Whiteouts on highway result in six car pile-up

Bad weather conditions are being blamed for a multi-car pile-up Sunday morning that injured four and caused damage estimated at more than $16,000. Blowing snow that caused police to close Highway 34 to travel for a time Sunday was blamed for the pile-up.

Lancaster OPP report that Jean Claude Lalonde, 28, of RR 2 Vankleek Hill was driving a 1983 Mercury south on Highway 34, north of Alexandria, when he struck the rear of another southbound vehicle, a 1973 Chevrolet, driven by Raoul Lalonde, 71, of Alexandria.

A third southbound vehicle, a 1981 Chevrolet driven by Sylvio Gauthier, 44 of St. Bernardin, struck the Lalonde vehicle and a fourth southbound vehicle, a 1979 Oldsmobile driven by 26-year-old Michel Lefebvre of Alexandria, ran into all three disabled vehicles.

Mr. Lalonde sustained minor injuries and was taken to Glengarry Memorial Hospital for treatment. Damage to the Raoul Lalonde vehicle is estimated at $500, $2,000 to the other Lalonde vehicle, $1,500 to the Gauthier vehicle and $4,000 to the Lefebvre vehicle.

While the cars were sitting on the road a northbound vehicle, a 1973 Chevrolet driven by Gilles Deguire, 24 of Alexandria, could not stop in time and struck the Jean Claude Lalonde vehicle.

Two passengers in the Deguire vehicle, Kimberly McDonald, 14, of RR 2 Alexandria and 24-year-old Rejean Duperron of Alexandria, received minor injuries and were treated at Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

Damage in the second accident was estimated at $2,500 to both vehicles.

Before the roadside mess could be cleared away, a sixth vehicle became entangled.

While Mr. Gauthier was walking north, attempting to warn on-coming cars, he was struck by a southbound 1981 Honda, driven by 20-year-old Andrew Lefebvre of St. Andrews.

After striking Mr. Gauthier the Lefebvre vehicle skidded into Mr. Gauthier's car.

Mr. Gauthier suffered minimal injuries and was transported to Glengarry Memorial Hospital by police. Damage in the accident was set at $1,000 to Gauthier's car and $2,500 to the Lefebvre vehicle.

North Lancaster man escapes injury as train slams into side of milk truck

GLEN ROBERTSON — A North Lancaster man escaped injury Friday morning when the milk truck he was driving was struck by an eastbound VIA passenger train, one mile east of Glen Robertson.

Lancaster OPP report that a milk truck, driven by Robert Cousineau of RR 1 North Lancaster, had been crossing the tracks at the Lot 4 Concession 2 farm of Kerl Seel, when the truck partially slid off the crossing and became stuck.

The force of the collision between the train and the truck sent the truck flying and it landed in the northeast ditch. Police say Mr. Cousineau climbed out of the truck and managed to scramble to safety when he saw the approaching train.

Although Mr. Cousineau was uninjured, 11 of the 134 Montreal passengers were shaken up, although none required medical treatment.

Mr. Cousineau told The News he thought some fresh fallen snow on the tracks had been responsible for the truck sliding off.

"I was going over the tracks up to the farm to pick up the milk," he said. "A little bit of snow had fallen the night before and that made it slick. The right wheel slid off and went in the ditch."

Mr. Cousineau got out of the truck to see what he could do, but within minutes he saw the light of the approaching train.

"I took off up the lane," he said. "I didn't stick around. I'll tell you, that trailer didn't even touch the ground (when the train hit it)."

Aside from the damage to the truck and the train, Mr. Cousineau said he had been carrying about 10,000 litres when the accident took place.

When asked if he had ever gone through a similar experience Mr. Cousineau replied, "no, and I hope it doesn't happen again."

While he admits he is still getting over the experience, Mr. Cousineau vows he'll return to his milk run.

"I'm taking a few days off now because my wife is in the hospital," he said. "I'm still a little shaky, but at least I wasn't in the truck. It could have been worse. I'll drive again."

Damage to both the train and the truck is estimated at $50,000. The train was delayed for about an hour before it was allowed to continue on its way. The milk truck was owned by Walter Cousineau of North Lancaster.

Cst. Chris McDonell investigated the accident.

$100,000 DAMAGE—Police say a milk truck-train collision Friday morning east of Glen Robertson caused approximately $100,000 damage. The driver of the truck, Robert Cousineau of North Lancaster, was not injured in the accident. The truck became stuck on the rail crossing and was hit by an eastbound VIA passenger train. Eleven train passengers reported suffering minor injuries. Later in the day tow trucks were still trying to pull the truck out of a nearby ditch.

Village reeve confident that OPP detachment will remain in area

MAXVILLE—If all goes according to plan Maxville OPP headquarters for the next year will be located in the village office on Mechanic Street, and the village office will find a new home in either one of two locations on Main Street.

In a statement to The News Monday, Maxville Reeve George Currier expressed "confidence" that the OPP will remain in the area.

"Our intention," he said, "is to build a new detachment headquarters in Maxville."

As far as next month's move is concerned, Mr. Currier does not foresee any problems. The detachment of one corporal, eight constables and one civilian has long shared building space with the hardware store on Main Street. Over the last 10 years many plans made to build a new headquarters never left the planning stages. Then, last fall, when SD&G MPP Noble Villeneuve announced a new home for the OPP, time for Maxville council began to run out. With the current lease expiring at the end of March there follows the possibility that the detachment responsible for patrolling sections of Highways 417 and 43 would temporarily locate in Lancaster.

The implication of this move, according to Mr. Villeneuve, was "remote policing" with possible community loss of its detachment altogether. This prompted Maxville residents to forward a petition to council demanding immediate action to keep the OPP in the community.

During the first week of February Mr. Villeneuve and council members formed a delegation and met with the solicitor general at the Rural Ontario Municipalities Association (ROMA) convention in Toronto. Possible accommodation sites within the village of Maxville were explored. To date, there are four sites under consideration for the new OPP headquarters. However, council still needs time to initiate building proceedings.

With only a month left on the current lease (OPP's) and residents demanding action, Councillor Bill Campbell admitted a "gun's to our head" situation exists.

Added to the headache were unsubstantiated rumors by local residents blaming councillor Bill Wright for the detachment's possible move from the area.

Mr. Wright, who owns the building housing the detachment, told council members he wanted to "set the records straight." He said he was prepared to extend the lease until the end of the year, provided council be given time to facilitate another location within the community.

"Let's show them we're going to do something," he said.

In a "last straw" effort, council suggested giving up their village office as a temporary location.

A meeting with OPP officials last Wednesday to discuss this possibility netted positive results.

Mr. Currier said he was sure the present lease on council's rented office could be renegotiated to accommodate the new tenants.

Although an absolute confirmation on the move has not been given, Mr. Currier feels confident that everything will work out as planned.

"We worked very hard on this," he said.

Maxville Corporal John Mesich, away for two weeks, was not available for comment.

Mr. Villeneuve says the detachment's current landlord has not been unreasonable and is willing to extend the lease, but

Villeneuve says chances 'excellent' for free OPP policing in Alexandria

Though everyone is still waiting for a written commitment, it now appears certain the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) will be patrolling the streets of Alexandria later this year.

There is an excellent chance OPP coverage will be provided free of charge to the town, as in many other municipalities of fewer than 5,000 people, according to Noble Villeneuve, MPP.

The town would be saving at least $200,000, representing the annual cost of operating its existing municipal force. In turn, the Ontario government would be expected to eliminate its per capita grant to the town for policing, amounting to about $40,000 a year.

Led by Mayor J. P. Touchette, chairman of the Alexandria Police Commission, the town has been trying to disband its five-man force in favor of the OPP for more than 10 years. An OPP corporal has been serving as acting chief of the department for several years.

In recent months, following a letter from local police association members expressing concern about their job security, Mr. Villeneuve has taken the lead in negotiations with the solicitor general's office. At the same time, the MPP has been trying to establish a new headquarters for the Maxville OPP, to ensure that community will not lose its detachment.

Some major issues still have to be resolved before the OPP can move into town, however. On the top of Mr. Villeneuve's priority list is his stated concern over the future careers of the four constables now employed by the local department.

There have been strong indications most of the men would be accepted into the ranks of the OPP, but they remain concerned about seniority and the possibility of transfers. Mr. Villeneuve says a fair settlement has to be reached with anyone who might not be employed by the provincial force.

Everyone involved is paying close attention to continuing negotiations in Arnprior, where plans to disband the municipal force in favor of the OPP have been stalled by disagreements over the treatment of officers who would be left without jobs.

Whatever settlement is finally reached in that Ottawa Valley community would likely serve as the model for any necessary agreement in Alexandria, according to both Mr. Touchette and Mr. Villeneuve.

Cst. Roger Levert, president of the Alexandria Police Association, told The News most of his members are in favor of the OPP taking over and do not want to put up any roadblocks. Some of them feel there will be more opportunity for career advancement with the larger force.

The association will do all it can to make sure all its members are treated fairly, however, whether or not they are accepted by the OPP, he added.

No decision has been taken concerning the size of detachment the OPP would maintain in Alexandria, if any. The town could be patrolled from one or more neighboring detachments or a "store front," sub-detachment could be established, operating under the direction of the main detachment in Lancaster, says Mr. Villeneuve.

The MPP says he would prefer to see the main detachment for Glengarry County installed in Alexandria, with sub-detachments in Lancaster and Maxville. The town is the main population centre in the county, he said, and is central to the full coverage area.

At the same time, he would like to see Maxville's detachment expanded, assuming responsibility for Roxborough Township from the Long Sault detachment.

Should the main detachment

Lights, cameras, Alexandria

While it certainly isn't Hollywood, the community of Alexandria could soon find itself up there on the silver screen.

A Toronto area film production firm, Conservision, has approached the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce to discuss the possiblility of doing a television program on the town.

Chamber President Pierre Aubry made the announcement Monday evening during the group's annual meeting. Mr. Aubry said the firm is going to produce 13 episodes, to be shown on English television, dealing with various communities.

