Friday fire destroys Finch UCO outlet

Feed mill destroyed, loss could be $1-million

FINCH (Staff) - Losses are estimated at between $750,000 and $1-million in the fire which destroyed the Finch outlet of the United Co-Operatives of Ontario Friday morning.

The Finch plant was the main production branch of the three-member St. Lawrence Group of UCO and was totally destroyed in the blaze, first noticed at about 7am Friday by counties' employee Peter Casselman, who radioed the news to the county road department.

Firefighters from Finch, Crysler and Newington responded to the call, but the central part of the plant, which housed the mill, feed store and farm equipment outlet, was too far gone to be saved. The fire apparently started in the grain storage area around the elevator.

St. Lawrence Group manager Peter VanWallraven of Cornwall said the fire destroyed not only the mill and its grinding and mixing equipment, but its inventory of bulk grains, bagged feed, minerals, salts and grass seed. In addition, the outlet's spring stock of hardware and equipment was lost and inventory in the main warehouse was damaged by smoke and water.

Mr. VanWallraven said that right now the estimate of damages is his own. The real figure will not be known until the branch's accounts are sorted out. The loss was covered by insurance, he added.

The branch's records were saved by the prompt action of three village men, Marcel Leduc, Fraser Ouderkirk and Lynden Hough, who rescued the branch's computer and several filing cabinets.

The Finch outlet will "definitely be rebuilt" Mr. VanWallraven said and in the meantime a temporary office is being set up and should be in operation by early next week.

The manager said he did not know when the decision to rebuild would be made, adding that the Co-Op had planned on phasing out its assets in Finch and replacing them. A decision had already been made to install a bulk fertilizer blender and that will still go ahead, he added.

Until the Finch outlet is rebuilt it will be "business as usual", the manager said Tuesday, as the Co-Op draws from outlets in neighboring areas.

Kemptville will remain the group's major supplier until the rebuilding is completed and Mr. VanWallraven said Co-Op customers in the area served by the St. Lawrence Group are also being supplied by outlets in Embrun, St. Albert and Leitrim.

"That's one of the advantages of the Co-Op. When something like this happens, everybody pitches in together and so far not a customer has failed to have his order filled."

He praised the patience of the St. Lawrence Group's 800 members, saying they were showing "great co-operation".

Only one of the Finch outlet's seven employees has lost his job as a result of Friday's fire, the manager said. One temporary employee was let go while the rest are being shifted to the group's other outlets, in Chesterville and Cornwall, and unused holidays were now being taken "to plug the holes until we get re-organized.

Recreation director presents $57,500 budget

(Staff) - Village council gave tentative approval last Tuesday night to the first budget prepared by new recreation director Dave Arnold.

Mr. Arnold's figures show an increase of $700, to $57,505, to village taxpayers for the operating expenses of the municipality's recreation program and arena and a net capital works program which will cost local taxpayers $15,129.

Mr. Arnold's budget shows operating expenditures in 1980 will total $113,450 and the village will recoup $56,450 in revenues. Of this, $21,400 will come from grants from the surrounding townships, the provincial government, rentals and admission charges. The arena is expected to generate $35,050 in revenue, including $16,000 in ice rentals, $13,000 from minor hockey ice rentals, $3,500 from summer rentals, $1,000 from a percentage of Junior C hockey ticket sales and $1,000 from advertising.

The recreation budget will get final approval when the village adopts its overall budget for 1980.

According to clerk-treasurer Gary Thompson, recreation accounts for about 21 mills of the 71 mills collected for village purposes.

The budgeted cost of operating the arena this year is $600 less than was spent in 1979, according to Mr. Arnold's budget. Last year the actual cost of operating the arena was $24,330, while this year Mr. Arnold is projecting that village taxpayers will have to provide $23,771.

Revenue projections for 1980 from the arena are $9,000 more than the building generated in 1979.

Wages will be the single biggest item in the arena's list of expenditures, accounting for $24,000 with the next biggest item being light and heat at $14,500. Building maintenance will cost $6,000 this year, Mr. Arnold is forecasting.

The capital expenditures program has been reduced considerably from 1979's. This year, Mr. Arnold is budgeting $19,172, including $14,500 for plexiglass around the ice surface, $1,672 for new exit doors and a Hydro panel door, and $3,000 for a new ice resurfacing machine. Of this, $4,043 is expected to be provided by the provincial government under its Communication Recreation Centres Act (CRCA).

Last year's capital works program cost $55,000 with $41,250 provided by village taxpayers. However, last year's program included the replacement of the arena roof, a project which cost $31,000, $7,500 of which was recoverable under provincial grants. The village also purchased a creative play structure last year and this facility, located in the Community Park, cost $3,000.

The village expects to receive $10,000 from the province

Thank you very much, milk

Chamber meeting Thursday

(Staff) - The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow (Thursday) evening in the Drop-In Centre. Time of meeting is 7pm.

Super. to think metric

(Staff) - Osnabruck Township Council voted at its regular meeting last week in favor of sending the township roads superintendent back to school. Bart Whitton will be going to the Guelph Roads School for a week in May to learn how to make the transition from imperial to metric measure in road work. The superintendent said the course is usually well attended and given at the reasonable cost of $145, including room and board.

VON annual March 20

(Staff) - The board of directors of the Victorian Order of Nurses will hold its annual meeting at Trinity United Church Hall, Cornwall, at 8pm Thurs., March 20. Guest speaker for the evening will be Margaret Armstrong, director of the Home Care Program of Kinston, Frontenac, Lennox and Addington Health Unit. She will speak on chronic in-home care.

Down the drain

(Staff) - Osnabruck Township Council will be up on their ear lobes in drains March 27. The council plans to hold the public reading of the Southworth-Gallinger Drain report at 7:30pm and the court of revision for the Woodlands Drain at 9pm in the same evening. Both meetings will be at the township hall in Osnabruck Centre.

Time for action

(Staff) - There have been enough reports and now it's time to do something. That's how Edwardsburg Township Council and Osnabruck Township Council feel about reports by the South Nation Conservation Authority on the rechannelization of the river. Osnabruck Council concurred with the resolution made by the Edwardsburg Council at their regular meeting last week.

Osnabruck rejects Hydro land request

OSNABRUCK CENTRE (Staff) - An application from Ontario Hydro to rezone a parcel of land owned by the government agency was turned down by Osnabruck Township Council last week.

The land, located between highway 2, and the second concession road immediately west of the Canadiana Pottery outlet, is now zoned for rural use. Ontario Hydro attempted to sell the property but couldn't obtain the appraised value so requested that the zoning be switched to residential.

Council refused the request as the township is in the process of forming an official zoning plan and hasn't yet decided how the area where the property is located will be planned.

In other township business planner Michael Wright met with council and the owner of Bayview Cottages, Ken Shillito. Mr. Wright was questioning Mr. Shillito on his business operation so it would be zoned properly for the official zoning plan being established. Mr. Shillito rents homes and cottages on land near Ingleside.

Arnold Kruders, a homeowner in the Vin Vista subdivision, received support from council last week. Mr. Kruders requested council help prevent people from parking beside his home. A township road passes Mr. Kruders property and leads into the St. Lawrence River.

Mr. Kruder said people were parking overnight at the spot and he requested council post signs stopping the practise. Council agreed and signs prohibiting parking between 8pm and 6am will be erected.

Paving program reduced

Township sets road priorities

MAPLE RIDGE (Staff) - Crushed stone will be applied to seven miles of township roads this year as part of Winchester Township council's 1980 road program.

Council set its 1980 road priorities at a special meeting here last Thursday night, deciding to apply the crushed stone to one-mile sections of seven concession roads; to widen one-mile stretches of two more roads and to pave one-mile sections of the Hogaboam and Osgoode Boundary roads.

The township will spend $380,000 on its road program this year, of which $240,000 will go for construction and $140,000 for maintenance of the township's 120-mile road network.

One-mile stretches of the Forward-Road - an extension of Chesterville's South St., west of highway 43 - and the Maple Ridge Road will be widened in preparation for eventual paving. Council has budgeted $3,000 for widening and $6,000 for the application of crushed stone on the Forward Road and $2,500 for widening the Ridge Road.

Roughly $40,000 - an increase of $10,000 from last year - has been set aside for applying crushed stone to one-mile stretches of the following roads:

- Road No. 15, from Winchester to Ormond, $8,000;
- McConnell Road, between concessions 9 and 10, and east of county road 7, $5,000;
- Durant Road, between concessions 5 and 6, northwest of Chesterville, $6,000;
- D. Smith Road, between concessions 4 and 5, northeast of Chesterville, $4,500;
- Nesbitt Road, between concessions 1 and 2, east of the airpark, $5,000;
- R. Thompson Road, between concessions 9 and 10 and west of county road 7, $5,000.

In addition to the crushed stone, the township will pave a little over two miles of municipally-owned roads this year.

A one-mile stretch of the Hogaboam Road west of highway 31 and running north through concession 3, will receive a 1½" application of mulch. This will cost about $10,000.

Another one-mile stretch, on the Osgoode Township boundary west of Marionville, will be covered with the mulch topping. This is estimated to cost the township about $15,000.

A further $5,000 worth of paving will be carried out in the McConnell subdivision in Morewood.

This year's paving program is not nearly as ambitious as that carried out in 1979, when council had 3½ miles of Winchester Township's roads paved. However, the extra paving cost $17,000, $13,000 of which had too be recovered through taxes last year.

This year's paving program has been set at $30,000.

At its regular March meeting, council decided to tender for 20,000 tons of ⅜" or ⅝" crushed stone to be applied to concession roads.

In another road-related matter, council decided to turn the controversial roadway through a township industrial park back into the Ministry of Transportation and Communications' court.

The road, through a nine-acre industrial park owned by Basil Dawley and located at the northwest corner of Winchester, has been a matter of contention between the developer and municipality for some time.

Council has refused to accept ownership of the road through the park until Mr. Dawley brings a vehicle turnaround up to what the municipality's engineer says is ministry standards. This means that the turnaround, to be built so that township road equipment can enter and exit off county road 44 and not use the private entranceway exiting onto highway 31, must have another 20 ft. added to its right of way.

Reeve Gerald Holmes has opposed allowing township-owned equipment to use the entrance at the west end of the park because of its proximity to the intersection of county road 44 and highways 31 and 43. The entrance is 400 ft. from the intersection and MTC standards demand that a public entranceway be at least 1200 ft.

Junior Farmer executive

Stormont County Junior Farmers held their annual dinner and dance at Avonmore Community Centre last Saturday. The members elected a new executive for 1980. From left: provincial director, Marvin Waldroff; female director, Peggy Swerdfeger; secretary, Hans Kaack; female director, Debbie Steele; vice-president, Frank Michels; guest of honor, trade minister Ed Lumley; president, Jim Wert; treasurer, Debbie Rowe; male director, Dale Swerdfeger; male director, Bernie Henderson; alternative provincial director, Brian Rutley. Stormont delegates for the annual provincial conference in Toronto on March 14, 15 and 16 were also chose. They are Marvin Waldroff, Brian Holland, Ian Lang, Hans Kaack, Frank Michels, and Doug Schultz.

MOE ups ante

(Staff) - The Ministry of the Environment has upped the ante for the expansion of the Chesterville sewage treatment lagoon but village council is still holding out for more government grants for the $200,000-plus project.

According to clerk-treasurer Gary Thompson, the ministry last week offered to double its grants for the expansion, raising its contribution from $25,000 to $50,000, but council is hoping to increase provincial support to $75,000.

Reeve Jim Brannen and councillors Erik Thompson and Al Kennedy met in Toronto last week with MOE Assistant Deputy Minister J. Walter Giles and were told that the province would double the $25,000 grant it originally promised for the project but if the village could provide updated figures and a projected number of residences in the village as well as a forecast of Nestle expansion and employment, up to $75,000 could be made available for the municipality's overloaded sewage treatment facilities.

The ministry put a halt on new development in the village in 1977, restricting building to subdivisions that had been approved prior to the halt, until Chesterville's sewage treatment lagoon had been doubled in size.

The 14-acre lagoon, completed in 1969, is technically overloaded according to Environment figures. If all the building lots in the village which have been approved for development were to come on stream, the ministry says the present facility would be unable to cope with the increased flow.

Last year the ministry paid for an engineering study for a 14.5-acre expansion, which would service a population of 2,200. Cost of the expansion was estimated at $200,000.

If the village can secure the $75,000 grant, the cost of the expansion to Chesterville's ratepayers would be roughly $25,000, since the municipality already has about $100,000 in a reserve account.

Recreation budget

through CRCA for projects approved last year but for which no grant money has yet been paid.

Total expenditures in the general recreation program are expected to come to $55,134 with wages accounting for $16,934.

The program includes the operation of the swimming pool. Wages for the pool supervisor, two swimming instructors and two lifeguards have been budgeted at $6,500.

Mr. Arnold has budgeted $4,100 for pool expenses and chemicals; $1,760 for softball; $770 for the Drop-In Centre; $4,400 for the park and Park Pavilion; $1,200 for senior citizens; $550 for sports awards; $440 for special projects; $1,980 for insurance; $13,000 for recreation administration, and $10,000 for the village's contribution to its minor hockey program.

