Permanent theatre rejected

St. Raphael's Parish Committee and the St. Raphael's Ruins Committee rejected in principle the proposal put forth by the St. Raphael's Festival Committee at a meeting held in St. Raphael's on Wednesday, November 17th.

Sound confusing? For some time now several meetings have been held and the similarity of the committee names has left doubt in the minds of many as to just what is going on.

The St. Rapahel's Festival Committee is a group of people from Cornwall and area who feel the Ruins has great potential as a festival theatre site and would like to promote it as such. Members of the committee are John Light, James Whyte, Robert Smith, Edith Styles, Marcel Durdacle, Jeannine Poirier and John Parkinson.

John Light who was spokesman for the group put forth a very convincing argument for the festival theatre proposal and addressed the gathering of about 60 people at some length.

A Festival of Religious Theatre and Music would be unique," he said, "not just to Canada, but to North America. An exceptionally fine site for such an undertaking exists in St. Raphael's Ruins, for the setting is superb, the acoustics are excellent, the necessary population is near enough at hand, and the ruins themselves are unique. Such an undertaking, if successful, would mean large revenues for the United Counties.

"If this project is undertaken rationally and practically, and if the cooperation of all parties concerned is forthcoming, a festival theatre at St. Raphael's could be a great boon, not just to theatre in Canada and the United States, but to the residents of this immediate area as well.

"This means making use of the site to inspire in the public an interest in the site's history and the history of the area; to develop in the public an awareness of the need to preserve our heritage and to provide a dynamic attraction which will be in keeping with the original nature of the building and which will attract the maximum number of people to the site to the benefit of all concerned.

"Such an attraction exists in theatre. St. Raphael's, purely as a theatre, is suitable or amenable to almost any kind of theatre; however, in practice it is not possible to be so eclectic. If St. Raphael's is going to be the unique centre that it can be, a theme must be fixed and adhered to, which will allow for the uniform development of the facilities.

"In general terms, there are only two basic kinds of theatres. There are Theatres for the Performing Arts, and Festival Theatres.

FESTIVAL THEATRES ARE DIFFERENT

A performing arts centre, like the NAC in Ottawa, is by nature eclectic, that is, there are only two restrictions (quality and taste) placed upon the material seen on its stage.

"A Festival Theatre, on the other hand, like Stratford or Niagara, provides itself with a theme to which it adheres. This restricts what might be seen on its stage, but the restriction gives it strength, and if the theme is strong, and the personnel (both theatrical and managerial) are competent, the theatre might easily become world-famous. Festival theatres also have seasons, and whether the season is long, like the Viennese Opera, or relatively short, like the Shaw Festival's Niagara, festivals lose nothing of their attractiveness thereby.

"Festival theatres must draw crowds from far away, whether they are located in cities or not. The Shakespearean Festival draws audiences, not from Stratford, but from Toronto, Buffalo, London, and farther afield. The Shaw festival does not draw from Niagara-on-the Lake. Similarly, St. Raphael's, if it is to be viable, must draw its audiences from Ottawa, Montreal, and even Boston and New York.

"St. Raphael's due to its setting, must have a season. It has no roof, and this fact, though it is indeed one of its attractions, necessitates that performances be held only during the summer.

LARGE REPERTOIRE TO PRESENT

"A Festival of Religious Drama and Music, would give St. Raphael's the largest repertoire of any festival theatre in the world. Its scope would include all Greek theatre, most medieval theatre, and about 40% of the modern theatre (i.e. since 1500). Coupled with the religious musical repertoire of the western world, which is certainly over half the entire repertoire, such a theme would encompass most of the finest theatre and music ever written.

"The Classical Greek period, and the Elizabethean period, are the two greatest in the entire history of drama. A yearly festival at Epidauros in Greece draws audiences from round the world, yet there is no festival of Greek drama in North America.

"Since Greek drama is, by definition, religious drama; since Greek theatres were outdoor theatres; and since no other theatre group has attempted such a project, St. Raphael's could become unique in North America. The monetary advantages to the township, the county, and the city of Cornwall are obvious. One has only to look to Stratford for a model in this regard.

"Much medieval theatre is quite good, and some of it is excellent and famous. Everyman, for example, is performed yearly in the town square at Salzburg, Austria, in connection with the Salzburg Music Festival, and draws crowds from over western Europe.

"Among the recent plays which would be included in this theme would be: Murder in the Cathedral, Becket, A Man for All Seasons, Luther, and The Man Born to be King.

"Almost the entire repertoire, it should be noted, is available in a French edition, and there are French plays which are unavailable in English translation. This fact would enable St. Raphael's to appeal as well to the large Francophone population near at hand.

"The major problem is the fact

Four escaped with bruises

Four people were treated for minor injuries and released from Glengarry Memorial Hospital following a two-car crash on Highway 43 late Friday afternoon.

According to the report of Constable Paul Devaux of the Maxville OPP, Ranald MacDonald, 48 of Alexandria, was travelling east on Highway 43 at 5:15 p.m. Friday when a car pulled out of a laneway into his path.

Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Bissonnette of Apple Hill, suffered only bruises and cuts in the crash, as did Mr. MacDonald and his passenger, Robert Lalonde, 18 of Alexandria.

Damage to the MacDonald car was $2000, to the Bissonnette car, $1,000.

Another accident involving two cars was investigated by Constable Devaux at 10:50 p.m. the same night.

Michel Champagne, 21 of Dalkeith, was southbound on County Road 21 north of Maxville. When he applied the brakes to avoid another car in trouble his car left the road. His injuries were very slight.

Norman F. Bankley of Greenfield, was driver of the second car and he lost control when the driveshaft broke. Bankley was unhurt.

To hold inquest

Dr. Laszlo Roman will preside, Dec. 8th, at an inquest into the death of Ross MacDonald, 50, who died Aug. 7th in hospital after suffering a fall on the Main St. sidewalk, here, two days earlier. The inquest will be held at 8 p.m. in the provincial courtroom.

Lloyd Dennis addresses school committees at Tagwi meeting

A plea for an atmosphere of humane love and understanding in the school system was put forth by Lloyd Dennis, director of education in Leeds-Grenville at a meeting of SD&G school committee members at Tagwi on Thursday, November 18th.

Mr. Dennis was co-author of the famed Hall-Dennis report on education issued a few years back.

In an address that was at times humorous, passionate but undoubtedly sincere, this veteran of the school system implored parents, teachers and students to work together for a set of values blended in a stew of possibility and hope that would commit them to each other in a bond of unity, compassion and concern.

"There is something wrong with a system that spends more money on education than any other country in the world but is still caught up in a melee of tooth decay, incest and child battering.

"We put more people in jail than they do in England where they have three times our population."

Our society continually encourages us to get ahead of the other guy. In our search for equality, some of us are much more equal than others.

"Our system has to be above that where we just try to pack a child's head with information and guage it with a dip stick.

"Our school atmosphere should be one of humane love and understanding. We are human beings and cannot be measured like the assembly line of the Ford motor company.

"Learning is an individual process. We do not all receive the message in the same way. It would be a tragedy if we could not appreciate the setting of the Montreal subway as compared to that of Toronto.

"Our language and ethnic differences should be a harmonious blend in the growth of our great country. We must learn to share the breathing space to be different yet in harmony.

"Standardized courses and texts are a myth and an illusion to say the school can make all people the same and provoke children into a behaviour pattern than is better than adults.

"It is better for a teacher to tell a parent his child has some saving graces,—that he is 10% good and not 90% rotten.

"We must try to ascribe the course to the child. A duck can't climb a tree. We do not ask a paraplegic to run a hundred yard dash.

"Children who intend to go to university should be encouraged to take the appropriate subjects. If a child cannot do math he should not be made to feel he is a failure. A secondary school should offer a great variety of learning principles.

"One of the main skills a child should learn in school is his reason for being there. School should be a thriving beautiful place of reverence where the pupil would experience the emancipation of his soul and mind. God says there is something irreverent that accommodates only the best of success.

"We must promote a love of learning for its own sake where a child should be learning for his own self-fulfillment. Are we searching for a system that makes us alike? The school is part of a great participating democracy where parents, teachers and students should portray a conscious effort on the part of all to be part of each other.

The meeting was attended by high school trustees, elementary and secondary school committees, trustees and administrators of the County Board of Education.

Lost thumb in PTO

A young Bainsville man lost his thumb of his right hand while working at his home recently.

Robb Mitchell, a student at Royal Military College, Kingston, had returned for the weekend to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell when the accident occurred.

He was working with his father filling the silo at their home when his glove got caught in the power take off and his thumb was severed.

He was taken to Cornwall General Hospital and from there to Montreal General where he is still a patient. The thumb was sewn back on but it is still too soon to determine if the operation will be successful.

Upgrading time is here

The Human Resources Centre is currently trying to arrange for a group of people to attend the Level Two upgrading course which will be starting in Cornwall shortly.

This upgrading will be for the grades seven to 10 at St. Lawrence College. If enough people are interested, a car pool or bus transportation may be arranged, advises Eugene Legault, Human Resources Co-ordinator.

Anyone wanting to take the course may get in touch with him at the Centre.

Money taken at legion branch

The Alexandria branch of the Canadian Legion was relieved of $130 Friday night, reports Chief Sylvio Cleroux.

There were no signs of illegal entry, said Chief Cleroux, nor was there anything else reported missing from the building.

At Sports Palace

Meet the candidates in Alexandria tonight

Seventeen candidates seeking various elective posts in Alexandria will have an opportunity to meet the electorate at a candidates' night being held in the hall of the Sports Palace this Thursday night, Nov. 25th.

Marcel Ranger and Paul Roy, representing a group of ratepayers, were at Tuesday's meeting of town council to arrange details of the meeting.

All members of the present council will be seeking re-election to some office on Dec. 6th. Councillor Bruno Lalonde is challenging Mayor Bruno Massie. Reeve J. P. Touchette is opposed by Councillor Fern Seguin and Deputy-reeve Florence Villeneuve is challenged by Jacques Joly.

Three councillor incumbents, Norman Laperle, Raymond Jette and Archie McDougall, are among nine seeking six seats. Two women are among the six newcomers, Georgette Etherington and Yolande Viau. Other challengers are Lionel (Guidou) Leroux, Hubert Lapierre, Arthur Laporte and Rod McDonald.

Four PUC seats were filled by acclamations but there is a contest for trustee on the Separate School board. Incumbent Aime Marcoux is being challenged by Remi Prud'Homme, both of Alexandria.

There will be votes in all other Glengarry municipalities except Lancaster Village where the entire slate was acclaimed. Lancaster voters will ballot for Separate School trustee only. There will also be votes under the Liquor Control Act in both Lochiel and Kenyon on Dec. 6th.

Advance polls are being held in all municipalities on Saturday, Nov. 27th. Under new electoral laws, any qualified voter may cast his ballot at the Advance Poll and Returning Officers are hopeful the old and infirm will turn out in numbers on Saturday.

