Bad Accidents Mar Week-end

Dawson Boy Still Critical After Losing Left Arm In Farm Mishap

John Dawson, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dawson, of Winchester, remains in critical condition at Winchester Memorial Hospital to-day after losing his left arm in a farm accident last Friday morning.

Perhaps one of the most tragic farm accidents to take place in the area for several years, young Dawson was working at the Quartland farm of W. C. MacDonald in Winchester helping load baled hay into the barn. The elevator was being driven by a power take-off and the boy apparently caught his arm in this useful but dangerous device which tore the arm away at the shoulder, badly mangling portions of his body and fracturing his other arm. Working with him at the time of the accident were A. K. MacDonald and Earl Garlough. Their quick thinking in rushing the boy to the hospital within seconds after the accident and fast action by hospital doctors and staff may have saved the boy's life.

He was given more than nine pints of blood and was in surgery for more than five hours as doctors worked against time to save his life.

Just how the boy became tangled with the power take-off was not immediately known. Officials reported it was one of the worst injuries ever treated at the District Memorial Hospital. At Wednesday noon his condition officially described by the hospital was 'slightly improved but still critical."

Former W.H.S. Teacher And Family Of Three Die In Car-Train Crash

A Winchester High School teacher and his entire family were wiped out in a tragic car-train crash near Carlsbad Springs late Saturday morning.

One of the worst railroad level crossing accidents to occur in the Ottawa area, Paul Prud'homme, 27, his wife Magraret, a son, Marc, three, and an 18-months-old daughter, Carole, were instantly killed when their late model car was struck by a CNR freight train about 10 miles south-east of Ottawa on the Russell road.

W.H.S. STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Prud'homme had been a member of the Winchester High School teaching staff for the past four years but had resigned his position here to take a new teaching job at Rideau High School in Ottawa starting in September. He and his family had resided in Chesterville.

The family, apparently all riding in the front seat, is believed not to have noticed the train until it was too late. Police reported that the blare of the radio may have drowned the train's whistle which, according to eye witnesses, blew several times. Brake marks from the car were evident for about 100 feet, and a witness said the car was travelling at a fairly fast speed

CAR RIPPED IN TWO

The car was literally ripped in two and wreckage and bodies of the victims were strewn along the track.

At the time of the accident, 11.20 a.m., the family was on its way to visit Mrs. Prud'homme's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aldege Desjardins, of Carlsbad Springs. They were travelling in a southerly direction and the train was moving towards Ottawa. The couple had been married about five years and Mrs. Prud'homme was six months' pregnant at the time of the accident.

The level crossing where the accident occurred is marked with highway and railway signs and visibility is good for viewing trains up to half a mile on either side of the crossing.

Ontario Provincial Police investigated and the coroner was E. J. S. Major of Orleans.

Survivors of Mr. and Mrs. Prud'homme reside in the Ottawa district.

Robert Sterling Coons Dies In 91st Year

Friends and relatives were sorry to learn of the death of Robert Sterling Coons at his late residence in Winchester on Wednesday, August 1st.

A son of the late William Coons and his wife, Sarah Jane Ball, he was born on February 22, 1872. He was a lifelong resident of this area and engaged in farming until his retirement in 1941. He was a devout member of the United Church of Canada and sang in the choir for some years at Winchester Springs.

He is survived by his widow the former Jeanette MacLean; a son, Dalton; a daughter, Aleitha, and two brothers, Bishop and Arthur. Two sons, Edward and Paul, and a daughter, Bertha, predeceased him.

Rev. D. L. Gordon, of Morewood, officiated at the funeral service on Friday afternoon from the Vice and Craig Funeral Home to Winchester United Church. During the impressive service Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Robinson sang "In The Sweet By And By," a favourite hymn of the deceased, accompanied by Mrs. Howard Fetterly.

Interment was made in Maple Ridge Cemetery. The pallbearers were: Warren Jackson, Leslie Holmes, Mahlon McIntosh, Fred Link, Dwayne Harper and Obele Hansma.

The many floral tributes, gifts to Gideon Bibles and donations to the Bible Society testifed to the high esteem in which the late Mr. Coons was held.

Junior Farmers Hold Judging Competition At K. A. S.

The Dundas County Judging Competition, sponsored by the Dundas County Junior Farmers, was held on Wednesday, August 8, at the Kemptville Agricultural School. The ninety-six contestants in the competition placed and gave reasons on three dairy cow classes, one beef cow class and one hay class.

Making the official placings and taking reasons on the classes were Allison Fawcett, Gerald Kittle, Allan McRoberts, Franklin Milne, Harry Holmes, Lorne Crowder and Alex Skepasts.

Miss Drenna Coleman, of Hallville, won the Fennell Feed Company Trophy which is awarded to the high standing senior in the Competition.

Miss Kaye Smirle, of Morewood, high scorer in the Junior Division, won the C.N.E. Shield.

During the day the members of the Dundas County 4-H Calf Clubs wrote their 4-H Calf Club test.

Prize money provided by the Dundas County Junior Farmers was distributed to the top five seniors and the top ten juniors in the judging competition.

Jim Henderson and Marg McGannon, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Winchester, supervised the competition, assisted by Mrs. Reita O'Doherty.

Township Council Lets Contract For New Bridge

The regular meeting of the Council of the Township of Winchester was held August 7th with all council members present.

The contract to construct the new concrete bridge on the Second Concession Road, Lot 24, was awarded to Sirotek Construction Ltd., of Ottawa, at a tendered amount of $12,452.80. This was the lowest of ten tenders received. Work is to start at once.

A drainage petition to improve the drain through Lots 10, 11 and 12 in the 3rd and 4th Concessions was accepted by Council and referred to the township engineer for his report.

On the advice of the municipal engineer of the Department of Highways, Road No. 15 has been closed to traffic due to the condition of the bridge over the Cinnamon branch of the Castore Drain A new concrete culvert will be built as soon as possible to replace the old one.

Next regular meeting will be held on September 4th.

Fleet W.H.S. Track Star Still Winning

Fifteen-year-old Kathryn Summers may be one of the best track stars ever to come out of Winchester High School, and possibly the district. Much like Mountain District's Marie Hoy, who chalked up such an impressive record a year or two ago, the fleet WHS star, with virtually no training but lots of determination, has compiled quite an enviable record at district and provincial track meets this summer—and the summer isn't over.

