Fire in Old Iroquois had deadly effect

Fire today has the same effect as it had back in 1948, and all residents dread hearing the sound of the fire siren. Looking back to the day when a bell rang out the alarm beside the old town hall or the siren at the powerhouse building along No. 2 highway, Iroquois residents may still recall the fire of 1948 that did damage to the New York Cafe and the post office.

In the second of the year-long series of pictures of the past, The Post publishes on its editorial page, this bit of history. Pictures are presented through the courtesy of R.W. Martin who has a fine collection showing our past photo-history. A glossy print of any of these pictures may be obtained from Mr. Martin for your scrapbook. This is a unique opportunity for all residents and former residents to collect a History of the Old Iroquois in pictures.

Minor Hockey News

Christmas vacation is hockey tournament time and the Pee Wee Atoms and Midgets all participated in tournaments.

In the Cornwall Township Atom Tournament, our boys won their first game by a 7-1 count over Brazier Falls, N.Y. The second game against Kemptville ended in a 2-2 tie. After 10 minutes of overtime, the teams were still deadlocked and according to tournament rules the game goes to the team scoring the first goal. Thus Kemptville was awarded the game and Iroquois lost a heartbreaker.

Luck was against the Midgets at Morrisburg tourney on Dec. 23 as the squad was knocked out of competition after two games.

The Pee Wees played at Kemptville and Long Sault tournaments and came home from each with a crest as finalists in the "B" competition. At Kemptville, the Iroquois squad earned a birth in the final with a 5-1 victory over Richmond and at Long Sault they defeated Kemptville 4-2 to land in the finals.

The Novice teams played three times this past week. On Dec. 30, Tim Patterson put together a five-goal effort while Tom Waddell and Robbie Shaw added one apiece in a 7-2 victory over the Canadiens of the Prescott House League. This Saturday, the Novice A team lost 4-2 to the Prescott travelling team. Tim Patterson scored both Iroquois markers.

The Novice "B" team went down 7-0 at the hands of Edwardsburg Novice on Friday evening in Spencerville.

The Tykes were white washed 11-0 by Cardinal on Saturday night. On Sunday, the team showed much better form and were beaten only 1-0 by the same Cardinal crew. Kevin Ault in his first game as a goalie was only about 4 minutes short of a shutout. Andy Lee was outstanding for Iroquois.

Former Art Teacher Weds

Judith Anne Price, who was for two years on the staff of Seaway High, became the bride of Earl Harold Hanson of Kenora, Ont., in St. Paul's United Church, Prescott.

Guests from here were Bob Martin, Mrs. Batchelor, Ron Beaupre and Dale Marcel, who was an usher.

just missing on some good opportunities around the Cardinal net.

The Bantams on Thursday lost another close game, by a 3-1 count to Edwardsburg.

The Pee Wee "B" team were beaten by a 1-0 score on Sat. in House League action.

In late Dec. the Midgets playing in Kemptville with only nine players on the bench went down to a 2-0 defeat. During the same week, Don Adams with two goals, led the Iroquois squad to a 3-1 decision over Athens. Bill Mullin added the other marker and Kevin Merkley got two assists.

Although our boys in yellow outshot and outplayed Edwardsburg on the 20th, one goal got by the Midget netminder and Iroquois lost a close one, 1-0. The Edwardsburg goalie saved the game for the hometown crew and put a shutout on the scoreboard.

The second half of the Pee Wee schedule began for Iroquois on Sunday with Edwardsburg the visitors. Iroquois played a very strong game and handed Edwardsburg a 4-2 loss. Mike Moran scored twice while K. Adams and S. Buell had one each. The game was a rough one with Edwardsburg taking 9 penalties, including a third period misconduct.

Ladies Aid Meeting

The Knox Ladies held their Ladies Aid meeting at the home of Miss Nina McGowan.

The president, Miss McGowan, opened the meeting with a hymn, followed by prayer. The scripture lesson was read in unison.

Minutes were read by Mrs. Moke and approved, followed by roll call and correspondence.

Mrs. J.B. Fenton, treasurer, gave a very encouraging report. Hymn was sung, followed by the Lord's prayer.

PERSONAL

Miss Donna McCadden of Ottawa and friend visited her grandparents, Mr. & Mrs. J.W. Moke on Wednesday.

Mr. & Mrs. Burt Barkley of Rivers, Manitoba, Cpl. Dennis Cabana, Mrs. Cabana and son of C.F.B. Uplands, Ottawa visited Mr. & Mrs. J.W. Moke on Saturday.

Mrs. Carrie Carn of Williamsburg returned home on Sunday after spending two weeks visiting Mr. & Mrs. J.W. Moke.

Knox P.Y.P.S. plan Ecumenical meeting

The Anglican young people of Cardinal will be invited guests of the Knox P.Y.P.S. for the February 5th meeting of the Society, beginning with a broom-ball game and fellowship time following in the church hall. This ecumenical gathering was arranged at the regular meeting of the Society, Monday evening, with 12 members present answering the roll-call. Miss Renee Barnhardt, President, presided over the meeting and opening worship, with leadership in the Scriptures and prayer by Mrs. Lorraine Norton and John Dewit. The Offering was received and dedicated with group prayer.

The study for the evening was the first section of the new study book entitled, "Faith and Justice", with preliminary development on the theme by Miss Anne Yee and Miss Gail Smollett, followed by two group discussions and report-back.

The business meeting was opened with the roll call, followed by reports from the minutes and treasury by Gwenn Smollett and Norman Ladouceur. Business from the minutes included the cleaning up of 1972 projects, the crabapple jelly and calendar projects. The annual reports of the P.Y.P.S. were read by the Secretary and Treasurer and approved for submission to the Annual Congregational Meeting, January 20th.

New business included preparations for the broomball game; the decision to have a tobaggan outing, February 24th in the Long Sault Parkway, with baked beans and hot dogs lucheon in the church hall following; preliminary plans for the annual Heart Fund Sunday appeal, Feb. 11th; the appointment of a committee of Margaret Dewit and Joan Ladouceur to assist two women of the Presbyterian Women's group in child care arrangements for the Annual Congregational Meeting, and a committee of Mrs. Lorraine Norton and Mrs. Judy Barnhardt to prepare the invitations to this meeting; the sale of ten-test bulletin boards that have been made by the members; and the planning of a bake sale in the Civic Centre Auditorium on Thursday night in Iroquois

On Thursday evening, Jan. 11 at 8 p.m., Dr. Alex Deutsch and Mrs. Deutsch will be the guests of the congregation of St. John's Anglican Church at a public and informal gathering of people who are interested to learn something about Orthodox Judaism.

Who is Dr. Deutsch?

