Lawyer's bill tossed back by councillors

Alexandria Town Council has refused to pay the $1,500 owed to lawyer Robert Bergeron for his work in the Charlebois inquest.

Council instructed the clerk to return the bill to Bergeron with the suggestion that he send it to the Alexandria Police Commission.

The lawyer was retained by ex-mayor Bruno Massie, also chairman of the Police Commission at the time. He told The News last week that he had discussed the matter with commission member Judge George Stiles and had reached an understanding with him over the telephone.

The third member of the commission, Georges Lanthier, was in Florida and was not consulted in the matter.

Judge Stiles was unavailable for comment as he is in Quebec City for three weeks.

Georges Lanthier was also unavailable, as he is still on his sojourn to Florida.

J. P. Touchette, newly elected mayor and new member of the police commission, said he saw "no problem" with the way the matter was handled.

"If Judge Stiles said it was okay, then it's all right in my estimation," Touchette said.

When asked why council appointed a person to the commission who was out of town for a long period of time, Touchette said Lanthier had "hinted that he might want to resign."

MacLean dies in auto mishap

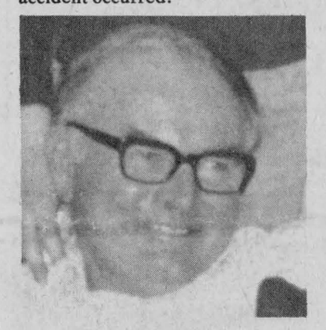
The entire community was saddened to learn of the accidental death on Saturday of one of its well-known residents, Ambrose MacLean of Bainsville.

The victim and his wife had left their home, situated on Old Highway 2 east of Lancaster and were in Binghamton, Pa. enroute to Florida for a vacation when the accident occurred.



AMBROSE MacLEAN

Reportedly, the couple had stopped on the highway behind several other cars who had halted due to an accident up front. Mr. MacLean was standing on the curbside talking to the driver of the car ahead of him when an on-coming transport went out of control and struck the MacLean car as well as several other vehicles. Both men were killed instantly, another adult and child are in critical condition and four additional children were injured.

Mrs. MacLean was still in the car when it was struck but escaped injury. She returned home with Dr. Jos. McLean of Cornwall, a brother of the victim who had gone to the scene of the tragedy, and the remains were returned by plane on Monday.

The funeral is being held today in St. Finnan's Cathedral with mass celebrated by Father Sylvester Theoret, parish priest at Lancaster, assisted by Father Leo MacDonell, rector.

Mr. MacLean was a native of the Sixth of Kenyon, the son of the late Angus MacLean and his wife, Angela MacDonald. He had worked in Sarnia, Collingwood and Owen Sound before returning to Glengarry where he conducted an extensive farm operation. He had also operated other inter-related farm lines in fencing and drainage where he employed several people throughout the area. He was known as a kind and helpful neighbor and staunch supporter of his church and community projects.

He leaves to mourn in addition to his wife, the former Annie O'Connor, two sons and five daughters. They are Wayne, Gail, Mrs. Al Al-Maini and Rose-Ann all of Toronto; Beverley Ann, Mrs. Ron Ross of Kitchener-Waterloo, Donna, Mrs. Wayne Stimson of Bala, Cathy, Mrs. Garry Howes of Maxville and Mark, a student at Glengarry District High School.

He is also survived by six brothers: Lloyd of Edmonton, Gerard, Hugh James and John of Toronto, David of Kitchener and Dr. Jos. McLean of Cornwall. He was predeceased by one sister, Margaret.

Solar greenhouses provide common link

Mark Lessard of Alexandria and Richard Kerr of Glen Sandfield have something in common that most people have never even seen—solar greenhouses.

The two met this week at the Kerr farm where they examined the greenhouse that Richard built onto his house. Mark compared it to the one he worked on, in Fernie, British Columbia, as part of his participation in the government Katimavik project.

Although similar in size, the two solar experiments are quite different in operation.

While the Kerr structure is built into the ground to benefit from the insulating qualities of the earth, the Fernie greenhouse is above ground.

Kerr does not yet have any real way of storing the heat collected during the sunlight hours.

Mark explained that his project included a system that used a rock bed under the floorboards that stored the heat. A fan was used to spread the warm air through the building.

No fan may be used at the Kerr residence, as the house is not wired for electricity.

Kerr's indoor garden also serves as a playground for his two children, as he installed a pair of swings.

Greenhouses aren't all that Mark learned about while on the Katimavik project.

He also worked on restoring an old paper mill and starting a recycling depot.

This week he leaves for Campbellton, New Brunswick, to work with the Parks and Recreation Department.

He got interested in Katimavik after reading an ad in a magazine. The 1,200 participants are working on about 30 projects as part of the government funded program.

It is hoped that next year the program will be double the size. Workers get $1 a day, plus room and board and $1,000 at completion of the nine-month term.

Province blasts rural severances

Charlottenburgh Township's Committee of Adjustment is being called up on the carpet by the Ontario government for approving too many severances.

In a strongly-worded letter to the committee, P. G. Rimmington of the Ontario Ministry of Housing, says the committee has often violated the Lower St. Lawrence Planning Area Official Plan and may even be undermining the Ontario Municipal Board appeal process.

"I feel it is necessary for the committee to meet with the staff at the earliest possible date to iron out the significant problems," Rimmington writes.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois claims the ministry is picking on Charlottenburgh and pledged to take the matter right to Premier Bill Davis if the Housing Ministry makes any moves towards restricting township severances.

In 1977, there were 92 severances granted in Charlottenburgh, more than the combined total granted in the remaining four townships within the lower St. Lawrence planning area.

Finch Township had the second highest number of severances at 18.

Over 100 severances were approved in Charlottenburgh in 1978.

The ministry is particularly critical of the way the committee handled the Geneau severance.

The committee granted a severance to Wilfred Geneau on County Road 17 only to have it overturned by the OMB after an appeal by Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Counties' engineer Donald McDonald.

Gadbois subsequently led a verbal attack on McDonald at a counties council meeting.

McDonald was advised by counties councillors to stay away from the political football.

