VOL. 86 No. 49 ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1978 SINGLE COPY 20c

Charlebois inquest is tomorrow

The inquest into the controversial motorcycle death of 16-year-old Robert Charlebois will be held tomorrow at the Alexandria Curling Club on Main Street North.

The inquest is open to the public and presiding coroner is Dr. Royal Kirby of Hawkesbury.

The inquest was ordered by the Ontario Coroner after local authorities declined to conduct an inquiry despite protests from town residents that the town police had not handled the incident properly.

Ontario Provincial Police have been conducting an investigation into the matter for weeks. The Crown will be represented by Crown Attorney McKenna from Kingston.

The inquest begins at 9 a.m. and about 17 witnesses are expected to be called. There is a possibility the inquest will carry into Friday.

The inquest is being held in the curling club building rather than the court house, in anticipation of a large crowd.

ST. MARY'S ALTAR SPROUTS CHRISTMAS WINGS—Not really wings, but organ pipes now grace the altar at St. Mary's Church in Williamstown. The pipes are part of the new organ at the church and are placed behind the altar because the shape of the roof directly above is almost accoustically perfect.

Bomb threat closes school

What began as a prank bomb threat resulted in a day of confusion for Alexandria's Rouleau School and a full-scale investigation by the Lancaster OPP.

"There's a bomb in the school," a deep voice told teacher Denise Giroux over the telephone at 8:15 Monday morning. Personnel were evacuated and the school buses were all turned around to take the 315 Rouleau students back home.

It was raining and the faculty of the school had nowhere to send the children except home.

The teachers did not get a holiday, however, as they went to Ecole Perpetuel Secours and St. Joseph's School to prepare future classes for the Rouleau students.

Even after the search was completed, the teachers remained at Ecole Perpetuel Secours and St. Joseph's School preparing courses.

The OPP are continuing their investigation and will try to determine who the phone caller was. Making a threatening phone call is a crime under section 331 of the Criminal Code:

"Threatening letters and telephone calls. 331 (1) Every one commits an offence who by letter, telegram, telephone, cable, radio, or otherwise, knowingly utters, conveys or causes any person to receive a threat a) to cause death or injury to any person . . . (2) Every one who commits an offence under paragraph (1) (a) is guilty of an indictable offence and is liable to imprisonment for 10 years."

New SDG warden is Hubert Quart

Maxville Reeve Hubert Quart has been elected warden of the United Counties.

He will officially replace Mountain Township Reeve Ewart Simms December 18.

The outgoing warden has urged council to consider increasing the pay of the head of council.

Simms said he spent all or parts of about 100 days this year on county business, not including official attendance at various social functions.

He received an allowance of $3,250 with which he was expected to host the annual warden's banquet and other functions. The banquet alone cost $2,300 and when all bills for the other functions were in, Simms had to pay out of his own pocket.

As a county councillor, Simms received the same pay as other councillors, $55 for regular council meetings and $45 for committee meetings.

Simms said some other areas provide a car on sizeable salaries to their wardens. SD&G Council should consider paying for the warden's banquet and still provide the allowance, he suggested.

Barn, granary lost in blaze

A fire early Tuesday morning destroyed the barn and granary of Aime Theoret, Fassifern. At least 7,000 bales of hay and five tons of grain were lost in the blaze.

The Theorets were awakened by Bobby St. Denis around 4:30 Tuesday morning. When they awoke they could see the problem immediately. Mrs. Theoret told the News, "We could see red all around the house."

Aime Theoret ran outside and checked the animals first of all. The barn had one end open like a loafing shed so the animals all escaped the flames.

The origin of the fire is still unknown and no official estimate of the damage has been completed. The Alexandria Fire Department answered the early morning alarm.

MPP against hike in price

SD&G MPP Osie Villeneuve says he does not favor a proposed 12-cent increase in the price of butter.

In a press release, reprinted inside in full, the Conservative member says the only way to solve the problem of declining Farm incomes is to increase milk quota.

Villeneuve notes that "the current quota system has not kept pace with the growing market for cheddar cheese" and "it does not reflect the opportunities that exist for increased sales."

The MPP says "it has been suggested that the price of butter be raised 12 cents per pound. In my opinion, raising the price of butter at this time, is a very poor solution. It will simply price butter off the table and it will not resolve the milk quota problem."

The Ontario government is pressing for an increase in quota, but is receiving little sympathy from Ottawa, Villeneuve contends.

"Our principal problem is that there is not enough industrial milk quota to meet the increased demand," he says.

"We are not even keeping pace with domestic needs, let alone a growing external demand.

"On a per capita consumption, the demand for cheese has increased 100 per cent in the last 10 years. By comparison, the consumption of fluid milk and butter have not kept pace. And yet, the Province of Ontario imported 25 million pounds of cheddar cheese to supply our domestic needs last year and the same amount of butter."

Students suggesting natural park fence

Three University of Western Ontario students have suggested that Alexandria Council abandon its plan to put a chain link fence around the town park and consider a natural barrier instead.

In a letter to The News, reprinted inside, the three Glengarrians suggest the fence be made out of trees, rocks and land mounds, which would effectively stop cars from entering the park while at the same time preserving the park's natural landscape.

Mayor Jean Paul Touchette said yesterday the idea is a good one and merits consideration.

The Alexandria Lions Club is also examining the possibility of a natural barrier around the park.

Mike Depratto, chairman of the club's Park Beautification Committee, said the natural fence is one alternative the committee will examine before making a recommendation on a fence for the park.

"A recreational area, such as the park, is designed to create a healthy environment which should reflect the natural beauty and quality of our land," according to Brian Lessard, Denis Massie and Dean Macdonell.

The students say the park "should have a calm, relaxing atmosphere where we can take a break from the ever-increasing realities of a technological age. It is inconceivable that we should put a fence around it."

The visual effect of a "steel bond encompassing a natural environment is most unpleasant and destroys the whole essence of an uninhibited surrounding."

Home boom continues

Land severances in Charlottenburgh Township topped the 100 mark this year, according to Committee of Adjustment figures.

Secretary Wilfred Fortin said the committee received 118 applications this year, of which 111 have been heard. The committee has approved 103 of these.

Six of the approvals have been appealed by United Counties Engineer Donald McDonald, however. To date, the Ontario Municipal Board has ruled on only one appeal, upholding McDonald's objection.

Ontario Ministry of Housing figures sent to Fortin, show there are more severances in Charlottenburgh than the combined total of all other townships governed by the Lower St. Lawrence Official Plan.

In 1977, Charlottenburgh had 92 severances. Cornwall Township had 14; Osnabruck, 15; Roxborough, 4; and Finch, 18.

This year Charlottenburgh issued 73 permits for new homes, the most expensive of which was estimated at $90,000.

The building, being constructed on the South Branch Road west of County Road 20, is owned by Donald Derry, a Cornwall funeral director.

Total estimated value of construction taking place during the year is $2,942,000, Fortin said.

Fortin, who is also the township's building inspector, said growth is heavy in Charlottenburgh primarily because it has its own committee of adjustment responsible for land severances.

The other townships have a joint land division committee.

Charlottenburgh was able to keep its own committee because it was the only township to approve a local official plan and zoning by-law prior to the provincially inspired Lower St. Lawrence Official Plan being implemented in 1976.

County councillors want grants kept

SD&G County Council has joined the chorus of municipal protest against the federal government's decision to withdraw funding from ARDA.

The Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act is the federal-provincial agreement under which municipal drains are funded and Ottawa has announced it is pulling out of the scheme and will stop contributing funds after March 31.

Under ARDA, drains are funded one-third each by the province, the federal government and the benefitting property owners.

County Council is urging Ottawa to extend the grant program for three years to allow drains in progress to be completed.

Roxborough Reeve George Crites said Eastern Ontario will "go to the dogs, with what's left going to the beavers, if ARDA funding is terminated."

He said discontinuing the ARDA program would hamper agricultural production.

"Customers want food three times a day and no other commodity will take its place," Crites said.

He noted that drainage construction and maintenance are ongoing and to curb financing would be detrimental. One of the main maintenance problems is caused by beaver dams, he said.

Winchester Township Reeve Delbert Link said a three-year expansion would allow drains now under construction or approved under the existing financing scheme to be carried through.

Following this period of grace, property owners petitioning for a new drain would be told they would have to contribute two-thirds of the funds.

Link's motion stressed that continuation of ARDA is essential to continued improvement of agricultural productivity in the region. ARDA grants have provided incentive to initiate agricultural drainage projects, Link said.

He noted that several municipalities, including his own, have launched drainage works that can't possibly be completed before March 31.

Warden Ewart Simms, reeve of Mountain Township, said it would not be right to cut grants when several projects have been initiated on the basis of current funding.

Staff given hefty raise

SD&G County Council voted its staff a 23 per cent pay increase last Wednesday.

The increases, to be granted over two years, will see the salary of Administrator Clerk-Treasurer Raymond Lapointe climb from $23,400 to $28,000 next year and $30,000 in 1980.

Road superintendent Donald McDonald will earn $29,500 in 1980 compared to his 1978 salary of $22,400.

Social Services Administrator Ed Thompson will climb from $19,900 to $25,000.

The highest level secretary will earn $13,950 in two years compared to a current salary of $11,250.

Road foremen will receive $3,200 above top union scale for road department employees. Under these terms, foremen will earn $17,111 next year.

Mileage allowance will rise from 20 cents a mile to 22 cents next year, with no provision for 1980, and an extra holiday will be added to 10 already received.

The raises are a bid by council to bring the salaries of 35 non-union staff into line with pay rates in other jurisdictions and to widen the gap between supervisors and unionized employees.

Two years ago, the disbanded Anti-Inflation Board cut in half a 17 per cent increase granted to non-union employees and levied a $15,800 fine on the United Counties.

Council unsuccessfully appealed the AIB ruling to the AIB administrator.

Following Wednesday's in-camera approval of the raises, Warden Ewart Simms, admitted the increases would be seen by some as excessive. He said council's decision was far from unanimous with a vote of 28 to 14.

The Mountain Township reeve said council felt it was unfairly treated by the AIB two years ago and noted that non-union employees are underpaid.

Mountain Township Deputy Reeve Keith Fawcett disagrees with Simms, however.

