We Get Letters

During the past few weeks we have received a number of letters, most pertaining to the possibility of more recreation facilities in the community, and more particularly an arena. All letters must be signed but if the writer doesn't want his or her name printed, we will withhold it and use a pen-name. The only thing we ask is that the letters be constructive and if they contain slanderous statements, we cannot print them.

Letters on any subject are welcomed by The Post and contrary to some people's thinking, just because we might not person-ally agree with the writer, does not mean that we won't print his or her letter.

Public opinion has caused more things to happen than most of us realize and letters in newspapers certainly get wide readership. Not only do we feel they are a worthwhile contribution to the readership of the newspaper, but bring a wider variety of opinion to the attention of the public.

As Dean Martin would say: "Keep those letters coming folks".

We Accept on their behalf

During the past three weeks, with a tremendous amount of snow on our hands, we have heard many good words spoken on behalf of village employees and we pass the thoughts along on your behalf.

There are times when the work crews have been out at 5:30 in the morning to make sure that the roads were passable and while, at times, the weather wasn't easy to handle, a good job was done under even extreme conditions.

Now that you didn't get what you wanted for Christmas, what would you like in 1971?

It's a pretty messy old world, as it always has been, and nobody is likely to get what he wants in the coming twelve months. But it's the only world we have, so let's make the best of it: hope, pray, dream and, equally important, remember that the Lord helps those who help themselves. For the world, we can only hope for an end to war, and pray for peace in all the touchy areas. But there's something Canada can do: stop selling arms. It's hypocritical to talk of peace, point the finger at others, when you're standing up to the waist in the 'muck of arms' sales yourself. I'm afraid we can only dream about an end to unemployment, pollution, terror-ism and inflation. They won't be solved in 1971. But surely to goodness some progress can be made toward solutions. There is something frighteningly wrong when a country with the natural resources of Canada looks forward to a long hard winter for over half a million unemployed, at the same time that countries like Germany, prostrate 25 years ago, are crying for workers.

Bill Smiley

And we can do something in this country about pollution, if every soul puts his back into it. That's a bit Irish, but you know what I mean. Terrorism? That's going to be a tough one. But surely, somewhere in the world, there is someone who can devise something to nullify the new weapon of thugs and fanatics throughout the world, the weapon of blackthroughout and ourselves, all badly corroded in the last decade.

For my faithful and friendly readers, I'd like to see some special things in the coming year: good health; a closing of the generation gap; warmer personal relationships; fine, healthy children; a small oil bill; and if you must spoil the whole thing by kicking the bucket, may it be quickly and painlessly.

I also hope that your garden grows, that your car doesn't rust, that your roof doesn't leak, that your wife doesn't nag, that your hus-band doesn't drink too much. A big order, but there it is.

For myself, I can dream, but I don't really want much. I'd like to improve my golf, fishing and curling. But I don't really hope. They seem

About yourself and GO

Do you believe in the tremendous capabilities of man? Christians do . . .

Do you, on the other hand, believe that man is quite helpless to overcome many of the forces that threaten his progress? Christians do ....

How can the same religion support such contradictory views?

Well, we take for granted that a tank-load of gasoline will propel an automobile many miles. But there are cold mornings when we can't even get the engine started. What is missing?

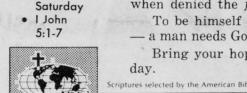

A spark! A continuing series of sparks!

Never over-simplify the functioning of the human soul. Like the internal-combustion engine it can be powerless when denied the fire that unlocks its energy.

To be himself — to be all that God intended him to be - a man needs God.

Inflation is a cancer. But we're desperately searching for a cure for cancer. Can't we do the same for inflation. I, personally, will take a cut in income if the government will cut my income tax.

For my country, these are some of the things I'd like to see in 1971. Full employment, or as near as possible. Less economic and cultural dependence on our benevolent Uncle. A sharp decline in poverty, drug abuse and alcohol use. Lots of bright winter days and hot summer days. An end to the tension, one way or the other, between Quebec and the rest of the country. An end to the endless talk about housing and education and equality, and the beginning of some action. A return to faith in our government, our religion to go downhill steadily. I'd like to be able to walk without an elastic bandage around my bum knee. I'd like my waist-line to stop growing and my hair to start growing. I'd like to wind up the year with the same number of teeth I have right now. These are still in the dream category. I'd like to spend a full two weeks, anytime during the year, without a domestic crisis: cat, kids or wife.

But most of all, I'd like to be sitting right here, a year from now, writing a column about a 1972 that looked a lot more promising than does 1971.

And the same to you.

Limerick Forest Winter Trails

With snowmobile sales up again this year and manyareas being closed to them, there will be an ever increasing use made of our county forests, especially Limerick and Larose.