While Dr. Justin Forbes is on holidays in Ireland, the Deutsch family- Alex, Gloria, Anna and Rachael have been living at the doctor's residence on Church Street, and Dr. Deutsch has met a number of our Iroquois and community people professionally. Those whom he has met will probably be first at St. John's Thursday evening, because of the Doctor's interest in people that is much more than strictly professional.

Why the Anglican Church?

While the Rev. Allan Rogers was in search of "the stranger in our midst" just before Christmas, an old friend who had benefitted from the new doctor's medical care suggested that he should visit this family who had been here just a short time, and who probably did not know many Canadians at all.

An Introduction to Jewish Family Life

While in their home, Mr. Rogers learned that the family are Jewish, and he became aware of his own gross sense of ignorance about his spiritual ancestors in the flesh. He was delighted to be invited to join the Deutsch family for the Friday evening Sabbath meal. It proved to be a delightful learning experience, with a great evidence of family love, Scripture, song and prayer, ritual ceremony, and good conversation over fine food.

Sunday Morning

Dr. Deutsch was willing to share some information with St. John's Congregation Sunday morning, and he has been asked to use the same brief address as an introduction to "Judaism Today" this Thursday evening. It is interesting that the congregation would like the people of the village to be our guests on Thursday at a less formal meeting to inquire into the Jewish Orthodox religion.

Questions, Please

What do you know about the religion of the Jewish people, a religion on which Christianity is based? What questions would you like to ask about the life of an Orthodox Jew, the State of Israel, Kosher food and dietary laws, the ministry of a Rabbi, and lots of other information to which Alex and Gloria Deutsch may have answers. They are lay people in the Orthodox Jewish Faith; and because they practise their religion, they are informed, oriented and happy people. You will enjoy meeting Dr. and Mrs. Deutsch, if you are free to be at St. John's on Thursday evening.

An Open Invitation

The news of Dr. Deutsch's willingness to meet with interested people was shared with the four village clergy late Saturday evening, and with their respective congregations who were at worship Sunday morning. The Iroquois Post conveys the same invitation to any other youths and adults who may wish to be present Thursday.

A Perspective of the Evening

If you were a Christian visiting in Israel and were invited by the Jewish Community to give an account of your Christian faith, and what it means to you... what would you say? You will find it most interesting to hear how a non-Christian finds his way of life before the God of Israel. Actually, it is an evening from which all of us can gain a great deal. We are pleased with Dr. Forbes for taking a holiday because the pressure of his work is ever constant; and we are grateful that he was thoughtful to have a medical doctor come and continue practice in Iroquois. It is refreshing to find Dr. Deutsch's willingness to serve our community spiritually as well as medically. And we hope our people may respond in a significant way to the generosity with which Alex and Gloria Deutsch are making themselves available to us on Thursday evening in Iroquois.

Craft House has moved

Robert Martin announces that The Craft House has been moved in the Iroquois Shopping Plaza to the store between the Bank of Montreal and The Iroquois Post.

The enlarged quarters will allow Mr. Martin to better display the books and crafts, and to provide better darkroom facilities for the business.

Residents are welcomed to drop in and browse around.

A Citizen of Note

With the coming of the first of the year there came the retirement of a volunteer of some considerable note in the village. Murray Storey, many many years Chief of the Iroquois Fire Department, retired from those duties in the village.

Murray's interest in the fire department in Iroquois goes back into the days before Rev. J. L. Hodgson helped form the local volunteers into a viable group and since that time in 1941 the local department has come into its own. It has become recognized as one of the best units in these Counties, not only with its modern equipment, but by virtue of having one of the most interested groups of volunteer fire departments in the country.

The years past have seen the equipment progress from a hand pumper to one of the most modern fire trucks in Canada's smaller communities, with uniformed firemen, well trained and energetic in their duties.

It is a tribute to the retiring chief that here in Iroquois we have such a volunteer organization and on behalf of the entire community The Post expresses its thanks and sincere appreciation to Mr. Storey for his dedication to service and for the qualities of leadership he has displayed for over a quarter of a century. Your memories and ours shall last.

Ice Age Here?