He said the raises would set a precedent with employees of municipalities throughout SD&G who would seek parity with their county counterparts.

Lapointe said his new salary for 1980 would still leave him behind chief executive officers in other parts of Eastern Ontario.

He noted that in some categories, union settlements have been pushing salaries of SD&G employees beyond those of supervisors, eroding the incentive to assume supervisory responsibility.

Board declares convent historic site

The Conservation Review Board of Ontario has ruled that Cornwall Township acted wisely when it designated the St. Andrew convent a historic site.

Council designated the separate school board owned building after citizens lobbied against the proposed demolition of the structure.

The school board appealed the designation to the review board.

In his report, Hearing Officer E.V. Swain said "from the evidence given it is quite obvious that St. Andrews West convent is part of the social, religious, educational and cultural fabric and history of the community.

"One must consider the building in the light of its past history as a convent and school, its situation on the site of former convents and schools, the fact that it has schools on either side, and that it is very close to a graveyard where historical persons are buried, to one of the earliest churches of the area and to a former hotel presently used as a store.

"In the view of the board, the premises have a unique and singular historic value and interest which should be protected not only for the community, but also for the people of Ontario."

The board ruled that "the council of the Township of Cornwall has acted in the best interests of the citizens of that community in designating the convent at St. Andrews West as property of historical value."

Council instructed its solicitor last week to draw up a by-law to formalize the historic designation.

Under the Ontario Heritage Act, a designed building cannot permission for a period of up to 180 days.

The Act was devised as a means of providing "breathing space" in which to negotiate the preservation of a building once the owner decides he wishes to demolish it.

After the 180 days, if the owner has not been talked out of demolition or the building has not been expropriated, the owner is free to proceed with his plans.

Fire destroys home

Late Friday night or early Saturday morning a fire began in the Dunvegan residence of Mr. Cooperhause of Montreal. The fire completely destroyed the building of which Cooperhause had just spent over $100,000 remodelling.

The Maxville Fire Department received the call around 2:30 Saturday morning. They fought the fire until about 5 a.m., using 26,000 gallons of water from a swimming pool.

At this point the Alexandria Fire Department was called and they gave the Maxville truck a load of water. All was to no avail, however, as the renovated log house was levelled.

The house was located on a farm one mile east of Dunvegan on the north side.

Vote to expand winter works

A proposal made last week by Williamsburg Reeve J. E. Whitteker to reinstate a stepped up winter works program throughout the province was supported by the United Counties social services committee.

Whitteker's proposal calls for money to be given to the municipalities by the province in proportion to the number of employable unemployed.

Charlottenburgh Reeve Adrian Gadbois raised some concern over the cost of the program. Whitteker explained that the money would be paying for useful work and that the winter works would save money by taking people off the welfare rolls.

A graduate of Iona Academy, she taught in Glengarry for four years before leaving for Goderich. Mother of a family of six—three still in college—she always found time to participate in community affairs.

To have holiday lights

Alexandria Town Council passed a motion at its inaugural meeting on Tuesday, December 5 that says that the town will have Christmas decorations this year.

The council plans to make up for last year's lack of decorations by putting on an extra big show this year. They ask the merchants and the residents of the town to help by decorating as much as possible.

Last year Alexandria complied with Ontario Hydro's request for a cut in electricity use by not having decorations, but this year council feels that the beauty is worth the energy used.

Program folds

In a final meeting of the Alexandria Meals on Wheels held November 7, it was decided to disolve this organization due to a lack of public response.

In the past meals were made at Glengarry Memorial and delivered twice a week to shut-ins.

Funds remaining in the bank of $331.86 were turned over to the hospital to be used in some needy area. The hot lock used to keep the food hot in transport, had been generously donated by the Alexandria Lions Club and has been returned to them.

The Meals on Wheels committee thanks all the volunteers who helped organize and deliver the meals.

A special thanks is being given to the kitchen department at Glengarry Memorial for the extra work and co-operation they gave this organization.

Local WI members hear home economist

Members of the Glengarry District WI met at the hall of the Church on the Hill in November to hear Miss Mary Michels speak on "Fashion Focus." The attendance was pleasing and several guests other than WI members were present. All the District Branches but one were represented.

As the meeting opened, all in attendance were presented with three sheets of typewritten paper. One with eight articles of ladies' clothing itemized as to style and pattern, namely a suit, a skirt, a blouse, a dress, a jumpsuit, a tunic, a raincoat, and a shawl. Sheet number two was a checklist as to a lady's activities for two weeks and her choice of clothing. The third sheet was a questionaire on clothing.

Miss Michels explained all styles and demonstrated material and colors in clothing. Two from the audience, a short and a tall person came forward at Miss Michel's request to assist her in modelling material. Slides on modern clothing were displayed. To sum up the course, the home economist held a question-answer period which was interesting and informative.

You should have been there. You would have enjoyed the afternoon. Don't miss the next course sponsored by the "Home Economics and Food" under Miss Mary Michels.

Glens lose two in weekend play

The St. Isidore Eagles scored 17 goals against the Alexandria Glens over the weekend, taking both games played. They won 9-5 on Friday and 8-6 on Sunday.

Friday night the Glens started out like an inspired team, scoring two goals in the first two minutes of play. After only 20 seconds of play Doug Campbell netted the first Alexandria goal, assisted by Yvan Desautels and Dave McKissock. The second goal came exactly one minute later when Yvan Desautels scored from Doug Campbell and Terry Epp.

Less than one minute later, Marc Lacroix scored his first of three goals for the Eagles, assisted by Yves and Luc Desforges. Glens' Laurie McRae connected a half-minute later with help from Jacques Lajoie.

St. Isidore then walked away with the game, getting singles from Marc Brazeau, Benoit Malette and Guy Foley. They scored two more in the second period before Alexandria could reply. The two goals came from Marc Brazeau, giving him the first St. Isidore hat trick.

Laurie McRae scored his second goal a couple of minutes later to shorten the gap to two. He was assisted by Lajoie and Doug Campbell. The score was narrowed further when Desautels scored his second goal, unassisted.

That was the end of the scoring for Alexandria, however, and St. Isidore scored three more unanswered goals to round out the scoring. The goals came from Luc Villeneuve with Marc Lacroix and the latter then netted his second and third goals, both from Sylvain Pouliot and Mario Seguin.

Luc Poirier was injured in the first period, but continued to play through the whole game. Later it was discovered that he had a broken thumb and a fractured wrist. The Glens will be feeling the absence of the devoted player for about three weeks, according to Manager Billy Gebbie.

On Sunday, the Glens travelled to St. Isidore for a rematch. In an almost penalty-free game, the Eagles' Marc Brazeau scored his second hat trick of the weekend, leading the St. Isidore team to its second victory in a row over the Glens.

St. Isidore got on the board first, with goals from Luc Desforges and Mario Seguin. Both were assisted by Marc Lemieux, who tied Brazeau with eight weekend points.

The Glens' Jacques Lajoie closed out the scoring in the first period with a goal assisted by Laurie McRae and Mike Crack.

In the second period, Alexandria got a quick goal from Glen MacDonell assisted by Paul Marshall and Paul Depratto to tie the score.

St. Isidore went ahead again halfway through the period on Brazeau's first goal, assisted by Luc Desforges and Sylvain Pouliot.

The Glens tied the score again a minute later when Mike Crack turned a Jacques Lajoie pass into a goal.

Marc Brazeau then netted an unassisted goal to put his team on top again, but for only two minutes. With three minutes left in the second period Glen MacDonell scored his second of the night, assisted by Mike Crack.

The Eagles ran away with the third period, scoring four goals to the Glens' one. St. Isidore got singles from Marc Brazeau (Pouliot, Desforges), Desforges (Lafleche, Saurette), Gauthier (Lafleche, Lavoie) and Villeneuve (Seguin, Lacroix).

Alexandria's lone marker came from Yvan Desautels, with an assist going to Doug Campbell. Both teams received only four penalties throughout the game, as compared to the total of 22 penalties on Friday night.

The next Glens' games will be against Vanier next weekend, on Friday in Alexandria and on Sunday in Vanier.

Is this hockey?

by Robert Rothgeb

This was a familiar scene on Saturday night at the Alexandria Sports Palace as the Jr. C Glens fought their way to an 8-4 defeat at the hands and fists of the Embrun Jr. Cs.

In addition to the four game misconducts that the Glens received for fighting, they amassed 44 minutes in minor penalties plus two five minute fighting penalties.

The tragedy is that the fighting in a game like the one on Saturday night is unnecessary. The Jr. C Glens are a good team and should be able to win games without intimidation.

Another question creeps into my mind after a game like this; has our sense of good sportsmanship completely died? Most of the fighting occurred in the last half of the third period, after the Glens had already lost the game.

"It matters not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game." The way the Glens played the game on Saturday night if they had won it would have been a meaningless victory. In order for the team to grow into a winning team they must first learn how to lose.

Scoring for Alexandria were Ray Poirier and R. Lajoix.

In Sunday's first contest Lancaster doubled Alexandria 6 to 3. For Lancaster Mort Belmore had a hat trick, Tom Ross scored twice and Glen Bethune added a single.

Rodney Shepherd with two and Robert Lajoie with a single handled the scoring for Alexandria.

In the second game of the afternoon Glen Nevis defeated St. Raphael's by a score of 7 to 3. The game was a closely fought contest with the score 4-3 in favor of Glen Nevis with only one-and-a-half minutes to go when they scored three times.

Atoms win B championship

Alexandria came out on top of the "B" division in Saturday's Atom Hockey tournament. Morrisburg won the "A" championship. The day started out a half hour late because Ottawa West didn't show up and the schedule had to be changed. When the Ottawa team finally showed up they were disqualified for arriving too late.

The Most Valuable Players were picked by three judges positioned in different areas of the arena. Each was looking for skill in passing, stickhandling, skating, scoring and shooting. Points were taken away from players that got penalties.

In the A division, the Most Valuabe Player for Morrisburg was Mike Casselman and the MVP for Char-Lan was Mark Cameron.

In the B division the MVP for Alexandria was Andrew McCormick and the MVP for Chesterville was goalie Kevin Edgerton.

