Flippin' over flapjacks

EDWARDS— Patterson Berry Farm is tapping into the growing maple sugar industry for the first time this year.

The 600-acre farm has become a popular spot for people wanting to pick their own fruits and vegtables in the past few years.

However, this year the farm has expanded its operations to offer visitors a taste of that uniquely Canadian commodity — maple sugar.

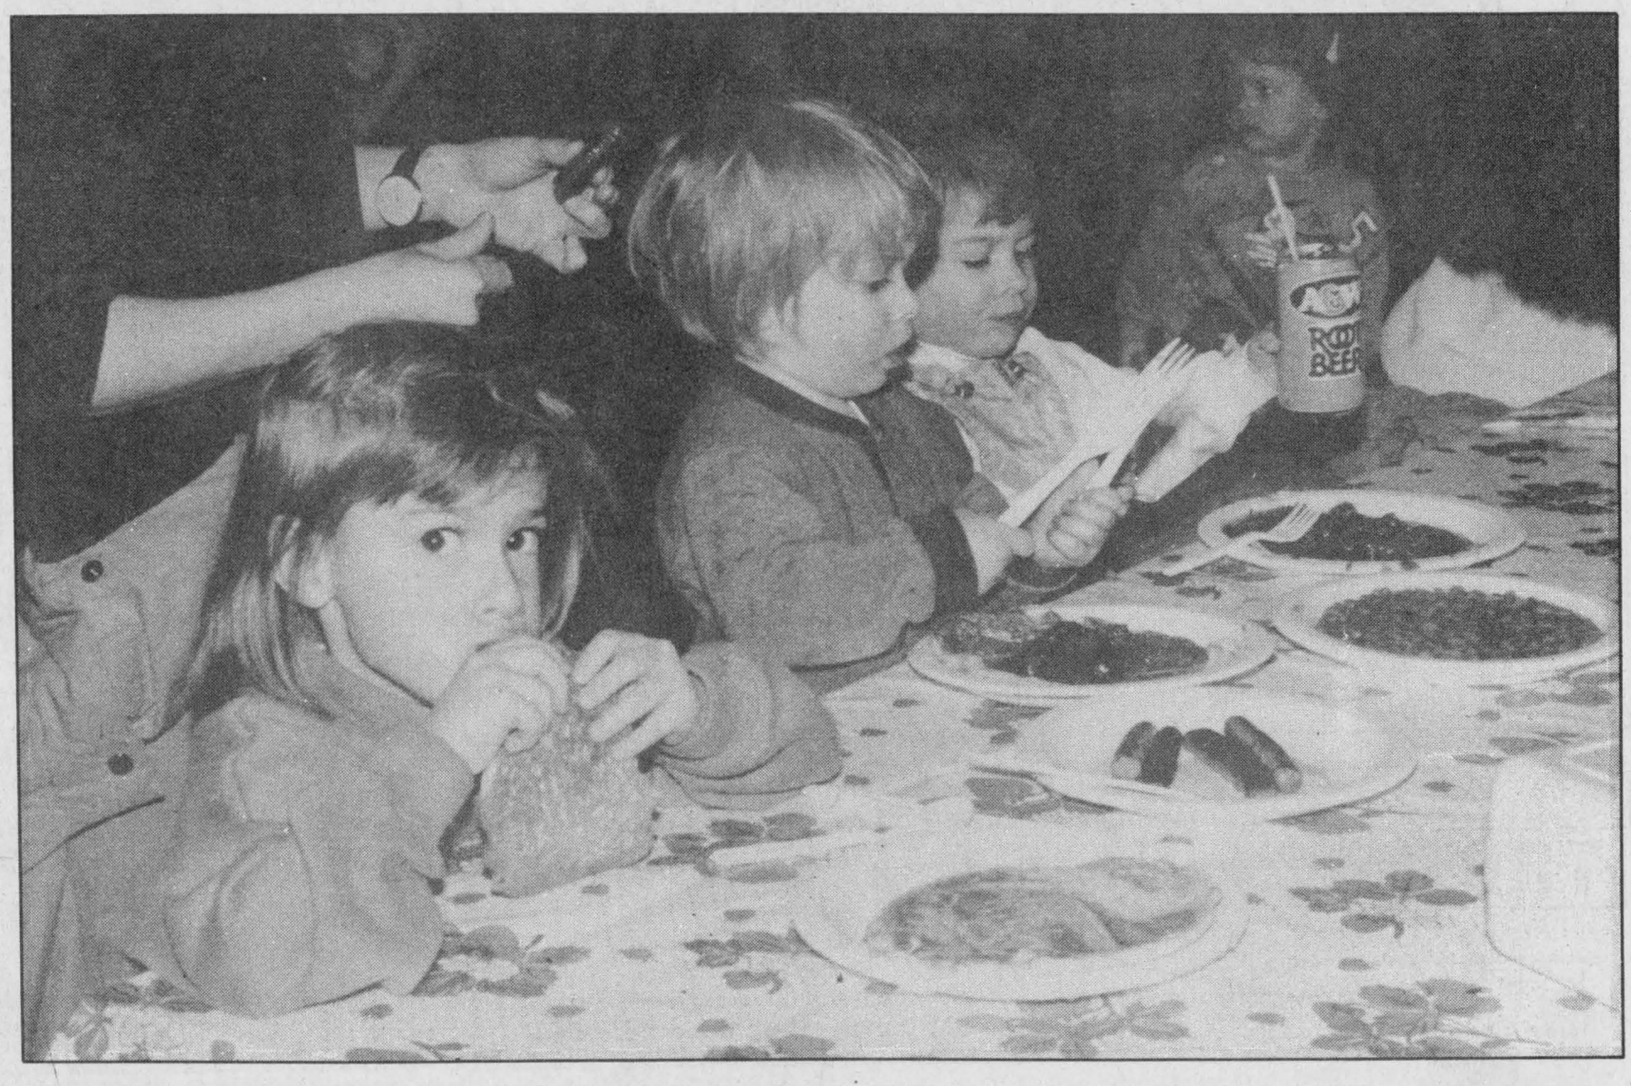
Trees will be tapped and workers will be carrying on the time-honored spring tradition of boiling the sap into syrup.