The recreation director reported to council that the Crysler Recreation Association has agreed to pay $2,000 to help underwrite the cost of the Chesterville Minor Hockey Association (CMHA) this year. This is over and above the $35 per player registration fee charged to the 60 Crysler youngsters now enrolled in the 160-member CMHA and will be paid in two instalments.

Mr. Arnold explained after the meeting that village council now provides a grant of $10,000 to provide minor hockey with icetime at the arena. This money is then returned to the village.

So far this year, the association has used $8,000 of the total grant.

The minor hockey association is given 21 hours of icetime each week with each team in the association given an hour for league play and another hour for practices.

from a major intersection.

The ministry has in the past refused to accept the entrance as a public road but last Thursday council passed a resolution requesting MTC to accept both the vehicle turnaround and the entranceway.

Until the township accepts the roadway, no lots in the industrial park can be severed even though there are now two tenants in the development.

Fire kills Finch man

FINCH (Staff) - A fire in a house trailer in Finch Township claimed the life of a man last Saturday evening.

Long Sault OPP said Donald Nelson, 66, was badly burned when his home caught on fire. The body was recovered from the small structure about 7pm Saturday. Mr. Nelson lived alone.

An OPP official yesterday said the cause of the fire is still unknown and is under investigation.

IN MEMORIAMS

IN MEMORIAM

PELLOW — In loving memory of a wonderful daughter, Madeline Pellow, who passed away February 4, 1976.
We will always remember the way you looked,
The way you spoke and smiled,
The little things you said and did
Are with us all the while.
You never said good-bye to us
Perhaps it's just as well,
For we could never have said good-bye
To the one we loved so well.

Sadly missed by
Dad and Mom
Mr. & Mrs. John Price

IN MEMORIAM

MERKLEY — In loving memory of a dear wife, mother, grandmother and great grandmother, Nina Merkley, who passed away March 17, 1975.
Oft I think of you, dear Mother
And my heart is filled with pain
Oh, this earth would be heaven
Could I hear your voice again.
But still I can't forget
For in the heart that loved you best
Your memory lingers yet.

Remembered by
Harold E. Merkley and Family

IN MEMORIAM

PRICE — In fond and loving memory of a dear son, Willis Edward Price, who passed away March 17, 1974
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last
The world's weary troubles and trials are past
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore
Til God called him home to suffer no more.

Loved and remembered by
Mom and Dad

ACCIDENTS

An accident involving a car and school bus March 6 on Main St., Winchester resulted in minor damages. The school bus driven by Art Knapp, age 59 of Winchester, was stopped taking on students when struck in the rear by a vehicle driven by Richard Gumbs, age 22 of Ottawa. No one was injured, damage totalled $600 and the slippery snow covered road was a contributing factor. Const. Paul Peterson investigated.

On Wed., March 5, a tractor trailer parked at Ault's on Queen St., owned by R.S. Allison and driven by John Hutchinson of Winchester was left idling. When the driver came out, his vehicle was observed resting up against the front of a house on Center St. owned by Douglas Hitsman. Damage to the house was estimated at $1,000 damage and to the truck, $300. No one was injured. Const. Norm Sarault investigated.

One person has been charged as a result of a two-car collision at the corner of St. Lawrence and Church Streets in Winchester March 6. A vehicle driven by Linda Irven, age 20 of RR4 Crysler, was northbound on St. Lawrence St. when it turned in front of a vehicle driven by Ronald Bradford, age 29, of RR3, Williamsburg. Irven was charged with an improper left turn. Damage was estimated at $1,000. Const. Bryan Helmer investigated.

On March 7 a vehicle driven by Hunter McCaig, age 21 of Kemptville, was westbound on Cty. Rd. 13. It skidded through the intersection of Hwy. 31 and struck a highway sign. Damage was estimated at $1,000. Const. Al Lummiss investigated.

On March 7, a two-car accident occurred on Main St., Chesterville. David Cross, age 22 of Chesterville pulled out from a private driveway and was struck by a vehicle driven by Raymond Holliday, age 33 of Winchester. Cross has been charged for failing to yield. Damage was estimated at $800. Const. Bryan Helmer investigated.

UCW addresses stewardship theme

(Special) - On Thurs., March 6, members of the afternoon group of Trinity UCW, Chesterville, assembled for their meeting in the church hall.

Mrs. Graham Smith opened the meeting with a poem, hymn 175 and 67 in unison. Only 22 answered the roll call as many are ill. Minutes of the February meeting were read and messages of appreciation for get-well cards were received. One card was signed for Sheldon Ball who is in hospital.

Business was discussed by Mrs. Eric Casselman. She reported that $304 was received from the annual fair board banquet. She also thanked the committee in charge of the pot-luck dinner for the Sunday when the UCW honored Mrs. Allison Graham.

Easter Thank-offering will be held April 3. There will be an executive meeting at the church March 25. It was moved by Mrs. Don Cross and seconded by Mrs. Alice Shay that a canvass be made to replace the anniversary supper. The church anniversary is May 4. Summer Event will be held at Kemptville on July 18, 19 and 20. The Seaway Valley Presbyterial for United Church Women will be held at the United Church, Iroquois, April 9.

The worship service was opened by a piano solo by Mrs. Joye Loucks, the church organist.

The theme for this Stewardship meeting was "By Your Giving You Are There". Three scriptures were read by Mrs. Alice Shay and following each the meditation was read by Mrs. Harold W. Merkley. These were titled Faith, Talent and Treasure. Mrs. Shay read another scripture and also a short reading from a stewardship pamphlet entitled "A Magnificent Love Affair."

Offering was taken by Mmes. Geo. Johnston and J.H. Merkley and dedicated by Mrs. Alice Shay. After hymn a three act skit was presented by Mrs. Alice Shay, Mrs. Don Dillabough, Mrs. Graham Smith and Mrs. H.W. Merkley with Mrs. Eric Casselman as commentator.

Between 1900 and 1972, weather extremes caused agricultural productivity to rise or drop from its normal level in one out of every three years, according to Sperry New Holland.

CARDS OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS

We extend a warm and verv sincere thank you to our neighbours and friends who so kindly offered words of encouragement and consolation following the sudden death of our dear mother and grandmother, Johanna Scheepers. The spritual and floral acts of remembrance, the multitude of cards and other tributes were all deeply appreciated and will always be fondly remembered. A very special thanks to Dr. Rowan and Fr. Appelman.

CARD OF THANKS

My long stay in Winchester Memorial Hospital was pleasant, thanks to the skill of Doctors Domanko and Chande, the friendly efficiency of the nurses on first floor surgery and the convalescent ward, and visits from clergy, friends, members of my family and other relatives. I also appreciated flowers and gifts given singly or collectively, treats, reading material and the many cards and letters. I was touched to hear of prayers offered in my behalf. Thank you one and all.

OMMB general manager reviews industry changes

(Staff) - Speaking to a large audience of dairy farmers at North Dundas District High School last Thursday evening Lorne Hurd, general manager of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board (OMMB), outlined important recent events in the milk industry. The occasion was the annual Dundas County Milk Committee meeting.

Both the OMMB and the Dairy Farmers of Canada (DFC) took strong and united positions supporting the milk management system at the outset of 1980 said the general manager.

And touching on other aspects of the system he added they gave continued support to the butterfat exchange program operated by the Canadian Dairy Commission. "However, the request will be made that the butterfat exchange program be strictly limited and that the butter imported under such a program be of high quality and of a character when marketed in Canada that it does not differ from that for which Canadian consumers hold a preference."

On the special program for evaporated milk, introduced by the federal government on an optional trial basis last year, Mr. Hurd said the OMMB would like to see two changes made.

The first would require the federal government to make a long-term commitment to the program and the second would require the full $2.66 subsidy instead of the half-subsidy now paid on milk produced for export under the program.

And finally, under the milk supply management system, Mr. Hurd told dairymen the special levy imposed on fluid milk shipments three years ago, "and referred to by some as the 'skim off' levy is a continuing source of inequity between producers and between provinces in its present form. Since this levy was imposed unilaterally by the federal government, without consultation with the provinces, Dairy Farmers of Canada believes it is the responsibility of the federal authorities to find a solution to the problem which is acceptable to all provinces prior to the next dairy year commencing in Aug. 1, 1980.

In the area of milk pricing Mr. Hurd said the federal government is now reviewing both the fluid and the industrial milk price formulas, "with a view to updating the base price and considering desirable changes."

Both the OMMB and the DFC took positions on what changes should be made in the industrial milk base price and indexing adjustment formula itself following a commitment from the federal government to consult with both organizations before any final decisions are taken, said the general manager.

In regard to the base price, the DFC wants a factor included in establishing the base price to compensate for lags during price adjustments; the level of returns to labor based on wage rates for skilled workers; and an appropriate rate of return to management provided by some measure related to size of enterprise.

In regard to the indexing adjustment formula the DFC proposed: average industrial wages be used as a means of measuring needed changes in labour returns, rather than the Consumer Price Index now used; a factor for measuring changes in transportation costs in the cash cost component of the present formula, and an indexing of capital costs provided for in the formula.

"Your board believes that such changes are desirable and justifiable and would improve the formula and its performance in establishing fair returns to producers for industrial milk," said the OMMB official.

On the dome of fluid milk pricing formulas Mr. Hurd said the OMMB was proposing changes in the base price and indexing components. "Currently our base value relates to costs and returns from milk production as determined by DHIA-costed herds. Our review involves moving to a new source of data, namely, that of the Ontario Dairy Farm Accounting Project, for which we now have results for 1977 and 1978. The review of the index components will include the selection of a replacement index for the wholesale price index which has been discontinued, as well as a hard look at the implications of continuing to use our existing supply and demand component, which has increased very little over time and tends therefore to suppress the influence of the other factors on the formula prices."

Speaking of methods used to expand the milk market Mr. Hurd explained the accomplishment made in milk advertising and promotion. "In the cheese field, where bureau promotion has concentrated for several years, per capita consumption has increased and in the past decade has risen by nearly 50 per cent," he said. "Obviously a good investment."

The industrial milk marketing method employed by the board has come under a lot of criticism in recent years said Mr. Hurd. Review of the method has resulted in a proposal to ensure no further drop in the supplies of milk to the smaller and mid-sized cheddar cheese plants, with the butter powder plants and condenseries absorbing any further decline in residual supplies.

The main rationale for this proposal is that, in the longer run, it is in the best interest of the industry as a whole to direct milk supplies to the growth sectors of the industry."

In the area of milk transportation Mr. Hurd said the OMMB was successfully holding costs down. But, he said, the board staff was still attempting to lower the cost and he outlined several methods being studied, such as the use of computer programs to assist in having the most efficiency in truck routing and the introduction of more efficient transportation equipment, such as diesel engines.

One of the more recent changes in the milk industry is the introduction of butterfat-vegetable oil spreads in Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan and imitation cheeses in the United States said Mr. Hurd. The DFC the Dairy Bureau of Canada and the OMMB have concluded these products should not be allowed to further penetrate the Canadian market. The organizations received the support of the federal government, responsible for importation of such products, in their opposition to the products, said Mr. Hurd.

Dundas Milk Committee secretary-treasurer Doug Coons reported $5,757.18 was taken in receipts and $5,041.79 was disbursed by the organization in 1979, leaving a bank balance of $715.39.

The budget for 1980 forecasts disbursements of $5,684.39 (including a year-end balance of $745 and a grant from OMMB totalling $4,969.00.

Dairy farmers in the audience want changes in the structure of the milk organization. Several advocated changing the location of the annual meeting each year giving farmers from different parts of the county an opportunity to host the event. Others suggested committee members should be elected to represent each township in Dundas ensuring each area has a voice on the committee.

The dairy farmers voted in favor of a study to investigate the possibilities of introducing different term lengths for committee members. For example some members would be elected to one year terms, others to two year terms and others to three year terms. The problem of educating each newly elected committee to the OMMB would be avoided with the varying lengths of office terms.

Finally several farmers said they wanted a constitutional amendment describing a valid ballot. The voting system now has each farmer voting for nine committee members. If nine names are not on the ballot it is discarded.

Winners of gold seal certificates were announced at the meeting. The honor requires a routine score of 87.5 and grade A standard. Winners are: John A. Byvelds, Williamsburg, Peter VanDeMeerakker, Inkerman, Alexander Mellon and Sons, South Mountain, Cephus Sypes, Iroquois, Lloyd Beckstead, Brinston, O. Lee Barkley, Chesterville, Burrill M. Harriman, Williamsburg, Norman Tinkler, Inkerman, Ronald Durant, Winchester, Douglas A. J. Millar, Winchester.

Eggs anytime

(Special) - More and more homemakers are using eggs to replace meat in their menus, and for good reason. Food and nutrition specialists with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food say that not only are eggs an excellent source of high quality protein, but they can be cooked in many ways and served anytime of the day.

Canada's Food Guide recommends eating two servings of meat or alternates every day. Many people don't realize that two eggs are an economical replacement for a serving of meat.

Eggs are graded according to quality and weight. For example, a two-ounce egg will qualify for the Large grade, and those just under two ounces are considered Medium grade. One dozen Large eggs, therefore, will weigh at least 24 ounces. That's equal to 1¼ pounds of high quality protein.

