Two Men Are Killed When Accidents Tie Up C.P.R. Traffic Today

Two Merrickville district men out on their trapping rounds were killed this morning when struck by the eastbound local near the Swan station as the train was being re-routed over the westbound tracks following an accident to the eastbound fast train which threw a tire from one of its drivers and tore up a section of track.

The two men, whose names were given as Martin and Geniak, were said to have been walking along the westbound track and apparently failed to notice the eastbound train as it bore down upon them from the opposite direction in which they were expecting traffic.

The early morning fast train, described as the second section of No. 22 threw a tire from one of the large driving wheels of the engine near the vicinity of Swan station between Merrickville and Bedell early this morning. Traffic on this track was held up for some time until a new engine was brought from Smiths Falls.

About a mile of track is reported to have been damaged by the accident and until this is repaired all eastbound traffic is being re-routed over the westbound tracks. Arrival of the local in Chesterville was delayed almost an hour.

Nation River Committee Meets Here Tuesday

Mahlon Zeron, president of the Nation River Conservation Committee, has called a meeting of the members for April 2nd in the Chesterville Community Hall. This committee consists of the Reeves of all Municipalities in the river's watershed and certain members of Zone 5 of the Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association and includes men from L'Original to Mallorytown. It is expected that about fifty will be present to discuss ways and means of arranging an educational program on this important project and to take the proper steps to have the Department of Planning and Development make an immediate aerial survey of the watershed. This aerial work must precede an engineer's survey and is the first step which must be taken to get the project under way.

Forcing entrance to Smith's Meat Market, King Street, through the rear door, thieves took about $18.00 in change, Friday night. A stout wooden peg holding the door was smashed but there were no marks on the outside of the door that would indicate any sort of a battering ram being used. No meat was touched, and papers in the desk from which the wrapped coinage was taken were undisturbed, illustrating that the thieves knew their way about.

Congregations Unite In Community Gift

One month ago Cyrus Lang and family of Cannamore, lost all their belongings in a fire which swept the dwelling they were living in and from which the mother of Mrs. Lang, Mrs. Edith Thompson, was narrowly rescued in her wheel chair. In a very short time a dwelling was found and with their characteristic energy the congregations of Morewood Presbyterian church and of Morewood United church set to work to restore as nearly as possible the required furniture for the family to again take up house-keeping. Among the articles making up the community gift were eighteen pieces of furniture and two stoves contributed from homes in the district, as well as the sum of $255 in cash. Paper on "Restoration" Depicts Early English Life

"The ordinary folk of the day of Charles II, who died in 1685, must have felt that plague, fire, smallpox, chimney tax, muddling, mismanagement, immoral living of the minority, made their world a grievous place, and yet even today, nearly 300 years later, the people who stood steadfast, doing their duty, living decent, thrifty lives, were the leaven in the lump" Mrs. Anna Marcellus read from a paper prepared by Mrs. Byron Campbell to the members of the Women's Institute meeting at the home of Mrs. P. J. Gilroy last evening.

Arrangements were completed for a special meeting to be held on April 11 when the Williamsburg, Morewood and Winchester branches will gather with Chesterville to hear a special speaker. The nominating committee was appointed for the annual meeting to be held in April. Plans were made to cater for a supper for the I.O.O.F. next week.

Two contests were enjoyed, "Song Titles", given by Mrs. Fay Shaver and won by Mrs. Byron Campbell and "Know Your Canada", by Mrs. J. A. Morris and won by Mrs. Eric Casselman. Two solos were sung, "An Irish Lullaby," by Mrs. Allison Graham and "Barbara Allen," by Mrs. Geo. Merkley, which is one of the songs surviving from the Restoration period and was mentioned in the paper by Mrs. Campbell. Piano accompaniments were by Mrs. Gilroy. At the close of the programme, refreshments were served by Mrs. Fay Shaver and Mrs. Ken McDonald.

Mrs. Campbell's paper quoted a number of excerpts from the Diary of Sampel Pepys, giving a picture of England from the time of Charles II who was recalled to England in 1660 following Cromwell's death. Life at the court was immoral, but "The really significant thing, however, about the Restoration period in the long view of English experience is that it continued the cumulative, if intermittent trend, toward the Parliamentary prerogative and the steady growth of English trade."

Charles' reign, often described as "The most wonderful for its variety of matter and accidents," included the Great Plague, the Great Fire of London which together accounted for the lives of thousands of people. A redeeming feature of the time was the large number of yeoman freeholders and craftsmen. Art and literature flourished, and the theatres were re-opened with women performing on the stage for the first time. The plays of Fletcher and Beaument were preferred to Shakespeare, stated Dryden who catered to the courts in his writings. Bunyan did most of his writing after 1660. Sir Thomas Browne, Jeremy Taylor, Isaak Walton and Thomas Hobbs were still writing in the early part of the period. Isaac Newton's "Principia" and Locke's "Essay on the Human Understanding" raised England to a distinguished place in science and philosophy.