During the March Break families and individuals crowded to the farm to enjoy sleigh rides, playing in the hay barns, meeting farm animals, tobogganing and munching on pancakes and sausages topped with berries (strawberry, raspberry or blueberry).

Entrance to the farm is $3.50 per person. Pancakes are $1.50 for the first pancake and $1 for each additional pancake.

This coming weekend visitors will be able to watch the maple sap being converted into syrup as well as pour some of that special sweetener onto their pancakes.

Patterson Berry Farm is open each weekend from 10am to 4pm. Groups and parties are accommodated at other times. For more information call 821-1230.



(Clockwise from top left) Tobogganers take off at Patterson Berry Farm; Allen Kelly, a Grade 7 student at Castor Valley pets a goat; Sara Ann, 5, Naomi, 18 months, and Raphaelle Czawlytko, 3, dig into delicious pancakes; Kristen Fortiere, 2, clings to her father Mike after a calf scare; and sleigh rides carried both children and adults over the crisp March Break snow.

Bulk fluid sales fill void

Farm update

CASSELMAN — A bulk fluid service currently on a trial basis at J.R. Brisson Equipment Ltd. in Casselman may not only mean less waste for area landfill sites, but may also be easier on farmers' pocketbooks.

J.R. Brisson Equipment is the first Case IH dealer in Eastern Canada to try the bulk system. According to Brisson parts manager, Jacques Lafontaine, the dealership was chosen for the trial because it has the biggest volume of oil sales of all Eastern Canada dealerships.

The reason for the trial is to determine whether bulk fluids will further increase fluid sales volume, as well as providing extra savings for customers, he said.

And if the bulk fluids prove to be popular, the system may be adopted by other Case IH dealerships in the future, he added.

"If we get an increase in volume of oil sales we will stay with the system," Lafontaine explained.

And although the bulk system means extra work for Brisson employees, Lafontaine says he's optimistic the extra savings for customers will make it a popular service. So far, since the system was introduced in January, he's already used four truckloads of the bulk fluids.

