To have time on your hands nowadays, you have to be a clock.

CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

It almost looks as if the Provincials can finally write off the wandering kidnappers of this summer. From all reports, Durning and his pal Madison have finally been laid by the heels at Bangor, Maine. Inspector Don Nichol will feel better about that.

That was quite a ratrace. The old town fed, watered and sheltered more uniformed men in a short time than it had since war was declared in 1914. No matter where you turned, you met up with a tough cop. The only trouble was, Durning seemed to know where to turn to not meet up with a tough cop. The time he did contact one, Mac couldn't get there fast enough with enough reinforcements, and the slippery Bluenoser gathered in his teen-age accomplice and slid into the darkness.

We felt sorry for the police; they had an almost impossible job on their hands. This stretch of country is seemingly flat and populated enough so men on foot could not possibly escape detection. Yet in the end, the pair did. It would be interesting to know just how they did do it. Personally we think they boarded a slow freight and hoboed their way to Montreal. Vigilance was good, but it can only last at white heat for so long, and that is what the experienced Durning waited for.

Magistrates in Ontario don't like kidnappers, and Durning is suspected of being that. He is apt to get the whole book heaved at him if the charge is proven. In the meantime, we wonder what that police investigation cost the province. It would come to quite a figure if charged as a fine.

This column must note with regret that Annie is dead. The little cat became the victim of some mysterious malady, and in spite of all her human family could do, her nine lives ran out. By now, we have no doubt, she is busily ridding the place where good cats go of all its vermin. And probably causing consternation as she clutters up the front gate with her trophies.

Last week even after the boss cleaned up things in this department, he had a hard time finishing the week. And as he read the final proofs on Wednesday, he just about had a small haemorrhage. There staring at him in unbelievable type was the following: "The Christmas meeting of Chesterville Women's Institute will be hell in the library . . ." We heard the strangled gurgle out in the front office and rushed out to see if he had swallowed his plate. That was one correction that was followed from the machine, to the stone, to the big press, to the folder, to the mailer. Even the proof sheet was carefully torn up. Typographical errors plague a publisher, but if one is noticed and not corrected, then he is doubly plagued. And the man who put the "d's" and "l's" one after the other on a Linotype keyboard should have been shot.

TO THE PUBLIC

Once in a while, contrary to style,
The Editor I fail to please;
Thus I get "l", as you can easily tell,
When I mix 'em up with the "d's."—Poor Operator.

Townships hold lively elections & choose new officers

Holmes & Kyle get reeveships close count features councillors

Township voters turned out in good numbers Monday in spite of dirty weather. When the last ballots were counted, a number of new faces were on the lists for next year's councils. In Winchester township, Gerald Holmes came up with a striking 220 vote majority against opponent Basil Dawley and, in Williamsburg, Don Kyle racked up even more against Mason Robinson. His figure was 333. Back in Winchester, Cecil McNabb decisively defeated veteran Eric Barclay for the deputy spot. John Whittaker took the Williamsburg position by acclamation when M. O. Robinson decided to contest the reeveship.

Winchester voters had to choose between a number of good candidates, nearly all with considerable experience in public affairs. When the shouting had died down and the phones had stopped ringing it was clear that two new faces would be on view for the next two years. Clark Smith, of Cannamore, topped the poll with 547 votes. Garfield Baker, who had 23 votes in the Morewood poll in the last election, improved his lot considerably Monday. Then he picked up 112 to swell his total to 454. Willis Robinson, another newcomer with Smith, received 451, just three less than Baker. Cecil McNabb in gaining the deputy-reeveship racked up the highest vote recorded in the two townships, with his fine 642.

The Williamsburg township voters made less distinction between their councillors. There were only 22 votes difference between Graham Hess at the top and Harold Pemberton in No. 3 spot. Ritchie Warren was the other councillor chosen.