On March 15 Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dillabough will be celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary. The couple were married at the United Church parsonage in Elma in 1915. Although the official date is this Saturday friends and relatives of the Dillabough's honored the anniversary with a surprise dinner last weekend at Trinity United Church. - staff photo -

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dillabough

Celebrate 65th - with 'grace of God'

(Staff) - On March 15, 1915 Fannie McHaffie and Melvin Dillabough were married at the United Church parsonage in Elma, five miles south of Chesterville by Rev. W.T. Keough. This Saturday March 15, 1980 the couple will be celebrating their 65th year together.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dillabough attribute at least part of the success of their long marriage to God. It was at an evening church service in Elma that they met, and during their years together the couple believes God had a hand in keeping Mr. Dillabough alive.

"I was almost killed several times," he says. There was the head-on car collision and the fall from the tractor, which then ran over him, he gives as evidence of the Almighty's watchfulness.

Before they were married the couple had been neighbors in Elma. After meeting Miss McHaffie, Mr. Dillabough decided to give up his current girlfriend for the young woman who travelled the countryside as a dressmaker.

After dating for two years they decided it was time to marry. So at the Elma parsonage on March 15, 1915 Melvin Dillabough, 22, married Fannie McHaffie, 23.

The young couple made their first home in Bethune Bush, just north of Elma. Five years later they bought the home built by Mrs. Dillabough's grandfather. The home had been built in 1866 in Elma.

Four children were born to the Dillabough's, Beatrice (Mrs. Arnold Shaver), of Morrisburg, Donald of Chesterville, Grace (Mrs. H.M. Brown) of London and Claude of Elma. They have been grandparents eight times and great grandparents 11 times.

They continued to dairy farm until 1976 when they moved to the Nationview Senior Citizen's apartment building in Chesterville, where they say they are extremely happy.

In honor of their 65th anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Dillabough were entertained to a surprise dinner by their family at the Trinity United Church in Chesterville last Saturday.

Thirty-five people attended, including Rev. and Mrs. L.M. Ferguson and the entire Dillabough family.

The tables were decorated with pink and white candles, pink and white carnations and a beautifully decorated double heart-shaped cake. Rev. Ferguson said grace and all enjoyed the meal served by the UCW.

Toasts were proposed to the couple by Rev. Ferguson and D. Gary Dillabough on behalf of all the grandchildren.

Guests attended from London, Toronto, Ottawa, Morrisburg, Osgoode, Elma and Chesterville.

Ottawa Valley Seed Show March 18-21

OTTAWA (Special) - Visitors to the 1980 Ottawa Valley Farm Show, being held March 18, 19, 20, 21, at Lansdowne Park, will find that the exhibits are literally moving outside onto Bank Street. Every available foot of space at Lansdowne Park is packed with equipment, supplies and all of a farmer's needs for the coming year.

The doors will swing open to welcome everyone from Eastern Ontario, Western Quebec and Northern New Yrok State at 10am Tuesday and every day for four days. Closing time is 10pm every day except Fri., March 21, when the exhibits will be dismantled at 4:30pm.

Once again there will be attractive cattle sales. On Tues., March 18, there will be Jersey cattle for sale in the Upper Annex. The parade will commence at noon and the sale will begin immediately after the parade.

On Wed., March 19 there will be a sale of Simmentals in the Upper Annex at 1pm.

On Thurs., March 20 the annual Ottawa Valley Hereford breeders will hold their show and sale. The show will start at 10am with the sale slated for 1pm. These sales give the breeder, a chance to improve their herds by acquiring a high class animal to add to their lines of breeding stock.

A special attraction this year will be a free chance to any adult, attending the show for a trip for two to the Calgary Stampede. This event has been donated by the Hesston Corporation and is being conducted in conjunction with the Ottawa Valley Seed Grower's Association (Ottawa Valley Farm Show). Details will be available at local Hesston Corporation Farm Machinery dealers and at Hesston Corporation booth.

Other special educational attractions will be the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food exhibit on the production of high quality grain corn. For the dairyman, the Ontario Milk Marketing Board will be in the Exhibit Hall. Present here will be Charlene O''Neill of Middlesex County, the Dairy Princess of Ontario. Other exhibitors will be the Pedigreed Seed, the Ontario Crop Insurance, the Ontario Ploughmen's Association where Peggy Kniesz, Perth County, reigning Queen of the Furrow, will invite those present to the 1980 International Ploughing Match.

Eastern Breeders will be looking forward to seeing farmers in the Upper Annex where they will have free coffee as well as information about the sires housed at Kemptville. Also in this area there will be 10 breed representative animals on display. There will be information available about the characteristics of each breed and the position they maintain in the agricultural field today.

On the second floor or Upper Annex 20 commercial exhibitors will complement the show with a variety of supplies and equipment for the cattleman.

There will be three evening programs during the week. On Tues., March 18, the annual opening dinner will be held at 6pm in the Assembly Hall. Kay Denison will provide organ music. The presentation of prizes and awards for the winners of the Ottawa Valley Seed and Forage Championship Show will be made at this event.

A special presentation will be made by the Ottawa Valley Seed Grower's Association to Raymond Kemp, past president of the association, who has contributed a lifetime of work to the agricultural community in the local and surrounding area.

On Wed., March 19, at 8pm in the Assembly Hall, the regular ladies program will be held with Gwen Wagenblass commenting on the latest fashions for ladies. Also on the program, Betty's Kitchen will give a cooking demonstration and the Acre Family Singers from Vernon will entertain. Free draws will be held during the program.

On Thurs., March 20 at 8pm in the Assembly Hall, the amateur contest will be held with Paul Ruffo present to supply the music and act as M.C. for the evening. This event is open to all amateurs from rural organizations such as calf clubs, Junior Farmers, 4-H clubs, schools etc. Again this year there will be two judges, Helene Dupont and Ed Needham.

The Ottawa Valley Seed, Feed, and Forage Championship Show will be in full swing again with winning entries coming from the County Seed Fairs held previous to the Championship Show at Lansdowne Park. Each year local farmers take home over $2,000 in cash and several valuable trophies and awards are won by the exhibitors. A new award this year will be the champion exhibit for soya beans at the show, donated by the United Cooperatives of Ontario. Judging for this event will begin at 1pm Mon., March 17.

KCAT Royal Friday, Saturday

KEMPTVILLE (Staff) - "The Challenge of the 80s" is the theme of this year's Student Royal at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology this Friday and Saturday.

About 160 students will compete in the livestock showmanship competition one of the best in Eastern Ontario.

Responsibility for the Royal appears to be evenly divided between city and country, according to KCAT spokesman, Terry Meagher. Co-presidents are Barbara Ross of Ottawa and Howie Stanley of Bristol, PQ.

Mary Cowan, student publicity chairman for the Royal says "It's more than a country fair." She stresses the learning aspect of the Royal and believes it's a good chance for young people interested in agriculture and home economics education to come and see what it's all about.

The Royal will feature cooking demonstrations, fashion shows and tours of the College facilities. As well, there will be exhibits, games and home produce competitions.

At the Royal there will be no generation gap, says Mr. Stanley.

Stressing the family unit as important in meeting the challenges of the 80's, he says the family must work together and adapt to the challenge of technological change.

"Rural kids have always worked with their parents," he says. For this reason Mr. Stanley would like to see families come to the Royal.

Tradition revived

Disapproving eyes look down at this dapper young dandy. He is a member of the Shamrock Beauty Pageant, part of the evening's entertainment planned by the St. Mary's Social and Dramatic Club for St. Patrick's night, Mon., March 17 at 8pm at North Dundas District High School. The show is a revival of a tradition that existed right up until the end of the fifties. Some members of the 1980 version of the entertainment used to perform for the shows in the fifties. Monday night will feature, besides the Shamrock Pageant, a one-act play, dancing, music and a taste of Ireland in various other ways. The project has been in preparation over the past five weeks.

Teen dances get council approval

(Staff) - Recreation Director Dave Arnold has received approval from Chesterville Town council to run teen dances at the Community Hall once a month on a trial basis. The first dance is tentatively set for Friday night.

"We are trying to get a program together for teenagers in the town," Mr. Arnold said. "We would like to get them organized in their own youth group to plan activities for themselves."

"A few people from the Chamber of Commerce started teen dances one or two years ago at the Drop-In Centre", Mr. Arnold said.

The latest success has been the teen dance held at the Community Hall during Winter Carnival weekend. There were no complaints, and members of the Chamber of Commerce who organized the event were delighted with the results.

Mr. Arnold said the teenagers themselves will have to take some initiative of their own to perpetuate the dances. He feels they should take an active role in selecting the type of entertainment they would like to have for the dances.

Mr. Arnold says any teenagers interested in getting involved should contact either himself at the Community Hall, or Chamber of Commerce member Joyce McMahon.

Friday's dance will feature a disc jockey. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to provide security for the evening.

UCW members enjoy amusing skit

(Special) - The Evening Group of Trinity UCW met at 8pm last Wednesday in the dining hall of the church with 15 members present.

Mrs. Tom Racine welcomed the members and the UCW Purpose was repeated in unison.

The minutes of the February meeting were read and approved and a business discussion followed. Mr. Robert Miltimore gave the treasurer's report. Miss Addie Campderros reported having sent six get well cards and one sympathy card for the month of February.

Mrs. Eric Casselman announced that the Summer Event will be held in Kemptville July 18, 19 and 20 and urged members to make plans to attend. Mrs. Casselman again mentioned the annual Presbyterial meeting in Iroquois April 9. Anyone interested in going is to let Mrs. Casselman know by April 2.

The theme of the worship service was 'Stewardship' and was conducted by Mrs. Hilda Belsher, Mrs. Doug Hitsman and Mrs. Wilton Reid. Mrs. Belsher stated that stewardship involves our total lives and almost every decision made involves a question of stewardship. "When we spend money, change jobs or attend committee meetings we are deciding about the best way to use our money, time and talents," she said.

The group presented a three-act play on stewardship entitled "Let's Face It". This play showed how UCW members face up to the world's needs. Mrs. Eric Casselman introduced the play and acted as commentator between scenes.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and lunch was served by the committee in charge.

Chesterville-area native dies at 100

Edith Emily Medcof, a native of the Chesterville area, died in Cobourg Mon., March 3 in her 101st year.

Mrs. Medcof was born near Chesterville May 21, 1879 a daughter of John W. and Phoebe (Fulton) Smith. She was the last member of their family of five children.

She is survived by a stepson, J. Carl Medcof, and several nieces, nephews - including Graham Smith of Chesterville - and grandchildren. Mr. Medcof died in 1974.

Mrs. Medcof trained as a public school teacher at the Ottawa Normal School and taught at Metcalfe, Maple Ridge and Ottawa. After her marriage to John D. Medcof she lived in Toronto until Mr. Medcof's retirement, when they moved to Rice Lake.

In 1972 Mr. and Mrs. Medcof sold their property and moved to the Golden Plough Lodge, Cobourg.

Funeral services were conducted Thurs., March 6 in Cobourg and interment will take place in the spring at Harwood.

Irvine Sheldrick dies March 4 at age 76

Irvine Sheldrick, a native of Winchester Township and former Vernon resident, died at Bayfield Manor, Kemptville, Tues., March 4. Mr. Sheldrick, a retired Hydro employee was 76.

He was the son of William and Carrie (Quart) Sheldrick. Mr. Sheldrick attended township schools and was a member of Vernon Baptist-United Church. Mr. Sheldrick was married twice, to the former Dorothy Larmour and the former Ruby Wadsworth, both of whom predeceased him.

He is survived by two daughters, Jean Sheldrick, Williamsburg, and Hilda Meek, Kingston; three sons, Bill, Morrisburg, Russell, St. Catharines, and David, Ottawa; 10 grandchildren and five grandchildren; a brother, Jay, Ottawa, and by a sister, Hilda, Toronto.

Rev. F. Stone conducted the funeral service at 1:30pm Fri., March 7 from the Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Winchester and interment was at Springhill Cemetery. Pallbearers were Mac Ferguson, Frank Acres, Erwin Duncan, Edwin Duncan, Harold Sheldrick and Stirling Sheldrick.

Pioneering firm honored

The Imperial Oil Company celebrated its 100th anniversary with a convention in Toronto last week. Part of the ceremonies included honoring their oldest dealer in Ontario - Brownlee's Imperial Service Station in Finch. The gas station opened in 1905 under W.J. Brownlee and continues to operate under the management of the original owner's son, W.G. Brownlee and his grandson, Barry Brownlee. The two men received a plaque from the company commemorating the occasion. -staff photo-

Basic herd health lessons being forgotten

CORNWALL (Staff) - Dairy producers are in danger of forgetting the main principles of herd health programs, Dr. Jim Alguire of Williamstown told members of the Stormont Holstein Breeders Club at their barn meeting here Wed., Feb. 27.

Dr. Alguire refreshed the memories of club members on the primary aims of the program, telling them that with today's higher cattle and quota prices, the reproductive value of a herd must be jealously guarded.

To maintain peak reproductive efficienty, breeders must pay close attention to three things: calving intervals, first service conception rates and the average number of AI services per conception in the herd.

