Higher Taxes Set for Village Ratepayers

Morrisburg's taxes will be higher this year. The June tax notice will reflect the general county and municipal rate which will be approximately 4½ mills higher than last year's rate. The overall picture will not be complete until education estimates have come in which will be billed for payment in October.

Clerk Lloyd Barkley announced the increase at Monday night's meeting of Council. He reported that a portion of the general municipal tax will be offset by the tax rebate which will come to residents later in the year. Mr. Barkley stated that reasons behind the local increase are higher salaries, maintenance of the recently acquired high school building, the employing of a by-law enforcement officer and the delay in education estimates having necessitated the borrowing of monies which would otherwise be brought in with the June payment of taxes.

The former high school building which now belongs to Morrisburg has already been put to use by the Scouts, the Cancer Society and the Little Theatre Group. The offices for the regional school board will be located here and a committee of the planning board and the municipal council are studying a proposal that the new wing may become an out-patient clinic with area doctors working in conjunction with Winchester Memorial Hospital.

A delegation from the local volunteer fire department met with council requesting a new fire truck and equipment. Edwin Rice stated that it had been the opinion of the fire brigade that a reserve fund had been started several years ago toward the purchase of a truck. The clerk reported that six years ago a sinking fund for town equipment generally had been organized with the realization that the need for a fire truck would eventually arise.

¼The question of fire masks, pack sack equipment for fighting large grass fires and the pumper which fails to function, also came under discussion. It was decided that a meeting be set up with representatives of the local department, Council and the fire marshal's office to investigate the situation.

Robert Gillard, Community Centre manager requested permission to engage the "Doc Williams" Country and Western Show for July 22. He also reported that a circus will be visiting the Community Centre July 16.

At the request of Arthur Laurin, Jr. Council agreed to a 75-25 split of the lacrosse gate with expenses paid by the group. The matter of new lacrosse nets will be studied.

Stocked Trout Pond is Open for Fishing Sat.

The Honourable Frederick M. Cass wishes to announce the official opening on Saturday, May 10th, 1969 of the public fishing area located seven miles east of the village of Williamsburg.

The fifteen acre parcel of land with its seven acre put-and-take trout pond on Lot 3, Concession IV Williamsburg Township, was recently acquired by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests to provide trout fishing in an area where it previously did not exist. The pond has been stocked in the spring of 1969 with yearling and two year old rainbow trout, and future periodic plantings of both rainbow and brook trout are proposed to ensure good angling success.

At the present time the area prvides only fishing, however, in the future program it is proposed that a number of trees be planted, and eventually the area will provide picnicking in addition to fishing.

Area Man Crushed to Death In Accident at Winchester

A freak accident claimed the life of a well known and highly respected district man last Friday, when Arnold Alexander Sullivan, Chesterville farmer and contractor was crushed while operating a bull dozer on a farm west of Winchester.

Mr. Sullivan, who was in his 41st year, was born at Chesterville and spent his entire life there. A son of Mrs. Stanley Sullivan and the late Mr. Sullivan, he married the former Betty Maude Brooks at Dunbar in 1956.

Mr. Sullivan received his early education at Limerick Public and Chesterville High Schools. He was a teacher for two years at Forward School, Chesterville, and three at New Liskeard. He loved the outdoor life, however, and returned to the farm. With his brothers, James and Graham, a successful construction company was formed and operated along with the farming business.

Always interested in his community, he took an active part in all sports activities, participating in sports himself until business committments made it no longer possible.

Surviving, besides his wife, are two sons and two daughters: Patricia, Barry, Caroline and Gregory. There are also three brothers: Ronald and Graham of Cornwall, and James of Chesterville.

Funeral service at the Vice and Craig Ltd. Funeral Home, Chesterville, was conducted by Rev. Goos at 2:00 p.m. Monday, May 5th. Pall bearers were Donald Shay, Bill Racine, Elburn Robinson, Glen MacGregor, Foster Droppo and Patrick Morgan.

Following the service interment was made at Maple Ridge.

Mets Open Tonight With Cornwall Celtics

The sport page of a neighbouring daily recently carried this heading: "Celtics Eye Summer Games".

On Friday evening at the Morrisburg Community Centre the Morrisburg Mets will have the first chance to divert the Celtics eyes long enough for them to realize that there is more than one team shooting for the "Games" this year.

Contrary to the general opinion in this good old league, the Mets, because they have lost a number of top performers this year, are not quite out of the picture yet. There are still a goodly number of sharpshooters on the roster. Just for starters, how about Mick Mabo (and his brothers), Ralph Duvall, Henry Storgaard, Tom Dawley, Brian McNairn and Gary Hess? If that is not enough, the Mets also have some reasonably big, and also reasonably tough defencemen in Gary Banford, Glen McDonnell, Mahlon Locke, Brian Cooper and Bill Dillabough.

