HENRY'S Shorthand School Ottawa, Ont.

No School in Canada offers a better training, or ensures a more successful future. Henry's leads all others, and ranks among employers as "THE SCHOOL OF HIGHER EFFICIENCY"—a fact borne out by more than 600 pupils who have, since January, 1913, left other Ottawa schools to come to it.

Therefore, it is not surprising that business men, in advertising for stenographers, should specially say, "Graduates of Henry's School preferred."

Hudson Trevor Allison Dies at Ocean Beach, Me.

Mrs. Chas. Graham was this morning advised by telephone of the death shortly after midnight at Ocean Beach, Me., of her nephew, Hudson Trevor Allison, son of the late Hudson Allison, who lost his life in the Titanic disaster, the dead boy having been rescued with his nurse. The cause of death is said to have been ptomaine poisoning. Trevor Allison, who was nineteen years of age, spent the week end in Boston, his illness developing quickly after his return, and although specialists were quickly in attendance their efforts were of no avail. He will be remembered by many Chesterville people, having spent some time here early in the summer as well as being a frequent visitor.

The remains will be brought to Chesterville to-morrow and the funeral held from the station on the arrival of the 9.40 train from Montreal, with interment in Maple Ridge cemetery.

Prominent Holstein Breeder Passes Away

Winchester township was very much shocked yesterday morning to learn of the death of the prominent Holstein breeder, Mr. William A. Durant, aged sixty, at his home two miles north of Chesterville after an illness of only a few days.

About ten days ago Mr. Durant paid a week end visit in the vicinity of Kingston arriving home Tuesday of last week, although feeling not quite so fit as usual no thought was taken of anything serious until Friday afternoon when a physician was called after Mr. Durant had been experiencing severe pain. At first the trouble seemed to be yielding to treatment and on Sunday he was considered to have made considerable improvement and until Monday was thought to be on the way to recovery when he grew much worse, consultations were held but nothing beneficial could be done and he passed away early Wednesday morning.

The funeral will take place at the family residence on Friday afternoon at two o'clock when service will be conducted by Rev. R. E. Newman after which interment under Masonic direction will be made in Maple Ridge cemetery.

Mr. Durant was known far and wide as a breeder of pure bred Holsteins, his herd being counted one of the finest in Eastern Ontario, from which many fine animals have been shipped as foundation stock to many different points in Canada as well as across the line.

Besides the widow, two sons and two daughters are left to mourn: Cora, Mrs. Jos. Thompson, of this place; Miss Erma, Ralph and Graham at home. Mr. Durant was the eldest of six brothers and three sisters: George and Frank of Cleveland, Ross, Melvin and Milton of Chesterville, Mrs. W. F. Durant of Saskatoon, and Mrs. Mahlon Durant of Quill Lake, Sask.

The regular meeting of the W.M.S. will be held at the Summer Cottage of Mrs. Wes. Hamilton near Iroquois on Wednesday, August 14th. Cars will leave the Post Office at 1.15 p.m. for those wishing conveyances. A full meeting is requested.

Dr. Hutt's Rink Winners

Last night at the regular weekly chocolate competition at the Bowling Greens, when six rinks competed, Dr. Hutt with Sam Peake, lead; Art McElroy, second, and Dr. Baker, vice, carred off the boxes of chocolates with a score of 20 points, Lacey and Casselman tied for second place with 18 points each, leading Geo. Shay by one point. A similar competition will take place next Wednesday evening.

Monday night two or three rinks from Iroquois are expected here for a friendly game. Yill local bowlers make it a point to be on hand to help entertain visitors.

Farmer's Wife Held Up At Point of Revolver

Yesterday shortly after the noon hour Mrs. Melvin Hummel, at the home of her father-in-law, Mr. John Charles Hummel, just west of Chesterville, was held up at the point of a revolver and money demanded on the threat of death. Mrs. Hummel was sitting in the kitchen rocking a small child when a burly tramp dressed in blue overalls and smock, entered the room and asked for matches. Mrs. Hummel gave him the matches and the man left going around the barns, possbly to find out if any men were about the premises. Seeing none he returned, whipped out a revolver and pointing at Mrs. Hummel's breast threatened to kill her and her babe if she did not produce all the cash in the house. Just at this moment the little daughter, Frances, exclaimed "Here comes a car," and attracted the attention of Mr. W. A. McElroy who was driving by, who stopped to see what the child wanted, but on entering the house found that the would-be murderer had decamped.