Geneau reapplied for the same severance which was approved for a second time by the committee of adjustment.

In his letter, Rimmington questions the committee's judgment in approving the second application after the OMB ruled the severance contrary to the official plan.

"This type of action should only take place with the greatest of caution based on changes to approved policies or significant new information, in that it has the potential for undermining the appeals process."

Rimmington also notes that "besides this situation, our review of your decision has also shown that almost 33 per cent of other approvals either did not conform to the official plan or were questionable for other reasons such as excessive numbers of consents having been granted."

Ministry officials met in July to discuss similar concerns with the committee.

"Unfortunately, we have been unable to discern any appreciable improvement in the decisions being made," the letter states.

"I must stress the importance of this matter and encourage the committee to make every effort to improve its current performance."

Gadbois said Charlottenburgh isn't violating planning guidelines any more than other townships in SD&G.

"If our area is nice to live in, what's wrong with that?"

He said residential growth has kept the township prosperous.

"We're one of the few municipalities in the area that have no debenture debts."

The reeve said the committee of adjustment acted correctly in approving the second Geneau severance application because the OMB was not aware of all the facts when it overruled the first application.

Subdivision proposed for Avonmore village

Stanley Goodman of Avonmore has proposed a 21-lot subdivision for the east side of the village.

Roxborough Township Council received the proposal at its last meeting and referred the matter to the township solicitor for comment.

The 18,000 square-foot lots would contain single-family residential units.

Council has not yet made a decision on the plan.

In other business, council approved a $2,000 donation to the Finch Arena.

Township appoints new committees

Charlottenburgh Township Council has appointed its local committees for 1979 with the exception of the Raisin Region Conservation Authority representative.

Council is expected to name its appointee to the Authority this week.

The township planning board consists of Bruce Sova for three years, Sam Brkich for two years and Ian MacIntosh for three years. Appointed for one year are Reeve Adrian Gadbois, Councillor Bill Cooper, Councillor Don Kannon, Deputy Reeve Ewen MacDonald, Archibald MacDonell and Anthony Barber.

Councillor Morgan Major was appointed to the Nor'Westers Museum board and Cooper to the Char-Lan Animal Control Committee and Char-Lan Medical Centre.

Fence viewers are Wilfred MacNaughton, Stuart Buchan and Archie C. McDonald.

Bernard McDonald was named drainage commissioner.

The Committee of Adjustment includes Rod MacLennan, Douglas Farlinger and John Warden.

Parks and Recreation Committee includes Ewen MacDonald, Kannon, George Shoniker and Arthur Benton.

Fire Committee consists of Major, Kannon, Bearce Lafave and Alton Major.

Major will sit on the Nursery School Committee and Ewen McDonald and Sova are the representatives on the Glengarry Memorial Hospital Board.

Cemetery may be restored

Charlottenburgh Township Council has given a sympathetic ear to a proposal that an abandoned cemetery near the intersection of the Glen and Summerstown Roads be restored.

George Croll and Archibald MacDonald approached council last week to seek aid in improving the one-acre historic site.

The cemetery appears to have been in use from the early 1800s to about 1860. The township assumed the abandoned site about 10 years ago under the Cemeteries Act.

The two men proposed that the cemetery, which sits on a knoll, be fenced off and the remaining tombstones arranged as a central monument with a small walk leading to the structure.

The cemetery is believed to have been used by all religious faiths.

Reeve Adrian Gadbois said council would examine various grant programs to see what assistance could be provided.

NEW SERVICE FOR AREA—Maurice Fontaine, standing, and Catherine MacDonald are the area representatives for Developmental Services. This social agency, based at Glengarry Memorial Hospital, offers a number of services to the mentally handicapped in the Glengarry area.

Service is opened for the retarded

A new social service, headed by Yvon Riendeau of Hawkesbury, is now in operation from its base at Glengarry Memorial Hospital.

The local unit consists of two people, Catherine L. MacDonald and Maurice D. Fontaine.

The new agency offers a number of services. It is a facility branch of the Ministry of Community and Social Service.

One of the services offered is home behavior management. This is a program to teach the parents of handicapped children to cope with the problem in the home. The technique used is called behavior modification.

MacDonald and Fontaine also identify the developmentally handicapped and the mentally retarded.

A third service is to give counselling and support to the families of the handicapped and to supply public information.

They also act as consultants to group homes. They supply information and references to help the organizers of these institutions.

There is also an infant stimulation program that is used to try to help significantly delayed children. By early assessment and treatment these children can be brought up to regular standards.

The services are all offered in both English and French and there is no age limit for patients.

Firemen appointed

The Alexandria Fire Department has two new firemen, Rudolf Von Allmen and Roger Jeaurond were approved for service by council at its inaugural meeting.

The new members, both of Alexandria, will replace Michel Menard and Jean Guy Hamelin on the volunteer force.

"A SAD SIGHT," SAYS COUNCILLOR JOHN CORMIER —This house on Peel Street East has been an eyesore for some time now, and at Alexandria Town Council's last meeting an instruction was issued to the clerk to look into what can be done about it.

Solar group being formed

by Richard G. Kerr

On Friday, January 19 the public is invited to the founding meeting of a local chapter of the Solar Energy Society of Canada. The meeting will be held in the boardroom of the Ontario Agriculture and Food building on St. George St. East, Alexandria beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Solar Energy Society of Canada Inc. (SESCI) aims to encourage the proper use of solar energy. Among the subjects of interest to members of SESCI are energy conservation, solar collectors, heat storage, water heating using sun's energy, wind energy and agricultural uses such as crop drying, gas from farm manure and greenhouses.

A local chapter of SESCI can serve its members through information sessions, discussions, contracts, activities and publications.

At this first meeting on January 19, a brief account of the Williamstown Museum project will be presented.

The purpose of the meeting is to invite people to become members of the Solar Energy Society of Canada and to form a local chapter for current and new members. Members of SESCI make an annual (tax-deductable) donation of $10 to the national body and also support the local chapter.

Next week: Progress in Solar Energy in Canada.

Street light sought

Council passed a motion that asks the Public Utilities Commission to install a street light at the intersection of Park and Lochiel Streets in Alexandria.

