MOTHER, BABY BAND PARTY HELD AT TRINITY UNITED

A Mother and Baby Band party was held in the dining hall of Trinity United Church with 50 adults and 43 children present. Mrs Wm. Forward presided and was assisted by Mrs George Johnston, with Mrs S. Shay at the piano.

The hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," was sung.

During worship service the Scripture was read by Mrs Carl Merkley. A solo, "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam," was given by Mrs Chas. McMillan.

The offering was dedicated by Mrs W. Forward, with several Mite boxes included.

Graduation exercises from Baby Band to Mission Band followed. The new members were welcomed to the Mission Band by Mrs Glenn White.

A prayer for mothers was read by all.

A film, "Strangers in Their New Land," was explained by Mrs Mitchell. A hymn, "Jesus Bids Us Shine," was sung and Mrs Mitchell closed the lovely meeting with prayer.

Lunch was served by W.M.S. workers.

Fire Prevention Week To Be Observed

In keeping with the rest of the municipalities Fire Prevention Week will be observed in Chesterville from October 9-15 inclusive. All places of business and residences are open for inspection by the Fire Chief and a representative of the Fire Marshal's office.

Chesterville schools will be inspected for fire drill during the week.

Local Bowlers Win Caldwell Trophy

For the second consecutive season Chesterville Men's Lawn Bowling Club has won the Caldwell Trophy. The final 21-end game, played against Cornwall on Iroquois green, gave Chesterville rink a 27-14 win.

The play-off was made necessary by a tie between Chesterville and Cornwall.

The Chesterville rink was composed of Haldane Durant, Stanley David and Eric Casselman, skip.

Playing for Cornwall were Harry Moffat, Alex Cameron and Frank Eastwood, skip.

Tom Hargreaves, of Iroquois, presented the trophy to the winners.—S.C.

GOOD NEWS QUARTETTE AT PRESBYTERIAN W.M.S. FALL THANKOFFERING

The Fall Thankoffering of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society will be held in St. Andrew's Church, Chesterville, on Thursday, October 13, at 8 p.m.

The service will be in charge of Mr John Boles and the Good News Quartette, which broadcasts each Sunday morning at 9.05 a.m. over CKOY, Ottawa. Mr Boles is a prominent accountant in Ottawa and a very excellent speaker.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come and bring their friends.

DISTRICT SCHOOLS FORM ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

High schools in Mountain district, Chesterville, Osgoode and Winchester have formed an association to sponsor an annual track and field meet for the area. The association is known as the Osgoode-North Dundas Athletic Association.

President is J. H. Willard, of Winchester High School and secretary-treasurer is Mrs E. Slingerland. Representatives will be named from each school.

First inter-school meet will be held Tuesday, October 14, at South Mountain. There will be the usual track and field events, cheer-leading contests and a girls' volleyball game.

St. Bernard's CWL Holds Meeting At Kearns Home

Mrs William Kearns was hostess when St. Bernard's Catholic Women's League, Finch, held a meeting. There were 25 members present and the meeting opened with the League prayer by the pastor, Rev Leo MacDonell.

Mrs E. J. Hunt presided. Mrs G. Richer gave the roll call and minutes, Treasurer's report by Mrs William Beehler. Mrs Hubert Beehler reported on a gift presented to Miss Jo-Anne Vloet who entered the religious order. A paper on the different crests of the CWL was read by Mrs Alex Foley.

Tickets were distributed by Mrs Hector Courville on a quilt which will be drawn at a later date. Mrs Dan McMahon read a paper on the prolongation of life. A report on the regional meeting was given by Mrs Peter Manley.

It was decided that $25 be given to the Ladies' Mission. Father MacDonell thanked Mrs Beehler for the use of her home when a successful tea was held. He also thanked members for their attendance at meetings.

Council Digs Up $500 for Legion

Council met in regular session Monday night with the reeve, Chas. McMillan, and all members present.

Hydro business was routine except that much discussion, as usual, was centred on the truck used by the maintenance man. It was advised by Councillors Sharkey and Arnold that further money spent on repair of the vehicle would not be wise. The concensus of opinion was that, rickety as it is, it will serve to function until next year.

Correspondence read by the clerk-treasurer, Harry C. Hummel, dealt with many matters; an important one, of interest to the taxpayers, being notice to the effect that the cost of policing the village by the O.P.P. will be increased to $4,000 as of January 1st, 1956, and the cost of the car increased from the present 6 cents to 7 cents a mile. The present contract expires at midnight, December 31st, 1955. Council decided to cogitate on this one until November meeting.

Mr Hummel advised council that a rough estimate on the cost of lowering the ceiling of the fire hall, in order to conserve fuel, would be around $450 plus an extra sum to lower or raise the hot air ducts as needed.

After much discussion, in which Councillor Sharkey thought he could make a lower estimate and careful examination of the finances showed the funds of the town to be at a low ebb, the matter was reluctantly shelved until next meeting. Once the initial cost of this job is paid, the saving in cost of fuel will soon compensate.

Messrs Bezley and Brooks, of Toronto, were present to inform council that the Stormont Gas Company which they formerly represented had merged with Lakeland Gas, thus rendering null and void the previous bylaw, giving the franchise for supplying gas. A letter from the town solicitor, F. M. Cass, was on hand and advised of certain changes to be made and omissions rectified. The new bylaw giving the franchise for 20 years to Lakeland Gas was read a first and second time and carried 3-1.

A resolution was passed for presentation to the Ontario Fuel Board that council had not taken the application for gas services to a vote of the people. This passed 3-1. Councillor Campbell reverted to her original idea that the people should have voted on the matter.

Councillor Frank Arnold reported that Glenn White, chairman of the School Patrol committee, had informed him the patrol would be in operation Wednesday, October 5th.

Fire Chief John Hehir advised that Fire Prevention Week would be observed October 9-15 and the quarterly meeting of the Eastern Ontario Firefighters Association would be held in Community Hall October 14.

Councillor Marcellus asked if a gift of $500 could be made to assist in the building of the Legion Hall. She reminded council that "Chesterville was one of the few municipalities which had done nothing for the veterans to whom we owe so much." Once again an examination of the tattered town pocket book had to be made and Mr Hummel found that of the sum of roughly $600 set aside for the maintenance and repair of sidewalks, only about $128 had been spent this year. Therefore, it was decided this money should be used, and it was moved by Councillor Marcellus and seconded by Campbell and carried that $500 be given Chesterville Legion Post.

Harry C. Hummel and the caretaker of Community Hall were commended for the beautiful showing of flowers in the borders.

The long list of accounts was passed and paid and council adjourned at 11 p.m. to meet Tuesday, November 1, 1955.

Thanksgiving Holiday

Next Monday will find Canada observing the last national holiday until Christmas. With the coming of Thanksgiving we can put a final note to our easy summer days and tuck in the loose ends ready for the cold wintry blasts.

As is usual, Chesterville stores will be closed all day on Monday, October 10, to observe the holiday. Folks are advised to get in a double supply of groceries and meats for the long weekend.