Mr. McElroy took Mrs. Hummel and the children and went back Hummel's lane to inform Melvin Hummel of the occurrence, after Mrs. Hummel had telephoned to Chesterville informing the police of the affair. Constables McAvoy and Craig responded but failed to find any more than a trace of the desperado where he fled through a grain field and he is still at large.

Eva Maude A. Barclay Passes in Massena

After an illness of only one month Mrs. Clifford Barclay, 34 Stoughton avenue, Massena, died at the Hepburn hospital, Ogdensburg, on Tuesday afternoon, July 3rd, where she underwent an operation on the Thursday previous.. Bright hopes were apparent for her recovery until about two hours previous to her death, which brought great sorrow to her many friends.

Mrs. Barclay was 26 years of age, was born in Williamsburg and was favorably known in this loclaity, by her willingness to give of her best in the service of her friends and her Lord. She has left behind a memory sacred to friends and associates.

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was from her late residence to the Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. McLellan, who spoke very kind and comforting words to the grieved and saddened friends. Many beautiful flowers from friends and acquaintances covered the casket as silent tokens of love and sympathy.

Mrs. Barclay leaves to mourn her loss her husband, one little daughter, Eva Maude, five years old; seven brothers and two sisters, also an aged grandmother and many friends. Interment was in Pine Grove cemetery, Massena.

Capital Will Be at Its Best For Exhibition Week

Ottawa Prepared to Put Over Its 1929 Show in Manner That Will Eclipse All Previous Efforts.

Ottawa is all set to put over the 1929 exhibition in a way to eclipse all previous efforts and to make the week of August 19 memorable for citizens and visitors. It will be an exhibition week in the full sense of the term.

Commencing on Sunday, August 18, the Capital will be at its best for visitors and in addition to the carillon recital there will be a recital by the band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards. At nine o'clock on the morning of Monday, August 19, the gates of the exhibition will be thrown open and six complete days and nights of education, music, sports and the hundred and one things which go to make up the Ottawa exhibition, will be ushered in. The formal opening by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, premeir of Ontario, will be at noon on Monday and the directors give every assurance that the opening day will find the big exhibition complete in every detail.

To Decorate Streets

Specal electric decorations have been arranged for the streets and these will be augmented by the displays by merchants, business places and citizens generally. Good roads lead to Ottawa from every direction and with the assurance of Hon. George S. Henry, Ontario minister of public works and highways, that the uncompleted portion of the Ottawa-Prescott highway will be put in special shape for exhibition work, out-of-town motorists are assured of pleasant travelling. Within Lansdowne Park there have been most extensive improvements. The grounds were never in better shape. Roadways have been raised and repaired so that no matter what the weather may be, one may go in comfort from one building to another. The buildings also have undergone radical alterations, many thousands of dollars having been spent by the city this year.

Should Appeal to All,

The directors of the exhibition, on their part, have gone far and have not spared expense in assembling a program which should appeal to all. Displays will be international. Bermuda this year has sent a wonderful collection of flowers, fruits and other products and these will be attractively arranged. Other countries also will be presented.

The wise ones are purchasing the coupon tickets by which five admissions are secured for one dollar, giving a saving of seventy-five cents. These are on sale at the exhibition office in the city hall, from various merchants and from the Branches of the Bank of Nova Scotia, but will not be available after the opening day of exhibition week.

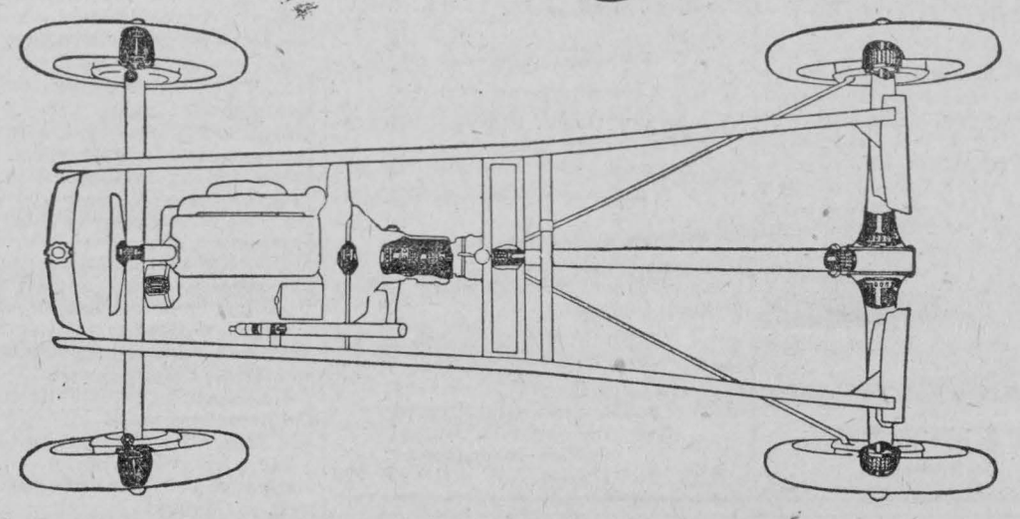

And the hilltop gardens yield this fragrant tea.

