Alexandria Footwear bought by Hush Puppies

By Joe Banks,
News* publisher

After months of rumors and speculation about the economic health of Alexandria Footwear plant and the fate of its 100 employees, Hush Puppies Canada announced yesterday (Tuesday, Oct. 29) that it has bought the company.

And local officials are hailing the purchase as an indication of a solid and secure future for the company and its employees.

''These people (Hush Puppies) are proven achievers,'' said Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry department of economic development director Terry O'Reilly.

''They will take this company and move it ahead into the market of the '90s.''

That will be done, company officials say, by concentrating on the Canadian market for winter footwear — boots. It's a niche not heavily pursued by other companies on the international and domestic scenes, and with the quality of Hush Puppy lines, combined with its renowned name, an air of optimism hung over the press conference when the announcement was made.

David Monty, president of Hush Puppies Canada, and vice president Peter Sauer, both of whom operate the business out of Montreal, said the deal to buy the plant, which had been in the works for over five months, was not an easy one. The plant needs computerization and modernization of some equipment.

But it was the high-quality labor pool that attracted the businessmen.

''There is a good pool of people here,'' Sauer said. ''And there is a good atmosphere here for a shoe factory. And the quality of the work is excellent.''

The 29,000 sq. ft. plant was formerly owned by Rosita Footwear, which has operated in Alexandria since 1976 when it began as Alexandria Footwer stitching division with a staff of 12. Over the years, it moved into mainstream manufacturing, eventually producing an array of sports wear, including Adida running shoes. At its peak in 1983, it employed 185 people and had annual sales of $8.3 million.

The company experienced problems due in part to off-shore production and in part to Adidas declining domestic market share.

''Alexandria Footwear has produced quality products under contract to major sporting goods firms for some time, and had exceptional success in the past with the Stan Smith Tennis Shoe line,'' said O'Reilly.

But as the manufacture of these types of goods moved offshore, it left the company in a quandary.

It has been doing things to develop its own niche lines, but the previous owners were unwilling to invest in the marketing and re-tooling required. As a result, it incurred repeated and substantial layoffs over the past several years, as speculation mounted regarding an impending closure.

Other owners had to be looked for in order for the firm to survive and thrive,'' and ''Hush Puppies has demonstrated their commitment to that process,'' he said.

Rumors that layoffs were on the way has now given way to a pledge by the company that it will put its considerable resources behind an aggressive modernization program.

Those resources include the marketing department of Hush Puppies Canada of Montreal, which is in partnership with parent company, Wolverine Worldwide of Rockford, Michigan.

The plant now employs about 100 workers. Modernization will not mean a loss of jobs, Sauer said, and in fact may mean a net gain, as more time is gained in production, possibly eventually allowing the companyy to export its product to cold-weather boot markets inthe United States and elsewhere in the world.

Sauer did acknowledge that the company may hit ''a couple of months of slow-downs'' in the winter, but the key right now is the plant's modernization.

Plant manager will continue to be Ray Whippey. He sees the purchase as a positive move, as the plant joins ''an established financially sound proprietor with a top-quality production facility.''

The company wants to ''increase the team spirit'' in the plant, recognizing that ''it's not just one person'' who is responsible for the end product. ''We're all in it together,'' Sauer said.

SDG Warden Ron MacDonell echoed that sentiment, noting the management has sent a ''clear signal to the employees that you want to work with them.''

Alexandria Mayor J. P. Touchette also noted the positive effects of the purchase, and invited the company to phone him ''any time'' to help out with any problems.

The new owners have an extensive background in the shoe industry. Both Monty and Sauer owned the Santana boot company in Sherbrooke, Quebec from 1973 to 1988.

Since entering into a joint venture with Wolverine, the men have concluded not only that dress shoes were declining in popularity, and that ''comfort'' was becoming the new market imperative, but the volumes required for importing from off-shore production facilities often involved higher than acceptable risk levels for them and their retailers, and that necessary price adjustments frequently outweighed the labor savings normally associated with importing.

''Furthermore,'' Monty said, ''Alexandria Footwear, as an experienced Canadian manufacturer, holds a comparative advantage in the world market for the production and export of cold weather footwear.''

Once the modernization process is complete, the men say they'll be looking at marketing boots in the U.S. and getting a sales force in place there.

''Our boots are more casually-oriented, and the Hush Puppies product will tend to reflect the demand for that,'' Monty said.

Both agreed that such ''dedicated plants'' — manufacuring plants putting together specific products — is the way of the future as companies attempt to find niche markets in the global economy.

Few sparks fly at Kenyon Township candidates meeting

GLENGARRY DECISION '91

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

Compared to the prior expectations of both candidates and ratepayers of Kenyon Township, Monday nights all-candidates meeting could be rated as one of the more tame ones held in the municipality.

There were no fireworks, no insults thrown, no short tempers; just a few short barrages directed at present council members — cut off by meeting chairman Richard Burton, president of Maxville Chamber of Commerce — and some pointed questions.

About 150 people packed the a hall in Greenfield to hear what 10 of the 11 candidates running for positions on Kenyon township council had to offer the municipality. Only one candidate, John Duncan MacDonald, who is running for councillor, refused to attend.

One school board candidate was also absent. Sam McLeod, who is running for trustee for public board representing in a zone including most of Glengarry county, failed to show for the meeting.

Questions from ratepayers ranged from what the candidates will do to lower taxes and address environmental problems to what type of action can be taken to clean up neglected properties and round up nuisance dogs.

The meeting — which Burton stressed was intended to be an opportunity to meet the candidates, not a debate — began with a 3 to 4 minute address by each candidate.

The speech limit was originally to be three minutes, but was stretched by Burton after the first speaker of the night, reeveship candidate Wilfred Vallance, exceeded the time allotment.

The majority of the candidates talked about the need to lower taxes, provide better services, address environment problems and cooperate more with surrounding municipalities and the provincial and federal government.

Some candidates also talked of the need for a more open and consultative municipal government, reflecting the needs and wants of the township's ratepayers.

The need for such government was stressed mainly in speeches by councillor candidates, Blair Williams and Owen Walker, founders of the township's citizen coalition, formed mainly to address the contentious issue of the township hall renovation.

Vallance stuck to the old municipal politics mainstays in his speech, talking about improving roads and helping agriculture.

He also spoke of the need to get along with neighbors. ''You can get along with a lot of things but you can't get along without your neighbors.''

And he also said he would favor abolishing tipping fees for disposing waste, noting in the proceeding question-and-answer session that the fees are likely the cause of increased roadside dumping and littered yards.

Reeve candidate Michel Lacelle spent the major portion of his speech dwelling on the need to lower taxes and how that can be accomplished.

He said the township must pressure school boards to limit spending and reduce unnecessary expenditures itself through good communication and representation, sound budgeting and no spending without council authorization.

Council should also consult ratepayers and be responsive to their needs, he said. Council should be ''a mirror image'' of the citizens' wants and needs.

Gary Brennan, the final of the three reeve candidates to speak, also focused on finances, emphasizing the need for careful, prudent and effective spending.

Brennan also stressed the need to increase the township tax base through the development of small, clean industry, a position he later was challenged on by at least one environmental-minded ratepayer who was concerned the creation of industry will mean the creation of pollution.

He also touched on the need to acquire more provincial funding, to improve relations with ratepayers, protect farmers' rights and address shared issues involving neighboring municipalities.

Two different approachs were taken by the candidates for deputy reeve. While incumbent Norman MacLeod was content to highlight his past work, his challenger Donald Besner spoke of the need for change.

MacLeod recounted a list of his involvements since he has been on council. He has sat on the Glengarry Memorial Hospital board, was on council when the sports complex was

Murder victim threatened: witness

A witness in the trial of an Alexandria man charged with second-degree murder testified yesterday that he heard the accused threaten to kill the victim two weeks before the victim died of stab wounds.

The accused, Guy Robinson, 30, sat placidly as crown witness John Penney told the court that on May 11, 1990, two weeks before the May 31 death of 54-year-old Alexandrian Sheldon (Shelley) Larocque, he had seen Robinson and Larocque at a bar in Alexandria.

Penney further testified that the barmaid had asked him to stand between the men and it was then that he heard Robinson tell Larocque, ''I'll kill you, you f------ queer.''

Penny's testimony occurred during the second day of the scheduled three- week trial by judge and jury, at the Ontario Court of Justice (General Division) in Cornwall.

Penney was called by Crown Attorney Guy Simard who invited witnesses to recall events of May 11, when Larocque and Robinson are said to have spent the evening in the Alexandria bar.

During cross examination by defence lawyer Patrick McCann, Penney said threats such as the one he claimed was uttered by Robinson were a ''daily occurrence'' in the bar.

Pathologist Dr. John D. MacAuley, who performed an autopsy on Larocque, said the victim died as the result of a 3.5-4 cm wound in the upper abdomen which penetrated the abdominal wall, several other organs and the aorta, stopping at spinal disk.

A second serious wound, 3.8 cm in length in the chest area below the underarm, passed through the chest wall, fractured a rib, entered the plural cavity and the pancreas and cut through a major vein.

MacAuley said the wounds were consistent with a butcher knife retrieved May 31 as evidence from the kitchen drawer of Guy Robinson's Derby Street home. The knife had reddish stains on the blade and handle, an OPP officer later testified.

In his opening address, Simard told the jury that he believed Robinson was going to try to show that he was provoked to stab Larocque and that he had acted in self defence in a state of intoxication. But the crown would try to show that the force used against Larocque was ''not reasonable force,'' said Simard.

The pathologist said he'd concluded that Larocque had sustained ''forceable blows'' because of the depth of penetration of the wounds and because the force was sufficient to break a rib, a ''tough bone'' that requires considerable force to cut through.

MacAuley could not quantify the force, and also conceded that all organs penetrated were comprised of soft tissue with the exception of the rib.

Simard also told the jury that ambulance attendants, summoned by

Investigations result in charges for operating common gaming house

By Andre Perrella
News* reporter

A number of people have been charged with keeping a common gaming house in connection with an Oct. 10 raid by police in Alexandria.

Officers of the Ontario Provincial Police Anti-Rackets Branch and Alexandria police seized three video poker machines from Cathy's Bar-B-Q at 82 Main St. S., and one machine from Bruno Lalonde General Store at 117 Main St. S.

Alexandria police charged 506262 Ontario Ltd., which owns Cathy's Bar-B-Q, and the company's 24-year-old co-owner Vasilios ''Billy'' Pavlounis of 41 Clement St. Also charged was restaurant employee Catherine McCulloch, 53, of RR2 Green Valley.

Charged in the raid on Bruno Lalonde General store, 115 Main St. S., is businessman and Alexandria councillor Bruno Lalonde, 65, who is running for a councillor position in the Nov. 12 municipal election. His son Bernard Lalonde, 30, of 182 Main St. S was also charged.

Video poker machines are legal to have for amusement purposes, but it is illegal to award payoffs to game players.

The four suspects will appear in the Ontario Court, Criminal Division in Alexandria on Thursday, Nov. 14.

It is not yet known who will appear in court for the numbered company. But Alexandria Police Chief Paul Deveau told The News that he expects Pavlounis's father and company president Elias ''Louis'' Pavlounis to appear.

If convicted, the accused can be sentenced to up to two years in jail.

GDHS students fight drinking and driving

By Andre Perrella
News* reporter

Glengarry District High School Students had a B.Y.O.B. party, with a slight twist Thursday.

The acronym B.Y.O.B., instead of standing for Bring Your Booze, was changed to Bring Your Own Bananas.

And the drink of choice, well, actually it was a desert of choice -- was sundaes.

GDHS's chapter of the Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (OSAID) gave about 100 students free banana sundaes smothered with home-made chocolate syrup during Thursday's lunch hour.

Grade 12 student and OSAID member Ursula Sweitzer, 17, said the event was held to raise awareness of the dangers of drunken-driving.

''It's OK to drink,'' she said. ''But it's not OK to drink and drive.''

OSAID has about 4,000 members in more than 400 Ontario high schools.

The 15 OSAID members at GDHS organize parties and other activities to promote their cause, such as next month's ''Red-Ribbon'' campaign.

Students will tie red ribbons on door handles of cars to remind drivers not to drink and drive during the Christmas season.

The message seems to be getting through to young drivers.

Ontario government statistics show that the percentage of drivers aged 16 to 24 involved in alcohol related accidents has dropped by 10 per cent.

Young drivers accounted for 42 per cent of all alcohol-related accidents on Ontario roads in 1983. That figure dropped to 32 per cent in 1988, with the 25 to 34-year-old group taking over as the highest-risk group.

GDHS teacher and the school's OSAID staff advisor Linda Burgess said the drinking and driving statistics are improving because high school students are teaching responsibility to themselves.

''Most activities are kid-organized, so they're kid-approved,'' she said.

Burgess said students are beginning to feel more comfortable with designating a driver, or simply not drinking and driving.

Robinson, had found Larocque on the couch at Robinson's home.

Other testimony on Monday included that of OPP Const. Herbert Underhill of the identification unit in Kanata.

Underhill testified that he seized for evidence the trousers Robinson was wearing the morning of Larocque's death and there was 'some reddish staining' on them.

In the bathroom, Underhill also found a towel with reddish staining and a ''fold mark'' similar to the shape of a butcher knife.

Nuisance pit has neighbor seeing red

Longstanding problem remains unresolved

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

A north-end resident of Alexandria is again appealing to Alexandria council to take action on an open pit across the street from his residence.

Bert Martin of 41 Elm St., said he has been fighting for 10 years to have something done about the pit — which covers the area of about half a block — on property owned by Arthur Duggan of 275 Bishop St. North.

He told council the open pit is a safety hazard and an eyesore and he wants council to — for once and for all — take action to have the pit filled in.

"I might not be a well-liked person in the north end, but I don't give a damn," he said last Tuesday.

The pit, surrounded by high, weed covered banks and containing abandoned fuel tanks, has been a source of contention in the town for about 25 years. Attempts have been made in the past by council to have the pit filled in, but have failed.

Duggan refused comment when reached by The News Monday.

Martin also claimed that the pit is being drained by the town's sanitary sewer system. He said that is why the pit is never full of water.

Alexandria Road Superintendent Jean Guy Levert confirmed that the pit is draining into the town's already overtaxed sewer system. He cannot block the drain until town council orders him to do so.

"The minute I get orders to block it, I'll block it," he told Martin.

Council members conceded the connection should be blocked, but said funding to carry out that and a host of other sewer repairs needed is unavailable.

Council members also expressed concern that if the connection is blocked and the pit does fill with water, the town may be liable if someone falls in the pit and drowns.

"I think it's very touchy ground we're working with. If we create a hazard, we could be liable too," said Councillor Fern Seguin.

Martin also said the area is infested with rats, something town employees have been unable to confirm.

"They were not tame rats. They were not sitting on the rocks when they went there," Martin surmised, jokingly explaining why the problem was never confirmed.

And he said children have been playing in the area which still contains abandoned oil tanks, the contents of which may have contaminated the soil.

Martin said he has tried to organize a petition to have council take action on the the pit, but neighbors do not want to become involved.

He said if they do not mind the pit, that is fine with him, but the pit is in front of his house as well and he is not willing to accept it.

"I'm proud of living in the north end of town, but not with that hole there."

But Councillor Archie McDougall said the town has looked at the problem numerous times and had inspectors from the Ontario Ministry of Environment look over the pit. But because the pit is on private property, there is little council can do.

The answer did little to impress Martin.

"We can send people to the moon. You can't get Duggan to fill a hole?"

McDougall, however refused to take the full responsibility for the lack of progress on the issue.

"This is a council of people. Not just one individual makes a decision," he told Martin.

He added, council has been told by lawyers not to worry about the pit, that it is Duggan's responsibility. If anyone would get hurt as a result of the pit, Duggan would be liable, not the town.

Deputy Reeve Jacques Joly said if the pit is a hazard, a fence should at least be placed around it to keep people out.

Mayor Jean Paul Touchette agreed that the pit is a legitimate concern. "I know it's a hell of a problem," he told Martin.

He said the issue will be brought up during the town's next meeting with the Ontario Ministry of Environment.

Alexandria ponders smoke alarm bylaw

The death of two Alexandria residents in a late July fire has prompted Alexandria council to consider making smoke alarms mandatory in town residences.