This is the street west of the Sacred Heart Church, leading down to the Senior Citizen apartments.

CLARITY AND DURABILITY—Richard Kerr, left, explains to Mark Lessard that he chose plexiglass for his solar greenhouse because of its strength and its ability to let a large amount of sunlight through to the plants inside. The windows face south and west for maximum utilization of the sun's rays.

Man explains greenhouse

Florida in Dalkeith? Yes there is a small sunny and warm spot about two miles from Dalkeith. There are celery, lettuce, broccoli, spinach and Swiss chard growing in the greenhouse. It was built onto the south side of the house. On a sunny day in the winter there is extra heat in the greenhouse. Heat flows into the house because the greenhouse was built at the basement level. There is no need for any other heating of the house until after sunset. At night the woodstove in the house basement gives some of its heat to the greenhouse to keep the plants as warm as they need to be. So far the hardy plants are growing well. Heat loving plants such as tomatoes, cucumbers and flowers will be started soon. There is also a bed of plants which grows in the nutrient rich water (called greywater) that comes from the kitchen sink.

The greenhouse has a floor area of 18x25 feet. It is large enough to include two swings so that the children can play in the sun.

With an efficient wood stove, an attached greenhouse and a tight insulated house the wood burned so far this winter is kept to a minimum even though the house is on a windy hill.

The greenhouse was designed and built by Richard Kerr who is a graduate of Building Engineering from Concordia University.

Plan musical treat

Glengarry District High School is going to offer a rare musical treat soon as the McGill Concert Choir under the direction of Professor Tom Plaunt will be performing in person on Wednesday, January 24 at 8 p.m.

The McGill Concert Choir is formed, each year, of 45 carefully selected students enrolled in the faculty of music's programs' in performance, music education, theory, and history.

Some of the singers will soon be teaching in school music programs. Others will eventually try their wings as concert artists, orchestral players, composers, and historians.

It is conductor Tom Plaunt's job to weld such a diverse group of personalities into a disciplined artistic unit. Professor Plaunt brings to his task wide experience as a soloist; he is a concert pianist, and a choral conductor. He came to McGill from five years working under two of the more notable teachers in West Germany, Wilhelm Ehmann, and Martin Stephani.

For its concert at GDHS the choir has chosen works from four centuries. Three madrigals, about that introverted creature, the swan, begin their program. A cycle of pieces from seventeenth century Venice, Monteverdi's "Lamento d'Arianna" will be followed by Benjamin Britten's "Hymn to Saint Cecilia," a virtuoso work written in 1942 by this great English composer. The program concludes with Johannes Brahms' fiery "Zigeunerlieder" —the popular gypsy songs.

Members selected

The St. Raphael's Ruins Committee has expanded its membership to provide additional manpower in planning for the area's bi-centennial.

The committee hopes to coordinate the efforts of other historically-minded groups in SD&G in preparation for gala celebrations to commemorate the settlement of the area in 1784-86.

Anna Margaret MacDonald of Green Valley and Col. William Patterson of Cornwall have been added to the committee by Charlottenburgh Township Council at the request of Ruins Committee Chairman Robert McDonell.

Other members of the committee are Father Gary Ostler, Helen Kennedy, Councillor Bill Cooper, June McDonald and Mrs. Lloyd Fraser.

The Ruins Committee is also looking into the possibility of having the old Iona Academy building turned into a regional archives building for the Province of Ontario.

Maxville

Velma Franklin

All kinds of visitors stopped in to share their Christmas holiday with Mrs. Millie Eppstadt—Earl Eppstadt of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Grant of St. Laurent, Bobby Haggart and daughter of St. Laurent, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Miller and Cathy of Chomedy, Laval; Carol Lynn of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Johnstone, Wendy and Christopher, of St. Laurent—and many of her Maxville friends including Hugh Stewart and Archie Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blaney had a great family reunion between Christmas and New Year's too. Home with them were Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Chadbourn and Tara of Hampton, Virginia, and Mrs. Winnifred Chadburn of Gloucester Point, Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chapman came all the way from New Westminster, B.C. From Toronto Mr. and Mrs. Doug Blaney, and Neil Blaney, and also Ken McCordick of Forest, and Dave Summers of Guelph.

This Sunday coming—January 14—is the date for Minor Hockey's big annual skate-a-thon. At the Sports Complex, from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Anybody can skate rounds at any time. Parents, brothers, sisters, cousins—it's a fun way to enjoy an hour's skating, and meet all your friends at the rink. This is one of the major fund-raising projects of the year—the hockey players need your support.

Following the skate-a-thon the hockey mothers have organized a pot luck supper to be held in the hall at the arena. Bring a dish or two if everybody is coming.

Lions keep busy

The members of the Maxville Lions Club are just about the busiest men in this community, especially through the holiday season.

Early in December, the Finch and district Lions were welcomed to an enjoyable get-together when Labatt's representative Chuck Charlebois showed the 1978 Stanley Cup highlights.

In mid-December the Lions and their ladies held a Christmas party at Dimitrios, in Monkland, a very gala evening.

Their weekly 50-50 draw is as exciting as Wintario—and your chances of winning much higher. With the funds they raise the Lions support a wide variety of projects.

A $125 donation went to the Lions Seeing Eye Dog effort. There were $50 bursaries to Tagwi graduates and $200 towards the purchase of a bus for the use of the Maxville Highlanders—as long as this team keeps winning.

Not forgetting their old friends in the Maxville Manor, Lions Dunc McDonald and George Colbourne paid a visit shortly after Christmas and brought desk calendars for all the residents.

A further $25 was sent to the Belleville School for deaf children. Support for the big project continues as steady as ever—to date $18,000 has been paid of the original $30,000 arena commitment. And there is always a Lion or two minding the canteen at the rink—this week Marcel Champagne and Arnold Munro.

More help coming too—on January 4 at the regular dinner meeting seven new Lions were welcomed to the group—Rene Aubin, Ron Campbell, Andre Cuerrier, Art Rochette, Doug Symon, Harry Tessier, and Bill Wright.