Jack Durant Tops Local Poultry Club for 1955 Rotary Sponsored Group Banqueted by Parent Club

Monday night in Community Hall Chesterville Rotary Club entertained over 30 members of the Chesterville Poultry Club at their annual Achievement Night dinner. The Poultry Club is sponsored by Chesterville Rotary. Each year the service club makes available 50 free chickens to youthful members of the community and along with the Department of Agriculture undertakes a programme of training with the young 4-H'ers. The Poultry Club members end their year's programme on Achievement Night at the Rotary dinner. They bring along two dressed fowl from their flocks, have them judged and then present them to the service club.

Ralph Ambridge, president for the past year of the Poultry Club, exressed the club's thanks for the support given by the Rotary group.

Don Rutherford, assistant agricultural representative, and K.A.S. speaker A. M. Morphet, of the poultry department of the college, spoke on matters of interest to the young poultrymen present.

President James Cunningham expressed the thanks of the Rotarians and guests to the speakers for their fine efforts.

In the final summing up of year's credit points, just received from the office of the agricultural representative, Jack Durant, of Chesterville, heads the list with 954. Next in the running comes Tommy Moore with only three less at 951. Third is Marjorie Moore, 946; fourth, Don Durant, 941 and fifth, Charles Graham, 935.

There were 29 registered members in the club this year who received a total of 1,450 free chickens from the Rotary Club.

Chesterville W.I. Observes Grandmother's Night & Hears Scouts

The bright colours of fresh paint and gay curtains in the newly decorated library made a charming setting for Grandmothers' Night for which the Chesterville Women's Institute acted as hostesses at their recent meeting. Lovely corsages of flowers of early autumn were pinned on the guests of honour by Mrs Hugh Marcellus and Mrs R. J. Jamieson.

The programme was convened by Mrs John Sutherland and consisted of a series of papers giving the historical background of Niagara-on-the-Lake and read in sequence by the convener and Mrs Graham Smith, Mrs Docksteader, Mrs Richard Casselman, Mrs Angus Smith, Mrs Francis Moriarty and Mrs Hugh Marcellus.

Two members of the local Boy Scout troop, Eivind Klingvall and Robert Miltimore, were interviewed by Mrs Sutherland and in this way gave much information about their trip to Niagara-on-the-Lake where they took part in the Jamboree. The local Scout Patrol is sponsored by Chesterville Rotary Club and the boys felt they had gained much from their experiences.

With boyish enthusiasm they had done much "trading" and showed a pair of percussion intruments from Cuba and a Japanese banner, with beautifully painted scroll. The boys were thanked by Mrs Sutherland.

The business of the meeting was in charge of the president, assisted by Mrs Geo. Merkley as secretary. It was decided to hold a costume dance October 28 and to canvass for funds in aid of C.N.I.B. Mrs Sutherland was appointed delegate to the area convention.

Mrs Sutherland, Mrs Geo. Barkley and Mrs Geo. Merkley with the president, were appointed a committee to attend municipal council meeting as the payment of $2,000 specified in the agreement terminates this year.

Community singing was enjoyed, with Mrs Eric Casselman at the piano, and Mrs Geo. Merkley leading.

The grandmothers and guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs B. W. Campbell, who also read a tribute to "Great Grandmother Ann."

The contest was won by Mrs A. J. Butcher and refreshments brought to a close a meeting in which good neighbourliness prevailed.—S.C.

MOYES—HEAGLE

Miss Thelma Marie Heagle became the bride of William Frederick Moyes on Saturday afternoon at 4.30 p.m. in St. James Anglican Church, Morrisburg. Rev Mr Davis officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Arthur Heagle, Chesterville, and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Frederick Moyes, Ottawa. Autumn flowers were used to decorate the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a waltz-length gown of white accordian-pleated Chantilly lace over satin, with a bolero-type jacket of lace, Peter Pan collar and lily point sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. Her only jewellery was a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a nosegay o f autumn flowers.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Bailey, of Chesterville, wore a waltz-length gown of blue net over taffeta with a matching headdress and carried a bouquet of mixed fall flowers.

Mr Douglas Moyes, of Ottawa, was best man.

Mrs Heagle, mother of the bride, wore a grey flowered nylon dress with blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs Moyes, wore a grey gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where friends were present from Cornwall, Ottawa, Chesterville, Winchester, Montreal and Northfield.

Later the happy couple left on a brief honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls. For travelling the bride wore a blue gabardine suit with a white feathered hat and black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

On their return they will reside in Barrie where Mr Moyes is a Private in the R.C.A.S.C. at Camp Borden.

Ottawa was selcted as the site of Canada's federal capital by Queen Victoria in 1857.

Petition Received Re Proposed Drainage Scheme

The regular meeting of Winchester Township council was held in the Presbyterian Hall, Morewood, October 'rd with all members present. The minutes of the last regular and special meeting were adopted as read and signed by the reeve.

A delegation from Osgoode Township met with council to have 128 rods of the boundary road repaired so that the school bus could pass over it. Council decided to spent $150 on this portion of the road, Osgoode Township to do the work and spend the same amount. On division the following voted for: Barclay, Baker and McIntosh; against the expenditure: Dawley and Smith.

The clerk was instructed to notify the North Dundas High School Board that the council feel there is an injustice done Mr Ross Young's children in having to meet the bus so far from home.

Council received a petition from ratepayersin the Castore and Annable Creek drainage scheme objecting to same being repaired and improved, as they had heard rumours that the Village of Winchester is contemplating same to give an outlet to the proposed sewerage system.

Mr Walter Carlyle was appointed tax collector and relief officer for the Township of Winchester to replace Mr W. N. Carkner who has resigned. Mr Carlyle will take over as tax collector as soon as the tax rolls have been audited by the auditors.

The following accounts were passed and paid: Roads and bridges, $6,110.89; treas. Chesterville, fire, $75.00; relief and charity, $57.43; salaries and allowances, $105.20; Federation of Agriculture levy. Total on roads and bridges to date, $56,374.99.

Council adjourned to meet in Winchester on Monday, November 7, 1955, at 10.30 a.m.

RALLY DAY HELD AT MOREWOOD

Rally Day was observed in Morewood United Church by Rev D. L. Gordon. Mrs R. A. Mitchell, Chesterville, assisted, bringing an interesting message to young and old.

During the service the rites of baptism were administered to Newman Carl, son of Mr and Mrs Gerald Carruthers, and Margaret Jean, infant daughter of Mr and Mrs Gerald Gardiner.

Instal Windows At Morewood Church

An interesting feature at a recent Sunday morning service at Morewood Presbyterian Church was the dedication of the newly installed windows by Mr Fred Miller, pastor. During the service Lyle Hunter sang "Bless This House," accompanied by Miss Laura Hunter at the console. The windows are a gift from the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

Mr Miller preached his farewell sermon, taking as his text, "The Bible Speaks to Us Today." Mr and Mrs Miller and family left last week for their new home at Beauharnois, Que.

OPINIONS. . .

Ours and Others

Apple Day Coming Up

Among the many community projects Chesterville and district maintain that of support to Scouts and Cubs is one of the most rewarding. One of the nicest things about the whole thing are the few appeals made to keep the wheels rolling; nearly all the work is volunteered by faithful adults in the field of leadership; the boys themselves are taught that virtue is gained in doing for themselves what can be done within their power.