Smoke alarms could become mandatory in town residences if council approves a bylaw proposed by the town planning committee and brought to council last Tuesday.

The bylaw borrows from one implemented in the town of Hawkesbury and from the city of Etobicoke, said Terry Hart, Alexandria chief building official.

Mayor Jean Paul Touchette said the bylaw was brought about by the tragic deaths of Mary Olivia MacDonald and Daniel Duncan MacDonald in an early morning fire at 100 Bishop St. July 28.

"This could have saved both their lives, so I think it is very important," Touchette said.

The bylaw, as proposed, would allow residents the choice of installing either an electric or battery-operated alarm. But Reeve John Cormier proposed the bylaw make only electric alarms legal.

He said battery-operated alarms are a problem because people simply remove the batteries when they go dead and do not replace them. Such alarms emit a warning siren when their battery is low and the battery must be removed to stop the alarm.

Building owners and occupants will be responsible for keeping alarms in operating condition. If a complaint is registered, their premises may be subject to inspection by a fire prevention officer.

If it is determined a building owner or occupant has not complied with the bylaw, he or she will be notified in writing to comply within a specified date. People who refuse to comply will be guilty of an offence and could be fined up to $2,000.

Town Optimists ensuring safe Halloween for kids

By Andre Perrella
News* reporter

This year, the Alexandria Optimist Club and the Alexandria Police Department are trying a new tactic to help children have a safe halloween.

They are distributing 1,000 reflective plastic trick-or-treating bags to children at Alexandria's four elementary schools and at the Glengarry Child Care Centre.

The black and bright orange colored bags should make children visible to drivers, especially on busy and dangerous roads such as Main Street.

And although there will be more police officers patrolling the streets Thursday night, Police Chief Paul Deveau and Optimist Club president Lorraine Lanthier hope all children and parents read the following six safety rules listed on the bag:

1) Make sure mask holes are large enough to see through.

2) Take a flashlight along for dark streets.

3) Make sure children can't be tripped by loose costumes.

4) Don't eat unwrapped candy or fruit until your parents have inspected them.

5) Stay on the sidewalk and away from traffic as much as possible.

6) Wear bright reflective colors so that cars can see you when it's dark.

The safety advice doesn't end there.

Toronto based organization Stay Alert-Stay Safe has also issued a number of Halloween safety tips:

1) Wear make-up instead of masks;

2) Walk don't run, and look all ways before crossing the street;

3) Go only to homes that have the lights on;

4) Do not enter a house alone;

And Ontario Provincial Police Staff Sgt. Jim McWade of the Lancaster detachment also recommends children be accompanied by a responsible person, be it a parent, older brother or sister, neighbor, or friend.

Few sparks fly at Kenyon Township candidates meeting Monday night built and the township hall and was on council when the renovations — which were finished under budget — were completed, he said.

He also challenged claims that council needs to improve its relations with neighboring municipalities. He said the township has had "the greatest cooperation" with its neighbors.

Besner said his goal is to promote a more active form of council through more consultation with ratepayers, as well as through better representation on counties council and in dealing with the provincial government.

He talked of the need for better roads, including trying to find gravel more apt to stay on the road and out of ditches. "This is one of my many pet peeves I would like to deal with."

The township must provide better waste management, protect Loch Garry, foster better relations with neighoring municipalities in the aim of attracting more industry and reduce taxes, he also said.

Blair Williams, one of six candidates running for a councillor position, did not pull any punches in his speech. "I don't think we're getting what we deserve from our elected officials," he told the packed hall.

He said he is not running for council because he is retired, or has nothing to do, nor is he running for personal gain.

He focused his speech mainly on the actions of the council of the past three year, especially taking note of the $100,000 architect and planning fees "lost" in in the planning of a new township hall. Council later downscaled its plans and renovated the existing hall.

Stewart Arkinstall took a more philosophical approach with his speech, likening the councillor position he is seeking to a closed door which can only be opened for him by the ratepayers of the township.

Arkinstall launched his speech detailing his family history and speaking on "the legacy, rich with tradition" the ancestors of Kenyon residents have left him.

Arkinstall, who listed the environment, provincial funding, roads and drainage as major concerns, urged crowd members to "stop, look and listen, because to me the pathway is uncertain."

Gwen Morris, the only incumbent running for a councillor position, said her background and challenges she has overcome, living through the Great Depression, World War Two and raising 10 children, make her an ideal councillor candidate.

Morris, who had difficulty drawing her speech to a close and had to be reined in by Burton who reminded her she was past her elapsed time, was one of a few candidates who preferred to shift the blame for tax increases on school board spending.

She said ratepayers should not be blaming tax increases exclusively on the township when in fact the municipal portion of tax bills only amounts to about 20 per cent of the total. The major portion -- about 65 per cent -- goes to school boards.

Morris said as well, that she will fight to keep tax increases down, work for more grants, try to improve roads and help solve waste management problems.

Fern Wensink, if there was an award for shortest speech of the night, would have won hands down. Clearly uncomfortable speaking in front of the large crowd, Wensink gave a short, approximately 10-second speech, saying she will be honest with ratepayers and available to them and will work with them to better the township.

Owen Walker told ratepayers that they are not getting enough for the taxes they pay from their present government. He said two-thirds of the money the township spends goes on road, but from talking to ratepayers about road conditions, he never would have guessed that is the case, he said.

He said taxes are too high and the township council needs to practice financial responsibility. "We have to realize that waste is not acceptable."

He also spoke on waste management and the beautification of the township and better planning and organization.

Court report

The following are among the cases heard by regional chief judge Brian Lennox in Alexandria provincial court on Oct. 24, 1991.

Landlord pleads guilty to assault

A Kenyon Township man has been fined $250 after pleading guilty to an assault charge.

Norman Bankley, 31, was arrested in June after an altercation with a tenant in one of the buildings in which Bankley is a landlord.

The court was told that the incident was provoked by an amount of back rent owed by the tenant, who was not injured in the scuffle.

"Retribution" nets fine

A 19-year-old Alexandria man has been fined $100 and placed on a cursory one-day term of probation after pleading guilty to assault causing bodily harm.

Stephan Campeau was charged in May after he had punched a classmate for having him forcibly removed from a party the previous weekend.

Campeau's lawyer said Campeau had suffered a black eye at the hands of bouncers hired to work security at the party.

The victim of Campeau's assault, which occurred in school a few days after the party, was cut for three stitches in the mouth.

Renfrew man jailed

A 49-year-old Renfrew man has been sentenced to 45 days in jail after a second conviction for drunk driving.

William McDonald was arrested in June after police responded to reports that a car had become stuck on a Charlottenburgh Township property.

Breathalyser tests showed readings of 197 and 205 milligrams of alcohol per 100 millilitres of blood.

In addition to the jail term, McDonald also had his driving privileges suspended for 18 months.

Woman fined

A Valleyfield woman has been fined $650 and has lost her license for one year after being convicted of drunk driving.

Anne Migneault, 24, was involved in a single-car accident on Hwy. 34 on Sept. 25 when her car left the road and struck a hydro pole, causing extensive damage to the vehicle.

Breathalyser tests taken by police showed blood-alcohol readings of 197 and 205.

In normal circumstances, an accident in drunk driving cases leads to stiffer penalties, but since Migneault's accident was at least partially caused by a tire blowout, no such measures were taken in this instance.

Drunk driving conviction

A 28-year-old man has been fined $750 after pleading guilty to an Oct. 19 drunk driving charge. Police stopped Douglas Spink near Williamstown.

Spink also loses driving privileges for 12 months.

Lancaster OPP obtained blood alcohol readings of 209 and 215 mg of alcohol/100 ml of blood from Spink on the night of the arrest.

Man pleads guilty

A 30-year-old Martintown man has been fined $650 following a Nov., 1990 arrest for drunk driving.

Brent MacDonald was arrested just outside of Martintown on Nov. 24 of last year after his pickup truck had gone into a ditch.

The court was told that the man had swerved off the road to avoid a deer.

MacDonald also loses his license for 12 months.

Air bags used to lift overturned tractor trailer

Air bags were used to lift a tractor trailer back on its wheels after it toppled Thursday on Highway 401.

Douglas Knapp, 31, of Brockville was driving a 1987 Western tractor towing a van-trailor off the ramp on Highway 34 merging west into Highway 401 at around 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 24.

While on the ramp, the trailer's load shifted from right to left, causing the vehicle to lose balance and flop on the highway blocking traffic on the driving lane.

Traffic was redirected onto Highway 2 while air bags were used to lift the truck between 6:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.

Knapp, who was treated at the Brockville General Hospital for minor injuries, was charged with carrying an insecure load.

The extensively damaged truck was towed to Gananoque.

Police briefs

Police have no suspects.

Loto tickets stolen

Misfortune struck the Lucky Dollar Food Store last week.

The Green Valley store was broken into at 4 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 24.

The back door was damaged and about $4,000 worth of goods were stolen, including 100 cartons of cigarettes and an unknown number of lottery tickets.

Police have no suspects.

Wall, roof burn

Alexandria firefighters got more than they expected when they arrived at a chimney fire last week.

Chimney fires rarely spread to other parts of a house, but when the Alexandria Fire Department's two trucks and 12 fire-fighters arrived at a fire on Chisholm Street in Glen Robertson shortly after 11 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 22, the fire had already spread to the roof and the house's west wall.

No one was injured in the blaze that required two hours and about 2,200 litres of water to extinguish.

Fire chief Gerald Charlebois said the fire may have been caused by a fault in the chimney.

Damages are estimated at $10,000. Homeowner Raymond Sauve was insured.

More hardware crime

Another tool shed was broken into.

About $950 worth of tools were stolen during a break-in at the Glengarry Golf Club on St. Paul Street in Alexandria sometime between 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24, and 8 a.m. the next day.

The door to a shed was apparently kicked-in and tools such as a chainsaw, a portable drill and a battery charger were stolen.

This was the third break-in in three weeks that involved theft of expensive tools and shop equipment.

About $5,400 worth of goods ranging from drills to propane tanks were stolen from a Dunvegan garage between Oct. 17 and Oct. 18, and another $300 worth of tools were taken from a shed in Lancaster between Oct. 11 and Oct. 14.

Boat, motor stolen

A customer has yet to return a $3,000 boat and motor he rented for a day more than a month ago, according to Winston MacIntosh, who owns Wimpey's Marina in Summerstown.

A customer rented for one day, a five-meter fiberglass fishing boat with an Evinrude 9.9 horsepower motor on Saturday, Sept. 28.

The boat and motor were not returned so MacIntosh reported them stolen to the Lancaster detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police on Wednesday, Oct. 23.

Police are investigating.

Youth charged

Alexandria police have charged a 16-year-old youth with possession of drugs.

The boy, who's name cannot be released under the Young Offender's Act, was carrying four-grams of a brown substance believed to be hashish.

Police Chief Paul Deveau said laboratory tests will be completed within the next two weeks to identify the substance. Charges will be dropped if the substance is identified as being legal.

Meanwhile, the boy's court appearance is set for mid-November.

If convicted, he can be sentenced for up to three years in jail.

Attempted break-in

Eight tractor-trailers were broken into near Summerstown last Tuesday, but the bulky cargo was too big to be stolen.

The seals to eight tractor-trailors parked at the Nesel Fast Freight lot in Summerstown were broken sometime between Oct. 22 and 23.

However, the sofas, tables, and dining room sets inside the trailers were not stolen. Police believe the items were not taken because the items were too big and heavy to carry.

There are no suspects.

Stolen car found

Police found a stolen car abandoned on Highway 417 last week.

The 1985 Chevrolet, owned by 29-year-old Yi Ying Li of Cornwall, was stolen in Montreal two weeks ago.

Ontario Provincial Police officers from the Maxville detachment found the car stranded on a shoulder of Highway 417 near Highway 138 at around 10 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 22.

Police have no suspects.

Two cars collide

Two cars collided in Alexandria after one car tried to make a U-turn.

Rolland Poirier, 73, of 45 St. Paul St. in Alexandria was driving a 1990 Oldsmobile west on Lochiel Street at around 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 26, when he tried to make a U-turn just before the Main Street intersection.

Leopold Quesnel, 52, of 111 Dominion St. S. in Alexandria was driving a 1988 Chevrolet north on Main Street and turned right on Lochiel Street where both cars collided.

There were no injuries but both cars were moderately damaged.

Police pressed no charges.

Signs vandalized

Three road signs in Kenyon were vandalized over the weekend.

Two road signs on Loch Garry Road near Masterson Beach Road were pulled from the ground and thrown into a ditch, while another sign was broken off and left lying on the ground.

The incident occurred sometime between Friday, Oct. 25, and Saturday, Oct. 26.

Editorials/Opinion

Legault retires as his dream comes through

It is entirely appropriate that Eugene Legault's retirement as the director of Glengarry Inter-Agency coincided with the opening of the crowning jewel on his term here — the Glengarry Child Care Centre in Alexandria. Legault has been a tireless defender of improving the quality of life for Glengarrians for all of the 15 years he has been with Inter-Agency, and the beautiful new child care centre reflects that commitment.

Certainly, it was a long time in coming. The day care people operated out of a church basement, and private residences for years — in fact came close to collapse many times. As was noted last week, Legault used his own brand of persuasion, charisma and lobbying to push for the funding needed towards the permanent day care at 260 Industrial Blvd. behind the Glengarry Sports Palace.

But the centre obviously is not the soul contribution Legault has made to the well-being of the community. The list of accomplishments were well brought out at the dinner in his honor last week. Among them, he was responsible in a major way for the Human Resources Centre, the Adult Protective Services, and while he modestly says the programs are not that difficult to get, in order to maintain them and to pay for them on an ongoing basis, Legault noted "you need the people. And I was very fortunate to have the people's support and watch the programs grow."

Fortunatelyy, he is being replaced by another familiar face, Jo-Ann Trottier, who has a proven track record as a businesswoman, and hard-working community volunteer. She no doubt will bring her own brand of doing things and they will be welcome.

Glengarrians can be proud of Inter-Agency and its array of programs. Eugene Legault induced that pride, along with an effective staff. He will be missed.

Know where your taxes go

This week, as candidates surface for public meetings around the county, there will be one overwhelming fact that will be lost on practically everyone who comes out to see and hear their choices for political offices — exactly where does all the tax money go?

Incumbent politicians and their challengers will be hard-pressed to answer that question in specific terms, but it really is the bottom line, especially in these hard economic times. Ratepayers should know where their money goes, but if nobody is asking the question, and if nobody is searching for financial material at their municipal office, it's very likely they'll be voting on a hope and a prayer.

Informed voters make for effective voting, and while politicians must take a certain amount of criticism for failing to open up their files to the public, voters should know that unless they ask, nobody's going to try to guess what they want to hear.

Be prepared. Know where your tax money goes, prior to Nov. 12. Determine if the people looking for your vote, know the same information. If they don't, perhaps they're not taking the whole exercise seriously. If they do, then, and only then, can a meaningful discourse of cutting taxes, waste and any other efficient fiscal management be discussed.

Save money, fix economy

The Alexandria and District Chamber of Commerce needs your help.

The chamber has taken a bold step this Christmas shopping season to keep people shopping in Alexandria, offering generous incentives if they do so.

It is sponsoring a coupon distribution campaign, one that also doubles for a draw for a grand prize sponsored by the chamber. Recipients of these coupons — virtually everybody in the county with a mail box — will be able to use the coupons to take advantage of discounts and become eligible for draw prizes.

Almost 30 merchants are participating in the promotion. These people, who have been hurt by the recession and cross-border shopping, are getting aggressive in their battle for the consumer dollar. But any efforts they make will only be as effective as the willingness of local shoppers to participate. The coupons will be distributed Nov. 15, so watch this newspaper for more details in the issue to come.

No purchase in any of these stores is necessary (this is a giveaway), but the chamber doesn't want to see the coupons thrown out when they're distributed, as is the habit with many of the flyers and circulars put into the county's boxes. Keep them, or give them to somebody else who can use them, and take advantage of this promotion, while assisting the local economy.

The sporting world's spirits take hold

After Thoughts

Joe Banks

If a modern-day collection of spiritual wisdom — a Third Testament — is ever written and left for the ages to ponder, there will doubtless be chapters devoted to that opium of the competitive masses, sports.