"Each program will explore one town," Mr. Aubry said, "and they've picked Alexandria as a possible site for a production. The chamber has decided to take it on and give them what help we can."

So far the company has a list of 20 communities, so before production can begin the list must be shortened by seven. In spite of that, Mr. Aubry was confident that Alexandria would end up being one of the 13 chosen.

"We're on the list and fighting hard to be one of the 13," he said. "It will be a bonus for Alexandria and will be a valuable addition to our overall plan of promoting the town."

OMB hearing delayed after errors made

by Joanne Stevenson

NORTH LANCASTER—An Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) hearing dealing with the possible expansion of a Dalhousie Mills wrecking yard had been postponed indefinitely because of misspelled names.

The hearing on the Seguin wrecking yard, which was to have been held February 12, was adjourned early because its chairman Colin Charron was not satisfied with the affidavit presented by Lancaster township's solicitor Gary Stevenson.

No date for another hearing has been set and a two and a half to three month delay is expected.

According to Dave Henderson, spokesman for the OMB, the township is responsible for sending out notices to property owners within a specified radius of the Seguin wrecking yard. The notices would inform them of the Seguin request for re-zoning and an amendment to the official plan as well as naming the time and date of the hearing.

The township solicitor presented the panel of two lawyers conducting the hearing with affidavits affirming the municipality had properly carried out its responsibility. A list of neighbors' names and addresses was presented.

The dissenting neighbors had earlier mailed a peitition with their names to the OMB.

When Mr. Charron compared the two lists, he noticed some discrepancies and would not proceed further with the hearing.

One discrepancy involved a property owner whose permanent

Negotiations ending

Negotiations between Alexandria and neighboring Lochiel and Kenyon Townships over the town's wish to annex rural land are proceeding well and should be completed "in a couple of months," Mayor J. P. Touchette said Tuesday.

The mayor refused to reveal details concerning the negotiations, insisting the series of meetings chaired by a provincially appointed mediator must remain secret.

Nor would he predict whether the three municipalities would actually reach an agreement regarding the annexation request. He would only say a "decision should be made" after two more meetings. That decision could be to sign an agreement or simply to agree that no settlement is possible and to hand the matter over to the Ontario government for a binding decision.

GMH team to compete

A four-person team from Glengarry Memorial Hospital will be in Cornwall this weekend defending its title in the annual CPR Marathon at the Brookdale Mall.

Nine teams from throughout Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties will be competing in the marathon, which runs from 12 noon until 4 p.m.

The teams divide into two-person shifts, working 20 minutes at a time, applying cardio pulmonary resuscitation to mannikins. The teams are judged three times an hour and awarded points for most effective CPR.

The teams are sponsored, with money raised for the Ontario Heart and Stroke Foundation. In addition to winning the competition, the Glengarry team raised $400 for the foundation's Glengarry chapter last year.

Members of the Glengarry Memorial team are Maurice Menard, Patricia DenOtter, Melba Murray and Micheline Jeaurond.

Two new stores open in Alexandria

Alexandria's business community continues to grow.

On February 7 Rejean Paquette presided at the official opening of Glengarry Automotive Supplies, located at 400 Main Street North.

Mr. Paquette, who also owns Glengarry Truck Centre Ltd. and J and E Garage, opened his doors for business in the former Richard Ranger Carpet Centre building north of the tracks.

The store, with a staff of three, carries a full line of auto parts and some farm machinery parts.

A second store, Pro Photo Lab, will open its doors to the public Thursday morning.

The shop, operating under the franchise of KISS Photo, will be operated by Robert and Linda Gauthier. It will open up on Main Street South, next door to Lise's Contracting.

Mr. Gauthier, who works full--time at Glengarry Transport Limited, said that while the store will be a joint effort, it will be his wife who will handle the day to day counter duties.

"I've always been interested in photography," Mr. Gauthier said. "Ever since I was in Grade 7. It's alway been a hobby of mine."

The new store promises a full line of cameras and photographic equipment and supplies and a one-hour film development service.

GRAND OPENING—Alexandria Mayor J.P. Touchette wasn't applying for a job when he cut this carpet on Friday. Mr. Touchette was on hand to help officially open the new Richard Ranger Carpet store. Jacques Trottier will serve as vice-president and the secretary will be Ken Morris.

Directors for the coming year will be Claude Poirier, Oakley Bush, Terry Connolly, Pierre Miron, Lindsay Cameron, Agnes McDonald, Ray Whippey and Richard Ranger.

Man jailed for fraud

A Cornwall man was sentenced to 80 days in jail and placed on probation for two years Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after pleading guilty to two counts of fraud.

Gerry Andre Gareau, 18, of 253 Second St. W., was charged August 2 in Alexandria.

Court was told Mr. Gareau had stolen blank cheques and forged two cheques in the amounts of $75 and $172.

Judge Jean-Marie Bordeleau ordered the man to pay restitution.

The accused, who has a previous record, will serve his jail sentence on weekends

Maxville won't give any guarantee

by Sybil Carello

MAXVILLE — The Maxville lagoon site project although cloaked in a web of closed council meetings and "no comments" for the past two months, still occupies a great deal of thought for the St. Elmo West families whose property was earmarked as the best suitable land for the project.

Although verbally assured by Maxville council that part of Cameron MacGregor's property will not be used for a sewage lagoon, nothing short of a written agreement, legal and binding, will make the family breathe easier.

And this assurance according to Maxville Reeve George Currier, will not be forthcoming.

He said council would send the MacGregor family a letter outlining the reasons why the municipality cannot give a written guarantee.

The MacGregors have written two letters to Maxville council requesting written verification of a verbal assurance made at the beginning of the new year. The first letter did not come up during the open portion of the regular January meeting. The second letter sent by the family asked if they could meet with council to discuss the matter openly during the regular Feb. 12 meeting. Although this meeting held no closed session, again the letter did not come up during the reading of correspondence, nor was the family contacted by letter or phone.

Stepdancing, fiddling

The Sixth Annual Stepdancing and Fiddling Contest and Dance, sponsored by the Bonnie Glen, will take place on Saturday, February 23.

Registration starts at 3 p.m. with the contest getting under way at 4 p.m. A dance will follow the competition at 9 p.m.

Classes for stepdancing are eight and under, 12 and under and open. Classes for fiddling are 45 and over and 21 and under.

Increased prize money has organizers expecting more entries and a higher level of competition.

Junior fiddlers will be competing for the Bobby Lalonde Trophy and Bob Ranger will be the house fiddler and accompany the stepdancers.

Music at the dance will be provided by all the fiddlers, plus a bass and piano player.

Council opens tenders

by Joanne Stevenson

WILLIAMSTOWN — At its February 12 regular meeting, Charlottenburgh council gave its approval for fundraising events scheduled in 1985 by the Glengarry Heart and Stroke Foundation.

Tenders for quarry stone for township roads were opened. The 1985 contract was awarded to A. L. Blair Construction Limited of Moose Creek.

Council reviewed the report from the museum committee outlining this year's success enjoyed by the Nor'Westers and Loyalist Museum in Williamstown. Council agreed to send the committee a note of congratulations.

Township Road Superintendent and Bylaw officer Howard Rose has been added to the Industrial Committee.

A motion was passed declaring council in favor of a new bridge and dam for Martintown.

The regular council meeting has been rescheduled from February 25 to March 5 because councillors will be attending the Good Roads convention to be held late this month.

Alexandria C of C had good year

It's been a good year for the Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce and its president promises that 1985 will be even better.

Pierre Aubry, speaking Monday evening at the chamber's annual meeting, said there had been some problems getting organized for a membership drive, but he said the bugs had been worked out.

"We're doing much better now," Mr. Aubry said. "We've sent out about 260 (membership) notices. We had 54 members in 1984 and I hope this year we can attain a membership of 100. With a little aggressiveness I think we can do it."

In listing the chamber's activities for 1984, Mr. Aubry pointed to its sponsorship of a tax seminar, its help with bringing a Community Service Order program to Alexandria, and presenting a brief to the Ontario Electoral Boundaries Commission in May.

The accomplishment Mr. Aubry was most proud of was "putting (the chamber) on its feet from an organizational point of view."

In the past year committees have been formed to study the town's industrial policy, to improve the image of Main Street and to promote the town.

Viau, Leroux win contest

Rita S. Viau of RR 2 Green Valley won first prize in Count the Hearts contest, sponsored by The Glengarry News.

Mrs. Viau wins $25 for her correct entry of 349 hearts. A second prize of $10 went to Caroline Leroux of RR 2 Apple Hill.

The News received 85 entries and the draw was made on February 19 by Robert Vander Haeghe.

residence was in Pointe Claire, Quebec. Clerk Mike Samson, noting the information from the assessment roll, therefore mailed the notice to Pointe Claire. However, the petition listed the ratepayer's address as North Lancaster. According to deputy-reeve Bernie McDonell, who was present at the hearing, Mr. Charron assumed these were two different people who both should have received notices. This same ratepayer was sent a notice with a different first name than the one shown on the petition.

Confusion arose again when Esther Dumoulin, owner of the Auberge de Flandres restaurant in Dalhousie Mills, received her notice under the name Estiere Dumoulin.

Mr. Charron did not feel confident all the property owners concerned had been notified. The OMB hearing was adjourned with no date set for the next meeting.

The OMB panel decided the township would be required to pay the expenses for the solicitors of the Seguins and the neighbors. Costs of $150 each were awarded to both solicitors.

While members of township government and others in attendance were reluctant to be quoted, many felt the chairman was too demanding in his requirements. Although problems of name and address may result in confusion in a larger municipality with many people with similar names, it was felt this was not the case in Lancaster and the township had indeed notified the proper people and the hearing could have been allowed to continue.

The MPP said he is hoping to see tenders called for a new building this spring or summer, fore the end of the year.

In an earlier interview, Mr. Villeneuve also said he wanted to see the detachment not only remain in Maxville but expanded, with the added responsibility of policing Roxborough Township, now covered out of Long Sault.

Ontario pork producers set sights on $16 billion food service industry

While Ontario pork producers might know they have a good product on their hands, an official of their marketing board says they must get that message across to those in the food service industry.

