Brand-new library open for business

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — After years of planning and fundraising, the new library section of the upgraded South Mountain Library Resource Centre has been unveiled to the public.

Yesterday evening (Tues., Nov. 17), the doors of the new facility were officially opened at 5 pm.

The project was spearheaded by the Friends of the South Mountain Library committee, who along the way have raised more than $100,000 through sponsorship funding and community donations.

"I am both pleased and amazed," said Peggy Hawn, the South Mountain Library's branch desk clerk.

The new building is equipped with approximately twice the space of the former library, as well as a kitchen area, meeting room, new display units, and a children's corner.

Along with the new facility, a garden of shrubs and trees has been planted on the front lawn thanks to a Tree Canada Grant, and a park was installed by the Township of North Dundas between the new centre and the South Mountain tennis courts.

The entire building is wheelchair accessible.

Hawn said she is imagining a lot of possibilities, based on the location of the park, the tennis courts, and the new library.

As for the old library building on Lough Road, it is currently sitting vacant, and the ownership has been returned to the township, said Hawn.

A grand opening of the new library and resource centre has been scheduled for Sat., Dec. 5, with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at 1 pm, followed by an open house that will run until 3 pm.

The upgraded South Mountain Library and Resource Centre will be open Tuesdays from 5 to 8 pm, Wednesdays from 10 am to 2 pm, Thursdays from 3 to 8 pm, and Saturdays from 10 am to 1 pm.

WDMH shifts Close to Home Campaign into higher gear

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) Foundation's most recent campaign to raise another $5 million was the topic of discussion at a meeting on Thurs., Nov. 12 at the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre.

The initiative is represented by the foundation's Close to Home Campaign, which aims to pay for WDMH's new CT scanner ($2.5 million), digital mammography unit ($500,000), and the installation of a clinical information system at the hospital ($2 million).

The hospital is already one-fifth of the way into its goal.

To date, $1.4 million in cash and pledges have been received by foundation staff, and canvassers are making their way across the region.

During the Nov. 12 meeting, Dr. Brian Devin, chief of staff at WDMH, spoke to the audience about the "importance of technology" at WDMH.

"It's a state-of-the-art space," he said.

Gillian Price also spoke during the meeting. Price was commissioned by WDMH as the project manager for the integration of a home-grown WDMH electronic health record system.

"It's coming to pass now," said Price, noting that the project began two and a half years ago.

The plan is to build a database filled with electronic health records for WDMH patients.

During the meeting, Price demonstrated how the records will work with a slideshow snapshot of an electronic health record.

WDMH Hospital Heeler member Christina Enright spoke to the audience about her experiences during her battle with breast cancer.

"We raise lots of money [for WDMH]," said Enright, noting that 75 per cent of funds raised by the group during the Weekend to End Breast Cancer comes back to the hospital.

Enright, whose cancer is currently in remission, said she was grateful to receive treatment near her home.

"The importance of being able to walk to [WDMH] and have chemo is an added benefit," she said.

To close the meeting, foundation representative Robert Carkner said the community worked hard to raise a large sum of money during the first fundraising drive.

"We need a whole lot more help now," said Carkner. "The rubber hits the road at this point."

Carkner said that 60 years ago, area residents helped to build a community hospital in Winchester and keep it viable.

"Now it's our turn," he said. "We need to get a good message out, but we need some more messengers."

While the community continues its ongoing efforts to raise money for WDMH, the Champlain Local Health Integration Network (LHIN) in collaboration with Cornwall Community Hospital, Glengarry Memorial Hospital, Hawkesbury and District General Hospital, and WDMH is working to identify options for potential integration and geographical distribution of hospital services within the five eastern counties' facilities.

It is the goal of the LHIN to establish an integrated hospital system for the region.

ND township plans March break camp

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Based on the success of its summer camps, the Township of North Dundas has decided to offer a brand-new session called March Break Madness.

Running from Mon., March 15 to Fri., March 19, the camp will give parents a safe place to drop off their kids during the school break.

Community development programmer Meaghan Elder said that since summer camps have become so popular in recent years, spots for the March break sessions will probably fill up quickly.

"Parents had called last year and really wanted a March break camp," said Elder.

The week will tentatively involve public skating, a trip to the Old Town Hall movie theatre, snowshoeing (if snow is still on the ground in March), a scavenger hunt, sports, an indoor beach party with a limbo, a survivor game, and an ice cream sundae eating contest. The township is also trying to plan a trip to the Museum of Nature.

"It will just be a lot of fun," said Elder.

While there will be some staff hired to co-ordinate the event, Elder said most of the labour will come from high school volunteers working to complete the 40 hours of community service necessary to graduate from high school in Ontario.

Elder said the township has tried to improve camps each year. At the end of previous camp sessions, some children were surveyed to see which activities were deemed "cool" and which ones needed the axe.

She added that it's important to change up the schedule because many kids are repeat customers and might get bored with the same activities every summer.

"Every year, we try to get out with the old, in with the new," said Elder.

For example, Holiday Camp was so popular two summers ago that the township introduced two sessions for 2009 (last year, there wasn't enough time to squeeze in a St. Patrick's Day or Canada Day celebration). Carnival Camp was also new, as was Arts Attack, an old session that was modified to include dance and drama, not just visual arts.

"They were all running really, really well," said Elder.

Camper Patricia Barlow, who has participated in North Dundas camps for about five years and joined just about every one last summer, said township staff have been doing a good job of switching up the schedule to keep sessions interesting.

"They're equally fun," she said.

Camps typically run from 9 am to 4 pm. However, parents or caregivers can drop off their kids between 8 and 9 am. Evening pickup runs from 4 to 5 pm, giving more parents the chance to pick up junior after work. The times will remain the same for March Break Madness.

Next year, Elder plans to run a new session called Earth, Air, Fire and Water Camp. The activities would centre around the four elements. The tentative schedule includes gardening, education programs from South Nation Conservation, fire safety exercises, kite building, and of course, lots of swimming with a field trip to a water park in Ottawa.

"It [will be] very educational, but fun and hands-on," said Elder.

For more information or to sign up as a volunteer, call the township at 613-774-2105 or e-mail melder@northdundas.com.

"I don't foresee any [major] changes," said Devin, noting that the LHIN does have the power to remove services, but it is his belief that the medical treatments currently being offered will remain at WDMH.

LHIN staff have targeted April 2010 as the completion date of the planning process, with the focus on emergency, surgery, medicine and psychiatry, and mental health and addictions at the five hospitals.

We will never forget

Multiple Remembrance Day ceremonies throughout the region took place on Wed., Nov. 11, as well as on days leading up to the actual event. Local communities that held ceremonies included Chesterville, Morewood, Moose Creek, Avonmore, Newington, Winchester, Berwick, Russell, Kenmore, Osgoode, Greely, Metcalfe, Morrisburg, and more. Area schools also organized their own special presentations.

Legion to host party after Dec. 5 parade

WINCHESTER — The village's 13th annual Country Christmas Parade of Lights is set to take over downtown Winchester on Sat., Dec. 5.

An after-parade party has recently been added to the list of this year's activities. Residents are invited to the Royal Canadian Legion Winchester Branch 108 following the parade, where they can warm up from the cold and enjoy some refreshments.

The day begins at 9 am and is scheduled to finish at 9 pm, following a full day of activities.

The Old Town Hall, Winchester Community Centre, and Winchester Arena, along with village merchants, will be providing different events throughout the day.

All of this leads up to the Parade of Lights at 6 pm. It will begin at the Township of North Dundas office on St. Lawrence Street and make its way across the village.

Throughout the parade, representatives will be collecting donations (money, non-perishable foods, and clothing) for both the Dundas County Food Bank and the House of Lazarus.

Organizing committee meetings are ongoing and volunteers are still needed.

H1N1 flu vaccine now available to everyone

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Eastern Ontario Health Unit (EOHU) announced on Mon., Nov. 16 that the H1N1 vaccine will now be made available to everyone over the age of six months in Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G), Prescott-Russell, and the City of Cornwall.

"We encourage everyone to get immunized," said Dr. Paul Roumeliotis, chief medical officer of health at the EOHU. "It continues to be the best way to protect yourself and others from getting ill with H1N1."

When the clinics begin again at North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) on Thurs., Nov. 19 and Fri., Nov. 20, it will be the first time the vaccine has been available to residents who aren't on the priority list. (This includes children six months to 18 years of age, pregnant women, healthcare workers, and caregivers of those at high risk.)

The EOHU is also stressing Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care guidelines; that all children aged six months to under three years, as well as children between three and nine years of age with underlying medical conditions, should receive two half-doses of the vaccine, given at least 21 days apart. However, healthy children between three and nine years of age do not require a second dose at this time.

According to data sent to the Winchester Press by EOHU staff, approximately 41,000 doses of the vaccine have been administered to patients within the EOHU's coverage area.

At the immunization clinics on Fri., Nov. 13 and Sat., Nov. 14, 1,100 residents went through the doors at NDDHS to receive their H1N1 inoculations.

The recent changes came after the EOHU announced on Thurs., Nov. 12 that the priority list had expanded to include people with chronic medial conditions and people aged 65 and over.

The EOHU's most recent H1N1 activity report, released on Nov. 13, states that 139 cases of H1N1 have been reported in its coverage area, resulting in 35 hospitalizations and six deaths. The most recent one happened on Sun., Nov. 8, when a male in his 50s with underlying health issues died at an Ottawa hospital.

However, the influenza activity is still rated at a four — the highest possible rating — which indicates it is widespread, according the EOHU report.

According to the EOHU, eight schools in Dundas County are currently dealing with suspected cases of H1N1, but there is only one confirmed case of the virus in county schools.

The change in flu-like activities led the Upper Canada District School Board (UCDSB) to announce, on Nov. 12, that all community use activities were to resume as of Nov. 16. The UCDSB had cancelled all activities on Mon., Nov. 2, because 38 of its 89 schools had reported student absenteeism above the 10 per cent threshold due to flu-like symptoms. The cancellations allowed the schools' custodial staff to execute heightened cleaning protocols.

"We can confirm a significant decrease in the rate of student and staff absenteeism for flu-like symptoms over the past two weeks," said UCDSB associate director Ian Carswell. "In consultation with our regional health units, we are restoring community use activities in our schools, subject to the approval of the school principal."

Immunization clinics begin again at NDDHS on Nov. 19 from 2 to 8 pm and Nov. 20 from 2 to 8 pm. A third clinic will be offered on Fri., Nov. 27 from 2 to 8 pm.

For more information on the upcoming clinics, see the H1N1 ad on page 4.

Just cause

The annual Cops and Robbers golf tournament, which took place back in September, raised $1,400 for the Winchester branch of the North Dundas Fire Department. Since 1983, local cops have played against the "robbers" (in other words, anyone who's not a police officer) to raise funds for a variety of good causes. Pictured are John Ralko (left), OPP detective and "cop" co-ordinator; Dan Kelly, Winchester's fire chief; and Dan Lecours, volunteer organizer and "robber" co-ordinator.

Police Blotter

Impaired driving charge

WINCHESTER — On Fri., Nov. 13 around 11:30 pm, Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP conducted a traffic stop on Jennings Road in North Dundas.

Police arrested a 35-year-old driver (Donald Runions of North Dundas) and charged him with impaired driving and having a blood alcohol concentration that exceeded 0.08. He is scheduled to appear in Morrisburg court on Tues., Dec. 1.

