Record Crowd Attends 14th Agricultural Show

With ideal weather conditions, the largest crowd ever to attend Chesterville Fair turned out yesterday for the 14th Annual Exhibition of the Chesterville and District Agricultural Society. Over 3,000 people packed in the grandstand and grounds for the showings of horses, cattle, sheep, grain and poultry, and to enjoy the harness races and exhibition by horses from Red Top Stables, Ottawa. Another bumper crowd attended the night performance and the dance in the Community Hall.

The cattle showings were featured by the Black and White Day for Dundas County, which brought out a fine display of cattle. Ernest Miller, Perth, judging the Holsteins, stated the quality was as good as he had seen anywhere this season. Comparing the showing with the Lanark County Black and Whites which he judged recently, he said the stock here was every bit as good.

More herds were represented in the Ayrshire classes than last year although fewer cattle were shown. Jerseys, as in other years, were monopolized by J. J. McKenzie, Finch.

There was a disappointing number of entries in the horse classes, the cause for this being attributed to the backward season which did not allow farmers of the district time to groom their horses for showing.

In the harness races, Mack Abbe, owned and driven by Scott of Massena, N.Y., again swept the Free-For-All with three firsts to add to his winnings of over $10,500. June Dale, owned by Dr. Shannette and driven by Zeron, also made a clean sweep of the 2.25 class with three firsts.

Chesterville won the softball tournament, defeating Vernon 9-2 in the final after Vernon had nosed out Winchester Springs 9-6.

The Chesterville Boys' Dairy Calf Club exhibition was a decided success with the largest number of entries in the club's history.

Attractions before the grandstand in the afternoon included the team of black horses trained and shown by Wm. Servage, president of the Society, and the horses from Red Top Stables, Ottawa, in an exhibition of Musical Chairs and hurdle jumping. Riding one of the Servage horses, Graham Sullivan won the musical chairs competition.

Tuesday's programme was thrown open to the youngsters as is the custom each year, with track events open to the school children of the town and district, including races, jumping and bicycle races.

Chesterville Band was on hand both afternoon and evening on Wednesday.

Main winners at the exhibition were:

Black and White—R. Carkner, Vernon; D. McMenomy, Inkerman, and W. J. Fawcett, Winchester.

Ayrshires—Robt. McIntyre, Finch; H. Kittle, Chesterville, and Glen Shaver, Lunenburg.

Jerseys—J. J. McKenzie, Finch.

Heavy Horses—Ralph Walker, Jas. Johnston, Inkerman; Earl Droppo, Finch; Grant Campbell, Maxville, and Ross Durant, Winchester.

Grain—Angus Smith, Chas. Graham and Eric Casselman, Chesterville.

Poultry—Floyd Armstrong, Winchester; Dougal Cummings, Russell, and Malcolm Byers, Chesterville.

Sheep—W .F. Burton, Vars; Robin Campbell, Metcalfe, and Dougal Cummings, Russell.

Starter, Dan Raymond, Avonmore; Timers, Thos. Flynn, Chesterville, and D. Raymond; Judges, Harvey Durant, Dunbar, R. Froats and Jas. McAvoy, Chestervilel; Clerk, R. C. Dillabough, Chesterville.

More than double the usual number of concessions were leased for the grounds which catered to the appetites and gaming instincts of the crowd, and the merry-go-round was a big attraction.

Urgent Need For Clothing Stressed Before Rotarians

"Lost—Woman's left shoe, black, with patch over right toe, reward for return." Appearing in The Politika, Belgrade daily newspaper, this ad stresses the dire need of clothing by the needy millions overseas, stated P. S. Boyd, chairman of the local organization planning the drive in early October for clothing to be shipped by UNRRA, when he spoke to his fellow Rotarians at the Tuesday evening meeting.

President Walter Carr called for reports from Leon Marcellus, chairman of the salvage drive, who reported another collection would be made on September 19; R. C. Dillabough and E. E. Maybee reported for the Education Committee, and Thos. Barnes for Club Service. The operation of the playground was put in the hands of the Community Service committee with R. C. Dillabough as chairman.

So that all householders will know what types of clothing will be acceptable, the following may serve as a guide. First of all, it should include absolutely everything listed below that can be spared without replacement. Used clothing for both summer and winter wear is needed. It need not be in perfect repair, it may be years out of style, but it must be useful to the people who will receive it. All types of washable garments should be washed before being donated, but need not be ironed. All other garments must be cleaned and sanitary but need not be dry-cleaned before being contributed.