Keith Overbaugh, director of food services with the Ontario Pork Producers' Marketing Board, told local pork producers Monday at the Glengarry Pork Producers annual meeting, that a better selling job was needed for pork.

"We have to push to make a bigger impact in the food services industry," Mr. Overbaugh said. "We have to pay attention to that industry and work out a plan to see how we can make a bigger and better showing in the industry."

The stakes in the game are massive. In 1962 Canadians spent an estimated 12 per cent of their food dollar away from home. This year industry experts say that figure will have climbed to 35 per cent, or $16.7 billion.

Mr. Overbaugh, whose job it is to get pork and pork dishes on cafeteria and restaurant menus, joined the board in September and he spent the first month on the job talking with those in the industry finding out what they thought about Ontario pork.

He was told pork was a profitable dish to serve and it was versatile, but for some reason there was still something that was working against the product.

"There are a lot of little reasons," he said, "but they all boil down to one thing and that is the image of pork. I talked to some people at Canada Packers about the image problem and they said pork is not quite fashionable enough. That is the area we must attack. We've got to push sex appeal, glamor, charisma. We're not really as fashionable as some food items in a restaurant. When it comes to changing attitudes, you're looking at a big project."

While it might be a big project, the marketing board has not shied away and has launched a full scale promotion campaign designed to put pork on the fork of Ontario diners.

The board has developed a promotion kit that it is making available to those in the food service industry. The kits include everything from buttons, to recipies to after dinner chocolates in the shape of a pig.

The board is working in conjunction with others in the meat industry to promote the product. Right now 120 Canadian Packers salesmen are armed with pork promotion kits and within the next few weeks Mr. Overbaugh predicts that number will jump to 200.

"If we are going to do something, we'll do it right," he said. "They'll be no halfway measures. Mediocrity is what's expensive. If we're really going to make an impact, then we've got to spend the money wisely."

With so many pork producers operating in the province, Mr. Overbaugh called on the farmers themselves to turn into promotion men and to boost their own product.

"There are 16,000 pork producers in the province," he said. "Most are married so that's about 30,000, and most have at least one child so that's about 50,000. If you eat out at least twice a year that's 100,000 meals.

"You can have a major influence," he said. "I hope you'll take up this challenge. Go out this year and support those establishments that are willing to support your product.

Dalkeith man receives probation for sexual assault

by Peter Conway

A Dalkeith area man was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation three years Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after pleading guilty to a sexual assault charge.

Rodney Everett Nixon, 20, was charged September 9 last year in Lochiel Township.

Court was told the accused had sexually assaulted a six-year-old girl near his home. The victim's name cannot be revealed because of her age.

Defense counsel Hal Sherwood told the court that Mr. Nixon was of limited intelligence and did not know what he was doing at the time of the incident and incarceration would not be a suitable sentence for the accused.

"Rodney had a lot of difficulty in school and growing up. What we're dealing with here is a young person who didn't realize the wrongfulness he was doing at the time. There are areas he needs help, but mostly it's in growing up. This is not a case that involves incarceration. It's his first offence and we are dealing with a youthful offender," said Mr. Sherwood.

"Incarceration wouldn't help him or the community. Rodney has not been a problem in the community. Since the incident he's been working," added Mr. Sherwood.

After the sentence was handed down, court was told Mr. Nixon would follow a rehabilitation and treatment program.

Judge Jean-Marie Bordeleau praised Sherwood and Crown Attorney Mel Masse for the handling of the delicate case.

"It's a pleasure dealing with a difficult case when counsels give me their submissions straightforward in a delicate situation like this," said Judge Bordeleau.

Maxville shuts down dump site

by Sybil Carello

MAXVILLE—A decision to lock the Maxville dump site gates to the public until further notice was made by council at its Feb. 12 meeting.

Last year, the Ontario Ministry of the Environment instructed all municipalities to engage consulting engineering firms to complete detailed reports on existing landfill areas in an effort to determine what, if any, further development was necessary. Any municipal landfill site not measuring up to the ministry's standards was in danger of being shut down.

Maxville council has yet to proceed with the required studies, citing high costs as their primary reason for postponing the project. Although a $6,000 subsidy, available through the ministry, will pay for the necessary hydro-geological study, the actual upgrading costs will have to be borne by the municipality. Last month, council compared engineering quotes and noted some to be as high as $25,000.

One of the upgrading factors made clear to council was the necessary expansion of the present site. Other possible underlying problems won't be fully realized until further studies are carried out.

Earlier, in a move to solve the immediate problem of waste disposal, and, anticipating the possibility of a shutdown, council took precautionary steps and hired a contractor who has access to several other licenced dumping sites. Presently, landfill sites in the villages of St. Isidore and Martintown are two of the allocated dumping areas for Maxville municipal waste.

The possibility of upgrading could involve costly engineering studies coupled with manpower and rental equipment. This cost factor, according to councillor Bill Campbell, is not financially feasible at the present time. However, following a meeting with MOE official Larry Benoit, Mr. Campbell assured councillors it was possible to enter into a "tentative agreement" with the ministry.

First, council could request a delay on the project. Secondly, they could still receive a $6,000 grant, but only if they made a firm commitment to proceed with the study and necessary upgrading within a three-year period.

Council was in favor of this course of action. They were also in favor of a suggestion made by Mr. Campbell that former garbage collector, Rolland Cuillerier have access to one of the two dump site gate keys to use at his own discretion. The other key will remain in the village office and be given out to residents upon special requests.

EDITORIALS/OPINION

Co-operative spirit best

To an outsider Ontario's increasingly dissected education system must seem a curious mixture of differing religious and linguistic priorities; a seemingly unworkable hodgepodge of competing philosophies and prejudices to defy comprehension.

We have "separate" schools for Catholic students and "public" schools for everyone else. There are French schools for francophones and English schools for anglophones and everyone else.

There are English separate schools, French separate schools, English public schools, French high schools, English high schools, separate high schools in English, separate high schools in French and, the ultimate feat, two schools in one, the two-panel, bilingual, public high school.

We have two distinct regional school boards in every area; the separate school board looks after the Catholic elementary schools, dividing itself into French and English panels, complete with different teacher unions. The public board has its elementary panel with public school trustees and a secondary panel with mostly public trustees and one or two separate school trustees to look after the Catholic students' interests in high school.

This was complicated still further last year when Queen's Park ordered that all school boards must have a stated minimum of francophone trustees to look after the concerns of the French-speaking population. These trustees would be elected separately.

In communities like Glengarry where francophone voters are already in the majority, such guarantees hardly seem necessary.

Now the province has agreed to extend funding to the separate school system on an equal basis with public schools through to the end of high school.

Separate schools, guaranteed under the British North America Act, are an integral part of Ontario life and are here to stay. With two distinct systems, it is only fair that there be equal funding, based on student population.

At the same time, we should not tolerate still more barriers dividing young people in our school system. Nor should we accept the additional tax burden that would naturally be created by needless duplication of school facilities and staff.

With both separate and public schools being placed on an equal footing in Ontario, it is time for school boards throughout to seek new ways to unite rather than divide their students.

It's time for increased co-operation, with the boards seeking ways to assist and complement each other rather than compete for limited tax dollars. There should be many opportunities to share buildings and services and to work together.

Toward that end Glengarry's two boards—the SD&G County Board of Education and the SD&G Roman Catholic Separate School Board—have made significant progress, judging by a joint brief to be presented to the provincial government this week.

The two boards have displayed a commendable spirit of co-operation, respect for differences and common goals and an understanding of differing problems and priorities.

Throughout the two boards' 11 recommendations for the implementation of extended separate school funding their determination that the needs of the students remain the first priority is obvious. They want to ensure the least disruption possible and to that end they are prepared to transfer and share facilities throughout the three-county area.

There is none of the petty jealousy or obstinate stalling that could easily develop in such negotiations. Trustees for the two boards, along with their administrators, obviously entered discussions in a positive frame of mind and worked diligently for a solution that would best fulfill the needs of each side, given the unusual circumstances involved.

The two boards are bent on continuing the spirit of co-operation already established, not simply to deal out the hard assets already at their disposal, but to develop and enhance the greatest possible educational opportunities for every child, regardless of what school he or she may attend. If they have their way, our two boards will continue and expand upon co-operative ventures for many years to come.

This is the spirit that may at least partially overcome the differences and barriers that will continue to exist and serve to bring young people together rather than push them apart.

Parking crackdown needed

The announcement that the Alexandria Police Department intends to crack down on motorists who violate the town's parking regulations was welcome news last week.

We like to take pride in the fact that we get along quite nicely without parking meters on our streets and without a need for meter maids on the lookout for the slightest infraction as an excuse to slap another ticket on a windshield and justify their jobs.

It has all been rather loose in Alexandria and that's perfectly all right, as long as motorists use some simple common sense and display basic courtesy for pedestrians and fellow drivers. Unfortunately, common sense and courtesy have been noticeably lacking from the habits of too many motorists.

It's common to find cars parked tightly to the corners of intersections, with some of them extending beyond corners, forcing pedestrians to walk out of their way and blocking visibility for other drivers. Cars parked in such a manner also reduce the margin of safety for motorists attempting to turn corners, increasing the risk of accident.

And there are too many who grab the first empty space they see without stopping to see if they are blocking driveways. This problem is particularly acute on Catherine Street.

There are going to be drivers who will want to complain loudly over their first parking tickets. They would do better to direct their tempers at themselves.

When motorists won't use a little common sense, they simply have to be taught. It that means their knuckles have to be rapped and their wallets slapped with fines until the message gets across, so be it. The crackdown is overdue.

Fortunate

This area continues to be well represented in provincial and national agriculturald circles.

Martintown's Campbell Murray was recently elected president of the Ontario Branch of Holstein Canada, moving up from the vice-president's office he held last year.

Murray Howes, national director for Eastern Ontario with Holstein Canada, has been re-elected for yet another term and is now entering his seventh year with the important Canada-wide organization.

With Eastern Ontario representation cut to two from three, the election turned into a contest among incumbents. Mr. Howes led all the way to an easy win.