The greatest glory of the period is perhaps the architecture of Sir Christopher Wren, who was called to his important work of rebuilding St. Paul's Cathedral, after the original was wiped out by the Great Fire in 1666.

BALKWILL—HUMMEL.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hummel when their second daughter, Gladys Marjorie, became the bride of William Clair Balkwill of Mountain, son of Mrs. R. Balkwill of Ottawa, on Saturday, March 16th, with Rev. W. E. Wright of Trinity United church, Chesterville, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a floor-length gown of white sheer over taffeta with fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a finger-tip veil which caught about her head with white and silver blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Her sister, Miss Edna Hummel of Brockville, was bridesmaid, and she wore a floor-length gown of powder blue sheer over taffeta and carried pink carnations.

The bride's mother was dressed in black velvet with pink carnations and the groom's mother wore grey and rose printed jersey with a corsage of rose carnations.

Before the ceremony, Mr. Headley Boyd of Osgoode sang "Because" with Mrs. Allison Graham playing the accompaniment. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Graham sang "I'll Walk Beside You", with Mrs. Wright playing her accompaniment. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Graham.

The best man was Norman Gibson, who, with two of the guests Will Richardson and Will Gibson, Mountain, served overseas with the groom.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served by Mesdames Ball, Johnston and Ouderkirk, and the Misses Betty Lou and Lila Hummel. Later the young couple left for Montreal, the bride travelling in a wool suit of fuschia with black accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Balkwill will take up residence at Mountain.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Stanley Lawson and Mrs. Walter Ray of Smiths Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Headley Boyd of Osgoode, Miss Nona Balkwill of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Riddell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allan, Mr. Arthur Balkwill, Mr. and Mrs. Craig, of Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robinson, Leslie and Rae of Marvelville, and Miss Eileen Brown of Mountain.

Miscellaneous Shower

On the previous afternoon, about 35 friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hummel to honour the bride-to-be with a presentation of gifts at a miscellaneous shower sponsored by Mrs. Arthur Ball and Mr. Geo. Johnston. The home was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers. An address was read by Mrs. Geo. Johnston who with Mrs. Stanley Shay prepared the Bride's Book. Lunch was served by the ladies. The gifts were brought in on a dinner wagon by Jean Ball and Claire Merkley and presented to Miss Hummel who was seated in a prettily decorated chair, and who thanked her friends for their thoughtfulness.

AMAZING DISPLAY OF NORTHERN LIGHTS

An amazing display of Northern lights was observed Saturday and Sunday nights when brilliantly coloured Aurora Borealis flashed across the heavens to all horizons. Saturday night, the colour predominant was pink, with great splashes of ethereal light played about all over the sky. Sunday night's display was as grand, but the colour scheme changed to a pale shade of green.

The display is attributed to the occurrence of sun spots, which reach their maximum each 11 years. Radio listeners agree that the phenomenum interferes with reception.

"Sime" McMillan Passes At Home in Edmonton

Many friends and neighbours have learned with deep regret of the death of S. C. McMillan at his home in Edmonton, Alta. Born and growing up in this vicinity Sime's magnetically warm disposition made him a host of friends and being one of a very musical family, his talents were much sought and his abilities as an entertainer were widely known. Also his ready wit and humor made him ever a welcome visitor and he brightened many lives with his talents. His home in Edmonton was always a most hospitable one to visit and he was greatly pleased when eastern friends called.

Three years ago he suffered a severe stroke of paralysis from which he never rallied and on March 15th, he passed away.

His wife, the former Edith McMillan of Grantley, and daughter, also his brother and sisters, have the sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends in Eastern Ontario.

Definite Steps Taken For Chesterville's Civic "Welcome Home"

Definite steps were taken to arrange Chesterville's Civic "Welcome Home" for her war veterans when the newly appointed committee met in the Public Library, Monday evening, under the chairmanship of Walter Carr, and sub-committees were appointed to collect the names of local veterans, issuing of invitations, and arrange for the banquet and dance. The date of the function cannot be set until the first-named group has secured the name of every local veteran and the scrolls are prepared. Veterans of the First Great War will also be invited to the function.

The chairman stated the committee would meet again next Monday night in the Library at 8:30, when all groups will be asked to report on progress.

At the meeting called by the Municipal Council last week, it was decided to hold a banquet and present each veteran with a framed suitably engraved scroll bearing the regimental number, rank and name of the veteran, and the committee has decided to add to this the theatre of operation. Later a gift will be made to the Chesterville Post of the Canadian Legion BESL, when organization is completed, to assist with the erection of a suitable memorial.

Cards of invitation will be sent to all veterans of the village to include the next-of-kin. Printed cards for reply will be sent at the same time so that the number expected for the function will be known to the committee preparing the banquet.

