Old Cornwall Resident Dead.

An old resident of Cornwall, Mrs Wm. Mack, widow of William Mack, ex-M. L. A. died on Sunday, aged 79 years. Her maiden name was Agnes Henderson, and she is survived by three children, W. R. Mack, sheriff of the United Counties; Mrs Alex. McCracken, and Mrs. J. C. Alguire. The funeral was held on Tuesday.

New Model Schools

The Minister of Education will establish new model schools at Athens, Bracebridge, Chatham, Clinton, Guelph, Morrisburg, Napanee, Perth. There are six others in the province. The move is due to scarcity of teachers.

Married Two Score Years.

Donald Leitch, who lives north of Summerstown Station, was in Montreal on Tuesday, where he and Mrs Leitch celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their wedding. They were married in Martintown on May 23, 1871, by Rev. Mr. Patterson. Mrs Leitch's maiden name was Elizabeth Ross. Of a family of fifteen children, eleven are living and ten were present at the re-union.

Roxborough Farmer Dead.

John Kinnear, of the 4th concession of Roxborough, was found dead in the homestead farm on Thursday by N. J. Robinson, J. P. of Monkland Station. Mr. Kinnear was 80 years of age and had been missing for days. He had gone about six acres from the house to trim some trees and had evidently dropped dead after trimming one of them. Coroner Robb, of Avonmore was called but decided that an inquest was unnecessary. One brother William Kinnear, and one sister, Mrs Jameson, survive.

Disastrous Fire at Hallville.

Early on Wednesday morning of last week the village of Hallville was visited by a disastrous fire which destroyed the saw mill and cheese box factory owned by Messrs Shaw and Earle, and also some five hundred dollars' worth of lumber, the property of Mr. R. J. Dougall, whose yards are just across the street. A heavy rain was falling at the time, and but for this the entire village would have fallen prey to the flames.

Settled a Difference

A rather unpleasant state of affairs recently existed between the Masonic Grand Lodge of Michigan and Ontario over the action of a Port Huron lodge in taking charge of a funeral that was under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Grand Lodge. The Ontario Grand Lodge at once barred intercourse and had an investigation. As a result of this the Michigan Grand Lodge has sent to R. L. Gunn, Ontario Grand Lodge secretary, an apology, which it is believed will restore intercourse and the amicable relations that previously existed.

Fire at Farm near Cornwall Sunday Morning.

The new farmers' residence of Alex. Gadbois jr. at Glen Walter, six miles east of Cornwall, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. Mr. Gadbois sr. and his granddaughter were alone at the time, the rest of the family being at church, and a fire was started in the summer kitchen. It is thought the sparks from the chimney caught on the roof. Mr Gadbois was not aware that the house was on fire until informed by some neighbors. The house was totally destroyed and very little of the contents were saved. The building was insured for about $6,000. This is the second time Mr. Gadbois has been burned out, a house having been destroyed about fifteen years ago.

No Cornwall Fair This Year

The directors of the Cornwall Agricultural Society have decided to hold no fair this year but will carry all members in good standing over till 1912. This action as stated in the resolution passed, is due to the lack of interest taken in the fair by the business men and citizens of the town and the farmers of Cornwall township.

The society has been struggling along for many years, always holding a pretty good fair, meeting its obligations well but never getting in a position to make the fair what it should be.

Central Saskatchewan Wheat Lands

In the "Heart of the World's Hard Wheat Belt" The Last Mountain Valley.

The Wm. Pearson Co. Limited, Winnipeg, Canada, offer for sale 175,000 acres of selected open prairie and park wheat lands in the famous Last Mountain Valley. Abundant rainfall for all crops—the best of water at from 12 to 30 feet—splendid railway service, with 7 railways in the district and 3 more being built—nearly 30 towns and shipping points. The top soil is a mellow chocolate loam, from 8 inches to 2 feet thick, extraordinarily rich in nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash—the foods of cereals. Beneath this is a rich loamy marl 2 to 3 feet thick, then a strong yellow clay subsoil. The combination is ideal, as crops grown there have abundantly proved. In fact a single crop often pays for the farm on which it was grown.

Free Transportation If You Buy.

For prospective purchasers and settlers we are running monthly excursions by Private Car during this Spring and Summer. Good meals, berths and service make the journey pleasant, and the total expense of the return trip is only about $50. On arrival the parties are driven over a large district and given a chance to thoroughly inspect the land. If you like the country, select a piece of land that suits you, and accept our easy terms, we will refund the cost of your transportation. Settlers are pouring into the Canadian West at the rate of 1,500 a day. Each man naturally takes the best he sees. The choice left for you is narrowing down every day. Don't put it off. Write or call. We will give you map and all the information you want about the Last Mountain Valley and the Monthly Excursions.

FALLING COCOANUTS.

Dew Makes Most of Them Drop From the Trees at Night.

"In the tropics when the cocoanut is wanted for planting," said an importer of the fruit, "the nuts are picked up when they fall from the tree where they have hung for about fourteen months in ripening. It is a fact not generally known that a majority of the nuts drop at night, which probably accounts for the small loss of life by cocoanuts falling upon the heads of the natives.

"The action of the heavy dew at night loosens the seal with which nature has provided the nut and allows it to fall. The nuts wanted for planting are either gathered into heaps or placed under sheds, where they are allowed to sprout before planting in order that good, healthy nuts may be selected, thus avoiding the possibility of planting 'blind' nuts that will not sprout, in which case much time would be lost in starting the cocoanut walks, as the orchards are called. When holes are dug, about three feet deep and twenty feet apart, the nut is carefully placed therein and covered with about a foot of soil. The hole is filled as the sprout grows until the latter reaches the surface, then it is left to itself, requiring no further attention. Should the place where the cocoanut is planted be any great distance from the seashore a quantity of salt is placed in the hole. The plant will grow in luxuriance, however, but a short distance from the shore, nearness to salt water being absolutely essential to its welfare."—Washington Herald.