One of the few calls on the pocketbook of the community is support of the annual Apple Day sale. This year the sale will be held on Saturday, October 15. On that day Scouts and Cubs will cover the community like a blanket, asking for a donation and giving in receipt a nice red apple. It is the only appeal the boys make towards the maintenance of their groups, the rest being taken care of by their own efforts in paper drives, scrap collections, etc.

In asking for support, the boys are anxious to make it clear that the sale of the apples themselves is not the important thing. This year in a depressed apple market, apples are rather inexpensive. They have the value of being a novel and eatable receipt for any donation you wish to make to the Scout and Cub work. When the youngster calls and offers you an apple, make your response some silver for his scouting.

Can't Stop Winter

Three hundred and forty-seven autumns have come and gone in Canada since Champlain saw the river freeze from his flimsy habitation and found himself alone in a new world. After all that time, says Bruce Hutchinson in The Financial Post, with all its toils and harvests, all its progress and wealth, all the bookkeeping of the state, the skillful management of government and the thin disguises of civilization, autumn returns unchanged, and a few miles from the pavement the Canadian feels again the old familiar loneliness and the cooling substance of the continent.

More Hours Worked Less Costs For Tractor Owners

Idle tractors on the farm do not have to be fed but there is a close relationship between the number of hours a tractor is used during the year and the cost per hour of use.

In a study of tractors costs on 124 one-tractor farms—83 in Ontario and 41 in Quebec, the Economics Division, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, found the cost per hour of tractor use varied from 83 cents when used 694 hours per year, to $2.14 when used only 119 hours. Similar differences were found for many of the tractor operated machines such as plows, seed drills, combines, forage harvesters and hay balers.

Cost per acre for most farm operations on the 124 farms studied was less where tractors were used than with horses, even with the same size implements. Plowing with a 2-furrow plow and 3 horses, an average of 34 acres per year, cost $9.42 per acre. With a 2-furrow, two-plow tractor, plowing an average of 45 acres per year, the cost was $3.02 per acre.

Mowing hay the average horse drawn mower on the Ontario farms cut 31 acres at a cost of $2.56 per acre. With a tractor, mowing on the average 54 acres per year, the cost was $1.64 per acre. On the Quebec farms, horse mowers cut an average of 40 acres at $2.42 per acre and the tractors 77 acres at $1.18 per acre.

These records indicate that on small farms a definite saving in machinery costs can be made by exchanging work with neighbours. Where one farmer owns a combine, another a forage harvester, perhaps another a hay baler, by exchanging work each machine can be used double the number of hours. It can be done on a basis of exchanging work or by charging regular custom rates for each machine.

VIRTUE TRIUMPHS

The indignation of a church congregation has scored a moral victory over the persistence of a bootlegger.

Some time ago Rev. Stanley Higgs, of St. Michael's Anglican Church, Vancouver, B.C., began receiving calls at odd hours demanding the minister "shend me a bottle."

It took Mr. Higgs only a little while to realize that his number was very similar to that of a popular city bootlegger.

He asked the bootlegger to change his telephone number. "No," said the man, "change yours."

Mr. Higgs appealed to his congregation and asked them them to telephone the bootlegger and hang up as soon as he answered.

The congregation did, and the terrific number of calls almost drove the bootlegger to a breakdown.

After a week of telephone answering, the bottle-seller went to the company to have his number changed.

Light Along The Way

"Though the mills of God
grind slowly,
Yet they grind exceeding small."

In these words Longfellow expressed a conclusion that goes back as far as ancient Greek and Roman times. Man has long recognized the inexorable and inflexible will of the Creator. He has sufficiently comprehended it to realize that nothing on earth can prevent it reaching its fulfillment.

The rush of modern life too easily obscures this fact. Man rises with each morning's dawning and goes forth to do his work as if what he has to do is the ultimate upon which all else depends. He chases this and seeks that as though it were all that life demands for its fulfillment. Crass materialism is the great enfolding interest in this generation. Man seeks more money to buy more things in order to enjoy a higher standard of living for which he needs more money; and so the vicious circle leads him on.

It is against this shallow use of life that the wisdom of the ages cries out, and with which the Bible, in particular, takes issue. Remember the parable of the rich farmer and his barns? (Luke 12 : 13-21). The note it strikes can be heard ringing from one end of the Bible to the other: "Why spend money for that which is not bread, and your labour for that which satisfieth not?" asks Isaiah.

What are we to do then? Are we to forsake all wealth and live as paupers? Are we to deny that the things God has put into our hands are good? It would be impossible to persuade men that that were so, even of there were need to. It is not things that are evil, however, but man's use of them and his absorbing interest in them to the exclusion of other demands. If the final victory in life is God's, if all must eventually be ground down by His will, then the reasonable course is to make life conform to that will. Our attitude to things, and our use of them become determinants in our arceptance or rejection of God's may.

The vital questions become. How much are we using ourselves and our possessions for God, and to further His Kingdom? How far do we let ourselves become the means by which His will is done? To find God and know His will every man must humbly examine himself and all he does, and strives, with God's help, to make himself good; to sacrifice self and things in His work.

INVENTIVE PRINTER MAKES OWN GUARDIAN

If it weren't for the fact they look so much alike, you'd never take Zeland Love to be Leland Love's brother, to say nothing of twin.

Leland is a printer who also farms and invents for himself. He is friendly and talkative. But Zeland has never worked a day in his life. He comes out only after dark and is the strong silent type. Just puffs on his pipe and listens—but says nothing.

A close observer might think Zeland was a dummy. And that's exactly what he is.

But Zeland is no joke. He's the latest addition to Leland's auto-accessory inventions ,the result of lonely night-driving between his farm and his home.

Every time he had to stop at a traffic light or a stop sign at some dark, deserted spot, he thought how easy it would be for a thug to step out of the shadows, point a gun at him, ,rob him, and take his car. And then he'd seen women driving around by themselves and thought how risky it was.

The more he thought about it, the more he became convinced that everybody should have a companion on night auto trips out of traffic and away from bright lights. So he made himself a twin brother—old wooden-and-tin-headed Zeland—to serve as an after-dark guardian.

Zeland sits on the front seat, puffing away on a pie that's kept going by machinery in his innards and they get along just fine.

Once when Leland stopped at a filling station the attendant didn't notice the fellow on the front seat beside the driver was a dummy. He got quite a shock when Leland introduced him.

Leland also has invented a compact folding cot and a camp stove. He says he can drive up to a camp site, park, have his fire going and coffee boiling in five minutes. And his bed all made up, too.

You can't find pipe-puffing Zeland or the other gadgets in auto stores, though. Leland just makes working models of his inventions, gets patents on some, and puts them away.

"When I retire maybe I'll try to do something with them," he says. "Too busy with my job and my farm right now."

IDENTIFY NEW DISEASE IN ONTARIO SWINE HERDS

Disease prevalent in herds of swine throughout Ontario has been identified as Glasser's Disease, reports the Ontario Veterinary ollege, Guelph.

The disease appears in pigs in certain districts during the first three months of life, rarely in older animals. Affected pigs shows a slight fever sometimes accompanied by coughing and frequently by sore joints. The joints most affected are those of the hips, hocks and knees. Circumstances such as transportation, the presence of parasites, and change of ration appear to increase the possibility of this infection occurring in swine.

