Glengarry has a drinking problem — are you interested in solving it?

The highlight of April meeting of the Glengarry Inter Agency Group held on Friday April 12th at the Church on the Hill was the presentation of a report on Drinking and Driving, Teenage Drinking and Alcohol Education in the Alexandria area.

The report was submitted by Jim Baker, guidance counsellor at Glengarry District High School, Rick Bough, a social worker with the Ministry of Social Services and Peter Barkway, regional head of the Drug and Addiction Research Foundation. They had been doing research on the local situation since last September.

Glengarry has a drinking problem, it was decided at an Inter-Agency meeting last Fall, and if the situation in the community was going to be improved, something had to be done about it. At that time, the three aforementioned people had been directed to do a survey as a base from which to start community action.

For their survey, they interviewed high school students, high school and elementary school teachers, hotel owners, police officers, mature students from sociology courses and gleaned evidence from reams of government reports, police files and available data.

Their report noted that Glengarry County as a whole had one of the higher rates of drinking driving offences in Ontario, including a significantly higher rate of one-car fatal accidents in which the driver had been drinking. Over 60% of the fatally injured drivers in 1973 in Glengarry were impaired, compared to 34% for Ontario as a whole.

A group of Glengarry young people suggested that on any given weekend evening, 10% of their fellow students would not be able to drive home. A good deal of "common sense" was found among the young people and the committee felt this common sense should be reinforced and encouraged in any educational program in the area.

A recent ARF study in Toronto indicated that the percentage of young people using alcohol has increased dramatically from 1968 to 1974; Grade 7 from 22.9% to 51.5%; Grade 9 from 41.6 to 71.3; Grade 11 from 59.7 to 84.5 and Grade 13 from 70.9 to 92.6. It is assumed a similar increase applies for Glengarry County.

Their report follows in detail, with its recommendations and suggestions. This report will be sent on to the various government ministries for consideration.

But, Mr. Baker, chairman of the committee, stresses the importance of local action; "The people are the government and representatives in the various ministries look to us for suggestions and guidance. Unless we can show that we are genuinely interested in doing something to remedy a situation, we cannot expect too much action."

This was emphasized by Peter Barkway; "We must demonstrate locally so the government can see we are concerned."

The Agency is anxious to set up workshops, etc., to discuss the problem. They will invite knowledgeable speakers and get a program in motion to deal with the problem.

But are you interested, asks the Inter Agency group? Only if there is enough response from the local public is there any need to proceed. If you would like to see something done, just say so. Write or phone the following people and tell them you are behind such a program, but do it at once! They are: Chief Sylvio Cleroux, Alexandria, 525-1954; Rev. Lloyd Davies, Alexandria, 525-2858; Allan Vallance, Maxville, 527-2170; Jim Baker, Alexandria, 525-3110; Rick Bough, Glengarry Memorial Hospital, 525-2222 and Peter Barkway, Cornwall, 932-3300.

Letters to the Glengarry News are especially acceptable, they add.

Inter-Agency in Alexandria meets once a month. It is composed of representatives from the various community agencies, social services, schools, churches, hospital, etc., who discuss problems which affect the community at large.

Alcohol sub-committee report

This sub-committee was set up during the Interagency group meeting in September 1974, under a mandate to investigate and report on three major areas:

A) drinking and driving
B) Teen-age drinking
C) alcohol education program as they affect the Alexandria area.

It was also understood that our report would form the basis for a submission by the Interagency group to the appropriate department of the provincial government.

Assumptions

We made three basic assumptions that guided our thinking:

i) that our focus be the control, not the elimination, of the use of alcoholic beverages.

ii) that the public is ready to support any measures designed to improve possibilities for reasonable control.

iii) that there is a need for immediate community action.

During our deliberations, we met with high school students, high school and elementary school teachers, talked to a hotel owner, police officers, mature students from the University of Ottawa's sociology course, and familiarized ourselves with some of the available literature on these topics.

Here follows our report and recommendations.

A. Drinking and Driving

For those over 18 years of age, both drinking and driving are legal behaviour, and both are encouraged by our social patterns.

"Given the nature and pre-

Father Villeneuve may be Tory candidate in Stormont

Rev. Rudolph Villeneuve Thursday categorically denied reports that he has agreed to seek the Stormont Progressive Conservative nomination in the next provincial election.

"That's just a rumor going around," he said. "I've heard it myself."

However he conceded he had been approached to stand for the nomination. Asked if he is considering running Rev. Villeneuve said there is "some chance" he will. He declined further comment.

"I'm not in a position to say anything now," he said.

A provincial election is expected this year, perhaps as early as June.

Father Villeneuve is a trustee on the separate panel of the SD&G County board of education.

He received more votes (7,223) than any candidate but the mayor in last year's municipal and school elections. City officials said at the time it was the largest vote ever for a non-mayoralty candidate.

Making the victory even more impressive is the fact that only separate panel supporters cast ballots for him.

It was the Catholic priest's first venture into elected politics.

He was appointed to the board in 1973 to fill a vacancy created by a resignation.

If Father Villeneuve wins the candidature in Cornwall-Stormont we might have the picture of an uncle and nephew in the field in adjoining constituencies. Osie Villeneuve, expected to be Prog. Con. candidate in the new SD&G riding, is an uncle of Father Villeneuve, who was born at Maxville. His father, the late J. Domina Villeneuve, ran unsuccessfully in the '30's.

Fined $150 for assault

An Alexandria man was fined $150 in court on Monday in connection with a charge of assault against the late Hubert Contant. Judge M. J. Fitzpatrick handed down the decision in Cornwall.

The offense occurred on October 6th, 1972. Accused had been brought to trial on May 7th, 1973 and the case had been postponed for a decision.

Found guilty of assault was Yvon Campeau and Donald Denis who had also been charged had the charges dismissed against him.

Township would have Hydro take over Green Valley lighting

Charlottenburgh Township council hopes to meet with officials of Ontario Hydro and Lancaster Township within three weeks to discuss turning over the privately owned power system at Green Valley to the utility.

All other lines and street lighting in the township are owned by either Hydro or Cornwall Electric. The system at Green Valley is 18 years old.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois said if there is a major failing of the system, the township will repair it but the cost will be added to the tax bill of Green Valley residents.

The township should not be in the power business, he said. Council never subsidizes street lighting and if it were to begin in Green Valley there would be a flood of requests, he said.

Mr. Gadbois said attempts have been made for about a year to arrange a meeting with hydro officials to discuss taking over the system but have failed.

However, problems with extending street lighting as the town expands have been cropping up for at least three years.

Although Mr. Gadbois suggested arranging tentative meeting dates with hydro officials before contacting Lancaster township Deputy-Reeve Roger Lefebvre said the two townships should meet first to talk things over.

"You will find Lancaster Township very, very hard to deal with," he cautioned.

Plumbing shop hit by fire

Alexandria Firemen quickly brought under control a fire which broke out in the plumbing shop of Gerry Deguire on St. Paul St. early Wednesday morning.

The fire was discovered by Bert Martin, an employee of Lanthier Bakery who noticed smoke coming from the building about 5:30 a.m.

"We had no traffic problem," reports Assistant Fire Chief Jim Graham, "so our full force was on the scene in no time."

The blaze was brought under control in 20 minutes. Mr. Deguire was not available for comment at press time, but Fire Chief Charlebois estimated about $1,000 damage to the building and $5,000 to contents.

REPORT CALLS FOR ACTION—The report on drinking in the area was compiled for presentation at last week's meeting of the Glengarry Inter-Agency group. Looking over the study are Allan Vallance, vice-chairman of the group who chaired the meeting and Jim Baker, chairman of the committee making the report. Standing are Rev. Peter Barkway of the Alcohol and Drug Research Foundation and Rick Bough of the Department of Social Services who helped compile the information.

To penalize substandard milk

A schedule of penalties for substandard milk is being introduced, members of the local milk committees learned on Monday as they met at the Bonnie Glen with members of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board.

As a warning to producers, these penalties are being simulated on their milk cheques for the time being to indicate what the loss would be when it is enforced.

The penalties will be enforced where applicable after June 1st, for high bacteria count, added inhibitors or for water added to milk.

Only a small number of producers fall into this category, the Board felt, but just a small amount of low quality milk can contaminate a whole tank full and members agreed that it was advisable to eliminate, as much as possible, all substandard milk.

The problem of marketing can milk was also a topic of discussion. Members felt it was imperative that all milk be marketed from bulk tanks only and thought that the price differential of .25 per cwt and the higher transportation costs would serve as initiative for the change-over from cans to bulk tank. At present a study is being done to determine if a deadline should be set for the change-over.

Quota systems are under study at the present time but no changes are expected in the near future. Producers were assured that Market Sharing Quota would be available and allotted free to producers in the present dairy year where production exceeds the producers present Market Sharing Quota.