And somewhere within those chapters, authors would find it difficult to resist mentioning the 1991 World Series, and the captivating moments of drama that unfolded on the electronic bible, the television tube. Game 7, and indeed for much of the series, was one of the most exciting baseball matches played. Even Angus H. next door, who I suspect will mention his own views of the Series, was hard pressed to come up with a World Series memory that bested the one he witnessed this year.

It was quite a weekend for baseball fans of every loyalty, and even for those who reserve their diamond watching for October. It was a weekend that reminded me of the sporting force that possesses people, the secular pursuit that has made gods out of pitchers (Jack Morris) and martyrs out of once-bungling teams who finish last one year, and end up in the World Series the next.

But it wasn't just the World Series. It was also the effects of chance encounters this past weekend with connections to professional sports. There were no shortage of reminders of the depth and degree to which professional sports has pervaded our lives.

Tim Chevrier, for instance, has been a photographer covering our provincial newspaper association meetings every year for the last 14. His was a familiar and friendly face, and so when we sat down for the conference banquet on Saturday night, I was pleased Tim could join us.

What I didn't know, even knowing Tim for as long as I did, is that he is the son of Don Chevrier, one of Canada's best-known and respected sports announcers. He used to be known for his curling commentary on CBC, but more recently he's known as the voice of the Toronto Blue Jays for TV Labatt.

It was fascinating to listen to Tim talk about life with dad as a sports announcer, his likes and dislikes in the business, and his maturing profile in Canada's sports commentator hierarchy.

Yet I knew with some sense of Halloween spirit in the air, that other baseball spirits lurked about. Later, in a hospitality suite, I struck up a conversation with the son of the president of the national community newspapers association, Jim McNeill, who also happened to be an athletic therapist with the same Jays.

And what's it like working with a bunch of high-paid jocks like Joe Carter and Kelly Gruber? I asked the same question.

"They're really just ordinary guys," Kevin McNeill answered matter-of-factly. "They're always interested in what I've got to say and are fun to be around." He called Cito Gaston "the most gentlemanly guy I've ever met — very friendly, down-to-earth and classy."

And Joanne Pollack's presence added to the sporting atmosphere. Joanne, general manager of the Ottawa Roughriders, spoke to the delegates at lunch, and outlined to us all the isolated feeling she has as the sole woman professional football manager in North America. In a fraternity 100 per cent dominated by men, Joanne has made a foray, and after some amusing, and sometimes troubling, experiences, she is now respected as one of the leading marketers of Canadian football.

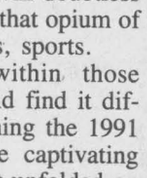
And on top of everything, I managed to get back from that conference in time to catch the final game of the World Series.

It was an appropriate ending to a weekend in which sports repeatedly kept an unusually — and accidentally — high profile.

Gambling just for the fun of it

News to me

Greg Kielec



Just about everyone in the area should now know about the gambling machine raids that recently took place in Alexandria. And it is a safe bet that if you have not heard, you probably will.

But are gambling machines all that bad? Supporters of the (recreation? sport? hobby?) could probably use the same defence as the gun lobby, although it may be a little tougher to get across in that context.

The slogan could go something like: Gambling machines don't lose money, it is people gambling with gambling machines who lose money.

You could go even further, borrowing from a popular comedian's version of the gun defense — guns don't kill people, it's those tiny little nasty bullets that kill.

The new phrasing would go something like: Gambling machines don't bilk people, its those tiny little gizmos inside that hardly ever stop at the right place that beat them for big bucks.

But most responsible, law-abiding citizens out there are probably asking yourselves as you read this little piece: What are the merits of a column on gambling machines? Is this something maybe we should be guarding from our children?

Well the decision to write this column was not made at the roll of a dice. In fact, if some people had played their cards right, I may not have decided to write this column at all.

But at the request of someone who shall remain anonymous, The News has been asked to write something a little more positive about gambling machines.

We should highlight their good side, show that gambling machines are not used for gambling — they are used for, let's say, amusement.

So, at the request of this anonymous person, I have composed a list of ways gambling machines can be used cleanly, legally and positively.

So here they are — and just a reminder, the first two positive attributes apply (for those not in the "know") to the games when they are actually used for amusement.

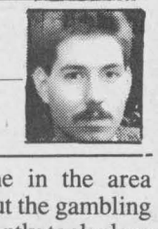
1. Watching tiny figures spin round and round has a therapeutic, almost hypnotic effect.
2. Pushing buttons provides great aerobic exercise for fingers (although not near as beneficial as Vegas style slot machines with their pull down handles providing great exercise to the whole arm — they're great to strengthen your tennis swing
3. (This is probably one attribute many people have not thought of) Their size and weight, combined with an authentic gambling machine look make them great door stops.
4. And this is the last one. (For lack of any other great usage ideas for these fine machines). Hey, people could be doing worse things with their time and money, like for example, donating it to a charity.

Not being a gambling — or gambling machine — fan myself, that's about the best I can come up with. I am sure there are many other positive attributes possessed by these machines. But I won't mention them.

Increase in candidates a good omen

That's Life

Lesley Cadham



The task of choosing who to vote for in the Nov. 12 election will be more difficult than in 1988, given the fact that there are about 50 per cent more candidates to choose from this time around.

This year, 64 candidates will vie for 28 available council positions on five councils (two councils have been acclaimed), as compared to the 51 men and women who sought placement on 32 seats in all seven councils in 1988.

This increase in contestants is a good sign. More people are getting involved, perhaps hoping that they can change things they find unsatisfactory in the operations of the municipalities. I'm not even going to try to guess why no one stepped forward to contest Lancaster Township's or Lancaster Village's council seats. The flurry of activity in Kenyon Township is enough to provide a diversion.

I almost dare not bring it up now that the dust has somewhat settled, but perhaps the issue of renovating the Kenyon Township Hall is the impetus that has led 11 township residents to run for five seats on council when only four people competed to become reeve and deputy-reeve in 1988. That was the year all councillors got on board by acclamation: No one else — no other ratepayers — despite the fury which surrounded the mushrooming hall dilemma, cared to let their name stand for election.

It was a confusing turn of events. But I guess it's human nature to rant and rave about how unhappy we are with council's performance, and then, when we are handed the golden opportunity to effect change we mumble, "Ugh, well, I'll be busy repotting all my philodendrons this year."

I'm pleased to see Blair Williams' name on the list of competitors, for he has been a strong and steady voice over the past few years. It would have been somewhat disappointing to find that none of the ratepayers who felt so free to complain would allow their names to stand once again.

Perhaps people are also beginning to realize that while effecting change at the federal or even provincial level is tantamount to scaling Mount Evarest with a spool of two-ply thread, municipal officials have the power right here, right now, to make

Glengarry nights

In the Glens

Angus McDonell

The Ottawa Glengarry Club is staging its annual heritage Celtic concert, Glengarry 91, at Nepean's Centrepoint theatre, Sat., Nov. 9. Due to the present uncertainty of mail service, we are presenting a resumé of the cast members in this week's issue of the Letter from Home.

The program committee has assembled talented entertainers representing Glengarry's traditions of music, singing and dancing that were brought from the Highlands more than two centuries ago and it is gratifying to note that those heritage customs revived by the reorganization of the Glengarry Highland Games 45 years ago prevail today with intensity and enthusiasm as never before.

This year, following the parting of the stage drapes, there will be a custom change in the opening number of the program. The ancient tradition of the entrance by the pipe band is being replaced by the Glengarry Gaelic Choir. It is a class innovation but not a first time of Gaelic at a Glengarry Night in Ottawa.

About 50 years ago, preceding the organization of the present Glengarry Club of Ottawa, there was a desire by a handful of Glengarrians residing in Ottawa, including this writer, to stage a Glengarry Night. We had three honorary patrons in Col. (Laggan) Franklin, Chief of Police "Dunc the Banker" McDonell of Glen Roy Road, and Col. J. A. Gillis of 2nd Lochiel. The sole survivors of the committee are Marguerite Kavanagh (daughter of "Katie Finlay Duncan) McDonell, 6th Kenyon, Murray MacQueen, Skye and myself.

A Gaelic song was a must, so Murray and I arranged with Myles Campbell, Laggan, Donald "The Farmer" McDonald, Glen Nevis, and Jim "Ranald Roy" McDonell, Alexandria, to assist us in fulfilling tradition.

The Gaelic trio roused the sparse crowd, in comparison to the present, by singing Mo Mighean Donn Bhoidene aided in arm-swaying rhythm by a secluded couple of "mickeys" in the water-box of the men's washroom (no bars in those days).

Ken and Anne McKenna, Kintail Farm, Glen Sandfield, are the founders of the Glengarry Gaelic Choir, both Gaelic scholars and ably-assisted on occasions by their daughters Jo-Anne and Sine, likewise Gaelic scholars. Veteran singer of Gaelic and Scottish ballads, Milton MacDonald, Lancaster, is also among the group that includes three noted singers of the younger generation — Marc Huot, Denis Roy, and Darrell MacLeod — all under the leadership of director Rev. Colin MacDonald, Church on the Hill, Alexandria. No doubt they will be acclaimed as they open the Glengarry 91 program.

The Glengarry Pipe Band and the MacCulloch Dancers will entertain by commemorating their professional talent as displayed during their recent booking at Disney World, Orlando. A feature number will be the step dancing by the four "Fred Astaire" boys: Blaine Darling, Blair Munro, Jamie Nichol and Ryan Benton. There will be step dancing by the girls as well.

The Glengarry Club of Ottawa dancers under the direction of Jill MacDonald will also balance this part of the program by their talents and grace.

There will also be an abundance of violin music while the Old Tyme Fiddlers and the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel entertain. Two veterans, Donaldson MacLeod and Finlay McDonell will play with both groups.

A program would not be complete without renditions by the Brigadoons. Needless to say the versatile Bob Taylor and his quartet will be on stage at intervals.

There will be well-known singers of past "Glengarry Nights" taking part. We recall Fiona Fraser, one night at the Arts Centre, who in our judgment gave a professional rendition and she will be back again. There will be Jackie Denovan and the veteran Morris quartet of Bill, Donnie, John and Cleary, a third generation of the family, with members of the fourth family generation waiting in the wings.

Letters

Townships reeves inaccessible

To the editor:

The municipal election is coming near, the Glengarry people hoping for better and gentle governing of the township affairs. The township governing might be the best but officials are unfairly unfriendly if you need them for any information. In all cases they use the answer "We have no authority to interfere in private property matters."

But the people living on private property have the right to vote for them.

If some problem arises you have no chance but to go to the township to see the noble secretary for advice.

But don't try to see the reeve, he (or she) is never available whatever your problem is. You can get an answer from President G. Bush in any letter to him, but not from the township reeve.

The township workers work with the environment people and the provincial taxation people to find ways to increase tax paid by the people. The people do not have one street light from Quebec border to Cornwall, and all the roads beside the St. Lawrence River are called private so that the township don't worry about them.

Secondly, the township destroyed all the properties along the river with pollution and waiting for the Nobel prize.

Michael Krauza

Candidate makes "a few corrections"

To the editor:

While I appreciate the coverage given by The Glengarry News to Maxville candidates in the upcoming elections, I would like to make a few corrections to your story.

First of all, I am pleased to be portrayed as running to stand up for the "little guys." I will certainly try to do that . . . but to be accurate, what I thought I told your reporter was that I wanted to make sure Maxville didn't get pushed around in issues like amalgamation and I wanted to make sure Maxville would get its fair share of funding (for programs such as high street revitalization) . . . two different points.

Secondly, I am no longer co-chair of the area waste management public liaison committee. I recently officially resigned, although in practical terms the PLC ceased to exist last March when the financial plug was pulled on it. In fact, one of the reasons I am running for municipal office is the "stone-walling" the PLC has encountered trying to deal with municipal politicians and provincial bureaucrats. The public is being treated like a group of "outsiders." I hope I can do more to address the public's concern with waste management from the "inside."

On the same subject, I am amazed at the number of closet environmentalists that have suddenly "come out," declaring their commitment to dealing with the problems of waste as their election platforms. My advice to voters is, check their credibility . . . what have they been doing for the last three years? Find someone who can prove they really care by their actions when there isn't an election.

My third correction is a minor one but important to the individual involved . . . my eldest child is 16.

Yours truly,
Michael Cowley-Owen

More independence, less politics

To the editor:

Please stop saving us!

You give us one with your left hand — and you take back two with your right (like OHIP).

Please get out of our wallets!

You pretend you know what's best for us while filling your own egos and pockets (like education).

But you don't know what's best for us.

Stop being our champion. We're not asking for it. And you're botching it.

When one per cent of the population — for example, the arts and culture types make noises, you build theatres and set up bureaucracies to administer grant systems and give licences to your friends (like TV licences) and brag about Canadian culture. Listen to the 99 per cent too.

Stop culturing us — and stop trying to be all things to all people. We're not that dumb — and now that we're almost states in the U.S.A., and we've been babied to impotence, and we are not living up to the potential of this blessed, rich Canada . . . try something different!

Stop legislating us to death — (like over-regulated site plans and zoning). We're objecting to being controlled by inexperienced experts — stop making silly laws and rules that require more silly laws and rules to administer and to provide exceptions for members of your gang (like oil, like Sunday shopping).

Get out of other country's affairs. Let's clean up our own act!

Show me how to fish, don't fish for me! And let me suffer if I don't learn right away. Stop protecting me. Stop your double-talk.

This is my final appeal to you. Do less — get out of my pockets — stop wasting my labor and potential — stop protecting me — stop pretending to be my savior — stop acting like you know what's best for me and others — stop blaming other levels of government. Be responsible. I feel like I am wasting my energy appealing to you. In future, my efforts will be directed to those who want to be free, who want to be creative, yes, even want to take their own risks to be right and wrong, to those who want less government, not more.

I give up on trying to change you and your bureaucracies. We'll see you at the polls!

Sincerely,
Stan Body.

Ontario's becoming a police state

To the editor:

Our MPP Noble Villeneuve deserves a laurel for recognizing the fact that Ontario is becoming a "police state"; "or if not that at least a heavily bureaucratic one" on CJSS morning news this month. This was said in reference to the closures of the land registry offices. Is there finally a light at the end of the tunnel?

In a letter to a Canadian premier, I wrote, "We have to stop this destruction of our country. It is almost a communist country under state control," i.e. police state. Which one of us called the shot on this gem of truth? My letter was dated November 29, 1989!

A year or so back, Mrs. G. MacPherson, Maxville, had republished a letter which she had written some twenty years ago in several local papers the News being one. It was titled "Steps to a Commie Revolution." It's worth another re-run editor, especially when one reads in an anti-communist magazine the following dated October 1/91. The Communist recruitment of idealistic students is sustained by the harvest of immorality that is being reaped in U.S.A. (Canada, World). This harvest includes crime, drug addiction, homelessness, child abuse, family breakdown, unemployment, illegitimacy, abortion, AIDS, racism and corruption. You won't have to look far to find examples of the above in your own community. Was that charter of rights and freedoms such a wonderful document? Is the Young Offenders Act so great after all? Or is our government just running wild without mandates from the people? Is it disguised Communism or "State" Control which is being unleashed upon us? Or is this the new chaotic "New World Order" visioned by man?

Mrs. MacPherson warned us and called all the shots hands down over twenty years ago. Not everyone wears blinders!

Muriel McCaskill

Candidates good omen

life a little more palatable for their constituents.

But it's also important for voters to realize how important their vote in the Nov. 12 election will be.

If you're anything like me, you've been cursing the GST, moaning about the recession and living in fear about what further havoc can be wrought by free trade. We signed petitions opposing the GST. The point was raised to the federal government that bringing in the GST in a recession would be detrimental. Free Trade is constantly blamed for the death of once-lucrative companies. And we feel helpless.

But the municipal level of government is the one where we don't have to feel powerless. It's close to home, geographically as well as emotionally.

Not only can we sit in on monthly or bi-weekly meetings, we can make ourselves heard (with 48 hours notice). We can ask for our roads to be paved, or our land to be re-zoned, or streetlights to be erected on our dark streets. We may not always get what we want, but we can get an audience.