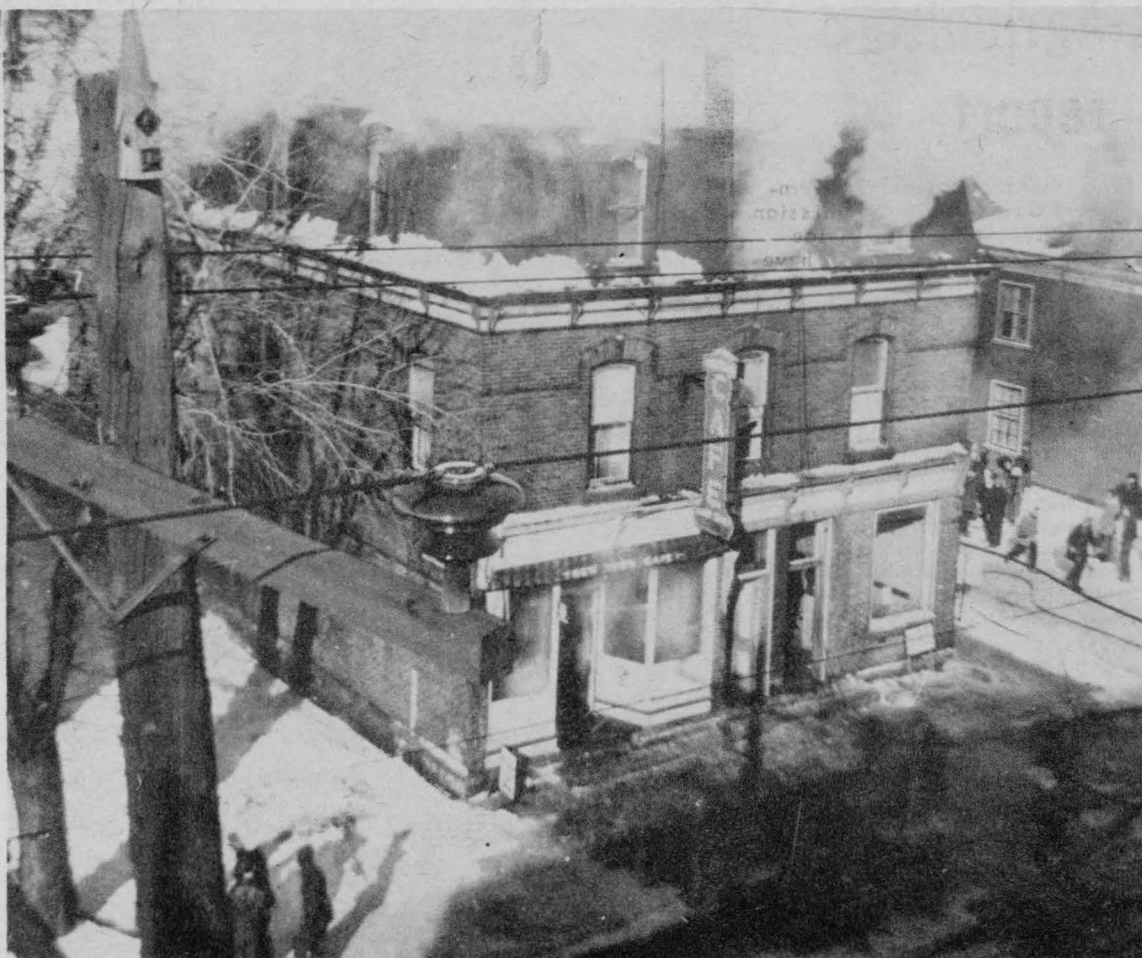

Geologists who have been studying our past history and its ice ages, say we could very well be on the verge of another such age. It takes about 10,000 years for the cycle to complete itself, so don't rush off and buy an extra set of underwear just yet. (Unless there is another more imperative need!)

Watching educational TV the other night we were amazed to learn that the seemingly colder winters we've had the past couple of years are just that . . . colder. It would appear, if the geologists haven't gotten bitten by the frost, that Canada's north and all that glacial cold is slowly pushing its way southward. Someday we'll have all moved to the sunny south for a few thousand years.

Believe it or not, we wouldn't mind moving now to save all the rush later and if it wasn't for making a living and the lack of money and time, that's just where we'd be. Glacier or no glacier.

However, it is something to think about for the generations to come and if the next five thousand years are as progressive in travel as the past 25 years, then a good many earthlings may very well move from earth to Mars or some other out-of-the-way place and become pioneers in their own right.

Now there's something worth while waiting around for!

The Old Iroquois

Fire in Old Iroquois circa 1948

Back in 1948 fire did a lot of damage to the building housing the New York Cafe and the post office and this scene shows smoke pouring from the rooftop. This building, like all the other business places on the front street, disappeared with the wrecker's hammer when the usefulness of the old village was done and the new village occupied in 1956-57.

NOW IT'S FOUR TIMES THANKS TO THE CAT

As I recall, my last column was a tale of woe, relating the dreadful things the gods had done to me in 1972.

I should have kept my mouth shut. The same gods, annoyed at my tiny protest, decided to show me what they could really do.

Take a cat. Go on. Any old cat. Take a freshly-waxed floor. Take a guy with an armful of milk and eggs. Take a wife who is upstairs watching TV when she should be helping that guy with the groceries.

O.K. The guy comes in. He takes off his boots so he won't make a mess on the newly-washed-and-waxed kitchen floor. He is in his sock feet. Right?

Out of the grocery bags he takes two quarts of milk, a dozen eggs and a case of pop. He heads for the kitchen counter.

At that very moment the cat, unfed, hurls herself at his legs, meowing and rubbing. He lifts his right foot, gently, to turf her out of the way, spins smartly on his left metatarsal, and goes down like Niagara Falls.

He fails to eject the grub, out of some dim, primitive idea that you hang onto the grub at any cost. The first thing that hits anything is his noggin, which tries to tear the copper off the cupboard door handles.

The next thing that strikes hard-pan is his nose, which bounces off the floor in a spray of blood and milk.

Yes, he's still holding onto the milk. He loses only one quart of blood, two of milk.

His erstwhile wife and protector comes down and finds him sitting in something like a Masai wedding, two parts milk to one part blood, a cold cloth on his torn scalp, eggs all over the place, and his nose going up like a balloon being filled with hydrogen.

But there's no fret, no sweat. He's had his nose broken three times before, and by far better people than a cat, or his wife's waxing.

Sitting there among the eggshells and milk and blood, he remembers fondly the time his future brother-in-law gave him an elbow and cracked the old beeper during football practice.

And then he thinks of that beautiful free-for-all with the Royal Marines, outside that pub in Wrexham, North Wales, when the fighter pilots proved only that they could not fight.

And he remembers, almost with pleasure, the day he was being beaten up by the German guards, and nobody had even broken his nose yet, and then the little guy who was engineer of the locomotive came rushing in to the circle and kicked him right in the snoot.

And I'd like to say this every after, thinking about the other times his nose had been broken. But she wouldn't let him.

Her first thought was pure Florence Nightingale. "Everybody will think I did it," she wailed. "Yes, I would think they would," I countered. "Knowing you."

"They'll think you were drunk", was her next contribution. "Well, that's what I'd think, if someone told me he'd lost a one-round bout with a cat", I suggested.

"How am I going to get the blood out of that towel", she queried. "Well, you might pretend you were a vampire, and suck it out."

"People will think you've been beaten up", she worried. "Yes", I rejoined. Smugly. No answer.

"I'm going to lock the door, so nobody can see you." And I replied, "I'm going to call a press conference, and admit it was all your fault, because you'd waxed the floor, and you cynical, almost vicious hadn't put the cat out, and you weren't down to help me with the groceries."

Ah, heck! I shouldn't put her through all that. It was not her fault, except that she'd waxed the floor and hadn't put the cat out and didn't come down to help with the groceries and insists I take my boots off when I come in onto her rotten polished floors.

It's not so bad, really. Apart from the cuts on my nose, which look as though a gang of Glaswegians had worked me over, there are only the eyes.

For some reason, when you break your nose, there's a great sympathy from your eyes.

They don't weep, except for the first six hours. They swell up and up and up. At first they are red. Then they begin to look like a couple of tea-bags that have been on the booze. And when the worst is over, they turn a sort of bilious yellow.

When that happens, you know you are home free, and that all you have to do is think up witty answers for the query: "Wife beat you up again?"

Ont. Fed. of Agriculture report

"Either the provincial government's Ontario Milk Commission must give dairymen the price they need, or the taxpayer have to subsidize fluid milk," says Frank Wall, vice-president, Ont. Federation of Agriculture.

The producers' bargaining agent, the Ontario Milk Marketing Board, asked for a fluid milk price increase of 57 cents a hundred-weight.

"This was a legitimate request. It was based directly on rising input costs. The Commission refused to meet producers' demands on the grounds that consumers and the market would not stand the price increase. This is short-sighted. Who will keep dairy cattle in the future if the price of milk is frozen while input prices soar."

Wall said the function of a marketing board is to gear supply to demand, and get just returns for the producers.

"Marketing boards can not live if government bodies control the price. What we are witnessing is government depressing the price so that the farmer is subsidizing the consumer." "Why should the farmer always be expected to carry the load, what about society as a whole?"

