High School teachers strike Monday

Now it has happened here! All high school teachers in this area will be on strike, starting Monday, April 4th.

The teachers, members of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation (OSSTF) and the Association des Enseignants Franco-Ontariens (AEFO) have been unable to conclude an agreement with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education on a collective agreement for 1976-1977. These teachers have been working without a new contract since September 1, 1976.

The provincial negotiating team representing the teachers served notice of strike action at a press conference held Tuesday, March 29th at the Parkway Inn in Cornwall.

Money is not an issue in this dispute. When the teachers offered to submit all outstanding issues to arbitration, the Board was willing to submit the salary items to arbitration but would not agree to permit an arbitrator to rule on the other issues.

The chief disagreement is over what is termed "working conditions." According to Bill 100, the teachers claim "any term of conditions of employment is negotiable."

Peter Norman, spokesman for the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Association explained at the press conference, "The teachers, as well as the board, feel many pressures. The board problem is to legislate but with the changing programs, teachers also feel their input is necessary, and they have no hesitation in feeling this is just. In attempting to maintain the rapport they feel is necessary in a classroom, they feel they must have a say in it. They feel there must be sufficient teachers to provide a workable effective environment."

The "sticker" at this time is "Letters of Intent." They are as follows:

This is a Letter of Intent in reference to the Board's Staffing Ratio for the school year 1977-78.

The Board, at its March 8, 1977, Budget Meeting, approved as policy in accepting the Budget that the overall staffing ration, based on actual September 30, 1977, enrolment, will not exceed 17.0:1. This overall ratio will include teachers for Special Education, and teachers for a duality factor (English and French instruction) at Char-Lan, Tagwi and Glengarry District High Schools.

This is a Letter of Intent relating to Guidelines on Time a Teacher will be in contact with students, and Guidelines on Class Sizes for the School Year 1977-78.

Based on a forty-period week, the maximum number of students a teacher will be expected to be in contact with, in the performance of his instructional duties, will be as per the following:

Instructional Assignment	Number of Students per Day
Special Education	72
Occupational Academic	120
Occupational Practical	96
Academic Classes	180
Commercial Classes	180
Technical Shops	120

Based on a forty-period week, the teacher will have thirty teaching periods. The remaining ten periods will be designated as unassigned time. However, it is understood that each teacher may be called upon by his principal to perform contact activities to a maximum of five of the ten unassigned periods. The foregoing will apply to Department Heads except that, where required, a Department Head will have up to an additional five extra periods to fulfill the duties of the position of responsibility.

The equivalent student contact and teaching periods would apply in semestered schools.

Contact activities include supervision or on-call, or such other duties as fall within the meaning of a teacher's contract or may be agreed upon by the teacher and his principal.

The implementation of the above will be the responsibility of the principal, and respects the principle of school autonomy. The provision of adequate staffing for the above will be the responsibility of the Board.

The teachers want these "Letters of Intent" included in their contract. If it is not thus guaranteed, they claim, it can be changed at any time.

The board refuses to include these in the contract. And therein lies the dispute.

Teachers claim there is no way a teacher can teach more than 180 students a day, correct assignments and prepare work so that a student can profit justifiably.

Involved in the strike are 527 teachers. They teach 9,225 students in the 10 high schools in the area.

While this works out to about a 17.5 ratio the figures can be misleading because included in the number of teachers are principals, vice-principals, supervisors, counsellors, librarians, etc., who provide services in the school but who may not be providing classroom instruction.

The teachers are not attempting to change current class sizes, and conditions of work, their press release states, but are seeking to ensure that any future changes will be arrived at through negotiations.

On Thursday, March 17, in a vote supervised by the Education Relations Commission, the teachers rejected the Board's last offer and voted in favor of a strike.

In an attempt to avoid a strike and resolve the dispute, mediation resumed on Monday, March 28 under the direction of provincial mediator, Harvey Ladd. Mediation continued through Tuesday, March 29 without any progress being achieved. At this time it was decided to act upon the strike vote.

SYRUP MAKER OF MANY YEARS—Xiste Montpetit, right, has been gathering sap and making syrup in this same bush east of Alexandria for the past 66 years. His son Claude, on tractor, has taken part in the operation each year. "Sunday afternoon was the best time," said Claude, "several grandchildren were here and it was like one big spring time party as they ran among the trees gathering sap."

St. Raphael's

Caught in the squeeze

In the process of trying to obtain government grants, officials at St. Raphael's are at present somewhat in the position of "a man without a country."

Who is to approve grant money? On June 11th, Charlottenburgh Township becomes part of the Stormont riding, so will be in Ed Lumley's territory.

Right now, Charlottenburgh is in the Glengarry-Prescott-Russell area and will soon be removed from the concern of Denis Ethier. Mr. Ethier's money for grants is in limited quantity to dole out, as his area is assessed as a low unemployment area.

The huge cemetery is in need of repairs and application has been made under the Canada Works Grant for $21,289. The parish share to do $30,000 of work necessary would be $8,300.

While the parish has money in a perpetual care fund, under government regulations only the interest on this can be used without provincial approval.

Since it is one of the oldest cemeteries in the area and of great interest as a tourist spot to browse through, the parish would like to keep it in a worthy condition. But right now, the parish committee is not sure what way to turn.

A grant for tour guides is also being sought under the Canada Youth Program. Due to the number of historic sites in the immediate area, the traffic is particularly heavy in summer. It is impossible for the parish priest to be continually conducting people who call for guidance in visiting the place.

The Ruins Committee has applied for a grant of $9,974 to hire five young people as guides for the summer. So far no approval for this purpose has been forthcoming either.

Bishop to be here for Easter

Bishop Eugene LaRocque will celebrate the 11 o'clock mass in St. Finnan's Cathedral on Sunday when the blessing and distribution of the palms will be a Palm Sunday feature.

The bishop will also officiate at the 3 p.m. service in the Cathedral on Good Friday and at the 9 a.m. mass on Easter Sunday, April 10th.

The Holy Oils will be blessed on Wednesday, April 6th at the Co-Cathedral of the Nativity in Cornwall.

Canoe race moved ahead to Sunday

The Raisin River White Water Canoe Race will be held this weekend on Sunday, April 3rd, if there is enough of a flow in the Raisin. Otherwise the race will be called off for this year.

The announcement was made early this week by the sponsoring Raisin Region Conservation Authority. Spokesmen declared the water level has dropped so fast it is possible the race will have to be cancelled.

Final decision will not be made until Thursday and if the race is called off announcement of the fact will be made by radio.

The big spring attraction had been set for April 17th but the early advent of spring and the fast run-off of snow has returned the Raisin to a level that could be dangerously low for canoes even this weekend.

This year's race calls for three classes: men, men and women, women. Two are allowed in each canoe.

Lochiel township

Considers services

Members of the Lochiel Township Council met with Alexandria Town Council Tuesday night for the purpose of discussing the possibility of connecting some Lochiel homes to Alexandria services.

Several homes on Lochiel St. East, East Boundary Road and St. Paul St., border the town but are actually located in the Tou nship of Lochiel.

A request was made by many of these Lochiel residents to have their homes connected to Alexandria services.

The responsibility for doing so lies with Lochiel Council and it was for this reason that they met with Town council.

"We aren't here with any plans," said Lochiel Reeve Alex MacDonald, "but only to ask questions and return to our council with the information."

"Water is our first priority," he said, "if we can get going on this then we may continue to the request for sewage services."

Mr. MacDonald received many points of general information from council such as the estimated cost of installation, $50 a foot, or a total of $30,000 for installation along St. Paul St. as far as the monastery.

"This is all very preliminary," said Mr. MacDonald. "but I have left the most important question to last. How do we finance this?"

Mayor Bruno Massie said that if these Lochiel residents want the services they would have to pay cash or consider a local improvement loan which would be paid back over 20 years.

Lochiel would be required to pay the entire amount and those receiving town water would probably have to pay a minimum of twice the annual charge made to town residents.

"Also," said Mayor Massie, "we would have to decide on a connecting fee."

Clerk-Treasurer Don Collin also informed the Lochiel representatives that two separate agreements would have to be drawn up; one covering water supply, and another for sewage.

Sports Palace receives grants

The Town of Alexandria and Township of Lancaster have received their grants under the Community Centres Act for their contributions towards the Glengarry Sports Palace.