MAKING STEAM WORK.

Unfortunate Inventors Who Antedated James Watt.

James Watt took out a patent on his steam engine in 1769, but as far back as 1543 there was a captain in Spain who constructed a vessel of 200 tons and propelled it at Barcelona in the presence of the Emperor Charles V. and his court by an engine, the construction of which he kept a secret. But an old document says that in it was a monster caldron of water and that there were two movable wheels on the outside of the vessel. The emperor was satisfied with its operation, but the treasurer of the kingdom objected to it, and so no encouragement was given to the enterprise. The poor inventor, whose name was Blasco de Guereza, wearied and disgusted at the want of patronage, took the engine out of the vessel, and the secret of the machine was buried in his grave.

The incident was almost duplicated in France a century later. The famous Marlan de l'Orme, a celebrated Frenchman, who lived to be 134 years old, told in a letter to an admirer, dated 1641, of a man confined in a madhouse of Paris for urging that anything could be done by the force of steam. The man's name was Solomon de Coste, a native of Normandy, and it was because he had persistently followed Cardinal Richelieu, imploring him to take an interest in his invention, that he was put behind bars.—Kansas City Star.

Browning a Great Talker.

If Lord Houghton talked more than most people he certainly was eclipsed by Mr. Browning, who spoke louder and with greater persistency than any one I have ever come across in my life. Although I had known him as a girl, we did not renew our acquaintance until after my marriage, when I saw a great deal of him, as he constantly came to our house. He dined with us often and used to come and see me generally every Sunday afternoon. He was very agreeable and kind, and, although I was never one of his devoted followers and often told him I had never been able to read a line of his poetry, he still continued his friendship with me. I think most people feared rather than loved him—certainly men did, but women adore poets, and they worshiped Mr. Browning.—From Lady St. Helier's "Memories."

Forgot His Own Tongue.

A traveler in arctic Siberia, Mr. Vanderlip, a gold hunter, told the following of his return to civilization: "I found that half a dozen of the officers and men of the steamer which my employers had sent for me had come to hunt me up. The captain dismounted, and I tried to address him in Russian, but he said, 'You forget that I speak English.' Now, it may seem scarcely credible, and yet it is true, that for a few moments I was totally unable to converse with him in my native tongue. I had not used a word of it in conversation for months, and my low physical condition acting on my nerves confused my mind, and I spoke a jumble of English, Russian and Korak. It was a week before I could talk good, straight English again."

ASTRONOMICAL CLOCKS.

Many Precautions Are Taken to Insure Their Accuracy.

To the average person an astronomical clock is a complicated affair, giving the date, day of the week, phases of the moon and other miscellaneous information. The facts are far otherwise. There is no clock so simple as that of the astronomer. Even the convenient plan of having the hour and minute hands mounted at the same center is abandoned, because it makes a more intricate form of wheel work necessary, says the Louisville Courier Journal. The observatory clock has a separate dial for each hand, the centers of the second hand, minute hand and hour hand being in a straight line and equally distant from each other.

To secure accuracy further precautions are taken. Only men who have attained worldwide fame in mechanical construction are employed. The chronometer must be mounted, not on a wall that vibrates, but upon a strong pier of masonry having a solid foundation; also it is best placed underground in a cellar to secure for it a temperature as nearly uniform as possible, for clocks do not run quite the same in hot weather as they do in cold.

By adjusting a metal that has the singular property of contracting under heat it is possible to overcome the variation in a measure, but the astronomer prefers to provide for his clock a temperature practically the same the year round. The going of a fine clock is further affected, strange as it may seem, by barometric pressure. The running is different when the barometer is high from what it is when low; hence the best clocks are now inclosed in air tight cases to protect them from outside barometric changes.

MACARONI DANDIES.

Grotesque Fashions in England in the Eighteenth Century.

Dandyism developed a new phase of quiet richness during early Georgian times, and the court exquisites were stately figures in finely laced shirts, long skirted coats and gold clocked stockings. The hats worn by the beau were modified reproductions of those in fashion at Versailles, and the art of wearing them was shown in the tilt. In fact, different angles in the tilt identified the wearer's status and locality.

In 1772 dandyism became again paramount. A band of young bloods returned from an extended tour abroad, and while in Italy they had contrived to get several new ideas about dress into their somewhat empty heads.

Fired with an ever growing sense of their own importance as arbiters of fashion, they formed themselves into a group known as the Macaroni club, in contradistinction to the good old fashioned Beefsteak club of London.

The Macaronies dressed their hair in enormous side curls, with a hideous knocker-like twist at the back. With this exaggerated coiffure a tiny hat was worn, which it was correct for the wearer to raise with his tasseled cane.

A soft white handkerchief was tied in a huge bow under the Macaroni's chin. His coat was short, and his tight knee breeches were made of striped or flowered silk. Thus garbed, with innumerable dangling seals, two watches at least, silk stockings and diamond buckled shoes, the dandy walked abroad, eminently satisfied with himself and quite convinced that his appearance was greatly envied.—"Beau Brummel and His Times."

A Champion.

"And what is this," we ask, gazing at what seems to be a table of some sort neatly framed and hanging upon the wall in the home of our suburban friend—"a baseball chart?"

"No," he says, "That shows I was the champion last year."

"The champion what?"

"Well, you see we keep score on all who catch the 8:26 every morning, and, as you see, my catching average for the year was .937."—Chicago Post.

Unpleasant Suggestion.

"I wish," said the girl thoughtfully, "that you wouldn't use that expression 'launched upon the sea of matrimony.'"

"And why not?" asked the young man anxiously.

"Well, you know what kind of time I always have on a sea voyage."—Stray Stories.

Restraint.

"So you think a woman has a sense of humor?"

