Ideal Fall Weather Brings Big Crowd Out For Chesterville's Big Stock Show

Agricultural Society Has One of Best Shows in Its History Tuesday and Wednesday, Winding Up With "Donkey Baseball" and Well-Attended Dance in Community Hall

The weather man must surely have decided to do his very best for Chesterville's big Stock Show when under clear skies and in summer temperature more than 3,000 thronged the grounds of the Agricultural Society to get a glimpse of the best in horses and cattle Eastern Ontario has to offer. Much interest was taken in the judging of the specials, of which there were nearly 100.

In a softball game between Hallville and Chesterville, the home team was defeated by the Dundas League champions 13 to 6 yesterday afternoon.

The races were won in straight heats in both cases when Liberty Todd took the 2.20 class and Bedford Grattan lifted the Free-For-All, the times being almost identical with but two variations from 2.14, the second heat in the 2.20 being 2.12, and the second heat in the Free-For-All, 2.13.

The night show of "Donkey Baseball" which was to have been under floodlights, was presented under considerable difficulty when the lights could not be induced to "flood," and while a performance was given it was hardly up to advance notices. Voluble excuses were made and an opportunity for the customers to get their money back with no performance was announced but few of the more than one thousand on the grounds decided to leave and the show went on.

The first day was given over to the young people, with sports for school children, with no admission charged to the grounds. A large number of spectators attended to watch the athletes, and view the midway which was enlarged his year. This proved a big attraction both evenings with illuminated ferris wheel being kept busy.

On Wednesday night, as a wind-up for the big fair, the Community Hall was packed for the dance.

The Citizen's Band provided music on Wednesday afternoon giving programmes afternoon and evening on the grandstand, with several selections downtown and a march to the grounds.

OBSERVES SILVER JUBILEE.

Tuesday, August 31st, was a memorable day in the annals of St. Mary's Convent when the Superior, Sister Mary Pius, celebrated her silver jubilee, marking the 25th anniversary of her religious profession. The jubilarian was the recipient of congratulations from her many friends who all join in wishing her many more years in God's service.

Barns Burned Near Wincheter During Threshing Operations

Damage estimated at $3,000 was caused by fire which destroyed the outbuildings on the farm of Jesse Lewis, four miles west of Winchester Tuesday evening.

The fire originated from a threshing mill which farm hands were operating beside a barn. The building, which contained the season's cut of hay, about 30 tons, and half the season's harvest of grain already threshed, was razed, in addition to adjoining stables.

Volunteers succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading to the farm house. A son, Jack Lewis, who was in the barn as the straw was being blown into the mow, said he saw a ball of fire emerge from the blower-pipe of the mill. The machine was saved. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Farm Hand Severely Mauled By Bad Tempered Bull

Monday evening, Jules Friatos, of Montreal, a farm hand working for Harry Carruthers, of Williamsburg township, near Elma, was found in a semi-conscious condition in a back field of the farm where he had gone to bring up the cows, among which was a bull of uncertain temper.

Friatos suffered severe injuries, including a gash on the hip, internal injuries and broken bones. He was taken to the Cornwall General hospital. It is believed the bull attacked Friatos who had armed himself with a piterfork anticipating trouble with the animal and in the encounter had been roughly handled. Apparently he had been thrown over a fence, which may have saved his life.

Local Calf Clubs Make Good Winning at Ottawa Ex.

The Junior section of the Central Canada Exhibition in Ottawa last week saw a great deal of the Dundas and West Stormont young farmers in the various competitions' awards lists. Probably outstanding among the awards brought home to these sections was the Kiwanis Perpetual Trophy. In the Ayrshire group, (two Ayrshire heifer calves) the Newington Calf Club, under the direction of H. W. Graham, agricultural representative at Morrisburg, came first in the Inter-Club calf competition, winning the Kiwanis Cup. Calves were shown by Donald McIntyre, of Finch; Melvin Waldroff, of Newington, and Harold Steele, of Newington. The directors of the C.C.E. entertained them at a banquet and presented the cup to Mr. Graham. It is on display at present in the windows of the agricultural offices at Morrisburg, and is truly a handsome trophy. Each boy who exhibited was presented with an individual cup for permanent possession.