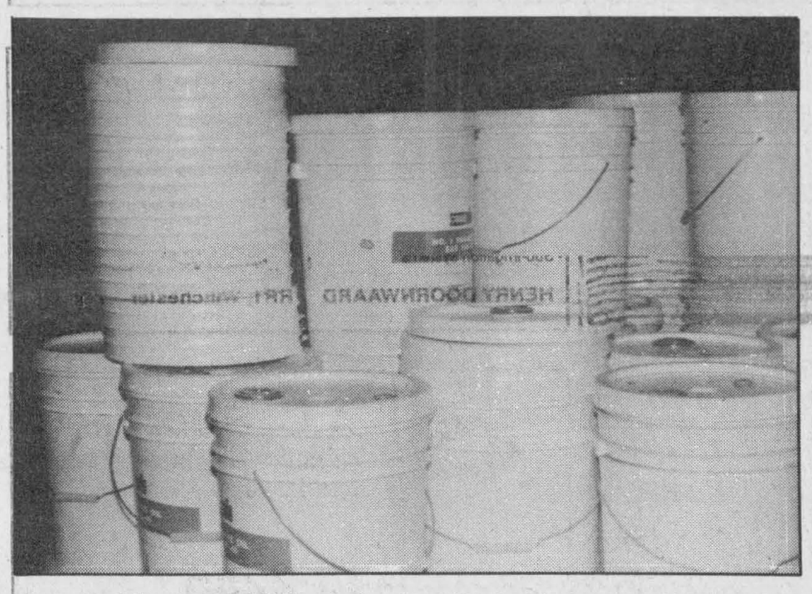
The bulk fluids are delivered to the dealership in 946 litre containers. There the contents of the containers are pumped into 20 litre (five gallon) plastic pails, weighed, and offered for sale to customers. It takes about 45 minutes for two people to empty the 946 litre container.

While the customer initially pays for the pail, it can be refilled again at a later time. In special circumstances, Lafontaine hopes to be able to fill larger drums for customers in the future.

According to Lafontaine, customers save 20-30 per cent off the regular price by buying bulk.

A 20 litre pail of TCH hydraulic fluid regularly sells for $39.95 but now sells for $32.42 in bulk. Similarly, the HyTran transmission fluid which regularly sells for $42.45 is sold for $34.30 in bulk, and the 15W-40 no. 1 engine oil which regularly sold for $41.25 is now $33.15 sold in bulk.

As well, bulk sales mean fewer of the small containers resulting in less waste going into landfill sites, he said.



Some of the many 20 litre plastic pails waiting to be filled. After fluids are purchased in the pails, they can be refilled at a later time.

Russell County farmers take part in pilot environmental assessment

by Christian Grothe
Management Specialist

Recently, I had the opportunity to spend two weeks of training on the Environmental Farm Plan. I am very enthusiastic about this initiative.

Russell County will be part of the pilot project. A number of environmentally conscious farmers from surrounding counties will be invited to take part also. I would invite farmers from Carleton County (especially Osgoode and Gloucester) who would be interested in completing the plan to communicate that interest to me. I will make sure you are kept informed of any development. Half-day workshops were organized at various locations around Russell County. The following lines by Mary Wiley, AgCare public information co-ordinator, give a good description of the farm plan:

"Five hundred farmers in seven areas of Ontario will be filling out Environmental Farm Plans as part of a pilot project that began in February."

The Environment Farm Plan project, like the Grower Pesticide Safety Course, represents Ontario farmers' proactive approach to agriculture environmental issues.

Through the release of "Our Farm Environmental Agenda," early in 1992, farmers defined 17 key areas of environmental concern to agriculture. By completing Environmental Farm Plans, farm families will be able to take a holistic, in depth look at the environment on their farm, noting areas of potential environmental risk, and identifying simple solutions tailored to their individual operation.

While the final say on the content of the Environmental Farm Plans is reserved for the Ontario Farm Environmental Coalition — the coalition consists of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Christian Farmers Federation of Ontario, Farmers Federation of Ontario, AGCare, and Ontario Farm Animal Council — government agencies have provided welcome support for this farmer-driven effort.

The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food (OMAF) along with the provincial Environment and Natural Resources ministries have devoted a great deal of staff time to compiling the technical information included in the Farm Plan modules. Financial support for the 1993 pilot project is being provided by Agriculture Canada.

WHAT WILL THE ENVIRONMENTAL FARM PLANS LOOK LIKE?

The Environmental Farm Plan document includes several modules. Farmers will fill out only those sections that apply to their own operation. The modules use a series of four statements which describe and rate various degrees of management as "Best", "Good", "Fair", or "Poor". Farmers will select the statement which best describes their situation.