24 Ford BALL and ROLLER Bearings

Reduces Friction and Makes for Ease of Operation

Drive it Yourself—there is no Better Test

Ford Car Features

Fully enclosed six-brake system

Shatterproof glass windshield
Theft proof ignition lock
Reliability and low upkeep

LAVISH use of ball and roller bearings in the Ford car greatly reduce friction and contribute to easier operation and longer life of the car. Note the coasting ability of the Ford car as compared to any other automobile in its weight class.

Examination of the chassis will at once show the advantages of these bearings. On the rear axle pinion and differential all the taper roller bearings are held to such close limits that adjustment is unnecessary, pinion and ring gear always being held in proper mesh.

Spiral roller bearings are used in the rear hub because of their large bearing surface and ability to carry heavy loads. One is also used on the drive shaft at the universal joint end, to assure perfect alignment.

Taper roller bearings in the front wheels have a simple adjustment. Roller thrust bearings on the spindle bolts make for easy steering. Two bearings, one above and one below, take up the thrust on the steering worm.

The fan shaft operates on a roller bearing. The generator, the transmission, the connection between the spline and drive shafts, the clutch, the flywheel—all these important parts are made more efficient and enduring through the use of ball and roller bearings.

These bearings form a striking illustration of the engineering skill and care used in building the Ford car.

For The Best Delphiniums

Delphiniums give the best results when grown from fresh seed so that the garden-maker who admires these plants should select seed from his own plants as soon as it is ripe, or obtain seed from some other source, planting it at once. Some of the common delphiniums produce seed which will germinate the following season but the seed of nearly all the modern hybrids is practically worthless at the end of the year. For this reason delphiniums need to be given different treatment from perennials, the seeds of which keep their germinating vigor longer and can be started in June.

Two Toronto girls crossed Lake Ontario to Niagara-on-the-Lake one day last week. The water was rather choppy. Fellow-passengers overheard the following conversation:

Jessie: "I just know I am going to be seasick."

Dorothy: "Why?"

Jessie: "And I just had a bowl of soup this morning."

Dorothy: "Why bring that up?"

ANOTHER NAME FOR DEPENDABILITY

is DODGE

Mileage figures may change on the speedometer of a Dodga Brothers car—but there's one thing that never changes — no matter what the mileage—and that's Dodge dependability.
So—in new cars as well asused cars—you are always on the safe side if you choose a Dodge. It's the one car that for fifteen years has been known for its enduring ruggedness, stamina and performance—so that today the name DODGE means dependability in every language.

"400" Special Six Roadster

$1956

Delivered, Fully Equipped
Nothing More to Buy!

IN STYLE, PERFORMANCE AND PRICE —the pick of the roadsters!

FOR the open car enthusiast, Nash builds a roadster that makes all others second choice.

This new Nash "400" has the style, the finish and the sparkling performance that you customarily expect only from roadsters far beyond its extremely moderate price.

The motor is the new Twin-Ignition type which Nash engineering has developed to add exhilaration and economy to motoring. Twin-Ignition means more power, more speed with less gasoline.

Next year's open car fashion is forecast in the finish of this charming "400." The upholstery is pigskin, with a big disappearing arm rest in the center of the front seat and arm rests on either door. The "400" roadster seats its passengers low, with only head and shoulders visible. Wheels are fire, with big heavy duty spokes, oversize hubs and chromium-nickeled r[illegible].

And the "400" Roadster is fully equipped, at the price quoted above, with every fine car accessory, including Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication, chromium nickeled bumpers, spare tire, tire lock and tire cover.

It's new, it's smart and it is lower priced than any other roadster which remotely compares in style, quality and performance. See it before you buy your Roadster.