The group mentioned above, to an unbiased appraiser, should be enough to form the nucleus of a fair lacrosse team, certainly fair enough to compete with the best in this league.

Fan support at the Mets home games, and even on the road, last year was fabulous, the best in the entire league, and was much appreciated. The club executive would like to see all of these fans, who enjoyed themselves so much last season, and contributed so much to the success of the team, return to watch this year's version of the Mets. Although the competition may be a little stiffer, and the local team may feel at first the loss of some of their more experienced players, both players and executive are confident. They are quoting an old cliche "We have not yet begun to fight".

May Meeting of Hospital Auxiliary

The May meeting of the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was well attended on the first day of the month at 8 p.m. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Colin MacGregor chaired the meeting in the board room of the hospital. The roll-call showed eight units represented. Following the minutes of the last meeting Mrs. MacGregor mentioned how privileged the auxiliary is to have the administrator, Mr. Stell, attend the meetings and give his report of hospital proceedings. Further plans were discussed and made for the Annual Garden Party which will be held on June 21st. on the hospital grounds and after hearing from the purchasing committee, it was unanimously voted to supply the money for four ice-making machines for the hospital.

Mrs. Max Boyd reported progress is being made with the volunteer service in the chronic wing and a small booth will be set up at the Garden Party displaying handwork done by the long-term patients. Chesterville unit members will continue duty during the month of May.

Four Auxiliary members, Mrs. C. MacGregor, Mrs. K. Carkner, Mrs. M. Boyd and Mrs. R. Ledgerwood, in the absence of Mrs. Summers, who had attended the Eastern District Hospital Auxiliary's Institute at the Bruce MacDonald Motel on April 23rd, gave their reports and then delighted the members with a little skit on 'what not to do and say at Auxiliary meetings'.

¼Following the meeting, a tasty lunch was served in the cafeteria by Miss B. Legris and her staff.

OLDTIME LACROSSE AT CORNWALL ON SUNDAY, MAY 11

The Cornwall Hall of Fame will present an Oldtimers Lacrosse game in Cornwall at 2:00 p.m., on Sunday, May 11th.

This game will played at the Water Street Arena with the Cornwall and Area Oldtimers taking on the St. Regis Mohawk Oldtimers. The Mohawk team is made up of all but four members of the team that represented Eastern Canada and were finalists in the Canadian Senior Lacrosse Championship in 1954.

This event is also preceded by a parade with several bands, minor lacrosse teams, lacrosse oldtimers, and members of the Hall of Fame. Intermission entertainment will be provided by the seven and eight-year old Tyke Division Lacrosse All Stars from St. Regis and Cornwall. Also performing will be the Mohawk Indian Dancers.

Don't forget, 2:00 p.m. is game time; the parade will begin at 1:00 in downtown Cornwall. Tickets for the game are: Adults $1.25; children 50 cents.

STRIKE AT NESTLE NEARLY OVER

There was good news for residents of the Chesterville area this week, that the 11-weeks old strike at the plant of Nestle (Canada) Limited, may be over by the week end. Conciliation talks heldy in Toronto on Tuesday reached the stage of a Memorandum of Agreement between the two parties. Ratification of the agreement is expected to be reached at a full union membership meeting this Saturday in Chesterville.

Terms of the agreement will not be made public until the full union meeting. The conciliation talks were held in the Department of Labour offices in Toronto. Conciliation Officer Vic Scott was in charge.

STARCH WORKERS STILL PICKETING

While picketers maintained their pacific patrol of the strikebound Cardinal plant of the Canada Starch Co. a resumption of dialogue between management and the legal representatives of the Food Processors' Union was scheduled to take place in Toronto. The strike has been on since April 26th, and is the first one in the history of the 110-year-old plant.

The Local 483, UFPU, headed by Ron Patrick, was still manning the picket lines with their own members. The talk in Toronto, it was said, would centre on the phraseology of the new contract.

Meeting of Girls Softball League

A meeting of the St. Lawrence Girls Softball League was held in the Council Chambers at the Morrisburg Civic Centre on Sunday, May 4th. Cardinal, Cornwall and Morrisburg were in attendance and declared their intention of staying in the league. Domville was not in attendance and their representative could not be reached by phone.

Thomas Duvall (Morrisburg) was re-elected for President. Mr. Duvall has been president since 1967. Miss Lynne O'Brien (Morrisburg) was elected Secretary Treasurer, a position she held from June 1963 to May 1968. Raymond Halil (Cardinal) was elected Vice-President.