Watch out for deer

MORRISBURG — SD&G OPP is reminding drivers that it's fall, which means the deer population is on the move. Not only are these white-tailed critters feeding in preparation for the winter months, but their breeding season is in full swing, too.

There have already been more than 200 car deer collisions throughout SD&G this year, as well as one involving a moose in the Glen Becker area on County Road 31.

The SD&G OPP is asking the public to stay alert and drive at a responsible speed.

RIDE check

WINCHESTER — On Sun., Nov. 15 around 4:30 pm, SD&G OPP officers were conducting a RIDE program on Main Street. A 50-year-old driver (Clifford Sauvé of North Dundas) was found to be operating a vehicle under the influence of alcohol. He was arrested and faces charges of impaired driving and having a blood alcohol concentration exceeding 0.08. He is scheduled to appear on Tues., Feb. 2 in Morrisburg court.

Charged with assault

WINCHESTER — On Tues., Nov. 10 at 5:33 pm, SD&G OPP officers responded to an assault on St. Lawrence Street. Police said a 41-year-old female was charged with assaulting her spouse during an altercation. She is scheduled to appear in Cornwall Court on Tues., Dec. 15.

Stolen vehicle recovered

WINCHESTER — SD&G OPP reported that a Grey 2008 Saturn ASE was recovered on Spruit Road in North Dundas Township on Thurs., Nov. 12. The same motor vehicle had been earlier reported stolen in Ottawa. The investigation is ongoing.

Domestic dispute

IROQUOIS — On Mon., Nov 16 around 8 am, SD&G OPP officers responded to a report of a domestic incident on Charles Street.

Police say a female and her 28-year-old husband were involved in a verbal altercation that resulted in the male damaging property inside the residence.

He was arrested and faces a charge of mischief under $5,000. He is scheduled to appear in Cornwall court on Tues., Dec. 15.

Tires slashed

IROQUOIS — On Mon., Nov. 9 around 11:40 am, OPP officers responded to a report that four tires had been slashed on a parked 1989 Chrysler Fifth Avenue at a Stock Transportation parking lot on County Road 1 in the Township of South Dundas sometime on Sat., Nov. 7. The investigation is ongoing.

$1,500 for best gingerbread house

MORRISBURG — Upper Canada Village is making plans to host the first annual Canadian Gingerbread House Championship at its upcoming Alight at Night Festival, a popular holiday lights extravaganza where the village's 40 heritage buildings are decked out in more than a quarter-million colourful lights.

The village aims for the site to set the stage to showcase the best-of-the-best in gingerbread house-building craftsmanship, and plans to award prizes in a variety of categories.

"We are very excited about adding a competition of this calibre to our annual lights festival and to engage the public in being a part of it," said Pat Macdonald, CEO of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, which operates Upper Canada Village. "As inspiration, 16 students from the Cordon Bleu Culinary Arts School in Ottawa have been commissioned to construct four masterpiece gingerbread houses themed around some of the village's own buildings, which will be an added enhancement to the event. Some of these same students will serve as judges for the competition."

The village is hoping to attract individuals, school teams, businesses and other culinary partners from across the region in Ontario and western Quebec to enter the competition this year, in the hopes that it will grow to capture the attention of entrants from other parts of the country in subsequent years. A grand prize of $1,500 plus a two-night getaway, including admission to Upper Canada Village and golf at Upper Canada Golf Course, will be awarded on Sat. Nov. 28, along with first, second, and third-place prizes in adult, teen and youth categories.

The deadline to register is Fri., Nov. 20, and entry fees have been waived for year one. The registration form, guidelines, and other information are all online at www.alightatnight.ca or by calling 1-800-437-2233 (613-543-4328 locally).

All gingerbread house creations will be showcased inside Crysler Hall for the duration of the Alight at Night Festival. The upper-class 19th-century home, located in the heart of the village, is destined to be one of the festival's main attractions this year, with an all-new sound and light show played out on the exterior of the building.

The gingerbread theme doesn't end with the competition. Another village building will be transformed into a life-size gingerbread house, where visitors can indulge in special holiday treats including homemade, old-fashioned gingerbread cookies.

Upper Canada Village's Alight at Night Festival draws up to 40,000 visitors a year who partake in touring the site on foot, taking rides on horse-drawn wagons and carriages, hopping on board a life-size toy train, skating under the stars, festive dining, shopping and more each holiday season. The event runs nightly starting at 4:30 pm from Sat., Nov. 28 until Sun., Jan. 3 (except Christmas Eve and Christmas Day).

Torn flag, shabby flowerbeds leave councillor 'embarrassed'

Council notes from North Dundas

WINCHESTER — Councillor Eric Duncan has made it clear he was unimpressed with two aspects of a recent Hill 70 rededication ceremony: a torn Canadian flag and neglected flowerbeds.

During a regular Township of North Dundas council meeting on Tues., Nov. 10, Duncan said he was "embarrassed" that the Mountain Memorial Park didn't look its best for visitors. Roughly 60 people gathered in Mountain for the Halloween morning ceremony to commemorate the monument in honour of the First World War. A stone, German machine gun, and light were installed at the park in the 1920s, but the site recently received some upgrades, which the community celebrated on Sat., Oct. 31.

Duncan said he was upset, especially about the torn flag.

"There were a lot of people there who had never been in the park before," said Duncan.

The councillor said he had spoken to the township's recreation department about the torn flag and flowerbeds and expressed his displeasure.

Township staff holiday next Remembrance Day?

Mayor Alvin Runnalls said that next year, perhaps Township of North Dundas staff should be given Remembrance Day off. They weren't this year.

Councillor Estella Rose said she wouldn't mind giving Remembrance Day off — providing staff actually used their time to observe the day.

"If they use it for that purpose, I don't have a problem," said Rose.

New design approved for Chesterville waterfront

Council approved a new design for the $1.6-million Chesterville waterfront redevelopment project.

Engineers reworked the initial design for a boardwalk in order to cut down on permits and finish construction by Wed., March 31.

Crusty over culvert permits

Arden Carruthers, the public works director, responded to a request from Rose to bring up the issue of South Nation Conservation (SNC) culvert permits.

Currently, the SNC requires the township to get a permit each for up to five culverts that need to be replaced or installed. Each permit costs $770, but Carruthers said the township doesn't appear to receive any services for this fee.

"There just doesn't seem to be any rhyme or reason," said Carruthers.

Carruthers and council discussed the fact that the township, like the neighbouring municipalities in the SNC watershed, supports the organization financially. Each year, North Dundas gives SNC about $52,000.

Duncan said SNC likely never cancelled the culvert fee because that would mean some dependable income would disappear.

"They don't want to lose a revenue source," said Duncan.

Runnalls, who is on the SNC board, said he would bring up the issue at a future meeting with the conservation authority.

Olympian enlightens youth

Jeff Bean brings Olympic torch and message of success to Nationview Public

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — At the 2002 Winter Olympics in Salt Lake City, freestyle skier Jeff Bean missed out on capturing a silver medal for Canada by two-tenths of a point.

The former Olympian recounted his glory days in a crowded gymnasium at Nationview Public School on Thurs., Nov. 12.

Staff and students listened as Bean explained what he used to do for a living.

"I would throw myself in the air and do quadruple backflips," said Bean, a one-time member of the Canadian freestyle ski team. "All of this was at the same time."

Bean captivated both staff and students as he spoke of his humble beginnings, growing up in Ottawa, and skiing on weekends with his family.

Bean said he first saw skiers who were "flying down the hills and hitting jumps for extreme distances," and, he said, and that sparked his interest in ski jumping. One of the ski jumpers Bean admired most was his older brother.

"I thought, 'you're old and you're cool'," said Bean, noting that he soon decided to take up the sport himself.

At 13 years old, Bean was in Lake Placid training to be a professional ski jumper.

"I was going 70 kilometres an hour down a hill to hit the jumps and go high," said Bean. "But I never thought of the Olympics, ever."

However, at 17 years old, Bean said he was soon fascinated by new skiers who were doing freestyle aerials.

"That's when I started doing flips and twists," said Bean, adding that his first experience with the sport was learning to do all the tricks on a trampoline.

In January 1996, Bean made his Freestyle Skiing World Cup debut and reached the podium for the first time later that season, finishing third in Kirchberg, Austria.

Kirchberg hosted the World Cup again in 1997, and that time, Bean claimed his first two career wins, finishing first in separate events on back-to-back days.

By 1998, Bean's success on the world tours paid off, and he was selected to compete for Canada at the Winter Olympics in Nagano, Japan.

Bean said he got to Nagano "on luck," and admitted that at just 21 years old, the success "went to my head."

An accident in 1999 sidelined Bean for a year.

While competing in Whistler, Bean had just hit the jump and was doing the motions in the air when something went wrong. Instead of landing smoothly, Bean slammed hard into the snow.

"Because I had my boots strapped on too tight, my leg snapped," said Bean. "But the best thing to happen in my career happened."

Bean said he remembers this moment fondly because it allowed him to evaluate his life and career.

"I started asking, what do I want and what am I doing?," he said. "I kind of screwed up and I needed to train harder."

Upon recovery, Bean hired a personal coach and trained continually.

"I worked six hours a day, for six days a week," said Bean.

Bean's work paid off and he received his best finish at the Winter Olympics (fourth place) in 2002. His last Olympics was in Turino, Italy in 2006.

Throughout his career, Bean finished on the podium at 17 World Cup events and claimed four titles over a 10-year span. His most successful season came in 2003, when he placed third overall.

Nowadays, Bean works full-time for the Royal Bank of Canada (RBC)'s Olympia program. The initiative employs approximately 50 former Olympic and Paralympic athletes as community ambassadors to bring the Olympic message of excellence and leadership to Canadian schools.

"It's great to get the Olympics out there," said Jeremy Armer, an RBC bank manager in Ottawa, who helped to organize the event. Armer's children attend Nationview Public.

The students were also able to see a replica of the current Olympic torch. The Olympic flame is making its way across the country, en route to Vancouver, the host of the 2010 Winter Olympics.

Bean and Armer also presented Nationview Public with a $500 cheque on behalf of the RBC employee program.

Olympic spirit at Nationview

Former Olympian Jeff Bean spoke to staff and students at Nationview Public School in South Mountain on Thurs., Nov. 12. Following his talk, Bean (above) signed autographs for students.

Government waste hits close to home

We're being asked to open our wallets for WDMH yet again.

Last week, on Thurs., Nov. 12, staff from the Winchester District Memorial Hospital held a town hall meeting at the Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre in the village.

While WDMH representatives did discuss a number of issues, the Close to Home Campaign was the meeting's focus.

The campaign aims to raise $5 million for technology at the hospital. It's supposed to pay for a new CT scanner, digital mammography unit, and clinical information system.

Staff reported that $1.4 million in cash and pledges have been raised thus far, so the campaign is more than one-fifth complete — technically speaking.

Now might be a good time to ask — why is the public being asked to pay for hospital technology? These aren't extras, like TVs for the waiting room. These machines are important health-care instruments, without which WDMH couldn't offer its present cancer screening services or care. Isn't it the government's job to pay for CT scanners and similar devices?

Not necessarily. Many taxpayers are surprised to learn that the province has an elaborate system for deciding which hospitals receive funding to not only buy technology, but operate it, too. As a result, WDMH and its sister medical centres often turn to general operating budgets and foundations to run particular programs.

It's heartbreaking to think that while local volunteers were washing cars and baking cookies to pay for our hospital expansion, government officials were burning through that amount and more without conscience.

