Befitting winner of Terry Fox Award

[CORNWALL] - When school board trustee Bill Lasalle initiated the Terry Fox Award three years ago, he wanted it to go to somebody who emulated the indomitable spirit and determination of the young man from British Columbia.

In Michael Merkley, a 12-year-old grade six student at Iroquois Public School, the board found just such a person.

Michael has hand and feet problems caused by palmoplantar keratoderma. He also has limited vision. But in no way do these handicaps prevent him from participating and contributing to the school's activities.

He's a keen sportsman with a fine sense of humor who gets along very well at school, says principal Brooke Leightizer. "Michael demands that he be allowed to what he can do and other students include him and involve him. He's bright, gregarious and easy-going."

The son of Donna and Daryl Merkley, Michael lives on Concession 2 in Matilda Township. Until recently, the only way to treat his affliction was to scrape the hands and feet every six months. However, he now takes medication which eliminates the need for surgery and also removes much of the pain which used to be a constant companion.

Since taking the medication, Mr. Leightizer says Michael's school performance has improved markedly. Even before, however, Michael maintained a positive attitude and was aware that there are others who suffer worse hardships.

Michael received his award at opening ceremonies of Education Week in Cornwall on Monday, April 13. Aside from having his name inscribed on the Terry Fox plaque, which will hang in the IPS hallway until next year, Michael was given a keeper trophy and a cash prize of $100.

Pride flushes the youngster's face when asked about the award. "I was really happy to get it," Michael said. "It's my first trophy." The cash prize, he said, will go in the bank when it is received.

Michael works hard in school and is very proud of his accomplishments. Mr. Leightizer added, "I've seen tremendous improvement in his abilities and was very, very pleased to see Michael's reaction and the pride he takes in winning the award."

Michael had another surprise when he went to Cornwall to accept the award. John McMartin, former Iroquois principal and now special education co-ordinator, was on hand to make the presentation.

"Despite feet that don't work as he'd like them to and hands that are most unwilling when you put a pencil in them, Michael has shown tremendous courage and determination," Mr. McMartin stated in presenting the award.

He also pointed out that Donna, Michael's mother, can be proud of the hard work she's done to provide her son with the opportunities and will-power to succeed.

Liberals protest proposal

[OTTAWA] - John Corbett, recently elected president of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Liberal Association, will head a delegation to the hearings of the Ontario Electoral Boundaries Commission on May 9 and 10 to protest the proposed changes to be made in the electoral boundaries.

Mr. Corbett says that the association feels that the Government at Queen's Park has misinterpreted the call for Change for it is a change in government that the voter wants not a messing about with riding boundaries.

Other members of the executive who were elected at the annual meeting held at Osnabruck Centre on April 2 were: Pierre Aubry, Alexandria, Glengarry vice-president; Fraser Cross, Ingleside, Stormont vice-president; Peter McCooey, Morrisburg, Dundas Vice-President; Dennis Lefebvre, Ingleside, Treasurer; Dr. Gerry Rosenquist, Secretary; and Jean Lefebvre, Ingleside, youth member.

Mr. Corbett, who has lived in Morrisburg since his retirement was active in Liberal politics for years in Quebec both in Brome County and in Westmount where he was an officer in both the provincial and federal associations.

He comes originally from St. Thomas and had his introduction to politics working for Mitch Hepburn in Elgin West.

Superintendent of Education, J.J. Comtois, and Iroquois Public School principal Brooke Leightizer present the Terry

Fox Award to Michael Merkley, 12, a grade six student who received the plaque for overcoming his disabilities and pressing on with enthusiasm and perseverance.

Hall of Fame set to induct John McIntosh

[BRINSTON] - John McIntosh who gave the world the McIntosh apple from his farm in Dundela, will be recognized as one of the province's farming pioneers when he is inducted into the Ontario Agricultural Hall of Fame in Milton on June 10.

Announcement of the induction came before the regular meeting of Matilda Township council here last Thursday by a representative of the Agricultural Museum, Calvin Patrick.

Mr. McIntosh's nomination to the hall was made by the Ontario Apple Marketing Association.

Mr. Patrick said the induction has been a long time coming as Mr. McIntosh was certainly one of the pioneers of farming in Ontario and helped to put the province's apple growers on the world stage.

Only post humorous nominations are accepted for the hall of fame which recognizes pioneer farmers, blacksmiths and farm businessmen. Mr. Patrick added. With the addition of this year's inductees, the hall boasts 48 agricultural pioneers.

Mr. McIntosh's great-granddaughter, Grace Strader told The Chieftain from her Dundela farm that she plans to attend the June ceremony. Other relatives of Mr. McIntosh are also expected to attend, she said.

"I think it was quite a wonderful discovery," Mrs. Strader said about her ancestor's accomplishment. "It did a lot for the apple industry."

She recalled that Mr. McIntosh came to Cornwall from the Mohawk Valley in 1796 at the age of 19. He subsequently married Hannah Dorin, who is buried beneath a stone cairn on a farm about one mile north of Dundela.

An orchard of 20 trees began bearing the famous apple in 1811, Mrs. Strader noted, but a later fire destroyed the family

Haunted House a critical and financial success

The laughter and applause of more than 1000 people filled Seaway District High School's auditorium this weekend during the Iroquois-Matilda Lions' production of The Haunted House.

However, the Legion Honor Roll Project was the biggest beneficiary. Lion Glenn Swerdfefer says the club hopes to turn over $2,500 to the veterans' memorial fund after paying about $600 in expenses.

Mr. Swerdfefer, the play's producer, says about 475 people attended Friday's performance of the three-act play.

