"THE VILLAGE LAWYER"

On Monday evening March 17th, in the Music Hall, will be presented a delightful entertainment, entitled "The Village Lawyer," by St. Mary's Dramatic Club. The play, composed by the famous Arthur Lewis Tubbs, who is well known to the stage, and admired by critics for his superior talent in weaving pathos with comedy into his trend of thought, ranks with the best he has written. The story depicts a political fight between Seth Barrett, a young village lawyer, and David Conant a recognized official boss of long standing in the community, for the office of district attorney. David is incensed at Seth's refusal to withdraw his name from the ticket, and commands Seth to cease paying attention to his daughter, Helen, with whom he is desperately in love. David by some way, has learned that Seth's college career in New York was not to his credit, and he summons an actress, Miss Isabel Underwood, from Broadway, who knew the young lawyer, during his college days, in an attempt to make public a greatly magnified account of Seth's past, in order to injure him politically. But, despite Conant's iron will and underhanded methods, Seth is firm in his purpose, and plays the game so fairly that his opponent becomes ashamed of his actions and relents. Conant is being ably assisted by Jim Ferguson, his right hand man, who at first enters the scheme with David and Isabel, but through the influence of the latter, becomes secretely, a strong supporter of Seth, on account of Conant's daughter, Helen, who gains the favour of Isabel, by her pathetic appeals against her father's unjust discipline. Alan Spencer, who is a city boarder, visiting in the village, in the course of the stormy courtship of the young lawyer, quietly and, none the less earnest, wins the affections of Seth's sister, Angie Barrett. The matrimonial difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dill, the acute situation of the maid, Lobelia, and the pranks of Dan Bright, the office boy, furnish plenty of humor throughout. The play is, outstandingly, in a superior class, and will no doubt be received with keen interest and appreciation.—L. E. S.

JOIN THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

The option lists of the Horticultural Society are now being prepared and within a few days will be mailed or otherwise delivered to all those who were members last year and to any others who would like to become members, if they will make Miss Moad aware of their desire, who will be very pleased to place lists in their hands. Every house should at least have one membership as it is not only supporting a good cause but it is profitable to you if you go no farther than getting your garden and flower seeds through it, as you get about two dollars worth of seeds and plants for the dollar's membership fee. Beautify your home surrounding this year with a profusion of flowers.

MR. AND MRS. LESLIE MARCELLUS HONORED

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. Chesley Marcellus, Morewood, on Feb. 29th, when about 60 of their friends gathered to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marcellus, on the eve of their departure for their new home at Russell.

After the guests were entertained with music, games and dancing, they were called to the dining room where an address was read by Mr. Frank Fraser, and a chair presented to Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus by J. M. Shaver. They responded in a few well chosen words. The address was as follows:—

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus,—We have gathered here tonight to bid you farewell on the eve of your departure for your new home. As you make new friends in the years to come, we trust you will never forget your old friends among whom you have lived. We sincerely hope that you will have a pleasant and prosperous sojourn in your new home at Russell, and that you may return to makeyour home among us. In slight token of esteem in which you are both held by your Morewood friend., we beg you to accept this small gift, a chair, hoping it may ever serve to remind of those, whose best wishes follow you

Signed your Morewood Friends.

Lunch was then served, after which the fun continued until the small hours when every one went home after expressing that they had a "real good time."

IMPROVEMENT TO PHONE SEVICE

The Bell Telephone Co. has recently spent over $1500.00 on their Chesterville exchange. A large part of the outlay was caused by the installing of a new switch board. The change was made from the old board to the new one without any break in the service which cost extra money, but the Bell Co. realize that service comes first. In order that the party lines might be specially benefited a new condenser has been added.

While unnecessary loitering in the telephone office is forbidden, you are invited to inspect the new board and see for yourself where the money you pay the Bell Telephone Co. goes.

The local managers, Mr. Hunt, procures the best operators the returns from the exchange warrants.

The operators have resolved to do their best to earn your money and hold your respect.