Kathryn started her winning ways last fall by capturing local field day honours. She went on to win at the Osgoode-North Dundas annual track meet. Later she won more honours at Kemptville, and only a few days ago walked off with all the honours and a new silver cup at the Glengarry Highland Games at Maxville.

At the Highland Games she took first place in the 60-yard dash, the high jump and the broad jump as well as beating all competitors in the Senior 100-yard dash. This day alone won for her three medals and a silver cup.

This is only part of the story, though. Competing last week at the Eastern Canada track meet at St. Lambert she won more honours by winning in the first heats of her division and placing in the top five with some of the best track talent in Eastern Canada. She plans to return to St. Lambert again this Saturday for further competition.

With no particular coach (she has been assisted by Euclid Forgues of the High School staff) she has natural talent for running and jumping, and much of her training is done at her father's farm along the Nation river.

Earlier this summer at the Caledonian Games she took a first in the broad jump and a third in the 100-yard dash as well as fourth in the high jump to bring home more medals. At St. Lambert in July in Eastern Canadian competition she won a gold medal and a silver medal and placed first in her age group. She often runs in the Juvenile class and in Senior events but she is still classified in the Midget age class. She was picked as the sixth top athlete at St. Lambert last Saturday.

Kathryn plans to return to school this September and she also plans to continue training for future competition. She has a great deal of potential and with the proper handling and guidance she could develop into one of the brightest track stars ever to come out of the district.

Former Mountain Reeve William A. Cameron Dies

Former Reeve of Mountain Township and well known throughout this Eastern Ontario area, William A. Cameron died in Winchester District Memorial Hospital last Thursday, August 9th. He was in his 69th year.

A son of the late John Cameron and Flora Christie, William A. "Bill" Cameron was born in Mountain Township on June 3, 1893. He attended district schools and later became a well known farmer in the township where he was to reside his entire life.

Entering municipal politics several years ago, he first served as a councillor of his home municipality and later as Deputy Reeve before being elected Reeve in 1947. He served the township as Reeve for the next fourteen years, successfully holding the position against all opponents in municipal elections. Ill health last year forced him to retire from further participation in municipal affairs. During his municipal career he was also active in the administration of the United Counties and served on several United Counties committees.

He was a member of the Canadian Club and belonged to Mountain United Church.

Survivors include his wife, the former Irene Loftus, of Mountain; a son, Lawrence, of Mountain; two daughters, Mrs. Nelson Baird, Gertrude, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Lorne Hoy, Mary, of Hallville; two brothers, Duncan, of Mountain, and Kenneth of Kemptville, and five grandchildren. One son, Lyal, predeceased him in March 1961.

Final tribute was paid his memory at the funeral service conducted by Rev. A. C. Adey at Armstrong Funeral Home, South Mountain, on Saturay afternoon. Interment was made in South Gower Cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Wilfred Robinson, Colin McIntyre, Wilfred McLaren, Clair VanAllen, Bill Clark and Sam B. Simms.

The many beautiful floral offerings and messages of sympathy testified to the high esteem in which the late "Bill" Cameron was held by a widespread host of friends.

Robinson Family Holds Reunion

The Eighth Reunion of the Jas. H. Robinson family was held Sunday, August 12th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Hamilton.

Sixty-eight guests, 55 clan members, 8 visitors and five new members were present. Members added were: William Harold Robinson, Michael Lewis, Edwin Lewis, Susan Hammell and Mrs. Orville Robinson.

Visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. Clelland Hamilton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hamilton, Miss Elsie Tribble of Caledon.

Officers for the coming year are: President, Wilmer Hamilton; secretary, Ethel Hamilton; sports committee Hilton and Freida Robinson. The reunion will be held next year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McDonald.

Can You Top This Growth?

An abundant rainfall this summer has at least helped growth conditions, including flowers. This week Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gow, of Williamsburg, report that they have a white variegated petunia which now measures 46 inches across and less than a week ago was carrying 200 perfect two-inch blooms. The plant was raised from seed in the Gow's hotbed and it has been blooming since the end of May. Some Petunia!

The Gows also report that growth in their garden, as in most others, is exceptional. They now have ripe tomatoes measuring 18 inches in circumference — a nice meal in itself.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Howard Morrow of 18 Grove Avenue, Ottawa, tells The Press she has in her back yard a Dahlia which is now more than nine feet, seven inches tall—and growing. It has yellowish bronze blooms and Mrs. Morrow wonders if this is a record?

Big Field Day At Williamsburg This Saturday

One of the biggest minor softball tournaments and field days ever held in the area gets underway this Saturday morning at 10.00 o'clock in Williamsburg. If rain should hamper the proceedings the entire show will be held the following Saturday.

In addition to pee wee softball with teams from all over the area, there will also be a tug of war races for men, women and children of all ages, and a senior softball game between Williamsburg and Brockville.

There will be prizes for all classes including the best decorated bicycle. Other highlights include a greased pole contest, pony rides for the youngsters. Refreshment booths and games will be in operation throughout the day.

One of the evening features will be a tug-of-war contest between members of Williamsburg Township Council and Morrisburg Council.

All prizes for the day have been donated by Williamsburg business men. Mrs. Jean Casselman, Member of Parliament for Grenville-Dundas, is expected to be in attendance and to present the Casselman trophy to the Dundas Bantam Champions. Another trophy donated by Lloyd Eadie of Williamsburg Legion will be presented to the Dundas Pee Wee Champions.

Children are admitted free to the grounds and adults will be charged 25 cents. The big day winds up with a dance in Paul's Hall in the evening.

The event is sponsored by Williamsburg Legion Branch 538.

'Ex.' Starts Friday

Ontario Premier John P. Robarts will officially open Central Canada Exhibition to-morrow, Friday. And this is just one of the many highlights which will be featured at this year's star-studded show which will continue through next Saturday, August 25, Sunday excepted.

Grandstand show this year promises to be another smash hit. In addition to a special French Canadian show the first two evenings the main attraction will run next week when Lonesome George Gobel, well known TV comedian, and Jane Morgan, one of the most popular vocalists of the day, will headline a cast including the June Taylor dancers and the Harmonicats to mention only two of the many acts. As usual, a colourful display of fireworks will be shown following each grandstand performance.

The United States Air Force Band and Singing Sergeants will be back by popular demand, playing at the band shell each afternoon and early evening.

There will be a special ladies' day on Tuesday. Eight new cars will be given away, one for each day, and the big prize this year is an attractive home, fully furnished and a new car. The Ottawa Shrine Club is sponsoring the draw, and it will be conducted in the same manner as previous years.