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "But she has schooled herself to suppress it. Common politeness forbids a woman to laugh every time her husband says or does something ridiculous."—Washington Star.

Cum git the garden hoe.
Now wallop that big tater patch—
Yep, hill 'em up real high.
Your appetite will quick cum back.
My, but the grub will fly!

Perhaps your eyes is out o' fix
An' everything looks blue.
Well, there's a lot jist like you, str.
But here's the cure fur you:
Jist go down to the blacksmith shop
An' git your eyeteeth jerked;
Then go an' hustle at the job
That you so long have shirked.

But mebbe you have got a grouch
An' c'ronic knockin' too.
Well, that's too bad, it's oftul sad,
But here's the cure fur you:
Don't bother huntin' up a quack,
Don't use no garden tool;
Jist go down to the hoss stable
An' monkey with the mule.

CHOLERA, LIMBERNECK AND FITS.

Cholera, that dreaded summer disease that seldom comes, and diseases of the digestive organs of like nature have their cause in insanitation, which breeds germs, and in improper feeding, impure water and lack of care in the hot season.

If these particulars are attended to and the fresh drinking water is kept well colored with venetian red (dry) fowls seldom have such ailments.

Limberneck among chicks and adults is mostly caused by eating putrid meat, which affects the nervous system.

Little can be done for small chicks with this trouble.

With an adult case inject a funnel and pour a tablespoonful of turpentine into the crop to kill the maggots.

Fill the crop with water, knead it, turn the fowl down, with open mouth and stretched neck, and squeeze out the contents of the crop.

Follow with a tablespoonful of castor oil.

Epilepsy, or fits, is often attended by a limberneck, but there are symptoms peculiar to this trouble.

The eyes and mouth open spasmodically, fowl beats its wings, turns on its back, jumps up and down, cake-walks in kangaroo style and then often comes suddenly back to normal.

The trouble is mostly caused by intestinal worms.

A tablespoonful of turpentine generally cures fits with old fowls, while ten to twenty grains of powdered areca nut made into flour pills cures young stock.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

Of 5,000 live chicks shipped by a fancier but one died in transit. Some traveled 1,500 miles and got there O. K. There may be nothing new under the sun, but keep your eye on the hen.

Our California brethren are feeding their hens beans and claim certain varieties have over 25 per cent protein. Now watch New York egg farmers copy the trick. Why? Those Boston bean eaters will quit New York and send west for Biddie's brown bean beans.

Milo Hastings and other fowl experts have been wondering why New York prefers white shelled eggs and Boston brown. It is simply New York's "great white way," while Bostonians have that peculiar brown taste which requires everything to match brown beans and Browning.

There are two varieties of wild turkeys in the United States, the northern and Mexican. The northern has a band of chestnut brown across the tips of feathers on tail and body, while these are creamy or silver white in the Mexican. Watch this when buying wild blood.

The French are experts at crate fattening. Their displays of finished poultry at shows and market are a wonder to American market poultry raisers. One rule they have which some crate fatteners on this side could profitably copy—their crates are kept deodorized and clean.

Many complain of the great infertility of eggs the past season, especially farmers who keep Rocks. In their case it is a result of too much fat, for this breed does certainly put on fat quickly, especially when corn is fed generously.

Creameries in Pennsylvania are active buyers of eggs. The Howard creamery from April 1 to 15 bought 6,000 dozens from the farmers and in 1909 paid $11,000 for farm eggs.

Here is the egg trust's argument: They say to the farmer, "If it wasn't for us you'd get nothing for your eggs in summer." They say to the poultryman, "If it wasn't for us you couldn't get the price you do in winter." Then they go to the consumer and say: "We stand between you and the greedy farmer and poultryman. If it wasn't for us they'd take your last cent." Then they lie to everybody: "The population is growing so rapidly the demand exceeds the supply."

A hard boiled egg decorated by his uncle, Easter, April 8, 1860, is the possession of Fred R. Gerst, Altoona, Pa.

Will this recital provoke some envious, ancient, cold storage antediluvian to claim priority?

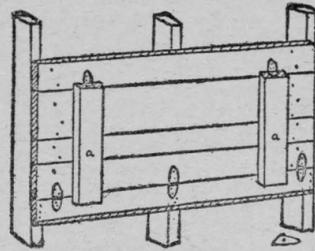

So many breed from the same stock until the product gets smaller and smaller, and finally disease cleans up the coop. A lady recently offered us two Barred Rock hens for setters whose combined weight was only eight pounds. They should have weighed fifteen.

B. M. Barnitz's FOLDING WORKBENCH.

Here is One That Does Away With Objections to Ordinary Kind.

In the tool house or stable there is always a need at times for a workbench, with a safe place to keep the tools needed for any repair jobs that may be needed. This is greatly needed many times in the year, but when not in use is, if stationary, often in the way.

By hinging the table or top of bench to the studding, as shown in illustration,

WORKBENCH AGAINST WALL.
[From Orange Judd Farmer.]

tion, it may be folded up against the wall, where it is held by hooks, entirely out of the way and ready for use in a moment's time. When lowered the legs, which are hinged to the top, let down to the floor, and the hinges against board on studding hold bench firmly.

The space behind the top is an excellent place to keep all the small tools, as boards may be placed between studding at top and bottom, thus making it a tight box when top is raised, and when lowered your tools are all within easy reach just where you want them.—Orange Judd Farmer.

MELONS ALL YEAR ROUND.

Delicious Fruit Can Be Produced by Cultivation Under Glass.

In the summer melons are plentiful on the market, but few there are who know the delicious flavor, not to mention size, of a fully developed and well ripened fruit grown under glass. Nor is the season of such fruit limited, for melons can be produced all the year around. During the summer they can be produced in fourteen weeks from time of sowing, winter months taking a few weeks longer. To keep up a steady supply four small houses must be devoted to them. These must have adequate pipe heat to maintain the temperature through the cold weather and also to furnish bottom heat for the plants. Raised benches with pipes underneath answer both purposes well.