And for the most part, our elected municipal officials are approachable. We can stop and chat if we happen to see them having coffee in the restaurant at the corner. We can call them up at home. Try that with Mr. Rae or Mr. Mulroney. Our elected municipal officials even come to our 25th or 50th wedding anniversaries and our 90th birthday parties. We can reach them.

When they come to your door in the next few weeks — if they've not already done so — ask them what they think needs changing in the township and ask them how they plan to bring about the change. Close the door if they tell you "Everything's great. Nothing needs changing," or that they plan to spend the next three years thinking about how to improve township operations.

Whoa. If I told you that if elected, I would move Glengarry to the tip of the Florida Keys, wouldn't you want to know how before you went to vote? Or would you happily agree to vote for me and rush out to buy all the summer clothing that's now on the 75-per-cent-off rack, in preparation for southern living?

Of course you wouldn't, but I think I've made my point.

We have left the youngest member of the program for the closing of our stint. Here we wish to pay tribute to Bruce Myers, a graduate of GDHS and a Glengarry News colleague of late. Bruce is blessed with several attributes especially with natural talent in journalism and radio that spells, with his character, a bright future and an outstanding career in his chosen profession. His initial venture as a soloist at Glengarry 91 adds to his prestige.

Finally another shade of a professional entertainment will be Max Keeping as emcee, and in the background, the organizing program skills and presentation by Lorne Lawson.

Lancaster residents satisfied, not apathetic

To the editor:

Your paper's editorial concerning our reeve and councillors being "acclaimed" was a worthy comment.

Reeve Charles Sangster and our council have kept our taxes down, our roads properly graded, and blacktopped, our ditches clean and cut, and our roads plowed and salted in the winter. They have obviously done these things well while still managing to become involved with a major project in (their half) of Green Valley.

What else can we ask for?

I wonder if "acclaiming" a municipal council means The Glengarry News misses out on an expensive ad campaign by this council?

Yes, we're satisfied. No we are not apathetic.

Sincerely,
Jack Danaher,
Bainsville, Ont.

Alexandria proceeding with waste agreements

By Greg Kielec
News* editor

Council has passed a bylaw authorizing the town to enter into an agreement with a number of area municipalities for the disposal of recyclables at Alexandria's recycling plant.

But the town still has not received an official guarantee that a much-needed increase in provincial funding will be forthcoming to offset the cost of upgrading the town's recycling operation.

The bylaw passed at a meeting last Tuesday allows the town to enter into recycling agreements with the townships of Kenyon, Charlottenburgh, Cornwall, Russell, Osnabruck, West Hawkesbury, East Hawkesbury and Longeuil, the villages of Casselman and L'Orignal, and the towns of Hawkesbury and Vankleek Hill.

Councillor Fern Seguin, chairman of the town's environment committee, said the town has still not received official approval for extra funding it requested from the province to buy equipment and pay for its new recycling plant.

But he has been told the funding will be available and that the town should go ahead with the agreements with surrounding municipalities, he told council members.

He said he has been assured "not quite 100 per cent" that the town's request for extra funding will be approved. He said the funding will be announced by the deputy minister of environment or Ontario Minister of Environment Ruth Grier, herself.

It has been estimated between $1 million and $1.5 million in extra funding will be needed by the town to pay for the Industrial Drive recycling plant and new recycling equipment.

The Crevier family had its annual family bowling tournament on Oct. 13 at the Alexandria Lanes.

Ladies winner was Linda Theoret in the high single, 236; men's winner was Martin Crevier in the high single, 247. Ladies winner for high triple was Chantal Henri with 523 and men's high triple winner was Guillaume Decoste with 625.

Visiting from Hamilton, Ont. were John Paul and Rita Crevier and their son Paul with his wife Dawn Crevier.

The day was topped again this year by a supper at the Green Valley BBQ restaurant.

The Mount Carmel House Auxiliary held its annual meeting Oct. 21. The newly-elected officers are President E. H. Tourangeau, past President Aline Gormley, first Vice-President Kathleen McNaughton, second Vice-President Hilda Macdonald, Recording Secretary Theresa Quinn, Corresponding Secretary Celia Kehoe, Membership Rose Leroux, Public Relations Aline Gormley and Historian Marcelle Laporte. The guest speaker was Marc Lalonde from Alexandria. He is the president of the board of directors of Mount Carmel House. He gave an update on their present status.

A plaque was presented to E.H. and Rita Tourangeau in recognition of their years of service to the auxiliary and to congratulate them on the occasion of their recent 50th wedding anniversary. The auxiliary will hold its next meeting at 8 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 18 at Mount Carmel House. Anyone wishing a rewarding commitment is welcome to attend and join the membership.

* * *

E. H. and Rita Tourangeau were visited by their daughter Rosemary and husband Robert Drummond this past weekend. Grandchildren Jason and Katryna were there also to their grandparent's delight.

A group of Alexandria Line Dancers entertained the Brown House Circle at the October meeting. Dancers included Aime and Lorette Viau, Evariste and Rollande Decoeur, Marcel and Rita Bourbonnais, Omer and Florence Claude, Raymond and Delores Asselin, Henri Brabant, Lionel Glaude, Rene and Yvette Menard, Francoise Lefebvre and Jeanette Crevier. After a few lessons several of the circle joined in the lines and all enjoyed the whole afternoon very much.

* * *

Sixty members of the circle were present for the noon luncheon and in addition to the dance program played darts, bean bag toss and euchre. The 50-50 draw winners were Lillian MacDonald, Serge Dreimanis, Ann McDonald, Rita Freund, Isobel Kemp and Evariste Decoeur.

Betty McDonald is heading a local history project and she is distributing a questionnaire for the farm and home owners to complete. Serge Dreimanis recalled that one of the dancing group members, Lionel Glaude, had sold him his property on Glen Roy Road back in October 1967.

On Nov. 14 there will be a bus trip to the annual Chrysanthemum Show in Ottawa at the Central Experimental Farm. For lunch everyone may enjoy it at a place of their choice at the Byward market and finish with a little shopping. For more information please call Huetta at 525-2229 or Serge or Betty at 347-2353.

Effective Nov. 2 the recycling depot located on the grounds of the St. Raphael's Parish Hall will be open only on Saturdays from 10 to 12 a.m. Everyone in the community interested in recycling may bring CLEAN newsprint tied in 10 to 15 lb. bundles. Glossy magazines and flyers will not be accepted. No glass, plastic or cans.

The next Brown House Circle meeting will be held on Nov. 6 at 11:15 a.m. A lunch of sandwiches, baked goods, coffee and tea will be served at 12:15 p.m. followed by a bingo game with cash prizes and a 50/50 draw will be held. Everyone in the community is welcome.

Halloween eggs can be harmful

Eggs are popular weapons among youths executing their nocturnal All Hallow Eve schemes. But OPP Staff Sgt. Jim McWade of the Lancaster detachment says eggs can be harmful.

''A lot of people do not realize that an egg thrown at a person can cause bodily harm.''

He said broken egg shells can puncture an eye or get into an ear.

''And an egg thrown at a car can scratch the paint. It's similar to throwing a stone.''

McWade said although such activities are not widespread during Halloween night, police are not taking any chances.

Police will have more patrollers out all night.

He added: 'If an offence has been committed, they will be dealt with.''

Alexandria police will also be taking extra measures Halloween, but Police Chief Paul Deveau is not expecting any major incidents.

Everyone helped make Cafe-chantant a big success

ESRG News
Nicole Jeaurond

Here is the news from ESRG for this week.

The EOCIV (élèves ontariens contre l'ivresse au volant) tee-shirt campaign is officially over, but you can still buy one. Just see a member.

* * *

On Thursday, Oct. 24, our spectacular Café-chantant took place in the school's cafeteria. Before the largest audience ever, some students and teachers sang, some displayed their musical talent, some did all the necessary ''technical work,'' and others served doughnuts and coffee. In other words many people cooperated to make this evening a huge success.

* * *

On the morning of Oct. 23, the singer Gilles St-Hilaire, presented a super show to the students of ESRG. He was able to ''charm'' many girls . . . I wonder why? The show was made possible thanks to the school's ''comité animation pastorale.''

* * *

Franco-Soleil, the ESRG cultural group, has a surprise planned for you on Nov. 1. Bring your membership card! If you haven't bought one yet, do so today by seeing a member.

* * *

October 28-29-30 are three very special days for some 22 students. These lucky scholars are participating in a leadership camp taking place at the ''Notre-Dame de la Rouge Centre'' in Calumet, Quebec. Hope you have fun!

* * *

During March break, 1992, students have the opportunity to travel across France. There is room for a few more applicants, so if you are interested, contact Mr. Lessard.

* * *

On Friday, Oct. 25, on our football field, the Cornwall Optimist Wildcats, who have nine players from Glengarry, took on a team from Brockville. The weatherman cooperated perfectly and both schools were allowed out to see the game. After all the years without football, it was a real treat and brought some nostalgic memories to some of the older people.

* * *

And speaking of older people, the student council is organizing a Halloween theme day: Woodstock, the great music event of the 60's. So on Halloween day, come to school dressed as a hippie and participate.

* * *

Our improvisation team played in Hawkesbury on Oct. 24. Unfortunately it fell to Embrun and Hawkesbury. Nevertheless congratulations for the team spirit and for a great effort! Better luck on your next match in Plantagenet next month.

* * *

That's the news for this week, until next time, have fun!

Optimist Club news

There were 109 costumed youngsters plus their parents and siblings at a Halloween party held Saturday afternoon at the recreation centre. They were entertained with games, contests, and skits and demonstrations of safety tips for Halloween night. There were 12 costume prizes in different age categories, a coloring contest with prizes for each school grade and three pumpking decorating prizes. Sue Poirier was emcee for the afternoon.

The Optimist Club had help in providing prizes from a variety of local businesses.

An adult costume party for Optimists and their friends in Zone 6 will take place at the Sacred Heart parish hall on Nov. 2. Costumes are not necessarily required but . . .

* * *

The Glen Robertson Optimists have been busy with inter-club visits in which they share ideas and maintain friendships. On Oct. 13 they visited the Dalkeith club. On Oct. 20, Alexandria visited them, and on Oct. 27 they were visited by the Green Valley group.

New members joining the club this fall are Elizabeth McDonell, Rejeanne Decoste, Gilles Pilon, Carol McDonald, Louise Carriere, Joanne Sauve-McDonald, Claire Theoret and Colette Sauve.

Annual convention draws 320 members

Glen Sandfield
Lorna Chapman
874-2408

Three hundred and twenty WI members registered for the 76th annual convention of the Eastern Ontario WI at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology on Oct. 22. Many area women wee in attendance for the event. Since this was the first one-day convention, there were quite a few changes, many things were either shortened or omitted altogether. For instance, the memorial service was general for all deceased members, no names mentioned.

A reading, poem, the presentation of a flowering plant and prayer comprised the ceremony, most tastefully led by the ladies of Stormont district. Bill Pernell, professor of science brought greetings from the college and a warm welcome to the women.

Provincial President Peggy Knapp spoke with great sincerity about the WI's goal in the community. "We aren't a social club," she stated, "we were founded in a time of tragedy, a war, and began by meeting the needs of others.

"Servicemen were fed and housed by housewives, these sons of other mothers far away. When our founder's son died due to impure milk, Mrs. Hoodless worked to see that women of her day might learn how to prevent such occurences, by having access to pertinent information.

"She found a voice and champion in Erland Lee, who helped her Women's Institute be heard, and his connection was invaluable for her as women of that time were not to become involved in causes. Her place was in the home."

At one time the WI was a branch of the home economics division of the government; but not so today. WI must speak with a unified voice, on issues important to all, but especially to women.

Where do we find that voice? In the branches, where members meet regularly to consider resolutions, to propose and submit them to the government. This is but one aspect of the branch WI meeting however. If women are silent, who will speak out when the children are hungry?

At the provincial level, WI is in partnership with the government concerning women's issues, the environment, the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, health, taxation as it applies to women, and through these contacts, the minister gets to know what women are saying.

WI provides speakers on leadership on breast feeding, waste management; and last year was dedicated to the environment project. She closed by asking how good a car would be if you took out the motor, the sparkplugs, fuel pump, and spread all the parts around.

It would be pretty useless in that state, all agreed.

But assemble them, motor, plugs, fuel pump into a car and it works. Just like any organization, if it pulls together, everything fitting into its perfect spot, then like a well oiled machine it serves its real purpose, it works.

Many programs are in the planning for 1992. One is in community caring and sharing; we try to meet the needs of different women in WI, and new memberships must be a priority. A book Golden Thoughts, Silver Words and a Nickel's Worth of Stories is one project. It will have 192 pages, be printed on recycled paper, come in two colors, blue and gold and the paper will be acid free. When complete, it could cost about $8 and there will be 2,000 copies printed. Branches should be contacted soon about this.

A reminder that the Royal Winter Fair will be having November 7 as lady's day. They expect to have 137 quilts on display from the Cad'n Quilters. Previous history books are desired to exhibit, and will be returned.

Chesterville WI celebrates its 90th year on June 23, 1992. It has cookbooks for sale at $6. Banners have been requested for 1997. Kemptville celebrates its 75th anniversary this year. Keith McChristian RAF of Moncton County stated that WI should be proud of its enthusiasm, postiveness and growing importance.

Next year the group voted for another one-day convention. It will be on Oct. 22, at Crysler, (it's in the northwest corner of Stormont). There will be coffee, lunch and buffet supper for $16.50. Three resolutions passed, one lost, but it is to be resubmitted after being reworked.

Newborn babies need booties, mitts and bonnets in Durban, Africa, and patterns are available. Margaret Monro stated in her letter that in the Creche outside Durban there are two outside toilets only, but no doors. The small industries are candle making and some sewing. Classes for seamstresses could start if they had some more sewing machines. One costs 1,000 rams (about $160 Canadian). A collection was taken and $364 raised for them, that's the price of two machines.

The after-banquet guest speaker was a wonderful lady who called herself a "Missionary of Laughter." Marjorie Mann proved that she really was what she claimed to be, as she told story after story, keeping her listeners enthralled and holding their sides. An elderly lady, she suffers with chronic arthritis, has had knee surgery and has difficulty walking. But she swept everyone up in her high spirits and good humor.

She remarked that she is one year older than the Canadian Navy. She serves on many committees and has received the senior citizen's achievement award. Never has an evening passed so quickly, as she related some of her huge collection of jokes. Everyone deemed the one day convention to be a great success and look forward to next year's meeting in Crysler.

Lorna Chapman and Shelah Paterson attended a CWC table hostess recognition meeting in Lachute on Friday, Oct. 25. The CWC has decided to make this an annual event.

A MESSAGE TO PUBLIC SCHOOL SUPPORTERS OF ROXBOROUGH TOWNSHIP, VILLAGE OF MAXVILLE

Dear Friends,

For over 20 years I have taken an active role in education, and the past three years it has been my pleasure to represent your interests as Trustee on the SD&G County Board of Education.

I want you to know that I am actively seeking re-election, and would appreciate your support on November 12th.

Because campaign literature will only add to our landfill sites, I have decided to contribute to the Research Institute of the Childrens' Hospital of Eastern Ontario, and limit my campaign to a few Newspaper Ads. I hope that this meets with your approval.

M.H. "LUSIA" JASIEWICZ

All electors want to know where each candidate stands. Here are a few key points in my platform.

I want

1. To establish ONE SCHOOL BOARD for all SD&G
2. RESPONSIBLE SPENDING of your Tax Dollars
3. An INTEGRATED BUSING SYSTEM to reduce spending
4. REASONABLE CLASS SIZES for QUALITY Classroom Instruction
5. EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES in Education for Rural Students
6. To say NO to the modified school year which would keep your child in school year round.

Sincerely,
Lusia Jasiewicz

The students at Ecole St. Joseph in Lancaster enjoyed their own Thanksgiving-style dinner right at school recently. Mrs. Pierrette Rose provided enough beans to feed the entire school. Teachers and students also shared their homemade delights. The students and personnel paused to say a word of thanks to the Lord for their many blessings.

In conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, the students of pre-Kindergarten, Kindergarten, and Grades 1 and 2 visited Lancaster Fire Department. Fireman Richard Leger effectively adapted his presentation to the wide-eyed students.

They enjoyed the thrill of sitting in a real fire truck, listened to the shrill sound of the siren as well as wearing a fireman's impressive helmet. Mr. Leger also seized the opportunity to give a sound lesson on fire prevention and safety.