Committees

Howard Fulton was named chairman of the committee given the responsibility of gathering the names, and his helpers include Mesdames John Sutherland, A. B. Clayton, Lorne Marcellus, Allan Moran and Thos. Moran. It is expected a house-to--house canvass will be made to ascertain definitely the correctness of the details.

Reeve Geo. H. Barkley and A. O. Robertson will prepare the invitations and reply cards and mail them to the veterans.

All the ladies of the committee were named to arrange for the food. They are Mrs. G. Senn, Mrs. A. B. Clayton, Mrs. G. G. Merkley, Mrs. Lorne Marcellus, Mrs. Allan Moran, Mrs. John Sutherland and Mrs. K. McDonald.

Named to prepare the programme for the banquet and dance were Leo. T. Gallagher, Eric Casselman, A. O. Robertson, Mrs. Lorne Marcellus, Mr. John Sutherland and Mrs. Geo. Merkley.

The reception committee will be the Reeve and members of the Municipal Council and their wives.

LACK OF TRAFFIC SAFETY IN SCHOOL ZONES

Serious traffic tie-ups and near-accidents have occurred many times on Victoria and College streets as a result of complete lack of co-operation between High and Public School students and motorists, the danger being brought to a head the other morning when a young boy narrowly escaped being crushed to death as he dashed over the street to school directly in the path of a large truck.

R. C. Dillabough, Principal of the Public School, brought the attention of the Rotary Club to this situation, Monday evening, and asked the Municipal Council to place warning signs for motorists in the school areas.

This certainly will help instil in the minds of motorists the necessity for caution in these areas where children come running out of school at noon hours and after four in their exuberance to be on their way home. But co-operation of the students is also necessary.

The suggestion was made that voluntary traffic patrols be organized from among the older boys. This would definitely be a great help at the noon and after-four periods, but a most dangerous time is from eight to nine in the morning when the children are on their way to school.

Solution of the problem involves several factors, and all of them must be considered and acted upon.

First, the need for common sense safety must be instilled into the minds of students of all schools by teachers and parents. Sidewalks were built for the use of pedestrians, and students should know better than to take to the street arm-in-arm until they fill the complete width of the roadway.

Second, motorists must exercise caution when approaching the school districts, and to emphasize this need signs will have to be erected.

The use of voluntary traffic patrols, as practised in most larger centres would assist with the problem at noon and after four o'clock.

Parking on Victoria street in front of The McCloskey House must be brought under control. At present cars and trucks are parked on both sides of the street, leaving space for one vehicle to pass between, and with the large numbers of boys and girls coming down this street from school, the invitation to serious accidents is left wide open.

Parents, teachers, the Municipal Council and the students themselves must co-operate. No one can remedy the situation alone.

A COMPLIMENT FOR LOCAL RED CROSS

Speaking before a meeting of the Chesterville Branch executive Thursday evening, Flt. Lt. Bowles, Field Secretary of the Red Cross, paid a well-deserved tribute to the local workers who have carried on steadfastly throughout the war years, sending a huge pile of clothing to the Services and Allied countries in distress.

The speaker said the Branch was far too strong to think of disbanding and while he did not urge the continuance of the organization for peace-time work, his explanation of the needs made those present "think again" of their plans. The Chesterville Branch was above the average in services rendered by units of its size, declared the speaker, and its financial position is enviable.

Satisfaction in a necessary work well done is sufficient praise for most people, but the added pat on the back given the Red Cross workers must make them feel that their hard work of the war years is appreciated.

If the decision to re-organize for peace-time work is made at next week's meeting, the Branch with its several units will no doubt carry this enthusiasm into the new programme of nutritional study, providing sick-room equipment, free blood donor service, and aid to veterans.

A Work Room is no longer required. Any work done will be purely voluntary, the quota determined by the Branch itself and done on its own time.

WHAT A DUMP!

Persons using the village dump on the property formerly known as "the Grove" on the banks of the Nation east of town, have created such a mess that some method of regulation and supervision is definitely necessary.

Rubbish of all kinds has been strewn all over the lot and along the roadway leading to the dump, creating, besides an unhealthy and messy looking spot, a menace to farmers who must use the road.

Some cannot be bothered going all the way to the dump but unload their rubbish at any convenient place along the way. It appears that the only way the situation can be remedied is the erection of a stout fence and a system of regulating the places for dumping. All of which means the placing of more regulations on our population, something that is not desired by a great many but which are necessary to control the few who will not take the trouble to exercise a bit of common sense care.

The birds and the bees are out, but Jack Frost is remaining as any who had the urge to get digging have found out.

QUALITY OF POTATOES INFLUENCED BY SOIL

The cooking quality of potatoes as influenced by fertilizers has been the subject of much debate and conjecture for years. At one time it was assumed that chlorine tended to hinder the formation of starch in the tuber and that the potash of the potato fertilizer should be in the sulphate and not the chloride form. This theory was proved untenable.

