charlottenburgh was related to insurance companies' requirements for fire protection. The industry would eventually have employed 225 people and would have been located in the vicinity of Hwy. 401 and Boundary Road.

''We have been informed that our original proposal concerning fire protection is substantially less than adequate in order to provide proper fire protection to the site,'' wrote Mr. Rousseau.

At the Sept. 16 meeting, Mr. Rousseau told council that the company intended to build a 115,000 sq. ft. building, a two-storey related office building, a lunch room facility and a reservoir which would double as a swimming pool for employees and a reservoir for water to fight fires.

But the Insurance Advisory Organization of Canada told Mr. Rousseau to ''avoid the use of a man-made pond as a source of water for the fire protection system due to the problem of replenishment, dry seasons, winter ice-caps, silting and reliability.''

Charlottenburgh Reeve Morgan Major told council he had nothing but the highest praise from Mr. Rousseau for the way in which Charlottenburgh Township had assisted the company in its attempts to locate in the area.

Almico plans to move to Brockville where it has found a suitable building.

Council rescinded the company's application to amend the Official Plan, as it will not require a zoning change from rural to industrial.

Lochiel man fined $300 for assaulting delivery man

A Lochiel Township man was fined $300 in Alexandria Provincial Court after pleading guilty to assault, Thursday.

William Ewing, 72, was charged Sept. 24 in Lochiel Township.

Mr. Ewing and the victim became involved in a heated discussion two days prior to the assault.

The accused became upset over the delivery of a truck load of fertilizer. When Mr. Ewing questioned the victim about unloading the fertilizer, he told him he wouldn't unload and cover it.

While getting into his truck, the driver was grabbed by the accused and punched in the face. Mr. Ewing again asked the man to unload the fertilizer, the victim again refused and was punched a second time in the nose.

The victim drove to the Hawkesbury OPP detachment. He suffered a nose bleed and had headaches for two days as a result of the blows.

Defence counsel Pierre Aubry told the court his client had been provoked and upset by the victim two days earlier, because he had spun gravel in the driveway while leaving the farm.

Judge Reginald Levesque disagreed, saying, ''An individual, no matter what the circumstances are, can't react violently under circumstances such as this one.''

Mr. Ewing was given two weeks to pay the fine.

Major contract awarded to firm

One of the largest contracts in Charlottenburgh Township's history $537,382 was recently awarded to Cornwall Gravel Company Ltd. for construction of the Purcell Subdivision Water Works and Sewage Works projects.

Tenders for the contract were opened on the municipality's behalf, Oct. 29, by the Ministry of the Environment in Toronto. Cornwall Gravel's bid was well below the consulting engineer's pre-tender estimate of $666,370.00.

Charlottenburgh Township Reeve, Morgan Major, said, ''It makes me very, very happy to read this'' (the letter confirming the awarding of the tender.) He was visibly pleased that the long awaited project is ready to begin.

Proposed completion date of the project is July 15, 1988.

Social centre set to open

About $200,000 in renovations to the Glen Robertson Social Centre are almost complete and the doors will unlock to a grand opening celebration, Nov. 21.

The ''new'' centre has a banquet and dance hall which holds 245 guests. There are also complete bar and kitchen facilities for parties, a board room for meetings and Club 65 has claimed its own meeting room.

Outside, there is a lighted baseball diamond, skating rink and parking lot for about 200 cars. Washrooms have been constructed to be accessible from outside of the social centre.

And in January, area residents will be able to choose books from the Glen Robertson branch of the SD&G County Library, to be located in the centre.

The renovations, which began in the spring, were funded with the help of a $97,500 Wintario grant. Lochiel Township had to match the amount through other donations, labor and materials.

Club 65 contributed $5,000. $20,000 was received from Glen Robertson Recreation. Caisse Populaire in Alexandria contributed $2,000. Alexandria's Bank of Nova Scotia donated $1,000 and corporate donors kicked in a good share.

A minimum donation of $250 will buy a small plate with the donor's name engraved on it, to be mounted on a plaque in the centre's lobby. Contributions have come from as far away as Florida, say Lochiel Township officials.

In July, Glen Robertson resident Benjamin Prieure won the competition to create a name for the newly-renovated centre.

The open house will be held Sat., Nov. 21 from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Bookings for the banquet hall can be made by calling Clerk-Treasurer Real Charbonneau at 525-3283 or Lilly Rozon at 874-2227.

The banquet and dance hall at the renovated Glen Robertson Social Centre has a capacity for about 245 guests. Lochiel Township councillors Jean Lucien Larocque, left, and Alex McDonald, centre, and Clerk-Treasurer Real Charbonneau proudly displayed the premises, Thursday afternoon.

Council briefs

The regular bi-weekly meeting of Alexandria town council was held at the town hall, Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. Councillor Larry Yaguchi was absent. The following are among the items dealt with by council.

One free false alarm

Alexandria town council has decided to allow local businesses one free false alarm a year.

Council recently decided to abandon the idea of sending only the fire chief to confirm the authenticity of a fire call. Under that proposal, the fire chief would have called in the rest of the firemen if there was actually a fire. But if it was a false alarm, the town would have had to pay the fire chief $37 for the trip instead of $500 in wages to the entire fire department.

But Sunday, Deputy Reeve Roger Lemieux, who is also Chairman of council's fire and light committee, said the system was too shaky. The town could possibly be held liable if, during the minutes that the fire chief analyzed the situation, a fire went out of control.

Within the new system, a company will have to pay for the second false alarm and any others that occur within a year.

Council contacted Alexandria Telephone Answering Service owner Paul Lalonde to ask that he confirm a fire call before alerting firemen. The fire emergency telephone rings at TAS and some alarms ring directly into TAS.

In a Nov. 4 letter, Mr. Lalonde said he would follow council's wishes ''to the letter,'' adding that he'd always used common sense when responding to alarms. He wrote that he always called the fire department and then called to confirm the authenticity of the fire.

He also raised the point that, without sending someone to check, it would be difficult to verify the authenticity of fires at two local companies which produce the most false alarms. One company's alarm rings into TAS and the other company's alarm rings into an Ottawa Security firm.

During discussion at the Nov. 10 meeting, Councillor Archie McDougall said he had not approved of the proposed system of sending the fire chief to check out the situation.

''I can't believe that's an efficient system . . . where the chief comes and checks to see if my house is really on fire.''

Usually, Mr. Lalonde takes names and phone numbers when a fire call comes in and will call the number back to confirm that there is cause to send the fire department. If he calls to confirm and does not get an answer, he will send the department anyway.

However, the confirmation call will give people a chance to say, 'no there is no fire,' says Mr. Lemieux.

Sandfield Street sidewalk

Alexandria town council will reconsider plans to construct a sidewalk on the west side of Sandfield Street.

John F. MacDonald, father of an Ecole Elda Rouleau student and controller at Alexandria Moulding, attended the Nov. 10 council meeting to say he thought Ecole Elda Rouleau students would be safer walking on the east side of the busy roadway.

Earlier this year, a delegation of parents and Ecole Elda Rouleau staff visited the councils of Alexandria and Lochiel Township to ask that a sidewalk be constructed on Sandfield Street. Members of the delegation said they worried about the youngsters who are forced to walk on the shoulders of the busy roadway.

Sandfield Street is a boundary road and therefore, the proposed project required funding and consent from both municipalities.

Last month, the councils and the school's parent-teacher association determined that the west side of Sandfield Street would be the best location for a sidewalk. They reasoned that most daytime traffic was generated by Sanilit which is located on the east side at the corner of Lochiel Street.

Youngsters could cross the sidewalk in front of Elda Rouleau, walk safely up the west side and if needed, cross back to the other side at the corners of Lochiel and St. Paul streets.

But Mr. MacDonald told council, there is a lot more traffic coming from Alexandria Moulding's parking lot than from Sanilit's.

''To put the sidewalk on the west side would be directing children right into traffic,'' said Mr. MacDonald.

He also said he didn't feel the students could be controlled and made to cross the street right in front of the school. And even if they could be, he added, the tiny section of road would become a mass of confusion twice a day with youngsters crossing the street and buses and cars retrieving commuting students.

But Councillor Jacques Joly said that in the past, he noticed students chose the walk on the west side of Sandfield and Councillor Jim Baker suggested Alexandria Moulding teach its truck drivers to ''keep their eyes open.''

Abstaining from discussion was Councillor Fern Séguin who lives on Sandfield Street. He joked that it didn't matter on which side the walkway was constructed, the improvement would cause his property value to rise.

Council suggested that representatives from Lochiel Township, Elda Rouleau's parent-teacher association and Mr. MacDonald be invited to discuss the matter at a future council meeting after the property, traffic and non-profit housing committee has discussed the issue.

Parking lot leasing

Alexandria, the Royal Bank and the Bank of Nova Scotia will each lease 25 per cent of the parking lot located immediately north of Glengarry Farmers Mutual, it was announced at the Nov. 10 town council meeting.

About a month ago a Farmers Mutual delegate approached council to ask whether the town was interested in leasing a portion for municipal parking. The insurance company, which owns the lot, found the lot too big for its own customers and discovered drivers who were not Farmers Mutual customers were using the lot.

According to Manager Brian Fisher, the parking lot is only temporary. Earlier this year, Farmers Mutual levelled a house on the lot to make way for future expansion of the existing office building. Until expansion takes place the area will be used as a parking lot.

Re-zoning processing invalid

Plans by landowner Denis Ethier to sell a piece of land in the northeastern section of Alexandria will be delayed due to improper processing of a zoning amendment.

Earlier this year, a small portion of Mr. Ethier's land was re-zoned from Residential Holding to R-4 multiple dwelling to allow for the construction of an apartment building for senior citizens. And a few weeks ago, members of the Alexandria's Non-Profit Housing Corporation's board of directors decided it would be a good location for proposed geared-to-income apartments for seniors.

But a crucial step in the passing of a zoning amendment — the publication of the Notice of Adoption of the bylaw — was omitted. The Town was notified in a Nov. 3 letter by Ottawa consultant firm J. L. Richards and Associates, which is co-ordinating plans for the Housing Corporation for up to 59 affordable family and seniors' rental units.

According to Town Clerk-Treasurer Leo Poirier, the town was advised by Winchester consultant Larry D. Cotton that there was no need to publish the notice. Mr. Ethier will have to ''start over from scratch'' and it will be another two months before the property is legally re-zoned.

Difficulties collecting bill

Alexandria is trying to buck footing an $800 bill for a trip into Quebec by the Alexandria Fire Department a couple of months ago.

Apparently, Lancaster OPP called the fire department asking men to bring the ''jaws of life'' to the scene of a car accident because a young woman was allegedly trapped in the wreckage.

Firemen were under the impression the accident had taken place in Lancaster Township.

The Alexandria Fire Department does not have a contract with municipalities outside of the province so the town clerk is apparently having difficulties collecting for the service. He says the clerk in St. Telesphore told him to send the bill, though she doubted it would be paid by the municipality.

Senate reform

If Canadians did not feel the Senate should be abolished or in the least, reformed, before the current delays of the federal government's controversial drug patent legislation, they could hardly be asking for anything less now.

As late as yesterday (Tues. Nov. 17), Liberal senators met to decide whether to try again to seek a compromise with the Conservative government on its controversial drug patent bill. Even though two previous attempts at compromise have been rejected by Consumer Affairs Minister Harvie Andre, some of the senators favor a third attempt by setting up a rarely used formal negotiating session, usually involving three representatives each from the Commons and Senate. The process is designed to help resolve conflicts.

The senators appear to be seeking an honorable way out of a position that is becoming increasingly unpopular among the Canadian people.