The 3 teams in attendance plan to go ahead with a 3 team league even if Domville drops out. The following player radius was set out: The Southern Boundary being the St. Lawrence River to the eastern limits of Ingleside, straight north on an imaginary line 15 miles, west to Winchester Springs, west to Brinston, west to Spencerville and south on an imaginary line to the western boundary line of Prescott. Cornwall to have to the eastern limits of Ingleside.

Entry fee of $10 to be in by the end of the month. Any team protesting must send their protest in writing to the Secretary within 48 hours of the infraction accompanied by $5. The rules and by-laws in the 1969 OASA rule book will be followed. Player cards — 12 players and 1 coach is to be signed by June 30th and the last 6 players, coach and manager by July 15th.

The schedule will start the last week of May.

TOURIST COUNCIL MEETS HERE ON MONDAY NIGHT

The monthly meeting of the Seaway Valley Tourist Council will be held on Monday evening, May 12th at 8:00 p.m. in the Loyalist Hotel Morrisburg, and the executive and local Directors of the Council are issuing an invitation to everyone in the area who is interested, to attend this meeting, and to bring along their ideas to make 1969 a better tourist season.

You need not be a member of the Tourist Council to attend. It is indeed possible that an "outsider" could bring in ideas to better promote the tourist industry which has become so important to the economy of this area.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS

Weekly Report

by E.U. Fitzgerald
Forestry Technician

The snow experienced lately along with the recent cold wet weather makes it hard to believe that spring is here. However, there is little doubt that it has in fact arrived, because the annual spring tree planting program is well under way.

This year approximately three million trees will be planted by the Department of Lands and Forest in the Kemptville Forest district on Crown, Agreement Forest, and Private Land. For anyone interested in planting their own trees, this is an appropriate time to list a few simple instructions which may be helpful:

1. Order trees well in advance of planting.
2. Select proper trees for the site to be planted.
3. Store trees in a cool, shady spot and make sure they don't heat in the bale.
4. If trees are to be kept for any length of time, they should be heeled in.
5. While planting, carry trees in a pail with a small amount of water, the roots must be kept moist at all times.
6. Plant the trees to the proper depth; this should be about ½" deeper than they were growing in the nursery.
7. Finally make sure the roots are tramped in firmly with the foot land in this area, three rocks set

With so much shallow stoney in a circle as close to the tree as passible after the tree is planted could contribute a lot to the survival of the tree, for the following reasons:

1. The rock sreduce loss of soil moisture by surface evaporation.
2. They create a permanently cultivated area around the tree. No weeds will grow under the rocks thus there is no vegetation to use soil moisture needed by the tree.
3. The rocks reflect heat that would otherwise be absorbed by the soil, this reduces rate of moisture loss in the soil.
4. The rocks may reduce or prevent frost heaving.
5. The rocks give a certain amount of support to weak stemmed trees.
6. The rocks serve as a marker for the tree and help in future assessments.

If you have any planting problems, at all, do not hesitate to contact your nearest Department of Lands and Forests office for advice,.

During late April and early May, one of the Ontario Provincial Fish Culture Stations located at Westport, Ontario is the scene of activity, for this is the time to stock trout in many of our lakes and streams, As in the past several years, all planted trout are fin clipped, with one of the fins being removed. This will enable the anglers and Government personnel to identify planted fish and therefore allow an estimate to be made of our restocking program.

Later in the spring walleye, muskellunge and bass will be planted in many of the Kemptville District waters. The tentative 1969 stocking list for the Kemptville District is available by writing to the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, Kemptville, Ontario.

Several of the Departments fisheries programs have involved the tagging of trout, bass, pike and walleye. If you should be fortunate enough to angle a tagged fish the Department would appreciate your assistance in supplying information to the Kemptville District Office. Information should include date and location of capture, tag number and total length of the fish.

Before long many of the warm water sports fish in the Kemptville District will be in season. Summaries of the 1969 Fishing Regulations are availlable through contacting the Lands and Forests District Office at Kemptville, Ontario.

Report from the Ontario Legislature

The Ontario Legislative mill rolled unceasingly and gainfully during this past week. Nearly 50 new pieces of Government Legislation were debated and advanced at least to the stage of consideration by Committee. It is quite apparent that the Government is now determined to process its legislative programme before summer whether or not the various Departmental Estimates are passed.

One of the important and interesting Bills to be considered was that to provide for a referendum, upon petition by the farmers of Ontario, to establish a general farm organization for the Province. Should the referendum be demanded and prove favourable to the establishment of one Province-wide general farm organization, our farmers would have immeasurably improved their bargaining position in our economic world with an organization broad and strong enough to hold its own with organized labour and business — a task much too formidable for our presently divided farm forces.