The final scores of the games were: Char-Lan 8, Alexandria 5; Cornwall B 12, Maxville 0; Chesterville 3, Morrisburg 5; Cornwall Township 2, Chesterville 5; Char-Lan 3, Cornwall B 2; Cornwall Township 1, Morrisburg 7; Maxville 0, Alexandria 17; Char-Lan 2, Morrisburg 3 (for A championship); Alexandria 3, Chesterville 2 (for B champions.

In Alexandria's final game against Chesterville Marc Theoret was the big gun, scoring all of the Glens' goals for a hat trick.

In Can-Am play last Thursday night the Alexandria Atom Glens beat Long Sault 3-0 in Long Sault.

Rebels win one, tie one

by Stuart Fourney

Last Thursday Osnabruck Township was in town and gave our local boys a hard time, forcing them to come from behind three times to take an 8-5 victory.

Doug Johnson put Osnabruck ahead, but Marc Seguin got that one back on a set up in the slot by Lloyd Fourney and Lee Sheets. Thirteen seconds later Seguin made it two to one on a pass from Sheets, only to have Simpson even the score. Then, with 4:08 left in the first period, Shaver put Osnabruck ahead.

Rick Cooper started fast in the second, scoring on passes from Mitchell Macdonald and Dale Lafave. Two minutes later Kenton Spink put our Rebels ahead again as Mitchell MacDonald set him up in front on a pass from Jim Brown.

With 7:27 left in the second period, Osnabruck's Kevin Wells tied the score on a slap shot from the point. One minute, four seconds later Johnson got his second goal of the game to put Osnabruck ahead.

Mike Tessier made it an even 5-5 with 24 seconds left in the second period on a lead pass at the blueline from Gordie McKay and Marc Seguin.

In the third period, Char-Lan put the game away. Lee Sheets made no mistake as Seguin passed the puck from the corner. With 3:13 left Marc Seguin got his hat trick on a neat three-way play, Mike Tessier and Sheets making nice passes out of their own end.

With one minute 10 seconds left Osnabruck chose to pull their goalie for the extra man, however Tessier stole the puck at centre ice and ended the scoring on a long shot.

Coach Wendall Lafave was pleased with his team's effort. It took our goalie Rickey Marleau two periods to stop fighting the puck, but then he shut them out in the third. There were four penalties handed out to each team.

REBELS 3, FINCH 3

Saturday night our Rebels travelled to Finch, but were without the guidance of Wendall Lafave and Art MacCuaig, as both coaches were busy winning a trophy in an old timers' tournament.

Manager Stewart Fourney took over the bench but found the going a lot faster than coaching his Peewee team at Char-Lan. However, all was not lost as his charges came home with one point, tying the Finch 76s 3-3.

For two periods the game went end to end, only to have Jim Humes of Finch and Mark Gareau for Char-Lan refuse to give up any goals.

In the third period with just 27 seconds gone, Marc Seguin scored from the slot from Lloyd Fourney who took a pass from Lee Sheets. Twenty-one seconds later Seguin made it 2-0 on a pass from Sheets. One minute three seconds later Sheets sped in all alone on a lead pass from Seguin and made no mistake.

Finch was not to be denied, for Eddie Grove let go a screen shot which Mark Gareau never saw. Then with four minutes, 42 seconds left a wild shot hit a player's shoulder and went down in the net. Mike O'Danahue tied the score on a deflection with two minutes left in the game.

Char-Lan picked up three of the four penalties. Both teams stuck to a fast skating game. Goaltender Jamie MacCulloch played back-up to Mark Gareau, as Manager Fourney acquired his services from the Alexandria Glens.

The Char-Lan Rebels will be back in action on Thursday night, December 7 at the Charlottenburgh Arena. The much improved Avonmore Aces will be in town for a game. Another new addition to our Rebels will be seen, as Mark Wereley will be wearing a Rebels' sweater.

Good scores recorded in junior bowling

by Marlene MacDonald

This has been a pretty good week for quite a few bowlers.

For the Bantams we have Robert Starkavekas with a high single of 173 and Jean Vaillancourt with a high triple of 336. Sylvie Seguin has a high single of 157 and high triple of 434. The Bantams are getting closer to the Juniors all the time.

Daniel Dubois has a high single of 204 for the Juniors. David Lacombe has a high triple of 496 with Serge St. Louis right behind hin with a 495. Now that's what I call a little too close for comfort. Elaine Beriault was safe with a high single of 191 and a high triple of 484.

Denis Dubois comes through for the Seniors with a high single of 252 and a high triple of 555. Joanne Menard has the high single of 215 and the high triple of 574. How about giving some of us a chance, Joanne?

For the parents who love to bowl we have just the thing. Coming up on December 17, is the Family Twosome. This when we get to enjoy an outing with parents. The gutters will be really busy that day. I don't know about everybody else but I'm sure going to be there to see this.

by Jeannine Legault

On November 14 the executive of the Alexandria Figure Skating Club held its monthly meeting in the conference room of the Sports Palace.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Cecile Gauthier and a letter of resignation was presented by Mrs. Jeannine Boileau who has been with the club since its beginning; her work, many talents and devotedness with this group has been greatly appreciated. Mrs. Lorraine Paquin was unanimously accepted as a new director.

Students taking private lessons on Tuesday are now permitted to participate in an hour of practice on Monday nights from 6:40-7:40.

On October 22, a Junior Coach Clinic was held at Long Sault and the following girls passed the test as junior coaches: Francoise Beauclair, Linda English, Anne Morris, Diane Claude, Kathy MacDonald, Cheryl Ann McDougall and Francine Giroux. As supervisory coach, Mrs. Lucienne Beauclair and as coach Miss Manon Brunet. Congratulations to all.

The membership chairman, Mrs. Lorraine Paquin, reported that we now have 177 registered students. Twenty-four of these are on private lessons.

For the private lessons on Tuesday, in case of an absence, it is necessary for each pupil to notify a member of the executive or the arena ahead of time; or the missed lesson will not be repeated.

Plastic miniature figure skates, white and black, have been purchased and they will be sold this week throughout the town by our own skaters to raise money for the club.

Jr. C Highlanders win three games

by John Marjerrison

Maxville continued its home ice unbeaten record with a 9-6 win on Saturday night and a 12-1 victory Sunday afternoon.

Saturday night Osnabruck were the opposition. The Highlanders built up an 8-0 lead before Osnabruck could reply. What had every indication of being a rout ended in exciting fashion as Osnabruck totally controlled the third period and narrowed the score to 8-6.

With slightly over a minute to go and the Highlanders having a penalty Osnabruck pulled their goalie for a sixth attacker. The Highlanders scored a goal into the empty net making the score 9-6.

Sunday afternoon the Highlanders totally dominated Avonmore. The outcome was never in doubt, with the final score 12-1.

Tuesday, November 28 Maxville travelled to Chesterville. In a well-played game where the lead changed several times Maxville emerged victorious.

At the end of the first period Chesterville led 2-1. The Highlanders then came back and led 3-2 after two periods. The final score ended up 5-3 in favor of Maxville.

On Friday night the Highlanders' bus will leave the sports complex at 6:45 and will travel to Embrun where the team plays the strong Embrun team. Those fans interested in travelling with the team are welcome to do so.

On Sunday afternoon the Highlanders will put their home ice unbeaten string on the line when they face the Alexandria Junior C Glens.

Swedish organist to perform here

by Mrs. J. Wightman

A leading Swedish organist and composer, Dr. Bengt Hambraeus, will appear in an organ and song recital Thursday, December 21, at 8 p.m. in Alexandria United Church. Assisting artist will be Mrs. Monique Sivelle McCracken, soprano, of Glen Sandfield.

Dr. Hambraeus is a newcomer to Glengarry having taken up residence with his wife, son Michael and daughter Elizabeth in the summer of 1977 at Glen Roy, where they find country life preferable to the city.

Born in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1928, he studied Musicology, History of Religion and History of Fine Arts at Uppsala University and graduated with a PhD in 1956. He worked for the Swedish Broadcasting Corporation as head of Chamber Music Department and head of Music Production. The Faculty of Music, McGill University invited him to Montreal in 1972, and he has since been a professor in composition, music theory and electronic music. For the last five years he was a member of the direction for Societe de Musique Contemporaine du Quebec.

While attending high school in Sweden he studied organ with the eminent Swedish organist Alf Linder, and has since given organ recitals in many European countries, Canada and the United States. He has published numerous compositions for orchestra, organ and choir. He was the first Swedish composer who worked with electronic music in the early fifties. He is represented on various record labels in Europe, Canada and U.S.A. He is also the author of music books and numerous articles, some of them introducing for the first time Canadian music to Swedish readers.

Mrs. McCracken, coloratura soprano, and her husband, an Air Canada captain also enjoy rural life and own a farm in Lochiel Township. She studied music and voice for seven years in France and graduated from the Conservatoire de Musique de Monte-Carlo and Le Conservatoire de Musique de Paris.

She sang for Prince Rainier and Princess Charlotte of Monte Carlo, and has sung for radio Monte Carlo and Radio Paris International. For several years she sang at Le Palais de la Mediterrannee with the Gypsy orchestra of Mado-Ina as soloist.

In Canada Mrs. McCracken has given recitals at the Allied Art Centre in Calgary, toured for two years with The Calgary Crescent chorus as soloist, and sang on television and radio in Calgary, Edmonton and Medicine Hat, Alberta.

She has also sung at the Canadian National Exhibition and at the Queen Elizabeth for Mayor J. Drapeau, Montreal. More recently she has worked with Mrs. Naria and Marianna Pauvonna at McGill University.

In addition to the two outstanding artists Christmas carols will form a part of the evening as a pre-Christmas special.

Bishop Eugene LaRocque has mastered the Glengarry technique for identification of locals. A kind note from the bishop included this:

While I was visiting Vancouver for the Ordination o Bishop Lawrence Sabatini last September, I met Mrs William Wilde,the former Catherine McDonald daughter of Willie Allan Angus McDonald and Jessie McDonald of Glen Nevis. She was a student at Iona Commercial at the same time as Father Leo MacDonell; later she taught school in Montreal and Vancouver where she married her late husband. She is now resident at D'Youville Center, 4950 Heather Street, Vancouver, B. C.

