High Class Staff Secured

The High School Board has been successful in engaging one of the most highly recommended staffs ever to take up the work in the local school. Mr. C. W. Harrison, M. A. of Bradford will be the new principal, with Miss Gladys Murphy, B. A., of Mount Forest and Miss A. I. Saunders of Smiths Falls, as his assistants. The school will re-open Thursday, Sept 1st. Watch for announcement next week.

Car Turns Turtle Near Finch

Tuesday evening while motoring from Finch with his three sisters the car driven by Tom Campbell was badly wrecked and all the occupants injured when a cow was struck and the car turned turtle in the ditch. The young man had his collar bone broken and one of the young ladies was rendered unconscious when pinned under the car. The others were badly cut and scratched, but it is believed no serious results will follow.

Interesting Meeting of Morewood W.I.

The Morewood Woman's Institute held their regular Monthly Meeting at the home of Mrs. D. L. Collison, Tuesday Aug 9th.

After the business was completed the young ladies took charge of the meeting and furnished a decidely interesting programme consisting of papers prepared in answer to questions on "The Psychology of Clothes." The papers were enjoyed by all and shared a diversity of opinion on the all absorbing "Clothes" question.

Mrs. Wm. McQuaig sang a solo in her usual good style after which lunch was served by the Institute members.

A collection of $3.12 was taken to be used in buying fruit, books, flowers for any who are ill in the community. Clara Faulkner, Sec.

Mrs. Benson Hanes, Winchester

On Saturday Aug. 6th, a great and patient sufferer passed to her reward in the person of Mrs. Benson Hanes of Winchester, who was in her 71st year. For nineteen years she had been a cripple with rheumatism and had to be tenderly waited on by husband and family of seven children who survive. The funeral service was not held until Wednesday of this week, waiting the arrival of a daughter from Edmonton. The deceased was a sister of Messrs. Philip and Chester Merkley of this town, and spent her girihood days in this vicinity.

Rainmaking a Fake

Prof. Marvin, chief of the U. S. A. weather bureau, says that there is nothing in the rainmaking idea, which may be rather a disappointment to Rainmaker Hatfield. It is a fake, says the professor. While it is true that in a few instances small clouds have appeared shortly after the work of the so-called rainmakers, weather charts invariably show that rain was due in that locality a few hours or so after the rainmakers had operated. Nevertheless Hatfield gets by the prairie farmers, and is very likely to cash a cheque of four figures, and be engaged for another year besides. They evidently believe in him, as he also seems to believe in himself.

Welland Hits on a New Idea

For one town to invite another town, a whole town to supper, never took place before, that we know of, but it has happened now, for Welland has invited Port Colborne to supper on the evening of Tuesday, August 20, at 6 o'clock, as a means of celebrating the opening of the new concrete highway, eight miles long, between the two towns. Port Colborne and Welland are now only 20 minutes' distant; until yesterday they were in Spring and Fall sometimes separated by months. The event is worth celebrating, and worth celebrating in a large and generous way.

Your Best Investment.

Life insurance offers the best form of saving money, it is an investment for small sums, and affords "protection" for many times the annual deposit or premium. It is the only method of combining savings and protection.

It is also a sure way of leaving an estrte. Fifty per cent. of all estates at death consist of life insurance.
For those reasons the people of Canada are buying twice as much life insurance in these days of retrenchment as they did even two years ago.

Life Insurance is your best investment.

Without obligation on your part let me submit the plan to you.

A Sad Accident

(Mountain Herald)

While Frank Gilroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy, was attending to his horses, on Monday morning last, he had the misfortuue to be kicked in the face, by one of his horses, breaking his lower jaw and smashing in the cheek bone. Dr. Ferrier was immediately summoned and the wounds treated, but he found it necessary to take him to the Brockville Hospital, where he was taken at once, and given immediate attention, the jaw being set by Dr. Cornell without giving him an anaesthetic.

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P. O. Box 123, Parrsboro, N. S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance.

I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-tives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since.

Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-tives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me."