But the argument against the senator's actions extends beyond their opposition to a bill that will give brand-name drug producers 10 years of patent protection. It is the same argument that has been historically used as a reason to turn the Senate into a useful institution for a retirement home for party hacks.

Canadians cannot tolerate much longer the idea that a group that is not elected, that represents no specific constituency, that is so steeped in political partisanship as to be practically ludicrous, can hold up legislation drawn up in parliament.

The view that the Senate is a chamber of sober second thought aimed at providing safety nets for laws has long since given way to the negative public image Canadians have of it today. Instead of attempting to improve that image, senators continue to pooh-pooh their critics and use their majority to flex their political muscle over our political representatives, at the cost of delayed legislation and public outrage.

Clearly, the Senate's job, if there is to be one for it in the future, should be spelled out in the Constitution, with the new functions and powers of the reformed Senate determined deliberately. Unfortunately, Prime Minister Brian Mulroney will not move on Senate reform until he presents a comprehensive reform package to the premiers next year under the terms of the Meech Lake accord.

Certainly in the interim, the Liberal-controlled upper chamber should recognize it is defying the wishes of the people, plain and simple, and end its opposition to Bill C-22. By insisting on pressing its point, it has and will gain little and further erode the miniscule public support or sympathy it currently holds.

A rich community

If it's true that a community's worth is measured by its ability to care for its people, Glengarry is a very rich community indeed.

Clearly, when it comes to selfless community support, Glengarrians take a back seat to no one. Countless times we have seen people here rally behind a cause and, more important, help a neighbor in time of need.

Some 10 individuals from Lancaster gave up their own time over the last two Sundays to help the Febrile family in locating their 20-year-old daughter Kathy. She mysteriously disappeared Oct. 25 outside of a bar in St. Anicet and has been missing, virtually without a trace, since.

The day after Gerard and Jane Smits' barn and stable burned down, Oct. 27, neighbors and friends came to their aid. About 100 people in total have turned up at various times to help that farm family rebuild. Neighbors have taken in cattle displaced by the fire and milk production continues, giving the Smits ongoing income. Others have plowed their fields with their own equipment.

These are but two examples of recent contributions made to two needy causes here in Glengarry. They are by no means unique; the community has always supported such situations and will likely continue to do so.

Simply put, it's the Glengarry way.

No more new housing until water supply okay

RAMBLING REPORTER
Eugene Macdonald

The closing of our lake to swimming in mid-summer should have alerted Alexandrians to the fact the town has a serious water problem.

Now comes a second warning, this time from officials of the Municipal Affairs department. No new housing developments will get the green light for at least a year and a half, town council was informed.

There is a serious insufficiency of both water and sewerage and it will take at least 18 months before the town has solved those problems, a town planner estimated.

Meanwhile, council has already given some degree of approval for three housing developments that would create some 300 new households. Thee are the planned subdivisions that will not get governmental approval, that will be put on hold for the present.

Consultation is now under way with one of our local industries, Consoltex, that now uses some 400,000 gallons of water each day, almost half the town's daily usage. That plant is also part of the sewage problem because the sewage lagoons are unable to filter the dye thought to be a major factor in pollution of the Delisle River below Alexandria.

Town council will have to go full speed ahead if it is to solve our water and sewerage inadequacies in the next year and a half. Successive town councils have tried in vain to cope with the water and sewerage needs of Consoltex. Several millions of dollars have been spent at the water filtration plant and in improvements to the sewage lagoons over the past two decades and even now council is planning another million-dollar expansion of the filtration plant.

One wonders if that is the answer, given our limited water supply which seemed barely adequate to get us through this summer. The Alexandria dam seemed closed tight through August, possibly to conserve the water supply. Perhaps the resultant lack of flow was a factor in closing of the beach due to pollution.

In the long view, our town water supply may have to cope with that greenhouse effect environmentalists have been warning us is on the way. We may be asked to conserve water rather than make more available in years to come.

The sewage lagoons are part of the same problem, it seems. High levels of phosphorus, ammonia, hydrogen sulphide and other chemicals have been found in treated effluence from our lagoons that is polluting the Delisle River.

Ministry officials suggest local industries are responsible for 60 to 80 per cent of the pollution problem. They stop short of blaming any one plant but consultants will try to determine the amount of waste capable of being diluted by the river.

Whatever the outcome of these latest discussions it seems clear that water is a serious problem that has to be dealt with over the long view. It also seems clear that our supply is not adequate to meet the needs of Consoltex and our sewage lagoons are not able to cope with its dye.

The parent Consolidated Textile Mills has provided employment here over the past 23 years and we would hope Consoltex will be with us for years to come. A lot of problems might be solved, though, if the dyeing operations could be moved to one of their other plants.

Your publisher may be stuck with Ho Ho Joe

JUST PLAIN JOE
Joe Banks

After a shaky start, the replies to my request to name this column has slowed from a trickle to a dead stop. Where are all those imaginative brains?

You may recall some weeks back that I appealed for help in finding a new name for my column. "Just Plain Joe" is just plain boring, and I've since found out more than a few folks were relieved to learn I wanted a change.

To date, I've received written entries from just two individuals — one of which is a correspondent with this newspaper. I won't discount Joanne Stevenson's entries, but I will give Carmel Roy's entry a little more play; conflicts of interest and all that.

Carmel asked someone to draw three donkeys to be used as a logo for the column; "one with closed eyes and a dreamy look to head the column when you reminisce, one showing teeth with a hee-haw look for a humorous column and one with a wide-open mouth to head the column when you criticize, comment or express an opinion."

Carmel went on to explain that phonetically, the donkey logo "will conjure up in the minds of many readers the Scottish heritage indigenous to The Glengarry News (as in the ballad "Ye Banks and Braes").

"Actually," Carmel says "bray is defined in the dictionary as the 'cry of an ass.' Just the humor you suggested; no slur intended. Because in today's vernacular, bray has come to imply that whatever comes out is bound to be heard (read)."

Whew. For a minute there I thought the writer was trying to tell me something.

Carmel concluded that the title "plus the logo should insinuate that, no matter what the content, your intention is to keep the column light which I assume is what you want to get across to your readers."

The name of the column, then, Carmel believes, should be "Banks and Brays."

Our own Joanne Stevenson related to my experience trying to find a column. I thought I might be able to steal one of her discarded ones such as "Goulash" or "The Hungarian Glengarrian" but I'm sure my Anglo-Saxon ancestors would roll over in their graves.

Joanne suggested the following: 'Joe's Stew', 'Glengarry Jambalaya' (maybe a little too southern, even for those in south Glengarry), 'Serendipity Joe', 'Nitty Gritty Joe', 'A Moment of Your Time', 'Ho Ho Joe' (for funny columns) and 'Carved in Sand'.

'Banks Corner' — a double entendre, really, referring to both the author and a well-known town location at the intersection of Main and Kenyon streets here in town — was suggested by Alan Macdonald. A little too subtle, perhaps especially for those readers new to the area?

Well, there we have it. The extent of the entries to date. I won't close the contest yet, because I believe there are others out there floating about waiting to be heard from. However, in all practicality, I will only be holding on until noon on Monday, Nov. 30.

Once all the entries are in, I shall lay them before our independent panel (the staff and I) for selection.

If they don't like any of them, well, I suppose we could always leave a blank and each reader could fill in their own name.

Perhaps 'Banks' Blanks' in this case would be more fitting.

Can life get any more complicated?

A paradoxical decision or is it Tomfoolery?

EYE ON ALEXANDRIA
Lesley Cadham

At first, it looked like a blatant disregard for recommendations laid out by one of Ontario's most powerful ministries. If you'd asked me two weeks ago what I thought could be the town's most absurd move, this would have fit the bill.

Before I explain, I want to apologize for re-hashing this old subject.

I've no doubt you're starting to get a little tired of reading about sewerage and water, because it seems to be taking up a lot of space in the newspapers these days. And this week, both the Rambling Reporter and I seem to be opinionating on the same topic — you guessed it — water and sewers.

But last week, council agreed to a landowner's request to connect lots, on the west boundary road in Kenyon, to Alexandria's sewer and water services. Frankly, I was more than a little surprised.

For the past month or so, Alexandria has been awaiting a "go-ahead" from the Ministry of the Environment, so the ball can get rolling on geared-to-income housing for seniors.

You might remember that in October, the ministry expressed concerns about the adequacy of Alexandria's sewer and water systems to take on a heavier load. A ministry official said he could not, at that moment, allow the town to go ahead with plans for new subdivisions. He even recommended, and that's the key word here, that the town try to abstain from making any additional connections until something was done to alleviate the inadequacy of the systems.

He made it quite clear that the town is currently at capacity, period. No ifs, ands or buts there.

But on their happy-go-lucky merry-go-round of progress, councillors agreed to provide the town's precious services to out-of-town lots. And the out-of-town lots do not belong to just anyone; they belong to the manager of Alexandria's Public Utilities Commission.

Something smells a little less than sweet in Alexandria.

What better way to lead people to believe there is no insufficiency than to point out, "Look, we have so much extra water and so much space in the sewers just waiting to be used, that we're going to sell that water and that space to service lots that aren't even in our town."

it's almost scandalous.

True, the people who will eventually reside on those Kenyon properties will not put a huge dent in the services.

And I feel it is only fair to add that according to councillors, the town's policy allows lots in neighboring townships, located on boundary roads and which have the service pipes running right past them, to hook up to Alexandria's services; the good neighbor syndrome and all that.

But for heaven's sake, let's remember that charity starts at home and there are land developers right here in town that are waiting for the ministry to give them the green light.

As MOE Environmental Officer Don Munro said Monday, the town, not the ministry, will have to live with its judgment.

Winter's force a shock to Sugar Ray in miniature

WORD SKETCH
sybil Carello

Mia's lived through two other winters, but this one, gathering up its force, is a brand new shock to her Tabby-Siamese nervous system.

On bitterly cold days, we rehearse the same scene until I get fed up or Mia gives up: "Letmeeoww," she says. "It's cold," I warn. "Naa, can't be," she purrs, optimistically. I open the door. The wind smacks her full-tilt, zings through her thin mink coat and flattens her brown velvet ears into a matadors's cap. She squints, grimaces, finally regains her equilibrium (though not her dignity) and delivers a few ineffective right and left hooks to the invisible enemy's chin. It hits back, this time icily ruffling the hair on her underbelly. Meeoowwrrr. Profoundly embarassed now, and uncontrollably incensed, she turns into a tiny flailing machine.

"Alright" she appears to be saying, "I give up! Where did you put the sun?"

When the spasms of laughter subside, I try to explain the weather theory to her. But her frisbee-sized aquamarine eyes glaze over with ambivalence. She's not interested in the abstract. She's convinced the answer to her personal dillemma is as simple as asking to go out at the right time, and (most important) from the right door, the Magic Door.

Some days, neurotically anxious to dust her hunting territory for critter prints, she approaches every door in the house - closets and cupboards included - with unparalled naiveté.

The real problem is, that she's not a bona fide, processed-food-type-housecat. She's a huntress and an adventuress. Only the knowledge of unlimited tummy-rubs and real chicken treats convince her she has a home here.

Lately, however, her requests to go out have been hitting matter-of-fact notes. Her whacky two-thirds Siamese temperament seems subdued, replaced by cool Tabby realism.

I open the door and without hesitation, she leaps into the wind's face, ducking and sparring. A Sugar Ray Leonard miniature. Then she dashes across the bumpy frozen lawn with so much speed, I'm convinced, she's convinced, the hounds of Hell are nipping at her tail.