Here are the vote totals as we received them:

Winchester Township

For Reeve:
- Holmes, Gerald 593
- Dawley, Basil 373

For Deputy-reeve:
- McNabb, Cecil 642
- Barclay, Eric 244

For Councillor:

- Baker, Garfield 454
- Robinson, Willis 451
- McRoberts, Wm. 413
- Crump, Chas. 222

Williamsburg Township

For Reeve:
- Kyle, Donald 544
- Robinson, Mason O. 211

For Councillor:
- Hess, Graham 465
- Warren, Ritchie 448
- Pemberton, Harold 443

Seriously ill

We are sorry to learn that Miss Mabel Pacey, B.A., long-time teacher in Finch High School, is seriously ill at her home at Havelock, Ont.

Auxiliary hope to equip hospital operating room

The December meeting of Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was held in the assembly hall of the hospital on Thursday evening last, with an attendance of 62 members and two visitors representing 13 units.

Mrs Locke welcomed all present, with an extra warm welcome to the Morrisburg unit, which was newly organized early in November.

Unit directors reported substantial amounts of money raised from the membership drive and from various projects. The Ormond unit announced that a draw for a quilt would be held at the January meeting.

Miss Elliott gave a very encouraging report, with the balance on hand being $846.30. Mrs Mulloy reported a busy month in all departments at the hospital and said that construction necessitated taking four adult beds and moving the children from ward 10 to ward 8.

The hospital administrator, John Davis, in his report, said the new addition would have 30 rooms and suggested to the ladies that their contribution of money could be used to equip the new operating room so the Auxiliary would have a room of their own. On this recommendation it was voted by motion that the $10,000 from the Hospital Auxiliary would be used to equip the operating room. Mr Davis asked the members to come after the meeting to receive information about furnishing a room and to publicize this among the general public.

It was decided that the Auxiliary would donate $10 for the hospital staff Christmas party, to be used as they wished. Plans were made for the Christmas decorations and favours for the patients' trays.

The meeting adjourned, after which the Williamsburg unit convened a successful baking sale and served tea and cookies. The Harmony unit also had a sale of Christmas articles.

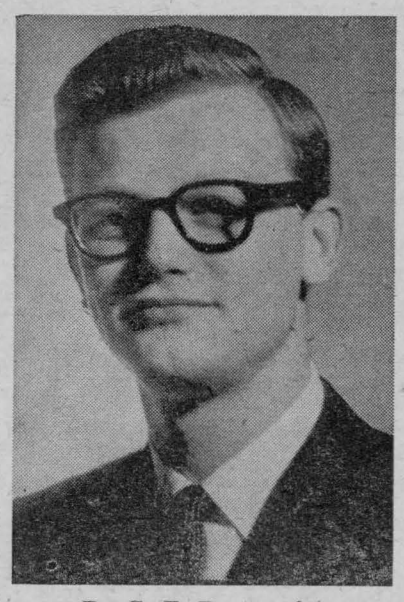

The members moved in small groups to the furnished rooms to see the type of furniture best suited for the extension. Mr Davis and Mrs Mulloy explained the best features of the furniture and estimated what it would cost to furnish a ward.

The easy way to throw back wood from a circular saw is demonstrated here. Last week Napoleon Struthers, on the Pat Kirby farm in Limerick, called in the gang for a little wood cutting. Rather than bother with a throw-back man, he rigged up the bale elevator from the saw to the woodshed. Being mindful of weary hours on the dirty end of a circular saw, we thought our readers would appreciate Nap.'s ingenuity. Helping from the left are Robert Racine, Hubert Ouderkirk, Henry Berkers, Struthers, and Jas. Moran.—Record Photo.

New doctor for Williamsburg

Good news was received by people of Williamsburg Township when it was learned that

Dr G. E. Rosenquist

Williamsburg may have a doctor next year.

Dr Gerrard E. Rosenquist will visit Williamsburg in March when he plans to meet residents there and choose housing and office facilities. It is hoped he will start his practice in September.

Dr Rosenquist was born in Inglis, Manitoba, son of Rev and Mrs E. S. Rosenquist. He received his early education in Manitoba and Regina, later attending Luther College, Regina, where he graduated with honours.

He continued his education at Luther College, the University of Saskatchewan and the University of Alberta where he graduated with his Doctorate in Medicine.