On Saturday night, the lobby of the high school was filled 45 minutes before the show was to begin at 8 p.m. Mr. Swerdfefer says. There was an audience of at least 600 for the second performance.

He estimates the cast of 12 spent about 1000 hours in rehearsal and credited Wendy Gibb, the play's director, with pulling the production together.

"It was really her. We sure as heck didn't know anything about it," he says.

Township awards maintenance tenders

[BRINSTON] - Frank Ault Excavating Ltd. was awarded the tender for improvement and maintenance of the Ault-Munroe drain at Thursday's meeting of Matilda Township council.

Ault's tender of $63,746.70 was almost $30,000 lower than that of Sullivan Bros. of Chesterville. The Chesterville firm had wanted $93,058.12 to clean the ditch bottom and replace culverts along the 10-km drain.

Koppers International Canada Ltd., with a branch office in Nepean, will supply culverts for the Ault-Munroe drain for $23,085.

Although Koppers' bid was about $320 higher than that of Amreo Westeel Incorporated of Guelph, council chose the firm because it had dealt with the company before and its delivery record had been good.

A third tender was received from Canada Culvert and Metal Products of Maple, Ont. Its bid of $30,007.90 was almost $7,000 more than Koppers'.

Council also awarded tenders for suppliers of road materials for 1984.

Council accepted the tender of Shaver Sand and Gravel of Iroquois for crushed gravel. Shaver will deliver gravel at a cost of $4.10 per tonne or the township can arrange to pick it up from the pit for $2 per tonne.

Other offers to supply crushed gravel were Frank Ault Excavating Ltd., for $4.30 per tonne if delivered and $2.50 from the pit, and Forbes Building Material Ltd. of Kemptville, $4.60 delivered and $2.30 from pit.

Forbes' tender for the supply of crushed stone was accepted at $3.00 per tonne from the pit.

Two other tenders were received from Cruickshank Construction Ltd. and Fetterly's of Iroquois. Both offered to deliver crushed stone for $5.75 per tonne; their pit price was $4.20.

Council decided to buy from Forbes at the pit price after agreeing it could arrange delivery itself for less than the tenders were charging.

The question of whether to ask for tenders for hauling the crushed stone or to simply hire trucks sparked discussion.

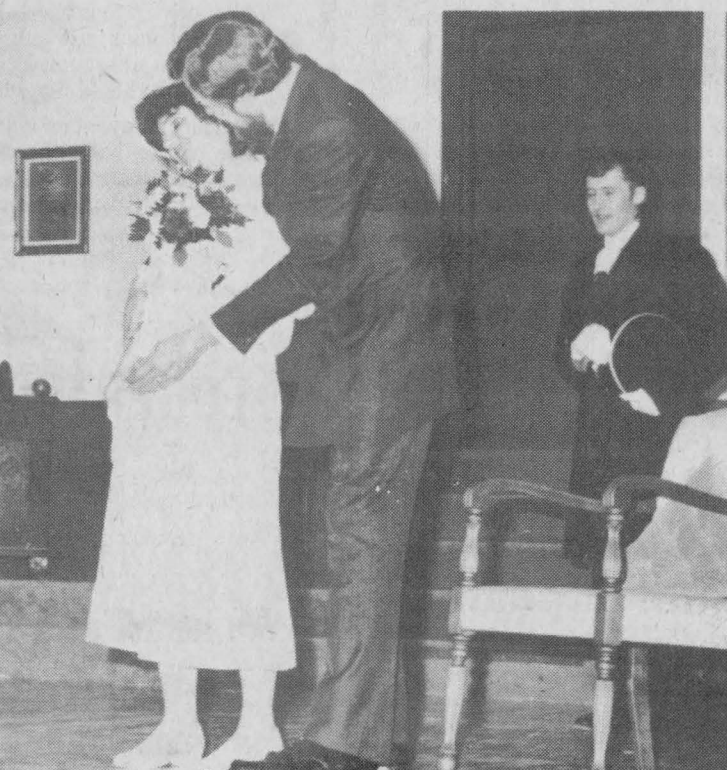

Councillor Charles Barkley said tendering was the "fairest" way of hiring transportation.

However, roads superintendent Doug Liezert said he was confident he could hire local trucks for less than the delivery prices submitted and felt he could get a better deal for the municipality than by going to tender.

"The truckers all seem to be hungry around here," said Mr. Liezert.

Tendering could mean a wait of at least two weeks, he said.

Council voted in favour of allowing Mr. Liezert to negotiate a price. Clerk-treasurer Bill Horner says a decision on who will truck the crushed

Township hopes to collect drainage funding from C.N.

Matilda Township is making a final attempt to collect more than $900 from Canadian National for work on the Doran drain.

However, clerk-treasurer Bill Horner says there is little the township can do if the railroad refuses to pay.

Mr. Horner says the township has written to the provincial drainage coordinator in hopes of persuading CN to pay for work the township was forced to do after a CN-hired contractor failed to complete the job.

"It may not do any good at all but at least we've made the effort," says Mr. Horner.

Mr. Horner says CN opted to hire its own contractor last summer to do the necessary work on the drain where it crossed CN property on the Broken Second road.

Mr. Horner says that although the excavating work was completed, the banks had not been seeded to keep them from sliding into the ditch and the dug material had not been spread about.

Frank Ault Excavating Ltd., hired by the township to do the drainage work, had to complete the work and the drain was delayed.

Mr. Horner says John Stidwill, Matilda's drainage superintendent, determined the cost of the delay and Ault's additional work to be about $920.