LETTERS

Thoughtless shopper hurts merchants

To the Editor:

Ms. Marr's letter in The Glengarry News caused me to reflect very deeply on the service I have been giving my customers for the past two years and on the fact that my mother gave hers for 31 years before me.

I found it quite disturbing that she chose to generalize on all the businesses in town. I agree that there are certain stores where you are expected to help yourself (self-serve) but I doubt very much that any sales clerk in these stores would refuse to help when asked.

At the same time, I could name a long list of stores where you would get courteous, personal service at any time. I can only speak for my store when I say that we try to help people out as much as we can. Unfortunately, not everyone likes being helped out. Upon asking "May I help you?", three times out of five we get a very rude "I'm just looking!"

It is very difficult for us to guess which customers want to be helped and which do not. If I was guilty of ignoring her when she was in my store, I apologize.

If she finds that Alexandria merchants don't go out of their way to help her out, then she must be appalled when she shops in the big cities. My last experience in one of these centres involved the only sales clerk in a certain store talking on the phone to a friend and using extremely obscene language. This has never happened to me in Alexandria and I doubt that it ever would.

If she is basing her letter on one solitary incidence or on one business in particular, then she has hurt quite a number of merchants who, like me, pride themselves on the service they give.

I invite her to my store anytime to "check-up" on us. If she does not find the cordial service we try very hard to give, then she is very welcome to say so again in The Glengarry News. We will even wrap her Christmas gifts at no extra charge.

All patrons deserve courteous service

To the editor:

In response to last week's letter by Janet Marr, "Take care of your clients," is unfair criticism of all the merchants in Alexandria. If she was so ignored in one store, then she should have complained to the owner or manager and not lump us all together as uninterested in our clients.

We at the The Bootique have spent many, many times up to half an hour with a customer, who after all this time did not even buy, but we thank them for coming in, and it was a pleasure serving them. Now tell me in which big shopping mall can you receive this kind of service?

I moved here in February, 1971, and have done all my shopping in Alexandria since having moved here. If I want my town to grow and prosper, then here is where I earn my money and here is where I will spend it. I have always been well treated in every store I have ever shopped in.

Alexandria is a good and friendly town; let us all work together to keep it this way and not try to tear it down.

Enjoy and profit from our Christmas Shopping Spree, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and funded by the merchants, all for you dear customer; you are the benefactors.

Wild bees transmit contagious diseases to kin in captivity

To the Editor:

When we deal with contagious diseases the first precaution to take is to isolate the source of disease in order to curb the spreading of germs.

This is relatively easy with cattle since they are usually penned. Furthermore, no farm animals, be it cows, sheep or chickens, live in freedom.

The same cannot be said about the bees! I agree that bees are kept in so called "captivity" in the hive but they can fly wherever they want to meet other bees living in "freedom." If the beekeeper takes good care of his flock, he may keep them in good health, but nothing guarantees that he will succeed. The wild bee colonies living in hollow trees or in abandoned dwellings can be affected by contagious diseases and can contaminate the bees of the careful beekeeper.

I have nothing against wild bees except that they can be affected by a contagious disease. If they are, a large amount of domesticated bees may become infected which in turn is a loss of production and return for the beekeeper. However, it is reassuring to know that no bee disease, however severe it might be, can affect the health of human beings.

As the provincial bee inspector for Glengarry (Kenyon and Lochiel), Prescott and Russell and Cumberland in Ottawa-Carleton, I ask that anyone aware of wild bees in a tree or in an abandoned building get in touch with me so I can destroy the colony. I will not harm the tree if it is a nice specimen but menacing trees should be felled and opened in order to destroy the contaminated combs.

I can be reached at (613) 488-2133. I have an answering machine and speak both official languages.

Thank you in advance for your co-operation.

Ban tabacco products

To the Editor:

The Canadian Medical Association (CMA) believes that the health of Canadians would be improved by speedy passage by Parliament of Bill C-51, the Tobacco Products Control Act.

The bill, introduced last spring by the Hon. Jake Epp, Minister of National Health and Welfare, would eliminate advertising of tobacco products and introduce other measures to reduce smoking.

There is no doubt in the minds of physicians that smoking is responsible for more than 35,000 deaths every year and is the leading cause of preventable death and disease in Canada.

The CMA which supports efforts to eradicate this killer, has asked Canada's 56,000 physicians to contact their MPs to voice their support for Bill C-51 as a citizen and as a health care professional.

While I believe it is the responsibility of the medical profession to show leadership on this important health issue, I think every Canadian should express their opinion on Bill C-51 to their elected representatives.

I urge readers to join the doctors of Canada and make their views on prohibiting tobacco advertising known to their MP and this newspaper. Information on who your MP is, the correct address and telephone number is available by calling the toll-free number 1-800-267-3800.

Turkey vultures not so rare

Lancaster, Ont.

Sir:

Allow me a few comments regarding your article about turkey vultures that appeared on the front page of The Glengarry News, Oct. 28.

I have just returned from a trip to around St. Thomas, London, Aylmer, Essex, Leamington, Pelée Island, Port Bruce and Windsor, Ontario. I had the opportunity to see firsthand a number of these birds in the above areas.

Many local people informed me they see the said birds regularly therefore leading me to believe their habitat has moved considerably north from the Arizona desert where they are usually seen according to the quote in your paper from Dr. Janet Lalonde.

So just maybe these turkey vultures are not so rare in Ontario as some people think.

Reader extolls virtues of patron Saint Andrew

To the editor:

"Why would the Scots choose St. Andrew as their patron saint?" is a question that has been asked me several times, and one for which, in my ignorance, I cannot answer.

But I can list some very good attributes in his favor.

Andrew (strong man) was a native of Bethsaida in Galilee and a brother of Peter. He first became a disciple of John the Baptist, but then followed Jesus on John's testimony. He then brought his brother, Peter, to Christ, stating that "we have found the Messiah."

He continued the business of being a fisherman until some time later in his life.

One of the favorite Sunday school lessons in my youth was "the feeding of the 5,000 persons". Andrew it was who noticed the little boy with a picnic lunch of five barley loaves and two small fish.

This, to me, was a great test of faith in Christ on Andrew's part, and I recall a Sunday school chorus — "Little is much if God is in it." The words, I feel, express what Andrew may have felt.

Once again Andrew was helpful when the Greeks (Jews) came, wanting to meet Christ. Andrew was the one concerned about Jesus' statement regarding destroying and re-building the temple.

It is my regret that I know so little about his ministry except that tradition states he preached in Scythia and Achaia and that he was a martyr, crucified on a transverse cross. Tradition is that which early writers mentioned; "The acts of Andrew" and "The Gospel of St. Andrew," but these were rejected and lost.

St. Andrew is represented in art, as an old man with long white hair and flowing beard, bearing the gospel in his right hand and leaning on a transverse cross.

He became the Patron Saint of Scotland and Nov. 30 was the date chosen on which to pay tribute to this great Christian Martyr.

The Scottish psalter provides a fine common metre tune called "St. Andrew" to which many of the psalms and paraphrases have been arranged.

Two new firemen selected

APPLE HILL
Nancy Marleau

I apologize for the absence of my column last week. I didn't really know I'd be missed that much! I'll try not to let it happen again.

We were all shocked and very sorry to hear of Father Theoret's sudden heart attack two Sundays ago. Father has been in intensive care in the Hotel Dieu Hospital for the past few days, but he is now out of intensive care, regaining his strength and well on his way to making a good recovery. Our prayers and best wishes go out to you Father, for a rapid recovery and hope that you'll be back with us soon.

The results from euchre at St. Anthony's Nov. 10 were: Helen Jackson, Gladys Barton and Gloria Rolland in the ladies division. Men's division winners were Dan MacRae, Alex McDermid and R. J. McPherson. The 50/50 winners were Attie Struthers (2), Ross Fraser, Rita Séguin, Mary MacDonell, Fernand Brabant, Sandy McRae, Rita Deschamps, Lawrence Thauvette and Angela McDonell. The door prize was won by Isobel Cameron MacDonald and the dinner for two was won by Gloria Rolland. There were 23 tables. Thank you to everyone who helped.

The Apple Hill Legion held its Remembrance Day service, Wednesday at 11 a.m. A short parade led by a piper took us to the cenotaph. A moment of silence was recognized after the singing of God Save The Queen. A few speeches were said before the laying of the crosses and wreaths. It concluded with the singing of O Canada and a parade back to the Legion Hall. Of all who could have attended this service, only a small crowd appeared.

At the November meeting of the Apple Hill Fire Department, two new firemen were selected. We congratulate Jim Vallance and Michel Lacelle. Best of luck to you both and thank you for taking on this new responsibility.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Faubert have certainly had a busy week. Mr. Faubert celebrated his birthday on Sunday and they also celebrated their anniversary on the same day. Mrs. Lynn Brim from CFB Borden, Ont., was a guest for a week with Mr. and Mrs. Faubert.

Our "Apple Hill Christmas Dance" will be held on Sat., Nov. 28 at the Activity Centre. The dance will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with disc jockeys "Pam and Paul." For those of you who still have tickets on our basket of cheer draw, please hand them in to Janice MacIntosh, our new treasurer, before the night of the dance. Come on out and get in the Christmas spirit. We'd love to have you!

We are looking for some fundraising ideas for our recreation, so anyone with suggestions please pass them on so they can be discussed.

There will be a meeting on Wed., Nov. 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the fire hall concerning our rink. This is a special meeting concerning tournaments be it broomball, hockey or soft puck ice-time for kids, teenagers or adults or practices or just fun games. The cost of ice-time has to be decided, among many other items concerning the rink. If you are at all concerned about any of this, please try to attend as your input and suggestions are most needed.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Cameron MacLeod on his sudden death. Also to Madeline MacMillan on the death of her father.

Something new is going on in town on Sat., Nov. 21, at Cheryl McPhail's house. An Avon Open House! You are invited to Cheryl's house to browse through the latest Avon Christmas delights from noon to 5 p.m. You can see and smell the products and order them on the spot. Where else can you have a cup of coffee while you Christmas shop? Everyone welcome!

Boy, November sure is the month for birthdays in town, it seems. Birthday greetings go out to my father-in-law, Babe Marleau on Nov. 4. My husband, Vince, turned 33 on Nov. 10 and Joe O'Farrell's birthday was on the same day. Another double birthday celebration will be, Friday, Nov. 20. Happy birthday to Barbara Benton and Winston Van Putten. A year wiser do you think, Winston? Also happy birthday to a former Apple Hill resident, Keith Darling, whose birthday is on Nov. 18. Anyone else from the village in November?

Wilfred Cousineau of Breadalbane, phoned to tell me of a bunch of badly battered balloons that Roger and Beatrix had found in the pasture. There were 12, all green and white with the same colored ribbons and the attached message "Edina Homecoming 1987." Wilfred is wondering if anyone has any idea where they came from.

Give your community volunteers the recognition they deserve!

The XV Olympic Winter Games open in Calgary on February 13, 1988.
These will be the first Winter Games to be held in Canada.

To share the spirit of our Olympics, communities across Canada are recognizing local citizens for their support of amateur sport and for their contributions to the community as a whole.

Recognition will be given in the form of a Government of Canada Celebration 88 Award. A male and female local athlete, coach, sponsor, volunteer and official will each receive a Celebration 88 medal for their contribution to amateur sport. Other active community members will be honoured with Celebration 88 certificates.

A Government of Canada representative will present these awards at a special ceremony. For communities located on the route, the ceremony will likely be held in conjunction with the arrival of the Olympic Torch Relay, sponsored and organized by Petro-Canada.
Also, a number of the awards recipients, selected through a draw, will be flown to the Olympic Winter Games in Calgary, courtesy of Air Canada.

