Wm. J. W. Woods Passes At Metcalfe

William James Whyte Woods, treasurer of the Metcalfe Agricultural Society and member of an old established family of Metcalfe, died Tuesday morning at his home there. He was in his 70th year. An early settler of Metcalfe was Mr. Woods' father, Francis Woods, who came from Ireland and took up Crown land in the community. Mr. Woods lived and died on the same homestead where he farmed all his life. His main activity was in connection with the Metcalfe Agricultural Society, in which he always took a prominent part. He was a member and elder for 20 years of Metcalfe United church.

Besides his interest in the Agricultural Society he was a member of the board of directors of the Metcalfe Rural Telephone Company and was treasurer of the Metcalfe cheese factory for 22 years. He served for 10 years as a village trustee.

Surviving him are his widow, formerly Margaret Nadeau; three sons, Donald, William and Francis, and a daughter, Eleanor, all at home; one brother, Hugh, and three sisters, Miss Margaret Woods, Metcalfe; Mrs. John Patterson, Osgoode, and Mrs. Lewis Howes, Metcalfe.

The funeral is being held privately this afternoon at 1.45 p.m. from his late home and a public service conducted at two o'clock in Metcalfe United church. Burial will be in Springhill cemetery.

Mrs. Edwin Baker Died On Friday

Mrs. Edwin Baker, a life-long and highly esteemed resident of the district passed away after a lingering illness in Toronto on February the tenth at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. L. Bailey. The deceased, whose maiden name was Martha Morrow, was married to the late Edwin Baker in Oct. 1881 and continued to live on the Baker homestead from that time until the tragic death of her son, Kenneth, two and a half years ago, following which she made her home with her daughters. Throughout her long and busy life she gave herself without stint to her family, her friends and to all in need. She was highly intelligent, resourceful and independent, yet withal kindly, gentle and generous. She was a member of the United Church and gave to it and particularly to the Summers' Sunday School more than fifty years of devoted and effective service. Her Christ-like life and calm, unwavering faith will long be an inspiration to all who knew her.

A short service, attended by many Winchester people, was held in Toronto on Saturday evening, presided over by the Rev. David MacLennan of Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, who paid tribute to the deceased by saying that he always looked forward to his visits with her as times of spiritual refreshment and inspiration.

The remains were brought to the home of her sister, Mrs. Edward Baker, on Sunday morning where the funeral service, which was conducted by the Rev. W. S. Atchison, assisted by the Rev. Dan Summers and the Rev. W. D. Turner, was held on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Percy Durant, a friend of long standing of the deceased, sang very sweetly "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer." She was accompanied by Miss Annie Walker.

Six nephews acted as bearers: Messrs. Russell, Ross, Roy Baker, Wm. and Ross Morrow and Kenneth Merkley.

In addition to two daughters, Mrs. C. P. Jones of Cobourg and Mrs. D. L. Bailey of Toronto, she is survived by five sisters, as follows: Mrs. Edward Baker, Winchester; Mrs. George A. Merkley, Nation Valley; Mrs. James Maxwell, of Calgary; Mrs. John Irving, of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Lowery Scott, of Riverside, California.

For all her quiet life flowed on,
As meadow streamlets flow,
Where fresher green reveals alone,
The noiseless ways they go.

Her path shall brighten more and more
Unto the perfect day;
She cannot fail of peace who bore
Such peace with her away.

A sweet, calm face that seemed to wear
The look of sins forgiven!
A voice of prayer that seemed to bear
Our own hands up to heaven!

How reverent in our midst she stood,
Or knelt in grateful praise!
What grace of Christian womanhood
Was in her household ways!

For still her holy living meant
No duty left undone.
The heavenly and the human blent
Their kindred loves in one.

She kept her line of rectitude
With love's unconscious ease.
Her kindly instincts understood
All gentle courtesies.

The dear Lord's best interpreters
Are humble human souls,
The Gospel of a life like hers
Is more than books or scrolls.

—Whittier.

Rangers Win Out In League Semi-Finals

Although defeated 7-6 by the Frost and Wood team, in the second game of the Town League semi-finals, played at the Arena last night, the Rangers took the series by a margin of five goals, having won the first game 8-2. They will now meet Williamsburg in the final series to determine the League championship, the first game to be played on Friday evening. This series will be the best two out of three games.

The Frost and Wood team, which was minus several of its regular players, made a strong come-back in last night's game, and early in the third period were leading the Rangers by two goals. A penalty shot on the F. &. W. goalie by Arn. Barkley cut the lead down to one goal, and a counter by Harold Baldwin when the F. & W. team was shorthanded, tied the score. Gord. McDonald scored the winning goal at the 15-minute mark to give the Frost and Wood team a one-goal margin on the night's play.

The line-ups were:

Rangers—Goal, G. Coons; def., A. Barkley and B. Hitsman; centre, G. Elliott; wings, D. Rowat and D. Melvin; alternates, R. Wylie, C. Curtis and H. Baldwin.

Frost & Wood—Goal, G. Corry; def., D. MacLean and D. Lannin; centre, C. Carkner; wings, A. Summers and B. Robertson; alternates, W. Cross, E. Marquette and G. MacDonald.

Referee—Bill Guest, Kemptville.

FIRST GAME OF SEMI-FINALS

Gerald Helmer's Rangers took a six-goal lead over Walter MacDonald's Frost and Wood sextette in the first game of the Town League semi-finals, played at the local arena on Monday night. The final score was 8-2, and as total goals on the round will determine the winners of the series, it is not likely that the F & W team will be able to overcome their opponent's lead in the second game, which is scheduled for Wednesday night.

While the game was not as one-sided as the score would indicate, the Rangers had a decided edge over the losers and were in command of the contest from start to finish. Ran. Wylie and Bob Hitsman led the Ranger attack, the former bagging three goals and the latter two. Arn. Barkley, Clarke Curtis and Harold Baldwin were the other Ranger scorers, while Bud Robertson and Art Summers counted for Frost and Wood.

The line-ups were:

Rangers—Goal, G. Coons; def., A. Barkley and B. Hitsman; centre, G. Elliott; wings, D. Melvin and D. Rowat; alternates, R. Wylie, C. Curtis, K. Boyd and H. Baldwin.

Honest Bus Driver Returns Lost Purse

Mr. John McCauley, who resides near Morewood, had an unlucky experience on Thursday last, while enroute from Ottawa to Winchester via the Colonial Coach line. Suffering from a badly ulcerated tooth, he decided to visit the office of Dr. H. S. Gross before returning to his home at Morewood. Before the physician could treat Mr. McCauley, he found it necessary to give him an anaesthetic. When the patient regained consciousness, after the sleeping potion had ceased to be effective, he felt much relieved and decided to proceed to his home. Reaching in his pocket to get his wallet to pay the physician for his services, he was greatly surprised to find that it was missing. He relayed this information to Dr. Gross, who suggested that he might have dropped it in the bus during the trip from Ottawa. Mr. McCauley remembered that the last time he saw his wallet was when he bought his ticket. Dr. Gross then telephoned Mr. Chas. E. Cross, the local bus agent, and asked him if he could locate the driver of the bus and ascertain if he had found a wallet containing about $75.00. When the agent communicated with the Colonial Coach headquarters he learned that the driver of that particular bus, Mr. Ivan Casselman, had found the wallet in the bus and had turned it in to the "lost articles' department." Proper identification was made and Mr. McCauley was forwarded his purse and money, intact, the next day.