Keith and Marvel MacLeod have purchased the business of Doris Ladouceur in Laggan. He has now moved from his farm to the new premises and is offering his services, both in the store and garage, to the community. The business was sold through Sauve Real Estate Ltd.

If you see children unusually absorbed in library books these days, they are probably involved in the Muscular Dystrophy Read-a-thon, and are busy gathering pledges for the association.

Plans are underway for a testimonial evening in honor of Rae MacCulloch who has been teaching dancing in the area for the past 25 years. This is in the form of a dance, (well, what else) at the Bonnie Glen on December 29. The committee in charge would appreciate hearing from anyone wishing to help with the program. Contact myself or Lorne Lawson.

We hear of Santa Claus parades in some of the surrounding towns. Does anyone know if Santa Claus is coming to "Town"?.

Progress on the addition to the Knights of Columbus Hall is going well. The official opening of the extended quarters will take place early in the new year.

Coach of St. Raphael's Intermediate B Hockey Club, Cameron MacDonald received a surprise letter in the mail yesterday. It contained a one hundred dollar bill for the club, from an anonymous donor. Now that's what we call Christmas spirit!

For those who haven't had time to do their baking, the Alexandria Lions Club has the answer—one of their delicious Christmas cakes.

Reeve of Kenyon for many a year, Albert Faubert called to see us on his last day in office. Told us we should always wear a smile.

Two big organ recitals coming up—Sunday night on the brand new church organ in St. Mary's Church, Williamstown and on December 21 in The Church on the Hill in Alexandria.

ETHERINGTON—DESJARDINS

November 18 at 4 p.m. St. Finnan's Cathedral was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Lucy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aldas Desjardins, Alexandria, was united in holy matrimony with Jackie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Etherington also of Alexandria.

The bride was charming in a white lace gown with high old-fashioned collar, long slim sleeves and a full train. She wore a white hat with a lacy ruffled brim, a waist length veil, and carried a spray of pink roses and white carnations.

Maid of honor, Helen Quesnel and bridesmaid, Linda Lavigne, wore sheer blue gowns with overskirt and cape and carried nosegays of pink roses and daisies. Suzanne Chabot, flower girl, wore a pale pink floor-length dress and carried a tiny bouquet tied with long white ribbons.

Best man was Denis Quesnel, usher was Michael Larocque and ring bearer was Phil Etherington.

Father Leo MacDonell conducted the service, Mrs. Christena MacDonald was organist and Sister Kathryn Cameron soloist.

Following the reception held in the Green Valley Pavilion the happy couple left for a honeymoon in Toronto, the bride wearing a winter-white three-piece suit. On their return they will reside in Alexandria.

Guests were present from Toronto, Brownsburg, Longueuil, Rosemere, St. Jerome, Hawkesbury and Cornwall.

College enrolment up

Statistics showing a decline in full-time university enrolment and an increase in community college enrolment were released today.

The report for the 1978-79 academic year, recorded as of November 1, 1978, was issued today by Bette Stephenson, MD, Minister of Colleges and Universities.

Full-time enrolment at Ontario's 22 colleges of applied arts and technology rose by 5.1 per cent to 85,684 students, up 4,173 students from last year's total of 81,511.

Full-time enrolment at the 15 provincially assisted universities, Ryerson Polytechnical Institute and the Ontario College of Art declined by 2.9 per cent. For the year 1978-79, 154,265 full-time students have registered, a decrease of 4,620 students from the previous year's total of 158,885.

Stephenson noted that recent reports predict considerable decreases in enrolment during the coming decade because of the expected declines in the number of high school graduates.

Char-Lan Crusades

by Allan MacGregor

Old Man Winter's icy touch has finally arrived, and with it comes the movement of activities indoors at Char-Lan.

HAD VISIT FROM ACTON

The band exchange with Acton was held at the end of last week. It proved to be a most rewarding and enriching experience with both bands appearing to gain a lot from it. The Char-Lan Concert Band started off the program and was followed by the band from Acton. The second half of the program featured the Acton Stage Band. Everything was topped off with the Grand Finale, which saw the two bands combine to form a 65-piece ensemble. Undoubtedly this was the highlight of the evening, as both bands blended together extremely well. Our band will return the visit next May and we are anxiously looking forward to it.

INDOOR GAMES UNDERWAY

The Char-Lan intramural sports program is underway with the girls already having completed the volleyball portion. They are now into doubles badminton play which is another new wrinkle this year. Basketball for the boys will soon be getting underway.

SEAWAY 67, CHAR-LAN 64

The Crusader boys' basketball teams are off to a fairly good start, each team having played two games. The Seniors, in their first game against Seaway, just weren't quite as mentally prepared and hungry as the Seaway team. They lost 67-64, in a game which saw Duncan (Dr. Dunc) McNeal score 30 points for our squad. The Juniors posted a 63-39 victory and, although they got off to a slow start, they were no match for the less experienced crew from Seaway. Top scorer for the Juniors was Robbie Sova with 19 points.

CRUSADERS WON GAMES

In the second set of games we travelled to Ingleside to play the Osnabruck Lancers. The Seniors outscored their opposition 84-55, in a game that was really no contest from the beginning. Dunc McNeal and Mitch MacDonald each had 29 points for the victors. The Junior Crusaders defeated the Lancers by a score of 52-43. Osnabruck Juniors were no push-over though, as they played a solid ball game. Allan MacGregor was the leading scorer for the juniors, hooping 16 points.

Both teams appear to be quite solid and should win a lot of ball games throughout the year.

LOOKING AHEAD

Well Christmas is fast approaching and soon we will be finished another year. Be patient, the holidays will soon be here!

A REAL OLD-FASHIONED CHRISTMAS—Sunday afternoon was a real "parish day" at St. Anthony's in Apple Hill as families gathered for their annual Christmas tea and craft sale. A special treat for the kiddies was provided by Mrs. "Gina" Bray, who sat in her rocker in front of the fireplace showing the children how to string popcorn, and telling them stories from olden days. Standing are: from left: Christina Levac, Mary Lou Williams, Florence Hiltz, Helen MacCulloch, Vivian Van Putten and in front, Darlene Lacroix. Seated are: Mary Lynn Bissonnette Gilles Levac, Susan Levac holding Sarah Jean Levac on her lap, Colleen Lacroix, Colleen Chretien, Raymond Van Putten, Jamie Levac, Yvon Leroux and Tom Levac.

NEWS FROM GLEN SANDFIELD

Mrs. Margaret Kennedy of Cornwall spent a few days with her daughter, Ethel MacNeil, her husband and two girls.

Mrs. Pat Heppleston was among the 10 ladies who attended the "Spotlight on Bread course" at the home of Mrs. Ruth Paige, who also acted as their instructor. It was the best-smelling house in Alexandria that day as the rolls, basic bread loaf and the pumpkin bread baked in her oven. Afterwards everybody got to sample the goodies. What is as good as a hot home-made loaf fresh from the oven? Wish I had gone now, don't you?

The next 4-H course will begin in February. The exact date will be announced later. Any girl attaining the age of 12 years by March 1, 1979 is eligible. The new program is to be "Needlepoint." Basic techniques on canvas and the making of a sampler in six different stitches will be featured. The sampler will be lovely as a cushion cover or a charming wall hanging. Anyone interested should get in touch with Mrs. Pat Heppleston at 874-2538 or with Mrs. Keith MacMillan at 525-1501. Come along girls, the more the merrier, and there is no fee for the course either!

DRAWING CLASS

Speaking of courses, after much deliberation, I enrolled in an evening class of 10 lessons on drawing and painting at the high school. Our instructor, Gary Harris, was just great and didn't laugh even once at some of jour odd still-lifes that came to be. After learning the basics and color mixing (which I thought I knew), we proceeded to learn perspective and values in shading.

Then came the big day and we got to pick a subject to "paint." Well, I chose first, a winter photo of our village home. With his help it really will be done for Christmas, (it is to be a gift). There were 10 students, some returning ones and some beginners.

The others did two or three paintings. Gary did about six. I did one and a half. But if you want a great feeling of astonishment to cross the faces of your loved ones, paint them a lovely picture. "Anyone can do it, you only have to know the little tricks." I quote Mr. Harris. There should be another class in the Fall. Why don't you join us? It's very relaxing.

By the way, if you have seen those lovely sea scapes on the walls of the hotel on Main Street, our instructor, Gary Harris is the artist. I popped in one morning and got the grand tour. They are really worth stopping in to see. In fact I had to touch the wall behind the bar because it looked as though there actually were hollows between the waves.

WHITE GIFT SERVICE

Just a reminder that there is to be a White Gift service here next Sunday evening. I believe envelopes have been sent out in lieu of articles of food. Also, the mitten tree is installed and any time you wish, we will be delighted to slip your contribution onto its branches, or better yet, come and do it yourself! Any and all gifts are welcome.

We would like to extend our sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCracken in the recent passing of his father.

News from Rouleau School

THE MERIT SYSTEM AT ROULEAU

By Claudette Wallace

The "Merit System," the brainchild of our new vice-principal, Jean Lecompte, is merely an instrument to implement, in concrete terms, the basic abstract values with which it is so difficult for the early adolescent to come to grips.

It is Rouleau's version of "Back to the Basics," e.g. back to the basic values which will make, (at least it is our contention) future members of our society strong and free and hence society itself.

The values' vacuum of the seventies has very quickly shown its dire results. So, we, at Rouleau, have unabashedly decided to spell out in concrete terms those values which we are to stress in unequivocal demands upon our students. We decided to fill the vacuum.

And the amazing thing is that the system works, and well at that, thanks to the supportive staff, parents and even the superintendent as well as the students' enthusiasm towards it. (In a recent survey, the students were asked to name "all the things they liked at Rouleau: Out of 58 items mentioned, the Merit System topped the list with a 22% lead on its nearest competitor.)

Let's get back to our basics. As you enter Rouleau school you will notice big bold letters that read: Celui qui fait rien merite rien. (He who does nothing deserves nothing.) Celui qui fait peu merite peu. (He who does little deserves little.) Celui qui fait beaucoup merite beaucoup. (He who does a lot deserves a lot.)

Hence, our merit system will revive the old-fashioned work ethic, but in terms relevant to the psychological make-up of early adolescents which is the Rouleau clientele.