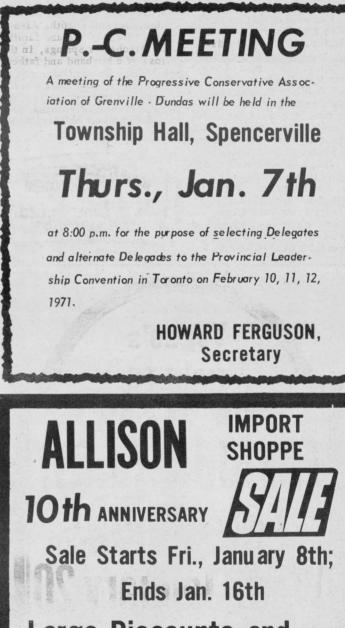

The Department has maintained that snowmobiling is a good use compatible with timber production. Some trails have been cleared and preliminary packing has been carried out at Limerick Forest to ensure safe travel in the swamp areas. Maps are available at the headquarters to avoid becoming confused.

It must be pointed out that these trails are meant for travelling and exploring and there is no way racing enthusiasts will enjoy them. Since trail maintenance is a very difficult problem, there will be very little carried out except by mother nature with new snowfalls

To those who worry about the deer, let us assure you that in Limerick Forest they can escape into dense cedar yards that cannot be penetrated by snowmobiles. This is not always the case, however, and snowmobilers should refrain from molesting any wild animals.

It is also essential that the snowmobile group, in general, police their own activities because it is by the irresponsible acts of a few that many areas have already been close to their use.

To the Editor

The National Farmers Union Convention was the first policy setting convention since the founding convention in July 1969.

There was a good attendan-ce, more than 1000 people. These were people, men and women, -farmers- representing all farmers across Canada from British Columbia to the Maritimes. A farmer is a farmer, regardless of what

The Editor

Mr. Editor: I have read with interest two articles or letters to the Editor with regards. to some better sort of recrea-tional facilities for the Village of Iroquois. I endorse the cause, both for youth and for our hard working adult population. Recreation is a very high priority today, and I am glad to see that some would like to see it more readily available to our people in our community. Though I am not able for personal reasons to participate in the world of sports, the same reason would want me to encourage by my support any group of civic minded citizens in Iroquois who would be ready to study and plan toward ob-taining for our particular nee-ds and situation the best facilities we can afford.

If public support can be fostered by my assistance, and if a weekly pledge of $1.00 for 1971 will endorse this letter from me as being sincere, I am glad to identify as one pleased to get on with greater facilities for the best people by a dam sight.

In the cause of better recre-ational facilities for youth and adults alike in Iroquois, I remain Very Sincerely Yours Allan Rogers he produces Who called the Convention? No one else but the farmer. Who decides the constitution of the N.F.U.? No one else but the farmer. Who decides the resolution and votes on it? No one else but the farmer. We hope that farmers don't wish to live off one another, but rather with one another.

If and when two thirds of the farmers are phased out, where are they going? What are they going to do? Your N.F.U. urges the farmers to stick together.

Lorne Strader and I, who attended the convention from our local, could not help but note the unity and power among the delegates who were at the convention. We do ho-pe you farmers at home join together and use our collective bargaining, as it is one of our bright spots.

The convention, 1000+, all farmers - elderly, middle-ag-ed and juniors - thinking in the same direction, have un-believable power as they iron out principles and directions for 1971. That direction and solidarity was in unity, not force or kidnapping. As the president, Roy Atkinson said in some of his remarks,

"We have a great challenge. We have a great opportunity. We have a great responsibility."

May I thank all of those wi-th whom I have been working and participating in the action of the National Farmers Union in past years and I hope it has been of some benefit to you. The year 1970 is nearly over and I hope the Blessings of Christmas give us one and all, "A Healthy and Prosperous 1971. "

Combines Start Year With Win

by Lynne O'Brien

Morrisburg Combines finished 1970 on a sour note when they dropped a 3-1 decision to Embrun Panthers but started 1971 off on the right foot with a 4-2 win over the Prescott

Demons. In the Embrun game, Jack Duncan gave Combines a 1-0 lead at 18:48 of the 2nd period, after a scoreless first period. In the 3rd period, Brian Bonnar and Larry Mick gave the Pan-thers a 2-1 lead. Gibbs was pulled from the net in favor of an extra attacker, but it backfired when John Goodman scored into an empty net.

Panthers outshot the Com-bines 41-25, taking 5 of the 9 minors handed out plus a misconduct to Kevin Crozier in the 2nd period.