The Community Protestant Church rented a van in July in order to transport eight members to the second annual conference of the Congregational Christian Churches in Canada which was held at the University of Waterloo. Three great days spent in worship and fellowship at a truly beautiful spot.

Other events that members attended during the summer months are as follows. Each month, along with friends, they visit Chateau Gardens in Lancaster, for a hymn sing and, this summer, they took their ministry to the Sandfield Place in Cornwall also.

They hosted a birthday party for the June celebrants at Chateau Gardens and will be happy to visit any who enjoy the message of the Gospel in music.

Believing that fellowship within the congregation is important, a barbecue was held in June and a picnic at Glengarry Park in September. A whopping big grocery and produce delivery went to Baldwin House at Thanksgiving as a result of the weekly contributions, and thanks is extended to all in the area who are putting their old eyeglasses into the box at Main's Home Centre.

The Cornwall Lions Club is happy to receive this support from Lancaster and area. October also saw Margaret Dempster and Sheila Urquhart attend the Ladies Fall Rally for the Central Region of Congregational Christian Churches in Canada which was held in Keswick. This particular church is celebrating its 170th anniversary this year. The theme address, ''Treasures in Clay Pots'' was delivered by Mrs. Faith Crosby of Newmarket and was relevant to every woman there.

The third anniversary congregational supper was held at Smithsfield Hall on Oct. 18 and an evening of games and laughter followed a delicious meal prepared and served by friends, Allison and Judy. Weekly Bible studies have resumed and any who wish to attend will be made most welcome.

There are a couple of events being planned for the coming months which will be elaborated on in the next few weeks. An evening of Gospel music is being planned for a Sunday in November as well as a Christmas Goodie Sale and a partyy for seniors in December.

Seniors are cordially invited to attend a special Christmas party on Friday afternoon, Dec. 13, at Lancaster Legion — time to be announced.

Following morning worship on Oct. 20, the congregation was happy to witness the re-affirmation of the marriage vows of Walter and Sylvia Pilkington on the occasion of their 48th wedding anniversary.

Members and visitors are reminded that morning service on Nov. 10 will be held at 9:30 a.m. in order to facilitate attendance by Legion members at the Cenotaph service in Williamstown.

Obituaries

James Robert McLaughlin

James Robert McLaughlin passed away at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Cornwall, on Tuesday, October 15, 1991 at the age of 79.

Mr. McLaughlin resided at 1038 Donihee St., Cornwall and served his country in World War II with the RCAF as an air navigator. He was a successful farmer and the former owner of the Brown House Store near St. Raphael's. He was the son of the late Mary Williamson and the late George P. McLaughlin.

He was the beloved husband of Florence MacDonell and father of Brian, Ronald, Maureen (Mrs. Andy Martel), Sheila, Verna (Mrs. Garry Filion), Jean (Mrs. Daniel Joyal), all of Cornwall; dear brother of John (Jack), Green Valley, Duncan of Kirkland, Quebec. Ten grandchildren mourn the loss of a loving grandfather.

He was predeceased by a son Alan, brother George, and sisters Dorothy, Margaret and Mary (Mrs. Hugh McCormick).

The funeral was held at 11 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 18, at St. Raphael's Church. Monsignor D. B. McDougald officiated at the Mass of the Resurrection, assisted by Rev. Thomas Villeneuve, p.p., St. Mary's, Williamstown. Interment was in St. Raphael's cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Ian McCormick, Andy Martel, Micke McLaughlin, Garry Filion, Philip McLaughlin and Armile Richer.

Christena McCuaig

Mrs. Christena McCuaig passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, Ont. on Tuesday, October 15, 1991 in her 82nd year.

Mrs. McCuaig was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McArthur.

She was married to the late Neil J. McCuaig, formerly of Dalhousie Station, Que. She is survived by a sister-in-law Sarah McCuaig of Montreal.

Funeral services were held on Thursday, Oct. 17 at the Kaye Funeral Home with the Reverend Roy Gellatly of St. Giles Presbyerian Church, officiating.

Burial was in Highland Park Cemetery.

James Alfred Rigby

James Alfred Rigby died peacefully at his residence in Alexandria on October 11, 1991. He was 83 years of age.

Born in Sheffield, England, a son of the late Edward John Rigby and Mathilda Stoner.

Mr. Rigby is survived by his loving wife of 58 years Mary Jane Kelly, and by sons John (Phyllis Best) Saint John, N.B., George, Apple Hill, Richard (Joan MacGregor) Dalkeith, daughters Doreen (James Fielding) Hamilton, Jane (Jean Carbonneau) Montreal, Susan (David Willis) Sharbot Lake, Sandra (Roger Quinn) Kingston. Also surviving is a sister Mildred Bingham, Yorkshire, England, 20 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

He was predeceased by a son Donald James.

The funeral was held at 10:30 a.m. on October 14, at the Church on the Hill, where the service was led by Rev. Colin MacDonald. Tommy Acton, a dear family friend, gave the eulogy and granddaughter Lorraine Rigby played a beautiful composition of her own, as well as Amazing Grace on the organ. Interment was in Maxville cemetery.

Pallbearers were grandsons: James Fielding, Bryan Rigby, Keith Rigby, Randy Willis, Curtis Rigby and son-in-law David Willis.

IMPROVE THE pH...
AND POTASSIUM LEVEL
OF YOUR SOILS

ALL AT ONCE
WITH TUBREX

WHAT IS TUBREX?

TUBREX is a cement kiln dust by-product. In the cement manufacturing process, kilns are constantly fed with very finely ground stone dust. Once in the kilns, this dust or flour is gradually brought up to temperatures as high as 1700°C. As a result, alkalis (potassium, calcium and sulfur) are transformed into gases, which, upon cooling, form a very fine dust rich in potassium, calcium and sulfur. The product is then agglomerated using water and heat to form a heterogeneous mixture of granules and dust that facilitates its transport and spreading.

The product, once regranulated, constitutes a natural, environmentally safe calcium-potassium soil improver of great agricultural value.

TUBREX FEATURES

—Rich in potassium, in the form of potassium sulfate (1 metric tonne contains over 100 kg of actual potassium)
—High calcium and sulfur content
—Very finely ground (99.3% passes through a 325 mesh sieve)
—More rapid and longer lasting effect on soil PH
—Also contains trace elements (zinc, copper, manganese and molybdenum) required for plant growth
—Increases soil fertility
—Increases fertilizer efficacy
—Reduces fertilizer costs

Every seat but the reeve's up for grabs in Lochiel Township

Each week between now and the election of Nov. 12, The Glengarry News will profile the candidates running for all positions in the municipalities in the county. This week, we highlight Lochiel Township.

GLENGARRY DECISION '91

Two long-time Lochiel Township council members will vie for the seat of deputy reeve, the highest position still available on council in the Nov. 12 municipal election.

While it looked like Ron MacDonell, reeve for the past nine years, would also be challenged, contenders withdrew their names from the race for reeveship and MacDonell has been acclaimed.

A would-have-been contender, incumbent Deputy Reeve Jean Lucien Larocque, appointed to the position in 1987 after the death of deputy reeve Alex MacDonald, will face off with Maurice Montpetit who has been a councillor for the municipality for 12 years. Larocque has served on council for nine years.

For Larocque, a 63-year-old who lives two miles west of Glen Robertson, the township's roads are a priority, as is getting the most out of the dollars the township has to spend. He says that though the roads system has "improved 100 per cent in the last 10 years" and that he has received favorable comments regarding the roads, it's still important to continue upgrading them and looking at ways to spend the roads dollars wisely.

The semi-retired dairy farmer and father of three boys and two girls is a founding member of the Glen Robertson Optimist Club, vice chairman of the Glengarry Sports Palace board of directors and a "devoted" member of St. Martin of Tours Church in Glen Robertson.

Larocque says he believes in "honest, down-to-earth reasoning when decisions are to be made" and that "the dollars should be spread evenly across the township."

"I feel quite comfortable with what I've done, with what my intentions are," says Larocque, who has remained in the electoral race despite the fact that recent surgery will prevent him from door-to-door campaigning.

Montpetit, 68, has earmarked improved waste disposal measures as one of two critical issues he believes are facing Lochiel Township. Though he has no firm plan for a new system, he says he's aware that "things are catching up to us. Our dump sites are filling up every week and we don't know what to do with it."

Montpetit also places planning and zoning on the list of priorities for the municipality. He believes something has to be done to encourage more construction, which would in turn mean a better tax assessment, and subsequently more dollars to put back into improving the township. Among important recipients of more dollars would be the roads system, he says.

A retired carpenter who lives a mile east of Glen Robertson, Montpetit is husband to Florence and father to Nicole and Norman.

He has served on the Glen Robertson recreation board for about 20 years, is a member of St. Martin of Tours Church in Glen Robertson and has been a member of the Glen's Club 65 for about seven years. In addition, he has been a member of Alexandria's La Fraternite for about seven years and is in his third year as member of the Bowling Club.

Councillors

Five contenders will seek election to the three councillors' seats and these people include incumbents Peter MacSweyn and William Hagen. Armand Paquette and Danny McIntee, both contestants in 1988, will again seek election. Phyllis Noble is a newcomer.

Peter MacSweyyn, elected for his first term in Lochiel Township council in 1988, is a McCrimmon area resident and retired patrol supervisor for the Ministry of Transportation. He now raises beef cattle.

The municipality's roads system is a priority to MacSweyn, tantamount in importance to protecting the landfill site and relaxing some zoning bylaws.

He wants to keep pressing for more money for the roads system, and to be ready to make a move when the local waste management master plan has been completed. He says that though there is an increased load of waste and increased pressure by the Ministry of the Environment to operate the dump at high standards, "there is no way the township could go on their own" in a new waste management project.

Regarding zoning bylaws, MacSweyn says they're "pretty tight" and need to be more flexible. He wants to be able to allow landowners to build houses on agricultural land that is not appropriate for farming.

MacSweyn, 65, is a member of Kirk Hill United Church, is married to Tina and has five children: John, Wayne, Bobby, Elizabeth and Eric.

William Hagen also cites waste management as a critical issue facing Lochiel Township, along with getting "the best value out of the tax dollar . . . spend money wisely. Don't overspend on needless projects."

He wants to see recycling encouraged, by trying to implement a recyclable waste collection mechanism and finding a place for the depot and a company to accept the waste. He believes the project should begin on a small scale.

Thirty-six-year-old Hagen, who has served on council since January, 1989 after the resignation of Ernie MacMillan and previously for eight months in 1988 after the death of George Fulton, is a dairy farmer east of Glen Robertson.

He is also president of the Glen Robertson Social Centre board of directors, has been vice-president of the Glengarry Federation of Agriculture for two years and a member of the federation for five years. He is married to Carmelle and has four children: Eric, Jeff, Anik and Josee.

Phyllis Noble says she saw the list of people running in the election and found the same names as had appeared in past elections. She says there is no one issue she would be fighting against or for, but that she believes it's time for a change: "A good time to put a new voice on council."

Noble has also cited recycling as an important issue and says she wants to see recycling promoted, a tactic she believes has been lacking on council.

"Who wants the next Lochiel dumpsite near them? Somebody's always protesting the establishment of a dump site," she says. Recycling is very simple and "we can do something but people need to be educated," she says.

Noble is also concerned about senior citizens and wants to make sure services to the elderly, such as Meals on Wheels, are maintained.

A wife to Howard and mother to Brenda, Noble has been a Red Cross homemaker for seven years. She is also completing a term as official board secretary for the United Church of Canada, a position she has held for five years and was involved in various courts of the United Church, in an official capacity, from 1975 to 1990.

She has also been involved in other aspects of the United Church over the years, and was very active in United Church Women (UCW) before joining the Red Cross. In addition, she has been a campaigner for the Heart and Stroke Foundation for five years and served on the Laggan School Committee when it was developing its program to help parents identify children in the event that they are abducted or lost.

Noble operates a cash crop farm with her husband at the seventh concession near Dalkeith.

Danny McIntee is also concerned about maintaining services such as Meals on Wheels, a program he says he and wife Ruby launched in Lochiel Township.

McIntee, a 57-year-old Glen Robertson resident says "I could offer them quite a bit. I've been around here all my life. I was a farmer at Laggan for 15 years and I know mostly everybody back that way."

McIntee owns an automotive garage and has three children, Kim, Kelly and Karen.

Giving Lochiel Township contractors a chance to do work for the municipality when the need arises is Armand Paquette's biggest concern. He also lists getting the most for the tax dollar as a priority.

"When I spend a dollar, I like to get the value of a dollar. I'm concerned about taxes. There must be a way to slow down expenses," says Paquette, 58.

A resident of Lochiel Township's 3rd concession for 12 years, he has been a mechanic for Trottier Ford for 10 years. He is married to Majella and has five boys and two girls.

For many years, he was involved in the Vaudreuil-Soulanges Minor Hockey Association and coached minor hockey for 20 years. He has also been a member of the Dorion Knights of Columbus since 1956 and was a warden for his church in Terraces Vaudreuil for many years.

Building a home in Lochiel Township and working full-time forced him to cut back on some volunteer work, he says.

Well I feel a lot better now that the tea and bazaar at St. Andrew's United Church is behind us for this year, once again. Trying to get all the crafts done that you thought might add to your craft table, enough baking for your share of the bake table and something to eat at the tea, can be very stressful for an old gal.

We had a lovely and successful day and if you missed the delightful blueberry cheesecake or chocolate swirl, oh well!

Many thanks to Karen Runions for lending us her dollhouse. Marion McCuaig had furniture that fit very well and Sylvia Thomson and Marion arranged mice all over the place. But even with all those mice, brave ladies and gents came hither and yon, and stayed with us a while.

The big mice door-stops that were graciously donated by Peggi Birch for door prizes, were won by Phyllis Fourney from Cornwall, and Wendy Poirier of Martintown.

Many get well wishes go out to Jean McIntosh on a speedy recovery after surgery on her knee. From what I hear she is coming along fantastically and sent over her baking for the tea and bazaar and also sent along an order for pickup.

The following are Martintown Good-timers winners of the last euchre:

Ladies, first — Rita Seguin of Maxville and second — Anne Lalonde of Cornwall and third — Gladys Barton of Vankleek Hill.

Men, first — John McMaster of Laggan, second — Howard Eamon of Morrisburg and third — Matt Maloney of St. Andrews. Door prize was won by Joe O'Keefe of Bonville.

Share the Wealth: Nancy Colbran of Apple Hill, Onagh Ross of Martintown, Mac O'Byrne of Maxville and Stennetta Lagroix of Cornwall. Next euchre is in three weeks time, Nov. 14 at 1:30 p.m. at the Community Centre.

The Martintown Good-timers is an organization of area seniors aged 50 and over who meet in their room at the community centre approximately once a month from September to June, to plan activities.

The activities they have going at the present time are euchre every second and fourth Thursday of the month at 1:30 p.m., a Camera Club every second Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m., exercise classes Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 9:30 a.m. and bridge games on Monday afternoons at 1 p.m.

The group organizes the bake table at the annual Community Centre Craft Sale. The response from the community is good and all the proceeds go to the maintenance of the centre.

Several members have given of their time and energy, so that the cost of cleaning the centre could be reduced. Donations have been been given toward kitchen supplies, and an annual donation is also given to the volunteer firemen.

The Good-timers also support a foster child in Ecuador, a project they started four years ago.

An annual Christmas dinner is enjoyed by the members.

Marcella Lafave has just returned from what sounds like a most enjoyable three-week trip with her daughter Audrey and son-in-law John Deschamps of Arnprior.

Her journeys took her to visit two of her other daughters and their families. They visited with daughter Shirley Hamilton and grandson Gary in Calgary, (where they had snow) and with daughter Lois Cunningham and grandchildren Jody and Shane Grant and Shane's wife Gail in Nakusp, B.C. It sounds like they all had a great time. Then they were up to Revelstoke and on to Kelowna, B.C. Their trip home brought them through northern Montana where the temperatures were 65 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

Marcella has lived in Martintown 54 years, and she and her late husband Glenn, raised one son and six daughters in Martintown.