The Alexandria amount was $108,000 and Lancaster's was $67,000. The Township of Lochiel is still awaiting its grant for the same purpose.

Recommendations for fire department

Ten recommendations out of 11 submitted by Councillor Archie McDougall, Chairman of the Fire and Light Committee were accepted by Alexandria Town Council at the meeting held Tuesday night.

They are as follows:

1. That the probationary period for new firemen be a period of two years, and that at the end of that term a review board of the Fire Department make a recommendation as to the candidate's future status;

2. That a review board be organized annually to review and to evaluate the dossier of each fireman during the first three years following probation, so that each man in this category is made aware of the views "of his peers" and encouraged to carry out his role with greater confidence;

3. That some incentive program be developed to encourage good candidates to join and remain in the public service of our community and that some tentative program be started in 1977;

4. That a clothing allowance of one hundred dollars ($100) be granted each year to all ranks;

5. That an annual allotment of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000) be alloted to the Fire Department to cover miscellaneous needs and general maintenance, as has been the custom in the past, and that an official statement of this money be submitted annually to the Town Clerk for purposes of audit;

6. That an "Administrative Board" in the Fire Department Hall indicate up-to-date records on all personnel—attendance, hours on duty, and other pertinent information, so that all men can see for themselves exactly the "who and what" of the Alexandria Fire Department.

7. That each member receive a copy of all governing regulations: the Do's and the Don'ts that form the guideline for the "expected behaviour" of all personnel;

8. That the Fire Department and the Fire and Light Committee set up immediately a study group to consider awards and future commendations, and policies related therein;

9. That the Department form an "Officer Selection Committee" to provide for future possibilities that will encourage all members to remain in the department;

10. That the Council accept two recommendations submitted by the Firemen: A. That the Firemen's Club be known as the Alexandria Firefighters' Association and B. The 50% attendance at meetings and fires be dispensed with.

GETS RN DEGREE—Miss Muriel Ross has successfully passed Registered Nursing examinations and has received her degree. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ross, Martintown, she is a graduate of St. Lawrence College Health and Science Departments and is presently employed at Baycrest Hospital in Toronto.

Closed Good Friday

Most stores in Alexandria will be closed on Good Friday and open Easter Monday.

Town accepts tender for diesel truck

Alexandria Town Council Tuesday night accepted the tender of $35,464.08 from MacEwen Ford Sales Ltd. for the purchase of a six ton diesel truck. However the placement of the actual purchase order will be postponed until the town has prepared its budget which is expected early in April.

Considerable discussion was heard by members of council prior to the acceptance of the tender as Councillor Lionel Leroux expressed objection to purchase of diesel over a gas powered truck.

"A gas truck," said councillor Leroux, "would do the job just as well and would cost approximately $15,000 less than the proposed diesel model. A diesel engine alone costs $10,000."

"Council saw fit to call for tenders on a diesel." said Mayor Bruno Massie, "Why should we change our minds now?"

"I'm not saying that gas is better but it would do the job we would require," remarked councillor Leroux.

"When we first decided to call tenders on a diesel truck council figured on spending $45,000 to $48,000. However we now find that one may be purchased for $35,000 which is a considerable saving as it is." said Mayor Massie.

Clerk-Treasurer Don Collin suggested that if council accepted the tender it should hold off on its purchase until after the necessary amount had been included in the up-coming budget.

The truck will pay for itself in time, said the mayor, as we receive grants from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for each hour we use the truck.

The old truck realized between $12,000 and $15,000 a year on this basis.

The town was forced to spend

Lions induct new members

Members of the Lions clubs of Perth and Smiths Falls were guests of Alexandria Lions Club Monday night at the club's brotherhood dinner meeting.

A feature was the induction of seven new members of the local club by Past Governor Percy Reid of Perth. The new Lions are: Normand Carriere, Guy Theoret, Michel Ferland, Richard Ranger, Jean Paul Miron, Alex Spooner and Fred Ashley.

A former Alexandria Lion, Lyall Costello of Ottawa, spoke on brotherhood in a moving manner. He was introduced by Lorne Lawson and thanked by Frank McLeister.

Among other speakers were Deputy Governor Harry Ballantyne of Perth who is seeking the post of District Governor, and Peter Prankke of Perth who is campaigning for Deputy Governor.

MARC'S MENAGERIE—Marc Lalonde, owner of Alexandria IGA, was as proud as punch when this little donkey was born to one of his jennies on the first day of spring. This one is the 11th addition to the donkey herd. Marc became interested in this miniature variety last year when he acquired two jennies and a jack and more recently he purchased seven more. Their back isn't much higher than the average person's waist and their coat is like an old floor brush in texture.

Lost home, contents

The home of Romeo Lalonde, located approximately two miles north of Alexandria on Highway 34, was completely destroyed by fire early Friday morning.

"Both myself and my wife were asleep at the time," said Mr. Lalonde, "As near as I can figure the fire started in the kitchen."

"What saved us," he said, "was a loud explosion. It must have been one of those aerosol cans that exploded because of the heat."

"The noise woke us up and left us with just enough time to get out of the house. I managed to slip on a pair of pants and my wife was able to put a coat on. Except for that we lost everything."

"The fire must have been well on its way by the time we woke up," said Mr. Lalonde, "because as soon as we opened the door to get out the sudden rush of air caused the fire to roar through the rest of the house."

"Almost everything in the home was new," he said, "including a $1,200 color television set I had purchased only a few months ago."

Alexandria Fire Chief Gerald Charlebois said he received the call to the fire at 4:20 a.m. By the time the brigade arrived the house was virtually destroyed.

LOST EVERYTHING—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Lalonde was completely destroyed by fire early Friday morning. The home, located approximately two miles north of Alexandria on Highway 34, was engulfed in flame and the fire was beyond control by the time the Alexandria firemen arrived.

Safety club to meet at fire hall

The 4-H farm and home safety club held its monthly meeting on March 14th. There were 25 members at this meeting. Since the president was absent, the vice-president directed the meeting and later handed over to the leaders.

The leaders had a dozen or so charts about ski-dooing, which were discussed. Skidooing was the month's topic. Glen Smith then showed a film called 'Snowmobile Safety Savvy," which was very good and entertaining.

After the film we chose our club projects. There were four choices: 1) A written project on facilities for safe handling of livestock. 2) Identifying safety hazards on the farm and in home and reporting methods taken to correct them. 3) Constructing a cabinet or storage facility for chemicals and pesticides used on the farm and in the home. 4) Fire prevention and protection maintenance in home buildings, reporting steps that should be taken to eliminate hazards. Members were to choose any one of these or make up a suitable one of their own.

The next meeting is on Mon., April 18th, at 8 p.m. at the Fire Hall in Alexandria. The topic will be "Fire Prevention." Jim Vallance will help run this meeting.

Oldtimers won all four games on overseas trip last week

The Alexandria Old Timers are back from Britain with another feather in their hats after having won all four of their games in Scotland and England.

They left Alexandria for Scotland on Thursday, March 17th, and played their first match in Kirkcaldy on Saturday, March 19th, where they defeated their hosts 7 to 4.

Point getters for Alexandria were Denis Martin, Gilles Lefebvre and Bruce Libbos who each registered a pair of goals, and Glen Slater with a single.

Old timers' hockey over there, said Bob Leroux, is a little different than here in that slapshots are allowed. This made for a more aggressive style of hockey. We are more accustomed to this shot not being allowed.

We won that game 7 to 4, said Bob, but it wasn't until the last five minutes of play that we were able to slip in a couple of insurance goals. Before that point the game could have gone either way.

The next match was against the Murrayfield Racers, near Edinburgh. The hosts were defeated 3 to 2 with the winning point coming from Guy Cholette with only 50 seconds of regulation time remaining.

Alexandria opened the scoring with Gilles Lefebvre at 2:47 of the second period. Murrayfield replied four minutes later. Pierre Thibodeau then made it 2 to 1 at 8:42 of the third period and the hosts replied at 14:50..

Overtime looked inevitable. But Guy Cholette was able to slip one past their goaltender with only 50 seconds remaining to win the game for Alexandria.

A cheering section of approximately 35 locals, which included players' wives and others, travelled with the old timers to Scotland and when they arrived at Murrayfield a special task was put upon them.

