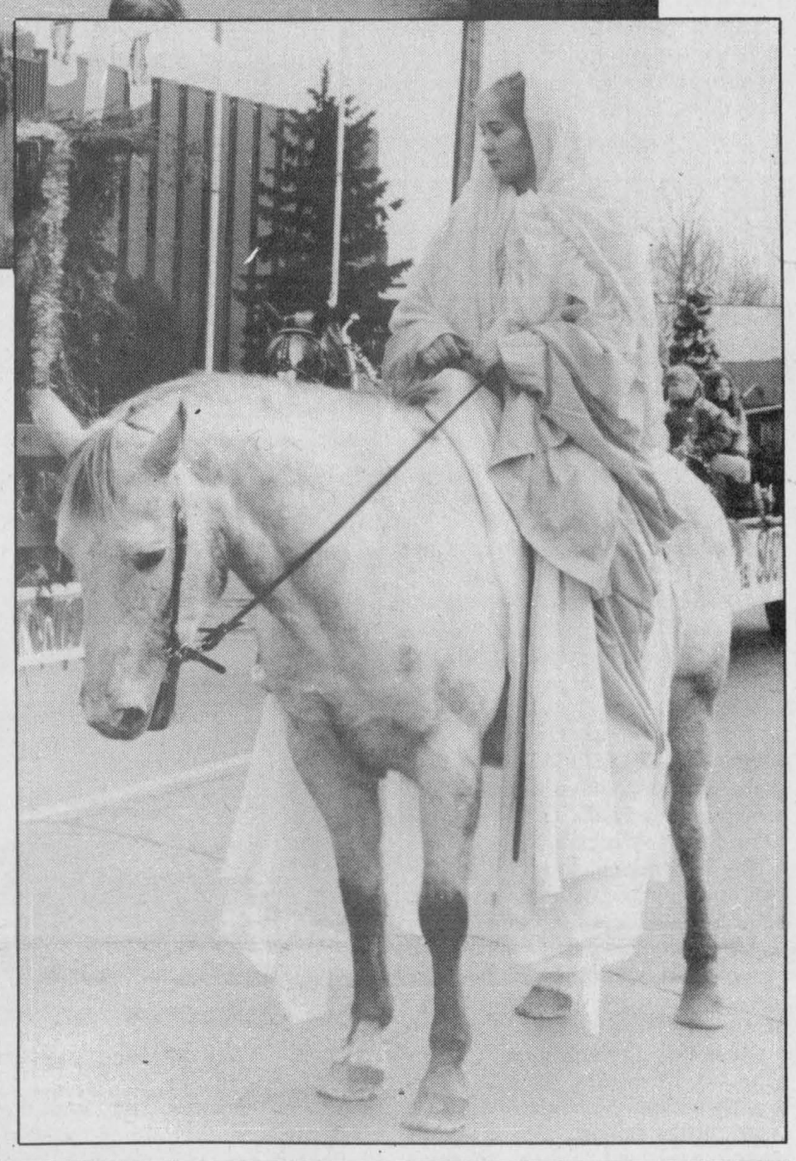
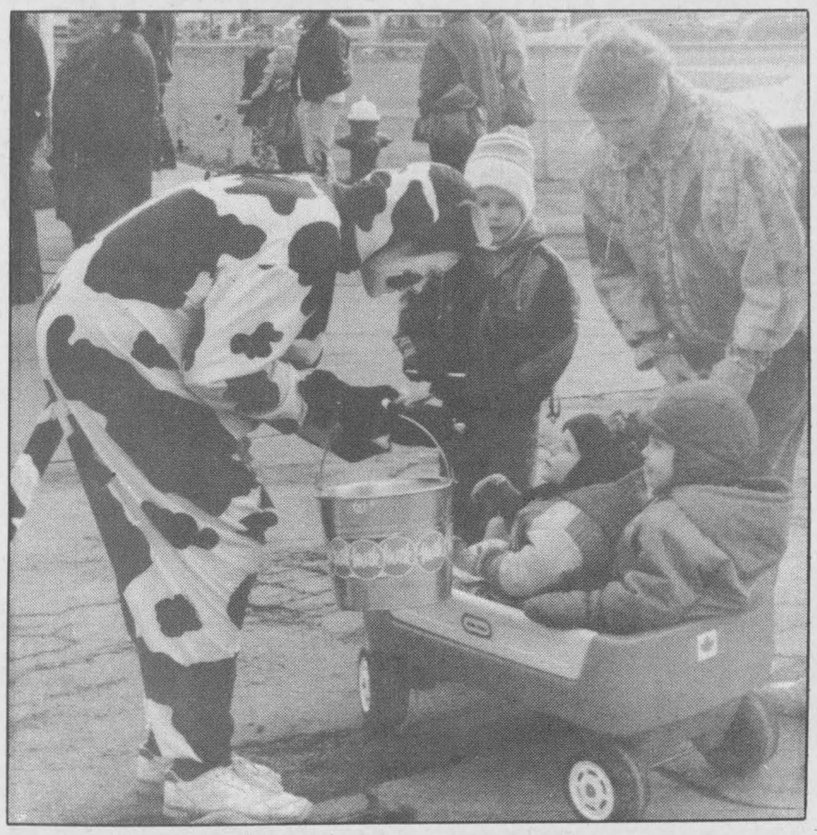
Parade greets Santa