The additional charges were added to standard fees for the drain, for a total bill to CN of between $3,000 and $4,000.

Mr. Horner says CN has not acknowledged the additional costs and the railroad has requested a corrected invoice for the standard charges.

If CN refuses to pay, Mr

Summer Event Weekend of fellowship planned

A weekend of fellowship, singing and spiritual nourishment is being offered to participants in the United Church of Canada's 44th Summer Event, being held July 6, 7 and 8 in Kemptville, Ontario.

Worship: Bread for the Journey is the theme of this year's event, which is a project of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference Division of Mission, under the direction of Seaway Valley Presbyterian United Church Women. Men, women and mature young people of any denomination are welcome to attend.

Those attending the weekend at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology will have a choice of sixteen interest groups, ranging widely in content, from ideas for a small Sunday School, to using drama in worship, to learning about the church in Central America.

Rev. Morar Murray-Hayes, an assistant professor of ministry at Queen's Theological College, Kingston, is theme speaker. Her presentations will include looking at ways in which art, music, architecture and the whole worship environment can enrich a Christian's experience of God.

St. Lawrence Loyalists plan busy year

[CORNWALL] - The spring meeting of the St. Lawrence Branch of the United Empire Loyalists Association of Canada was held at the Masonic Temple here with 47 members and interested people attending.

This is a busy year for the Loyalists with the annual convention scheduled for Queen's University, Kingston from May 30 to June 3. The branch has been invited to Waddington, New York June 6 to attend a meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution. May 27 is Genealogy Day at Upper Canada Village (in the boardroom) for people who are seeking their roots.

Loyalist Appreciation Day is scheduled for Sunday, June 24 at Trinity Anglican Church, Cornwall. St. Lawrence Branch will present a Loyalist Flag to the church, which is also celebrating its bicentennial. The branch will hold its annual picnic August 19 at Upper Canada Village, preceded by a service at the Loyalist's Monument.

Vice-President, Brig. Gen. W.J. Patterson told the group about Queen Elizabeth's visit to this area July 17 from Cornwall to Prescott to Amherstview, where she will officially open the Fairfield House, a Loyalist plaque and the Memorial Gates. She also will be visiting with delegates of farmers and Indians. Genealogist Lynne O'Brien reported the branch has 330 members including the pending file and 10 more applications awaiting a little more work. She announced five Loyalist family reunions this summer - Merkle, Hickey, Eamer, Dillabough and Casselman. The branch has been asked to set up a display at the Casselman Reunion and asked for volunteers to look after it.

Lois Droppo Pearson of Cornwall was presented her certificate as a descendant of Loyalist Mathias Snetsinger. Treasurer Keith Casselman announced that many members paid their dues of $10. Also about 90 copies of the branch 25 bicentennial project, the reprinting of the History of Kings Royal Regiment of New York have been reserved. The branch is still awaiting for the book to be finished and hopes it will be ready for the convention.

Don't fence it in

Matilda Township farmers with dry-piled manure no longer have to worry about complying with a by-law requiring fencing of all manure pits.

At Thursday night's council meeting, the 1981 by-law that made fencing mandatory was amended to exempt dry-piled manure.

Clerk-treasurer Bill Horner says it was never intended to apply the by-law to dry manure piles. However, the definition of manure pit could have been interpreted to include dry-piled manure.

Mr. Horner says by-law enforcement officer Bill Fridgen noticed the wording and requested the amendment.

For the few who might have missed this column last week, its absence is explained by the fact that the author was in Las Vegas (on business of course) at the annual broadcasters convention. It's always interesting to visit another area and to see how someone else lives. In the case of Las Vegas there's a little more contrast than you'd expect. For those accustomed to a fairly regular schedule the biggest difference comes from the fact that clocks and calendars don't seem to exist - at least in the big hotels and casinos. Dark glass on all the doors obscures the issue of whether it's dark or light outside. Inside, the gambling and other related activities continue on a 24 hour basis, seven days a week. Happy hour is from 4 to 6 and there's little difference in the crowds whether that's a.m. or p.m. It's the ideal place for someone who suffers from insomnia, provided that is, that he has an unending supply of ready cash.

The differences aren't all confined to the casinos. On TV for instance there's a commercial running that suggests that if you would like to tip the scales your way for a change, contact so-and-so lawyer. He'll arrange for any lawsuit that comes to mind. That could include such things as slipping and falling over the neighbour's dog or having your car crunched by a reckless driver. A construction firm is advertising brand new energy efficient homes with all the extras for 59 thousand. And in spite of the fact that I can't figure why, the TV is alive with commercials for dandelion spray. We never did see a dandelion unless they were disguised as cactus.

Back here at home, with upwards of a thousand people having seen the Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club performance of The Haunted House, the club should have no trouble contributing a pretty substantial amount to the Legion's centoph fund. The play went perfectly both evenings and played to packed houses at the Seaway gym. Those who saw Friday evening's performance spread the word to provide an even larger crowd on Saturday. For the cast and crew the weekend was the culmination of almost 4 months of preparation. It also resulted in some memories and friendships that will last for many years.

It seems that we mark every spring at our place with the assembly of some intricate gadget that comes in a little box in a thousand pieces. This year we hit the big time with one of those swing and slide sets for the kids. It included a box 8 feet long and almost two hundred pounds with enough little bits and parts to build a small nuclear reactor. The directions suggest that the only tools necessary are a wrench and a screwdriver. They forgot to mention the hammer and vise grips and they didn't mention how much fun it could be with four or five pre-schoolers all hanging around waiting for the first ride. Fortunately just as the air was beginning to turn blue, a friend dropped in and helped with the hardest part of the assembly. As a result, everything is assembled and there's only a small handful of little parts left over. Now we're looking at a kit-form backyard ferris wheel for next year.