Hide And Seek Fish

Where are they now? Some of the most perplexing fish that anglers pursue are walleyes. You can never tell where they'll turn up next. And with increased stocking by fisheries departments, the number of streams and lakes containing walleyes continues to grow. Today more anglers than ever have a chance to catch this popular species of fish.

Since they're so unpredictable fishing for walleyes should appeal to the gambling instincts of most men. Sometimes they are found in shallow water, other times in deep water. They could be near shore, or in the middle of the lake.

But wherever you find walleyes, Red Fisher, the angling expert at Mercury outboards, advises that chances are you'll have good fishing. For they are schooling fish and will usually stay in one place long enough for fishermen to catch a limit.

In lakes, start searching for them near shore where the water deepens quickly, leaving a shallow shelf running back to the bank. Walleyes will lay right along the edge of the shelf, waiting for a tasty morsel to come their way. Avoid muddy bottoms; walleyes prefer sand or gravel.

In streams, fish the swift, deep water, especially where an eddy forms alongside a fast stretch. Walleyes wait here for minnows or other natural food to go by, caught in the tumbling stream of water.

In spring, walleyes spawn over sand and rocks, not staying on the nest. Later, in mid-summer, they are likely to be in water up to 50 feet deep, and trolling is the only way to locate them. When you get a strike, continue fishing the same way in the same place. It's sometimes possible to collect a limit within a short period.

Walleyes are prized as table fare. With a sharp, thin-bladed knife fillet the fish, dip the fillets in milk, roll them in cornmeal, then fry them in a greased skillet over a hot fire.

School Committee For Iroquois Public School

At a general school meeting held December 20th at the Iroquois Public School, the idea of a School Committee was proposed by the Principal, Jim Shaw. Four representatives were chosen from the community. The Committee met January 3rd and appointed its officers. The members of the School Committee are as follows: Chairman, Gerry Fulford; Secretary, Kay Brown; Treasurer, George Eddy; members, Peter Swank, Bonnie Adair, Ruth Styles, Lynn Chant and Bob Dolan. Jim Shaw, as Principal, is an ex officio member of the committee.

The idea of a School Committee is new to both Iroquois Public School and Dundas County. Basically, a School Committee is made up of equal representation from both the teaching profession and the adult members of the community. As such, it can act as a sounding board for the free exchange of ideas between the school staff and representatives of the parents. It may also serve as a service group to organize assistance in carrying out school functions. It is intended to be the primary vehicle for communication and involvement of the school community.

The committee will endeavour to develop ideas, foster insights, and put forward suggestions and requests which may be related to the programs of the school and its other extra curricular activities. It is not intended to include the disposition or criticism of individuals within the school body, rather to foster constructive community involvement in the school programs.

Two programs discussed during the first meeting were the re-organization and operation of the school library and the possible introduction of an elective program into the school curriculum. Volunteer help is required to re-organize and maintain the school library.

Implementation of an elective program geared at broadening the students' outlook beyond the normal topics covered in the school curriculum will require community participation. Under an elective program, volunteers from the area who have special talents or hobbies would be invited to assist the staff. The students on the other hand, would have the option of choosing the subject of most interest to them.

We need your help! If you have any interesting past time, hobby or talent such as handicrafts, stamp, coin or rock collecting, athletic, photographic, musical or dramatic training, please contact any member of the School Committee.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

You'd think this young lad with the twinkling eyes and the freckles was Irish because he reminds you of a leprechaun, but Ross is Scottish in descent.

This nine-year-old is slight and healthy with blue eyes, dark blond hair and fair clear skin.

Ross is a happy youngster with a personality to match that delightful smile. He is kind, considerate and gentle as well as being active and sports-minded. He is so keen on hockey that he takes his hockey stick to school every day in case there should be a chance to shoot a few pucks. He also plays on a team.

A dedicated fisherman, Ross is immensely proud of a picture showing him with his best catch, the biggest bass caught last summer in the area where his foster parents were holidaying.

Ross is a slow learner and will go through school in special education classes. He does well in the non-academic stream and works hard. Math is his favorite subject. He is clever with his hands and will learn a trade later on.

With his happy disposition Ross gets along well with both children and adults. He has many friends in his own age group.

Ross will be a lovable son for a family where academic achievement is not a major concern but where qualities of character and personality are.

To inquire about adopting Ross, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

Telephone free for information

Starting January 2, 1973, every Canadian with a telephone no matter where he lives, will have free access to federal income tax information, the Hon. Robert Stanbury announced recently.

Mr. Stanbury, Minister of National Revenue, said that a ZENITH toll-free telephone service for taxpayers seeking information on federal income tax goes into effect the country over on that date.

If one lives beyond the range of local telephone service of any of the Department's 28 District Taxation Offices throughout Canada, he may telephone without charge by calling the long-distance operator and asking for ZENITH 0-4000. Residents of the communities in each province where the District Offices are situated will continue to call the regular number of each of the offices.

Taxation is the first federal government department to initiate a toll-free telephone service so that every citizen will have the same free and ready access to information during regular office hours.

Up to the present time, approximately 47 percent of all Canadian taxpayers would have been required to pay long distance charges if they had telephoned their District Taxation Offices for information. Introduction of the ZENITH system equalizes the opportunity of all Canadians to call District Taxation Offices free of charge.

The Department urges taxpayers to read carefully their tax guides and follow the instructions there in completing their tax returns. Most, if not all, their questions are answered in the guide. But if they still have a problem, it is suggested that they contact their District Taxation Office either by telephone, by letter or by visiting the premises.

Province supports Eastern Ontario Promotion Agency

James L. Keenleyside of Kingston, President of Eastern Ontario Development Council has announced that the Minister of Industry and Tourism for the Province of Ontario, the Honourable John White, has requested a meeting to discuss a proposal submitted by E.O.D.C. to establish industry and to promote tourism in the Golden Triangle. This meeting will culminate several months of meetings with members of government and it is expected agreement will be reached as to how the Provincial Government and the grass roots residents of Eastern Ontario can work as partners to improve the economy of the region. Mr. White has stated that he will come to the meeting with a very positive attitude and with some ideas which he believes will be beneficial to the people of Eastern Ontario.

Mr. Keenleyside is very encouraged by the response from the Minister, and he has expressed the belief that the new body to be formed will be an equal partnership agreement between the Province and the residents of Eastern Ontario who are anxious to see controlled growth take place.

It is expected that Mr. Keenleyside will meet with E.O.D.C. Director Carleton McInnis of Morrisburg along with the other members of the Board of Directors to seek ratification of the agreement to establish this vital organization as early as possible.

"The Federation demands that either milk producers be allowed to gain their just returns from the market place, or else the provincial government should immediately subsidize fluid milk by 22 cents a hundred-weight."