Junior winners there included 14 calves of the Newington and Chesterville calf clubs, exhibiting in the exhibition from Dundas and West Stormont. In the Junior class of 72 Holsteins, Allen Bancroft, of Northfield Station came 13th, Basil Dawley of Winchester, 14th; Herman Hutt, Winchester, 16th, and Harold Shaver, of Aultsville, 17th.

In the Holstein group (3 calves) in a class of 16, the Chesterville Calf Club won 4th and the Newington Calf Club, 8th. In a class of 40 individual Ayrshire heifer calves, Donald McIntyre, of Finch, stood 7th; Melvin Waldroff, of Newington, 12th; Harold Steele, of Newington, 13th, and Geo. Rutley, of Newington, 17th. In the Showmanship in Ayrshire, Donald McIntyre was second in a class of 40.

In a class of 15, in the individual Jersey heifer calf class, Ralph McKenzie, of Finch, rated third, as well as standing second in the Showmanship class for Jerseys.

The Osnabruck Junior Institute did exceptionally well in the Women's Institute's work at the Central Canada Exhibition.

Long Shots & Wide Draws

News From the Lawn Bowling Greens as Picked up By The Kitty.

Chesterville wound up the St. Lawrence schedule with a bang when the local club took all four games from Kemptville. Had the boys turned out all season in the same strength, the Caldwell Trophy would have been in town for the second time since the formation of the league.

Hutt had no trouble taking Friend, getting six in the third end, and Friend didn't get within striking distance the rest of the evening. Hanna took Nim. Wilson just as easily. Casselman and Hammy Bustard had a tough game and Hammy nearly took Eric to the cleaners when he got a four, a five and a three in succession, but Eric turned on the pressure to win two up. Clayton and Sutherland fought it out neck and neck all the way, tied up 14-all in the 17th end. Amos killed the last end and won out by one shot in the extra end.

Beautiful Setting Saturday For Winchester Wedding

The wedding ceremony took place on Saturday afternoon in the Winchester Baptist church of Sally Fraser Gemeroy, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gemeroy, to George Chesley Cougler, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cougler, of Williamsburg. The Rev. Herbert Wood, pastor of the church, officiated, and as the bridal party entered the edifice, Mendelsshon's Wedding March was played by Miss Eleanor Hitsman, who also played "Melody of Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory coloured York satin, cut on simple lines. The bodice, which buttoned down the back, was fashioned with a high neckline and the sleeves were gathered at the top and fitted at the wrists to end in points over the hands. The long skirt extended to form a train. Her veil of tulle illusion extended beyond the train and was held in place by a closed tulle cap and a halo of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a diamond broach. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and snapdragons.

Mrs. Mary Bowden, of Chicago, and Mrs. Jack Keyes, of Montreal, sisters of the bride, were matrons of honour, and Miss Jean Wyatt, of Winchester was bridesmaid. They wore organza dresses and coronation halo hats, trimmed with matching organza flowers. Mrs. Bowden was gowned in sunset pink organza, made on redingote lines buttoning down the front, with accordion pleating extending from the neck to the hem of the dress and about the collar and sleeves. Mrs. Keyes wore mauve organza made on princess lines with high gathered bodice and the full skirt was trimmed with mauve satin ribbon. Miss Wyatt was in forget-me-not blue organza made on simple lines. They carried arm bouquets of pink gladioli and snapdragons.

Mrs. Gemeroy, mother of the bride, wore navy blue flowered marquisite, with a corsage of sweet peas in pastel shades. Mrs. Cougler, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in midnight blue chiffon with a corsage of midget tea roses.

Master Charles Bowden, of Chicago, acted as page for his aunt, and scattered rose petals before the bridal party as they left the church.

The best man was Mr. Jack Keyes, of Montreal, and the ushers were Mr. Herbert Gemeroy, of Malden, Mass., brother of the bride; Mr. George Utman, Mr. Sparling Dukelow, and Mr. Russell Kinkaid, all of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Cougler left on an extended motor trip, the bride travelling in a morning glory blue redingote ensemble, lined with confetti flat crêpe and with azelan brown accessories.