At the Long Ashton Research Station in England a study was made recently of factors affecting quality in potatoes, with special reference to the occurrence of blackening on boiling. Potatoes of several varieties were grown on soils of various types at eight different centres. The quality of the potatoes was found to be influenced more by the soil and situation than by the fertilizing. Where some improvement in quality had been noted, it was associated with potash. It was concluded that a deficiency of potash led to an increase in blackening, while deficiency of phosphorus caused deterioration in flesh consistency and flavour.

IN MEMORIAM.

He Waits

A tribute to my brother "Sime" who passed into Eternal Life at Edmonton, Alta., on March 15th, 1946.

He is not dead . . .
Great souls like his, could never never die,
He just passed through the door—— inside
He waits for you and I.
His life was filled with honest thought,
There was no room for guile,
He loved his neighbor as himself,
He walked that second mile.

Intolerance of race and creed
He could not understand,
His, was a soul to reach and find
The Brotherhood-of-Man.
To him, a princely heritage
Were friends who loved him true,
He left this world a better place
Because of passing through.

No. Never say that he is dead,
He's just "gone-on-before",
He's waiting on the other side
Beyond that open door.

From his sister, "Melie".
Amelia MacMillan Lambkin.

As she eyed her small son more in anger than in sorrow, Mrs. Jones said:

"Fighting again! You naughty boy! Look at the state you're in—holes in your stockings and your suit all tattered and torn. Now, I'll have to buy you a new suit."

Tommy raised his innocent young eyes to hers as he replied:

"But mummy, I think Freddy's mother will have to buy a new boy!"

Letters to The Editor

Editor, Chesterville Record:

Perhaps the request to use a portion of valuable space in your paper is not justified inasmuch as what is to follow may not correctly be termed "news". And yet, if it serves even in a small way to direct attention to certain deplorable conditions which, like the weather, are "much talked about but nothing done about it," its publication may be well worth while.

During the past few months, and indeed for a much longer period, there seems to have been developing —until it now seems to be well-established—an idea among certain citizens of so many communities that there is no limit to the pace at which they may travel, no restrictions as to what they may do in a supposedly decent community. Indeed, the brazen attitude that is being demonstrated by this particular element of the community reaches such proportions at times as almost to defy the saner and more law-abiding portions of the population. Certainly, if it is not actual defiance it should constitute at least a challenge to remedial action.

To ignore such challenge is not only to condone such flagrant violations of the laws of common decency with its accompanying juvenile and adult delinquency, but to invite the invasion of some major crime with the very undesirable publicity by which it is always characterized. Such conditions and such crime obtain in the larger centres of population—let us not delude ourselves into thinking "It can't happen here!"

Of course, the critic, who is never his "brother's keeper" because it is so much easier to "let George do it", immediately asks: "Why do we pay policemen? What are our councils for? Why don't the churches do something? etc, etc." The only answer to this type of individual is that such conditions as are known to exist, are not the business of any one official or organization. It is the responsibility of every last citizen. No policeman, no council, no church, no one person or group of persons acting independently can reduce or eliminate the drinking, the bootlegging, the gambling, the loitering, the boisterous rowdyism, the petty thievery, the destruction of public and private property, the trespassing on private premises, the clandestine meeting of young and or adult people for illegal or immoral purposes. No, it requires the whole-hearted, sincere, energetic support and active effort of every decent citizen, and the goodwill and co-operation of every organization. It requires a complete change in attitude towards what constitutes the definite responsibility of a citizen.

In order effectively to treat any disease it must be properly diagnosed and the contributing cause or causes ascertained. This "disease" with which so many communities, large and small, are afflicted to-day, may be defined by some as one of the inevitable aftermaths of war, with its lowered values on human life and conduct. By others it may be said to be due to lack of personal respect or sense of propriety on the part of those concerned. Still others might attribute it to failure in education along the lines of civic responsibility. Whatever the cause, if we add to it the very lamentable apathy on the part of too great a majority of citizens towards those things which go to make up a clean and respectable community, we have a most fertile soil in which the seeds of devilment and law violation may grow and spread. And we who live in rural districts know so well what weeds can do to an uncared-for garden.

What, then, is the remedy? Every disease usually has a cure just as surely as it has a cause. Should that remedy be drastic, swift, sure and certain, or should it be applied by the more peaceful method? These are debatable points because both have their values. To those who might respond to the latter, it might be well worth while for any community to organize to try it out. To those who know no other medicine than the bitter variety, this writer suggests that it be given them in large doses.

At any rate, do we want—must we have—a crime on our doorstep before we waken up to some definite action? Or are there enough among the citizenry of these "diseased" communities who have the intestinal fortitude (sometimes spelled with four letters) to take immediate effective steps towards making our smaller centres more decent and law-abiding places in which to live?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of this space in your paper, I am

A Veteran.