If calving intervals exceed 12 to 13 months, the producer is losing money. "This isn't money that's being taken from your pocket, but money that never made it into your pocket in the first place," he said.

First-service conception rates are easy to calculate over the entire herd, he explained. The average is only 55 to 60 per cent but by paying close attention to heat cycles and the number of services required, the producer can save "semen and dollars" and Dr. Alguire said it is not unreasonable for a 70-per-cent conception rate to be achieved.

Barn charts should be used to calculate the number of services per conception in the herd. "It's bad enough that you should have to go to a second service, but how many of you are having to go to a fifth or sixth service?"

The producer should aim at an overall herd average of 1½ to two services per conception, he said.

How can these goals be achieved? Dr. Alguire said it is a simple matter of starting at the beginning and carrying through with a regular herd program.

The first and most important step is to identify the animals in the herd. This sounds 'ridiculously simple" but it's the most fundamental step in the program, he emphasized.

A simple record-keeping system on each cow in the herd must also be used. It needn't be elaborate but he pointed out that any system is "only as good as the people who operate it."

Thses should also be coupled with regular visits by a veterinarian. He suggested visits every four to six weeks, depending on the individual circumstances, and said the vet's visits shouldn't just be concentrated on pregnancy examinations but on a comprehensive program for the whole herd.

The last component is nutrition and Dr. Alguire said he couldn't exaggerate its importance to herd health. There has been a remarkable change in nutrition and ration balancing programs in this area in the past five years and it's all been for the better, he said.

A disease that is becoming more prevalent in this area and which is costing dairy producers substantial amounts of money is granular vulvitis (also known as granular vaginitis), a viral infection that can confuse the observations of a cow's heat cycle and lead to needless AI services.

The disease is characterized by a discharge from the cow's vulva. This can confuse the detection of the cow's heat cycle and for breeding on the strength of the observation of discharge can require up to eight services before conception occurs. In the meantime, the cow's calving interval has been lengthened and the producer loses money on needless services.

Dr. Alguire said the disease can be detected simply and can be controlled through the use of antibiotics.

He strongly suggested that if a producer thinks his cows have abnormal heat cycles, they should be examined.

Canned fruit selection

(Special) - Canned fruit offers a fine selection of Ontario's succulent, summer fruits to enjoy year-round. And it's great to know there's a range of sugar syrup levels to choose from as well, say the marketing officers at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Consumer's preferences for sugar syrup levels vary and, in response to this, government regulations were changed a few years ago to provide a choice of several syrup strengths.

Formerly, a specific minimum concentration of syrup was required for each type of fruit. This was indicated on the label, such as 45 per cent sugar syrup for peaches. The regulations have now changed to indicate the percentage of sugar in the complete contents of the can, not just the syrup. The sugar level equalizes between the fruit and the syrup so that each contain the same percentage of sugar.

Village sugarbush planned to open Sat.

UPPER CANADA VILLAGE (Special) - The white smoke from a wood fire rises into the moist spring air. Underfoot, the snow feels like sugar as patches of brown earth give testimony to the arrival of warmer weather. The only sounds to be heard are the jingling of bells and the slapping of leather harness as a horse-drawn sleigh glides through the melting piles of snow.

Maple syrup time has come to Crysler Park Sugar Bush, as sure a sign of spring as the arrival of the first robin. As the rays of the sun become stronger and the sun sets a little later each afternoon, sap begins its annual rise from the roots into the branches of the tall sugar maples in Crysler Park.

The St. Lawrence Parks Commission crews tap the trees and begin the long process of converting sap to syrup. In the evaporator, the sap is heated to approximately 219 degrees Fahrenheit to remove the water content. Depending on the quality of the sap used, it takes about 40 gallons of sap to produce one gallon of syrup. The evaporator at the Crysler Park Sugar Bush is 3½ feet by 14 feet and is fired using fuel wood. It is capable of producing about 2 gallons of maple syrup per hour. The Syrup is bottled or canned while it is still hot, to prevent mould and the loss of colour and flavour.

To produce maple sugar, the sap is boiled to approximately 236 degrees (f) and is then cooled to 100 degrees (f) and stirred until it is a dull yellow color. Liquid sugar is poured into moulds and cooled, forming the familiar maple sugar candy.

Beginning March 15, weather permitting, visitors to the Crysler Park Sugar Bush can step back in time to see the production of maple syrup as it was done centuries ago. Displays in the bush depict the various methods that were used by the Indians and early settlers to collect and boil down the sap, and visitors can sample the delightful sugary results.

The Sugar Bush is located off Upper Canada Road, south of Highway 401.

Horse-drawn wagons will be available on weekends tc take visitors from the parking lot to the sugar shanty. After visiting the Maple Sugar Bush, you can enjoy pancakes and maple syrup at the Canada West Lounge of the Upper Canada Golf Course on weekends from 11am to 5pm, beginning March 15 to April 13.

Osna. carnival has spare money

INGLESIDE (Staff) - It's not often someone tries to give money away. But that's the situation here as the Osnabruck Carnival Committee looks for a community cause worthy of funding.

During the past five years the carnival organization has been saving the profits from each winter carnival and banking them. Now they have about $7,500 estimates carnival organizer Carson Elliott.

Two community groups have approached the carnival committee with projects that need funding. Township recreation director Joe Duvall requested $2,000 to purchase playground equipment for parks in Ingleside and Newington.

And the Upper Canada Jaycee's have requested $8,000 to build washroom facilities near the tennis courts in Ingleside.

Both requests will be examined by groups and organizations which participated in running the carnival said Mr. Elliott.

Funeral March 4 for Michael Cronin

Michael Cronin, retired farmer, died in Winchester District Memorial Hospital, Sat., March 1. A resident of Winchester Senior Citizen Apartments, Mr. Cronin was 83.

He was born in Ireland the son of John and Hanora (McCarthy) Cronin and was married to the former Laura Ellis Carkner, who survives.

Besides his wife, Mr. Cronin is survived by seven daughters, Lillian (Mrs. Arnold Simser), Mountain, Mae (Mrs. Charles Little), Winchester, Nora (Mrs. Herb Carter), Brantford, Effie (Mrs. Michael Grund), Ottawa, Mary (Mrs. Ron Carter), Kemptville, Anne (Mrs. Bob Jarmyn), Metcalfe, and Patricia (Mrs. Armand Proulx), Ottawa; two sons, Jack, Chesterville, and Patrick, Hallville; 36 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren. Mr. Cronin was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Chesterville.

Rev. John Appelman of St. Mary's conducted the funeral service from the Vice and Craig Funeral Home, Winchester, at 10am Tues., March 4 and interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery. Pallbearers were Geroge Hanes, Earl Hanes, Bob Reoch, Gordon Reoch, Don Baldwin and John Blaine.

IF YOUR ORGANIZATION HAS A PROJECT WORTH DOING THIS SUMMER, THE SUMMER YOUTH EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM WILL HELP PAY FOR STUDENTS TO HELP GET IT DONE.

Does your organization qualify?
Established, non-profit organizations and local governments may qualify to receive financial assistance to hire students.

What projects should you consider?
To qualify, projects should employ at least three students for six to 18 weeks between the 5th of May and the 5th of September. Proposals must be of benefit to student participants and should be of lasting value to the community.

What students will be employed?
Post-secondary or secondary students intending to return to school in the fall, who are Canadian citizens or permanent residents are eligible.
The Summer Youth Employment Program will make a contribution towards wages at the level of the provincial minimum wage. In addition, the Program contributes employee benefits and up to $20. per person per week to cover project overhead costs.

Where do you go from here?
Information and project proposal application forms are available at Canada Employment Centres or Employment Development Branch offices.

Deadline for project proposals is March 28.
To receive financial assistance to hire students, proposals must be submitted (post-marked) no later than March 28. Of course, it is to your organization's advantage to submit its application as early as possible, but March 28 is the final deadline. Now's the time to get that summer project off the ground.

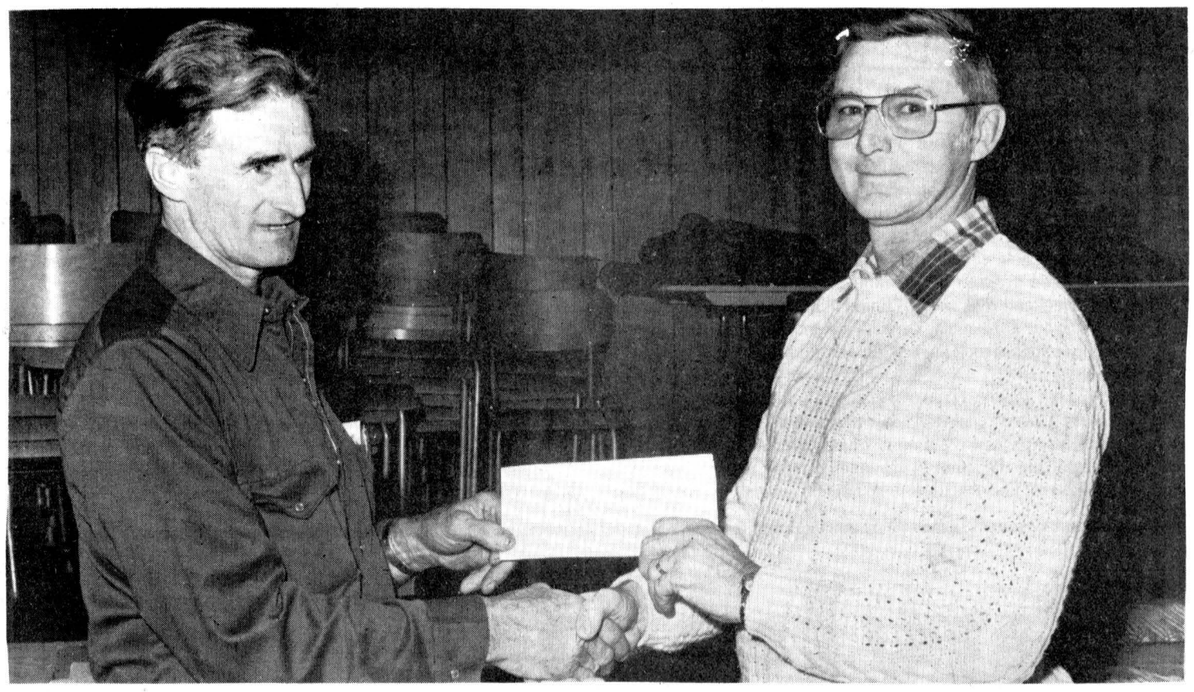
Entries, quality increase



For a second year in a row William Johnston (left) of Martintown won the Premier Exhibitor Award at the Crysler Farm Show last week. Presenting the prize of two bags of mineral from Daco Labs to Mr. Johnston is Del Baker, a salesman for the company. The Premier Exhibitor is the entrant winning the greatest number of points in all classes of the show.

Displays by farm equipment and commercial dealers lined the sides of the Crysler Pavilion at the Crysler Farm Show last Wednesday and Thursday demonstrating to farmers new methods and advancements in the farming industry. Gerald Yelle, right, won the Best Commercial Display award. Presenting the trophy to Mr. Yelle is left, Alban Legault, vice-chairman of the Crysler Recreation Centre, and middle, Alphonse Lafrance, organizer of the farm show.

CRYSLER (Staff) - For the second year in a row William Johnston of Martintown won the Premier Exhibitor award at the SD&G Seed, Feed and Forage Show held in conjunction with the Crysler Farm Show at the pavilion here last Wednesday and Thursday, March 5 and 6.

A total of 164 exhibits were entered in the show this year, up from the 142 exhibits by United Counties farmers in the show last year.

Winner of the best commercial award among the 20 local dealerships entered was Gerald Yelle, an Ideal and Butler Farm Equipment dealer in Crysler.

Lorne and Francis Henderson of Brinston swept the top prize list taking five of the eight awards. They were named reserve champion barley exhibitors, prize of 25 kg Bruce barley, champion haylage exhibitors, prize of Funks Seed Corn, and reserve premier exhibitors, prize of Daco Minerals.

Champion ear corn exhibitors were Robert and Findlay Peters of Martintown. They were awarded a bag of Pfizer seed corn.

Gerry Brugmans of Chesterville was named champion of corn silage exhibitor and received a prize from Pioneer.

The shelled corn exhibit winner was Anita Brokz, Bainsville, and she was awarded with a prize from Hyland.

Winner of the champion seed exhibitor honor was Hardy Seeds of Inkerman. The Hardies were presented with five bags of Nutrite fertilizer.

The champion forage exhibitor award was given to Walter Hambleton. Four bags of Pride seed corn were presented to Mr. Hambleton.

Stormont AgRep Dale Miller said the show was "bigger than last year" and the quality of the entries was high.

Oats - 10 lbs: first, Hardy Seeds, Inkerman; second, William Johnston, Martintown; third, Donald McCrimmon, Dalkeith.

Barley - 10 lbs: first, Hardy Seeds, Inkerman, second, Lorne and Francis Henderson, Brinston; third, Gerry Brugmans, Chesterville.

Winter Wheat: first, Hardy Seeds, second, M.E. Miller, Williamstown.