He points out that the OMMB's request to raise the floor price does not reflect the recent jump in livestock feed prices. The price for oats is now 34 per cent higher than last years price. Corn prices have climbed by 23 per cent, and soya meal by 41 per cent. United Co-operatives of Ontario feed analysts say feed costs, alone, have added 36 cents to the cost of producing 100 pounds of milk within the last 12 months.

"Farmers need every penny they asked for," adds Wall.

4th Annual Snowmobile Rally

The 4th Annual Snowmobile Rally, sponsored by Iroquois Royal Canadian Legion Branch 370, will be held on Saturday, February 3rd, 1973.

The starting time for this year's rally will be 12:00 noon.

In addition to the regular competition of the rally, a very delicious chicken dinner will be served to all those who enter. Following the luncheon will be a social evening and dance with the Rythms Incorporated (Reg's Group) providing the dance music. The tickets for the rally are limited and are being issued to all prospective entrants on a first come first served basis, so don't be disappointed; get your entry in as soon as possible. Entry forms and tickets may be obtained from any member of the Legion's Sports Committee or the bar steward at the branch. The members of the committee who have tickets for the rally are Doug Reynolds, Garry Blok, Garry Banford, Dwayne Kirker, Ed Renwick, Mac Anderson, Ed Hutchinson, Ken Easter, Ray Delegarde, Leo DeBellefeuille or Clare Brown. Mr. Brown is the General Chairman for this year's rally and further information can be secured from him by phoning 652-4422 or 652-4458.

More news and information on the rally will be released later.

The course for the rally will be announced in the Iroquois Post shortly. Plans are being arranged to have trailers and stations established to assist entries who may encounter difficulty with their machines.

Walter Baker, M.P. The opening of Parliament

The 29th Parliament opened on January 4th, 1973 and I took my seat as the Member of Parliament for Grenville-Carleton - the Constituency in which I was born, raised and now live. I am honoured to represent the people of my "home-town", however one wishes to interpret that word. Speech from the Throne

The Governor General read a lengthy speech prepared by the Government. If there is time in this Parliament we are to be buried in a blizzard of legislation. There is a tid-bit for everyone - indeed the whole speech is so full of promises of things the Trudeau Government said could not or would not be done prior to the election that it has been called a Testimony to the Triumph of expediency over principle! You have all read about the details of this amazing confession of inadequacy so I will not elaborate but it must be pointed out that at a time when Canada has an unemployment rate of 6% coupled with increasing inflation, the Government does not announce any new economic proposals to meet problems - it may be that they have none. Redistribution

The Commission for Ontario the Electoral Boundaries Act has announced its proposals for redistribution which affect Grenville-Carleton. Our Riding will be carved up to form part of 4 Ridings. The Dundas County portion goes into the Riding known as Stormont-Dundas. The Grenville County portion, including Merrickville, goes into a New Riding called Grenville-Leeds, and, the Township of Marlborough and the Township of Goulbourn, as well as the Villages of Richmond and Stittsville go into a new Riding called Lanark and these are coupled with March Township, parts of Lanark County and the County of Renfrew. The Townships of Nepean, North Gower and Osgoode and that part of Gloucester contained in Long Island in the Rideau River are together in a New Riding called Ottawa-Nepean. There is no doubt that in the new make-up there is at least a movement towards the principle of representation by population but it must be said too that there is a fragmentation of what might be termed the Old County of Carleton. It is a personal wrench for me to see the County of Grenville proposed to be detached from Carleton, for I grew up in Cardinal in that County and my parents live there - and we have a summer cottage on the St. Lawrence - indeed I know that County like the back of my hand.

The proposed names of "OTTAWA-NEPEAN" and "LANARK" really do not take into account the history and the geography of the ridings as they are set out. Why "OTTAWA" appears in the name "OTTAWA-NEPEAN" is beyond me - the Riding does not include any part of the City of Ottawa. Certainly the name "NEPEAN" must be included because of the size, and the pre-eminent position the Township enjoys in the community of municipalities. The historical union of Nepean with the old County of Carleton, together with the municipalities of North Gower, Osgoode and part of Gloucester, makes it appropriate that the historic name "CARLETON" be preserved. My own choice of name would be "NEPEAN-CARLETON" and I have written to the Reeves of the municipalities asking their support for the inclusion of "CARLETON". There can also be no doubt that Goulbourn, Richmond and Stittsville, which are proposed as part of "LANARK" have a strong County of Carleton connection - this ought to be at least recognized, by a name like "CARLETON-LANARK" or some other appropriate combination.

However, the next election will be fought in the familiar and large Riding of Grenville-Carleton because the new boundaries, whatever they may be, will not be approved, and I intend to continue the regular visits-throughout the whole of the Riding. These business visits have allowed me to meet more people in and around all of the Towns and Villages in the Riding and of course, the Nepean Constituency office has been very well received.

I should mention that my office on Parliament Hill has moved from the West Block to Room 654 in the Confederation Building and if you wish to see me there, please give me a call. The telephone number is unchanged (992-4394). I am grateful for the many very helpful and constructive ideas and comments which I have received with respect to Federal matters.

DOLLARS & GOOD SENSE
by WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Special Consultant to Advertisers

For many of us the thought of going on a shopping spree boggles the mind. With holiday buying behind us it should be time for a rest. Besides, who has any money left over?

But this is the time when sly shoppers can make a big killing. Look at the prices for greeting cards and gift wrappings right after the holidays. What a great time to buy for the following year and take advantage of truly big savings.

Holiday items aren't the only things on sale after Christmas, though. There are a lot of legitimate sales going on, and if you're smart, you have saved some money to take advantage of them.

January is a bargain month for many items, from the traditional "white sales" to winter merchandise of all kinds. Buying at an off-season or end of season sale takes some long range planning, however.

Project your shopping needs on larger items ahead by several months or an entire year. Get your skis or antifreeze or snow tires in March at close-out prices.

Many things don't change in style from season to season, and buying ahead can cut your costs substantially. Do some planning and get in on some big savings.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5875 London, Ontario.

Mrs. D. Sullivan host to Hulbert U.C.W.

The minutes of the last meeting were read with 12 noted present. The members gave verses containing the word YEAR. Next month's word is FAMILY.

The next meeting to be at Mrs. K. Fleggs with Mrs. Sullivan having the program. President thanked the hostess and meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

A social hour was enjoyed by all.

The first meeting of the new year was held Jan. 3 at the home of Mrs. Donald Sullivan in South Mountain.

The meeting opened with a prayer for the New Year by Mrs. Ward Mellon. Hymn 354, "O Jesus I Have Promised" was sung followed by the Scripture taken from Deuteronomy 11, v. 9-13 by Mrs. K. Flegg.