The host team had been unable to acquire a recording of our national anthem and a request was put to the Alexandria cheering section to sing the anthem. They did so in both French and English and Bob Leroux said "It gave you goose pimples."

It also moved the host team so much that word of the incident was passed along to their next competition.

When Alexandria arrived to play Whitley Bay they found that a maple leaf had been painted at centre ice, another was placed on their dressing room door, another was placed on each of their reserved seats and two large Canadian flags hung over centre ice.

The gesture was much appreciated by the Alexandria Old Timers. But they didn't let it affect their game any and defeated the hosts 11 to 6.

Scoring for Alexandria were Bruce Libbos and Stanley Fraser who shared a hat trick each. A pair were registered by Roch Lajoie and singles by Gilles Lefebvre, Andre Seguin and Denis Martin.

Following the game Bob Leroux and Stanley Fraser were interviewed for 25 minutes for a BBC radio broadcast.

The fourth and final game was played in Streatham, London, where the locals held their record and defeated their hosts 5 to 3.

Alexandria point getters were Glen Slater with a hat trick, Gilles Lefebvre and Pierre Thibodeau with singles.

None of the British teams gave any indication of having a return match on this side of the water but all were invited to do so should the opportunity present itself.

In each municipality that the Alexandria team played in a program was available giving a brief description of the Canadian competition. However, some humorous errors were included. The Flying Fifers stated "They have played in Japan and Europe." Unfortunately they have only played in Ontario and Quebec.

The Murrayfield Racers, on the other hand, gave them more of a boost and referred to them as "mainly ex-professionals." Not to say that they aren't good hockey players. But professionals? Hardly. Nor have any of them ever played any form of professional hockey.

In the first, third and final games the Alexandria Old Timers were faced with a little more than they expected. It came in the form of ice surface.

In Canada the standard ice width is 85 feet. But over there they make it 100 feet in width, which at times can become a bit of a problem, said Bob Leroux.

The Evening Standard, a London newspaper, headed one of its stories referring to the game "Redskins bite the dust."

Dated March 24th it stated, "The sequence of 13 ice hockey victories by Streatham Redskins was halted last night when Glengarry, the Canadian touring side, won 5 to 3 in the finest game seen in the capital since the days of the London Lions."

Alexandria doesn't have any statistics on the London Lions. But such a compliment is a nice way to end a series of hockey games.

MacEWEN LEADING SERIES—This season's Industrial Hockey play may come to an end on Friday, April 1st. As it stands MacEwen Ford is leading Yamaha two games to nothing in a best of five finals. Last Friday night, Bob Cuerrier was able to slip this one past Yamaha's goaltender Jimmy MacDonell to help in the 9 to 2 victory. Left to right, Kenny McDonald, Jacques Cusick, Raymond Poirier, Lee Taillefer, Bob and Jimmy.

Play-offs could end Friday

Friday night may see the end of this year's Industrial Hockey competition now that MacEwen has defeated Yamaha in the first two games of the finals.

The best of five series saw Yamaha go down to MacEwen 9 to 2 on Friday night and 6 to 1 on Sunday afternoon at the Sports Palace.

Scoring for MacEwen on Friday were Ken MacDonald and Raymond Poirier with two each and singles from Garry McDonald, Wendall Lafave, Bob Cuerrier, Rodney Shepherd and Hubert McDonell. Point getters for Yamaha were Ewen McLeod and Ian McKay.

Sunday's points on the MacEwen side of the score came off the sticks of Ken McDonald, who made a hat trick, and singles from Raymond Poirier, Raymond McDonald and Stephen McDonell.

The lone Yamaha point was registered by Finlay McLeod.

The next game is scheduled for Friday, April 1st, at 7 p.m.

Name omitted

The gremlins found their way into our typesetting equipment last week and left out the name of Robert Lajoie in the year-end statistics of the Jr. Glens.

Robert should have been placed between Jacques Lajoie and Ewen McCormick with six goals, 13 assists and a total of 19 points for regular season play.

Robert, Claude Roy and Randy McDonell will be leaving the Jr. Glen organization this year having reached the age limit for Jr. "B" play.

Six teams in News Cup to start play April 8

The Glengarry News Cup will have six teams in competition this year and not five as proposed last week by the Recreation Director in Alexandria, Mike Depratto.

Representatives of the teams that had already made entries met with Mr. Depratto at the Sports Palace on Saturday. While they agreed the idea had merit they preferred to stay with the teams already entered this year but thought the rule might be set up for future years.

Changing the set-up at this time would mean that some of the players already signed up by teams would have to be released and the coaches did not relish cutting back their rosters.

The six entries are: MacEwen Ford from Alexandria; Charlottenburgh Rebels, Glen Nevis, Lochiel, Lancaster Dodgers and Apple Hill.

Some of the games will be played at the Charlottenburgh Auditorium and play will start on April 8th.

New trophies are being donated this year for individual awards in the series.

Racquets win in finals

The Racquets defeated the Stingers in the first game of the semi-finals, 26—25 in what was the best ping pong contest of the season.

The lead see-sawed back and forth throughout the night and after the twenty regular matches they were tied, 25—25.

They then had to go into overtime, with the two captains opposing one another. Rejean Menard for the Stingers and Tom Lowe for the Racquets.

Tom Lowe won the first match 21—18 but, Rejean Menard came back to take the second one 21—19.

The stage was then set for the do or die match. In the final one, Tom Lowe proved to be superior, winning 21—16, giving his team the first game in the best two out of three final.

The next game will be played at the Sports Palace on Tuesday night.

Winners in curling event

The third annual Molson's 24-hour bonspiel was held in the Alexandria Curling Club from Friday through Saturday night.

Winners of the one game high were Fraser MacLeod, skip, Denis Vaillancourt, third, Donald B. MacDonald, second and Elizabeth Barton, lead.

Second place was won by Laurent Major, skip, Joan Ryan third, Dr. Laszlo Roman, and Jacques Leblanc, lead. Third place winners were Alex Spooner, skip, Sandra Lawson, third, Ray Spooner, second and Madeleine Roman, lead.

Winners of the consolation award were Don Johnson, skip, Germaine Lalonde, third, Bruce Marr second, and Joan Johnston, lead.

Hugh Allen Macdonald and Claudette Larocque were in charge of the event. Roger Leger of Molson's was on hand to present the trophies.

'B' winners at Cornwall

A broomball team representing Glengarry and consisting of players from this year's local broomball action travelled to Cornwall on the weekend to win the "B" championship trophy.

They lost their first game to JOC "A" Cornwall 4 to 2 which placed them in the "B" series.

In their next game, they defeated the Freeman's team 5 to 0 then went on to win over a team from Ottawa 1 to 0.

The semi-finals saw them defeat JOC Panthers of Cornwall 4 to 3 in overtime and the final game was a win over Charron Sports 2 to 0.

Team players were Remi Decoeur, Aurele Decoeur, Ronald Leblanc, Theo Oetelaar, Laurent Decoeur, Maurice Deguire, Michel Decoeur, Denis Decoeur, Jacques Hamelin, Guy Secours, Richard St. Denis, Norman Menard and Rene Leduc.

Coach Gerald Oetelaar was voted the best coach of the "B" series. Other awards were best defenceman, Theo Oetelaar; best goaltender, Maurice Deguire and MVP Jacques Hamelin.

Knockout—a future sport?

Do people like violence in sport? Todd Hambleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hambleton of Dalhousie and a Grade Seven student at Lancaster Area Public School thinks so.

Todd looks at sport in 1977 and describes the origin of a new sport that has become popular throughout the years. It follows:

The game of "Knockout" was originated by a bunch of grown men whose Sunday afternoons were getting reasonably dull. They put their heads together and came out with what they thought was a great sport.

There were three members per team, each properly equipped with plenty of padding. The object of the game was to fight for possession of a softball and when they got it, they would shoot it at a target, which was pinned on the front of each player's sweater.

They presented their idea to a sports commissioner who thought he could make this sport grow in popularity. He succeeded and eight teams in Canada and the United States were formed.

The box office didn't draw the fans needed to make a profit, so the conveners of the league decided to change the rules.

Instead of using the regular softball they started to use ten pound shot puts to shoot at the players. No equipment was to be used and to score a point you would have to break the other player's bones. Three points were made by knocking out one of the opponents.