It's no secret — the public is getting a little tired of fundraising for our hospital. Most local have a good deal of affection for WDMH. They not only want to see it survive, but thrive. However, our community has already raised roughly $15 million for WDMH's recent expansion. The two major responsibilities of a provincial government are health care and education. We pay taxes. Why does the hospital have to turn to the public to make ends meet? Why doesn't the government fulfill its responsibilities and fund essentials, like equipment?

WDMH is also taking steps to implement its own electronic health records system, nicknamed "WE-Health." It should not be confused with eHealth, the train wreck organization that was responsible for digitizing health records province-wide to create a seamless, efficient system. Instead, corrupt bureaucrats stole and wasted $1 billion. It remains to be seen how the scandal will affect future budgets of Ontario hospitals, including our own.

It's heartbreaking to think that while local volunteers were washing cars and baking cookies to pay for our hospital expansion, raising funds a dolloar at a time, government officials were burning through that amount and more without conscience. It makes it difficult to keep giving.

Will the Close to Home Campaign meet its $5-million mark? Almost certainly, yes. As always, the individuals and businesses will not only draw on financial resources to help WDMH, but also use their connections and creativity to organize fundraisers.

However, maybe it's time to stop focussing exclusively on fundraising. Maybe it's time to tell the provincial government that we want to see our tax dollars invested properly. A public health care system can, and should, work — but we need to hold our elected representatives accountable for the taxes deducted from our paycheques.

Remember when...

This week in the Press, it was noted that while the human population of Canada was under 12 million, the rat population was estimated to reach upwards of 25 million. At a most conservative estimate, the rat population of Canada consumed food of a value of $50 million per year.

1949

Statistics were showing that Canadians had spent more in the previous year than in any of the 10 years prior, and much of that money was going toward luxury items. Education expenditures were $65 million, jewellery expenditures were $71 million, and $941 million was spent on liquor and cigarettes.

1959

A column in the Press this week pointed out that a few years before, everybody was talking about communists in Canada and the dangers of infiltration, but by 1959, you seldom heard "boo about them." However, one Hamilton man was keeping fears alive, speaking in groups about how many things were happening in Canada that would pave the way for communism.

1969

The Winchester Hawks scored a convincing 7-3 victory over the Metcalfe Jets, in a game where the referees were obviously not in complete control, as 39 penalties were handed out, most of them to the Jets. After a first period that was tied 3-3, goals by Doug Vasey, Reg Hyndman, Steve Kenney, and Dave Van Bridger sealed the Jets' demise.

1979

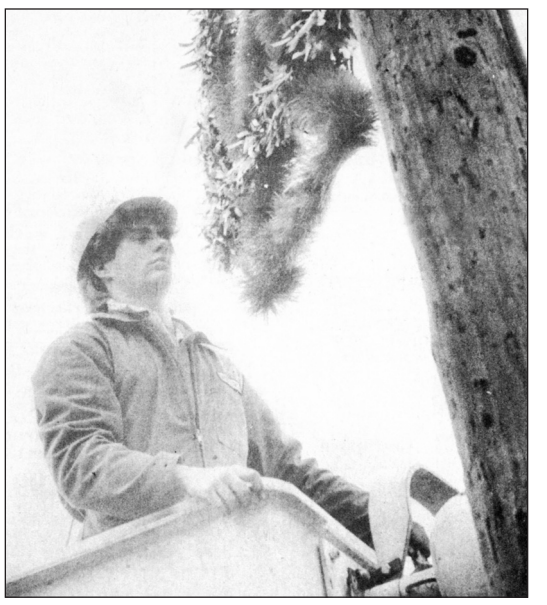
Work on a $400,000 refrigerated warehouse began at Ault Foods, in order to provide storage for up to seven million pounds of cheddar cheese for export to the United Kingdom and the United States. Director of administration Steve Ault said that the company is building the warehouse because it was shooting for "the lion's share of the Canadian export cheese market."

1989

The village postmaster was being reprimanded by Canada Post this week for speaking out against the corporation's move to bring a retail postal outlet to Winchester. Company policy prohibited him from responding publicly on corporate matters. The postmaster had said that he believed Canada Post was preparing for privatization by creating postal outlets in stores located in villages that already have post offices.

1999

Representatives from Winchester's Bank of Montreal and Royal Bank of Canada were preparing for the possible year 2000 computer issue (Y2K). However, they said they didn't believe any interruption of service would occur. As we now know, bank representatives were right.



HDR Power employee Scotty Polite took down the flower pots to put up the Christmas decorations on street lamps along St. Lawrence and Main Streets this week in November 1989.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Chesterville bargain shop thanks community

The Editor:
Ye Olde Bargain Shoppe has been located in Chesterville for 18 years.

We would like the thank the residents of Chesterville and area for their generous donations of clothing, toys, small appliances, and more over the years.

Your support is what keeps us going.

Holy Trinity Anglican Church has been home to the shop since its inception, and we would like to express our appreciation to the church for the use of the basement for the store's operation.

It is greatly appreciated and allows us to contribute to our community.

It's hard to believe, but $135,505.97 has been donated to the community over the past 18 years.

The shop also pays 50 per cent of the church's yearly hydro bill and donates 15 per cent of the gross sales as well; both are included in the donations total. Donations are usually made to organizations which will benefit the most people.

We have donated to CHEO, the Dundas County Food Bank, the Dundas County Hospice, Happy Face Nursery School, Winchester District Memorial Hospital, Nor-Dun Seniors' Support Centre, Chesterville Fire Department, and more.

For several years, boxes of baby and young children's clothes, bottles, and toys have been sent to Chernobyl and Belarus through the Chesterville Rotary Club.

Victims of fires are given clothing and small appliances when requested.

We also assist those on fixed incomes, especially at the beginning of the school year and at Christmastime.

The staff at the shop are all volunteers, and each volunteer pays a monthly fee, which is included in the sales.

Again, our appreciation and thanks to the great community we live in.

Adjusting to the country after life in the big city

Confessions of a Country Convert
by Adele Eyman

I must confess, I did not grow up in the country. But I figured that I was prepared for country life because of Aunt Miggi's farm. For two glorious weeks every summer, I helped her bale hay, fetch cattle, and put out dinner for the thrashing crew. When my own parents started farming, I was 17. As you can imagine, I was thrilled. The first season, we picked thousands of stones, planted thousands of Spanish onions, weeded thousands of green peppers, and picked thousands of tomatoes.

After that, I moved to Toronto, but I still was a country girl at heart. I even dated a country boy one summer, someone I met while attending the University of Guelph. Stan was a local fellow whose father grew corn near our place. Stan and my dad would talk about corn in our kitchen, and then he'd take me to the A&W for whistle dogs and root beer. After a while, Stan stopped calling, and I heard that he was seeing his cousin. Eventually, they married. But, I digress.

The point is, I am no stranger to country life. So, I figured that moving from Toronto to South Mountain would be a snap. Just unpack the boxes, say "Hi" to the neighbours, and settle in.

Not even close. See, my heart might be pure country, but I have a city brain. So, I get rattled by some of the things country people do, like the way my country friends use the phone. I answer the phone, and the caller doesn't say who they are. They just continue our previous conversation while I panic, and wonder "who is this?" In Toronto, if this happens, it's a telemarketer and you hang up. My apologies to everyone I've hung up on. I'm still getting used to phone culture in the country.

I'm also getting used to people noticing me. In Toronto, I was used to being invisible. Once you leave your neighbourhood, you become another object in the urban landscape — like crosswalks and streetcars. I like the freedom that comes with that invisibility. No one cares how you look or what you do — anything goes, and it takes a lot to get really noticed (like, possibly, firing a gun). But travelling on the subway dressed like a cat? Nada, and I know this because I've taken the subway with my sister, a professional singer, who was dressed in full cat costume for a performance. But again, I digress.

The point is, here in the country, nobody is invisible. In moving to the country, I have gained more privacy, only to find that I will never again be completely anonymous. Unknown, perhaps, but not anonymous. After one trip to the post office, the bank, the pharmacy, and the auto shop, the people here will know more about me than my neighbours in Toronto ever did.

And that's a good thing, isn't it? But, again I digress.

Adele Eyman's column, "Confessions of a Country Convert," will begin appearing periodically in future editions of the Winchester Press.

Eyman has lived in the country for five years now, after being a city dweller for most of her life. She was born in Pittsburgh and lived there until graduating from high school, when her family moved to Ontario to take over her uncle's farm. After getting a BA in mathematics, she went to teacher's college, taught high school and then joined a research team of teachers and psychologists on a major education project. From there, she followed her passion for doing research through an MA in psychology to the dissertation stage of a PhD, before family obligations took over. While raising her son, she worked in retail, training, education, and insurance, as a bookseller, sessional instructor, technical writer, claims assessor, and private tutor. She has been writing all her life and is now working towards establishing a writing life. Currently, she lives on 40 acres of bush in the Township of North Dundas with her husband, their four rescue dogs, and two cats.

SHEPHERD TALK
by Carol Heymans

Will you answer the call?

WINCHESTER — By the title of this column you might think I will talk about the ringing of a doorbell or a phone beckoning you from whatever you're doing.

I have to chuckle because even as I write, my phone rings in the office (I must answer that call) and my cell phone indicates I have a text message that will also need to be answered. We make ourselves so accessible through land line phones, cell phones, text messages, and e-mail from our family, friends, and businesses. Yet I have to wonder, have we missed the most important call of our lives?

This fall, our church began a monthly mentorship program for the women and girls in our congregation and beyond. A couple of women had a vision for such a program and prayed for God to direct and guide how it would come about.

We have named it, "Answering the Call: Equipping women and girls to walk victoriously in Christ." The first night, we laid some foundation and defined "the call." What does it mean to answer the call? It's a phrase that is widely used in evangelical circles, but is it truly understood? Without going into a lengthy, drawn-out explanation, here is how we've defined the call:

"We are answering an invitation from our Heavenly Father to come to Him, to be redeemed by Him, to be His child, and to commit to Him and do what He asks."

While this program is geared specifically for women and girls, God's divine invitation is for all mankind. His Word, in 2 Peter 3:9, says that, "He is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance." He is waiting for each of us to turn to Him. In Jeremiah 29:13, God says, "you will seek Me and find Me when you seek Me with all your heart." While in Proverbs 8:17 we read, "I love those who love Me, and those who seek Me find Me." Do you love God? Do you love the Lord Jesus Christ? Do you seek Him, trust Him, and most importantly have you surrendered your life to Him?

My question for us today is this — if He knows the plans He has for us, wouldn't we do well to ask Him, to seek Him, to surrender our way of thinking, and embrace His ways and to trust that what He says, He will do?

Will you accept the divine invitation that God has issued to you today, that invitation to "come and dine" at the Master's table, to be His child, and to let Him be your guide.

Do dogs and parks mix?

Parks can provide a pleasant and safe environment in which to exercise dogs. Safety for other park users is, however, also a consideration. The City of Ottawa Animal Care and Control Bylaw provides for a variety of park usages or "designations" for dogs, and there is a Dogs-in-Parks Designation Policy (DIPDP) that now applies. This approach to park designations had been in place in old Ottawa since the late 1990s. It is, however, new to the other former municipalities' parks. Over time, parks outside of old Ottawa are being designated based on the criteria set out in the DIPDP with community consultation.

The bylaw and regulatory services branch will be holding community consultations for these rural locations to assist in determining the appropriate designations for parks in each ward.