* * *

My next door neighbor, Jan and Rick Paquette, had the privilege of having a young couple stay with them overnight this week. They are Les and Ruth Isaacs from Liverpool, England, who have been travelling around the world on their bicycles for three and a half years. Les and Ruth went to school together in England and both had always dreamed about travelling around the world. Ruth was a physics professor but Jan can't remember what Les was working at before they started on the journey. They saved their money and three months after their marriage, off they went.

They found the heat of the desert melted their tires. They have gone through three sets of tires, and never take rides in any vehicles. They try to live on $7 each per day.

Their travels have taken them through Turkey, Hong Kong, Pakistan, camel trails in the desert, sheep farms in Australia. They came up the west coast from California to Vancouver, Aug. 1 weekend. They travelled through the Rockies to the Prairies.

They hit bad weather on the prairies, but for the most part, from what I gather the weather was great. Then on through Northern Ontario.

They have a tent with them, and they ask people if they mind if they pitch their tent on their property for the night, and they have found that 60 per cent of the people ask them into their homes, 30 per cent say they don't mind if they pitch their tent and 10 per cent say no, they can't pitch their tent.

But for the most part most people open their homes and give them a hot meal as well. Then they recommend a friend or relative they might know along the route they intend to take, that they could stay with.

When they were staying with friends in Sault Ste. Marie and said they intended to go to Niagara Falls, that is when Jan's father and mother in Burlington were recommended as good people to stay with. Then after staying in Ottawa for five days with friends they had met in the Rockies, they ended up in Martintown (on the recommendation of Jan's father) on their way to Montreal, Quebec, Boston, New York and on home to Liverpool. They are racing the clock right now trying to beat the onset of winter.

They found Canada very friendly, hospitable and beautiful. They enjoyed the Rockies, the Hutterites, the small villages, the Canadian people and the gorgeous colors of autumn.

Their parents have met up with them on two occasions since they left home. They have had to take jobs a couple of different times, when their funds run low. They were five months in Turkey and three months in Hong Kong.

When they get home they intend to write a book, then open up a private school, which will be in their home, to teach foreign adults and children coming to England, the language of course, but also customs and how to shop, take taxis and buses, etc.

I hope you found this as interesting as I did. See you next week.

Oh yes don't forget the Optimists will be out on the streets of Martintown from 6 to 8:30 p.m. on Halloween.

Char-Lan stops C-L

For three quarters the Char-Lan Crusaders senior girls basketball team had their hands full with the St.Lawrence Saints, but then some long-range bombing allowed the Crusaders to pull out a 58-37 win last Thursday.

The Saints tried to double- and triple-team Karen Arnott, effectively limiting the Crusaders' inside game.

As a result, Char-Lan opened things up as Arnott and Catherine Hodgins hit three-pointers to put the game out of reach.

''Those three-pointers killed us,'' said Saints coach Jean Roy. ''That just completely turned the game around.

''But I'm not discouraged. They didn't overpower us like they have other teams.''

Roy praised Arnott's play (''She's dangerous anywhere on the court,'' he says) but said the real difference between the two clubs was Char-Lan's supporting cast.

''They have some very good players. We do too, but they're still lacking in experience.

''I tell you what, that (Crusader guard) Cheryl Proctor is one hell of a player. I'd love to have her on my team.

''I really like her, but then again I've always had a soft spot for the little guy,'' said the smallish Roy.

One of the keys to the game going in was the match-up of Arnott with Saints star Shannon Burke.

Arnott outscored Burke 26-15, but even more significantly Sharon Huizinga, who was given the responsibility of guarding Burke, almost matched Burke's production herself when she scored 13 points.

''I've said this before but I think Sharon is the best defensive player in SD¿G. I have no bones about putting her on anyone, even a point guard,'' said Char-Lan coach Irv Francis. ''She did a great job today.''

For her part, Huizinga merely says that all the extra attention given to Arnott meant more scoring opportunities for her.

''They were double-teaming Karen inside which meant that I'd be open,'' she said.

Huizinga and Arnott both said they found it difficult to get on track, partly because the St.Lawrence crowd was making more noise than the hometown fans, and partly because the Crusaders haven't been given a serious challenge in recent games.

''It was hard at first today but we haven't played anybody in the last two weeks,'' said Arnott. ''Today's game was great, I wish we could play them more often.

''Against other (weaker) teams we just can't run any plays,'' she said, adding that the offense is rarely allowed to play at full throttle in games where a blowout is imminent.

On Tuesday against La Citadelle, the Crusaders were short-staffed as Huizinga missed the game because of the death of her grandfather, and Catherine Hodgins was under the weather.

Cheryl Proctor fouled out to further complicate matters.

It didn't matter much in the end, as Arnott scored 40 points to lead Char-Lan to a 57-46 family.

Amazingly, Arnott said she didn't feel she had a particularly good game, explaining that a bruised elbow prevented her from bending her arm.

If that's the case, high school basketball players will be easy to recognize this week; they'll be the ones banging their elbows on hard surfaces, hoping for the same injury that ''slowed'' Arnott.

Juniors sweep two

The Crusader juniors upped their record to 7-0 with wins over St.Lawrence and La Citadelle.

On Thursday, Char-Lan got 11 points from Cathy Pilon in a 52-30 win at home over the Saints.

On Tiesday, the Crusaders dumped the Patriotes 45-25.

Vicky Peacey, Katharine MacLachlan and Kelly Lariviere shared the Char-Lan scoring lead with nine points apiece.

Gaels rally, beat R-O

The Glengarry Gaels senior girls basketball team edged closer to the magic .500 mark last Wednesday with a 33-30 victory at home against the Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers.

The Lancers held the lead throughout most of the game but the Gaels, who now have three wins and four losses, took the lead with three-and-a-half minutes to go and held on for the win.

R-O led 24-20 entering the final quarter but Glengarry finally managed to thaw their ice-cold shooting in the fourth, outscoring their guests 13-6.

Wendi Lawson scored eight of her team's fourth quarter points and led Gaels scorers overall with 12 points. Carol MacLeod and Anne Cuerrier added five points apiece.

Ingrid Wells led the Lancers in scoring with nine points.

The Gaels had a shot to even their record at 4-4 yesterday when they were at Tagwi to play the Warriors.

Junior record drops to 1-6

The undefeated Rothwell-Osnabruck junior team wasn't about to let the junior Gaels get in their way on Wednesday, disposing of Glengarry early in a 46-22 win.

The Lancers jumped out to a 22-0 first half lead and then essentially exchanged baskets in the second half in posting their seventh win against zero losses.

Glengarry, more specifically Laura Urquhart and Ann McCuaig, found some offense during the half-time huddle to make the final somewhat respectable.

Urquhart had seven points while McCuaig led all Gaels scorers with nine.

Kelly Rombough was the top Lancer point-getter with 13.

The juniors were also in Avonmore yesterday to play Tagwi.

Gaels V-ball

The Glengarry senior boys volleyball team continues its .500 tendencies this season, splitting a pair of matches last Thursday at Seaway District High School.

The Gaels took three straight from the host Spartans, by scores of 15-7, 15-6 and 15-2.

Glengarry was in turn swept by the General Vanier Vikings 15-8, 15-13 and 15-2. Coach Jean-Yves Jeaurond said the GV match was one that Glengarry perhaps should have won.

The Gaels are now 14-14 this year.

The juniors were also at Seaway last Thursday as they dropped two of three sets to Seaway and GVSS.

Decoeur crowns Kings

A second period goal by Glengarry Insulation's Denis Decouer held up as the game-winner as the Monkland Kings were handed their first loss of the SD&G broomball season in Maxville on Sunday.

Playing without superstar scorer Steve Harps, Monkland, the first-place team in the West division, was held to a pair of opening period goals by Greg Cooper as they dropped their first game after four straight victories.

Gilles Decoeur and George Carriere also scored for Insulation, who are now 3-1-1 in league play.

It was an all-round bad day for first place teams as Fontaine Construction, who held first place in the East going into the weekend, were knocked off 6-2 by Bar Cottage, who now leapfrog into top spot.

Kevin Leduc and Gilbert Pilon each scored twice for Bar Cottage while Jean- Pierre Ranger and Alain Caouette rounded out the BC scoring.

Jean Lauzon scored both goals for Fontaine.

Meanwhile, King's Whitewashing seems to enjoy the taste of victory. After winning their first league game in two years last week, King's did it again, topping Ingleside Lanes 4-2.

Ingleside took a 2-1 lead late in the second period after Bill Pynenburg and Robert Wensink had exchanged goals earlier in the game.

King's then scored three times in the third to wrap up the win.

Wensink scored his second of the game in the final frame while Jeff MacLean and Benny Phillips scored the other goals for King's.

Don King registered a knockout punch against BMR when he scored the game- winning goal in a 2-1 Crites Excavation victory.

King netted the winner with less than four minutes left in the game.

Bob Cameron had tied the game three minutes before for Crites after Edward MacDonald had scored halfway through the third period for a shortlived BMR lead.

BMR remains winless after five games.

Finally, in the other Sunday match-up, Donald Dashney of Maxville Farm Machinery stifled Besner Construction's attack as Maxville won 3-0.

Maxville's scoring was provided by Norman Derepentigny, John Reddick and Robert Waldrof.

Dick's stones W&D

Dick's Paving Stone, Ernie's Cement and Brown House were the winners in week five of Alexandria and District Industrial Hockey League play.

Dick's 8 Glengarry W&D 2

Dick's Paving Stone got a pair of goals from Rob MacDougall and John MacSweyn in coasting to an easy win. Dick's led 6-0 after two periods.

Other scorers for the winning side were Dick Sauve, Wendell Lafave and J.R. MacDonald.

Ernie's 10 Legionnaires 5

Mike Lapensee scored four times as Ernie's doubled up on Alexandria Legion. Jean-Paul Claude and Roch Lajoie each had two goals and two assists for Ernie's.

Single markers went to Ralph Humphries and Claude Roy.

There were five different scorers for Legion with Mike Campeau, D.A. MacMillan, Steve MacMaster, Chris Kirady and Mike Kelly contributing a goal each.

Brown House 6 Decoste 4

A pair of goals by Todd Hambleton, including the winner with 8:33 left in the game, gave Brown House a two-goal win over Decoste Welding.

Richard Picard, Gerald Cholette, Michel Seguin and Gerry Blanchette were the other Brown House marksmen.

Joel Doiron was Decoste's top offensive gun with a goal and two assists. Gilles Gareau, S.Levert and Kelly Taylor also scored in a losing cause.

Rebels left in a daze after weekend losses

Char-Lan's two game mini-winning streak came to a screeching halt over the weekend as the Rebels lost three in a row to divisional opponents.

Two of those losses came at the hands of the Morrisburg Lions, who have leapfrogged over Winchester to hold down top spot in the St.Lawrence Division.

For Char-Lan, who had gotten off to a respectable 2-2 start by playing solidly in their own zone, it was a case of having the defensive walls collapse around them as they allowed 26 goals in losing the three games.

The nightmarish weekend started in Kemptville on Friday when Char-Lan was deep-sixed by the 73's by a score of 9-1.

Trevor McMillan was a moving target for Kemptville shooters all night as the 73's poured 60 shots at the beleaguered rookie. In the other cage, 73's netminder Peter Speziale faced only 24 Rebel shots.

Steve Regan led a parade of Kemptville scorers by netting a hat trick. Pete St. Jean scored with 8:40 left in the game to provide Char-Lan's only offense.

Coach Randy Larocque's only comment about the game?

''If we would have been playing in someone's backyard they would have closed the drapes.''

Lions sweep home-and-home

Char-Lan put together a much better effort on Saturday, actually holding a 3-2 lead in the first period, but the Lions scored seven of the next nine goals in winning 9-5.

The game may have been decided when Char-Lan was working on the power play with a 3-2 lead in the opening period.

The puck came loose behind the Rebel goal and Morrisburg's Randy Mullin, standing behind and to the left of Char-Lan goalie Jim Kenney, took a one- handed stab at the disk.

The puck banked off the back of Kenney's leg and into the net.

Yvon Besner then scored with 11 seconds left in the period to give Morrisburg a lead they would never relinquish.

''That was the turning point,'' said Morrisburg coach Doug Casselman. ''(Mullin's goal) was kind of a cheap goal but that, plus the late goal, made the difference in the game.

''It was a hard-fought game, but then Char-Lan always play us tough in this building. This really wasn't a 9-5 game.''

Meanwhile, Larocque only wishes it hadn't been a 9-5 game.

''You can't play games like that against Morrisburg. Tonight (Saturday), we lost the game defensively,'' he said.

While the Lions only had 35 shots, many were good scoring chances as the Lions had numerous rushes with an extra man.

''We gave up too many two-on-ones and that led to too many easy goals. We tried to tell the players not to get caught or let (Morrisburg forwards) get behind them, but...''

Pete St.Jean scored twice for the Rebels, while Greg Wylie, Derek Ryan and Denis St.Jean each had singles.

Mullin scored twice for Morrisburg, as did Besner and Andrew McEwan. Mike McAllister, Jeff Holmes and Rob Domanko rounded out Morrisburg's considerable offensive attack.

There was more defensive trouble for Char-Lan in Morrisburg on Sunday when the Rebels lost 8-4 to the Lions.

Again the Rebels played well early, as the teams were tied at two after one period. Ray Jock scored to give Char-Lan the lead early in the second, but then the Lions opened the floodgates by scoring four goals in the remainder of the period.

Morrisburg outscored Char-Lan 2-1 in the third period to make the final 8- 4.

McEwan, Besner and Domanko had two goals each for Morrisburg with other goals going to McAllister and Mullin.

Danik Roy, Todd Cameron and Denis St.Jean scored in addition to Jock's goal.

One bright note from an otherwise dismal weekend was the play of the line of Pete and Denis St.Jean and Ray Jock. The trio was easily Char-Lan's most dangerous offensively as they were involved in eight of the team's ten goals scored in the three losses.

Ironically, none of the three was with the team to begin the season.

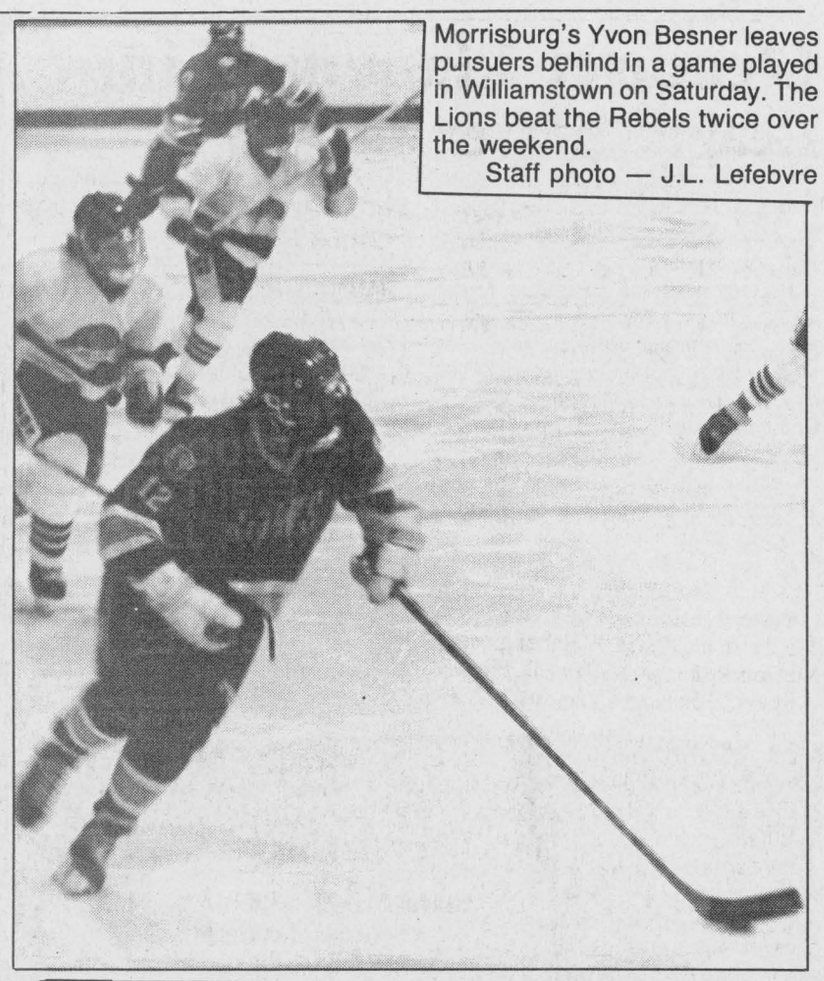
Denis St.Jean returned to the team after hanging around the camp of the Massena Americans at the start of the season. Jock, who also spent some time in Massena, also arrived from Massena after the end of training camp.