You see, at Rouleau, from the time you arrive to the time you leave, you must do something, all the time. The biggest crime for a student at Rouleau is to do nothing.

Hence, a student is required to have a library book with him at all times. (If he or she doesn't, well, that's when the merit system comes into play.)

The instant the student has a free moment he or she must take out his or her library book to read.

Furthermore, at noon, students must join some activity among the intra-mural leagues organized by our three Physical Education teachers, namely Mrs. Agathe Seguin, Theo Oetelaar and Mrs. Louyse Quesnel.

Our students are constantly occupied, not only physically, but also intellectually through a weekly 12-question quiz, the answers to which must be found within the week. Quizes are prepared by a different teacher every week.

Then, we decided to resurrect those values which are relevant to the very nature of our institution. Our institution is a French-speaking Catholic school.

The first two words "French-speaking" clearly indicate the first language of our school. Hence we do stress that value and demand that students (outside of their English classes) communicate with the administration, the staff and among themselves in French.

The rationale behind this demand is that if the parents send students to this school rather than another, it is mainly because they wish them to learn French. Why do the McNaughtons, the MacDonalds, the Sullivans, the MacKinnons etc. send their sons and daughters to Rouleau if it isn't to learn French? They want their children to be bilingual which, to our mind, should be the goal of every Canadian.

So, we make it clear to our students: "You are at Rouleau six hours a day. One of those hours involves the learning of English. During the other five you are to communicate in French. There are still eighteen hours in the day to practise your verbal and written skills in English. The media (TV, radio and our local paper will ensure a constant exposure to the language of Shakespeare). What Ontario Francophone does not wish to learn English anyway? We don't know of any Ontario Francophone who doesn't want to be bilingual, i.e. fluent in the two official languages of our country, and hopefully, some day, of our province, and perhaps, who knows, of our local newspaper.

We are a Catholic institution. Hence we decided to implement the practice of charity, the fundamental value of Catholicism by exacting some very specific forms of behavior from our students, on the verbal level (no swearing, no vulgar language) and the social level (punctuality, is it charitable to make people wait?).

Even the teachers have embarked on a self-imposed improvement program concerning that aspect of their religion. Teachers have adopted a sacred respect for others and that includes the students. Hence, you will never hear Rouleau teachers bring up problems in public gatherings whether it be the teachers' room, hallways or other more public places out of respect for the peace of mind to which the non-concerned are entitled.

Nevertheless, problems are dealt with at Rouleau, in privacy, by the people concerned.

Furthermore, you will never hear a teacher discuss the weaknesses of a child in the teachers' room, hallways, etc. Out of respect (charity) for the reputation of others (even if they are only 12 or 13 years of age), such discussions are held in privacy and only with the people concerned.

You see, Catholicism forbids slander and calumny and it doesn't set limits as to the age of the victims.

Our institution is a school. It is our belief that a school should provide education and instruction. Statistics indicate that Rouleau students have done relatively well on the instructional level in the past.

So, no major structured attempt, except for the usual professional drive of teachers to improve continually on their teaching methods through personal studies, seminars, courses, personal development days, etc., was set afoot to overhaul our approach.

As we all know, education on the other hand is a constant necessity with adolescents. It's a never-ending job.

So, we selected nine areas of character building opportunities in order to foster the development of good working habits among our students and prepare future responsible and contributing citizens of Ontario. We have decided to exact very specific demands upon our students in the following nine areas that fall under education, namely: Study, homework, co-operation, notebook, locker, personal, punctuality, assigned areas and behavior.

I believe I have rambled on long enough for today. Should you be interested in the Rouleau Merit System, stay tuned, because another article will follow in a future issue outlining the mechanics of our merit system.

Drain funding cut-backs unfair

The unilateral decision of the federal government to withdraw its one-third of funding for farm drains by March 31 is typical of the actions of an insensitive bureaucracy.

Local councils here, as well as county council, have accurately pointed out that farm drains now in progress may not be completed by March 31 even though they were initiated under the old funding rules.

Because the feds have decided to change paddles in mid-stream, somebody —either the province or the property owners—are going to get stuck with that extra one-third of the bill unless other arrangements are worked out.

What we can't fathom is why the federal decision did not make allowances for projects now underway. That would have been the fair approach.

Once again officialdom has failed to consider the human factor. Never disturbed by the comings and goings in the real world, our Ottawa public servants obviously did not bother to consider the consequences of their actions on the drains in progress.

Provincial and federal officials are now negotiating a possible new deal. Would it be too much to suggest that such negotiations should have come before the fact?

It is such callous moves as this that cause farmers to question the sincerity of the government in its commitment to agriculture.

As Ontario Federation of Agriculture President Peter Hannam pointed out recently, the government seems more interested in subsidizing manufacturing giants than farmers.

"In 1978, Hannam noted, "one automobile manufacturer—Ford— received government subsidies for establishing one plant in Windsor. Those subsidies were over $70 million. That amounts to nearly half of the entire agricultural budget for all of Ontario last year."

Boards, bucks and religion

SD&G County Roman Catholic Separate School Board went through 30 minutes of agonizing debate at its last meeting. At issue was whether to make religion a factor in awarding board contracts.

A couple of months ago, the board invited banks to bid on its business. Seven banks responded to the tender. Only two, however, the Provincial Bank and Banque Canadienne Nationale are separate school supporters.

Low tender from the Royal Bank was $52,023. The BCN submitted a bid of $53,376 and the Provincial $53,577.

Trustees questioned whether the award should go to the lowest bidder or to the separate school supporters.

"If things are that close, maybe we should encourage banks that support us," Trustee Lindy Latour commented.

"The reason I'm suggesting this is because we often wonder why we don't get the support from business and industries."

Other trustees warned of eliminating competition and thus driving up costs.

"We have to make sure the banks are competitive," said Trustee Terry Wheeler. "Otherwise we're giving them a licence to steal."

In the end, the board went with the lowest bid.

Unfortunately, trustees did not pick up on Latour's suggestion that the matter be delayed until a future meeting. It would have allowed the appropriate committee to formulate a policy on such matters. While recognizing that the dollar must be the prime consideration when dealing with taxpayers' funds, several municipalities have also recognized that it is important to return as much of that money back to the community as possible. Where bids do not vary a great deal, the contract is often awarded to a local businessman.

The school board could follow a similar policy. If the bid of a supporter was, say, within five per cent of the low bid, it would not be out of order to award the contract to that supporter.

Trustees should not take too narrow a view when they worry about getting best value for the dollar. It must be remembered that the system depends on its taxpayers, including its commercial taxpayers. If the board can help keep those enterprises viable, it guarantees that its own operation will remain healthy.

If the bids are significantly different, then the board, of course, has little choice but to go with the low figure because, as Trustee Wheeler noted, people could take advantage of restrictions on competition. But where the bids are substantially the same, it makes good sense to support those who are supporting you.

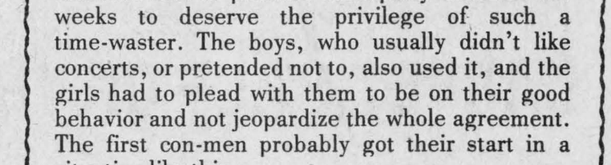
'From the old rail fence'

by Anna Margaret



The parents at Alexander School are asking for an old fashioned Christmas concert, and I'm sure they speak for a great many of us who would like to see a re-play of the same, once the great highlight of the first "term."

What a supreme occasion this was! For the talented, it was glorious, the only chance they had all year to get some encouragement for their particular penchants; for those who felt they were not inclined towards the stage, it was agony, because everyone was required to "do something."

There were two types of teachers: The kind who liked concerts and those who didn't. A friend who remembers the former type tells about his Grade 8 teacher who told him his contribution would be a song. A protest that: "Please, Miss, I can't sing, I really don't have a good voice at all," brought one reply.

"I said you will sing and if I hear any more back-talk out of you there will be nothing left of you but a grease-spot in that seat."

He sang.

The anti-concert type took very careful handling. Several who-will-bell-the-cat type of conferences had to be held to decide who would approach the teacher before one victim was chosen on behalf of the class to make the request.

These teachers used this deal unmercifully. Children had to promise exemplary behavior for weeks to deserve the privilege of such a time-waster. The boys, who usually didn't like concerts, or pretended not to, also used it, and the girls had to plead with them to be on their good behavior and not jeopardize the whole agreement. The first con-men probably got their start in a situation like this.

Finding material for the big show was quite a problem. There had to be a play or two and these were not plentiful. When such was found, there was only one copy and the girls had to re-copy all the individual parts by hand. The boys usually said they couldn't read the writing or lost the little papers with their parts written down so painstakingly.

These heroes were the ones who were making their first feeble protest against having to be Joseph or one of the Three Kings. They knew this meant having to wear a long dress for the part, usually belonging to somebody's grandmother. Or they would have to be boy angels and wear cardboard wings pinned to their shirts at the shoulder blades. After facing audiences under such circumstances, volunteering for World War II was no problem.

Keeping a sympathetic face in the audience also required great restraint because the one-room schools were small and snickers were easily heard. Older brothers and sisters were not popular with the performers.

Creating a stage was no problem at all. Someone brought some binder twine and it was strung across the front of the classroom. Bedsheets which were brought from different homes were pinned to the binder twine for a curtain. For years the soap companies capitalized on this situation by threatening the horrors of being the mother whose sheet was "tattle-tale gray," in comparison to the neighbors who used a different soap.

In spite of the obstacles, it was a rare day. In the age before television when entertainment was scarce, it was a highlight of the community and the efforts of all involved were highly appreciated. Some delightful talent was uncovered at these events.

Yes, with its joys and its miseries, the one-room school concert was a feature event of "Christmas Past." I really think we could get some great letters to the editor dealing with Christmas concert memorabilia. These would be most welcome for our Christmas issue.

And isn't it strange—that back some years ago, it was such a problem trying to find material for a couple of hours—recitations, songs, plays etc. Today the problem is making a choice from such an abundance of wealth.

And since we now have the multi-room school, how to fit 300 students into one concert?

Perspective

by Bob Roth

Government by referendum

Talk of referendums is on everybody's lips these days. Would we want government by referendum? It is not outside the realm of possibility. We have the technology.