Now for a few suggestions how we, the subscribers, can help to make Chesterville a model exchange:—

Instead of giving the name of the party you wish to speak to give his or her telephone number. The operator is usually busy and may have two or three other calls to put through at the same time as yours..

Do not hold a party line longer than is really necessary as some one may be impatiently waiting to speak to you or your neighbor.

Whe throubh talking don't forget to ring off.

Pay your telephone account promptly. It is due when rendered and while it may seem small the telephone company have so many thousands of these that the total is very large and your company needs the money to fix up other exchanges.

When through talking don't forget to it to the operator and if it is not fixed within a reasonable time report it to the local manager.

Let us work together to make Let us work together to make Chesterville exchange what it should be.

MRS. J. F. OUDERKIRK, MOOSE CREEK

There passed away on Wednesday March 5th, at Moose Creek, Mrs. J. F. Ouderkirk at the age of 26 years having been in poor health for about three years. Before her marriage seven years ago her name was Pearl Blue daughter of William Blue of Moose Creek where she was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends. She was a member of the L.O B.A. A sister of the deceased passed away about ten months ago. Besides a sorrowing husband and her aged parents she is survived by a brother Frank at home, and by her sister Annie of Brockville. The funeral service was conducted on Friday, March 7th at two p. m. by Rev. Mr. McLeod of Moose Creek. The pall bearers were Victor Johnston, J. H. Briton, Archie Buchanan, Roy Casselman, W. B. Stewart and George Baker. The remains were placed in the Sixth Cemetery.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Coulthart, Morewood, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage March 5th, both looking hale and hearty in their sixty-ninth year. They were married at Winchester, Ont., by the Rev. Andrew Rowatt, a former pastor of Winchester and Morewood congregations. Only four of those who attended their wedding are now living three being present on this occasion. The family consisted of six boys and three girls, seven of whom are still living. There are also fifteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Two daughters, Mrs. E. A. Crump and Mrs. A.E. McDonald, their husbands and children were unable to be present on account of illness. The other members of the family were all present as were many other near relatives and friends when about fifty in all sat down to dinner. During the evening short addresses and words of of a congratulatory nature were delivered by many of those present, in fact all joined in making it a very enjoyable event.

Mr. and Mrs. Coulthart were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The following address was read after which they both replied in words of appreciation for the kindness shown them through the various walks of married life and especially at this particular time, and expressed themselves as being extremely thankful, indeed, to have been spared to attain to this day with favorable health and strength.

Dear Father and Mother:—

On this, the occasion of your golden wedding, your children, relatives and other friends desire first to congratulate you on having been spared to reach this day, with physical strength and mental vigor enabling you still to enjoy the blessings of home, and the church and community, advantages within your reach.

We unite with you in devout thanksgiving to Almighty God for the loving kindness and mercy with which He has surrounded you in the passing of half-a-century of married life. Whether the pathway was marked with sunshine, or shadowed with disappointment, His grace was always sufficient for you, and your faith and trust always anchored you to the Rock of Ages.

As children, we wish to assure you today that our words cannot fully express our love and gratitude for the care and training of those early years, which were ours, beneath the sheltering roof of our childhood home. Your guidance and example were strong factors in the mental and spiritual development to which any of us have attained in our manhood and womanhood. Your patience and steadfastness to the higher things of life will always remain in our memories, and will be a beacon-star to us when we, with the passing of the years, shall come to our own sunset days. The gifts which we, your friends, near relatives and children have presented to you, to mark the occasion calling us together, are in some measure unworthy to express our love and respect for you. Let me ask you to receive them in the spirit in which given.

And we join together in prayer that you will be spared to us for many years yet, and to receive from time to time further assurance of our admiration and devotion. May a loving and gracious Heavenly Father continue to shower upon you the blessings promised to the righteous.

THE LATE THOMAS E. SERVAGE.

On Sunday Feb 17th, there passed away at his home at Springwater, Sask., a highly respected citizen in the person of Thomas E. Servage.

Mr. Servage was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Servage and was born in the county of Dundas in the year 1856. He resided in the county of Dundas where he was very favourably known until sixteen years ago when he moved with his family to Springwater, where he has since lived.