The two men are among the area's most respected dairy farmers and Holstein breeders and we are fortunate in having them intalled in such important posts. Their contributions will benefit their industry far beyond this easternmost part of Ontario.

When justice is seen to stink, something smells

RAMBLING REPORTER
Eugene Macdonald

"What do I think of the system of justice in the United States? I think it stinks."

That bit of dialogue on a Latenight show of the Public Broadcasting System one recent night kind of set this hearer back on his heels. But a prominent writer on the same program agreed with that assessment and we found ourself thinking along the same lines after listening to her corroborating evidence.

The discussion was on the Atlanta Child Murders, a series of some 30 homicides in that Georgia city over a three-year period from 1979 to 1981. She who thinks that justice stinks was the mother of one of those child victims and listening to her tale of frustration and woe one could see grounds for her opinion.

Those killings have never been solved, she believes, even though one Wayne Williams was convicted of two of the murders. She sees his conviction as a frame-up engineered by the police to cover their incompetence. The Atlanta author on the same program agreed that Williams was probably victim of a frame-up and should be given a new trial.

This led to thinking on the degeneration of the system of justice in that country all the way up from the policeman on the beat, through the court system even to presidential packing of the Supreme Court. It wasn't a pretty story, this review of rigged juries, plea bargaining, false arrest, bribery and corruption. One could see some justification for the citizen deciding to take the law into his own hands.

We Canadians have a ringside seat overlooking the American scene and we may be so intent on following the foibles of our cousins to the South we may be missing evidence that our system of justice is not without its blemishes. Our standards have been slipping, too. Honesty is not always the best policy in a society that seems to have forgotten the golden rule.

Our respect for the law is certainly not what it once was. Missing is the awe that once surrounded the justice on his bench. His rulings can now be held suspect by a jury of our peers as has happened in three Morgentaler trials when juries ignored judicial advice to find the doctor guilty.

Today we are critical not only of the court's interpretation of the law. We tend to hold in low esteem the legislators who make our laws and the lawyers who are seen to frame legislation too loosely for ready interpretation.

We are becoming a society of cynics who get our sense of values from a culture that is growing steadily more violent. We should be hoping for a housecleaning not only in Georgia but throughout the system of law and order of our neighbors to the South.

And similar action here.

It's a special week for Guides and Scouts

SECOND LOOK
Phil Rutherford

This is Scout and Guide Week in Canada, a time set aside to recognize the most successful youth movement the world has ever known and to honor the thousands of volunteers who make it all possible.

I don't have much experience with Brownies and Guides. You'll have to ask my sister. But when it comes to Scouting, I have a lot of memories and most of them good ones.

The organization and its leaders held me under their wings for more than 10 years, starting at age six as a Tenderfoot Wolf Cub. "We'll dib, dib, dib. We'll dob, dob, dob." Something like that.

At an early age, the Scouting movement attempts to teach responsibility and discipline and to instill leadership strengths in every boy. There are always new challenges.

There were dozens of badges worn on the left sleeve to show the accomplishments of each Cub and Scout. Badges covered many different challenges, ranging from carpentry and cooking to overnight camping, hiking and canoeing. The more, the better. They were worn with pride.

I remember the feeling of pride on being promoted to "seconder" and "sizer".

We graduated from Cubs to Scouts at age 11 and started a new, more responsible level of challenges, leading to new badges; and those cords. They were coveted. The first was green and yellow and the second was red and white. I wanted the gold cord, but didn't quite make it.

Somewhere at home I still have my old uniform, with all its badges, the cord and the special Queen's Scout badge. There were three white stripes on the left pocket designating the rank of troop leader.

I haven't had the shirt on since I was 16, so it might be a little small by now, but the hat will probably still fit if the head hasn't swelled too much. I'll probably dig it out soon to show to my son. He'd better be impressed.

Scouting must be a fine organization. I figure I turned out all right. Of course, my wife might dispute it. She can't figure out how anyone could have been a Queen Scout and not know how to tie knots.

We're allowed to forget a few things, aren't we? I can still tie a reef knot and I'm a whiz at shoe laces. So what if I can't get started with a sheep bend or a clove hitch?

I had a cooking badge in Scouts, but today I can't progress past hot dogs and Kraft dinner. The young lad loves it when Mom's away and Dad has to put on a meal. I'm great at ordering pizza or picking up submarine sandwiches.

In Cubs I won a badge for good housekeeping. Don't laugh if you haven't seen my office.

To get the badge, Cubs were required to bring notes from their mothers attesting to the fact that they made their own beds, put away their dirty clothes and generally kept their bedrooms neat and tidy.

Taking care of business

NOTEBOOK
Bruce Hayes

Some people say that love is what makes the world go round. Not to contradict those wonderfully romantic souls, but if you think about it you'll probably agree with me that actually it's business and the world of wheeling and dealing that is responsible for the circular motion of our globe.

Perhaps business has always powered the nations of the world but lately, with pro-business governments in place in both the United States and Canada, it has seemed to have become more noticeable.

Actually I feel kind of foolish, thinking all along that the cornerstone of society, the basic unit of our civilization, the very essence of our day to day existence was the family unit. Listening to Ronald Reagan one gets the distinct impression that it's the family business, and not the family, that is responsible for what we know today.

Even our own Brian Mulroney isn't immune to the siren call of business. Business, Mr. M. has been quoted more than once, is the only thing in this country capable of generating new income and wealth. Stupid me. All along I thought Loto 6/49 was responsible for doing that.

For many years business was seen as being, well, dull. Oh sure, it provided stability and a good steady income, but it somehow just didn't measure up to skydiving, alligator wrestling or being an enforcer for the mob.

That situation came to an abrupt end a couple of years ago thanks in large part to the omnipresent power of television.

Now I don't have any handy dandy statistics at my fingertips to back this up, but I'll bet that business schools across North America were bombarded with applications from hordes of fresh faced youngsters after shows such as Dallas and Dynasty hit the air.

I mean, who can blame them. As far as I can tell, from watching about a dozen episodes of Dallas, business people get to live in mansions, they always seem to be consuming something called bourbon and branch, business deals seem to be struck in the bedroom more often than in the boardroom and nobody seems to ever work all that hard. Admit it, when was the last time you saw JR really working hard? He's either dictating a letter, talking on the phone or staring at a computer screen looking concerned.

You'd think with all this publicity those in the business community would be glad to have a much higher public profile. Well, it seems you just can't please some people.

Business leaders complain that, perish the thought, the real business world isn't anything like how it's portrayed on television. Television shows such as Dynasty and Dallas give business people a bad reputation they cry.

Well, they could have a point. All one has to do to check the veracity of the statement 'good guys finish last' is to tune in on the latest scheme being cooked up by JR or Alexis Carrington. The only reason shows like that have good and honest people on is to allow the evil character to make chumps out of them. Hmm, maybe there is some deep hidden message here.

I suppose the most frequent contact that the general public has with the business community is through advertising.

Now I must tread softly here and pick my way carefully through the rest of this column, much in the same way one would want to choose their steps carefully while strolling through a minefield.

To talk about advertising in the profession I'm in is akin to biting the hand that feeds you. There's a rather curious division on a newspaper between those who work in advertising and those who work in news. Now on some newspapers that division is as solid as the Berlin wall. While it isn't as pronounced at The Glengarry News, it still is there.

There's an old saying, that still rings true today, that holds that ad men think news stories are just there to space out their ads, while news people think ads are there just to space out their news stories.

No, the target I'm aiming for today is a safe one for I'm going to zero in on everyone's favorite whipping boy: television commercials.

I can think of few things that will make my skin crawl faster than having to watch the same commercial for the umpteenth time in an evening. I don't know about you, but I reach a point where I've been mercilessly bombarded for so long that I develop a conscious aversion for the product. Not only would I not buy it, I wouldn't take it if it were handed to me on a silver platter.

If I have to watch Victor Kiam's smiling face peering out of his bathroom one more time I think I'll cut my throat. And those image ads really bother me as well. You know the ones I mean, the ones that don't just try to sell a product, they try and sell an image that goes along with the product.

I guess the Pepsi generation was the first image ad I can remember. Beer companies do it all the time. I'm sure there are many across the continent who look around at quitting time, trying to find that happy-go-lucky group who are heading out for Miller time.

Lochiel council endorses farmer's request for zoning amendment

by Patricia MacGillis

LOCHIEL — Lochiel Township council is supporting a McCormick Road farmer's request that the township's zoning bylaw be amended to allow his son's family to remain living in a mobile home on the farm.

Councillors unanimously approved a motion during their February 12 meeting at the request of Rolland Massie. The younger Massie, Robert, is a full-time employee on the farm.

An amendment is needed because the mobile is separated from the home farm by a road, contrary to the existing bylaw which insists such homes must be on the principal farm operation.

Approximately 30 people attended the council meeting to support Mr. Massie. Township clerk Rheal Charbonneau read letters of support from Noble Villeneuve, MPP for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and from the Ministry of Agriculture and Food, signed by Glengarry Agricultural Representative Glen Smith.

Jenny Cameron asked if the bylaw would leave it open for others to do the same thing. Reeve MacDonell answered no, it would only apply to Mr. Massie.

Enid MacDonald said if the bylaw remains as is, no one else can do it. She said it was unfair and asked if someone could put a trailer on a retirement lot. The reeve said yes.

"Why is there a problem that Mr. Massie's son can't do it?" she asked.

Deputy-reeve Lynda Kennedy explained a severance prevents Mr. Massie's son from living there. The mobile home is on a parcel of land separate from the main farm operation.

Mrs. MacDonald said the Planning Act should be changed.

Councillor Alex McDonald explained the farm is considered the complete operation.

"That's the gray area in the Planning Act," he said. "You pay taxes on the whole farm and you are entitled to only one trailer on the farm."

Some people interpret the farm operation to be all lands owned by the farmer, or it can mean just the home farm. In this way the act is rather ambiguous.

Mr. Massie said the bylaw contradicts itself. He does not want to have the amendment affect just his situation. He said young people are moving to Alexandria because it is too expensive to build homes in the country.