$117,500 grant from province for dam

A $117,500 Ontario grant will be provided to the South Nation River Conservation Authority for rehabilitation of Crysler Dam, Natural Resources Minister Leo Bernier announced today.

Work will include engineering, retaining wall reinforcement, as well as fencing.

Crysler Dam is situated on the South Nation River in Finch Township, Stormont County.

Villeneuve delivers cheque

A cheque for $121,918.40 was delivered by MPP Osie Villeneuve on Saturday to Sports Palace officials. This is the initial payment from the Community Centres Act grant.

There is still a balance of $191,908 yet to come from this department. The Act provides for a grant of 25% per facility per municipality up to $75,000 per facility per municipality. Since there are two facilities, a community hall and an arena, and three municipalities involved, this qualifies for quite a substantial grant.

With Wintario grants still to come, an additional $25,000 from area people would render the building virtually debt-free.

Mull change to two-day event for annual Highland Games

(by Velma Franklin)

There was a very good turn-out last Saturday night at the Maxville Curling Club for the annual meeting of the Glengarry Highland Games Association. Donald E. MacMaster presided, with John Jamieson as secretary. There was a brief review of the last meeting, held in mid-August, which was mainly to arrange the "Appreciation Night" party for the many people who help to put on the Games. Correspondence included a note of thanks from Mrs. Harriet MacKinnon, corresponding secretary of the Glengarry Historical Society, for the excellent placement of the Society booth, at which an increasing number of visitors are being received every year, and a kindly note of thanks from the M.C. Kent Grant who also included a candid photograph of Secretary Jamieson hastening across the infield.

Treasurer Brian Arkinstall presented and explained a detailed and satisfactory financial report, and a substantial sum had been turned over to the parent body the Kenyon Agricultural Society after all expenses had been met. Dr. D. M. Gamble proposed a vote of special thanks to Walter Blaney (Gates) Ian D. MacLeod (Hospitality) and Murray MacQueen (Programs) for being among the busiest men at the Games.

The minutes of the last annual meeting brought a reminder that John Jamieson had agreed to stay on as secretary for one more year while a replacement was found.

President MacMaster thanked one and all for their hard work and co-operation through the year, which had culminated in the most successful Games ever held.

KAS President Wilfred Vallance took the chair for the nominations . . . D. E. MacMaster was appointed president for a third year, Ian D. MacLeod vice-president, treasurer Brian Arkinstall, and secretary John Jamieson on the grounds that it was quite impossible to find any replacement for him, and it wouldn't be the same Games without him. President MacMaster returned to the chair, remarking that he had bought himself a kilt last year, which was not yet worn out anyhow.

There was discussion of committee chairmen, Donald Bond being named head of the Sports Committee, Dr. Gamble sharing the Grounds with Ben F. Villeneuve, and Allan MacEwen being added to Gates, with Walter Blaney and Robert MacEwen. Otherwise the slate of chairmen remains as last year, and was so adopted.

There was some correspondence in regard to the upcoming '77 Games. Ken "General" Grant was contacted to be M.C. again, and Angus H. McDonell remains as Chairman. The question of who should open the Games was discussed. Among the possibilities were Gordon Sinclair, author and TV personality who has a Scottish background, and the Grand Chief of "The Sons of Scotland" Benevolent Association . . . Bill Grundy, whose father, David Grundy, opened the Games in the '50s when he held the office of Grand Chief.

The Ontario Police Pipe and Drum Band (which performed so well at the Fair last year) has accepted an invitation to come for the Pre-Games concert as the main part of the show. The balance of the program will be under the direction of Rae and Alex MacCulloch. The Wilde Thyme Pipe Band of Nova Scotia that there is no roof on the ruins, yet a roof is necessary if performances are to be guaranteed. Nobody will travel from Boston only to find the performance rained out. For this reason, a way must be found to add a roof. It has been suggested that some of the new plastics could be used, for in this way the sense of being outside could be maintained.

"The other main problem is that there is no seating in the ruin. A way must be found to accommodate the largest possible number of people.

"Other problems are of less import. The stage, particularly with regard to entrances and exits, is inadequate.

"These problems are soluable, however, a good architect must be engaged in their solution. Here it might be possible to hold a contest open to all Canadian University Faculties of Architecture. Such a contest would be a stimulus to Canadian schools, and would obviate the necessity of having to go abroad for plans. It must be emphasized again, that any solution which altered the nature of the building would be unacceptable.

The establishment of such a theatre would take at least four years to plan and work on before it could become a reality. The group would form a corporation and it would possibly take about ten million dollars to get the Festival Theatre into a viable production. All it wanted was the support of the local people to proceed with a program to obtain grants and donations necessary to get the project underway.

"It would provide jobs for possibly 100 people, work that students in the area badly needed," offered Mrs. Jeannine Roy of the Festival Committee. "What an enrichment for this area to have such an attraction on its doorstep."

REASONS FOR REJECTION

On behalf of the parish, Father Gary Ostler and Parish Council President Mrs. Marcel Major rejected the proposal.

"St. Raphael's itself," they argued, "was a quiet peaceful hamlet housing in close proximity to the proposed theatre site, a church, school, retreat house and convent.

"There is no place at this time adjacent to the church ruins for the erection of a parking lot, offices, library, prop rooms, make-up rooms and washrooms necessary for the production, as the Ruins is surrounded by a graveyard, priest's house and highway.

"While the committee wishes to preserve and share the heritage of the Ruins, the question is in what direction to move? Local people are anxious to see historical pageants, military tattoos, services by all religious denominations and any production that would be in keeping with the sacred and historical aspect of the structure."

The ideas of the Festival Group were "lofty," imaginative and really wonderful, said Father Ostler and he hoped they could bring them into being in another location. This proposal was being turned down, not out of a negative attitude he said, but because the local people wished to proceed in a different direction.

Robert McDonell, chairman of the St. Raphael's Ruins Committee re-iterated the stand taken by the parish. "We have gone over a great many pros and cons already, and it seemed permanent theatre was not our answer. We just don't think this proposal is practical at this time."

CHARLOTTENBURGH COUNCIL EXPRESSED OPINIONS

Reeve of Charlottenburgh, Adrian Gadbois felt the proposal had possibilities. "This may not seem feasible right now, sometimes ideas like these take several years to take root," he said.

"However, I did feel that these 'Festival' people deserved a right to be heard. I cannot shut my eyes to any proposal. If there were more open discussions on many things, there would be less misunderstanding."

Councillors Morgan Major and Gerry Dicaire were in sound agreement with the Parish and Ruins Committees, they said, and had expressed their opinions at earlier council meetings. Councillor Ewen MacDonald who was also present at the meeting offered no opinion.

RUINS COMMITTEE HAS BEEN BUSY

The St. Raphael's Ruins Committee has five members. Robert McDonell is chairman and committee members are Mrs. Helen Kennedy, Art Buckland, the deputy-reeve of Charlottenburgh, Roger Lefebvre and Father Gary Ostler.

The purpose of this committee is to look after the St. Raphael's Church Ruins which are situated in the Township of Charlottenburgh; to decide on any use which might be made of the facility and to promote the site in a manner beneficial to the community.

The necessity of such a committee is evident. There are many people who wish to use the ruins and someone has to be contacted so that events can be scheduled. If any group wishes to use the Ruins for a concert, church service, re-union or whatever, there has to be someone in charge of the place to see that programs don't conflict and to manage arrangements.

The committee was formed last April, and since that time the members have had several meetings and have done extensive research to decide what would be viable presentations in the Ruins.

A brief was presented to Honorable Robert Welch of the Ontario Department of Culture and Recreation to explain the facility and apply for grants structures.

There has been a meeting with the Secretary of State to investigate grants for the presentation of a "sound and light" production comparable to the one in Ottawa in Centennial Year, which would focus on the history of the area.

Meetings have been held with the Separate School Board regarding use of the facilities in the school situated across from the church.

The Ruins Committee would like to promote a low profile usage of the Ruins—the participation of groups in the area.

The establishment of the Macdonell Memorial Chapel in the room adjoining the Ruins and new church has also been endorse the Ruins Committee.

"We have certainly not b idle," members Helen Kenn Robert McDonell and Fr. O said in an interview following meeting.

New Brownies

The Maxville Brownie Pack with their leader Brown Owl Mrs. Shirley Andrews, had a special event last Friday afternoon when they gathered at the Public School for their regular meeting in the big, bright room reserved for their use. There were a dozen Tweenies who were ready to become full-fledged Brownies, and their parents were welcomed to the meeting and escorted to their seats by the older Brownies. Due to sudden illness, District Commissioner Mrs. Mary Lambert was unable to be present as planned, but her place was ably taken by Guide Leader Mrs. Lucia Jasiewicz. Also there for the afternoon were last year's leaders Mrs. Margaret Cope and Mrs. Lorna Blair.

The twelve Tweenies who became Brownies were Susan Andrews, Lisa Michaud, Tracy-Lee Buchanan, Tracy Cope, Nathalie Quesnel, Shelley Everts, Kimberley Aube, Melinda Powell, Erin Jansen, Christine Decaire, Valerie Stewart, and Ouida Loeffelholz. This brings the Brownie pack up to 20 altogether.

Brown Owl Mrs. Andrews is assisted with the busy group by a capable helper Linda Baker. On behalf of the Parents' Committee the Brownies presented small gifts of appreciation to Mrs. Cope and Mrs. Blair, and also a gift to Mrs. Jasiewicz. The Brownies were then hostesses for a pleasant social hour with coffee and cake for all.

Memorable month for Maxville congregation

Following the completion of an extensive program of renovation and re-decoration of the Church building, October was a momentous month in the history of the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, Maxville—a "month of celebration" in observance of the 150th Anniversary of the congregation which was formally organized as the Indian Lands Congregation of the Church of Scotland in 1826.

The service on Sunday, October 3rd, was conducted as it would have been in the last century following the pattern of worship used by the pioneer settlers of the community. The congregation stood for the prayers and remained seated during the singing of the Psalms led by a precentor. In the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper the elements were "brought in" in accordance with the old-time custom of the Church of Scotland, and the old Communion Vessels with the common cup were used in serving the elements to the congregation.

The service on Thanksgiving Sunday, October 10th, included special prayers of thanks to God for a century and a half of Christian witness on the part of the congregation, and the administering of the Sacrament of Baptism.

On Sunday, October 17th, more than 200 copies of the new "Book of Praise" were dedicated and following the service the congregation formed a procession at the front of the Church and walked to the Maxville Cemetery where, in an impressive ceremony, a cairn recently erected by the congregation to mark the site of "The White Church" was unveiled and dedicated. In this Church, erected in 1826, the Presbyterians of Maxville and the surrounding area worshipped for 73 years until it was demolished in 1899 to make way for the erection of the present red brick structure on the Main Street in the Village.