Making History

Sixty thousand husky, clear-eyed Boy Scouts, the best of boyhood from 40 different nations and 70 lands, have pitched their tents on the great fields of Birkenhead, England, across the Mersey river from Liverpool, this month and have formed the greatest encampment of boys that the world has ever known. For most of these Boy Scouts, ranging in age from 13 to 18 years, this participation in the World Scout Jamboree of 1929 is a first great adventure. Carrying their own packs, in patrol units of eight Scouts under competent leaders, these boys have come from every corner of the world to the encampment at Birkenhead to celebrate the 21st birthday of the Boy Scout Movement and to pay tribute to Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell, its founder.

Even those who know about the Boy Scout Movement have but a small conception of how really big it has grown in the twenty-one years since it was established in England. To them this great encampment of 60,000 boys will be a revelation of the size and value of the Movement to the peoples of the world. The Scouts who are participatng in the Jamboree are but a small proportion of the 2,000,000 boys from the 42 Scouting nations who are actively playing the great game of Scouting and who have adopted the Boy Scout Oath and Law as their code of living. On the surface this world gathering of Scouts would appear to be just a series of games in which these boys of different speaking nationalities are participating, but there is a deeper purpose to it than that. The gathering together of these Scouts from many climes will do much, their leaders believe, toward cementing the relationship of nations and in impressing upon all the part that mutual understanding can have in the promoting and furtherance of world peace. And so this great World Scout Jamboree of 1929 is bound to be one of the greatest gatherings in the interest of International peace that the world has ever known. It is the hope of Scouting leaders the world over that the influence of these first 60,000 Scouts, all bound together by the tenets of the same Scout Oath and Law, all members of this one great brotherhood, all working together and all playing together, will have a lasting effect upon the future welfare of the world.

It is a great thing, this Boy Scout Movement. More power to it!

The other day a dealer in books sent us a printed letter with a printed signature advising us that we were being given the chance of a lifetime to get a bargain in books.

It seems, according to this printed letter, that the firm who printed these books had forced them to take immediate delivery so they could clear their storerooms—which accounted for the sacrifice and for our wonderful opportunity.

"We have no room to keep these big handsome sets," said the letter with the imitation signature . . "On the other hand we can scarcely insist upon their keeping them for us until our selling campaign begins next fall. Under the circumstances we are forced to sacrifice the sets and dispose of theme right away . . ."

It may all be true. There may be a printing establishment that is so crowded for space that they will not keep ninety sets of books (there were exactly ninety sets left) for a few months for a client. There may be a dealer so cramped for space that he has to sell ninety sets at almost one-fourth the regular price in order to get rid of them; there may be instances where it takes a printed letter and a printed signature to sell ninety sets of books promptly.

All these things may be, but that chap Barnum, who made the remark about the sucker that is born every minute, makes me a little skittish.

So we're going to buy our books down the street in our own little burg and let some one else take advantage of that offer on the printed letter with the facsimle signature.

Things Aren't So Bad

You are sitting on the verandah of a hotel in Maine, in New Hampshire or in Nova Scotia. Your wife, your children and your car have been tucked away for the night. Your cigar needs attention for a few minutes more, and you are paying your respects to it quite willingly.

The chap in the next chair leans over and asks you for a light. That starts a conversation, and he admits that he is a plumber, a hosiery knitter, a carpenter or a plasterer from Florida, California, Texas or Alberta—on a little motoring trip with his wife and kiddies.

"We've been gypsy tripping," he smiles, "but dropped in here for a bath and to see what a bed felt like again."

And then you talk over the places you have both visited and the other places you both hope to visit. And you both light a new cigar from your pocket. And the stars twinkle, and the crickets chirp, and a bull-frog down in the pond starts you off with tales about the bull-frogs that boomed in the country places where you were born.

And things aren't so bad, are they? Those chaps over in Russia, or China, or Korea, or Turkey, or anywhere, in fact, aren't making whoopee half so well as are you and that plumber from Florida, or California, or Texas or Alberta.

A PERFECT FIT

For nearly an hour the talkative man had bored his fellow-passengers in the railway carriage with accounts of his dog Towser. .

"Sir," said the old gentleman who had been vainly trying to snatch forty winks, "suppose you took Towser into a shop and bought him a muzzle, and then asked the shop assistant to put it on for you, and he refused what would you do?"

"Why," said the talkative man, "I'd put it on myself."

"Quite so," was the reply. "And I think all here will agree with me that the result would be excellent."

—o—

"The most utterly lost of days is that in which you have not laughed."

PICK UP YO' FEET

Pick up yo' feet don't shuffle along!
Raise up yo, haid; start humming a song!
Look wif a smile at folks that you meet;
Lif' up yo' haid, chile; pick up yo' feet!