Dr Rosenquist is presently at University Hospital, Saskatoon, where he will receive his L.M.C.C. degree in the spring of 1960.

FILMS SHOWN AT I.O.O.F. LODGE

Chesterville I.O.O.F. Lodge, No. 288, held their regular meeting on Thursday evening, December 3. Following the meeting, members enjoyed films shown by Bro. Bert Gillard.

The next regular meeting, scheduled for December 17, has been cancelled because it is the date of the Public School Christmas concert.

The first meeting of the new year will be held as scheduled at which time entertainment has been planned.

CHALMER'S C.G.I.T. HOLDS MEETING

C.G.I.T. members met in Chalmer's church hall, Finch, with Audrey Casselman opening the meeting. Norma MacLean was pianist.

There was a short business meeting after which the girls practised for the vesper service. Miss Eileen Runions is leading the carol singing.

The meeting closed with "Now the Day Is Over" and Taps.

Santa Claus contacted will arrive the 19th

The latest word is that Santa Claus will arrive in the village on December 19 and end up at Community Hall with a bulging bag of goodies for the children of town and district.

Speaking with Mrs Gerald Gilbert, president of Chesterville W.I., the sponsoring body, we were informed of plans to date. The old gentleman is to get a royal welcome, of which we will have more next week. It is planned also to present a small program of entertainment in the hall during the wait from 2 to 2.30 p.m. as Santa's arrival can not be exactly forecast.

Next week we will have more information.

Lights for Christmas

Our small piece last week regarding a contest for Christmas decorations has caught on nobly. The response has been heartening to the extent we will be able to offer additional prizes.

By this week contributions from Hough Insurance Agency, Carl Merkley of Chesterville Dairy and the Fire Brigade have made a nice pot.

Prizes now will include seconds in each category, homes and business establishments. Judges will decide which are worthy of the awards in Christmas week.

HOLY TRINITY BAZAAR PROVES SUCCESSFUL

The Ladies' Guild of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, held a very successful bazaar and tea in the church hall Saturday afternoon.

The rector, Rev R. Strachan, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs R. Acres, of Britannia. Mrs Acres is a well-known teacher in the Ottawa area and she gave a charming and witty speech, officially opening the bazaar.

The room was gay with Christmas decorations and a large crowd enjoyed the well-laden tea tables and stalls.

Election results in district

Osnabruck Township was the lone election site in Stormont County this year, and incumbent reeve Ivan S. Eamon lost his post to J. H. Maginnis by a slim 36-vote majority.

Count shows Mr Eaman with 541 votes and Mr Maginnis with 577.

Wallace Gallinger was elected deputy-reeve with 488 votes. His nearest adversary for the post was W. S. Elliott who obtained 349 votes. The other candidate for the deputy-reeveship was James Connors with 291 votes.

Seats on the council and area school board of trustees were filled by acclamation during the nomination held on November 27.

Morrisburg Results

Reeve Gordon Thom retained his position at Morrisburg with a 204 vote majority over his opponent, Wallace Guay, who had 277 votes.

In the bid for the four council positions, the victors were Lawrence Coligan, 521 votes; J. Dain Connor, 448; Fred Hill, 466, and Willard Steinburg, 413 votes.

Present gifts for new home

A very enjoyable evening was spent recently at the home of Wallace Murphy and his mother, Mrs Murphy, when a number of friends gathered to wish them well in their new home.

They were presented with a table lamp, floor lamp and smoker, the presentations being made by W. Bruining and J. McNamara. An address was read by Mrs Clifford Racine.

Following lunch, games were played. Musical entertainment was provided by Doris and Arnold McMahon.

The singing of "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" brought the happy event to a close.

STORE HOURS

Store hours for the Christmas season have been agreed on. All stores in the village will be open on Wednesday afternoons until Christmas as will the post office. The stores will be open on the Wednesday afternoon between Christmas and New Year's. Stores will be open every night starting Friday night, December 18, until Christmas.

OPINIONS . . .
OURS AND OTHERS

Don't steal trees!