Clever Swindle

A clever swindle was put over in one of the Napanee stores on Saturday. A man entered the store and asked the lady to change a ten dollar American bill. The clerk went to the cash register and got change for ten dollars and laid it on the counter. The man picked up the ten dollars, at the same time throwing down a folded bill. The clerk opened the bill and found a one dollar Canadian bill, but the man with the change had immediately disappeared.

Wages Low in Lumber Camps

It is not, says the Pembroke Observer, a pleasing nor attractive prospect to men accustomed to following work in the lumber woods to hear that wages for the season which will open shortly are to run from $20 to $26 or $28 per month. This however, is the situation, not with the local companies alone but all over the country. Nearly all of the companies have large stocks of lumber on hand—many of them practically all of last year's cut as well as this year's and as the market is most precarious and uncertain they will not go into the bush at all unless they can operate at the lowest possible cost. On the other hand, pulpwood operators will do nothing, and lumbermen say that even this early in the season thousands of men can be secured at the low wages. A drop from $75 per month to $25 per month in about eight months is certainly a startling one, and gives some idea of the trend of the times, while in view of the number of men seeking work their is little likelihood of any advances.

Changes in Game Laws

Hunting and Trapping Licenses. The taking of bear and wolf by any means and the taking of fox by gun and dog is now permitted without the authority of a license or permit.

Hares and Cotton-Tail Rabbits; All restrictions and protection have been removed on the taking of hares and cotton-tail rabits.

Fur-Bearing Animals Destroying Property; Provision has been made whereby any fur-bearing animals may be destroyed in the defence or preservation of property by any means at any time. The pelts taken therein cannot be offered for sale during the close season except under the authority of a permit.

Special Camp License for Deer; Provision has been made whereby a special camp license may be obtained for a fee of $3, which will entitle organized hunting parties to kill one deer to be eaten in camp and such license may be issued to every six persons.

Pelts of Deer, Moose, Reindeer and Caribou; Provision has been made where by it is no longer necessasy to be in possession of a license to have in possession or sell or to have tanned the pelts of deer, moose, reindeer or caribou.

Fur-Dealers Licenses:—There has been added to existing authorized licenses a restricted-license to provide for the purchase of raw pelts for personal use, at a fee of $1.

A dog tag may be removed temporarily where the dog is being used for hunting deer in the bush.

Quick Work

A record in which the harvester, the miller and the baker figured, was established a few days at Thamesford. On Thursday at 3 o'clock wheat was standing in the field. Later in the day it was threshed, drawn to the grist mill at Thamesford and ground into flour. On Friday forenoon biscuits of excellent quality were made and placed on the table for dinner.

Price of Gasoline Discussed

At a meeting held Thursday at Montreal of the Automobile Club of Canada, the price of gasoline was discussed at length. It was pointed out that in Montreal and Toronto gasoline costs 90 per cent more than it does in Detroit and American cities. From inqniries made by the club it was disclosed that in Detroit gasoline sells for 20 cents a gallon for some brands, and at 21 cents for others. In Montreal the retail price for one grade is 37 cents and 44 cents for another. Calculations were then made to show the local price should be about 25 per cent less than it is, even after making allowances for loss on exchange, freight, Government taxes, and the difference between the American and the Canadian gallon.

Stole a Spare Tire From a Moving Car

When W. j. Scott, rear of Yonge and Escott township, was returning from a social at Toledo on Wednesday night, he was stopped four miles from there by an automobile party which had suffered a blow-out and which inquired the way to Toledo. When Mr. Scott reached home after this incident, he was surprised to find that his spare tire had disappeared. Returning to the stranded party, the young men belonging to which took to their heels at his approach, he found that one of them had jumped on the rear of his car when he had stopped and after being carried for more than half to three quarters of a mile at a speed of 25 miles an hour, had detached Mr. Scott's spare tire The tire was recovered and the two men and three young women in the party allowed to go.—Brockville Recorder.

Work to Montreal

For some unknown and incomprehensible reason, claim social workers, Montreal has become known as "the city with streets of gold" to every out-of-work in Eastern Canada and the United States. Employment is expected to be easily obtainable, and the inflowing tide of men, women and children arriving in the city with eager anticipation shows no signs of diminishing. The unemployment sitnation there is worse probably than in any other Canadian city.

"How much shall I put in the contribution box?" Hobbs whispered to his wife.