As a further guide to those donating, the following items of used clothing are, generally speaking, what is wanted:

Suits: Men's, Women's, Children's.
Odd Coats, Skirts, Trousers.
Dresses, Blouses, Aprons: Women's Overcoats: Men's, Women's, Children's.
Jackets: In all sizes.
Scarves and Shawls.
Footwear: to be firmly fastened in pairs.
Blankets.

The clothing will be distributed free by UNRRA to the needy and destitute of the following countries without discrimination of any kind: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Greece, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia and Yugoslavia. All contributions will go into a common pool and no individual donations can be earmarked for any specific country. After being collected locally the clothing will be packed and shipped to specified regional warehouses, freight charges collect to the warehouse.

Watch for further stories to appear in the Record during September concerning the dire need for clothing in the above countries. Meanwhile, while doing that fall house-cleaning start to prepare your donation. This is one of our first and finest opportunities to help those who were the unfortunate victims of six long years of war. For millions of these people it may mean a difference between life and death. Will we fail them now? You alone can answer.

WILL BURN MORTGAGE

Morewood United Church members will burn the mortgage on September 13th. The Worship Service will start at 8:30 p.m., having as guest speaker, Rev. L. H. Leroy Hamilton Injured Critically This Morning

Leroy Hamilton, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Hamilton of town, is in a critical condition at the Civic Hospital, Ottawa, as a result of injuries suffered in a motor accident about 1:30 this morning on Highway 31 just south of Winchester.

As far as can be learned, Leroy Hamilton was alone in the car, a Plymouth coach, travelling south on the highway. About halfway between Winchester and the CPR station, the car struck a Hydro Electric pole which was broken off, and a tree before regaining its wheels on the highway facing north. A large dent in the roof, bearing the shape of the pole indicates the angle at which the car met the pole.

Young Hamilton was taken to the Civic hospital, Ottawa, by ambulance and it is said he was able to walk from the wreck of his car to the ambulance. Dr. Gross, of Winchester, was called, but later turned the case over to Dr. W. H. Justus of town, who stated this morning that the young man was in a critical condition, suffering from internal injuries and concussion.

Mr. Hamilton, who was ill in bed at his home, went into the hospital with Mrs. Hamilton when word of the accident was given to them early this morning.

A FEW CRIMINAL ACTS NOT CRIME WAVE

Provincial authorities are emphatic in declaring there is no crime wave in Ontario and that recent armed robberies of banks and hold-ups of citizens are sporadic and not to be regarded too seriously. The exploits of two vicious young bandits hailing from the border city of Windsor would tend to lend weight to this contention. Joseph Peltier and Ulysses Lanzon, after a series of successful robberies, were arrested following the hold-up of the Bank of Commerce Branch at Ayr. While awaiting transfer to the penitentiary the pair broke out of Waterloo jail. During the hue and cry that followed their escape instead of seeking sanctuary the bandits carried out a half dozen bank robberies to the despair and embarrassment of the police. They were said to be aided by the wife of Lanzon, the brains of the pair, who directed their movements. Finally, the bandits moved into Quebec, and after several daring exploits in Montreal, finis, it is hoped, was written when Peltier was shot down when fleeing from a bank. It can thus be seen that a daring pair of criminals, well directed, can account for quite a crime wave. There is rather disquieting news coming out of Guelph and Toronto. In the former city an organized gang of "desperadoes" ranging in age from six years to 14 years has been discovered by the police. The youths had been carrying out well planned robberies for sometime. In Toronto a similar gang of juvenile lawbreakers has been unearthed. In regard to the juveniles, it is just possible they received their incentive and developed their technique from gangster movies and the "penny dreadfulls" that find a ready sale in some stores.

MANY CHANGES SOUGHT IN MUNICIPAL WORK

The old contention that the municipality is the basic element of Government by the people has again fanned into flame with the coming of peace. During the war years many municipal councils seemed content to remain in the background and in not a few districts there was not the same rush of candidates seeking election. The municipalities are being urged to maintain their rights and not permit them to be usurped by the Provincial and Dominion Governments. In this connection, the Ontario Municipal Association request taxation by the municipality of Government-owned public utilities and Crown Companies, pointing out that under the present system where the municipality had no legal right to levy such taxes, "civic services are supplied to publicly owned utilities entirely by taxation on privately owned real estate and business." A similar resolution asks that crown companies and publicly owned utilities be required to contribute toward the maintenance of "municipal sewer services", or fire and police protection. The Association also directed attention to the confusion in the recent Provincial and Dominion elections over voters' lists and electoral divisions and it was suggested that for the sake of uniformity the Provincial Government make up its own urban voters' lists and not rely upon municipal lists as it has done in the past. A second asked that Ottawa and Queens Park get together and set up one uniform list of polling sub-divisions to cover elections by both Governments, a matter which many believed would do away with "considerable confusion." It was perhaps natural the Association should introduce a controvesial note when it recommended a revision in method of paying Provincial school grants, making them payable to municipal treasurers rather than to Board of Education Treasurers, because "Boards of Education have spent the increased money lavishly, with little thought of decreasing the taxpayers' burden." Boards of Education will undoubtedly have something to say in regard to this