The bottom line: The Golden Rule is what we want everyone else to practice.

Queen's Park report

THE HONOURABLE NORMAN STERLING, M.P.P.
CARLETON-GRENVILLE
Provincial Secretary for Justice
LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

This month Ontario Minister of Natural Resources, Alan Pope, announced the first phase of a new provincial policy to manage and protect Ontario's wetlands.

The guidelines are part of a process leading to a policy statement under the provincial Planning Act, and will be finalized after the appropriate testing, refining and consultation with municipal officials.

Wetlands are generally applied to areas covered by less than two metres of water and includes swamps, bogs, marshes, and fens - each playing a unique part in preserving the balance of our ecosystem.

In their natural state, wetlands maintain and improve water quality, help control flooding and provide a habitat for fish and wildlife. They contribute substantial social and economic benefits including outdoor recreation and tourism benefits from hunting, fishing and bird-watching amounting to more than 53-million user-days a year.

Wetlands are also a source of many important resource products such as fur, wood and wild rice, valued in excess of $300-million annually.

At one time Ontario had almost 50 million hectares of wetland. At the present time, however, only 22 per cent of southern Ontario's original two million hectares of wetland still exist, and it is therefore essential that a policy be developed to properly manage this important natural resource to meet both present and long-term needs of the people of Ontario.

Under the guidelines, individual wetlands will be identified and classified according to a standardized evaluation system, and ranked into seven classes. When properly classified according to their significance, wetlands can be better managed for their maximum benefit.

The guidelines will assist municipal governments, conservation authorities and other land-use planning agencies to consider all values of wetlands

This Week Through The Past Thirty years ago

1954 - At the opening of the IGA depot in Ottawa, Gilmer's IGA Store in Iroquois won a number of prizes, including an electric tea kettle and a Shick electric razor, for its high number of sales in 1953.

The Iroquois branch of the Canadian Legion was preparing to commemorate the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. The senior Protestant chaplain of the Canadian army, Hon. Colonel C.L.G. Stone, was scheduled to dedicate the Queen's Colours at St. John's Anglican Church.

Playing at Cardinal's Savoy Theatre was North of the Great Divide, starring Roy Rogers, and Sangaree, with Fernando Lamas and Arlene Dahl.

Ten years ago this week

1974 [May 8] - Thanks to a donation of $100, from the Lions Club, Iroquois' Cubs were able to buy new tents for a June campout.

Iroquois' Knox Presbyterian Church celebrated its centennial in style at the Iroquois Civic Centre, May 4, when 142 people danced to the music of the Gordon Durant Orchestra of Smiths Falls. Among the guests were M.P. Walter Baker, the Moderator of Brockville Presbytery, the Rev. David Mawhinney, and the Rev. Hugh Davidson, nominee for moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Canada and guest speaker for the anniversary services.

At the annual meeting of the Seaway Community Services, it was reported that three wells had been dug that year for needy families and that survey work for more wells in the Glen Becker area had begun.

Letter to the Editor

Over a month ago the Iroquois-Matilda Memorial Committee announced the joint Bicentennial project of a gala day on June 9 to dedicate a new cenotaph and memorial plaque for the township and to re-dedicate the Iroquois cenotaph with additions and dedicate a memorial plaque in the village.

Two major functions are planned to which admission will be by ticket only. These are a wine and cheese party in the afternoon and a dinner and dance in the evening. The tickets will be provided at no cost to a small number of invited guests and to all local veterans named on the plaques (or their survivors) who pre-register with the committee.

If there are tickets left over these will be sold to the general public on a first-come, first served basis.

To date, less than twenty of a possible 400 persons have contacted Dr. Playfair to signify their intentions. It is vital that the Memorial Committee know by May 20 the names of those planning to take part in these two restricted events.

Please do not delay any further your contact with Dr. Playfair at Box 190, Iroquois. No more than two tickets for each of the two events will be provided to each individual.

The event will undoubtedly be successful; the committee simply wants to ensure that the men and women for whom it was planned get to take their rightful part in it.

Thank you for your provision of this space.

Dr. P.F. Playfair
For Iroquois-Matilda
War Memorial Committee

In reading the Chieftain dated April 25, I noted that the local merchants are planning a sidewalk sale for July 9th. This is the date that the Dedication Ceremonies are to be held and it will be a most solemn occasion. I think it is in extremely poor taste to make any attempt to commercialize it. Rather it would be more appropriate for all places of business to close during the ceremonies.

Public welcome for tours of OPP detachment

[MORRISBURG] - The Morrisburg detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police plans to continue its guided tours of the police station during Police Week, running from May 14 to 18.

"We're not making any special arrangements, but people are welcome to come visit," says Constable John Watson of the Morrisburg detachment.

Mr. Watson says he will conduct tours of the station's computer, library and offices from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. for anyone interested.

The OPP celebrates its 75th anniversary this year as police forces across Canada are using the slogan: Police and Community Working Together.

"Our slogan illustrates the need for the public to take an active role in the protection of their community," says OPP Commissioner Archie Ferguson. "Police Week affords us the opportunity to show that by working together we will have safer communities in which to live. Drop in to see your local police office and meet the officers who patrol your neighbourhood."

Farm machinery report

For Tibben Equipment Ltd. there's no place like home

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles about farm machinery businesses in this area.

[BRINSTON] - It's been the local customers who have made Tibben Farm Equipment Ltd. such a success.