Elphege Lefebvre, Director of Region No. 1, which comprises the Counties of Prescott, Russell, Glengarry and Stormont, was chairman of the dinner meeting. Also present to answer questions were George MacLaughlin of Beaverton, chairman of the OMMB; Francis Redelmeier, vice-chairman of the Board; Ross Graham, director of production and Harry Park, board secretary.

Hosting the meeting were members of the Glengarry County Milk Committee: President Robert McDonald, Vice-President Tony Oetelaar, Secretary Bruce Sova and Directors R. D. MacLeod, Gordon MacLeod, George Marjerison, Arnold MacRae, Lynus MacPherson, Roger Campeau, Fernand Carriere, Doug Murray and Stuart Buchan.

Impaired fined

The $1 per milligram fine for impaired driving continues. An impaired driver was assessed $260 in court this week.

Reviewed plans for canoe race

Plans for the Raisin River Canoe Race were reviewed at a meeting of the executive of the Eastern Ontario Travel Council held last week at Cornwall. The newly elected Council President, A. Casselman, chaired the meeting.

The Council has given wide coverage to the canoe race through some 200 newspapers, TV and radio stations. Pipers from the Glengarry Pipe Band will play at the start of the race, postponed to April 26th, along the course and at the finish as well as at St. Mary's Parish Hall, Williamstown, where a hot meal will be served and trophies presented by officers of the sponsoring Raisin River Conservation Authority.

It was suggested Director A. D. D. MacDonald proceed to complete arrangements with Lancaster Village and Township in the provision of a kiosk at Lancaster to provide weekend park visitors with information on events in the area through the summer. A Coming Events bulletin will also be printed.

DISCUSSING THE MILK SITUATION—Officials of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board met with local committee officials in Alexandria on Monday. Seated left are Robert McDonald, North Lancaster, chairman of Glengarry County Milk Committee and Secretary Bruce Sova of Glen Roy. Second turbo to start run on April 27th

Passenger service on the CNR between Montreal and Ottawa will be bolstered by an extra turbo train run starting Sunday, April 27th.

Two turbo trains will leave Ottawa at 10:55 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Monday through Saturday and leave Montreal at 8:15 a.m. and 1:15 p.m.

One turbo will operate on the route Sunday, leaving Montreal at 1:15 p.m. and Ottawa at 4:45 p.m.

The turbo on the route since August makes the trip in two hours, but an 11 minute reduction is planned.

The three regular trains will cover the 115 miles in about two hours, 10 minutes faster than now.

Whether the second turbo train will make stops at Alexandria remains uncertain as the summer train schedule for Alexandria is not available yet. The new schedule becomes effective Sunday, April 27 with the switch to daylight saving time.

Bread blitz over the top

Final results will not be tabulated for some days but Sunday's bread blitz went over the top reports Co-chairman Rene Gauthier of the sponsoring Richelieu Club. We are slightly over the $1,500 objective, he reports.

Died in Mass.

The death of Frank A. Dudley occurred in Jamaica Plains, Mass., on Tuesday, April 8th. He is survived by his wife, the former Mary McKay of Glen Nevis and one son, Boyd. The funeral took place on Friday, April 11th.

Walkers out seeking sponsors

Potential walkers are out this week signing up sponsors for the walkathon being held Sunday, May 4th, in aid of Alexandria Lions Club's $40,000 pledge to Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

The walk will be a 30-mile test of endurance and footwear. The route will proceed north on Highway 34 to Laggan, east to Dalkeith, south through Glen Sandfield to Glen Robertson and return to Alexandria.

Driving group to promote carriage use

George Shoniker of Lancaster is vice-president of a new Eastern Ontario Private Driving Association organized in recent weeks to promote interest in pleasure driving with horse and carriage.

Fellowship of "horse and buggy nuts" with a common interest will be fostered and encouragement will be given development of competition in carriage classes and driving expertise at horse shows and fairs in Eastern Ontario.

Organization of the group followed meetings March 2nd and 23rd at the home of John Kelso, Shady Rocks farm, Prescott.

Mr. Kelso is first chairman of the Association and other officers are:

Vice-Chairman—George Shoniker, Lancaster

Sec.-Treas. —Trishan Kelso, Prescott

Directors —Walter Lackey, Walter Unsworth, Donald Prosperine, Ottawa; Hugh Rankin, Escott; Clarence Babcock, Keith Donnelly, Brockville; Robert McLenaghan, Perth.

Junior Directors—Diane Polite, Prescott; Sean Shoniker, Cornwall.

Brown House business sold

Real Gauthier has sold the store at the Brown House to Alex Aubin of Williamstown, who took over the business on April 10th.

Mr. Gauthier will continue his mobile homes business at the same site until next year when he will move to the corner of the 9th Lancaster road and Highway 34. He has purchased 22 acres there from Dorice Joanette and plans to build a home there, and later a business stand.

A group representing area municipal councils journeyed to Petawawa, Monday, to inspect the community centre erected there last year. Included in the party were Reeve Alex McDonald and Councillor Ken MacLennan of Lochiel; Michel Samson, clerk of Lancaster Township, Mayor Bruno Massie, Reeve J. P. Touchette and Recreation Director Mike Depratto.

They inspected the centre which includes a 600 capacity hall, library and ice arena and talked with the manager. Built of steel siding on a 10-foot base of cinder blocks, the structure cost $600,000. A group from town council had inspected the building last fall when an estimate of less than $600,000 had been obtained for a similar structure here.

Monday's trip followed a meeting last Thursday night attended by the reeves of Kenyon, Lochiel and Lancaster Townships and one member of each council. The need for a new rink here was outlined by Reeve Touchette who suggested a joint recreation group for the area.

The idea will be further discussed by the various councils at their own meetings.

Former Kirk Hill minister to receive honorary degree

Rev. Samuel Delve, a former minister at Kirk Hill United Church and presently of Cooke's-Portsmouth United Church in Kingston, will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Queen's University at the Spring Convocation.

Mr. Delve was heavyweight wrestling champion and a rugby player at Queen's where he won his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Divinity degrees.

Born in Wooler, Ont., he was injured while serving as chaplain with the Medical service and armored corps in the Second World War. He has served his church in the Seeley's Bay, Montreal, Ottawa, London and Hamilton areas.

His many friends from Kirk Hill and district extend wholehearted congratulations to a devoted former minister and friend.

Cars collided at intersection

Three people were taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital following a two car crash at the corner of Lochiel and Main Streets on Saturday night.

Treated, but released without serious injury were the driver of one of the vehicles, Bertrand Bernier of Hawkesbury and his passengers, Gerald Bernier, also of Hawkesbury and Gisele Lalonde of Alexandria.

Bernier was driver of a 1969 Ford which was reportedly proceeding west on Lochiel Street when it came into collision with a 1968 Dodge which was travelling south on Main St. Gerald Robinson of Alexandria, driver of the Dodge, was uninjured.

Each of the vehicles suffered $1,000 damage.

CALLED TO BAR—Allan R. O'Brien is practising law with the Ottawa firm of Nelligan, Power following his call to the Bar with Honours, at Toronto, March 21st. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Rod O'Brien, Third Kenyon, Allan graduated from Glengarry District High School and taught there for two years before taking the law course at University of Ottawa. He stood first in the class for two out of three years and graduated 'magna cum laude'.

Martintown Rumor Mill

Arthur Buckland

The Bide-a-Wee Inn was the scene of some lively Scottish dancing last week as Rae MacCulloch's Martintown dancers joined with the Lochiel dancers to celebrate the final dance class. The Brigadoons added a welcome new dimension, as formerly we had danced to records only. Thanks too, to our host, Ewen McDonald and his lovely wife Agnes for giving us a dance hall. Those wonderful ladies of the Martintown group prepared a fine luncheon for us.

We were all set to leave home for the Bide-a-Wee Inn when it was discovered that our young son had been using my wife's planned dessert for the evening as a puck for a kitchen game of hockey. Alas, poor angel food cake. All resources were mustered and in a short while delicious mincemeat tarts, made from four-year-old green tomato mincemeat, were in the pan. Some woman!

Rae MacCulloch was presented with a wood carving of a highland lassie. Rhodes Grant, our own Martintown chronicler and carver, created the piece. Sybil Cameron received a necklance for her efforts in attempting to teach some of us the difference between a reel and a strathspey.

Ahh 'twas a grand evening. The whole course was an excellent example of human and institutional organization, centering around that creative lady from Martintown east, Rae MacCulloch, St. Lawrence College, the Glengarry S&D Board of Education and our Martintown Recreation Committee combined to provide money, facilities and organization for Rae's creative talents.