SHORT HOURS, LESS WORK FOR ALL BUT FARMERS

The sudden termination of hostilities in the Pacific has precipitated a rather critical problem in the labor situation in the province. Union men must have anticipated that peace was only a question of a short time and that in the adjustment period there was certain to be more or less dislocation of affairs. It would seem to be that the attitude of certain union officials is to be "What we have, we hold." The militant attitude of the workers was set forth in a resolution at a mass meeting of United Steel workers which called for amending the wage order so as to allow increases in pay without reference to "any wage board"; a reconversion program; a 40-hour week without reduction in pay; full postwar production; severance pay for all workers laid off, of one month's pay for each year's employment; recognition of union contracts when war plants changed ownership; upping of unemployment insurance benefits to at least $25 a week, and for the calling of mass protest demonstrations in either Queen's Park or the Maple Leaf Gardens. Stay-in strikes are also advocated. In the meantime the Federal Labor authorities maintain there is a labor shortage of 154,000 and the difficulty is to get men placed where they are required.

NINTH VICTORY LOAN OPENS ON OCTOBER 22ND

Canada's Ninth Victory Loan will open on October 22nd and will be the biggest ever floated in this country, the Honorable J. L. Ilsley announced last week-end. The Loan will cover Canada's borrowing needs for the next twelve months, the Minister of Finance explained, making it unnecessary to have another campaign next spring.

"One large Loan now instead of two smaller Loans, one now and another in the spring of 1946, means a real saving of time, effort and expense," he said. "It is possible to aim for a full year's needs in one Loan because Canada's borrowing requirements over the next twelve months will not be as large as they have been in recent years.

"Victory has been won in Europe and in the Pacific. The end of hostilities means the end of many war costs. But, we now face new tasks. And, these new tasks bring new needs. So, total outlays and borrowing requirements will continue at high levels.

"For instance, men in hundreds of thousands must be brought back to their homeland from overseas. This will take time because of shipping shortages and continuing operations in occupied areas. Meanwhile, they must be paid, fed, housed and cared for in a hundred-and-one different ways. This all costs money—large amounts of it.

"Then, the wounded and the sick must be restored to health. Veterans will be given a good start in civilian life. Many will be trained for new jobs. War service gratuities and re-establishment credits will be paid. These and other rehabilitation outlays involve hundreds of millions of dollars.

"People in war-torn countries need food, clothing, medical and other supplies to relieve suffering and distress. The United Nations, including Canada, are making gifts of essential supplies to these peoples. Canada is also lending money to countries in war areas to help them buy supplies in Canada urgently needed to overcome the losses and devastation of war. The money Canada will spend and lend in these ways is an investment in the future peace and prosperity of the world.

"Then, there are outlays of various kinds to clean up the war program, and to start us on our way towards normal peacetime living.

"These tasks, and these needs, are reasons why Canada's borrowing requirements for the next year will remain at a high level even though direct war costs have declined with victory in Europe and in the Pacific. They are reasons why Canadians are being asked to continue their present savings program for another year.

"Plans to win the peace—plans for high employment and prosperity in the days to come—are now being laid. Continued saving over the next year will help these plans succeed.

"War production has come to an end. Production for civilian use is on the way up. But, the supply of new things to buy at current prices is still very much less than the amount of spendable money in the hands of Canadians. As long as this condition remains, there will be upward pressure on prices—pressure which could lead to inflation, then to mass unemployment, misery and hardship.

"Spending increases this pressure. Saving reduces it. So continued saving, by the purchase of 9th Victory Loan Bonds, helps to keep the cost of living under control, and to maintain stability, it will help us to win the peace.

"The minimum objectives for the new Loan are the largest in Victory Loan history. They reflect the two Loans in one feature of the 9th Victory Loan, the continued need for saving, and the new level of borrowing requirements.

"As individuals, Canadians know the value of a reserve of savings to meet future needs and wants. With twelve months to pay for 9th Loan Bonds, many Canadians will buy double the amount of their purchases in earlier Loans, and most others will buy more than before.