On the Anniversary Sunday, October 24th, the Church was filled to capacity with members, former members and friends when the Rev. Dr. Donald N. MacMillan, Acting Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, was the Guest Preacher at both morning and evening services. In the Church Hall, an attractive display of books, records, pictures, and many other items of historic interest in the life of the congregation had been set up, and following the evening service refreshments and an artistically decorated Anniversary cake were served. Greetings were received from the Rev. Dr. Howard A. Doig, of Toronto, the only surviving former minister of the congregation, the Presbytery of Glengarry, the Village of Maxville, and the local Anglican, Roman Catholic and United Churches.

Concluding the celebrations was an inspiring service on the theme, "God's People," presented by the folk-singing group, "The Friends," of Cornwall, on Sunday evening, October 31st, under the direction of Mr. Richard Forrester. It was a month that will be long remembered by the congregation of St. Andrew's, Maxville.

had expressed interest in coming to the Games this year, and there was also the possibility of having the Toronto Metropolitan Police Band, which has its own musical ride, on a future occasion. The price of meals was raised to three dollars, to cope with ever-increasing food costs, and it was felt that, this being a dairying community, milk should be on the tables at all times. There were some complaints from the Ontario Pipers' Association . . . that announcements of which band is actually on the field should be more prompt and clear, that bands should march off, not amble, and the massed bands should not be before six in the evening. These points will be dealt with at a meeting later with the Association.

Sylvester MacDonald and the Clansmen will be the band in the Hall Friday and Saturday evening for the dancing. The seating capacity of the Hall is to be analyzed, an admission charge may have to be set to control unwieldy crowds, and possibly an outside extension of the hall. As with the free hall, it was felt that some changes will have to be made with the free campsite, undesirable visitors having begun to abuse the privileges of both, to the general detriment of the Games.

The meeting adjourned with a very thought-provoking idea left to simmer in everybody's mind. The Highland Games at Brockville have definitely been given up, leaving free the day after the Maxville Games. There is the possibility that Maxville could request this day and extend its event into a two-day affair. More sports; piping and drumming one day; dancing the next, there are many possibilities. Does the success of this year's Games warrant such an increase in size . . . or is it better to stay with a very well tried and proven formula?

Bantams off to a good start

The Alexandria Bantam Glens travelling hockey team, coached by Wayne Crack, has shown itself to be a team to contend with, judging by its record to date.

As of Sunday the team had six wins, three losses and two ties.

On Nov. 17th, the bantams lost to Long Sault 3 to 0 with Dale Boisvenue getting the lone Alexandria goal.

Friday, however, saw them defeat Char-Lan in a hard checking game that ended 3 to 2. Carl Campbell chalked up a pair of goals with Grant Crack getting a single for the winners.

The tables were turned once more on Saturday when Chesterville walked off with the victory at 4 to 2. The only Alexandria players who were able to make it to the score board were Marc Bellefeuille and Carl Campbell.

Their sixth win on Sunday made this week's schedule look a little better in the statistics book when they turned around and defeated Cornwall 4 to 1 with Ronnie Allison and Carl Campbell getting a pair of goals each.

Carl has been the team's best point getter so far this year and especially over the past four games when the bantams scored a total of 10 with Carl being credited with five of them.

Coach Crack said that he is very happy with this year's team and what they lack in size they more than make up for in the skating and extra effort departments.

The Bantam Glens' next home game is scheduled for Dec. 1st when they play Dollard des Ormeaux.

Seek easier approach to tank inspections

A commonsense approach to regulations for installation and inspection of septic tanks and tile beds is being requested by United Counties Council.

A resolution calling for the commonsense approach by inspectors will be sent to the Ontario ministry of the environment. Copies will also be sent to other Ontario municipal councils seeking their support.

Conflict between county councillors and the Eastern Ontario Health Unit has been continuous for some months, with former warden John Whitteker and Winchester Township Reeve Cecil MacNabb leading the protest.

Both men were critical in council of the inspection service and some of the requirements. "They tell us they are going by the book, and I suppose they are," Mr. Whitteker said. "But in that case, the book must be wrong and commonsense should prevail."

Mr. MacNabb and Adrian Gadbois, reeve of Charlottenburgh, with the support of Albert Faubert, reeve of Kenyon, protested the tendency of the inspectors to make appointments and not complete the inspection for weeks, during which time excavations can fill with water and many difficulties ensue.

Other members protested what they considered inordinate requirements for fill sometimes raising tile beds so high they drain surface water back into basements.

"Maybe they are going by the book, but their requirements don't make any sense," Mr. MacNabb protested.

Council agreed to submit a resolution to all Ontario municipalities and government bodies to have provisions modified or broadened to make it easier to install septic tank systems. Some councillors noted that if the requirements should be made any stiffer there would be unauthorized installations going in without inspection.

Committee formed by association

A planning committee was formed at the November meeting of the Glengarry Association for the Mentally Retarded. The group met at the Harmony Glen School on Wednesday, November 17th.

Members of the committee are the president of the Association, Mrs. Albert Laflamme, Mrs. Zoe Grant, Harold Stimson, Eugene Legault, Ted Cooke, Sister Lucille Champagne, Dan Filliol, Mrs. Heinz Loos and William Vanderbyl.

The group will review the constitution which was formulated several years ago and determine if any updating is necessary in view of recent legislation that has been passed concerning the mentally retarded.

Gaels on the Warpath

(by Warren Everson)

With the fall season finally finished, the time is here for a short review of what was done. Though neither of the girls' basketball teams managed to make the finals of their respective divisions, the other teams did very well indeed. The cross-country teams all placed very high, with the senior girls going all the way to OESFFA, where they placed sixth. Both the soccer teams made the play-offs. The juniors were unfortunately defeated by Tagwi, but the seniors went all the way to capture the championship. The EOSSA competition is held in the spring and a new team will be organized then, composed largely of the veterans of this season.

The football team won its championship, after an undefeated season. This marks the first undefeated season in this league, as well as the first time Glengarry has won in the SD&G league.

Now the winter season begins and the Gaels will turn from the outdoors to the gymnasiums for their victories. The boys' basketball teams are getting organized, under Malcolm Fraser. Tryouts will probably be held this week, while the first games are scheduled for December 1st. In addition to the boys' basketball, girls' gymnastics, volleyball and midget girls' basketball are all being started.

After a dismal season last year the senior boys' basketball team is expecting greater success this year, while the juniors will be trying to improve upon a slightly better record. This team will be a slight departure from tradition, as their coach this year will be a woman, while Miss Whitham will coach the midget girls.

The gymnastics team did very well last year and with the guidance of Mrs. Fraser they should be able to repeat their victories. Later in the year will come badminton, and boys' volleyball. After such a glorious fall season the Gaels must now turn to sports where victories have been more difficult to earn over the past few years. However, with spirit and skill as high as ever, perhaps more triumphs are at hand.

Glens dropped two

The Junior Glens put out the required effort for both of their games last weekend but unfortunately for them, were unable to convert the effort into goals, resulting in two straight losses, at home and away.

Friday night at the Glengarry Sports Palace saw them go down to the St. Isidore de Prescott team 5 to 0 in what would appear to be a one-sided game. This was not the case, however, as the shots on goal were 37 to 34 in favor of the Glens.

The main factor in their defeat was extra hot goaltending on the part of Luc Lamoureux for St. Isidore. Try as they could the Glens were unable to put one past him.

Scoring for St. Isidore were Marc Brazeau with a pair of goals, Daniel Lamarche, Pierre Paul Lamarche and Alain Leroux with one each.

Sunday night proved even more humiliating for the Glens when they played in Embrun.

The Glens outshot the Embrun team 54 to 33 but this was not reflected in the score with the final being 7 to 5 for Embrun.

The Glens were leading 3 to 1 at the end of the second period but unfortunately for them they backed off in the third and Embrun came on strong, resulting in the loss.

Embrun had the better part of their points made by Denis Legault who ended the night with four goals. The remainder were scored by Guy Marion, Daniel Gaudreau and Luc Dagenais.

Making the score board for the Glens were, John Charlebois with two and Robert Lajoie, Claude Roy and Wayne Cameron with one each.

The Glens' next home game is scheduled for Saturday at 8 p.m. when Embrun comes here.

Lochiel sidetracked in touch football

After eliminating Almonte, Lochiel went down to defeat to the Ottawa R.A. first division winners, 25—13. This was the semi-finals in the North Eastern Ontario Touch Football playdowns.

The Lochiel club surprised the Ottawa team by jumping into a 13—7 half-time lead. Both their touchdowns were scored by Paul Poirier on passes from quarterback Hugh MacGillivray. The second one was an 80-yard pass and run play.

Ottawa came back with two touchdowns, one in the 3rd quarter and one in the 4th, to go ahead 19—13 with two minutes to go in the game. At this point Hugh tried to hit Paul with another long bomb but it was intercepted and brought back to the Lochiel 25-yard line. Ottawa scored their last td two plays later.

The Lochiel defense played well as they stopped Ottawa three times inside the 10-yard line and they came up with three interceptions, two by Bill MacLeod and one by Campbell MacGillivray.

The Glengarry Touch Football league has come a long way in this, their second year of operation and we are looking forward to a possible six-team league next year.

The league executive would at this time, like to thank the Glengarry News staff for their fine coverage throughout the past season.

Minor teams score wins

The Peewee travelling team of the Char-Lan Minor Hockey Association gave Chesterville a run for their money Nov. 13th when Char-Lan defeated them by the somewhat one-sided score of 10 to 4.

Fortunately for Chesterville it was only an exhibition game and had no effect on this year's standings.

Scoring for the Char-Lan all-stars were Murray MacDonald with a big four goals, Todd Barton with a pair and George Lapierre, Roch Pilon, Ellery Lafave and Neil Sandilands with one each.

Chesterville's top point getter for this game was Kenny Shay with a hat trick. Duff Mitchell had a single.

The Char-Lan midget all-stars also came away with a win over Cornwall Twp., Sunday, in what was a goaltenders' battle ending 1 to 0.

Mike Bray was the game's lone scorer however the highlight of play was the goaltending at both ends of the ice.

Paul Shoniker of Char-Lan and Todd Robertson of Cornwall Twp., played near-perfect games with only one shot getting past the Cornwall Twp. crease.

Industrial League in full swing

The Alexandria Industrial Hockey League now has six games under its belt and the race for first place is well on its way.

The league is made up of five teams this year. They are listed by the names of, Lochiel, Lancaster, Cornwall, MacEwen Ford (Maxville), and Yamaha (Alexandria).

So far, MacEwen and Yamaha are tied for first place with seven points each. Cornwall is third, Lancaster fourth and Lochiel fifth.

It's early in the season but the scoring race has been established with Bob Cuerrier ahead with seven points from five goals and two assists. Jacques Cusick also has seven points. His were obtained with only three goals and four assists. Raymond Poirier, Roch Lajoie, and Alan Laframboise are all tied for third place with five points each.

Two granddaughters of Mrs. MacPherson, Mrs. Hope Blair and Mrs. Carol Fyfe of MacMasterville, Que., were present at the service.

A well known resident of Lancaster Township throughout most of his lifetime, Duncan Alexander Condie died in Cornwall General Hospital on Sunday, November 21st, following a short illness.