The meeting will be held Wed., Nov. 25 from 7 to 9 pm at the Metcalfe Community Centre Hall.

VERNON — The Vernon Women's Missionary Society (WMS) celebrated its 120th anniversary with a special service in the church hall on Sat, Oct. 31 at 2 pm. Evelyn Cowan wore a dress and bonnet of that earlier time. Guests attended from Ottawa Presbyterial, Brockville Presbyterial, Manotick, Morewood, and Vernon.

After guests signed the guest book, the president, Bette Crerar, welcomed everyone to the service. Devotions were led by Christine Ball. The church organist, Doreen Acres, accompanied the singing of hymns. Sara McIlveen was the guest speaker and showed slides of her Youth In Mission trip to India. She was introduced by Crerar and thanked by Helen McDonald.

Special music on the flute and harp by Cathy Graham and Sharon Baird was enjoyed by all.

Crerar gave a brief history of the Women's Missionary Society in Vernon and a scroll was given to everyone containing information about the organization of the society, starting with a certain Mrs. John Thorburn of Ottawa on Oct. 29, 1889.

The free-will offering was $119. The benediction was pronounced by Kevin Guther. There were many historical displays and a beautiful quilt made in 1843 by Jane Anne McDougall, the great-great-grandmother of Dorothy Campbell.

Lyn Partridge and Marguerite Hill poured tea. A social hour followed with refreshments. An anniversary cake, decorated with the WMS logo, was made by Joan Dow and cut by Evelyn Cowan.

Winchester Home Hardware supports seasonal charities

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Winchester Home Hardware has announced it is supporting two Christmas charities through its store this yuletide season — and one of the initiatives is new.

Again this year, the retailer will be selling tree ornaments called food bank friends. There are four models in total, and each one costs $2, with $1.50 earmarked for the Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB).

The friends will be available at the Winchester and Morrisburg Home Hardware stores, as well as the Scotiabank in Chesterville.

Owner Ken Boje said it's the third year for the Food Bank Friends initiative. The year before that, candles and ornaments were sold in support of the food bank.

"Basically, we were looking for a food bank fundraiser," said Boje.

Last year, the two Home Hardware locations raised $4,000 for the DCFB. That amount included proceeds from an in-store photo-op session with Santa, where customers could pose with St. Nick for a fee. (Boje is trying to organize the photography initiative again this year.)

"Our goal this year is to get to $5,000," said Boje.

Boje added that he hopes to send the cheque off to the DCFB between Christmas and the new year, or in early January if necessary.

Winchester Home Hardware's second initiative is a hockey-related one. Artist Tim Schmalz aims to make a monument to honour Canadian hockey, and he needs funding to do it. (The location of the monument has yet to be selected.)

As a result, Winchester Home Hardware is selling special carved collector's items to support the monument campaign. A percentage of each purchase will go toward the initiative.

Boje said he thinks it's worthwhile to recognize Canada's contribution to the creation and enhancement of a popular winter sport.

"I think it's important to promote Canada's game — it's part of the national pride," said Boje. "I think it's a neat idea."

The collector's items are available at Winchester Home Hardware, as well as at the vendor fair during the North Dundas Country Christmas Parade of Lights on Sat., Dec. 5.

Boje added that Schmalz is booked to make an appearance at the vendor fair, where he can talk to the public about his project.

Each food bank friend costs $2, $1.50 of which will support the Dundas County Food Bank this holiday season.

Canadian Tire plays Santa early

by Amanda Smith-Millar
Press staff

WINCHESTER — Canadian Tire in Morrisburg stepped up to play Santa during a triple-bill cheque presentation on Fri., Nov. 13.

The retailer decided to support three local charities and make Christmas a bit better for those less fortunate in the immediate area.

First off, the South Dundas Christmas Exchange received a cheque for $1,350. The organization arranges for food baskets and gifts for the needy each holiday season.

Meanwhile, Naomi's Family Resource Centre in Winchester received $1,350.

The biggest recipient was Dundas County Food Bank (DCFB), which received $2,634. The donation comes as a great relief to DCFB administrator Donna Quesnel, as her organization recently exhausted its food budget and made preparations to rely on food donations until the end of the year.

"It's certainly helping to restock our shelves," said Quesnel.

The Morrisburg branch of Canadian Tire also helped out the food bank recently by running a drive for both food and cash. By asking for support from its customers, the business was able to contribute $878, plus canned goods.

Canadian Tire reps said the three organizations were selected because they are local and have a significant impact during the holiday season.

"They help our community," said Karen Herman, the office manager of the Morrisburg store.

40 years for Kenmore business

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

KENMORE — In 1958, a much younger Peter Zlomislic left his native Croatia to start a new life in Canada.

Today, at 72, Zlomislic is starting to look back on his humble beginnings as an immigrant arriving in Toronto and the first job he received in Canada as a farm hand in the rural area surrounding Cornwall.

Included in that mix is 40 years spent as the owner and operator of a small business known as Kenmore Aluminum and Vinyl.

Many companies never see a 40th anniversary, but Zlomislic doesn't see it as a huge accomplishment.

"It's just another year," said Zlomislic with a laugh.

When Zlomislic landed in Toronto in the '50s, he knew little English and his family still lived in Croatia.

"I spent a lot of time at the immigration offices asking for work," he said. "'Give me any kind of job,' I would say to them."

Zlomislic eventually landed a job on a farm outside Cornwall.

"They [the farmers] were German, and I spoke German," he said. "I had no problem communicating."

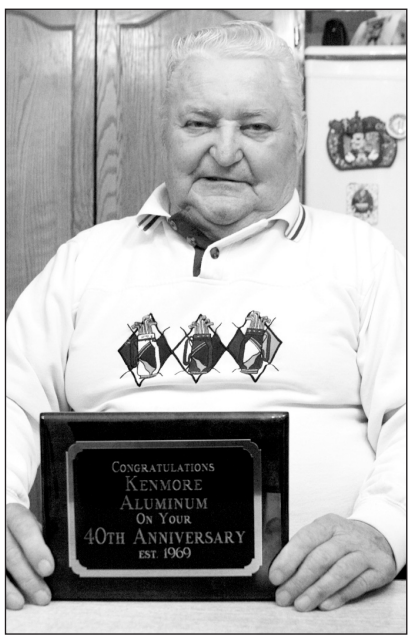
Zlomislic started out by helping to milk 25 cows and shovel manure, but before long, he'd had enough, as his assigned workload proved to be outrageous.

"I worked there for five days," he said. "It was terrible."

For the five days worked, Zlomislic only received $5 for his trouble. Soon after that experience, he found himself back in Toronto again, but not without a bump in the road along the way.

"The train ticket to Toronto was $10, and I only had $5," said Zlomislic.

Eventually, he made his way back to Toronto and was once again back at the immigration office looking for work.



Peter Zlomislic has been the owner and operator of Kenmore Aluminum and Vinyl since he started the business in 1969. Press Photo — Uhrig

"They told me to go back to the farmer," said Zlomislic.

That was not a desirable solution for Zlomislic, but he had no money and no food. This struggle left Zlomislic wondering where he would end up next.

Long road to success from Croatian roots

"[I thought] Maybe they'll put me in jail for the night, then I'll have free room and board," he said.

Soon, Zlomislic ended up in Morewood, working as a general labourer installing windows, doors, and other necessities required in the construction of a home.

Following his travels in Morewood, Zlomislic received a position at Viceroy Aluminum installing windows across Ottawa.

"They paid me $2.25 an hour to start," he said.

By the end of his first month, Zlomislic was earning $2.50 an hour and was soon bumped up to $2.75.

The skills acquired as a labourer in Morewood and a window installer at Viceroy allowed Zlomislic to make the transition to operating his own business.

In 1969, Kenmore Aluminum and Vinyl was born.

"I started the business without any money," said Zlomislic.

The $500 he was able to scrounge up went toward the purchase of his first work truck.

By the mid '70s, said Zlomislic, business started to increase, and 10 men were hired to form a crew.

As the jobs kept piling up, money kept trickling out, said Zlomislic, who used to advertise and operate a show room at his Kenmore home — two ventures that proved less successful than he would have hoped.

"In this kind of business, that is a waste of money," he said. "All I need is a business phone."

In 1983, Zlomislic's son, Andrew, joined the company full-time, and it has been full-steam ahead since than.

"We're booked solid already," said Zlomislic, adding that the jobs are already booked until March 2010.

Much to Zlomislic's chagrin, he cannot work as hard as he would like anymore, due to much discomfort caused by a bad back.

"If my back was better, I'd still go at it," he said, laughing.

He acknowledges that his son has operated the company well, along with the help of one other worker.

"They do good work," he said.

For now, Zlomislic is going to ease himself into retirement, or "take it easy."

He and his wife, Katherine, will continue to live in their Kenmore home, where Kathy operates the local Canada Post outlet.

"I hope things don't get boring," said Zlomislic with a grin.

New equine discovery program at Kemptville

KEMPTVILLE — The University of Guelph Kemptville Campus has announced a new equine program to teach people leadership skills and the power of non-verbal communication in relationships with others.

The Leadership through Equine-Assisted Discovery (LEAD) program is set to kick off this fall, using innovative and interactive exercises to teach participants the skills of patience, compassion, assertiveness, trust, self-esteem, and leadership.

Kemptville Campus has teamed up with horse trainer and personal development coach Chris Irwin. Irwin aims to spread the message of how "horse sense can benefit human potential."

With mental health professionals, equine professionals, and researchers at the University of Guelph, the inaugural LEAD program is targeted at youth between the ages of 12 to 15 to provide leadership and self-awareness training.

After this pilot, the Kemptville campus intends to broaden the program to include other demographic groups such as at-risk youth, women, and people experiencing post-traumatic stress disorder, and incorporate scientific research studies to analyze how well the program works.

For more information, contact Dr. Katrina Merkies at 613-258-8336 ext. 61316 or kmerkies@kemptvillec.uoguelph.ca.

4-H Update

Carleton 4-H Classic team second

VERNON — The Carleton County 4-H team competed in the Classic Canadian Junior Dairy 4-H show in Toronto at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, which took place from Fri., Nov. 6 to Mon., Nov. 16, and came away with the second-best exhibit in the country.

The Carleton team decided to make a new display this year with help from local businesses.

Meanwhile, five members from the Vernon Dairy Club made up the team this year, and the Carleton team placed sixth out of 52 teams participating in this year's Canadian Classic. In intermediate showmanship, team members Courtney Henderson and Rebecca Brown placed seventh and ninth respectively out of 150 showpersons entered.

In the junior calf class, Brown placed sixth, while Scott Groniger placed ninth out of a class of 25 Holsteins. Jaclyn Rivington showed the second-place intermediate calf, with Courtney Henderson placing 14th in a class of 71 animals. Both Garrett and Adam McDiarmid missed the cut by one with their intermediate Holsteins.

The Carleton team members would like to thank leaders Diane Groniger, Louis Patenaude, Connie McDiarmid, Herb Henderson, Cindy Brown, and Jill Rivington, who accompanied the team to Toronto.

Two avid Crysler kayakers open SNC speakers series

FINCH — South Nation Conservation (SNC) is kicking off its new occasional speakers series on Mon., Nov. 23 with two Crysler women who kayaked much of the South Nation River watershed earlier this year and have hundreds of photos to prove it.