The disease was described a number of years ago by Glasser and associates in Hanover, Germany. The several cases occurring in Ontario were studied at the Ontario Veterinary College by Dr. G. R. Carter, of the Department of Bacteriology. After months of work he was able to show that the disease was caused by organisms midway in size between bacteria and viruses.

FOOD IN TIN CANS SAFE AS IN GLASS JAR

Did you know that a "tin can" isn't made of tin? It is actually sheet steel with only a fine coating of tin plated on both sides.

And did you know that food left in an open tin can today is just as safe as it would be in a glass jar or any other container? In the early days of canning housewives were warned to empty the food from the can as soon as it was opened because of the danger of contamination. Many people are still faithfully following those instructions, in spite of the fact that modern cans are perfectly safe as food containers!

Years ago paint chemists developed corrosion-resistant enamels for coating over tin. Now you can open up a can of salmon or any other food and leave the left-over portion right in the can. But it's hard to break a habit and Grandma probably will never be convinced!

Summer Boarder: "Wish I could be a farmer and work and live with the blue sky overhead always."

Farmer Brown: "That would be all right if the blue sky was a farmer's only overhead."

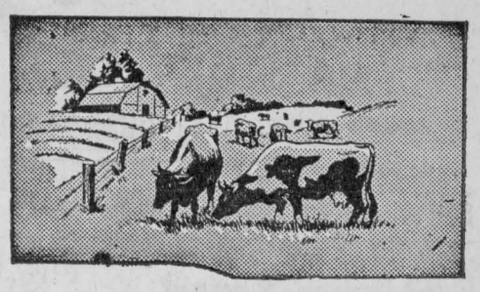
FRENDLEE FARM CHATS



By Lillian Allison

It was certainly thrilling to be part of that vast audience at Lansdowne Park on Monday night for the Billy Graham rally. It was satisfying to know that that crowd of over 20,000 people were there not for a ball game or a hockey match, not for a bingo or for a grandstand show, but for a religious rally.

And what a representative crowd it was! On the platform was a Justice of the Supreme Court, the premiers of two Canadian provinces, an American government official. In the audience were the veterans of two wars, arthritics in wheel chairs, paraplegics, blind people with their white canes, the deaf and dumb with their interpreter.

A section of the grandstand was filled with a thousand of the choir members of the various Ottawa and district churches. Another section was reserved for the clergymen present. Some of the seats down on the ground had been saved for a huge delegation from Montreal. The people from North Bay sat together somewhere else. Inside the main entrance to the park more than a dozen were lined up unloading the passengers who had come many miles.

It was a colourful crowd too. Hats of every shade of the spectrum were like dots on a giant pegboard. Brightly coloured coats, fur coats and jackets added to the picture. And besides these there was the vivid array of rugs. Loud plaids and assorted, gay woollens protected many a nylon from the chilly, fall air.

For it was a bit cool there even though a perfect fall night. The full moon hung directly over the canal and lit the autumn leaves on all sides. The sky was clear except for a bit of white fluff that drifted by occasionally. There wasn't even the slightest breeze. It was beautiful indeed.

And there in this picturesque setting sat the vast crowd. The grandstand was packed to the roof. Bleachers directly in front of it held hundreds more. Benches arranged in a geometric design on the football field seated hundreds and hundreds more. The remaining hundreds sat in bleachers which lined the other three walls of the enclosure. Flood lights made the entire area as bright as day.

In the centre of it all was a huge platform. On one side of it was an electric organ, on the other a grand piano. On the stage sat the dignitaries, the participating ministers, the Billy Graham team and Dr Graham himself.

Dr Graham told of the crowds at the crusade in London, Eng. How thousands had turned out on a cold night and stood for hours in the pouring rain while the meeting took place. He described the throngs who crowded the stadiums of Scotland, Berlin, of Paris. He told of the thousands who had attended his rallies in U.S.A. and are attending now in Toronto.

He announced that a special train was leaving Pembroke this wekend going to Toronto via Smiths Falls. It would arrive in time for his big rally there and leave when the meeting was over

He sited statistics to prove that in the "good old days" of the last century only 17% of the people in the United States were connected with a church. Today 60% identify themselves with the Christian church. Time was when scientists were considered athiests and agnostics. Today 79% believe in the existence of a God.

Arnold Toynbee, the great, modern historian says that the only hope for the world is a return to religion, a return to a faith in God. And Billy Graham believes we are on the verge of a spiritual revolution.

No one will ever know all that was accomplished at Lansdowne Park during the Billy Graham Rally. For such things cannot be compiled as figures on a page. But two things were accomplished that we know. All the Protestant churches and groups in the city of Ottawa co-operated to arrange that huge rally. And that was indeed an accomplishment. Then the fact that over 20,000 people attended this gathering proved that religion is still a vital force in the world of today. People are still interested and concerned about the things that matter.

In bygone days, when this was a land teaming with wild game, our forefathers depended upon hunting for their very subsistence. Today in the realm of sport hunting now survives as a recreational pleasure, providing healthful exercise as well as an escape from the pressures and worries of everyday business. Although times have changed, the end result of any hunting expedition should not be to kill game just for the sake of killing, but to put meat on the table for all members of the family and their friends to enjoy.

Follow These Simple Rules

Of all the wild meats game birds offer the greatest variety, ranging from the rich, tangy flavour of the miniature woodcock to the magnificent Canada goose, with a choice of flavour delicacy as wide as the variation of the sport in hunting for them. Quality and table-taste of game birds, however, depends on their age and diet and on the care they receive after the hunter has brought them down. To avoid waste, spoilage and eating disappointment, try following these simple rules: The birds should be drawn soon after they have been shot. The body heat should be allowed to disappate as quickly as possible. The birds should be kept cool or at cold temperature until they are to be cooked. Refrgeration is not recommended unless you are preparing the birds for deep-freeze storage.

The Proof's in the Eating

Just the other evening we got a call from an affable sporting character of my acquaintance who had just returned from a week of duck shooting back on the family farm out in Saskatchewan. "I've got four fat mallards all stuffed and ready to go in the oven," says he, "come on down for dinner." Not withstanding the fact that I had just stepped in the door after a day away from home on business, with a couple of hundred miles of driving already under my belt, our answer was an immediate "yes." Well, those big grain-fed green heads were really something and I was forced to admit, as I pushed back my plate after a third helping, that the western-fed duck has a gustatory edge over the birds that we bring to the table back here in the east.

Sound Easy—Doesn't It?

Our host shot these mallards in the morning, cleaned them out, aired them for a few hours then flew them back from Regina to Montreal to put them on the table the following evening. As we sat around a crackling fire before dinner our host told us about the shooting. No blinds, no decoys, just driving out to the sloughs, parking the car, a quiet stalk, and then trying to pick out one duck to swing and lead on out of a flock of anywhere from fifty to a couple of hundred. Like shooting fish in a barrel, well, not quite, because as every experienced waterfowler knows you can't just bang away at a flock of ducks and expect to bag any birds except by "bull luck." You've got to single out one bird and get on it. Just the same with this prairie shooting; having singled out your target, the birds are flying so close chances are you'll knock down a couple with each barrel.