Soybeans - 12 lbs: first, Hardy Seeds, Inkerman; second, M.E. Miller, Williamstown; third, Moak Brothers, Lunenburg.

Red Clover - 6 lbs: first, Lorne and Francis Henderson, Brinston; second Cornelius Van Loon, Martintown; third, Herbert Van Gilst, Finch.

Birdsfoot Trefoil - 6 lbs: first, William Johnston, Martintown; second, Michael Schack, Martintown.

Timothy - 6 lbs: first, Lorne and Francis Henderson, Brinston; second, Donald McCrimmon, Dalkeith; third, William Johnston, Martintown.

Alfalfa - 6 lbs: first, William Johnston, Martintown; second, Claude MacDonald, Cornwall.

First cut Alfalfa: first, Cornelius Van Loon, Martintown; second, Walter Hambleton; third, Lorne and Francis Henderson, Brintson.

First cut Other Legume: first, Walter Hambleton; second, John D. McIntyre, Avonmore, third, Lloyd Steven, Morewood.

First Cut Mixed - Legume and Grass: first, Cornelius Van Loon, Martintown; second, Lorne and Francis Henderson; third, John McIntyre, Avonmore.

The Stormont AgRep said a shift in the cropping pattern in the United Counties was evident in the farm show entries. Corn entries are tapering off and are being replaced by cereal and and haylage crops he said.

Osnabruck this week

by Richard Waldroff

In last week's column I mentioned the success of the dance-a-thon at Osnabruck District High school. The organizers of this event deserve a hand for their efforts, but someone else deserves a pat as well, and that's the chaperones.

The information that comes to my ears makes me say this because it is nice to see that some people do care and are willing to help out. In the past it has been a challenge to the school dance committee to come up with chaperones.

I have been told by school dance organizers that the new guidelines set out by the school administrator has made it tough for them to put a dance together. To add to this, the chaperone problem exists.

We should check our memories, a couple of years back this high school was on the chopping block, to possibly be CLOSED. The efforts of a handful of people managed to have the closing deferred, with a catch. The catch was that the school statis would be reviewed annually.

Now if we the residents in this area don't get off our butts and show some interest in what is happening within this building, it certainly makes the closing an easier task for the board.

This high school is an asset to us, many people have moved to our township because this facility exists. This school has produced a number of scholars, many students who have accomplished great standings in schools of higher education, plus full and happy lives after school.

I suggest that you give some thought to this, do we want to keep this school and our children here at home or are we going to make some politicians jobs easy when it comes time to close it?

Sat., March 29 will be Daffodil Day in Osnabruck. During the morning daffodils will be sold door-to-door in Ingleside. In the afternoon a Daffodil Family Tea will be going on at St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church from 2-4PM at a cost of $1.50. Craft tables will be available, tea and new cancer information. The daffodils are $2.00 a dozen and may be ordered by phoning 537-2988 or 537-2599.

The past weekend took many Osnabruck residents to the curling rink surfaces around the area. On Friday and Saturday the firemen from both departments took part in the annual mutual aid bonspiel at Maxville.

Sunday many took part in the 2nd annual Treasure Island Inn bonspiel held at Morrisburg. Bill Robertson's team captured 1st place, but close behind was Ernie Termey. Much thanks must go to Ernie and Jane for putting the great event together. See you all next year, because Jim Zeran and I are coming back to clean up. Right Jim?

A St. Patrick's Day Dance will be held at the Treasure Island Inn Saturday evening. So get out the colors and plan to attend.

Happy St. Pat's Day to all the Irish and all those that wish they were Irish.

A fashion show will be held March 27, 8pm at the Treasure Island Inn. Styles from Ann's Jeans 'N Things. Admission is $2.00 per person. Proceeds to the Burn Centre at the Eastern Ontario Sick Children's Hospital. Sponsored by I.S D.W.A.

Happy Birthday to my nephew, Terry. May many more come your way and be as happy an occasion.

To my little girlfriend Laurie Dennison who just turned five years old - Happy Birthday.

Ruby and Carl VanAllen are celebrating an anniversary this week. Congratulations and may you have many more.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Howie Loynachan who became the parents of a bouncing baby boy on March 10.

Sarah Kelly dies at 87 March 7

Sarah Jane Kelly, Joseph St., Chesterville, died in Belleville General Hospital Fri., March 7. Mrs. Kelly was 87.

She was born at Casselman March 2, 1893 a daughter of Cornelius and Eliza (Sinclair) O'Neil and was educated at Casselman schools.

She was married to John Henry Kelly in Chesterville. Mr. Kelly died Oct. 24, 1969. Mrs. Kelly was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church and of the Catholic Women's League.

Rev. Allen Bond conducted the funeral service from the Brownlee Funeral Home, Finch, at 2pm Mon., Feb. 18 and interment will take place in the spring at Martin's Cemetery, Newington East. Pallbearers were Lloyd Hoople, Gerald Duvall, George and Jack Rutley and Wayne and Roger Ouderkirk.

Scout, Guide church parade

(Special) - "Uniformed orders" was the pattern of the day, when, on Sun., March 2, members of Chesterville Scout Troop, Girl Guide Company, Wolf Club and Brownie Packs marched from the Community Hall and trooped down the aisle at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church for their annual observance of the birthday anniversary of Lord Robert Baden Powell and Lady Baden Powell, founders of the Scout and Guide movements.

In full uniform and carrying Canadian, Scout, Guide, Cub and Brownie flags, they were met at the church by Rev. Gordon Williams of Ottawa, minister of the day. Mr. Williams greeted the uniformed groups, called upon representatives of Scouts and Guides to give their pledges, likened the Baden Powell leadership to that of Jesus Christ, and challenged the young people to live up to the rules and laws of their orders. He sang for the girls and boys, to his own guitar accompaniment.

the farmer's wife

by wyn thompson

Well I got my snowstorm! The one I was lamenting over recently. And I went skiing Sunday morning and snowmobiling on Sunday afternoon...at least as far as Number Two son's home on the concession road to the east of us. Why there, you say. To see my new grandson, of course.

Excuse me for re-iterating, but he is a pet!

Getting back to the subject of snow. I must say that on that Friday night, as I watched the snow fall from the warmth and safety of my home, I did agree with the sentiments expressed in the poem "Beautiful Snow" which appeared in an 1858 magazine without author credit. It went like this:

"Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and the earth below;
Over the house-tops, over the street,
Over the heads of the people you meet;
Dancing,
Flirting,
Skimming along."

Winter of 1980 skims along too! Some people predict that winter will be upon us with a vengeance in March... we shall have to wait and see. With a little bit of luck, I will see most of it out in sunny California. We left Eastern Ontario March 6 and return March 25.

Meanwhile, I am reminded of what is so rare as a month without a full moon? Since the synodic period from one full moon to another is 29 days, 12 hours, and 44.5 minutes, only February can have this distinction, I am told, and it has not happened since 1961.

Also, I am told, this month is particularly unusual because 1980 is a leap year, so February had 29 days, but still no full moon. It is particularly unusual from another viewpoint, as well. My sister's birthday falls on February 29th...she is 12 years old, if one only considers that she celebrates once in every four years. So, happy birthday to you Jean, sunning yourself on the balmy Florida beaches. And may you celebrate another 12 times...what could I wish you more?

There is something comforting about a winter morning, I decide, as I sit in the circle of the electric light in the kitchen, in that hour of silence before the sun rises, the hour of hot toast and coffee, when a sense of security fills one, the soul is at peace, and therefore for the moment kind.

Out-of-doors the earth was coming closer to the sun, but the moon still hung white in the west. It was cold. Very cold. I thought of myself as part of the universe. It felt good to be a part of it.

I turned off the light. I looked out on the winter world that had been unfolding all night without me. It was beautiful. The sun sparkled the snow. The windows were sealed with crystal. How the birds live I do not know, I said to myself, as I clothed myself to venture forth to fill the bird feeders before I pranced off to the warm depths of a centrally-heated office.

One would expect little feet and feathers all shattered like window-pane in the snow beneath the feeder. But no, there they are... bending, probing, exploring the mysteries of the seed world...as though that great storm of the night had not sunken itself into their world.

Then a bluejay came. It pursued a little bird in and out among the bare branches, a weaving of sharp wings. And all the while, screaming at the top of his voice!

Of a sudden, it gave up and headed for the corn crib, vibrating with cold and rage. It had been outdone by a smaller bird. The lesser of the species, no doubt the jay deemed it.

Then a crow began to caw. The effort of cawing. I recalled the shoulders shoved forward, the caw spewing forth like a message to all humanity. Three times. Caw! Caw! Caw! Never more. Never less. Completely alone, he was. Nobody answered. Nobody came.

Then the evening grosbeaks came. They swarmed about, with with an Oriental calm. They waited. I put more food out. The morning was white and empty all around them. The birds kept on coming and going according to some pulse of nature.

When I returned to the house and retrieved my 10 little pigs from the Farmer's snow boots, I got a mean-mouthing from Scamp. While doing so, I received the tails-up brushing ceremony by which his species make themselves known. I hurried downstairs and filled his dish. He purred amiably and dug in.

My day was well underway. As I let the dogs in, I smell the snow. The driveway is silver, the picket fence wears pointed caps. Early morning is luminous with falling snow. A flurry comes in with the dogs and melts on the family room floor. No two snowflakes I am told, are exactly alike and therein lies the mystery. Now the intricate shapes are gone, and only a spot of water remains.

The winter sun burns like white fire on the sun. Ice glitters on the cold side of the branches, melts on the warm side and falls with a soft sound. White is a popular winterside colour. The bluejays are harbour blue as they flash by on their way to the corn crib with their wings spread dramatically. They drop through the air like meteors, I note, and they squawk incessantly.

As the winter wears on, the birds eat more and more, for it is food that provides fuel for them as well as nourishment. We buy food by the 25 pound lots and serve panfuls to our guests. It is a lot of work, The Farmer says, but what would we do without the birds.

If is off to work we go, the memory of a winter, morning fresh in our minds. We agree that we are turning to spring, no doubt about that. And it's been a good winter...no doubt about that.

chesterville's past

FROM THE RECORD
THURS., MAR. 14, 1940

Charges and denials were hurled against opposing parties by A.C. Casselman and Dr. W.J. Taugher, Conservative and Liberal candidates, respectively, for Grenville-Dundas at a public meeting following nominations in the town hall at Prescott. Members of different parties sat on the platform with watches and all speakers were abruptly halted when their time had elapsed. For almost an hour and a half little demonstration was shown by the crowd, but near the end both candidates were heckled a bit. Dr. Taugher stressed the achievement of the Liberal Governments war effort and stated in spite of charges of the opposition every soldier sent to England was well equipped and clothed. No unfit men were being taken and voluntary recruiting would continue for the duration of the war as far as his party was concerned. Mr. Casselman issued rebuttals to all Dr. Taugher's statements. He said the Price Control Board could not save Canadians a cent on sugar as it was the same price the world over. He scored Prime Minister King for refusing to call in members of the Opposition party at the time of dissolution and for not offering a statement for his actions in scuttling Parliament. He also asserted the press and the radio were being gagged by defence regulations and that only information agreeable to the Government reached the people.

Provincial and county police are trailing a group of safe crackers who smashed their way into a safe with a sledge hammer at the R.A. Bemish Store here early Sunday morning and got away with $150 in cash and possibly some merchandise. A front door was forced with a crowbar which with others tools were identified as being owned by New York Central railway. Earl Gordon, working at W.O. Dixon's undertaking parlours heard pounding and shortly afterwards at 5:30am heard a car speed away. The entrance was not noticed until Miss Helena Dwyer, an employee of the Bemish Store, visited the premises. At Finch, a car belonging to Dr. J. McLeod was stolen from his garage. It contained two instrument cases, a rung and accessories. D.K. McLean's hardware store was entered through a heavily barred rear window and about $12 was taken from the cash register and safe, both of which had been forced open.

Donald McIntyre, of Finch, a junior student, was declared grand champion showman of Kemptville Agricultural School at the 13th annual "Royal" show Tuesday afternoon. The runner-up and reserve champion was Ralph Hambridge, of Omemee, near Peterborough, a senior student in agriculture. The young champion, McIntyre was 1939 grand champion showman in the big class of young farmers who showed cattle at the Central Canada Exhibition last year.

R.H. "Dick" Fawcett, Dunbar's flying cheesemaker, is this week trying examinations for his commercial and instructor's flying licenses at Ottawa. Some time ago he secured his pilot's license and has maintained his own plane at his home at Dunbar.

Formal announcement was made Monday that the newly-created counties' health unit will, on April 1, take over the duties of all municipal boards of health in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry counties.

Foster Fulton, who has been taking the officers training course at Laval University in Quebec City, where he has been employed for some time, is now lieutenant Foster Fulton. In the recent examinations, where a class of 87 wrote, 33 were successful, and he ranked third.