As pointed out by Dr. Gross, the honesty of the bus driver in this instance is to be commended, as well as the courtesy of the local agent and the officials of the Colonial Coach Co., for their prompt action in returning the lost article.

In this case Mr. McCauley's bad luck was climaxed by a bit of good luck—his wallet might have been kicked out of the bus by passengers getting off and on, and recovery would have been impossible.

As far as Dr. Gross is concerned the incident had an amusing aspect. The man, a total stranger, came to his office for treatment—he put the patient asleep—when he awoke his purse was missing. Would the man, not knowing the physician, suspect him of relieving him of his wallet in addition to his pain, while he was asleep? This question went through the doctor's mind several times, until the purse was finally located, and as Dr. Gross said: "I was as relieved at Mr. McCauley was when that wallet was located. Of course, Mr. McCauley never suspected the physician of taking his purse while he was asleep, but the circumstances of the incident left a suspicion which was not only amusing, but quite out of the ordinary, to say the least.

Woman Fatally Injured Near Morewood Village

Inquest into the death of Miss Ethel Servage, township of Winchester resident, who was fatally injured in a highway accident near Morewood, Thursday night last, was opened at Chesterville Friday afternoon by Chief Coroner for Dundas county, T. A. Hamilton, of Brinston. A jury was empanelled and, after the body of Miss Servage had been identified, the inquest was adjourned until February 21. Dr. H. H. Casselman, of Chesterville, who performed a postmortem reported to the chief coroner that death had been caused by internal injuries.

Miss Servage died less htan 12 hours after the cutter in which she had been riding was struck by an automobile in charge of Gordon Fraser, 36-year-old Morewood farmer. Mrs. William Byers, also of the Township of Winchester, who was the other occupant of the cutter, escaped with minor injuries.

X-L-O CHICK MASH

It's Chick time again—and the Baby Chicks are not here very long until they must have something to eat. We do not know of a feed that will give them a better start than X-L-O Chick Mash.

"X-L-O" has a base of Yellow Corn, Rolled Wheat and Oat Groats. Then we add pure Wheat Germ, rich in vitamin B; Flaxseed Meal, Alfalfa Meal and Chick Size Charcoal. Plenty of Buttermilk Powder, White Fish Meal and 60% Meat Scrap supply the extra protein that the young chick needs. Bone Meal, Calcium Carbonate and Iodized Salt supply the needed minerals. Then a generous quantity of "Alphadol," a high test Cod Liver Oil provides extra vitamins A and D.

Another thing about X-L-O Chick Mash,—it is fresh. The grain is freshly ground and only a few days supply of mash is mixed ahead. Feeders are appreciating more and more the benefit of freshly mixed poultry rations. It certainly does make a difference.

THE PROPOSED BY-LAW

On Monday next, the ratepayers of Winchester will vote on the question of enlarging the local High School so as to permit the teaching of domestic or household science and shop-work. On the result of this vote will largely depend the future advancement and progress of the School. These practical subjects are being taught in all of the schools of the district except in Winchester, and such a condition is most undesirable if Winchester High School is to retain its position among the leading schools of the province.

The Press, while heartily in accord with the present plans, regrets exceedingly that the scheme was not enlarged so as to include the addition of an assembly hall and gymnasium, both of which are badly needed here. No more opportune time will ever present itself, for the erection of a fine recreation room, than the present if the proposed by-law is approved by the public. The powers-that-be decided against this advantageous step, however, and may live to regret it before many years have passed.

In the meantime, the vote on Monday next is an important one, for the future welfare of local and district students is vitally concerned, and it is hoped that the property owners may take a long view of the question when casting their ballots. The improvements will be of a permanent nature and will assist greatly in rounding out the education of all future students of the school.

CAR DRIVERS SHOULD PASS TEST

It is the driver who is most to blame in practically all motor car accidents and yet at this time of year when drivers are renewing their licenses no positive system of checking up on the physical defects of the applicant is made, says the Cobourg Sentinel Star. Question No. 7 on the license card reads: "Have you a physical or mental disability of any description?" No oath is required. This one question is the only reference to physical fitness. And yet it is insisted upon that the automobiles be in good mechanical condition. If the brakes, lights, horn, steering apparatus are not functioning the car is ordered off the road. To be consistent it is imperative that the person behind the wheel should qualify as a safe driver. This can best be done by having car drivers undergo tests at stated times. British Columbia is inaugurating what looks like an effective scheme this year to assure more safety on the highway. All applicants for operators' licenses, whether they are beginners or have driven cars for years, will be required to take a written examination on provisions of the Motor Vehicles Act and to undergo tests for hearing, eyesight, and reaction to various emergencies. Persons failing to meet the minimum standards will be refused their permits. This appears simple enough and there is very little about such an examination to cause protest. Ontario might give the method some study and if found satisfactory, it might be adopted.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Now that St. Valentine's Day is a thing of the past, the next milestone is St. Patrick's Day and then—Spring!

Town League Hockey has reached its final stages, and large crowds of enthusiastic fans are attending the games as the teams fight for the right to enter the Citizen Shield play-downs.

Latest reports from Queen's Park are to the effect that Premier Hepburn has benefitted greatly in health by his trip to Australia, and will not announce his retirement upon arriving home. Such being the case, the enquiry into the supposed alliance between Messrs. Hepburn and Duplessis against Prime Minister Mackenzie King can proceed in normal fashion—or can it?

The passing of Pope Pius XII, known throughout the world as the Pope of Peace, removes one of the greatest and most influential leaders in world affairs. A constant champion of the weak, Pope Pius devoted his life to the promotion of tolerance and international good-will. His benevolent attitude toward all peoples, regardless of race or creed, was of the highest type, and his able defence of the principles of Christianity marked him as one of the world's truly great men.

The conclave of Cardinals is indeed faced with a mighty task in choosing a successor, and it will be a decision that is of tremendous importance to the entire Christian world, regardless of creed. The prayers of all people will be that the College of Cardinals is blessed with divine wisdom in their choice of a successor.

Considerable furore was raised in political circles during the past week by the fiery mayor of Montreal, Camillien Houde, when he publicly stated that, in the event of England becoming involved in a war with Italy, the sympathies of the French-Canadians would be with the Fascists. Mr. Houde can thank his lucky star that he made such a statement in a land where freedom of speech is a treasured possession. Had he been in Italy or Germany, both of which he apparently admires, and permitted his sharp tongue to run away with him in like manner, he might have found his head in a basket some crisp winter morning, and his interest in affairs brought to an abrupt termination.

However, this is a country where any man may express freely his own opinions, regardless of how silly or ill-advised they may be, and Mr. Houde is no exception to this principle of free speech. We doubt the accuracy of his statement, and feel sure that the Montreal Mayor was not voicing the sentiments of the great body of French-Canadians who, we believe, appreciate to a marked degree, the privileges of free speech, religion and civil rights that are found under the British flag.

Startling rumours emanating from Europe have it that Herr Hitler is beginning to wonder why Germany ever went so far as to annex the Sudeten districts of Czechoslovakia. Prior to the coup of last October, it was believed that these districts produced commodities that Germany could use for export purposes and thus increase her foreign credit. Since the annexation, however, Herr Hitler finds that other countries have stopped buying these products altogether, and the districts have become an economic burden to the Reich. He has learned that the Sudetens eat, and insist on being fed—all of which is contrary to expectations.