"The 9th Victory Loan will be Canada's Greatest Victory Loan."

MASS PRODUCTION METHODS HELP TO SOLVE BRITAIN'S HOUSING PROBLEM.

Factory-made houses, to provide a temporary solution to Britain's housing problem, are being produced in large numbers, and already one hamlet of Prefabricated Houses has been put up at Abbey Wood, a London suburb. The photo shows the loading of a Prefabricated House on to a lorry at the Edmonton depot, North London. A complete house is carried on each lorry.

FOR COLLISION INSURANCE.

Ottawa wants health insurance. By which is meant one guesses, that Ottawa wants a system whereby well people will help pay hospital and doctor bills of sick people.

New Zealand has health insurance and reports are that hospitals are jammed, doctors are overworked and (some of them) careless, and that druggists must fill three times as many prescriptions as before.

It is hoped that Canadian health insurance schemes will not put a premium on getting sick. People who are self-employed are said to be away from their jobs less than are people on salary who get paid while sick.

Our idea of a sound health-insurance scheme is the $100 deductable collision insurance well and favorably known to the casualty insurance people. The man who had to pay out of his own pocket the first $100 of the cost of an illness would not be cluttering up the hospitals with trivial ailments of a self-curing nature. And yet the man who was confronted with a major disaster in the form of a long and expensive illness would not find the burden intolerable.

We are all for helping the genuinely unfortunate. We still remember the case of a man who had to sell his home cheaply because his wife's illness had cost $3,000 in 18 months.

Charitable organizations could be expected to take care of those who cannot survive a $100 doctor bill.

THE OLD MAN IS THANKFUL

Our family has a lot of troubles (said the old man). The boys had troubles with Germans and they seem likely to have troubles with Japs for some time. Then here at home there are these high taxes—income taxes and nuisance taxes of one kind and another. I can't get anybody to climb up and fix the eavetrough. I can't get the kind of cigars I like. There's only one consolation in all these troubles. During the past few years some of my friends have bought themselves farms, so they could have something solid under their feet in all this world turmoil. Well, I never got around to buying one of those nice attractive places out in the country.

And now, when I hear the difficulties my friends are having, it makes me feel thankful to think that at least our family doesn't own a farm.

TWO-BIT FAMILY ALLOWANCE

Saskatoon possesses a proud young husband and father whose wife receives $10 per month family allowance for their two children both under five. The young man's additional deduction from his paycheck because of the family allowance received by his wife is $9.75.

Net gain to the family is 25 cents per month, not counting his share of the cost of administering the family allowances, which share is taken care of by his other taxes or his Victory Bond purchases.

ECONOMICS OF SALVAGE

The accountant said that the freight on the salvage was $49.80 per ton and the market value was $15.00 per ton.

"Who takes the loss?" we asked.

"The Wartime Subsidy and Publicity Bureau," was the reply.

DON'T SPARE ROD JUST DELAY IT

S. MacFarlane, former chief superintendent of education for New Brunswick, advises teachers to spare the rod—at least for 24 hours.

"The problem of discipline would not be serious if the teacher would make her teaching sufficiently interesting to hold the attention of the pupils," he told a county conference of teachers. "But in the case of necessary punishment, the teacher should wait and consider for 24 hours before taking action."

FINDS CORN GOOD COOKED WITH HUSKS

Corn on the cob, cooked with the husks on, is twice as nice as done without its outside cover, it is reported by a lady who was so enthusiastic over her cooking experiment that she wishes others who enjoy fresh corn would try her way of cooking the delicious ears.

The enthusiastic lady pulled out the silk, rewrapped the corn in its husks, put it in a pot with just enough water to keep it from burning and let it steam for half an hour. With butter sauce, she claims it is as good as any corn can be and much better than the roasted or boiled kind we usually eat.

For every bad there might be a worse; when one breaks his leg let him be thankful it was not his neck. —Hall.

Hushed

Is it true that it cost $100 to have your family tree looked up?"

"Well not exactly. I paid $5 to have it looked up, and $95 to have it hushed up"

High School Textbooks Scarce Conservation is Necessary

Many parents have requested lists of the various texts to be used next year in the High School. It should be noted that some new books are to be introduced if obtainable. There promises to be some difficulty in getting all that are needed, and others may have to be used. Students, in all classes, are permitted to sell used texts to those who may require them.

Conservation of Text-books

The present difficulties in the publishing of text-books arising out of shortage of paper and the difficulty of obtaining skilled help, are a matter of concern to the Department of Education. Principals, teachers and pupils can help to overcome these difficulties and so to ensure an adequate supply of books for the next school year.