In conjunction with a well-known systems designer, the activist group, National Citizens' Coalition, is conducting a demonstration to prove just how feasible it is for people to cast a ballot on major issues.

The demonstration will be held in a Toronto shopping plaza and the core of the system will be a mini-computer the size of a briefcase.

Cards will be provided with questions of interest and importance to voters. You will take a card, mark your opinion, pop the card in the computer and one and a half seconds later, the card pops back up. Recorded on it are the cumulative totals of previous users' opinions, plus your own. The voter gets to keep the card.

Since the system can be duplicated wherever a computer terminal exists, such a voting procedure could be implemented almost everywhere in Canada.

The NCC says it is not suggesting that such a system replace representative democracy. The demonstration will merely point out how elected officials can obtain public input.

Could such an ongoing referendum set-up become a permanent part of the Canadian political structure, however? Already we are talking about referendums on issues like capital punishment and national unity. Why not on the federal budget or on abortion legislation, or a host of other significant matters?

The danger of government by referendum is that it assumes the public has educated itself concerning scores of complex issues. Those of us who are honest with ourselves, will have to admit that we have neither the time nor ability to be fully aware of all aspects of every issue that comes before government.

History has also shown that emotionalism, not common sense, often rules the day. Just look at the opinion polls. One month the Liberals are ahead in popularity; the next month the Tories have gained. When public opinion fluctuates so much in such a short period of time, how could any government maintain continuity in policies if it had to change course every time public opinion shifted?

Even if the referendum system is only used as a public opinion guage, as the NCC suggests, it could create enormous problems if the system became enshrined as an institution. Polls can be disregarded, but how many governments could disregard a referendum result?

What we would end up with, is government by the uninformed. Gut reaction would replace research and thought as the main stimulus to policy formation.

Citizens definitely have the right, and even the obligation, to influence government, but there are legitimate mechanisms within our system which, if refined, would be more realistic and productive than the referendum.

Delegations and other forms of lobbying are an integral part of our political structure, for example. These mechanisms demand that participants at least inform themselves, to some extent, before arriving at the government's doorstep. Under the referendum set-up, a citizen need only walk out of the tavern, over to the shopping plaza computer and push a button.

At the local level, where people are much closer to the issues and where it is easier to become informed, citizens-at-large can play a much more direct role. A case can even be made for referendums on major issues being included on federal and provincial ballots at election time, every four or so years. But trying to have widespread participation in the day to day operation of senior levels of government could only lead to anarchy. Government by referendum is, in fact, no government at all.

Season's greetings from Saudi Arabia

Riyadh, Saudi Arabia,
November 19, 1978

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Enclosed you will find a copy of your article that was published in your paper August 30, and reprinted in the Bell News.

The clipping service had picked it up, copies were made of it and it was distributed through the A.T.P. Department (Arabian Telephone Project) in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa. I was then asked by the Bell News for permission to print it in the company paper. We have had considerable feedback on the article. It seems it was very well received according to visiting VIPs. I mention this because the situation was a little dicey for a while, the Saudi Arabians are very sensitive.

There are so many interesting stories and material for articles here and the true stories are the most hilarious, although maybe not printable.

The children attend R.I.C.S. (Riyadh International Community School). Bell Canada has laid on special buses to pick up and deliver the children safely. We now have well-trained Saudi drivers but at the beginning the Bell Managers themselves had to drive the buses. The mothers must also take turns monitoring on the buses. My driver was a college professor on sabbatical leave who could hardly wait to tell his students he had driven a school bus in Saudi Arabia, among other interesting things. On the way, across the desert, we pass a road sign and this is it: ! One huge exclamation point!! We have no idea what it means but the driver and I stop and take pictures because you have to see it to believe it.

We are laughing also because during the summer a beautiful black tarmac road was built up to our school. We would no longer have to drive haphazardly, bumping and dodging across the desert to reach the school. In September, we couldn't believe our eyes. We sat there in the bus dumbfounded. Huge Hydro towers had been built right up the middle of the road. Incredible! The professor and myself were hysterical with laughter.

But lest one think I am denigrating this whole country of Saudi Arabia, let me say this: The construction, the advances and accomplishments that Saudi Arabia has made in the past 25 years are phenomenal. I couldn't begin to list them. We have great admiration for what they have done and what they are trying to do for their people—because everything is for the people. It is most difficult for the ministries to bring their nation's economy, industry, education, etc., up to the 20th century standards and still hold and maintain their strong Muslim faith, which is the basis of their lives.

Bye for now. Best wishes to you all for a happy and joyful Christmas and New Year.

Your friend and neighbor,
Muriel Acheson.

Glengarry Club elects slate

The annual meeting of the Glengarry Club of Ottawa was held at the St. Brigid's Church Hall on November 9. A wine and cheese party followed for those in attendance.

A very successful financial year was reported by Treasurer Francis McDonell.

A special thanks is passed on to all the people from Glengarry who made the Glengarry "78" Concert such a success. It was a sellout with two standing room sold. Plans are being worked on for "79".

Several other very successful events were held such as: Tour of Scotland, Hospitality Booth at the Highland Games in Maxville and a raffle for the Scotland Trip.

Plans were also confirmed for the 1979 dances. The dance on February 3, 1979 will feature the Brigadoons, in Ottawa, and on May 13, 1979 a dance will be held in the Maxville Arena featuring the Clansmen (more news later—watch this paper), and on October 20, 1979 back in Ottawa.

The election of officers was held. The new slate follows:

President Neil McCormick, Past President Walter Stewart, Vice President Sandy MacRae, Treasurer Francis McDonell, Secretary Allan O'Brien.

Area Representatives: Alexandria, Cecil Dewar, Kenyon, R. McCormick, Lancaster, Herb Perry, Lochiel, Jack MacMillan, Maxville, Margaret Turpin, Charlottenburgh, Gordie Black.

Directors at large: Stella Metcalfe, F. B. Villeneuve, Myles MacMillan, John McCaskill, Donald Norman MacLeod and Jack MacGillis.

Nature fence best

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

As concerned residents of Alexandria, we wish to bring to light a motion recently passed by Alexandria Town Council. The motion proposes, (provided financial support is available), the installation of a chain link fence which would surround Alexandria Island Park along Park Avenue and Lochiel Street.

Concern over enclosing the park because of damage to newly planted trees etc. is of definite importance; however, we feel that a simple chain link fence is not the only solution to the problem. In view of recent concern over the physical attraction of our town, we consider the proposed addition to our park a step in the wrong direction.

A recreational area, such as the park, is designed to create a healthy environment which should reflect the natural beauty and quality of our land. It should have a calm, relaxing atmosphere where we can take a break from the ever-increasing realities of a technological age. It is inconceivable that we should put a fence around it.

The visual effect of a steel bond encompassing a natural environment is most unpleasant and destroys the whole essence of an uninhibited surrounding. It creates a clear disruptance of the charm and attractiveness our park beholds.

The physical effect is the formulation of a barrier which would discourage vandals and put a stop to vehicles driving in the area. However, it would also have the effect of disorienting the community from its recreational area. It limits immediate access to pedestrian traffic by placing an obstacle in its path and could well be a deterrent to spontaneous usage.

In substitution of a fence, we propose the use of proper landscape material to create natural barriers which would control vehicular use in the necessary areas. The use of trees, land mounds and other natural features will enhance the scenic atmosphere of the park and promote passive land use much more than a fence could possibly do. A project employing environmental preservation within our urban area would also increase the likelihood of a Wintario grant; support from the service clubs and involvement from the community as a whole.

In our estimation, the enhanced beauty of the park will invite even more residents and visitors to enjoy these pleasant surroundings and at the same time preserve the aesthetic qualities of our Alexandria Island Park.

Sincerely,
Brian J. Lessard,
Denis Massie,
Dean Macdonell,
students at Western.

Government Spending "HORROR STORIES"

by Bob Roth

TALE NO. 57
THE WILD BLUE YONDER

Over the past months you have read more than one horror story involving the military. Most of these tales dealt with the purchase of equipment that was unsuited to the Canadian climate. It appears we are off and away again.

Canada has decided to purchase between 130 and 150 new fighter planes. Six companies made bids on the contract. The government recently reduced the options to two—the General Dynamics CF-16 and the McDonnell Douglas CF-18A.

Neither is particularly suited to Canadian needs. The CF-16 is a single-engine craft, not the best idea for a country the size of ours, complete with arctic conditions.

One fighter pilot made a public plea against purchase of the CF-16 because of the deaths that have already resulted due to engine failure in the currently used CF-104 Starfighter.

"Far too many of my friends have gone this way. I had a couple of narrow escapes myself . . . both due to engine failure in a single-engined fighter," he wrote.

He says to date, over 90 Starfighters have been lost, "a large percentage due to some form of engine malfunction or other."

Also, the Pratt and Whitney engine in the American-built F-16 is showing problems and plans are in progress to either change engine-airframe design or replace the engine with one made by General Electric.

In other words, we're buying a pig-in-a-poke.

The government's second choice is the CF-18A. It is twin-engine plane but it is designed to fly from aircraft carriers. Canada has no aircraft carriers. We scrapped the last one not so long ago, just after having it refitted at a cost of millions.

It appears that the CF-18A is a poor second anyway and government officials are leaning to the cheaper CF-16. It's only $14 million compared to about $18 million for the CF-18A.

TALE NO. 58
LEADERSHIP BY EXAMPLE

During these trying times, when governments are cutting back on various programs, civil service hirings are (supposedly) at a standstill and people are being tossed out of their jobs due to a slump in the economy, it is necessary to keep one's spirit up.

Last month, many people indulged in the annual Grey Cup rite. People invited their friends over to watch the game, have a few drinks and generally whoop it up.

The provincial government decided to do likewise, but instead of cabinet ministers chipping in for their own party, they had you and I pay.

The guest list for the government-sponsored party totalled 1,100 and the bill was $10,000.

Even opposition members joined the 19 cabinet ministers who attended. They dined on a buffet of hot Swedish meatballs, assorted cold cuts and salad.

Who says these are hard times?

New licence stickers on sale

Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow has announced there will be no increase in motor vehicle licence fees for the 1979 licensing year.