Santa's gang

The 45th Winchester Santa Claus parade wound its way through the village streets on Saturday. Thirty-three floats entertained the throng of parade watchers while judges, The Press's Al Van Bridger, Oldies 1310's John Ross and CKBY's Ralph Murray scored the proceedings for awarding winning entries. Pictured clockwise from the top: Winchester Scouts rode the birthday float; South Mountain's Kelly Fields participated in a living nativity scene; a one-horse open sleigh was featured in the commercial entry from CountryBoy/CountryGirl; the Blues Brothers from Albert Gale Real Estate had the crowds rocking; a Milk Marketing Board cow greets youngsters along the route; Ault Foods Ltd. presented a Victorian Christmas with the Johnston family; Winchester Public School students held Santa's Holiday Hoedown; and twin sweater sets on these two dogs kept them warm.

One slip changes accident victim's life

Dianne Fetterly
Agricultural editor

KEMPTVILLE — Nineteen years ago this fall, Cobden area dairy farmer Gordon Bilson took a small step that changed his life forever.

From that day on Bilson was no longer able to play hockey, baseball or show his cattle at fairs. But in hindsight, Bilson says all those things don't really matter anymore because he's learned to do things differently – without his legs.

On an October day 19 years ago, 23-year-old Bilson was helping the family harvest corn silage at their farm. His job was unloading the wagons but on one particular trip when he pulled up to the blower, it wasn't working properly.

In attempts to fix things and in a hurry, Bilson jumped across a small conveyor belt. However, he slipped and was pulled into the blower.

It happened very quickly, but the next thing he recalls was being neck-deep in silage. Bilson says his mother remained very calm, managing to comfort him until the ambulance arrived 20 minutes later.

After a quick trip to Pembroke hospital and four hours of surgery Bilson found himself in recovery. Later that evening friends and family were amazed that he was able to talk to them, he said.

Five weeks and numerous operations later, Bilson left Pembroke hospital for a facility in Toronto where he was to be fitted for new legs and undergo therapy. He remained in Toronto from November until the following August where he underwent gruelling physical therapy. The care there was tremendous, he added.

Despite protests from family, Bilson started to travel the following year. He went to British Columbia and later to the east coast. When people said he couldn't or shouldn't do something, it made Bilson more determined to try.

Back home in Cobden, Bilson has had to make adjustments to cope with the drastic changes in his life. And while his wheelchair prevents him from doing some of the things he used to, he now enjoys new activities, especially the company of his young relatives.

And when invited by area farm safety specialist Sheila James to speak at the association's fall area meeting last week in Kemptville, the lack of a wheelchair ramp did not deter Bilson.

"I told Sheila (the lack of a ramp) wouldn't be a problem... just get me to Kemptville and I'd get in the building somehow."

Gordon Bilson of Cobden delivered a poignant testimonial.

Outstanding contribution

Gordon Smith of Chesterville received a certificate of appreciation from the Farm Safety Association for outstanding contribution in promoting agriculture, health and safety in Dundas County. Farm emergency response courses launched

Dianne Fetterly
Agricultural editor

KEMPTVILLE — With all the new technology used in running today's agricultural operations comes the growing need for firefighter education in farm emergency response procedures.

"We assume that firefighters are familiar with (on farm) rescues. In fact, sometimes they know very little," said Doug Graham, co- ordinator of the Municipal Health and Safety's farm emergency response course.