"Wait and see," she responded. "If that odious Mrs. Jennings is looking, pnt in a dollar bill; if she isn't 50 cents will do."

H. Wilmot Young—Marjie Adams Company Coming

The above company, one of the very best touring the country today, and by all means popular with the people on account of its good clean shows and refined vaudeville. Mr. Young is an actor who takes great pains with his work and Marjie Adams, known as Canada's Bernhardt, is the best actress touring with a stock company. Marjie Adams is a household word in Canada and Chestervilte particularly. Miss Adams has this season some wonderful gowns and will wear beauties on Wednesday and Thursday, August 24 and 25, when this clever company will play under the auspices of the Chesterville Driving Park, presenting two great plays and some extra good vaudeville. Mr. Young promises his friends, of Chesterville and surrounding vicinity, a real treat. On Wednesday night Augusta Evans Wilson's great story in play form "St. Elmo" will be presented, and on Thursday the great comedy play "The Trail of The Lonesome Pine" will be given. Both of these plays are produced in elaborate style, with all the vaudeville between acts. Ferris, the world's greatest ventriloquist, will be there. Archer and Garlow, the Musical Wonders; Joe J. Flynn who sings all the popular and standard songs and David Riggan, the Funnel Man.

Be sure and see Young—Adams Company, 15 all told, at the Music Hall, Chesterville August 24 and 25. Popular Prices.

Testing System and Pasteurizing Debated at Cornwall

Professor Zufelt, superintendent of the Eastern Dairy School, Kingston, went to Cornwall Saturday, on the invitation of the officers and members of the Cornwall Cheese Board extended through the local instructor, J. Buro. Mr. Zufelt was greeted by a large number of dairymen who were anxious to hear the provisions of the proposed Dairy Standards Act explained, it being the intention of the Department of Agriculture for Ontario to put the Act into effect on January 1 next. Mr. Zufelt came armed with charges to show the value of the testing system over the pooling, He explained fully the provisions of the proposed Act, which he claimed would be of benefit to dairymen throughout the proviuce.

Full and free discussion followed, in which it was plain that many opposed the Act on the grounds that it would add unnecessary expense on the patron in paying the salaries of travelling testers, as well as for the installation and upkeep of the equipment for the pasteurizing of the milk.

Professer Zufelt assured his hearers that more cheese would be produced from the richer milk, and said the cost per patron for testing would not amount to more than $2.00 in a season. The extra expense entailed for the pasteurizing would be a lot more than for the testing he admitted, and recommended that if the dairymen of the section were strongly opposed to the Act's going into effect, their best plan would be to go direct to the Minister of Agriculture and lay their complaints before him. But he was firmly convinced that, with a fair trial dairymen would soon find they were being repaid in extra returns on the money expended in testing and pasteurizing.

Both the pooling and testing systems had their friends among the dairymen present, the big objection to the testing being that the Government appointed the officials to go from district to district to do the work, but their salaries came out of the farmers' pockets.

[redacted]

Some objections were raised to the inaccuracies in testing in the past carelessness or lack of knowledge on the part of officials of the department. Mr. Zufelt said that one of his recommendations to the minister was that none but the most competent men should be entrusted with this work, and he felt that every official appointed would be thoroughly qualified.

When a Girl Teacher Weds

(London, Ont., Echo)

A local paper mentions as a startling fact and in glaring headline, that "Cupid is depleting teaching staffs," but why such a fact should alarm anyone is difficult to imagine. Reading what follows the headline it learned that the teachers affected are the female of the species, many of whom are resigning from service in Windsor schools because of their intention to enter the married state. When a male teacher decides on matrimony he says nothing about it to the school board but goes and does it and sticks to his job just the same. With the the woman teacher it is different. She can't serve two masters very effiicently, aud when she makes up her mind hereafter to go in double harness she does so knowing that it will mean her retirment from a profession for which she studied hard and of which she has grown quite fond. Not infrequnetly it happens though, that it is the wrong one of the married couple who retires from salary earning, that the pair would be far better off financially, if not in any other way, had the man in his case given up his job. For the woman teacher is a pretty highly paid person these days and is getting to be more so from time to time, and in quite a few cases it would be better business for the man of the house to stay at home and do the cooking, the mending and the rest of it. But this announcement in that it is proof if such were needed, of the falsity of the belief held by some people that a girl who enters the teaching profession dooms herself to what is called "old maidhood". Matrimouy has taken off many a London schoolmistress and continues doing it, and the only regretable fact is that as a esult the school is the loser.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarral Deafness requires constitutional treatmeat. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is a constitutional remedy. Catarral Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely olosed Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