Although a great sufferer for the past few years he was never heard to complain.

He leaves to mourn his loss of a loving husband and father, his wife and nine children, Mrs. Rufus Casselman of Winchester Springs, Mrs. C. S. Walker of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Melvin Hanson, Bertha, George, Erwin, Percy, Earl and Cecil, all of Springwater, and fourteen grandchildren, three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Wm. Younge of Calgary, Mrs. Eliza Younge and Mrs. Wilson McFarland of Chicago, Albert and John of Dunbar.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Douthwaite in the Methodist church at Springwater, under the Orange order. The floral offerings which were most beautiful, consisted of a wreath from Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Walker, an arch from the L.O.L., a wreath from the family and a spray from the Ladies Aid.

He left in the early evening,
His heavenly crown to win,
And angels just then whispered
"Beautiful soul, come in,"
Fondly we loved him and dear to us still;
But in grief we must bend to God's holy will.

MARKELL—HARPER

Morrisburg Leader—At St. James Church, on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, by Ven Archdeacon Carson, Miss Georgina Harper, daughter of Mrs. Orrie Harper, of this town, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Markell of Napanee, youngest son of Mrs. Celia Markell of this town.

After the ceremony, a lunch was served at the home of the bride's mother after which Mr. and Mrs. Markell left for Kingston, where they will spend a few days with relatives, before leaving for their future home in Napanee.

Cool Advice

A Western evangelist makes a practice of painting Bible quotations and religious mottoes on rocks and fences along public highways. On one big flat rock he painted these words:

"What will you do when you die?"

An advertising gazabo came along and painted underneath that question.

"Use Delta oil; good for burns."

The Fresh Odor of Clean Clothes

New Whole-Life Policy
With Profits

This specially low premium policy has been introduced for thase whose introduced for those whose idea of life insurance is protection only. The premiums are graded yearly from twenty to sixty years of age.

Age 20 premium $13 15	Age 35 premium $20.05
Age 25 premium 14.80	Age 40 premium 24.10
Age 30 premium 17.05	Age 45 premium 29.55

Age 50 premium $36.70

For an extra premium of $1.25 per $1000 double the face of the policy will be paid in the event of death from accident.

The policy holder will receive no dividends during the period of twenty years, after twenty years the profits will be allotted on the annual basis to reduce the premiums during the life time of the assured.

I shall be pleased to furnish further particulars, regarding this very attractive protection plan.

BOSSIE HAS RIGHT OF WAY

A case of much interest to motorists came before a division court in a village in Western Ontario a short time ago. While driving along the highway cattle walked in front of an approaching auto, with the result that a collision occurred in which the car was badly damaged. The owner of the car entered an action for damages. The judge held that there was no negligence on the part of the defendant, as the cattle were legally on the highway, there being a bylaw in the township allowing cattle to run at large. Motor car drivers may as well make up their minds that it is up to them to take all care on the road where there are cattle or live stock.

ADVISES FARMERS TO KEEP BOOKS

A case in which a useful point was brought out was heard in the division court before His Honor Judge J. H. Scottat Perth. The court room was crowded when the case of the local branch of the U. F. O. through their secretary, Mr. Mowatt Cullen, brought action against Mr. Huddlestone for an accounting regarding the sale of a quantity of farm supplies purchased by the prosecution and placed in the barn of the defendant. The lack in fact almost total absence of any accounting system on the part of the defendant drew a remark from the bench to the effect that farmers would do well to take more pains in handling their accounts than in the case at the present time. Judgment was reserved.