According to Graham, the Municipal Health and Safety Program, in co-operation with the Ontario Fire Marshal's Office and the Farm Safety Association, has set up a five-day training program to provide firefighters with the skills to better respond to a farm emergency.

Often people don't understand that removing a victim from an overturned tractor is a very slow process that takes a lot of skill, he explained.

Removing a victim pinned under a tractor, or moving the tractor too quickly without proper technique can cause further damage or even kill the person, explained Graham, speaking to a group at the Farm Safety Association's fall area meeting last week.

Doug Graham discusses a farm emergency response course which he co-ordinates.

Another important factor is the need for special training so that firefighters are able to go to a farm accident and do their job without becoming victims themselves, he said.

As well, too often the heavy equipment used in other accident rescues is too cumbersome to move across a field, Graham added.

For those reasons Graham says he feels the course is very worthwhile for firefighters, who are often the first sign of help at the scene of a farm accident.

THE COURSE

A pilot project was held at the Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology last fall attracting a number of volunteers from area fire departments.

The first weekend session dealt with theory, with the program divided into four main areas focussing on health and safety; emergency care, rescue, fire suppression and chemistry and toxicology. Representatives from the college guided participants through the college's farm facilities, pointing out hazards and discussing possible solutions.

During the second session, participants were given the opportunity to put their new-found knowledge into practice as they completed several staged rescues, according to Graham. He has about six instructors trained in rescue operations.

While the course could be instrumental in saving lives, the future of the program and further funding will be discussed at a meeting later this month.

AMEO to hold annual meeting

BROCKVILLE — Tyler Allen, produce manager and buyer for Your Independent Grocer in Brockville is the keynote speaker for the second annual meeting of AMEO (Agricultural Marketing for Eastern Ontario) slated for Dec. 8 at the Carriage House Motel in Gananoque.

Allen will discuss with AMEO members their responsibilities if they wish to sell direct to a chain store.

According to AMEO president Doug Avery, several reports of the year's activities, election of officers, and discussion for 1995 plans is on the agenda as well. A demonstration of the AMEO computer system will be presented by the board.

AMEO is a volunteer farm organization mandated to determine the market opportunities for its members and aid in the facilitation of acquiring the opportunities. Membership is approximately 100 covering all 17 Eastern Ontario counties.

Consignment sale reflects international bidding flavor

OTTAWA — A crowd of over 1,400 people from 23 different countries participated in the successful first edition of the Eastern Reflections Sale.

The event held in Ottawa Nov. 15, offered over 80 outstanding individuals from Canada's leading Holstein sires. The highest selling consignment was Seelby Prelude Chanel, a Prelude daughter of Seelby Lindy Carleen (VG-88) who was struck down at $90,000. The buyer, Koichi Mitani, Japan, elected to purchase a half interest from the Consignors Sean & Kelly O'Connor, Ajax, with the heifer remaining at O'Connors Holstein.

The second high seller consigned by Brigeen Farms, Turner, Maine was Gillette L. Cristal (VG-88). This impressive young Lindy bull mother sold for $41,000 to Innislake Dairy Farm Ltd., Olds, Alta.

Gillette Brilea Faith, a Prelude daughter of Quietcove Star Fanta (VG-87), consigned by La Ferme Gillette & Brilea Holsteins was purchased by WJ & JM Nadin & Company, U.K. for $36,000. The sale averaged $8,348.77 with approximately 40 per cent of the consignments purchased for export.

A presentation to open the event was made to Ron and Cathy Osofsky, Pine Plains, N.Y., the breeders of Ronnybrook Prelude, and to the selection committee that was involved in his acquisition. The Osofskys were presented with an original Sherril Brooke painting of Prelude to recognize their important contribution to the improvement of the Holstein breed.

Based on the overwhelming response to the first edition, plans are already being made for Eastern Reflections '95.

Velthuis farm tops in county

Garnet Quail
Press Staff Reporter

OSGOODE — Paul Velthuis is a very proud young man; with very good reason. Paul, brother Steve and father Bert combine to operate Velthuis Farms, one of the larger dairy/cash crop businesses in Osgoode Township.

The pride factor comes from the fact that, aside from running such a successful operation - or possibly because of it, Velthuis Farms won the Carleton County portion of the 1994 Ontario Forage Masters Competition.