The House also, after bitter Debates, gave approval to the Bill authorizing OMSIP to pay 90 per cent of the new Dictor's Fee Schedule and a Bill to re-vamp the provincial mining tax structure to the general advantage of Northern Ontario Municipalities. On the vote for this latter Bill, the N.D.P. Member for Cochrane South (Timmins area) bolted his Party and supported the Bill, thereby demonstrating that he really has at heart the welfare of his constituency as against the rigid doctrinaire party line supported by his Party colleagues in opposition to the Bill. This is the second time during this Parliament that such an event has occurred — last Session, a Government P.C. Member voted against his party on the Bill to legalize

The Attorney-General was busy also piloting through the House a succession of Bills designed to update our Registry and Land Titles Acts, the Division Courts Act (to do away with juries in Division Courts and to abolish imprisonment of debtors for non-payment of debts) and a large handful of similar Acts. Most of these amendments and changes arise from the Report of the Honourable J.C. McRuer on our Civil liberties which was released about a year ago. This report drew vividly to everyone's attention that many of our laws of today have existed almost unchanged since the time of the Spanish Armada and in many areas bear no relation to present day society. So surely, but of necessity slowly, our Provincial Government is bringing up to date the thousands of Ontario Statutes and laws so founded on ancient English Law

One day was spent on the Estimates of the Department of Social and Family Services with some progress bringing them to the half way mark. But besides the rest of these Departmental Estimates, debated.

there are yet those of 22 more Departments to be considered and Messer's not for me, but . . .

It's not that I particularly enjoy fighting for lost causes. I lost the flag fight, and look at the rag we got. I know I can't beat non-disposable bottles, soaring taxes, and my wife. But somebody, some voice in the wilderness of the twentieth century must keep the banners flying, the flame burning.

That's why I think the CBC should not have cancelled that hardy annual, the Don Messer Show, regardless of those purveyors to the puerility of the public, the "ratings."

Personally, I wouldn't watch the Don Messer Show with a ten-foot telescope. Its mixture of emasculated barn-dance and ineffable bathos are not my bag.

But I know a great many middle-aged and older people who look forward to it weekly and enjoy it thoroughly. Their toes tap to the sprightly fiddling and their eyes grow wet over the sentimental songs of yesteryear. And what's wrong with that?

It may be corny, but it's Canadian, right out of the Maritimes. And however bad its ratings are, it couldn't be worse than some of that crud the CBC buys from the States and forces on us, willy-nilly.

Most of its fans like it because it's clean and comfortable. The show, to them, is like an old friend with whom they can relax, safe in the knowledge that for half an hour, once a week, they won't be subjected to the perversion, violence and viciousness that characterize a good deal of the other garbage on the box.

Can you imagine Charlie Chamberlain kicking someone in the groin, or Don Messer chopping somebody across the throat with a karate blow, or Marg Osburne wriggling through a double-entendre (dirty) song? Well, maybe. But on the show.

Every year, the CBC comes with a few brand new shows. And every year, with the inevitability of death and taxes, they flop. Can you name one (there may be one, but can you name it?) that lasts two seasons. But I doubt it. This includes the high-priced, wonder-boy, sunday night sensational, controversial shows, like Seven Days. They're a six-months' flash and then everyone goes back to the Beverly Hillbillies or some other cultral importation.

In contrast, the Messer show has been running for a decade. It still stands at a healthy 22nd out of 59 series surveyed on the latest Nielsen ratings. That means a lot of people watch it.

It would be interesting to know just how the ratings are done. The show appears on a Friday night, at 8.30. Most people under 40 are either getting ready to go out, have gone, or are having people in, at that hour on that day.

A sampling in Toronto, where viewers can get several stations, might show that two and a half people were watching Don Messer. But a sampling from the hundreds of Canadian towns with only one station available might show that 50 percent were mesmerized by Messer.

That incestuous litle empire known as the CBC does some very good things. And it also does a good many fourth-rate things.

The hockey fan gets his hockey, and I don't begrudge it to him. But 10-0 for Boston. This is NHL hockey?

The avant-garde drama hounds get their drama on Festival. Some of it is excellent; some lousy.

The intellectual gets his talk programs. Again, a few are first rate; many would shame a high-school panel discussion.

And we all get the CBC news, a stale re-hash of news stories from the dailies, and wire service stories with a few film clips of the same stale commentators saying the same stale things in that same stale fashion.

To each his own, and I would defend with equal passion the right of each of these categories to watch his own thing.

Why not, then, let the folk who watch Don Messer — and they are legion — continue to do so for a measly half-hour a week?