The result is that Herr Hitler is said to be seriously considering the return of the districts to Czechoslovakia, with the provision that they remain dependent economically on the German state. In other words, the Sudeten areas have proven to be a "lemon" economically, instead of a blessing as was anticipated. We greatly fear that the German dictator is having his own economic troubles within the German state—and hungry mouths constitute a real menace to any government, even if it is backed by bayonets.

SOME NEW IDEAS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

A powerful, yet non-poisonous, new disinfectant has a pleasing odour, is non-corrosive, and non-caustic. Used as a cleaner and deodorant, it is mixed with water with which it forms a snow-white emulsion that will not separate on standing. It does not harm clothes, metals, paint, or wood-work.

For coating the inside of containers there is a thermoplastic material which is resistant to acids and alkalis and some alcohols. It is moisture-proof and free from odour or taste. It has no harmful effect on food. It is easy to apply, and its protective characteristics are not affected by aging.

A tire tread of novel design has heavy longitudinal ribs with soft white gum transverse strips. The combination is said to give more flexibility and excellent road grip, while the wearing out of the white strips shows that the tire's wear has approached dangerously near the fabric.

A novel hood or milk bottle has an aluminum band-seal and a transparent window through which the paper plug is visible. The hood is obtainable in several colors to distinguish different grades of milk. It protects the bottle lip from contamination, saves the cost of printing and embossing the metal hood

For first aid departments and hospitals there is an ingenious device which enables one attendant to lift and move patients without strain to the operator. It is said to be easier on the patient than a stretcher. Its frame is so arranged that it can be easily moved over beds or operating tables.

A glossy-water-clear film which adheres successully on bare, nonferrous metals is available in a new line of industrial finishes. They are non-yellowing, show exceptional durability, may be applied by brush, dip or spray. They dry rapidly by evaporation leaving a hard film which is resistant to acids, alkalis, and alcohol.

WOMAN FATALLY INJURED NEAR MOREWOOD

investigation.

Constable Rose and Dr. T. A. Hamilton, of Briston, chief coroner, went to the scene Friday morning and viewed body of Miss Servage at Dixon and McPherson's undertaking parlors, Chesterville. A postmortem was performed Friday afternoon.

Struck From Rear.

According to Constable McLean, Mrs. Byers was driving the horse and cutter and Miss Servage was seated beside her. The two women had been visiting friends in the Morewood district and were returning to the Byers' home at the time of the accident.

Driver of the automobile, Gordon Fraser, is reported to have told police there was no light on the cutter and that he did not see it on the highway until his automobile struck the rear of the cutter, shoving it along the highway about two lengths of the car.

Both occupants of the cutter were thrown clear of the vehicle, and the frightened horse ran away. The horse travelled for about a half-mile along the highway before it was stopped.

Mrs. Byers and Miss Servage were taken into the nearby home of Basil Baker, and it was there that they were treated by Dr. J. P. Gormely, who was hurriedly summoned from Crysler. Mrs. Byers' injuries were attended to and she was permitted to return to her home, but Miss Servage failed to rally. She remained in a state of coma until her death at the Baker home nearly 12 hours after the accident.

According to police, the accident happened in the middle of the highway. The horse was slightly injured, considerable damage was done to the cutter, and the automobile was reported to have been damaged to the extent of $150.

Miss Servage is well-known in the Morewood district, where she resided her entire lifetime. She resided at the family homestead 3 1-2 miles north of Grant and Thomas Servage. She was hesterville, with three brothers, Robert, a member of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Chesterville.

IMPROVING FARM APPEARANCE

(Brockville Recorder and Times)

Many people passing up and down rural highways in this district must have remarked the rather down-at-heel appearance exhibited by numerous farm properties contrasting with the neat and up-to-date surroundings of other establishments and a thought has been expressed by more than one individual that if some encouragement could be lent farmers and their families to place their premises in better order, there would be considerable improvement.

An agricultural publication, The Farmers' Magazine, has put this idea into concrete form by outlining a farm and home improvement competition open to any farm organization which is willing to sponsor it for the benefit of its community, and already one or two of the agricultural societies in the district have agreed to undertake this work to the end that farm premises may be made more presentable.

The first of these competitions was sponsored a year ago at Unionville, where, in spite of the lateness of the season, no fewer than 31 contestants were enrolled under the auspices of the Junior Farmers' Association. Their premises were scored by judges at the start of the contest and at its close to determine the amount of improvement that had taken place, and some surprising results were achieved.

MONEY FOR ARMS—WHY NOT FOR JOBS?

(Cobourg Sentinel-Star)

There is a great deal of truth in the statement made in the House of Commons a few days ago by Karl Homuth, the new Conservative member for South Waterloo, to the effect that if a war broke out in which Canada became involved the government could find hundreds of millions of dollars to arm thousands of men who are now seeking work and depending upon the dole for an existence. "If money can be found for that purpose, why cannot it be found to give them a chance to live and work?" he asked.

It is the considered opinion of many outstanding Canadians, of all shades of political opinion, that while in view of troubled and uncertain conditions in Europe which might cause a war at any time Canada should build up a strong defence system, instead of having to depend entirely upon the Mother Land and perhaps in the hour of great emergency the friendly United States, there is sufficient money in the country to take care to a large extent of the unemployment situation. In the event of war men will be better able to fight if in peace days they have had work which will provide them with the necessities of life, and the standard of their morale will be raised.

Nor is this the task of the government alone, but of private interests who have money which, in time of war they would gladly loan for the purchases of arms, but which, if put to work, would find jobs for all who need them in days of peace. It is perfectly true that in a country like Canada there should be no unemployment.

THE DEPARTMENT OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

(Leamington Post & News)

It is hardly a case of "rags to riches" but the picture of municipal financing in Ontario has undergone a marked change since those dark days of a few years ago when municipalities of this province were in default to the tune of $101,000,000. Today many of those municipalities which were unable to meet their contractual obligations are able to sell bonds bearing interest at 4 to 4 1-2 per cent with a slight premium, in the open market. This proves that the whole basis of municipal credit has been improved to a point where these municipalities are financing on more favorable terms and in much easier fashion than in the past. This altered picture is due chiefly to the work of a small group of municipal experts of the Department of Municipal Affairs, a branch of the Ontario Government which came into being four years ago. When the department was organized it found that thirty-five(municipalities were in dire financial straits. and the affairs of many of them were subject to what was then known as Committees of Supervisors. Their own financial structures had collapsed and besides failing to meet debenture payments, some of them were even unable to care for the needs of their own people and render necessary civic services. Thus was born the Department of Municipal Affairs. Each of these 35 municipalities was placed in the hands of a department official—a supervisor—who worked with the elected and statutory officials to solve the problem. Under the supervision plan, each municipality's budget and tax rate had to be approved by the Department of Municipal Affairs, while the department acted at the same time as a mediator between the defaulted municipality and the bondholders. Thus, with the support of the Government of this Province, it was possible to literally haul these municipalities up by their own bootstraps. Today more than sixty-five millions of the original one hundred and one millions have been refunded. Municipal credit has been restored to many Ontario municipalities whose borrowing capacity has been in jeopardy. And the Department of Municipal Affairs finds itself in the somewhat strange position of having a group of solvent municipalities demanding that they be kept under surveillance. "It is evident," says Hon. Eric Cross, Minister of Municipal Affairs, "that these municipalities appreciate the service the department has rendered. If this is a true indication of the feeling prevailing throughout Ontario—and there is no reason to doubt that it is—the trend and desire of taxpayers seems to be toward the government exercising more supervision over municipal taxation and borrowing. It had been our intention to remove from supervision those municipalities which had been taken out of default with refinancing plans, but in view of the strong protests of these same municipalities, and other interests, we have decided to continue the present responsibility of supervision as far as they are concerned." During the past year, Mr. Cross added, his department's hope that many municipalities in default would regain their solvencies, has been realized. The general improvement in Ontario's municipal picture is evidenced, he said, by a decline in the total municipal debt of the province from $494,433,956 in 1933, to $430,000,000 in 1937.