Upcoming events of interest are the Cornwall Township Lions' first anniversary charter night, January 13, and the Maxville Lions annual Farmers' Night on February 1, with MLA Osie Villeneuve as guest speaker.

Another opportunity for an inter-club visit will be the 10th charter anniversary of Finch and District on February 17.

A nice welcome into the Lions Club this week for new member Doug Symon—he won the 50-50 draw.

SNOWMOBILES and the LAW

by Constable G. G. Ruest, Lancaster OPP detachment

Snowmobiling has become not only a sport but in many cases a way of life.

The growth has created a need for increased law enforcement which has been provided by the Ontario Provincial Police.

Although snowmobiling is a relatively easy sport, a snowmobile operator should know Ontario's laws and good safety procedures.

In addition to registration, you must now have a driving permit to operate your snow vehicle (unless you are driving it only on land owned or occupied by yourself). A driver's licence for snowmobiles can be issued to persons of 12 years and up. This permit will allow a youth under 14 years to operate his snowmobile on public trails, but only at 14 and over, the driver may cross a roadway at a 90 degree angle where crossing a highway is permitted.

The holder who is 16 and over may operate a snowmobile along a king's highway or secondary highway provided he drives as far away from the serviced roadway as possible.

Highlanders lead league

by John Marjerrison

In the most exciting Highlanders' game to date, on Sunday, January 6, Embrun battled with them to a 4-4 draw.

The game was very fast, with both teams giving and taking clean body checks.

Maxville jumped into a 1-0 lead, but Embrun came right back to tie it by the end of the first period.

At the end of the third period it was 3-3, with the score having been 3-2 for Embrun.

The third period was a seesaw affair with both teams missing many opportunities.

With but four minutes remaining, Embrun went ahead 4-3. The Highlanders' hopes looked dim when Allan Blaney drew a penalty with only 1:50 left.

With only 20 seconds left and no goalie in the Maxville net, an Embrun shot went inches wide and was called for icing.

Kelly Kavic won the draw deep in Embrun territory and circled the net to set up Brian Wensink with only 12 seconds remaining. It was Brian's second goal of the game.

Other Highlanders' goal-getters were Randy Robertson and Darren Rolland.

Both teams should be congratulated on playing the game the way it was meant to be played.

Maxville's next home game is on Sunday, January 14 against the Avonmore Aces.

News from Dunvegan

Marion L. Loewen
527-2284

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Calder, Byron and Kathi visited over Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Racey, Senneville, Que., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Calder Sr., Pointe Claire, Que. Bill and Peggi came home on Tuesday, but Kathi and Byron stayed on until after New Year's.

Serge Taillon was able to spend the holidays with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Yvon Leblanc. He is gradually recuperating from the accident he was involved in early in the winter. It will be a slow process though, and we wish him well.

Mrs. Margaret MacLeod and Homer spent Christmas night with Norman and Margaret and family.

Miss Linda Embury of Verdun and Kevin Sender of Montreal spent a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Ann MacLeod at New Year's.

William and Donald Clark and Mrs. Ranald Campbell visited with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cherry and family in Ottawa on Sunday. They were there to attend a birthday party for Oliver Clark, of Ottawa, brother of William Clark and Mrs. Dan MacRae. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dan MacRae of Maxville, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenny MacLeod and family of Cornwall.

Misses Sharon and Heather Mirer of Burlington and Lydia Morrison of Dalhousie spent a day with Mrs. Margaret Ann MacLeod.

The friends and relatives of Mrs. Marion MacKinnon will be glad to know that she is home, after her stay in the Civic Hospital at Ottawa, and growing stronger.

Mrs. Isabel MacLeod has moved to Maxville for the winter months.

Garry and Audrey McIntosh of Kenora returned home after spending the New Year holidays with their parents at Skye and Maxville.

The community was so sorry to hear of the accident that resulted in Mrs. D. D. MacKinnon having to go to Hotel Dieu with a broken hip. She is reported to have come through the operation very well, and is resting comfortably.

The word also came to me that Miss Christena Ferguson has also had a fall that resulted in a broken hip. She is in Toronto with her sister for the winter, and is in hospital there. We wish both these ladies a full recovery.

John and Marion Loewen spent the holidays with their children at Ottawa and Kemptville.

Now that the holidays are over and things are once again settling down to a routine, please don't forget to send in your news items. Our column was missing last week, but if you don't remember to let me know of the happenings of the community, I can't put them in. Let me know as early as possible on Monday, please.

Maybe now that the hurry and bustle is over, we can take time to enjoy the beauty of the season. Many times I have been struck by the Christmas card scenery this winter, and thought that anyone going south for other than health reasons, was missing out on the beauty surrounding us. It's not nearly as depressing as we make ourselves believe.

The Rev. D. N. MacMillan will conduct the service next Sunday at Kenyon Presbyterian Church, and will be assisted by the Rev. David Mphande from Malawi, Africa.

Rev. Mphande is an ordained minister of the church of Central Africa, Presbyterian Synod of Blantyre. This is his second year of studies at the Presbyterian College, Montreal. It is expected when he returns to his homeland, he will teach theology in one of the colleges of his church.

For the service in Kenyon Church on January 14, he will sing "Amazing Grace" in his native tongue with organ accompaniment. He will also sing another number without accompaniment, and will speak briefly to the children and will sing one hymn especially for them. His main address will be on the life and work of the church in Malawi. A cordial welcome is extended to all members and friends of the Kenyon Church, Dunvegan.

1978 PRIZE WINNER CANADIAN COMMUNITY CNA NEWSPAPERS ASSOCIATION BETTER NEWSPAPERS COMPETITIONS

The Glengarry News

ALEXANDRIA, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1979

Who made the decision?

The way decisions have been made in this town is being highlighted again through the debate over who should pay the bill for legal services provided for Police Chief Sylvio Cleroux and Bruno Massie during the recent Charlebois inquest.

The lawyer originally sent the bill to the Town of Alexandria. The town refused to pay on the grounds council did not authorize the hiring of a lawyer to represent either Cleroux or Massie.

The bill was sent back with the suggestion that the lawyer forward it to the police commission.

However, The News has learned that there was no formal resolution passed at a police commission meeting authorizing the expenditure either.