That Orange Sauce

There are just as many ways of fixing ducks for the table as there are theories on how to hunt them and I'm not going to add to the culinary confusion by giving out any recipes this week—maybe later. Our hostess, a gal with a

St. Peter's Lutheran W.M.S. Marks 50th Anniversary Life Memberships Presented at Special Service

Seventy-five members of St Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, together with members and friends of sister societies celebrated the 50th anniversary of the W.M.S. at a special service in the church.

Mrs G. L. Barclay and Mrs Clifford Casselman received the guests at the entrance of the church. Each visitor was the recipient of a corsage bouquet made by Mrs Ernest Merriken; Mrs J. L. Kirchhofer presided and extended a cordial welcome to the many guests.

Mrs Clifford Casselman briefly reviewed the past 50 years of the society's activities. The source of the Women's Missionary Society was found in the Ladies' Aid which was the first organization of the women in the church.

The first secretary was Mrs Orlin Becker and the treasurer was Mrs Ralph Empey. A brief memorial service was conducted by Mrs Kirchhofer.

A message was brought by the church pastor, Rev J. L. Kirchhofer.

The Netherland's folk song, "Prayer of Thanksgiving," was contributed by Mrs Maefred Merkley, accompanied by Miss Ethel Gordier, the church organist.

Rev F. W. Howald, Morrisburg, dedicated the offering which was taken by Mrs Walter Loucks and Mrs Irwin Empey.

Messages of congratulations read by Mrs Donald Hess included those fom: Mrs Frank Loa, president of St. Peter's Lutheran Church W.M.S., Ottawa; Mrs William Gillespie, executive member of the W.M.S. of the United Lutheran Church in America; Mrs Clarence Ade, Ottawa, vice-president of the Eastern Conference W.M.S., Canada Synod; Mrs Karl Knoff, president of the Western Conference W.M.S. and Mrs Albert Lotz, president of the W.M.S., Canada Synod.

A life membership service was conducted by Mrs J. L. Kirchhofer, assisted by Mrs Irwin Empey, Mrs Arthur Loucks and Mrs Ralph Casselman.

The following members were presented with life membership certificates and emblems: Mrs Clifford Casselman, Mrs Lydia Hanson, Mrs Sadie Whitteker, Mrs Willis McIntosh, Mrs Frank Merkley and Mrs Ross Beckstead; also Mrs Percy Reddick who was made a life member one week previous at a regular meeting.

Due to the keen interest shown by Miss Elmeda Whitteker, a charter member, a corsage bouquet of baby 'mums and another life membership emblem and certificate were presented to her.

At the supper hour an anniversary cake graced the head table. A tatting white and gold cross, at each place, was used as a memento of the occasion, and they were made by Mrs Jason Whitteker.

Greetings during the supper hour were expressed by Mrs Hubert Shaw, Dunbar; Mrs Graham Casselman, Morrisburg; Mrs John Casselman, Riverside, and Mrs George Dunlop, Williamsburg United Church.

Mrs Sara M. Wood Dies at Newington

Newington lost an aged and respected resident on the death of Mrs Sara Mary Wood, which occurred at her home Monday, following a lengthy illness.

Born in Roxborough Township, she was the former Sara Mary Sutherland, a daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Joseph Sutherland. She was married to the late Wm. H. Wood, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., who predeceased her in 1915. After her marriage she lived in Morrisburg for a short time and came from there to Newington, where she has been a respected resident for 68 years. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church, a member of the W.M.S. and had always been active in all branches of church work. She was also a life member of the Newington Br nch of the Women's Institute.

Left to mourn her loss are two sons, George J., of Montreal, and Ellsworth, of Winnipeg. She also leaves one sister, Mrs A. D. Cameron, of Finch.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held on Thursday from Brownlee's Funeral Home to the Newington United Church where the service was conducted by Rev J. Bell, of St Luke's Presbyterian Church, Finch, and Rev A. D. Penman, Newington United Church. During the service, comforting messages were brought by each minister.

Hymns sung during the service were favourites of the deceased, "Rock of Ages" and "Abide with Me."

Pall bearers were Clifford Rombough, Harley Weegar, Willis Waldroff, Ryerson Waldroff, George Baker and Hugh Cameron.

Many beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket, silent tributes to the memory of the deceased.

Interment was made in Hillcrest Cemetery.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

A meeting of the Morewood Unit of the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was held in the Presbyterian Hall on Monday evening of last week to appoint officers and conveners for the coming year.

Officers appointed were: President, Mrs William McQuaig; vice-president, Mrs C. H. Smith; secretary-treasurer, Mrs Murray Dillabough; conveners, Mrs Archie Carruthers, Mrs Gerald Carruthers, Mrs O. K. Steven, Mrs C. H. Smith, Mrs Lyle Hunter, Mrs Lill Feeley, Mrs H. B. Allison, Mrs Lorne Irven, Mrs A. Dillabough, Mrs J. V. Setterly, Miss Laura Moffatt, Mrs Eric Barclay; director, Mrs Gordon Baker.

Osnabruck Centre W.I. Meets at Eamon Home

The September meeting of Osnabruck Centre W.I. was held at the home of Mrs Stanton Eamon. Mrs Hilton Hollister, president, was in the chair assisted by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs Lloyd Gallinger.

An invitation from Dixon W.I. to attend their grandmothers' meeting was accepted, but invitations from Finch W.I. and Mille Roches W.I. to attend their meetings on October 6 had to be declined due to previous commitments for that date.

Resolutions to be presented at the convention were discussed. Mrs Hector Huntington was named delegate to attend the convention at the Chateau Laurier October 11 and12.

Donations are to be sent to the polio fund, to Riverdale Isolation Hospital, Toronto, and to the local Boy Scout Troop.

Mrs Arthur Ware gave a paper on Citizenship and Education, the topic being "Comic Books." Mrs J. T. Flegg gave Current Events. Mrs . Brassard conducted a contest which was won by Mrs J. T. Flegg.

The meeting closed with singing "God Save the Queen."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

The next meeting will be held October 19 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs Arthur Ware.

Impressive Tribute Paid Late John A. MacRae

Impressive tribute was paid the memory of John Andrew (Alex) MacRae at funeral services held at the home of his nephew and niece, Mr and Mrs Ross MacRae, Avonmore. Mr MacRae was in his 71st year.

The funeral service, which was largely attended by sorrowing relatives, old neighbours and friends, was conducted by Mr Greene, student minister of Knox Presbyterian Church, Moose Creek, assisted by Rev W. Alfred Douglas, B.A., minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Avonmore.

A joint choir from the Moose Creek and Avonmore churches sang an anthem. Mrs Stanley MacKay was accompanist.

Interment was made in Paul's Hill Cemetery.

Relatives and friends attended the funeral from Ottawa, Massena, Cornwall, Vankleek Hill, Maxville, Lancaster, Glen Norman, Bainsville, Finch, Berwick, Moose Creek and Crysler.

He was at the fountain pen ocunter making a purchase. "You see," he said, "I'm buying this for my wife."

"A suprise, eh?"

"I'll say so. She's expecting a new fur coat."