When sowing the seed use a good open compost and place very lightly in three inch pots, inserting one seed in each pot and water in. Place the whole in a house having a temperature of 70 to 75 degrees night and cover with paper to maintain the moisture. Good seed should germinate in about four days. When seedlings are through prepare bed for permanent planting. Good, heavy loam with old lime rubble mixed into it is all they require. Cover bottom of bench with sod, adding more with lime rubble and ramming as firm as possible until the whole is four inches thick. Mix more of same compost and also add a little charcoal for the mounds. These should be placed on the bed twenty inches apart and the seedlings planted in. Maintain a night temperature of 70 to 75 degrees and syringe twice daily. Take one shoot up until the plants are three-quarters up trellis and then stop.

Laterals will now appear bearing female flowers. Stop these one leaf beyond the flower. If possible three or four of these should be fertilized the same day to insure an even crop. As the fruit swells it will need support. Nets made for the purpose should be used. During the time the fruit is swelling the plants will take lots of water and feed, which can be given in the form of light top dressing and quick acting manures.

As soon as fruit shows signs of ripening cease syringing and keep a drier atmosphere and give all air possible. Quality is usually to be preferred to size, especially as medium sized fruit is easier to serve on table, being cut through and cracked ice placed in center.

Scarlet fleshed varieties usually are of best flavor, but there are good green and white fleshed varieties.—Horticulture.

The cost of two battleships would pay for four good experiment stations and a section of land for each, not only in one state, but in every state of the Union.

Anniversary Services Trinity Methodist Church, Chesterville

The Anniversary Services at Trinity Methodist Church Sunday and Monday last, were highly successful and inspiring. Morning and evening the seating capacity of the church was fully taxed with most appreciative audiences. A most tasteful printed program containing the hymns to be used made possible that every worshipper should join in the service of praise. The Rev. H. S. Osborne, B. A., B. D., was the preacher. His discourses were of a high order and most appropriate. He is a gifted and eloquent speaker. His earnest and enthusiastic manner gives added impressiveness to his preaching. Fully 400 members of the congregation, young and old, assembled for supper on Monday evening and all heartily enjoyed the hospitality extended by the ladies of the congregation. After supper a program was carried out before an audience that filled the Sunday School Hall and the larger part of the auditorium of the church proper. The minister, Rev. W. H. Stevens, presided, and had with him on the platform the Rev. S. A. Woods and Mr. Osborne. The chairman intimated that the report of the church for the year would be printed and distributed to the members about July 1st. The membership is now 337. The givings of the people for all purposes for the year amounted to $6,350.00, Connexional Funds, $476.00, Missions (General Society) $355.00, Woman's Missionary Society $220.87, Sunday Schools $265.20, Epworth League $198.85, Ladies' Aid Society $148.00, current account $2,100.00, toward the debt fund $2,800.00. The officials had asked the congregation for an anniversary offering of $500. The chairman said they would be grateful to learn that the treasurer reported the givings of Sunday and Monday would probably aggregate $600.00. It was most encouraging and all would look forward to the next year's work with courage and hope.

Mr. Carter and Miss Hazel Saucier gave a piano duet. Miss A. Beatty rendered a violin solo, Miss Thompson, of Winchester, gave a vocal solo, and Miss Helen Smith a reading. These several numbers were all greatly appreciated and heartily enjoyed. Mr. Osborne made the address of the meeting. After a number of pleasantries he proceeded to deliver a splendid speech on Patriotism. Mr. Woods conveyed the greetings of the Presbyterian church and expressed cordial good wishes for the future work of the church. He moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Osborne which was seconded by Mr. Thos. Forward and warmly supported by the meeting. Mr. Osborne will be welcomed whenever possible for him to serve a Chesterville congregation.

The exercises were concluded with the singing of the National Anthem, prayer, and the benediction by the minister.

May Not Now Sell Cigars on Sunday

A druggist may not sell cigars on Sunday. A restaurant-keeper may not sell candies or soft drinks on Sunday unless the goods are to be consumed on the premises in connection with a meal. Cigars may not be sold on Sunday at a newsstand in connection with a hotel.

This is the effect of a judgment given out by Mr. Justice Middleton at Toronto on Monday, in the appeal case from the decision of Magistrate Kingsford, who dismissed several prosecutions for alleged breach of the Lord's Day Act.

Judge Morson had previously held that a cigar was a drug, and as such could be sold by a druggist on Sunday, but Mr. Justice Middleton differs from him. The cases were taken to the Court of Appeal by the Attorney-General's Department for the purpose of having the question settled finally, as Judges through the Province had given various decisions.

Still Netting St. Lawrence.

Brockville May 30—Notwithstanding the vigilance of the officers, there are extensive operations being carried on in the river St. Lawrence in the vicinity of the Thousand Island region. Overseer George Toner continues to spoil the plans of the lawbreakers. He has just succeeded in landing ten sets of nets in Landan Bay, in the north channel. The lines were all well laden with game fish.

Something to be Proud of.

A few weeks ago Mr. A. R. Fawcett, editor of The Arrow, a newspaper published at Burk's Falls, Ont., had occasion to visit our town, and during his stay of about three days, the following, taken from his paper, are among the list in his diary, which certainly speaks well for Chesterville.

"In the Village of Chesterville, in Eastern Ontario, the Methodist not long since erected a very substantial and handsome cement Church at a cost of something like $30,000. This seems a lot of money to put into a church building in a small place, but in this case the members of the congregation are mostly well-to-do and can afford it.