The utmost care should be taken of text-books now in the hands of the pupils, so that as far as possible they may be used again.

A list of some of the books which should be procured, as soon as possible follows:

Grade 9: General Mathematics, Book 1, Gen. Science Book 1, History and Britain and the Empire, Basic French.

Grade 10: Gen. Math. Book 2, Gen. Science Book 2, Latin for Secondary Schools.

Grade 11: A New Algebra for High Schools, Elements of Physics, Latin for Secondary Schools, Ancient and Mediaeval History.

Grade 12: A Modern Geometry for High Schools, Chemistry, a first course, Cours Moyeu de Francais, Shorter Poems, Short Stories and Essays.

Grade 13: Longer Poems. Browning—Andrea del Sarto; Coleridge—Rime of the Ancient Mariner; Woodsworth—Michael; Milton— L'Allegro ' Il Peuseroso. Short Stories and Essays Part III; Shorter Poems Part III. Goldsmith—Vicar of Wakefield; Hemon—Marie Chapdelaine; Crawford's Senior H. S. Algebra; Durrant and Kingston's Geometry; Miller and Rourkes—Trigonometry.

School re-opens on September 4th, and it is expected that all students will be in attendance so that estimates of other required books may be obtained.

Mr. and Mrs. Coons Fifty Years Married

Tuesday, August 28th, 1945, was an important day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Coons, highly esteemed citizens of Winchester, who, on that day celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary.

It was fifty years ago, August 28, 1895, when Miss Jeanette MacLean, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward MacLean of Chesterville, was united in marriage to Mr. Sterling Coons, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coons of Winchester. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. G. S. Connery, late pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian chuch. Following their marriage they resided in Winchester district for a number of years, later settling on a farm at Toyes' Hill where they remained for 27 years. They returned to Winchester four years ago, taking up residence on Ottawa street. Their family consists of five children, Edward and Paul, deceased; Dalton, Toyes Hill; Aleitha, of Cornwall and Bertha at home.

At the noon hour on Tuesday an anniversary dinner was served with all the surviving members of the family present as well as most of the brothers and sisters of the celebrants. The room was decorated in white and gold and the table centre was a three-tier wedding cake. Following the dinner members of the family presented their parents with gold wrist watches.

During the afternoon and evening Mr. and Mrs. Coons were at home to their many friends. In addition to a large number of local citizens who called on them to extend personal filicitations, they were visited by their many friends from Toyes Hill, Winchester Springs and other nearby communities.

Those who assisted in serving during the day were: Mrs. M. McQuaig, Miss Daisy MacLean, Lois and Elaine Coons, Mrs. Arthur Brownell of Kingston; Mrs. P. A. Casselman, Finch; Mrs. Dalton Coons, Mrs. John Fader, Mrs. A. E. Holmes, Mrs. C. Kirkwood, Mrs. W. F. Workman, Mrs. Peter Poole, Mrs. Geo. Coons, Elsie Coons, Ruth Moore, Lila and Olive Hughes.

Gifts received by Mr. and Mrs. Coons included a number of cheques, tablecloths, bedspread, wool blanket, buffet set. Bible, gold cuff links and pin, towels, bowls, silver, china, and a table lamp. In addition to these, numerous bouquets of beautiful flowers were received as well as many messages of congratulations by wire and mail.

Good Reason

An English society matron visiting a farm in her new WAAF uniform, and feeling very patriotic, coldly eyed a young farmer, busy milking a cow.

"Because, ma'am, there ain't no milk at that end!"

Your Support IS VITAL TO RATIONING Mr. and Mrs. Farmer

With other groups, you play a part so that everyone gets a fair share

The FARMER

Under the rationing regulations, you are asked to collect and turn in the coupons you acquire against the use and sale of butter and, when meat rationing is introduced again, of meat; and the coupons you get from the sale of honey and rationed maple products. So that you may buy other meats from your butcher, no more than one-half of the valid coupons in your ration book and in those of your household need be surrendered. To make it easy to send in coupons, you are provided with RB-61 envelopes which should be forwarded once a month to your Local Ration Board. No postage is required.

The RETAILER

The retailer also plays a part. He must obtain coupons or other valid ration documents against every sale he makes of rationed foods—butter, sugar, preserves and, when meat rationing becomes effective again, meat. Otherwise, he cannot replenish his stocks. He must paste all coupons on gummed sheets and endorse each sheet with his name and address. If his monthly food sales total $2,500 or more, he is required to operate a ration coupon bank account. He must also give valid ration documents or a ration cheque to his supplier for every purchase he makes of a rationed food.