Raise up yo 'thoughts; look up at the sky!
Lif' up yo' voice; sing "Hebben is nigh!"
Send all de glooms back whar dey belong;
Lif' up yo' feet; an' raise up yo' song!

Stick out yo' chest, an' th'ow out yo' voice!
Put back yo' shoulders; praise an' rejoice!
Join dat joy chorus; make it complete.
Lif' up yo' heart, an' pick up yo' feet!

—Douglas Hurn.

Good-Bye Family Towel

Daddy has a peach towel.
Bobby has a jade.
Mother's towel is turquoise.
Orchid for the maid.
Sister's towel is colored rose.
Grandma's towel is maise.
"Every one a different towel"
Is the rule these days.

And why not? We who shudder at the thought of choosing the wrong toothbrush while half awake, certainly should be deeply interested in the latest idea which calls for towels of different colors for the various members of the household—the very colors mentioned in the little rhyme in fact.

A famous laboratory, after clinical tests, has recently announced that bacteria, deposited from one's hands to a towel, live on that towel for from 24 to 48 hours and that they definitely can be transferred from the towel to the hands of any other person who uses it.

We avoid the toothbrush, the napkin and the handkerchief of our dearest friend, yet are often too careless when reaching for a towel. Four members of a family have four times the possibility of depositing transferable bacteria upon one piece of toweling as has one member, so that the family towel becomes an easy medium through which a disease contracted by one may spread to several.

It has always been difficult to mark towels of one color or design so that each member of the family will be sure to recognize his or hers. Today, however, it is possible to secure towels of similar texture yet different colors—all-over colors, from top to bottom and even on the reverse side.

Peach, jade, turqouise, orchid, rose, maise—there have to be six in the family before the colors are exhausted. If there be seven, poor dad may at least have the bath towel for himself—is he's fortunate.

The primary class in punning could look into the $500,000,00 merger of yeast and baking powder firms, with a view to saying something about raising all that dough.

Preserving Vegetables

By Etta Bitta Pye.

Many think of preserving as applied to fruit alone. Some vegetables, however, make such delicious preserve that many jars should be stored away by the wife of each man fortunate enough to own a garden, or who has an opportunity to purchase a quantity of such vegetables when abundant supplies and low prices prevail. Not only do you preserve many of the valuable minerals and salts of the vegetables, but by using sugar liberally you add the very kind of quick energy food needed when the weather is chill. Here are two recipes that will prove particularly pleasing:

GREEN TOMATO PRESERVE

3 pounds sugar
4 pounds green tomatoes
3 lemons
½ tablespoon preserved ginger

The above table merely gives the correct proportions. Most women will desire to prepare several times this amount at a time. Wash the tomatoes, remove any dark snots about the stems and weigh. Cover with boiling water, let stand five minutes, drain and slice into a preserving kettle, placing a layer of tomatoes, one of sliced lemon, then the sugar with the ginger sprinkled over it. Let the mixture stand over night. Drain and boil the syrup for ten minutes. Skim, add the tomatoes and cook rapidly until they are clear. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal.

YELLOW TOMATO PRESERVE

For each pound of small, yellow tomatoes, use three-fourths pound of sugar and one lemon. Tomatoes about the size of small plums are very desirable. Pour boiling water over them and cover tightly for two minutes, then quickly drain and cover with cold water. This will loosen skins. Peel tomatoes, being careful not to break them. If skins will not come off, treat them again with boiling water. Place the sugar and tomatoes in a crock or enamel dish and let stand overnight. Drain off juice and boil rapidly until it threads. Add tomatoes and the thinly sliced lemons. Seal in clean hot jars.

SHREDDED WHEAT

With all the bran of the whole wheat

Children don't have to be coaxed to eat it—they like the crisp, crunchy shreds of baked whole wheat. They have to chew it—and that means sound teeth and good digestion.

WARNING!
to
Motor Car Drivers
CARRY YOUR LICENSES

THE Highway Traffic Act requires that every person operating a motor vehicle shall secure an operator's or chauffeur license and shall at all times while driving carry same. A penalty is provided for failure to produce such licenses when demanded by an officer.

It is necessary, owing to the number of motorists who persist in driving without licenses, that the police be instructed to require the production of these licenses from time to time.

This law has been passed in the interests of safe driving and to prevent incompetent persons from operating motor vehicles. The production of a license is the only proof of ownership of one.

Carry yours at all times and avoid inconvenience and prosecution.