Last Sunday, three Apple Hill stalwarts were spotted in Ingleside North. They disappeared from sight in a cloud of dust and Irish Rover music, apparently headed for Ogdensburg. I hope D., B. and G. made it home.

Friday, May 9th, is the date of William and Eileen Johnston's 25th anniversary party. It starts at St. Mary's in Williamstown with the Brigadoons.

Donny Ross predicts a fine time at the River Beaudette Golf Club this Saturday, April 19th. The Old Time Fiddlers will be there: (Britton, MacDonald, MacLeod and McPhail, to name some.)

Keep May 30th open—Martintown Farmers' Spring Planting Dance. Everything worth planting will be in the ground by then (Granny Cain has predicted this); celebrate with the Brigadoons at the Bonnie Glen. Mark it on your social calendar now.

Sylvester and the Clansmen held a "Send us down East" dance last week. John Job told me that he was pleased with the crowd, though it could have been larger. Two old lovers . . . (of Scottish music) declared emphatically that they were not going to the dance because they didn't want the Clansmen to go down east, they wanted them to stay in Glengarry. "But Mary, but John, it's only for two weeks."

April 18th and 19th Rob Taylor and the Brigadoons will be playing at the Atlantic. Come along.

Saturday is the 4th annual St. Lawrence College canoe run from Lunenburg to the Grand. I hope we don't need roller skates.

Martintown Mac says Ahh, Spring!

Funeral to be to St. Raphael's

The funeral of Donald Ewen Macdonell, P. Eng., of Toronto, will be held to St. Raphael's cemetery on Saturday, April 26th, at 3 pm. A native of Apple Hill, Mr. Macdonell died January 29 in Toronto General Hospital.

The son of John Macdonell and Christine Kennedy of Apple Hill, Mr. Macdonell received his education at Alexandria and the University of Toronto.

He spent many years in the mining industry in Ontario and served as chief mining engineer for Falconbridge Nickel Mines until 1945. The following year he joined Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and was responsible for large housing projects in many parts of Ontario until his retirement in 1962.

Mr. Macdonell served in France with the Canadian Army between 1915 and 1918 in World War I. In the Second World War he was a Major in the Canadian Army Reserve.

At the time of his death Mr. Macdonell was engaged in researching the history of the Scottish clans in Canada. He was an avid scholar of Canadian history in general.

Surviving are his wife, Kathleen, in Providence Villa, Scarborough; two sons, Dr. Joseph Kennedy Macdonell of Kamloops, BC, and Donald John of Ajax, Ont., as well as one daughter, Rosemary, Mrs. William Sinclair of Whitehorse, Yukon. One brother and one sister also survive, Leonard Macdonell of Mona Mills, Ont., and Jeanette Macdonell of Colborne, Ont. He was predeceased by two brothers, Kennedy and Jerome, and three sisters, May, Estelle and Kathleen (McPherson).

E. Laferriere died at 64

A lifelong resident of Glen Robertson, Eugene Laferriere died at his home there, Friday, March 28th. He was 64.

He was a son of the late Napoleon Laferriere and his wife Amanda Sauve.

His mother survives, as do one brother, Rolland Laferriere of Lachine, and one sister, Suzanne, Mrs. Bruno Menard of Montreal.

The funeral was held April 1st from the Aime Marcoux Funeral Home here to St. Martin of Tours Church. Rev. Gilles Deslauriers offered the mass.

Pallbearers were Ray McLennan, Maurice Sauve, Rheal Laferriere, Claude Menard, Armand Lanthier and Ernest Sauve.

Mission rally at Martintown

A large number gathered in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Martintown, to hear Miss Margaret Kennedy of the Bhil area of North India, tell of her life work. She has spent 35 years of her life serving this country, teaching and preaching the gospel. She told how the work had expanded in those years. Their church is called "The Church of Jesus Christ in India"; their motto: Unity, Witness and Service.

Miss Kennedy is one of several special centennial missionaries brought home to Canada in celebration of "centennial year."

The program was directed by the Martintown Women's Missionary Society. Mrs. Harvey McMillan presided, assisted by Mrs. Stuart Blackadder who led in prayer. Everett Rush of Cornwall, rendered two beautiful solos, accompanied by Mrs. Iver MacIver of Maxville. Miss Emily MacInnes introduced the speaker and Mrs. Frank Stewart gave words of appreciation. Rev. Wallace MacKinnon, Ingleside, brought greetings from Glengarry Presbytery and pronounced the Benediction.

A social hour followed in the lower hall.

FORMER MINISTER'S SON RETURNS FOR SERVICE

On Sunday, April 20th, the Rev. Ross Hamilton, son of the late J. H. Hamilton, will return to the village where he was raised, for a special service.

Born at Sydney, Nova Scotia, Mr. Hamilton came to Maxville with his parents in 1931 where he attended both Public and High Schools. In 1942 he joined the RCAF and served in Canada and England. Following service with the Armed Forces, he entered University and Theological College and entered the ministry of the United Church. He has since served Charges in New Brunswick, Manitoba and his present Charge in Halifax, N.S.

Following the service at 12:15 there will be an open reception to which anyone who knew the Hamiltons is cordially invited.

SCOUTS AND CUBS HAVE HEALTHIER FUTURE

After several times being threatened with extinction over the past year the Maxville Scout and Cub groups have obtained a new lease on life. At a special meeting this week, called by their Leader, Constable Paul Deveau, to decide on their future, if any, a small attendance nevertheless produced some offers of solid support, and new leaders are expected to be available in the fall. For the balance of this spring Constable Deveau will continue to work with the 16 Cubs and 24 Scouts as he has done the past few years. Progress at this meeting was assisted by the attendance of the district counsellors, Mr. Plamadore of Cornwall, and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of Martintown.

The Maxville Cubs and Scouts will be joining the Cornwall district for the special "Trees for Canada" tree-planting project to be held the 3rd of May. This is being organized along the lines of a walkathon, the boys will be canvassing for sponsors, so much for planting each tree, and the good cause deserves community support.

Report on alcohol...

valence of these two separate activities, it is inevitable that a large percentage of the population will combine them at one time or another.

Prohibiting an activity which is the hybrid of two distinct activities, each of which is widely practiced and seem to be sanctioned by the government, poses a very difficult challenge indeed.

We note that Glengarry county as a whole has one of the higher rates of drinking-driving offences in Ontario, including a significantly higher rate of one-car fatal accidents in which the driver had been drinking. Over 60% of the fatally injured drivers in Glengarry (compared to 34.7% for Ontario as a whole) in 1973 were impaired. In the same year in Glengarry, 16.2% of drivers involved in motor vehicle collisions had consumed alcohol (compared to 8.9% for Ontario as a whole).

The same report reveals that "the average breathalizer reading in Glengarry in 1973 was 185 mg alcohol per 100 ml blood," which is more than double the legal limit, and indicative of drivers with a heavy tolerance for alcohol.

An Ontario survey in the spring of 1974 suggests that for the days Thursday, Friday and Saturday between the hours of 10 pm and 3 am, "72.7% (of drivers) had no alcohol on their breath, 20.9% had blood alcohol concentrations of up to .08, and 6.4% had blood alcohol concentration of over .08 . . ."

Thus, the Glengarry figures for the year 1973 may be taken to represent the tip of the iceberg only, and it is reasonable to deduce from provincial figures that county roads are regularly and densely populated with impaired drivers.

Consistent with these figures, we found that many adults and young people in the county feel that the chances of being caught for impaired driving are very slim. It is "too easy not to get caught."

"In order for a law prohibiting an activity to be effective, there must be a widespread belief among the public at large that if they engage in the prohibited activity, there is a strong likelihood that they will be detected and face the consequences of being convicted of the offence.

For Ontario as a whole, in 1973, 13,567 uniformed police officers (9,686 on municipal forces, 3,881 with the OPP) charged 41,635 drivers after a breathalyzer interview, for an average of 3.06 arrests per police officer.

In Glengarry in 1973, "A study of the court records reveals that the majority of judgments handed down were $150 or 7 days in jail with a 3 months suspension . . . Court statistics have shown that 2nd and 3rd offenders do not receive even the minimum penalty as provided by the criminal code."

It seems to us that there is not a "strong likelihood" of being caught for impaired driving and that most citizens are aware of that.

The 'visibility' of police officers increases the likelihood of being caught (e.g. Christmas spot checks) but "there is an absolute limit on the amount of enforcement possible, and therefore there are limits on the degree to which it is possible to manipulate the balance between prevention and apprehension."

A group of Glengarry young people suggested that on any given weekend evening, 10% of their fellow students would not be able to drive home. We also note that both young people and adults indicate an open conflict between personal values and actual behaviour when drinking and driving are involved: that is, while each individual would firmly state that it was his/her higher personal stand not to drink and drive, the same individual would also admit that there were occasions during which he/she had combined the two behaviours.