Snow blocked roads prevented the appearance before the Rotary Club of John G. Harkness, Crown Attorney, Cornwall, to speak on Tuesday night, and in substitution a quizz was conducted by P.S. Boyd, which provided keen competition. The subject was based on history and geography since the beginning of the war. Herman Hummel, who this week celebrated his golden anniversary, was a guest of the club, and as he was introduced by Geo. J. Hunt the orchestra played a portion of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

FROM THE RECORD
THURS., MAR. 16, 1950

Progress was made Tuesday night by the Planning Committee of the Chesterville Community Centre. Sub-committees were appointed to visit district rinks and to obtain figures on the frontage and depth of four available sites. Reeve Charles McMillan acted as chairman of the meeting, which was attended by ten of the thirteen members of the committee, and was named on the deputation along with Leon Marcellus, James Popham and Chas. Abel, to visit additional areas to secure data on revenue, operating costs, construction costs and sizes of auditoriums. Ronald Lynch and John Turner were delegated to secure measurements and prepare a report. Reeve Harold Durant of Winchester Township was commissioned to contact an official in the Provincial Government to clarify grants made on such projects.

the editor's notebook

Figures released at last week's meeting of village council show that it will cost village taxpayers about $24,000 to keep the doors of the Chesterville and District Arena open during the 1980-81 season. This is roughly the same amount it has cost the municipality over the last several years and it is likely to cost the same - with the addition of the inflation factor - in future years. At the village's present level of assessment, this represents eight mills on the annual tax bill, or about 11 per cent of the total amount of taxes raised for village purposes each year.

With these facts in front of them, members of the village council should seriously consider the addition of a hall at the arena to lower the building's operating costs. It's a proven fact in other area municipalities that halls are money-makers when attached to arenas. All one has to do is travel to Winchester on a Friday evening to watch a hockey game. The building is usually packed to the rafters and not the least reason for the success of the operation in Winchester, in addition to the fine calibre of hockey played in the local Junior B loop, is the fact that pubs are run in conjunction with the games. The games are usually attended, and the pubs supported, by a strong contingent from Chesterville and area, leading one to believe that if similar facilities and activities existed here, they would be equally supported.

There are those who would argue that it is immoral for a municipality to help support itself by selling alcohol. However, a hall large enough to seat 400 or 500 would not support itself solely through the sale of the demon rum. Chesterville's Community Hall is simply not big enough anymore for the many functions in this community. Anyone who has tried to buy a ticket for the main Winter Carnival Dance knows this, as do those who try to buy tickets for the dance during the Chesterville Fair. The Community Hall is admirably suited for smaller events, such as wedding receptions and the carnival's pancake breakfasts and Friday night teen dances, but for major events especially during fairtime and during the winter months, there is no facility in the village that can compete with the arena hall.

The village is losing out on many of the dinners and dances sponsored by the various agricultural organizations in Dundas County because of the lack of a suitable facility and the result is a lower consciousness of Chesterville among the county's farming community. This is a fact that is not limited just to attending banquets in the village, but which affects shopping patterns.

The village is fortunate in having a large, well organized and hard working agricultural society which works well in tandem with other village organizations for the betterment of the community. The village is all the more fortunate in having its local fairboard now that Wintario has frozen its funds, since the Chesterville arena still remains eligible for support through the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. The fairboard has secured grants in the past year for paving the arena parking lot and for building the fence along the western end of the arena property and if enough interest is shown in the community, there is the possibility that provincial agricultural funding could be found for an expansion of the arena.

The Chamber of Commerce has been casting about for several years for a suitable project to direct its efforts towards and since the Chamber and the village's business community would be two of the major beneficiaries of a suitable hall, they could also investigate the possibility of working with the village and the fairboard towards enlarging the village's largest and most important recreational facility. -robin morris-

From records workshop

The income tax deadline isn't until the end of April but sisters Beulah Moran (left) and Loretta Chambers (middle) of Chesterville aren't leaving things to the last minute. Last week they attended the Farm Record Workshop in Winchester sponsored by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and Women for the Survival of Agriculture. Ruby Mekker, (right) the WSA resource person for bookkeeping and income tax, gave them a few pointers on getting the in records straight. Howard Giles, Associate AgRep for Dundas County, and Jean-Rene Bergevin, a member of G.H. Ward Accountants, also spoke to the 27 participants on better paper management and types of records to keep.

Dear Ann Landers:

Dear Ann Landers: Are Americans losing respect for their country? I am 62 years old and distressed at what I perceive to be a serious decline in patriotism.

When I served as a naval officer in World War II, I was proud to be a U.S. citizen. I believed the United States was the greatest country in the world. I now have a nagging suspicion that our prestige has slipped not only abroad but at home.

Am I getting old and cynical? What does your mail tell You?

—A Connecticut Yankee

Dear Yankee: Your "nagging suspicion" was right on - until Iran and Afghanistan. Adversity has a way of bringing people closer together and trouble abroad promotes patriotism at home. Here are some interesting comments from "The Average American Book" by Barry Tarshis:

"Patriotism is one of the toughest traits to measure. An overhwelming majority of Americans, maybe 98 per cent, have no desire to live in any other country, but our patriotic feelings took a beating during the Vietnam war and again during the Watergate mess."

The following letter may or may not be related to your "nagging suspicion." It came from Boston. Read on:

Dear Ann Landers: I saw something this morning that made me angry. I didn't speak up, and now I'm ashamed of myself.

I work for a suburban realtor. I often check out remodeling jobs and construction projects. Today I went to look at a duplex near the office. I noticed a workman wiping windows with what appeared to be a striped rag. Closer examination confirmed my worst suspicion. The "rag" was "Old Glory."

I asked the man if he knew he was using the American flag as a wiping cloth. He replied, "It was torn from the wind - doesn't matter now."

Isn't this considered "desecration"? Is there a law against it? Please reply in the paper. There's more ignorance out there than I thought.

—What's Happening To Us Anyway

Dear What's Happening: Worn-out flags should be burned. This is not a matter of law - it is a matter of custom.

Flagrant disrespect for the flag may be interpreted as an act against the government or an attempt to "incite to riot" - which is another story. In the late '60s when the Yippies sewed American flags on the seats of their jeans, they were asking for trouble - and got it. The man you encountered probably meant no harm. He needed educating, and you should have done it.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter married a nice guy. They live around the corner. I go over there after supper four nights a week to have a few beers and watch TV with my son-in-law. My wife yells that I'm overdoing it.

They treat me swell. I'm proud that we have such a good relationship. Please tell the old lady to get off my case. She'll take it from you and I can sure use the help.

—Holyoke, Mass.

Dear Holly: You rattled the wrong cage, Dad. I founded the "Don't Drop in on Anybody Club." Being a relative doesn't entitle you to special privileges.

The best definition of "hospitality" is the ability to make people feel at home, when you wish they were.

Discover how to be date bait without falling hook, line and sinker. Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," will help you to be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 50 cents along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995 Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Avonmore Ladies' Aid planning Easter tea

AVONMORE (Special) - At the March meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Ladies Aid, Avonmore, final plans were made for the Easter tea and bake sale which will be held in the Church Hall Sat., March 29 at 2pm.

The president, Mrs. Evelyn Tinkess presided at the meeting which was opened with a hymn, a prayer and a reading - 'An Indian Version of the 23rd Psalm'.

Minutes, roll call and correspondence were given by secretary Mrs. Iva Bush and the treasurer's statement and all outstanding bills were presented by Mrs. Margaret Grant, treasurer.

Conveners appointed for the tea were Mrs. Beverly Campbell and Mrs. Iva Bush.

The bake table was to be convened by Mrs. Ina McElheran and Mrs. Jessie McRae.

It was decided to serve desserts after the performance of the one-act play, "A Quiet Home Wedding" which will be presented in Roxmore School Fri., April 18 at 8pm.

At the close of the meeting a lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Christine Hewston and Mrs. Lillian Kyle.

Flyers land hard in series opener

(Special) - Chesterville Flyers, after dumping Russell out of the playoffs in three games, came down to earth in Metcalfe last Saturday dropping a 5-2 decision to the Mustangs in game one of the Carleton-Dundas Minor Hockey League Peewee A Division finals.

Mustangs top line of Jeff Baird, Rob Melenhorst and Leon Dillabough could not be contained, in spite of coaches Gary Barkley and Bernie Harper's decision to go with defencemen Kevin Harper and Mike VanDelst against them.

Mustangs Melenhorst scored with 14:11 left in the first, from defenceman Greg Hope. Melenhorst beat Grant Groves for his second goal with 7:28 left in the first period.

Flyers came to life early in the second as Kent Smith connected on a power-play goal from Mike Harper and Kirk Barkley, narrowing the gap to 2-1. Jeff Baird, however, put Mustangs up 3-1 from Dillabough with 6:36 left in the second.

Flyers narrowed it to 3-2 early in the third on another power-play effort with Mike VanDelst scoring from Kent Smith and Frank Landry. Flyers outshot Mustangs 23-17 in the game, but couldn't beat Sandy Wammes in the Metcalfe goal.

Dillabough and Straby made it 5-2, beating Troy Donaldson on a couple of questionable goals.

The Mustangs, powerful as they are, can be beaten with Flyers playing an above-average game.

The scene of the series shifts to Chesterville for a 7pm game on Friday, with the third game set for Metcalfe Saturday at noon.

The CDMHL's lack of flexibility in scheduling puts Flyers at a disadvantage. Flyers had requested that the director of scheduling re-schedule a game so that Flyers might have a full team for at least two games before players head out on mid-term breaks. This was not possible, and so Flyers will be short-handed for the remainder of the playoffs.

In exhibition play, Flyers hosted Winchester Friday night and handed their guests a 6-4 defeat. Flyers scorers were: Kent Smith and Jerrold Boulanger with a pair, and Frank Landry and Mike Ganter with singletons. Rudy Witteveen added three assists.

Brent Carkner tallied twice for the Red Machine, with Scott Casselman and Mark Cross adding singletons.

Sunday night, Cornwall Minor Peewee A's came to town and handed Flyers a 1-0 loss in a very quick and well-played game. Cornwall's Chris Villeneuve got the game's only goal midway through the second frame from David MacLennan.

Monday night Flyers returned Winchester's visit with a game at Winchester Community Centre. Flyers were quick out of the starting gate scoring once on each of the first three shifts.

Perry Armstrong made it 1-0 from Doug Paul, Kent Smith made it 2-0 from Kirk Barkley and Mike Harper and Mike Ganter made it 3-0 from Damian Laflamme.

Mark Cross scored from Brent Carkner and Dalton Henry to narrow the score to 3-1, but Jerrold Boulanger gave Flyers a 4-1 lead from Frank Landry. Winchester got the only goal of the second period as Cross added his second from Carkner and Paul Henry.

The action warmed up with three minutes left in the third, as Mike VanDelst put Flyers up 5-2. Carkner made it 5-3 from Cross and Henry, and with 1:45 left, Paul Henry made it 5-4 from Carkner and Cross. Flyers hung on for a 5-4 win.

Team stats are below, as of 56 games.

Scott Straby (12) prowls for a rebound near the Chesterville net as Flyer defenseman Billy Ganter looks on. Metcalfe penalty troubles, and some excellent hitting by the local squad, allowed the Midget Flyers to steal the second game of their CDMHL final series against Metcalfe by a decisive 6-2 count. The fourth game of the series will be held in Chesterville Friday night at 9pm.

Midget Flyers even final series

(Staff) - Chesterville's Midget A Flyers scored three times on the power play and once a man short en route to a convincing 6-2 victory over Metcalfe in the second game of their CDMHL best of five final series Friday night.

The Flyers scored the home ice triumph after a disastrous opening against Metcalfe Wednesday night, when the Mustangs scored three second-period goals in a span of two minutes to kill the locals 7-2.

The teams engaged in the third game of the series last night in Metcalfe. Game results were unavailable at press time.

GAME TWO

Chesterville 6 Metcalfe 2

Metcalfe gave the Flyers all the power play opportunities they needed to score a hard-fought victory in the series' second game.

The Mustangs took 11 minors on the night, most of them occurring in the second and third periods. The Flyer power play was full value, converting three times on five opportunities.

The team established a pattern of hard hitting and speed very early in the game. Left-winger Kenny Shay put Chesterville on the board with a strange shot from the point which caromed off a Mustang defender's leg past goalie Steve Rawlings at 7:17 of the first.

At 9:06 Glen Miller shovelled a pass from behind the net to Scott Straby, who was in perfect position to bang home the Mustangs' tying marker. Metcalfe enjoyed a five-man-to-four advantage.

Mark Laflamme came right back two minutes later, tipping a Kenny Shay shot into the Metcalfe net, and the locals enjoyed the lead at the end of one.

The Mustangs pressed hard in the second frame. Straby scored his second of the night at 3:20 on a steal from the Chesterville defence. John Kelly gave the Mustangs a taste of their own poison, stealing from the Metcalfe defence, and scoring a shorthanded goal which stood up as the game winner for the Flyers.

From this point, Chesterville took control of the game. Mike Lebrun added two more Flyer goals before the period ended, both on the powerplay.

In the final set, Shay notched his second of the night from Marque Laflamme as the Flyers enjoyed a two-man advantage in the late going.

The locals took eight minors on the night. The game was called fairly, especially in light of the fact that two of the three officials in Friday night's contest came from Metcalfe.

The only incident of the evening occurred when Metcalfe captain Dan Stoker threw a few spears into Laflamme with 2:10 left in the game. He received three minutes for interference on the play.