Two Boy Bicyclists Killed; Struck Head-on By Autos

Cornwall.—Two boys were almost instantly killed here Saturday while riding bicycles. They were struck head-on by an automobile and their bodies were carried 150 feet before the car left the highway, smashed off a power line pole and turned over in the ditch.

The boys were Denis Patterson, 15, of Summerstown, and Harold Labelle, 16, of Cornwall. Coroner T. O. McLaren, M.D., of Lancaster, visited the scene and investigated. An inquest will be held.

The automobile was driven by Hubert Kinsella, 23, of Cornwall, who said he was returning to Cornwall with a party from a dance at Summerstown when the accident occurred. Kinsella told police he did not see the boys until the moment before the crash.

Kinsella said he was driving 40 miles an hour when the boys were struck. He was travelling south and the boys, riding abreast, were going north.

"The first I saw of the boys was when the lights of my car flashed on the handlebars of their bicycles," Kinsella said. "I didn't see any lights or anything and I didn't have a chance to avoid them. The whole thing is terrible. It is the first accident I've had in years of driving. I've never even scraped a fender before."

The boys were struck on a straight piece of country highway.

A Statement by the Ontario Department of Health on

POLIOMYELITIS ("INFANTILE PARALYSIS")

In view of the prevalence of "infantile paralysis" in Ontario at the present time, and in recognition of the deep concern felt by parents over the protection of their children, the Provincial Department of Health is issuing the following statement concerning the nature of the disease and the question of what can be done to reduce the danger of infection.

Nature of the Disease

Like measles and scarlet fever, "infantile paralysis" is a communicable or "catching" disease. Like them also, it is mainly a disease of childhood. Yet the term "infantile" is apt to be misleading. While it is true that the majority of cases occur among children under ten years of age, the disease does occur, especially in rural districts, among older children and young adults.

The term "paralysis" is likewise misleading since it conveys the impression that some loss of muscular function is characteristic of every case of the disease. This is not true. It is now known that only a small proportion of those who contract the disease actually develop paralysis.

Since the disease is not limited to infants and since paralysis does not occur in all cases the name "infantile paralysis" is now regarded as a misnomer. The correct name for the disease is "polio-myel-itis", which simply means acute inflammation ("itis") of the grey matter ("polio") of special portions of the spinal cord which control movement of the muscles. This inflammation is believed to be due to a special sort of infection which probably gains entrance to the nervous system through the upper part of the nose and throat

Cause of the Disease

Poliomyelitis has been definitely recognized as a communicable disease since 1909 when investigators succeeded in securing from humans, ill with the disease, a minute living substance called a "virus" which was found to be capable of producing poliomyelitis in monkeys.

Much remains to be discovered about the nature of this virus but a good deal has already been learned. In size, it has been found to be less than one millionth of an inch in diameter. The virus is present in the nervous tissue of humans who have died from the disease. It is also found in the nose and throat, not only of persons ill with the disease, but also of persons who have been in contact with the disease.

How the Disease Spreads

The exact manner in which the disease is transmitted from one person to another is not known. However, the disease does not arise spontaneously. The source of infection is a human being who is carrying the virus. Such a person need not necessarily be suffering from the disease. Yet the mere presence of the virus in the nose and throat affords ample opportunity for spread of infection. In such cases minute particles are given off by coughing, sneezing and talking. Fingers are constantly being carried to and from the mouth and nose and in this way articles, such as improperly washed eating and drinking utensils, common towels, children's toys, etc., may become contaminated.

Any set of circumstances which permits the frequent and rapid transfer of nose and throat secretions from one person to another increases the possibility of infection.

There is no evidence that flies or other insects play an important part in the spread of poliomyelitis.

Chlorination of municipal water supplies as now practised, and the proper pasteurization of milk have eliminated water and milk as possible sources of infection.

Signs and Symptoms of the Disease

The early symptoms of poliomyelitis are neither constant nor regular in their appearance, but certain of them are sufficiently suggestive to warrant the summoning of the family physician.