The Drinking Driver in Glengarry report found that while 88% of a random survey felt the drinking driver was a major menace, 90.5% of these surveyed indicated that they themselves had consumed alcohol and then driven, and 65% said they would do so again.

We suggest that this apparent conflict is worthy of consideration in formulating any educational or community program.

We agree that impaired driving is a significant problem in our area. We feel that the laws and the legal consequences of being convicted are strong enough, but note that they are not enforced sufficiently to provide a deterrent force.

The report on Drinking-Driving in the province of Ontario, submitted to the Provincial Secretary for Justice in August of 1974 contains a thorough analysis of the advantages and disadvantages of various measures, some of which might be selected on a trial basis by citizens of the area. We encourage the Interagency group to secure a number of copies of this report for local use.

Recommendations

1. that police officers be required to report any conviction for impaired driving directly to the Insurance Company covering the convicted driver.

2. that the court insist that a convicted individual's license be removed immediately upon conviction.

3. that police officers give a higher priority to offences involving a combination of drinking and driving.

4. that every citizen be encouraged to have increasing responsibility for the prevention, detection and apprehension of the drinking driver.

5. that the community and the courts give consideration to the establishment of a panel of jurors with delegated court authority to recommend sentencing, disposition and consequences; including recommendations for treatment, education program or other conditions to be required of Fastball League Start . . .

The Alexandria Fastball League held its first meeting Friday night. Four of last year's teams, ABS, Chippers, Bergeron and Hope and Monkland were represented at the meeting. It is hoped more teams will decide to join these four and increase the number of entries to six and possibly eight.

The league accepted the resignation of President Duncan (Atlantic) Macdonell with regret. A new president is to be appointed shortly. The league suffered another loss in the departure of Rolland (Hot Dog) Lalonde. Rolland has joined the Ottawa police force and his leadership qualities and competitive play will be missed.

Michael Barbara has accepted the secretary-treasurer duties for the coming season and the remaining executive vacancies will probably be filled at the next meeting to be held April 23rd.

Also on the agenda will be the umpire problem. Last year's source of umpires from Cornwall will not be available and it is expected that the league will locate five or six local umpires to handle the games. The league will operate on Mondays, Thursdays and Sundays.

Appreciation Night . . .

Alexandria Minor Hockey coaches and referees were honored Saturday night at a pleasant get-together held at the Hub hall. The evening, put on by the minor hockey association in recognition of the work done during the season by all the coaches and referees, has become an annual affair.

An evening of dancing to the organ music of Yvon Leblanc was enjoyed and concluded with a buffet dinner. Minor Hockey President Ron Allison and Past President Jim Baker spoke briefly on the past season's activities. Atom Coach Ernie Etherington told the gathering of his win over Arnprior earlier that day in Richmond.

Peewee Coach Wayne Crack described his trip to Lake Placid the previous weekend and the warm welcome his group of players and followers received. Mrs. Mervyn MacDonald, representing the News, remarked that the past season had been one of the most successful and notable for the harmony that existed in the minor hockey ranks.

Broomball Awards Night . . .

The Border Broomball League season came to a close with the annual awards night held at the Glen Robertson parish hall Saturday night. A dinner was served followed by the presentation of awards and an evening of dancing was enjoyed.

MC for the event was Henry Dumouchel. He reviewed the past season's play and reported the league had a most successful season. Henry also elaborated on the increased popularity of the sport and his satisfaction with the progress of the minor program. The junior league was also doing well and was a major step in assuring the continuity of calibre players.

The MC also spoke on the Ontario Broomball Association and the first big Interleague championship tournament held this past weekend at the Earl Armstrong Arena in Ottawa. The North Lancaster team represented the Border League in this 48-team event.

Mavericks in trouble . . .

The St. Lawrence Jr. B league was hit another low blow. Cornwall Mavericks, the team that copped the league championship honors with ease, were suspended from further playdown action.

The Mavericks were fined and requested to post a performance bond for failing to report for a play-off game in Perth, April 4th. The Cornwall team felt the first game should have been rescheduled in Cornwall following the cancellation of the opening game of the series April 3rd due to the snow storm. This incident and other grievances will be ironed out at a league meeting to be held shortly.

Sports Slants . . .

More than 12,000 are now playing competitive broomball in Ontario. The increasing number of tournaments and the start of the minor program will help the sport gain recognition. The Quebec Broomball Federation has recently taken steps with "Sports Canada" to create a responsible organization, with the goal of including it in the "Canada Winter Games" program. . . The Atoms have been the most successful of the Alexandria travelling teams this past season. Saturday's ODHA playdown win was a first for the Alexandria division. . . The Midgets are still active in hockey competition. The team coached by Barry MacDonald is showing well in the Embrun tournament, winning its first two games. Their next game is scheduled for Friday night against St. Isidore. . . Local farm boy Carman MacMillan this week started refereeing in the Professional lacrosse league. Tuesday night he handled the Montreal at Maryland game and Wednesday the Montreal at Philadelphia contest. . . The exciting finish in the Masters golf classic in Augusta, Georgia, seen on TV, left everyone keyed up in anticipation of the coming season.

Bids for arena seating at Williamstown exceed estimates

Tenders opened last week on two proposed projects in Charlottenburgh Township gave some indication of the unsettled state of the economy.

Three bids to install 250 seats at Williamstown arena all soared well above cost estimates and council voted instead to appoint conditionally Ray Kostuck, consulting engineers, as project managers.

The lowest bid came from Entwistle Construction Ltd., for $37,990. Other bids of $42,000 from J. R. Couture and $45,424 from Long Sault Construction were received.

Mr. Kostuck's firm has estimated costs at about $27,500. That figure is reasonable, he insisted. He suggested the complexity of the job and the highly competent workers needed might have scared off some contractors.

A construction company "could lose its shirt on it," he said.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois, in proposing the project management alternative be explored, said the bids were high considering there was no weather factor to cope with.

Mr. Kostuck is to report back to council if he feels that under project management system costs will equal the lowest bid tendered.

However, a set of tenders opened on the McKay-Russell Drain came very close to estimates. Six companies entered bids.

The job was awarded to Gelenex Registered of Alexandria although the company did not submit the lowest bid.

The Gelenex bid was $17,519. Low bid was from Garry Howard of Delta, near Brockville, of $17,049. Estimated cost was $17,040.

Aurele Lajoie, owner of Gelenex, was in council chambers to hear the decision to award him the contract.

The decision was based on his past work with the township and the fact he is a local firm. The ministry of agriculture does not stipulate that low bid must be accepted.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois, who recommended Gelenex be accepted, suggested a letter of explanation be sent to Garry Howard and that the company be asked to enter bids on other township jobs.

It was noted there could be some hard feelings since low bid was not accepted as is generally the case and that the company might refuse to bid on future jobs.

Alexandria rink won ladies spiel at Lancaster

An enjoyable Ladies' Bonspiel was held recently at the Lancaster and District Curling Club.

The winners of the two game high were an Alexandria team skipped by Janette Abbey, with Germaine Lalonde, Bernice McDonald and Karen McDonald.

The one-game high winner was a Cornwall team skipped by Charlene Kaneb with Vivian Webster, Marg Peachey and Emma Farlinger making up the team.

A team from Winchester skipped by Weedema Jennings was runner-up for the two-game high and a Glenmore team skipped by Liz Stewart was runner-up for the one-game high.

Councillor Morgan Major heads Charlottenburgh recreation group

A seven-man recreation committee was tentatively appointed by Charlottenburgh Township council last week.

Chairman is Councillor Morgan Major, at 35 the youngest member of council, and Councillor Gerry Dicaire will be vice-chairman.

Tentatively appointed pending their acceptance are Eric Pilon, St. Raphael's, Marwood Grant, Williamstown, Don Ross, Martintown, Gilles Bourgon, Glen Walter, and Stan Swerdfeger, Summerstown Station.

The committee will meet within the next two weeks to formulate recommendations for the township's 1975 summer recreation program for the next council meeting.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois also urged the committee to "weigh seriously" the possibility of selling old school properties owned by the township at Summerstown and Summerstown Station.

The proceeds could be applied against costs of the Williamstown arena, he said, adding the two old schools are "deteriorating every day they are not being utilized."

Other council members were not so sure selling the schools is a good idea. Councillor Gerry Dicaire said the two schools are well used as recreation centres in both winter and summer by township residents.

But Reeve Gadbois countered that most of the use of the buildings now is for private functions rather than recreational.

Roger Lefebvre, deputy reeve, urged the committee think carefully before recommending the sale.

"There are going to be a lot of objections to the sale," he predicted. He suggested instead only one school be sold, preferably the more valuable property on Highway 2.