Unlike other dealerships which constantly push the border of their territories, owner George Tibben said he is happy to maintain the business locally and feels there is plenty of room here for expansion.

"Ninety eight per cent of our business comes from within a 30-mile radius and that's the exact opposite of most dealers," Mr. Tibben remarked.

"We're proud and happy to serve the local people who we live and work with. We appreciate their loyalty and that's what we need to continue to be in business."

Geographical circumstances as well as friendships make the business locally oriented, Mr. Tibben points out. Expansion is restricted by the St. Lawrence River to the south, Limerick Forest to the west, swamp lands to the east and the sprawling Ottawa-Carleton regional municipality to the north.

For other dealers, the thought of operating in such a small territory may seem confining, but Mr. Tibben says growth has been steady since he took over the business in 1972 and expects it will continue through the 1980s.

Mr. Tibben, 40, came to Canada from The Netherlands in 1952 and worked on his parents' dairy farm and attended public school in Heckston and Payne School near Brinston.

He began working for Harold Millar's farm equipment dealership in Brinston in 1959 and by 1970 had ideas of taking over when Mr. Millar retired. In 1972, the business was split with Herve Plante taking the barn equipment dealership and Mr. Tibben taking the Massey-Ferguson sales.

In his first year of operation, Mr. Tibben said total volume of sales was $350,000. Sales volume rose each year and peaked at $1.8 million in 1981. "That was also the year we lost the most money," Mr. Tibben commented.

"It's been tough recently," adds his wife, Grace. "It's not always smooth sailing."

Sales levelled off the past two years at about $1.5 million and are expected to be in that range again this year. The scare of the recession has now passed and though farmers are still cautious, sales of farm machinery remain stable.

Massey-Ferguson is the main line at Tibben although it deals in other products such as Snapper; Eastern Farm Equipment; Turnco; Badger-Northland; Allied; and Vicon. The products cover general farm equipment and lawn and garden care.

Since its official opening on January 1, 1972, Tibben Equipment has undergone four expansions to accommodate parts storage, enlarge the service shop, add offices in a second storey and make room for a paint shop.

Mr. Tibben started business with three employees including Mr. Millar and peaked at about 15 a couple of years ago. He now has nine full-time workers and plans to hire one or two students to fill in for the summer.

Presently the employees are Dennis Froats, salesman; Doug Froats, parts manager; Wim

Bergnuis, service manager; Roger Gilmour, service; mechanics Randy Strader, Henry VanDoodewaard and Pete VanderPoel; painter Doug Tibben; and office manager Wilma Grotenuis.

Grace Tibben also finds time

ship on the opposite side of the street before Mr. Tibben and Herve Plante each bought half.

Calvinettes 25th. anniversary

[SOUTH MOUNTAIN] - The Calvinettes of the Christian Reformed Church celebrated their 25th anniversary with a Calvinette-o-rama at Nationview Public School here on Saturday.

The local club was formed in Williamsburg under the direction of Joan Zandbergen in September, 1958. The Calvinettes is a girl's club which meets for bible study and social gatherings.

Girls 10 to 15 years are eligible to participate and on Saturday Calvinettes from Eastern Ontario and Montreal attended the program from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Four or five Calvinettes from the Williamsburg church will attend the 15th annual Calvinette Counselor's Convention in Grand Rapids, Michigan on July 17, 18 and 19. The 1985 convention is scheduled for Carleton University, Ottawa with about 500 Calvinettes expected to attend from across Canada and the United States.

More than 17,000 girls are reached by the Calvinette ministry in North America with 738 clubs in the Canada and the U.S. and some 4,000 counselors. Associated clubs have sprung up in Australia, New Zealand and New Guinea.

Knights raffle

[IROQUOIS] - The local council of the Knights of Columbus will hold raffles for five 1984 automobiles with the Arthritis Society being the main beneficiary.

The Knights will be on the mini-mall in the shopping plaza on Friday and Saturday selling tickets for $1 apiece or six for $5.

Drawing for the cars, which include a 1984 Oldsmobile donated by Upper Canada Motor Sales, Morrisburg, will be held May 19.

Par For the Course

by John McAllister

Sunday was definitely a golfing day. In spite of the recent rains, the course was in good shape and many members had obviously dusted off the clubs.

This second article of the golfing season was not expected so soon, but events just seemed to pile up, so here goes.

The opening tournament on May 19 will reveal an added feature for club members, their guests and green fee players: breakfasts, light lunches and on occasion, specials.

M&S Catering of Cardinal was recently engaged by the House Committee to provide the service. We welcome them and hope this innovation will please members. More information will be provided later.

Percy Robertson reports that the new fairway mowers are due to be delivered on Monday, just in time for the growing season. Several golfers report that the course has never been in better shape and the new equipment will undoubtedly help to keep it that way.

One of our members is reported to have purchased the Cadillac of golf carts in the hope that he may see an improvement in his game. Good luck.

New services, new equipment and a 30 per cent increase in membership all point towards a promising golfing season in Iroquois. Fees should be paid before May 15 to avoid the extra charge - don't forget.

If hockey is still of interest to you, remember to keep your head up; but if you are finally into golf keep your head down and eyes on the ball.

Good golfing!

Three hundred attend minor sports banquet

[DIXON'S CORNERS] - Individual trophy presentations highlighted the annual winter sports banquet held here Friday which, for the first time, saw the Cardinal-Iroquois and District Minor Hockey Association and District Figure Skating Club join forces for the evening.

About 300 persons were on hand and saw eleven individual hockey trophies presented and two of them went to women breaking the traditional sex-role barrier of the sport.