A reading "The New Year" by Mrs. Mellon was followed by prayer by Mrs. N. Scharf. Hymn 358 "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult" was sung and a poem "I Do Resolve" given by Mrs. C. Thorpe. Rev. Stewart led in prayer and Mrs. D. Fawcett gave a poem "You Can't Please Anyone".

The Sunshine Sox were given out to be returned at the Feb. meeting.

PLEASANT VALLEY

Mr. & Mrs. Robert A. Gilmer and family and Mr. & Mrs. Gerald Renkema and boys returned home on Tues. after spending Christmas with Mr. & Mrs. David Gilmer.

Mr. John McGowan is now a patient in Ottawa Civic Hospital being transferred there from Winchester. We hope better health soon comes your way.

Mr. & Mrs. Earl Gilmer were at the Clinic at Morrisburg on Friday.

Mr. & Mrs. Howard Conley visited Mrs. W. J. Gilmer and Hilliard on Thurs. evening.

Mr. & Mrs. Ross Gilmer spent Fri. with his parents here.

Mr. Hilliard Gilmer was a caller in Winchester on Wed. afternoon.

Letters To The Editor

Sir:

On behalf of the following organizations - Iroquois Lions Club, Caldwell Linens Union, Royal Canadian Legion Ladies Auxiliary #370 and Royal Canadian Legion Branch #370, I wish to thank the many citizens and fellow organizations who assisted and contributed to the success of the 1972 Iroquois Santa Claus Parade, as well as to the several business men and you and your staff for the excellent publicity you provided this annual event.

Without the co-operation of all these people, the hundreds of local and area children would not have had the opportunity to enjoy the visit of Santa Claus in the manner in which they did.

To one and all, a very hearty vote of thanks is extended to you for your thoughtfulness, cooperation and generosity. Kenneth Easter, General Chairman, Santa Claus Parade Committee 1972.

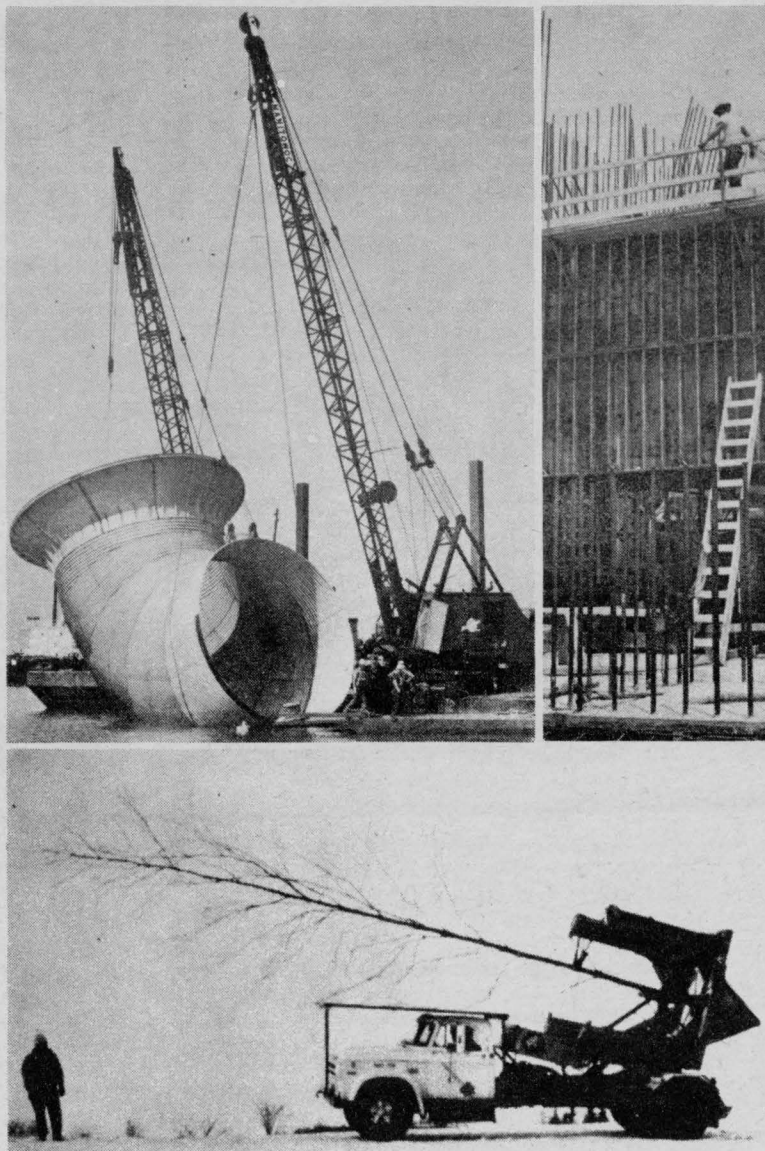

If you don't mind being wakened at four AM, then snowmobiling on the village streets is great fun. If you don't give a darn about the sick, the elderly and the shift worker, trying to get a little much needed rest, then it can be even better sport at any time.

The suggestion that clubs be formed is excellent; if this envisions the purchase of land by the club and the keeping of the vehicles on the club property. Otherwise, it is merely one of those catch phrases, so prevalent today, designed to mislead and placate without meaning anything.

If you think that the mere forming of a club is the answer, may I point out that the motorcycle clubs of our big cities are well organized groups, many having international affiliations. However, they are better known, in most instances, to the police as gangs.

All too often the older brother or parent takes a youngster for a ride on a snowmobile over a neighbour's footpath, driveway, or lawn. The youngster quickly learns the first lesson of every criminal - a complete lack of respect for the rights and property of others. The bank robber started by stealing candies as a child; no one starts at the top and all emulate someone.