GAME ONE

Metcalfe 7 Chesterville 2

A defensive lapse in the second period cost Chesterville three quick goals and an opening-game victory against the Mustangs in Metcalfe last Wednesday night.

After an even first period from which the teams emerged in a 2-2 tie, Metcalfe exploded with a three-goal blitz, beginning with Richard Corlyon's shorthander at 4:38. By the 6:31 mark Miller and Starby had upped the Mustang lead to 5-2.

David Hatherall widened the gap late in the period and Jim Bezanson notched the Mustang's seventh goal midway through the final period.

Brent Ouderkirk did all the scoring for Chesterville. Mike Beckstead assisted on both of Ouderkirk's goals.

Chesterville players made six trips to the panalty box, compared to five for the Mustangs.

The fourth game of the series will be played Friday night at 9pm in the Chesterville and District Arena.

Clement faces Aqua

(Staff) - It will be Clements against Aqua next week in Chesterville Mens Broomball League finals. Both teams completed two-game sweeps in their semi-final series on Monday night.

Henry Pynenburg and Richard McMillan scored late goals to give Clements a last-minute 2-0 victory, eliminating Dan's Shoppe from further league competition this year.

The teams went two full periods and most of the third, before Henry Pynenburg connected for Clements with 1:37 showing on the clock. Seconds after the goal, Danny Thompson of Dan's Shoppe went off for tripping, opening Richard McMillan's power play opportunity 44 seconds away from the end of the match. Lambert Joldersma assisted on McMillan's goal.

Each team took five minor penalties on the night.

Aqua and Duff couldn't find the handle Monday night, and wound up in a scoreless tie in their best two of three semi-final

Duff took six penalties compared to two for Aqua.

Clements and Aqua will kick off their best three of five final series at the Chesterville and District arena next Monday night at 9pm.

Finch has troubles

EMBRUN (Staff) - The Finch 76s had what could safely be called an up and down week in their EOJCHL round robin games against Alexandria and Embrun last Saturday and Sunday nights respectively.

The Glens came to Finch, having beaten the township boys 7-3 in previous semi-final series play. But it was Ed Gove's night, as he scored three goals and two assists in a 9-2 romp over the Glens.

Sunday night in Embrun, Finch's fortunes fell flat, as the line of Guy Marion, Mario Savage and Mario Lessard left Finch goaler Harold McBride in a state of shellshock. After the spray settled, Embrun went home with 12-3 win.

As a result of the heavy defeat Sunday night, Finch has very little control over its own destiny. A big victory over Embrun in Finch tonight would be a great help, but the entire series depends on how well, or how poorly Alexandria does against Embrun in their final match-up Saturday night in Alexandria.

Because Finch and Alexandria are tied in the round robin standings, their position is decided by dividing the number of goals against into the number of goals for, in semi-final play. Some quick arithmetic shows Alexandria to have a factor of 1.5 compared to a factor of 1.4 for the 76s.

Meanwhile Embrun appears more unbeatable than ever. Unless something drastic occurs, they are odds-on favorites to breeze into the finals, beginning sometime next week.

Finch 9 Alexandria 2

The teams stood off for most of the opening period, until Ronnie Smith scored with some help from Ed Gove to give the hometown boys a 1-0 lead. Alexandria exhausted all its scoring power Saturday night in seven short seconds. Glen McMillan beat Harold McBride with 29 seconds remaining in the first. Seven seconds later, Chris Gordon hit Scott Hay with a pass, giving the Glens a short-lived lead.

Bill DeWitt scored twice and added an assist for Finch, while brother Ed picked up one goal and two assists. Ron Smith, Steve Sullivan and Mike Kuhn collected township singles. Smith picked up four assists on the night.

Each team received four minor penalties.

Embrun 12 Finch 3

Ed Gove was held pointless and the Finch squad just wasn't playing the same game as the 72s.

The Marion line was deadly, as usual. Mario Lessard picked up five goals and three assists, Guy Marion scored three times and added five assists, while Mario Savage scored once and assisted four times.

If the opposition doesn't stop Embrun's first line, they don't stand a chance.

The 3½-week layoff the 72s had as a result of their quick opening series sweep over Chesterville, hasn't hurt them at all. Embrun coach Jim Wood said he was afraid of a letdown but was relieved it didn't emerge. If anything, the machine appears smoother than ever and there doesn't seem to be any force around, either in Alexandria or Finch, capable of stemming the tide.

Daniel Bruyere and Alain Savage picked up the remaining Embrun goals.

Captain Bill McGillis, Bill Derue and Mike Kuhn managed to beat Joel Brisson, Embrun's league-champion goalie.

NDDHS girls top Eastern Ontario

(Staff) - North Dundas District High School's girls' curling team scored what coach John Wilson felt was an unexpected triumph last week when they emerged over a field of four regional squads to win the Eastern Ontario Secondary School Association (EOSSA) championship and the right to compete for the all-Ontario championship to be held in Peterborough March 27, 28 and 29.

In competition with teams from Vankleek Hill, Loyalist, Smiths Falls and South Grenville, the girls met some stiff competition, particularly in their game against Loyalist, where the local team overcame a 4-2 deficit after five ends to eke out a 7-4 victory.

After taking the first and second ends, the girls from North Dundas blanked two. Loyalist jumped to a 4-2 lead in the fifth. But under skip Janice Saunders the local girls steadily ate away at the Loyalist lead, taking two in the sixth and one in each of the seventh and eight ends to register the 7-4 victory.

In their final contest, against Vankleek Hill, collegiate, NDDHS held a 5-0 lead at one point. But as coach Wilson explained, "They didn't expect to do this well. Around the seventh end they realized they had a chance, and they really got uptight."

The butterflies didn't prevent NDDHS from hanging on for a solid 10-5 triumph over Vankleek Hill.

Unlike the EOSSA knock-out tournament, the all-Ontario finals in Peterborough will be a round robin total points total bonspiel. The girls from North Dundas will face a field of between 12 and 16 teams. Their first game will be Friday night, March 27, and play will continue throughout the weekend.

Wilson said he hopes to provide the girls with more competition next year. At present they strictly play other schools. But Wilson would like to see them compete against established curling clubs.

The NDDHS boys curling team will compete in the Royal Caledonia Bonspiel to be held in Ottawa later this month.

North Dundas District High School's Girls Curling team defeated four regional challengers to win the Eastern Ontario Secondary School Association (EOSSA) championship last week, and a chance to win all-Ontario when they travel to Peterborough at the end of this month. Coach John Wilson commented his team "didn't expect to do this well". But he was clearly delighted with the results. Members of the championship team are, from left, vice Deanne Saunders, second Liz Workman, lead Anne Admas and skip Janice Saunders.-winchester press photo-

Tennis courts can be realized says Arnold

(Staff) - Tennis courts. To be or not to be? Chesterville Recreation Director Dave Arnold hopes to find that out at an organizational meeting he has scheduled for next week.

"For the last couple of years, there's been talk of building courts in the village," Mr. Arnold said. "Some money has been put aside by local service clubs for such a project. But up to now, there has been no movement or signal on the part of the community."

Mr. Arnold was unable to estimate precisely how much money local organizations have set aside over the past few years, but he warned that unless some interest is generated soon for the tennis court project, the clubs will start thinking of spending the money elsewhere.

"I would like to form an association to spearhead a fund-raising drive. Our main task now is to get the money collected Mr. Arnold said. "It has come to the point now where if people in the village want courts, we will have to move together soon."

Mr. Arnold feels that need for courts in Chesterville is quite legitimate. "Existing facilities in the area are overbooked as it is. The courts at North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) are overcrowded. Courts in Chesterville could take up a lot of the slack."

"Last summer Crysler erected two courts out of their own initiative. South Mountain has plexiclave surface courts. If communities that size can make it work why can't a community the size of Chesterville do it?" Mr. Arnold said. "If people are interested in working towards that goal they should come to a meeting on March 19."

Mr. Arnold feels there is already an ideal site for the tennis courts: "The foremost possibility would be to situate the courts in the Drop-In Centre area. It's well enclosed with trees. Light standards are already in the ground, and the facility would be close to the swimming pool. The land is there for our use.

"Everything is there waiting for us. All that's left is for the tennis enthusiasts in the community to get together and work towards this goal."

Mr. Arnold offered a loose figure of $16,000 for construction. He says at the earliest, the facilty would be ready by late summer or early fall. But he cautions unless community backs the idea by working towards it, there will be no tennis courts in Chesterville.

Mr. Arnold emphasized anyone in the area is welcome to attend a meeting at the Drop-In-Centre, March 19 at 8pm. He said attendance at this meeting would indicate the degree to which the village supports a project which has hung in limbo for the past few years.

Town League

(Staff) - Randy Elliott scored two goals and added an assist to lead Red to an upset victory over Blue in the game of their best of five semi-final in Chesterville Town Hockey League action last Wednesday night.

In the opening game of the other series, Maroon toppled Green on the strength of Bill Halem's three-point night. The final score was 5-4.

Blue, pennant winners of the regular season, opened up a 2-0 lead in the first period against Red. Greg Beckstead scored from Neil Kittle and Barry Lajoie at 5:08. Then at 8:18, it was Rick Barkley beating Red goalie Pete Monast with an unassisted marker. It was all the scoring Blue would register on the night.

Thirty-six seconds after Rick Barkley's goal, Red came to life. Randy Elliott took a pass from Rick Cormier to pull Red back in the contest. Then with 38 seconds to go in the frame, Elliott tied the game with an unassisted goal.

Garry Gallinger set up Larry Gallinger for the game winner in the second period, the only goal of the frame.

Rick Cormier tacked on an insurance marker early in the final period.

The win gave Red a 1-0 games lead over Maroon. The teams do battle again tonight in the local arena.

In the opening game of the other series, Bill Hallem's second goal of the night, scored with 20 seconds remaining in regulation time, broke a 5-5 tie and lifted Maroon to a 5-4 victory over Green.

Maroon ended the first period with a 2-1 lead over Green. After Thompson gave Maroon a 3-1 lead in the second period Brian Gunnell and Larry Allen scored goals three minutes apart to move Green into a 3-3 tie.

Dave Carkner put Maroon up again in the final period. But Mike Lecuyer took a pass from Gunnell at 6:25 of the final frame to tie the contest once again.

Barry Sullivan, Thompson and Dave Carkner did the balance of the Maroon scoring.

Larry Allen counted twice for Green; while Brian Gunnell added a pair of assists to his goal.

Reports of child abuse have more than doubled over the past five years.
The new Ontario Child Welfare Act requires that professional persons who work with or who treat children must report suspected cases of child abuse to a Children's Aid Society.
That's the law.
Reporting suspicions of child abuse is one of the best ways to help prevent child abuse happening again.
Child abuse is everyone's concern.
Teachers, doctors, nurses, social workers – all persons who work with or who treat children – need your active support if they are to keep children from being abused. The professionals need your assistance.
You're part of the solution.
To find out more about child abuse write for our free booklet, "YOU AND THE ABUSED CHILD".

Monday Mens

Peter Van Kessel left a vacuum behind him as he registered a fabulous 356 single, an act he followed up quite well, with a high triple of 841 points.

The Blue Max has moved into a first-place tie with the Mailmen at 96 points, followed by Van Kessel at 91, the Legion and Bombers at 77 and the Farmers with 67 points.

Copains

Alban St. Pierre took the MHS with a 301, while Albert Bouchard stole the MHT with a total of 801 points. For the ladies it was Carmen Paquette with a high single of 264 and Anita St. Pierre with a high triple of 693 points.

Colombe Lafrance leads the teams with 97 points, followed by Paulette Vernier with 93, Lucien Marion with 88, Robert Lafrance with 83, Alban St. Pierre with 74 and Richelle Sauve with 69 points.

Williamsburg Mixed

Rita Cooper rolled a LHS of 327, and amassed a three-game score of 845 points. Larry Casselman took the triple with 706 points, while Piet Kerkhof stole the high single with a 306.

Tony Layton leads the standings with 63 points, followed by Larry Casselman with 58, Hank Buter with 57, Ted Van Moorsel with 50, Percy Robertson with 43 and Orval Casselman with 41 points.

Riverside Rollers

Gerry Buske rolled an MHS of 303 while Lynden Lalonde took the MHT with a total of 739 points. For the ladies, it was Helen Youmelle with a high single of 247, and Jane Levere with the high triple of 664 points.

Helen Youmelle leads the standings with 126 points, followed by Al Kennedy with 122. Judy Buehler, thumb or no thumb, lies third with 112, followed by Herb Buehler with 105 along with Nellie Leightizer, and Carolyn Weldrick with 90 points.

Wed. Afternoon Ladies

Audrey Larabie rolled a 293 single and earned a three-game high of 755 points.

Audrey leads the teams with 119 points, followed by Patsy Young at 93, Eileen Sharkey at 92, Cheryl Blacquiere at 78, Betty Wheeler at 77 and Dot Hewitt with 66 points.

YBC Bantams

Tony Paul scored a BHS of 234 on his way to a two-game tally of 360 points. For the girls, it was Marilyn Wheeler with a high single of 212 and a high double of 323 points.