But that is not the point to be emphasized in this particular instance. The really important thing about Chesterville Methodist Church is the fact that even more attention has been devoted to the requirements of the Sunday School than to the Church proper. The circular shaped wing of the building set apart for the Sunday School is a model of simplicity and efficiency. On the first floor is an auditorium with ample capacity to seat the entire school, and here pupils and teachers assemble for the opening and closing services. On the second floor, also circular in form, are located separate rooms for each of the several classes and each commands a view of the auditorium on the first floor and vice versa. The entire school, whether in classes separately or otherwise are always under the eye of the Superintendent. After the opening services teachers and classes take their respective rooms with military precision and without the slightest confusion, and at the close they reassemble in the auditorium in the same orderly manner. And the Church is so constructed that on special occasions both auditoriums can be quickly converted into one, with the pulpit in the central position for both. There is a very fine basement with lavatory, wash room, kitchen, &c., constituting as a whole the most up-to-date village church we have ever seen.

During the writer's stay in Chesterville he was made to feel very much at home by the kindly courtesy of Mr. T. T. Shaw the able and energetic editor and proprietor of the Chesterville Record. When we come to think of it, we were very much afraid we took up a lot more of Mr. Shaw's valuable time than common courtesy called for, but the time passed so pleasantly in his company that we unwittingly imposed upon his good nature. We hope however, he has forgiven us by this time, and if ever Brier Shaw strikes Burk Falls when the writer is around we will certainly try to get even with him."

Found her Daughter Burned to Death.

Hamilton May 28—About 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon Mrs William Weir, who resides in Barton township, about a mile and a half east of Jockey Club, noticed a smell of burning flesh coming from the yard in the rear of the house and went to investigate. She was horrified to see her daughter, Miss Jeanette Dewar Wier, aged 29, lying there with everything burned from her body but her boots, and her body, face and hands a mass of roasted flesh. The terrible sight nearly distracted the mother, who ran into the house and alarmed Mr. Wier. Dr. Glendenning was summoned, but the poor girl was past human aid long before he arrived. How the affair happened is not clearly known, but it is said that the unfortunate girl had been suffering from religious mania and believed she had committed the unpardonable sin. She was seen by her father, who is 74 years of age in the kitchen a short time before her mother discovered the body in the yard, and when asked what she was doing replied "nothing." There was a coal oil stove in the kitchen, and it is thought that she set fire to herself. Coroner Dickson was asked to investigate, and he decided that an inquest was not necessary under the circumstances.

Mr. Foster Sails.

Ottawa May 31—Hon. G. E. Foster leaves to-morrow to attend the Coronation. It will be recalled that when the matter of payment of expenses was up in the House, some criticism of the outlay were indulged in and Mr. Foster announced his resignation from the Coronation contingent. He has since been indulged upon to go.

Warden Lawson laid the corner stone of the new House of Industry being erected by Wentworth county near Dundas.

Census Man May Have You Fined

Civil action may be taken against any person who refuses to answer any question put by an enumerator in taking the census. According to the statute, every person who wilfully or without lawful excuse refuses to give an answer or who falsely answers a question, is liable to a fine of not more than $50 nor less than $5 for each offence. All officers engaged in the work of taking the census are sworn to secrecy so that no one need fear that any information secured will be passed around. It will be impossible, even at Ottawa, for anyone to ascertain particulars about any concern for the purpose of comparison. A system of papers is used whereby certain answers are written on a stub which is detached, thereby rendering identity with any firm impossible. Most of the questions relating to the output of a business, etc., are dealt with in a collective way. In the case of a family that is moving away after the first of June, which is the deciding date, before they have been reached by an enumerator, the collector of statistics in the place to which they move will secure the required information in the regular way. The enumerator who finds that a person or persons have just moved fills out a card supplied for the purpose, which he forwards to Ottawa. This is used as a check to the set of answers turned in by the second officer.

Dr. Rutherford, who is one of the best known and most valued officials in the Government service, intends to go to British Columbia to reside. It is hoped that he will be induced to withdraw his resignation, as the Minister of Agriculture does not wish to lose the services of one of the best known veterinarians on the continent, and one who has previously refused several tempting offers.

The evening will see the Windsor banqueting hall filled with over 500 guests, all of the medical profession. The Governor-General is expected to be present, and the Mayor, who is a McGill graduate.

Final arrangements are not yet completed in all scores, but are in the hands of six different committees. The executive is composed of the following Dr. H. S. Birkett (chairman); Dean Shepherd, Dr. G. E. Armstrong, Dr. R. F. Ruttan, Dr. F. G. Finley, Dr. G. J. Adams, Dr. J. C. Simpson and Dr. Scane, secretary.

Veteran Journalist Dead.

Picton, Ont. May 25—J. W. Conger, aged 72, a veteran newspaper man, died this afternoon after a lingering illness. Dropsy caused death. Mr. Conger was for 52 years part owner of the Picton Gazette, which is now in its 81st year. He retired three years ago. During his lifetime he took an active part in municipal politics, was warden of the county, and held other important offices.

Hydro vs. Hon. Mr. Harty.

It is possible that the Ontario hydro-electric commission will find it necessary to institute expropriation proceedings to secure water power for the Ottawa Valley district. A difference of $50,000 is stated to exist between the value set upon Chat's Falls by the Ontario commission and the owner, Hon. Wm. Harty, M. P. who is understood to have quoted $100,000 as the selling price.

An alternative is to purchase power for the district from the Galiman, in the Quebec side of the Ottawa.

The completion of the Dominion government's reserve dams in the Upper Ottawa will soon open the way by equalizing the flow of water for the accomplishment by the Ontario commission's power plans for the district.

RAGING HEADACHE STOPPED AT ONCE

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives"

SHANLY, ONT., Sept. 23rd, 1910. "You certainly have the Greatest discovered Headache Cure in the world. Before "Fruit-a-tives" came before the public, I suffered tortures from Headaches caused by Stomach Disorders.