The fans flocked to the games, not caring about the score but just to see somebody lying on the field in agonizing pain.

The players didn't care either because even the poorest player was making at least ten thousand dollars a game.

Midgets split on weekend

One win and a loss was the best the Alexandria Midget travelling team was able to do at the Cardinal hockey tournament Saturday, March 26th.

In their first game against Athens they came away winners 3 to 1. Scoring for Alexandria were Mike Sullivan with a pair and a single from Mike Crack.

They were bumped out of any further competition when defeated by Morrisburg 3 to 1 with the lone local goal being registered by Dan Giroux.

In Sunday's competition at Chesterville both teams held it to a three-all draw.

Local point getters were Mike Bellefeuille, Scott Hay and Doug Brown.

Stricken during curling game

Jacques Joly, postmaster in Alexandria, is currently a patient in the Intensive Care Unit at Hotel Dieu, Cornwall.

Mr. Joly collapsed last Sunday at the Curling Club during a game at the Lions-Richelieu bonspiel.

Grant Crack star of game

The Alexandria Bantam Glens gave it their best shot last weekend at the St. Isidore tournament but were bumped out of the competition in the second round.

In the first game of the series they defeated the host team 6 to 1 with local points coming from Grant Crack who registered a hat trick and singles from Frankie Morris, Andre Lortie and Kieran McCormick.

Grant was awarded a gold medal after being voted the first star of the game and a silver award went to Frankie. This is a custom unique to St. Isidore.

In the second game Alexandria was defeated by Hawkesbury 5 to 2.

Point getters for Hawkesbury were Andre Rouleau with a pair, and singles from Lynn Fournier, Sylvain Villeneuve and J. Myre.

On Monday, March 21st, Alexandria travelled to Maxville to win 5 to 1. Scoring for the Bantam Glens were Andre Lortie with two, and singles from Grant Crack, Dale Boisvenue and Kieran McCormick. The single Maxville point was registered by Perry Montgomery.

The next tournament the locals will be taking part in is at Hawkesbury this Saturday, April 2nd, when they face Hull at 10 a.m.

Reading of works to be presented at local library

Enjoy "A Taste of Robert Service" with Canadian actor Charles Hayter at the Seaway Valley Libraries, Alexandria Branch, on Saturday, April 9 at 3:00 p.m. and Morrisburg Branch on Saturday, April 16, at 3:00 p.m.

Charles Hayter has been widely acclaimed across Canada for his dramatic, entertaining one-man performance which includes readings and anecdotes dramatizing the life and work of poet Robert Service, Bard of the Yukon.

Through "The Spell of the Yukon," "The Cremation of Sam McGee," "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and other well known Robert Service tales and verses, Charles Hayter recreates the lusty, gold rush days of the Yukon as he illustrates the long, varied career of this Canadian-adopted, English born poet.

All are invited to attend "A Taste of Robert Service," a free program sponsored by the Ontario Arts Council and the Eastern Ontario Library System, at the Seaway Valley Libraries' Alexandria Branch on April 9 at 3:00 p.m. and Morrisburg Branch on April 16 at 3:00 p.m.

Operational budget presented to council

The 1977 budget for the operation of the Alexandria Parks and Recreation was presented to Tuesday night's meeting of Town Council.

Expenditures are estimated at $68,291.30 and revenue is expected at $10,450.00 with a balance of $57,841.30.

These figures are for the operation, maintenance and general well being of both the park and Sports Palace.

"A balance of $57,000 is considerably less than the figures we operated under a couple of years ago," said Reeve J. P. Touchette, "which was more in the vicinity of $70,000."

"It's possible," he said, "that in time the arena would be self supporting."

'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret

The teachers have just returned from their March break which for many was enjoyed in areas far from their current stompin-ground.

It's a long time since I taught school. Way back then, the big highlight of a country teacher's life in the winter was in knowing there were some good hospitable houses in the neighborhood where one could enjoy some games of cards and conversation.

One of those homes in the First of Kenyon to which I probably invited myself much more than I should have was Charlie O'Connors. Among the bits of chit-chat I remember Charlie challenging me with was "Ask me any question in the catechism. I'll not only know the answer, I can probably tell you which page it is on."

Those were the days of the old-time catechism, when the questions and answers were laid out with no ifs, buts or ands. Charlie had 14 of a family. "Taught every one of them their catechism," Charlie would say. "Always figured that was one of my jobs."

I wonder how many fathers today put a priority on the catechism as one of their responsibilities?

Charlie O'Connor died last week. To the more than one hundred descendants who survive, he left the example of one who had established his principles and lived by them.

Alex Fraser of Lancaster is in the process of having his second book published on the gravestones of Glengarry.

An article in the Standard Freeholder describes Alex as a United Empire Loyalist.

My My! We never did know Alex was that old. The people we associate with the United Empire Loyalist name came to Canada about 1784. They must have been old enough to walk or be carried so that would make them a couple of hundred years old or more.

Here we thought Alex was going around to all the graveyards copying all the inscriptions down, slowly and painstakingly. Little did we know his secret of longevity. He was probably at all those funerals over the years. Knew all those folks personally.

All jokes aside, we rather like the way Alex is going about recording the history of the people who lived hereabouts. Most of our forefathers never made the highlights in any famous books. But here is a book, or rather a series of books being planned which will record their names and a little of the history that is available about all whose name ever appeared on a tombstone.

Our ancestors did not have a lot of money but one of the things most of them made provision for was a tombstone to record the fact that a life had been here, however insignificant. And it will all be recorded in Alex's books over the nest 15 years or so. So, if Alex's Rip Van Winkle life can just be extended that much longer we will have a rather unique history. Meanwhile we think he has a real blowout of birthday party coming to him ere long!

I do hear tell some people are not happy with the proposal put forth by Rosaire Leger on changing the school terms.

I have not thought about it yet as sufficiently as I intend to. One of these evenings, I am going to sit down and really think about it.

There are a couple of things I do like about it, right off. First of all it was a new idea. And it shows our director is thinking in terms of power conservation. Now I've heard a dozen parents say it would not conserve power overall because the kids would use it up at home watching the late TV show, making grilled cheese sandwiches, reading "Mad" books all night and listening to the stereo. And this may be.

But what goes on in the homes is not under the control of the administrator and the school is. And that is the area he is paid to think about.

I wonder why the school term was set up like it is in the first place. Has it been that way since we have first had a school system in Canada and if so, what governed the thinking at that time? Was it to use child labor in a population that was mainly rural? Seems to me the July-August school age help on the farm was in more demand when hay and earlier crops were harvested. Now that hay is grown less and corn is a major crop which is harvested later on in the fall, do the children contribute as much as they used to?

Would it be more profitable for a high school student to work from August on through the fall when there is a demand for labor as college kids have gone back to study? Would high school students be in demand for baby-sitting jobs in January when people might like to take a vacation, but can't, because it is impossible to get someone to look after the young ones?

Mr. Leger's suggestion is new and we take a long time to accept a change in the patterns we have learned to abide by. Sometimes they are ruts we just ride along in, too comfortable to steer out of. The suggestion is not all perfect but it is not all bad. And if it can shake us up into thinking seriously about a situation, that is a big step in itself.

One big disadvantage of the new system struck me on Wednesday morning. How to get out to work when the roads aren't plowed. This was the week of the school break and the buses had no need to run. When the buses do not run, it seems the roads are not plowed in the same orderly fashion. And this again, has nothing to do with Rosaire Leger's job, but it just goes to show how one system affects another. A change in the school terms might just affect every other phase of our society. And that might not be a bad thing either. We have to keep thinking about this.

IT'S OUR OPINION

The Glengarry News

ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1977

SECOND SECTION

Our lake has a weed problem

Weeds are a worsening problem on Lake St. Francis and we face the same problem on the Alexandria lake, one of our citizens informs. The weedbeds were spreading in the local lake last year, as he tells it, and they threaten to be an even worse problem this summer.

In Lake St. Francis the weed problem has been growing ever since the St. Lawrence Seaway became a reality with its power dam at Cornwall. The ship channel is located on the Quebec side and as a result there is no current or flow along the Glengarry shoreline. Effluent from Cornwall industries is another factor in encouraging weed growth.