Morrisburg's 1969 tax rate will, as reported on page 1, be higher than last year, but will be exactly the same rate as three years ago. Two years ago, the Council was able to cut the local tax rate, but in the face of ever-increasing inflation, which is general throughout the country, was unable to maintain the lower rate.

Peterborough Mother is Lamp of Learning Winner

A Peterborough mother of five children — two of them in universit — has been awarded the annual Lamp of Learning Award by the Ontario Secondary School Teachers Federation for her contribution to secondary school education.

But the award, presented in Toronto last Saturday (May 3) left Mrs. John Young with a problem familiar to her own children: The presentation conflicted with an important school examination.

Fortunately, Mrs. Young's psychology professor at Trent University sympathized by setting a special examination for her which left her free to be at the Toronto presentation ceremony.

Mrs. Young, well known for her contributions as both an involved Home and School executive and a member of the Peterborough County Board of Education, was chosen by a panel of five judges out of close to 50 nominees.

The prestigious Lamp of Learning has been awarded each year since 1950 to a non-teaching citizen who has made "an outstanding contribution to secondary school education in Ontario".

Former recipients include Mrs. Elise Grossberg, immediate past president of the Ontario School Trustees' Council, John D. Honsberger, past president of York Central Board of Education and William Green, long-time member of Parry Sound Board of Education.

O.S.S.T.F. president Ward McAdam, who made presentation during a day-long meeting of the O.S.S.T.F. Executive Council said that Mrs. Young's involvement in education showed her to be a woman "of rare imagination and insight".

Born in Montreal, but educated in both British Columiba and Manitoba (she holds a degree in home economics from the University of Manitoba), Mrs. Young came to Ontario from British Columbia in 1947.

As an active participant in Home and School affairs, first in North York and then in Peterborough, Mrs. Young consistently aimed at more communication among parents, teachers and students.

She was chairman of the steering committee for a Peterborough area conference on education in 1967, which included students not only on the steering committee, but in discussion groups. Several of the students were discussion leaders.

As a member of the Peterborough board which preceded the expanded county school board, Mrs. Young worked through its advisory vocational committee to focus attention upon potential secondary school dropouts. And she was a member of that committee when it recommended the first director of adult education for Peterborough.

Mrs .Young, responsible for a provincial Home and School panel which looked at changing patterns in secondary education in 1967, also rewrote the manual which is used by all secondary school Home and School Associations in the Province.

The 1969 Lamp of Learning recipient freely confesses that education is a major concern around her home. Her oldest son, Alex, 22, is a fellow student on the Trent campus; Greg, 20, is an engineering student at the University of Waterloo; Barbara, 17, is in Grade 12; Donald, 15, is a Grade 10 student; and William, 12, attends Grade 7.

Nominations for the Lamp of Learning are made each year by educators, Home and School organizations, school boards, school staffs, service clubs and other interested groups. The judging panel represents education, business and the news media.

AWARD TENDERS AT MEETING OF TWP. COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the municipal council of the Township of Williamsburg was held on Saturday, May 3rd. in the IOOF hall at Williamsburg with all members present.

Upon a motion of Kyle and Casselman the clerk was instructed to have the Township Engineer examine and report on the construction of the P.A. Locke Drain.

The road supt. was delegated to attend the road school at Guelph. ¼Tenders were then opened for the supply of chloride for the Twp. for the year 1969 with the tender of Ken Morris Ltd. Being accepted.

Tenders were then opened for the supply of culverts for the year 1969 with the tender of T. P. L. Industries being accepted.

The applicattion of Bernice Crowder for the sale of centain lands in lot 32, Concession 4, for residential purposes was approved.

The following accounts were then paid:

Road and Bridges $3,425.55; Relief $1,459.00 Administration $651.31; Fire Protection $825.33; Recreation $23.00; Drains $910.75; Dept. of Health $45.00; Fox Bounty $4.00

DOMINION STORES SETS NEW RECORD IN TOTAL SALES

Sales of Dominion Stores Ltd. reached a new record high of $602,-836,147 in the 52 weeks ended March 22, 1969 compared with $584-102,464 for the 53 weeks ended March 23, 1968. This increase amounts to $18,693,683 or 3.20 per cent.

Net profit of $9,521,721 or $1.17 a share for the 52 weeks under review was 9.38 per cent below $10,507,604 or $1.30 for the preceding 53 weeks. Net profit to sales of 1.58 per cent compares with 1.80 per cent last year.

The preliminary report to share holders notes that "there is a degree of distortion in the year-to-year comparison" of sales because the previous year included 53 sales weeks while the 1968-69 fiscal year included only 52. Average weekly sales rose 5.18 per cent.