The big inter-city parade will get underway on Saturday morning, and in addition to countless exhibits and displays there will be a horse show, story book farm, day nursery, a rest centre and, of course, the bigger and better World of Mirth rides and games for everyone.

Special prices will be in effect for children on Friday, August 17; Monday, August 20, and Saturday, August 25. Children under 12 are admitted free to the grounds.

WINCHESTER NATIVE

Fred S. Cass Dies In Portland, Ore.

Fred S. Cass, a native of the Winchester area where he had many friends, died recently in Portland, Oregon. He was the uncle of the Hon. Fred M. Cass, Ontario Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Born September 27, 1878, Fred S. Cass (Uncle Fred to a host of friends in this area who knew him) was born at Cass Bridge, a son of the late Jeremiah Fox Cass and Sarah Jane Jamieson. Until 1902 Mr. Cass worked on the family farm before moving to Pendleton, Oregon. There he was employed on the railroad as a workman and foreman of construction. He was transferred to the operation department as a brakeman, promoted to train conductor and worked as a construction work train conductor on the North Bank Railroad. In June 1908 he transferred from the operation department of the Northern Pacific Railroad to the operation department of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Company. He enlisted in the United States Army in May 1917 and served with the Engineers overseas.

Following an honourable discharge as a Master Sergeant first class, he returned to the service of the railroad company which had previously employed him.

A Christian gentleman, Fred S. Cass devoted much of his later years to humanitarian ways and the work of the church. He was a member of First Methodist Church. For many years he had been active in the fellowship of the Gideons International. He was known for his friendly and sincere disposition which had won him a host of true friends during his long lifetime.

Funeral service was conducted by Rev. Lawrence Nye at First Methodist Church in Portland on Friday, August 3rd. Interment was made in Willamette National Cemetery.

Far From Good

The most recent official estimate of Canada's population provides confirmation of a continuing decline in the rate of increase. The population has grown by over 250,000 persons during the past year, but the total of eighteen-and-a-half million as of April indicates a growth rate of less than two per cent., the lowest such since 1946.

This far-from-good news is attributable to a slowdown in the rate of natural increase (fewer new births per 1,000 of population), a pronounced falling-off in the number of new immigrants, and a simultaneous rise in the number of Canadian residents leaving this country for the U. S. and elsewhere.

The slowdown in our (still relatively high) birth-rate may reverse itself in the not-too-distant future as the wartime babies reach marriageable age in growing numbers. There is less cause for optimism so far as new arrivals and departures are concerned, however.

Last year's total of 71,689 new immigrants was the lowest in more than a decade, but all the signs point to it being even lower this year. At the same time, we are suffering an outflow of between 40,000 and 50,000 persons each year, a high proportion of them possessing skills and qualifications badly needed in this country.

The Economic and Research Branch of the federal Department of Labour in a recent comment on the severe loss of Canadian talent and ability represented by this outward movement noted further, and all too truly: "The loss of a Canadian professional is not necessarily offset by the gain of a qualified professional from Europe or elsewhere, since we are losing a worker who is acclimatized to this country and who is familiar with Canadian industrial technique and ways of doing things."

Canada, with easily the smallest population of the leading seven industrial nations of the world, is in no position to lose her best qualified people. But in the event that the substantial cuts in U. S. personal income tax rates currently mooted do in fact come off, we are likely to find ourselves harder put than ever to hold down the numbers who may want to go south.

As with so much else, the answer to this particular problem lies, in part at least, in allowing the individual to retain an increasing, rather than a decreasing proportion of his or her earnings. One thing is sure: we cannot allow income tax rates in this country to get much out of line with those prevailing in the U. S. without inviting the most serious consequences.

Dobbin's Dwindling Days

These summer days when tractors and other modern farm machinery are doing the chores handily where it once took several heavy teams remind us that Dobbin's Days are over. Perhaps we should qualify the statement by saying that Dobbin's Days are almost over where heavy farm work is concerned.

Once the pride and mainstay of all farms, the horse to-day has retired to the place where he is either kept because of sentimental reasons or for show. True, there are still a few occasions when Dobbin comes into his own. In lumbering camps a few teams are still used and even on some farms a team is kept around for odd jobs. But mostly the one-time heavies are now relegated to retirement and have been replaced by modern farm machinery.

According to the latest figures from the Bureau of Statistics the horse is gradually following the buggy into oblivion. Last year's census shows Dobbin's numbers have dwindled to a mere 512,000 from well over 3,000,000 only thirty years ago—or to little more than one-third what they were even 10 years ago.

Apparently the glue factories have done a thriving business, but you couldn't convince fellows like district farmer Jerry Summers who still takes great pride in his horses and makes use of them regularly, or Frank Ryan who is one of the country's leading horse showmen and horse admirer.

It is not so long ago that every farm prided itself on a span of sleek, heavy work horses. The advent of the new foal was an anticipated blessing as was his gangling frisking in the pastures later on.

So much of Canada's earlier years revolved around horse power that it is sometimes difficult to believe that the noble beast has been almost completely replaced by other heavy farm machinery. And long and hot as the controvery waged in some corners, it was never completely resolved whether horse or dog was man's best friend. For that particular breed of men who spent day and night in and out of the saddle, the horse was favoured by overwhelming majority.

Artists of that day and age painted the horse in all manner of settings as so many of our priceless Canadian scenes so well depict even to this day.

Rarely now does one see a horse at work in the fields. And with their passing also is passing a more tranquil time of human-animal relationship. To-day the pony is kept as a pet, a hobby or a paying commercial business; the race horse is finely bred for the track, and the prize show horse is groomed and expertly managed to bring home the silverware at the many horse shows.

But Old Dobbin, docile, hard working beast that he was, seems to have gone with the times. And many of us, despite our modern day trends of thinking, will regret this passing scene.

Editorial Notes

A reader of The Press and a friend questions the writer of the Seventh Column about his reports of Northern Pike catches in Lake St. Lawrence. Half jokingly and half serious the friend suggests good naturedly that the fish are really grass pike. The Seventh Columnist of this paper has been fishing for the better part of 30 odd years and has had the privilege of catching both grass and northern pike in addition to one or two other species. The chief difference between a grass pike and a northern pike lies in the important fact that "northerns" are larger, averaging between two and five pounds and running up to 35 and 40 pounds, depending on the waters. Their colour is also noticeably different and excepting the spots and one or two fins the Northern has a great resemblance to the coveted maskinonge which is also caught in Lake St. Lawrence. Fishermen who have caught "Northerns" in the St. Lawrence will agree that there are both types of pike in this great river. Pike running better than five pounds cannot be categoried in the "grass" pike class. And they make a delicious meal, with far fewer bones which characterize the grass pike.