DO FIGURES LIE?

(Farmer's Weekly, England)

For some time now I have noticed what a difference has been taking place in the ratio of people actually doing productive work and those engaged in the administrative side. Fifty years ago fifty navvies with pick and shovel meant perhaps one clerk in the office. Today, owing to the adoption of machinery, office staff and production staff seem to be on a fifty-fifty basis.

However, a friend sent me some figures from America which show that we have still a long way to progress in this direction. I don't vouch for their accuracy, but they are a good joke, and do seem to show which way the wind is blowing over there.

DON'T LIKE THE ROPE

(Renfrew Mercury)

People who favor life imprisonment to capital punishment in the case of murder, holding that the former is really the more severe penalty, perhaps noticed that when Wiliam Gunning, Kitley township farm hand, was informed in Brockville jail that his sentence of death was commuted showed "marked relief." He exclaimed "Oh. Gee." The clergyman who as spiritual adviser visited Gunning found him "greatly relieved." Now the young man is in Kingston penitentiary, no doubt looking forward to pardon or escape. The crime which he committed was a most atrocious one, besides being premeditated—not done in a fit of temper. And he used, not a gun, but an axe. Had he been executed he would have had ample time to prepare for death and would have had "the benefit of clergy." How different in the case of an honorable young woman whom he foully murdered.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL PAY COMPENSATION FOR AIR RAID VICTIMS

The British Government's decision to pay compensation for loss of life, personal injury and destruction of property from enemy bombardments or bombing attacks has been announced in the Commons by Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Separate insurance schemes will cover British merchantmen and supplies of essential war materials they will bring in. Because business must go on as nearly as possible "as usual" if Britain is to support her huge war effort, there will also be insurance on commodities for export.

Sir John Simon's announcement brought cheers from the House.

Explaining the working of the property compensation scheme, Sir John said he agreed with underwriters who several months ago refused to accept such policies, explaining "the risk is not in fact an insurance proposition." He pointed out that even very heavy premiums would be 'totally inadequate' if the damage were really heavy.

Therefore, he explained, the government has decided to accept no premiums but since losses should be spread among the entire community it would pay what it could after the war. Sir John was careful to promise not full compensation but such proportion "as circumstances make possible." Claims would be filed as soon as the loss was incurred, however, and special arrangements would be applicable where immediate repairs were necessary for carrying on the war, he said.

The Government's decision to pay compensation for death or personal injury of civilians, even though it will be limited to wage-earners, came as a surprise to the members. It is expected to strengthen the public morale appreciably.

POSSIBLE REDUCTION IN POSTAGE RATES

Reduction of postal rates in Canada was a possibility if business of the post office department increased, W. J. May, inspector of postal service, hinted recently.

Reviewing the history of Canada's mail service for 500 persons who attended the dedication of Harrow's new town hall, Mr. May gave indication of possible reduction in rates when he said: "With your help postal rates may be reduced. service increased."

Mr. May praised the building and was gratified with local facilities in the new edifice for Harrow Post Office. He regretted that facilities and furnishings had not yet been forwarded to complete occupation by the post office itself, but anticipated that the new quarters would be occupied "in the near future."

Up to 1870, the postal inspector traced, Colchester South had its hub at what was called "Munger's Corners." Later this name was changed to Harrow and the place was in time incorporated into a village and then a town. The first post office was established at Harrow, August 1, 1857, and Joseph Munger was the first postmaster, Mr. May said. Geo. H. Clark has been postmaster since 1926.

The Poet's Corner

POETIC TRIBUTES TO DOROTHY SPROULE, MONTREAL.

The following new poems dedicated to Dorothy Sproule follow the six previously published. Seldom, during the lifetime of a poet, has so many fine tributes been given, and all by celebrated poets and editors of Canada and the United States.

By "Sand Dune Sage" Visions Magazine from the "Garden of the Sun."

Your voice has brought the music
Of God's Eternal scheme
To hopeless hearts and weary
That they again might dream.
Your pen is dipped in star-dust
And moist with early dew
That mortals be more gladsome
Through caroling notes from you.
Your ears have heard the whispers
Of stars we do not see
And you have song-entwined them
To help humanity.
There is no greater virtue
Than that which brings a hope
Of realms beyond the sunset—
Of lands beyond the slope.

By Lillian O'Donnell, in Tribute to Dorothy Sproule.

In your garden of verse
My heart lingered long.
And I loved them all,—
The splendid throng:
They gleamed like gold
In the fading light,
Like stars that shine
Through the ebon night.

And reading them through,
My tired heart
Leaped in response
To your sweet art.
All loneliness gone
On a blissful tide,
Leavnig my heart
Beatified.

A poem to Dorothy Sproule and her books by Flozari Rockwood, editor of the "Notebook. the Garret, Modern Bards, and Bards of To-Day."

For only through words have I etched
your face,
While absorbing your "Gold of Dawn,"
I have basked in the glow of your splendid grace,
Gained the will to carry on.
You gave me a beacon in "Poems of Life,"
Your rays brought deep comfort and rest
While "Earth and the Stars," helped in winning the strife,
When beauty alone was my guest.
The "Mystic Star" always urged me
on,
To "Bread and Roses" and love,
Thus given new courage, I follow you
To "The Golden Goal" above.

Visions Magazine, the Poet's friend, by Margaret Kuhlmann — Sand Dune Sage, Alpine, California. To a Gracious Poet, Dorothy Sproule:

I ask the New Year that it give
All things of joy to you—
That stars and sun may bless your way
In everything you do.
A calendar with hour
Strung on a golden lei
I'm wishing that the New Year bring
To you, my friend today.

STRANGE COMPANIONS

A Mildmay citizen, who keeps a few hens, reports a rather unusual occurrence. His neighbor's cat succeeds each night in effecting an entrance into the chicken house, and each morning is discovered sharing a nest with a setting hen. There appears to be a perfectly mutual understanding between the hen and hen feline companion, and they snuggle together in the most friendly fashion.

UNITED CHURCH W. M. S.

The February meeting was held in the S. S. rooms last Thursday afternoon with a good attendance. The President, Mrs. F. F. Davidson, conducted the devotions, when Luke 10: 25-37 was read and prayer offered after the singing of a hymn with Mrs. Mabel Allison at the piano.

After the Secretary, Mrs. W. N. Lannin, read the minutes, monthly reports were given by the Treasurer, the Cor.-Secretary, the Circle and C. G. I. T. leaders, and Community Friendship Secretary. Mrs. O. Wallace, the Temperance Secretary, called attention to the good articles published in the Onward on Temperance. The Supply Allocation was announced by Mrs. P. Durant. A special offering for this work will be taken at the February meeting. A baby's layette, quilts and second hand clothing are required. The President said that the Day of Prayer for Missions will be held in union with the other churches on Feb. 24th.