We contacted ex-Mayor Bruno Massie, who was chairman of the commission at the time. He told us the decision was made by himself and one other commissioner Judge George Stiles, over the phone. The third member of the commission, Georges Lanthier, was in Florida and, hence, not consulted.

We were unable to contact Judge Stiles, who is out of town for three weeks, nor could we get in touch with Mr. Lanthier, who is still in Florida.

We do wonder about decision-making over the phone. Legalities aside, it is clearly inefficient. Even the solicitor is in the dark about who hired him. He sent the bill to the wrong party.

In the absence of a formal resolution on the police commission books, we would contend that the question of authorization is very much up in the air. One member of the commission was not even consulted.

The Charlebois inquest was announced months before the actual hearing occurred. There was time to call a police commission meeting and have the matter dealt with properly and a motion duly recorded in the minutes.

We also must express some reservations about appointing people to important boards when they are out of the country for such lengths of time during the year.

This year, town council routinely re-appointed Mr. Lanthier while he was in Florida. He left at the end of October and is due back the end of April. This means that we have a two-member commission for at least five months of the year.

We have no doubt whatsoever about Mr. Lanthier's ability or concern for the town. But it simply makes no sense to appoint someone to an important board who is away almost half the year.

Municipal councils have developed the bad habit of treating posts on committees and boards as if they were only honorary positions to be doled out to council acquaintances and other deserving people. These are working committees, however, and they have important functions. If a person is unable to physically spend the time doing the job, he should graciously decline to accept the appointment.

Should teachers be evaluated?

The Commission of Declining Enrolment has recommended that teachers prove every five years that they are entitled to keep their teaching certificates.

The proposal is just one more indication of just how insecure a teaching job is becoming these days.

School enrolment is rapidly declining and the need for teaching staff is plummeting with it. Under the current system, a teacher can obtain a permanent teaching certificate after two years of teaching.

There are pay incentives to encourage teachers to upgrade themselves by taking summer courses, but many teachers don't bother, the commission notes. These teachers are content with their present salaries and are doing nothing to expand their skills.

Robert Jackson, head of the one-man commission, suggests that teachers be asked to provide "satisfactory evidence of serious professional development activity (at least the equivalent of a six-week course) during the preceding period" of five years.

The teaching certificates would be renewed if there was "evidence of continuing professional development and growth not only through the attainment of further academic and professional qualifications but through evidence of satisfactory and improving performance on the job."

In the interests of protecting all their members, the teachers' federations are opposing such evaluations.

Parents, who wish to get the best value for their tax dollars and the best education for their children, may see it differently.

A lot of organizations we have in this fine county of ours but there is another one we could well do with—one to promote our various cultural arts.

A few TV presentations of late have served to remind me of this. Most recent of these was the supreme show the Ukrainians put on for us on Sunday evening. My congratulations to the CBC for such fare.

I declare, it was so inspiring I almost got carried away in my efforts to imitate some of the fancy-steppin' dancers, but discovered I'm really low-totem in the high-splits routine. I prodded Son Number Six and Daughter Number Three into a few imitations but they weren't much of an improvement on myself.

Another group I enjoyed were the young violinists featured in Canadian Express, not to mention the lovely soloists.

Producers can't go wrong in presenting cultural classics of such delightful calibre. Makes one want to get into the act with the performers. The secret of disseminating culture is obvious—make it entertaining.

The idea presents a "mea culpa." Are we doing all we could to promote the finer arts right here at home? Methinks we could take a lesson from the Glengarry Pipe Band and form a Glengarry Cultural Society which would promote other elements of our culture as well.

Consider the number of dancers we have in the county—there must be about 300 or so in various groups. While several of these girls have reached professional calibre and get to perform in different shows, what are we doing about promoting the others?

Surely it is not up to their teachers to be presenting concerts and the like for the children to display their talents; it is a big enough job to just teach them the routines.

When we consider the minor hockey operation, is it possible a comparative body could be set up to give the dancers some attention? If they don't like individual competitions, perhaps the troupes from different areas, Martintown, Alexandria, Lancaster, Maxville and the like could be organized into "teams" to compete in tournaments as the boys do.

This suggestion may have no merit at all but with all the mothers who are involved surely some of them can come up with an idea or two to foster some interest.

The same goes for other areas of culture. Back some years ago we had a fine choir of young boys in Alexandria who were taught at that time by one of the brothers in a religious order then resident here. Impressive in their blazer uniforms, they were an admirable group of performers but we haven't had the like since.

Young people still like to sing and with all the college grads who can't find work, surely some of them could be engaged to teach choirs in the area. Is there someone who could take the initiative?

If there are any groups of young violinists, pianists or accordianists around, they haven't been getting much publicity. Here and there we have young teenagers who get together, three or four at a time, to try to put a band together and who desperately need some encouragement.

When it comes to sports, we are right in there promoting from all sides, but in the finer arts, we aren't so progressive. Even in sports we tend to stress the very rugged stuff. Not long ago I saw a couple on TV present an exhibition of frisbee routines. It was performed with such grace and professionalism it looked as if a whole new field of calisthenics could be built around this inexpensive little toy. Some of the sports cost so much money children can't afford to participate.

How about it folks? This is the year of the child. Here in Glengarry, or perhaps beyond, there must be people who want to promote some of the finer arts for our children. Please let me hear from any of you who are interested in even a minor effort.

Perspective

by Bob Roth

The great god Thon

There is a new deity to which a growing number of people are turning for salvation from our numerous social ills. He is the great god Thon. He comes in many forms—walk-a-thon, skate-a-thon, dance-a-thon.

Thons have become a popular form of fund-raising in recent years. Under the scheme, young people receive pledges of money for walking so many miles, skating around the rink so many times, dancing for so many hours etc. The money then goes to various charities.

There are a few people around—one of them is Charlottenburgh Township Reeve Adrian Gadbois—who question whether young people's time could be better spent. It's not that the causes are not legitimate; it's that the effort (walking around in circles, etc.) is totally non-productive.