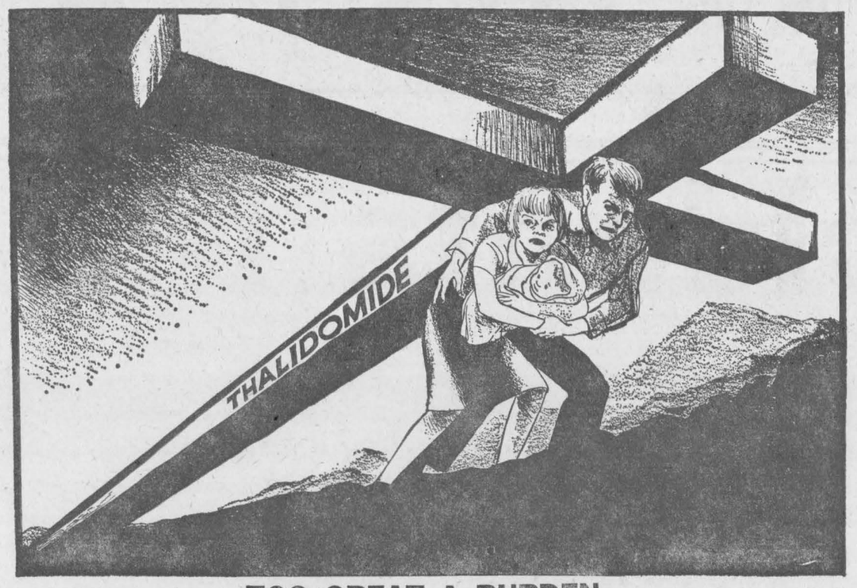
Regardless of their personal opinion most Winchester and district residents will be pleased to know that the North Dundas District High School Board has called for tenders for the construction of the new centralized composite school. The actual calling of tenders has been a long time in coming because of a variety of delays. However, tenders have been called and this marks an important step towards the actual completion of a school which will serve the district.



TOO GREAT A BURDEN

Meditations

BY REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Romans 1:16 — "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."

Today men are power minded. We have powerful cars, planes, tractors, organizations, armies, bombs, etc. Men are getting such powerful weapons in their hands that they fear their own inventions. Yet the drive for more power goes on. Power is the medium for success. Especially the power to strike a fatal blow at a moment's notice.

When we have made our calculations as to the balance of power we might conceivably be mistaken as to who really has it. It depends on the criteria we use to determine this. If we rely on human inventions and skills we are bound to come out wrong for Scripture teaches us, " . . . that the race is not to the swift, not the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding." (Eccl. 9:11)

On the other hand, we would also be mistaken if we concluded that, after all, the use of means (and for today, powerful means) is not important. We are deluded in a dangerous way if we conclude that we do not need power and plenty of it. But we are far more dangerously deluded when we conclude that power alone, that is, the power of human inventions and skills, will give us the victory. Against this kind of dangerous delusion the Scripture warns us. Real power belongs to those who use the power of human inventions and skills in the fear of the Lord.

Ye there is a greater power still, that of God's word. It is the "power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." In this world no power excels it. Those who believe are the mighty of the earth, who possess power that cannot be resisted or overcome, as Scripture teaches, "that ye may know . . . what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power." (Eph. 1:19)

Because true believers are born of God by His mighty power they are the mighty on earth, as Scripture declares, "For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds; casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ." (2 Cor. 10:4-5)

The man who is saved by faith in Christ Jesus has received power that overcomes the world. Believers are the mighty men for they are obedient to the Lord, and through His Spirit and Word masters over their own hearts and minds, able to fight as warriors against the forces of evil men and sin. In the end these alone prove to be the mighty of the earth, as Scripture declares. "And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations." (Rev. 2:26) Here lies the answer to our modern fears and anxieties. We must ask ourselves: Are we the mighty of the earth? We are, if we are true believers, following the Lord in the way of life.

WARPED MIRROR

I well remember sitting in the hearing rooms at Edmonton, Alberta, while CBC pleaded with the BBG for the Edmonton TV license. Others bidding for the license offered more, technically, but the CBC won with fervent declaration that it simply had to have the license in order to interpret booming, oil-rich Alberta to the rest of Canada. At the time, I thought to myself, "Heaven help Alberta if CBC really does attempt its odd-ball form of interpretation!"

It does sound fine, though. Mr. Ouimet, the Corporation president, said that CBC would hold a mirror up in Alberta. CBC had the network facilities, they were the only ones who could do this job.

The BBG, sensing Edmonton's desire to be known across the land, granted the license to the CBC. In bustling, get-up-and-go Alberta, the slow, ponderous CBC took about three times as long to get going as would any private organization. And even at this date, if there has been any "interpreting" done, I must have missed it — and I watch a great deal of television. Nevertheless, I think that Alberta is rather lucky that CBC has been so slow to get at the fabulous job Mr. Ouimet promised so fervently when he appeared before the BBG.

The reason I think Alberta is lucky, is that when CBC producers set about the task of interpreting one part of the world to the other, the mirror they hold up appears to be warped.

An example, recently, was the CBC show, "Background," which purported to tell us all about Sweden's development as a welfare state. The Swedish consul for Alberta, Gunnar Swalander, watched it in dismay. In his opinion, it was sheer phantasy, wrong in just about everything. On top of that, he said, "there was an over-emphasis on sex throughout the program — an emphasis which is not indicative of the country."

CBC's obsession with sex is well known, and their dramatic presentations often reek of it. This is probably a desire to shock, in order to bolster weak ratings. It is a tabloid approach, unworthy of a state sponsored agency, but I doubt that it does much damage, because they get so far out in the sex clouds that the youngsters don't quite follow. More serious, in my view, is the apparent inability of many Corporation producers to do an objective job of reporting.

It will be interesting to see what they do to Edmonton and Alberta when they finally get around to it.

Sugar and Spice

By Bill Smiley

A tremendous change has taken place in summer living in the Canadian small town during the past 20 or 30 years. And, looking back, I'm not at all sure it's been a change for the better.

I was thinking about this tonight. It's been one of those old-fashioned, red hot summer days that seem so scarce nowatimes. Sitting in the quiet, cool kitchen, with nothing to distract me but the moths slamming against the screen door, I got reminiscing about summers back in the twenties when I was a freckle faced 68 pounds of bone and muscle.