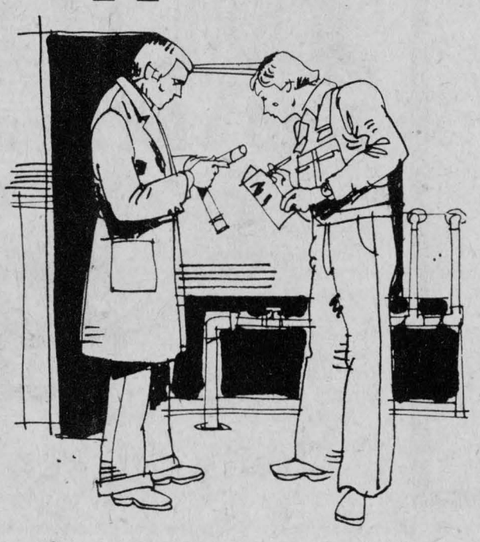
Apprenticeship training prepares people to enter skilled trades and earn a better living.



This is what Ontario is doing to help provide that training.

Ontario's growing economy has created a continuing need for qualified individuals in all fields, and especially in the skilled trades.

To meet this demand, the Ontario Ministry of Colleges and Universities Apprenticeship Program offers systematic on-the-job training and related classroom instruction in many trades.

Depending on the trade, an apprenticeship varies in length from 2 to 5 years, and apprentices are paid an increasing percentage of the going rate for fully-qualified tradespeople. At the conclusion of the training period, an apprentice will qualify for a Certificate of Apprenticeship and, where applicable, a Certificate of Qualification.

Your Ontario Government has prepared a special booklet, "Training for the Skilled Trades", which describes the apprenticeship program, lists the trades which it covers and explains how to get into the program.

Premiere of local film to be seen here

A film produced in Alexandria in the summer of 1975 under the title of "Louise" will be shown in Alexandria at the Garry Theatre on Tuesday, November 30th.

Most of the people in the film are local townsfolk and the dialogue is in English and French.

The name of the film has since been changed to "Qu'en Passant," and the story and direction is the work of Jacques Menard, a son of Jean Yves Menard of Alexandria and the late Mrs. Menard.

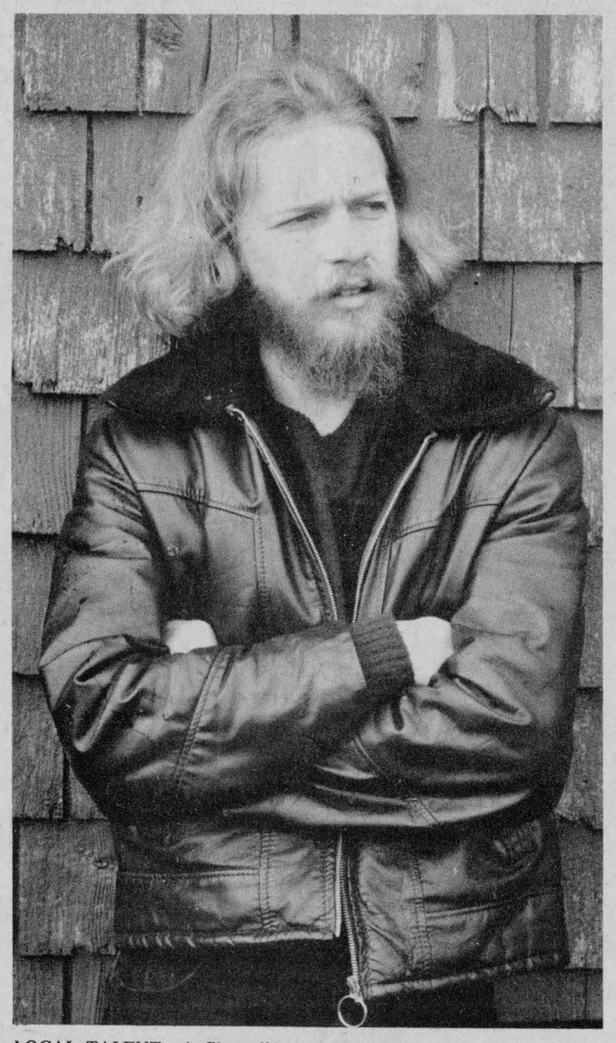
The film deals with what Mr. Menard describes as a common occurrence in this part of Ontario, the assimilation of the French-speaking populace gradually discarding the culture of their fore-fathers and becoming part of the English-speaking milieu.

The young film maker claims his is not a protest film, it is just a story of life in this area as he observes it.

Mr. Menard received several grants for the production, from the National Film Board, Ontario Arts Council, Canada Arts Council, and locally from the Town of Alexandria, Knights of Columbus and Richelieu Club.

He expects to continue in the film industry although he has no particular theme in mind for his future writing.

The premiere here will be at 8 p.m. for invited guests only and at 9:30 the general public will be admitted.



LOCAL TALENT—A film, directed by Jacques Menard here last summer, under the working title "Louise" will have its premier showing in Alexandria Nov. 30th. The production includes both people and places in Glengarry. —Staff photo

John Roy died suddenly in Cornwall

Suddenly at his home in Cornwall, the death of John Roy occurred on Sunday, November 21st. He had been in apparent good health and his passing at this time was a severe shock to his family and friends.

He was born in Bainsville on August 31st, 1909, the son of the late Daniel Roy and his wife, Georgena Orr. On Saturday, June 14th, 1947, he was married in St. Andrew's United Church, Dalhousie Mills, to Sarena Morrison of Glen Nevis and they farmed for a time in the Third Concession of Lancaster before moving to the Cornwall area where he resided for the past number of years.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Joyce, Mrs. Bob Dagleish and Sharon, Mrs. Ronald Price both of Cornwall. There are three grandchildren.

He also leaves one brother and two sisters, Mac of Bainsville, Gladys, Mrs. Orville Switzer of Toronto and Hilda, Mrs. Donald McVichie of Bainsville. He was predeceased by one brother, Clifford.

The service was conducted at the McArthur Bros. and MacNeil Funeral Home in Cornwall where Rev. Fred Rennie officiated at 2 p.m. on Wednesday. Burial was in the Second Concession Cemetery, Bainsville.

Pallbearers were three nephews, Robert and Barton Roy and Ronald McVichie; Campbell Thompson, Donald Snider and Barry Brownlee.

D of I plan Christmas party

The Hawkesbury Convention of the Daughters of Isabella was a great success. There were 1,500 members in attendance from the surrounding districts.

A large number of clothes were distributed again this month, to twenty needy families.

Mrs. Yvonne St. Denis won the attendance prize at the last meeting which was a mug featuring a picture of the new Sports Palace.

The winner of the 50-50 draw was Miss Pierrette Gauthier who was absent, so the money goes into the funds.

December 15th will be date of next meeting and Christmas Party which will include a Santa Claus and a gift exchange between the ladies. They are happy to announce that all their new members will be organizing the activities for the evening.

Finally got a chance to sit in on one of the controversial meetings regarding the establishment of a festival theatre in St. Raphael's ruins.

For the time being, the proposal put forth by the Festival Committee has been squashed for lack of local support. I have a feeling it will not end there.

Quite frankly, I like their idea of the Festival Theatre and the kind of plays the group were thinking of presenting. It was a proposal of a high level of culture and the fact that the productions could be presented in French or English was additionally enhancing.

Their affinity to the ruins though, at this point I cannot see. History the ruins may have as an attraction, but for a Festival production, I can see little else.

Acoustics in the place are excellent and this has been borne out by concerts held there and church services where voices were audible without even a microphone.

But to house a theatre, a roof is needed, a plastic one, probably. As I recall when the roof was on the place, the acoustics in the church then were no way comparable to what they are without one. A roof would also change the looks of the place as the plastic one proferred would have no resemblance to the former roof.

And what would be done about windows? Anyone who has sat around in an evening concert there knows the drafts are unbelievable and one had better wear a parka coat. Would these windows be closed in? If so, this would be another change in the looks of the place.

Once the structure would become known as the site of the St. Raphael's Festival theatre would it be any longer associated with the historic site it is now, or would this be secondary?

It is unfortunate for the sake of the Festival planners that it is situated just where it is. For their purpose, it is about as accessible as Alcatraz.

I've heard some folk saying they didn't want the peace of the place disturbed. I can recall back when there used to be about 80 boarders in peaceful old Iona who would have been overjoyed at the thought of some excitement. Some jolly ideas just never coincide.

Like I said, I liked the idea of the Festival Theatre and it would be nice located somewhere nearby St. Raphael's or elsewhere in Glengarry where our historic sites could be an additional attraction.

If a projection of $10,000,000 is in the offing, maybe we could start out with some employment for the summer youth to build a stone theatre out of some of our abundance of historic Glengarry rock.

Or better still, stage the plays in some of our quiet Glengarry churches that already have a roof, seats, adjoining halls and room beside them to build additional facilities. Like in Glen Nevis maybe?

The plan has merit. And culture of the kind this Festival Group is proposing needs a little encouragement considering some of the entertainment we are being confronted with. As Reeve Gadbois said, we will likely hear more of this.

Heard Lloyd Dennis expound his education theories one night last week.

They sounded very different from this great teacher himself than the impressions I have had to date of his report.

Here was a man who was advocating what sounded like an individual education for each child, because every one of us is a different human being.

My first thoughts were "How can we ever achieve this, it would have to be almost on a one to one ratio of teaching."

And suddenly, it all added up. Here he was, advocating the co-operation of the parent, teacher and child, actually what school committees are all about.

Have we parents neglected our one-to-one relationship as the child's first teacher, expecting the school teacher to accomplish what we are first neglecting to do?

Never had I had the importance of this collaboration of our teaching role so forcibly impressed upon me. And for that, Lloyd Dennis, I thank you sincerely.

Dennis contrasted the schools so many of us attended where we were forced to stand at the front of the class to recite and stammer through material beyond our capacity until we were forced to retreat in humiliation, and where the children with the high IQ were treated as superior.

There has to be a place for all of us, where we can each feel we fit into the niches God intended for us with compassion and love for each other.

With this, Lloyd Dennis, I can agree because you phrased it so passionately.

There may be a lot of misinterpretation of the policies you advocate, before they come into being. But thank you for trying, and for continuing to expound your theories.

Add my name to the list of those who mourn the late name of our diocese. Premeditated and executed in secret before we had a chance to raise a hand in its defense, the deed was done.

According to the best historians available, our diocese of Alexandria was named after its founder, Bishop Alexander Macdonell. He was one of the great contributors to Canadian history and as such it was an honor to have his name on our diocese.

There may be other dioceses named after their founder which I can't bring to mind but off-hand, I don't know of any. It was a distinction I and a great many others revered highly and as such did not like to see altered.

I wasn't consulted about the name change of course. It's amazing all the people who never consult me. About so many things. I suppose this is a degradation I'll just have to live with. Considering all the years of practise I've had, this gets easier all the time.