As part of a group, recreational kayakers Elaine Lavictoire and Christina Yelle took up SNC's "Canoe the Nation Challenge" to paddle five established routes for a total distance of about 175 kilometres.

Their detailed record of the trip earned them top prize in the 2009 challenge. On Nov. 23, they'll tell the audience all about it at the SNC headquarters in Finch, beginning at 7 pm. Admission is free and light refreshments will be served.

Joining Lavictoire and Yelle will be Rick Reid, who operates Kanata's Discover Paddling, a wilderness canoe trip service specializing in Ontario Recreational Canoeing and Kayaking Association certification courses.

Reid has been an avid canoeist, hiker, and wilderness camper since his early youth. He has a wide range of experience in leading and instructing in the outdoors. His presentation will cover how to get started, choosing a canoe or kayak, training, safety, and even proper dress, along with specific tips for voyaging the South Nation.

Five different South Nation canoe routes take about a day to complete and are designed to highlight the history of natural features of the watershed, said challenge co-ordinator Karen Cooper. Anyone wishing to follow in Lavictoire and Yelle's wake can enter as an individual or as part of a team. Maps are provided. An official detailed and dated log must be kept.

"It's a great opportunity to explore first hand what that little river in your own back yard has to offer," said Coopers, she added that the challenge is also useful in educating participants about various SNC services — everything from fish habitat enhancement and shoreline buffer strip creation to flood control.

Area UCWs attend fall Presbyterial

by Leita Foster

NORTH AUGUSTA — The Seaway Valley Presbyterial fall meeting was held on Tues., Nov. 10, 2009 at Algonquin United Church in North Augusta, with more than 50 ladies attending.

After a drive in the fall sunshine, the ladies enjoyed coffee, juice, and muffins, as well as a visit to the book room.

President Kim Baird opened the meeting with the readings "A Woman Of Strength" and "God Who Calls Us to Commitment."

The UCW purpose was recited in unison.

Welcoming remarks came from Marg Wei. Norma McKinley recounted church history from 1808 to the present time. She told of the numerous changes made through the years, with the community working together to have the church of today.

After opening with the prayer and hymn "In Loving Partnership We Come," the scripture read was John 6 verses 6 to 13.

Numerous reports were given and accepted. The info package contained National UCW newsletter, as well as reports from M&O Conference UCW and Communication/Archives. Louise Shaw told of the successful concert held to support Mountain's House of Lazarus on Sun., Nov. 8. She also listed some of the essentials needed at the community outreach mission for the cold months ahead.

Erna Witherspoon made a special appeal on the "Just a Dime a Day" campaign. Thanks went to the Prescott Ladies for handing out the containers for our dimes.

Louise Shaw related news on her busy summer. She had attended the National UCW meeting in Burry Heights, Nfld. on Thurs., Sept. 10 to Sun., Sept. 13. Louise and Gail Christie were chosen from Seaway Valley to attend the 40th General Council held in Kelowna, B.C. The ladies received a general overview of the proceedings, starting with the displays depicting what the UCWs from all levels across Canada are involved in, to the more than 150 items of business and election of the new moderator of the United Church of Canada, Mardi Tindal of Brantford, Ont. Bette Turcotte was named president–elect of the national council. She has written many books in the form of study services for groups such as UCW. There will be a national alumni of past presidents invited to attend meetings.

Thanks went to Lois and Joan for a lovely display and recap of new and old books. Three Cups of Tea by Greg Mortenson remains as a must read.

After grace, everyone enjoyed the delicious soups along with our bag lunch and muffins.

Linda Suddaby, the guest speaker, was introduced by Erna Witherspoon.

The scripture read was first Corinthians chapter 4, verses 1 and 2. She handed out a questionnaire, which was interesting and thoroughly enjoyed, as everyone gave answers aloud and discussed them.

United Church Women will be celebrating 50 years in July 2012 in Ancaster Ont. More news will follow on this subject.

The next presbyterial will be held in Bishop's Mills on Tues., Feb. 9.

Time for tea

Her Majesty Queen Victoria (Sydney Smith) was in Morrisburg on Thurs., Nov. 12, and she's going to be in town again — at the Lakeshore Drive United Church from 11 am to 2 pm on Sat., Nov. 21 for a fundraiser. Morrisburg's Amazing Grannies, a group assisting the Stephen Lewis Foundation, has planned a mini bazaar and bake sale that day. Admission is free, and the tea is $5.

WI celebrates 90 years with anniversary party

by Vivian Fawcett

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Women's Institute (WI) celebrated its 90th anniversary on Thurs., Oct. 29 in the village's Lions Hall.

About 30 members attended, along with WI sisters from Williamsburg, Chesterville, and Finch. Invited guests who brought warm wishes included Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry MPP Jim Brownell, Township of North Dundas Deputy-Mayor Estella Rose, Shadbolt's Department Store owner Jamie Shadbolt, and Lions Club members. Other guests included Dawn Campbell, president of the Golden Years Society; Susan Robertson, president of the WI in the eastern area; and the vice-president of the newly formed Stormont-Dundas District group, Betty Wheeler.

Greetings were also read from Joy Trimball, who couldn't attend. She is the president of the Federal Women's Institute of Ontario.

A skit was presented by "Dolly Parton" (Anne Lyon), her "bodyguard" (Jamie Shadbolt), and his "girlfriend," Jolene (Marjorie Shadbolt). The trio elicited plenty of laughs.

The institute ode was sung, the Mary Stewart Collect and grace were repeated, and the group enjoyed cake and ice cream.

UCW remembers fallen

by Norma Wylie

WINCHESTER — Clara Edwardson welcomed the United Church Women (UCW) to the Mon., Nov. 9 meeting in the Sunday school hall by saying a prayer, ending with the Lord's Prayer.

Then everyone recited the poem, "In Flanders Fields."

The group's anniversary dinner in October had 128 take-out meals processed at the Winchester Baptist Church.

The meeting closed with the song, "Go Now In Peace."

Units one and two are scheduled to meet on Mon., Nov. 30. Unit one will meet at the Sunday school at 7:30 pm and unit two at June Armstrong's at 1:30 pm. Unit four will meet on Mon., Dec. 7 at Marion Renwick's at 7:30 pm with a gift exchange.

Making amends onstage

The Dundas County Players (DCP) start the 2009 Christmas production, Ethan Claymore, at the Old Town Hall for two consecutive weekends, on Fri., Nov. 20.

Ethan Claymore takes the stage

WINCHESTER — The Dundas County Players will be unveiling their upcoming Christmas production of Ethan Claymore at the Old Town Hall in Winchester this Friday evening.

Director Bill Steele will be presenting this play to local audiences during the two upcoming weekends (Fri., Nov. 20 to Sun., Nov. 22 and Fri., Nov. 27 to Sun., Nov. 29).

"Ethan Claymore is a story of love and redemption, spiced up with lots of laughter and a pinch of magic," said Steele. "It's set in rural Canada, in a place not unlike Dundas County, and deals with the transformation of ordinary people in everyday situations."

The play's hero, Ethan Claymore, is a widowed egg farmer pining for his dead wife and desperate to make sense of an unresolved relationship with his brother. It's a week before Christmas, and Ethan's nosy neighbour thinks it's high time to stop mourning and start living again. The arrival of a new schoolteacher in the community is an occasion for some country-style matchmaking, and it's time for the egg farmer to get out and find a mate.

Players fine-tune upcoming play

The plot intensifies when the ghost of Ethan's estranged brother, Martin, shows up, unseen by all but Ethan, who has been having flashbacks as he witnesses the beginning of the rift between his younger self and Martin.

What happens between these two men, at first estranged and bitter, is a journey of self-discovery toward resolving the sadness of the past.

"The moving and believable performances of our local actors will undoubtedly capture the imagination of our audience and tug at their heartstrings," said Steele. "Life can be turned around and made magical by a touching human transformation."

Evening performances start at 7:30 pm on Fri., Nov. 20, Sat., Nov. 21, Fri., Nov. 27, and Sat., Nov. 28, with matinee performances on both Sun., Nov. 22 and 29 at 2 pm.

Tickets are $15 for adults and $10 for youth 18 and under. They are on sale now at Shadbolt's Department Store in Winchester or by calling Russell Robinson at 613-448-3534. Please note that there is limited seating and people are encouraged to buy their tickets early.

Rehearsals underway

Like the Dundas County Players, neighbouring thespians at Morrisburg's Upper Canada Playhouse are staging their own Christmas production. The Christmas Express will introduce the audience to the townsfolk of Holly, a small settlement that's having a rough yuletide season. The play starts Thurs., Nov. 19 and wraps up Sun., Dec. 13. Tickets are available by calling 613-543-3713.

Senior Devils rally to capture gold

Shock Patriotes in SD&G volleyball title match

MAPLE RIDGE — Playing in front of a gymnasium packed with friendly faces and supported by pounding drums and clanging cowbells, the North Dundas District High School Devils rallied from a two set deficit to become the 2009 SD&G senior boys "AA" volleyball champions in story book fashion.

It might have been stage fright, nervousness derived from the pressure of playing in front of their friends and classmates, but whatever the case the host Devils stumbled through the first two sets and fell behind La Citadelle Patriotes 2-0 (25-21, 25-18).

North Dundas coach Cheryl Williams said she was surprised by those results because her squad had swept the Patriotes 3-0 (25-10, 25-21, 25-16) in a regular-season meeting.

"We didn't block as well as we normally had and that enabled La Citadelle to take the advantage in the first two sets," she said.

North Dundas got off the mark quickly in the pivotal third set taking an 11-4 lead. The Devils then put together an eight-point run and opened up a 20-7 advantage. The Pats answered with a six-point dash and closed the gap to 21-13. The score tightened to 23-20, but the Devils stayed alive with a 25-20 victory.

The fourth set saw the Devils grab a 16-13 lead, but the Pats battled back to tie it 19-19. The count was even at 22-22, when Jordan Havekes went to the line and served up three points for a 25-22 victory that tied the match 2-2.

The North Dundas District High School Devils pulled off an unbelievable come-from-behind victory to capture the 2009 SD&G senior boys "AA" volleyball championship. North Dundas trailed the La Citadelle Patriotes 2-0 in last week's (Tues., Nov. 10) gold-medal match, but rallied to tie the score 2-2 and went on to post a 15-12 victory in the tie-breaker. The 2009 SD&G champions are: front (left) - Connor MacDonald, Matt Jose, Richard Boals, Jordan Havekes, Derek Simms, Brae McNamara; back (left) - Alex de Paiva, Jacob Luimes, Brandon Oosterhof, Josh Stubbings, captain Jeff Armstrong, coach Cheryl Williams. Missing: Sean Bufton.

La Citadelle held 10-7, 10-9 and 11-10 leads in the 15-point fifth and final set, but faded as the Devils stormed ahead and secured the tri-county title and a trip to EOSSAA with a 15-12 victory.

The last time the Devils captured the SD&G senior title was in 2003.

"The turning point in the match was definitely the third set," said Williams. "I used two setters, back row setter comes into set, thus allowing for three hitters. I replaced one of my setters — when he got to the front row — with a heavy hitter-blocker and then subbed the setter back in when entering the back row, that allowed us to have some needed power and coverage in the front row."

Williams said some key timeouts also made an impact, "and thankfully worked in the our favour."

She also thanked the fantastic fans and noted the great support provided by teammates on the bench was also key to the day's success.

North Dundas finished first in regular season play on the strength of a 24-6 record.