In those days, kids didn't come running to their mothers eight times a day, whining, "Gee, what'll we do Mom? There's no fun outside. How about taking us for a swim? Can I have a dime for a dairy queen? Why don't we have a cottage, like other people? When are we going to get a boat," And so on.

Quite the contrary. Mothers in those days parctically had to call the police to locate their youngsters, so that they could drag them in and feed them 3 times a day. For kids in those times, there simply were not enough hours in the day, and night always fell far to early.

For a small boy in those days, there were about 480 fascinating things to do on a summer day. There were no organized little leagues, no organized swimming classes, no organized anything. Everything was beautifully dis organized. You snatched a jam and peanut-butter sandwich in the cool bright of the morning, and took off running.

Maybe you went up to the fairgrounds and played baseball all morning. There'd be about 12 kids on each side, and every pitch every close play, was argued violently, with a lot of pushing in the chest and fierce repartee like, "Oh, yeah? You're nuts! Sez who?"

Maybe you took a swing around by the sandpit, crawled into the carefully concealed cage with the boys, and lay around smoking monkey tobacco in toilet paper, and plotting a horrible fate for the gang in the next block.

Maybe you just sat on top of a stone wall, in the sun, chewing licorice and seeing who could spit the farthest. Maybe you lay on a wooden bridge and fished, the hours peeling off like petals as you watch the dark water below, excitement flaring with the stir of a trout's tail behind a log. Or maybe you swam in the river until your lips were blue and your eyes bloodshot, then lay baking in sun, mindless, following the ponderous dance of the great, white cumulous clouds.

Maybe you had a "feed." First there'd be a round-up of beer bottles and scrap iron and old tires. These were sold and the profits invested in wieners and pop. Then you'd send the best snatcher of the gang to swipe a bunch of bananas off the outside stand at the fruit store. Then you'd all go home and steal (you never asked for it, you stole it) any food you could get away with, and maybe a handful of the old man's pipe tobacco. Then you'd all retire to the cave and have an orgy of food that would make one of the emperor Nero's feasts look like a Sunday School picnic.

After supper, new delights beckoned. You could climb into the treehouse and kick little girls in the face when they tried to climb up. You could play Run, Sheep Run and Redlight in the gathering dusk. You could "haunt" your big sister and her boyfriend as they sat in suspicious silence on the porch.

It was with the sharpest of pain that you heard your mother's whistle or piercing "Yoooo-Hoooo" tolling the knell of parting day. Every mother had her special call and we all knew our own from blocks away. And every father had the same treatment for kids who failed to respond — a hearty clip on the chops. We came home not joyfully, but promptly.

All that has been changed. Kids are all over the country, now, on summer evenings. They've wheeled their folks into taking them to the drive-in. Or they're sleeping in strange beds at somebody's cottage, while their parents sit around knocking back the gin and tonic.

Or the poor little souls are crouched, with vacant stare, in front of a television set, watching a re-run of one of last winter's programs, while in soft, warm outdoors, the birds and the trees and the moon mourn the days when the piping voices of children at play provided a counterpoint to the melody of a velvet summer evening.

The Seventh Column

Just glanced out the window and happened to notice that some of those early turning leaves have started their perennial miracle of changing colours already. Seems this sort of thing is an indication of Fall weather and so far as we're concerned we are still waiting on summer to arrive. Haven't taken an exact count but we can't remember more than two sunny days in a row during the past five weeks. And to top it off, the Rough Riders have been picked for last place. Prospects are not very good, regardless which way you look at it.

A couple of kids down the way landed a big 25-pound muskie one day last week — in an unusual manner. The fish attacked them in shallow water and they stoned and clubbed it to submission. All of which leads us to the point of the weekly fish report for the Ault Island area of Lake St. Lawrence. The fish are still snapping up the trolls but they are not nearly so large of late. No big ones to report and the week-end count including a couple of black bass totalled somewhere in the vicinity of ten. Looks like the fish have taken to the deeper and colder waters during August but they should be back for a good September. Just for a moment or two on the week-end about 50 tourists viewing the Crysler monument which overlooks Lake St. Lawrence probably thought the Americans were attacking the old battle place again. A couple of well known Winchester residents (supposedly fishermen) suddenly latched onto a big strike. Minutes later after reeling vigorously and playing the beauty expertly they were about to dip the fish into the net only to discover it was a big, long slimy eel. That's when the commotion and bedlam broke loose and if you happened to be within a mile or two of the monument no doubt you heard more than one emphatic expression. Several words (?) and a couple strokes of the oar later the eel had been chased away and the fishermen were on their way back to a friend's cottage to gulp down a glass of iced tea (at least it looked like iced tea) to help bring them back to near normal condition. Such is the life of the fisherman!

In spite of the adverse weather conditions tourism in Ontario and particularly this part of the province is really on the upswing. Even several Winchester merchants are reporting the effects of a buying spree especially by our American friends who are, no doubt, taking advantage of the discounted Canadian dollar. Traffic on Highway 31 and on both No. 2 and No. 401 was never heavier, particularly No. 2 in the vicinity of Upper Canada Village and adjacent parks. And this is only the beginning. The future for tourist resort operators, motel owners, restauranteurs and others looks bright.

There's a Pee Wee softball tournament in Williamsburg this Saturday and if you have a youngster taking part in any of the events make certain you attend. The success of the day will be determined a great deal by whether or not you decide to go. From what we can gather, pee wee teams from all over the area are entered in this one-day tournament. The event is sponsored by Williamsburg Legion Branch 538.

It's that time of year again when Upper School (Grade 13 Matriculation) results are made known. For many it is a happy occasion and for all students who tried examinations in early June the results, good or poor, are significant. Our advice to those who may have failed a subject or three is to make every effort to return to school. When it is possible to go to school and the opportunity is turned down by the student in favour of a job which looks nice and rosy right now, the results are often not the ones first anticipated and the decision to "quit school" is oft regretted. Canada, a growing nation, needs young people but more important it needs well educated young people to combat unemployment and to help build a better country. Before you decide to throw in the towel make certain you consider every angle. Ten chances to one you will continue your schooling if you give yourself just a little time to really think about this very important decision.