BIG COLLIE DOG SAVES FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY'S LIFE

Strange tales sometimes come out of the North, but here's a story that is vouched for by several well-known citizens of North Bay. Saturday little Leonard Wilson, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, Fraser street, was playing near the corner of Fourth avenue and Fraser street. His playmate was a big dog owned by Mr J.J. Barker, local manager of the Hudson Bay Company. Both the boy and his canine friend were having a good time in the deep snow when suddenly the Geddes fruit delivery rig turned the corner from Fourth avenue and knocked the boy down. Like a flash, the dog grabbed the child by the collar of his coat and attempted to drag him out of harm's way. He succeeded in pulling the child's body clear, but one of the runners of the sleigh passed over the little fellow's legs. Onlookers were dazed for a moment, but rushed out on the street and tenderly carried the the little form to a nearby house. A physician was summoned, but discovered that the boy had suffered no serious injury, only some severe bruises and abrasions. The soft snow acted as a cushion and saved the little limbs from being broken. The dog, an intelligent Scotch collie, waited at the door for some time for the reappearance of his young companion to resume their frolicking, and then ambled off disconsolately in the direction of his master's home on McIntyre Street West.

PROOF POSITIVE

Mrs. Newlywed was still in the "silly" stage. Every afternoon, almost, she would call on her friends and rave about the bliss of wedded life. They no doubt believed her, but it didn't take them long to get rather fed up with this sort of talk. "Oh, it's divine!" said the young wife. "Jack says my hair is like fine gold, my eyes like stars, and my mouth a rosebud, moist with the dew of early June. Yesterday he said——" Here one of her more practical hearers lost patience. "That doesn't show he loves you," she said abruptly. "You want to be able to point to something more practical than that. Does he eat the things you cook?" "No," answered the other, her eyes lighting up, "but he refuses to let me eat them."

COVERED SKATING RINK AND COMMUNITY HALL FOR CHESTERVILLE

Never before in the history of Chesterville, has there been such an amazingly outstanding proposition presented to her people for consideration, than the one which is briefly mentioned in this article. A proposition which in itself meets all the requirements essential for the physicial and mental development, not only of the rising generation, but a proportion which should commend itself to every individual having a spark of ambition, pride, or of the general welfare of their fellow-beings hidden within themselves. Chesterville like many another rural town has been longing for the time when some plan might be devised, whereby it would be possible for her to climb the ladder of fame, and mount the pinnacle, and proclaim to the world from its lofty heights that she had been the first of her size and generation to attain to the almost seemingly inevitable possibilities set before the distant gaze of a rural town or community

That she has planned out and actually accomplished within herself, something which would contribute in no small degree toward the present and future development of her people, in such an outstanding and honorable manner, even beyond the fertile imagination of the most master mind.

For Chesterville and her adherents to come into possession now, of an idealized track of land so beautifully situated, and located as is the Chesterville Driving Park, and to have erected upon its grounds, a combined communtiy hall and covered skating rink, is surely almost beyond the average person's thinking ability, or comprehension, yet, just as truly as one lives, such a monument of fame is right within the grasp of her ever prosperous people, and it is to be hoped that none will ever dare, by any word or action, to sever the chain which has already been formed by a goodly number of the leading men of our town and vicinity, for the completing of this grand and noble heritage which shall belong to Chesterville and the people who become responsible for it, and which shall ever stand out as the one great pride of our whole community.

'Tis true the amount of financial consideration, which shall necessarily become involved in connection with a public enterprize of this magnitude will be great, and perhaps way beyond the reach entirely of one or two, or even a score of persons, but assumed by by many, will make the burden light, and if every citizen will do their duty in even a small degree financially, the actual assurance of the real completion of a covered skating rink and community hall, erected upon the Chesterville Driving Park grounds, and genuinely owned by the people of our town and vicinity, together with the entire Fair Grounds complete, shall no longer be chacterized as a myth, but a true reality, and Chesterville shall henceforth, stand out as one of the foremost rural communities in existence today.

One might go on and enumerate the many advantages a project of this kind with present to our town and community, but with such an intelligent and enlightened populace as Chesterville and vicinity is composed of, it hardly seems necessary, therefore all we require to do is to submit our proposed plan individually, in candid, reasonable agreement form, and we believe that every citizen in our midst will gladly rise to their duty toward the moral and public welfare of our present and rising generations, and shall avail themselves of this opportunity of contributing at least one financial link in the grand and noble chain, that will bind us closer together, one with the other, and for the common good of all the people of our truly great community, irrespective of class or condition, race or creed, black or white, and with one grand and primary object in view, that of doing something toward the moral and physical development of all those with whom we might come in contact with.