Gadbois and I were casually discussing the issue one night when he came up with his idea of a "tree-a-thon" for the township. There are miles and miles of township roads that would benefit from a tree planting program. Why not have young people engaged in more of this type of activity? The Scouting movement already does such work. Gadbois feels other organizations, such as Minor Hockey, should tackle similar projects.

This is not the first time I have encountered criticism over thons. An elderly gentleman related an incident to me some years ago, which is still fresh in my mind. A young person came to his home to ask him to sponsor her for a walk-a-thon. The gentleman asked how much she expected and she said 10 cents a mile for 30 miles. The gentleman said he would pay her twice that amount to wash the windows in his home. He was not as nimble as in his younger days, he explained, and he could use the assistance.

The girl declined the offer. Even though the offer would have brought more money into the charity, it meant working.

I sometimes wonder if we are teaching the proper values when we promote thons to such a degree. How much does it re-inforce the old money-comes-from-trees syndrome? Should not our young people realize that money is not generated by non-productive activity?

I'm not saying that thons are completely without merit. Certainly they are effective fund-raising techniques, but could we not rally people around projects that are both productive (such as tree plantings) and financially rewarding? That way we'd be winners on two counts.

I find it particularly disconcerting when church groups sponsor thons to help the poor in underdeveloped countries. Once, while working as a reporter in Toronto, I was assigned the task of photographing such a dance-a-thon for the unfortunates overseas. There was an element of inconsistency, I thought, in youths, dressed to the hilt, partying in the name of helping the poor.

Were these young people to change their lifestyles a little, buy $12 jean seconds instead of the latest tight-fitting $22 Lees, forego purchasing the latest style of boots and, instead, contribute regularly to alleviate poverty, it would be much more effective.

It is a simple fact that much of the poverty in the third world today can be attributed to the affluence we enjoy through past and present exploitation of those nations. We will not eliminate this suffering by discoing across the dance floor a couple more times. Giving our young people the impression that it is easy—that they do not have to make sacrifices or contribute anything meaningful to society—is to destructively mask the truth.

Already conditioned to accepting the quick-thrill, easy-come, materialistic values that dominate our society, we are now subtly teaching our well-off, middle-class young people that the way to solve our social ills is to have even more fun. That, in the long run, will do little to enhance the moral fibre of the nation.

Resents parking ticket

1507 Catherine St.,
Cornwall, Ont.

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

On Dec. 27, 1978 I was in Alexandria with a team of Peewee B hockey players from Cornwall to attend a tournament. During lunch break we arranged to take the players to the "Hub" Restaurant to eat. As you are probably aware there is a parking area north of the "Hub."

Upon arriving, another vehicle moved out and I parked my car immediately below a 60-minute parking sign. The streets were snow-covered and the parking spaces were not outlined.

While the hockey team was having lunch your local police department namely, Officer #2, decided I had encroached onto the sidewalk and proceeded to grant me a $4.00 parking ticket. While I cannot deny that I was probably partially on the sidewalk, if any sidewalk is in front of this parking area, there are no signs warning about this fact and it was quite apparent other motorists had been utilizing this space.

I have forwarded my fine to the town but will not in future attend Alexandria for any events as it appears the local police force is more interested in obtaining minor parking infractions than providing the benefit of the doubt in a borderline situation.

I might add that due to time constraints, I did not attend the police station, and at this point in time, am not writing them as I am certain my writing would be filed in the garbage.

Yours truly,
D. R. Dillabough

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Does the ordinary citizen in this community realize how unfair he is to our local Glengarry Memorial Hospital?

We the taxpayers, all have a share in it as our tax dollars went into the township grants for it.

When will people realize that unless they, the people, go directly to the administrator or a member of the hospital board with their complaints nothing can be done to clear the matter if there is a problem.

Whether the complaint be against a doctor, a nurse, ambulance driver, nurse's aid or any other employee of the hospital, the matter cannot be cleared up unless it is drawn to the attention of the administrator or a member of the hospital board. I know from my own experience that this is correct.

Do not be afraid to give your name when giving a complaint, otherwise it is just hearsay.

Thank you,

Glens playing too roughly

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

On Saturday night the Highlanders hockey team travelled to Alexandria to face the Junior "C" Glens. An Alexandria player told star forward Kelly Kavic, "You won't be here very long," while skating in the warm-up. This concerned coach Scott.

As the game was easily won by Maxville 9-3, the intimidation tactics were not successful.

From a Maxville point of view the refereeing was less than adequate. A Maxville assistant captain was ejected from the game for questioning an infraction not called by the official. He was sent to question the infraction by the coach.

The infraction in question was when an Alexandria player hit an official and did not receive a major penalty and/or a game misconduct. Coach Scott said, "My assistant captain is thrown out for questioning a call while their player gets a two-minute unsportsmanlike conduct penalty for hitting a referee."

A game such as Saturday night does little for the image of the league, and the Junior "C" Glens. One hopes this is not the Glens' true style of hockey.

Our Lady's Missionaries
St. Peter and Paul Parish
Hinunangan, S. Leyte
Philippines

Dear Glengarrians:

I am now back in the Philippines after enjoying a few months in Canada. On my return I realized the great financial need of the hospital here. The hospital is six years old. It was built by the people of this area and "Development and Peace" gave us money for the equipment.

The people are trying very hard to have the hospital finance itself but due to their economic situation this has been impossible. Many patients require emergency treatment and the family frequently would be able to pay for medicine only if they mortgaged their land. Others delay seeking treatment because they haven't money to pay for medicine.

As part of the solution to this very great problem a trust fund has been started. The interest from this fund will provide a regular additional income to the hospital. When the fund is large enough it will be possible to operate the hospital while keeping costs within the means of the people served by it.

The poor of this area show concern for their community and continue to give generously of their time and effort to provide medical services. While they willingly share their talents, raising money in the unjust and impoverished situation in which they live is not one of them. The trust fund will grow much too slowly unless we ask for help.

We know that there are many Christians who, while they cannot personally give their time and talent to assist the people of Leyte, and cannot instantly change the unfair and unjust economic patterns that have helped to create this situation, do nonetheless have love for these neighbors and are willing to help in the ways open to them.