The onset is usually sudden, with rapidly rising TEMPERATURE, fluctuating between 101-103 degrees. HEADACHE is another common symptom. The young child is apt to appear irritable and cries easily when disturbed. The patient is usually willing to stay in bed, appears drowsy and takes little interest in his surroundings.

VOMITING is fairly characteristic. Constipation is often present, whereas diarrhoea is unusual. Food is refused.

Often the characteristic symptoms of COLD or SORE THROAT are present.

SORENESS IN THE MUSCLES of the back and STIFFNESS and pain in the joints of the arms and legs may occur.

In many cases of poliomyelitis the condition does not go beyond this stage, and terminates after four to ten days' illness.

However, in other cases, the disease proceeds into a second stage, in which the elevation of temperature and rapid pulse are accompanied by marked irritability and drowsiness. The patient becomes mentally disturbed and takes on an anxious, frightened expression. Sleep may be disturbed by twitching and the hands may shake and tremble.

The following specific signs are of particular importance:

STIFFNESS OF THE SPINE. The head may be bent on the neck but efforts to bend the neck on the shoulders cause pain and are resisted. The child is unable, while sitting up in bed, to bend his head down to touch the knees. If he bends at all, it is at the hips with the back held rigid.

PECULIAR SITTING POSTURE. When he sits up he props himself behind with extended arms supporting a tender or painful spine.

Preventive Measures

The precautionary measure of first importance is to protect the child from contact with infection. Since other human beings are the primary source of infection, then children, who are evidently much more susceptible than adults, should be protected as far as is reasonably possible from contact with people.

"Keep your child in your own yard" is a wise precaution. In crowded stores, street cars, motion picture theatres, bathing pools, picnics,—in fact, in any setting where there is a large number of people, the chances of exposure to possible infection are tremendously increased.

Of equal importance for the protection of children is the prompt calling of a physician if the child shows the indications of illness described above.

Convalescent Serum

Medical opinion is divided concerning the effectiveness of the so-called "Convalescent Serum" in poliomyelitis. In the absence of conclusive evidence, the Department is continuing to supply this serum to physicians on request. Owing to the limited supply available, its use must of necessity be limited to cases suffering an attack of the disease.

Nasal Spray

Based on the assumption that the virus enters the body through the upper part of the nose, attempts are being made to prevent its entrance by spraying the nasal passages with certain chemicals. Since this method is still entirely in the experimental stage, it is not one which can be recommended for general use.

Precautions in the Care of Those Ill

When a diagnosis of poliomyelitis has been made, the patient must be isolated for a period of at least three weeks. Since other members of the family are likely to be carriers of the virus, the protection of the community requires that they be quarantined until the danger of further spread has been eliminated. Care should be taken to see that articles which may have become contaminated by the patient are disinfected or burned. Special precautions should be taken in regard to the disposal of nasal and alimentary discharges. Those who are handling the patient should exercise special care regarding their hands and person before coming in contact with other people.

MINISTER OF HEALTH

A Korean bride never is permitted to see her husband until the second day after her marriage. He is selected for her and they meet for the first time at the wedding. Even on this day and the following day, her eyelids are gummed together.

Typist: "I can't find the Taylor and Tonks correspondence anywhere, sir."

Employer: "Well, what's the filing cabinet for? Have you looked under 'T'?"

"'T,' sir? It's the tea-things I keep in that drawer."

Pat went to England to spend his holidays. Once settled in his lodgings he placed a full bottle of Scotch whisky in the cupboard. After a few days he discovered that the whisky was disappearing rapidly.

Calling the landlady, he inquired about it, and she cried indignantly: "Me take your whisky! Not likely. Remember, I come of good English parentage."

"Sure," said Pat, "I'm not being concerned about your English parentage; it's your Scotch extraction I'm telling you about."

Judge (to witness): "We want nothing from you but silence, and very little of that, just now."

"I'm giving my girl a necklace that was once owned by a millionaire."

"What was his name?"

"Woolworth."

MALE VS. FEMALE.

SOME FOLKS will tell you that the female of the species is more deadly than the male. But traffic accident records of the Highways Department don't bear this out by any means. In fatal accidents last year, 94 per cent of the drivers were men; and in non-fatal accidents, 93.3 per cent of the drivers were men.