If the rating is "Poor" or "Fair", the farmer will propose a realistic (economical and practical) solution to the problem. In some cases, the proposed solution may only slightly reduce the risk, but must meet the requirements of a "good" rating. Any steps taken to reduce environmental risk are seen as a positive outcome of the Environmental Farm Plan process.

Farmers or farm partners wishing to fill out Environmental Farm Plans will begin by attending a half-day workshop designed to familiarize themselves with the farm planning process, and explain environmental risk assessment. They will then fill out the applicable modules on their own, with the assistance of drop-in workshops with OMAF technical staff, and farmer members of the local Soils and Crop Improvement Association.

If warranted, by local level demand, special technical sessions will be set up consisting of tours or issue-specific instruction.

When a farmer completes his or her Environmental Farm Plan, it can be reviewed by the Peer Review Committee of the local Soils and Crop Improvement Association, to ensure that the modules were understood by the participant, and the most practical solutions have been identified. The only copy of the completed Farm Plan will remain in the possession of the farmer.

AALP starts new program in September

GUELPH — The Advanced Agricultural Leadership Program (AALP) will begin a new program in September 1993.

Peter Hannam, chairman of the Agricultural Leadership Trust, announced the new program recently in Guelph. "We are looking throughout Ontario for men and women with leadership potential and a commitment to agriculture", said Hannam. "They can be farmers, agri-business employees, food processors, wholesalers or retailers, bankers, educators, journalists, or others with an interest in the agri-food industry."

The program, which will run from September 1993 to April 1995, consists of nine three-day seminars held in different Ontario locations, plus two weeks of study travel in North America and an international study travel experience.

Study topics include communication skills, decision-making and issue analysis, government systems, trade and marketing, consumer and environmental issues.

The Advanced Agricultural Leadership Program is run by the Agricultural Leadership Trust, a unique partnership of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, Foundation for Rural Living and University of Guelph. Funding comes from tuition fees, donations from agri-food businesses and organizations, and the partners in the Trust.

Application forms and information about the program are available at the AALP office, Box 1030, Guelph N1H 6N1. For information or an application please call AALP Executive Director, Patricia Mighton, or Administrative Assistant, Cathy Honderich at 519-767-3503 or fax: 519-824-6941. Application deadline is May 15, 1993.

Ottawa Valley Farm Show ready to go

OTTAWA — Once again, Ottawa Valley Farm Show organizers are promising farmers a great show and a bit of a break from a long winter.

"We're expecting as good a show as we've ever had," commented OVFS President, Alfred Beaudette of the Cornwall area.

Commercial space is already sold out and organizers are expecting a large number of entries in the 66th annual Eastern Ontario Western Quebec Championship Seed, Feed and Forage Show, said Beaudette.

The Ottawa Valley Farm Show is expecting to welcome over 200 exhibitors and about 25,000 visitors to the three-day show slated for March 30, 31 and April 1 at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa. On display on two floors of the Annex Building, The Coliseum, and all salons in the Exhibit Hall will be over $7 million worth of new and innovative farm equipment.

Federal Agriculture Minister Charles Mayer will attend the farm show on Wednesday (March 31) to address the winners of the seed, feed and forage show.

For the past 66 years seed growers have been competing in what has been designated as the championship seed show for Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec. Entries will arrive at Lansdowne Park on Monday (March 29) to be judged and then placed on exhibit for the grand opening the following day. Winners will be announced at a banquet Wednesday evening.

Seed, feed and forage show entries may be made by the county agricultural representative or agronome, only and should be sent to Terry Stewart, OMAF, 315 Raglan Street, Renfrew, before 10am on Fri., March 26.