Lack of flow in the far reaches of our lake is also encouraging weed production here and our informant believes the problem will be serious enough this summer to discourage boating and some swimming.

He recalls town council acted on the same problem a few years back by bringing in a weed cutting apparatus. There may be more satisfactory ways of dealing with the weed problem and he suggests town council or the park committee might look into the matter.

Seat belts proving themselves

More than two hundred fewer fatalities on Ontario roads in 1976 appears to be evidence that seat belt legislation and reduced speed limits are having a beneficial effect on the traffic toll. The 1,511 people who died in motor vehicle-related accidents last year marked a reduction of 16.1 per cent from the previous year and this was the lowest level since 1964.

Injuries in traffic were down more than 13,000 from a year ago and this must be credited to the greater use of seat belts considering the fact there were almost as many accidents last year as one year earlier.

Where statistics were available on seat belt use and non-use, authorities found that a belted driver's chances of survival in a collision are ten times higher than an unbelted driver's. Among 61,221 unbelted drivers involved in accidents, 355 died; while only 153 fatalities occurred among 269,772 belted drivers involved.

These statistics suggest there would have been fewer fatalities and fewer injuries if everybody had been using seat belts.

Seat belts are a nuisance many motorists feel and they disdain their use. From just such thinking are traffic statistics produced.

We could use more of them

In today's crazy mixed-up philosophy, one who doesn't conform is almost immediately labelled a 'square'. Unfortunate, but true, observes the editor of the Winchester Press who quotes Charles H. Brower, writing in the Masonic Tribune on the subject:

"Square! Another of the good old words has gone the way of love, modesty and patriotism. Something to be snickered over, or outright laughed at.

"Why, it used to be that there was no higher compliment you could pay a man than to call him a "square-shooter."

"But today, a square is a guy who volunteers when he doesn't have to. He's a guy who gets his kicks from trying to do a job better than anyone else. He's a boob who gets so lost in his work, he has to be reminded to go home. He hasn't learned to cut corners or goof off. This nut we call a square gets all choked up when he hears children singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee." He even believes in God, and says so, in public.

"A square is a guy who lives within his means, whether the Joneses do or not, and thinks his Uncle Sam should too. He doesn't want to "fly now and pay later." A square is likely to save some of his own money for a rainy day, rather than count on using yours. A square gets his books out of the library instead of the drugstore. He tells his son it's more important to play fair than to win. Imagine!

"A square is a guy who reads the Scripture when nobody's listening. He wants to see America first in everything. He believes in honoring Mother and Father, and "Do Unto Others" and that kind of stuff.

"So, will all of you who answer this description please stand up? Stand up and be counted, you squares who turn the wheels, and dig the fields, and move mountains, and put rivets in our dreams; you squares who dignify the human race; you squares who hold the thankless world in place! This "square" never needs to look for a job or ask for a raise—he is in demand everywhere."

Who can afford a war?

At last the Canadian Department of National Defence has signed the purchase order for those Orion long range patrol aircraft. The price tag is nearly a billion dollars and it certainly took some high level persuading to find enough banks to back the Lockheed aircraft company with the funds to start production.

The Orions, which will be re-named Auroras when they come to Canada, will not contain all the sophisticated equipment which was designed for them. Some of the trimmings are being left out in order to get the price down to a negotiable figure. Even after cutting the fat these planes still fall into a fairly evident Cadillac class at $55,555,555 apiece. That's right. A billion dollars divided by 18 works out to fifty-five million, five hundred and fifty-five thousand, five hundred and fifty-five bucks.

At prices like that for airplanes that are only intended to patrol our neighboring oceans, who could afford long-range bombers? suggests an editorial in The Wingham Advance-Times. Such staggering figures give some indication of the sort of money it would take to fight a war nowadays. When one of the biggest aircraft manufacturers in the world and one of the wealthier western nations together had so much trouble to raise the price of only eighteen planes, what nation on the face of this earth could find the finances for a full-scale conflict?

Maybe that's good—or maybe not, but it sure boggles the old brain cells.

Perhaps one of the most over-rated powers is that of the Press, and to prove it one needs only to look at the track record of some of the larger newspapers which have taken stands at election time.

Too often, the press simply reflects the views of the public and in so doing, claims influence.

Speaking from this end, we have often been frustrated at the lack of public reaction to local occurrences and issues we feel are important to every citizen. At times, we've even taken an unpopular stand against a widespread and emotional issue.

Pro or con, we like reaction. It is the only means by which a community newspaper can measure its impact on the community. Whether the reaction is in favor or opposed to our stand is irrelevant. The part that matters is that people care enough for the community to participate. A letter to the editor may not be running for municipal office, but it does indicate a willingness to get involved at least to a point where we want to be heard.

There are, of course, those of us who feel that talk comes cheap. That it accomplishes nothing.

We've probably all run into the fellow who, failing to get involved in a discussion, simply states the old cop-out about being powerless to do anything about it.

Seems to us that if we've nothing to say about the community, we're not a part of it.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Further to what makes a Glengarrian. On a rather grim occasion back in 1970 a group of Glengarry people assembled and sought the guidance of their God. Seven generations of dedicated effort had just gone up in flames and now the question was what must be done.

Many clergymen were present, some of high rank in the church but a woman struck the keynote—her words were:

"Dear people of God assembled here today, 150 years ago our forefathers had just completed a church where they and future generations could assemble in homage to their God. Today we must renew the same project.

"The building may have gone, but the faith is enshrined in a far more important structure—the hearts and spirits of our people.

"We ask your continued prayers for our guidance, so that here among the people of God, the spirit of God may never pass away."

The place, St. Raphael's

The time was very shortly after the church burned on Aug. 11, 1970.

The woman was Mrs. Mervyn MacDonald, better known perhaps as Anna Margaret.

The result, a splendid blending of historic ruins and new church.

To few is it given to put a thing so well.

Sincerely,
Ewan Ross

They'll Do It Every Time

WITH OUR
RAMBLING REPORTER
by Ed.

March was pleasantly balmy for the most part but we're looking forward to warm April showers and good green grass.

HIT BY HYDRO

Residents of the rural areas served by Hydro are taking a hosing in high bills reaching them at this time. We've heard howls of protest from more than one householder who finds the current billing "way higher" than its predecessor.

One woman who took time to protest to the area Hydro office reports she was told rates have gone up 26 per cent. She was also reminded that the bill covered the coldest months of a particularly chill winter when sub-zero temperatures were constant and heating systems were taxed to capacity.

Our own residential rates are to rise by an unhealthy 32 per cent with the March billing, our local PUC long ago advised.

The villain behind the rate hikes is Ontario Hydro which has zoomed its costs of power right across the province. The way we hear it, Hydro rates were given that big boost because of the high price of fuel oil. The supply of power is limited and the higher Hydro bills are meant to discourage a mass demand for electric heating that cannot be supplied.

Higher billings may be Hydro's solution to the problem, but they're a pain in the neck to the harried householder. And they're feeding inflation.

Watt's up? people are complaining, since Hydro put the accent on high.

ILLITERATE GRAD

New England parents are suing State education authorities for five million dollars in damages. They have discovered that their son, who has a graduation certificate from the local high school, can neither read nor write. With those two shots against him he is unable to get a job and so the harried parents are seeking redress.

That couldn't happen in Ontario, you say. Or could it? Backward children are being eased along from one grade to the next in our school system, too. There are no school leaving examinations such as were required of us before we qualified to enter high school. Pupils advance on the strength of teacher recommendations and in the case of the slow learner there must be the temptation on the teacher to get rid of a problem child by passing him or her along to the next grade.

College admission tests are uncovering a generation of high school graduates many of whom cannot spell, are unable to write a connected sentence, are woefully deficient in mathematics. Premier Davis has promised a return to the basics and less permissiveness for the student in choosing courses. It should be recalled, though, that this same William Davis was minister of education a decade or more ago when the fateful shift to the new math and more lenient standards was effected. Can he be expected to admit the error of his ways?

More emphasis on the three "Rs" must start in the primary schools and educationists should consider a return to the examination paper in preference to promotion by recommendation, in our opinion.

Today's high school grads have learned typing and shorthand, but many have no penmanship. They can typewrite but they haven't learned to write. Today's secondary students are allowed to use pocket calculators because they weren't taught arithmetic.