Pete St.Jean, the most recent arrival, comes to the Rebels from the Hawkesbury Hawks.

The line clicked almost instantly, producing from their first game together as a unit. After this weekend's triple-header, Jock and the two St.Jeans have scored 21 points in four games.

On a team that was desperately looking for offense in the pre-season, the materialization of a good scoring line is an important development for the Rebs.

Rebel Yells: Pete St.Jean was the St.Hubert offensive player of the game Saturday, Dan Desjardins was named top defensive Rebel...Char-Lan is winless in three road games and 2-2 at home. They have a 1-5 record against teams in their own division and have won their only game against a Rideau division team...The weekend wasn't a total loss for coach Randy Larocque as he won a cash draw at Saturday's game...The Rebels will host Kemptville on Saturday and travel to Winchester on Sunday.



Morrisburg's Yvon Besner leaves pursuers behind in a game played in Williamstown on Saturday. The Lions beat the Rebels twice over the weekend.

Thompson scores two

The Seaway Valley Miller's Funeral Home Bantams continue to play well so far this season, as they have dropped only one of their first eight ODMHA league games.

The most recent Rapids win came last Sunday when Seaway topped Rideau- St.Lawrence 5-2.

Ewan Thompson led the Rapids attack with two goals and an assist.

Chad Duguay added a goal and two assists while Joel Trottier and Ryan McDonald had single goals.

The week before Seaway had a win and a tie.

The Rapids beat Cumberland 3-1 thanks to goals by Alain Decoste, Joel Trottier and Andre Carriere.

The bantams also tied the South Ottawa Warriors for the third time this year, this time a 3-3 sister-kisser in Ottawa.

Andre Carriere, Kelsey Lemire and Ryan McDonald scored for Seaway.

Paul is also very concerned about the issue of Waste Management in Charlottenburgh Township and intends to do something about it.

A Recycling Program is a Must!

Paul is aware that all improvements of this nature require funds and he will work towards broadening the tax base. A broader tax base will take on the financial burden of administering these programs resulting in lower tax increases, if any.

Char-Lan Rebels minor hockey results wrap-up

The Char-Lan novices travelling team had two wins and a tie last week in three minor hockey games.

On Saturday, the novice Rebels tied Vankleek Hill 2-2. Jonah Leroux and Nicholas Dube had the goals for Char-Lan.

On Sunday the novices beat Alexandria 7-4.

Jonah Leroux had four goals in this one while Graham Charbonneau had a hat trick.

Joel Quesnel scored twice for the novice Glens while Dominic Decoeur and Eric Nielsen had single goals.

On Thursday, Jonah Leroux once again was the scoring hero for Char-Lan as he scored all three of his team's goals in a 3-2 win over Clarence Creek.

The pee wee Rebels looked impressive last week in posting a pair of comfortable victories over their opponents.

On Wednesday Char-Lan coasted to a 6-1 win over Clarence Creek.

Stephane Loyer and Jamie Lemire each scored twice for Char-Lan. Tim Corput and Kevin O'Farrell rounded out the scoring.

On Tuesday the Rebels beat Alexandria 8-2.

Kevin O'Farrell and Kent McDonell each scored twice for the winners with Stephane Loyer and Allan Alguire each adding singles.

Mark Laferriere and Chancey Lajoie replied for Alexandria.

The Char-Lan bantam Rebels got goals from three different players in beating Clarence Creek 3-1 last Wednesday.

Scott Giroux, Jeff Proctor and Darrell McDonell scored the Rebels goals.

Jason Flaro, Chris Lumley and Marc Menard picked up assists for Char-Lan.

The Char-Lan Atoms had a win and two losses in games played last week.

The atom Rebels were blanked 1-0 by Casselman on Saturday, and lost 5-1 to Alexandria on Sunday.

Char-Lan pulled out a victory last Tuesday when it defeated Clarence Creek by a score of 3-1.

Derek Wereley, Chris Corput and Dean Fraser netted tallies for the Rebs.

Art Benton ties Titley 2-2

Art Benton avoided its first defeat of the Ladies Sponge Puck season last Wednesday when Debbie Nadon scored with 6:53 remaining in the game to give Benton a 2-2 tie with second-place Titley.

The result maintains Art Benton's two-point lead over Titley in the league standings.

Barb Benton scored Benton's other goal while Titley got their scoring from singles by Kathy Van Loon and Wendy Hay.

SunLife won its second straight after starting the season with three consecutive losses, destroying Maxville 9-0.

Lise Durocher and Julie Bissonette were a two-player wrecking crew for SunLife.

Durocher scored six times and added a pair of assists for her first points of the year in three games played. The one game performance shoots her up to third spot in the league's scoring race.

Bissonette is second on the scorers' list, bumping her point total to nine with three goals and three assists against Maxville.

Donna Samis gets credited with the shutout, the fourth administered to Maxville in five outings this year.

In the other contest on Wednesday, Tapis Richard blanked M&D Sports 5-0.

Marlene Nixon gets the shutout while the goals were evenly shared by Brenda Golden, Mary Nixon, Cathy Depratto, Carol-Ann Baxter and Cheryl Rigby. Elaine Oetelaar had two assists.

Alexandria Glens minor hockey round-up

The Alexandria pee wee Glens took one out of three Prescott-Russell league games played this past weekend.

The Lalonde General Store Glens were drubbed 8-2 by Char-Lan on Sunday with Mark Laferriere and Chancey Lajoie getting the two Alexandria markers.

On Saturday, the pee wee Glens defeated Vankleek Hill in their own building by a score of 4-1.

Pascal Decoeur, Eric Lavigne, Mark Laferriere and Scott Nielsen scored for the victorious Alexandria team.

On Friday the Glens were narrow 3-2 losers in Rockland. Frank Lortie and Jason Poirier were the Alexandria goalscorers.

The Knights of Colombus Novice Glens were beaten by the Char-Lan Rebels in Alexandria on Sunday.

The Glens just couldn't contain the Char-Lan duo of Jonah Leroux and Graham Charbonneau, who combined to score all seven Rebel goals.

Joel Quesnel scored twice for Alexandria while Eric Nielsen and Dominic Decoeur had single tallies.

The Alexandria bantam Glens travelling team were 4-1 losers on Sunday in Vankleek Hill.

Christian Leblanc was the only Alexandria player able to beat Vankleek Hill netminder Andrew Allen.

Billy Tuppert picked up an assist on the Glens goal.

The weekend before the Glens had recorded a 9-5 exhibition win over South Stormont.

Martin Boisvenue and Roch Jeaurond scored twice for Alexandria. Eric Hagen, Darcy McDonell, Jeff Gebbie, Dominic Laferriere and Billy Tuppert each scored one goal.

There's just no stopping the Alexandria Caisse Pop Atom Glens.

The Atoms have yet to lose in either exhibition or regular season play, most recently winning a pair of games last week.

On Sunday the Glens downed the Char-Lan Rebels 5-1.

Tim Van Overbeek scored twice for the winners while Nicolas Prieur, Gregory Lalonde and Kurt MacSweyn had single tallies.

On Saturday, Michel Secours and the Glens blanked Vankleek Hill 5-0.

Alexandria scorers were Kurt MacSweyn with a hat trick, and Nicolas Prieur and Cameron Lajoie with one each.

Warriors win

The Tagwi senior girls basketball team improved its record to 3-5 last Thursday with a narrow 44-40 win over North Dundas.

The offensive scoresheet was a very short list for Tagwi, as three girls poured in all the Warrior points.

Julie Crites led the way with 22, followed by Kristi Poirier with 15 and Lori Ferguson with seven.

Rebecca Kennedy led the Devils with 17 points.

The Tagwi junior girls basketball Warriors claimed their second win in a row on the same afternoon when they defeated the North Dundas Devils. The junior Warriors join North Dundas with a 2-6 record.

Lunch was served prepared by Barb Preston and Bernice Coleman. Next meeting to be held Tuesday, Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. New members are welcome.

Lodge news

Mrs. Gerda Wenger, Sadie and Derrek Weatherston visited with Arnold Wenger Sunday afternoon at the lodge.

Later they drove Mr. Wenger to visit his son and family in Glen Robertson.

North Lancaster news

St. Margaret of Scotland Parish hosted a special 150th anniversary service for the Round Church of Dalhousie Mills on Sunday, Oct. 27. The service was led by Father David Ostler, assisted by Rev. Collin and Rev. Pat MacDonald. Wayne Morrison piped in the service officials and lecturers. Readings were presented by Ethel MacKay of Dalhousie and Ian McLeod of Glen Nevis. Rev. Pat MacDonald gave an enlightened sermon during the well-attended service.

The Glen Nevis choir, directed by Cathy Depratto, was assisted by members of the Round Church choir and the Glengarry Gaelic Choir directed by Rev. Collin. Organists were Anne McKenna and Denis Macrets. Inez Franklin, Shelley McLeod, Kyle McDonald, Janice McLeod and Beth Kaggel conducted a Sunday School class for the children.

Mrs. Wally McRae presented gifts to Rev. Collin and Rev. Pat MacDonald on behalf of Glen Nevis parish.

In his closing remarks, Rev. Collin expressed appreciation to Glen Nevis for this tribute and remarked on the longstanding goodwill that has existed within the two communities.

Wayne Morrison closed the service by piping ''Amazing Grace.''

Yvonne McDonald organized a hospitality hour, which offered everyone there a tasty lunch and a chance to visit.

Births

WERT — Christopher and Suzanne (Dorie) are delighted to announce the arrival of Sarah Suzanne, on Tuesday, October 8, 1991 at the Ottawa General Hospital, weighing 7 lbs. 10 ozs. Proud grandparents are Lionel and Marcella Dorie, Green Valley and Leslie Wert, Summerstown.

Cards of Thanks

MacDOUGALL — We would like to thank all our friends and relatives who attended our 50th anniversary party. Our sincere thanks to the musicians and everyone who sent cards, gifts, flowers and plaques. It was a pleasure to see so many friends from the surrounding area and from Ottaw, Toronto, Hawkestone, Brockville, Pointe Claire and St. Anicet. We especially thank our family: Hugh, Peter, Linda, Richard and family, sisters Elizabeth and Marion for their love and kindness.
—Dougal and Sadie. 44-1p

ST. DENIS — We wish to thank Father Desrosiers for the beautiful eucharistic celebration, Mr. Touchette and Debbie Decoeur for the beautiful singing and organ music on the occasion of our 50th wedding anniversary. Thanks to our family, friends and relatives for their gifts, cards and best wishes and all those who attended the mass. Special thanks to our wonderful children who made it such a memorable weekend. We love you all.
—Eugene and Fidelle. 44-1p

HOWES — Doreen and Carmin would like to say thank you to everyone who made our 25th anniversary so memorable. Special thanks to Mitzi and Melissa and everyone who helped them prepare for the evening. Thank you to everyone who celebrated with us, also for special phone calls and greeting cards. Your thoughtfulness and generosity is greatly appreciated and will never be forgotten.
—Most sincerely, Carm and Doreen. 44-1p

In Memoriam

LARIVIERE — In loving memory of my dear mother, Marybelle, who passed away Oct. 14, 1990.
We love you and miss you, Mom
Life goes on, we know that's true
But it's not the same
Since we lost you.
—Love, daughter Suzanne, Normand, Roch, Roxanne, Pierre, Sueanne. 44-1p

LOBB — In loving memory of a dear father, father-in-law and grandpa who passed away seven years ago October 26, 1984.
My heart still aches with sadness
And secret tears still flow
What it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
When the days are sad and lonely
And everything goes wrong
I seem to hear you whisper
Daughter, cheer up and carry on.
Each time I look at your picture,
You seem to smile and say,
Don't cry daughter I'm only sleeping
We'll meet again some day.
—Always remembered by daughter Ella, Claude, André, Gilles and Alain. 44-1p

MacKAY - SAUCIER — In lasting memory of Granny who passed away October 30, 1984.
God knew that she was suffering
That the hills were hard to climb
So He closed her weary eyelids
And whispered peace be thine.
—Remembered always by grandson Jerry and children Kevin and Kim LeGallais. 44-1p

LONG, Daniel — Died November 1, 1987.
You may be gone but always loved and remembered by —wife Ethel and family, Charles and Barney, Maxville, John, Jimmy and daughter Winnie Erlendson, Nova Scotia, and Daniel, Montreal. 44-1p

BYLAW 91-18
WHEREAS the Municipal Act, Chapter 302, Section 210, s.s.117, 117 (a) allows municipalities to pass bylaws for regulating traffic on highways and for prohibiting traffic in any but one direction in highways that, in the opinion of the Council, are too narrow for passing of one vehicle by another or in which, in the opinion of the Council, it is desirable that traffic should be limited to one direction;
AND ALSO may prohibit or regulate the parking, standing or stopping of vehicles or any class thereof, on highways or any part of a highway, and such bylaw may classify vehicles according to size or weight;
BE IT THEREFORE enacted as follows:
1) That Catherine Street West will be opened to traffic from Main St. to Spring Street only, in a westerly direction.
2) That Catherine Street East will be opened to traffic from Main St. to Elgin Street only, in an easterly direction.
3) Parking will be permitted on Catherine St. West, on the north side of the road only.
4) Parking will be permitted on Catherine St. East, on the south side of the road only.

Pumpkin festival was a huge success

Maxville
Gordon Winter
527-2888

It is always a pleasure to have old-timers returning for a visit with family and friends. We had three families represented recently.

Coming the furthest were Madeleine Lavigueur Gould and her husband, John, from Dawson City, Yukon. The Goulds were accompanied to the village by her sister, Audrey McEwen, Cornwall.

On the same weekend, Alice Grant Taylor and her husband, Clark, from the Detroit area were in the village and enjoyed meeting old friends at the United Church supper.

More recently, the two Hurd sisters were here and were the guests of Mable and Bud Guindon. Patsy Dickson lives in Barrie and Joan O'Brien lives in North Bay.

* * *

The Pumpkin Festival held as a Centennial event on Oct. 19 was a tremendous success. The program centred around children, mainly, with around 100 of them enjoying themselves. There were craft tables for the adults, excellent pumpkin desserts, and the involvement of the organizers and workers was greatly appreciated. The sum of $400 was raised for playground equipment, a centennial project.

* * *

My apologies go to John A. Urquhart for forgetting to mention that he had worked on the construction of the United Church along with the other surviving worker, Dave Valley. I have had good talks with Mr. Urquhart about years gone by and did know that he had worked on the church building.

* * *

The Vander Wielen family of Dyer, have had cousins from the Netherlands visiting for three weeks. They were Mr. and Mrs. Frans de Brok and on Sunday afternoon they called on Hilda and Peter Alex MacLean along with their hosts., Anton and Ann Vander Wielen. Now Mr. and Mrs. Frank Getten from the same country are visiting with her sister Ann and family.

Other visitors with the MacLeans were Chris and Molly Sporring from Monkland who enjoyed a supper there.

* * *

Brown's Beat in The Ottawa Citizen last week, contained an update on the love story of Lawrence Boivin, formerly from the village, and his second wife, Shirley, who he "rescued" from a group home. Due to ill health, the couple is unable to sell apples in their customary spot in Aylmer, Que. but they are still happy and his grandson, Tim, has taken over the apple business.

* * *

A village resident of many years ago, Alberta McLennan and her daughter, Jane, from Ottawa, were in the village recently.

* * *

Douglas and Barbara MacDougall, Burlington, were weekend visitors with his mother, Dorcas MacDougall.

* * *

The guest minister at the United Church Anniversary Service on Oct. 20 was the Rev. Harold Alston from Princess Street United Church in Kingston. This former village minister was heartily welcomed back accompanied by his wife Hiroko and daughters, Francine and Hannah.

* * *

Lena Golden recently attended a family reunion in Spencerville to commemorate the 90th birthday of her sister, Laura Larocque.

* * *

What kind of a thief stoops so low to steal decorative pumpkins from local residences? Consideration must not be part of its moral code but we certainly expect such objects to be safe from such people.