North Dundas will represent SD&G at EOSSAA which will be played at St. Mary's in Brockville tomorrow (Thurs., Nov. 19).

Davis' hat trick ignites Hawks, defeat Akwesasne Wolves 6-5

Taylor Davis

WINCHESTER — Veteran defenceman Alex Krumins cracked in a feed sent to him by Ryan Workman and Ryan Leckie. His shot broke up a 5-5 tie and lifted the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks to a 6-5 victory over the winless Akwesasne Wolves.

The home-town Hawks were trailing the lowly Wolves 5-3 at the 10:39 mark of the final frame when Taylor Davis banged in his third goal of the game and fifth of the season to ignite the Winchester rally.

Friday's (Nov. 13) narrow escape against the last-place Wolves was the highlight of the Hawks two-game weekend slate because the next night (Sat., Nov. 14) they were whitewashed 6-0 by the Glens in Alexandria. It was the first time the Hawks have been blanked this season but two of their last three losses have been one-sided decisions — 9-1 to Char-Lan and 10-1 to Casselman.

What has been playing in the hot-and-cold Hawks favour is the fact they are still right in the thick of things in the race for one of the four St. Lawrence Division playoff positions.

The Casselman Vikings (11-4-1-1) lead the pack with 24 points. Winchester (11-7-0-0), Alexandria (9-4-4-0) and Char-Lan Rebels (9-5-2-2) all are just two points off the pace with 22. The Morrisburg Lions (6-11-0-0) have collected 12 and Akwesasne (0-16-1-1) two points.

This week

Tomorrow night (Thurs., Nov. 19) the Hawks travel to Casselman to challenge the first-place Vikings in a 7:30 pm start. Friday night (Nov. 20) the Morrisburg Lions are in Winchester for an 8:15 pm meeting.

Hawks rally

"We weren't hungry enough for the game against Akwesasne," said Winchester coach Paul Sheard.

Churchill leads Midget Devils to two victories

MAPLE RIDGE — Sarah Churchill threw down a total of 26 points and helped the North Dundas District High School Devils open their 2009 SD&G midget girls basketball season with a pair of victories.

Churchill and the Devils faced the St. Joe's Panthers and the Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers in the opening tournament of the campaign on their home hardwood last week (Mon., Nov. 9).

The Devils will play in a tournament at L'Heritage today (Wed., Nov. 18) and finish the schedule at Seaway District High School in Iroquois next week (Tues., Nov. 24).

Churchill put together her 18-point game in the Devils 31-22 win over the St. Joe's Panthers. She drained seven in the first half as North Dundas opened up a 17-6 lead. Churchill finished with four field goals and three free throws in the second half.

Lindsay Chambers (5), Dana Sullivan (4), Brianna Geertsma (2) and Erin Elliott (2) also wrinkled the string.

Jenna Warren joined Churchill on the top of the scoring summary in the Devils' 34-11 victory over the Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers.

North Dundas defended the opposition well, holding them to four points in the second half. The Devils were up 17-7 at the half and drained another 17 points in the final two frames.

Minor Midget Demons hot, register three straight wins

WINCHESTER — Three consecutive wins have helped erase any memories the North Dundas Minor Midget "B" Demons had of a 3-1 loss to the South Stormont Selects in Long Sault.

That setback, absorbed on Oct. 21, was the first of the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League campaign for Dale Murdoch's squad. Since then, his troops have knocked off the Selects 4-1 — at home last week (Thurs., Nov. 12) — and followed up with a pair of road wins — 6-2 in Prescott against the South Grenville Rangers on Saturday (Nov. 14) and 7-1 in Smiths Falls on Sunday (Nov. 15).

North Dundas will carry a 7-1-0 record into tomorrow night's (Thurs., Nov. 19) home game against the Smiths Falls Bears. Game time at the Winchester Arena is 7 pm.

Scoring summaries for the Demons' wins in Prescott and Smiths Falls were not available at press time.

Demons 4 - Selects 1

North Dundas gained their revenge for their loss by knocking off the Selects 4-1 in Winchester.

The Demons and Selects were deadlocked in a scoreless tie after a period. All of the scoring took place in the second stanza as North Dundas banged in their four goals and South Stormont ruined Matt Picanco's shutout when a Nicholas Gauthier shot found the net with 1:56 left on the clock.

Daniel McSheffery handed North Dundas a 1-0 lead when he buried a relay sent to him by Evan Durant and Ryan Romans at 12:05. Captain Ryan Byers made it 2-0 getting help from Josh Freake at 11:13. Durant completed a three-way play involving Bantam "B" Demons affiliate Mark McRae and Kirk Gibson at the 9:06 mark. McRae then opened up a 4-1 lead cashing in a Colton Stitt feed with 11 seconds left in the session.

Evan Durant's unassisted shot accounted for the North Dundas offence in the 3-1 loss to South Stormont.

Bouncing puck

North Dundas captain Ryan Byers went around South Stormont defender Tanner Smith chasing down the rolling puck during an Upper Canada Minor Hockey Minor Midget League game in Winchester last week (Thurs., Nov. 12). Byers scored once in the Demons 4-1 victory. Press Photo — Van Bridger

Hawks

"There is no way our hockey team should think they are better than any other team. The boys were a little complacent — we were lucky to pull that one off," added the coach.

Davis netted his third goal of the campaign and first of the game to get the Hawks off to a 1-0 lead with 12:25 left in the opening stanza. Rookies Karl Henike and Lance Hodgson set up the play at 12:25.

Shane Ramsay made it 2-0 registering his fourth goal after taking a pass from Ben Brayman and Adam Schofield at 13:09.

Akwesasne came alive in the sandwich session and fought the Hawks to a 3-3 draw. Dillan Barr potted a pair and Steven Rose a single shot, as the Wolves rang up three PPGs as Winchester took seven of the eight penalties called in the period.

Davis (4) cashed in a relay from Henike and Hodgson to account for the Winchester marker.

Rose (PPG) and Dylan Pendergast netted goals for the Wolves and gave their squad a 5-3 lead with the 10:39 mark of the final frame.

Winchester's rally started at 13:43 when Davis completed his hat trick. Brayman and Ramsay engineered the play that made it 5-4. Ramsay (5) then tied it up after getting help from Davis and Krumins at 15:43. A few ticks (16:39) later Krumins deposited the Workman - Leckie offering into the Wolves' cage and put the Hawks up 6-5.

Rookie Winchester 'tender Ryan Hay held the fort and picked up the victory.

Akwesasne's power play went four for nine while the Hawks finished zero for four.

Whitewashed 6-0

First-period goals by Hugho Pouliotte (penalty shot) and Adam Simpson gave the Alexandria Glens a 2-0 advantage over the Hawks in the first 20 minutes of Saturday's game.

Julien Machabee (PPG) made it 3-0 after two sessions.

Leo Maclean, J.F. Dubois, and Alexander Stevenson beat Winchester starter Michael Hitesman in the final frame and sealed the 6-0 decision.

Alexandria outshot Winchester 39-29.

"Actually the kids didn't play that badly. I thought the play was back and forth — they scored — we didn't," offered Sheard.

"That penalty shot goal early in the first period and a power play goal made a big difference," he said.

Sheard explained that the team's main problems were the power play's failure to score in either game and the once-solid penalty kill unit struggled.

"We need someone who can score in key situations," he said. "We have to make some changes because other teams keep improving and we have to keep up."

Basketball

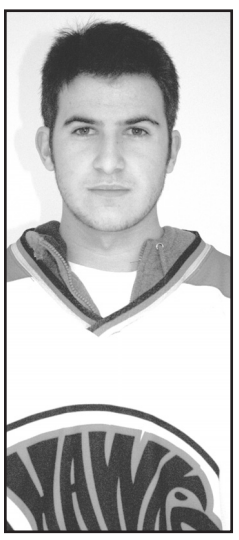
Warren and Churchill each put down eight points, while Elliott strained five points through the onion bag. Jodie Hall and Geertsma each drained a pair of field goals. Chambers and Kelsey Neil dunked deuces and Carman Stubbings supplied a single point to complete the scoring.

Devils roster

The members of the 2009 North Dundas Midget Devils are: Dana Sullivan, Tara DeJong, Lindsay Chambers, Carman Stubbings, Erin Elliott, Kelsey Neil, Emma Gern, Hannah Greenough, Sarah Churchill, Jenna Warren, Brianna Geertsma, Sarah Milne, Jodie Hall, coach Jevon Groves, assistant coaches Lindsay Allen, and Kirsten Milne.

Meet the Hawks

Parker Davies
No. 16, Right Wing



Right winger Parker Davies, 19, is in his third campaign with the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks. The Ottawa native joined the Hawks after finishing his minor career with the Kanata "AA" Midget Blazers. Last season (2008-09) the 180-pound winger finished seventh in team scoring with eight goals, 13 assists, and 21 points. This year, Davies holds down 10th place with four goals, three assists, and seven points, including one SHG and one GWG.

Rockets post second victory

WINCHESTER — Will McLean teamed up with Justin Morozuk and netted the game-winning goal in Sherrer's Rockets 5-2 victory over Heuff's Howlers.

McLean's marker came with 12 minutes left in the opening game of the Winchester Town Hockey League's Tuesday night (Nov. 10) twin bill. The win pushed the Rockets' record to 2-3-2 and moved them into sole possession of second place — six points behind the top-ranked Morozuk Maulers (6-1-0).

The Maulers registered their sixth win in seven starts, outlasting McLean's Flyers 8-6 in the late game.

The Rockets led the Howlers (2-4-1) 2-1 at the half. Howler Robyn Sadler tied the game 2-2, scoring from Billy McRoberts and Jordan Barkley at 21:20 of the second half but that was the last puck to get behind Rocket 'tender Colin Ion. From that point on, the Rockets took over and rifled home three consecutive markers to secure the 5-2 win.

McLean (from Morozuk at 12:00) cracked in the winner. Morozuk (from Aron Sherrer at 10:18) made it 4-2 and McLean (unassisted) popped the fifth goal into an empty net with 22 seconds showing on the clock.

Morozuk and McLean each collected a pair of goals and an assist. Sherrer supplied a goal and two helpers. Travis Froats earned an assist.

Travis Rowe and Sadler hit for the Howler goals. Barkley, McRoberts, and Barret Brundige set up the scoring plays.

Maulers 8 - Flyers 6

Dean Byvelds, Chad Valcour, and Scott Reaney each popped in a pair of pucks and led the Maulers to their 8-6 decision over the Flyers.

The game was deadlocked 2-2 at the half. The teams traded goals in a wide open second session that saw Reaney bag the deciding shot with 10:55 left on the clock. Trevor Morozuk and Byvelds set up the play.

Byvelds (2-3-5), Valcour (2-2-4), Reaney (2-1-3), Phil Duncan (1-2-3), Trevor Morozuk (1-2-3), Spencer Dawson (0-1-1), and Mitch Scott (0-1-1) all produced points for the Maulers. Chad Kennedy was the winning 'tender.

Flyers Trevor Gilmer and Travis "Toast" Armstrong combined for a total of 10 points. Gilmer netted four goals and picked up an assist, while Armstrong pegged a goal and four helpers. Josh McLean (1-2-3), Dana Schoefield (0-2-2), and James Gilmer (0-1-1) also got on the score sheet.

Bantam House 'B' Demons rally for 5-3 win

WINCHESTER — Third period goals by Joseph Fingler and Ryan Gruich broke up a 3-3 tie and lifted the North Dundas Bantam House "B" Demons to a 5-3 victory over the visiting South Stormont Selects.