Red renewal stickers went on sale at 318 outlets throughout the province on Friday, December 1.

The fee schedule will remain at $30 for a four-cylinder car; $45 for a six-cylinder car and $60 for eight-cylinder automobiles with an engine displacement of less than 6.5 litres.

Eight-cylinder cars with an engine displacement of more than 6.5 litres, registered after December 1, 1977, will cost the owner $80.

Motorcycle registration fees are $20.

The 1978 registration fees for privately-owned passenger cars and motorcycles in the northern half of the province will remain at $10.

For vehicle registration purposes, "Northern Ontario" is that part of the province consisting of the territorial districts of Algoma, Cochrane, Kenora, Manitoulin, Parry Sound, Rainy River, Sudbury, Thunder Bay, Timiskaming and the portion of Nipissing lying north and west of Algonquin Park.

The 1979 registration fee for mopeds and trailers remains at $5 as does the $10 fee for snowmobiles and historic vehicles. These fees are the same in northern and southern Ontario.

In making the announcement, Mr. Snow said, "if each car owner in the province would remember to purchase their vehicle renewal in December or January, we could virtually eliminate the lineups at issuing offices in late February."

Proof of insurance forms, required as part of the renewal procedure, will be available at all MTC offices, licence renewal offices and liquor store outlets throughout Ontario.

U.I.C. rates to change

Canada's Employment and Immigration Minister Bud Cullen has announced that unemployment insurance premium rates for employers and employees will fall in 1979 and maximum insurable earnings will rise.

In 1979, employees will pay $1.35 in premiums for each $100 of their weekly insurable earnings, down 10% from $1.50 for each $100 in 1978. Employers will pay a basic premium of $1.89/-$100 of each employee's insurable earnings, down from $2.10/-$100 in 1978. The employer rate is 1.4 times the employee rate.

(The 1978 premium rates were the same as the 1977 rates. The 1977 employee rate had been reduced from the 1976 level of $1.65/$100.)

Mr. Cullen said that in setting premium rates for 1979, the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission is reaffirming its objective of ensuring short-term rate stability, while at the same time avoiding excessive cumulative surpluses or deficits in the UI premium account.

"As my colleague, the Minister of Finance, has noted, this reduction in premium rates is the equivalent of a tax reduction to employees and employers of the order of $300 million during 1979," Mr. Cullen added.

Maximum weekly insurable earnings will rise by about 10% from $240 in 1978 to $265 in 1979. Under the current UI Act, the maximum UI benefit would increase from $160 in 1978 to $177 in 1979. The current Act sets the benefit rate at 66⅔% of average weekly insurable earnings. (The proposed changes to the Act, now being considered by Parliament—Bill C-14—would set the benefit rate at 60% of average weekly insurable earnings. If the 60% benefit rate came into effect on January 1, 1979, the maximum weekly benefit in that year would be $159.)

Under the current UI Regulations, minimum weekly insurable earnings would be $53 in each province except Newfoundland, where it would be $50. (However, under the proposed amendments, this would change. Hourly paid and salaried workers would have to work at least 20 hours in a week for their employment to be insurable. Other workers would have to earn at least 30% of maximum weekly insurable earnings, which would be $80 in 1979.)

The lower premium rates come into effect on January 1, 1979 regardless of the proposed changes to the UI program.

"The UI premium account showed a $414 million cumulative surplus at the end of 1977 and will likely show a larger cumulative surplus by the end of 1978. The reduction in premium rates is a further sign of the Commission's fiscal responsibility in its endeavor to maintain an acceptable balance between premium rate stability over the short-term and avoiding excessive cumulative surpluses or deficits," said Mr. Cullen.

Convention held in Hawaii

Three local real estate people mixed business and pleasure by travelling to Hawaii for the Canadian Real Estate Association conference.

Attending were Maurice and Alma Sauve, Robert and Monique Poirier, Andre Menard. From Hawkesbury were Guy and Cossette Bovin and Laurier and Pauline Seguin. The president of the Cornwall and District Real Estate Board, Bernice Smolkin, was also there.

This conference was held jointly with the United States' convention and those attending were treated with sensational sessions on how to render greater service and how to adapt to changing markets.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR GIRLS BASKETBALL FINISHED!

The junior girls' basketball team didn't make it to the finals this year, but GDHS was well represented anyway. Their coach, Mrs. Tulsiram, deserves a lot of credit for the time that she dedicated to the team so that she could coach so well. The girls, of course, deserve credit also for their efforts.

The senior girls made it to the finals this year, but unfortunately were defeated by the General Vanier girls. Although they didn't place first, their second place finish in the three counties made them proud. Special thanks should be given to Mrs. Kelly, the team's coach, for her extreme patience and dedication.

Midget basketball, on the other hand, is just beginning for the girls. They are coached by Miss Whitham, Teresa Danaher and Mona Lawson and are doing quite well. They played three games, two of which they won and one of which they lost, at a tournament held at La Citadelle on Wednesday, November 29. They travel to General Vanier on Wednesday, December 6 to play in their second tournament. Good luck girls!

MID-TERM EXAMS ARE OVER!

A huge sigh of relief seemed to echo in the halls of GDHS on Friday, November 24 when exams were finished. These exams were compulsory for everyone and in some classes they counted for as much as 60 per cent of the term. Although exams are over, students are beginning to worry about report cards, for they should be out soon also. Well, maybe another sigh will echo in the halls, but it may not be one of relief!

BOYS' BASKETBALL

It's again that time of year when our boys' basketball teams are in action. For the past few weeks the boys have been practising furiously. Certain practises were held at 7:30 a.m. and the boys were seen in the hallways before 9 a.m. with damp heads.

On Tuesday, November 28 the boys were hosts to Vankleek Hill Collegiate whom they defeated by a score of 55-54. Our junior boys were defeated by a score of 56-48.

On Wednesday, November 29 the boys' teams began their season by playing against CCVS in our gym. Both the senior and junior games were full of action as well as suspense. The games concluded with close scores—the seniors losing 44-41 and the juniors 55-51. High scorers were Andre Chenier for the seniors and Tim Danaher for the juniors.

UNIVERSITY DAY

On Monday, December 4 many grade 13 as well as some interested grade 12 students travelled to Cornwall to take part in the University Day.

The students left for General Vanier by bus at 11:20 and returned in the afternoon for the buses at 3:20.

Representatives were present from each University and the students had the opportunity to sit in on three different sessions, each of 30 minutes duration. Insight on residences, courses and on general university life was given.

Since the deadline for university applications is moving steadily closer the students have to make certain important decisions within the next few weeks. Hopefully the University Day will not only influence their decisions but will also make them easier and better when it comes down to the final choice.

Mrs. Alex MacCuaig

Harry Franklin accompanied Dr. Roman on a deer-hunting trip to Tidisbille, Penn., last week. They saw a lot of deer but the law in that state permits only the shooting of deers with horns. So they didn't have much luck.

Mrs. Thomas MacCammon, Toronto, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. MacLeod.

David Dolson, Ottawa, visited with his grandmother, Mrs. Neil J. MacLeod on the weekend.

Euchre was played at 11 tables on Thursday evening, Nov. 30, and winners were: Mrs. Alex J. MacMillan, Mrs. Irene MacDonald, Willie Clark and Hughie MacMillan. Door prize was won by Mrs. Alex M. McCuaig.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Campbell were Roger and Margaret Nefstead of Hawarden, Sask. The Western couple visited friends and relatives in the area and have now started homeward in time for Christmas. They intended to return via United States.

Gordie Campbell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Campbell of McCrimmon, has returned home for the winter after working in Alberta.

Della Lacombe dies at 54

On November 20, Mrs. Della Lacombe of Alexandria, the daughter of Peter Lacombe and the late Rose Lavigne, passed away unexpectedly at the age of 54.

She is survived by a son, Claude, and a daughter Nicole, Mrs. Claude Gareau, and four grandchildren, all of Alexandria.

Also to mourn her death are two sisters and four brothers: Simone, Mrs. Florent Leroux, Yolande, Mrs. Carmel Sabourin, Fernand, Richard and Rene, all of Alexandria; Real of North Lancaster. She was predeceased by a brother, Albert Lacombe.

Funeral was held Thursday, November 23 in St. Alexander's Church, Lochiel. Father Joyal officiated at the service and interment was in the parish cemetery.

Pallbearers were six nephews: Romeo, Normand, Jacques and Michel Lacombe, Gilles Leroux and Gaetan Sabourin.

'Barney' McCracken dies at 70

Sam McCracken of Glen Sandfield is in Englehart attending the funeral of his father, S. E. "Barney" McCracken who suffered a heart attack and passed away December 1.

Born March 9, 1908, he was the son of Boer war veteran Sam (S.E.) McCracken and his wife Olina Peterson Alver, pioneers of the Englehart area.

Educated locally, be became a teacher and returned to the area schools joining the army in 1942. During service he drafted out and illustrated a reading course for the illiterate and those whose native language was not English. This course was quite successful, and upon discharge fron the army in 1946 McCraken attended the University of British Columbia, then once again returned to the area of his childhood.

Thus began a career that led to his being called "The Bard of Wawbewawa." Besides publishing a novel and several books of verse and poems, he launched original songs and revived some older ballads which have been recorded on McCracken Music Label.

Many school children will remember him for The Maple Banner and The Polar Bear, two compositions of the Centennial which he played and sang while visiting most Temiskaming Schools.

In 1932 he married Alice Oram and their four children were Sam, Glen Sandfield an Air Canada captain; Ardith, Mrs. K. Lee of Kelowna, B. C.; Ivan, an engineer, Bluewater, New Mexico, and Pete, a building contractor Whitehorse, Yukon.

Besides his former wife, Alice L. Boundy and their four living children and sixteen grandchildren, Millie McCracken of R. R. 1, Englehart is left to mourn the passing of one who tried to serve his neighbours, his fellow man and his country.

How to sell your husband on SURGE soft water:

7:00 AM Refuse to make coffee. Tell him hard water scales the coffee pot. Tell him that all that iron in the water makes the coffee taste lousy anyway. Tell him this is only the beginning.

8:00 AM Refuse to kiss him goodbye. Tell him that hard water left soap scum all over his face when he shaved. Turn away at the very thought.