The reeve explained the township cannot modify the entire bylaw now, but maybe in a few years there could be a change. For the present, council will proceed with an amendment to specifically meet Mr. Massie's request.

Mrs. MacDonald asked council if it was not possible to change the bylaw to be in favor of the other ratepayers.

The reeve explained the bylaw usually works well and unless there are a lot of incidents like Mr. Massie's there is no need for change.

Three fined $980 for impaired

Three men received fines totalling $980 Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after they pleaded guilty to impaired driving charges.

James McCullough, of R.R. 1, Long Sault, was charged January 20 in Charlottenburgh Township.

Court was told a police officer saw a vehicle in the ditch on Highway 2. During his investigation, the accused approached the officer. The officer noticed an alcoholic odor from the man and he was taken to the Lancaster OPP for a breathalyzer test. The readings were 150 mgs of alcohol in 100 ml blood.

There was no damage to the car and the accused said he slid off the road into the ditch.

Judge Jean-Marie Bordeleau fined the man $300 and told the accused, a transport driver, that he should be more careful because he earns his living by driving.

"A person who needs his license to earn a living should be a lot more cautious," said Judge Bordeleau. "This will be an expensive lesson for you," he added.

The man was given 60 days to pay the fine and had his license suspended for three months.

A Green Valley man was charged January 23 in Kenyon Township.

Andre W. Menard, 37, of Third Street, was fined $250 for impaired driving and $150 for failing to comply to a breathalyzer test.

Court was told the accused was southbound on Highway 34 and driving in an erratic manner. An OPP officer noticed Mr. Menard's vehicle cross the centre line on a number of occasions.

The accused was then taken to Lancaster OPP and he refused to comply to a breathalyzer test.

The man was given one month to pay the fine and had his license suspended for three months.

A Lancaster man was fined $280 after he was charged February 10.

Court was told the accused slid into the ditch on Highway 2. When a police officer arrived to investigate, the accused was in the driver's seat while the vehicle was being towed out of the ditch.

The accused was taken to Lancaster OPP for a breathalyzer test and his readings were 140 mgs. of alcohol in 100 ml. of blood.

The man was given 60 days to pay the fine and had his license suspended for three months.

Jailed 30 days for theft

An Alexandria man was sentenced to 30 days in jail and placed on probation for one year Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after pleading guilty to three counts of theft.

Andre Taillefer, 18, of Lochiel Street West, was charged March 21 of last year, involving thefts of tools of a PUC truck, a gas barbecue and a weed eater from the municipal park.

The accused was also ordered to pay restitution in the amount of $525.

Mr. Taillefer will serve his jail sentence on weekends.

It's a special week . . .

Now, my mother is an honest person. I don't want anyone to think otherwise. But when it came time to write that note her hand must have been shaking. I couldn't have won a housekeeping badge unless she lied through her teeth; and in writing at that! Once a slob, always a slob. She was simply being charitable to a hopeless case.

There have been a lot of changes in Scouting over the past 20 years and it's probably a better organization today. It's still growing.

The uniforms I grew up with are history now. The new ones are probably more practical. And there are new levels, now five in total, in the Scouting movement. Before Cubs, boys are invited to join Beavers and after Scouts teenagers can continue a more independent program through Venturers.

Starting in his kindergarten year, a boy can now stay with Scouting right into manhood, leaving Rovers at the ripe old age of 23. By that point, he would make an excellent adult leader.

Scouting helps every boy develop character and good sportsmanship, to develop new interests and skills, to grow strong in mind and body and to learn how to co-operate with and respect others.

Despite the changes, Scouting still strikes for the high ideals established by its founder, Lord Baden-Powell, around the turn of the century. The Guide movement, similar in most respects, was created specifically for girls by Lady Baden-Powell 75 years ago, making 1985 a special anniversary for members and adult volunteers.

Both groups are planning a number of activities this week. They have earned our respect and support, now and in the future.

Boudria wants benefits for all

Glengarry-Prescott-Russell MP Don Boudria says that when it comes to social benefits everyone who has paid taxes throughout their life should receive assistance, regardless of how much money they have in the bank.

Mr. Boudria, addressing a meeting of the Alexandria 39'ers Club last Wednesday, said the debate over the universality of social programs was one of the two major debates that had raged on Parliament Hill since the House reconvened.

"People who leave the working world and have paid taxes all these years, have it coming to them, whether or not they've managed to put something away in a bank account," Mr. Boudria said. "Once we determine the principle (of only giving social assistance to those below a certain income level) what you'll have is an extension of that principle. That cut off point will just start going down. I think it should remain at a point where we give benefits to all the people."

Mr. Boudria said the government "backed down" on its plan to change universality and he said "society is better for that."

The second major debate deals with proposed changes to the spousal allowance. Currently, if one spouse is 65 years or older and the other is between the ages of 60 and 64, both will be eligible for benefits.

The government has suggested a plan that would see all widows or widowers receive the spousal income between the ages of 60 and 64, regardless of when their spouse died.

Mr. Boudria said the proposed change would be unfair to single or divorced people.

Probation for shoplifting

An Alexandria woman was placed on probation for six months Thursday in Alexandria Provincial Court after pleading guilty to a shoplifting charge.

Joanne Massia, 19, of 2 Elgin Street, was charged December 1 in Alexandria.

Court was told Miss Massia was observed leaving Stedmans with children's pyjamas.

Somewhere under that white stuff, when it finally departs with its usual mud 'n' muck, puddles and flooding, there will be a shy new green of spring's awakening. 'Twas hard to visualize during last Sunday's snow blow but there is consolation (and anticipation) that spring hasn't failed yet to arrive, eventually.

CUB SCOUTS—A boisterous group of boys if ever there was one, the 2nd Alexandria Wolf Cub Pack managed to sit still long enough for a photograph recently. The boys and their leaders are, from left: (front row) Guy Robertson, Richard Wylie, Don Filiatrault, Danny Janssens; (second row) Shawn Duval, Julien MacDonald, Greg Larocque, Joanne Wissell, Jason Larocque, Rakish Bhagavandir, Patrick Janssens; (back row) Ralph Austin, Assistant Cub Master, Neil Austin, Jeffery Johnson, Kevin Muller, Christian Poirier, Duncan Urquhart, John Riley and Suzanne Wissell, Cub Master.

Special year for Scouting locally and worldwide

Since this is International Youth Year, what better time to promote Scouting than now. This week is set aside to let you know exactly who we are and what we do.

Scouting is the largest volunteer boys' organization in the world and is still growing. It encompasses boys from age five to 23, through five different programs: Beavers, Cubs, Scouts, Venturers and Rovers.

Through Scouting boys are given the chance to develop character and to grow spiritually, as well as to develop good sportsmanship and pride in growing strong in mind and body. Boys also learn to get along with each other, as well as learn to respect each other. They also achieve new interests and skills, they learn how to have fun and do exciting things.

This week was launched with a church service on the evening of Saturday, February 16, at Sacre Coeur Church. On Wednesday, February 20, there will be a campfire-friendship night at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

There will be displays in Cornwall all week at the different malls put on by the Scout groups in the Glengarry-Stormont District.

None of this would be possible without the dedication of the volunteer adults and young people who give so freely of their time and talents to the movement. Many hours are spent preparing beneficial programs and taking courses to improve one's knowledge so that the youth of our community may benefit from the end results.

Our grateful thanks go to people, for without you Scouting would not exist.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the people and businesses of the community for their generous support. Scouting is a non-profit organization and depends on the community's financial support to operate its programs.

We would also like to salute a few youths who have helped us out by sharing their time and talents—"Country Rock Unit Band." Special thanks goes to Faye Vogan for the donation of funds raised at a Christmas dance in our honor.

Our community should have more adolescents with such zest and generosity.

KUB KAR RALLY

This year the Second Alexandria Wolf Cub Pack will act as host for the Stormont-Glengarry District Kub Kar Rally to be held at the Cornwall Square Mall on March 30.

Racing will begin at 12:45 p.m.

We invite everyone to come out and support your favorite Wolf Cubs.

2nd ALEXANDRIA BEAVERS

We are Beavers, aged five to seven. We meet weekly to enjoy songs, crafts and games and to learn about the many aspects of life.

Together with Beavers from Stormont and Glengarry, we celebrate Klondike Day, Baden Powell's Birthday and we end the season with a Big Beaveree.

Venturers offer teens a challenge

Four Alexandria boys came home one recent Sunday afternoon after spending a cold weekend working, eating and sleeping in the bush, with only canvas tents for shelter.

This may not be the average person's idea of a fun weekend at camp, but for Denis Andre, 17, Charles Gagnon, 17, Marc Lefebvre, 16, and Yvon Gagnon, 16, it was simply another challenge to meet as part of their regular training in Scouting's Venturer movement.

With help from adult advisor Raymond Dupuis, the teenagers plan their own activities and raise their own funds. It may be a small group, but the Alexandria Venturers are fiercely independent and take pride in their accomplishments.

Venturers make up the fourth of five levels in Scouting, which begin with Beavers and run through Wolf Cubs and Boy Scouts, Venturers, with Rovers, the group for young adults. The Scouting program does not go beyond Venturers in this area.

While they seek advice from Mr. Dupuis, the boys have no adult leaders. They run their own affairs and in the process are taught how to take charge, hold responsibility and make decisions.

Founded locally by Mr. Dupuis, now the Venturer co-ordinator for the district, the Alexandria Venturers group has been operating for three years. It's the only all-French group in the district, which includes Venturers in Maxville, Glen Walter and Cornwall.

All of the groups are small, explained Mr. Dupuis, noting his gang never exceeded seven members.

"They have to be willing to work and be ready to take on one challenge after another," he said. "They have to have a fair degree of independence from their families. Not everybody is going to fit in."

The boys are expected to work hard to raise their own funds. They receive no financial support from the rest of the Scouting movement and they are not allowed to take money from their families.

They are also called upon to volunteer for community service, with at least 25 hours of time needed to earn a community service badge.