I am asking therefore that you pray for the people of the Philippines, for their courage in suffering and the daily struggle for a more just and Christian world, that you use every opportunity to make the world around you more Christian, knowing that good as well as evil travels far and its effects can reach around the world, and thirdly that those who are able to contribute to the trust fund of the Hinundayan Community Hospital. ($10,000, ten thousand dollars is needed)

If you send donations to Our Lady's Missionaries, 65 Clarendon Ave., Toronto, specifying that it is for the hospital, you will receive a receipt for income tax purposes.

I hope The Glengarry News editorials will continue to speak informatively and express a desire for greater hope, love and justice in today's world.

A very happy New Year
Sincerely
Sr. Mary Gauthier

Farmer wants policy change

RR1, Glen Robertson, Ont.
January 6, 1979

The editor,
The Glengarry News:

Our great country which has an abundance of resources is in economic trouble which also leads to social unrest. We have high inflation, high unemployment, a falling dollar value and underdevelopment.

We will remain in this situation as long as the economic advisors in Ottawa continue to base their advice on outdated economic theory and opinions of financiers who are dealing in the international money markets.

These financiers are the only ones being hurt by our falling dollar value. The average Canadian is better off with the value of the dollar such that Canada can export more of her manufactured goods and at the same time sell more to Canadian consumers creating a much stronger manufacturing industry here.

One of our greatest problems in recent years has been the practice by multi national corporations exporting Canadian raw materials to their subsidiaries in third world countries, manufacturing them with cheap labor, then bringing them back and undercutting the products manufactured here.

A lower dollar value here makes this type of practice much less attractive, the immediate solutions being to lobby government to make moves to strengthen the dollar, to condition the people to accept the politicians' moves in this direction and camoflage what is happening with statements like "we have to return to free-enterprise" knowing full well that if a government thought it politically smart to withdraw their financial support of any company that the company would have to turn to the multi national for their financing.

The method of the Bank of Canada raising the prime lending rate to slow down inflation does not work. Not only does it not slow down inflation, it adds to it. Since a major portion of the businesses are operating on borrowed money and have the choice of continuing borrowing or close the doors they continue to borrow and have to either absorb the increased interest they have to pay or pass it on to their customers. Private individuals are caught in this bind also but the multi national conglomerates with their own built-in banking system do nothing but reap the harvest.

They can increase their prices in line with those of small businesses and their financial sector increases the interest to the same small businesses.

What needs to be done is to lower the interest rate of the Bank of Canada and encourage the loaning of monies to areas that will create development of resources—materials and people.

Increased development will increase the gross national product so measures will have to be taken to not allow the value of the dollar to rise any great amount or our import-export position will again deteriorate.

In my opinion the precarious economic position of Canada will not improve until the thinking of those in the finance department changes. The changing of politicians will not change things for the better but could change them for the worse.

On another subject I was pleased to read that Health Minister Monique Begin thinks that surplus agricultural products such as skim milk and cheese should be supplied to school children. That idea was passed by Glengarry Local 326 National Farmers Union in about 1970 and suggested to government every year since. I hope it doesn't take another nine years to implement.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THIS REAL ESTATE OFFICE

WHEN BUYING you can choose from my own Exclusive Listings and M.L.S. Listings having a total of about 800 properties while the larger Real Estate offices in the area might have a total of only 1% to 8% more exclusive and M.L.S. Listings (my selection is just as good).

YOU GET PERSONALIZED SERVICE you're not just a number with me.

YOU DEAL ONLY WITH A BROKER who is better qualified than a salesman who has less experience and knowledge.

YOU BENEFIT FROM THE KNOW-HOW of a Broker who has worked in the area for the past 10 years.

I MUST ADMIT that larger Real Estate offices who employ a number of salesmen sell a larger amount of properties than I, however what is most important is the sales to Listing Ratio, and I believe my sales to Listing Ratio is just as good and possibly better than most larger Real Estate offices in the area. Therefore in my opinion a Real Estate office with a larger volume of sales is not necessarily better than an office with a smaller volume of sales.

IN SOME SITUATIONS a larger business is better because its buying power is greater. As a result it can give better prices than the smaller business. In Real Estate this is not so because usually prices are set by the owners. Perhaps in some but very few service related businesses. A larger business can give a better service but in Real Estate I believe that a larger Real Estate office is only as good as its salesmen. During the past few years I have improved this Real Estate office not thinking of getting bigger because I believe getting bigger is not necessarily getting better.

DURING OFFICE HOURS I can be reached at any time through the office (I have a mobile radio in the car). And after office hours I can be reached by an answering service (just leave your message and I will get back to you).

"BUY LAND THEY'RE NOT MAKING ANY MORE OF IT"

1978 WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR for Real Estate in this area and I anticipate 1979 to be an even better year.

LET ME HELP YOU help yourself to tremendous investment opportunities.

LOOKING FOR A FARM, a house, a business, a cottage or just a little place in the country, I've got some deals for you.

CELEBRATING BIRTHDAY

I am celebrating a fifth birthday. Do not, however, confuse this with my personal birthday, something long uncelebrated since I liked the number 55 and have refused to go further.

This is the end of five years since the birth of this column for this great newspaper. Like a new year, one must look back to see where one was to see where one is and to plan where one wants to be in time ahead.

The origin of this article was to chronicle events of our Martintown Recreation Committee, and to have at least a personal smile at contemporary events. Looking back, I note that in five years, the very active Martintown recreation group which dwindled and then went underground for a time, has happily, resurfaced with new faces and old, and is alive again as the Martintown Community Activities Association.

In fact, this Wednesday it is sponsoring a cross-country ski clinic and demonstration at Martintown Public School for all. Here's to continued activity, MCAA.

UNIQUE SOCIETY

Allan MacPhail, violin virtuoso and leader of the Glengarry Strathspey and Reel Society was telling me last week after their superb performance at Rae MacCulloch's night of tribute, that research shows that our group of violinists is the only Strathspey and Reel Society in the world outside of Scotland. Here's to continuation of this great music.

AWAITING THE MOVE

Art Benton of Benton's Corners will be moving into Crook's house in Martintown village temporarily until their new house is built east of the village in Rose bush lane.