¼In the second half of the year, as in the first half, intense competition within the entire food industry exerted extreme restraining pressure on prices. Costs continued to rise in an inflationary pattern. These forces along with the shorter business year resulted in the decline in net profit.

During the past fiscal year, 17 stores were opened and nine were closed. There were 389 stores in operation on March 22.

The annual meeting will be held at Dominion's new Distribution Centre near the junction of Highways 5 and 27 in suburban Toronto, in order to give shareholders an opportunity to view the Company's newest and most modern facility. The date has been set for August 26 when the building will be ready to accommodate the event, rather than in late June, the customary date for meetings in recent years.

Modern Care Helps The Slow Learners

In medical terms, the slow learner is known as a case of "perceptual disfunction". The expression is not exactly a household phrase but you will probably hear much more about it in coming years.

The slow learner will be one of the beneficiaries of the new Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario. This ailment is one of several which simply cannot receive proper attention today in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec because of the lack of facilities.

Until very recently, the slow learner suffered more than a few indignities. Many can remember the primitive treatment of the problem student. Tradition decreed that he be held up as an example of laziness, inattention or stupidity, and the most celebrated cases were banished to the corner to sit on a stool wearing a dunce's cap.

Medical science has come a long way since those days. Many cases of mental retardation has been traced to abio-chemicalproblem which can treated successfully if detected early enough. Thousands of children who would otherwise be relegated to a life in the shadows can live a perfectly normal life without a trace of mental illness.

¼With the slow learner, the situation is somewhat different. Some children might find their "hang-up" to be reading. Others may have trouble with number work. Medical research has shown that this can be a very real problem . . . not simply a case of spring fever or daydreaming.

And the medical problem can be turned into a much more serious mental disorder by a teacher or parent who chooses punishment as a solution.

At present, the parents of a slow learner in this area have t w o strikes against them. First, how to recognize the presence of genuine perceptual disfunction and second, where to find treatment.

This problem is not one to be treated in a doctor's office. It requires a team approach of child specialists who can study the child over a period of time and through a variety of functions. The new hospital will have a department just for the observation and training of these patients, and specialists will thus be concentrated in one convenient location.

The Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario will open many new doors for disturbed and malfunctioning children. Such facilities should deposit the dunce's cap in Dickensian history, where it can serve as a horrible example in the annals of mental health.

Where have manners gone?

DEAR DORIS — (1) What career opportunities are there there as a sociologist?

(2) If I were to become a social worker, would I necessarily have to work with underprivileged people or children? I am thinking more along the lines of community organization, such as urban renewal.

(3) I am really not too much of an extrovert and usually find it hard to go up to people and talk to them. Does this mean I would not be a good social worker?

Can't Decide

DEAR CAN'T — (1) A sociologist studies the nature and development of human society. He looks at how we got where we are as social beings. You could be a researcher or teacher of sociology.

(2) There is plenty for trained social workers to do in community organization which is my own favorite area of social work. I like the thought that you are not just picking up the pieces, but creating something new to improve things, when you do social planning.

(3) You do need to forget yourself in concern for the other fellow, if you are to be a good social worker. But if you have the sympathy inside you, you can get over your natural reticence with practice and training.

DEAR DORIS — Why don't guys have any manners? You hardly ever see a guy hold a door open, or let the girl go first. Why? Are they going to be called "chicken" or "sissy"? I think it's common courtesy, but then, maybe I'm wrong.

If he does do this for you, should you give him your most winning smile and say a thank you?

What's The Matter With Manners?

DEAR WHAT'S — If a fellow walks through the door first, I'm bound to say that his father probably does too. Habits like this come of long, early training.

The tough boys may, of course, ridicule one another for showing such courtesy, but if that wasn't wrong, something else would be.

If a boy does hold back for you, accept it gracefully. Don't gush or let him think it never happened to you before.

DEAR DORIS — For years I have hated wearing glasses. What about contact lenses? Can anybody wear them?

Four Eyes

DEAR FOUR EYES — Just about anybody can, and vision can be greatly improved this way. Athletes find them priceless.

Getting used to them is the trial. Takes anywhere from one to three months, while the eyeball itself takes on a reshaping.

It all depends on how much you want them. If you are young, in the public eye a lot, or in great need of help with seing clearly, contacts are worth many times their weight in gold.

DEAR DORIS — Please tell us — four of us — what you think a fink is.

Debater

DEAR DEBATER — Dictionary or teen talk? Or underworld slang?