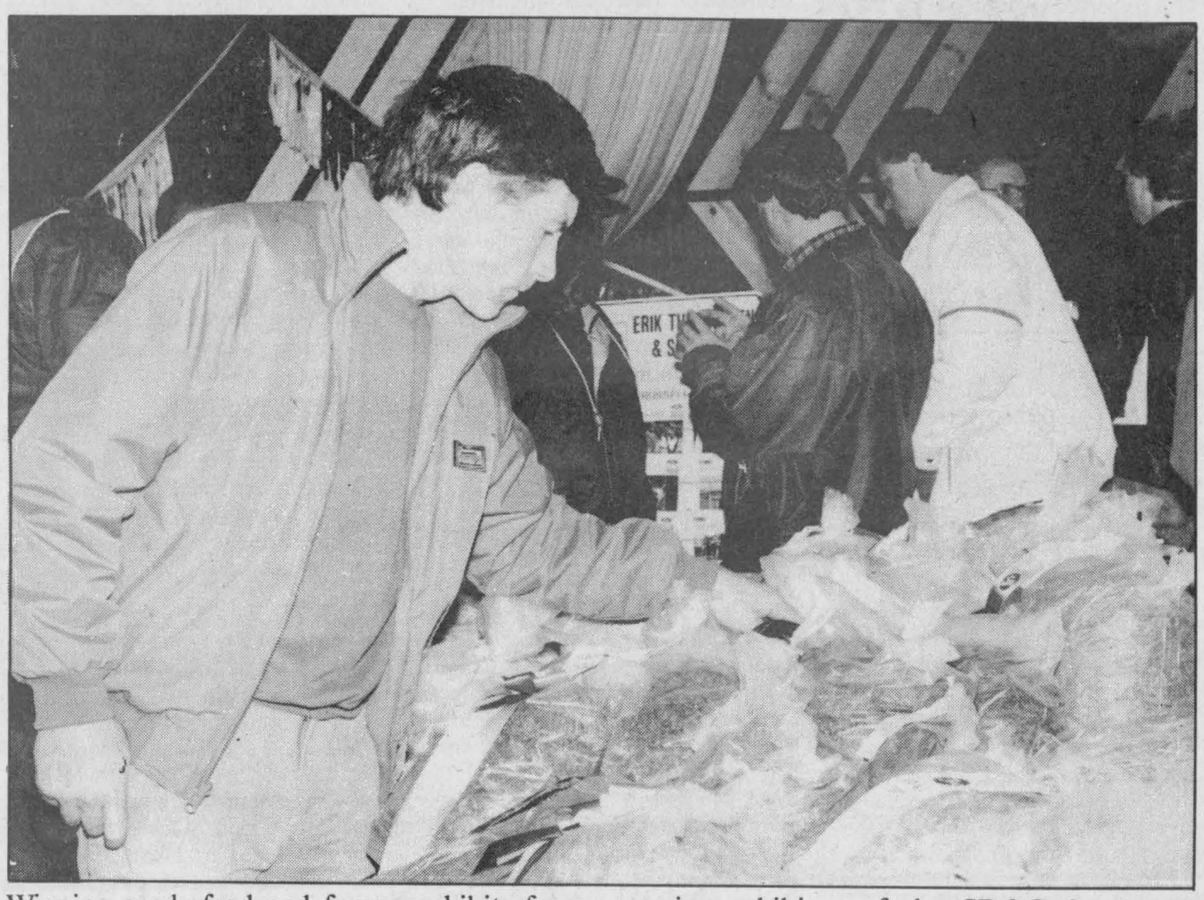
Also for those hoping to buy the very best, the sale of pedigreed seed will take place on Thursday morning. The seed will be sold by auction with the proceeds going to the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario.

The highlight in the Upper Annex again this year will be the show and sale of some of the finest cattle in Eastern Ontario. Most of the prominent lines of beef and dairy cattle will be exhibited.

A special feature to this year's show will be a commemorative display observing the 100th anniversary of the 22,000 pound mammoth cheese that was made in Perth and sent to the World's Fair in Chicago. Visitors will be given a small sample of the fine cheese presently made in Eastern Ontario.

Show times are Tuesday and Wednesday from 10am-10pm and Thursday from 10am-5pm.

Admission is $6 — as well, $2 coupons are available from local agri-businesses throughout the area.



Winning seed, feed and forage exhibits from Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec counties will be competing at the regional championship show slated for next week at the Ottawa Valley Farm Show. Pictured; Francis Henderson, premier exhibitor of the SD&G Seed and Forage Show, looks over entries exhibited during the Crysler Farm Show held earlier this month.

Host families sought for exchange students

MORRISBURG — International Student Exchange Programs (ASSE) would like to introduce you to some very special people.

Exceptional high school students from Scandinavia, France, Holland, Germany, Great Britain, Spain, Italy, Portugal, Poland, Estonia, Czechoslovakia, Mexico, the United States, Japan, Australia and New Zealand, are looking forward to spending the upcoming academic year in Canada as exchange students. Local families are needed to host students.

"Potential host families come from a wide variety of backgrounds and lifestyles. Ideal host families are open-minded, have an interest in people, expecially those from another culture, and have a sense of humor!