Little Too Well

Walking through the woods, the artillery officer was surprised to see a number of men climbing trees and crawling through bushes.

"What's the great idea?" he snapped. "What do you men think you are doing?"

"Well, sir," said the sergeant, "we've camouflaged the gun so well that we can't find it."

Jobs Follow Organization

But Employers and Workers Must Assist

During the war organization of manpower was made possible through co-operation of employers and workers.

This co-operation is no less necessary to assist in organizing the employment market during the present critical period.

Some manpower controls still remain. These are still law. They are aimed at assisting in organizing the employment market.

Remaining controls are designed to help employers and workers—and actually require only minor assistance from the public.

YOU ARE URGED TO COMPLY WITH THE FOUR CONTROLS WHICH REMAIN:

1—Employers MUST notify the National Employment Office of any need for workers, as soon as that need is known.

2—Where employers engage workers outside the National Employment Service they MUST notify the nearest NES Office within three days, that an employee has been engaged. (Form NSS 312 is provided for this purpose.)

3—Unemployed workers seeking employment MUST register with the National Employment Office if unemployed for seven consecutive days.

4—Generally speaking, any employer or employee MUST give seven days' notice to the other party of any intention to terminate employment. (Form NSS 120 is still required.) Exceptions may be learned from the nearest NES Office.

The partners to industry—employers and employees—should help the National Employment Service to promote a high level of employment by complying with these simple rules.

Only with public support can an employment service give full assistance to the community.

Make full use of the Local Office of the National Employment Service. It is there to serve your needs, and those of the entire Community.

Nature and Nazis Overcome By Dutch Perseverence

The people of Holland have a saying that "God made the world, but Holland was created by the Dutch," and it is especially true of the western and northern parts where the persistent work of 300 years of reclaiming land from the sea has added great stretches of arable land to the country, Capt. J. A. Morris told his fellow members and guests at the Rotary Club, Monday evening, when he spoke on "The Struggle of Holland Against Nature and the Nazis", using large military maps to illustrate the talk.

Correspondence was read to the meeting by the secretary, Gordon Wragg, which was further explained by Dr. W. H. Lloyd, regarding arrangements for a serious eye operation for a local child which can be performed only by Dr. John A. MacMillan, Montreal, a former resident of Finch.

R. C. Dillabough asked that warning signs to motorists be placed near the schools, as a near-fatal accident occurred near the Public School recently. President Walter Carr asked the Municipal Council to investigate the possibility of this and also asked the school principals to urge upon their pupils the necessity of walking on the sidewalks and not come down the centre of the street "like a flock of sheep." Keith Graham suggested that the schools appoint "traffic policemen" from among the larger boys. Reeve Geo. H. Barkley promised Council would do something to help eliminate the traffic hazard at the schools as well as the parking problem in front of the McCloskey Hotel at the corner of Victoria and Main Streets.

Guests of the club were Geo. C. Lacey, Geo. Larue, Douglas Johnston of Edmonton and Wm. Vetering of Toronto.

Introduced by Keith Graham, and thanked by Thos. Barnes, the speaker gave a brief history of the struggle by the Nederlanders to shut off the North Sea and reclaim vast areas for the production of food. He told of the closing of the Zuider Zee by a huge dyke and the reclaiming of areas which was halted by the war.

Holland hoped to maintain her neutrality in this war, as in 1914, but the treacherous plans of the Germans were not foreseen. The orphaned German children cared for by the Dutch after the last proved to be the country's most dangerous enemies in the Fifth Column. But the Dutch continued to resist with the churches joining forces; the doctors refused to co-operate in Germany's plan to deport workers, and the students defied German orders.

Following the capture of the vital Nijmegen and Grave bridges by Allied paratroops in September, 1944, the First Canadian Army moved in November 11 to relieve them and defend the salient while the build-up for the operation to clear the west bank of the Rhine went on. After a titanic struggle through mud and rain to clear the Richswald and Hochwald state forests, the Canadians joined forces at Wesel with the Americans driving up from the south.

Just one year ago the crossing of the Rhine was accomplished. The Third Canadian Division, the famous "Water Rats" with whom the speaker served, met up with fanatical young paratroopers who gave up only when flame-throwers scorched them out. While the rest of the army was tearing along toward the North Sea, the troops of the field gray patch fought doggedly until Emmerich. Deventer and Zutphen were taken and the Germans' defence was smashed. Then they too leaped forward in 40-mile hops with brigades leap-frogging one another to clear the entire eastern section of the country.

The First Canadian Division, brought up from Italy, liberated Arnhem and Appledoorn and the Hun gave in.

Dundas Field Crop Improvement Meeting

At a well attended meeting of the Officers and Directors of the Dundas Field Crop Improvement Association which was held in the Agricultural Office, Morrisburg, on March 21st, plans and arrangements were made for the year's activities of this organization.