Sees more Arab interest in dairying

If people in general are turning toward smaller cars in today's economy, then dairymen are considering turning to smaller cows.

The dairy business has been dominated for at least two decades by a push toward larger production, it was noted by J. C. Drummond, secretary-manager of the Canadian Ayrshire Association, at the annual Glengarry Ayrshire Club held in Martintown last week.

In addition, the Ayrshire breed has had to carry a burden of price structure for milk which saw payments based solely on butterfat content. With a change to payment for nutrient content of milk, the Ayrshire should make a better showing.

But it is mainly as an efficient converter of feed into milk that the Ayrshire men can look for future success, Mr. Drummond continued. Higher feed costs are highlighting the advantages of the Ayrshires.

He urged more attention to breed promotion and testing of herds than ever before, predicting a rising interest in Ayrshires as better feeders and hardier cattle.

Alex Wallace of Smiths Falls, president of the national association, mentioned that renewed interest in cattle to produce dairy products for the Middle East was coming from Saudi Arabia where "They have the money now, and although they never eat beef they want more milk and cheese." Because of the heat and poor pasture they need hardy cattle, Mr. Wallace added.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Glengarry club president Donald MacGillivray of Dalkeith. J. Y. Humphries introduced the head table guests. Entertainment was by Clifton Britton on the violin and Bill Vipond, soloist, accompanied by Hugh Allan MacMillan and Glen Cameron.

Murray Howes, president of the Glengarry Holstein Association; Stuart Buchan, president of the Stormont Ayrshire Club; and Roy Simmons, past president of the national association brought brief greetings and Janet Vallance, Glengarry Dairy Princess for the current year, spoke briefly on dairy promotion.

Jim Humphries was chairman for the awards presentations, and in his remarks mentioned that the Glengarry and Prescott Clubs have "seen fit to join together" to strengthen and improve their promotion efforts.

One of the most outstanding awards was a production certificate for a cow owned by D. J. MacMaster of Alexandria. Although the record was only for 100,000 pounds, not yet unusual in itself, the production was achieved in only five lactations, making this cow the youngest ever known in Canada to reach this production level, in the Ayrshire breed.

Numerous certificates and awards were presented to the McNaughton Cumming family, and J. C. Watt and Son.

The high herd average in the county was won by Herman Groatelaars. R. M. Roy and Tom Curran shared most of the honors for top producers in 1974.

The best breeders herd plaque, presented by the Bank of Montreal, was presented to Ross Rogers of Vankleek Hill; Mode Brothers also of Vankleek Hill, won the Eaton trophy as premier exhibitor at Williamstown; the Simpson Sears award for the premier breeder was won by McNaughton Cumming.

Gordon Sandilands thanked the ladies of St. Andrew's United Church for serving the dinner.

AT AWARDS NIGHT—Bill Gebbie, Captain of the Alexandria Pizzeria team accepts the team trophy emblematic of Play-off and League supremacy in Industrial League Hockey. Making the presentation left is Norman Laperle, League President. The awards were made at the Pizzeria Restaurant Saturday night.

Finished third in Ontario broomball

The powerful North Lancaster Senior Broomball team finished third out of 48 teams in the Ontario Broomball Championships at the Earl Armstrong Arena in Ottawa last weekend.

Cornwall Post Office of the Cornwall Industrial League had a 3-1 finish over Kelly's Hotel, Carlsbad Springs of the Embrun League to take the A championship.

In the Class B, Ottawa Lefebvres defeated Metcalfe 1-0.

The Alexandria entry will be playing in the Lachute tournament this weekend and in Masson next week.

Atoms won ODHA playdown

The Alexandria Atoms have won the ODHA championship. They defeated the powerful Arnprior team in Richmond last week by a 4-1 score.

According to Coach Ernie Etherington, the Arnprior crowd were very impressed with the Alexandria entry. "We played 100 games this season, and only lost 10 so we didn't expect to meet this kind of opposition from Alexandria," stated the Arnprior coach.

The Alexandria Atoms haven't exactly been idle the past season either. Out of six tournaments entered, they won four A championships, and one B and were finalists in one A championship. They also won the SD&G championship trophy.

The ODHA playdown championship has not come often to Alexandria. We remember the Midgets won it in 1967 and we think the Juveniles won it back around 1958 or '59. Who remembers?

New president for Lancaster Legion branch

Postponed for a week due to stormy weather, the monthly meeting of Claude Nunney VC Memorial Branch of the Legion was held at Lancaster last week. Concern was expressed at the sparcity of members attending meetings this year and efforts will be made to increase attendance.

A letter of resignation from President B. Koelmans was regretfully accepted. He is succeeded by Vice-President R. Markell who will be assisted by Vice-Presidents Lloyd Fawthrop and P. A. Bonneville.

Treasurer Leonard MacLachlan presented his report as well as a most satisfactory auditor's report of 1974 operations.

One thousand tulips have been sold for anniversary year. W. Posuk, chairman, reported, and orders are still coming in. Additional tulips are on order and will be available at the branch in lots of one dozen.

Former branch president I. R. Clark has been elected Deputy Zone Commander and he spoke of his new duties to be assumed June 1st.

A new sign is to be erected on the front of the Legion Hall. It will complement the refurbished exterior completed last year.

Attendance prize was won by Comrade Clark and monthly 50-50 draw winner is Mr. R. Lauber of Cornwall.

Special program on vocations

Father Terry Gallagher of the Scarboro Foreign Missions will be presenting a special program for vocations at St. Raphael's this weekend. There will be instructions, films and discussions.

Board will discuss pool for Tagwi

Two trustees will be appointed by the SD&G county board of education to discuss a swimming pool for Tagwi Secondary School with representatives from Roxborough Township.

The township council has not made any firm proposals regarding construction of a pool, but wishes to explore the feasibility of such a project.

Trustee Albert Morin was the lone holdout when the board approved appointing two trustees to discuss the possibility of a swimming pool for Tagwi at the board's regular meeting held at the school last Tuesday night.

Mr. Morin said he had heard "through the grapevine" that another school was planning toward a tennis court and suggested that the board establish a policy regarding funding of recreational facilities such as swimming pools and tennis courts before individual cases are considered.

Director of Education Rosaire Leger said the purpose of the recommendation was simply to explore the viability of the project.

Spring wedding at Dalhousie

CARRIERE—JUILLET

An early spring wedding took place in Dalhousie Mills Chapel on Saturday, April 5th, when Miss Carole Juillet became the bride of Gilles Carriere of Ottawa. Rev. Marcel Ladouceur officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony. Miss Ginnette Campeau was soloist and Hubert Lalonde was at the organ.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Almanzore Juillet of Dalhousie and the groom in the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Floriant Carriere of Alexandria.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a gown of white peau de soie designed on empire lines, with long sleeves, high neckline and skirt ending in a train. A Dutch style cap of lace held her elbow length tiered veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the Bonnie Glen Pavilion Alexandria. The couple then left for a trip to Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a salmon peach polyester pant suit.

They will reside in Ottawa.

Report on alcohol...

convicted persons.

Teenage Drinking

We note that a recent A.R.F. study indicated that the percentage of young people using alcohol at least once during the last six months in Toronto has increased dramatically since 1968.

The following chart shows the increase:

Grade 7	22.9%	51.5%
Grade 9	41.6%	71.3%
Grade 11	59.7%	84.5%
Grade 13	70.9%	92.6%

It is our impression that similar increases apply for Glengarry county.

In our discussion with a group of young people, we learned something of their reaction to drinking patterns in our area.

There is no difficulty in getting served alcoholic beverages "If the bartender can see your eyes, you get served," said one teenager. The group felt that there should be more "Raids" on hotels, and that those who were of legal age did not like seeing other younger drinkers being served in the drinking spot they frequented. We note with interest that this feeling is also shared by adults drinking in the presence of teenagers (whether of legal age or not).

As far as we can determine, the hotel owner's legal responsibility ends only after he has assured himself that a person is of legal age; but it seems clear that legal-age young drinkers would support any action by the hotel owners to refuse to serve underage consumers.

The group felt strongly that most parents would support any police action aimed at young people's drinking, but the group was aware that the police are not visible enough to provide any deterrent value to either hotel owners or under-age drinkers. There are strong indications that increased police visibility would be welcomed.

The teenagers felt that control was possible through the enforcement of existing laws, and that their parents would support stricter enforcement. Parents' ownership of the automobiles used by young people added a significant factor to the teenagers' behaviour; if this group were forced to choose between use of the car and use of alcoholic beverages they would unanimously select the car.

An additional concern relates to the pattern among young people of travelling in cars (and, usually, groups) to communities like Cornwall, points east and north, and Massena, to do some drinking as part of an evening's entertainment. Young drinkers are mobile drinkers, more often than not in a parents' car. This combination suggests that car privileges may be a major factor for parents in changing young people's behaviour; it also indicates the high risk involved in having young people inexperienced at both drinking and driving combining these behaviours. 25% of drivers involved in alcohol-related accidents in Glengarry in 1973 were under 21 years of age.