New Liturgy Used at Knox Christmas Eve

Members of the Knox Presbyterian congregation, visitors, and friends shared in a new form of worship service during the annual Christmas Eve Service in the sanctuary,

December 24th, 1970, 8 p.m. Put in the form of a "Folk Communion Service", the Liturgy was prepared by the Worship Committee of The Knox Kirk Session, in con-sultation with the Young People's Society, with music accompaniment set in the folk-song style, under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Bell, Organist, and Messrs. Allen Brent Dunh

The "Inter-Personal Benediction" concluded this very impressive and symbolic Service of Worship, with all those in attendance giving to one another the blessing of the season, "The Peace of God is yours this day". Part of the programming of the Worship Committee of the Knox Kirk Session, this service was a "first" in a series of liturgical experimentation within the congregation during the coming

The sanctuary was set in candlelight Christmas decor, candlelight Christmas decor, and the Knox Young People's Society gave choir Leader-ship in the ministry of mus-ic, and in the responses of the new liturgy. The Rev. John Hibbs, pastor, conduct-ed the Service, assisted by two members of the Kirk Session and Youth leaders, Miss D. MacKenzie and Mr. William Barnhartd. Ir. William Barnhartd, Jr. In the "Preface of the Spread Table", nine members of the Knox P.Y.P.S. and the two attending Elders, formed a grouping of twelve, with the Minister, around the Communion Table, for an impressive dialogue, entit-led "There are 12 of us", a prelude to the receiving of Holy Communion, shared first by the twelve from the common loaf and common cup, and then in the tradit-

Early history of Dundas literally sparkles with stories of heroism, courage, romance and adventure. Intriguing and bizarre tales of pioneer days abound -- days when the forest primeval was yet untamed.

On a clear night the lazy winding smoke of Indian campfires could be seen in all directions. There was plenty of music-- the howl-ing of wolves. And now and then a small child would be reported missing. Life at best was perflore best was perilous.

As the forests gave place to cultivated fields, settlements sprang into being. New settlers arrived to seek their fortune in the land of the future. With them came also strange and uncouth personages, and many stories are told of the almost incredible incidents of that period. There was the individual who earned for himself the title of "Jack the Ripper", so called because of his pec-uliar custom of destroying property. Another wellknown character was none other than "Patchwork Charlie" whose attire resembled the coat of many colors, consisting wholly of one patch upon another. Up and down the Concession roads roamed a motley group of travellers peddling such articles as dishware, dress-goods, clothing, jewellery and what not. It was their custom to pay for a meal or a night's lodging with an article or two, whatever happened to be their stock-in - trade. Some newcomers were wanderers. Others were seeking adventure. Still others were by Mary Barkley I hear the Women's Lib. are at it again; they want to change poker so that four queens can beat four kings.

Our Plant Manager tells this little story about being asked where he comes from, by some people who don't know his accent. It seems he tells them "British Columbia", or some-where like that, and they in turn reply that they are very surprised to hear that people from B.C. have an accent li-ke that. (Oh well, Happy Southern Fried, Bill.)

President Art Martell was giving out cigars on Decemb-er 11, 1970. He was so excited that it was a boy, that even Second Vice., Mary Ba-rkley, got one. He really should save them because with his better than ten thousand income, the government has decided that even with his seven kids , he really doesn't need the baby bonus.

Congratulations Chris and Art.

RED TAPE DEPARTMENT

Couldn't resist this one: Wonder who thinks up the titles for these government forms. This one seems to be self-defeating, to say the very least. . . "Enclosed in the envelope was an Ontario Government certificate, and the big bold letters on the top proclaimed it to be a "Certificate of Approval to Construct a Stationary Source of Air Pollution," plain opportunists. There were those who appeared on the local scene, hold the spotlight for a time and then mysteriously disappeared.

At about this time the County was visited by a middle-aged genial, well-dressed gentleman. From his dress and carriage it was evident he knew little of hard work. He was short, stout, and personally presentable. His chief characteristic was making friends. Little was known of his past. He arrived alone.

He confided however, that he had travelled extensively and on his jaunts to foreign lands had acquired a considerable collection of colored slides depicting life and scenes in the countries he had visited..

He was very quick to make it known, that should any local organization be interested, he would only be too happy to give a little talk, and show some of his slides. His offer, as might be expected, met with immediate response, and in short order, the affable stranger was in great demand at public gatherings everywhere.

His popularity grew, and audiences were captivated by his oratory. Whatever he had done before, there was no mistaking the fact, he was right at home on he public platform.

As time went on, he was invited to occupy the pulpit of neighbourhood churches. He addressed anniversary gatherings, and entertained at club, lodge and community pow-wows He was accepted into the very best homes.

And then as the local climate appeared to be entirely to his liking, the stranger announced that he was going to make the