Although these figures do not show the relative number of male and female drivers, still it refutes the old adage. But regardess of such an old and silly legend, if all drivers, men and women, would make up their minds that highway deaths must stop, there would be mighty few motor accidents.

RABBIT SKINS.

Interesting Facts About Our Dominion of Canada.

IMPROVEMENTS in the fur dyeing industry—the result in a large degree of the discovery of synthetic compound dyes known as fur bases—have created a demand for certain cheap raw skins which, owing to their natural colour had previously been considered unsuitable for the fur trade. Rabbit skin, for which there is now a large market, is the outstanding instance of this development. Today it can be dyed to almost any colour and can be processed to imitate practically any of the rarer and costlier furs.

THE MAN WHO'S SQUARE.

THERE is something in the twinkle
Of an honest fellow's eye
That can never be mistaken
And can never be passed by;
Be his station high or lowly,
There's that doubtless, upright air,
That convinces all beholders,
That the man they see is Square.
Heaven gives such men influence
Over those they daily meet;
If they see a fallen Brother
They will help him on his feet.
Make the Sneaks a bit uneasy,
Make the False act kind of fair,
For the greatest rogue on record
Will respect the man who's Square.

DAIRY CALVES.

Are dairy calves raised with the aid of nurse cows freer from calf ailments such as scours, than those which are raised on the bucket? Well informed observers say they are. Calves raised on the bucket often gulp their milk too fast and scouring results. Utensils, necessarily employed for the feeding, often are disease carriers

One suggestion is to put three or four calves on each nurse cow. The cow's total production should be sufficient to give each calf from eight to ten pounds of milk daily. Let the calves nurse two or three times per day, until they are fifty to sixty days old. After that, reduce the nursing frequency to once daily.

Beginning in the third week, the straight milk ration should be supplemented with hay and a meal mixture.

A WORLD PEACE PARADE OF YOUTH.

25,000 cheering Scouts and 50,000 peope welcomed H.M. Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and the Chief Scout of the World, Lord Baden-Powell, at the opening of the Fifth World Jamboree at Vogelensang, Bloemendaal, Holland, on Saturday, July 31. With the Queen were many foreign diplomats and members of the Government.

At half-past one the 25000 Scouts from 32 countries of the world began assembling behind the stands around the huge arena. Her Majesty Queen Wilhelmina arrived at two o'clock, and the Dutch Royal Standard was hoisted, while the bands played the "Welhelmus."

On the dais, accompanying the Queen, were the Chief Scout and the Chief Guide.

Three thousand Dutch Scouts, assembled in a V formation in the arena, sang the Dutch Boy Scouts' song, "Hoort zegt het voort" (Listen and tell it to the other people) and "Boys will be Boys."

Seventy-five Girl Guides led the nations in the march-past. Following these, in alphabetical order, were Scouts from America, Armenia, Austria, Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Egypt, Estonia, the British Empire, France, Finland, Greece, Hungary, Iran, Iceland, Japan, Latvia Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg Mexico, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Roumania, Russian Scouts (National Association), Siam, Sweden, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, with Holland (the host country) following in the rear.

Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden led the Swedish contingent in the March Past and Prince Emanuel of Liechtenstein led the Liechenstein contingent.

After the March Past 28,000 Scouts took part in a great "Rush" to greet Her Majesty. Her Majesty then rose and addressed the Scouts in English:

"Scouts young and old — Scouts from all countries. By welcoming you all to my Kingdom I would like you to know how very much I appreciate and am interested in your Movement.

"It is a satisfaction for me to see that, after years of fruitful endeavour this fine organization has grown into a world Movement which includes boys of all classes, of all nations, and prepares them to be good citizens and good men.

"May you always, now, as in after life, remain true to the Scout spirit, which, in the words of your Chief, whom we gladly welcome here today, is characterized by its broad selfishless outlook, its loyal friendship, its active love and sense of cheerful service."

The Canadian Scout contingent marched past as part of the British Empire contingent, which numbered 8,000 boys and leaders, and made up the largest division of the great world youth parade. The Canadian boys, under Scoutmaster Kenneth Jordan, of

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

MISS HELEN LACEY, B.H.Sc.