We help the host family to choose a student who has some interests in common with the family. We keep in contact with the host family and student on a regular basis to assure everything is going smoothly" says Marta O'Reilly, area co-ordinator for Ontario.

The students are between 15 and 18 years old, are fluent in English, fully insured and have their own spending money. They expect to share household responsibilities and be included in family activities.

The qualified students have a great variety of talents and interests. Among the available students are: Pablo, from Spain, wants to learn Canadian customs and the way of life. His interests include swimming, basketball, soccer and billiards. Silva, from Sweden, wants to master a second language, meet new people and have lots of new experiences. She loves to dance, especially ballet and jazz-dancing.

Mathias, from Germany, enjoys computers, politics, nearly all kinds of sports and reading. He is very curious about Canada and is very much looking forward to meeting his new Canadian family! Laila, from Denmark, has wanted to come to Canada for as long as she can remember. She wants to wake up in a Canadian family and enjoy a Canadian winter. She enjoys basketball, skiing, music and creating hand made crafts.

If you are interested in becoming an ASSE host family or would like more information, please contact Esther Noon, 2 Beckstead Rd., Box 255, Morrisburg, ON, K0C 1X0. Tel.: 613-543-3549 or 1-800-361-3214.

OCA determines policy direction

MISSISSAUGA — The 31st annual meeting of the Ontario Cattlemen's Association (OCA) attracted about 400 cattle and beef producers to Mississauga recently.

Approximately 230 voting delegates representing the 49 County and District Cattlemen's Associations attended the meeting to vote on resolutions which will determine the policy direction the association will take for the upcoming year.

One of the most heavily debated issues was the future of the Ontario Stock Yards. A motion passed that "the OCA give complete and immediate support to the most recent upgrading recommendations of the Board of Directors of the Ontario Public Stockyards". A further motion was passed, endorsing the principle that the livestock producers of Ontario are the beneficial owners of the assets of the stockyards property.

The stable funding issue also received considerable debate. A resolution was passed by a narrow margin stating that "OCA support the concept of stable funding only after it is ratified by a vote of the same grassroots farmers". A motion that OCA lobby the Minister of Agriculture to let farmers decide the stable funding issue with a vote was defeated by three votes.

Support was also shown for the Beef Improvement Task Force report which proposed that a new, private-sector organization called "Beef Improvement Ontario" be formed to supervise all beef improvement programs in the province.

Several resolutions were passed regarding government programs. Cattlemen would like to see the Crop Insurance Commission institute a system whereby the salvage value of crops could be negotiated by the Commission and the purchaser and monies paid to the Commission. As well, the government should be asked to reassess municipal taxes to remove inequities for agricultural land and reflect the concept that agricultural land should not have to support schools. Delegates also supported a resolution that the provincial government should maintain the farm tax rebate program at 75 or 100 per cent level.

Resolutions were also passed on various health issues. The OCA will lobby for joint clearance for pesticides, pharmaceuticals, feed additives and biological products in the U.S. and Canada so that the competitive position of cattlemen in either country not be compromised. As well, the federal and provincial governments will be asked to upgrade the indemnity paid for rabies compensation and to include losses caused by overfeeding in quarantined feedlots.

Also during the two-day meeting, the new president and executive committee were elected. The 1993 president is Bob Kerr, of Kent County; first vice- president is Ken Summers, of Victoria County; second vice-president is Harvey Graham, of Durham East; and past president is Doug Gear, of Dufferin County.

Woodlot owners band together

BROCKVILLE — According to recent census information, there are approximately 160,000 owners of private woodlands in Ontario.

Historically, these owners have benefitted greatly from the many values which are derived from their woodlands. These values include commercial wood products, maple syrup, wildlife habitat and recreational opportunities to name few.

There has always been a great deal of freedom regarding the use of private woodlands. Ontario landowners have not organized themselves collectively to represent the wood products industry which is based on these woodlands.

Sawmill owners, woods operators and landowners who derived all or a portion of their income from their woodlands were not able to formally share information regarding the value and marketing of wood products. In addition, private woodlands owners did not have a common forum which could be used to share mutual concerns regarding legislation and policy affecting private woodlands.

In recent years, the value of collective representation for private woodlands owners has been recognized.