To make sure the people in your community get the recognition they deserve, please fill out the Nomination Form and send it to your local Celebration 88 Awards Chairperson.

Claire Leger called me to ask if the reading public could help her and the parents' committee of Ecole St. Joseph. It seems there is to be a special day held at the school for 'Fete de Ste.-Catherine' and they would like some of the mothers to wear period costumes, circa 1800s. The committee would like to borrow two dresses and bonnets (size 14/16 and 24 1/2) for the day. The outfits would be well taken care of and returned as soon as the event is over. If you can help out, please call Claire at 347-3049.

Alice Leger, who is in charge of the costumes and make-up for Lancaster's Santa Claus Parade on Dec. 5, called to say that she is looking for children to 'star' in the parade in costume, ages 6-16. Adults are also needed. Call her at 347-2415 if you are interested.

Community saddened by recent sudden deaths of three residents

MAXVILLE
Gordon Winter
527-2888

To celebrate her 90th birthday, Mrs. Alex J. Campbell of Bowmanville recently visited her brother, John and Mrs. Urquhart in the village. Mrs. Campbell's associations with the area go back a good many years as well as those of her late husband who was a native of Athol.

Mrs. Campbell was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Higgins from Cranbrook, B.C.

Ross and Dorothea Conners recently entertained a guest from Glen Falls, N.Y. She was Judy Reinecker, a friend the Conners had made while taking courses under the auspices of Elderhostel in Vermont last spring.

Margaret and Keith Jack have returned from Newfoundland where they spent two weeks visiting with their daughter Eleanor Keeping and her family.

The community was saddened by three recent sudden deaths. Chris Jourdeuil died in Alexandria on Nov. 4 after curling there and sympathy is extended to his wife Louise and their three sons and other relatives.

Presently, Mrs. Richard Geia, Riva Bella, France is visiting with her sister-in-law, Louise Jourdeuil.

Cameron MacLeod died suddenly last Wednesday evening at the age of 89. Sympathy is extended to his daughter Helen and Ian D. MacLeod and their son, John D., Dominionville west and to a host of other relatives in Apple Hill, Maxville and Dunvegan.

A Maxville native, Andrew Guindon of Dunvegan died suddenly last Thursday. Sympathy is extended to all his family members and other relatives.

Ethel McKinnon has returned home from a trip to British Columbia and California. Included were visits with her son Gordon Ferguson and his family and with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McKercher.

Lise and Adrian St. Louis were in Merrickville to visit his brother and sister, Ronald and Juanita. Lena Golden accompanied them to Spencerville where she visited with her sister, Laura Larocque.

Dorothea and Ross Conners recently visited with friends in Barrie, her mother, Margaret Matheson in Bracebridge and daughter Cathy in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ovila Doth and Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Besner were in Vankleek Hill to attend the 50th anniversary celebrations of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Cadieux. The church mass was followed by a dinner in Hawkesbury and then a family gathering in the old family farm home at McAlpine. Mr. Doth and Mrs. Cadieux are brother and sister.

Catherine and Dan MacRae had his cousin Margaret (Kelly) Mrozack from Long Island, N.Y. for a week's visit. Rae Munro from Winchester also came as did daughter Eileen Cherry, her husband Richard and sons Ian, Ryan and Jonathon from Ottawa.

Janet MacKillican, RN, has recently moved from Toronto to live with her mother, Mrs. L. W. McKillican and has become a member of the Manor staff. Welcome back home, Janet.

Best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cumming on their recent marriage. Jim's two sisters, Glenda and Norma Cumming from Kamloops, B.C. were home for the wedding and holidays with their father, Donald.

Roy Cameron, Jim's uncle, and his son, Bruce, from Edmonton were also home with Roy's mother, Mrs. Harold Cameron.

This is a reminder that the ladies of Maxville United Church are holding their annual tea, bazaar and bake sale in the church hall on Nov. 21 starting at 2 p.m.

The first Maxville and District Lions Club breakfast for this year is all set for this Sunday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Sports Complex. Everyone is invited to come out, meet with friends and see what can still be had for $4 (kiddies are $2).

Speaking of a real bargain, the Lions Club 50-50 draw gets under way this Saturday and will continue for 20 weeks. This is your chance to support one of the Lions most popular fundraising projects. You are invited to drop in at the Home Hardware Store and get your name on the board. The cost is $1 per week.

The Maxville Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society was held last week with the usual annual reports given and business conducted.

A total of $7,420.25 was raised during the annual campaign and from In Memoriam donations while cancer patients were assisted with transportation and supplies by the expenditure of $1,466.32.

The officers for the year 1987-88 are:

President — Sharon Villeneuve, 527-5264; Secretary — Cathy Clay, 527-3491; Treasurer — Gordon Winter, 527-2888; Patient Services and Transportation — Lorraine Villeneuve, 527-5532; Education — Helen Ayotte, 538-2230; Campaign — Donnie Vallance — 527-5497.

Anyone requiring assistance through the Maxville branch is invited to contact the appropriate officer as indicated above.

The annual meeting of the Maxville and St. Elmo branches of the Canadian Bible Society was held Nov. 1 in St. Michael and All Angels Anglican church. Rev. David Oliver, Montreal District Secretary, presided and led in worship.

Jim Fergusson, branch secretary-treasurer, reported on this year's canvass and mail-in of donations. Response has been good although a little below last year. Final figures for the canvass will be available later this month.

There were 17 canvassers in the Maxville branch and four in the St. Elmo branch. Thanks were expressed to all canvassers and to all who made donations.

Jim Fergusson will continue as Maxville branch secretary-treasurer for 1988. Rev. Wallace MacKinnon will serve as St. Elmo branch representative following the departure of former St. Elmo secretary-treasurer Donald McEwen. The two branches will work together in organizing the 1988 canvass. The position of president remains vacant in both branches.

During 1988, a special effort will be made to ensure that every adherent and active member of the churches represented at the meeting is included within the Society's mailing list. The co-operation of these churches is being requested. Bible Society supporters are also asked to save the stamps from their incoming mail as these can be sold to raise funds.

Rev. Oliver showed the film "Winter is Over" about the Christian church in China and the new freedoms it now enjoys. The film title is the name of a hymn whose composition was begun during the brief liberalization of 1957 but was completed only in 1982. It has become a favorite throughout the churches in China. There are about four million practising Christians in China today, with record growth. There are no denominations. The bible societies are supporting the Amity Press, a completely up-to-date computerized printing press located in China and capable of producing six million Chinese-language Bibles a year as well as both Christian and appropriate secular literature.

In spite of the fact that your correspondent submitted a date a week later for this euchre, the crowd was as usual. Our readers may think what they will, but the only logical conclusion is that the euchre players' network is the most efficient advertising medium.

The royal pair did not do so well at this party nor at the next one on Wednesday night.

Helen Jackson, Monkland, had the top score for the ladies with Bertha Lalonde coming second and Alice Richer, third. Top man was Herbie O'Byrne with Clair Markell, Newington having second best score and John McMaster, Laggan, trailing him.

It was Mr. McMaster's lucky evening which brought him two 50-50 draw prizes. Other winners of the draw were Jessie Renwick, Vankleek Hill, Mac O'Byrne, Gloria Rolland, Queen Rita, Dave Valley, Moose Creek, Ann Michaud and Marie Brabant, Apple Hill.

Margaret Michaud won the door prize. The next euchre will be held for sure on Nov. 23 at 8 p.m. in the Anglican Church Hall.

Little did the 16 tables of players know that their good friend and keen euchre partner, Cameron MacLeod died in hospital during this evening on Nov. 11. His death came suddenly and it will not only be at these parties that he will be missed.

The door prize was won by Adelard Sauvé, Alexandria and the 50-50 draw winners were Roderick MacLennan, Georgia Feek, Avonmore, Violet McDiarmid, Moose Creek, Rosabelle Sauvé, Alexandria, Queen Rita, Norman MacLeod, Dunvegan, Bill Johnson, Maxville Manor, Bill McMillan, Apple Hill, Murdena Scott, Margaret Michaud, Edith Howes, Kirk Hill and Donalda MacRae, Avonmore.

The three ladies with top scores were Sarah Presley, Finch, Greta MacInnes, and Edith Howes. Top men were George Essery, Moose Creek, John McMaster, Laggan and Herbie O'Byrne.

While Queen Rita built up sufficient wins early to be declared Queen for the year, the King's title may have to be re-assigned following the last party of the season at the Manor on Nov. 25 at 8 p.m.

School lets out to view bank removal

WILLIAMSTOWN
Sue Harrington
347-2279

Those of us who viewed the erratic departure of the old bank last Thursday could have been characters in a story by Alice Munro. All that was missing was the brass band and Milton Homer marching along beside it.

Most of Williamstown was there at one point or another as the building performed a shaky two-step, two steps forward and three steps back, as somebody put it. In fact, there was such a crowd that Rev. Evans, stopping for gas at Ernie's gazed out and asiad wistfully, "There are more people here today than I see in church on Sunday!"

Village children attending Williamstown Public School were released for the event, though they soon grew weary waiting for the show to get on the road, and returned to their studies before the building did much budging.

Highlights of the move through Williamstown streets were the navigational intricacies of the four corners and of Nettie's curve. Did we really stand there for over an hour in the brisk breeze to see whether the old bank could glide gracefully past the new bank? Or were we waiting for a more dramatic happening, perhaps?

The photographers were certainly out in full force: Brian and Elspeth Greer, Elaine Pye and the News' Lesley, who at one point seemed to me to almost under the whole operation, snapping away. I hope the man with the big crochet hook who lifted up all those wires got his picture taken!

Locals Herbert Lullwitz and Ed Latreille seemed to be providing helpful assistance to the workers, while Karla Major is credited with this column's quote of the week, "These are the kind of good things which happen in Williamstown."

The day after the move I learned that the old bank had originally been built as a store and wheelright's shop by Pierre Van Du Gadbois who also built the house beside it. Mr. Van Du Gadbois was Nettie MacDonald's grandfather and she estimates the building was erected in the 1840's.

Apparently the bank was quite bustling at one time, too. It was open every day and had a staff of four - a manager and three tallers. Great excitement abounded when a change of staff occurred. The tellers were ususally young, male, single and best of all, had to board right in Williamstown. Needless to say, the young ladies of the village looked forward with great interest to the day when they could get a glimpse of the new fellow!

Rev. Evans might have been disappointed on Thursday, buy by the time Saturday rolled around and he saw all the workers show up to help at St. Andrew's Fall Supper, I'm sure he was smiling.

The supper was a big success with people coming from all over the county to socialize, eat and socialize some more. It was great to see how many from neighbouring churches attend this kind of event. As one lady from St. Mary's said, "At our own supper I work. At this supper I'm rewarded for it." And vice versa.

The Glengarry Club held its November birthday meeting and euchre on Nov. 11. Those celebrating birthdays were presented with gifts in honor of the occasion. Kit Gourlay, Estelle Brazeau, Emily MacDonald and Margaret Kennedy were the birthday girls.

Ladies' euchre winners were Florida Legroulx and Ethel Leitch, while Alec Lalonde and Bill McMath were men's winners. Alice Bellis trotted off with the door prize and the recipient of the special prize was Mary Rose Pilon.

Speedy recovery wishes go out to Mary D. D. who is a patient in the Hotel Dieu Hospital after falling and breaking her hip. The same wishes go to young John Dougall MacNaughton, who is also in hosptial at the moment. Your gang in Grade 2 is missing you, John!