North Dundas led the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game (played in Winchester on Tues., Nov. 3) 3-1 after a period, but found themselves deadlocked 3-3 after two sessions.

Fingler snapped home a pass from Brody Collins for the game-breaking marker with 7:58 left on the clock. Gruich insured the outcome, finishing a play started by Frisco MacMillan 1:44 before the final buzzer.

Andrew Findlay (from MacMillan at 5:58), Collins (from Fingler and Gruich at 4:48), and Devon Byers (from Collins and Dakota Boulanger at 2:05) were the Demons' first-period scorers.

Novice Demons edge Brockville

CHESTERVILLE — Three shooters found the target for the host North Dundas Novice House "C2" Demons as they handed the Brockville Novice House "C3" Braves a 3-1 loss.

North Dundas goaltender Toby Byrne missed out on a shutout when the Braves fired their only goal into his net with 8:02 left in the second period of last week's (Thurs., Nov. 12) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game.

Emily Eikelboom put the Demons on the board when she scored from Nicholas Brugmans at 7:36 of the first period. Chase Holmes was next to dent the twine. He made it a 2-0 difference, netting a pass from Xavier Leclerc with 2:03 left in the same frame. Curtis Bell made it a 3-1 final when he buried a pass sent to him by Leclerc with 9:45 left on the clock.

North Dundas played a penalty-free game.

North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons forward Aaron Burns attempted to jam the puck under the Akwesasne goaltender on this play during an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game played at the Winchester Arena last week (Wed., Nov. 11). The puck did slide under the Wolves 'tender, but didn't cross the goal line before the play was whistled dead by referee Nathan Thompson. North Dundas skated to a 10-4 win over the Wolves to remain undefeated. Press Photos — Van Bridger

McRae powers offence, Bantams beat Bears 3-1

SMITHS FALLS — Chesterville sniper Mark McRae fired in all three goals as the North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons rallied for a 3-1 victory over the host Smiths Falls Bears.

The Bears grabbed a 1-0 lead in Sunday's (Nov. 15) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League match, netting their lone goal at the 10:53 mark.

McRae tied it up 1-1 on an unassisted effort with 2:20 left in period two. He went on another solo rush five seconds later and cracked in the winning marker. There were 28 seconds left in the period when Patrick Gibson set up McRae, who ripped in his third of the game and 25th goal of the season.

Colin Giberson posted his eighth win in as many starts. McRae has scored 25 goals and picked up nine assists for 34 points in eight games. The Demons have outscored their opposition by a 58-13 margin. The Demons were without Bryden van Kessel (broken wrist) and Lance Hodgson.

He counted three goals and drew as many assists in the Demons victory. The home team led the Wolves 3-1 after a period and 6-2 after two stanzas.

The Demons play host to the Kemptville Panthers tonight (Wed., Nov. 18) at the Winchester Arena. Game time is 7 pm.

Larmour blanks Lions

Novice House 'B' Demons goalie unbeatable in 6-0 win

CHESTERVILLE — Bradley Larmour was unbeatable backing the North Dundas Novice House "B" Demons in a 6-0 victory over the South Dundas Lions.

Cameron Cotnam's unassisted marker came with 5:32 left in the first period of the game (played in Chesterville on Mon., Nov. 9) and proved to be the winner.

Cam Sherrer completed a play engineered by Koby Young and Bradley McLean and opened up a 2-0 lead with 3:30 left in the middle session.

Sam Sylvester, Cotnam, Ethan Guy and Sherrer cracked in third-period shots and drove the final difference to 6-0. Cotnam, Sherrer, Guy and Joey Hannaford set up the final four goals. The Demons played a penalty-free game.

North Dundas clicked for three second-period markers and nipped the visiting Smiths Falls Bears 3-2 in Chesterville on Mon., Nov. 2.

Cotnam (unassisted) tied the game, scoring at 8:33. Sherrer rang up the winning goal on an unassisted play at 6:11. Guy netted a feed from McLean with 2:14 left in the stanza and made it 3-1. The Bears closed the gap to 3-2, scoring 4:28 before the final buzzer, but could not get any closer.

Carr, Demons shut out Kemptville 'B2' Panthers

WINCHESTER — Goaltender Bayden Carr and his defensive crew shut down the visiting Kemptville "B2" Panthers 5-0.

The North Dundas Atom House "B" Demons took a 2-0 lead in the first period of Friday's (Nov. 13) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League contest and carried a 3-0 lead into the final frame.

North Dundas led Sunday's match 1-0 after a period and the game was tied 2-2 after two sessions. The Bears jumped into a 3-2 lead scoring with 10:35 left in the game, but North Dundas rallied and crammed in three unanswered markers to secure a 5-3 win.

Cooper goal leads Bantams to 3-3 tie

KEMPTVILLE — Brittany Cooper's unassisted goal, scored with 5:22 left to play in the game, gave the North Dundas Bantam House "C" Demons a 3-3 tie with the host Kemptville "C1" Panthers.

The Panthers and Demons were deadlocked 1-1 after a period of Saturday's (Nov. 14) game, and Kemptville led 3-2 after two sessions. The tie improved the Demons' Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to 5-1-5 and got the squad back on track after they had suffered their first loss — a 4-2 decision to the Brockville Braves in Chesterville last week (Thurs., Nov. 12).

David Kimmett used a pass from Brandon Dudley to net the Demons a 1-0 first-period lead in Kemptville.

Cooper picked up another Dudley relay and knotted the score at 2-2 with 9:13 left in period two. Her second marker was unassisted and enabled the Demons to earn a point in a 3-3 tie.

Brockville put an end to the Demons undefeated run doubling them 4-2 on Chesterville ice.

There wasn't any score after a period of the game and Brockville turned things around in the second session, taking a 4-2 lead they would protect through the final frame.

Braydon Drouin (unassisted) and Brittany Cooper (assisted by Mike Ladouceur) counted the North Dundas markers.

Wade backs Pinks in 4-0 win over Reds

WINCHESTER — Kristie Wade turned in a flawless effort working the nets in the Cooper Physio Pinks' 4-0 Winchester and District Ladies Hockey League victory over Andy's Foodland Reds.

Wade was a double winner in Sunday morning's (Nov. 15) triple bill. She posted her shutout in the 8 am game and went back to work at 9 am and helped the Double Beauty Stylists trim the Country Girls 6-1.

The league-leading WS Trucking Company and the Annable's Jewellery Blues battled to a 2-2 draw in Sunday's 10 am encounter.

Pinks 4 - Reds 0

Amy Fraser used a pass provided by Vania Boulet to register the winning goal for the Cooper Physio Pinks (2-1-3) at 17:21 of the first half of their game against Andy's Foodland Reds (1-3-2). Jill Kirkwood added the second tally finishing a play set up by Fraser and Joanne McMillan 2:46 before the half-time intermission.

Fraser opened the second session making it 3-0 after taking a relay from Boulet and Veronique Daviault at 10:41. Daviault made it a 4-0 final finishing a play started by Fraser and Stefanie Garlough with 2:53 left on the clock.

It was Wade's third shutout of the campaign.

Stylists 6 - Girls 1

Wade filled in for Lorie Casselman, the Double Beauty Stylists' (2-4-0) regular goalie, in game two and received plenty of offensive support in a 6-1 win over the Country Girls (1-3-2)

Christina Luykx led the Double Beauty attack scoring twice and setting up a goal. The Stylists led 3-0 at the half and were holding a 6-0 lead when Sandra Cloutier ruined Wade's perfect game, scoring the lone Country Girl goal with 6:41 on the clock. Annette Downey and Anita Gilmer drew assists on the play.

Joanna Gilmer and Heather Erwin each picked up three points (1-2-3) for the winners. Kelly Zeran and Robin Berends each had a goal and an assist. Janice Casselman, Kaila Beckstead, Meghan Gilmer and Jessica Dawson earned single helper points.

Annable's Blues 2 - Truckers 2

Sonia Clement converted a play created by Jennifer Manley with 13:55 left on the clock into the tying goal as the Annable's Blues (2-1-3) tied the first-place WS Trucking Company (4-0-2) to a 2-2 draw.

Isabelle Dagenais took care of the Truckers' offence netting shots at 16:20 of the first half and again at 16:20. Carolyn Thomas set up the first marker and Dawn Wright and Alyssa Senk engineered the second-half play.

Jennifer Wilson got the Blues on the board scoring from Aline Smith with 12:52 left in the game. That goal set the stage for Clement to tie it up.

Carrie McCadden worked the Blues' cage and Roxanne Backes blocked shots for the Truckers.

This includes any forecast of a range of snow more than 7 cm, for example 5 to 10 cm. On-street parking permit holders are exempt from winter overnight parking restrictions.

The fine for vehicles parked during this restricted period is $70.00.

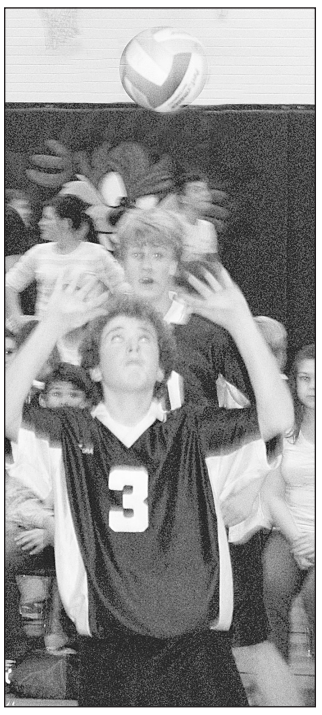
Patriots sweep Devils in junior volleyball final

MAPLE RIDGE — Playing on your home turf, or in this case hardwood, doesn't always create an advantage.



Set

Stuart McKelvie set the ball during the 2009 SD&G junior boys volleyball championship game. La Citadelle Patriotes captured the 2009 SD&G title in a clean three-set victory.

North Dundas District High School Junior Devils coach Ian Wilson would have rather played in the Patriotes' gymnasium at École Secondaire La Citadelle in Cornwall than host them in the 2009 SD&G junior boys "AA" volleyball championship match.

"I really would have liked to have played away, because we play poorly at home," said Wilson.

"It was tough for juniors to play in front of a large crowd — playing in front of friends and family adds a lot more pressure than an away situation," added the coach.

The Patriotes were the visitors for last week's (Tues., Nov. 10) championship match at NDDHS and ignored the boisterous Devils supporters, while sweeping up the championship trophy and accompanying gold medals after posting three consecutive victories (25-23, 26-24 and 25-18).

North Dundas held a slim 21-19 lead in the opening set before falling by two (25-23). The Devils recovered from a 14-4 deficit in the second set and tied the score three times (22-22, 23-23 and 24-24) down the stretch before losing 26-24. The Pats rolled into a 17-10 lead in the third and final set and booked a 25-18 win.

Wilson's crew finished the regular season in first place with a 27-12 record.

"It was tough to lose because we had beaten them [Patriotes] handily 3-0 (25-18, 25-15, 25-14) during the season," said the coach.

"The boys were disappointed, but they will come back hungry for a championship next year," he added.

The North Dundas Devils were crowned junior boys volleyball champions in 1995, 2002, 2004, 2005 and 2007.

Silver medallists

Let's go boys

North Dundas District High School Junior Devils coach Ian Wilson (right) called a time out and tried to rally his squad during the 2009 SD&G junior boys "AA" volleyball championship match last week (Tues., Nov. 10). Unfortunately for the host Devils, they weren't able to fend off La Citadelle Patriotes, who claimed the gold medal with a 3-0 victory.