The other day we wandered through the neighbour's bush lot, getting a spot of air and counting our blessings. When we came to the edge of his small plantation of hemlock and Scotch pine, we noted a type of vandalism that is hard on the temper. There lay a 17-year-old balsam, cut off a foot above the ground, the top six feet carefully cut out and the rest of the tree left to rot. And other fresh stumps about were mute evidence that Christmas tree thieves were busy again. Last year over 180 stumps showed up without permission.

That particular lot has suffered for years. In spite of "No Trespassing" signs, each year sees a considerable loss of trees.

Bush lot owners usually are not adverse to letting their friends take out an occasional Christmas tree. All they ask is that they be consulted and allowed to point out the trees that need thinning and cutting; good growth is a money crop and twenty years of care is spoiled in a couple of swipes of a careless axe.

Christmas trees have become a valuable cash crop with many farmers. They plant, cultivate and harbour the young trees as they do any other farm product and it seems too bad the public gets so careless around Christmas time. While we recognize the Canadian attitude towards trees, it is about time that attitude was changed. The days of trees as weeds has long since gone, and if a farmer wishes to grow firs for Christmas trees, he must pay hard cash for the seedlings. That makes it even more insulting when one of us villagers raids his lot and makes off with a couple of choice $2 specimens.

Trees are on sale all over the district and in the village too. Buy your tree; don't go over the fence to get it.

Those TV quizzes! My, my!

The wind is finally settling down and the cyclone of opinion is dying out to some degree over the American TV investigations. As the dust settles, there seems to be something in the woodpile besides wood, if we may mix a metaphor.

The weird and wonderful ways of TV programming have been a subject of editorial writers for many moons. At the drop of a pair of British britches we bristle and snort and when things get very dull in this department, we take a couple of slaps at the CBC and her satellites, the American systems.

The serious fact of the matter appears to be that certain TV broadcasts have been paying too much attention to program ratings and too little attention to their own ethics. It is becoming evident the simplest way to keep the coffers full was to buy a package show, at a lovely price, crammed with either hores and guns or magnificent giveaway contests. And the purchase of the package deal left the broadcaster free to feel the strong pulse of his bank account and not worry about either quality or ethics.

Canada's own CBC has not been blameless in the matter. Many of the shows in question were carried here on the Canadian network, although we must admit, of late, some of the more outrageous offerings have died a quiet death from the northern air.

Newspapers and magazines are going to come under the piercing eye of a committee soon in our neighbour's halls of inquiry. That might be a good thing. The broadcasters could just possibly get some good ideas.

This particular medium of expression, the newspaper, was not always so lily white and pure as one would like to think. Many papers were begun and maintained for the purpose of slinging dirt and scandal at certain opposition papers and parties. But the days of selling the sheet for out and out deception and fraud are pretty well past. Neither do advertisers expect to get the editorial page along with their big ad. The average newspaper advertiser asks now to get a paper that sells to an interested public; editorially it is only hoped the publisher won't be too rough if he has occasion to whip up a storm that involves the advertiser.

Advertisers buy space in newspapers and magazines. They expect adequate coverage in readership, in return. They know the paper, if it is worth its name, will bust a gut trying to deliver a saleable product, and they also know the paper will refuse to allow the advertiser to dictate policy. In the main, the papers of North America, after a long hard struggle, have developed a refreshing independence. They have violent opinions, that sometimes creep out of the proper column, but usually they are well-behaved.

Broadcasters could take a leaf from that book of experience.

Air time is a commodity, something like a page of a newspaper, fortunately for us, not as durable, but still a commodity. It might be a good idea to emulate the BBC in Great Britain and pop in the commercials on any program, and have the package builders build for the broadcaster, not for the commercial.

The matter of ethical broadcasting will receive a lot of hard thinking in the next few months, across the border. We will feel and see a portion of the results on our own screens. Let's hope there will be less trickery and more red meat.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

Protestants and Roman Catholic scholars have to a great extent worked separately on the translations of the Scriptures for their respective churches.