One Cornwallite put it "I don't know why you are riled up, Alexandria is still tagged on to the name."

That's exactly my point. In its tagged-on state the whole meaning of the name is destroyed. It now becomes two hyphenated place-names. I don't like the demotion of our great historical bishop's name. Makes me think of the way Stalin's name was erased from places although we never did find out why.

The powers who changed it argued that the many Catholics in Cornwall needed to be recognized. And when away from here, diocesan representatives were asked where Alexandria Diocese was so it needed to be associated with a city people could identify with.

I can recall representing the diocese on several occasions at provincial gatherings and the name of our diocese was never in question. It was one I would have been proud to explain.

On matters of faith I will respectfully listen to the clergy who know more about matters biblical than I do.

This name-change is not one of them. And I thoroughly resent the manner in which it was done.

IT'S OUR OPINION

Merchants have the answer

Shoplifting is becoming an evermore serious problem in local stores and a merchant wondered out loud if there was anything we could do to help solve the problem. Over three days last week, he reported, goods to the value of more than $150 had been purloined from one aisle of his store.

Young people are responsible for much of the shoplifting in his store, we gathered. Some have been caught in the act but as he tells it storekeepers hesitate to lay charges lest the parents of those involved quit dealing at their stores.

That may be an argument but it is a very weak one, in our view. Some parents would resent charges being laid against their children while others might appreciate knowing that their youngsters are being wayward. Whatever the parental reaction, surely it is in the best interests of the children that these inclinations to dishonesty be curbed. If neither parents nor police are brought into the picture the practise inevitably must grow more serious, at the expense not only of the victimized merchants but of society's standards of behaviour.

Shoplifting has always been a problem but never to the same degree as in recent decades when self-service was introduced. Open display counters are an invitation to petty thievery that was much less easy when goods were behind glass counters and more clerks were on duty.

Shoplifting should be discouraged and in our opinion the answer lies in making an example of those that are caught in the act. Granted, it is not a pleasant course of action to contemplate. Neither is the alternative of turning the other cheek while being robbed blind.

Let's take it easy

It is not by chance that the first week of December is designated as Safe Driving Week. Then are likely to come the first slippery roads of winter that so often take one by surprise. During the long months when roads were dry you managed to completely forget the sickening feeling of a car lurching into an uncontrolled skid. You have forgotten, too, that in winter conditions you can no longer count on the effectiveness of your brakes.

Long summer evenings have been replaced by darkness at five in the afternoon, the very time when traffic begins to build up as we return from factory or office to our homes. Add the hazard of even a light snowfall with consequent poor visibility and you have all the conditions for tragedy.

In Canada, February usually has fewer traffic accident fatalities than any other month.

Experts consider that this is not a result of a slightly shorter month, but rather a combination of the fact that few people make unnecessary journeys in February, and most Canadians have come to terms with winter driving conditions.

The Canada Safety Council therefore asks drivers to pay close attention to changing conditions, and make appropriate allowances. Conditions themselves do not cause accidents . . . it's the drivers who fail to adjust to those conditions. Most of us have adjusted by February, as the records show. If we could complete that adjustment two months earlier, the holiday season traffic toll could be much lighter than ever before.

It is happening . . . gradually. Safe Driving Week started in December, twenty years ago, because December was the worst month of the year. Now more than half the other months show worse fatality figures. The Safety Council is wondering if it should have a "Safe Driving Week" every month.

Let's make up our minds to drive safely not only in December but all through the year. Let's all slow it down. A few moments gained on the road are poor recompense for long weeks in the hospital or eternity in the cemetery.

High school is too late

Education Minister Tom Wells' announced decision to leave less room for free choice in the subjects under study in our secondary schools is a welcome one. Welcome, not only to all the teachers who have been concerned for years about lack of the "basics" in the curriculum, but welcome also to many students who are aware that they can graduate and still be ill-equipped to meet the challenges of the outside world.

The new requirements are not all that tight. Four English subjects are required, but that leaves a lot of room for choice. All the other subjects of the nine requirements are steps in the right direction.

However, it is at the elementary school level that fresh thinking should apply, suggests an editorial in The Wingham Advance-Times. During the first three years of education the child is, or should be acquiring the basis of proper language expression, founded on solid rules of proper grammar. In those same years the youngster must absorb the foundations of mathematical reasoning. After grade eight these areas of knowledge are infinitely harder to encompass.

Many of the teachers who are in charge of junior classes in the elementary school are themselves the product of the era in which "free thinking" was popular. It is quite possible that younger teachers need some fresh training in the most effective ways of starting younger students on the path to sound learning.

Such a concept does not mean that education should return to the old ways of instruction purely by rote and rule, under which a child was required only to have a sharp memory. We still want our children to have the freedom to use his or her own reasoning capacity. Just as a great sculptor must have unfettered imagination and creative powers the child's mind must remain open and receptive. But we should never forget that the sculptor had to serve his apprenticeship and accustom his hands to the feel of chisel and hammer. The basics are still necessary.

Not exactly a surplus

What is surprising to us concerning the election result in Quebec is the surprise of so many political observers in the Parti Quebecois victory. The maladministration of the Liberal government and the inept leadership of Premier Bourassa had left Quebec voters with no choice but to dump them. We had foreseen the PQ win but had not expected it to be so convincing.

It would have been surprising, in our view, if the harried voters had not rid themselves of so weak and wasteful a government. They reacted just as we might expect any other body of voters that had been subjected to so much provocation and we might take comfort for the future of Canada from their commonsense behaviour at the polls. If the PQ government cannot improve on the Liberal performance it is quite likely Premier-elect Levesque and his party will have their bid for separation rejected by an electorate that will put their Parti out to pasture, too.

What transpires in our neighboring province will be of vital interest to all other Canadians but it is largely beyond our control. Perhaps the country's best interests will be served by a holiday from the steady diet of political conjecture the so-called experts have been providing in wake of the Quebec election.

Engineer's heyday

(The Rodney Mercury)

The provincial Department of Labor closing so many arenas has played right into the hands of engineers and architects who are having a heyday planning and building replacements. So ludicrous is the situation that West Lorne has received three form letters from engineers, stating they would be pleased to design a new arena for the village.

Obviously they have not done their homework, or they would have realized West Lorne has a new arena. Or have arena closings become so general engineers can send such letters to every town? Of course, that does not preclude some engineers disinterested in making a few thousand dollars inspecting West Lorne's arena.

One communication received by West Lorne's reeve is an invitation to an outing at an engineer's home, but at the bottom it is obvious the engineer is interested in designing arenas. Rather blatant, don't you think?

LETTERS to the EDITOR

In 1890, when the Diocese of Alexandria was founded, the authorities in Rome knew very little about either Alexandria or Cornwall except for the fact that Alexandria's population was more Catholic than Cornwall's. At the time, the concentration of Catholic population was in the county of Glengarry, but over the many years this has shifted and consequently the Cornwall area has more than half of the Roman Catholic population of the Diocese, ten parishes out of twenty-nine parishes and almost half of the priests of the Diocese. Because of these facts, it would seem very feasible that Cornwall be given some pre-eminence in the Diocese.

We are well aware, Mr. Editor, that you become extremely "touchy" with any issue relating to the See and the Cathedral of Alexandria. Quite often, in the past, you have "blasted" any

Two conference championships within a week; that's performance, and our athletes at Glengarry District High School rate more than an "E" for Effort. Let's add an "A" for Ability, a "D" for Dedication, a "P" for Performance and a "T" for Teamwork.

And that crowd that witnessed the final football game on a bitterly cold day tells of school spirit, too. Our youngsters did us proud and their success on the sport field suggests this generation of GDHS students has plenty on the ball.

The football Gaels went undefeated through a tough season and won decisively in the league play-off over last year's champs. The GDHS senior soccer boys were tied twice but had no defeats as they booted three goals in the final against Tagwi.

That victory came last Tuesday, a day after our Sports in the Glens columnist had taken off to cover winter sports in the Florida sun belt. His last column covering the football victory was intended for t issue. If he had been here last ek, Angus would have had rm words of praise for the hool's soccer champs.

We're subbing for him when say: "Fine booting, boys!"

MASKS FOR THE MASSES

Minor hockey players now must ar helmets and mouthguards, the point where it becomes possible for even relatives to ecognize their budding stars. And so the next safety measure becomes more acceptable, perhaps.

Beginning with the 1977-78 season, we read, it will be mandatory for players affiliated with the Ontario Minor Hockey Association—everyone between 8 and 18—to wear face masks. Some minor hockey players already are wearing masks, it says here, and the rule would be in force this year except there are not enough masks available.

Great Jumping Jehosaphat isn't that a picture to contemplate? Hallowe'en on the arena ice surface every night of the week and practically all weekend, too. And after Johnnie has gone through 10 years of hockey behind a mask will he be so lost without it the false face will become standard equipment in the big leagues, too?

Surely there's a better answer to facial cuts in hockey than making masks mandatory? Have the minor hockey moguls considered the alternative of ruling out high sticking? Of cleaning up a game they have permitted to get too rough?

If it's the youngest age groups that need the most protection perhaps the answer lies in making them proficient on skates before permitting them to carry a hockey stick. Many a high stick in sprite hockey circles is up there to help Johnnie balance cause he can't skate yet.

Seems to us minor hockeyists are on the wrong track and they might well be taking lessons from the Russians who start with skating mastery before the kids are expected to handle a stick.

Seems to us the parents of minor hockeyists would be raising a stink, too, at the prospect of dishing out still more money for equipment. What will the proud parent be proud of when his kid scores a hat trick and dad has to find out from the score sheet?

Seems to us minor hockey is having all the fun organized out of it. Why do parents permit it?

Oh what a day for civilization it was. Watergate has dimmed since "Boot Day." Let me tell you the whole story.

The whole drama began when our friendly pup—(she's part wolf, German Shepherd and Bassett hound) opened the back kitchen door and sauntered in with an expensive leather work boot and a smile.

"Do you think that Fang is hinting at her Christmas present?" asked my wife.

My mind whirled faster than the button of an outhouse door when a family has the trots. "Good gracious, I hope not. My mental whirring over the cost of Grab Kodaks—she'd need two pair of course—has caused my brain to go tilt."

"Usually the mention of work causes your mind to grind gears, shifting into neutral," retorted my wife, as she approached Fang in her rocking chair. "I wonder if the leg is still in the boot? I mind the time she brought home the seat of a trespassing snowmobiler's pants."

"Yes—and part of the snowmobiler's seat also. Strange, why that is never mentioned as a way to lose weight instantly."

"Hullo, what's this, a zipper on the inside of a workboot? Look at this, dear, there's some papers on the inside lining."

"What is it about?" I queried.

She reads the papers after removing them from their waterproof container. "How to do it to others" or "A secret and invincible plan for settling land claims" by Trespass Canada Pipeline. Please commit to memory and then mail to the Paper Shredders in Ottawa, Washington or Niagara Falls."

"Wow!" I exclaimed, "Now we'll see how it's done. Read on.