Mrs. R. Dukelow presided for the programme during which a solo: "I shall not pass again this way" was acceptably sung by Miss Annie Walker, accompanied by Mrs. Howard Fetterly on the piano.

Chapter 3 of the Study Book, dealing with "The Church reaches out to heal," was taken up in an interesting manner. The leader, Mrs. Dukelow, told of the hosptials at Battle River and at Matheson; Mrs. A. H. Duncan of that at Bella Bella, B. C.; Mrs. Thos Annable, the hospital at Vita, Man.; Mrs. Jay Quart, at Lamont, Alta., and Mrs. W. J. Cass described the educational work among the Indians, saying the aim is to help them to become good Christian citizens. The Indian asks of the white man sympathy, understand and protection. The experiment at File Hills, Sask., an Indian colony, was told by Mrs. Atchison.

A short poem by Harold Arnold Walter, was given by Mrs. Dukelow. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison for the closing.

ROYAL TRIP COST IS SET AT $425,000

Parliament will be asked to provide $425,000 for the visit of the King and Queen to Canada next May.

In the estimates of the Secretary of State tabled at Ottawa appears this item: "To provide for general expenses in connection wtih the visit of the King and Queen, $75,000."

A similar item in the Transport Department estimates provides for $350,000 for transportation expenses in connection with the visit. This will be used for operation of the Royal train and other trains carrying officials and newspapermen. No details of the proposed expenditures were given.

TIPS FOR THE AIR TRAVELLER

Fill your fountain pen only half way when you start off on an airplane trip. Th lower atmospheric pressure of the upper altitudes causes ink to expand and if the pen is full the ink may spill.

If going by sleeper plane, request an upper berth, which is suspended from the ceiling and thus escapes the motor vibrations felt in the lower. When flying by day, reserve a rear seat—wings and motor mountings obstruct the view in front seats.

If you're flying for the first time, say so when making reservation. You will receive a preferred seat and special attention throughout the flight.

Avoid liquor before flying, for altitudes will increase its effect many times over. And if you've obviously had too much to drink before boarding the plane, passage will be refused you.

Don't tip; no airline employee expects it.

WHAT MAKES POPCORN POP

Several theories have been offered to explain popping in corn. The explanation accepted by the United States Department of Agriculture is as follows; Popping in corn is an explosion due to the expansion under pressure of moisture in the starch grains. Until the instant of the explosion the expansion is prevented by the material in which the starch grains are imbedded. According to the department neither air nor volatile oil, as was formerly supposed. is concerned with the process. The wall of the kernel of popcorn is harder than that of ordinary field corn, a fact which causes the entire kernel to explode when heated, throwing out the white interior. Long before the arrival of white men on this continent the American Indians cultivated a variety of corn similar to our popcorn. In the Southwest the natives called this grain "little corn." It is doubtful, however, that they used it for popping purposes, although it is probable that our popcorn was originally developed from the Indian variety.

THE SILENT PESTILENCE

Cholera, the silent pestilence is happily gone from America. From 1832 onward this plague spread from Europe to America in four great waves. The first was in 1832 when Irish emigrants brought it to Quebec, Montreal and New York. It followed the trade routes by the river valleys and within seven months after reaching Quebec it had spread to New Orleans and Cuba, as well as westward to Chicago. In the following year it retraced its steps, swarmed up the Mississippi and carried off the planter as well as his slaves. The second wave passed from Central Europe to America in 1849. By this time communication had been improved by the stage coach, the railroad and the telegraph and cholera spread as rapidly as the new agents. The gold rush carried it to California and the public were warned by feeble boards of health "to avoid night air and preserve a tranquil state of mind." The next wave was during the American Civil War.

By this time the doctrines of Virshow, Pasteur and Pettenkofer had begun to illuminate the path of progress. A young German country doctor named Koch studied cholera on the banks of the Nile. He followed cholera to India and discovered its cause—the comma bacillus. When America had its fourth visitation the bacteriologist met the pestilence in New York harbour and kept it out. He worked a revolution far more valuable than any attained by force of arms. It was a bloodless revolution, but it gave peace so far as cholera is concerned, to the American continent.

Slowly, but surely, the scientist is fighting the plagues that still linger amongst us. He has in many instances pointed the way: in diphtheria, syphilis, tuberculosis, in the intestinal complaints of infants, in the prevention of rickets and in a dozen others. Milkborne diseases should not exist. This and many others would rapidly disappear if men and women would apply the available preventive measures.

Two tramps had been to church and they were discussing the service afterwards.

"Yeah," said the first, "And when the preacher announced the number of the hymn, you woke up and holered 'Bingo!'

Three Lemon Pie Tricks

By BETTY BARCLAY

"Come for dessert."

Lemon pie speaks its message without words.

The hostess, however, who serves it, writes this invitation on her calling cards, together with date and hour for an afternoon of bridge, gathering a dozen friends to finish luncheons begun at their own homes with a closing dessert at hers. With dessert, she offers a beverage—here a cup of tea, served with lemon. The game over and prizes awarded, guests go home in time to prepare dinner for tired husbands, their own appetites unimpaired.

The same suggestion may be used for a dinner dessert, where a hostess does not have facilities to serve a large dinner party. Men come for these desserts, necessitating a careful choice. Lemon pie is "tops" with masculine America and always welcome.

Three simple tricks in cooking make this lemon pie a reputation builder for the hostess that serves it. Trick one—add lemon juice and egg to pastry mix—result, flaky crust of a superior tenderness. Trick two—cook filling first, then add freshly squeezed lemon juice after the cooking flame is out—result, a filling fragrantly fresh in flavor. Trick three—add a little lemon juice to the meringue—result, a more tender, easy-to-cut meringue. Full recipe directions are as follows:

Sunkist Lemon Meringue Pie

Bring to a boil in saucepan on direct heat:
- 1 cup water or milk
- ¾ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

Add:
- 5 tablespoons cornstarch, blended with
- ½ cup cold water

Cook over low heat until thickened (about 5 minutes), stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add separately, mixing well each time:
- 2 well beaten egg yolks
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 6 tablespoons lemon juice

Pour filling into an 8-inch Sunkist Pastry shell. Top with Sunkist Meringue. Brown in moderate oven (325° F.) for 15 minutes.

Sunkist Pastry

Sift together:
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt

Cut in:
- 1 cup shortening

Add:
- 1 slightly beaten egg, combined with
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice

Add gradually:
- Ice water—just enough to bind dough together

Roll pastry out thin and line pie plates. Bake in hot oven (475° F.) for 15 minutes. (Makes three 8-inch single pie shells. Keep unbaked dough in refrigerator until needed.)

Sunkist Meringue

Beat until frothy:
- 2 egg whites

Add gradually:
- 4 tablespoons sugar

Continue beating but only until egg holds its shape in peaks. Fold in:
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Cover pie.

High School Literary Notes

The Decline and Fall of the Railways.

What a changeable world it is that we live in! That which seems to be a wonderful accomplishment to people at one time changes entirely and is considered to be of small importance in the future years.

In 1867 when the pioneers began the construction of the C. P. R., they had no idea that it would not always be considered a great means in connecting the various parts of Canada. They didn't mind the difficult task they had to perform to lay the railway in the muskegs and rocks north of Lake Superior, or in the gigantic barrier of the Rocky Mountains.