And finally this week a word about the Ex. No doubt you are one of the many who says "I'm not gonna go this year" but, as usual, end up by going again . . . and again . . . and again. Actually the Central Canada Exhibition is quite a show. No matter whether you have been there once before or a dozen times the Ex. is always entertaining. And this year's grandstand performance should be a real dandy with Lonesome George and Fascination Jane heading the all star cast. See you at the Ex.!

The old inner tube is a favorite swimming toy with children but it can have a tragic consequence, warns the Canadian Highway Safety Council. Usually they are old, patched and weak from deterioration of the rubber. Slow leaks, unnoticed at first, can suddenly become fast leaks in the water. Defective valves, often the reason the tube was discarded in the first place, are potential danger spots. Zippers and fasteners on swim suits can easily rip the tube. The greatest danger is using an old tube in deep water. Sudden deflation leaves the swimmer with no support at all. Non-swimmers should never use any type of artificial float without supervision. On inner tubes or any other device, a bather could easily float into deep water and get into serious trouble.

WHEN WAS A COPPER NUGGET PRESENTED TO A KING?

In 1668, three years after reports of copper finds were sent out from the Lake Superior region by Jesuit missionaries, a "considerable nugget" of copper was sent first to Intendant Jean Talon and later to the French King, Louis XIV.

WHEN WAS CANADA'S FIRST ANTI-COMBINES ACT PASSED?

In 1889, a year before the passage of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act in the U. S., parliament passed an act "to declare the law relating to conspiracies and combinations in restraint of trade, and to provide penalties for the violation of the same." This Act made it a misdemeanour to conspire, combine, agree or arrange with any other person "unlawfully" to limit "unduly" the production, to enhance "unreasonably" the price or to lessen competition on the production or sale of any commodity. In 1892 this Act became a section of the Criminal Code and the offence was made an indictable one. Since 1900, when the word "unlawfully" was omitted, it has remained substantially unchanged. It now constitutes section 498 of the Criminal Code.

WHO ORGANIZED THE DUNKIRK EVACUATION?

An outstanding general, who was to become a Governor-General of Canada, organized the famous evacuation from Dunkirk in 1940. He was General Alexander who, in company with Montgomery, was later to plan the great attack at El Alamein, which proved to be one of the turning points of the war. In 1944 he was appointed commander-in-chief of the Allied armies in Italy and promoted to the rank of field marshal. Alexander was appointed Governor General of Canada in August 1945, a position he filled, including two extensions at the request of the Canadian government, until early 1952, when he returned to the United Kingdom to become minister of national defence. Later that year he was created Earl Alexander of Tunis.

About 50 friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Johnston, Heuvelton, N. Y., on Sunday, for the annual Johnston-Barkley Picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were seated in two decorated chairs at the table which was centred with a large basket of yellow roses, flanked by two beautifully-decorated tiered wedding cakes. Earl Johnston read an appropriate address, and the honoured guests were presented with two chaise lounges and a purse of money on behalf of all present.

Pretty Summer Weddings

Dickson - Dawley

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wayne Dickson

Barbara Irene Dawley and Donald Wayne Dickson exchanged wedding vows in Winchester United Church on Saturday afternoon, August 4th. Mr. and Mrs. J. Dwight Dawley, Winchester, are the parents of the bride, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Dickson of Iroquois.

Rev. D. L. Gordon performed the wedding ceremony in a setting of white gladioli, and Mr. Ralph Fawcett was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. H. Fetterly as organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of pure silk organza and chantilly lace over taffeta, with fitted bodice, lace lilypoint sleeves and scalloped neckline. Sequined lace appliques enhanced the bouffant skirt. A tiarra of crystals held her tulle illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations with ivy and stephanotis. The bride's jewellery was a tear-drop pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Heather Simmons was maid of honour, and the bridesmaids were Linda Dawley, sister of the bride, and Linda Dickson, sister of the groom. They wore identical orchid silk organza gowns with elbow-length sleeves, shirred bodices and boufant skirts with matching headdressses and shoes. They carried crescent bouquets of miniature yellow and fuschia carnations.

Gerald Dickson, of Iroquois, was best man, and the ushers were Dorlan Dickson, Morrisburg, and Glen Dickson, Iroquois.

Following a wedding reception in the church hall the bride donned a beige sheath dress with matching jacket, white hat and accessories, with bronze mums encorsage. On their return from a honeymoon in Western Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson will reside at Bell's Corners, Ontario.

Prior to her marriage Miss Dawley was honoured at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Merilyn Carbino, Winchester, with Misses Marion Holmes and Orma Barkley assisting as joint hostesses.

Several of Miss Dawley's friends at Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Ottawa, feted the bride-to-be at two surprise dinner showers at which she received many beautiful gifts.

Foss - Crowder

Potted green ferns, white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums formed an attractive background for the wedding of Joan Ethel Luella Crowder and Brian Allan Foss in St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, recently. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Crowder, Williamsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Foss of Morrisburg are the parents of the groom.

Mrs. Grace Froats, organist, accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Georgie Froats, and Rev. A. C. Blackwell was the officiating clergyman. Dale Crowder, brother of the bride, and Percy Salmon were the ushers. Perry Smith was best man.

The bride's gown was a model of silk net and Chantilly lace and the floor-length skirt was accented by an overskirt of net re-embroidered wtih lace. A coronet of pearls held her shoulder-length veil, and her bouuqet was of red roses and stephanotis.

The bridal attendants were similarly attired in street-length organza dresses in peacock blue and canary yellow and carried yellow and white mums. Sister of the bride, Miss Elaine Crowder, was maid of honour, while Miss Irene Armstrong and Mrs. Della Murphy attended as bridesmaids. The two flower girls, Donna Hummel and Laura Cruickshank, wore dresses of frilled yellow nylon and carried miniature baskets of chrysanthemums.

To receive the guests at the reception in the church hall Mrs. Crowder chose a blue embroidered nylon ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Foss wore a beige brocaded organza dress, green accessories and a corsage of bronze mums.

Following the reception, the happy couple motored to Cape Cod and on their return will reside at Morrisburg.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Durant, R. R. 1, Winchester, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Mark, of Aurora, Ontario.

Ernest Durant, uncle of the bride, gave his niece in marriage. She wore a bridal gown of English lace and nylon with fitted bodice featuring a square neckline, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, and fingertip length lace sleeves. She carried a cascade of American Beauty Roses.

The bride was attended by Misses Phyllis Durant, Helen Fawcett and Mrs. Hilda Casselman. They wore identical blue lace street-length dresses and carried semi-cascades of pink roses. The flower girl, Rhonda Pemberton, wore a pale yellow nylon dress and carried pink rosebuds.