We found a good deal of "common sense" among the group of young people, and suggest that this common sense be re-inforced and encouraged in any educational program in the area.

Recommendations

i) that stricter enforcement of existing legislation be undertaken with a view to providing some deterrent value to illegal behaviour by both hotel owners and under-age drinkers.

ii) that the community give consideration to 'policing' the hotels and car-drivers under the influence of alcohol, with the consequences that individual citizens have a sense of responsibility for the enforcement of acceptable community and legal standards.

iii) that community support for the driver-education program in the schools be encouraged by young people and parents.

iv) that young people be actively encouraged by adults' examples in setting and maintaining acceptable social standards for drinking, and for drinking-driving behaviour.

Alcohol Education Program

We feel that the educational resources for an effective community program are available in our area, but we are very aware that any such effort needs to be supported and re-inforced by the courts and community agencies. We suggest strongly that education about alcohol use and abuse take place in conjunction with, and as a consequence of, community action and reaction, and not in isolation from such a response. Education by itself is not enough.

We agree that there is a pressing need to co-ordinate educational programs with other forms of community and legal action (e.g. what the courts are actually doing), and suggest a similar need to co-ordinate the varying alcohol education programs already occurring in the area . . . (e.g. driver-education, elementary school, high school health courses).

One of the major difficulties in any alcohol education program for any age group is the need to establish and maintain a credibility. For example, programs that aim only at young people, and ignore adult drinking behaviour. The same principle applies where information about legal penalties is given to people who feel there is a slim chance of being caught. These lose credibility immediately and cannot be expected to have such useful or lasting impact.

We would prefer an alcohol education program that encompassed every area of the community, rather than single out any particular group of people (e.g. young marrieds, convicted impaired drivers, under-age drinkers) for special public attention. We envisage a community-wide, co-ordinated program that would encourage active participation by all interested citizens and groups.

"Scare tactics", "horror films" and other negative material do not have more than a temporary effect on the behaviour of those exposed to it, although it remains true that a personally-experienced, and terrifying event does change attitudes and behaviour. We argue for a community program that is based on a positive, "common sense" approach inviting individual participation.

Recommendations

i) that the Interagency group consider sponsorship of a community workshop about alcohol use and abuse, with a view to undertaking and planning a community education program for everyone in the area.

ii) that no one group be singled out for special public attention or education.

iii) that any and all educational programs be supported and re-inforced by the actions of community agencies and services, and that persons of all ages be encouraged to participate in (and develop) their own educational programs, making use of existing local data and media.

iv) that the Interagency group recommend to the Ministry of Transport and Communication, the incorporation of information on drinking and driving in its Driver Handbook and that some attention be focused on this aspect of driving during the licensing procedure.

Conclusion:

We have refrained from making too many specific recommendations because we feel strongly that the community should have the opportunity to make decisions about its own standards for behaviour.

We would look upon the Interagency group as being the primary moving force in the implementation of these recommendations. We also feel that a community workshop is the best method for the planning and introduction of a community-wide program about driving and teenage drinking.

Thus, our major concern (as we understood it to be reflected in our mandate) had been to present recommendations about reasonable guidelines for appropriate community action.

It is for others to judge if we have succeeded.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Lottery distribution a political plum

Tickets on the first Ontario Lottery draw go on sale today with the first draw to be made at Toronto on May 15th. Then will follow draws every two weeks in series of 90,000 tickets, each with a $10,000 first prize. Wintario officials hope 15 series of tickets will be sold for the first draw.

Thirty-five distributors have been appointed across the province to handle the sale of tickets by some 15,000 independent retailers. Those distributors will receive five per cent of the revenue on every ticket sold and that was an inspired thought on the part of someone on the local Park and Recreation committee that distribution of the tickets here should be in the hands of an Area Council of Sports.

That five per cent of the revenue on tickets sold would be used to provide recreation facilities in the area and that is in keeping with the government's aims. Ontario Minister of Culture and Recreation Robert Welch promises Wintario funds "will aid province-wide sports activities and facilities of all sizes."

How better might that objective be furthered than by permitting local recreation groups to handle the ticket distribution? They would then have the considerable revenue from five per cent of ticket sales, in addition to a possible share of the lottery proceeds.

The Recreation Committee was rebuffed in its first attempt to wangle the tickets and it probably will have no more success in further applications to the powers that be at Queen's Park. Nevertheless it must be said that the idea has merit. Perhaps in time other recreation groups across the province will see the possibilities. If enough pressure is put on members of the Davis Government there could come the day when these distributorships are taken out of the hands of private individuals and given to such community groups as our Park and Recreation Committee.

In the hands of private individuals they will become highly profitable fields of political patronage. Lottery officials expect to sell 100 million dollars worth of tickets a year and that is only a guess; the gross could conceivably go much higher. At that figure, though, thirty-five ticket distributors would be grossing five million dollars a year between them. That averages out at some $140,000 for each and that is a rather generous recompense when one considers the income is assured and the labor involved is minimal.

One need not be a political cynic to see the possibility of kick-backs to party or individual in the award of such plush posts. Each of those distributors could conceivably turn back $100,000 to Conservative coffers and still earn a generous annual increment from that cut on the sale of lottery tickets. Such well-paying posts are not usually handed out to party hacks and it would be remarkable indeed if these plums had gone to distributors of the Olympic lottery tickets with no strings attached.

Passing out these political plums on the eve of an election may prove a source of embarrassment to the Davis Government. It would probably make more political hay by letting local community groups in on the gravy, as our Recreation Committee suggests.

Sooner the better

The Province of Ontario is, at long last, considering legislation under which mobile homes may be recognized as human habitations and their occupants as human beings. The legislation would set up standards for such homes, so that they would not become collections of gypsy caravans, as so many municipal councillors have always considered them.

There may have been justification 20 or 30 years ago for discouraging or even forbidding the establishment of trailer parks in a community, but those reasons have long since disappeared, suggests an editorial in the Wingham Advance-Times. The only thing wrong with trailer parks has been the fact that they were not controlled by either municipal or provincial regulations and so were subject to the varying and often stupid rules set out by owners of trailer parks themselves.

Any legislator who is still unaware of the fact that most young couples simply cannot earn enough money to purchase a permanent home should resign his office.

For many young people a mobile home which contains heating system, appliances and furniture is the only alternative to a tiny apartment with no outdoor play space for their children. Even federally and provincially-assisted home ownership plans are frequently beyond the reach of young couples, particularly if there is a reason why the wife cannot bring in wages.

What, we have wondered in this column for the past ten years, is so filthy about a well-made trailer or the people who choose to live in one? Is there any sound reason to believe that trailer occupants are fly-by-night crooks who will rook all the local merchants and disappear into the wild blue yonder?

The continuing opposition to trailer parks is, perhaps, an indication that all too many of the people who make the rules are personally comfortably well off and have no real understanding of the problems of a new generation of Canadians facing life's responsibilities under very trying circumstances.

A lesson from a three year old

The Journal-Argus reporter blinked a time or two recently when he spied a three-year-old girl struggling home with an armload of broken beer bottles. She looked up at us and said something like "bad things". We couldn't have agreed more, but wondered what age the morons had been who threw the bottles out of cars in the first place.

We suppose the only valid reason for throwing empty bottles out of a car is the fear the John Laws might stop the vehicle and catch somebody with an "empty" which could be used as courtroom evidence? Surely some type of law could be arrived at which would make the punishment of throwing an empty bottle at least twice as severe as "being in possession"?

The amount of damage caused annually to tires, let alone the number of stitches and amount of chip-digging carried out when people, particularly children on the run, fall on glass, must indeed be spectacular. Even in this small town, suggests an editorial in the St. Mary's Journal-Argus.

Indeed, when they are passing out these Canada medals, the first candidates, in our opinion, should be those people who make a practice of collecting bottles along the roadways. A special medal should be awarded three-year-old girls who have more sense than the grown dim-wits who heave glass haphazardly around the landscape.

In breathless anticipation

(Dresden North Kent Leader)

How anyone could consider living anywhere but in Ontario is almost beyond our comprehension. Especially in the vibrant 70's, with all the new goodies Ontario has to offer.

Like a 'frinstance? We now have a Ministry of Culture and Recreation, the job of which, it says in the paper, is "simply to help each of us get more out of life". Certainly it will help some Ontario residents to get more out of life . . . those who will be employed by the new ministry. But that's a snide thought . . . and if we consider all the implications and ramifications of the new ministry, we should easily ascertain that it's just what's been lacking to lift us all from the doldrums brought on by inflation and bureaucracy.