The C. P. R. was also a means of keeping British Columbia from joining with the U. S. The railway cost a great deal of money for the building of it and about $27,500,000 had to be borrowed from the government before it was completed. But within a few years, the railway was able to return to the Canadian people the money it had borrowed, because it had been a commercial success. At first the dividends for the shares in the C. P. R. were in the hundreds; before the depression they were about thirty-six dollars, which was considered very low. but now they are only worth about five dollars and will become lower

The reason for the railway not being used much is due to the great transport trucks that are used to convey loads, and the automobiles that are used to convey people from one place to another. Since the transport trucks are only in their infancy they will increase so rapidly that the railways will finally be out of use.

The problem is what is to be done with the C. P. R.? The C. P. R is fast losing its concern and every year there are millions of dollars paid to keep the railway in use and this money is increasing the debt.

Would the transport trucks and automobiles be more successful than the railway has been? The question resembles a puzzle of which the answer is difficult to find and which will not likely be solved for a few years.—Alma Bellinger.

The Decline and Fall of the Railways

Great things of life seem very small at first but gradually the small things become very great. Thus was the building and completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The early pioneers strove to link the provinces of Canada with bands of steel. Much of their money was invested and they endured many difficulties and hardships to keep British Columbia from annexing with the United States. The building and operation of the railway was under George Stephen and Donald Smith.

A subsidy of twenty-five million dollars, twenty-five million acres in the West, as well as the several miles of railway already built was given to these men. Later a loan from the government was requested for twenty-seven million, five hundred thousand dolars to complete the railway. In 1871 the task was finished.

Before the depression the railway was progressing very rapidly and the borrowed money was paid back. When the depression came the railway gradually decreased in value and now it is scantly at five.

The railway cars of to-day are very different from the time of Macdonald. A person may feel very cheerful and find the riding pleasant in an air-conditioned railway car and one may obtain all the service he or she cares to have. The seats are very soft and comfortable.

The decrease of the business of the railway is due to the large transports. Trucks and automobiles are in such a great use nowadays that railways have very little business. Passengers which use to travel by train prefer driving in an automobile.

An annexation of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National will likely take place. If it does there might be more profit for one running the two railways instead of the loss and expense which both are having now.—Dorothy O'Neill.

GOTTERDAMERING

Great things do not always remain great nor do small things always remain small. A certain magnificent project may at one time have world-wide popularity and in a few days have sunk from this sphere altogether and a smaller one takes its place. All great things must pass and smaller ones take their place in this world.

So with the railway. When George Stephen and Donald Smith set to work in the virgin wilderness of Canada to build the railway awhich in the future was to link Canada with bands of steel, little did they think that the railway's place, in less than a century, would be taken by four, six or eight-wheeled vehicles which do not even need rails on which to run. When the back-breaking contract of putting the railway through the treacherous muskegs and precipitous mountains of our fair country was completed, the builders, George Stephen and Donald Smith, who had become Lord Mountstephen and Lord Strathcona through their tireless efforts, were rewarded by seeing the railway stocks soar from thirty-five each to over a hundred.

But this did not last. Although the railway did pay large dividends and paid back its debt to the Canadian Government, it soon lost its popularity with the advent of the motor-car and aeroplane. True, it served a great purpose in bringing out soldiers to quench the Second North-West Rebellion and in transporting the immense quantities of wheat from the West. But now there are no more Louis Riel's. and the prairies, although still good wheat producers, have lost the abundant growth of former days. The stocks which once sold at over one hundred a share, now sell for about five. The railway is slipping and its place is being taken by trucks, buses and motor-cars.

Will the railway cease to be? Will the proud-hearted efforts of the pioneer builders of the railway be wasted by the decadence in people in not seeing the vast possibilities yet in the railway. This question must be settled. Boys and girls of today will in a few years be called to vote on it. Remember that in times of direct need, Canada still depends on her railways, such as in wartime when the railways are used for transporting soldiers. And let us hope that, in spite of the cost of the upkeep, we may still have the sense of security a railway gives us.—Ann MacDonald.

ARMS BUDGET WILL TOTAL $60,000,000

An arms budget totalling $60,000,000 providing for the purchase of eighty-three new warplanes and one new destroyer, a flotilla leader for the fleet, was presented to the House of Commons last week.

It is the greatest armament program ever undertaken by Canada in peacetime years, and clearly reflects the government's intention to follow—in a moderate way at least—the trend of world events since the September crisis and the truce of Munich.

Actually, parliament this year is being asked to approve of a defense budget of more than $80,000,000, because the estimates reveal that the Department of National Defense has made future commitments. on contracts which have not been fulfilled, totalling $22,000,000.

Government authorities were quick to admit that if the international situation continues to be tense, an alarming next year's budget will exceeed the present arms outlay.

Six million dollars will be spent exclusively for the training of pilots, and the new arms budget will concentrate upon air protection and a further extension of coastal defenses.

WHAT THE THREE BALLS SIGNIFY

Over the door of every pawn shop in the country appears three round balls. We have often wondered about this and we don't remember that we ever had it explained to us. The other morning, via radio, came one good answer to the riddle of why three balls should grace the pawn shop front. A comedian explained that it means "that it is two to one you don't get your stuff out of hock."—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

Now It's "Cobbler" Time

By Frances Lee Barton

In tribute to the national legend of George Washington and the cherry tree, we hold a National Cherry Week in February. If your patriotic gesture takes the form of a Cherry Cobbler it will receive unanimous endorsement from the family.

Cherry Cobbler

3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; ¾ cup sugar; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 3 cups pitted sour red cherries, fresh or canned; 1 cup cherry juice; 2 cups sifted flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 6 tablespoons butter or other shortening; ¾ cup milk (about).

Combine tapioca, sugar, butter, cherries, and cherry juice; let stand while crust is being made. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually, stirring until soft dough is formed. Turn out on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds, or enough to shape. Roll ⅔ of dough in strip, 2 inches wide and ¼ inch thick; line sides of 8x8x2-inch pan, fitting closely into corners. Stir cherry mixture well and turn into pan. Roll remaining ⅓ dough ¼ inch thick; with sharp knife make slits to permit escape of steam. Fit over cherries, pressing edges of dough together with fork dipped in flour. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes; then reduce heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 25 to 30 minutes longer. Sprinkle powdered sugar over top, if desired. Serves 8.

SAFETY LEAGUE WARNING ON ELECTRIC WRINGERS

Following up its good work in establishing rural branches, the Quebec Safety League is circularizing its members with the regular bulletin issued in the interests of safety, in home, street and factory.

Among items in the current issue of "Safety Signall," the bulletin here mentioned—is a warning on the potential danger of washing machines to meddlesome children. The paragraph states: Dr. J. Edmond Dube. of St. Justine Hospital, has appealed to us to warn housekeepers against the dangers of electric wringers to children. Little tots unaware of the power of these machines, often get their fingers and hands caught in the wringers, with dire results. Dr. Dube adds that at St. Justine Hospital numerous such cases have been reported; wounds suffered in an electric wringer are very serious and frequently involves amputation of the affected arm.