Debbie Ferguson was named winner of the Dave Jones Trophy as the person who contributes the most to minor hockey and a special trophy was awarded to Ada Baldwin, Cardinal referee-in-chief, in appreciation for her many years of dedicated service to the association.

Ryan Dishaw picked up the Prunner Trophy as the best all-around goalie in the association while Rudy Hogan and Reg Latulippe shared the Walt Smail Trophy for the most valuable level three goaltenders.

The Frank Sisty Trophy for the overall leading scorer was presented to Anthony Gilmer while Mike Veltkamp won the Smitty Mosley Trophy as the overall most valuable player.

Eldon Horner won the Johnstown Recreation Trophy as the most valuable level three player; Tim Arnott was named most improved tyke and received the Rusty Crawford Trophy; and Jeff Burgess won the Prentice Memorial Trophy as the most dedicated bantam player.

Coaches Garry Blok and Larry Dishaw shared the Ray Hall Trophy as coach-of-the-year while a new award, the Coach House Trophy for the most dedicated coaches was presented to John McGonegal and Bill Seeley.

On the other side, figure skating club president Bonnie Adair had red, black and white ribbons to present to some 60 skaters who passed their tests for basic power skating, Can-skate and Can Figureskate programs.

Individual medallion winners at the inter-club figure skating competition held at Winchester in February were announced and they are: Hali Adair, second in pre-novice figure and free style and third in open rocker dance; Sharron Baker, second in novice figure and free-style; Valerie Trotman, second in preliminary freestyle; and Danielle Read, third in preliminary freestyle.

Gift presentations were also made to the club's seven Can-skate amateur coaches, Brenda Toupin, Cheryl Watson, Julie MacIntyre, Kendra Adair, Colleen Baldwin, Fiona MacIntyre and Hali Adair.

President Adair also announced that Dave Hyde has donated a new trophy to the club to be presented at the conclusion of the 1984-85 season to the most improved Can-skater.

Presentations of pennants to all minor hockey players were made by head table guests as well as tournament and league presentations. Once again, Imperial Oil representative Patrick Hennessey presented most valuable player, most sportsmanlike player and most improved player awards to members of all teams.

Head table guests included representatives of Iroquois, Cardinal and Matilda Township; the Cardinal Legion; Canada Starch Co.; Local 483 United Food Processors Union; Cardinal Broncos; Imperial Oil; Huron Hockey Club; and Todd Gill, guest speaker from the Windsor Spitfires OHL hockey club. Master-of-ceremonies was Jack Hoy.

Association president Ron Gilmer said he was pleased with the evening and said skaters from both organizations should recognize the time and effort put forth by parents and coaches to make the year such a success.

Trophy as best level three goalies; Tim Arnott, Rusty Crawford Trophy as most improved Tyke; Eldon Horner, Johnstown Rec Trophy as most valuable level three player; and Anthony Gilmer, Frank Sisty Trophy as leading overall scorer.

Larry Dishaw, left, and Garry Blok share the Ray Hall Trophy as minor hockey coaches-of-the-year while Debbie Ferguson holds the Dave Jones Trophy as the person contributing most to the league and Bill Seeley and John McGonegal received the Coach House Trophy for most dedicated coaches.

Bridge win

[CORNWALL] - The Iroquois branch of the Royal Canadian Legion won the annual District G bridge tournament held here last Saturday.

Competing against 12 other teams, the local team of Dr. Peter Playfair, Clare Tucker, John Dixon and Duane Kirker captured the tournament trophy which is now housed at the local Legion branch.

It's the first time in years that a branch other than Cornwall or Kemptonville has won the tournament, Mr. Tucker said.

The team now prepares for the provincial tournament scheduled for Cornwall on June 15 and 16.

Second run Canada Week set for May

[OTTAWA] - Warm weather across most of the country has brought the armies of joggers out in force earlier than usual, and officials of the Canadian Track and Field Association are hoping this is a portent for the nation's Second National Run Canada Week, set for May 13-21.

Part of Fitness Canada's

National Physical Activity Week, last year's nine-day festival of running took hold from Newfoundland to the Yukon, and, following a survey at the conclusion of the event, it was estimated that some 400,000 Canadians of all ages and from all walks of life had responded to the challenge to get out and run for it.

This year's Run Canada Week gets away from the theme day concept and uses the slogan, Run for the 100, marking the fact that 1984 is the 100th anniversary of track and field in Canada. Track and Field, of course has always encompassed road running, which the milieu in which most Run Canada Week events take place.

The Right Honourable Roland Michener, former Governor General of Canada, who still jogs a few miles daily at 84, is again one of the honorary chairpersons for the week and his counterpart is Jacqueline Garneau, Canada's top woman marathon runner, former winner of the Boston Marathon, and one of this country's top medal hopes for the Olympic Games.

The week begins with the Labatt's Lite National Capital Marathon on May 13.

Bird Notes

by
E. G. AVERY

We had a surprise visit from a flock of Evening Grosbeaks, just when we thought they had left us for the season. There were at least a dozen, but when they found no Sunflowers, they soon moved on. Perhaps they will find some Maple seeds which make up a good part of their diet.

A Purple Finch came by one day, too, a male in full Spring plumage of raspberry red, really beautiful. This Finch has a lovely song, but he did not favour us with a solo.

Pine Siskins continue to come to the Willow tree; the faint yellow on sides and back are more pronounced now, and they will certainly add to the confusion when the Warblers arrive. Any day now we can expect these small exasperating little visitors. They are now appearing in the Ottawa area. It would be a good idea to get out the Bird Book and study the section called "Spring Warblers."