VENTURERS—There may be only four of them, but Alexandria's Venturers have earned a reputation for being equal to any challenge. This photograph was taken during a recent winter camp. They are, front left, Yvon Gagnon, 16, Marc Lefebvre 16, adult advisor Raymond Dupuis, Denis Andre, 17, and Charles Gagnon, 17.

Among other things, the boys have canvassed door-to-door for the blind and helped the Alexandria Police Department patrol the streets on Halloween night to protect young children.

They prepare all the meals for 50 people during the annual Scouting leaders camp held at Morrison Island Camp near Ingleside.

They are taught bush and winter survival techniques, new skills they get to practise during their annual winter camps.

In April they will be testing their skills during an air gun competition. The following month they will be off to an international camporee near Massena, New York, where they will meet similar groups from the northeastern states, Eastern Ontario, and South-western Quebec. It will be similar to the camporee held last year near Apple Hill, when 850 people attended.

Guides celebrate week also

by Mary Lambert

This year, 1985, is our celebration year. Guides and Brownies have been working and having fun in Canada for 75 years and we in Highland District are celebrating in our own special way.

This week, February 16 to 24, is Scout/Guide week and on February 20 we have our annual campfire in the Glengarry Sports Palace. On Sunday, February 24, we are having a special thinking day service at the Church on the Hill at 9:30 a.m. Both of these events are in conjunction with the Boy Scouts.

On Saturday, March 23, we will be having our first Highland District Hobby Show. It will be held at Priest's Mill restaurant, upstairs. Viewing is from 1:15 to 4 p.m. Everyone is invited to come and see what the youngsters can do. There is no admission charge.

Other events scheduled are the third annual Gathering. This will be held at Iona Academy on Thursday, April 18, from 7 to 9 p.m. Admission is free as are refreshments, provided by the leaders. A collection will be taken which will be used to help us run the first District Camp which will be held from July 13 to 20 at the Williamstown Fairgrounds.

We are also having a field day on Saturday, June 8 at Maxville Fairgrounds where we will have a mini olympics plus some extra events such as tent raising competitions.

I would like to remind you also that the girls will be calling on you during the next couple of weeks taking orders for Girl Guide cookies. Please support them as cookies and calendars are our only official fundraisers and every box sold adds a little towards helping us run our meetings and will also help to cut down the cost of our District Camp.

We cordially invite you to visit us at our hobby show and gathering, see the girls, talk to the leaders and find out what Guiding is all about.

Boudria speaks to 39ers

Forty-nine members of the 39'ers met on February 20 for their luncheon meeting at the Church on the Hill in Alexandria.

After dining, Past President Ruth Paige introduced their distinguished guest, local MP, Don Boudria. He expressed thanks for his area support in the election, and of being honored to be a representative in parliament. He remarked on the large area of the riding, which is bordered north and south by the Ottawa and St. Lawrence Rivers, and runs east and west from Orleans to the Quebec border, east of Bainsville.

The term riding is said to originate in England he commented, and meant the area that could be encompassed in one day by a man riding a horse. He also reminded the group that there are offices, where he can be contacted in Hawkesbury, Alexandria and Rockland.

Mr. Boudria spoke on social programs, in particular spousal allowance and child allowance, and pensions. Some feel that spousal allowance should not depend on marital status, but on need. Mr. Boudria is one who feels this should be adopted. He explained also about having a cut-off point for pensions and child allowances, and how it might eventually drop, and so defeat its original purpose. Mr. Boudria stated that, at present, there are two debates before the House, universality of the social programs of child allowance and pensions. A Canada flag pin was presented to each person.

A petition was circulated for members to sign, and Mr. Boudria remarked on a questionnaire which will arrive in the mail, regarding answers to pertinent questions about old age securities and family allowances, employment for youth, Canadianizing our industry, income tax, defence spending and important issues in Glengarry-Prescott-Russell riding ing.

Mildred Whitehead thanked Mr. Boudria.

The meeting resumed with Margaret Dow, the new president, expressing her delight with the talk and discussion with the MP. Readings of two of Dorothy Parker's poems, and a selection from the Heritage Book 1985, were done by Lorna Chapman. Adelaide Fullard reported on the good response of members to the craft work; she told the group that much more material is available, from the grant money and can be picked up for the bazaar work anytime at the meetings.

It has been suggested that the 39'ers go to Ottawa to sit in on a Question Period in Parliament later in the spring. This could be facilitated by Mr. Boudria. Most were amenable to busing up for lunch and later attending the debate in the house. Several cards were passed around and signed for absent members. There were two birthdays.

Cards and bingo filled the remainder of the afternoon.

UCW plan fall bazaar and tea

GLEN SANDFIELD
Lorna Chapman

The United Church Women met at the home of Janet MacMillan on February 5. President Lorna Chapman welcomed the group, and began devotions with a poem. The old hymn, Tell Me the Stories of Jesus, followed.

The theme of the meditation was, "The Art of Conversation" taken from Idalee Vonk's book 36 Devotionals for Women's Groups. Reading of the meditation was shared by Della MacDonald, Bessie MacLennan, Eleanor Bickerstaff, Janet MacMillan, Gail Kronwald, Margo MacRae and Lorna Chapman. A prayer-poem from Peter Bolt's book, A Way of Loving, and the Lord's Prayer, closed this portion.

The member's purpose was repeated to open the business part, followed by minutes and financial report.

Among the correspondence was a pamphlet describing a Haitian Christmas, and a letter from Ivanette Jean, our new foster child. Many in Haiti are devil worshippers—and Santa Claus is a stranger there.

The fall bazaar and salad tea date has been set for Saturday, September 14. It will be announced in the coming events column.

Money will go to Canaid, for the Ethiopian people, who are in such dire straits.

The Mizpah benediction closed the meeting and the guests enjoyed refreshments during a fellowship time.

Reverend Denis Vaillancourt, pastor of St. Martin of Tours parish in Glen Robertson, has announced the beginning of a five-week spiritual renewal program starting on February 24, entitled Families for Prayer.

Its objective will be to highlight the necessity, the time and the values of daily family prayer. At preliminary meetings for the parish leadership team, Families for Prayer representatives and Father Denis outlined the basic procedure of the program and the thrust of its message.

Father Vaillancourt has emphasized that this program is a parish wide project, and because of its spiritual character, he has asked for full co-operation of every member of the parish. Homilies on the topic of family prayer will be preached every Sunday for the duration of the program.

In the light of the program's objectives, booklets were distributed which discuss various aspects of parish life. These include booklets geared for educational and liturgical activities, for the organizational aspects of the program and for procedures for implementing the program within the home. The Families for Prayer program is being conducted in parishes of the diocese.

A slight correction concerning the cross country ski trail. Although the trail is being groomed by John van den Oetelaar the project is being sponsored by the Recreation Centre and not the Optimist Club as was stated in last week's news.

Glens' comeback falls short in opening playoff loss

by Peter Conway

WINCHESTER—The message is clear. Sixty minutes of hockey will produce a winning formula.

Alexandria Glens got away from that formula Sunday in the opening game of their best-of-seven Alex English Division quarter-final series with Winchester.

The result was an 8-7 win for Winchester and a 1-0 series lead. The second game of the series was to have been played last night Tuesday at the Glengarry Sports Palace. The third game is back at Winchester Friday night and the fourth Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

The Glens got out of the gate early Sunday, grabbing an early 2-0 lead, only to watch Winchester storm back with four straight goals for a 4-2 advantage after 20 minutes.

The remainder of Winchester's scoring came in the middle stanza while the Glens could beat Winchester goaler Jamie McGuire only once.

"We played well in the first 10 minutes and in the final period. If we want to win we have to play 60 minutes of hockey," said Glens' manager Gaetan Giroux.

It was the first win in four games for Winchester against the Glens. The Glens had won the last three regular season meetings between the two clubs-including a 5-2 decision Friday night at Winchester.

While the club rallied in the final stanza with four goals to keep the fans on the edge of their seats, the Glens played like the Glens of old in the first two periods—taking senseless penalties.

"We can't get 12 to 15 penalties and expect to do much on the ice. We really pushed them Winchester in the last eight minutes of the game, but we ran out of gas and time," said Giroux.

Giroux feels the club might have been a little over confident after three straight wins in the final weeks of the regular season. But the loss may also have a positive effect.

"We were possibly a little overconfident. But a loss isn't always that bad. Maybe the guys will wake up for the next game."

Charlie Giroux led the Glens with four goals while Kennedy MacDonald chipped in with a pair and three assists. Maurice Bellefeuille rounded out the scoring.

Winchester received three goals from Rene Bongard and a pair from Scott Dexter. Completing the scoring were Mark Smith, Jeff Thompson and Kirk Barkley.

Glens' defenceman Fletcher left the game early with a sore knee, but was expected to be in the lineup for last night's contest.

Navan dominates awards

by Peter Conway

WINCHESTER—Navan Grads dominated the regular season in the Alex English Division of the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League.

So it came as no surprise for Navan skaters to walk off with the majority of silverware at the league's annual awards night Saturday at the Winchester Community Centre.

The Grads finished 11 points ahead of second-place Charlottenburgh Rebels in the race for the regular season championship with an impressive 27-7-1 record.

While walking off with the regular season championship trophy, Navan's goaltending duo of Scott Martin and Shawn Driscoll won the goaltending trophy. Their combined goals-against average was 4.37.

Navan sniper Bruce Hickson carried off the top scorer's trophy. Hickson had 38 goals and 65 assists for 103 points.

Hickson was also chosen as the league's most valuable player while his coach, Barry Irvin, was chosen coach of the year and coach of the first all-star team.

For the second consecutive season, a Charlottenburgh Rebel walked off with the best defenceman award. Don Bissonnette, the top scoring blueliner this season, followed last year's winner cousin Marc Bissonnette by being chosen the top defenceman.

Bissonnette, and Clarence Township's Daniel Quinn anchor the defence on the first all-star team while Navan's Scott Martin is the goaltender.

The forward combination has Navan's Bruce Hickson at centre with teammate Rob Laurin on the left side and Charlottenburgh Rebels' Shawn Blanchard on right wing.

Rebels' Marc Bissonnette is between the pipes on the second all-star squad. The defence pairing is made up of Alexandria's Darrell Hay and Winchester's Kevin Henry.