Kelly heads the standings with 180 points, followed by Laurie with 175, Dave with 166, Vicky with 162, Pam with 161, Danny with 150 and Joey with 129 points.

YBC Seniors

Jeff Belanger stole the BHS with a 253, while Craig Wheeler rolled up a high triple of 625 points. Donna Moffatt's single of 200 points was good enough for the GHS, while Jackie Moffatt earned the GHT with a total of 541 points.

Jeff enjoys the team lead with 195 points, followed by Laura at 191, Mike at 178, Donna at 159 and Andrew with 126 points.

Defenders

Rita Lapierre managed a high single of 315 points, then amassed a three-game total of 754 points. Craig Wheeler did as much for the men, earning a high single and triple of 281 and 742 points respectively.

Betty has a ten-point lead in the team standings with 100 points, followed by Paul at 90, Audrey at 84, Bertha at 79, Ralph at 76, and Rita with 75 points.

Matilda

Larry Casselman rolled up a 288 single on his way to the MHT of 686. Doris Timker stole ladies singles honors with a 213, while Marilyn Payne took the LHT with her total of 554 points.

Marilyn leads the team with 6200 points. Larry Casselman is stalking closely behind with 61889. Percy Robertson is third with 61757, followed by Andy Etherington with 61649, Bob Roberts with 61542 and Wayne Byers with 61317 points.

Nancy Millan came closest to the hidden score of 520 with her total of 527 points.

Community League

Maurice Blacquiere and Ed Kelly wound up in a tie for the Mens High Single, each registering 305 points. But Ed went on to take the MHT as well with a total of 758 points. Joyce Armstrong stole both ladies honors, rolling a high single of 311, and a high triple of 724 points.

Russell Sirvage leads the standings with 95 points, followed by Lorne Byers with 91, Earl Johnston with 84, Ralph Dillabough with 83, Gord McLaughlin with 72 and Stan David with 58 points.

Ingleside Ladies

Only two points separate the four front-running teams. The Peacocks are clutching onto first with 47 points, followed by the Doves with 46, and in a third-place tie with 45 points each lie the Swans and Cardinals. The Chicks have 40 points, followed by the Robins with 39½, the Bluebirds with 37 and the Mockingbirds with 36½ points.

Sharon Duprau blasted a great single of 343 points, while Sue Fetterly took the LHT with 765 points.

Berwick Thurs. Night

Winston Dingwall took top honors for the men with a 281 single and a high triple of 736 points. Janet Rutley did as much for the ladies, matching Winston's 281 single on her way to a three-game total of 746 points.

Elva Ouderkirk and Theresa Hunt are tied atop the clustered standings with 96 points each, followed by Connie Dingwall with 95. May Bazinet has 93 points, followed by Frona McCorriston with 90 points, and Jessie Ouderkirk with 77.

Busy Matrons

Linda Robinson shot a high single of 316 then registered a three-game score of 744 points.

Betty Wheeler leads the team standings with 95 points, followed by Lois Dillabough with 93, Audrey Larabie with 87, Velma Hummell with 72, Ann Dignard with 71 and Mary Derue with 63 points.

Avonmore Thurs. Night

Nicole McIntyre stole both ladies honors, rolling a 289 single to compliment her triple of 663 points. Lynden Jackson took the MHS with a 278, while Allen McIntyre took the MHT with 640 points.

In the final team standings, Glenn McIntyre wound up with 59 points. Allen McIntyre finished first with 101 points followed by Lynden Jackson with 96, Perry Tinkess with 93, Dean McIntyre with 88 and Donald Welford.

North Stormont Ladies

Jackie Wells was on target this week with a high single of 312 to go along with a very respectable three-game count of 776 points.

Lillian Johnston remains in first place in the team standings with 88 points. Joanne McMahon at 84, is the only team with a chance of stealing first place as the league winds into its final week before playoffs. Debbie Smith is third with 79, followed by Beth Wheeler with 72, Jackie Wells with 66 and Michelle Magee with 54 points.

Home ice does little for Hawks, Rebels

WINCHESTER (Staff) - If their first two games are any indication, Winchester and Char-Lan are going to provide some fabulous entertainment before their Eastern Ontario Junior B semi-final series comes to an end.

Friday night in Winchester, the Hawks fell to defeat 8-6 in overtime, as the Rebels managed two goals to Winchester's one in the special 10 minute period.

Char-Lan dressed only nine skaters Sunday, and the Hawks pulled off a 7-4 victory on foreign ice to even the best of seven series at a game apiece.

GAME ONE

Char-Lan 8 Winchester 7 (OT)

Mike Moran saved the day for Winchester, at least temporarily, when he pulled the Hawks into a 6-6 tie with Char-Lan with 4:43 remaining in the final period.

It took Marc Seguin 13 seconds of overtime to put the Rebels ahead 7-6. The goal took a lot of gas out of the Winchester attack, and Kent Spink managed to increase the Char-Lan overtime lead exactly four minutes later. Darrell Shelp set up Grant Simpson for Winchester's only tally of the overtime period. It came with six seconds showing on the clock.

Char-Lan held a 3-2 edge after the first period. After the second, Winchester moved even with the Rebels at four.

Mike Moran enjoyed a three-goal night for Winchester, while Rick Grisel, Dan Lee, Peter Marriner and Grant Simpson collected Hawk singles. Al McLean, Rudy Grisel, Grant Simpson and Darrell Shelp all collected two assists for Winchester.

The Rebel duo of Mark Thomas and Marc Seguin was overpowering. Both collected hat tricks and added three assists. Kent Spink picked up Char-Lan's other two markers.

GAME TWO

Winchester 7 Cardinal 4

Char-Lan started only nine skaters. Winchester keyed on the Rebels, devastating them with 20 shots in the opening period.

Blake Hull managed to put Char-Lan on the board first.

But Dave Tait came back with two excellent plays to give Winchester the advantage. At 11:17, with Char-Lan enjoying a 5-4 manpower advantage, Tait sped down the ice, deked a defenseman and created his own breakaway. With 3:18 left in the period, Tait sped away on another break, slapped a shot that rebounded 30 feet from the crossbar of the Rebel net, right out to Mike Moran, who banged home the rebound.

Barry Casselman put the Hawks up 3-1 before the period ended.

The teams exchanged goals in the second period.

Tait picked up his third goal of the game in the final frame while Mike Moran on a power-play and Darrell Shelp each collected his second of the night.

Seguin, Harvey Primeau and Lee Sheets assisted Blake Hull with other Rebel goals.

Series action resumes in Winchester tonight at 8:15pm. On Saturday night at 7pm, the Rebels play host to the Hawks. On Sunday, at 2:15, game five goes in Winchester. Game six (if required) will be played Tuesday night in Char-Lan, and game seven (if required) back in Winchester next Wednesday.

Morrisburg Lions opened their best of seven EOJBHL semi-final last week with a pair of narrow victories 8-6 and 7-5 over the Metcalfe Jets.

One of the games is still under dispute as a result of a goalie incident near the end of the match.

Morrisburg 7 Metcalfe 5

In one of the most bizarre games of the year, Metcalfe's Erin Franey was given two match penalties and a gross misconduct for his behavior at the end of the second period. But the worst was yet to come.

With 45 seconds left in the game, and Metcalfe down 6-5, the Jets iced the puck and called for a measurement of Lion Mark Beaupre's stick (Beaupre had scored three goals and two assists on the night). The stick was found to be legal, and Metcalfe was assessed a minor penalty.

Play resumed, and Metcalfe goaler Marvin DeClare lay his stick on the ice in front of his net, and sped for the Metcalfe bench in favor of an extra attacker.

Play was called and Morrisburg was awarded a goal. Robbie Reynolds was credited with the play he never made. Metcalfe disputed the decision, and reportedly there is no foundation in the rulebook for a referee to make such a decision.

League executives had not reached a conclusion at press time.

Besides Beaupre's three goals and two assists, Whelan, Hodgson and Richer added singles.

Tom Racine, Erin Franey, Greg McLaren and Bruce Kerfoor did the damage for Metcalfe.

Morrisburg 8 Metcalfe 6

Metcalfe enjoyed a 3-1 lead after the opening period, but by the end of the second, Morrisburg enjoyed a 5-4 edge, and added three more goals in the final frame to take care of the Jets in the first game of their best of seven series.

Jim Whelan scored three Morrisburg goals. Tom Hodgson, Mark Beaupre, Brian Stewart, Kevin Mackler and Robbie Reynolds scored singles.

Mike Doyle scored twice for Metcalfe with singles going to Jim Cochrane, Barry Hicks, Dave Wade and Errol Straby.

It was a scrappy contest, Morrisburg taking the lions's share of penalties with 18, while the Jets were assessed 15.

Reynen stops Ton in six

FINCH (Staff) - Rene Reynen held on for a 5-4 win Sunday night, giving them a six-game decision over Newington in their best of seven semi-final in North Stormont Intermediate Mens Hockey here Sunday night.

In the league's other semi-final set, Avonmore and Stormont exchanged wins, forcing their best of seven set into a seventh and deciding game to be played at the Finch Community Centre Friday night at 8pm.

The NSIMHL finals will get underway Sunday night at 8pm, with the winner of the Stormont-Avonmore series meeting Rene Reynen in a best of seven series.

Rene Reynen 5 Newington 4

Randy Robertson's goal at 5:18 of the second period held up as the winner, as Reynen toppled regular season champion Newington in a best of seven semi-final Sunday night.

Reynen jumped into a 4-0 lead in the first period on goals by Art Sinfield, George Sinfield, Bob Heagle and Keven Wells. The first two goals came on the powerplay.

Don Simpson scored the only Newington marker of the period.

Neil Simpson brought the Ton back into the contest 3:39 into the second period scoring on a powerplay from Gary Leroux and Brian Rombough.

Then came Robertson's goal which put Reynen back in the driver's seat at 5-2.

Newington made a game of it. In the face of elimination, the Ton packed in two more goals, by Brad Shaver and Kim St. Pierre. But it wasn't enough as St. Pierre's goal came one minute before the final buzzer sounded on a disappointing playoff for the Ton.

Reynen earned the right to advance to the NSIMHL final round beginning Sunday night in the Finch Arena.

For Newington it spells the end of a great regular season, in which they lost only one game, and a playoff that saw the Ton go down in six to an upstart squad from Ingleside.

GAME FIVE

Newington 5 Rene Reynen 0

Newington never looked back after taking 3-0 first-period lead on their way to prolonging their series against Reynen just one more game.

Brad Shaver, Neil Simpson, Dave Bancroft, Gary Leroux and Jim Lawson all tallied singles for the Ton.

Blake Henderson registered the shut-out.

GAME SIX

Stormont 4 Avonmore 3

Series B has been a tug-of-war all the way. Stormont began the series with two surprising wins. The next weekend, Avonmore rolled over the Countymen in two straight to tie the series at two. After suffering a whopping 8-2 defeat Friday night, Stormont bounced back with a narrow victory on Sunday, forcing a seventh and deciding game in the series, scheduled for Friday night at 8pm.

Winston Dingwall's second goal of the game midway through the final period held up as the game winner for Stormont. Art McElheran's late goal for Avonmore pulled the score to its final 5-4 count.

Besides Dingwall's two goals, Stormont singles went to Steve O'Donahue and Doug Cheney.

Don Blaney and Blair Henderson scored the other Avonmore markers.

GAME FIVE

Avonmore 8 Stormont 2

Ed Gove blasted home four goals as Avonmore enjoyed a decisive victory Friday night, moving them ahead of Stormont three games to two in their best of seven semi-final.

Avonmore took command in the early going, amassing a first-period lead of 4-1.

Brent Theede, Bernie Henderson, John Adams and Art McElheran added the other Avonmore tallies. Terry Gove, John Adams and Larry Jackson each picked up a pair of assists for Avonmore.

Ossie Shaver and Bob Grant scored Countymen goals.

Avonmore collected eight minors in the game to five for Stormont.

Connaught Club honors hunters and fishermen

(Staff) - About 150 people fought through Saturday's snowstorm to pack Chesterville's Legion Hall for the Connaught Rod and Gun Club's annual banquet and awards night.

Sixteen hunters and fishermen were honored in various game, fowl and fish categories.

Paul Johnston of Cornwall was the big winner Saturday. With two first and one second, he earned enough points to emerge as the rod and gun club's Sportsman of the Year.

The Connaught Rod and Gun was formed in 1963. As past president and award winner Staley Chambers explained, "The club used to offer training for hunters. But now, our function is to promote good sportsmanship."

The club serves the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and has an annual membership of approximately 100 hunters and fishermen.

The club inherited its name from the one-room school house in Connaught which the founders purchased in 1963 as a clubhouse. It serves the same purpose today.

It is a non-profit organization with memberships from Inkerman, Morrisburg, Cornwall, Kemptville, Metcalfe and many other area communities.

"The annual banquet," according to president Grant Kelly, "has always been held in Chesterville. It's a tradition."

Following is a list of Saturday's prize winners.

Moose (cow), first, Carl Barkley, 715 lbs., second, Ralph Merkley, 635 lbs.

Deer (buck), first, Robert Merkley, 158 lbs., second, Douglas Merkley, 137 lbs.