Tom Maloley then volunteered to answer the Questions in the Cheerful Worker's Question Box. Reports of the Health Game Committee, the Visiting Committee, and the Literary Committee were then given. Mite box reports showed 38c for the Cheerful Workers and 43c for the Peptimists for the past week. Mr. Boyd then gave some remarks on the programme and the meeting adjourned till after lunch. After dinner, the Questions from the Peptimists' Question box were answered by volunteers. Miss McGee also gave some remarks on the meeting. After some discussion it was moved by Eldridge Perault and seconded by Keith Graham that the time of our meetings be changed from morning till afternoon, commencing at 1.30 or 2.00 p. m. in order to make it more possible for parents or outsiders to attend. Carried. The Merit Badges for the retiring Health Game Committee being handed in, it was voted that the ones who acted for the past week should receive one each. Alton Perault and Ralph Durant were appointed to act for the coming week.

A hearty invitation was extended to the Cheerful Workers to again visit the Peptimists. The meeting was then closed by the National Anthem.

Her Only Flight Through the Air.

Little Nellie's mother was entertaining a famous aviator. After he had finished a thrilling story, little daughter sighed deeply and said:

"I've clear forgot how it feels to sail through the air."

"Why, Nellie," said her mother in a shocked voice, "you were never in the air in your life."

"Gracious, mamma! Have you forgotten that the stork brought me?"

MOULINETTE MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Jack Ellis, aged 60, a life long resident of Moulinette, was found dead in his bed in that village last Wednesday morning by Percy Gosling, a clerk for A. M. Snetsinger, ticket agent there. Mr. Ellis had not been seen since Friday, and it was at first thought that he had gone to Montreal, as he had intended doing for some time. On it being found, however, that he had purchased no ticket, Mr. Gosling and a friend went to Mr. Ellis' rooms, where they found the aged man dead in his bed. Mr. Ellis was a bachelor and lived alone. Dr. C. J. Hamilton, coroner at Cornwall, decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Mr. Ellis was born at Moulinette, and leaves one brother Frank Ellis in Moulinette, and a sister Mrs. Henry W. Brahm, of Detroit. In his younger days, Mr. Ellis was a well-known lacrosse player, having been a member of the Cornwall team which won the championship of the N. A. U. L. in 1888. In these games he was associated with a number of prominent men in the lacrosse life of the country, including Brig. Gen. Hughes. Only a few days previous to his death, he had played a game of hockey on the Moulinette rink.

GERMAN SUB. RESPONSIBLE FOR KITCHENER'S DEATH

The British cruiser Hampshire, bearing Lord Kitchener on a mission to Russia, was sunk in the summer of 1916 by the German submarine U-22, according to a story told by a patient in a Philadelphia hospital to a newspaper. The Mail and Empire publishes a despatch in this connection from its correspondent in Philadelphia:

Heinz Hickmann, born in Hamburg, Germany, a patient in St. Agnes Hospital here, told a story today that seems to furnish the first authentic information published as to the manner in which the British cruiser Hampshire, on which Lord Kitchener died, was blown up.

Hickmann, a machinst on the U-22, of the German submarine flotilla, said his captain received a wireless from the German naval office in the summer of 1916 that the British Commander was on the cruiser Hampshire and ordering the ship sunk at any cost.

Hickmann says the U-22 and the Hampshire met about six o'clock in the morning. He refrained from giving the names of his captain and officers on the ground that England with the aid of France, would imprison them. Otherwise he was specific as to details.

The U-22's captain picked up the Hampshire with the periscope when he was 15 miles away and prepared for the execution of the order from the German staff. Hickmann says they could see the cruiser had an escort of torpedo boats. He does not know how many, but he was sure of two, because they saw them come to the surface ofter firing the fatal torpedo into the heart of the cruiser.

HELL IN THE MAKING

The newly-appointed pastor of a negro church faced a large audience when he arose to deliver his sermon on this burning question: "Is There a Hell?"

"Bredern," he said, "de Lord made the world round like a ball."