Where else but in Ontario could one get to call the premier and honorable members of his cabinet by their first names? Good ole Bill and his Boys of Blue!

Our system of parliament is based on British tradition. Imagine the consternation Over There if the London Times were to publish a government advertisement, which omitted the title or rank of a minister. But this is Ontario, where Bill and Bob are just a part of one great, happy political family which wants you to be included. Totally ignored, and this is only natural, is the fact that there is another "Bob" whose star appears to be rising to new heights, and who may, just may, have the opportunity to restore some of the dignity our system has lost through this "Call me Bill" blarney. The system may also gain a bit more than dignity.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

IR AS IN IRRITANT

The Rambling Reporter,
Glengarry News,

Just received my favorite newspaper—and I wish you to take the prefix IR in your word "irregardless" and toss it out into the middle of the street where the snow or rain or the traffic will wipe it out and leave you with "regardless" which is a lovely word—and you can write "regardless" 20 times on the sidewalk outside—and hopefully remember.

Yours in fun,
Peggy McLachlan,
LaSalle, Que.

Editor's note—It was unforgivable, Peggy, and our R.R. has promised never to sin no more. Now will you throw out that "hopefully" we hate even worse?

MacDONALD'S CREW

Goderich, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

One of the delights of probing into Glengarry's history is the glimpses you get from time to time of the men from Glengarry.

Ever since Glengarry's land was fully occupied, let us say about 1825, men from Glengarry have gone elsewhere to seek an outlet for their skills and energy, and, incidentally, to make a living. Many of these men did well. After all, they had the advantage of learning how to work in the fields and bush of Glengarry, a stern school that produced good students.

In 1869 Duncan G. MacDonald and Archibald C. Thompson recruited a crew of Glengarry men to work in the lumber woods on the North Channel of Georgian Bay, some 50 miles east of the Soo. (Sault Ste. Marie). They built the first camp in the area of what was to become the Township of Thessalon. Incidentally, Duncan MacDonald was the man who licensed the township.

So much is fact—but as I said at

BRUINS OUT EARLY

Hockey fans had to be disappointed with the results of preliminary round play-off action in the NHL that saw the favored teams eliminated in all four series. This year's play-offs won't be the same with those big burly Bruins on the sidelines and the Rangers' loss to New York Islanders was almost as shocking.

At the rate favorites are being knocked out it's even possible the Canadiens will get taken by Vancouver Canucks, though that team was anything but impressive Sunday night.

The demise of the Bruins and Rangers plus the expected elimination of Chicago and Toronto in this round will leave Canadiens the only one of the pre-expansion teams with a chance to take the Stanley Cup. Detroit was never in the running.

Expansion and the inroads of the WHA have evidently succeeded in watering down the original six teams even more than we'd suspected.

In Boston, hockey fans are probably calling their Bruins has-beans.

NONE OF US HAD A SAY

If, like your Rambling Reporter, you're having trouble adjusting to the new weather forecasts in Celsius, you'll probably be in a mood to agree with H. Gordon Green, columnist in "Crossroads," when he sees no future in metrification. He writes:

My beef with the new measurement changes stems from something far more serious than minor inconveniences such as the learned confusion now given us from the Meteorological Department. I object to the metrification program first of all because none of us was asked whether or not we wanted it. A White Paper was simply slipped through a busy parliament, there was no debate, no sounding of public opinion. In short, though the program will cost untold millions, and the total cost of conversion must be borne directly by the individuals who will be required to convert, none of us has had any say in the matter at all. Just two hundred years ago the Americans fought their most important war over just such an issue.

This new metrification program may seem comparatively unimportant when it concerns nothing but the temperature and the size of our coke bottles, and this brand new crop of bureaucrats who have the job of exterminating pounds, miles and cubic yards are already doing their costly best to sell us the idea that it's all for our own good, and really not too difficult.

But if the Commission really means it when it says that Canada will be completely metric by 1980, it must know that the future shock will be stupendous. Complete metrification would mean nothing less than a whole new map for this country. Consider the effect in rural Canada alone where at least three-quarters of the concessions and sideroads have been the beginning it is just a glimpse. I hope some reader of "The News" may have more—names, a tale or two—an ancestor who settled in the area; anything at all that will help put flesh on the bare bones of the story of what is still remembered up there as "MacDonald's Crew."

Ewan Ross.

CRAFTS SHOW SET

R.R. #1, St. Eugene,

The editor,
The Glengarry News,

Glengarry Crafts is about to embark on the first Exhibition and Sale of 1975 and we are asking for your kind assistance in promoting the forthcoming event.

The Exhibition and Sale will be held in the Hall of the Church of the Good Shepherd which is located at 506-1st Street East, Cornwall, on Saturday, April 26th, between 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

The crafts represented include Macrame, Oil Painting, Handmade Doll Furniture, Candlemaking, Homecrafts and Pottery. As this our first show after a long cold winter, our members will be most anxious to show the public what they have done with their individual crafts during that time.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Church of the Good Shepherd are taking part in this event and will provide coffee, tea and sandwiches to the public for a minimal charge.

On behalf of Glengarry Crafts, I would ask you to make mention of this event through your media in the manner you deem most appropriate.

David R. Shelly,
Publicity Chairman.

Rambling . . .

built a mile or a mile and a half apart. Are they all to be ripped up and rebuilt at a kilometer apart? What of our farms, already measured off in rods, the fields neatly laid out in ten or twenty acres in the east and in square miles in the west? Do we tear up all our fences and move them over to where the kilometeres come out even? What of our crop equipment now calibrated in bushels and pounds?

The more thought one gives to the problems involved the more terrifying the prospects. And who, after all, will benefit? Well American Labour has its own answer to that. It is the big, multi-national corporations who are most anxious to see the metric system adopted, and it is they who have been lobbying for it. Note, for instance, if you are the owner of a General Motors car or truck how many pieces of metric propaganda this firm has sent you during the past year.

As I see it, Canada will be a long, long way from metrification by 1980 or any other year that you or I will see. The U.S. Congress has already turned thumbs down on the idea and American unions have served due notice that if Congress should at some future time try to make metrification law, they will contest the issue in the highest courts of the land because it is their contention that this would constitute unconstitutional interference into the private sector.

And Canada is to go ahead with the plan anyhow? Complete metrification by 1980?

I'll be happy to cover your bet.

Shortage of surveyors delays payments for expropriated land

Opponents to the widening of South Branch Road if successful will set back Charlottenburgh Township's road widening program 10 years, Road's Superintendent Bernard MacDonald, said last week.

"If opposition to South Branch succeeds it will set back road widening projects in the whole township," he warned council.

Hearings recently ended into expropriation of property along South Branch Road for a project to widen part of the road, straighten curves and level hills. Report is expected within two weeks.

Meanwhile, council authorized Mr. MacDonald to negotiate with landowners for the township's ongoing road widening program on the basis of $6 per linear rod.

The $6 rate is the same as in 1974. Agreements in 1973 with landowners were based on $4.50 per linear rod.

Council also learned payments to about 10 Charlottenburgh residents for land taken over by the township during road widening projects up to three years ago will be delayed for some time yet.

Average amount owed is $1,300. Surveyors have been unable to keep up with demand and land to be surveyed as long as three years ago was only done recently.

This has created a paper work backlog with township solicitor Stan Fennell who must draw up new deeds and have them signed.

Council will ask Mr. Fennell to "have the documents finalized as soon as possible" and to send a letter to Queen's Park pointing

Introducing the new Ontario Lottery

"For a buck a throw, she sure sounds like she's a ring-dang-do of a lottery".

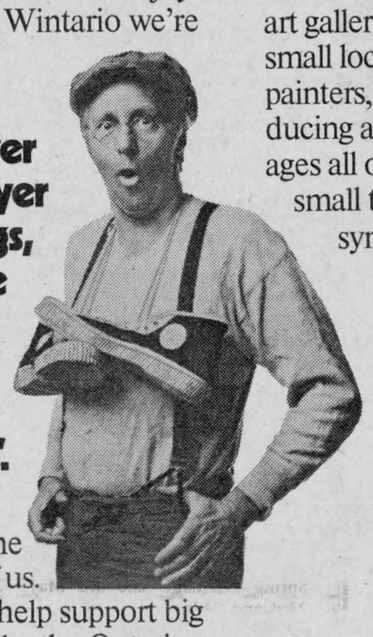
CHARLIE FARQUHARSON
FROM PARRY SOUND

You were never more right, Charlie. We're going to call it Wintario. And, with a new draw every two weeks for a grand prize of $100,000 tax free and up to 1350 other big cash prizes, it's going to make a whole lot of people all over Ontario very happy.