It's interview week in Williamstown and in case you somehow didn't get that message, parents, read on. Char-Lan interviews will be held tonight (Wed.), while they will be held Friday at Williamstown Public.

Speaking of our venerable institution, I learned with delight that of the 43 students listed on Char-Lan's Honor Roll, some 21 of them hail from Williamstown Public. Wow! That's almost 50%. (I know, I know, Martintown, your enrolement's a lot lower!)

Anyway, congratulations to all our scholars.

Congratulations too, to Laurie Bougie and Raymond Prevost who were married on Friday. Laurie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rheal Bougie of the South Branch Road, while Raymond is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Prevost. Edgar is Charlottenburgh's newest councillor.

In council chit-chat recently, it transpired that public response to our townshp'd request for residents to sit on the proposed Stormont-Glengarry Waste Management Public Liaison Committee has been virtually nil. Despite advertisements in local papers, only two informal enquiries have been received, according to Jay Currier. Jay feels that if the media tells you how disappointing the response has been, you will offer yourselves to this important committee.

Where are all you dump dumpers when we need you? Giv Jay a call.

Condolences to Marie Warden on the recent passing of her sister, Emma Jacobs, and to Stan Swerdfeger on the death of his grandmother, Hazel Hume, who died on Saturday.

Germain Lalonde and Anne Marie Viau of Alexandria took first place in Williamstown Duplicate Bridge Play on Wednesday. Maurice Lagroix and Emily MacDonald were second, while Garnet MacDougall and Garry O'Connell were third.

Lilian Toczyski was telling me she received some good news this week. Her daughter, Susan, presently studying at Queen's University, is engaged to Steven Small after a lengthy courtship. Talk about keeping it in the family!

The Friendly Neighbors held their November birthday party last week. Happy Birthday to celebrants Christina Grant, Beatrice Labelle, Emily MacDonald, Hector Leblanc, Catherine MacDougall, Emma Gagnon, Kit Gourlay, Marie Warden, Isobel Quail and Estelle Brazeau. The birthday cake for the occasion was made by Joan Abrams.

Euchre prizes went to Annette Chretien, Rita McDonald, Maurice Chretien and Edmour Seguin.

Door prizes were won by Marie Menard and Gilberte Marsh. Lone Hands by Florida Legroulx and Martin Van Sleevwen, while 50/50's went to Viola Lauzon, Edith Abrams, Edmour Seguin, Beatrice Labelle and Martin Van Sleeuven.

The Friendly Neighbors big Christmas dinner will be held on Dec. 3 at noon. Members can eat for free, but guests will be charged $10.00. There will also be a gift exchange.

Don't forget the Friendly Neighbors' soup luncheon to be held tomorrow (Thurs.) at St. Mary's Centre at noon, or the club's Open Euchre on Nov. 26 at 8 p.m., also at the centre.

Viola Pilon will be holding a craft sale in her home on the back street in Summerstown Station on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Viola invites you to attend. There will be refreshments, a door prize and many different items to choose from. "You name it," says Viola.

It sounds like something a Beatrix Potter character would do, or then again maybe it's more Stephen Kingish. A local lady reported to me that she has mice which have eaten all her best clothes! Apparently when she went to get out her fall wardrobe, several items had been chewed up and were decidedly lacy in appearance. Can you imagine the horror? Ever heard of such a thing? Is this normal in Williamstown's rodent circles? Let me have the answers!

BAINSVILLE-CURRY HILL

Suppose you invited a bunch of people to a party and nobody showed up? Well, that is sort of what happened to me this week because my telephone did not ring once with social news.

It would be tempting to make up a few stories. Did anyone watch the Saturday news feature about the feline golf ball snatcher? A cat in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia used to steal balls from a nearby golf course and present them as gifts to his owner.

I thought the story was fabricated until they showed a drawer containing 143 pilfered golf balls. Film footage of the cat "in the act" was the clincher.

The following news items, I assure you, are not a product of my imagination.

Bishop Eugene LaRocque will be at St. Joseph's School in Lancaster to meet students who will be making their confirmation early next year. Parents are urged to attend.

Our sports item features a karate tournament Shorin-Ryo Kenpo contact karate, to be precise.

Instructor Stephen Day, a teacher at St. Joseph's School in Lancaster, notes the event will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 21, at St. Joseph's School on 11th Street East in Cornwall.

Nearly 100 children, six to 14 years old, are expected to compete. Participants include students from our area, Cornwall and Brockville.

On November 28, a similar tournament for more advanced levels will be held at General Vanier Secondary School in Cornwall.

Spectators are welcome at both events.

Lydia Horsfall of Hamilton, Ont., is visiting with sister-in-law Susan this week.

Weekend visitors with Rene and Pauline Laframboise included Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Pitre of Brockville and Eileen and Mike Gaudet of Cornwall.

The December meeting of the Bainsville Women's Institute will be held Dec. 2 chez Sue Robertson.

Constable Gilles Ruest of the Lancaster Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) spoke about Neighborhood Watch to members of the Gunn Creek Residents Association on Nov. 12.

During the session, Const. Ruest presented a film about crime prevention which centred around "burglar-proofing" the home.

He later noted the OPP provide a special service. A police officer will be happy to inspect a home and make suggestions to ensure greater security against break-ins.

Happy trails for lost poodle

GLEN NORMAN
Mary Lacelle
525-4998, 525-1372

A happy ending for our little stray poodle. This remarkable little traveller has trotted all the way from Ste. Justine de Newton to Glen Norman, and happily rode back with his rightful owner last Thursday, after they found his whereabouts through this column.

I do hope there will be such a happy ending for Miss Long who is heartbroken over the disappearance of her little dog that has been pictured in this newspaper for several weeks now. If anyone has a clue to its whereabouts, a call from you would be like lifting pounds of sorrow from this lady's heart. The number to call is 347-2008 or feel free to call me at the above numbers.

Welcome to Robert Brunet, a nephew from Hearst, who is staying with us and visiting family and friends in the area.

Lindsay Cameron had quite an exciting Saturday, on a field exercise with the air cadets.

Mary Lacelle had an enjoyable Sunday evening with North Lancaster and area friends at the annual euchre party put on by the ladies of Union Culturelle Franco-Ontarienne. It was surprising to see so many skunks in the running that night. Must have been the mild weather.

Happy belated birthday to Lindsay Cameron Jr., Nov. 9, and Theresa O'Shea, Nov. 13, Michael Lacelle on Nov. 19, and best wishes today (Nov. 18) to Dora Cameron. I would also like to say hello to Mrs. Roussin of Glen Robertson who I had the pleasure of meeting Sunday evening.

Hope all you Glen Norman ladies got your favorite recipes in to The News for the Christmas Cookbook collection.

Historic Gordon church closes for season

ST. ELMO
W. MacKinnon
527-2348

Gordon Church, St. Elmo, was closed in October for the winter months. In this historic church building five special services of Divine Worship were held in the period June to September.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated on June 20 with the Rev. Garry Van Bruchem presiding assisted by Dr. Wallace MacKinnon. A special memorial service was held on Aug. 2nd conducted by the Rev. Garry Van Bruchem. On August 30 the 150th anniversary of the former Congregational log church building was celebrated with a special service of Divine Worship in Gordon Church with the Rev. Duncan Scott Kennedy, Ottawa, as the guest preacher. The worshippers were greeted and welcomed to the old log church building by music played on the bagpipes by piper Allison Arkinstall.

September 20 was the occasion of the observance of the 123rd anniversary of Gordon Church with the Rev. Garry Morton of Ottawa as the guest preacher. The Maxville Lodge A.F. and A.M. observed the 100th anniversary of the Masonic Lodge by holding a service of Divine Worship in Gordon Church on Sept. 27 conducted by the Rev. Gordon Fresque, Dunvegan, who preached the sermon for the occasion.

All five special services were well attended and all who came enjoyed an hour of fellowship and refreshments in the church hall served by the ladies of Gordon Church.

The board of managers of Gordon Church is undertaking a project of renewing the electrical wiring in the log church hall and making other renovations with regard to kitchen and washroom facilities.

The November meeting of Gordon Church WMS auxiliary was held at the home of Kathleen McKay, St. Elmo East on Nov. 9.

The vice-president Shirley McGregor, was in charge of devotions and gave a message on Remembrance Day.

Participating in the worship service were Doris Fisher, Helen Lavigne, Kathleen McKay, Elsie McKinnon, Joanne McLennan, Helen McRae and Etta Urquhart.

Plans were made for the Christmas meeting to be held at the home of Dr. Wallace MacKinnon. A social hour followed.

Christmas gatherings bring churches together

GLEN SANDFIELD
Lorna Chapman
874-2408

Recent visitors with Ron and Christina MacLachlan were Mr. and Mrs. Murray MacLachlan, Haley and Cheri from Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Menard have entertained quite a few visitors recently; Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Fortin of Longeuil, Mrs. Audrie Gingras of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lobb of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Marius Longueux from Tring Junction, Beauce, Mr. and Mrs. Normand Founderf of St. Catharines, Ont. and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Boulanger from Lachine.

Kirk Hill United Church will host the annual ecumenical evening of Christmas music on Saturday, Dec. 12 at 8 p.m. The congregation will join in traditional carols in English and French. Choirs from area churches will present some special selections, also in both languages. To date, eight area churches have participated; a Presbyterian choir, Roman Catholic choirs and United Church choirs came together in fellowship to welcome the Christ Child. There are no professionals, just friends and neighbors together. It seems to be the start of a nice tradition; people have been asking where it will be and when. It all stems from the World Day of Prayer service, which is held in March. The eight churches celebrate this prayer day together and it was enjoyed so much that another such event was inevitable, when all churches and choirs could share a time of music, worship and friendship.

It has been a great success and this is, I believe, the fourth year it has taken place. Everyone is welcome, every is invited — do come out and share in this special evening of worship together.

Sale huge success

I don't know how many of you have heard of the Bruce Springsteen song "Dancing In The Dark", but that's just what you'll be doing if you follow my advice in last weeks news. I mistakenly reported that the Martintown Fire Department's Annual Christmas Dance would be held on Dec. 6. Wrong again reindeer breath! The dance will of course be held on Saturday, Dec. 5, and will, of course, feature none other than McMartins Fiddle. There will be door prizes, spot dances and draws and all toward such a good cause. Get out and enjoy this festive night out and support your local fire department. Thats Saturday Dec. 5 at the Martintown Community Centre with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Hope to see you there.

Tomorrow the annual Christmas bake sale sponsored by the Martintown Public School Library Committee will be held at the school starting at 1 p.m. Proceeds from this bake sale will go toward the purchase of library books for the school.

Last week I briefly mentioned that probably the nicest event of the school year would be taking place on Dec. 17. I am of course referring to the turkey dinner provided for the students. This beautiful gesture by teachers, parents and generous members of the community assures that students get to enjoy an early feast before the holidays. If you wish to donate money or food, please contact Bev at the school at 528-4423.

The school will be holding its Christmas Concert on Wed. Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym. Please plan to attend as they promise it will get all of us Scrooges into the festive Christmas spirit. My wife has already ordered me to attend, or else!!!

Christmas came early for Don Johnston and Nancy Beerwort of Martintown west last Sunday. The happy couple were blessed with an 8 lb 12 oz baby boy! Kevin Morton Johnston. Congratulations to the proud new parents on their first.

Last Sunday the Martintown Community Centre hosted the annual Christmas Craft Sale, and what a sale! there was every kind of handy work you could imagine and the FOOD . . . well we won't get into that. There was a nice steady stream of people all day long who enjoyed purchasing and admiring crafts and the like, as well as the tea and desserts. The event raised $1,291.10 for the centre; a job well done. A special thanks go out to Linda Howes, the driving force behind the event, and her committee of Gwen Benton, Bev Runions, Carol-Ann Ross and Anita Goudie. I would also like to thank those who donated items and time.