PICKLES AND JELLIES AND JAMS.

CAN'T YOU SMELL all the delicious odours that arise when pickles and relishes are boiling in a large kettle on the stove? And even if there is a long winter ahead it doesn't seem half so bad when we know there will be tempting foods as must surely come from such tantalizing smells. A well-stocked preserve cupboard gives a great sense of security when the winter winds start to blow.

PEACH AND ORANGE MARMALADE.

15 peaches
4 oranges
6 cups sugar
Rind and juice of ½ large lemon

Cut peaches and oranges into small pieces, using both rind and juice of the oranges, or put through a food chopper. Mix all ingredients together. Boil 20 minutes. Seal in sterilized jars.

CHILI SAUCE.

4 quarts ripe tomatoes
4 large onions
4 green peppers
3 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons salt
2 teaspoons cloves
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon ground allspice
2 teaspoons nutmeg
6 cups vinegar

Boil all ingredients together until quite thick, then bottle for use.

APPLE JAM.

Quarter apples without peeling or removing cores. Cover with water and cook until very soft. Press through a sieve. Add ¾ cup of sugar to a cup of the pulp. Boil until thick. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

PICKLED PEACHES OR PEARS.

4 quarts of fruit
2 cups vinegar
2 teaspoons whole cloves
4 cups sugar
1 stick cinnamon

Choose small, perfect fruit. Wash thoroughly and, if using peaches, remove skins by scalding. Boil vinegar, sugar and spices for 20 minutes. Place a few pieces of fruit at a time in the syrup and cook until tender. Pack in sterilized jars and cover with boiling syrup. Seal while hot.

CANNED PIMENTOS.

Loosen skins of pimentos by placing in a tray or shallow pan and putting in a hot oven for from five to eight minutes. Care must be taken to prevent discolouration by too lengthy heating. On removal from the oven, dip in cold water. Peel, remove stems and seeds. As the pimentos are now soft, they can be folded into jars. No water should be added as they will form their own syrup. Seal jars and cook in boiling water thirty minutes. Cool quickly.

BEET AND CARROT PICKLE.

12 beets
1 cabbage
4 onions
3 green peppers
3 red peppers
3 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon mustard
2 cups vinegar

Put beets, cabbages, onions and peppers through a food chopper. Mix all together, add vinegar and cook until thick. Seal in sterilized jars.

DRIED SWEET CORN.

Sweet corn may be preserved for winter use by drying in the oven and is an excellent method of saving any that is left from a meal during the green corn season. First boil the corn 10 to 15 minutes. Cut from the cob and dry in a slow oven 15 minutes, being careful not to let it scorch or brown. Remove from oven and allow to stand in any dry place for a few hours. Store in cotton bags which can be hung up to dry. When preparing for use, soak over night like white beans and cook the same as canned corn.

TOMATO BUTTER.

10 lbs. ripe tomatoes
1 quart vinegar
3 lbs. brown sugar
½ teaspoon red pepper
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon cloves
1 tablespoon allspice
1 tablespoon salt

Peel and slice tomatoes. Cover with weak vinegar. Let stand over night. Drain in the morning and cook until thick and jam-like in a syrup made from the vinegar, sugar and spices. Seal in sterilized jars.

Allspice is not, as some people believe, a mixture of spices, but grows on a tree belonging to the myrtle family. It is called allspice because its flavour resembles a mixture of cinnamon and cloves.

* * * *

Cloves should be dark brown in colour. They are commonly used with other spices as a combination gives a better flavour than cloves used alone. Too much gives an undesirable colour as well as a bitter flavour.

* * * *

Dill—Both the leaves and seeds of dill are used. The leaves may be used as a garnish or may be cooked with fish. The leaves alone, or the whole plant, may be used in making dill pickles.

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture

ONTARIO BUYING FEEDERS.