Mr. Howard Kittle of Chesterville, President of the organization occupied the chair. Other Directors in attendance were: Messrs. Angus Smith, Chesterville; Eric Casselman, Chesterville; Fred Hutt, Inkerman; Basil Dawley, Winchester; Charles Marcellus, Chesterville; Edwin Forward, Winchester; Joseph Hyndman, Mountain; Matt Beckstead, Morrisburg; William Graham, South Mountain; Acil Hanson, Brinston; Chas. Harkness, Iroquois; W. H. Fowler, Iroquois and the Secretary H. W. Graham.

The special guest of the meeting was Mr. Jack McRae, Fieldman for the Ontario Crop, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Toronto. In all twelve projects were arranged to be conducted by different co-operators throughout the four Townships. These projects have mainly to do with field crop improvement and host plant eradication for the prevention of particularly rust.

The organization also intend to sponsor an increased field yield contest. The object of this contest, of course, is to encourage at least 3000 lbs of grain to the acre. Contestants are to sow five acres as a minimum of their own grain whether it be straight oats or barley or a mixture of oats and barley. There has to be a minimum of ten contestants. Fields are to be inspected during the growing season, yields at threshing time are to be taken by the grower and each contestant is to obligate himself to set one sack of grain aside as it comes from the threshing machine for inspection by the judges. Township directors have been requested to submit the names and addresses of contestants to the Secretary on or before April 15th, 1946. The Association is offering in prize money up to $200 for ten prizes.

A grant of $100 has also been made to the Dundas Junior Farmers Association for the sponsoring of Barbery and Buckthorn eradication campaign.

All Directors hope that 1946 will be a successful year and that the educational value of the projects undertaken will benefit all farmers in the County.

He Did It

A man was being tried for misappropriating a pig, and a conscientious witness, to whom the accused was said to have confided was being examined.

"Can you repeat the exact words in which the prisoner confessed to taking the pig?" asked counsel.

"He said, sir, he took the pig."

The judge tried to simplify the question. "Did the prisoner say, 'He took the pig,' or 'I took the pig'?"

"Oh, your Honor, he said he took it. Your Honor's name wasn't even mentioned."

Give to conquer
CANCER

Next to heart disease, cancer is the greatest single cause of death on this continent. It kills 1,000 Canadians every month. One out of every eight persons now living must expect to die of cancer, unless far-reaching preventive measures are taken.

Cancer is a deadly killer unless the patient seeks early medical advice. But when caught in its early stages, cancer is generally curable.

The cause of cancer is still unknown, and there is yet no specific cure. But if diagnosed in time and treated by surgery, x-ray or radium, a cure can be effected in a majority of all cancer cases.

It is now proposed to organize an energetic campaign in Ontario against cancer in all its forms. This campaign will have the following objectives:

1—To organize and operate fully equipped cancer clinics at suitable centres, where people may be examined, and, if necessary, treated according to the most scientific methods.

2—To pay a portion of the cost of treatment of cancer for those needing financial help.

3—To pay travelling expenses to and from clinics if needed.

4—To conduct an energetic program of cancer research.

To carry out this program, the first need is money. Your donation will definitely help to reduce the number of deaths from cancer in this province. It will help hundreds of people to be medically examined in time and to escape from the deadly clutches of cancer. It may well help research scientists to discover a cure for cancer and so free mankind forever from the dread scourge of cancer.

This appeal is for an objective of $2,000,000 to provide for a three-year program of cancer research, treatment and province-wide service.

ONTARIO CANCER FOUNDATION

This organized drive against cancer is a joint effort of The Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation and The Canadian Cancer Society.

I know not by what method rare—

Therefore, we need to pray and wait.

British Brides Find Dainty Food Served on Canadian Trains

"I didn't know that there was so much ice cream in Canada," an overseas bride told a Canadian National Railways dining car steward when he offered her a second serving. "It is so good, too! Do you give everyone this much?"

Ice cream is certainly a favourite with the women and children dependents of Canadian servicemen on their way to new homes in the Dominion on C.N.R. trains, but it is by no means the most popular item on the menu. The overseas girls relish fruit more than anything else. Throughout the war there was no fruit to be had in the United Kingdom. It has only been in the last few months that the fruit wagons have reappeared on the streets. As soon as they are spotted, block-long queues form, each person being served in turn until there is no more and leaving a great many disappointed.

To feed nearly 2,500 women and children dependents who travelled from Halifax to points in Quebec, Ontario and Western Canada in the past six weeks on Canadian National Railways' trains, more than 20,000 meals were served in the dining cars. Here are a few figures for some of the items which had to be stored in the larder—more than 100 gallons of ice cream—enough for 10-000 portions—500 gallons of milk—8,000 glasses—three tons of meat—900 dozens of eggs—four tons of vegetables and 1,250 loaves of bread.