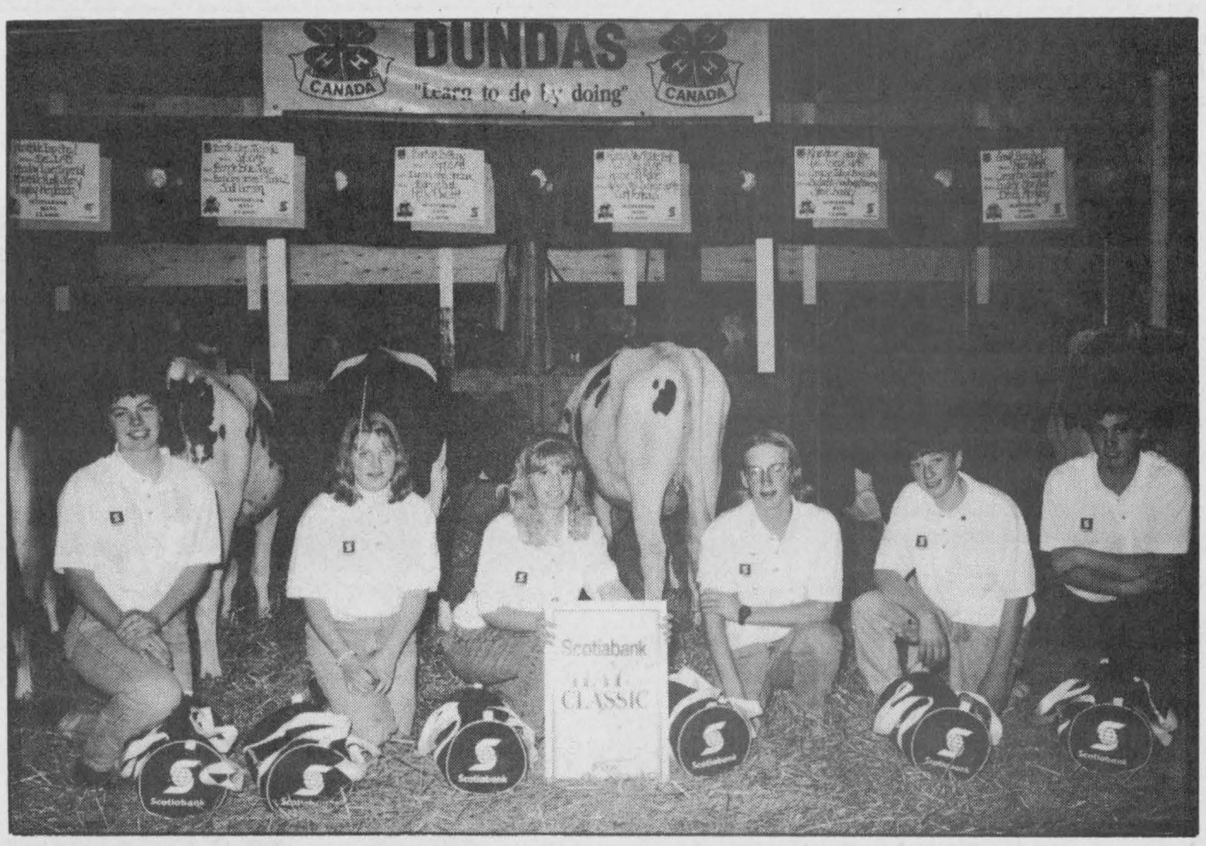
The farm, approximately 800 acres, adequately supports the diverse agricultural activities which include maintaining a milking herd of 80 to 85 Holsteins.

This competition is an annual event designed to foster greater interest in the value of top quality forage feeds and 1994 saw ten Carleton County entries. Top overall score of 78.84 out of a possible 100 went to the Velthuis family. Scoring is done by allotting 50% of marks for agronomic factors - everything from soil tests to crop suitability to uniformity of stand, 25% goes to either hay or silage category, whichever feed form the competitor has chosen and the final 25% of the mark is allotted to feed value.

Paul Velthuis, when asked how the farm became involved in the competition, smiles and says, "Probably because Paul Sullivan (crop specialist) dropped in one day and said he put our name in already and were we going to enter. That's got something to do with the way it happened but we were aware of the competition and the value of it. Good forage can't be duplicated with any form of supplement."