Almost a month earlier than usual the stream of feeders and stockers from Western Canada into Western Ontario is now under way. For over a month there has been a heavy movement of light cattle into the feed-lots from Kitchener to the border. At the same time a heavy movement of finished cattle was noted to Buffalo and Detroit markets. United States buyers came right to Western Ontario feed-lots and paid good prices at the farm. As the United States tariff quota on cattle over 700 pounds is due to be filled shortly, this may account for the present heavy shipments, but it is believed that prices across the line are strong enough to cover an added cent per pound and that the movement of finished stock south will continue.

WAR ON CHICORY.

Pleased with the results of their recent campaign against poison ivy, Ontario Department of Agriculture officials have declared war on chicory, public enemy No. 1 among noxious weeds. According to J. D. McLeod, of the crops, seeds and weeds branch, chicory is the fastest spreading weed in Ontario. An average chicory plant may produce 3,000 seeds. Its bright blue flowers and dandelion-like leaves may be seen in every county in the province. Deep ploughing is recommended to root it out of fields, spraying while the plants are blossoming along roadsides. Mr. McLeod issued an appeal to farmers and citizens to draw attention of weed inspectors to infested areas. He said a half-pound of sodium chlorate to a gallon of water was a good spray and should be put on at high pressure.

SUMMARY OF FRUIT AND VEGETABLE PROSPECTS

Weather conditions have been generally favourable for development of tree fruits during the past month. Moisture supplies have been ample in all sections of the Province except in the Bowmanville - Newcastle district where only scant precipitation was received during the past six weeks. Heavy showers, however, fell in this district on August 19th.

Apples are sizing better than last year and present prospects indicate an increase of 22 per cent in total production in Western Ontario over last year, and a reduction of 20 per cent east of Toronto. The total production for 1937 is now estimated at 731,500 barrels as compared with 703,500 barrels in 1936. Where intensive spraying has been practiced, insect pests and fungus disease have been fairly well controlled, although, in a few areas, there is now evidence of scab infestation. Side-worm injury is showing badly in many orchards. Early varieties of apples are being harvested and are reported to be of good quality. Buyers are now becoming active and a few sales by the orchard have been made.

The peach crop is expected to be approximately 25 per cent greater than a year ago and fruit is sizing well. Weather conditions, however, have been favourable for the development of brown rot and insect injury. With an improvement in weather conditions before harvesting and providing intensive spraying is continued, an above average yield of good quality fruit should be obtained.

A fair yield of most varieties of plums is anticipated, with Grand Dukes and Reine Claudes appearing as the least promising. Total production is estimated as 58,900 bushels, a gain of 43 per cent over the very small crop of 41,200 bushels harvested in 1936. Although weather and moisture conditions have been generally favourable for plums, rot is somewhat in evidence throughout the Niagara Peninsula, especially in poorer sprayed orchards.

Practically all commercial varieties of pears have made excellent growth during the past month and are quite free from insect or disease injury. The crop is sizing well and total production is estimated to be somewhat higher than a month ago at 147,600 bushels, a reduction of 23 per cent from last year, when the total yield amounted to 196,800 bushels.

Grapevines are reported in a healthy condition with berries sizing well. Prospects are favourable for a good normal yield. A large number of vineyards have not been carfeully sprayed and hoppers and mildew are quite prevalent in these graperies. In carefully sprayed vineyards disease and insects are well under control.

The cantaloupe crop will not approach the bumper proportions indicated a month ago, but will be a good average yield. Owing to a spell of very hot weather the set of blossoms was restricted and sizing of melons was affected in some plantations. Vine blight has developed in some patches and the grading quality is generally lower due to inferior netting.

Field tomatoes are not in as good condition as at the middle of July due to too much precipitation in Western Ontario. In Eastern Ontario the condition is reported to be still above the average, but in Western Ontario it is slightly below average. In the counties of Halton and Welland prospects are reported consideraby below average. Total canning factory tomato acreage this year amounts to 34,700 acres as against 21,500 acres last year. Processing plants have already commenced canning tomatoes, which is earlier than expected.

A small Cockney was taken by his father to see a certain store's great Jubilee effort. Father pointed to the giant figure of Britannia.

"Wha's that, sonny?"

"Tails, daddy!"

Six Are Slightly Injured In Auto Crash at Finch

Six occupants of an automobile were injured, none seriously, in a collison at the main intersection in the village of Finch, Saturday evening.