"One of your travellers called on me when I had one of my raging headaches and had my head almost raw from external applications.

"I hated to see any person coming into the store (much less a commercial traveller) and I told him very curtly that I had a headache but he insisted on my trying "Fruit-a-tives".

"I did so, with what I would call amazing results. They completely cured me and since then (nearly six years ago) it is only necessary for me to take one occasionally to preserve me in my present good health. I was 65 years old yesterday and have been a general store keeper at the above address for twenty-five years". WM. PITT

As Mr. Pitt says "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest headache cure in the world.

Dealers everywhere have "Fruit-a-tives" at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Farmers' Bank Case.

Toronto May 27—The most material evidence brought out by the Crown in the trial of Colonel Munro of Embro, president of the defunct Farmers' Bank, who pleaded not 'guilty' as was erroneously reported yesterday, on a charge of making false returns to the Government of the assets and liabilities of the bank during the eleven months of 1910, was that of a letter written by Colonel Munro to the convicted general manager, W. R. Travers, in which he expressed some anxiety over a communication which he had received from a member of Parliament informing him of rumors as to certain unspecified wrongdoing in connection with the Farmers' Bank; also stating that he had been asked by a shareholder about a large amount of stock subscribed in trust, and suggesting that it would be well to have Dr. W. B. N. pay his indebtedness to the bank, as so many people seemed to know of it and claimed that he was worth 'nil.'

The case, which was heard in County Court yesterday before Judge Winchester and without a jury, was closed towards the end of the afternoon, and His Honor reserved judgment.

Thirteen Cows Killed by Lightning.

Carleton Place, May 25—On the farm of Mr. James Battray, about two miles from town, thirteen fine cows were killed as they huddled together when a storm came on. Mr. Battray has lost four head left, and these were some distance from the thirteen that were killed. His loss is quite serious as nearly all were first-class milk cows. A barn building belonging to Mr. W. J. Norris was shattered by lightning and scattered by the wind over a wide area. No portion of the building caught fire but it was wrecked irreparably.

The Grand Trunk will build a new station at Kingstons.

Ordination at Bishop's Mills.

The Presbytery of Brockville met in the Presbyterian Church at Bishop's Mills on Friday to ordain to the Christian ministry Mr. Gordon R. Duncan, of Stouffville, Ont. and to induct him into the pastorate there. The Rev. M. H. Wilson, of Mountain, Moderator, presided. Mr. Duncan, who graduated this spring at the Montreal Presbyterian College, was examined on personal religion by the Rev. S. A. Woods of Chesterville. Mr. Duncan stated that among the influences which had led him to enter the ministry was an address by Mr. John R. Mott, which he had heard about eight years ago. On doctrine Mr. Duncan was examined by the Rev. J. McDougall, of Spencerville, and the answers having been highly satisfactory, the presbytery proceeded with his ordination. The Rev. K. A. Gollan of Morewood, preached the sermon. The usual questions having been put by the moderator and satisfactorily answered, the presbytery, by prayer and the laying on of hands ordained Mr. Duncan to the holy ministry. The newly ordained minister was then addressed by the Rev. Mr. Morrison, of South Mountain who spoke of the ministry as the highest and noblest calling.

The Rev. M. F. Boudreau, of Merrickville, was then called upon to address the people. He congratulated them upon the choice they had made, and urged them to strengthen the hands of their pastor by regular attendance to the means of grace and by jealously guarding his reputation.

A pleasing feature of the service was the presentation of an address and a purse of money to the interim moderator, the Rev. M. F. Boudreau.

In addition to the members of the presbytery already mentioned the Rev. S. S. Salisbury, of Kemptville; Mr. James Moodie of Chesterville; Mr. Milton of Bishop's Mills and Mr. Cochrane, of Pleasant Valley, were also present.

NATURE STOPS

WHEN THE KIDNEYS GIVE OUT.

Do you feel that you simply can't go any farther—that you must have rest for that lame and aching back—relief from that constant dead-tired feeling—freedom from those stabbing, darting pains? It is nature's warning that the kidneys are giving out and you need the help of Booth's Kidney Pills, the guaranteed kidney remedy. In every machine there is one part that works the hardest and gives out first. The kidneys work night and day, and naturally a life of unusual activity doubles the duties of the kidneys and in time the strain tells. The kidneys give out and nature cries "stop," Booth's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers, 50c., post-paid from The R. T. Booth Co. Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. There is no pill just as good. Send for a Free box. The test will prove the test of our statement. Sold and guaranteed in Chesterville by W. G. Bolster.

Moose Jaw ratepayers carried by-laws providing for the expenditure of $240,500 in public improvements.

Andrew Laidlaw, aged fourteen, of Galt, was drowned at Ayr; Constable Harry Cooper and William Holiday were drowned in Lake Nipigon, and Charles Drake was drowned at Wendover.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

ARE you going to build that new horseblock, sidewalk or dairy house of cement? Then insist on your dealer supplying you with the "CANADA" Cement. Not only will this ensure your getting a pure, uniform and strictly high-grade cement, that will guarantee the lifelong permanency of the thing you build, but it will also entitle you to enter our Prize Contest. And in this contest you stand a good chance of winning a prize that will perhaps more than pay you for the cost of the work. Every farmer in Canada who uses "CANADA" Cement is eligible to compete. Four prizes will be awarded in each Province and these prizes will be divided as follows:

- PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement.
- PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm in 1911 for the greatest number of purposes.
- PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement.
- PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description, of how any particular piece of work shown by photograph sent in, was done.