VanBreugel-Cinnamon

The spacious lawns at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Cinnamon, R. R. 1, Winchester, were the scene of a pretty mid-summer wedding on Saturday afternoon when their youngest daughter, Barbara Ann, became the bride of Adriaan J. H. VanBreugel, son son of Mr. and Mrs. D. VanBreugel of Morewood.

Rev. A. D. Sutherland officiated at the ceremony, and the wedding music was supplied by Mrs. George Cinnamon. Allan Cinnamon, brother of the bride, assisted the groom as best man.

Mr. Cinnamon gave his daughter in marriage. For her wedding day the bride selected a street-length white organza over taffeta dress, featuring a deep scoop neckline, fitted bodice, wide shirred cummerbund at the waist and bouffant skirt. A brief alencon lace jacket complimented the dress. She wore a tiny floral hat, with white accessories, and carried a semi-cascade of pink and white miniature carnations.

She carried a semi-cascade of white and mauve miniature carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cinnamon donned a pale blue lace dress, floral pink picture hat with white carnations encorsage. Mrs. VanBreugel wore a green floral sheath dress with matching shantung silk duster, beige accessories and a corsage of mauve tinted carnations.

For a honeymoon trip through Algonquin Park and points west, Mrs. VanBreugel travelled in a three-piece honey-gold linen suit with logan green accessories and a corsage of tiny pink and white roses.

The young couple will reside at Morewood.

FEED NEWS

MAKE POULTRY, PIG & DAIRY RATIONS WITH HOME GROWN GRAIN

We're fortunate in having a good grain crop in this area—it will help take care of a lot of feeding problems.

Grain supplies carbohydrates or energy but it does not make a balanced feed by itself.

By adding the needed proteins, minerals and vitamins, growth and production can be maintained at a reasonable cost.

Oats and Barley have about 11% or 12% protein but most rations need 16% to 18% protein. There is even more difference in the amount of minerals and vitamins recommended for an economical balanced ration and the amount supplied in grain.

Concentrates provide what is lacking in home grown grain.

FOR LAYING MASH—
Shur-Gain 40% Super Laymix Concentrate. (New grain is not recommended for poultry until it is in storage for a month or two).

FOR PIG GROWER AND FINISHER
Shur-Gain 35% Hog Concentrate
Shur-Gain 40% Hog Gromix Concentrate
Shur-Gain 38% Hog Finish Mix

FOR DAIRY RATION—
Shur-Gain 24% Milk Producer Concentrate.
Shur-Gain 32% Dairy Concentrate
Shur-Gain 32% Dairy Concentrate "A"

FOR BEEF FATTENER—
Shur-Gain 32% Beef Supplement "A"

We have folders showing the amount of concentrate needed for all the different kinds of rations or we will be glad to help figure out any ration you may need.

Have grain ground or rolled and mixed while you wait or delivered next trip your way.

Give us a call.

Nearby St. Lawrence Parks Doing Record Business

Last year the 14 parks of the Ontario-St. Lawrence Development Commission played host to almost a million visitors during the five months of their operation. This year the number is expected to be greatly increased, due to expanding facilities within the parks and also because more and more people are discovering the fun of a family camping holiday.

The parks are open until October 15 and hours are from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. daily. Seasonal vehicle permits are available for $3.00; otherwise, there is a charge of 50c for a daily vehicle ticket. Camping costs $1.00 per day per site in addition to the other charges. There is an additional fee of 25c where electricity is supplied. No weekly rates for campers. At all these parks there is fresh water, flush toilets, picnic tables, firewood for sale and supervision. Overnight camps are located at Adolphustown, Ivy Lea, Brown's Bay, Riverside, Nairn Island, Woodlands (on Long Sault Parkway) and Charlottenburg parks. Parks open for day use only are located at Adolphustown, Brown's Bay, Riverside, Crysler Beach, Farran, Woodlands, Milles Roches, Charlottenburg and Glengarry. Their facilities include fresh water, flush toilets, picnic tables, campstoves, refreshment buildings, change houses and supervision.

WATER SAFETY

Water safety supervisors are on duty at all day-use Commission beaches from 10:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., trained by the Water Safety Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society. It is their responsibility to carry out safety patrols and supervision within marked off swim areas.

In most cases shopping for supplies and food is available near to the parks.

Near Crysler Farm Battle Park, north of Highway No. 2, is a privately operated riding school, the Horseshoe Corral, where horses are available at $2.00 an hour, $1.00 per half hour. Pony rides for children are 25c. The school is open from 9:00 a.m. to dusk. Nature trails have been developed through the wooded section of Crysler Park A large, well-trained staff dispenses information on all of the Commission's parks and facilities at the Information Centre just inside the main entrance to Crysler Farm Battle Park.

MODERN MARINA

One of the most modern marinas in the St. Lawrence system has just been opened on Lake St. Lawrence, just 1½ miles west of Upper Canada Village in Crysler Farm Battle Park. The 300' long dock can accommodate boats of almost any size; Canadian Customs and Immigration have been set up there to facilitate the entry of American visitors into the country. Boat tours are run daily from the marina.

In addition to the recreational amenities provided in Crysler Farm Battle Park, there are several monuments in tribute to the pioneers and soldiers who served in battle during the War of 1812. The green expanse of the Mall leads up the Memorial Mound, atop of which is an obelisk commemorating the Battle of Crysler's Farm, November 11, 1813. The Battle Memorial Building, at the foot of the Mound, houses a mural of the battle by A. Sherriff Scott and wax figures wearing the battle dress of the various regiments. A few hundred yards away is the Pioneer Memorial, a cross-shaped garden enclosed by walls built from bricks, stones and timbers from houses destroyed in the Seaway flooding. Three hundred tombstones, mounted in the walls, represent pioneer families identified with early settlements. Just slightly west of this is the Loyalist Memorial, depicting a Loyalist soldier in bronze, by sculptor Jacobine Jones. Nearby is a monument to Sir John Johnson, Second Baronet of New York, one of the early Loyalist leaders.

Not far from the main entrance to the Park is a Railway Museum.

COVERS 6,000 ACRES

Together these parks cover some 6,000 acres. Within their boundaries lie sites of historical and recreational interest unmatched by any 170 mile strip in North America. Their main facilities, in addition to those already mentioned, include sandy beaches, boat launching ramps, trailer sites, parking lots, barbecues, electricity, public telephones, boat docks, life-saving equipment, security police, playground equipment and fire-fighting apparatus. Parks supervisory personnel in uniform hold St. John's Ambulance First Aid Certificates. Parks regulations are posted in every park.