In labor circles, a fink is a strikebreaker. With the toughies, it is a squealer. With the teens, it's an insult handed out to just about anybody who doesn't rate

New Recreational Resource Plan

Honourable J.A.C. Auld, Ontario Minister of Tourism and Information, today announced that a Canada-Ontario task force has begun work on a recreational resource development plan for the Rideau-Trent-Severn Waterways.

"From the point of view of conservation — natural and historic— and its tourist potential over the next 25 years, the uniqueness of this 450 mile inland waterway linking the Ottawa to Georgian Bay can hardly be over emphasized." Mr. Auld said. "There are at present over two million pleasure craft registered within the use range of these waterways and 10 per cent of these are of cruiser size."

The Rideau-Trent-Severn waterways and their watersheds parallel the major economic and industrial axis from Toronto to Montreal and on the West, serve points as far distant as Detroit and Chicago, the Minister added. This is an area most vulnerable to increasing demands for recreational space and is even now, a recreational suburb of much of southern Ontario.

"In light of the foregoing factors" Mr. Auld said, "there is a relative urgency for action in such areas as pollution and water level control, municipal land use zoning and park planning, wild life conservation and the development and upgrading of accommodation facilities related to recreation."

In November, 1966, the formation of a joint federal-provincial study committee was announced in Toronto and Ottawa. The purpose of the committee was to evaluate the broad outdoor recreational potential of the Rideau Waterway and to establish a plan for its realization.

The Rideau Waterway interim report was completed in February, 1968. This report, and the discussions which ave since taken place at all levels of government as well as in the private sector, have already resulted in forward planning in keeping with the broad objectives and long range use. The work of the joint Canada-Ontario committee has now been extended to include the Trent and Severn Waterways and adjacent recreational facilities.

Work of the new task force is under the direction of a federal-provincial coordinating committee composed of the following: Co - Chairman, Ontario: W.H. Cranston Ontario Economic Council; Co - Chairman, Canada: D.A.H. Farmer, Canada Department of Transport. Members: A.S. Bray, Deputy Minister Ontario Department of Tourism and Information; E.A. Gomme, Community Planning Branch, Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs; P.H. Bennett, National and Historic Sites Branch, Canada Department Indian Affairs and Northern Development; D.W. Pettit, National Capital Commission.

Other government departments and agencies represented on the joint federal-provincial study committee are: Canada: A. Blyth, Department of Regional Economic Expansion; E.J. Egan, Department of Public Works; H. Eidsvik, Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development; Ontario: J.W. Keenan, Department of Lands and Forests; D. McFarlane, Department of Highways; and A.S.L. Barnes, Department of Energy and Resources Management.

The committee has also recently requested representation from the Ontario Water Resources Commission and the Regional Development Branch of the Department of Treasury and Economics.

The task force is headed by Mark Cressman, regional planning analyst of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, and includes L.D. McKenna of the Canada Department of Transport and staff from other federal and provincial government departments as well as professors and graduate and undergraduate students from from the Universities of Guelph and Trent. Secretary is Paul Wyatt of the Ontario Department of Tourism and Information.

Field work will be completed this year on the Rideau and in the summer of 1970 on the Trent and Severn.

Full use is being made of previous work that has been carried out by agencies concerned with conservation, area development, highways, pollution, fish and wildlife, parks, canals, historic sites, tourism, community planning, etc. Arrangements are being made to brief the concerned municipalities, Regional Development Councils and Tourist Councils.

The cost associated with the research task force will be shared by the federal and provincial governments.

A similar announcement is being made by the Canada Department of Transport.

RAISE RATES. A six percent general increase in agreed-charge freight rates, effective July 14, has been announced by Canadian railways. This planned increase will apply to contract traffic within Canada and will effect most repeat shippers of carload freight along with most pool-car operators and their clients. — TTS Photo

Queen's Park Comment - -

Few issues have created as much turmoil in communities across Ontario as the new county school boards and the steep rise in local education taxes.

Citizens are complaining about property taxes going up ten-fold Local councillors are despairing of every raising the necessary funds. Some have even been counselling people not to say their taxes — an attitude of civil disobedience that comes strangely to rural Ontario. There have been complaints about the increased high salaries being paid to school administration officials, and teachers are worried that much-needed reforms would be further delayed because of the cost.

Two weeks ago there was a special debate in the Legislature about this issue. The Government's majority enabled them to survive a want-of-confidence motion introduced by the Opposition, but it was clear they were worried. A few days later, Education Minister Davis responded by announcing that, in communities under 60,000, the Government would step in with some transitional assistance.

Anyone with any perception could have seen this crisis coming a long way off. Shortly after the last election, the Prime Minister, announced, almost casually, that Ontario would move to put all school administration on a county basis (in northern Ontario), these units often cover thousands of square miles).