* * *

We extend sympathy to Terry (Mrs. Gerry) Leduc in the death of her sister, Rollande St. John, in Cornwall.

* * *

The Centennial book committee is pleased with the sale of books and wishes to caution potential buyers that there are less than 100 hard-covered books left. Gregor McEwen at 527-5655 accepts mail orders and books are on sale at the village office, the grocery store, Ruby's Country Store and Danskin's Scottish Shop.

Erin Graham has kindly brought the news from St. Bernard's School. Elections have been held at the school and the following students will be sharing the students' council responsibilities for the 1991-92 year. The

TOWNSHIP OF LANCASTER

NOTICE OF A MEETING TO REVIEW THE TOWNSHIP'S OFFICIAL PLAN

(Section 26 of the Planning Act, 1983)

TAKE NOTICE—The Council of the Township of Lancaster hereby gives notice of a public meeting to be held for the purpose of determining the need for and the nature of revisions to the Township's Official Plan.

Section 26 of the Planning Act, 1983, requires the municipality to undertake a review of its principal planning document every 5 years to determine whether or not changes, to specific policies or the plan as a whole, are necessary. The review time has now arrived and the Council wishes to obtain input from the public at this meeting as part of this review process.

MEETING DETAILS—The meeting will be held at 8:00 p.m. on TUESDAY, DECEMBER 3rd, 1991 at the Township office, North Lancaster.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION—All residents and interested members of the public are invited to attend the public meeting and to make verbal or written suggestions related to the Township's Official Plan, for consideration by the Council.

The Township's Planning Consultant will also be in attendance at the meeting to present some information related to the Official Plan Update and to answer any questions.

ENQUIRIES/INFORMATION—Any enquiries or further information about the public meeting should be made at the Township Office or by phoning (613) 347-2476, Monday to Friday during office hours.

The Maxville Veterans Club is holding its annual banquet and dance at the Sports Complex on November 8. The Brigadoons will furnish the music for dancing.

On the following Sunday, Nov. 10, the Armistice Day service will be held at the Club's monument on Mechanic Street West at 2 p.m. The parade will be held afterwards.

Young-At-Heart Euchre

The members of this Seniors' Club treated themselves to a dinner before they began their euchre games. Thirty-eight members and friends enjoyed the fine meal prepared by Shirley Dashney and her family from Alexandria. This "extra" is a semi-annual event for the club.

Sarah Presley from Finch had top euchre score for the ladies with Violet McDermid, Moose Creek and Jessie Renwick, Vankleek Hill, earning the other two monetary prizes.

George Essery, Moose Creek, led the gentlemen, followed by Martin O'Brien, Monkland and Bill MacMillan, Apple Hill.

Jean Chisholm won the door prize.

The 13 winners in the 50-50 draw were Norman MacLeod, Dunvegan; Fraser McMillan, Violet McDermid and Elizabeth Alguire, Moose Creek; Dorothy McCormick, Alexandria; Howard Eamon, Morrisburg; Norbert Ryan, Casselman; Marie O'Brien, Monkland; Onagh Ross, Martintown and local attenders Ethel MacKinnon, Peggy Cline, Mac O'Byrne and John Coleman.

The next euchre will be held on Nov. 4 at 8 p.m. in the Anglican Church Hall. If you enjoy an evening of euchre and fellowship along with a delicious lunch, try to attend.

The Choir Festival at St. Finnan's Cathedral in Alexandria was an outstanding success. It was a real treat to attend such an event in such a lovely and inspiring edifice. We were particularly proud of our Centennial Choir and of the Public School Choir and of its two soloists, Eden Siwik and Jimmy Cassell.

It is now time to relocate the tubs that decorated Main Street this year with their flowers and cedar tree. The new spot should be a protected one where the tub will not interfere with snow removal. After moving it, the soil should be well moistened and the tree can be cut back about one foot.

Next spring, the tub will be ready for its former location and replanting of flowers. The responsibility for care lies with those who purchased the tubs last spring.

Historic Maxville

Eighty-five years ago, Olivier (Levi) Lalonde bought a lot at the north end of Main Street, on the west side. He paid the sum of $100 to his father, Joseph, for this lot which would later hold his home.

While working days at the sawmill, Mr. Lalonde worked each evening well into the night to build the home for his family. He probably worked at the sawmill on Saturdays and I cannot imagine him working on the house on Sunday.

When the house was completed Mr. Lalonde with his wife Delimma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Boisvenue moved in with their four daughters Emma, Ada, Gertrude and Rose. Four more children were born — Levi and Eva who died infancy and Pearl and Oscar.

In my time, Mr. Lalonde was a village carter who with his horse and wagon or sleigh, worked for villagers. In the spring he would work up gardens and in the winter he kept the sidewalks on the east side of Main Street, plowed. Before the war, Oscar assisted his father who died after a long retirement, at the Manor.

Emma married Art Sauve and lived on the same street, Gertrude married Nelson Derucher, Rose married Edmond Bovin and Ada and Pearl remainded at home until their deaths.

After his war service Oscar moved into the home with his wife, Rollande Montreuil. They had four children — Diane, Mrs. Henry Cuillerier, Linda, Mrs. Gilles Forget, Verna, Mrs. Marcel Richard and Raymond.

Oscar and Rollande continued to live in this home which his hard-working, well respected father built many years ago and which stands as a memorial to him.

Football game a Wild(cat) success

Football returned to Glengarry in style on Friday as the home team, the Cornwall Optimist Wildcats, trounced the Brockville Red Rams 33-6 in near-perfect weather conditions at ESRG-GDHS field.

School administration let students out of school early to watch the game, and with yardlines laid down on the field and a chain gang working on the sidelines, the entire afternoon was a throwback to the heyday of SD&G football when the Glengarry Gaels took on their Cornwall school rivals.

The crowd wasn't about to challenge the Minnesota Twins' fans for decibel level of noise produced, and most had left the scene by the time 3:10 rolled around, but team officials said afterwards they were delighted with the fan support.

''At the other schools where we've played home games (CCVS and St.Lawrence) they've just given us a field to play on, a key to a change room and that's it,'' said Wildcats coach Barry Smith.

''But Glengarry really got involved by letting the kids out of school, having an announcer and introducing the players at the beginning of the game. This is the best fan support we've had all year.''

Smith had extra reason to be enthused as the win gives the Wildcats first place in the Eastern Ontario Football League, and a home semi-final game this Saturday against Thousand Islands. The game will be played at General Vanier.

''I'd love to come back (to Glengarry) next year,'' said Smith. ''Of course it helps my attitude to this place that we won the game, but still this was a great effort by the school.''

''The Glengarry players really came to play. I'm sure they were pretty excited about the whole thing and it was nice to see them play well,'' said Smith.

''Shyldon Safruk and Jean Vaillancourt both scored their first touchdowns of the year, so that was kind of good to see.

''(Kicker-receiver) Dave MacDonald had another solid game and Jason Roach, our centre, had an outstanding game. It was his perfect snaps that let us run all our trick plays. Nick (Boisvenue) played a great game too.''

Roach was named top offensive player for the 'Cats. Another Glengarry player who distinguished himself was Scott Williamson, who made an interception.

Vaillancourt, who ran for 45 yards on the afternoon, admitted to having a few extra butterflies before the game.

''I'm always nervous before a game but maybe I was a little more nervous today,'' admitted the Wildcats running back.

''This was the best game we've played this year. There was a lot of people and a lot of excitement.''

Vaillancourt is known to his teammates as ''Cookie'', a nickname tagged on him by his mother. Therefore, when Vaillancourt scored a TD on a five-yard run in the second half, he was showing Brockville how the Cookie rumbles.

''Tommy McKay deserves all the credit for the touchdown. He was the blocker on the play and he blocked about three or four defenders,'' said Vaillancourt.

Safruk's major came on a 55-yard pass-and-run play when the Wildcats receiver hauled in a Dave Tardif pass and streaked to the endzone for six points.

''This game was unbelievable,'' said Safruk of playing in Glengarry. ''There was a lot of energy coming from the crowd. It was great.''

Even though the Wildcat players come from various schools around SD&G, Safruk says the team isn't lacking in spirit, comraderie or enthusiasm.

''We're a family, that's what we are. The biggest, meanest family in the world.''

Going to the basket has meant points for Glengarry's Wendi Lawson.

Lawson has been awesome for Gaels

Glengarry senior girls basketball coach Stanley Fraser set a goal of .500 for his club at the start of the current season, and with three games left to go in the SD&G season, the Gaels still have a shot at that plateau (the Gaels entered yesterday's game against Tagwi with a 3-4 record).

One of the driving forces behind that push for .500 has been the recent offensive emergence of rookie forward Wendi Lawson.

After a so-so start, Lawson has been her team's top scorer in each of the last four games, reaching double figures in the last three.

Her recent scoring performance includes 14 points against Char-Lan, 15 versus La Citadelle and 12 in a win over Rothwell-Osnabruck.

The 16-year-old Lancaster resident has developed a scoring touch in a year when she almost didn't play senior basketball.

''Back in September we weren't even sure if she was going to play because her foot was injured,'' said Fraser. ''The doctor eventually suggested that she play every other game although I can't see what good that would do.

''We just decided to bring her along slowly and as the ankle got better she really started to play well.''

Fraser said Lawson's height (she's 5'9') serves her well and also takes note of her jumping ability, but the Glengarry coach says he believes that Lawson just has natural abilities and instincts for the game.

''She anticipates very well. She's always a step ahead of the others.

''Wendi knows where the basket is and she's realized that the closer she is to the basket, the better her chances are to score points.''

While that observation may seem a little simplistic, Fraser points out that other players given instructions to hang around the net haven't followed orders as well as Lawson apparently has.

''Sometimes you tell them to play around the basket and they wind up 30 feet away.''

Unlike some of her wandering predecessors, Lawson has taken her coach's advice to heart.

''He's always telling me to go under the basket and to go right to the hoop,'' said the Grade 11 student. ''It really seems to be paying off.''

To say the least. Most of Lawson's recent scoring production has come from within five feet of the hoop, much of it on rebounds of errant Gael shots.

The argument that Lawson has a lot of natural ability gains a lot of credibility when you examine her hoops background.

Last year, as a junior, her basketball season was cut short by a bout with mononucleosis. Lawson didn't play at all the year before because of the same illness. Even now Lawson says she is occasionally fatigued by the lingering effects of mono.

Prior to last year, Lawson's only other roundball experience dates back to her elementary school days at Lancaster Public.

Her recent court performance belies her lack of experience as does her cool demeanor on the floor.

The best example of that might have come last Wednesday when Glengarry hosted the R-O Lancers.

The Gaels probably had the better team of the two, but poor shooting had the home team down 24-20 at three-quarter time.

While most coaches look to a veteran player to deliver in that kind of situation, it was the rookie Lawson who took the game by the throat.

She scored eight of her team's 13 fourth-quarter points in leading Glengarry to a 33-30 come-from-behind win.

With potentially another two years of high school basketball to play, Lawson's potential to develop into a serious impact player in SD&G are very good.

The eagerness and dedication that must go hand-in-hand with natural ability to make a good player great is already present.

''The way she's been playing lately is not an accident,'' said Fraser at Monday's training and teaching session. ''She's a regular at practice.''

About half of Fraser's squad, including Lawson, have shown up on this particular afternoon.

''You can't miss a lot of practices in basketball and hope to improve.''

Among the areas which Lawson says she is hoping to improve is her defensive play, a common soft spot for young and inexperienced players.

In the meantime, on the offensive side of things, Lawson's point production will likely start attracting some special attention from Glengarry's opponents.

Glens take stock at Jr. B season quarter-pole

At the beginning of the 1991-92 Junior B hockey season, there were two schools of thoughts on the prospects of the Alexandria Glens.

One theory advanced by the optimists (the ones who say the arena is half full) was that the return of top scorer Marc Sauve and linemate Serge Bellefeuille from last year's club, as well as the return of Pascal Joanette from the previous year's edition of the Glens, would mean a high-scoring team that would be sure to continue its winning ways.

The more negative view was that youth on defense and in nets, in addition to a coaching change, would make the current campaign a year of transition for the Glens.

At the quarter-pole of the season, neither theory has emerged as being more accurate than the other.

Playing at home on Sunday against Westport, the Glens put together a solid effort as Alexandria overcame a pair of one-goal deficits in the third period to claim a 6-5 victory.

The Glens won despite the fact that the Rideaus had come into the game with a 6-1 record as well as the psychological advantage of having beaten the Glens in last year's Rideau-St.Lawrence final.

Conclusive proof that Alexandria is a championship caliber team, right?

Well, maybe not. Sunday's win came 48 hours after the Glens had been mauled by the Morrisburg Lions by a score of 9-4 on Friday. The loss had been Alexandria's second straight after coming up short in Williamstown the week before.

The Glens now have a record of 5-3, so it's hardly panic-button time, but the team's up and down play is a cause for concern.

Alexandria's Pascal Joanette looks for some breathing room away from two Westport defenders.

Alexandria coach Kirk Anderson couldn't have liked what he was seeing from his club because he held a two-hour meeting with his players prior to Sunday's game.

''We just got together to discuss the first seven games and go over why things haven't been clicking so far,'' said Anderson.

''After the two previous games I was wondering if the heart was there.''

Anderson says Sunday's game is the type of contest that could make the Glens into the kind of team the optimists were hoping for.

''We showed a little more spirit tonight. The character we showed to catch up after being behind twice in the third period was something.

''This is the type of game that can make a hockey team.''

That character-building phase of the win over Westport occured over a 32- second span just past the midway point of the third period.

With the Glens trailing 5-4, Travis Duhaime scored to tie the game and then 32 ticks later, defenseman Stephane Nadeau made like Paul Coffey, showing all the patience in the world after breaking in from his defensive position, collecting a pass from Pascal Joanette and waiting for just the right moment to tuck the puck behind Rideaus' goalie Josh Harrington.

The two Alexandria goals came less than a minute after Westport's Jason St.Pierre had given the Rideaus a one-goal lead.

Westport had taken another one-goal lead just 12 seconds into the third on Mike Grey's second goal of the night, but Alexandria had responded five minutes later on a great play by Joanette, who was Alexandria's best player on the night.

Joanette burst in on the right side, leaving a Westport defender in his wake, and made a perfect feed to Andrew Sauve, who fired a shot over Harrington's shoulder.

Joanette, Benoit Frappier and Marc Sauve had scored in the first two periods for Alexandria, while Grey, Jeff Snow and Todd Mallette had put pucks by Glens goalie Mike McDonell.

McDonell was an interesting side story to the game. The Alexandria midget product was playing in his first game with the Glens after being signed last week.

His game action so far this year had been limited to two periods in the preseason with Char-Lan, but McDonell looked sharp in turning away 40 Westport shots.

McDonell said afterwards that he wasn't particularly anxious before the game.

''No, I wasn't nervous before the game. I don't play well when I'm nervous,'' he said.

Most of Westport's goals were scored from within 10 feet on rebounds or after goal mouth scrambles, a factor Anderson says will be adressed in the near future as the coaching staff will start concentrating on defense.

McEwan sinks Glens

Morrisburg's Andrew McEwan scored four goals on Friday to lead Morrisburg to a 9-4 win over Alexandria.

The Glens actually held a 2-0 lead early, but the Lions scored twice in the late stages in the first period to even things up, and took command with four unanswered second-period goals.

Pascal Joanette, Marc Sauve, Ben Frappier nad Serge Bellefeuille scored for Alexandria.

EOSSAA in Alexandria

The Eastern Ontario Secondary School Athletic Association championships are being held today in Alexandria at three sites as six senior and six junior teams fight it out for the regional title.

The hosts will be represented in the junior portion of the tourney as Glengarry will take on the Prescott-Russell league winner at 9 a.m. at the high school field and the Lanark representative at 12 noon.

Char-Lan is the SD&G rep on the senior side of things and they'll play the Lanark team at 9 a.m. and the Precott-Russell winner at noon. Both games will be played at the Sports Palace field.

Each division is divided into a pair of three-team pools, and the top finisher in each pool will play for the EOSSAA title at 2:30. The senior final is at the Sports Palace while the juniors will play at the high school.

Games will also be played at the Alexandria Park field.