Most countries of Europe have banned the snowmobile completely and others only grant a licence confining the machine to a specific area or acreage

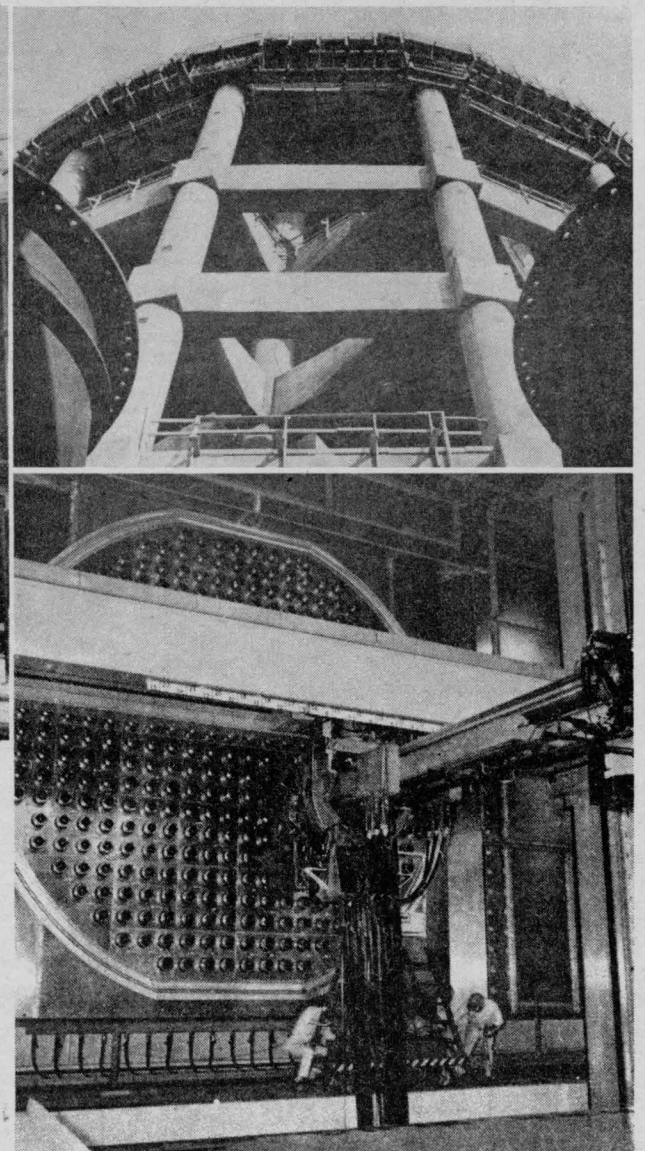

BUILDING FOR POWER, 1972: A four-month strike had little effect on field construction of Ontario Hydro's generating stations to meet provincial power demands.

At Nanticoke generating station on Lake Erie, the final section of a second cooling water intake was installed (top left). First power flowed in January, and completion is slated for 1977.

Formwork progressed for turbine blocks (top centre) at Lennox generating station on Lake Ontario near Kingston. Hydro's first totally oil-fired plant is due to provide initial power in 1974.

The vacuum building internal structure (top right) for Bruce nuclear station on Lake Huron was completed in December. Sixty-four columns 4 feet in diameter support a dousing tank, part of the nuclear containment system. Construction at Bruce will continue through the late '70s.

Fresh and spent fuel for Pickering nuclear station reactors is handled by remote-controlled fuelling machines (bottom right). The plant, east of Toronto on Lake Ontario, was officially opened February 25 and is scheduled to be completed this year.

Use of a tree planter capable of moving trees twenty-eight feet tall (bottom left) is an example of Hydro's continuing aesthetic improvement program throughout Ontario.

of land owned by a club or by the individual requesting the licence.

If the rural towns and villages of Ontario do nothing to regulate these vehicles, you can hardly expect the provincial government to take any particular interest. There comes a time when we can't sit back and let someone else do the job.

We are fortunate that no one has been killed while snowmobiling on our streets. Accidents between cars and snowmobiles are increasingly prevalent, however, and the law of averages says that it is only a matter of time.

Perhaps we should wait though. The grassmobile is already here and should be a common vehicle for all seasons in a few years time with its possible speeds of one hundred miles per hour and better.

SAYS

FAT PEOPLE ARE HAPPY PEOPLE!

There was a time when the general public believed that "Fat people were happy people!". This of course was nonsense, but understandable, as little was known as to how a fat person hid behind a so-called happy atmosphere to cover up his or her actual feelings.

Obesity has never made a happy situation, and fortunately doctors, psychologists, nutritionists, have all jumped on the band wagon promoting weight reduction.

Are you overweight? What are you doing about it? One of the first things you must do is make up your mind that you want to lose weight.

No intelligent human being really wants to help kill himself, and as pointed out by top medical personnel, you can endanger your health badly by simply being overweight. Your heart, kidneys, liver, pancreas, all are affected by too much weight.

We know today that the mind and body are closely tied together so a proper attitude towards losing weight is essential. A poorly nourished body, sluggish circulation inevitably creates a low state of mind, so you must take the first step and start to "think thin". Once you take that step reducing becomes much easier, and going on a proper diet will seem much simpler.

Whereas your family might have found you grumpy and irritable, invariably the change in attitude and the weight loss will delight everyone.

You too will be impressed by seeing a drop in weight when you step on the scale, and your attitude in dieting is the key to success. The aphorism applies that "nothing succeeds like success".

If your weight is dropping only a pound a week, you'll probably say to yourself "What's the use of even trying? — I'll never make it". Again your negative attitude must change to a positive one. The stark truth must be faced by all, people that are overweight love to eat, and only by "thinking thin" and wanting desperately to create a new and vital you, will there be a change for the better.

When you've begun to lose, and the first compliments are given for your improved appearance, that's the time when you'll honestly feel that "Fat people aren't happy people!".

Your questions are invited.

SPORTS - SLANTS

Views & News By Leo DeBellefeuille

Hello Sports Fans, and welcome back to the Sports Slants column for 1973.

Now that everyone has settled down from the hustle and bustle of the busy festive holiday season, we embark into the new year with a fresh outlook for a year packed with activity and success for everyone involved in sports and general recreation.

It is our hope and desire that all of you will adopt the same attitude and that 1973 will become a very fruitful season for your favorite past time and that you will meet with many forms of success to enable 1973 to go down in local sports history as the most successful season ever. Best of luck to everyone!

To start the ball rolling, Mrs. Helen Smith, village councillor and recreation chairman, has announced that the annual Iroquois Winter Carnival will be staged or put on "ice" the weekend of February 16th, 17th and 18th.

She wishes that any organization or individual who would be interested to participate or contribute to this year's carnival get in contact with her relatively soon. This event is open to all citizens from the cradle to any age. Let's get behind Helen and her committee and help to make the Iroquois Winter Carnival an outstanding success.

Added to the list of local major sports events in the early going of the new year is the Royal Canadian Legion's 4th Annual Snowmobile Rally.

The Rally will be scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 3rd, with a starting time of 12 noon. The organizers are planning for 100 entries. The entry fee, dinner and dance is reasonably tagged at $6.00. It will be open to any interested snowmobile enthusiast in Iroquois and district. So hurry and enter soon. For entry form tickets, you may purchase these from any member of the Legion Sports Committee. These people are as follows: Ray Delegarde, Ed Hutchinson, Mac Anderson, Ed Renwick, Garry Banford, Dwayne Kirker, Doug Reynolds, Garry Blok, Leo DeBellefeuille or Clare Brown, Rally Chairman. For any further information you may contact Mr. Brown at 652-4422 or 652-4458.