A draw was held for a craft basket and the winner was Mrs. Shirley Beaudin of R R 1, Martintown. The Martintown Recreation Committee would like to thank and recognize those who contributed to the craft basket; Charles Kinloch, Klassic Kotage Kreations, Murrayholm Holsteins, Char-Lan Services, Glengarry Electric, Howes Tent Rental, Art Benton Insurance Agency, Lalonde's General Store, Bank of Nova Scotia-Martintown, The Shopping Basket, Donna MacDonald, Terri Reid, Country Crafts, Ginny Blair Originals and Linda Brunet.

Junior B hockey entertaining product

If the winning trend continues for Glengarry's two junior B clubs, fans should be in store for an exciting season.

Char-Lan Rebels and Alexandria Glens have battled for top spot in the St. Lawrence Division in the young season.

The Glens are off to their best start in years and sport an impressive 8-3 mark. The club sits in first place following a pair of wins over the weekend, but the Rebels aren't far behind.

The Rebs are hot on their heels with a 7-2-1 record, trailing the Glens by a single point. The race to the top should stir plenty of interest for junior hockey fans in Glengarry. The two clubs have split two games so far and the Rebels make their first regular-season appearance at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Nov. 27.

Both local clubs are also in the hunt for berths in the annual Boxing Day tournament, which is being held in Metcalfe this year.

It shouldn't come as a surprise if both Glengarry's junior B clubs make the trek to Metcalfe to skate off a few extra pounds from Christmas Day's turkey feast. Both clubs have shown they are the top contenders in the St. Lawrence Division.

It's been a few seasons since the Glens iced a winning and competitive team. This year's edition isn't exactly blowing its opponents out, but the club is winning on the ice.

Although the Rebels have been hit with key injuries to snipers Roddie McKenzie and Kevin Poapst, Dave Hanson and his crew have kept pace with the Glens.

It should be an entertaining season for the two local clubs and both rinks should have crowds buzzing when they meet in the future.

There has been a friendly rivalry in the past between the Glens and Rebels, but if the teams fight for the pennant most of the season, the games should provide intense battles for the fans.

Even though the Glens and Rebels are winning on the ice, we need to see supporters show more vocal support in their respective buildings.

There are some nights in both buildings where you can hear a pin drop, particularly at the Glengarry Sports Palace. Players are motivated when they hear fans cheering or yelling.

Junior B hockey is exciting and unpredictable and fans that are being treated to an entertaining product should get involved in the game.

So, whether you're a fan of the Glens, or a Rebels' supporter, cheer your team on through a win or loss.

Glengarry's two junior B clubs are enjoying successful seasons so far and they deserve support from the fans.

For a few bucks, it's a great night of entertainment for local hockey fans.

CFL NOT DEAD

Although we keep hearing about the Canadian Football League folding, and particularly the Ottawa Rough Riders, I'm a firm believer that the league will be around in the future.

A lot of people say the CFL offers a boring product for the fans, but I'd say the majority of games I've watched this season have been entertaining.

Much can be said about college football in this country. You won't find two more exciting games than the national semi-final games on the weekend. McGill staged a dramatic comeback Saturday over St. Mary's to earn a berth in the Vanier Cup.

McGill now meets defending national champion University of British Columbia. The Thunderbirds staged their own exciting comeback over Wilfrid Laurier University.

There has been quite a turnaround in college football the past few seasons. Interest is on the upswing and the product is exciting.

College football in this country has taken some flak in recent years because universities haven't marketed their product.

But after a TV package was signed with The Sports Network, college football has become more popular with the telecast of weekly games.

Fans didn't know much about some college teams in the past because of a lack of media exposure.

College football has produced a number of quality Canadians for the CFL over the years. As long as the college game in this country produces an exciting and entertaining product, it will also be a plus for the CFL.

Sure, the CFL has its problems on and off the field. But it isn't the first time people have put the league on its death bed. The CFL survived in the past and don't be surprised if it is still in operation in future years.

Glens dump Kemptville 73's hold slim lead for first place

They say the mark of a good hockey club is when it play poorly, but still manages to win.

That could apply to the Alexandria Glens following a 5-4 overtime-win over Kemptville 73's on the road Sunday night.

The Glens held a 3-1 lead in the middle stanza, only to see Kemptville erase the advantage in the third period. After the 73's went ahead 4-3, Andrew Meth sent the contest into the extra session as he swept past a Kemptville defenceman and fired the puck past goaler Jeff Rawson.

The heroics were left up to newcomer Andre Lapensee, who fired the winner from the slot, with just over three minutes remaining in the overtime session.

Lapensee, along with Luc Lapensee, played their second consecutive game for the Glens, after both recently affiliated with the club from the St. Isidore Junior C's.

The win wasn't pretty, but Coach Peter DeRooy breathed a sigh of relief following the victory, which kept his club atop the St. Lawrence Division standings, one point ahead of second-place Char-Lan Rebels.

"We didn't play well and played only well enough to win, but we'll take the two points," said DeRooy. "I thought we played well against Brockville Friday night and I'm happy with our wins on the weekend."

Glens skated to an 8-5 home-ice win over the Brockville Tikis, which kept the club undefeated in five games this season at the friendly confines of the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Sporting an impressive 8-3 mark, all the club's losses have been on the road to date, but it hasn't concerned DeRooy.

"We play well on home ice and we've had trouble on the road. Even though we didn't play all that well in Kemptville, I'm not about to give the two points back," DeRooy said jokingly.

If there was one individual that worked hard for DeRooy from the opening face-off, it was veteran Leonard Seguin. He sparked the attack with three goals.

Kemptville, fresh from a 6-5 win over Metcalfe Friday night, got singles from Derrick Byrd, Ron Sloan, Ken Matura and Ted Fitzgerald.

DeRooy, concerned over his defence corps in recent outings, had a change of heart with their performance over the weekend.

"Our defence is starting to come around and I think we won't be that bad off on the blueline after all," he said.

John Dullaghan enjoyed his best

Alexandria Glens' forward Andrew McCormick didn't have much room to skate as a Kemptville defenceman put the clutch on him in Sunday's St. Lawrence Division contest. The Glens needed an overtime goal to come away with a 5-4 win.

Rebs beat Gananoque, tie Hawks

All things considered, you can't blame Char-Lan Rebels' manager John Chafee for having mixed feelings about his club's success on the weekend.

Normally, a win and a tie would please most people. But, it could have easily been a perfect weekend with a pair of victories in the win column.

Rebels skated to a 4-1 win over the Gananoque Platers on the road Sunday night, but let a win slip away the previous night on home ice.

Winchester Hawks deprived the Rebels of the win, scoring two goals with only 20 seconds left in the third period and escaping with a 9-9 draw in a wild shootout at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre.

Sunday's win produced an excellent effort from goaler Kevin Buchan, who had his bid for a shutout ruined by Gananoque's Jeff Hall with just over a minute left in the third period.

"Buchan played really well and it's too bad he didn't get the shutout," says Chafee. "He faced 37 shots and the defence really played well in front of him as well. Chris Leblanc, Gilles Lafrance and Herbie Seguin had good games on the blueline."

The Rebels led 1-0 after the opening period on a goal by a shorthanded effort from Darin Menard. Mike Jodoin, Kevin Chafee and Chris Villeneuve staked the Rebels to a 4-0 advantage after 40 minutes.

The contest became choppy in the dying minutes of the contest, resulting in a couple of Rebels being banished. Both Ronnie Lefebvre and Gilles Lafrance will miss Saturday's home game against Westport because of one-game suspensions for fighting.

Lefebvre was tossed out for fighting with a couple of minutes left on the clock, while Lafrance's altercation came with only 29 seconds left in the contest.

"The game got rough in the last few minutes," said Chafee. "With 29 seconds left, Larry Delgreco went off for interference and a Gananoque player tried to get at him in the penalty box. While the players mingled around the penalty box, Gilles and a Gananoque player got into a fight."

During the incident, Gananoque's Jamie Higgs was assessed a match penalty after he pushed the referee.

The Platers will miss at least three games, but could miss more games because the infraction calls for an Ottawa District Hockey Association hearing with the rules committee.

Rebels could have enjoyed a weekend sweep, but a lack of discipline by some players in the final moments aided Winchester's comeback.

"Winchester scored two powerplay goals in the last 20 seconds because a couple of players lacked self discipline. The guys weren't thinking of the team when they took those penalties. Dave (Hanson) has preached about being disciplined in the late moments of a game, but I guess it hasn't sunk in for some players yet,"

Lariviere sparks win

Kelly Lariviere scored twice to spark Conroy Septic Tank to a 3-1 win over Columbia Finishing Mills in the Char-Lan Minor Broomball League Sunday.

Scoring the other goal in the Peewee contest was Dominique Jalbert. Shawn Fields replied for Columbia Finishing Mills.

In the Junior game, David Chaddock's hat trick lifted Shepp's Pizzeria to a 5-0 win over Munro Feeds. Haley Flaro and Chantal Quenneville completed the scoring for the winners, while Gillian Chaddock earned the shutout.

In the first of two games played last Tuesday night, Conroy Septic Tank posted a 2-0 win over Columbia Finishing Mills. Kelly Lariviere and Dominique Jalbert were the scorers for Conroy Septic Tank.

The other contest saw Shepp's Pizzeria blank Munro Feeds 2-0.

The goals were scored by David Chaddock and Chantal Quenneville. Gillian Chaddock was between the pipes for the shutout.

Bantams lose three

It was a week the Alexandria Lions Bantams would just as soon forget in the Lower St. Lawrence Hockey League.

Alexandria came up on the short end, dropping three contests. At Cornwall Sunday, Alexandria lost a 4-3 decision to Cornwall Royals. Yanick Demers led the attack with a pair of goals, while Scott Graham added a single.

On home ice Thursday night, South Stormont left the Glengarry Sports Palace with an 8-1 win over the local squad. Pascal Joanette scored the lone goal for Alexandria, with help from Steve Maisonneuve and Joel Seguin.

Last Wednesday night in Williamstown, Char-Lan doubled Alexandria 6-3. Todd Cameron led Char-Lan with a pair of goals, while singles went to Shane McDonell, Robert Curran, Denis St. Jean and Christian Joanette.

Alexandria's goals came off the sticks of Luc Sabourin, Scott Graham and Stephane Pilon, while Randy Gebbie and Joel Seguin collected assists.

Alexandria plays North-Glen-Stor in a league contest Thursday night and will also participate in the Char-Lan tourney over the weekend.

Stars tie

Glengarry Stars earned their first point of the young season, battling to a 2-2 draw against Char-Lan United in the Char-Lan Indoor Soccer League Monday night.

Stars rallied from a 2-0 deficit in the last 10 minutes of the game as Steve Cameron and Craig MacSweyn struck for goals. Andy McCuaig and Paul Dawson were the marksmen for Char-Lan United.

Cornwall Strikers scored six second-half goals and went on to post an easy 7-0 win over the Lancaster Rovers. Scoring two goals each were Jamie Christoff, Henk Kuchlein and Nick Karitsiotis, while Han Nguyen added a single. Chris Sauer earned the shutout.

Char-Lan U 2's remain undefeated following a scoreless draw against the Seaway Spartans. Jamie McLeod had the shutout for Char-Lan, while Bill Ault was flawless for Seaway.

Char-Lan United and the U 2's battle for Char-Lan supremacy at 7 p.m. Monday night, followed by the Strikers against Spartans an hour later. The Stars and Lancaster meet at 9 p.m. in the final game.