At centre is Metcalfe's Peter Holmes while Winchester's Trevor McClatchie is on the left side and Metcalfe's Gary Poirier complete the trio.

The coach of the second all-star team is first-year coach Bob Byrnes of the Winchester Hawks.

This year's banquet was hosted by the Winchester Hawks.

SILVERWARE WINNERS—Players from the Charlottenburgh Rebels and Alexandria Glens were recognized for their efforts the past season in the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League at the league's awards night Saturday. Left, are Rebels' Shawn Blanchard, first all-star team member and Marc Bissonnette, second all-star team member, Darrell Hay, Alexandria Glens and second all-star team member and the Rebels' Don Bissonnette, the top defenceman in the league.

Peewees win second game

Alexandria Bank of Montreal Peewees won their second game in as many outings Sunday in the Lower St. Lawrence Hockey League playoffs, skating to an easy 7-1 win over Cornwall at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Travis Giroux paced the winners with a hat trick and one assist while Pascal Joanette contributed two goals and two assists.

Also scoring for Alexandria were Patrick Ravary and Julien Boisvenue. Marc Seguin had two assists while single helpers went to Scott Graham and Stephane Roman.

Cornwall's lone marker came off the stick of Allan Maloney.

Alexandria's goaltending was shared by Christian Bellefeuille and Michael McDonell.

Alexandria skaters capture first-ever title at Inter-Club

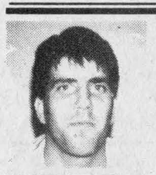
Only a few surprises among Jr. B trophy winners



SPORTS
Peter Conway

The Alex English Division of the Eastern Ontario Junior B Hockey League feted its athletes Saturday night with its annual awards night at the Winchester Community Centre.

As always, the affair was well attended by players, coaches, parents and friends.

Of course, the main purpose is to recognize the players over the regular season and the banquet marks the end of the schedule.

Over the years, the Alex English banquet has been a classy and well run evening. Most of the trophy winners were deserving and there were a couple of surprises. It is always difficult to draw the line in some cases when it comes to choosing all-star teams. It is the team management which chooses individuals for the two all-star squads.

I am generally pleased with most of the selections, but some people goofed for a couple of all-star selections.

Let's start with the second all-star squad. Marc Bissonnette of the Charlottenburgh Rebels is an excellent selection in goal.

Alexandria's Darrell Hay, chosen on defence, could have been a first team selection, but nevertheless is a good choice for the second team. His defence partner is Winchester's Kevin Henry. Henry, in my opinion, is a quality defenceman, but certainly not one of the top four in the league. Either the Rebels' Gary Theoret or Navan's Joel Lalonde or Norm Rochon would have been worthy selections.

Navan won the league pennant on its scoring power but Lalonde was a valuable member and anchored the defence.

It is the forward trio which puzzles me the most. Peter Holmes was Metcalfe's best player this season. But what about a guy like Mike Lapensee at centre? Here we have a guy who finished third in scoring and was miles ahead of Holmes in the scoring parade.

The only choice that makes sense at forward is Winchester's Trevor McClatchie on the left side. On the right side, I am still wondering what Metcalfe's Gary Poirier is doing there.

The coach of the second all-star team is Winchester's Bob Byrnes.

Now, Bob Byrnes is a heck of a nice guy. Sorry Bob, I'm trying to figure out what you're doing as the coach of the second team. Did Bob do something out of the ordinary in his first season behind the Winchester bench? The Hawks finished in third place a year ago and a notch lower this season. This reporter had picked Winchester to finish higher because of the number of veterans returning.

There is only one choice that disturbs me on the first all-star team.

How can a player like Daniel Quinn play half the season and still be chosen as one of the defencemen on the squad? There's no doubting his playing ability, but he didn't set the league on fire when he joined the Clarence Township Beavers after Christmas. He is the same player who felt attending a ski trip was more important than a playoff game against the Glens a year ago.

Quinn is an outstanding defenceman and the only bright spot for Clarence Township. But there were a couple of individuals who had good seasons and were left off the teams.

Navan's Bruce Hickson, at centre, Rob Laurin on left wing and the Rebels' Shawn Blanchard were worthy selections.

Barry Irvin deserved recognition as coach of the first all-star team. Some will say he had the horses and talent for a first-place club, but someone has to keep the players motivated game in and game out. In Irvin's defence, he had the task of keeping a Navan squad sharp game after game when the club opened up a huge lead on its nearest competitior early in the schedule.

Charlottenburgh Rebels' coach Ken MacDonald was the winner of the award last year. He should have been at least coach of the second all-star team this year. He took the Rebels from a fifth-place finish a year ago to a second-place finish this season.

There will always be second-guessing when it comes to choosing players for all-star squads. It is the managers of the respective teams who vote for these individuals and I respect their selections because in a league such as this one, that is the only format which can be used.

Until a better format is devised, we'll all have to respect the silverware winners Saturday night and look forward to an entertaining playoff series.

Periard paces Johnny Mac's over King Edward Hotel

Bantams are finalists

The Lions Club Bantam Glens bowed to Potsdam in the final of the Char-Lan annual bantam tournament, 7-1, last weekend.

Only Jason Palmer could score on the excellent Potsdam goaltender.

In the first game of the tournament, the Glens defeated Char-Lan 3-1.

Trevor Bowles had opened the scoring for Char-Lan but Alex Maclaren, Ken Robinson and Pierre Cuerrier replied for the winners.

In the second game Alexandria ousted Chesterville by a score of 5-1.

Mike Sauve with three goals and one assist, was the most valuable player for that game. Alain Larocque and Trevor Marley completed the scoring for the Glens.

In the final game of the tournament Ken Robinson was the MVP for Alexandria, which will be playing next Saturday in the annual South Stormont tournament.

Farmers waiting for $100,000 in drainage loans

by Patricia MacGillis

LOCHIEL — Manson Barton, drainage superintendent for Lochiel Township, told council at its February 12 meeting he's concerned over the delay in provincial funding for the tile drainage loans.

Before Christmas Mr. Barton received word from officials in Toronto they would honor those loans affecting drains where work had been completed by the end of the last year. It usually takes 30 days for the money to come through.

Eight farmers are hoping to receive about $100,000 in funding for their drains. Mr. Barton has been getting calls from concerned farmers.

ROADS ESTIMATES

Dolan Wylie, roads superintendent, outlined his department's projected costs for 1985.

Wages will total about $150,000. Gravel will cost $97,000, as the township has to buy it all. The township's pit is no longer in use. Bridges to be constructed near A.K. and Lynus MacPherson's properties will cost $103,000. Provincial grants may be available for construction, but as yet nothing is definite.

BUYING LAND

Council is buying land from the CN Railway. The road leading up to the Glen Robertson station will cost about $3,000.

WELL RECEIVED

Council's presentation at Laggan Public School during local government week was well received. Three letters of praise were sent to council, one from the principal, Kent MacSweyn, one from the students and a third from Marion MacMaster.

384 GDHS students join ski trip

For some people, especially youths, recreation in the winter months usually means a trip to the local rink on a Saturday morning.

For others it's a trip to the ski slopes in the Laurentians, Eastern Townships or the Outaouais region near Ottawa.

Skiing has become one of the most popular recreational activities during the winter in Glengarry.

Last Tuesday, as part of the winter carnival festivities at Glengarry District High School, eight bus loads and 384 students and teachers travelled to the Morin Heights Ski Centre, situated just north of Lachute, Quebec.

Gary Harris, an art teacher at the school, is the architect behind the ski trips, and says the sport has caught on in popularity in Glengarry.

"I've been organizing ski trips for about 12 years. Skiing has been an activity that's been underrated, but a lot of people are getting involved now," says Harris.

"Twelve years ago we were lucky if two people had their own equipment. On Tuesday we had around 100 people with their own equipment," he added.

Harris says the sport has become an alternative for youths who aren't interested in playing hockey during the winter months.

"Skiing is an alternative to hockey. If your kid doesn't want to play organized hockey, he'll wonder what else can he do? Nowadays more kids want to ski.

"There's been a lot more participation from the parents in recent years," said Harris.

The ski trip wasn't the only activity during carnival celebrations last week. Students and teachers also had their choice of a skating trip on the Rideau Canal in Ottawa, or a tobogganing trip.

Teachers Laurent Rivard, Don Williamson and Harris were the co-ordinators of the carnival festivities.

The carnival activities were climaxed last Friday night during a dance at GDHS. Students took part in an air band contest throughout the week and five finalists performed at the dance.

Prieur leads 1-0 victory for Glen Sandfield

In the first playoff game last week in the Dalkeith Broomball League Glen Sandfield and Brodie played a classic defensive game.

John Prieur's goal assisted by Warren Brown gave Glen Sandfield the 1 to 0 victory.

Robert Kemp earned the shutout.

The other game saw Dalkeith and Kirk Hill play to a 1 to 1 tie.

Goal scorers were Barry MacSweyn assisted by Ralph MacGillivray for Kirk Hill.

Roch Duchesne, set up by Lucien Binette, Dalkeith.

In the second game of their series Kirk Hill exploded for seven goals en route to a 7 to 3 victory over Dalkeith, thus winning the total points series 8 to 4.

Ralph MacGillivray and Barry MacSweyn lead the Bearblaster attack with two apiece. Stanton MacDonald, Steven and Hughie MacMaster added singles.

Roch Duchesne with two and Eric MacDougall with a single replied for Dalkeith.

A combination of hard work and luck gave Brodie a 2-0 victory over Glen Sandfield. The win also allowed Brodie to win the series 2 to 1.

Millan MacPherson and Jimmy Denovan scored for the Bombers.

Douglas MacLeod was between the pipes for the shutout.

The top goaltender was Robert Kemp with a 1.5 average.

The top scorers were Steven MacMaster and Roland Schroeder, seven goals and three assists for 10 points.

St. Pierre scores hat trick

Frank St. Pierre fired a hat trick to give St. Raphael's a 7-2 win over the Express and a 1-0 lead in the opening game of the Border Hockey League playoffs Sunday at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Leo Seguin added a pair for the winners while singles went to Alain Giroux and Jim Danaher.