Asked how the competition is funded, Paul says, "This is a co-operative effort between Northrup King Seeds and the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. Local winners receive gifts of Northrup King seeds and an invitation, fully funded, to attend the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. At the Royal you are requested to make a short presentation concerning your farming operation and some of the steps required to produce your winning crop. The entire exercise helps to promote and increase the amount and quality of forage products throughout Ontario."

Paul goes on to say, "Unfortunately I didn't make the trip to the Royal. It turned out to be a conflicting weekend. We had a calf consigned to a large auction in Ottawa and I really wanted to be there. Maybe, with a little bit of luck, combined with what we learned from the forage competition this year, I'll have a chance to go to the Royal in 1995."



Tough competitors

Six Dundas 4-H dairy calf club members recently attended the 1994 Scotiabank Hays Classic at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, Nov. 13-14. The Classic is a national 4-H show and this year's event attracted 261 members from eight provinces across Canada. Pictured with their exhibit at the RAWF are (left to right): Tammy Henderson, Brinston; Jodi Gannon, Winchester; Kelly Fawcett, Winchester; Curt Porteous, Winchester; Steve Bossel, Winchester and Derek Merkley, Morewood. Linda Porteous of Winchester was chaperone.

Metcalfe unit donates to TOCC

by Rosemary Moriarity

METCALFE — The November meeting of the Metcalfe Auxiliary of the Township of Osgoode Care Centre was held at the home of the president, Jean Wade.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary Joan Dow.

The treasurer's report was given by Margaret Laroche. She reported that a cheque for $2,000 was presented to the Care Centre Board at their annual meeting on Nov. 21.

The raffle held by the auxiliary over the past few months was successful. The winning raffle tickets were drawn by Wade. First prize, a quilt, was won by Geri Poth, Osgoode; second prize, a decorative shirt was won by Peter Marr, Russell; and third prize, a floral spray, was won by Susan Graham, Metcalfe.

A vote was taken by the members on the future of the auxiliary. It was the unanimous decision of the members to dissolve the auxiliary due to declining membership.

The balance on hand, $841.72, will be forwarded to the TOCC.

Since the auxiliary was formed in 1982, it has contributed over $34,000 to date to the assistance of the operation of the care centre.

The meeting was adjourned and a lunch was served by the hostess.

In Memoriam

PARSONS — In loving memory of a dear husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather, Ken, who passed away Dec. 5, 1988.
God's golden gates stood open,
Six years ago today,
With farewells left unspoken,
The day you went away.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.
You gave us years of happiness,
Fond memories linger dear
The times we spent together,
We will treasure through the years.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
The silent tears still flow,
For what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
Our hearts are with you daily.
— Always loved and remembered, wife Annie and family
36

GIBSON — William (Bill), Dec. 11, 1991.
Loving husband, dear father and grandpa.
You never failed to do your best,
Your heart was warm and tender,
You lived your life for those you loved,
And those you loved remember.
— Wife Audrey and family
36

BARKLEY — In loving memory of a dear brother, Dwight, who passed away Dec. 7, 1986.
Nothing can be more beautiful,
Than the memories we have of you,
To us you were someone special,
And God must of have thought so too.
— Sadly missed by Brock, nieces and nephews
36

BOOTH — In memory of Robert who passed away Dec. 15, 1989.
Remembering you is easy Poppa
We do it every day
Missing you is the heartache
That never goes away.
— Lovingly remembered by Margaret, DeeDee and Steve, Dodi, Hazel, Holly, Grant Robert and Megan

Health Unit to enforce anti-smoking law

CORNWALL — The tough new anti-smoking law calls for tough enforcement: enter the Eastern Ontario Health Unit.

The health unit is responsible for enforcing the anti-smoking legislation in this area.

The new law, in effect since Nov. 30, aims to reduce tobacco use and protect people from second- hand smoke. Tobacco use kills more than 13,000 people a year in Ontario and threatens the health of thousands.

Dr. Robert Bourdeau, medical officer of health, says the new law — and its enforcement — can help reduce tobacco use, particularly among youths.

The law makes it illegal to sell or give tobacco to anyone under 19, prohibits the sale of tobacco in drug stores and from vending machines, and bans so-called kiddie packs containing fewer than 20 cigarettes.

While smoking among 15- to 19-year-olds has declined, one in four continues to smoke cigarettes regularly and the percentage of youth smoking more than a pack a day is going up. Among Grade 7 students in Ontario, smoking has increased 50 per cent since 1991.