Biblical scholars now say that the time is ripe to eliminate this particular symbol of division. They believe it is quite feasible to get together on a joint translation of the Scriptures.

The idea got a powerful boost from the respected Roman Catholic Journal, "America." In an article entitled "The Bible is a Bond," associate editor Walter M. Abbott, S.J., said a common translation of the Bible "would be a great achievement in the history of Christianity."

It is hoped that studies now being conducted by both groups of scholars may result in a meeting of minds on a joint translation of the Bible into English.

It would be hard to overestimate the importance of a universally reorganized translation of the Bible as a unifying force among Christians.

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS

by Lillian Allison

I am determined to write this column sitting outdoors in a lawn chair even if I have to wear my fur coat to do it. And I may. The weatherman has been most unco-operative during the nine days I've been in Florida. I may have to complain to the Chamber of Commerce.

When we crossed the Georgia border and passed the sign that said "Welcome to Florida, the Sunshine State," we could hardly make it out. It was raining so hard we could scarcely see the road fences. It was one of those tropical rains that seemed it wasn't merely falling but was being pushed. It rained as if someone had jokingly pulled the plug.

This downpour continued through Jacksonville and almost to the time we reached DeLand. Then a breeze came up and the sun came out while we unloaded the car and aired the house.

Since then we've had a sample of nearly all the weather they have here in the Sunshine State except warm sunshine.

One day and night it was cloudy and humid. Even with the windows open there seemed hardly enough air to go around. One other day I braved the breeze and sat outdoors for an hour in the afternoon.

But the rest of the time it has been cold and damp. Cold and damp as only Florida can be.

Sunday morning I'd have gladly worn my fur jacket to church if it hadn't seemed so silly. Instead I wore a wool dress and a summer coat and shivered. Some brave souls did wear fur coats though and several men appeared in overcoats. Inside the church was warm and cozy, thanks to a good, steady fire, but outside the cold winds from the north-west felt very similar to a cold, windy, fall day in Ontario.

In the afternoon we drove to Daytona Beach, and believe me, there were no bathing beauties in sight. The vast, old Atlantic was dark and cold. The winds lashed the white waves against the sands. White waves broke and reflected light as far out as the eye could see. A few travellers who had their looker licence drove their cars up and down the sandy beach but the man with the ice cream truck wasn't at all rushed with customers.

"Oh, you should have come two weeks earlier,' 'the native Floridians tell us. "We had beautiful weather right up until —" and they mention the day we arrived.

We know about it since then. We know we've had to have a fire in the floor furnace almost every day and night. And even with it the little house hasn't always been really comfortable.

The trouble is they don't build houses for cold weather here. They're optimistic enough to expect warm weather. "See the crack under that door," the lady at the Travel Agency said the other day. "The wind just whistles in there on a cold day. Now up north they'd have weather stripping and a storm door on there." Which is true.

Here the houses are built mostly of cement blocks with a coat of plaster inside and out. There are metal window sashes that don't fit very tightly. There is no insulation anywhere. To touch the plaster on an outside wall of a room accidentally on a cold day is enough to make goose pimples run up and down one's spine. It feels like the inside of the refrigerator door.

And the beds are something too. I sleep on a nice fold-away bed-couch in the living room which is the warmest room in the house. Yet every cold night that bed feels like the bed felt when you used to spend Christmas with your grandmother and had to sleep in the far end of the house where they only had a fire on Sundays. The sheets are damp and cold and I am truly thankful that I took my own advice and brought along my flannelette pyjamas.

Now I hope I haven't discouraged you who planned a winter vacation in Florida. One of these days it will get lovely and warm. The sun will beat down on us until we'll cross over to the shady side of the street. I'm still optimistic enough to believe that in the next two weeks I'll be able to get enough suntan to 250 Guests present-

Dundas Holstein Breeders hold annual banquet

Dundas Holstein Breeders' Club held their annual banquet in Morewood United Church recently. Approximately 250 guests filled the church basement where a delicious turkey dinner was served by the ladies of Morewood W.A.