They were:

Sidney, Locke, driver; Albert Murphy, Floyd Gallinger and Joseph C. McDonald, all of Cornwall;

And the Misses Ethel and Mabel Reaney, of Avonmore.

The car, containing the six persons bound for the Ottawa exhibition, was proceeding through Finch, on the Avonmore-Finch highway, when it was in collision with a car driven by George Dewey, of Finch, at the main intersection.

The Cornwall car turned upside down following the crash and was practically demolished. The injured were treated at the office of Dr. J. G. McLeod, of Finch, and allowed to go home. Provincial Constable A. McLeod, Cornwall, investigated.

Ontario's Man of Action

RETURN HEPBURN AS PREMIER

OLD MAN ONTARIO speaks for the great mass of our citizens when he says, "Thank you, Mitch".

Only too well he remembers the sorry plight into which bad government had brought this great province three years ago. Spendthrift politicians were dragging us deeper and deeper into debt. Their millionaire friends were being allowed to fleece the public treasury. Every department of the public services was honeycombed with an army of hangers-on.

It was then the people turned to Hepburn in the hope he could and would carry out the promises he made. Perhaps skeptics may have attributed some of his promises to youthful enthusiasm—but Hepburn kept his word—he's Ontario's Man of Action.

Today Honourable Mitchell F. Hepburn submits the most successful record any Ontario Prime Minister ever presented before the bar of public opinion.

Hepburn Earns the Gratitude of the Electorate

HE has earned the thanks of practically every man, woman and child in the province.

Wealthy beneficiaries of estates which had been allowed to mulct the province to the tune of 22 million dollars will not thank him for recovering that huge sum—but nearly everybody else will.

Timber profiteers rue the day on which Hepburn came to Queen's Park—but the people of the North rejoice when they see large new industries springing up and old ones reviving. They join Old Man Ontario in his enthusiasm for the ending of unemployment in the timber area and for turning George Henry's deficits into surpluses.

"Big Business" may not be singing Hepburn's praises—but the common people appreciate the fact that he saved them millions in interest rates.

Hepburn Saves Hydro

IF the Quebec power barons had a vote in Ontario, it would certainly not go to Hepburn—but Ontario knows that the Government's Hydro policy not only saved this great enterprise from ruin, but that it has already saved over four million dollars to Hydro users, and the new contracts will eventually effect total savings to the province of over six million dollars a year.

Profiteers from the liquor toll gate that Hepburn promised to abolish will not be on his side—but the people approve his prohibition of the sale of liquor in restaurants which the Henry Government would have permitted.

Hepburn Proves to be The Tax-Payer's Friend

THAT "Thank you, Mitch" covers a wide range of public services, all administered with an efficiency and economy hitherto unknown.

It says:

"Thanks" for the lessening of municipal burdens—that mill on the tax rate, the increase in township road subsidies, the assumption and increase of Mothers' Allowances and the assumption of Old Age Pensions.

"Thanks" for the abolition of the amusement tax.

"Thanks" for preventing the exploitation of labour by riotous aliens.

"Thanks" for the advanced labour legislation, such as—industrial standard codes, extending minimum wage laws to men, and setting up a tribunal to ensure a square deal to employees and employers. This new Industry and Labour Board has already justified its creation by effecting settlements in several disputes of long standing.

"Thanks" for the modernizing and extension of our highways, and for promoting tourist trade on a greater scale than ever before.

"Thanks" for the improvement in the preventive measures for the health of the people, and for the better care of the sick—physical and mental.

"Thanks" for the progress of education in Ontario, and for assuming the costs of examination fees.

"Thanks" for the advancement of every Department within the jurisdiction of a Provincial Government.

Symbol of a grateful people, Old Man Ontario speaks for the great mass of our citizens when he says, "Carry On, Hepburn".

Those Who Are Entitled To Vote

Every British subject, 21 years of age, and resident in Ontario since October 6, 1936, is entitled to vote at the forthcoming election—but the name must be on the voters' list.

A vote for the Liberal candidate on October 6th is the practical way the Ontario elector can join in the mandate, "CARRY ON, HEPBURN".