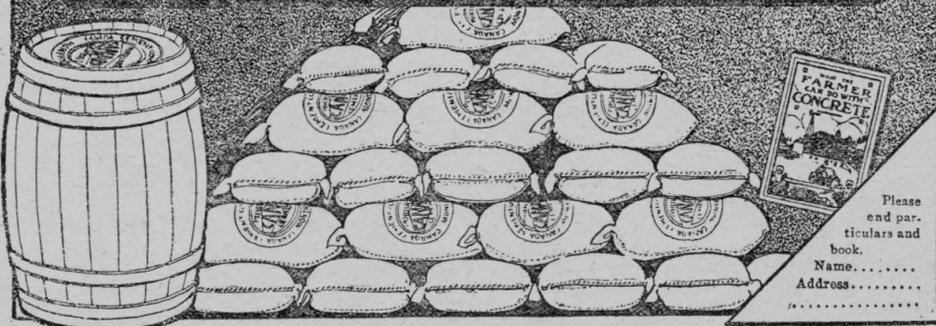

Notice how we have purposely planned and imposed certain necessary conditions in order to give large and small users of cement an equal opportunity.

As an illustration of this: In prizes "C" and "D," the quantity of cement used has no bearing whatever on the result. The farmer who sends us the best photograph of as small a thing as a watering trough or a gate post, has as much chance for prize "C" as a man who sends a photograph of a house—and the same applies to prize "D."

Don't hold back from entering because you think you don't know anything about concrete work. It's very simple. Besides, we have a 160-page book that we will send you free on request, which tells you all about concrete and how to make and use it. In this book, you'll find complete instructions for the making of almost everything you can think of in the way of farm utilities, floors, vats, troughs, stairs, posts, etc.

This free book—entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—will not only inform you—it will also greatly interest you. So send for it anyway, whether you intend to try for one of the prizes or not.

WON AN OPERA HOUSE.

Drawn in the Big Theater Lottery in Chicago in 1867.

Doubtless in the rummage of a good many homes in this country might still be found elaborate and ornate certificates of chance in the great lottery of Crosby's Opera House, Chicago, the drawings for which took place Jan. 21, 1867. Nearly 100,000 of those chances were sold at $5 per chance, the builder of the opera house retaining more than 25,000 himself after the sale had closed.

This beautiful theater, famous in its day, was erected by Uranus H. Crosby, a prosperous wholesale liquor merchant, who went to Chicago from Massachusetts, says the Kansas City Star.
He planned so magnificently that when he had his building finished and furnished he had put into it not only all his business money, but most of his private fortune as well, the institution standing him about $600,000.
It was too early for a "temple of art"
in Chicago, and the builder went broke. Then it was that the plan to sell the house by lottery was formed and carried out. The prospectus described the building and its furnishings, the latter including a number of very costly paintings. For months the sale went on. The purchasers covered the whole country. The hopes of the winners ran high, not only because of the capital prize, the opera house itself, but because of the lesser prizes, especially the paintings.

The drawing was directed by a board of men representing a half dozen cities. For two days before it took place train loads of ticket holders rolled into Chicago. On the Sunday preceding the Monday of the drawing the streets were crowded. Improvised sleeping accommodations had to be provided for the vast throng. Every hall as well as every hotel and boarding house was filled to its capacity.
The grand prize was not reached until the one hundred and thirteenth drawing, and it went to a man who was not in Chicago, one of the few who had forgotten all about his investment and knew nothing at the time of the drawing. A. H. Lee of Prairie du Rocher, Ill. Several of the paintings, including Bierstadt's "The Yosemite Valley," were drawn by Mr.
Crosby.

Four days after the drawing Mr.
Lee went to Chicago and accepted his good fortune, but, in recognition of Mr. Crosby's high purposes and the sacrifices they had cost him, offered to sell him the theater for $200,000,
which price was paid to him by Mr.
Crosby out of the proceeds of the lottery. This restoration of fortune did not last long. The opera house was destroyed in the great fire of 1871.

Not a Celebration.

George Ade was out walking with a guide in Kioto, Japan, when he observed a great procession approaching, and he paused while it passed. The people wore gay apparel and carried banners with Japanese inscriptions.
Their faces were grave. They were mournfully chanting to the accompaniment of tomtoms, cymbals and drums.
It was a long procession. Ade took off his hat with due respect to the unknown dead. Finally he turned to his guide and asked:

"Buddha?"
The guide shook his head.
"Shinto?" inquired Ade.
Again the guide shook his head.
"Was not that a funeral procession?"
asked Ade.

"No," said the guide. "That's a way of advertising. It is tooth powder for sale."—Chicago Record-Herald.

His Word For It.

There was an old lecturing dominie who was strong in astronomical similitu-dines and calculations. "Arcturus," he would declare, "is 792,648,925 miles distant from the sun."

"But, dominie," some surprised auditor would interrogate, "how in the world do you arrive at these specific figures?"

The answer would come with crushing dignity and the tone of intellectual superiority: "I assert it, sir. Disprove it if you can."

Dairy Doings.

Whitewash the stable occasionally.
It is a short task if you have a whitewash machine, and it keeps everything sweet and clean.

A nervous cow is preferable to a stolid one. The chances are that she will give more and better milk than her dull, mopey sister.

It is impossible to tell the profitable cows from the unprofitable animals unless you test your milk. The quantity of milk is not enough. The butter fat must be considered.

Every farmer cannot have a prize winning herd, but he can have a few prize winning animals. The number of good animals can be gradually increased until the entire herd is good.

The dairyman should always be ready for any emergency that arises.
With her first calf the young cow often has trouble. Caked udder or whatever the trouble may be should be carefully looked after.

Pretty Heavy Umbrellas.

The great objection to umbrellas 100 years ago was their weight, and when it is stated as a matter of fact that the very smallest umbrella then weighed no less than three and a half pounds it will probably be admitted that the objection was a justifiable one. Instead of the thin rainproof fabrics which now form the covering of umbrellas nothing better was known than leather or oilcloth. The ribs were of wood or whalebone, and such a thing as a steel rod was, of course, unknown. The stick was usually of heavy oak. In those days, too, many umbrellas had the additional incumbrance of feathers over the top on the theory of "shedding water off a duck's back." But the oilcloth and leather umbrellas, notwithstanding the feathers, were apt to leak.