The HOUSEWIFE

The housewife, too, has rationing work to do. She must know the validity and expiry dates of butter, sugar, preserves and, later, meat coupons so that she can make supplies of these foods last. She must know the coupon values of all rationed preserves and meats. She has to understand the sugar alternative of the preserves coupon in order to do as much home canning as possible and still have coupons for honey, syrups and other preserves. She must guard family ration books carefully and give up coupons for every purchase she makes of a rationed food.

RATIONING is your assurance of a fair share. It is a protection against waste . . . shortage . . . inflation.

That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards - once a month - in the RB-61 envelope.

Canada's Future In Bacon

During the past five years the production possibilities of Canada's vast agricultural resources have been amply demonstrated to the whole world. In response to a universal demand for food, farm production in this Dominion has increased to the point where 40% of the gross output must be marketed abroad in order to maintain a stable industry at home. This increased production has added materially to the national income, hence it is desirable that it be maintained. Maintaining it means finding markets for that product which is not required in Canada. There is little need for apprehension regarding our ability to find markets while Europe lies prostrate and destitute. After that unhappy continent has experienced a few normal crops, Canadian agriculture may again be confronted with the difficult problem of coping with surpluses.

In a well-planned economy attention should be focused on those products which have a special adaption to Canadian conditions. Hogs rank high in the list of products that have a national significance. They form an integral part of the production programme on 100,000 Ontario farms. Western farmers who still retain unhappy memories of the early 1930's and the uncertainties associated with a one-crop system of farming are not likely to forsage hog production entirely in the days to come.

If there is any merit in the old maxim "one good turn deserves another." Canada's position in the British bacon market should be secure. When the Baltic countries were invaded Canadian farmers met the challenge by producing hogs in sufficient numbers to compensate for a large portion of the deficit so created. For this magnificient performance the people of Britain are eternally grateful. Nevertheless they cannot be expected to continue purchasing large quantities of our bacon unless it is as good as the product available elsewhere. Moreover, it must be shipped to that market in regular quantities and not seasonally as in the past.

Canada lost the British market after the last war because her bacon was inferior to that supplied by most competitors. Vast improvement has been made in the last ten years but the average quality is still lower than pre-war Danish. Quality may be improved through the use of better breeding stock, feeding properly balanced rations and marketing hogs at the most desirable weight. A number of Canadian farmers are consistently marketing hogs grading over 70% A's, as a result of strict observance of these principles. Others would do well to copy their methods.

If Canada loses the British market a second time, continuity of supply will be a vital factor. Bacon shipments can be levelled out from month to month by proper organization of cold storage facilities, but that will not solve the problem of fluctations in production from year to year. For example, reduced hog marketings are now in prospect largely because grain can be sold at profitable prices, a situation that is likely to continue until Europe's immediate needs are met. If hog producers reduce their production because of this temporary condition they are simply paving a route over which other countries can enter the British market. Once that market is lost, Canada's only hope of regaining it is by underselling her competitors, a practice which sharply cuts the profit in hog production in this country. Hogs must become a stable crop on those farms equipped to produce them, otherwise producers will find themselves in the same position as before the war. It should always be remembered that our competitors will discipline themselves severely in order to achieve their objectives. Perhaps we should pursue a more steadfast course now, lest indifference or fear of over-production cost us the market.

In looking to the future it appears obvious that hog production must occupy an important position on Canadian farms if farm income is to be maintained at a high level. Governments realize the necessity of increased trade, hence will strive to obtain satisfactory markets through negotiations and trade agreements. These markets can be held only when producers realize their responsibility and act accordingly. Stable production of a high quality product at a low cost will help to secure Canada's position. Because of persistent efforts to regain markets on the part of our competitors Canadian producers may have to struggle along with a lower margin of profit. Any slackening of effort on our part will prove advantageous to them. Reserves built up now through the purchase of Victory Bonds will make the struggle easier and provide the medium for holding the market; a market that must be held if Canadian farmers are to enjoy a high cash income.

"It is inconceivable that the United Nations could abandon the peoples of the liberated areas of Europe at the moment of their greatest peril", says Herbert E. Lehman, Director-General of UNRRA. Give your spare used clothing to the National Clothing Collection for liberated countries, October 1-20.

Playing safe with TEXTILES

The supply of textiles is not adequate to the demand.
For six years, most of the world output has gone to war.
Victory has not improved the situation.
There will not be enough textiles in Canada for many months to come.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

Canada depends largely on other sources for raw materials and for some yarns and fabrics.