"Amen!" agreed the congregation.

"And de Lord made two axles for de world to go round on, and He put one axle at the north pole and one axle at the southpole."

"Amen!" cried the congregation.

"And the Lord put a lot of oil and grease in de centre of de world so as to keep the axles well greased and oiled."

"Amen!" said the congregation

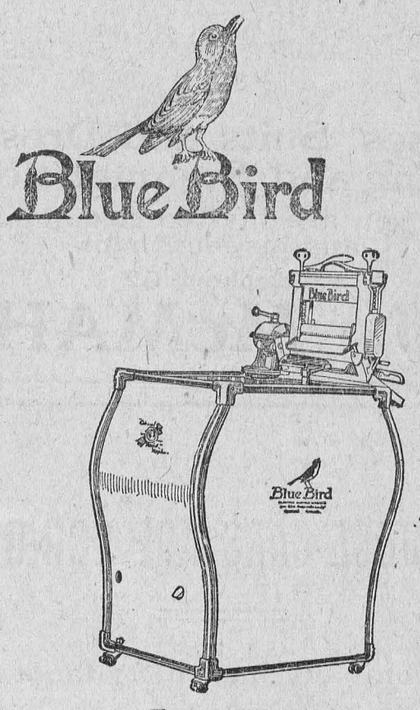

"And then a lot of sinners dig wells in Pennsylvania and steal de Lord's oil and grease. And hey dig wells in Kentucky, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas, and in Mexico and Russia, and steal the Lord's oil and grease. And some day dey will have all de Lord's oil and grease, and dem axies is gonna git hot. An' den, dat will be hell, bredern—dat will be hell!"

A Bit in Time.

They sat on the porch at midnight,
And their lips were tightly pressed;
The old man gave the signal—
And the bull-dog did the rest.

What Does This Trade Mark Mean?

You will see this shield-shape trade mark in hardware stores everywhere. You won't see it on cheap, inferior goods. It goes only on household utensils of the highest quality, yet selling at moderate prices, because of the tremendous quantities sold each year.

Choose cooking and baking utensils that carry this trade mark. Choose SMP Enameled Ware, with its very hard, smooth surface. Heats faster, cleans easier, imparts no metallic flavor, causes no dangerous acid re-actions. Ask for

SMP Enameled WARE

Three finishes: Pearl Ware, two coats of pearly-grey enamel inside and out. Diamond Ware, three coats, light blue and white outside, white lining. Crystal Ware, three coats, pure white inside and out, with Royal Blue edging.

WHEN WALES WINS

(Composed by one of Aultsville's hockey fans.)

The Hockey team from Aultsville,
Played a game on the rink at Wales,
Against the Mill Roche Hockey team,
Who played the game like snails.
The ice was awfully sloppy,
Which was caused by such soft weather,
But our boys they won the bacon,
And they certainly won it clever.
Mille Roche, they, were quite confident,
That they were going to win
With their horns and bells they brought along,
They made an awful din.
But when the game was over,
They felt like the Germans did in France
They found that they were lacking,
More lead in the seat of their pants.
And the horns and bells they brought along,
They didn't have a chance to use.
But instead they turned sick at their stomachs,
And vomited up hockey stws.
One of the Mille Roche hockey players
Tried to pull off some of his nasty stunts,
But the referee, Mr. Denneny,
Wasn't very long finding them out.
We feel proud of our hockey players,
Why shouldn't we! I'd like to know.
No chance of them losing a game,
If they get half a decent show.
Dale Wells, our right wing player,
Found a skunk in his poultry house;
We all detested the perfume,
So we're sending it to Mille Roche.
And when they're skinnink that animal,
Of the game they lost on the eight of March
On the Wales, Ontario, rink.

WHEN FARMERS GO ON STRIKE

A few weeks ago the farmers who supply Chicago with milk went on strike for more money for their milk. The farmers wanted $2.85 per hundred pounds, while the dealers offered $2.60. Finally a compromise was made and the dealers agreed to pay $2.67½ per hundred and the farmers called the strike off.