Lutheran Women Meet at Williamsburg

The women of the Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, held their September meeting in the church hall with the president, Mrs J. L. Kirchhofer, in the chair. Twenty-six members and two visitors were present.

The meeting opened with a hymn. The topic, "Pastors Transplanted," was in charge of Mrs Ross Beckstead and Mrs Ralph Casselman. Mrs Kirchhofer concluded the topic with prayer, and told of some of her experiences in working with displaced persons.

The members answered the roll call with a Scripture verse containing the word "Perfect."

A pleasant event of the evening was the presentation of aW.M.S. life member's certificate and pin to Mrs Percy Reddick by Mrs J. L. Kirchhofer and Mrs Erwin Empey from her husband and family.

The meeting closed with the Missionary Benediction.

Terms Open October 11 At Agricultural School

The Kemptville Agricultural School opens its doors on October 11th to students in agriculture and home economics.

Fall work is well along on most farms in Eastern Ontario in contrast with last year. The boys won't leave too many unfinished jobs for Dad when they head for five months of practical study on the 400-acre school farm at K.A.S.

As usual School officials will try to find room in residence for last minute enrolments but point out that it is easier to plan space and the curriculum if applications are received now. A few bursaries valued at $100 each are still available for boys or girls who need a bit of help.

Students have registered from a wide area in Ontario and as far away as Mexico or South America.

Last year's new course in advanced agricultural mechanics has again attracted farm boys who want to know more about farm machinery and farm power. In addition most of them relish the prospect of a third year in residence at K.A.S.

In the home economics division more junior girls have enrolled than last year, perhaps, in part, because recent graduates have found attractive positions in hospitals as assistants to dietitians.

Staff members at K.A.S., busy all summer with farm extension services, will be ready to welcome and instruct some of Ontario's finest young people from October 11th to April 13th.

Eleanor Byers Heads 4-H Club

The first meeting of the Tip Top Teens Girls' 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs Harry Popplewell, Morewood, with 16 members present. The following officers were elected: President, Eleanor Byers; vice-president, Kathryn Coulthart; secretary-treasurer, Betty Ann Smirl.

Meetings will be held every second Thursday.

The lunch committee for the October 13th meeting consists of Lillian Whittaker and Marilyn Steinburg.

Permission to use the Home Economics Room at the High School has been requested.

Leaders were Mrs Allen Thompson, Mrs J. V. Fetterly, Mrs Harry Popplewell.

Baffin Island, in the Eastern Arctic, has mountain more than 5,000 feet high.

"I wonder what's happened to Nancy . . ."

"Oh! I'm glad you called — I was worried."

The telephone rings and everything's OK

So many of the calls you make every day say "Don't worry"! When someone has to work late, or can't keep a date, or has to cancel an appointment, the telephone lets other people know.

At times like this — whether you are making the call or receiving it — the ready reassurance provided by your telephone can be precious beyond words.

This is just one of countless examples of how your telephone pays its way, as it makes life happier, easier, more secure.

"WHAT'S GOING ON IN TOWN"?

Can you picture what life in your town would be like without a weekly newspaper?
You'd have nothing to keep you up to date on happenings right in your own neighbourhood.
If you had something to sell, you'd have to go out and look for a buyer. If you needed to buy something, you'd have to look all over town for it.
Your neighbours could marry, have children, or even die, without you hearing about it until much later.
Council could pass a by-law affecting you and you might never hear of it.
Plans for worthwhile community projects might never get started for lack of news and support.
And how would you keep up with the fortunes of the hockey team or the baseball club?
Fortunately, your town has a weekly newspaper, a source of local information that no other kind of publication can replace.
Over the years, Canadian weekly editors have lent their support unstintingly to many a good community cause. This year, for the first time, they are celebrating National Weekly Newspaper Week, and Imperial Oil is glad to participate in paying tribute to your weekly newspaper.

Final Tribute Paid Mrs Geo. H. Armstrong

Mrs George H. Armstrong died in the Cornwall General Hospital following a lengthy illness. Born in Toronto 66 years ago, she was the daughter of the late Mr and Mrs James Bryce.

Following her education which she received in Toronto, she became the wife of George H. Armstrong and for some time resided in Calgary. In 1936 they moved to Elma where they practised the art of farming. On September 1st Mr and Mrs Armstrong celebrated the 40th anniversary of the marriage.

Mrs Armstrong, before her long illness was a devoted member of the Woman's Association of Elma United Church and also of the Women's Missionary Society.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons, Harold, of Chesterville, Bryce, Northfield Station and Stewart, Swift Current, Sask.; two daughters, Mrs Frank Burt, (Joan) Terrace, B.C., and Mrs Lorne James, (Helen) Ottawa, and three sisters, Mrs Steele Christman and the Misses Ruth and Evelyn Bryce, all of Woodbridge, Ont.

The funeral was held from Elma United Church, the Rev N. Bowering in charge of the service. The pall bearers were James Sargent, Art Barkley, John Ball, Egerton Barkley, Mel Dillabough and Hiram McMillan.

Burial was in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

GRANTLEY

Mrs Flora Helmer Visits Gordon Home

Mrs Flora Helmer, Edmonton, visited on Friday with her brother, Mr Don Gordon, and Mrs Gordon on her return from a three-month motor trip through the Maritimes. She is en route to Toronto where she will visit her daugher and was accompanied by Mr and Mrs David Morgan, Morrisburg.

Grantley Personals

Mr and Mrs Bill Fulton were Wednesday overnight guests with Lieut. Cdr. and Mrs R. D. Fulton and family, Montreal.

Mr and Mrs Reggie Darling and Garfield were Sunday guests with Mr and Mrs Andrew Dancause and Andrew, Apple Hill

Sunday guests at the Shea home were Mrs Henry Hart, Mrs Lloyd McCorriston, Elwood and Elaine and Mr James Hart, Cornwall.

Mr and Mrs Wes Fulton called on Mr and Mrs Jas. O. McMillan on Sunday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs Howard Fry and Margaret, Newmarket, called on Mrs Glenn McMillan and Margaret Monday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs Bert Link were Wednesday dinner guests with Mr and Mrs Mason Robinson.

Mrs Will Smith spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs Earle McMillan, Mr McMillan and daughters.

Mr and Mrs Tom Poneck and family were Sunday tea guests with Mr and Mrs Glenn McMillan and Margaret and called on Mr and Mrs Jas. O. McMillan in the evening before leaving for their home in Toronto on Monday.

Grantley United Church will celebrate its 73rd anniversary on October 10 at 2.30 p.m. Rev Mr Sutherland, of Avonmore, will be guest speaker.

Mrs Willis Darling has resumed her teaching duties at Grantley Public School.

Mrs John Fawcett Laid to Rest

Final tribute was paid the memory of the late Mrs John Fawcett at the funeral held in Trinity United Church, Chesterville, at which the Rev R. A. Mitchell officiated. Interment was made in Maple Ridge Cemetery.

The beautiful floral tributes bore testimony to the respect accorded Mrs Fawcett. The pall bearers were Allan Moran, George Gillard, Haldane Durant and John Price.

Mrs Fawcett was born in Morewood 74 years ago Mabel Clare Glasgow, the daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Thomas Glasgow. She received her education in Morewood schools and in 1901 became the wife of John Fawcett, Chesterville, who died several years ago.