This year, for the first time, the Goldfinches have continued to come to the feeder we have kept going (in an effort to entice the white-crowned Sparrows) thus giving a good opportunity to watch the colour change. They twitter delightfully while they feed, and are not a bit shy.

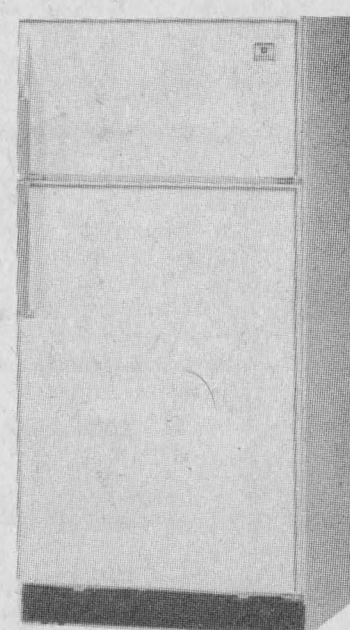

Juncos are almost daily visitors, too, usually searching the edges of the lawns and side-walks for small seeds.

Tree Swallows are right up there in the top five of favourite Summer birds, and coming along in good numbers. It is such a pleasure to watch them sailing around performing incredible turns at high speed. We have not seen any Martins yet, but they must be coming back by now.

Scenes from Seaway

Little has been happening at Seaway during the past week. Since school work is beginning to increase and preparations for June exams have commenced, few extra-curricular activities are in progress.

After many hours of long strenuous practice, several members of Seaway's track and field team attended the Thousand Islands / MacDonald's invitational track meet in Brockville. The team turned in excellent performances at the meet which was held on May 5th.

Both Robin Robertson and Dan Noakes placed second in the senior girl's high jump and junior boy's javelin respectively. Vicky Ault qualified for the semi-finals in the junior girls 100 m, while Irene Lewis qualified for the semi-finals in the senior girl's 200m.

Ruthanne Corman turned in a personal best time of 13.7 seconds in the junior girl's 80 m hurdles. Also achieving a personal best was Steve Parisien who ran the open 400 m hurdles with a time of 63.9 seconds.

Seaway's choir attended the Kinsmen Music Festival on April 25. The choir sang extremely well as several members of the audience and the adjudicator commented on the fine performance. The choir received an average mark of eight-six and all members returned to Seaway pleased with their efforts. Several other music students at Seaway also competed at the Music Festival.

The Lions version of The Haunted House performed on May 4 and 5 at Seaway was a great success. Two teachers at Seaway were involved with the play. Mr. Fairweather played the part of Desmond and Miss Gibb gave some of her time to direct the production.

Prior to the performance Helen Bretzke and Chris Eamon, two artistically gifted students made several posters to advertise the play. Seaway students also helped with make-up and stage.

Matilda donates $6,000

[BRINSTON] - Municipal council for the Township of Matilda agreed at its regular meeting last Thursday to donate $6,000 for expansion of the laboratory at Winchester District Memorial Hospital.

Councillor Bob Bennett suggested the donation be made up of three $2,000 cash grants to the hospital over the next three years.

Reeve Lorne Strader had suggested a $5,000 donation over two years. He remarked that the hospital gets lots of use from township residents and said he wouldn't want to see Matilda ride along on the coattail of a United Counties grant of $100,000 agreed with Mr. Strader that the municipality should chip-in a little more than its portion of the United Counties grant.

OFA demand assistance

[TORONTO] - Unless there is immediate provincial assistance for beef, pork and lamb producers, Ontario Treasurer Larry Grossman and OMAF Minister Dennis Timbrell should resign, said the board of directors of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA).

"Much has been reported about the healthy recovery of the general economy. Unfortunately, the farm economy isn't getting better," OFA President Harry Pelissero said.

Mr. Pelissero added that the board decision is a signal of the tremendous frustration in the farming community. "We've been hit with delay after delay in introducing stabilization programs. And now we're hit with higher interest rates that no farmer can afford."

The board said support payments for red meat producers should be increased to match payments in other provinces. The board also said the payments should be retroactive to 1981.

In a near unanimous vote, the 125-member board also demanded the introduction of a meaningful stabilization plan by the provincial government within 30 days. If the plan is not introduced in that period the board calls for the resignation of Mr. Grossman, Mr. Timbrell and William Doyle, an assistant deputy minister of the ministry of agriculture and food.

"Governments have spent billions of dollars in the past few years bailing out big businesses."

"Governments have spent billions of dollars in the past few years bailing out big business," Mr. Pelissero said. "At the same time, farmers have been told that programs to help agriculture are on the way."

"We can't wait any longer. Today's farmers don't have the financing options open to the farmers of 10 years ago."

One out of seven Ontario farmers cannot meet their loan payments to the Farm Credit Corporation (FCC), the board was told. To make matters worse the FCC recently increased its interest rates on loans to a minimum of 14 percent.

Although the FCC is a federal agency, the OFA board feels that assistance for agriculture must come from both the federal and provincial governments.

Students from Iroquois Public School showed top form during the annual Kinsmen Music Festival in Cornwall last week. The school choir, above, placed second in its competition while the kindergarten rhythm band, at right, came first. Solosists and their placings included Tommy Beaupre, second; Arik Theijsmeijer, first; Spott Runions, second; and Kyle Swedfeger, first. In the back are Eddie Morrell, second; and Grace Jansen, second. Other top finishes were the nine-year group, first; mini choir, first; grade four choir, third; Chris McIntosh, third; Shelley Holmes, first; Terry O'Connell, first; Dean Swedfeger, second; and Michelle St. Pierre, third. The school plans an evening concert today (Wednesday). Performance time was not available at press time but can be obtained by contacting the school.