Both goals for the Express came on the powerplay with Brent MacDougall and Marty MacDonald scoring.

In the first game Thursday, Mike Tessier's four goals lifted Glen Gordon to an 8-6 decision over Glen Nevis at the Charlottenburgh Recreation Centre. Richard Picard, Donald Wightman, Timmy McDougall and Jimmy Wightman were the other marksmen for Glen Gordon.

Cameron McLeod led Glen Nevis with two goals while Robert MacDonald, Brian Reasbeck, John MacSweyn and Marc Laperle completed the scoring.

In the second game of the series last Sunday at the Glengarry Sports Palace, Glen Nevis nipped Glen Gordon 2-1.

However, Glen Gordon lodged a protest following the game because of a mixup on the game clock with two minutes and 46 seconds left.

Scoring for Glen Nevis were Stephane Levac and Paul Lefebvre.

Glen Gordon's goal came off the stick of Vance MacLaughlin.

The final two minutes and 46 seconds of last Sunday's game will be played prior to the Glen Nevis-Glen Gordon game this Sunday at 1 p.m.

Lalonde General Store forces deciding game against Glengarry Aces

Lalonde General Store kept their playoff hopes alive following a 4-3 win over Glengarry Aces Saturday night in the Alexandria Foot Hockey League.

Albert Durocher paced the winners with a pair of goals while Serge Lefebvre and Richard Lemieux, with the winner, completed the scoring.

Don O'Connor, Luc Poliquin and Don MacPhee accounted for the Glengarry Aces' scoring.

Lalonde General Store's win forced a deciding game which will be played Saturday night at the Glengarry Sports Palace.

Richard Woodbury's hat trick helped Hawkesbury Vikings register an 8-2 win over Greenfield, knocking the losers in the B Division playoffs.

Guy Dubois added a pair while singles went to Andre Woodbury, Luc Guerin and Sylvain Renaud.

Larry Smith scored both goals for Greenfield Wings.

Ottawa Hotel knocked Miller Hughes into the B Division playoffs following a 4-3 win over Miller Hughes.

Gerry Chabot paced Ottawa Hotel with a pair of goals while Paul MacDonald and Allan Chabot rounded out the scoring.

George Lavigne, Richard Lebrun and Rejean Dupuis tallied for Miller Hughes.

Roy's Garage advanced to the A Division semi-final with a 5-1 decision over Shur-Gain.

Roger Carriere led the winners with a pair of markers while Joel Leroux, Remi Sauve and George Carriere rounded out the scoring.

Gilles Decoeur replied for Shur-Gain.

In Memoriam

DEROUCHIE—In loving memory of my dear husband, Albert, who passed away Feb. 21, 1975.
No farewells were spoken
No time to say goodbye
You were gone before I knew it
And only God knows why
No one knows the bitter pain
I have suffered, since I lost you
Life has never been the same
In my heart your memory lingers.
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day dear Albert
That I do not think of you.
—Loving wife Theresa 8-1p

DEROUCHIE—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather who passed away Feb. 21, 1975.
Ten sad years have passed
Since that day we talked to you last
We wish so much that life could be
Just as it was before
To hear you laugh with us again
And see your face once more
Those we love, don't go away
They walk beside us every day
Unheard, unseen but always near Still loved, still missed, still cherished.
—Always loved and remembered by your family, grandchild and friends. 8-1p

MacDONELL—Donald Francis "Don" in loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away Feb. 24, 1983.
Like falling leaves the days pass by,
But precious memories never die.
He lives with us in memories still,
Not just today, but always will
—Sadly missed and always remembered Irma, Donna, Dominic, Leslie and Emily. 8-1p

MacDONELL—Donald Francis "Don"
Dear Grandpa: Memories are forever,
They don't need a special day,
To say how much we miss you,
It will always be that way
—Nancy and Cindy 8-1p

MASSIA—In cherished memory of a dear father, father-in-law and grandfather and great grandfather, Amedee who passed away, February 21st, 1982.
There years ago our loved one passed away.
Dear Dad, we miss you more than ever today.
Wish you were here to share in this life.
A life that without you has left us strife.
We miss your smile and your guiding light,
You were always there to make things right.
From where you are, Dad, remember us too,
And save a place for us right next to you.
Sadly missed, always loved, never forgotten by your children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, daughters-in-law and son-in-law.
—The Massia family. 8-1p

SMITH—In loving memory of a dear brother, Robert, who passed away on February 16, 1984.

Police will enforce headlight law

The OPP is asking all motorists to see the light when driving.

A change to the provincial Highway Traffic Act means that motorists now must turn their lights on a minimum of a half hour before sunset and leave them on until at least a half hour after sunrise.

Lancaster Community Service Officer Cst. Gilles Ruest said the law was changed since research indicates that increased use of headlights cuts down on traffic accidents.

The law was changed in December and drivers have been given a period of grace to get used to the change.

Cst. Ruest said the Lancaster detachment received notification of the change last week and officers will now be enforcing it. The penalty for not having lights on is a $53 fine.

WI director chairs Glengarry district meeting

The Glengarry District Women's Institute held a board meeting in Alexandria on Wednesday, January 16. Mrs. Lynus MacPherson, board director for subdivision 1, chaired the meeting which featured representatives from SD&G and Prescott-Russell.

Prior to the start of the meeting those present were shown a photograph of the bicentennial wall hanging made by members of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario from across the province and presented to the Ontario Legislature by FWIO President Charlotte Johnson on June 11, 1984. The wall hanging is now on display on the third floor of the Legislative Building in Queen's Park, Toronto. Members are advised this is not on the regular tour of the building and if they wish to see the hanging, they should ask the tour guide.

Dates were set for the district annual meetings. They are: Prescott, at Vankleek Hill, Thursday, May 23; Stormont, May 21 at the Blessed Sacrament Church, Toll Gate Road, Cornwall; Dundas, Tuesday, May 28, at Williamsburgh; Russell, Tuesday, May 14 at the United Church in Russell; Glengarry, Wednesday, May 8, at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, South Lancaster.

Individual mailing of the Home and Country is still in the planning stages. It is mandatory that a Family Studies course be offered to Grades 11, 12 and 13 in high schools, but not mandatory in the lower grades. If your high school does not offer this course, contact the principal. Christian Home Schools, which are becoming more popular, are legal but they must follow a curriculum.

It was suggested the P.R.O. from every branch put up a display of current or past activities at the district annual meeting.

Mention was made of the forthcoming Federated Women's Institute of Canada convention to be held June 16-20, 1985 in London, Ontario. Deadline for registration is February 28. Four different tours will be offered around this time. Districts are requested to donate gift items to the total value of $20 (none to exceed $10) for the bazaar table at the conference. Mrs. MacPherson offered to take any donations if they reach her by April 16.

Printing of an ethnic album is in the planning stages and material is needed of women and their role in society. The title will be Women on Woman's Potential. Needed are items dealing with arts and crafts, family traditions, a second language, skits, foods, etc. Deadline for items is April 10, 1985.

All expressed a desire to have the Eastern area convention of 1986 brought to Cornwall and advice will be sought on how to enter a motion to this effect.

Mrs. MacPherson said that the provincial level nine resolutions were passed and seven were lost. One of those passed was submitted by Finch Branch, Stormont District and revised at the Ottawa Area convention. It requested the Ontario government to set aside a portion of the profits made from the sale of alcoholic beverages to be used for the cure and rehabilitation of alcoholic victims. This will be sent to the Ontario government.

Praise was given to Bernice Noblett, president of the FWIC, for all the hard work she has done on behalf of the Institute and country. She is at present campaigning against pornography which is too available to our young people

At the area convention in the fall of 1984 the sum of $5,000 from the sale of cookbooks was put into a scholarship fund and a committee formed to look after the awarding of these scholarships which will come from the interest of the investment.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of Consolidation

(i) Consolidated Balance Sheet
This statement reflects the assets and liabilities of the revenue fund, reserve funds, the capital fund and includes the activities of all committees of council and the Maxville and District Sports Complex.

(ii) Consolidated Statement of Operations
This statement reflects the consolidated sources of financing and expenditures of the revenue fund, reserves, reserve funds, and the capital fund of the municipality and the local board, described in Note 1 (a)(i).

(iii) Non-consolidated Entities
The "Consolidated Balance Sheet" does not reflect the assets or liabilities of Maxville Hydro Electric Commission except to the extent of amounts due to or from the utility. The "Consolidated Statement of Operations" does not reflect their revenues and expenditures.

(iv) The taxation, other revenues, expenditures, assets and liabilities with respect to the operations of the school boards, and the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry are not reflected in these financial statements except to the extent that overlevies (underlevies) are reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet" as other liabilities (other current assets).

(v) Trust funds and their related operations administered by the municipality are not consolidated, but are reported separately on the "Trust Funds Statement of Continuity and Balance Sheet".

(b) Basis of Accounting (nonaccrual)

(i) Sources of financing and expenditures are reported on the accrual basis of accounting with the exception of principal and interest charges on long term liabilities which are charged against operations in the periods in which they are paid. The principal and interest charges are not accrued for the period from the date of the latest installment payment to the end of the financial year.

(ii) The accrual basis of accounting recognizes revenues as they become available and measurable; expenditures are recognized as they are incurred and measurable as a result of receipt of goods or services and the creation of a legal obligation to pay.

(iii) Capital Outlay to be Recovered in Future Years
The historical cost and accumulated depreciation of fixed assets are not reported for municipal purposes. Instead the "Capital outlay to be recovered in future years", which represents the outstanding principal portion of unmatured long term liabilities for municipal expenditures or capital funds transferred to other organizations, is reported on the "Consolidated Balance Sheet".

AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Members of Council,

Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Village of Maxville.

We have examined the balance sheet of the trust funds of the Corporation of the Village of Maxville as at 31 December 1984, and the statement of continuity of trust funds for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the trust funds for the Corporation of the Village of Maxville as at 31 December 1984 and the continuity of trust funds for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles prescribed for Ontario Municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.