The Commission, with headquarters at Morisburg, Ontario, operates the chain of parks which extend from the Quebec border to 30 miles west of Kingston on the Bay of Quinte. The Commission also has under its jurisdiction the 19th century pioneer community, Uppper Canada Village, consisting of some 40 buildings representative of the era between 1784 and 1867. The Village is located 7 miles east of Morrisburg, and 22 miles south-east of Winchester, on Lake St. Lawrence. Old Fort Henry, at Kingston, also maintained by the Commission, is an imposing fortress built during the War of 1812; it is now manned by university students in 1867 uniforms. The Village closes October 15. Old Fort Henry, September 16th.

Five Man Committee Named To Study Tourist Industry In Ontario

A five-man committee to assess the present and future role of the tourist industry in Ontario's economy is announced by the Ontario Economic Council.

Representative of the tourist industry itself and of marketing, merchandising and consumer interests, the committee is to be composed of William H. Cranston, Midland, as chairman; Mrs. R. W. Morningstar, Toronto; James R. Meakes, Sudbury; Bert Rumble, Orillia; R. N. Bubbs, Toronto; and T. C. Clarke, executive officer in the Prime Minister's department, as secretary.

Mr. Cranston, chairman of Ontario's Archaeological and Historic Sites Board and a leader in historical conservation, is executive vice-president of the Shoe Corporation of Canada, and former publisher of the weekly Midland Free Press. Mrs. Morningstar, a member of the national executive board of the Canadian Association of Consumers, has been for many years an active worker with this organization.

Mr. Rumble, propietor of Fern Resort, Atheley, one of the province's better-known summer hotels is chairman of the Joint Boards of the Ontario Travel Associations. Mr. Meakes, editor and general manager of the Sudbury Star, brings to the committee not only a broad knowledge of northern Ontario but also of advertising and promotion.

R. N. Bubbs, Ontario regional Manager of the marketing division of Imperial Oil, is a specialist in merchandising and marketing. Mr. Clarke, of the Prime Minister's office, will, with his experience in the Department of Lands and Forests and Economics, provide liaison with various government departments.

Stressing the fact that his committee will be working closely with the Minister and staff of the Department of Travel and Publicity and with other governmental as well as private agencies concerned with tourism, Mr. Cranston issued the following statement:

"Tourism is one of the largest employers in Ontario, and indeed in Canada. It is also one of the largest of our export industries. Any improvement in its function, or expansion of its scope, can not only be of great value in our economic growth but in righting our current unbalance of trade with the dollar areas.

"The purpose of the tourist industry committee of the Ontario Economic Council is to assess all aspects of tourism in Ontario and to formulate recommendations which we trust, may be of some lasting benefit to all the people of the province."

It is anticipated that, starting in mid-September, public hearings will be held in various parts of the province and submissions will be requested from tourist associations resort operators, chambers of commerce, development associations, and other interested groups. Notice of the time and place of these hearings will appear in the press.

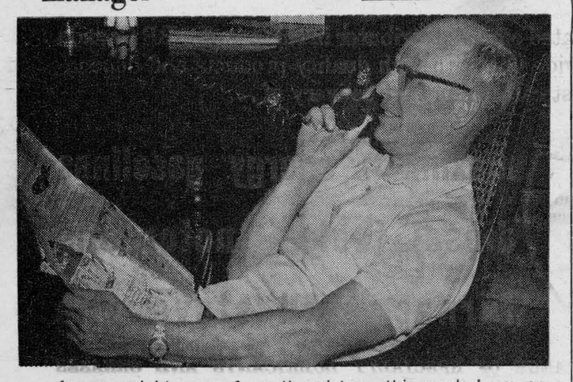
BELL LINES

by E. G. Thompson
your telephone manager



As you might guess from the picture, this week I am enjoying part of my annual vacation at a cottage. While on vacation I still find time for the papers, for information about people and also the items available in the stores. With my trusty telephone near, I can obtain further details on anything of interest to me. In times of illness and need too — it is a wonderful comfort.

A CHARMING PHONE PERSONALITY

It seems that every girl wants to be popular—at least that's what we read recently in one of those frank discussions with teenagers you see from time to time. What caught our eye, though, was the youthful commentator's views on how to develop a charming telephone personality. "It pays to be polite and friendly on the phone," she said, "in that way boys will phone you more often. Be cheerful on the phone and when a boy calls always answer like you're glad to hear from him. After all, he may not be calling for a date . . . maybe he just wants to ask you a question about the local swimming meet. Or, he might just want to chat with you." Then she advised young readers to be careful how they accept or refuse dates over the phone. If you want to accept don't play coy and be hard to get, give him a direct answer, "Why yes, I'd like that very much." If you have to turn him down, however, this requires more tact so that you don't hurt his feelings. You might say something like this, "Oh, thank you so much for the invitation, but I'm afraid I've already made plans for the evening." As a final word of advice she said, "Yaking for hours on the phone shows lack of consideration and does not help your popularity at home or with your friends outside."

EASY TO REMEBER—We recently heard about a forgetful fellow who asked his friend the extension phone number of a mutual acquaintance he wished to call. "It's 5390," was the prompt reply. "How can you remember numbers so well?" asked the forgetful one. By tying them in with something specific," said the friend. We wonder how that method works with wives' birthdays. Speaking personally though, when it come to phone numbers we'll stick to the old fashion tried and true method of looking the number up . . . it's safer!

Country Calendar Will Study W. I. Activity

On a Friday night in February, 1897, at Stoney Creek, Ontario, 101 women crowded into Squires' Hall to hear a speech by Adelaide Hunter Hoodless on the need for a national rural women's organization.

From this beginning the Federated Women's Institute has grown to 94,000 members in Canada and 6½ million members in 27 countries.

CBC-TV's Country Calendar will examine this historic beginning, the growth, and accomplishments of the W. I. over the years, on Sunday, September 2nd. at 4 p.m. EDT on Ontario and Quebec stations.

The program will also be seen on stations in the Prairies on September 2nd. Stations in British Columbia, the Maritimes and Newfoundland will carry the program on Sunday, August 26. Check local station listings for times.

Guests appearing on the program include Mrs. James Haggerty, of Napanee, Ont., national president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada, and Mrs. L. G. Lymburner, of Port Colborne, president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario.