Several factors have helped set the stage for the formation of an association of woodlot owners/operators in Ontario. Sawmill owners and woodlot operators have had to deal with the same harsh economic circumstances facing the farming community (i.e. high operating costs, small profit margins, high interest rates and so on).

In addition, changes to legislation and policy affecting private woodlands and the use of wood products are being proposed. These proposed changes include amendments to the Trees Act and restrictions on the use of "home-grown" timber in buildings.

Also, many woodlot owners and woods operators wish to promote the application of good forestry practices in Ontario's woodlands. They recognize the value of expanded awareness and education programs for woodlot owners and operators.

The Ontario Woodlot and Sawmill Operators' Association was formed in July of 1992. This organization was formed to represent the collective interests of woodlot operators, sawmill owners and owners of woodlots.

The objectives of the organization include the following:

1. To provide awareness and education opportunities for its membership;

2. To collect and disseminate information regarding the value of forest products and marketing opportunities;

3. To represent the membership regarding matters of policy and legislation pertinent to private woodlands.

The head office of the organization is based in Perth, Ontario and there currently are about 150 members. It is anticipated that the organization will grow rapidly once rural people become aware of the organization. It will be possible to form local chapters of the Association in Eastern Ontario based upon the wishes of the membership.

An information session is scheduled for Tues., March 30, from 7pm to 9pm at the Athens Lions Hall. Harry Barr, chairman of the Woodlot and Sawmill Operators' Association, will be present to provide a description of the Association and to answer questions.

Applications for membership will be available. It is hoped that woods operators, sawmill owner/operators and landowners will attend this important meeting.

Ministry of Natural Resources staff will be on hand to answer questions about local forests and forest management programs.

For further information please contact Dave Chapeskie, RPF or Dale McLenaghan at 613-342-8524.

Speaker promotes positive attitude at DCCF banquet

by John DeJong

WILLIAMSBURG — The Dundas Christian Farmers had their annual banquet on Fri., March 19, at the Williamsburg Christian Reformed Church Hall.

After feasting on the meal prepared for us by the TCS catering committee, the regular business was attended to. We enjoyed the humor of the master of ceremonies, Bart Geylense. His wife Joyce also led the singing.

Probably the highlight for all was the guest speaker for the evening, Eleanor Wood; Troy, Ontario. She kept the audience wide-awake with her humor and antics as she related many experiences and anecdotes from her life on the farm. The main thrust of her speech was how to keep a positive attitude through various situations we face every day.

Happy 50th Anniversary

The Iroquois Golf Club has been operational since 1959 as a public nine-hole course. Located on the beautiful St. Lawrence River on 154 acres of open, windswept space, it provides a challenge to golfers of all abilities. Our historic clubhouse is situated on a grassy promontory surrounded on three sides by water.

An expansion to eighteen holes is in the planning stages with possible construction beginning in the summer of 1993. No interference with regular play is anticipated. We are expecting a more exciting golfing experience when our expansion becomes a reality. The space is there; the members are in favour; the town representatives are optimistic; the plan is feasible; we are waiting for a positive response to our funding request.

Memberships without initiation fee are presently available, with a basic single fee and reductions for couples, seniors, students, and juniors. Bookings may be arranged for groups and tournaments. You are most welcome to join us as full-time or daily members.

Membership and fee information is available at 652-9307 or 652-4243.

Two birthdays were announced, no anniversaries. Two visiotrs were introduced by Nina McClotchie namely her daughter and husband from Nova Scotia.

Myrna Cinnamon acting secretary read the minutes of the January meeting. They were approved.

It was moved and seconded that we give $25 to the Cancer Society. Treasurer's report was given by Isobel Lewis, adopted and seconded by Eva Johnston.

Two minutes silence was observed in memory of three deceased members, Annie L. Gibson, Flossie Christie and Mrs. Irvin Cross.

The auditor's report was given by Gladys Clarke.

The president spoke about the 20th anniversary of the club which we plan to celebrate on June 14, 1993 in the afternoon and she asked for a committee of 10 to help her with the arrangements. Several names were submitted.

Myrna Cinnamon gave a short history of the forming of the club which the members found very interesting. Several of the first members are still living.

In Memoriam

HELMER — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Stanton Helmer, who passed away on March 20, 1989.
In tears we watched you
We saw you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay,
But when we saw you sleeping,
So peaceful free from pain,
We could not wish you back
To suffer that again.
— Sadly missed always, remembered by your wife, Margaret and family