The Old General Store

Do you remember it? Its big four-paned windows were never very clean for they could not be polished like plate glass; and besides this was long before the days of plate glass. The windows were not overly attractive either for in those days the village merchant had heard nothing of the famous adage now so popular, "It pays to advertise." Yet the old store did business--plenty of it. Some of the business was not very desirable, for butter had the habit of taking a drop in price a little unexpectedly, and sometimes the frost penetrated the walls of the cellar wherein the potatoes were stored. Of course nobody wants frosted potatoes. Even cheap butter cannot overcome the effects of frost upon "the murphies."

There is one thing that we never can forget concerning the old general store. In spite of the fact that it had its limitations and that some times the tea got mixed up with the fine cut tobacco, there was an atmosphere of friendship which you felt as soon as you entered the door. It possessed a big box stove and plenty of chairs; and on the long Winter evenings there was always a crowd of men to occupy all the chairs available. The news of the neighbourhood was gennerally to be obtained at the "corner store"; and there was no spot for miles round from which so many deeds of kindness originated. The storekeeper knew who was hard up, and knew moreover just how kind were the hearts of the neighbors, aud how to draw upon their sympathy and help. I fancy that a good deal of rural charity can be dated from "the store at the corners."

"Of course, the old general store had its faults, for every store takes its general character from the man who controls it. Sometimes he is not a good citizens; and I have known some old-fashioned general stores that were a curse to the community. Yet my recollections of village stores are, on the whole, very pleasant.

"Did it ever strike you what a wonderful influence the old general store exerted over the local political situation? What discussions went on amongst the men who gathered about the old box-stove! Municipal politics were often decided, on a cold Winter night, by a little knot of men who had found the old Township Hall too uncomfortable for meeting purposes, and had adjourned to Smith's store. There, around the old stove, the slate of township councillors was prepared, and men, who had come to the meeting with no desire for municipal honors, went out with the responsibilities of rulership upon them, and nobody was envious enough to desire to deprive them of their newly acquired authority.

I could not help thinking of that old general store as I was reading an address a salesman delivered before the annual convention of the National Shoe Retailers a few weeks ago. Mr. William Pidgeon, of Rochester, N. Y., was the speaker. He was pleading for the patient approach the soft touch, the kindly and brotherly word, aud in order to fasten his argument, told this story: "A man came into my store and said, I want a pair of shoes. "What kind of shoes?" "White." "But what kind of shoes?" "Any kind." I do not care to sell a shoe like that; what kind of a shoe is it you wish?" "well, it is for a little girl. Give me something anyway." "So," said the speaker, "I got a white shoe for him. Will that do?" "I don't know. I don't care. Give it to me." Mr. Pidgeon said to his customer; "Listen, this is a girl's shoe. If it does not fit the girl, bring it back." "All right. how much is it?" He pulled out a bill and handed it to the shoeman and received his change. But the transaction had not satisfied the latter, and so he followed his customer to the door, and said; "If this is not right you send the little girl back, because we will take care of her as well if she is alone as if you were here." The man replied, "She will never come back," and the merchant asked, "Why" The answer came, "That is my little girl, and she is dead. She is in her coffin." "And," said Mr. Pidgeon, "I put my hand on his shoulder and said, "I am a father. I know how you feel," and then the two men who were fathers wept together.

When I read that story, I said to myself; "That's like old times when the store-keeper had a personal interest iu all his customers. "I thought of the efficient methods of doing bnsiness today as compared with the days when I was a laddie, and I felt that the silent salesman has no chance against the man with the big, tender, human heart. The silent salesman may sell lots of goods, but it's wonderful how much the human heart longs for comradeship, even when we are in the midst of a commercial transaction. The old general store stands in the memory for something you would not like to lose out of your life—a real personal interest in you and your affairs.