"I think that this is just great," beamed Art with that devilish twinkle in his eye, "we'll have a wonderful time in the next while, what with moving bees and house warmings."

ALAS!

A footnote to the obvious; that was just not Donald Thomson, nor Stuart Buchan in last week's News on page sixteen. Stuart is definitely not as good looking as the lady in the photograph—even for a Presbyterian.

ANDY STEWART COMING

Two big nights approacheth at yon Bonnie Glen, Friday, January 19, Andy Stewart of international singing fame and his troupe will be here, live, in Glengarry at yon Bonnie Glen. The evening is sponsored by the Glengarry Pipe Band as a fund-raising event. And such an evening 'twill be: Supper and a variety of music ranging from Andy Stewart's concert through pipe and drum music to Sylvester and his Clansmen dance band with all your favorite tunes.

BURNS' NIGHT

The next Friday, on January 26, will be the annual fund-raising dance sponsored by the MacCulloch dancers—the Robbie Burns' Night. This is always a popular event: Good friends, good drinks and a celebration of the eighteenth century Scottish bard's birthday with pipes and dancing.

ANOTHER SUCCESS

The "Skatethon" held last Saturday by the Char-Lan Minor Hockey was a great success. Organizer was Martintown's Raymond Lapointe (little 7th); president of the CMHA is Dwayne MacRae (Glen Road).

TOO BIG FOR THEIR "BRITCHES"

Julia Danskin, Maxville, (good looking wife of band leader David) was telling me that new band members, unfortunately, never seem to fit the available band uniforms. Thus, new ones have to be custom tailored, at great expense.

HEREIN LIES A TALE

At Rae's "do," a lively young couple shouted to me during a Glengarry two step, "Hey Martintown Mac, I know that we live in Mississauga and so do not get the News fresh. Nonetheless we want to know what the young man's response was to Father Rivet's question?"

Good lord, I thought, still trying to keep in step with the Hundred Pipers reel, I have left the young man hanging all these weeks and the readers.

To refresh my thoughts, I danced over to the bar for a quick Glengarry orange juice then sat on Sybil Cameron's knee. Thus ensconced and fortified, everything came back to me.

A young man knocked at the St. William's Parish rectory door early one morn. Father Rivet who had advertised for a handyman, came to the door and asked in a stern voice, "Do you, young man, know how to cut grass and weed a garden?"

"Yes, sir," responded the young man with a startled look.

"And do you know how to build cupboards, clear blocked toilets and wash windows?" demanded the priest.

"Look Father, I came over here to see about getting married, but if it is this involved, forget it, there's no way!"

PONY CLUB MET

The Cornwall District Pony Club met last Thursday at Helen MacKenzie's farm on the 4th Lancaster. The club is seeking more members. A one-day clinic will be held next month at Char-Lan.

Rouleau School

NEW YEAR'S WISHES

Best wishes of success in their educational endeavours to all the teachers and students of our feeder schools namely, Ecole Perpetuel Secours and Ecole St. Joseph of Alexandria, Ecole Ste. Marie of Green Valley, Ecole Laurier Carriere of Glen Robertson, Ecole St. Joseph of Lancaster and Ecole St. Bernard of Maxville.

CHRISTMAS FILM

On December 22nd, a film entitled "Le martien de noel", was presented to all the students of Rouleau. It was most entertaining.

PRE-CHRISTMAS SPECIAL

On December 21, a Eucharistic celebration was held at 9:00 a.m. for all the students of Ecole Rouleau. Father Raymond Dumoulin, our chaplain, officiated. An appropriate decor was esthetically put together by Miss Denise Giroux.

To make us understand more fully the religious aspect of Christmas, a short one-act play about the birth of Jesus was presented to all. A vivid re-enactment of the events surrounding the birth of Christ was then presented prior to the mass. The following students played the three characters of the skit: Marc Brunet, Linda Ramsay and Gilles Martin.

The drama personnel of the manger were Dominique Periard, as Joseph; Natalie Binette as Mary; Roch Sabourin and Alain Menard as the two shepherds. Jean Marc Michaud played the part of an angel and Jesus was a doll.

Thanks to the Catechetics Department for this wonderful presentation. Our catechetics coordiantor Mrs. Francoise Brunet deserves our Congratulations.

RESUMPTION OF DUTIES

Teachers were all back on Wednesday morning, wide-eyed and bushy-tailed, all ready to undertake the vigors of winter education.

After a week of rest, they all seemed to have recuperated from their Christmas party creatively organized by the teachers' social commitee, namely, Mrs. Louise Quesnel, Mrs. Diane Theoret, Luc Chartrand and Pierre Lavoie.

OPENING OF MINDS AND HEARTS

A very simple device is presently used at Rouleau to eradicate the "belly-button" view of the world.

In order to widen the mental horizon of our students and to encourage them to open their hearts to their fellow-men, students are invited to think of one specific country of the world for a week.

This is done by

(a) giving a few facts daily about the country on the intercom.

(b) inviting students to greet teachers during the day in the language of the chosen country.

The two countries chosen to date were Italy and Holland.

So, Hello to you in Italian: Buonjiorna; in Dutch: Goede Dag.

TOP BOWLERS

Our congratulations to Linda Ramsay, David Lacombe, Elaine Beriault, Natalie Binette, Daniel Dubois and Normand Larocque who were victorious in a bowling tournament held in Trenton a few weeks ago. They outscored the opposing team by 234 points.

During the Christmas holidays, the undefeated team travelled to Kingston for a weekend regional competition. Congratulations, team.

PRAYER BOOK GIFT

In a short ceremony, conducted by the school chaplain, Father Raymond Dumoulin, all students and teachers received a prayer book entitled "Prions Le Seigneur."

An unsual anthology, it contains prayers for all occasions. Should you experience happiness or saddness, victory or defeat, there's a prayer for each occasion. A worthy inspirational text.

GOOD OLD EXAMS

We would like to extend our congratulations to the students of Rouleau for the effort they have put in this last week, studying and preparing for their first term examinations. Sucess has never come without a little extra work. The moment of truth will soon be here. Good luck to all in their results.