Keenly interested in horticulture, Mrs Fawcett has lived in Chesterville for the past 54 years except for the last few months prior to her death when she moved to Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs Archie Arnott, (Mildred) of Montreal, and two sons, Clayton, Winchester Springs, and Bertram, of Chesterville; one brother, Milford Glasgow, and one sister, Mrs Helen James, both of Chesterville, and 14 grandchildren.

Trinity United Men's Club Holds Initial Meeting For Coming Season

The Men's Club of Trinity United Church met in the dining hall of the church for its first meeting last Friday evening. The meeting was conducted by the president, Dr B. W. Lapp, who opened the proceedings with a brief devotional period in which he was assisted by Mr John Turner and Rev R. A. Mitchell.

The minutes of the last meeting of the Club were read by the secretary, Mr John Presant. It was decided that the executive should seek to secure funds for the purchase of a projector which could be used by the church. Plans were discussed for the next meeting to which it was decided to invite the ladies. A committee to look after arrangements was appointed consisting of Messrs John Turner, Lyle Marcellus and Harry Allison.

The business meeting was followed by the showing of films and the members enjoyed "Wings to Alaska," "Mr Jekyll and Driver Hyde" and "Come to the Fair" from the Rural Stormont Film Council. The meeting concluded with lunch.

IN MEMORIAM

BAILEY—In loving memory of our dear father, Broder Bailey, who passed away October 3rd, 1952.
As we love you, we miss you
In our memory you are so near,
Loved, remembered for always,
Bringing many a silent tear.
Daughters Flossie and Pearl.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our many friends and neighbours on our recent bereavement in the loss of a beloved wife and mother, Mrs Catherine Armstrong. Special thanks to Rev Mr Bowering and the choir of Elma United Church.

Geo. W. Armstrong and family.

IN MEMORIAM

IRVING—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Herbie Irving, who was accidently killed ten years ago October 6, 1945.
We want each moment of our life
And every thing we do
To be happy memories
That we have shared with you;
Each golden hour of the day,
Each silver star at night
And every breath that leaves our lips
By dawn or candlelight.
We want to walk with you beyond
The clouds that gather rain,
Unto the land where dreams come true
And nothing is in vain;
Where spring is filled with flowers
And the autumn is a song
And beauty paints a masterpiece,
Of faith and courage strong.
We want to share your summer
And your winter white with snow,
We'll always hold your memories close
And never let them go;
God took your hand,
We had to part;
He eased your pain,
But broke our hearts.

Lovingly remembered by Wife, Son and Daughters.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all those who remembered me with cards, treats and phone calls while I was a patient in Ottawa Civic Hospital. Special thanks to Dr Justus.

John Peter Monast.

IN MEMORIAM

IRVING—In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Gwendolyne Irving, who was accidently killed ten years ago October 6, 1945.
Dear God, wilt Thou a message take,
For the one who walks the golden way.
She is our own and very best
Without her all are empty days.
Whisper that our hearts are with her,
In that kingdom up above;
Tell her that we miss her always
And send her all our love.
Dear God, put your loving arms around her
And give her gentle care;
Please make up for all she had to suffer
And all that was so unfair.
Some may forget now you are gone,
But we'll never forget you Gwendolyne,
No matter how long;
You hold a spot down deep in our hearts
Where the sun will always shine.
Lovingly remembered by Mother, Brother, Sisters.

IN MEMORIAM

MacRAE—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Basil MacRae, who was called home October 6, 1936.
Gone but not forgotten.
Father, Mother and Eileen.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish in this way to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my kind friends and neighbours on the South Morewood Road who contributed to the lovely gifts presented to me on my departure from the community. I especially thank Mr and Mrs Charles McLaughlin and Mr and Mrs Douglas Babcock who so kindly brought them to me at my new residence at the home of my son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs Charles Bush, Prescott, Ont.

Mrs. Walter Coulthart.

PURINA FEEDING PLAN FOR THE MILKING HERD

Purina research and customer experience both recommend a 16 per cent milking ration. Higher protein may increase output for a few weeks, but it does not last.

Vary the mount of milking ration according to production and the kind and consumption of hay. "Rule of thumb" rates: High-quality hay —Holsteins, 1 lb. 16 per cent ration to 4 lbs. milk; Jerseys, 1 to 3; medium-fat breeds, in between. With poorer hay, Holsteins may need 1 to 3; Jerseys 1 to 2.

Always grind grain for cows coarse. If it contains much corn or wheat, lighten it up with Bulky-Las. Many prefer to roll wheat. Unless good hay is unusually scarce and high-priced, it cuts costs to feed all that your cows will clean up. "Rule of thumb": Without silage, 2 lbs. hay per day per 100 lbs. body weight (20 lbs. for 1,000 lb. cow) . . . with corn silage, as low as 1 lb. per 100 lbs. body weight.

Silage: Corn, not over 2½ lbs. per day per 100 . . . grass, not over 3 lbs. (As silage averages 20 to 30 lbs. per bushel, this means about 1 bushel per day to a 1,000 lb. cow.)

If you have lots of grain, mix 400 lbs. chop or rolled grain and 100 Cow Chow Concentrate.

FISH RECIPES

THIS IS NATIONAL FISH WEEK and here are some tempting suggestions from the Department of Fisheries at Ottawa:

Fish Chowder

2 cups sliced raw potatoes
1 cup diced celery
½ cup diced, raw carrot
4 cups water
2 tsps. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
2-3 cup chopped onion
3 tbsps. fat
1 lb. fish fillets
4 cups rich milk

Combine the diced, raw vegetables in a good-sized cooking container and add water and seasonings. Cover the container and simmer vegetables until tender but do not drain. Panfry onion in fat until golden and add to vegetables. Remove any skin from fillets and cut them into bite-sized pieces. Combine fish with vegetables, cover and simmer for 15 minutes. Add milk and heat until chowder is very hot but not boiling. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Salmon-Apple Dishes with A-Peel

October is apple month and this year we have a bumper crop of red-skinned beauties which you will want to take full advantage of. It is a well known fact that apples make delicious desserts and that apple sauce is the perfect accompaniment for roast pork. It is less well known that apples combine well with canned salmon to give appealing main course dishes. The blend of the apple and salmon flavours is superb. Here are two dishes which illustrate what we mean. Both have been consumer tested in the kitchens of Canada's Department of Fisheries.

Salmon-Apple Salad

1 cup chopped, unpeeled apple
1 tbsp. lemon juice
2 cups chopped celery
1 can (7¾ or 8 oz.) red salmon
½ cup whole, roasted unsalted peanuts
¼ cup boiled salad dressing

Sprinkle coarsely chopped, rosy-skinned apple pieces with lemon juice to prevent turning brown. Combine apple with chopped celery. Drain salmon and break into bite-sized chunks, removing skin and soft bones. Add salmon chunks and roasted peanuts to the celery and apple. Moisten with boiled dressing or mayonnaise. Toss ingredients together lightly. Pile into 6 frilly lettuce cups. Makes 6 servings.