Way of the Waves.

A strange thing about waves that are rolling in from the sea is that they bring no water with them. While these mad waves are rolling in a piece of driftwood may ride them steadily and make progress away from the land. This is for the reason that waves are made in the very way a wrinkle may be pushed across the tablecloth with a pencil laid flat. The tablecloth does not advance, but the ridge, because of a force bearing on it, goes forward.—New York Tribune.

Neither Rot Nor Sympathy.

Teacher—Willie, did your father cane you for what you did in school yesterday? Pupil—No, ma'am. He said the licking would hurt him more than it would me. Teacher—What rot! Your father is too sympathetic.
Pupil—No, ma'am, but he's got the rheumatism in both arms.—Lippincott's.

Potato Scones.

To bake potato scones sift a cupful and a half of flour with a half teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and rub in three tablespoonfuls of shortening. Add one cupful of light, freshly mashed potatoes, add one well beaten egg and enough milk to make a soft dough.
Roll out half an inch thick, cut and bake on a hot griddle or in a hot oven.
Serve very hot, with plenty of butter.
—Suburbanite.

A Wise Guy.

"Gustav's letters to me are exceedingly dull and commonplace," said one fair girl.
"Don't you know why?" responded
the other.
"No."
"Gustav once served on the jury in a breach of promise case."—Washington Star.

Census Returns.

Ottawa May, 26—Archibald Blue, chief census commissioner and enumerators who will take the fifth census next Thursday. The decisive hour of reckoning is made at 12 o'clock midnight on the night of May 31 to June 1. Every one born before that hour or any one dying after it will be counted. The actual census taken will occupy three to four weeks and the result is expected to be known by October 1st.

Want Hotel Back Again.

Almonte May 26—Two of the most prominent business men in town both of whom voted for local option when the by-law was carried in Almonte, have offered to contribute one hundred dollars apiece to Mr. J. K. Cole if he will rebuild his former hotel, the Commercial House, which was destroyed by fire a couple of years ago, and also guarantee to work for the repealing of the by-law next year.

NO MORE DANDRUFF

W. G. Bolster Knows What is Making
Clean Scalps.

In order to rid your scalp of filthy
dandruff you must kill the germ.
There is a hair dressing called Parisian Sage which is now sold in every town in Canada. It is guaranteed by W. G. Bolster to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair and scalp itch in two weeks or money back.

If you have dandruff get a large 50 cent bottle to-day and rid yourself of it. Remember that if dandruff germs are not stopped in time the hair will surely fall out and baldness follow.

Notice to the General Public.

No doubt the people of Chesterville, Morewood, Cannamore, Cry-sier and intervening points have been wondering what has been the delay in installing the rural Telephone line. It is for the purpose of giving the necessary information that I am inserting this notice in the Record. The Bell Telephone Co'y. made a proposition to me saying that they would sell their exchange in Crysler to me and would drop out of Morewood and Can-namore, if I would stay out of Chesterville. Also that they would take my line into Chesterville and give me connection for my subscribers at a 5c. rate or a flat rate for long phone connections. They have been putting me off all spring.
I called up Mr. Gray, Supt. of the Bell Telephone Co., on May 1st, and wanted to know what they were going to do, and he informed me that I would receive the necessary information on the Saturday following. It is now the 26th day of May and no word has yet been received, I conferred with Mr.
Bolster, the agent at Chesterville,
on this date, and he called up Mr.
Gray, who informed him that the Company were going to fight the Glasgow rural line company. When Mr. Gray promised to give me an answer on the Saturday, above date referred to, or the date of our talk,
the following day he had his contract men at work on the route to see what the prospects were, and whether they would appear favorable for the Bell Telephone Company.

The public along this rural line know well what I have attempted to do for them, and with their assistance, I will carry out to the end what I have started, and give them entire satisfaction and better connections than they could otherwise possibly get.

The Following will be the Rates and Connections.

For country phones the price will be $12.00, which, when the line is opened, will have connection with 200 subscribers, and take in Crysler, Cannamore, Cambridge
Station, Morewood and Chesterville.
The price for Chesterville, or other incorporated villages, will be $15.00, which will give connection with above list of places.

No contracts asked for. Any person not satisfied at the end of a year can have their phone removed.
As soon as the above line is instituted I shall be busy extending the line to Winchester and Russell, and when this is in readiness the subscribers will be able to talk to all the above mentioned places at the rates named.

Trusting that the above information will enlighten the minds of the public generally along this line, and that I shall have your hearty co-operation in this enterprise.

The work of getting this system into operation will be proceeded with at once.

A very unfortunate and painful accident befel Mr. E. J. Kyle, Merrickville, on Friday forenoon last, when he had his left hand crushed in the rolls in the roller mill. Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel only different. When a man goes into a hotel and finds something on the table that does not suit him, he does not raise hades with the landlord and tell him to stop his old hotel. Well, hardly. He sets the dish to one side and wades into the many dishes to suit him. It is different with some newspaper readers. They will find an article occasionally that does not suit them exactly and without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers make a grand stand play and tell the editor how the paper should be run and what should be put in it. But such people are becoming fewer every day.

Montreal May 28—A precedent in jurisprudence was established in the court of appeals yesterday in the case of Girard versus The Montreal Street Railway Company.

The two-year-old son of Mr. Girard was struck by a car and injured two years ago. In the superior court last year $5000 damages were awarded the father. Yesterday the court of appeals fixed the damages at the same amount, but ruled that only $500 should be paid the son when he attained the majority. The company, however, must pay $225 yearly to Mr. Girard as interest. If the son dies before attaining his majority the company is freed from all claims against it.