Helping Minor Hockey

Robert Lajoie, owner of Lajoie Esso, presented a $500 cheque to Bill Gebbie last week, president of the Alexandria Minor Hockey Association. Esso Canada is a major sponsor for minor hockey throughout the country and its dealers are encouraged to support their local associations.

Glens stay in first place

outing in a Glens' uniform during Friday's win against Brockvile. He sparked the attack with four goals, while Andrew Meth chipped in with a pair. Mike Sauve and Andre Lapensee, who scored the winner with 7.12 left in the third period, completed the scoring for the Glens.

Steve Casselman led the Brockville offence with a pair of markers, while Travis Cauley, Jeff Bates and Todd Brayton rounded out the scoring.

Glens' Notes: DeRooy was pleased with the efforts of the new kids Andre and Luc Lapensee.

''The two kids from St. Isidore played well for us, considering the circumstances they came in under. They fit in well for us.''

Glens improved their chances of representing the St. Lawrence Division in the annual Boxing Day tourney in Metcalfe. The club has a 3-0 mark and still has a home encounter against the Char-Lan Rebels and a pair of games each with Morrisburg and Winchester.

The Glens entertain Kemptville Friday night and are off to Gananoque Sunday night. It's the team's only visit to the Thousand Islands town in the regular season.

The weekend begins a hectic schedule for the club. The Glens are in Brockville one week from tonight (Wed.) and then are at home Friday night (Nov. 27) against the Char-Lan Rebels.

Mike Sauve left Sunday's game in the first period after a rib injury. He had difficulty breathing and DeRooy suspected he had bruised ribs.

The Glens travel to Canton, New York Jan. 23 for an exhibition game against St. Lawrence University's junior varsity squad.

DeRooy juggled his lines in the last two periods in Sunday's game after he became disenchanted with the play of some of his forward combinations.

It must have been a long week for Glens' President Archie Stewart. A regular fixture for home and away games, he missed a couple of recent games because he was away on a hunting trip.

Veteran goaler Daniel Brunet continues to handle the brunt of the work between the pipes. Although DeRooy has given Claude Gallant one start, he isn't unhappy with the young goaler's effort.

Although he didn't state a specific game, he says he plans to use Gallant in the near future.

Peewees come up short

Alexandria Lalonde's General Store Peewees lost only one game in three outings, but it still wasn't good enough to earn a berth in the Coca-Cola Peewee Tourney final over the weekend in Cornwall.

In the club's opener, Oswego, New York beat Alexandria 4-3. Scoring goals in the losing effort were Steve Poirier, Ricky Latreille and Marc Boisvenue.

In the second game, Alexandria nipped South Stormont 3-2 as Brad MacDonald, Michel Jeaurond and Eric Paquette tallied goals.

The third game saw the club skate to a 3-3 draw against South Grenville and because of their goals, for and against, Alexandria didn't qualify for a berth in the final.

The marksmen were Michel Jeaurond, Stephane Davidson and Eric Hamelin. Alexandria will participate in the Char-Lan tourney this weekend and has league games against South Stormont in Long Sault Friday, and against Char-Lan on home ice, Sunday.

Rebels beat Gananoque

said Chafee, showing his displeasure.

Rebels led 9-6 with three minutes left, but three Winchester powerplay goals sent the game into overtime.

The draw overshadowed an outstanding performance by Mike Jodoin, who scored five goals, including the Rebels' first four goals in the contest.

Darin Menard chipped in with a pair, while Roddie McKenzie and Daryl Menard added singles. Chris Villeneuve set up four goals, while McKenzie collected three assists.

Cory McIntyre was Winchester's sparkplug, scoring four goals, three of which came with a man advantage. Scott Barnes scored twice, while Rob Whitteker, Kirk Barkley and Steve Mullin added singles.

Rebels' Notes: The draw against Winchester leaves the Rebels with three wins, one loss and a tie in games that count toward a trip to the Boxing Day tourney.

It was a costly weekend for the Rebels. Roddie McKenzie went down with a dislocated shoulder against Winchester and is expected out of the lineup for at least three weeks.

Kevin Poapst, still nursing a bruised arm, didn't dress on the weekend, but is expected to resume skating with the club this week.

Captain Kevin Renwick missed weekend action because of a hunting trip to Vermont. Chris Villeneuve wore the ''C'' on his sweater on the weekend.

Called up for Sunday's game were Trevor Bowles, Wally MacDonald and Bill Millett of the Char-Lan Midget squad.

How hard do the Rebels play on the road? The club sports a better goals-against mark on the road, compared to playing in front of the hometown fans.

A number of the home games to date have been hard on the coaching staff, it's provided Rebels' fans with exciting hockey.

Rebels travel to Navan Sunday night to face the Grads of the Metro Division.

McDonell records hat trick in win

Char-Lan Timex Rebel Atoms stormed Long Sault Friday, defeating the South Stormont squad 11-0 in Lower St. Lawrence League action. Marty McDonell had a hat trick for the Rebels.

It was two goals each for Jason Flaro, Matthew Gray, and Stephen Gareau in the Char-Lan scoring spree. Jason McCuaig and Jason Corput had singles.

On Tuesday in Williamstown, Tom Cooper scored for the Timex Rebels as they dropped a close one to Cornwall, 2-1.

NOVICE

Char-Lan's Claude Nunney Legion novices picked up three wins in as many starts this week in lower St. Lawrence League hockey.

Gerry Goulet and Luc Lapierre shared the victory between the pipes for Cahr-Lan, while Kent McDonell fired two goals and Kevin O'Farrell a third, as the Williamstown boys downed South Stormont 3-0.

McDonell scored yet another pair in Char-Lan's 5-2 decision over Cornwall. Tim Corput, Stephane Loyer and Kevin O'Farrell also tallied.

In a re-match against South Stormont, Char-Lan let it be known that the earlier match was no fluke — this time blasting the Long Sault team 8-0. Four pairs of goals came off the sticks of Darryl Knight, Allan Alguire, Kevin O'Farrell and Kent McDonell.

PEEWEE

Brian Deschamps and Marty Algire provided Char-Lan's ammunition as the Timex Rebels tied Long Sault 2-2 in peewee play.

Earlier in the week, Char-Lan dropped a close one to Cornwall, losing 1-0. Shawn McClements played a good game in nets for the Rebels.

MIDGETS

In Lower St. Lawrence League Midget action, Char-Lan received goals from six players as it defeated South Stormont 6-4. Trevor Bowles, Wally MacDonald, Lawrence Davis, Marc Beaudette, Blake McDonell and Peter McIntosh all scored for the Timex Rebels.

BANTAMS

Char-Lan doubled Alexandria Glens, 6-3, in a Lower St. Lawrence League game. Todd Cameron hit the mark with a pair of goals, while Christian Joanette, Robert Curran, Shane McDonell and Denis St. Jean chipped in with singles. Scoring for Alexandria were Luc Sabourin, Scott Graham and Stephane Pilon.

Midgets lose squeaker

Alexandria Midgets dropped a 4-3 squeaker to the Royals in Cornwall Sunday night, in a Lower St. Lawrence Hockey Legaue contest at the Water Street Arena.

Luc Francoeur led the Alexandria attack with a pair of goals, while Stephane Landriault chipped in with a single tally. Marc Sauve had a pair of assists, while Martin Levert had one helper.

Alex Maclaren's seven-point performance sparked the club to an easy 13-2 win over South Stormont

Seguin scores four goals in victory

Leo Seguin scored four goals, lifting St. Raphael's past Lancaster 10-4 in a Border Hockey League contest Sunday at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Scoring a pair each for the winners were Al Giroux and Kennedy MacDonald, while singles went to Kenny McDonell and Carter MacDonald.

Lancaster's goals came off the sticks of Mike Lapensee, Dan Bruyere, Don Wightman and Robert Provost.

Frank Morris scored twice as Glen Nevis and Laggan battled to a 5-5 draw. Also scoring for Glen Nevis were John MacSweyn, Paul Lefebvre and Bert MacDonald.

Scoring for Laggan were Dionne MacDonell, Bill Dewitt, Marty McDonald, Dwayne Spinks and Murray MacDonald.

In the first of two games last Thursday night Murray MacDonald and Bill Dewitt's two goals each sparked Laggan to a 7-5 victory over Lancaster. Kenton Spinks, Dionne MacDonell and Gordie Howes rounded out the scoring.

Scoring for Lancaster were Pat Bruyere, Mike Lapensee, Donald Wightman, Brian Ward and Richard Picard.

Novice club ties Cornwall squad

During Sunday nights' action in the Lower St. Lawrence Novice Hockey League, the Alexandria Knights of Columbus tied Cornwall 3-3.

The Alexandria club was down 3-1, but Stephane Boisvenue scored and Pascal Decoeur assisted with 11 seconds remaining in the game to close the margin to 3-2. In a six-man attack, Pascal Decoeur broke away from center face-off to tie the game up with four seconds left before the buzzer went.

Chancey Lajoie opened up the scoring with a rush from defence.

THE RENT REVIEW GUIDELINE FOR 1988 IS 4.7 PER CENT

The rent review guideline for next year has been calculated at 4.7 per cent. This is the amount by which a landlord can increase the maximum rent for a unit during 1988 without approval from the Ministry of Housing. The rent for a unit can be increased only once in a 12-month period.

The 4.7 per cent guideline applies to all private rental units in the province for rent increases that take effect from January 1, 1988 to December 31, 1988.

The 1987 guideline of 5.2 per cent continues to apply to rent increases which take effect on or before December 31, 1987.

It is illegal for a landlord to increase the maximum rent above the guideline without applying to the Ministry of Housing for rent review to justify the increase. In cases where a landlord does apply for an increase above the guideline, tenants can examine the application and make their own submissions before a decision is reached.

For more information about the 1988 guideline, please contact your local rent review office listed in the Government of Ontario blue pages of your phone book under the Ministry of Housing. If long distance, ask the operator for Zenith 96000.

Club enjoys 'president roast'

NORTH LANCASTER
347-3553

Everyone will agree that for a small village our Optimist Club has been progressing successfully in the past two years and is totally dedicated to our youths talents and achievements. Following are recent activities sponsored by the club and others to come.

YOUTH APPRECIATION WEEK

To commemorate youth appreciation week at Ste. Thérèse School, students were treated to a free hot dog lunch prepared by our Optimist chefs, last Wednesday. On Friday new balls for volleyball, baseball and broomball were graciously donated to the school by the Optimists and merit certificates were awarded to boys and girls of each grade for their overall improvement during the week. Winners of such certificates were: Daniel Legroulx and Elysia Brunet in prekindergarten; Steven Cousineau and Melissa Dupuis in kindergarten; Christopher Corput and Martine Poirier from Grade 1; François Elie and Chantal Dubeau from Grade 2; David Renaud and Chantal Valade from Grade 3; Martin Bombardier and Anick Samson from Grade 4; Sébastien Elie and Annie Juillet in Grade 5; Luc Elie and Rena Carrière in Grade 6; Alain St. Denis and Marie-Eve Dubois in Grade 7; Stéphane Elie and Julie Lalonde in Grade 8.

FORMER OPTIMIST PRESIDENT ROAST

An evening in honor of North Lancaster Optimist Club ''ex'' President Claude Leroux was held last Saturday at Robin's Place.

After a copious meal, members and their wives delighted in hearing amusing truths and tales about Claude Leroux's past term as Optimist president. Claude was in turn roasted by the executive of the Optimist Club and by fellow Optimists.