That isn't good enough. If our schools are turning out graduates who can't read those unfortunates should be able to sue the trustees and the teachers who condone such rotten standards of education.

"Time to get ready for the sugaring-off," said mother. In many ways this is the best time of all the year. A time of crisp mornings, when "the crust bears," and the kids go crunching over all the western edge of the fields near the woods; a time of clear sunny days and chilly nights. Winter is still near, but he has lost most of his grip, and all his terror. (Read Ralph Connor's The Man From Glengarry, for more).

Now where did I store those sap buckets and spiles? As I searched through our backporch upstairs I came across many delightful items.

I found all of last year's sunflower seeds, that is the shells, left by those ingenious deer mice. Another item which I discovered was grandad's cigar box ukelele, unfortunately I found it as my knee crunched through his havana cigar box.

So! I did leave my lunch and quart of ale in my summer jacket last season. Nothing but wax-paper, brown paper, bottle cap and a pocketful of green glass remain.

How silly of me not to remember that I stored the spiles in that 10-lb. English cookie tin which Aunt Elizabeth sent us from over 'ome. What luck in finding that old muskrat trap with the end of my flashlight and not with the end of my rubber boot.

After all the buckets had been located, everyone was conscripted to the sugaring off process. With our new intercom system I can direct the whole family from the front window and still be in sight of the television set and within easy reach of the fridge.

We were all set; trees tapped, spiles inserted, clean buckets hanging from spiles, firewood ready and the cast iron pot clean and waiting. The next day we got full buckets, but it wasn't sap. I was reluctant to send my good wife outside to empty them in that downpour considering her flu, but what else could I do?—pro wrestling was on TV, followed by a Mickey Duck superspecial.

We filled our buckets again next day, but this time it was with snow. Farmers live with this condition of nature as supreme, the whole year round. Ever on the edge of some catastrophe, they carry on with hope eternal.

Did you hear about the farmer's advice to his son? "Well son, you're no good at schooling, you can't do Math, you don't like English, and you're no good with machinery or farming things. The only possible thing left, something which you are ideally suited for, is concert critic on the town newspaper. Remember what GBS and Stephen Leacock said about the same subject?

Life in our area is exciting. We must now think ahead to a separate Quebec surviving within a new Canada. Will we be buffer, in an advantageous position, or exploited by power groups?

Martintown Mac says to look up, look ahead, be happy—spring is here.

SUE ROTHGEB ON NEW TRAKEHNER "KENNER"

New horse strain brought to Glengarry

Life in Glengarry has increased by two trakehners. Since one of them is pregnant, there will soon be one more.

The trakehners, (in case you didn't know) are a breed of German horse a little heavier than the North American thoroughbred although similar in appearance, and very popular in European show rings.

They were recently brought to their home in the Seventh of Lancaster by Robert and Sue Rothgeb, a couple who breed and show horses in addition to their other interests.

They have been searching for some time for a European horse which would cross well with Canadian thoroughbreds and the trakehners seemed to be the answer.

Sue Rothgeb had a chance for a good review of the breed while studying dressage for the past two summers in Germany. The couple spent the past three years in Kuwait where Mr. Rothgeb was acting as consultant for the National Bank of Kuiwait. While overseas, Mrs. Rothgeb took the opportunity to spend some time in Germany to improve her knowledge of dressage, a sport in which she is a very keen competitor.

Pegasus Playboy, a horse trained by Mrs. Rothgeb from the time he was six months old, has taken two zone awards in Canada and the States. While the Rothgebs were overseas, the horse was shown in several exhibitions by Cara Whitham, a former resident of the Third of Kenyon, and now of Ottawa.

The couple have just completed a new riding arena on the farm. It measures 50'x100'. Here Mrs. Rothgeb will be practising for the screening trials for the Canadian Dressage team which will be held in Ottawa on April 6th. The German judge, George Theorescu will be evaluating the riders and horses.

Bob Rothgeb will be showing another champion "Full Brother" in various circles in Canada and the States in the future.

Liz Rothgeb, daughter of the couple is also an accomplished horsewoman. Recommended by the Canadian National Equestrian Federation of Canada, Liz spent last summer at the French National Riding School in Saumur, France. Liz will be graduating from Queen's University this year.

Rob, only son of the Rothgebs, does not share his family's enthusiasm for their equestrian pursuits. He accompanied his parents overseas and graduated from Grade 12 at the International High School in Rome last year and is currently a Grade 13 student at GDHS.

SEVENTY YEARS AGO
Friday, March 22nd, 1907

We understand a new industry of considerable magnitude and importance will shortly be established here, the Export Building being utilized for the purpose. The company which will be capitalized at $100,000, will manufacture railway contractors' supplies and will also operate a malleable iron foundry.—Timber and stone have been placed on the Williamstown fair grounds for the new building to be erected this year.—We learn that Mr. Rushman of St. Elmo, will shortly take charge of the Ottawa Hotel at Maxville, renting the same from J. L. Pilon.—Jules Delage, liveryman, on Monday disposed of a valuable 6-year-old horse at a very high figure to Ranald Campbell of Dalkeith.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO
Friday, March 26th, 1897

A few minutes after six o'clock Tuesday evening, a terrific earthquake shock shook the town. Buildings shook as reeds, stoves rattled but no real damage was done.—On Tuesday last the nomination to fill the vacancy in the Counties' Council representation at Charlottenburgh, caused by the death of A. J. Grant, was held at Williamstown. D. R. MacDonald, well known railway contractor, was given an acclamation.—At the meeting in the Queen's Hall on Saturday, it was unanimously decided that a creamery should be started here. It was decided to have all the monies pass through the hands of a committee composed of Messrs. Henry Duggan, Ed. McDonald and Jas. Kerr. It was agreed that Mr. Decosse, the proprietor, should charge 3c per pound for manufacturing the butter, he to supply all materials and pay freight to Montreal.—The sawmill of D. D. McPhee will begin operations next week. Upwards of 4,000 logs measuring 400,000 feet have been purchased this winter.

Family services program for mentally retarded

The Cornwall Association for the Mentally Retarded have initiated a program serving the three counties, sponsored by the Provincial Government, to provide Family Services for parents of mentally retarded children.

The program will provide aid to parents in the instruction of self help skills for their child e.g. Toilet training, shoe tieing, dressing, etc. Instruction and suggestion will also be provided for behaviours not included in the self help skills. Behaviours such as tantrum throwing, refusal, or any other behaviours that may be problematic to parents.

The program will also provide babysitting services. Procedures are under way to train babysitters with basic techniques so that they will amply be able to care for your child, whether it be for an hour, day or weekend.

The babysitting service is not yet in effect, parents will be notified of its starting date.

If such a program is of interest to you, or if you have any questions regarding the program and the service, please call at 932-3837.

In Memoriam

DEREPENTIGNY — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Mederic De Repentigny who passed away March 27, 1973.
We loved him for his thoughfulness,
His kind and gentle ways,
We loved him for the things he did,
Without a word of praise.
—Lovingly remembered by wife, Yvonne, son and daughter-in-law, Rolland, Leota and family,
Apple Hill. 13-1p

MacCUAIG—In fond and loving memory of our dear and wonderful mother, Mrs. Martha MacCuaig, who passed away March 26, 1974.
The last snowfall of every year,
Reminds me so of you,
For on such a day you were laid to rest,
And how my heart aches for you,
But there was nothing I could do,
Just stand firm on the ground,
And try to think that maybe,
You were going to a far brighter land,
Though your smile is gone forever,
And your hand I cannot touch,
Still I have such precious memories,
Of a Mother I loved so much.
For you really haven't left me mother,
I constantly think of the past,
Each day I remember something and say,
Mother used to do this or that,
As you were a wonderful mother,
A pal so good and true,
A better mother never lived,
Your equals are but few,
And if I could have one little wish,
It would not be for gold,
But just to have you back with me,
As in the days of old.
—So very sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter Cassie and son-in-law Alex,
Verdun, Que. 13-1c

MacKILLICAN—In loving memory of a dear husband, John H. MacKillican, who passed away April 3rd, 1974.
Treasured memories keep you near,
As time unfolds another year.
—Sadly missed by your loving wife, Violet. 13-1c

MacRAE—In loving memory of a dear brother and uncle, Wallace MacRae, who passed away March 25, 1976.
Precious forever are memories of you,
Today, tomorrow and all life through.
No longer in our lives to share,
But in our hearts you're always there.
—Lovingly remembered by sister, Annie and family. 13-1c

Second book in series is being produced

The second book of a series on the Gravestones of Glengarry being planned by Alex Fraser of Lancaster is currently in the production stage.