Follow these steps and techniques.

Approach the farmer eighteen months before construction is to start on his property, long enough for him to forget what you tell him. Do not approach Eastern Ontario farmers until you have passed module 7 of DITO (Doing it to Others), i.e. 'The Glengarry handshake.'

If the farmer is smaller than you, growl and grimace; if bigger, then either smile or leave and return with one of our 'jungle' men. In case a farmer's wife is your contact, be oily as in module 9 Interrelationships: Wife Trampling. This module applies in her house, not in the Grand or the Bide-a-Wee.

Never turn your engine off and always turn your vehicle around and heading out before opening negotiations. Try to discuss matters near your vehicle so that engine noise will drown out your T-D MKII. (There is a footnote here and it says that it means the tricky Dicky Tape Machine 1972 model.

Announce that you need some temporary right of way and that you will return later. Try to make this statement without smiling. Always have negotiator B make the second contact. He is then able to express amazement at the statements made by negotiator A.

Most landowners will express some concern when the multitude of shovels, dozers and heavy equipment begins rumbling across his fields. Here is a list of clincher statements:

"Oh no, on the contrary, these machines vibrate the soil and improve it, just as the vibrator improves virility in vegetables."

"My, my do you mean that the other fellow told you we were only going to need 40 feet, not 400. That's a forgiveable error, I'm certain, that a man as intelligent as you, can see that."

"HaHa don't worry, there's a man coming down the line and he'll give you everything we feel you deserve. Are you a drinking man?"

Unfortunately, there was more and unfortunately just then grandpa rushed in grabbed the sheets out of my wife's hand and rushed back to the outhouse. My wife said it was retributive justice, whatever that is.

Martintown's Family Night was a full house success. Hard work on the part of the school committee, the co-chairmen Lorraine Ramsay and Marion McCuaig and the best principal in the Glengary-Stor-Dun. board, Ken Emond made it so.

The big night is this Sat., Nov. 27 at yon Bonnie Glen: A banquet, concert and dance. Marcel and Jeannine Lanthier and their cooking, haggis and all are featured in the banquet. Pipe Majors David Danskin and John MacKenzie and the Glengarry Pipe Band and Rae MacCulloch's dancers are featured in the concert and Sylvester MacDonald and his County Clansmen are featured in the dance. Max Keeping and Peter Emmerson are featured guests. Proceeds aid Pipe Band activities.

On Nov. 30 Angus R. MacDonell has organized a St. Andrew's Concert and Dance in the new Alexandria arena hall. Tickets are on sale at the Hub and in Cornwall at Coronet. Howard Morris and other performers from the past will be featured with the Brigadoons and the MacCulloch dancers.

The 4-H session in Alexandria last weekend was very successful. Our Martintown group "The Teacups" was under the capable leadership of Beverley Runions, Kinloch Rd., and Sylvia Thomson, Glen Falloch.

My contest continues. You may win a book by doing two things: (1; Write out as many reversible English words as you can, e.g. mom; (2) Make sense out of the following by means of punctuation only: Put more space between: Horse and and and and and Collar. This was a note sent to a sign painter by my pub owning uncle. Mail to me at Glen Falloch.

He is a native of Nova Scotia, a graduate of Acadia University there and of the Presbyterian College, Montreal. Dr. MacLean served as a chaplain overseas during World War II with the 1st Battalion, Argyl and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada. Since then his pastorates have been at Dresden, Ont., Sussex, N.B., and since the late Fall of 1975, at Iroquois.

A welcome from the congregation was given to Dr. MacLean and Mrs. MacLean from the Rev. D. R. Chatreau, BA, BD. Music was given by Kenneth W. Johns a member of Maxville choir and Mrs. Peter Walsh at the organ.

Get the right package together.

That's what it's all about so you can start your corn harvest earlier with good performance. You have probably tried early varieties and been disappointed with the results and tried the full season varieties and ended up with high yield and also high moisture. With the high cost of fuel the high moisture level of full maturing varieties reduces your potential of high profit. Over the years Funk research has developed high yielding, fast drying varieties for all maturing ranges, so it is no longer necessary to sacrifice yield or pay the penalty of excessive moisture. We have not eliminated the drying cost, but we can reduce it and you can increase your profit per acre. If you have a small or large corn acreage, grow corn for grain or silage, select Funk's G Hybrids for high yield, strong stand and fast dry down. It is recommended that you use 2 or 3 different maturing Funk's G Hybrids for best performance. Planting different maturing Hybrids allows you to start earlier and harvest your crop at its peak of maturity.

eg. 20% early maturing, 60% medium maturing and 20% full maturing. This may vary by your particular needs, equipment, soil and climatic conditions. At Funk's we feel that the early maturing gets you going till the medium maturing is ready. The medium maturing should give you the bulk of your harvest as it will finish with low moisture content giving you good profit per acre. The quantity of full maturing will be determined by you, as this is the higher risk, higher profit potential area and we recommend you choose this carefully to use with the early and medium maturing varieties. Here are several suggested packages for grain.

Getting the right package together is just as important for silage too. Particularly so for the farmer with the big acreage. The right package will allow you to make high tonnage, high quality silage throughout the harvest season. Here are several packages for silage.

policy that seemed to interfere with your vision of the Diocese of Alexandria. We all love our old See City. We are attached to it, to its past and to its wonderful people, but we like to look at things realistically. Times have changed . . . The Bishop, Pastor and Leader, must be where he can best lead and Cornwall happens to be in the centre of all diocesan activities.

Our Diocese will not be the first "hyphenated" Diocese. If you would care to seek out more information, you would find that throughout the Roman Catholic world, there are quite a few "hyphenated dioceses"—i.e.—Bruxel-les-Malines in Belgium, Fort Wayne-South Bend in Indiana; Wheeling-Charleston, West Virginia, etc. . . . There is nothing wrong with this. In our case, Alexandria is simply asked to share with Cornwall the honor of the Diocesan See. Why then should you raise such a fuss about it? . . . As for the "cathedral issue," we have this to say: like you, Mr. Editor, we have great respect for our cathedral in Alexandria, but this does not stop us from having a co-cathedral in Cornwall.

There is indeed no need for you to come up with a name that might ring a little truer. Your attempted combinations of Alexandria and Cornwall sound more than a bit corny—in fact extremely corny and even stupid!

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

We just want to let you know that we receive, now and then, a copy of the Glengarry News. We must say that it is a real pleasure to get news of the local happenings in Lancaster and surrounding area.

This is our second year working on various construction sites in Northern Quebec and, likewise, it is almost two years now that we have been receiving copies of your newspaper. Due to the fact that our only true means of communication is through the Post Office, receiving the Glengarry News really brings back the old nostalgic feelings in us.

The feeling is grand; our friends unforgettable. Give Tish Filiatrault our best regards and wish her well now that she is a Registered Nurse. Our friends will certainly be in good hands to say the least. We sincerely hope that Paul is doing well with his hotel in Dalhousie. Just a reminder that we will be dropping in to see Paul at Xmas. Of course we will be returning to the area to visit with our family and friends for a period of three weeks during the holidays.

My friend R.S. is doing very well as assistant warehouse manager and myself am at present the cardex manager for the garage. We like our jobs but find being away from home difficult to accept at times. We often get lonely but wanting to be home is just wishful thinking. Receiving the Glengarry News is the second best thing to being home.

Our appreciation goes without saying for the opportunity to get such informative news from our home area. The Glengarry News is very well put together and certainly the most informative. Keep up the good work! We thank you kindly for giving us the chance of hearing from our friends through your newspaper. We would appreciate very much seeing this letter printed, for our folks' sake, in the Glengarry News. Let all the folks back home know that we miss their company, that we think of them all the time and wish them well every day. You are superb! And thanks again.

P.S. Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year to all!

TRYING FOR SATURDAY

6 Foothills Drive,
Ottawa, Ontario

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

In answer to Mrs. Lyall Symonds' letter to the Editor in the November 11th, issue concerning the Glengarry '76 program recently held on Friday night October 29th, at the National Arts Centre, I would like to state that our first choice, for the Art Centre, was Saturday night.

We contacted the Arts Centre in April, 1976, trying to obtain a firm date for a Saturday night which would be more suitable for Glengarrians having to travel this distance to attend this concert. We waited for ages before they would even indicate whether we could have either night, then they informed us that the only night available was Friday October 29th, 1976.

We are hoping to be able to present a new Glengarry "77" Concert next year and all attempts will be made to obtain a Saturday night booking.

Walter Stewart, President,
The Glengarry Club of Ottawa.

DRINKING A HAZARD

Dalkeith, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

An open letter to Canadians who in one year spent 2.6 billion dollars for over the counter purchases of liquor, beer and wine, not including money spent in bars, taverns and restaurants.

There are an estimated 200,000 alcoholics in Canada today and another 800,000 problem drinkers. We hope no one who reads this letter is one of them. If you are a social drinker there is no guarantee that you won't become one. Some are alcoholics from their first drink, others take longer to develop the addiction, but no one ever started drinking intending to become an alcoholic.

Alcoholism is the country's fourth (some say third) most serious health hazard. Heart disease, cancer and mental disease are considered greater but in many cases alcohol is involved in those too.

Dr. H. David Archibald, director of the Addiction Research Foundation gives some startling facts. He said, "The more people there are in any society who drink—even though most drink moderately—the more alcoholics there will be, and the greater the incidence of alcohol-related health damage. 60% of cirrhosis deaths due to alcohol, 22% peptic ulcer deaths, 18% of suicides, 15% of pneumonia deaths, 16% of deaths from cancer of upper digestive and respiratory tracts and more than 5% of deaths due to heart and artery disease." He has found that alcohol was involved in 45% of deaths from poisoning, 43% fire deaths and almost 26% of deaths due to falls.

Over 50% of drivers in fatal car accidents had been drinking. Metropolitan Life Insurance in a study of 250 homicides reported that in 46% of the cases either the slayer or the victim had been drinking.

Women, if they drink the same amount as a man, succumb to the health problems more quickly than men due to their lower body weight; many children born to drinking mothers suffer from what is called "the fetal alcohol syndrome." Dr. Martin Wolfish, Chief of Adolescent Services, Hospital for Sick Children, said he was genuinely alarmed at the number of intoxicated youngsters coming for treatment. Where do they say they get their booze? At home! It is a proven fact that the availability of alcohol increases consumption and as Health Minister Frank Millar stated "As consumption goes up so does damage to health." He also said, "Health is affected negatively by regular as well as by heavy drinking." Need we say more?