"If young people can be discouraged from smoking, the number of adult users will eventually decline, and so will tobacco-related disease," says Dr. Bourdeau.

Smoking is now banned in schools and on school property, any placed used by young people, and in a wide range of public places, such as stores, financial institutions, video and amusement arcades, laundromats, hair salons, barber shops, transit shelters and stations. Smoking is restricted to designated areas in shopping malls, hospitals, colleges and universities.

The new law also prohibits the sale of tobacco in health facilities.

"We're determined to protect people from the serious health risks of environmental or second- hand smoke," said Dr. Bourdeau, citing the link between second-hand smoke and lung cancer in non- smokers and respiratory problems in children.

The health unit offers a variety of smoking cessation programs. Call 933-1375 or 1-800-267- 7120.

Robinson — VanderVeen

Mr. and Mrs. Jake VanderVeen are pleased to announce the marriage of their daughter Kelly, to Ron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Robinson. The marriage took place Sept. 24, 1994 at Trinity United Church, Chesterville. The honeymoon was in Cape Breton Island. Kelly and Ron now reside at their new home in Chesterville. May you have many happy years ahead.

Seniors updated on support programs

by Orma Prunner

MOUNTAIN — The Mountain Township Seniors held their monthly meeting on Nov. 30 with a good attendance.

The president, Herman Jansen, welcomed each one and opened the meeting with singing O Canada and repeating the Lord's Prayer.

The secretary and treasurer each read their reports which were approved. The kitchen report was given.

Doris Hyndman gave information re: trips. The seniors plan a trip to Ottawa on Dec. 14 to a concert.

The Scouts and Guides will entertain us in Mountain Hall on Dec. 18 at 2:30pm.

We are invited to the Inkerman School Christmas program on Dec. 20 at 1:30pm.

Christmas cards will be sent to the senior shut-ins. We will have our Christmas dinner on Dec. 7.

Get-well cards were signed to be sent to Dorothy Crowder and Margaret Hyndman.

Birthdays and anniversaries were acknowledged.

A minute of silence was observed in memory of Ernie Boyd, Hazel Shaver and Gordon Cleland.

Grace was sung and a potluck dinner enjoyed.

The program which followed was presented by the Mountain group. Lenora Barkley and Orma Prunner each read a short poem. Nancy Gibson, the program co-ordinator of the North Dundas Senior Support program was guest speaker. She gave an update on many things to help seniors in their homes. They now have an Alzheimer program to assist families who must cope with this in their home.

There was a short question period and Orma thanked the guest speaker.

The seniors enjoyed a singsong of Christmas carols with Ed Drake leading the singing and Hilda Kirby at the piano.

Recipe for healthy cooking

WINCHESTER — Some local retailers are teaming up with the Dundas Chapter of the Heart and Stroke Foundation to spread heartsmart habits.

This month several local stores and the Foundation are offering Simply HeartSmart Cooking, which will introduce people to an exciting new wave in healthy cooking that reduces the amount of fat in favorite foods without sacrificing taste.

The Heart and Stroke Foundation and Bonnie Stern, owner of one of Canada's most prestigious cooking schools, have teamed up to bring individuals one of the most comprehensive cookbooks on heartsmart cooking to date!

Developed for healthy people who want to eat better and reduce their risk of heart disease, Simply HeartSmart Cooking offers a complete guide to heartsmart eating.

"Simply HeartSmart Cooking contains over 200 delicious recipes and offers practical tips on healthy eating which incorporate the latest nutritional news from the Heart and Stroke Foundation", says Janie MacDiarmid of the Heart and Stroke Foundation. "The section on menu planning helps you choose from the variety of soups, appetizers, main courses and desserts to prepare a meal for any occasion."

Proceeds from Simply HeartSmart Cooking help the Heart and Stroke Foundation continue to fund research and health promotion projects. Each year 75,000 Canadian men and women die from heart disease and stroke. Previous cookbook sales have raised more than 1 million dollars for the foundation.

Simply HeartSmart Cooking was made possible in part by an educational grant from the makers of Becel.

Simply HeartSmart cookbooks are available at the following locations: Winchester - Annable's Jewellery, Fawcett's Heritage House of Gifts; Chesterville - Al-Mor Ladies Wear; Morrisburg - Pier 31; South Mountain - Country Girls; Williamsburg - Browse Around Tea Room; Iroquois - Baldi's Deli and Bakeshop.