The compromise price was for three months and it is estimated that the 7½ cents increase in price will mean $81,000 more in the pockets of the dairymen concerned. Against this, however, must be set $54,000, which it not shipping their milk to Chicago. Producers did not get all they wanted, but the strike shows the power the farmers could wield if they were organized and willing to stand together.

People talk of the strike of coal miners and the dire things that would happen to city people if the railroad employees went on strike, but this would be nothing to what would happen if farmers were effectively organized and determined to use their power.—Selected by subscriber.

SAY MODERATOR WITHOUT POWER TO ASK FOR BILL

First of the steps planned by the Presbyterian Church Association, the anti-unionists Presbyterian Church ization, for combating the Church Union Bill in Parliament has been taken. This organization, which has retained in its cause some of the brightest legal brains of the country, has notified the Government of what it regards as a technical disqualification of the petition for the Union Bill.

The petition is presented in the name of the chief officer of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. A. Gandier, Moderator. The anti-unionists organization points out that as the church is not an incorporated body the Moderator has not the necessary legal status of a petitioner for such a bill.

The protest against the petition being entertained has been prepared through the Ottawa counsel of the Presbyterian Church Association Mr. F. H. Chrysler, K. C. It is the first shell in the Parliamentary battle on union.

A CALL FOR HELP

... (Woodstock Sentinel-Review). ..

The Sentinel-Review is requested to help a puzzled Chinaman to understand the English language.

Dear Sir:—I see the Sentinel-Review answer a great many questions. Me ask the dictionary and the grammar, and me find no rule to help me understand these things as follows: The plural of ox is not oxes, but oxen. But the plural of boxes is boxes not boxen. The plural of mouse in not mouses, but mice. And the plural of man is called men. But the plural of pan is not called pen. The plural of foot is not foots, not feet. And the plural of boot is boots, not beet The plural of brother is brethren. But the plural of mother is not mothern The masculine pronouns are he, his and him. But the femenine are not she, shis and shim, as a Chinaman would expect. Can you, Mr. Editor, give the rules for the examples above mentioned, and help in understanding the English language?—A China man.

No Excitement.

"What's all this noise about, you young rascal?"

"Well, Mary said if I kept on crying a great big mouse with green eyes would come and sit on the end of my bed, and I've kept on, but it hasn't come yet."

He Did It.

..Minister—We, all of us, should do at least two things every day that we heartily dislike doing.

Charlie—I do that all right. Why, every morning I get out of bed, and every night I go tobed.

FROM THE ANTI-UNION SIDE

Morewood, Mar. 6th, 1924.

To the Editor of The Record.

Sir:—

I read with interest the letter in your last week's issue from the pen of Rev. Ronald McLeod of Rosedale Church, Toronto, entitled "Church Union a proved success." As this is the second letter that has appeared recently in your pages from the union side, I make bold to proffer my request for a small space in your next issue to refer in brief to one or two of McLeod's statements, and touch on one or two points not mentioned in his letter.

Had McLeod omitted the last paragraph of his letter, this one would never have been penned, but I am surprised at a minister of Scottish birth using this stale and misleading reference to the Union in Scotland, I am also surprised that such controversial articles should still be scattered abroard by the party, who informed Canada at large some months ago, that the time for controversy was past. In his opening statement he takes Dr. Scott to task for casting reflections on statements made by the Moderator of his own Church, Mr. McLeod evidently doesn't think it out of place to cast reflections on the honorable Editor of the official organ of our church, a man as worthy of respect and esteem as any Moderator, and who is an undoubted authority on and untiring worker for the Missions of our Church I do not profess to have personal knowledge of the number of Union pastorates or preaching stations, but I do know that the moderator, and his union leaders have been in the habit of making what I would call exaggerated statements. Take for instance the Moderator's statement, that union is definitely settled, and that by the wishes of overwhelming majorities of the people and ministers, and Dr. Gordon's "Anti unionists were non existent in the West." "In our country they hardly exist." Will Mr. McLeod defend those?