The Committee for a sane, sober, and healthy Society.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Friday, November 17, 1911

The accidental finding of the partial remains of a human skeleton on Lot 22-3rd Lochiel, last Saturday afternoon, has given local officials a mystery to solve. Two young sons of the tenant, Dennie Jeaurond, came across the remains, which consisted of a skull, lower jaw, hip bones, a thigh bone, and other lesser bones, while out hunting. A search of the area disclosed remains of clothing, a lady's gold ring, a small purse and other articles, which pointed to the fact that the body was that of a woman. Indications evidenced the fact that the remains had been exposed for years.—The GTR Co. is erecting a most modern station at Maxville.—The J. T. Schell Co. are preparing to shortly install the new interior fittings in the main post offices at Toronto and Winnipeg.—D. Courville, hardware and furniture dealer, successfully opened the Crystal Block on Wednesday.—Among the results tabulated this week from the recent census, we note the following populations: Alexandria, 2,318; Lancaster Village, 618; Maxville, 759.—The Independent Telephone Co., which has between twenty and thirty subscribers in Maxville, have completed the erection of the poles and are now busy stringing the wire.

EIGHTY YEARS AGO

Town Council decided, at Monday's regular meeting, to submit a by-law to the electors, on the 12th of December, which would authorize the Reeve and Treasurer to borrow $6,000 for thirty years, to make certain improvements and additions to the water-works system. The by-law gives the amount of the whole rateable property of Alexandria as $202,202.00, and the amount of existing debenture debt, for all purposes including schools, totals $31,800.—The new line now being built by the Canadian Pacific Railway between Montreal and Ottawa, will be completed as far as Vankleek Hill within ten days.—Messrs. Munro & McIntosh have extended their trade to the U.S. This week they shipped to Dr. Hugh J. McDonald of Butte, Mont., a "Solid Comfort" cutter.—There is a movement on foot to have a High School started in Maxville.—The Maxville butter factory commenced operations on Monday, with Mr. Howey of Oxford Mills, in charge. It has given quite an impetus to winter dairying in the district.

Introducing a new face in the ELECTIONS FOR CHARLOTTENBURGH MUNICIPAL COUNCILLOR

Meet Lorne Barclay

QUALIFICATIONS:
A full-time member of your Community who cares.
Ex-Businessman with organizational ability.
Experience with service clubs and boys' groups organizations, including public speaking.
Retired serviceman with W. W. II overseas service.

It would be impossible for me, in an area as large as ours, to meet all the voters before election date. Therefore, I am taking this opportunity, through the news media, to say a few words to the electors. I wish them to know my position and the reason for my seeking election to Council.

I was asked to place my name for nomination because it was felt that there would not be enough names submitted to form a three-man slate for Council. I would like to congratulate my fellow competitors who, as myself, care enough to realize that the affairs of the community are worth every effort on your behalf.

The election promises which are made at this time are only as good as the person making them. We must realize that he is not alone in the fulfillment of these promises. He must cope with the other elected officials and, although he tries, you cannot be assured that he will bring about the desired changes.

I make no promises other than good honest administration, to the best of my ability, with equal shares to all regions of the Municipality. It is the tax dollars collected from all regions that are spent on any and all improvements in the Municipality.

In closing, I wish to thank the electors who have spent their time reading this message. I will make one promise to you, should I be elected. Semi-annually I will send all electors a news letter, covering all business brought before your Council during this period, what has been acted upon, and why, to keep you fully informed as to the activities of your Council.

Anyone wishing to communicate further with me, please call me at 528-4663.

Asks moderation in Christmas lights

As the province heads into winter, Ontario Hydro warns that consumption of electric power goes into high gear, and asks for moderation and conservation.

The return to standard time, shorter daylight periods and colder weather bring, almost overnight, a dramatic jump in daily demands of two to three hundred thousand kilowatts, according to H. K. Wright, Hydro's Director of Energy Conservation.

This is the time too, when plans are made to brighten the early winter with Christmas lighting displays. While not wanting to reduce the spirit of Christmas, Hydro points out the need to moderate the size of the lighting display as part of its conservation program.

It has also adopted the slogan of "Off until 7 p.m., and off again at bedtime," regarding indoor and exterior lighting displays for homes, stores and offices.

Hydro does not anticipate a problem in meeting winter power needs this year, but points out electric power consumption continues on a rising curve. Last winter, for instance, five all-time record peak demands were set in successive months. Any savings along the way, such as with Christmas displays, help to keep these increases more moderate.

Film on alcohol topic of meeting

The monthly CPTA meeting at Iona Academy was opened by Sr. Marie with a Scripture Reading "A Time for Everything" with thoughts pertaining to Remembrance Day.

Mrs. Van Nooten gave a report on the last Board meeting which she attended. While there she had presented a brief about furthering our Catholic High School education and getting a relief for our high school teachers.

President Marie MacDonald, who attended our CPTA meeting in St. Catharines suggested we should send two CPTA members to sit in at the school board meetings to keep abreast of what is happening. Two parents volunteered to attend the November meeting.

Fact sheets, "Who is responsible for our childrens' education?" were distributed for home reading.

Our guest speaker from Alcoholics Anonymous was introduced by Jane Smits and showed a film on alcoholism entitled "The First Step." A stimulating discussion followed on the use of alcohol and how it affects the family and community. Fr. Ostler closed the meeting with silent meditation on Memorial Day.

The silver dollar was won by Margaret Van Nooten. The next meeting to be held December 8th.

Juniors hear talk on farm safety at banquet

If a score were to be kept on the occupation with the highest accident risk, dairy farming would place a decisive third, said Harold Morphy, guest speaker at the fourth annual 4-H Awards Banquet, Thursday evening, at GDHS.

Mr. Morphy, who is with the Farm Safety Association of Ontario, said that if a complete record of farm accidents was reported to his office the figures would probably place the industry in first place.

When we tour the counties, visiting farmers in an effort to help them avoid possible injuries, we invariably see situations which have caused injuries on other dairy operations, Mr. Murphy noted.

One thing we have been able to do, he said, is to have a "no riders" sticker placed on all tractors at the point of sale. This may not eliminate the problem of two on a tractor but we hope it will at least make the people more aware of the danger and cause them to hold on a little tighter.

"Compensation is a subject which sometimes gets farmers irritated when they have to pay into it for their hired help. However, the Department of Health realized that a large number of accidents were happening on farms and eventually one of them would cause a court case.

"If an individual hires help and neglects to cover himself with compensation he is taking a very big chance. With compensation, any injuries suffered while on the job are covered, protecting the farmer from a possible claim against him in court," noted Mr. Morphy.

"When people covered by compensation are hurt they are entitled to approximately 75 per cent of their wages plus a pension, depending on the nature and extent of the injury," he said.

The Farm Safety Association has received over 2,000 claims this year, 37 of which were fatal and half of those 37 involved persons less than 20 years old. Some 40 to 50 accidents involving the loss of a limb also were in that age group.

There is no age limit to the persons who may be injured since these 2,000 claims were for people from 3 to 68.

"Tractor roll-over is a factor this year and for the life of me I can't understand why," commented Mr. Morphy. "It would appear that it is because of the way the tractor is hitched. Only the other day I noticed one tractor pulling another" he observed; "and where do you think it was hitched? Why, to the top link. Now for the life of me I don't know why they didn't use the draw bar since top link hitching appears to be one of the causes of roll-overs."

"Another contributor to injury is power take-off, loose clothing, and the neglect of farmers to replace protective shields over the power supply."

"The lack of safety standards may not directly affect the individual or his family at that time, but what about the future. After all, children learn by example and if they see their parents practising poor safety standards they will probably form the same habits, possibly leading to injury to themselves."

"I have only just scratched the surface on a vast subject but the one bit of advice I can give that may help reduce accidents on the farm is: take a coffee break" were his closing remarks.

A report to Montreal milk shippers re quota

As of Nov. 1st the price of Class I milk was raised to $12.75 per cwt for 3.5 BF test, instead of $12.21 for 3.4 BF test. The differential will be 13 cents a point, notes Gerard Massie in a report to Glengarry milk producers who ship to the Montreal

Sales of Class I quota and sharing quota will be handled differently starting this month. On the last Tuesday of every month in Ste. Martine, Que., quota will be offered for sale, if any, through auction to the highest bidder.

The seller will have to advise the Federation des Producteur des lait in St. Remi, three days before the date of the sale. The buyer cannot buy more than 100 lb. lots of Class I and 1000 BF lbs of sharing quota in any month.

This for a limited time only to give a fair chance to more producers to buy quota. The seller will also lose 10% for Class I and 25% for sharing, at time of sale, this portion goes in a reserve for gradual entry. The buyer is sure of the amount he buys, with no cuts.

On Nov. 17th, all directors of the Federation were invited to a meeting in Longueuil, at the Holiday Inn, where we studied and discussed proposals for the next day, November 18, when all producers on the fluid market were invited to express their views. The delegates at the meeting voted in favor of some modifications to the joint plan such as more power in the buying of the milk and the right to direct the milk in the province.

They also agreed to a six-cent increase for publicity, promotion and in the development of new dairy products using more Class I milk. For example, there is a new type of milk that will keep without refrigeration for some length of time. A special shipment of this milk was sent to Guatemala at the time of the earthquake. Since then, they seem to be very interested in buying more. The Federation is very anxious to supply them and will seek for new markets. This might increase the percentage of our Class I quotas. In September they took 88% and in October 85% and they hope to increase the percentage in the future.

During the summer the dairies presented a brief to the Regie des Marche Agricole du Quebec demanding a raise in the retail price and the Federation saw fit to do the same.

The Regie saw fit to raise the price to the producers and the dairies stating that no increase occurred over a period of almost 20 months. The Regie controlls the price of bottled milk in Quebec, of course the producer also. The Regie recognized the fact that the cost of living in Canada had lowered and the reason for this was on account of foods. They stayed at a standstill while the rest continued to rise continuously.

We, the farmers, should realize that there is something wrong and the cost of labor and depreciation should be included in the cost of production formulas.

Club Girl Entertains demonstrated here

Glengarry County 4-H homemaking clubs concluded their current project—"The Club Girl Entertains," on Saturday, at Glengarry District High School.

Each member had to complete a record book, as well as exhibiting a Hostess Reference File. This file contained information on party menus, flower arrangements, etiquette and many other subjects of interest. The work completed by the girls was well done.

The first part of the afternoon program dealt with exhibits, skits and a demonstration. The skits were presented by Dalkeith, Maxville, Lochiel and Martintown. The demonstration was performed by Alexandria, with Nicole and Louise Lemieux and Helen Morris as demonstrators. Three exhibits were presented. Marga Oetelaar was commentator for the Picnic Grove exhibit; Sandra Tenger commented on the Dunvegan exhibit, and Heather MacRae represented the Bainsville club with her comments and exhibits. The girls did a lovely job of their presentations, and the audience gained some further insight into the many aspects of etiquette.

The second part of the afternoon program was the presentation of awards. Provincial Honor pins and certificates were awarded to four girls for having successfully completed twelve homemaking projects. They were Heather MacRae of Bainsville, Marilynn Larocque from Lochiel, who also was the recipient of an Ottawa Citizen award to further her education, and Glenda and Sandra MacPherson from the Picnic Grove club, for having completed six (6) Homemaking clubs successfully. County Honor pins and certificates were awarded to Anne Van Loon and Elsie Van Rooi from Martintown, and Margo Oetelaar from the Picnic Grove Club.