9:00 AM Don't do the breakfast dishes. Hard water leaves spots and film all over them, so why bother.

10:00 AM Don't do the laundry. Hard water shortens the life of clothes and leaves them rough and gray. Not to mention what hard water does to your washing machine.

11:00 AM Don't do the floors. Hard water leaves unsightly mineral deposits all over the shine. Don't do the windows either. Hard water leaves spots all over them.

4:00 PM Don't take your afternoon bath. Who needs all that scum and curd. Instead, soak yourself in cheap perfume. Really soak yourself. Use a second bottle if necessary.

7:00 PM Serve your dismayed husband the following dinner: Dehydrated soup straight from the package into the bowl (no hard water to spoil the bouquet). The vegetable of his choice boiled in cooking oil (no hard water to spoil the texture and appearance). And anything else your wicked little mind can come up with.

8:00 PM Don't do the dinner dishes. See reason under 9:00 AM.

10:00 PM Explain that the reason the shower doesn't work is that you had the water turned off. Tell him that hard water showers leave his skin rough and dry and make his hair all gummy and blah. Appeal to his male vanity.

11:00 PM Sleep on the sofa. Tell him you can no longer sleep on rough, gray sheets which have been laundered in hard water.

7:00 AM Wake him up by dropping the Shopper's Guide on his stomach. Explain that you just happened to be looking through and found the name of a company that sells water softeners.

7:05 AM As he writes you a blank check, explain that a water softener may actually save him money, and possibly his marriage.

Awards presented at 4-H day

by Mary Michels

The current 4-H Homemaking project—"Accessories—The Final Touch" drew to an end on Saturday, at the Glengarry District High School, Alexandria. The 4-H members of Glengarry just completed a new format for their project manuals. This new format meant less written work for the members, and generally, it was enjoyed by all. This Achievement Day, also, had a new format. It was only a half-day and family, friends and neighbors were invited for the whole program.

On display for the audience, were the 4-H members' project manuals and accessories that they made. The accessories varied a great deal. There were toques, jeans caps, sun hats, belts, scarves and fabric flowers. Each member was required to make one or two accessories. The members, also, displayed their sewing boxes.

The program was divided into two main segments. One area was the presentation of awards. Two very special awards were presented. The National Council on 4-H clubs presents Leadership Certificates to leaders who have led 4-H clubs for five, ten and fifteen years. We had one such hard working 4-H leader in the County this fall. She was Mrs. Lynn Yule from Alexandria. Mrs. Yule has been leading 4-H clubs for the past five years. Congratulations on a wonderful job.

The second special award was the presentation of a $100 Ottawa Citizen Award to Miss Penny Filiatrault. Miss Filiatrault won the scholarship for her excellent work in the 4-H Homemaking Clubs. The money will be used to further her education in the field of business at a college in Ottawa.

Provincial Honor Certificates and Pins were awarded to three Glengarry girls for successfully completing 12 4-H Homemaking clubs. These girls were Joan and Sylvia Lothian from Dalkeith, and Bea DeHaas from Martintown. Four girls were recipients of County Honor Certificates and Pins for successfully completing six 4-H Homemaking Clubs. These girls were Sandra MacGillivray from Dalkeith, Bonnie Ivens and Sandra Lauzon from Martintown and Jantine Vanden Oetelaar from Picnic Grove. Congratulations is extended to all of these award winners.

The second part of the afternoon program was the presentation of three skits, and five exhibits. The exhibits were presented by the following clubs: Bainsville with Joanne Roulston commenting on jewellery; Maxville with Lee Ann Merkley speaking on glove fashions; Alexandria with Elizabeth Joubert commentating on jewellery gems and flower power; Summerstown with Jill Foster speaking on the history of hats; and Dalkeith with Brenda Lobb commenting on birthstone legends and characteristics. The skits were presented by Lochiel, Picnic Grove and Martintown. The topics of accenting with jewellery, accessory ABC's and glove etiquette were covered by these skits. A great deal of information was passed on through these presentations and we trust the audience was able to take many tips home with them.

This part of the program was followed by a fashion review. Through the review the audience was able to see what accessory each member had made and how well the accessory looked on each member. This review certainly sparked the interest of many in the audience.

Miss Mary Michels, Home Economist for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties, chaired the afternoon program and commented on the work presented by the members. In concluding the afternoon's program, she mentioned that the spring project will be "Needlepoint." In this project the members will be taught six basic stitches. The skill of needlepoint will be passed on to the members so that they will understand the basis of canvas work. The members will have a chance to make coasters, pillows, wall hangings, book covers, book marks and many other items. All present members were encouraged to join, as well as any new members who have reached their 12th birthday by March 1, 1979. The project is scheduled to begin in early January.

FASHION SHOW PART OF 4—H ACHIEVEMENT DAY—On Sunday, December 2, the Glengarry Homemaking Club held their achievement day at Glengarry District High School. Part of the afternoon's events included a fashion show, with the members modelling their own creations. Staff Photo Rothgeb

Milk quotas must increase—MPP

by Osie Villeneuve
MPP, SD&G

Eastern Ontario's cheddar cheese and industrial milk producing industries are facing difficult problems as a result of the Canadian Dairy Commission's failure to raise our industrial milk quota.

As the representative of a riding that is predominantly rural, I can sympathize with our industrial milk producers. Both dairy farmers and cheese producers have expressed their concern, and I could not agree with them more.

Last June, The Honorable William Newman, Ontario's Minister of Agriculture and Food, met with his Federal counterpart to negotiate increased industrial milk quota for Ontario. He pointed out that the current quota system has not kept pace with the growing market for cheddar cheese and that it does not reflect the opportunities that exist for increased sales. So far, Mr. Newman's request appears to have gone unanswered in Ottawa.

It has been suggested that the price of butter be raised 12c per pound. In my opinion, raising the price of butter at this time, is a very poor solution. It will simply price butter off the table and it will not resolve the milk quota problem.

It has been suggested that our cheese industry is disappearing and that there are large surpluses of butter and cheese in storage. The fact is that our cheese industry continues to produce 66 million pounds of cheddar cheese per year, the same as it produced in the early 1970s.

Although consolidation led to larger and more efficient operations, our cheese factories have not increased production because they are on fixed quotas. And yet, there is a growing domestic and foreign market for our cheddar cheese which is world renowned. There is a growing market for specialty cheese as well.

Our principal problem is that there is not enough industrial milk quota to meet the increased demand. We are not even keeping pace with domestic needs, let alone a growing external demand.

On a per capita consumption, the demand for cheese has increased 100 per cent in the last 10 years. By comparison, the consumption of fluid milk and butter have not kept pace. And yet, the Province of Ontario imported 25 million pounds of cheddar cheese to supply our domestic needs last year and the same amount of butter.

This situation affects both our quota and non-quota sectors. Domestic firms wishing to expand and new firms wishing to establish in Eastern Ontario are discouraged because we cannot guarantee them a supply of industrial milk. In the end, we lose jobs and investments.

Some cheese factories are operating at 50 per cent capacity —and yet the market exists for our cheddar cheese. It does not make sense. We are not growing and keeping pace with the market demand at home.

The consumers will also feel the impact of this inadequate quota system. As our dollar declines in value, the cost of foreign cheese will go up.

During the past six months, industrial milk production has declined 10 per cent. A number of factors may be responsible for this. Higher beef prices and a favorable foreign market for dairy cattle have resulted in smaller herds. Weather may have had some impact. Over-quota penalties is another key factor. Yet 29 per cent of dairy farmers in Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell had no M.S.Q. for January, February and March 1978.

After penalties and charges, the producer netted $1.80 to $1.90 per cwt. for milk that the processor paid $9.35 cwt. for. In Ontario, 6,507 shippers had no quota, with a total of 12,347 registered with the Milk Marketing Board in March 1978.

If a farmer cannot make a fair return by producing industrial milk, what incentive is there for him to continue to do so? There is a strong temptation to switch to something else.

A farmer who had an industrial milk quota of 445,000 pounds in 1973-74 did not produce it because of bad weather. In 1975-76, his quota was lowered to 327,388 pounds per year. Today, his son wants to work on the farm with him and increase the herd. Yet, he cannot get his quota increased to make his operation viable because the Milk Marketing Board has no market sharing quota available to sell.

What we in the Ontario Government are requesting on behalf of Eastern Ontario industrial milk producers is a fair increase in quota to keep our dairy industry alive and well.

Is this too much to want for an industry that plays an important role in our economy?

The time has come for the federal government to do something about it and let our industrial milk producers meet the market needs, at least in Ontario.

Agricultural conference details are announced

Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan today released further details of this year's Canadian Agricultural Outlook Conference.

The conference is being held at the Government Conference Centre in Ottawa, December 11 and 12.

Conference participants will include provincial representatives, farm leaders, consumers and representatives from agribusiness, food processing, wholesaling and retailing sectors.

The first morning, after the opening remarks by Whelan at 9 a.m., an outlook on the general economic situation and its implications for agriculture will be given by Agriculture Canada Deputy Minister Gaetan Lussier.

This will be followed by a report on the Multilateral Trade Negotiations by M. N. Gifford of the department's Policy, Planning and Economics Branch and a report on the International Wheat Agreement talks by W. M. Miner, co-ordinator of the Grains Group, Industry, Trade and Commerce.

For the remainder of the morning, the conference participants will divide into two groups. One group will discuss current and prospective developments in grains and oilseeds, 1979 prospects for livestock and poultry and the longer-term outlook for livestock. The other group will discuss the marketing outlook for 1978 horticultural crops.

Monday afternoon (December 11) will feature discussion of prospects in the dairy sector, food prices and supplies, the outlook for farm inputs and a report from Statistics Canada on farm expenses and incomes.

On December 12, there will be four concurrent sessions in the morning. The topics will be: Livestock, dairy and poultry; grains and oilseeds; horticultural crops (featuring a discussion of marketing domestic fresh produce), and farm costs and incomes.

Whelan will give the conference summary and closing remarks at 1:30 p.m. on December 12. Participants will then have a question period with him. The conference is expected to adjourn about 2:30 p.m.

Registration inquiries should be directed to Andre Trempe, Policy, Planning and Economics Branch, Agriculture Canada, K1A 0C5, (Telephone: 613-995-9554).