President Hugh Blaine made the opening remarks, saying that the Club had enjoyed a very successful year, highlighted by the outstanding showing that Dundas Holsteins had made in their own Black and White Day as well as at the Central Canada Exhibition and Ottawa Winter Fair.

Head table was ably introduced by Basil Dawley, vice-president of the Club.

Hugh Blaine presented the Biccum and Poapst Trophy to Mrs Frank Milne and Sons for their winning of the Premier Breeder Award at the Black and White Day. Holstein fieldman Grant Smith presented the Premier Breeder Banner to Mrs Frank Milne and Sons and the Premier Breeder Banner to Hugh Blaine. Mr Smith also presented 30 long-time production awards to county breeders. Chief among the presentations were Silver Seal Production Certificates to Orville Smail, Brinston, and Mahlon Zeron, Iroquois. Silver Seal Certificates are awarded when an animal reaches a lifetime production of 150,000 lbs. of milk, with at least 3.4% butterfat test. Mr Smith congratulated the Dundas breeders on the number of awards that came to the county and said that he believed that this was the first time a Silver Seal Certificate had come to Dundas.

Basil Dawley presented the Royal Bank of Canada Trophy for the best uddered cow at the Black and White Show to Harold W. Merkley, Chesterville, thus completing the presentations.

Many special guests were present for the occasion. They included the Hon. F. M. Cass, Minister of Highways for Ontario; Rev D. L. Gordon, of Morewood United Church; S. W. Rathwell, Navan; Marland Murray, Martintown; N. F. Brachen, Harrowsmith, and R. H. McIlquham, Lanark. The last four gentlemen are directors of the Holstein Association of Canada.

The entertainment supplied by Frank Morgan and the anecdotes of the many guests provided an enjoyable evening.

Install executive Women's Liberal Assoc.

The November meeting of Grenville-Dundas Women's Liberal Association was held at the home of Mrs D. Beckstead, Riverside Heights, with a very good attendance.

The main business of the meeting was the installation of an executive for the coming year, with the following members chosen:

Honorary president, Mrs Lester Pearson; honorary vice president, Mrs Raymond Armstrong; president, Mrs Harry Allison; 1st vice president, Miss Marion Coligan; 2nd vice president, Mrs Jack Notman; 3rd vice president, Mrs Mark Salmon; secretary-treasurer, Mrs Mac Curran.

Directors: Prescott, Mrs D. L. McLean; Morrisburg, Mrs Geo. Beavers; Chesterville, Mrs E. J. Brady; Cardinal, Mrs Leonard Rooke; Edwardsburg, Mrs Kenneth Henderson; Williamsburg, Mrs Dale Beckstead; Iroquois, Mrs Helen Smith; Matilda, Mrs Carl Empey; Winchester Township, Mrs Howard Kittle.

Following the main business of the meeting, Mrs Margaret Newman, Ottawa, addressed the meeting and in a very interesting and entertaining manner she presented the highlights of the past meeting in Toronto, and mentioned the big problem of immigration and also capital punishments for juveniles.

Windsor–Corry

Winchester United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, November 21, when Miss Margaret Anne Marshall Corry became the bride of William Kenneth Windsor. Rev Angus J. MacDonald officiated at the ceremony. White satin bows marked the guest pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Stuart M. Corry, of Winchester, and the groom is the son of Harold Windsor and the late Mrs Windsor of Chesterville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of white satin fashioned on princess lines, with fitted bodice and round neckline with an insert of lace for the yoke; her elbow-length veil being held in place with a bridal halo of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible, on top of which was a corsage of red roses and white streamers.

Miss Marelene Summers, as bridesmaid, wore a ballerina-length gown of light green embossed faille and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of bronze 'mums.

Miss Joy Corry, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina-length dress of light pink embossed faille and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of bronze 'mums.

Mrs Howard Fetterly was organist.

Robbie Sutherland was best man and the ushers were John Corry, brother of the bride, and Earl Windsor, brother of the groom.

A reception was held in the church hall for 75 guests, after which the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls.