In order of preference foods which were absent from the English diet come first and then those which were extremely scarce. Next to fruit, their choice is eggs. Eggs in shell they find a big treat and when they see two big golden yolks on their breakfast plates they can scarcely believe their eyes. Since early in the war the British housewives, for the most part, have had to put up with powdered eggs.

Strange as it may seem, meat takes third place. But it can't be any kind of meat. As with the people of the United States during the war, steaks are what they long for most—tender, big, thick and juicy steaks. The women enjoy the Canadian meals and are pleased to discover that home favourites such as steak and kidney pie and Irish stew are available on the trains here.

Milk is another item that is in great demand on the CNR dining cars, both by the women and the children. Overseas, only a very limited quantity was available for the children and the grown-ups haven't had any for years. One of the CNR stewards says "The women and children really go for milk in a big way. On these specials we require two to three times as much milk as we do on regular runs."

Jams, marmalades, honey, pudding, biscuits and cakes are among the other "luxuries" they find on the Canadian trains. English made jams and biscuits, which are famous the world over, they have not been able to obtain except on rare occasions. They find the Canadian products very good, and hundreds of pounds have to be stored in the CNR dining car pantries.

The CNR dining car stewards say the brides take longer to serve than Canadian travellers. The reason—being unaccustomed to such lar[illegible] tions, so that they will not feel like the little boy who has stuffed himself with too much Christmas turkey and pudding, they eat very slowly, and in that way are able to eat their full meal. When asked by the waiters to have more, they look up, a bit astonished, hesitate a few seconds, and say something like "Oh, Dear me! No thank you."

To know that food is so plentiful in Canada is a shock. In the United Kingdom everything is bought with coupons and the ration is very small. They realize they will have to get accustomed to eating unrationed meals again. They are wary about eating too much, and will turn down an offer to have a second serving every time, unless it is something very light like ice cream.

CUSTOMERS' Suggestion CORNER

For Rural Telephone Service

ONE CUSTOMER WRITES:

"Invent some system that will prevent our neighbours discussing at great length their troubles with chocolate pie fillings, burned cabbage, etc."

We're afraid there is no "system" that will keep people from following the age-old custom of chatting with their neighbours.

But we all know how crowded rural lines are right now and we do urge you to keep those friendly telephone "visits" down to a minimum. It will help to improve telephone service all-round.

Red Cross Branch May Continue as Peacetime Organization

Chesterville Branch of the Red Cross Society may continue as a peace-time organization if a meeting to be called early in April considers favourably the suggestions put forward by Flt. Lt. Bowles, Field Secretary of the Red Cross, at a meeting of the executive Thursday evening. Flt. Lt. Bowles said that workroom activities should be put at the bottom of the list and the attention usually given to this section be transferred to Home Nursing, nutrition, preparedness for local emergencies and aid to veterans.

The speaker complimented the Chesterville Branch on its exceptional strength and finances and said the record throughout the war years had been well above average among branches of its size.

He briefly outlined the overseas work of the society, stating the Ontario Service Club was one of the best in London, and that the Canadian prisoner of war parcels were the best of any country.

Peacetime Programme

The greatest need now is food, said Flt. Lt. Bowles. It is estimated 60 million in Europe and Asia will die in the next year or two from lack of food. Disease is on the increase, with tuberculosis gaining rapid strides among the displaced populations due to inadequate organization, and the clothing and fuel situation in the war devestated areas.

The Canadian Red Cross is obligated by its signature to the Versailles Treaty to promote health, prevent disease and mitigate suffering in peace as well as in war. One-third of Canadians entering the armed forces were medically unfit, he said. Canada stands 14th on the list of infant mortality which alone is a condition causing grave concern. The work of the outpost hospitals in unorganized districts is a great help to the population in Canada's frontiers.

Finances

In wartime, 85 per cent of the moneys raised for Red Cross purposes went to the Division, and 15 per cent remained with the branches. But in peacetime this was reversed, and only 25 per cent was collected by the Division. And in addition the Division will assist branches in money and materials when the need arises. In 1946 eight million dollars is going overseas to assist devastated Europe.

The speaker urged that the Home Nursing Group should now be designated as a Reserve, trained to assist in emergencies. Nutritional Committees should be set up to study and arrange for the improvement of school lunches and the possbility of hot lunches.

Sick room equipment should be built up and maintained for loan in local emergencies.

Free Blood Donations

The Red Cross is planning to provide free blood service to all hospitals, and it is hoped soon to extend this service to the smaller communities. Instruction in swimming and water safety will be provided any branch applying to the Divisional Headquarters. Aid to veterans may be given by local branches in the form of money or services or both for which no provision is made by the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Only two units, S. S. No. 8 and Bethune Bush, were present at the meeting held in the local workrooms, along with members of the Branch Executive. Feeling the attendance was not sufficient to represent the wishes of all units, those present passed a motion authorizing the calling of another meeting at which the proposed programme could be reviewed and a decision made. If it is to continue as a peacetime organization, the Branch will at that time be re-organized and the appointment of committee considered for conducting the membership drive and carrying out the new programme.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Do you remember 'way back when bananas were considered indigestible, particularly for children? That idea has been refuted by nutritionists and pediatricions who today recommend mashed ripe bananas as one of the baby's first solid foods.