North Dundas Midget 'B' Demons tame Morrisburg Lions, win 6-2

WINCHESTER — It was a three-man attack that propelled the home town North Dundas Midget "B" Demons to a 6-2 win over the visiting South Dundas Lions.

Monday's (Nov. 16) victory improved the Demons' Upper Canada Minor Hockey League record to 7-0-2 and featured a big night for Josh Stubbings and his line mates Adrian Lee and Dustin Tinkler.

Each of the forwards cashed in two goals and finished with a combined total of 14 points.

Stubbings netted his two markers in the first period and finished the game with six points including four assists. He also suited up with the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks and played in Saturday's (Nov. 14) 6-0 loss in Alexandria.

Tinkler also scored in the first frame as North Dundas opened up a 3-1 lead on the Lions. He collected a pair of helper points, setting up Lee, who buried shots late in period two (4:09) and again at 11:17 of the final frame.

Lee also finished the game with four points (2-2-4), assisting on the two Stubbings markers.

North Dundas led South Dundas 3-1 after a period and 5-2 after two stanzas.

Cory Fowler recorded a goal and an assist for the Lions. Matt McNairn counted an unassisted marker in the first frame.

In Memoriam

HITSMAN – In loving memory of my husband, Douglas, who passed away November 16, 1999.
A silent thought, a secret tear
Keeps his memory, ever dear.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
– Love Doris

LATIMER – In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Morley, who passed away November 19, 2005.
Those whom we love go out of sight
But never out of mind.
You are cherished in the hearts
Of those you left behind.
– Sadly missed, Tom and Judy, Nancy and families

36

FREELAND – In memory of Donelda, who passed away November 23, 1994.
Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all.
Though the years be many or few,
All are filled with remembrance,
Dear of you.
– Harry

36

IN MEMORY – Of Don Weegar and Kim Beckstead.
If we could have a lifetime wish,
A dream that would come true,
We'd pray to God with all our hearts
For yesterday and you.
A thousand words can't bring you back,
We know because we've tried,
And neither will a million tears,
We know because we've cried.
You left behind our broken hearts
And happy memories too;
We never wanted memories,
We only wanted you.
– Loved forever
– Marlene, Krista and Kevin

In Memoriam

MEARS – In memory of John Patrick, December 30,1957 - November 21, 2003
There's a family who misses you dearly,
In a home where you used to be;
There's a family who wanted to keep you
But God willed it not to be.
You left many happy memories,
And a sorrow too great to be told;
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.
Our Dear John: "We love you to the moon and back!"
– Mom, Lynda, Colleen, Tom, Ann, Margaret and Robin

The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 108

Thank You

Winchester Branch 108 wishes to thank our community, who gathered to watch the parade and participate in our service to commemorate the deeds of our fallen. Thank you to all for your comradeship. We will not forget.

To the people and merchants of Winchester and District and the many dedicated volunteers who generously support our Poppy Campaign year after year.

To those who marched in this year's parade, the Ottawa Police Service Pipes and Drums, the Colour Party, Veterans and Legion Members, the Ontario Military Vehicle Association, the Winchester Fire Department, the Winchester Scouting Movement, the Winchester Guiding Unit, the Williamsburg Pathfinders and the Winchester Skating Club.

To the Ontario Provincial Police for providing traffic control.

We would also like to thank the Legion Ladies and everyone who provided hospitality and food for our meal.

A special 'thank you' goes to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Association for their participation. It was an honour to have these officers and their mounts this year as it was the opening of the new addition to the hospital and the rededication of our cenotaph.

To our clergy, Rev. Thurland Brown, Legion Padre; Pastor Bud McKibbon and Pastor Tim Edwards, for their spiritual guidance at our ceremony and the Winchester Public School and staff for making the Remembrance Day Service a huge success.

THANK YOU ALL
Lest We Forget
Poppy Co-Chairs: Catherine Nell and Kelly Streng; the Legion Executive and Members

Journeymen offset web presspersons (2) and web press helpers (2)

Due to recent expansion, St. Lawrence Printing located in Prescott Ontario has immediate openings for journeymen presspersons and press helpers in their cold set web department.

Journeymen would be hands on to setup, operate and maintain a Goss Community (SSC) style press with Mono, Stack, 4 high and SSC double parallel and cross-perf folder configurations. A mix of owned newspapers and commercial print requires printing multiple webs of top quality 4 over 4 colour on a daily basis. Experience in post press operations including mailroom and stitch and trim bindery would be a definite asset. These are full time positions with salary plus a company benefits package.

As a press helper physical labour including some lifting is required. Previous experience in a print or distribution facility would be beneficial however a willingness to learn the trade is essential. These are permanent part time positions with regular hours and the possibility of call ins for more hours. Opportunity for advancement from these positions is high for the right candidates.

Please send resumes to jtennant@stlawrenceprinting.on.ca

We thank all of those who apply however we will only be able to respond to parties selected for an interview.

OBITUARIES

Cassie Belle Dillabough

Cassie Dillabough, a lifetime resident of the area, passed away at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Sat., Nov. 7, 2009, following a brief illness. She was 93.

Cassie Belle Hummel was born on Feb. 25, 1916 to parents George and Annes Hummel on a little farm north of Winchester Springs, where she was raised along with her four brothers Myles, Bert, Earl, and Lee, and two sisters, Lera and Lola. She went to school in Winchester Springs and lived there until her dad sold the farm and moved to another farm just north of Williamsburg. Cassie lived there until she met Calvin Meiker Dillabough, whom she married on June 26, 1935, following a short courtship. They lived in a couple of different houses before they settled on a farm on the Weager Road. During these first few years of marriage they had two children, Shirley and Ray, and they would each give them four grandchildren, and in turn 14 great-grandchildren. Later in life she would open her arms and heart to four more grandchildren and their families.

She loved her family first and foremost, and always wanted to help in any way she could. She taught all her family how to bake and cook. Nothing was measured out; she would just know by looking in the bowl or by the texture if it was right. There was very little that she couldn't turn her hand to: cooking, baking, knitting, crocheting, tatting, quilting, canning, and pickling, and if someone wanted to know how to do any one of those things, she would never hesitate to share her knowledge with them. The most important lesson she taught to everyone around her was to love your family and friends and be good and kind to one another.

She worked hard on the family farm, but she also worked outside the home as well., from decorating wedding cakes, picking apples, working at the egg grading station, to Morewood Homes. She and Calvin both worked there, he doing carpentry work and she doing the stone work. While working there they decided to take a little piece of their farm and help build the home that they would retire in.

Cassie had a lot of names, such as mom, grandma, gram, G-ma, aunt Cass, and she was the happiest when anyone of her family came to visit. There was always an open door and usually when a person arrived at her home there would be a container of white jam cookies, date cookies, and usually a pie, or a batch of donuts. When a visitor walked into her home she would usually say, "Oh I'm so glad, you're here, I was just thinking that you would be along today," and most times they would end up staying for a meal. She always thought that visitors couldn't go home without her feeding them.

Cassie always loved to tell stories and have fun. She and Cal went to dances and parties, camping trips with their daughter Shirley and her husband Lyle, bowling, bingo, and card games. She always tried to make each occasion a special one. For example, she loved Halloween. Very rarely did she ever buy a costume, but make it herself, like the "monkey suit" made from old feed bags and nylons. She made the best popcorn balls, and no matter how many trick-or-treaters she had, she always saved enough to ensure that her grandchildren got one and a can of pop to go with it.

Cassie will be deeply missed by her family and friends for her pleasant disposition and demeanour, which endeared her to everyone she came into contact with.

She is survived by her son Ray (Verna) of RR #2 Chesterville, and her son-in-law Lyle Munro of RR #2 Chesterville. Cassie will be sadly missed by eight grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband Calvin, her daughter Shirley Munro, sisters Lola Young and Lera Young and brothers Myles, Bert, and Earl Hummel. She is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on Mon., Nov. 9. The funeral service was held at the funeral home on Tues., Nov. 10 with Rev. Elaine Beattie officiating, followed by interment at Maple Ridge Cemetery in Chesterville. The pallbearers were grandchildren Cathy Crump, Ron Munro, Carl Munro, Lynden Munro, Donna Dillabough, Wayne Dillabough, Darlene Marcellus, and Debbie Sharkey. The honourary pallbearers were great-grandchildren Jaime Dillabough, Aimee Dillabough, Adam Dillabough, Blair Marcellus, Alanna Marcellus, Brooke Sharkey, Jordan Sharkey, Stacey Munro, Andrea Samuel, Brad Munro, Erin Munro, Shawn Munro, Pam Crump, and Jody Crump.

Donations to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital or the J.W. MacIntosh Senior Support Centre would be appreciated by the family.

Therese A. Pellerin

Therese Pellerin of Winchester passed away peacefully at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Wed., Nov. 11, 2009. She was 77.

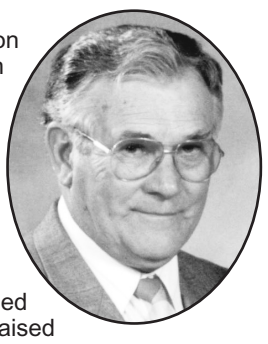
She was the beloved wife of the late Yvon Pellerin. She was the loving mother of Lucie, Francois, Pierre, Jacinthe, and the late Michel. She will be fondly remembered by her partner Lloyd Burton. She was cherished by her 13 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Family received friends at the Daniels Funeral Chapels in Winchester on Tues., Nov. 17 followed by the funeral service at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Chesterville at 1 pm with Father Cosmos Ajawara officiating. Interment was at Hope Cemetery in Ottawa.

Donations may be made to the Canadian Cancer Society.

D. Lloyd Allison

Donald "Lloyd" Allison, a lifetime resident of Winchester Springs, passed away at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital with family by his side on Sat., Oct. 31, 2009. He was 81.



Lloyd was born in Morewood on Aug. 22, 1928 to his parents Ralph and Mildred Allison (nee Dillabough). When he was six months old the family moved to "The Springs" to run the general store and post office. Gradually the business grew to include feed and trucking; this was the beginning of R.S. Allison & Sons Ltd.

On Sept. 7, 1948 Lloyd married Elsie Empey, and together they raised four children: Peter, Jane, Kirk, and Jennifer. Lloyd was a hard working businessman for 60 years and enjoyed every minute of it. He had a lifelong love of horses and motorcycles.

Lloyd is survived by his wife Elsie, his children Peter of Winchester Springs, Jane Symonds (Willy) of Mississauga, Kirk (Victoria) of Winchester Springs, and Jennifer (Danny) Lecours of Winchester Springs; his brothers Keith (Donna) of Halifax, and Dale of Cambridge; and by his grandchildren Aaron, Jordan, Cole, Shelby, Danielle, Mackenzie, and Kaitlyn. He is also survived by nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg on Mon., Nov. 2. The funeral service was held at the funeral home on Tue., Nov. 3 with Rev. Christine Lowson officiating. The eulogies were given by Lloyd's daughter Jennifer and by his brother Dale. The pallbearers were Peter Allison, Kirk Allison, Danny Lecours, Aaron Allison, Jordan Symonds, and Cole Allison. Interment of cremated remains was held on Sat., Nov. 14.

Donations to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital or Winchester Springs United Church would be appreciated by the family.