For travelling, Mrs Windsor wore a jade green wool dress with beige accessories and a corsage of bronze 'mums.

Mr and Mrs Windsor will reside at R.R. 2, Chesterville.

Guests were present from Bellville, Iroquois, Chesterville, Ottawa, Bourget, Morewood, Inkerman, Kemptville, Fournier, Metcalfe and Crysler.

Cars collide store damaged in freak accident

Damage estimated at more than $1,000 resulted to the Robert H. Stephenson Furniture Store, Williamsburg, early Saturday in a freak accident involving two cars. No one was injured.

Constable J. A. G. Carpentier, Morrisburg detachment of Ontario Provincial Police, said both cars were "badly damaged" in the accident.

A car driven by Lyle Coughler, Williamsburg, came off county road No. 5, colliding with a car driven south on Highway 31 by Clarence Code, of Prescott.

According to police, the Code car went out of control following the impact, glanced off a brick home belonging to Walter Whittaker and tore a plate glass window out of the front of the furniture store. The vehicle came to rest against the store's front door.

As it crossed the store front the car ripped out 15 feet of the wall and destroyed a quantity of furniture in the display window.

The accident occurred at 2 a.m.

Plans were made for a party to be held December 12 at 1.30. Diane Bailey read the minutes of the last meeting and roll was called by Betty Lou Casselman.

A team game of "bean bags" provided an enjoyable activity period.

The worship centre was suggested and arranged by the members to form a manger scene. After quietly singing "Away in the Manger," each child placed his offering at the creche.

A prayer of dedication was repeated and the carol "Silent Night" closed the meeting.

Anglican Ladies' Guild meets in church hall

The monthly meeting of the Anglican Ladies' Guild was held in the church hall on Monday evening. The president, Mrs Edna Droppo, opened the meeting with the Guild prayer. This was followed by the reports of the secretary, treasurer and the chairman of the sick committee.

A report was given on the proceeds of the bazaar and plans were made for the annual Sunday School party which is to be held on Saturday, December 19, in the hall.

Final plans were made for the catering arrangements at the Nestlé banquet on Saturday, December 12.

It was decided to purchase a vacuum cleaner for use in the church and hall.

The meeting closed with prayer, after which lunch was enjoyed. The time of the next meeting will be announced later.

CARD OF THANKS
To the Electors of Williamsburg Township

I would like to thank all those who got out in the very inclement weather to cast a ballot in my support for the position of reeve. The old-fashioned Milk Claw is dying
GOOD RIDDANCE
WITH US — THE MILK CLAW DIED BACK IN 1923

Back in 1923 — Surge brought to the farmer the first "Genuine Tug & Pull" milking machine.
Our competition (of which there were then about 50 manufacturers) kidded the farmers who used them.—They called it, milking with a bed-pan." — They said, "the gadget would never last." — They said, "The old Thunder-mug Milker, that set on the floor, was good enough for your Paw and it's good enough for you."
Well now, 35 years have passed (there are about 8 manufacturers left) and would you believe it, the old Thunder-muggers are now building Bed-pans. — Yep! "The old fashioned milk claw is dying," the old Thunder-mug Milker is going down in defeat. Surge was 35 years ahead of their competition then and Surge is way ahead now with the finest cow-milking equipment in the world.
Based upon nearly 36 years of happy experience with Surge, we are sure that your successful future on the farm calls for a machine that milks cows. . . . If any claw-type machine could do that, then eight of our competitors would not now be struggling to build copies of the Surge Bucket Milker.
If you plan to stay in the dairy business you will have to get full production . . . and to do that you will have to get good cow milking. If the Surge Bucket Milker did not do a really good job of cow milking then we would not now be building and selling more Surge Bucket Milkers than all the other bucket milkers added together. . . . Yes . . . Surge today sells more cow-milking equipment than all their competition combined.

CANDY FOR CHRISTMAS

JUST AS MOST OF US have our favourite Christmas cake and plum pudding recipes which we make year after year, so do we have our favourite Christmas candies. Why not try some candy recipes that are different?