More bananas are on the market this winter than there have been for a number of years. And while there is no great abundance, even now, you can occasionally buy enough bananas for treat, dessert, salad, cake or pie.

Bananas are sold by the pound, one pound averaging 4 bananas of medium size. If the bananas are slightly green, allow them to ripen at room temperature, not in the refrigerator. Cold temperatures prevent proper ripening.

For best eating, infant feeding and as an ingredient in baking, the fruit should be yellow, flecked with brown. At this stage it is sweet and mellow and thoroughly digestible. A banana tipped with green is only partially ripe; the pulp is firm, starchy and slightly tart. Such bananas should not be eaten raw.

TAKE A TIP

1. To keep bananas from turning dark for an hour after slicing, dip the slices in the juice of grapefruit, orange or lemon. Use a stainless steel knife to cut them.
2. To flute bananas for salads, etc., run the prongs of a fork lengthwise down a peeled banana, then slice crosswise.
3. To mash bananas (for cakes, muffins, cookies, etc.) slice into a bowl, then beat with a tablespoon of milk, using a rotary beater or electric mixer.
   For baby's use, press fully ripe bananas through a sieve with a wooden spoon.

BANANA CAKE.

2¼ cups sifted cake flour, 2 tsps. baking powder, ¼ tsp. soda, ½ tsp. salt, ½ cup shortening, 2 tbsps. milk, ¾ cup fine granulated sugar, 1 tsp. vanilla, 2 eggs, ½ cup chopped nuts (optional), 1 cup mashed ripe bananas (about 3 bananas).

Sift together the flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat shortening until creamy. Add the sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add chopped nuts. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas and milk, starting and finishing with flour mixture. When blended pour at once into a greased and floured cake pan (8x8x2 in.) and bake in an electric oven (350 degs.) for 50 to 55 mins. Cool on cake rack. Serve plain or frost top of cake with thin layer of icing.

BANANA SPICE CAKE

Use above recipe with the addition of the following spices to the dry ingredients.

BANANA CREAM PIE

1 eight-inch baked pie shell. 2 cups milk, 2 tbsps. cornstarch, 1½ tbsps. bread flour, 1|3 tsp. salt, ½ cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, ¾ tbsp. butter, 1 tsp. almond or vanilla extract, 2 fully ripe bananas.

Heat 1½ cups of milk in double boiler. Mix cornstarch, flour, salt and sugar. Combine with remaining milk. Add to heated milk and stir constantly until mixture is thickened. Continue cooking for 15 mins., stirring occasionally. Beat egg yolks slightly and add part of hot mixture. Blend and return to double boiler. Gradually add remaining hot mixture. Cook for 2 mins. Remove from heat and blend in butter. Cool (cover top with wax paper to prevent a skin from forming). Add vanilla. Fill baked shell with half of the cream filling. Slice bananas thinly and spread over filling. Add remaining filling.

Notes: 1. A meringue may be made with the two egg whites and 4 tbsps. sugar. Spread over filling and brown in slow oven (300 deg.) 2. Chill pie thoroughly before serving.

Pretty Canadian Girls Filmed Where Found

If there's anything men like more than a pretty giry . . . it's a lot of pretty girls. National Film Board has a way of finding them, so I went around to N.F.B. to find out where they get them. (Just out of curiosity, you understand.) The answer man was Harry Rowed, well-known chief of photo services. The question: "Do you import Powers models or Hollywood beauties for your pictures and newsreels?" Harry's answer. "We haven't imported a model in the six years I've been with National Film Board."

He dived into the files and came out with dozens of pictures of girls—wholesome, good looking Canadian girls from drug stores and offices—factories and farms. They were skiing in the Laurentians . . . mountain climbing in the Rockies. They weren't taken from Montreal or Ottawa or Toronto to pose for the pictures, either. They were girls found smack in their natural haunts—as much of the Canadian scene as the scenery itself.

For instance, when Photographer Frank Royal goes to the Maritimes, he doesn't hire a model for his picture, he finds a local girl with the qualities Canadians like to see in their girls . . . and she becomes the surf-rider in his summer resort picture. When Jack Long goes to the Canadian Rockies for tourist publicity pictures, he picks girls from the villages dotting the Rockies . . . working or vacationing from elsewhere in Canada.

According to Harry Rowed and the boys, sophistication in models is out. So are tight hair-dos and ridiculous poses. Oh, they're all right for the magazines and fashion plates, but on the whole, photographers prefer the typical Canadian outdoors type . . . healthy, beaming with vitality and natural from head to toe. And if they have a little "oopm", well, that's all right too.