No opportunity was given to local officials to participate in this decision. Though in many cases appointed boards were to be replaced by elected ones, in some parts of Ontario only 11 per cent of the people voted. The transformation has been completed at breakneck speed, despite the fact it represents the most major change to school administration since the middle of the last century.

The measure could have been phased in a sensible fashion; we could have dealt first with the elementary levels, then the secondary; the financial elements could have been worked in piece by piece.

Surely we could have expected a 20th century government to realise that a massive change like this was bound to involve a great financial problem; that this should have been foreseen and planned for.

But instead, the Government seems to have been caught by surprise and has now had to move in with emergency assistance which is still unsatisfactory, and which will throw their much-vaunted balanced budget into a cocked hat.

The result has been a breakdown of confidence in the Government. Rural people have been completely stunned. Big city people, denied even the emergency assistance now being provided to smaller communities, are rightly up in arms. And local councils and boards, frightened by run-away costs, are now slashing planned educational services which teachers have long been calling for.

And beyond the immediate issue of 1969 school costs, there remains the bedrock dilemma that the property tax is totally incapable of financing education in the 1970's. The need for an immediate Government move to assume 80 per cent of local school costs has never been more apparent. And neevr has there been a greater need for reform of the basic system in Ontario, so that every citizen can be assured he is paying only his fair share of the total burden.

For a long time education has been one of the areas this Government has regarded as something of a show piece. They have been vocally proud of Mr. Davis' performance as a minister.

Now Conservatives will be taking another hard look at the record of this department. When they do so, they will be deaf and blind if they cannot perceive the depth of disillusion and discontent which the county school board move has engendered among Ontario's people.

The year of the hot corner

Rich Hebner, Bobby Etheridge, Bobby Murcer, Coco Laboy, Amos Otis, Bill Sudakis, and Bill Melton.

Ever heard of them?

If you're a baseball fan you'll probably recognize a couple of the names. But even the most rabid baseball fan probably would strike out if asked to associate the above names with major league clubs.

However these seven athletes have a great deal in common; all are third basemen, all are rookies, and they represent the biggest influx of new players at one position in the last 100 years, which in itself is interesting, as this is baseball's 100th anniversary.

Perhaps the most exciting of the "new breed" is Sudakis, who is rapidly becoming one of the most daring ballplayers to ever wear a Los Angeles Dodger uniform.

Roger Craig, a coach with the San Diego Padres, summed up the brilliant rookie's approach to baseball this way: "Sudakis has more guts than any man I've ever played with, against or coached."

Bobby Murcer is 22, comes from Oklahoma was signed by the same scout who signed Mickey Mantle 20 years ago, and uses Mick's add locker.

Also, in the same tradition of all New York Yankee stars, he keeps the top button of his uniform unbuttoned.

Montreal Expos drafted Coco Laboy 57th. They only were allowed to select 60 players in all. For 10 years Laboy played in the minors in the St Louis Cardinals' system.

A National League player says of Laboy: "He wants to play every day and is a 100 percent player He got his nickname because he drank a lot of cocoa in Puerto Rico. He is going to surprise a lot of people."

Manager Larry Shepard of the Pittsburgh Pirates looks at Rich Hebner, his neophyte third sacker and grins: "That Hebner is amazing. God bless him."

The 21-year-old rookie turned down a $10,000 offer to play hockey for the Boston Bruins, accepting $38,000 from Pittsburgh.

Amos Otis is only 22, and he is fast, very fast

In his first game with the New York Mets he got a pair of infield hits on ground balls, one of which would have been a routine out with almost any other player.

During the off-season whenever the Mets talked trade, the other clubs always mentioned Otis. That was when the Mets quit talking.

Bobby Etheridge got a hit on Opening Day, made an error, was accused of misplaying another ball, and suffered a groin injury the next day.

But now he's back, and the San Francisco Giants are glad he came back. In five minor league seasons he has never hit below .278 and once knocked in 107 runs at Fresno.

Bill Melton is the man Chicago White Sox manager Al Lopez covets. Melton can hit the long ball.

In spring training he batted .341, collected 14 extra-base blows, five of them homers and knocked in 23 runs.

In a game against Minnesota, Dean Chance gunned a fastball at Melton, sending the rookie into the dirt. Chance's next pitch struck out Melton, but the brash rookie's bat went sailing through the air toward the pitcher's mound.

Chance jumped out of the way.

Chance said later: "I didn't mean to hit him. The ball just got away from me."

When told of Chance's remark, Melton snarled: "Sure, the bat just got away from me, too."

This is the type of attitude of this year's crop of third basemen. They're here to stay, and undoubtedly, this will prove to be a vintage year — the Year of the Third Basemen.