All of the 4-H members and leaders who completed the project were given a silver spoon upon conclusion of the Achievement Day.

Mrs. Doreen Armstrong, from Ottawa, helped with the morning activities, and commented on the skits, demonstration and exhibits.

Miss Mary Michels, County Home Economist, conducted the day's program. Upon concluding the day she reminded the girls of the spring project—"Consider Your Clothes." In this project the girls will be making a blouse from a knit or a woven. All the present members were encouraged to attend and new members kwho have turned 12 by March 1st, 1977, were especially welcomed.

The 4-H pledge marked the closing of a successful day.

FALL FISHING—Not all the big ones get away and Albert Laporte, Catherine St. east, Alexandria, was able to haul this 9 lb. pickerel from the Nation River. He brought it home last Wednesday.

In Memoriam

McCULLOCH—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather John H. McCulloch who passed away November 26, 1966.
We often sit and talk of you,
The things you used to say and do.
Deep in our hearts your memory is kept,
We love you, we'll never forget.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Two working hands at rest,
He lived his life for those he loved,
And those he loved remember.
—Sadly missed by daughter Eva MacEachern and granddaughter Shirley Steinhoff,
Windsor, Ont. 47-1p

VAILLANCOURT — In loving memory of our dear brother Guy who passed away on November 26th, 1968.
What we would give if we could say,
Hello Guy in the same old way,
To hear your voice, see your smile,
And sit with you and chat a while.
So you who have a brother,
Cherish him with care,
For you'll never know the heartache,
Till you see his vacant chair.
—Sadly missed by Jeannine and Richard. 47-1c

SPORTS in the GLENS

by ANGUS H. McDONELL

In our time Glengarry has produced star-studded teams in hockey, lacrosse, soccer and school football. And now standing shoulder to shoulder with those great athletes of yesteryear are the 1976 gridiron champions of the SD&G football league—the GDHS Gaels.

Football champions must possess confidence, poise and ability to carry out the coaches' game plan. Gaels displayed all those fundamentals last Friday and were deserving winners by a wide margin. There was no tomorrow, so they made sure it was today.

We thought that early in the game we detected a contrasting attitude on the CCVS side. In their second series when Raiders had to punt after failing to make yards, one of their ball carriers slammed the pigskin to the ground in frustration. Right there was the first rip in the seams binding confidence, poise and pride of reigning champions. It turned out to be the beginning of the end for Raiders.

Gaels were positive in every department. Among the unsung heroes on the line was offence centre Carl Vanderberg. Danny McPherson in the rover slot of Gaels' linebackers had Glenn Dick in his sights almost all afternoon. Normand Laliberte, back in action after injuries, made a vast difference in pass protection with his effective blocking. One of the chief reasons Lee was hitting Charlebois with such accuracy.

To the winner go the spoils. The McArthur Trophy will be in a familiar setting for another year. Gaels had won this award in the old Glengarry-Prescott loop eight times. The silverware was donated some years ago by the late postmaster in Lancaster, Jim McArthur.

The Edwards cup possesses prestige and vintage. It has been in competition for some 50 years. When first donated it was emblematic of the Ottawa and District championship. It was later turned over to the Eastern Ontario Secondary School Association.

Last Friday had to be a memorable day, Gaels, and to all you fine young student athletes, your coaches and assistants from Principal Phil Lloyd down to the traditional water boy, our heartiest congratulations.

1977 REBUILDING YEAR

Gaels will have to start almost all over again next fall in a rebuilding project. Among the graduates are Danny McPherson, Normand Laliberte, Johnny Charlebois, Wayne Lee and Jeff Hudson. However, this is not unusual in school football.

HITHER AND YON

Following last Friday's game two of the four officials made a fast return to Ottawa. Chuck Paul and Gib Seguin had to catch a flight to Hamilton for the TiCats-Als game on Saturday.

During the last quarter, a fan edged close to us and inquired, "Who is that tall No. 77 from Cornwall?" (That was our scholarly nephew who is also a better than average golf, basketball and football player, Rory McCormick). We replied, "I don't know. But why do you want to know?" "Well just before those guys huddle he always stands there with upraised arms. If he is ever mugged on Pitt street he sure as hell will know how to hold his hands up."

At half time we first thought we had met two Toronto Globe and Mail sport writers, Christie Blatchford and Dick Beddoes . . . The chic gal in the fall ensemble of dark shades and sport chapeau wasn't G&M's Blatchford . . . that was Lynn Whitham of the GDHS English teaching staff . . . and the young photo-reporter wearing sun glasses and flashing a glowing "Bahn" or Buckland beard was Barry MacDonald.

A Greenfield scout tells us that late Saturday afternoon Wilbert McDonald was seen hiking across the fields and CN tracks with snowshoes slung over his shoulder bearing in large print . . . destination, Hibernation, no zip code . . . this prompted "Hoppy" Gallant to quip . . . Wilbert's den will likely also house Marv Levy, Johnny Rodgers and Andy Hopkins.

And now as we close out the football season just before hitting south we are calling Roughriders to play Rough Riders in the Grey Cup bonanza . . . there is no substitute for experience is an old sport phrase . . . that means Ron Lancaster and Regina will take over from Edmonton on Saturday and win in Toronto next week. S'long folks!

Euchre winners at Hill

Winners of the euchre held on Nov. 11th in the Legion Hall, Apple Hill, were: Ladies—Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, Mrs. Lois Presley; low Miss Beatrice Tracey. Gents—Bill MacMillan, Dave Rombough; low Eldred Scott. Door prizes—Robert Jackson, Mrs. John Marjerrison, Eldred Scott and Mrs. Dorice Brabant.

Winners of the draw were: Scott Colbran, Apple Hill, $25; Douglas Modler, Montreal, $15; and Mrs. Archie MacIsaac, Apple Hill, $10.

FOR

IN KENYON TOWNSHIP

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF KENYON TOWNSHIP:

I solicit your support as Reeve of the Township of Kenyon, and promise you continued honest and efficient business management for the Township of Kenyon.

During my years as Reeve we have built a new township garage and our road equipment now includes two graders, three trucks, one bulldozer and fully equipped plows. Our Township Office is equipped with all modern office equipment, with everything fully paid for. We have given $5000 toward Maxville Manor and $3000 toward Apple Hill Clinic. Upon taking office the Township was borrowing as much as $70,000 from the Bank. For the last four years we have been free of borrowing and have no debts except the balance of debentures on the Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

A donation of $5000 was given towards the Sports Palace in Alexandria, on a $1000 per year basis. In the event of Maxville Village building an arena, which also provides facilities for Kenyon children, the same consideration will be given. I wholeheartedly support these centres, but since Kenyon is an agricultural area, with a small amount of industry assessment, I have felt that our first and necessary commitments were towards the improvement of roads and drainage to increase the production on farms. I invite any ratepayer to visit our township clerk for any further information they desire regarding Kenyon Township affairs.

I have served all factions and sections of the municipality on an equal and fair basis and I solicit your support on proven performance.

CWL to help support Sister Simone

At the CWL Nov. 11th Diocesan meeting at St. John Bosco, chaired by Mrs. Eileen Anderson, a project was launched to give financial support to Missionary Sister Simone Lefebvre, C.S.C.

Sr. Lefebvre, a devoted nun in the service of God, volunteered her services to the White Dog Cree Indian Reserve, near Kenora, Ontario.

Mrs. Leo Kennedy, diocesan Church Life convener, introduced the project by tracing the origin of the Indian to America.

Mrs. Mervyn MacDonald gave an outline of Sr. Simone's previous career in St. Raphael's parish referring to her outstanding teaching personality. Said Mrs. MacDonald, "Sister had a way with youth and they respected and loved her."

Sister Kathryn Cameron C.S.C. described the work undertaken by Sr. Lefebvre and its hardships in that poverty-stricken area and her hope and desire to bring comfort to those spiritually bankrupt peoples. A film was shown, depicting the hopes and dreams of the Indians in Ontario.

Previous to the meeting mass was concelebrated by Diocesan Director Rev. Charles MacDonald, Father Rejean Lebrun and Father Gary Ostler. Mrs. Rose Deruchie welcomed the members. Mrs. Marion Haramis read the minutes, Mrs. Bernice Tessier called the roll, read correspondence and gave the treasurer's report.

In fitting tribute to Remembrance Day, Rev. Rejean Lebrun, director of St. John Bosco council showed slides of his tour of the beaches of Normandy, the war dead graves, describing it as a real pilgrimage.

Rev. Charles MacDonald requested as many groups as possible view the film, "The First Step."

Rev. Gary Ostler thanked the CWL for their generous contribution to buy books for Shalom Library and invited the ladies to plan weekend or one day a month retreats.

Organization convener, Mrs. Therese Gaudet, told the ladies that our primary motive in being CWL members is spiritual, based on love and kindness toward our fellow man. She urged the ladies to have strong ideals in their convenerships and suggested a parish council monthly newsletter.

Miss Alice MacGillis, communications, had a plea for more open lines of communications between executives, members and director, and to mend any broken or defective lines, all for the good and growth of the league.

Congratulations were given to Miss Mildred Cleary, Past Prov. President, who has been appointed National Convener of CWL Laws.

After adjournment lunch and a social half-hour was enjoyed by all.

KC establish bursary honor Bishop Smith

The recent Ontario State Convention of the Knights of Columbus paid unanimous tribute to His Excellency the Most Rev. William J. Smith, by establishing a bursary in his honor.

According to the resolution passed, "a fund will be known as the Bishop William J. Smith Bursary and all distributions shall be made in the name of the Bishop as a tribute to this faithful Knight."

An article in the September issue of the Ontario State Bulletin reads as follows:

Bishop Smith, over the years has become perhaps the best known and best loved Chaplain in the history of the Order, not only in Canada but throughout the United States as well.

Bishop Smith as a layman joined Council 755, Cornwall, in March, 1918 and became a charter member of the new Glengarry Council at Alexandria when it was formed in 1919.

He entered the Seminary in 1921 and during his time at St. Augustines in Toronto and Grand Seminary at Montreal, he was the only Knight of Columbus among the students.

During the depression the new Council at Alexandria was in danger of losing its property. The members elected Father Smith, then the Secretary to the Bishop of Alexandria, as Grand Knight. The wisdom of their choice was evident when a car raffle was undertaken, the first ever in that part of the country, and by the fall of 1932 the Council was solvent again under Father Smith's guidance. During his term as Grand Knight he attended State Conventions in Brockville, Niagara Falls, and Sudbury, Ontario.

BISHOP SMITH

After a short tour for study in Rome, Father Smith was appointed Chaplain to Glengarry Council upon his return and he remained a Chaplain until 1944, when he moved to Cornwall.

In 1945 Father Smith became Bishop Smith of Pembroke and in June, 1951, Hugo F. Shaw appointed Bishop Smith a State Chaplain, succeeding Bishop Dignan. In June he celebrated 25 years of service to the Order in Ontario as Chaplain.