A serious manpower shortage still confronts the textile industry of all Allied countries.

Shortages overseas must be met. It will take months before production is resumed in Europe.

Substantial quantities of all kinds of textiles are still required by occupational forces.

Domestic demand for textiles increased sharply during the war. It is still going up.

Civilian clothing needs of returning servicemen and women are swelling the demand here at home.

CONSERVATION IS THE KEYNOTE

This year, production directives have again been issued to the textiles industry.
They are intended to divert output to more essential goods.
But directives alone cannot cure a situation arising from world conditions.
The answer lies in conservation. More than ever, the need is to conserve, to take care of what there is, to mend, make-over and make-do.

TO PROVIDE CANADIAN WOMEN with guidance and practical assistance in maintaining the family wardrobe, the Board has prepared a series of advertisements, to assist Canadian women. Each subsequent advertisement will illustrate tested ways of styling new and fashionable clothing from outgrown and outmoded garments. Can You Zay Zeze Tongue Twizterz ?

In my new England boyhood we had no movies, but we had a good time evenings with games and contests which might now entertain those marooned by the tire shortage. One such game is "Tongue Twisters" —to trip trick tongues (there, I almost made a tongue twister then, myself!) and to assist toward better enunciation.

First of all, try this one. Say it slowly. Then repeat it with increasing speed, a process to be followed with the others:

Betty Botter bought a bit of butter. "But," she said, "this butter's bitter. If I put it in my batter, it will make my batter bitter. But a bit of better butter will make my batter better." So Betty Botter bought a bit of better butter and it made her batter better.

Then take this old one:

A skunk stood on a stump. The stump thunk the skunk stunk, but the skunk thunk the stump stunk

This next one, too, is old. Do not try it unless your dentures are tight:

Theophilus Thistle, the thistle-sifter, sifted a sieve of unsifted thistles. If Theophilus Thistle, the thistle-sifter, sifted a sieve of unsifted thistles, where is the sieve of unsifted thistles Theophilus Thistle, the thistle-sifter, sifted?

Of course, it's the same formula as the universally familiar one about Peter Piper's pickles; Peter Piper tests your labial dexterity and Theophilus Thistle your dental and lingual responses.

Now try your sibilants on these short ones, which are tricky if you speed up:

Sister Susie's sewing shirts for soldiers.

Slippery sleds slide smoothly down the sluiceway.

A snifter of snuff is enough snuff for a sniff for the snuff sniffer.

She sells seashells by the seashore.

Here's one with irresistible rhyme appeal:

Moses supposes his toeses are roses, but Moses supposes erroneously. For Moses he knowses his toeses aren't roses, as Moses supposes his toeses to be.

The woodchuck is a marmot, or ground hog, and no one knows why this nonchucker of wood was so named, but:

If a woodchuck could chuck wood, how much wood would a woodchuck chuck, if a woodchuck could and would? But if a woodchuck could and would chuck wood, no reason why he should how much wood could a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck could and would chuck wood?

The r's should be trilled in this one:

Around the rugged rock the ragged rascal ran.

This also is alliterative:

I never felt felt feel flat like that felt felt.

And if you can say this one twice in rapid sucession, you are very good indeed, for nine out of ten can't.

Sinful Caesar sipped his snifter, seized his knees and sneezed.

I hope you, the reader of this article, will send me any other tongue twisters you know, especially old ones, as they should be preserved before they fade from our memories.

Send in your "Twisters" to The Record.

TWELVE MILES OF INK IN NEW FOUNTAIN PEN

A fountain-pen which need be filled only once a year is being produced in the United Kingdom. The pen has no nib but a stylographic point—a wire enclosed in a tube which releases ink when pressed. Its barrel holds 12 miles of ink—and it is only the size of an ordinary fountain-pen. The pen was invented by Miles Aircraft during the war. It was designed for pilots to write at heights where the air pressure is so low that an ordinary fountain-pen will explode.

He Passed All Right.

In the University of Wisconsin, students undergoing an examination in English were asked:

"Write out examples of the indicative, the subjunctive, the potential, and the exclamatory moods."

To which one struggling pupil complied with the following:

"I am endeavoring to pass an English examination. If I answer 20 questions I shall pass. If I answer 12 questions I may pass. God help me!"

"Here comes our cheque Mummy!"

All over Canada, in cities, towns, villages and on farms, hundreds of thousands of men and women watch for the postman to bring dependents' allowance cheques as other people look for pay-day. They are people of all ages whose bread-winners are away on active service. They include returned men not yet back in civil life.