Perhaps one of the most humorous moments of the roast was the presence of a certain Russian recruit hockey player, ''Andreof,'' namely André Decoeur, who at the insistence of his coach Pierre ''Bergeron'' Bourbonnais, came to explain in Russian French why he was called to replace Claude Leroux in the club's hockey games. Apparently, though Claude was an outstanding Optimist president, he stands as a mediocre hockey player, to put it mildly. ''Andreof's'' hockey gear, especially his ancient metal helmet with ear flaps was hilarious and his comedy act unforgettable.

Former president Claude Leroux handled the situation with grace and replied to all his roasters with humor and expertise. Congratulations and best wishes Claude! Everyone had a great time in your honor.

Tonight, (November 18), our Optimist Club will be honored with the visit of the Eastern Ontario District Governor, Roch Roy of Rockland, Ont. President Yvan Desautels and members will also welcome the Rockland Optimist Club at tonight's meeting.

FRENCH LITERARY ESSAY CONTEST

North Lancaster Optimist Club is sponsoring a French literary essay contest with the theme ''Freedom, our most precious heritage'' for area francophone high school students. By December 15, a panel of judges will have chosen winners of the first, second and third places and the best essay will become eligible to the district level where it will be judged along with the winning entries of other regional Optimist Clubs.

The student author of the winning district essay will then win a four-day, all-expenses-paid trip with his parents to the Freedoms Foundation in Valley Forge, Philadelphia where he or she will participate in a stage event on freedom and patriotism.

At the international level, bursaries of $5,000, $3,000 and $2,000 with trophies will be awarded to the first three winners. For detailed information, interested students should immediately contact the contest president for our club, Bernard Besner or his wife Gisèle, at 347-2570, or Diane Roy at 347-3553. Remember that every participant is a winner at his local Optimist Club level.

FAMILY LOTTERY LUCK

Believe it or not, Robin's Place produced another $10,000 winner of the three-match scratch lottery. Last Saturday evening, Mrs. Gwen Chabot of Orleans bought the winning ticket from her sister Robin Robinson who had just won the same amount a few weeks before. Congratulations to the lucky sisters! Needless to say that lots of joy will be shared in that family during the holiday season and may we add that all three match scratch tickets will be sold out at Robin's Place for the coming weeks.

UCFO CARD PARTY WINNERS

A considerable crowd gathered last Sunday evening at Ste. Thérèse School to enjoy the UCFO annual card party. As customary, the prizes were numerous and the buffet delicious. Lucky winner of the beautiful handmade quilt was Marion MacDonald of Ottawa Street in Alexandria, while Oliver Legroulx of Bainsville and Berthe Larocque of Glen Robertson won the grocery baskets. President Florence Claude is grateful to all those who contributed to the evening's great success.

Birthday greetings go out to Rosaire Campeau next Monday, Nov. 23, and to Micheline Vaillancourt on Tuesday, Nov. 24.

''PENELOPE'' FOR SALE

Dog lovers wanting an adorable well-trained English Cocker Spaniel as a pet may phone Brent Vachon at 347-7534. His cherished pet ''Penelope'' is for sale.

Children and grandchildren gathered at St. Hubert Bar-B-Q last Saturday evening to celebrate the 65th wedding anniversary of Henri and Marie-Louise Théorêt, former residents of our area. Son André Théorêt and his wife Fleurette, with Rosaire and Micheline Samson and a family of our village attended the special family reunion. Best wishes to the anniversary couple!

Township's joins group for recreational study

by Sue Harrington

Charlottenburgh Township gave its Recreation Planning Study Committee the nod to proceed with a Recreation Program Facilities and Park System Master Plan Study. The decision to approve the Terms of Reference of the Study was made at the regular meeting of Council held Nov. 10.

In approving the committee's request, council gave the go-ahead for a consultant to be selected. The consultant will be expected to work closely with the committee which is made up of a representative from the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation, township staff from both the recreation and planning departments, a representative from township council and three other volunteers from the township.

Mr. Brent Daigle and Dr. Bill Fielding appeared before council on behalf of the planning study committee to request approval of the study's terms of reference.

In the preamble to the terms of reference, mention is made of the lack of park and playground facilities in the western part of the township, particularly in the Glen Walter area. ''In recent years considerable growth pressure has been experienced in areas of the township where few, if any recreational services and facilities exist.''

The Study should ''consist of four primary components,'' according to the committee, an inventory and assessment of the existing situation; a needs assesment; a financial impact assessment and management review; and recommendations, strategies and plans.

Target date to begin the Study is March 1, 1988 with September 1988 as the desired completion date. Only four consulting firms are being requested to submit proposals for the study, which is expected to be funded in equal proportions by the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation and the Township of Charlottenburgh.

In Memoriam

HANLEY — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, John, who passed away November 15, 1985.
We watched you suffer,
We heard you sigh,
And all we could do,
Was just stand by.
For when the time came, we suffered too,
For you never deserved what you went through.
God took your hand and we had to part,
He eased your pain, but it broke our hearts;
To us his name will always be,
The key that unlocks memory,
Of a dear one gone, but cherished yet,
A beloved face we'll never forget.
With broken heart, we whispered low,
God bless you dear husband, I love you so.
Treasure him Lord, in your garden of rest,
For on this earth, he was one of the best.
—Sadly missed and always remembered by wife Viola, and son Jackie and Betty, Gerald, and Glenn and Mary Jane, Leila. 46-1p

In Memoriam

McDONALD — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather Duncan, who passed away Nov. 23, 1986.
One year has passed so quickly
Since you were called away.
How well do we remember
That sad and weary day.
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place;
God knew that you were suffering
And the hills were too hard to climb,
So He closed your weary eyes.
Now we'll have only a memory of a dear husband, father and papa,
To keep our whole life through;
But your sweetness will linger forever.
Where the one we love lies sleeping
We'll never forget.
—Always loved, wife Martine, children and grandchildren. 46-1p

LACOMBE — In loving memory of a dear mom Delima, who passed away Nov. 20, 1979.
Memories are treasures, no one can steal
Death is a heartache, nothing can heal;
It happened so suddenly, and you were gone
We will always remember you, no matter how long.
—Sadly missed and always lovingly remembered by daughter Nicole, Claude Gareau and grandchildren Pierre and Monique. 46-1p

MacCRIMMON — In loving memory of my niece Anna Mary MacCrimmon who died on the 18th of November 1986.
—Always remembered by Sarah C. Stewart. 46-1p

MONTGOMERY — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Nelson who passed away November 18, 1978.
This is the month of remembrance
And one of sad regret
A month we shall all remember
When the rest of the world forgets.
—Ever remembered, Roger, Mabel and family. 46-1p

BÉLANGER — In loving memory of a dear father, father-in-law and grandfather, Moise, who passed away seven years ago November 21, 1980.
We are sad within our memory
Lonely are our hearts today,
For the one we loved so dearly
Has forever been called away.
We think of him in silence
No eye may see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.
—Sadly missed and always remembered by son Claude, daughter-in-law Ella, grandsons André, Gilles, Alain, Joanne and Chris. 46-1p

MacCRIMMON — In memory of a dear friend, Anna Mary (Stewart) who passed away Nov. 18, 1986.

Pipe band featured at St. Andrew's Ball

by Angus H. McDonell

We would be remiss in our allegiance to Glengarry heritage if we failed to review in retrospect the Glengarry Pipe Band's sponsoring of the traditional St. Andrew's Ball this Saturday night at the Bonnie Glen.

Similar to last week's recollections of St. Andrew's concert history during the past 100 years, Glengarrians remembered the anniversary of Scotland's patron saint, St. Andrew, by staging either or both a St. Andrew's Ball or a concert at the last of November. But not on conflicting dates.

This is confirmed by The Glengarry News issue of Nov. 19, 1914. On Friday night, Nov. 27, in the newly completed Armouries by the Militia, the Highland Society was sponsoring a St. Andrew's Ball. And on Monday night in St. Margaret's Hall, Glen Nevis, ''Father Dan'' (D.R.) Macdonald and his parishioners were staging a St. Andrew's concert. (Note, reserved seats, 35 cents, general admission 25 cents.)

Glengarrians residing in Montreal and from Alexandria and area attended a St. Andrew's Ball during the 1890s in the staid Windsor Hotel, Montreal.

Again referring to The Glengarry News front page report of the 1914 St. Andrew's Ball; it is noted that this social evening was a renewal of the tradition after a lapse of several years.

Recalling the dance hall of the legendary Queen's Hotel located on the present Alexandria parking lot and destroyed by fire many years ago, it is reasonable to speculate that the Queen's Hotel was the one time locale of an 1890 St. Andrew's Ball in Alexandria.

A new social era was launched on that Nov. 27, 1914, St. Andrew's Ball. The Glengarry Highland Society sponsors made this heritage event a class social evening. (Mother had a new dress made for the occasion.)

There was a ladies committee to greet the guests and supervise the midnight lunch. A Montreal orchestra rendered the music for the round dances and the 59th Regiment Pipe Band played for the grand march, Scotch Reels, Eight Hand Reels and the Lancers.

A similar pattern prevailed during our time in the 1920s. The annual St. Andrew's Ball, if not sponsored by the Glengarry Highland Society, would be hosted by the Alexandria Lacrosse Club with the proceeds going towards the summer's playing expenses.

This custom folded during the depression years through to the resurgence of the Glengarry Highland Games. A replacement of the one-time historic Armouries and renewal of the St. Andrew's Ball tradition became a reality when Ranald and Edna McPherson erected the Bonnie Glen pavilion on the farm home of the youngest piper with the 154th Battalion Pipe Band, World War One — Piper Archie (H.W.) MacDonell.

Then the staging of a St. Andrew's Ball a few years ago was assumed by the Glengarry Pipe Band. Besides maintaining the tradition like the one-time Glengarry Highland Society and the Alexandria Lacrosse Club, proceeds go to the much needed assistance in defraying the costly operations of the band.

That is an important theme part of this Saturday night's dinner dance at the Bonnie Glen, Highway 43. Guests will assemble to fraternize during the cocktail hour beginning at 6:30 followed by the dinner and dance. Hope to see you there.

Scots language explained

A regular meeting of the Glengarry Historical Society was held at the Church on the Hill on November 5 with about 50 members present.

Following a brief business meeting the speaker of the evening, Dr. Martin Bowman, was introduced by Dr. Wilfred Johnston. Dr. Bowman is a professor of English at Champlain College and for some years, has resided in Martintown. He explained, however, that he is no stranger to Glengarry because he spent many summers at the family cottage at Westley's Point.

He spoke of the Scots language, which in Glengarry we are apt to think of as Gaelic, the language of the highlands introduced from Ireland.

However, the language of the lowlands was introduced by the Danish invaders at about the same time the Anglo-Saxons were introducing English further south and was originally called Inglis.

In due course, to avoid confusion and to show their independence, it was called Scots. It was a recognized language with its own literature and dictionary but the population was too small to support its growth. It was eventually reduced to a dialect, prodded by Scotland's Reformation leader John Knox, who used an English Bible and James VI of Scotland who, on becoming James I of England authorized publication of the King James Bible, which is still in use.

In spite of this, a Scots edition of the New Testament was published as late as 1983.

Dr. Bowman concluded his talk by quoting extracts, in Scots, from a 14-page handout from the 1983 New Testament and reading a poem by Robbie Burns.

He was thanked by Eve and Ed Broomhall.

President Andrew Harkness reminded the members that this was the last meeting in 1987. The annual meeting and pot luck supper will be held on February 4, 1988.

Refreshments by Esther Harkness assisted by Aggie Petrie and others from the Lancaster area followed the meeting.