Volume II consists of all the gravestone inscriptions as of the Fall of 1976 from the five cemeteries in the First and Second Concessions of Lancaster. This will include the old cemetery at the waterfront, 108 stones; St. Andrew's Presbyterian Cemetery, South Lancaster, 223 stones; St. John's Anglican Cemetery, 16 stones; St. Joseph's Catholic Cemetery, 171 stones, St. Andrew's United, Second Concession, 307 stones.

Mr. Fraser feels it will take about 20 years to complete the graveyards in the county as there are about 10,000 gravestones which would list about 25,000 names. Planned for each volume are brief histories of the churches and cemeteries, as well as some genealogical background on as many of the names as possible.

The author's first book, Volume I was on Williamstown. On Dec. 31st, 1976, 234 copies had been sold. Due to the arduous work involved, there must be public interest and financial commitment to buy if Mr. Fraser is to continue. The books can be published only if enough advance orders are guaranteed.

To publish Volume II there must be 400 advance orders at $18 each. Mr. Fraser had planned on doing the area from St. Rapahel's to Dalhousie for Volume III but cannot proceed unless this second book is successful. Response to date has been good.

This is a unique series, notes Mr. Fraser, of one of the original settlements in Canada. The value of this series should increase tremendously over the years, he feels.

According to the author, "If this series is to get into print within 20 years, then as each volume is announced, it will require 400 advance orders at whatever the pre-publication price is set. Also for those people waiting to buy the volumes on St. Raphael's, Lochiel, Kirk Hill, or Maxville, and do not feel that their support for the previous volumes is warranted, then I can almost guarantee, you may have to wait a long time for your particular volume.

"Volume I has only sold as of Dec. 31, 1976, 234 copies. The publisher does not want to commit himself on Volume II, before 1978, unless I can bring in the 400 advance orders to convince him to do otherwise. Thus if it takes the rest of 1977 to sell out Volume I and 1977 and 1978 to collect enough sales to warrant publication of Volume II, then Volume III which will be St. Raphael's to Dalhousie cannot be published before 1980-81, if at all. If this should happen, then I will have no choice but to stop any further publication of the series due to lack of finances, public interest and support."

Alexandria churches held World Day of Prayer last week

The World's Day of Prayer service, which had been postponed because of weather conditions was held in the United Church, Alexandria, on Friday, March 18th with a good attendance.

Leaders from the three Alexandria churches were: Francine Rouette, Lucille Desjardins, Annette Desrosiers, Joan Johnston, Nancy MacKenzie and Sylvia Crack.

Sister Agnes Eccles read the Scripture selections and the joint choir was under the direction of Sister Kathryn Cameron, with Harriet MacKinnon at the organ.

Frank Hamilton favored the group with the solo "For God so loved the world."

Youthful ushers were Glen Bush, Marcel Ouimet and Shelley Crack.

Theresa Lemieux was the guest speaker and spoke on the theme "Love in Action" emphasizing the importance of our developing an awareness of the needs of others and of minimizing our own self interests. She cited two well known people, Jean Vanier and the late Martin Luther King whose lives and energies were directed to the needs of the less fortunate.

Rev. Jim Thompson closed the meeting with the benediction, after which a social time was pleasantly spent in the church hall.

Opening of new Jubilee Rink in 1931 was notable day for Maxville residents

(by Angus H. McDonell)

Recently we wrote here that the closing of the Maxville arena, the 1931-77 setting of so many memorable and historic championship hockey games, was similar to an "Old pro" hockey or ball player hanging up his gear for the last time. It is the custom now, and was for some years past, to have club management and home town fans jointly pay a deserving tribute to such a distinguished athlete at time of retirement.

Today's pattern of honoring the career achievements on the ice, baseball or football field of a favorite son was set many, many years ago by New York Yankees. Time was running out on the Yankee first baseman, Lou Gehrig. In late summer, Yankee officials noted that their "Iron horse," as Gehrig was often called reflecting his durability, was a step slower and not just the power hitter that placed him beside his beloved colleague the immortal Babe Ruth. Then, suddenly, all of baseball was shocked. It became generally known that it wasn't age affecting Lou Gehrig's play. It was an unusual malady that would not only end his baseball career but also his life.

An honor Lou Gehrig game was organized. One of the most memorable and emotional tributes of all time was bestowed on Lou Gehrig by the Yankee ball club, the National and American League players, his legions of fans and sport writers in U.S. and Canada.

Here in Canada we have matched strides with our U.S. counterparts in the realm of sport when it comes to recognizing players of superb ability and honoring them for their outstanding achievements and exemplary conduct in and out of athletics.

Among such notable occasions in the last decade was Argos' and Toronto fans' farewell to the football playing career of Dick Shatto. Then there was that memorable day at Lansdowne Park in Ottawa when the Rough Rider faithful, including the south side "boo" birds, paid tribute to Russ Jackson. In Montreal, the end of the NHL trail for the "Pocket Rocket" was another night of worthy acclaim and tangible awards honoring the Mighty Atom, to borrow an Aurel Joliat tag. Perhaps the most significant aspect of the Henri Richard reception was the presence of his famed brother the Rocket. By attending this significant occasion Maurice Richard thawed a deep freeze that regretfully engulfed him, the Les Habs' brass and the Forum.

Among the many pleasantries of reporting sport features here in the Glens is to note how often Glengarry sport leaders have successfully accomplished objectives in a professional way that maintain the heritage and credibility we inherited from our ancestors. And there is no better example than the one that emerged at a recent meeting of old sport buffs in Maxville at the hospitable home of Larry Baker, his wife and family.

Larry Baker is the capable and popular manager of the now condemned rink. Larry is our type of sportsman. To merely turn off the lights and lock the front door was no way, in Larry's opinion, to terminate the career of a centre that has rendered so much pleasure to hundreds of sport fans in 46 years. Hence, Larry Baker is heading a Maxville committee planning a final tribute to the Jubilee rink with all the enthusiasm, sincerity and fan support in a facsimile way of Yankees' Lou Gehrig game, Argos' adieu to Dick Shatto, Riders' final wave to Russ and Les Canadiens' bonne chance to Henri Richard.

The official closing program will take up all of Saturday, April 16th, from early morning, through the afternoon and evening. Pipe majors John MacKenzie and David Danskin have already played the pibroch and word has been received from as far away as Florida and California confirming the attendance of old Maxville sportsmen for this notable occasion.

In the meantime let us turn back the pages of time and briefly review the Jubilee rink career as we would an "Old pro" about to be honored. As already reported the old open air rink on the F. B. Villeneuve property just west of the CN station had become obsolete. No hockey in 1930-31. This situation motivated the local powers that be and sportsmen to plan a covered rink. The first in Glengarry County.

A charter was granted the Jubilee Rink Co. Ltd. on May 11th, 1931. The first executive committee members were: Dr. A. T. Morrow, president, Dr. D. MacEwen, vice-pres., J. Walter Smillie, sect'y treas., directors, Robt. McKay, Fred McMillan, Ben Villeneuve and Jos. Armstrong.

A building lot on Alexander street was purchased from Finlay MacEwen. The contract was let and the ice surface was to be 175x75.

The fund-raising drive kick-off was marked by a monster July 1st sports program day at the fairgrounds.

The official opening November 17th, 1931, was an historic day for the village of Maxville and surrounding area. We recall the official guests being piped in the rink, then up the stairway, west side, to the balcony. (Reserved seats area). President Dr. A. T. Morrow was chairman and he was surrounded by political heavyweights. The Hon. Geo. H. Challies, Provincial Secretary, was down from Queen's Park to officially declare the rink open. Angus MacGillis, Williamstown, was on hand from the House of Commons where he represented Glengarry. D. A. "Dunc" MacNaughton, Finch, Stormont's MLA, literally stole the show with his witty remarks relative to the Maxville players and their contribution to the Central Ottawa Hockey League. Then upwards of 500 fans saw Alexandria play Winchester in a 4—4 tie box lacrosse game.