Then referring to the Rosedale congregation, Mr. McLeod says. "The Church was then organized on the Basis of Union in all particulars of doctrine and government." Does Mr. McLeod ask us to believe that his Church is subject to the government of Courts that do not and may never exist?

In the last paragraph he states "I recall as a boy in Scotland the Union controversy there. The same arguments advanced against union then, etc., are advanced now in Canada. This may be true, but it is equally true that many of the arguments used in Canada against the proposed union, he never heard in Scotland, for the simple reason there was no call to use them there. The two cases have no parallel from a religious or doctrinal point of view. The union in Scotland was simply the joining together of two branches of the same church, they were the same in every detail, so why shouldn't it have been a success? In Canada, the union means a union of different peoples who have inherited different temperaments, ideals, faiths and beliefs. We Presbyterians have no quarrel with any denomination, and recognize the right of every people to worship according to the dictates of the spirit. We are a stolid, seemingly unresponsive bunch of people to those who do not understand. Whereas we are dumb when most deeply moved; some of our friends of other denominations are gifted with a more efferversing nature, and are wont to indulge in ecstatis hallelujahs groans, and weird body contortions when under the influence of the Spirit. I do not write this in a spirit of levity, but to point out that God has gifted as with different natures, and as we can only worship in Spirit, it proves that the same form of worship is not meant, to be used by all. To Presbyterians, the Psalms of David sung to the tunes of our Fathers are unequalled as Songs of Praise, but many Methodists would sing them The poet sings; "To me the humblest flower that blooms can yield thoughts that oft lie too deep for tears," but to the other fellow it would be just a useless weed.

Many of the Presbyteriar ministers that are anxious for Union find fault with articles mentioned in the formula which they signed as believing in when ordained. Even the leaders find flaws in the Confession of Faith; the system of government is ridiculed by some, and yet they solemnly pledged themselves, to adhere faithfully to the said Confession of Faith, to maintain and defend the said government, to conform to the said worship, to submit to the discipline of the Church, and to follow no divisive course from the present order established therein. I have no objections to anyone changing their mind or belief, but I am of opinion that any minister who has grown tired of those vows, has only one honourable course open to him. There is plenty of room outside their church for such. Then another thing that the moderator and his union friends find flaws in, is the system of calling the Minister. Would Mr. McLeod tell us if he ever heard any complaints about the system of calling the Presbyterian ministers in Scotland?. The congregation that I was a member of has still the services of its second minister since the disruption 80 years. The present minister is in his 52nd, year as minister of that church, nor is this an isolated case, there are plenty such. The Call to the minister is a Divine Call and he must have a Call before he can be ordained. That Mr. McLeod must know was one of the principles that our forefathers shed their blood for, and if he is conversant with the more recent history of our Church, he will know that it was one of the main causes that brought about the Disruption in 1843, and that the part of the Church that submitted then to the Civil Law, has already cut the shackles of patronage, and yet they ask us to believe that the New Church will be practically Presbyterian, when clearly they do not believe in the Divine Call, but invest one of its Courts with authority to ordain whomsoever they may seem fit.

Yours respectively ....
John Fleming.

The Difference.

Street Car Driver—Me and that off horse has been working for the company for twelve years now.

Passenger—That so? The company must think a great deal of you both.

Street Car Driver—Wall, I dunno; last week the two of us was taken sick and they got a doctor for the horse and docked me. Git-up there, now, Betsy!

A Traveller.

Young Mother—Yes, baby has been walking for three months, now.

Batch Friend—What's he been doing? Walking across the continent?

All A Mistake.

"What are you so indignant about?"

"They fined me for selling whiskey," replied the bootlegger, "when it wasn't whiskey at all."

BONDS

Are Mortgages on Fixed Assets

When a township issues debentures (or bonds) it gives a mortgage on the whole township for security to the buyers of the bonds for the loan of their money for a definite uumber of years at a satisfactory rate of interest.

If the amount required is large it is divided into small mortgages, (that is, bonds or debentures) of $500 or $1,000 each, with the same security behind each, so that investors with small sums may take advantage it.

Bonds or debentures are rated the safest kind of an investment.