In the larger field of politics what a wonderful part the old store used to play! What discussions were held beside the old stove! Those were the days when the daily paper had not penetrated into every corner of Canada. The little weekly journal, with its very limited circulation, was often the sole dependence of many a home for information concerning the great wide world. The weekly edition of the city daily with its news so stale that it would be unsaleable in these days when everything must be up to the minute, was regarded as a useless expense. Nevertheless, the old general store used to display an "ad" upon its walls saying that subscriptions would be received for such and such a city paper, and to further stimulate the rural love of good literature, it was also announced that every subscriber would receive a beautiful chromo which could scarcely be distinguished from a genuine oil painting. Some of the "works of art" remain to haunt us even unto this day—an eloquent witness to the fact that it pays to advertise. But, it seems to me, that the old general store found its chief glory in the fact that it was so closely related to the church and to all good works. Some of my elderly readers, who spent their early days in the country, will recall how the old store was always closed at prayer-meeting time, and did not re-open until after the meeting was over. Everybody in the village went to prayer-meeting in those days, and it would not ot paid to keep open anyway; but that is not the reason why the old store closed. The proprietor wanted to get to the meeting himself. It is a little difficult to rise and give a fervent testimony in meeting, and a few minutes afterwards to cheat the customers of Smith's general store. The two things do not seem to go well to gether, and Smith knew that, if he said anything in meeting that was not backed up in his life, somebody would face it after meeting or upon some other occasion when his business methods would not bear the light of day.

"The old general store could tell many a story of sympathetic words spoken to sorrowing souls, of strong helpful word addressed to young folks just beginning the battle of life, of true religious exhortation to those who were careless; and most of these words came from the lips of the man whose business was supposed to be selling of calico and brown sugar. He did not forget, even in business hours that he was "the servant of Jesus Christ," and some of the lads and lassies who occasionally bought sugar-sticks at the old store, cherish the memory of the store-keeper, for he was a good man, a child lover (didn't he often send a wee bag of candies to the children?) and, in many cases, a real blessing to the community.

Do Not Set Out Fire Without a Permit

THE welfare of new agricultural communities in this Province requires that land clearing be done with the cheapest agent at hand—Fire. Therefore, restrictions must hamper settlers as little as is consistent with safety to lives and property. Disastrous experience proves that in hot, dry weather unregulated use of fire in thickly wooded Northern Ontario means a menace to the lives and property of settlers and destruction of the provincial forest resources upon which a large part of Ontario's revenue and the livelihood of thousands of her citizens depend.

That is why Ontario adopted a "Close Season" and the "Permit System" for setting out fire. But, remember, whether you have a permit or not, you are responsible for damages caused by any fire you light. Be careful—

Save Ontario's Forests

They're Yours

The "Close Season" for setting out fire in Northern Ontario is from April 15th to September 30th. During that time within the Permit Area no one may set out fire for clearing land, disposing of debris or other inflammable waste, or for any industrial purpose, without first obtaining a written fire permit from a Fire Ranger. This applies not only to settlers but to railway section crews, camp and mill crews, road builders, including Government employees, and all other persons.

When starting fire for cooking and camping, the law requires that a place be selected free from inflammable material, that every reasonable precaution be taken to prevent such fire spreading and that it be thoroughly extinguished before quitting the place.

The "Close Season" applies to all Ontario north of Bobcaygeon and Smith's Falls and west of the line from there to Renfrew.

The Permit Area includes those parts of Nipissing, Sudbury, Temiskaming and Algoma lying north of the C.P.R. between Mattawa and North Bay and north of the C. N. R. westward to a point some 35 miles beyond Hornepayne.

The remainder of the Province forms the Exempt Area. Within the sparsely peopled Exempt Area no permits are generally issued, but those setting out fires in the "Close Season" are required to exercise every reasonable precaution and a Chief Fire Ranger, if he deems it wise, may serve a Prohibitory Notice and require a person to take out a permit.

The Fire Ranger does his best to follow the happy medium between the desire of the settler to "get a good burn" and the requirements of Public Safety. Help him all you can.