In the interim until the first ice, Maxville played three lacrosse games. They hosted St. Andrew's, Milles Roches and Berwick. The local team was built around veterans of Alexandria lacrosse team, Ben Villeneuve and Alex Campbell. They were: Sam Gardiner, Don Grant, Lawrence Currier, "Chubby" Coleman, Ross MacEwen, "Mook" Eddie Cline, John Carther, Alex Duperron, Adrien St. Louis, Joe Cuerrier and Clarence St. John.

While ice-making was underway the Maxville Blue Jackets were organized. The executive was made up of: J. H. "Hammie" Morrow, pres., Bert Hurley, sect'y-treas., directors J. Walter Smillie, "Bill" Cleary and Clark Hoople. Team members who played the first hockey games in Jubilee were: Keith Dwyer, George Cline, Dunc Hoople, Harold "Grandpa" Graham, John Carther, Sam MacCallum, Eddie "Mook" Cline, Pat Truax, Eddie and Irwin Coulthart.

In January, 1932, following the opening Blue Jacket games, the Glengarry Hockey League was organized. Clubs forming the league represented, Apple Hill, Greenfield, Maxville High School and Maxville. Obviously the schedule was short but keen fan interest developed if for no other reason than seeing their native sons play in a covered rink and not look on from a high snowbank.

The players from Apple Hill were Art Dupuis, James, Harvey and Bill MacMillan, Vincent MacDonald, Edgar Lalonde, Max Lefebvre, Percy Keir, Lloyd MacDonald, Arnold Coleman, and Horace Marjerrison. (On the basis of age and durability, Horace was the Gordie Howe of the league.)

Greenfield: John MacKinnon, "Olie" MacDonald, Donald R. Campbell, Morris and Earl Villeneuve, Dan MacCuaig, "Little Alex" and John Hugh MacDonald, Jack Brown, Phil St. Louis, Alden MacMillan and Clinton MacDonald.

Maxville High School: Howard Coleman, Dunc Hoople, Chas. Munro, Sarto Leduc, Howard O'Hara, Bernard Lalonde, Don Munro, John MacEwen and Fernand Pilon.

Maxville: Don Grant, "Hammie" Morrow, Osie, Ben and Lawrence Villeneuve, Wilmer St. Louis, John Carther, Harold "Grandpa" Graham, Ken Campbell, George and Eddie Cline.

Next week—Ottawa Senators' and Montreal Maroons' retired goalie, "Clint" Benedict, coaches Blue Jackets to ODHA play-offs. A game for "Yip" Coleman. The "Hungry Seven" and the fabulous era of the Millionaires.

Protect your children against disease through immunization.

This is what Ontario is doing to help you.

Immunization protects against polio, diphtheria, measles, rubella (German measles), whooping cough, mumps and tetanus. Although often considered to be "childhood diseases," they are anything but minor—measles, for instance, can lead to encephalitis (brain disease), a cause of retardation.

Here in Ontario, the Ministry of Health provides the vaccines and your Ontario Health Insurance Plan (OHIP) pays a fee to the physician for administering them.

But the responsibility for immunization— for making sure your children are protected—is still up to you. Have your children immunized by your family physician. Or, for school age children, use school immunization programs provided by Health Units.

Immunization is quick and convenient—vaccines against several diseases are often combined. And the only way to control these diseases is to immunize as many people as possible.

Your Ontario Government is doing its share—by providing vaccines and paying for immunization through OHIP.

Do your share—make sure your children are immunized. Consult your family physician, public health nurse or local medical officer of health.

A free booklet, "Immunization is your responsibility," is available with a chart showing what diseases your children should be immunized against, and at what ages. For your copy, write to:

Land use discussed at hearings commission

Eight submissions were made to the National Farmers Union Land Hearings Commission held in Crysler on March 17th, four of them from Glengarry.

According to the Glengarry Local 323 of the NFU, the most glaring difficulty facing farmers today is the price of farm land. Here, the brief states, the price of land is being driven far beyond its production value by city professionals who are buying farms merely to have a home in the country.

While some of these people are willing to rent to neighboring farmers and are co-operative in realizing they have a moral obligation to keep land in production, others do not care and the farms are left to grow to weeds while fences and outbuildings fall to decay, the brief states.

The pipeline in the south end of the county was brought into the picture as well. The brief stated farm drains were blocked and damaged in areas and a wider strip of land than originally agreed on, was being ruined by heavy equipment.

Forests being cleared off for pulp and lumber use are being left in a sightless mess of stumps, brush and broken young trees leaving this area useless for reforestation or farming, the brief noted.

Land ownership, land use and land abusers were also dealt with in the brief.

Individual briefs were presented by Joe O'Neill, Henrietta O'Neill and Maurice Sauve.

Mrs. O'Neill commented that corporations have taken advantage of buying land from retiring farmers. If this continues, she felt, these corporations could eventually gain complete control over the food industry. "This must be stopped."

She also suggested that the government buy up farm land from retiring farmers and lease it to young farmers at the cost of the services of the land, (municipal taxes). This could be a life lease and could be transferred from generation to generation to ensure long-term security. In this way, farm land could remain in the hands of farmers who are concerned with feeding the people and out of the clutches of corporations which are only concerned with showing a profit.

Mr. Sauve, a real estate broker, presented the situation in another light. He claimed the non-farmers used up the poorer uneconomic surplus land.

However, he felt young people who want to farm cannot afford to buy property on their own and that a government agency will have to devise a method of financing to cover the entire cost of the property rather than the 75 per cent of the property value it now covers.

Mr. Sauve felt effort should be made to promote recreational areas in every municipality as well.

A well known and highly respected resident of the Apple Hill area, John Charles O'Connor died at his home in Apple Hill on Friday, April 25th. He had been in good health up to the time of his death and his sudden passing was a great shock to all who knew him.

He was born at Apple Hill 84 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor. He had farmed for many years in the First Concession of Kenyon and later in the Ninth of Charlottenburgh before retiring to the village in Apple Hill some years ago.

Mr. O'Connor was a pleasant and friendly personality, devoted to his family and had a kind word for everyone he met.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, the former Josephine Thauvette, whom he married 61 years ago and fourteen children. They are: Clement, Maurice and Godfrey O'Connor and Ann, Mrs. John MacDonald all of Green Valley; Jerome of Sudbury, Lawrence of Apple Hill and Gilbert of Vancouver, Barbara, Mrs. Romeo Aubin of Moose Creek; Rita, Mrs. Ken Hyatt of Trenton; Rosa, Mrs. Andy Guay of Champlain, N.Y.; Teresa, Mrs. Russell Stoney, White Rock, B.C.; Alice, Mrs. Charlie Dailie, Dorothy, Mrs. Allan Hughes and Esther, Mrs. Mac MacDiarmid, all of Montreal. There are 76 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in St. Anthony's Church, Apple Hill, on Monday, March 28th where Rev. Charles MacDonald offered the funeral mass. In the sanctuary were Father Gary Ostler and Father John McPhail.

Pallbearers were six sons-in-law; Ken Hyatt, Andy Guay, Russell Stoney, Charlie Dailie, Allan Hughes and Mac MacDiarmid.

21 members in 4-H project

The first meeting of the 4-H Glengarry Tractor Club was held on Monday, March 21st at the Ministry of Agriculture and Food Office in Alexandria.

The boys who were able to attend were given booklets showing what they would be doing in the next 4-H year. They were then divided into North and South groups.

President of the South Group is Michael Sommers. Anne Marie Peeters is vice-president, Graham Mackenzie is secretary and Roy Robinson is news reporter.

Other members of the south division are: Eugene and Bernie Sommers; Iggie Peters, John Ferguson, Graham Mackenzie, Peter, Garry and Henry Peeters and Perry Oetelaar.

The next meeting will be held on April 12 at John Peters' farm at 8:00 p.m.

Jim Vallance is leader of the North Club and the executive was elected as follows: President, Allan MacLeod; vice-president, Rolland Schroeder; secretary, Tony Akkermans; news reporter, Gerald Larocque. The first regular meeting will be held at Jim Vallance's place, April 12th.

Remaining members of the North Group are Ian Vallance, Gerald Larocque, Michael Schroeder, Herman Akkermans, Carter and Kennedy MacDonald, Ricky MacLeod.