Celebrates 25th Wedding Anniversary

On Saturday evening, Feb. 11th, the neighbours and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lytelle Crowder gathered at their home as a surprise to celebrate with them the 25th anniversary of their marriage. All were cordially welcomed and the evening was spent in games and music. About eleven o'clock the honoured couple were asked to take seats in the sitting room in the centre of the floor, and in a short time the entire crowd was gathered about them. A well-worded address was then read by Mr. Wm. Beggs of Kemptville, and Messrs. Ray Francis and Arlow Beggs presented them with a lovely Davenport as a small remembrance of their many acts of kindness and good will as neighbours in the community.

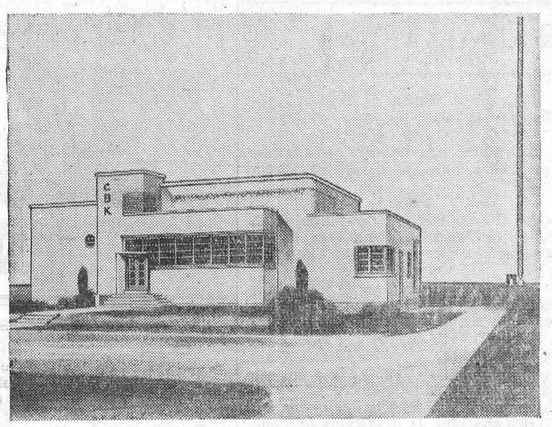
Mr. and Mrs. Crowder both thanked everyone for their kindness and invited all to visit them again. Cake, sandwiches and coffee was then served which brought the happy event to a close. The address follows:

Dear Lucy and Lytelle:—

We, your friends and neighbours have assembled at your home this evening, glad of the opportunity to celebrate with you upon the occasion of your twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. We extend to you our very best wishes upon this attainment. To you, perhaps it seems only yesterday that you stood, hand in hand, taking your marriage vows to love and to cherish. Since then twenty-five years have rolled by and during that time you have gained many friends through your many acts of kindness and neighborliness.

Lytelle, we have always found you a worthy neighbor, always ready to lend a helping hand, and you, Lucy, have proved yourself a worthwhile friend in time of need. God has blessed you with health and given you a family of which you may be proud. And now as we enjoy a sociable evening of fun together, we desire in our own small way to show our appreciation for your neighborliness, and so we ask you to accept this gift. May it always be a reminder of us who call ourselves, friends, and may God see fit to grant you many more years of wedded life, filled with prosperity, with the cup of happiness overflowing.

Signed on behalf of your Friends and Neighbors.



NEW RADIO STATION

Completing its second installment of national high power coverage will be the inauguration this spring by CBC of two new 50,000 watt transmitting stations near Watrous, Sask., and Sackville, N. B. The stations, CBK and CBA, will provide greatly improved coverage and reception in those areas. Feature of the new stations are the 460 foot triangular cross section vertical radiators. The radiators, fabricated at the Canadian Bridge Company's Walkerville plant, are the first guyed radiators designed in Canada and are expected to prove more satisfactory than other types now in use. The transmitter buildings are each of different architecture and are well in advance of present day requirements. The above illustration shows an architect's drawing of the transmitter and radiator of CBK, Watrous.

A CHANGE OF HEART IS SEEN AT OTTAWA

What a changing world in which we live! Who could have imagined three or four years ago that the King Government with 60 supporters from the Province of Quebec, on the eve of an election, would propose an expenditure for national defence of $63,435,175, double the amount of last year? asks the London Free Press editorially. In the days of the Bennett Government the total expenditures for the militia department were under $12,000,000 and then it was bitterly attacked as militaristic and imperialistic!

The answer! It is Herr Hitler. He haas altered the whole picture of the world. It is realized today that this mad dictator is a menace to civilization. He is building up armaments on a colossal scale; he is defying democracy. With modern war methods, with the development of fighting aircraft, Canada is no longer isolated from Europe. Invasion of our coasts in case of war would not only be possible but probable.

And so a Government, supported largely by a province which has been intensely antagonistic to war expenditures, proposes to spend nearly five times what the Bennett administration ever placed in the estimates for national defence.

It is all very tragic when there is such need for money to be spent on constructive projects in Canada and when the Dominion Government should be balancing its budget that we have to spend millions upon armaments. It is very discouraging to lovers of peace. And yet under the circumstances, as long as we have men like Hitler and Mussolini, with their ideals of government in power, Canada has no alternative as self-respecting people but to prepare to defend themselves. Otherwise we would have to depend solely on Britain or leave our defence entirely to our friendly neighbors. If we want the status of a nation then we must be prepared to accept the responsibilities.

The King Government is following the only possible policy today. In order to appease Quebec it is emphasized that the expenditures are purely for the defence of our shores. We are acting apart from Great Britain. We hope this is only political fiction and that in reality there is the closest co-operation between Canada and Great Britain.

In any case, sad as it is, there will be little criticism of the Government's proposals, except possibly in detail.

MRS. SAMUEL FAULKNER

Largely attended by friends and relatives, the funeral of Mrs. Samuel Faulkner was held on Friday afternoon, Feb. 3rd, from her late home near Bell's Corners, for service at Stittsville United church. Prior to leaving the house, a brief service was held by Rev. Dr. L. S. Hughson, who also officiated at the church, assisted by Rev. T. P. Shaver. The choir led in singing of favorite hymns.

The deceased, who was well known throughout the community, was a daughter of the late Thomas Bradley and his wife, Catherine Lewis, and was born on the 10th concession of Goulbourn, 65 years ago.

She leaves, besides her husband, three sons, Delmer, Scott and Howard, of Ottawa, and two daughters, Mrs. H. O. Graburn and Mrs. D. Moffatt, also of Ottawa; three brothers, William J. Bradley, Grenfell, Sask.; Thomas A., Stittsville; Roy, Toronto; and four sisters, Mrs. J. K. Faulkner, Ottawa; Mrs. Chas. Faulkner, Mrs. Reuben Ralph and Mrs. J. W. Akins, Stittsville

Included in the many floral tributes were offerings from the Records Branch, National Revenue, and Lowe-Martin & Co. Burial was made in the adjoining cemetery.

LATE NORMA ANN CASSELMAN

The many friends of Mr and Mrs. J. S. Casselman (nee Alice Black), of Williamsburg, will learn with regret of the passing of their infant daughter, Norma Ann, aged 11 months and 20 days, on Feb. 4th, after a short illness.

The funeral was largely attended, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Adey of the United church. The remains were placed in the vault at Williamsburg until spring when burial will be made at Maple Ridge. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn her loss, two sisters, Marion and Shirley.

The floral offerings were, Spray, Mother and Dad; Grandmother and Grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Black; Double Spray, Aunts and Uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Alexander of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merkley of Chesterville, Mr and Mrs Hubert Barkley of Chesterville; Baby Spray, Cousins, Aileen Barkley and Desmond Alexander.

THE UNITED CHURCH

The story of the two gates as told in Matt. 7: 12 & 14 by Jesus, was taken as a basis for the pastor's talk to the boys and girls on Sunday morning, when he made clear to them that each one has to make a choice for her or himself whether they will enter in at the Strait gate or the Broad gate.

For the seniors the subject was the tragedy of Wasted Opportunities. The events recorded in I Sam., 28, were reviewed and the words: "I have played the fool" were taken for a text. This was Saul's own version of his life. When he visited the witch he wanted the ghost of a chance brought back. This message showed us how tragic it is to allow opportunities to slip, and the aim was to help us to appreciate our opportunities and to use them. The choir sang. "God so loved the World," which was taken from the Cantata, "Victory Divine."