And soon there will be hundreds of thousands more back from the war. They will receive cheques to help them buy civilian clothes, to go to college, to get technical or vocational training, to start in business for themselves, or to set up as farmers or fishermen.

The banks have to be prepared to cash all official cheques for these and a dozen other purposes—and to do so anywhere in Canada without charge. In fact, the banks supply Canada with the nationwide machinery to facilitate a grateful country's plans for restoring service men and women to civilian life.

This is a tremendous task. It will entail a vast amount of bookkeeping. But you can be sure that your banks will take it in their stride without impairing regular banking service.

FARM LIFE HARD ON JOHNNY HOME

Scattered cows, broken fences and all the chaos and corn that a city slicker can get mixed up with during a day-and-a-half on a farm is heard on the ninth episode of the "Johnny Home Show" on Friday, September 7th, at 9.30 p.m. EDT, over the CBC Trans-Canada network.

It all comes about when Johnny Home, his family, his girl friend Rosemary and his friend Sam Lightfoot visit a pal of Johnny's on the farm. Before many hours have elapsed Johnny takes over and discovers the hard way, that a farmer's life is not an easy one, and swears he'll never go near a farm again.

Musical interludes coming from the direction of the hay-loft are by the "Swing Platoon" singing with Samuel Hersenhoren's orchestra. The program, written by Frank Shuster and Johnny Wayne, is produced before an audience in the CBC Toronto Studio by J. Frank Willis.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Mothers are busy getting the children's clothes ready for school—mending, letting out and pressing. Youngsters always seem to "stretch up" so during the summer!

This year more mothers than ever will be making alterations on the children's clothes as well as their own. It is economical and it is wise. For instance you can:

(1) Mend frayed edges of sleeves and make the jacket stylish too, by using bias strips of a contrasting material to pipe each sleeve.
(2) Use any suitable remnants to line pockets or hand bags. Stitch the edges of skirt pleats to strengthen the material.
(3) Hand stitch edges of jacket openings if the garment has lost its press.
(4) Sew a "turned" edge on a hem which is not deep enough to let down.
(5) Make side fasteners. Strips of hooks and eyes for repairing corselettes are available and you could clip off a section and stitch in a tab upon which the hooks and eyes are fastened.

Nearly every child is eager to help and now while mother is busy, the daughter may take over in the kitchen. With the encouragement of mother's praise, she will go a long way towards becoming an excellent cook. Simple dishes and guidance in the use of electrical appliances will make meal-getting easy for her.

You might give your daughter this menu to prepare on your sewing day.

Raw peaches, wheate porridge with milk, toast and honey, coffee.

Scalloped meat, mashed potatoes and corn-on-the-cob, baked custard and tea.

Devilled eggs, potato salad, sliced tomatoes, applesauce cookies and milk.

POINTS IN OPERATING AN ELECTRIC SEWING MACHINE

Clean and oil the electric machine after each garment is made.

Use pure sewing machine oil—other oils gum. Use a small quantity.

3. Thread, needle and fabric must correspond for perfect workmanship. For the average family sewing Nos. 60 to 90 thread is used and No. 14 needle for machine.
4. Purchase needles when sewing machine was bought. Place the needles in needle bar with flat side toward wheel. Fasten needle clamp securely with screw-driver.
5. Always use the same thread in bobbin as on top of machine. Buy the best thread and that which corresponds to fabric. Cotton on rayon only.
6. Replace bobbin firmly and correctly.
7. Never force the sewing machine to sew when it refuses once. Remove the shuttle and take out any lint or broken thread.

Many new electric machines are equipped with a forward and reverse stitch regulator which fastens ends securely. Reverse stitching must be used in the first line of stitching.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ON SEWING MACHINES

1. If thick fabrics draw or puck—tension is too tight, stitch too small.

If upper thread breaks constantly look for one of these reasons: (1) Needle not set properly; (2) Machine not threaded correctly; (3) Upper tension too tight; (4) Thread uneven and needle too small; (5) A sharp needle eye.

3. If the under thread constantly breaks, the cause may be: (1) Bobbin case improperly threaded; (2) Too tight tension; (3) Bobbin to full of thread.
4. If the needle breaks, the cause may be: (1) The fabric has been pulled forward instead of backward; (2) The needle may not be raised high enough; (3) Bulky seams, which should be sewn only if you use a bar cap.

Note—Limited space does not permit directions on the value and practice of various attachments. However we will be very glad to give assistance upon request.

Anne Allan invites you to write to her c/o "The Record". Send in your suggestions on homemaking problems and watch this column for replies.