Bleeding for you

[IROQUOIS] - The Seaway District High School annual spring blood donor clinic will be held Friday.

Co-ordinator Nick Gruich said persons wishing to donate the gift of life can come to the school during public hours from 3 to 4 p.m. and again in the evening from 5:30 to 7:30.

Seaway students will compete against pupils bussed here from North Dundas District High School during private clinic hours for the Corpuscle Cup.

Grist mill newest addition to UCV

A 163-year-old grist mill, inactive for the past 19 years, will be in use again as Upper Canada Village's most recent addition.

Bellamy's Flour and Grist Mill, moved to the village in 1982 from North Augusta, will be opened to the public and operating sometime this August.

"Flour mills were crucial to the health of any small community," says Christopher Porter, Upper Canada Village's supervisor of technological interpretation and the overseer of the mill's reconstruction.

Mr. Porter says wheat was one of the leading export staples and the primary agricultural product of Ontario until the 1860's, the era to which the mill is being restored.

He says the grist mill was a logical addition to the village which also has a saw mill and a woolen mill. This particular mill, owned by Dr. Charles Danby of North Augusta, was chosen because it fit the village site.

The mill's own wood parts and some of the original stone around windows, archways and corners have been used in the reconstruction. Many of the wall stones were damaged and had to be replaced.

Although reconstruction was completed last summer, the interior's equipment could not be built until the village had received more money from the provincial government.

New materials will be used to build reproductions of nineteenth-century equipment because, says Mr. Porter, the goal of the mill is self-sufficiency.

He expects to produce about 15 tons of animal feed each year to be used for the village livestock. The village bakery will use about 20 tons of flour, while 70 tons will be sold to visitors through the village store.

Five men - a head miller, an assistant miller, three mill hands and a steam engineer - will operate the mill.

Construction of the original mill began in 1821 and it produced flour until 1885. The machinery was then changed and it was used as a roller mill until 1920. At this time, the equipment was again reworked and used primarily to break up feed until 1965.

Because the mill's papers were destroyed in a 1965 fire, Porter says the name of the mill is not known for certain. However, the 1871 census refers to it as Bellamy's.

A tough row to hoe. Wallace Fawcett has returned to the area after some 20 years in Sarnia and is working the land on his home-stead south of Hainsville in preparation for the 1985 planting season. Tree roots and stones make the work some effort and Mr. Fawcett plans to turn the soil until it is ready for planting next year.

Parks commission sites ready for May 15 opening

[MORRISBURG] In spring, when a young person's fancy turns to love, the St. Lawrence Parks Commission turns its efforts and resources to the 300 km corridor along the St. Lawrence Valley from the Quebec border to the Bay of Quinte.

Over 2,500 campsites in 15 provincial parks, Canada's premier historical village, Upper Canada Village, and world-renowned Old Fort Henry, must be ready for the May 15 opening deadline.

From painting picnic tables to removing window shutters it's an awesome task, but when May 15 rolls around all will be ready for the millions of visitors who visit the commission's sites annually.

Many of the sites, attractions and facilities are joining in the gala bicentennial celebrations of the Province of Ontario.

At Upper Canada Village,

a re-created Loyalist family will land at the village on June 9 and 10 and from the first landing will work throughout the season at establishing their homestead. Visitors can watch their progress as they build a shelter, clear the land, and plant the crops, just as the original Loyalists did in 1784.

Other special events at the village include Queen Victoria's birthday celebration May 20, demonstrations of sheep shearing June 2 and 3, working with flax August 11 and 12, working with wood September 8 and 9, the official opening of the grist mill on Family Day September 2, and 1860s fall fair September 15 and 16.

On the last four weekends of the operating season, interpreters will prepare for the upcoming winter months by making apple cider, drying apples and making sauerkraut September 22 and 23, preserving meat September 29 and 30, harvesting and threshing October 6 and 7 and 8 and quilting, knitting and mattsstuffed October 13 and 14.

At Old Fort Henry in Kingston the spectacular evening ceremonial retreats will run three nights - Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays during July and August. The hour-and-a-half program includes fife and drum music, precision marching, a stunning mock battle and the lowering of the Union Jack from the Old Fort Henry battlements.

During the day members of the world famous 144-man Fort Henry Guard perform marching drills, gun salutes, and firings of the powerful Old Fort Henry cannons.

Other special events at the Fort include Victoria Day celebrations May 24 at 12 noon and Dominion Day celebrations July 1 at 3 p.m.

The commission's 15 provincial parks, located on Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River from the Bay of Quinte to the Quebec border, will be open to the public May 15. The exception is Lakeview, a day-use park near Cornwall, which will open in late June when demand for its services traditionally peaks.

Parks east of Morrisburg will enforce a ban on alcohol from May 11 to June 4. These include Riverside-Cedar, Morrison and Nairne Islands, Farran, McLaren, Woodlands, Mille Roches, Charlottenburgh, Glengarry and Rains River.

Parks west of Morrisburg will not enforce a ban on alcohol. These include Grenville, Brown's Bay, Ivy Lea and Adolphustown.

Five of the parks, including those along the Long Sault Parkway, Ivy Lea, Glengarry and Riverside-Cedar, will have shower facilities for campers.

As part of their contribution to the province's bicentennial celebrations, all parks operated by the Commission will offer free admission on the civic holiday, Monday August 6.