In the evening Miss Vivian Barclay of Williamsburg was heard with pleasure when she sang: "Beside Still Waters," by Hamblen. She was accompanied by Mr. Johnson on the organ.

Rev. W. S. Atchison's message was given in the form of a drama, based on the text I Sa., 20:18, and entitled, "O Empty Pews, why are you empty?" He said the greatest tragedy of the Christian Church is that of the empty pews. They discourage the pastor and hurt the influence of the Church. In the monologue the seats were represented as answering the pastor and giving their reasons for being empty; some of these being a lack of friendliness on the part of the congregation; the pure gospel was not preached and people act as if they do not need the gospel. In the end the pastor and pews entered into an agreement of co-operation whereby the pews may be filled.

THE C. N. R. BLUFF ABOUT CO-OPERATION

Is there no power in heaven or on earth to curb the orgy of expenditure by the Canadian National Railways of Canada? Each year it is costing the taxpayers of Canada $50,000,000 to run this railway the way the present authorities are conducting it and the present year's deficit is estimated at $60,000,000.

Now the management has actually entered on a plan to spend $12,000,000 on terminal facilities in Montreal within a three-year-period and it is a safe the C. N. R. will have added another prophecy to make that within that time $200,000,000 to the people's taxes.

Are we insane, to allow such colossal taxes to be heaped on our backs? Is the Ottawa government not going to put its foot down flat and hard?

What has become of the co-operation plan between the two big railways to reduce expenses?

When the Special Committee of the Senate was sitting last year, one of the choice parts of the plan to whitewash the Canadian National management was the elaborate drive to prove that it was really the wicked Canadian Pacific which would not co-operate. The Canadian National was pictured as being eager to co-operate.

Indeed the first few days of the Senate Committee's hearings were devoted to arguments by a Canadian National officer to show that the Canadian Pacific would not co-operate. There was nothing surprising in all this, because the Winnipeg Free Press had been for weeks promising that the whole Senate Committee probe would turn into an expose of the Canadian Pacific unwillingness to co-operate.

Now we can see what co-operation means, as the Canadian National proposes to practice it. One of the choice opportunities, according to the testimony of R. C. Vaughan, C. N. Vice President, and S. W. Fairweather, C. N. economist, to save money was a general passenger pool. It was realized by all who gave the subject any consideration that the biggest difficulty in obtaining this would be to get the joint terminals needed at Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver and other points. Now the possibility of getting a joint terminal at Montreal is practically removed, for even the Montreal politicians will hesitate to argue that the terminal which they have just started to build should be torn down again.

That is, the announcement of the Montreal terminal plan is final confirmation of the fact that the Canadian National and its deficits are not matters of concern to the Government. They offer too splendid an opportunity for individual and sectional patronage. Co-operation is a good story, but it certainly must not be allowed to interfere with the fulfilment of election promises.

It will be quite interesting to see if the Senate Committee when it resumes this Winter, realizes how deliberately it was mocked last year in all the elaborate arguments to show that the Canadian National was really longing for co-operation.

A bachelor may have no real happiness, but he escapes a lot of real misery.

HINTS FOR THE FARMER

BUTTER CONSUMPTION

Consumption of butter in the Empire countries is higher per head of population than in foreign countries, states the Imperial Economic Committee. It was in 1937: 40.7 pounds in New Zealand; 34.2 pounds in Australia; 32.7 pounds in Canada, and 24.8 pounds in the United Kingdom, compared with 19.6 pounds in Germany; 17.9 pounds in Denmark, and Belgium, and 16.7 pounds in the United States.

FEED FOR POULTRY

The nutrients in eggs are present in entirely different proportions from those in grain; and unless the hens are given additional feeds to level up the differences, production is disappointing.

Feeding poultry entirely on grain, and only one grain at that, is the least profitable practice followed on most farms. To keep the hen in good condition and supply egg ingredients in the correct proportions, so that each egg represents the least possible feed intake, it is necessary to supply a mixture of ground proteins and cod liver oil, besides a scratch mixture of two or more grains. Oyster shell formation, and a supply of good drinking water is essential.

CHEESE IN EXPORT TRADE

Exports of cheese from the chief exporting countries of the world, reckoned by value, account for only a very small proportion of total exports from these countries; in New Zealand, where the proportion is highest, it amounted to little more than 8 per cent. in 1937. The proportion has declined in recent years in New Zealand, Switzerland, the Netherlands and Italy, but has remained fairly constant in Canada, where however it amounts to only one per cent. of the total Canadian exports.

BEEF CATTLE TREND

Numbers of cattle on farms in Canada at June 1st, 1939, are expected to show a further reduction from those of 1938. The present cattle production cycle had reached its peak in 1936. Net cattle marketings in 1938 were materially below those of 1937 and 1936. Further declines may be expected during 1939 and 1940. The numbers of cattle on farms in Canada on June 1st, 1938 (8,511,300) were estimated as fewer than at the corresponding date of the previous year.

DAMAGES ARE SOUGHT

A suit for damages under the Fatal Accidents Act brought by Mrs. Mason Shaver, of Iroquois, against Ralph Thompson and the village of Iroquois, as a result of the accidental electrocution of plaintiff's husband in August, 1938, will be heard at the spring assizes at Cornwall this week. Shaver was instantly killed while assisting in making repairs to a well owned by Thompson, when a metal pump head came in contact with a high tension wire. The wire belonged to the village of Iroquois. it is alleged. Irwin Hilliard, K.C., of Morrisburg, is appearing for Mrs. Shaver, with Casselman & Beaumont, Prescott, acting for defendants.

TRAIL RANGER HOCKEY GAMES

On Thursday evening the Trail Ranger hockey team played a game against Williamsburg on the latter's ice and suffered a 4-2 defeat at the hands of a team of very smart young hockey players. After the game, through the courtesy of the Williamsburg team and Mr. A. J. Casselman, the boys were guests for the evening performance at the Picadilly Theatre. The next evening, Friday, the same hockey team journeyed to Chesterville for a game with Mr. W. E. Marshall's United Church Sunday School Class team. This time the local team, due to the stellar performance of Reggie Workman in the goal and Doug. Hitsman, Roy Campbell and George Carlyle on the forward line, were successful in winning by a score of 2-1. After the game the two teams were entertained by the home team in the United church with Messrs. Harry Allison and Bill Marshall welcoming the visitors while the thanks of the latter were expressed by Max Boyd. George Carlyle, Wendell Atchison and Fred Cass. Saturday afternoon the combined Tuxis and Trail Ranger team visited Morewood for a return game with the Trail Rangers there. Afte an hour's rugged hockey the visitors were forced to accept a 5-3 drubbing. Refreshments were served after the game in the United Church where Rev. J. MacAskill welcomed these exchanges between the boys of our communities. Ed Boyd and Hartley Allison expressed the appreciation of the visiting team.

Transportation for the boys was furnished through the kindness of Rev. W. S. Atchison, and Messrs. W. J. Cass, T. O. VanBridger, J L Mill and Leroy Strader. The Winchester line-ups for the games were as follows:

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother and father, who passed away two years ago, Feb. 17th and Feb. 21st, 1937.

There are tender thoughts of you
Down deep within our hearts,
That forms of every lovely day
The brightest, dearest part.
Though fate, our paths may separate,
And hide your smiles from view,
'Tis powerless to take from us
This memory of you.