From all reports, the Iroquois Minor Hockey Association is having a healthy season in all divisions. Keep up the good work fellows! The organization is having a 50-50 draw on Jan. 12th at Johnny's Spot, so we hope you will help minor hockey and pick up a few chances. Tickets are available from players and coaches and the executive.

In a recent conversation with Mr. Sonny Harrington of the Ontario Lacrosse Association, he is very interested in forming a Minor Lacrosse Association in Iroquois. He informed us he is willing to provide a free clinic to instruct players, coaches and organizers during the summer months. If anyone is interested in such a project, simply get in contact with this scribe.

The Cornwall Royals, the Q.J.H.L. champs during the 1971-72 season and defending Memorial Cup champions, have been in the driver's seat for most of the current campaign. However, the chances of finishing first now have become that much harder since all-star defenceman Bob Murray has been sidelined for 2 months. Another star defenceman, Al Sims, at this moment is not up to par, as he recently suffered a bruised kidney. Adding to their list of casualties is Bob "Boom Boom" Geoffrion and Yvon Disotell, with shoulder and wrist injuries respectively. Brian McCullough is also out with a serious hip fracture.

It was very considerate of the Board of Directors of baseball's Hall of Fame to clear the way for Roberto Clemente's immediate election, bypassing the usual five year waiting period.

What is it coming to? In general, too much emphasis is placed on winning in minor sports of all types. Instead of looking forward to the joys of victory, youngsters are inhibited by the fear of defeat. Why

Ontario Anti-Poverty Organization Report

Mrs. Claude Carnut, Ingle-side, Ont. is a provincial Council Member of the Ontario Anti-Poverty Organization, representing the Seaway Community Services. She attended a meeting of the planning committee of the O.A.P.O. in Toronto, Nov. 19, 1972. This is her report.

"This was a planning committee meeting for an Anti-Poverty Conference to be held in Toronto, Jan. 12th, 13th and 14th, 1973.

The first conference of this kind was held in Jan. 1971, called the National Anti-Poverty Organization.

The second conference was held in Toronto, in January 1972. At this conference, Seaway Community Services participated by delegating Mrs. Francis Casselman and myself. I attended a cabinet meeting with the Government in June 1972 at Queen's Park, where our credibility was confirmed. The O.A.P.O. is seeking a charter, which is now in the process of being obtained.

My own personal opinion is that this should have been done right after the cabinet meeting. Perhaps I am wrong, but I feel the resource people could have told us this, as it would have made things easier now.

The meeting on Nov. 19, 1972 was with the Labour Union who supported us last year and seem to be coming more involved this year. Last year they attended the Conference as observers.

This year it is planned that they will be in conference as discussion groups, to find out ways and means of progress to eliminate poverty in Ontario. The church really made the Conference possible this year, in Jan. 1972. With no suitable place and no available money, they offered us a perfect place in the Community Centre of their church basement in Toronto. Many more churches are now becoming involved. I think they are happy to see people in the lower income groups trying to help themselves.

At the planning committee of Nov. 1972, the churches presented a brief questionnaire which I am supposed to give to five people so they can express their views on poverty. I do not have the questionnaire with me at this time, as one of them had to be changed and will be given out at a later date. The church hopes to find out how the people feel. It is not for statistics, but simply that the problems will be assessed and thoroughly discussed at the conference.

The conference is also to discuss problems involving poverty and ways of eliminating it, by people learning and helping themselves.

Mr. Ray Maloney, Windsor Ont. and Mr. Frank Csespy, Toronto, of the Community Development Branch of the Government were present.

Reimbursement of my expenses are to be provided as soon as funds are available. I have discussed with Mrs. Marie Barkley, Co-ordinator of Seaway Community Services, the possibility of sending delegates to the conference to be held on Jan. 12, 1973, preferably from Keelerville and Glen Becker. But the final decision should rest with the general assembly. Thank You".

is there a stigma attached to losing? In broad terms, it would be apparent to place the blame on the coaches, parents and the general concept of the importance of being first in our modern day society. It's great to win, and individuals plus teams should have a positive attitude. But it is equally important that we learn to lose. The Annual Pee Wee International Hockey Tournament held in Quebec City is a prime illustration of exposing children to the wrong concept of sporting values. At a vulnerable age, these youngsters are subjected to scorn, profanity, and generally treated as small adults. Yet they are just kids in heart and soul, mind and body! When children come to the realization that winning is the sole issue, whether it means giving the referee a little lip or shove, or beating an opponent into submission to win "the game", then sportsmanship, if such a thing exists, is lost. Maybe its time for the individual athlete to break through the win at all cost barrier and start re-establishing sportsmanship, conduct worthy of a true sportsman and always remember that if you play sports to be a "good one".

Peter Mahovlich estimates he has sharpened about 21,000 pairs of skates during the last seven years. However, at the age of 66, he is better known for his two sons Frank and Peter of the Montreal Canadiens, than he is as an employee at Leaside Gardens in Toronto.

Team captain Orland Kurtenbach of Vancouver Canucks is in satisfactory condition after surgeons removed an infected gall bladder.

There has been no one better in baseball. He could play every phase of the game excellently. Never has a baseball player retained his physical abilities so well so long. He was the greatest all-around baseball player during the modern era. He loved baseball, it was his life. He gave more to the game than he received from it, no matter how much money he made. He always made it a point to go out of his way to help others. He was a very warm, friendly and happy and willing person.

It was typical of him to die helping others, a dream he always possessed. Let us always remember him in the same light and help other who need it. Roberto Clemente, R.I.P.

And remember, he played sports and was a good one. If you do - act likewise. "Be a Good Sport".

DOLLARS & GOOD SENSE

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Special Consultant to
Avco Financial Services

Most young couples, even if both are working, have a hard time at budgeting because their incomes are low and their needs seem to be so high.

There's so much they want to get for their new household, and the tendency of some is to buy it all at once, sometimes on credit.

Clothes and entertainment are two other items that tend to hit a new budget hard.

As I explained before, deduct your fixed expenses and savings plan from your total take-home income to determine how much you have to spend each month on optional expenses.

These expenses are the ones that are, or should be, the easiest to control, although, like diets, it takes a lot of will power sometimes.

Lunch hours can be killers, either from shopping sprees or too expensive eating. Hobbies are another way of spending a lot without realizing it.

Don't carry too much cash with you and keep track of your expenses in a notebook as you go along.

Also, watch your credit shopping, as I mentioned, so you don't start off with a lot of interest or finance payments to make.

Finally, get together around once a week and review your budget to catch problems before they become serious. New budgets are a joint effort and need a lot of determination.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5875 London, Ontario.