Smoothest Divinity

½ cup corn syrup
2½ cups sugar
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup water
2 egg whites
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup coarsely chopped nuts or assorted candied fruit

Combine first four ingredients in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cook, without stirring, to firm ball stage (248°) or until a small amount of syrup forms a firm ball which does not flatten when dropped into very cold water. Just before syrup reaches 248° beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Pour about one-half of the syrup slowly over egg whites, beating constantly. Cook the remainder of the syrup to soft crack stage (272°) or until a small amount of syrup separates into threads which are hard but not brittle when dropped into very cold water. Add syrup slowly to the first mixture, beating constantly. Continue beating until mixture holds shape. Add vanilla and nuts; drop from spoon onto wax paper. Makes about 1¾ pounds.

Chocolate Divinity: Follow above recipe using 1 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces and 1 cup nut meat halves. Beat divinity after second addition of syrup until it begins to hold shape; add chocolate, nuts and vanilla. Chocolate will melt and nuts break. Beat until mixture holds shape.

Turkish Delight

2 envelopes gelatine
½ cup cold water
2 cups sugar
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup boiling water
¼ cup orange juice
2 tbsps. lemon juice
½ cup chopped nut meats
½ cup raisins
Red food colouring
Confectioners' sugar

Soften gelatine in cold water. Heat sugar, salt and boiling water to boiling point. Add softened gelatine and stir until dissolved. Boil slowly 20 minutes. Remove from heat. Add orange and lemon juice. Colour desired shade of red. Cool. When consistency of unbeaten egg whites, add nut meats and raisins. Pour into a pan (size about 8" x 4") that has been rinsed in cold water. Cool until thick and firm. With a wet sharp knife, loosen around edges of pan. Turn out on board lightly covered with confectioners' sugar. Cut into squares. Roll in the confectioners' sugar.

Marshmallow - Chocolate Fudge

1 4-oz. pkg. cream cheese
2½ cups sifted icing sugar
Dash of salt
2 1-oz. squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
¼ tsp. vanilla; 1 tbsp. cream
1 cup miniature marshmallows

Place the cream cheese in a bowl and cream it until soft and smooth. Slowly blend sugar into it. Add salt and melted chocolate. Mix well. Add vanilla and cream; mix until well blended. Fold in marshmallows. Press into well-greased pan. Place in refrigerator until firm, about 15 minutes. Cut in squares.

Caramel Popcorn Balls

Place 27 caramels and 2 tbsps. water in top of double boiler. Heat, stirring frequently, until caramels are melted and the sauce is smooth. Pour over 2 quarts salted popped corn, placed in large bowls; toss until every kernel is coated. With hands slightly moistened with cold water, form into 6 balls.

The Wagner Family.

IN MEMORIAM

SHAY—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs Wm. A. Shay, who passed away December 12, 1958.

What we would give if we could say,
"Hello, Mom," in the same old way;
To hear your voice and see your smile,
To sit with you and chat awhile.
So you who have a mother,
Cherish her with care,
For you'll never know the heartache
Till you see her vacant chair.

Lovingly remembered, the Family.

IN MEMORIAM

DROPPO—In sad and loving memory of James Andrew Droppo who passed away so suddenly December 10, 1953.

Time rolls on and I am reminded
Of a day my heart was crushed,
When God took you, oh so quickly,
And we all in gloom were thrust.
In the bloom of life, death claimed you,
In the prime of manhood days;
But I hope some day to meet you,
And to be with you always.

Ever remembered by wife Olive.

IN MEMORIAM

SHAY—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs Wm. A. Shay, who passed away December 12, 1958.

One year has passed and our hearts are still sore,
As time rolls on we miss you more;
A wonderful mother, loving and kind,
What beautiful memories you left behind.
What we could give if we could say,
"Hello, Mom," in the same old way,
To hear your voice and see your smile,
And sit and talk with you awhile.
We were not there to say goodbye,
Perhaps it's just as well,
For we never could have said good-bye
To a Mom we loved so well.

Lovingly remembered by daughter Mabel and grandchildren, of Brantford.