Price of the tickets? Just $1.00. And they'll be almost everywhere. Places like cigar stores, newsstands, gas stations, milk stores, grocery stores, restaurants–that's right, almost anywhere.

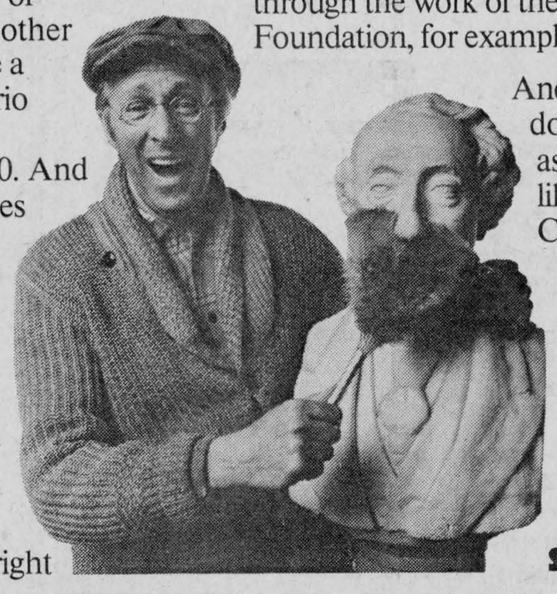
But that's just the beginning. Through the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, the millions of dollars raised by the lottery will help support a wide range of activities and facilities right here in Ontario. Things we can all enjoy. So you see, Charlie, with Wintario we're all going to win.

"Support yer sports and yer physical fittings, you say? About the only thing that runs 'round here is my Allis-Chalmers".



Well Charlie, it's the same with most of us. So Wintario will help support big sporting events like the Ontario Summer Games. And small events like building a new ball diamond in your town. And coaching clinics so our kids get the best instruction. There'll be something for everyone, everywhere in Ontario.

And more, Charlie. Wintario will help support hundreds of historical projects across Ontario. Places like Ste. Marie Among the Hurons, Nancy Island Museum and Old Fort William. And preserving our past through the work of the Ontario Heritage Foundation, for example.



And more, Charlie. Lottery dollars will provide huge assistance for groups like the Ontario Arts Council. For visual arts programs like the McMichael Collection in Kleinburg, big art galleries like the Ontario Art Gallery and small local galleries. For grants to local painters, potters and sculptors to continue producing and growing. And for musicians of all ages all over the province, all the way from small town Barbershoppers to big city symphonies. Plus, money to support playhouse theatres, drama societies, modern and ethnic dance troupes. Charlie, they're all important.

"No question, you gotta preserve yer hysterical sights and yer monumental statuatory".

"Say now, reminds me, we'll be needing a new buffoon for the Parry Sound Sympathy Orchestra".

You've got the right idea, Charlie. Now, be sure you get a ticket. First draw is May 15th and tickets go on sale in April. One way or another, we know you're going to win. With Wintario, we all win.

It's our own lottery and we all win

A minute of silence was observed in memory of the late Mrs. Lillian McLeod, after which the 23rd Psalm was sung.

Ten members answered the roll call with a bible verse pertaining to Spring. The verse chosen for May was Mother or a verse containing the name of a flower.

Mrs. Amy Cullen read the minutes. A letter of thanks is to be sent to Mrs. Moira McLeod, Miss Allison Urquhart, teachers and students of the Sunday School for the good work they did in taking over the regular Sunday Church Service in the absence of the organist.

out the drastic shortage of registered land surveyors.

The problem came to light when Deputy Reeve Roger Lefebvre told council he has been receiving complaints from residents along Tyotown Road that they have not yet been paid for land taken by the township.

He asked if there was any reason payments owed for several years have not yet been paid. Clerk Reg. Gagne expained survey work had fallen behind three or four years.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois said the surveyors fell behind after provincial legislation was passed three years ago ordering all land to be registered.

This resulted in heavy demand for surveyors across the province as both municipalities and landowners sought out their services. Since individuals pay more they have been handled first, he pointed out.

Payments to landowners for property taken in road widening cannot be made until the land has been surveyed and a new deed issued and signed.

Mr. Gadbois said although the township could calculate roughly the amount owed and prepare the cheques, he does not feel this a good idea. "Something could crop up to mess up things," he said.

It was noted that council has budgeted in 1975 about $10,000 to pay for land already surveyed.

Died in Ottawa

Crabgrasses

Yellow and Green Foxtails

With weeds like these in your corn, where do you start?

Start with the labeled Lasso® herbicide tank mix that fits your weed and carryover problems in corn...

Lasso plus atrazine for broad-spectrum control in corn.

Preemergence Lasso plus atrazine tank mix controls major grasses like crabgrasses, yellow and green foxtails, and more. Carryover possibility is minimized because Lasso alone doesn't carryover and you'll use less atrazine in the tank mix.

Lasso plus Bladex[1] for specific weed control with no carryover. This preemergence tank mix also controls many labeled weeds including crabgrasses, yellow and green foxtails. And it is ideal for the farmer who is concerned about rotation . . . because it gives good weed control performance with no carryover.

1. Bladex is a registered trademark of the Shell Chemical Company.

To get all the benefits Lasso has to offer, always read and follow Lasso label instructions carefully.

Crop insurance paying off for many

Due to high planting costs and other associated risks, crop insurance, like fire or auto insurance, is now considered a "must" by most growers with any sizeable acreage of spring planted crops, suggests J. Y. Humphries, Ag. Rep., Glengarry.

Glengarry farmers in 1974 purchased 440 insurance contracts on 17,537 acres at a premium cost of $82,112. The Commission has, to date, paid 158 claims amounting to $199,492.

Many growers anticipated that premium rates in 1975 would escalate due to the high volume of claims in the past unfavorable season.

This has not occurred and actually some important revisions have been made in the plans for corn, spring grain and new seedings. Reseeding benefits have been introduced, the indemnity for unseeded acreage has been increased, and higher price options are available in 1975.

Under the crop insurance plan a farmer is guaranteed a certain level of production depending on his yield and claim experience.

If his actual production is less than his guaranteed production, crop insurance pays the difference at the price option chosen by the farmer.

Price options and premium rates for 1975 are as follows:

Corn

Price option	Farmer prem.
$1.30 bus.	$2.20 acre
$1.95 bus.	$3.30 acre
$2.60 bus.	$4.40 acre

Spring Grain

2c per lb.	$1.50 acre
3c per lb.	$2.25 acre
4c per lb.	$3.00 acre

New Seeding

$17.50 .80

The costs of reseeding and pre-plant benefits are included in these rates.

The final date for renewals and new applications is May 1. Contact your agent now. Agents serving this area are Lloyd MacRae, Bainsville; Florian Bourgon, St. Isidore and Cornelius Willems, St. Eugene.

Robb Mitchell heads calf club

The first meeting of the Glengarry Senior Calf Club was held on April 2nd at the Ag. Rep.'s Office in Alexandria with an attendance of 19 members.

The meeting was started off by a welcome from Glen Smith and our leader, Mack Robertson.

A film on Parliamentary Procedure for a meeting was followed by nominations. Those elected are:

President—Robb Mitchell
Vice-President —David MacMillan
Secretary—Tracy Myers
News Reporter—Cheryl Wightman

The club members decided to have five meetings held on the first Wednesday in each month at various member's farms.

Following the business part of the meeting we had two quizzes on weeds and we decided our project book for the upcoming 4-H year.

Field sprayer clinic to be held here

The Crop Improvement Associations in Eastern Ontario are sponsoring a spray clinic for farmers, custom operators, machinery dealers and persons selling spray materials on Tuesday, April 22nd, at 8:00 p.m., at the Bonnie Glen Pavilion.

Many growers found that their weed control program was far from perfect or desirable in 1974. A number of reasons could be cited for this, including weather, time of spray application, failure to combine the proper materials and machine malfunction.

A number of persons knowledgeable in the areas of selection and operation of equipment and selection and application of chemical herbicides have agreed to participate in the program.

The Ministry of the Environment will in 1975 require operators of custom spray equipment to be examined and licenced. A representative will be present to outline the requirements.

4-H Corn Club elects officers

The organizational meeting of the Glengarry 4-H Corn Club was held in the Boardroom of the OMAF office, April 9th, at 8:00 p.m.

The executive for this year's club was elected. They are as follows:

President—Robb Mitchell
Vice-President—Donald Vallance
Secretary—Donald MacCrimmon
Press Reporter—Tracy Myers.

Under the leadership of John Petrie, this club proves to be a very interesting one, with all members showing a great amount of enthusiasm.

Glen Smith, our 4-H coordinator, along with the members, planned the year's agenda and as part of our project, senior members will be in charge of a specified meeting. As a result, all members will gain a degree of knowledge, and learn how the 4-H motto, "Learn to do by doing," applies to the club.