Salmon-Apple Rings

1 can (1 lb.) salmon
3 medium-sized apples
¼ cup melted butter
2 tbsps. lemon juice

Drain salmon and flake it, crushing bones with a fork. Save nutritious juice to use later in a soup or sauce. Shape flaked salmon into 6 patties of equal size. Core and peel apples. Cut into 12 half-inch rings. Place 6 apple rings in a greased baking dish and on top of each place a salmon patty. Top each patty with a second apple ring and pour over a marinade made by combining butter and apple juice. Bake in an oven of 400 degrees for about 15 minutes or until the apple rings are tender. Makes 6 servings.

* * * *

The delicious "heat and eat" fish sticks are extra good when served with a hot Cheese and Celery Sauce. Make this sauce by blending 2-3 cup of grated cheddar cheese with the contents of a 10-ounce can of cream of celery soup. Heat over hot water. When the cheese has melted, the sauce is ready to serve.

* * * *

Here's a handy hint for a new homemaker. The modestly priced pink canned salmon is just as flavourful and nutritious as the deluxe red or sockeye variety. Use it in sandwiches and in cooked dishes where its colour is not a matter of great importance. Reserve the sockeye for use in salads and for eating just as it comes from the can.

* * * *

Looking for a new casserole dish to add to your fall repertoire? Here are directions for making a hearty one which the family will enjoy. Mix 2 small cans of spaghetti in tomato sauce with 1 cup of diced, raw celery. Pour into a greased casserole and top with the drained, chunked contents of a 7-ounce can of tuna. Cover the casserole and heat in an oven at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

SLIGHT ERROR

James Rapp, 27-year-old sophomore at Wayne University, barked up the wrong tree to the tune of $40. He was found hacking away at a tree in a Detroit park and fined for violating a city ordinance. Rapp told Judge W. McKay Skillman he "needed some elm bark to do research on Dutch elm disease."

"But the tree you chopped up was a poplar," the judge told him.

FAMILY AFFAIR

Neil Dronfield, Hampton Court, Eng., fell off a bridge into the Thames River.

Frank Willingale dived in to save the child, then began to flounder himself. Mrs Willingale went in to save her husband.

In the excitement the four Willingale children, ranging in age from 2 to 7, fell in after their parents.

Along came a stranger who pulled all seven out of the water and left without disclosing his name.

fund for quick repartee as sharp as her appreciation of kitchen "know-how," served these roasted mallards with wild rice. Her hubby gets around a bit and had picked up a couple of pounds in Boston, cost him the price of a couple of boxes of sixes too. What made the main course for me though was the orange sauce. As I ate and kept coming back for more, I was of course dying to ask for the recipe, all the while conjuring up a mental picture of our hostess as she concocted this sauce out of some exotic and very special oranges and processing these in an old cider press along with dribblings of sherry and rare seasonings. Finally I mustered up the nerve to ask for the formula and to my astonishment and delight, which I feel bound to pass on to my readers, I learned that this delectable sauce is compounded from the same orange marmalade as you would serve on the breakfast table, with a little boiling water added.

Dundas County Plowmen Hold Meet on McMillan Farm Bert Beehler, of Crysler, Takes Top Honours

Dundas County's best plowmen vied for top honours at the annual plowing match on Wilfred McMillan's farm, half a mile east of Elma, on Friday.

It was no surprise for Bert Beehler, of Crysler, to repeat his last year's performance and best all comers in Class 3, open to anyone from the county. Mr Beehler also won four specials and was only topped by Harold McIntosh, Chesterville, an amateur plowman who proved himself the best in Class 7, two-furrow tractor plow, open to Dundas County only, and took home five special valuable prizes.

The soil was ideal, the weather was fine, but the threat of rain which never came, apparently reduced the number of entries to 17 at Friday's match. There was only one horse plow entry.

After dark, about 125 competing plowmen and their ladies and guests sat down to a tastey dinner, served by Elma Woman's Association in the basement of Elma United Church. Bert Casselman, president of the Dundas Plowmen's Association, presided over the banquet and the programme that followed. Then followed the presentation of prizes to the champion plowmen.

Prize Winners

Class 2, walking plow, single furrow, Mahlon Beckstead, Dunbar—Mr Beckstead, 72, also won the special prize for being the oldest plowman at the match.

Class 3, tractor plow, two-furrow, open to all: 1, Bert Beehler, Crysler; 2, Graham Bell, Chesterville; 3, Frank Larocque, Kenmore.

Class 4, tractor plow, two-furrow, open to Dundas boys and girls, 16 to 20: 1, Roger McMillan, 16, of Chesterville, who won the special prize for being the youngest plowman at the match; 2, Glen Pemberton, Williamsburg.

Class 5, tractor plow, two-furrow, open to Dundas residents only: 1, Bert Casselman, Williamsburg, president of the association; 2, Harold Pemberton, Elma.

Class 6, tractor plow, three-furrow, in sod, no handling, open to all: Graham Pemberton, Inkerman; 2, Bob Dawson, Williamsburg; 3, Dale Pemberton, Inkerman; 4, Byron Dawson, Williamsburg.

Class 7, tractor plow, two-furrow, open to residents of Dundas, amateurs: 1, Harold McIntosh, of Chesterville; 2, Floyd Pemberton, Inkerman; 3, Egerton Barkley, Elma.

Special Prizes

Best plowed land, Dundas County resident, Mahlon Beckstead; best plow team, Bert Casselman; youngest plowman competing, Roger McMillan; oldest plowman competing, Mahlon Beckstead; best plowed land by boy or girl under 20 from Dundas County, Roger McMillan; best ins and outs at the match, Bert Beehler; best land plowed with a Massey-Harris plow, Bert Beehler; best crown by a Dundas County resident, Harold McIntosh; best finish by a Dundas County resident, Harold McIntosh; best plowed land at the match: 1, Bert Beehler; 2 Harold McIntosh; best crown at the match: 1, Bert Beehler; 2, Harold McIntosh.

Plow judge was George Hostrawser, of Kitchener. Horse judge was H. H. Graham, Morrisburg. Harry Williams, Mountain, is the secretary. Prizes were presented by Dundas County assistant agricultural representative Don Rutherford, of Morrisburg.

Guest speaker was Charles W. McIntosh, Ontario Hydro information officer, who gave an interesting address on the $600,000,000 St. Lawrence power project. He was introduced by Reeve Donald Kyle, of Williamsburg Township.

The musical programme included a guitar solo by William Beckstead; a number by Mrs Hugh McMillan on the violin, accompanied at the piano by her daughter, June McMillan, and a vocal duet by Barbara Ann and Carol Merkley.

At Trinity Hall, Second St. W., Cornwall, there is a clinic on the second Tuesday of every month beginning October 11th between 2 and 4 p.m.

These clinics are operated by the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Health Unit and immunization will be given free of charge.

Immunization against Diphtheria, Whooping Cough and Tetanus should be given in the first year of life, starting at about four months of age. Full protection requires four injections—three at one-month intervals, and one six months later. This protection needs boosting at about two-year intervals through childhood, and especially on starting school. Any child requiring a booster dose can be brought to clinics.

Vaccination against Small Pox should be done in infancy and can be repeated on going to school.

The signature of the parent or guardian is required before any child is immunized or vaccinated, so parents should attend the clinic with the child to sign consent.
